Former educator Hamilton dies

By Jone Cassolberry and J. Mark Barfield

OVIEDO - "He was a pillar of the community." Joseph Williams, chairman of the Seminole County School Board, said today of retired educator William L. Hamilton, 82, who died Saturday at Florida Hospital-Altamonte. "He was an upstanding and caring citizen. His death leaves a void in the community.

Williams said Hamilton was one of the people who gave him encouragement to accept a 1964 gubernatorial appointment to the school board, coincidentally, to replace Roland Williams, Hamilton's son-in-law (but of no relation to Joseph Williams).

The school board chairman said he and Hamilton served on several committees together and had the opportunity to discuss the needs of school children.

We shared the commitment on how to make the educational system better," Williams said.
"We believed that if we accept the plight of our kids without getting involved, it's almost the same as saying we can't do anything about it.

Hamilton moved to Oviedo from Daytona in 1930 and taught for four years at Oviedo Elementary School, before becoming a teaching principal at Rosenwald Elementary School in Altamonte Springs, where he served for 22 years. He served as principal of Midway Elementary School from 1953 until his retirement in 1971.

... Former Seminole educator named in honor of Hamilton and his wife, Aleatha, who taught for more than 40 years in Seminole County schools.

Hamilton Elementary School Principal Carem Gager said the Hamiltons were frequent visitors to the school, both during its construction and after its completion.

"He wore a hard hat and walked around, checking on the progress," Gager said. "He supervised as much as the construction crews would let him.'

Gager said Hamilton spoke to the students several times, often challenging them to become educators. "He was very hopeful for the future," Gager said. Hamilton visited the school for the last time six to eight weeks ago, and Gager described him as then looking "fairly chipper."

An observance of Hamilton is being planned at the school. Gager said. Students will be notified of his death this afternoon after tests have been completed, he said.

In addition to his contributions as an educator, Hamilton was active in many other areas of service in the community and in his church, Grant Chapel AME Church, Oviedo. He was an organizer and director of the Federation of Senior Citizens Clubs of Seminole County and was a director and trustee of the Casselberry Multipurpose Senior Center.

Valerie Bei ber-Simpson, manager of the Casselberry Senior Center, said a Hamilton, "He was fust somebod, we depended on all the way through from the time I was first involved with the federation in 1980. He was always responding with his intelligence and ability to help anybody who needed it. He was in at the beginning and helped organize the senior center. He was a member of the advisory board first and later became a member of the board of directors on which he has served ever since," Barber-Simpson continued. "He was one of the backbones of the whole operation. He and Lon Ware worked together in getting this thing through." Hamilton also served on the Seminole County Democratic Executive Board, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Seminole County Retired Educators Associtation, Greater Oviedo Chamber of Commerce, and the East Central Florida Planning Council. I'e was appointed by Gov. Bob Graham to the Area Agency on Aging and by Gov. Reubin Askew to the Seminole County Housing Authority.

A foggy dawn in Seminoleland

By Fred H. Cooper Herald Staff Writer

Yes, cousins, that was fog shrouding our county this morning. And, yes that was rain falling upon our spring greenery yesterday. And, yes, it will probably fall again today.

What happened? You were promised no rain on Sunday but rain on Monday and Tuesday. Two out of three ain't bad. As to the why, it's all very simple to explain. You see there's this low pressure area situated between Meridian and Pontotoc, Mississippi and it's kinda stopped. At least it did yesterday. This produced the winds from the west, which we're still getting. Thus, the odds out of Las Vegas for rain on Seminole stand at 3 in 10. or 7-3 against it dripping on you.

Twixt now and tomorrow the wind will shift to the south as that low pressure area moves east which means, as intrepid meteorologists all know, the chances of rain will go down to about zero. So, if you want rain tomorrow, go to Raleigh, North Carolina or further north.

If, on the other hand, you wish partly cloudy, or partly sunny, skies, temperatures in the 80s and lows in the 60s. stick around Seminole County.

If you want real warm, go to California, maybe Monrovia where it was 97 degrees yesterday. Or, if you prefer cold. stop by Yellwostone, Montana where it was one. That's 1 degree above zero, my friend.

In fact, the west is getting a lot of attention because of the crazy weather befalling those kooks out there in California.

Harry Gordon of the National Weather Service said highs in the 90s were predicted for the third consecutive day today in the desert Southwest and much of California. Temperatures in the 80s were expected in northern California and southern Oregon. Eleven high temperature records fell across the West Coast Sunday, with readings in the 70s across the northern Pacific Coast and into the 80s and 90s across parts of California, Nevada and Artzona.

In California, the mercury soared to 95 degrees at Bakersfield, 88 at Alameda and 93 at Sacramento. Bakersfield's 95-degree reading was the warmest recorded so far this spring.

It was a record 91 degrees in San Francisco and San Jose. Saturday's 85-degree high at San Francisco shattered an 84 year-old record.

Area beaches were packed both weekend days. Marin County's popular Stinson Beach was closed Saturday afternoon after the parking lot overflowed, said Richard Danielson, a Golden Gate National Recreational Area park ranger.

Longwood attorney withdraws from county commission race

Ken Wright, Republican candidate for the District 5 Seminole County Commission seat, has announced his decision to withdraw from the race. Since announcing his candidacy, Wright, a Longwood attorney, was named state campaign director for Vice President George Bush's presidency bid this November.

Confident of Bush's Republican nomination. Wright said the demands of the Bush campaign would prevent him from devoting time to his own campaign. Wright does not rule out the possibility of seeking a local elected office in

Commissioners hold workshops

Seminole County Commissioners will hold two workshops today in the third-floor conference room of the County Services Building, 1101 E. First St., Sanford, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Commissioners will consider bonding constitutional and local option gas taxes to finance 647 million in local road projects. The projects include contructing a two-lane, two-mile stretch of Lake Mary Boulevard extension between U.S. 17-92 and County Road 427 for $1.4 million. The project is slated to be completed in April 1989. A four-lane, one-mile section of Red Bug Lake Road between State Road 436 and Autumn Glen Road, costing $2.3 million, is also slated for completion in April, 1989.

At 3:30 p.m., commissioners will consider spending $1 million from library construction cost savings from the $7 million library construction project to buy an additional 57.000 books for county libraries. They will also consider spending a portion of the $1 million on furniture, computer expansion and minor construction details such as handralls and signs.

Budget plan of $1.1 trillion sails through committee, off to Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate Budget Committee's $1.1 trillion federal budget plan, awaiting debate in the full chamber today, is moving forward not with traditional bickering but with surprising bipartisanship.

The spending proposal, similar to the initial package submitted by President Reagan in February, was drawn up by committee Chairman Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., and the panel's ranking Republican, Sen. Pete Domenici of New Mexico.

It cleared the committee on an 18-3 vote late last month after only a few hours of discussion, a far cry from the long days of wrangling that surrounded the process last year and in many rounds before. Similar spirit marked last month's House debate and budget resolution approval.

Lawmakers attribute this year's progress to the delicit reduction agreement negotiated last fall between congressional and administration leaders. That accord established basic tax and spending mandates not only for the current fiscal year but for fiscal 1989, which begins Oct. 1.

Scout leader cut up out of grudge

LITTLE SILVER, N.J. (UPI) - A retired Boy Scout leader who was stalked and savagely stabbed by a one-time troop member says he can't even remember the former scout who attacked him in a 12-year-old grudge over a denied merit badge.

Harold W. Scott Jr., 55, was recovering this weekend from his wounds, and the former scout, John F. Wilbert, 25, was ordered held for psychiatric examination.

