

COL. MITCHELL AGAIN ATTACKS U. S. AIR POLICY

Nation's Development Of Aircraft Is Slow And Inefficient, He Tells Probe Board

Lanphier In Favor Of Patrick's Plan

Some Base to Block Asiatic Attack Is Urged By Officer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Col. William Mitchell today resumed his onslaught against the nation's air policies before President Coolidge's investigating board.

In America, the development of aircraft has been "slow and inefficient," he said.

"Other nations," he said in speaking of proposals to develop air defenses, "are aware of these matters while we bury our heads in the sand like an ostrich."

Lack of sufficient personnel and material is preventing air officers from receiving tactical training necessary to cope with an enemy.

The first attack in the next war Major Lanphier said, "undoubtedly" will be from the air, and only minor pursuit planes were in commission yesterday at Selfridge Field, with 72 needed.

Questioned as to a possible air attack, he asserted only 80 miles of water separated America from Asia in the Behring sea area which would be routes of an air attack from the east.

Major Lanphier urged establishment of an air base at Nome, to block a possible Asiatic attack.

Major John H. Pirie, of Fort Leavenworth, urged "definite control" of air service by air officers.

Major Lanphier said that the air service officers most familiar with the construction and condition of the airship Los Angeles had recommended to him recently that further action be taken to secure the Los Angeles for the army air service.

The recommendation was made to General Patrick by Colonel C. E. Hall, who was army observer aboard the Shenandoah at the time of disaster of that ship.

Major Lanphier said the memorandum, which was submitted by Colonel Hall after he had been given an opportunity to examine the Los Angeles with great care and after he had flown in this dirigible.

Six Favor Independent Corps
Six army flyers, each a major in command of an important activity of the air service, lined up solidly in favor of an independent air corps in the army, declaring it offered the best means of promoting the nation's aerial defense and also of alleviating a condition of unrest now existing among the aviation personnel.

They flying before the president's air board, the officer-pilots declared a seeming lack of consideration by the war department for aviation matters was the underlying cause of existing dissatisfaction among junior officers, but emphatically denied they were "muzzled" by the department from expressing their personal views.

Their opinions favoring an independent corps were given an added endorsement by those familiar with the medical needs of air men. Doctor William H. Wilmer, eye specialist of Baltimore and Washington, who served as a flight surgeon with the American expeditionary force, vigorously expressing this view.

After receiving the testimony of these witnesses, the board recessed late in the day, until tomorrow.

State Comptroller Adds Sub Offices

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The comptroller's office will place one sub-office in each county of the state this year to handle the automobile business for the next calendar period, it was announced by Captain R. A. Gray, assistant comptroller. Thirty-one appointments to that office have already been made. The business of the agents will be directed towards receiving applications for privileges to operate motor vehicles, revolvers, and little more than a dozen agents have been maintained. At the last legislative session one for each county was authorized.

Flood Raging Over Yell v River Basin

PEKING, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Fifteen thousand square miles containing the homes of 2,000,000 persons now are flooded and is feared that hundreds have been drowned in consequence of the break in the Yellow river dyke on the Shantung-Chihli border, the affected area is being extended hourly and famine relief workers returning from the scenes say the flood is the greatest since