Authorities said Scott was in his home in Little Silver Thursday night when Wilbert showed up with a knife.

Within minutes after Wilbert confronted Scott, authorities said, the former scout leader was in a fierce battle for his life.

Nixon predicts a slim Bush win

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Former President Richard Nixon. back before the television cameras, predicts George Bush will win the White House this year but only if he starts addressing the "restlessness amidst prosperity" many Americans feel.

Nixon, who resigned in disgrace because of the Watergate scandal and then was pardoned by successor Gerald Ford, also suggests a good case could be made for pardoning figures in the Iran-Contra scandal - but after November's election.

In reviewing this year's White House race, Nixon predicted a Bush victory in November yet warned of "a very long night" for the Republican vice president and said Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis could become "a very formidable candidate" for the Democrats.

Cuban chess winner gets no prize

NEW YORK (UPI) - A Cuban chess grandmaster barred from receiving $10,000 in tournament winnings under a 71-year-old federal law will take legal action to repeal the "petty" and "patently absurd" ruling, his attorney said.

Guillermo Garcia, 34, of Havana, is not allowed to claim the prize from his surprising second-place finish in the prestigious New York Open chess tournament because of the provisions of the Trading With the Enemy Act of 1917. said James Meyer, assistant director of the U.S. Chess Federation.

tion of commercial, industrial and mixed-use developments. Woods said the financial incentive for private developers to invest in such a program would come from money obtained from banks and equity in real estate.

The primary criterion for grant selection is the comparative degree of economic distress of a city or an area in the community considered a "pocket of poverty."

Woods said he sent information to the Jacksonville area office of HUD about two weeks ago, outlining, among other things, aspects of the Goldsboro area of town.

Woods is hopeful to hear by the first of May if Sanford is eligible for the grant money, and then will submit a formal application.

He said the first step in obtaining the grant money is to prove that poverty exists in Sanford, and then, that the city meets other criteria, such as the ratio of private funds to be generated by the project to public funds, and the extent to which the project would create new permanent jobs or retain existing jobs.

Last October Sanford received a development grant of $438,000 from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development through an interlocal agreement with six other cities in Seminole County and the county government.

That money was distributed through the entitlement Community Development Block Grant, which is HUD's major community development funding resource for towns, cities and urban counties.

Woods said that because of an always uncertain funding future. he would like to track down grants now

An official with the Jacksonville office of HUD said that since the late 1970s grant money distributed in the state has totaled $63.8 million, and private business has matched that with injections of $430 million. He said 6.849 tobs have been created through use of the grants.

Deppin said the six-block area from West 20th Street to West 25th Street along Oak Avenue has been a well-established community and the construction of apartments proposed by Navarra Inc. would hurt the neighborhood's "character."

The character of this neighborhood is very important," said Deppin, who spoke for for nearly 100 homeowners who attended the commission meeting Thursday night. "And not only is it well-established.

Clarion call from Yip's trumpet

For years now Citibank, the nation's largest bank and biggest purveyor of credit cards. has been selling plastic charge cards to college students on the promise that no prior credit history would be required. What Citibank didn't say is that humanities majors needn't bother to apply. The bank has been regularly turning down their applications on the theory that they will never be able to earn enough to pay off their debts.

This kind of discrimination is legal, although the theory behind it is probably fallacious. Walter Wriston, who headed Citibank for 14 years until 1984; the current chief of its retail banking department; and the chairman of Citibank's parent corporation all majored in history or literature, and they turned out all right. A lot of people in later life, in fact, probably never really apply the things they learned in college. Just look at Ronald Reagan—he majored in economics.

Stories have been circulating for years about Citibank's distrust of humanities students, and young people on many campuses had reportedly learned long since to lie about their majors when they filled out a Citibank credit application. But it took Kennedy Yip, a senior at the University of California at Berkeley, to convince bank officials that this practice had to be stopped.

Yip's success is itself an index of how important a course of studies can sometimes be. If he had been a law student, Yip might have threatened to sue the bank. If he had been majoring in economics, he might have assembled a lot of statistics to persuade Citioank that this kind of exclusionary police was just bad business.

But Yip is majoring in rhetoric. And so, like any good rhetorician, he started putting up signs and sending complaints to the campus newspaper. The resulting furor turned into what one Citibank official called a public relations "nightmare." Citibank has consequently announced that it is abandoning its policy of considering a student's major as an index of credit worthiness. All because of Yip's rhetoric.

'Hellish poison'

The altogether convincing evidence of hideous mass deaths indicts Iraq once again for using chemical weapons for its war against Iran. Incredibly, Iraq recently committed a monstrous crime against hundreds of its own people, Kurdish Iraq civilians, in order to use poison gas against franian troops occupying an Iraqi front-line village. Halabja. Iraq reportedly threatens to use this weapon against major Iranian cities.

Iraq's most recent use of chemical warfare recalls its condemnation by the U.N. Security Council in 1984 for resorting to internationally outlawed poison-gas attacks on several occasions during the seven-year gulf war. Iraq's past use of chemical weapons is believed to have occurred when Iranian forces were on the verge of a major success. The latest atrocity, near the strategically important Darbandhikan Dam, is thought to have been a terrifying warning to the estimated 3.5 million ethnic Kurds not to press their rebellion against the Baghdad regime by collaborating with the enemy.

Although Iran has exploited the ghastly death scenes at Halabja for propaganda purposes, it too is suspected of having used Syrian-supplied chemical weapons against Iraq and is threatening like retaliation if U.N. sanctions are not imposed.

International horror over chemical warfare during World War I led to the 1925 Geneva protocol, which banned the use of what Churchill called a "hellish poison." The dangerous turn in the Iran-Iraq war confirms the need for a new international agreement that restates the prohibition against chemical weapons, destroys existing stockpiles and provides a credible international punishment for those who violate it.

Look behind Jesse Jackson's charisma

Whew! The Democratic Party is going to serve its close call with charisms. After his survive its close call with charter thumping in Wisconsin. Jesse Jackson may land a footnote in history, but certainly not a spot on a presidential ticket.

Let those voters who feel disappointed — who admire Jackson's heart and heat — console themselves by reviewing pre-World War II newareels, both from here and abroad. Now there was a high tide of oratorical punch, of dynamic leaders spouting litanies of resent-ments, followed by surging, worshipful crowds.

Today the period leaves an unpleasant taste in the mouth. How, we wonder, could so many people have been swayed by such demagoguery? How, indeed.

Charisma gets things done in politics, but it also clouds judgment. Distracted by desire and the alluring cadence of language, the public may forget to examine what the charismatic politician actually says.

There is safety in duliness. Both Michael Dukakis and George Bush talk in boring platitudes, but at least we recognize them as such. When Jackson tosses off a cliche, the audience coos as if he'd just invented mechanical flight.

Once upon a time the Democratic Party succumbed to another feather-tongued orator, a man of the heart and not the mind. William Jennings Bryan honed his message and delivery before rural audiences for months before the Democratic convention of 1896, and when his moment came he brought down the house — clinching the nomination in the process — with what history remembers as his "Cross of Gold" speech.

How's this for populist firebreathing:
"The humblest citizen in all the land, when clad in the armor of a righteous cause, is stronger than all the hosts of error. I come to speak to you in defense of a cause as holy as the cause of liberty - the cause of humanity.... we are fighting in the defense of our homes, our families, and posterity.... Here is the line of battle.... You shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns, you shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold."

With minor adjustment to account for today's tastes, the imagery — and message — could pass for Jesse Jackson's. Yet Bryan was a radical whose prescriptions for progress appear mostly foolish in the cold light of 92 years. Not coincidentally. Jackson is a radical, too, with equally foolish, if different, ideas.

Jackson is not just a Dukakis with verve, a liberal with lyrics.

I'm referring here not just to Jackson's well-known embrace of Fidel Castro and Yasir Arafat, or his apparent anti-Semitism of the not-so-distant past (there was more to it than his "Hymietown" remark, by the way).

Then there is his call for a national health system, huge boosts in spending on housing, federal aid to education, day care, police departments, welfare, job training, farm subsidies — you can practically name the domestic program. To be paid for with....

At this point, Jackson's arithmetic stumbles, but his admirers refuse to notice. It all sounds so beguiling, introduced as it is by a man with the gift of charisma.

Is Mike Dukakis for real?

After the deteat of Poland in the Fall of 1939, there intervened almost a year known as "the phony war" or the "Sitzkrieg." The war seemed an illusion. Nothing real was happening.

So far, the Democratic presidential campaigns of 1988 have had a similarly illusory quality. Jesse Jackson combines a black racial vote with a few stray white votes. and gets taken seriously. Richard Gephardt puts forward a completely cynical and actually impossible protectionist program, and gets taken seriously.

Gov. Michael Dukakis wins in New Hampshire and his own Massachusetts, and targets a few constituencies on Super Tuesday-transplanted northerners in Florida, hispanies in Texas-and claims to be a "national candidate." The illusion becomes widespread that he is the "front runner." Then he comes in a very distant third in Illinois and first in Connecticut and so much for that.

Who is Dukakis anyway? Is his candidacy plausible?

His main campaign theme is the prosperity of Massachusetts, which is undentable. "What he did for Massachusetts, he can do for the nation," say his TV spots. But what did he do for Massachusetts? The best that can be said is that he helped lure some corporations to Massachusetts by tax incentives and other goodies. However, Massachusetts' current prosperity has two basic causes: (1) the tax cuts passed under Proposition 21/2, under his predecessor Gov. Edward King-which Dukakis opposed; and. (2) the high tech and educational environment of Massachusetts. which have attracted large Defense Department orders-virtually all of which weapons Dukakis opposes.

On foreign policy, Dukakis is a disaster, a new-age McGovernite isolationist Democrat. On particulars, he is simply uninformed. His slogans say, "A President We Won't Have To Train." The opposite is true. He starts from scratch on anything Margaret Thatcher, Francois Mitterand, or Mikhail Gorbachev would wish to discuss.

New housing chorus

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Among his critics, Housing and Urban Development Secretary Samuel Pierce — the last surviving member of the President Reagan's original Cabinet — is known as "silent Sam.

The low-key Pierce has presided over a department whose existence has been virtually forgotten, its budget sharply reduced and the epithet directed at Pierce a metaphor for administration domestic policy.

But as the Reagan reign winds down, a new chorus - singing mostly blues - is making itself heard with a flurry of reports and studies suggesting all is not well with the nation's housing and the problems affect the middle class as well as the poor.

It may signal one of those moments in American politics when a self-interest and the spirit of generosity join and make possible new initiatives.

"America is increasingly becoming a nation of housing haves and have-nots," the prestigious Joint

Center for Housing Studies of Harvard concluded in a mid-March Similar concerns were voiced in the report of the National Housing Task Force, "A Decent Place to Institute's poll, "A Status Report on the American Dream." All three of the reports stress that for those with moderate incomes. especially young, first-time home buvers, there is a housing affordability crisis and since 1980 the percentage of Americans who own and the National Housing

their own homes has fallen.

Unable to buy a home, these young people are bidding up the cost of a dwindling supply of rental housing and that, in turn, puts low and moderate income people in a crunch. And, according to the studies, the result is more and more homeless, including families with children.

The Joint Center study, for example, found that the drop in home ownership rates meant that 2 million households that would have been able to afford to buy a home in 1980 were unable to do so in 1987.

In addition, since 1981 rents have risen at a rate 14 percent higher than prices generally while the number of rental units at $300 per month or less has declined by more than I million units since 1974 and the number of rental households have grown from about 25 million in 1974 to 32 million in 1987,

"America's housing crisis no longer affects only the homeless and the poor," according to Sen. Alfonse D'Amato, R-N.Y. "It has spread to young working families who see home prices skyrocketing at a time when they cannot save a down payment because of ever increasing rent, student loan debt and static incomes.

D'Amato and Sen. Alan Cranston. D-Calif., sensing the moment may be at hand, are planning to introduce major new housing legislation in July and hope it will be on the floor before the Aug. 15 recess.

And, if the National Housing Institute's polling is correct, they may have the backing of strong majorities of the American people to get the legislation passed.

Irangate figures face trials

WASHINGTON (NEA) - It now seems certain that Oliver North. John Poindexter and others involved in the Iran/contra scandal will be key figures in two trials scheduled to begin well before their own cases are heard. The first trial is set to begin June 26 in Miami. It is a civil suit brought on behalf of two free-lance American journalists living in Central America. It charges that 29 defendants - including Richard Secord. Albert Hakim and a number of others involved in North's private contra aid network - were involved in drug trafficking and the planning of assassinations in Central America and elsewhere.

It is likely that North, Poindexter. Secord and Hakim will be called to testify. However, it is probable that all will invoke the Fifth Amendment.

The suit was filed by Martha Honey and Tony Avirgan, who live in Costa Rica. They are seeking $22 million in damages for injuries they suffered in the May 1986 bombing at a press conference held by former contra leader Eden Pantora. The bombing was widely viewed as an assassination attempt.

The suit charges that the bombing was carried out by a shadowy group headed by former CIA official Theodore Shackley. The suit contends that for almost 20 years the group ran a worldwide covert intelligence operation outside the government and funded with drug-trafficking profits. Pastora was targeted by the group, the suit claims, because he refused to work with other contra leaders in trading drugs for guns.

The defendants have denied the charges. Shackley says the plaintiffs are waging "character assassination through legal terrorism."

Avirgan and Honey are represented by lawyers from the Washington based Christic Institute, a far-left policy group.

Lawyers for several other defendants believe the suit is falling apart. They have obtained depositions from some of the institute's key witnesses denying statements attributed to them in the suit. Daniel Sheehan, the institute's chief counsel, denies this and says the plaintiffs are "anxious" for the trial to begin.

NIH does poor job of monitoring fraud

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON - The National Institutes of Health gives away more than $5 billion a year for research. But whether that money is well spent is anybody's guess. For the most part. NIH blindly trusts that the money went for credible research.

Rarely does NIH challenge the integrity of prestigious universities or their esteemed scientists. The trust runs so deep that only one person on the NIH staff is assigned full time to investigate allegations of fraud.

Walter Stewart and Ned Feder. two NIH scientists, are scheduled to testify April 12 before a House Energy and Commerce subcommittee chaired by Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich. They will tell the subcommittee that research is too often neither checked nor challenged. Feder and Stewart have long urged scientists to take a more active role in insuring the quality of research.

"The peer review system does not pick up fabricated work." Stewart told our associate Jim Lynch. "You can get away with murder for a pretty long time."

Examples of questionable research likely to be studied by the subcommittee for Oversight and investigations include these cases, which have been detailed in medical journals:

- A blue-ribbon committee at Harvard in 1982 defended the research of scientist John Darcee. who had published his findings on heart medicines while at the university's medical school. Almost all of Darcee's writings, including more than 100 articles, were later found by NIH to be fabricated. Some of the information was ridiculous on its face, like the 52-member family Darcee invented for his research. One of the men in that family was said by Darcee to have fathered his first child at the age of 8 and his second at age 9.

 University of Wisconsin blochemist Hector DeLuca allegedly pirated the work of a colleague to conceal defects in his patent for producing a vitamin D derivative. The patent is now more than 15 years old. Before the allegations against DeLuca recently came to light in a lawsuit over the patent, he had been mentioned as a nominee for the Nobel Prize. DeLuca contests the charges, and the matter is under investigation by the university at DeLuca's request.

- Robert Sprague, a professor at the Institute for Research on Human Development in Champaign. Ill., waited three years for the National Institute of Mental Health (a parallel agency to NIH) to confirm his claim that his colleague, Stephen Breuning, had made up data or his study of drugs to treat the mentally retarded. Sprague gave NIMH almost all of the information needed to prove his claim against Breuning, but NIMH still took three years to verify the information. In the meantime, patients were subjected to treatment and medication based on Breuning's falsified re-

Sprague doesn't think the NIMH would have taken him seriously at all if he had not been of senior rank to Breuning. "I was barely able to blow the whistle on him," he said.

From 1982 to 1987, NIH found evidence of misconduct in about 15 of some 100 reported allegations of fraud. Investigators for the Oversight and investigations subcommittee have determined that the number of abuses reported is reduced by an NIH system that tends to protect the offending scientist and put the whistleblower on the defensive.

If an allegation of fraud warrants investigation. NIH tells the university where the research is being conducted. The university then investigates itself - a process that sometimes covers up rather than exposes fraud.

If NIH still smells a rat, it appoints an investigative panel. But that panel is staffed by scientists who are hesitant to lower the ax on their

Even if a scientist is implicated in fraud, the evidence can disappear, making it hard to prove that the scientist deliberately doctored the research. In 1979, one drug researcher under investigation awore that all his data was lost when his rowboat flipped.

There are no available figures on how much money NIH has been able to recover from scientists who misuse NIH grants. An NIH spokeswoman told us, "It's usually not appropriate to collect money on these cases." She acknowledged the common complaint that NIH is too slow to go after offenders. "Sometimes it takes quite a while," she LARNACA, Cyprus (UPI) - Hijackers holding about 50 hostages aboard a Kuwatt Airways jet dumped a body onto the tarmac today after threatening to kill one of three members of the Kuwaiti royal family if authorities refused to refuel the aircraft."

The body was tossed out of the aircraft at 3:10 p.m. (8:10 a.m. EDT). 20 minutes after the second of two deadlines. had passed as the hijackers talked to negotiators.

In setting the second deadline, a hijacker had told the Larnaca International Airport control tower, "We will give you half an hour but this is the final half hour. After that either we receive the fuel or you receive the corpse."

The body, which lay beneath the plane, appeared to be a man wearing a blue shirt and brown slacks but his identity was not immediately known. Journalists using binoculars said the person's hands were not fied.

Aquino told: Ignore coup rumors

MANILA. Philippines (UPI) - Defense Secretary Fidel Ramos said today President Corazon Aquino should push ahead with her four-day visit to China and Hong Kong her first trip abroad in 18 months - despite reports of coup plots against her.

"She should go," Ramos told reporters. Ramos insisted the recent escape from military detention of coup leader Col. Gregorio "Gringo" Honasan and his 13 guards was not serious enough to cancel the visit. scheduled for April 14-17.

Opposition head forced into exile

PANAMA CITY, Panama (UPI) - The government forced a key opponent of Panama's military strongman into exile after telling him the alternative was incarceration on a prison island.

After Carlos Ernesto Gonzalez de la Lastra was sent into exile in Venezuela Sunday, other opposition leaders who want to oust Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega said they are discouraged the United States has not done more to help Gonzalez de la Lastra, a leader of the opposition National Civic Crusade, went into exile in Venezuela Sunday after nearly two weeks of imprisonment by the Noriega-led government.

Youths dispute account of killing

JERUSALEM (UPI) - The biking companions of an Israeli teenage girl killed during a clash with Arabs in a West Bank village sharply dispute the army's version of how she died.

Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin told the Cabinet Sunday that Tirtza Porat, 14, was shot in the head by a bullet. possibly fired by an adult escort.

But some of the youths who accompanied Porat on the fatal hike Wednesday told reporters the escort fired his M-16 automatic rifle only once, in the air, and contended they saw an Arab with a Soviet-made Kalashnikov rifle on a rooftop during the clash.

Dukakis may get 'super-delegates'

By Charles J. Abbott
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The

ace in the hole for Richard Gephardt's presidential campaign was going to be the appointed "super-delegates" from Congress, but Michael Dukakis may hold the high cards now that Gephardt has folded his hand.

Democrats in Congress begin appointing 251 colleagues as national convention delegates this week. The process ends for senators April 19 — the day of the New York primary — and April 20 for representatives.

Officially, the congressional delegates are uncommitted but they can vote for whomever they want as the presidential nominee, regardless of the outcome of their home primaries or

That's why candidates covet their support, as well as that of the 393 members of the Demoeratic National Committee, governors and other party officials who also are automatic delegates. The 644 appointed delegates could play a significant role if, as seems likely, no candidate will win enough delegates before Democratic primaries end June 7.

Gephardt, a six-term Missourt congressman and chairman of the House Democratic Caucus, was expected to be the winner in congressional delegates. He had endorsements from at least 60

Dukakis, the Massachuses governor who is virtually deadlocked with civil rights leader Jesse Jackson in the race for the nomination, may get the biggest boost now that Gephardt

A United Press International tally shows Dukakis with 33 congressional endorsements. compared with 17 for Jackson. 13 for Tennessee Sen. Albert Gore and 18 for Illinois Sen. Paul Simon, who suspended his campaign last week.

Under party rules, 80 percent of the House and Senate Democrats can be elected as so-called super-delegates. That works out to 208 from the House and 43 from the Senate

Many congressmen are uncommitted - at least publicly.

Some want to wait until closer to the convention while others are cautious following Gephardt's demise March 28. Rep. Albert Bustamante, D.Texas, who joined three other Hispanic congressmen in endorsing Dukakis on March 31, was one of the first to switch his support from Gephardt.

in the Senate, selection begins Tuesday when the Democratic Steering Committee nominates 32 senators. At a caucus April 19. Democratic senators are expected to ratify that ballot and elect 11 more senators as atlarge delegates.

In the House, selection begins with meetings early this week of the 12 Democratic regional caucuses. Each region can nominate three-fifths of its members. On Thursday, the Democratic Steering and Policy Committee will nominate 44 at-large members.

House Democrate have until April 18 if they want to nominate colleagues passed over in that process. They are scheduled to meet April 20 to complete the delegate selections.

Although the rules say 80 percent of congressional Democrats can be super-delegates, it is likely all who want to go to the Atlanta convention will be able

House Speaker Jim Wright of Texas, who will serve as convention chairman, Senate Democratic leader Robert Byrd of West Virginia and a few others also are members of the Democratic National Committee and could go as national committee delegates, freeing spaces for others. Some will run for delegate in their districts or be chosen as at-large delegates from their home states.

Dukakis is already an automatic delegate as a Democratic governor on the national

In the latest UPI count of the 393 super-delegates already appointed. Dukakis had 60.65 votes, Gore 29.55, Jackson 22.2 and Simon 15.5. Some national committee members cast fractional votes. Many of them have presidential preferences but have not yet expressed them publicly.

Baby M case's

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) - The 2-year-old girl who became world famous as Baby M is now legally just another of the thousands of children with two families and two sets of parents.

A judge's decision granting surrogate mother Mary Beth Whitehead Gould unsupervised visits with her well-known daughter appears to have put to rest the legal fight that began within days of the child's birth on March 27, 1986.

Melissa is a resilient child who is no less capable than thousands of children of broken marriages who successfully adjust to complex famly relationships when their parents remarry," Superior Court Judge Birger Sween said in a sevenpage opinion handed down Wednesday.

Sween suggested that the child, born through artificial insemination after Whitehead Gould signed a surrogate contract agreeing to bear a child for William and Elizabeth Stern of Tenafly, may have an caster time adjusting to dual parents because she has not had to experience the trauma of divorce.

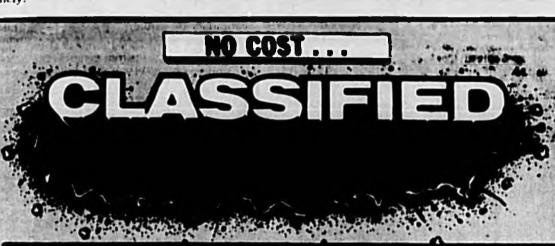

"Her tender age has protected her from the notoriety of the much publicized trial, and her parents have the opportunity to plan for her further protection in the future should the need artse," he said. "She has not suffered the agony of a broken marriage of parents and will be able to develop individual relationships with her parents and stepparents from infancy."

Harold Cassidy, who represented Whitehead Gould during the custody fight, agreed.

"Ironically, with all the discussion of harm to Melissa she may wind up having the best of both worlds," he said.

Sween was appointed to decide visitation after the state Supreme Court in February declared the surrogacy contract invalid and restored Whitehead Gould's parental rights.

By the time the Baby M case reached Sween's courtroom. It had been reduced to a relatively simple custody dispute.

Man rescued after two weeks in Gulf

CRYSTAL RIVER (UPI) - A man who disappeared during an island execursion two weeks ago was rescued in a 14-foot open boat drifting in the Gulf of Mexico after surviving nearly two weeks in a 14-foot open boat on the Gulf of Mexico with no food and little water, but his companion died just hours before help arrived.

The survivor, Timothy Daniels, 19, of Hudson, was conscious and in critical but stable condition at Seven Rivers Hospital Sunday, one day after his rescue.

"Tim's doing real well. He's finally getting a little liquids in today," said his mother, Kay Parker. She said he was receiving intravenous liquids and food, was badly sunburned, and was receiving oxygen.

Daniels told his family he and Jimmy Thacker, 25, of New Port Richey, had no food and little water. Rescuers could had saved Thacker if they had arrived a few hours sooner. Duniels said.

The pair disappeared during an island pienic excursion March 28.

Crewmen aboard the commercial fishing boot Apollo tound Daniels and the body of Thacker in 14-foot outboard motor boat at 8:50 a.m. Saturday, about 8 miles offshore from Crystal River, which is about 80 miles north of Tampa on Florida's Gulf Coast.

Bodine made a charge on lap 492, gaining ground on Elliott going into turn three c. the half-mile oval. Going into turn four, Bodine's right front fender clipped Elliott's left rear, spinning him into the

As the caution flag came out for the 12th time, Elliott quickly pitted for a changed of his right-side tires, and dropped in behind Bodine on the caution lap, in the No. 2 spot with Martin.

Kurtis roces to 1st in Emerald marethon

SEATTLE (UPI) - Doug Kurtis won his fourth consecutive Emerald City Marathon Sunday, capturing the event in 2 hours, 19 minutes and 6 seconds.

Nancy Kubasek, 31, of Bowling Green, Ohio, took the women's title in 2:46:48.

Kurtis, 36, of Northville, Mich., competed in his 79th marathon and led nearly 1,600 entrants through the route from downtown Seattle, to Mercer Island and back around downtown Scattle.

In the last year Kurtis has run 10 other marathons, placing among the top five in nine of them in places like Ottawa, Cleveland, Buenos Aires, Argentina, Montreal. Honolulu, Bangkok, Thatland, Casablanca, Morocco and

United Press International Andre Agassi overcame

Jaime Yzaga 6-8, 7-5, 6-1, 6-2 Saturday at Lima to give the United States a 2-0 lead over Peru in a Davis Cup matchup.

The triumph by the 17-year-old Agassi, the top player on the U.S. team, moved the squad within one victory of wrapping up the semifinal match in the America I division.

Team captains Tom Gorman of the United States and Fernando Maynetto of Peru agreed to postpone a doubles match to determine the third point in the best-of-five match until Sunday.

The U.S. pair of Robert Seguso and Ken Flach, 1987 doubles champions at Wimbledon, will face a team that was not announced as of Saturday by Peru.

Agassi was forced to suspend his singles match against Yzaga at 5-5 in the first set Friday because of darkness. Davis Cup rules require daylight play.

Hurricanes end spring drills

MIAMI (UPI) - The Miami Hurricanes wound up spring football practice Sunday with Coach Jimmy Johnson doing his usual poormouth routine and quarterback Steve Walsh admitting his goal is a second straight national championship.

"That's my goal, to become the first guy (Miami quarterback) to win a couple national championships." Waish said in an interview as he signed autographs and posed for pictures for a fans' day crowd at the Orange Bowl.

The Hurricanes went 12-0 last year and won the national title by beating Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl game.

Resourceful Lyle takes Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) - Sandy Lyle thought he'd have to win the Masters in a playoff.

Instead, the unflappable Scotsman recovered from a bunker on the final hole Sunday and then sank a 10-foot birdie putt to beat Mark Calcavecchia by a stroke.

'Birdle wasn't on my mind at 18 after my tee shot got into the bunker," said Lyle. "I personally thought it was over when I hit into the bunker. I didn't think I'd have a chance to get out.

"That bunker has a steep face and I didn't think I could get the ball over the lip. But I found the ball was on the upslope and I had a good shot to the green." For Lyle, the 1985 British Open champ, Sunday's victory was his fifth in the United States in the past two years. He won the Greensboro Open in 1986, the Players Championship last year, and the Phoenix and Greensboro Opens this year. His second win at Greensboro occurred one week before his Masters victory and at this week's Heritage Classic on Hilton Head Island he'll seek to become the first since Gary Player in 1979 to win three consecutive events on the PGA Tour.

"I'm pleased to be the first Scotsman to win the Masters," said Lyle, who raised his Tourleading earnings to $691,821 this year with his $183,800 share of a $1 million purse. "But it's not much different from winning the British Open. I can't put one major above the other."

Lyle held a 3-shot lead Bunday before he bageyed the 11th hole and then went into the water at No. 12 for a double bogey to fall into a three-way tie with Calcavecchia and Craig Stadler. Calcavecchia took a one-stroke lead with a birdle at No. 13 and Stadler joined him with a birdle at 15. But Lyle pulled back into a tie with a 15-foot birdle putt at 16, a bogey hole for Stadler.

"I wouldn't like to repeat what was going through my mind after the 12th hole," Lyle and. "It's not printable. I was really diagnated with myself for going into the water."

"After I saw Sandy had gone into the water at 12, I said whos, we have us a game now," said Calcavecchia. "He could have made a triple bogey, even a quad with that green being so firm.

"But, he's unflappable. Right now, based on his record, Sandy is playing better than any other golfer in the world. I'm glad he's Boo MASTERS, Page DA

Palus, pair of sophs lead Brantley

By Chris Fister

Merald Sports Editor CASSELBERRY — Lake Brantley's Patriots rode the power of Mark Palus and the surprising play of two sophomores to the Seminole Athletic Conference championship this past weekend at Red Bug Park.

Palus took the Division 1 singles title and teamed with Chip Devine to take No. 1 doubles while sophomores Steve Sigourney and Chadwick Hartley also took singles crowns as the Patriots compiled 17 points compared to 11 for defending champion Lake Howell. Seminole High had a tremendous tournament as it took third at 6 followed by Lake Mary. Lyman and Oviedo with 4 and DeLandat 2.

"It's nice to have a player like Mark (Palus) who you can rely on all the time," Lake Brantley Frank Gooch said. "What also helped us turn it around was the play of Hartley and Sigourney. Both played superb tennis and we needed it when Devine lost in the second round."

Palus, after an opening-round bye, upended Lake Mary's Dave Sheridan, 6-2, 6-1, in the semifinals and then ended the cindetalla run of Seminole's Scott Lewis, 6-2, 6-1, in the finals.

Division 2 singles had more upsets than any other division as the top two players were knocked off. The big upset came in the second round where Lyman's Nick Gornto upended Lake Brantley's No. 1 seed Devine, 7-5, 6-3, Gornto went on to defeat No. 2 seed Scott Eastman of Lake Howell, 3-6. 6-4, 6-0, in the finals.

At Division 3, Lake Brantley's Sigourney was the unexpected champton, downing Lake Howell's rop-sected Marion Wynter, 6-4, 5-7, 7-5, in the Lake Howell got its first championship at Division 4 where top-seeded Larry Floyd downed Lake Brantley's Trevor Olson, 7.5, 6.3, in the finals.

Hartley then came up with a key performance at Division 5 for the Patriots. He knocked off Lake Howell's Pat Regan. 6-4. 6-1, in the semifinals, then downed Lake Mary's Ryan Rogers, 6-4, 6-4, for the championship. Rogers had upnet top-

CASSELBERRY - Seminole High, the doormat of boys tennis in Seminole County for so many years, made a major breakthrough this past weekend as it finished third in the Seminole Athletic Conference Tournament at Red Bug Park.

Seminole, which used to be happy with two or three points in a tournament, came away with six points and the respect of the rest of the SAC. The Tribe finished third in the tournament behind powers Lake Brantley and Lake Howell.

"Seminole was one of the best stories of the tournament," tournament director and Lake Howell coach Mike

Hargis said. "They turned in an excellent performance and hopefully that will help turn their program around."

Leading the Seminole charge was Division 1 singles player Scott Lewis who pulled off one of the major upacts of the tournament by defeating second-seeded Vince Regan of Lake Howell. Lewis and Regan locked up in a grueling firstround match with Lewis coming out on top. 7.5, 7.8 (7-3).

Lewis then went on to the semifinals where he rolled to victory over DeLand's John Krider, 6-2, 6-2. He then went on to the finals where he ran into one of the state's top junior players in Lake Brantley's Mark Palus. Palus came out on top, 6-2, 6-1.

The 'Noles also got one point each at Division 2 and Division 3 singles. At No. 2. Chad Perce downed Ovledo's Bill Lugering, 6-3, 6-4, in the opening round. Perce was beaten by Lake Howell's Scott Eastman, 6-2. 6-0. In the semifinals. At No. 3, Jay Adcock won his opening round match, 1-6, 6-4, 6-3 over Adam Dombchik of Lake Mary. He also played well in the first set of his semifinal match against No. 1 seed Marion Wynter of Lake Howell, but Wynter claimed a 7-5, 6-0 victory

Oviedo roars, scores 20 of possible 21

By Chris Fister

Herald Sports Editor CASSELBERRY — There have been several powerful teams in the Seminole Athletic Conference in the past, but none have so thoroughly dominated the league the way Oviedo's Lady Lions did this past weekend.

In defending its SAC title. Oviedo scored 20 of a possible 21 points, losing only one match in the entire tourney held Friday and Saturday at Red Bug Park.

Behind Oviedo's 20 prints was Lake Howell with 12 while Lake Mary was third at 5, Lyman and Lake Brantley each had 4, De-Land 3 and Seminole O.

Oviedo claimed champion. ships at four singles divisions and both doubles divisions in the SAC tourney. At Division 1 singles, Adrienne Wood played impressively in routing two opponents and keeping her unbeaten record intact. After an opening-round bye, Wood thrashed Lyman's Jill Sinofsky, 6-1, 6-0, and she swept Lake Howell's Renee Martin, 6-0, 6-4, in the finals.

At Division 2 singles, Lake Howell's Emmylou Dulce had a fine tournament as she defeated Lake Mary's Ingrid Degraaff, 6-1. 6-0, in the semifinals and up ended Oviedo's Mandy Ehrhart, 6-3, 6-1, for the championship. It was the only loss of the tournament for an Oviedo player. At Division 3 singles, Ashley Ehrhart and Lake Howell's Bonnie Oliver rolled through their early matches to advance to the finals. For the second time this season, Ehrhart defeated Oliver, this time by the score of 6-4, 6-4. Oliver had defeated Ehrhart twice last year.

Lisa Frangipane breezed to the Title at Division 4 singles as, after a bye, she ripped Lyman's Angie Evans, 6-0, 6-1, to advance to the finals. Meanwhile, Lake Howell's Mina Alilin advanced by outlasting Lake Mary's Tracey Curtis, 7.5, 3-6, 6-1. Frangipane then swept Alilin, Oviedo continued its singles dominance in Division 5 where freshman Jill Wise downed Lake Brantley's Erica Josephs, 6-3, 6-2, for the title. Josephs had a nice tournament as she outlasted Lake Mary's Debbie Urbach, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 in the

Martina outlasts Sabatini

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (UPI) — Martina Navratilova struggled to a 6-1, 4-6, 6-4 victory over Gabriela Sabatini Sunday to claim the title in the $300,000 Family Circle Magazine Cup.

In the third set of the final. Navratilova and Sabatini were each unable to hold their serve until the seventh game, when Navratilova pulled out a 40-15 service game to go ahead 4-3 in the set.

Navratilova then broke Sabatini's serve easily, but was in turn broken by the 17-yearold Argentine while serving for the match at 5-3. Navratilova then broke back in the final game for the victory.

Sabatini said she was unable to get her approach shots and serve deep enough to allow her to rush the net.

"At 3-2 (in the third set) 1 thought I had a chance to win TENNIS but I think my serve was very bad." Sabatini said.

Sabatini noted that Navratilova was able to rally better from the baseline than she did in their previous encounter at the Virginia Slims Championship in New York in 1987, which the Argentine won.

"I don't feel I played as well as the times I've beaten her.' Sabatini said. "My serve, I think. was the biggest problem."

Navratilova had said before the match that she hoped to defeat Sabatini to avenge her loss in the Virginia Slims.

In the ninth game of the final set. Navratilova double-faulted to fall behind 0-30 and then hit an error to give Sabatini triplebreak point. Sabatini easily took the game to pull withn 4-5, but dropped her serve and the match

Brantley looks to maintain SAC lead

By Chris Floter Hereld Sports Editor ALTAMONTE SPRINGS

Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots are hoping one momentary lapse won't cost them what it took an entire season to build. The Patriots, 7-0 in the Seminole Athletic Conference going into last Thursday's game, suffered a 4-3 loss to DeLand, a team they had beaten 17-1 earlier in the YEAF.

Brantley takes a 16-4 overall record and 7-1 in the SAC into this week's action. The Lady Patriots host Lyman Tuesday night and Oviedo Thursday night. Lake Mary is breathing heavily down Brantley's neck with a 7-2 SAC mark and 14-4 overall, but the Lady Rams will have to beat Lake Howell and Brantley in consecutive games to have a shot at the title.

While Brantley looks to keep its lead in the SAC, it also has a big nonconference game Wednesday at Winter Garden West Orange. Three of the Lady Patriots' four losses have come against West Orange, one on opening day and two in tournament play. The opening-day loss was the Lady Patriota' first home defeat in regular season play in over two years.

Lake Mary had a superb week as it won three games to move into second place in the league. one-half game behind Brantley

Brooke Taylor had the most impressive week of arryone in the hitting department as the Lady Rams' senior outfielder was 7 for 12 with one double. one triple, one home run, nine RBIs and eight runs. Taylor improved her batting average from .302 to .364.

Actually, if you count exhib-itions, Lake Mary did lose once last week, that against the team mothers at a team picnic. The mothers won the game, 4-0, but they did have the advantage as the team members had to but left hanked and had to turn around twice before making a throw joops, that was supposed to be a secret). The Lady Res then downed the team fathers. 3-0, in a regularly played game.

Seminole High couch Lance Abney wants to know what the Lady 'Noles have to do to get a win these days. Abney was hoping to get at least two and maybe three wins a week ago but the Lady Tribe wound up with three more deleats and now stand at 2-10 overall and 1-8 in the SAC. 'Noles snap slump, top St. Cloud SANFORD - Seminole stroked nine hits and scored in every inning to take an 8-6 victory over St. Cloud Saturday afternoon at Seminole High School.

The Tribe, 9-11, will have a pair of tough Seminole Athletic Conference games this week as they host Oviedo Wednesday and Lake Mary Friday, both games are set to begin at 3:30.

Jeff Blake, 4-7, was the winning pitcher as he scattered nine hits, recorded six strikeouts and walked five. Blake also went 3 for 4 at the plate for a nice all-around performance.

"Jeff (Blake) needed this win, that's why I left him in the entire game." Seminole coach Mike Ferrell said. "He didn't have a great day, but he's been down on himself and I hope this will bring him out of it."

The top of the first inning was all had news for the Seminoles. St. Cloud scored three runs and Seminole lost the services of Jerry Governale who broke a collarbone. Governale, playing right field, charged a short pop fly and made a diving attempt to catch the ball, which caused the injury.

The Tribe picked up one run in the bottom half of the inning with Ron Blake and Bubba Corsi starting things off with consecutive walks. Jeff Blake then connected on a run scoring single to left. ChrisBASEBALL

Ray then dropped a perfect bunt to advance the runners to second and third with one out. Seminole could not come up with any more runs though and trailed 3-1.

St. Cloud made it 4-1 in the top of the second before Seminole cut the margin to a single run. In the bottom of the second Tribe catcher, Jeff Smith, drew a lead off walk, stole second and moved to third on a throwing error by the catcher.

Mike Senechek then hit a sacrifice fly to deep right to score Smith and narrow the lead to 4-2. After the innings second out Ron Blake reached on an error by the Bulldog shortstop. Blake was then stealing and scored when Corsi sent a line singel to right center to cut the lead to 4-3.

The Tribe then tied the score in-the bottom of the third with a single run. After an out James Joyce started things off with a single. Jeff Bergman followed with a single and Smith walked to load the bases. Senechek again hit a deep fly, this one to left field, to score Joyce and even the score at

The Bulldogs took the lead again in the top of the fourth with on run with Seminole answering with a run of its own in the bottom half of the inning. Jeff Blake doubled in the inning to score Ron Blake to tie the score back up at five apiece.

The Tribe to their first lead in the bottom of the fifth with another run, with one out Senechek stroked a single to left. After the second out Ron Blake ripped a long triple and Seminole took its first lead at 6-5.

St. Cloud responded with a run in the top of the sixth to even the score at 000 but was held in the top of the seventh with Seminole adding a pair of runs in the bottom of the

Jeff Blake opened the bottom of the sixth with a single to left, stole second and moved to third when Ray put down a bunt. Ray reached first safely as the Bulldog pitcher fielded the bunt and threw the ball away trying to get the out at first. Ray, with the infield playing in, then stole second and Joyce hit a two run single give Seminole an 8-6 advantage entering the final inning.

"We had a couple of chances to put the game away early," Ferrell said. "We scored in every inning but could have scored a lot more. I'm just glad we hung in their and came up with the necessarry runs.

Seminole could play a spoiler this week with Oviedo and Lake Mary fied for the SAC lead with identical 6-2 records. The Tribe is tust 1.7 in the conference but best Lake Mary.5.4, earlier this season. Oviedo escaped Seminole, 1-0, at Oviedo so there should be a pair of tough games played at Seminole this week.

Seminole's Division 1 doubles team of Lewis and Perce also had an impressive tournament. They opened up with a 3-6, 6-2, 6-2 victory over Krider and Joel Stevens of DeLand, then outlasted Pat Schuermann and Jeff Griffin of Oviedo, 3-6, 6-3, 7-6 (7-5) in

Seminole will hope to use its performance in the SAC as a springboard for the Class 3A-4 District Tournament which will be held April 20-22. The Notes could very well be the darkhorse of the district if they play as well as they did in the SAC and maybe get a win or two from the Division 4 and 5

Umps: New rule nothing to balk at

United Press International

One week into the 1986 season, a new piece of baseball jargon has become commonplace - the words "discernible stop."

Umpires are enforcing the balk rule more stringently this year than any time in recent history and the calls are having a bearing on games.

The key to the balk rule is a pitcher must come to a discernible stop before delivering. Many pitchers don't stop long enough because they are concerned with holding runners close to the bag. Thus, a lot of runners are receiving free bases because of all the balks.

Thirteen balks were called in seven American League games Sunday and they played significant roles in the outcome of three in particular.

At Anaheim, Calif., Bob Welch committed three balks that led to two runs in Oakland's 6-4 loss to the Angels.

At New York, Dan Plesac balked home what proved to be the winning run in Milwaukee's 7.6 loss to the Yankees.

At Arlington, Texas, Jeff Sellers balked twice, which contributed to three Texas runs in the Rangers' 4-1 victory over the Red Sox.

Many people believe all the complaining St. Louis Manager Whitey Herzog did about the Minnesota pitchers during the World Series last year led the leagues to have umpires enforce the balk rule more strictly.

"The whole thing is distracting the pitchers." Milwaukee catcher Bill Schroeder said after umpires called five balks against his pitchers, including three against Ted Higuera. "If you zero in and look for something. you'll find it even if it isn't there. They're (the umpires) looking for balks. A couple of times our pitchers stopped but balks were stilt called."

Larry Barnett, the crew chief and plate umpire in the Yankees-Brewers game, said pitchers had better take the rule to heart

Renteria had his fourth and fifth doubles of the season and Alvin Davis and Mickey Brantley each knocked in two runs. Mike Moore improved to 1-1.

Dave Winfield Isn't laughing at George Steinbrenner (well, maybe he is), he's just happy to be off to such an impressive start. Winfield is hitting over .500 in the early going of the '86 season and is a prime reason the Yankees are off to a 5-0 start.

Scott is 2.0 with 17 strikeouts. Scott started the 1987 season winning his first three decisions and 10 of his first 13.

Irked Law BASEBALL makes Expos pay

MONTREAL (UPI) - Vance Law isn't necessarily angry with the Expos. He just wants them to know they were wrong for not re-signing him.

Law, who signed a free agent contract with Chicago in the off-season after Montreal chose not to offer him a deal, singled home Manny Trillo from second base with two out in the 10th inning Sunday, giving the Cubs a 10-7 triumph over the Expos.

"I know I had some good years with Montreal and I had some good friends but now I am on the other side," Law said. "It's always great to help win a game but today I guess I wanted to prove that the Expos made a mistake in not re-signing me."

Bob McClure, 0-1, walked Trillo to start the 10th and Rafael Palmeiro sacrificed. Randy St. Claire relie ed and retired Jody Davis, who earlier had knocked in four runs, on a line drive to short. Law then drove in the winning run with a single to center.

Shawon Dunaton then singled and pinch hitter Jerry Mumphrey walked to load the bases. Dave Martinez followed with a two-run double to left to make it Rich Gossage, who gave up two runs in the ninth and retired only one batter, earned the victory in his first decision.

POWAY, Calif. (UPI) - San Diego Inamori Classic winner Ayako Okamoto said she was trying to steal Colleen Walker's putting stroke, which might explain its disappearance in the home stretch of the $225,000 tournament.

Walker three-putted on the 16th hole and then failed to connect on birdle putts on the next two holes that would have at least forced a playoff with Okamoto.

In the end, Okamoto, who was literally tossed in the air by celebrating Japanese compatriots, won the event for the second straight year with a Sunday round of 69 and a 12-under 272 for the tournament, one shot better than Walker and two ahead of third-place finisher Judy Dickenson.

"It is amazing how differently you can putt on two different days," said Okamoto, who needed 31 putts Sunday,

Only two days after their biggest Seminole Athletic Conference victory of the season, Lake Mary's Rams must turn around and play another tough one tonight as they go to Lyman High to take on the streaking Greyhounds. Game time is 7 p.m.

Lake Mary, 14-6 overall and 6-2 in the league, knocked off Oviedo, 4-2, on Friday to move into a tie for first place in the league with the Lions. Lyman, Rams at Lyman tonight 11.9 overall, has won nine of its last 11, and stands at 4-3 in the conference.

The Rams will go with either Eric Birle or Aaron latarola on the mound while Lyman is expected to go with ace Ross Urshan.

Watching intently will be Lake Brantley's Patriots, who sit in third place in the league at 5-3. Brantley has key games against Lyman and Ovledo this week.

Lyle had a 1-under-par 71 Sunday for a total of 7-under 281. Calcavecchia carned $110,200 for his second-place 70-282. Craig Stadler, 1982 Masters champ, was third at 68-283 and 1984 champ Ben Crenshaw was fourth at 72-284.

Australian Greg Norman, who tied for second the two previous years, fired a near-record 8-under-par 64 Sunday to vault from a tle for 25th to a tle for fifth at 3-under 285.

"I was more disappointed than last year (when Larry Mize beat him in a playoff by sinking a 140-foot chip shot)," said Norman, who shot 77 with four 3-putt greens on the back nine on opening day. "Last year, it was somebody else's good shot. This time it's my fault for not playing better earlier in the

"I thought Sandy would be the man, I really did. He looked so calm, cool and collected, I didn't think anything would ruffle him. But I felt I could get in the top 10 with a good round.

"I was more aggressive because that's the only way to make up ground." Norman sald. "I wasn't going to sit back and shoot for 24th place."

Stadler jumped into contention when he placed a 3-wood shot just eight feet from the cup at par-5 No. 8 and made the cagle putt. Having been there before, I knew what could happen on the back nine," Stadler said. "I knew you could win by 8 or back up to the field."

Calcavecchia said Lyle is playing better than Norman and two-time Masters champion Seve seven shots back of the Scotsman Sunday.

approach to that subject.

There are a lot of players who can play as well as me," he said. "I just happened to have won two tournaments in two weeks. As the year goes on, the Norman's and the Ballesteros' will surface again."

Masters Sidelines AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) - Greg

Norman corrected his putting stance three days too late.

"I had been hitting the ball pretty good and couldn't figure out what was wrong," he said. "I made a minor adjustment at (No.) 13 Saturday and told my caddy Saturday night 'tomorrow. I'll putt pretty good."

That turned out to be an understatement.

The Australian star carded eight birdies and no bogeys Sunday in shooting an 8-under-par 64 at the tough Augusta National in the final round of the Masters.

That wasn't good enough to win, but it was good enough to vault Norman from a tie for 25th to a tie for fifth - giving him an extra $30,000 for the four hours work.

He made up seven shots on third-round leader Sandy Lyle. who won on the final hole by sinking a 10-foot birdle putt that Ballesteros of Spain who finished broke a tie with Mark Calcavecchia.

"I didn't figure I had a chance But Lyle took a modest of catching Sandy (whom he trailed by 11 shots at the start of Sunday play)," Norman said. "I thought Sandy would be the man. I really did. But I felt I could get in the top 10 with a good round." Norman said his biggest regret in this year's Masters was the way he played the back nine in the opening round.

73-year-old widow, but I don't feel a day over 45, and people would guess my age as 50 or 55. I have always loved to dance. and if I say so myself, I am a very good dancer.

Well, I joined a dance club last summer and took some lessons. I had a wonderful young man for a teacher and got carried away so thoroughly that before I realized it. I had spent close to $15,000 on lessons, which is more than I can afford. Like a dummy, I signed two contracts. Now I've had to hire a lawyer to help me out of this mess. My lawyer figured that my dancing cost me $70 an hour.

This club takes either singles or couples, and It's a real problem for a woman alone, so the dancing teacher was my partner. I am very active and just love to go out and socialize. I own my own home and take care of my business, but it's no fun going out alone or with other

Thank you. CHA-CHA-CHA DEAR CHA: Your problem is not dancing-it's signing a contract without having consulted an attorney. I hope others will learn from your costly experience, cha-cha-cha.

However, a severe deformity should be checked by a doctor. because heart and lung problems can develop if the breastbone is pushed out too far. Have your son's pediatrician give you further advice.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've been bedridden for several years with what my doctor calls brainstem ischemia. Can you tell me more about his disorder?

DEAR READER: The brainstem, part of the brain at the back of the head just above the spinal cord, is a vital neurological structure that contains important nerves controlling reflexes and other basic body functions. Major nerve pathways pass through and branch off the brainstem. Ischemia means lack of oxygen. When the brainstem is deprived of blood supply, such as from a stroke, patients show a variety of neurological consequences, including loss of consciousness. difficulty breathing and absent reflexes. Sometimes brainstem ischemia produces irreversible brain damage and death. At other times, the lachemia is temporary and is associated with transient nerve malfunction.

Treatment consists of antispasmodies and drugs to reduce blood clotting.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have photopsia, a sensation of whirling sparks in my viston. My triglyceride level is high but all other tests are normal. What do you suggest?

DEAR READER: Photopsia is a serious symptom of an eye problem that needs careful attention by an ophthalmologist. The sensation of whirling sparks means that the retina - the thin film on the back of the eyeball that is essential for vision - is being inappropriately stimulated. The two most common

If the king of clubs were in the East hand, declarer would need only a reasonable diamond split to make 12 tricks. But let's see how the hand played in six.

Declarer took the ace of hearts and immediately tried the clubfinesse. West won the king and either opponent has Q-J dontried to cash a heart. South ruffed, played A-K-Q of spades, shedding a club, and ruffed doomed.
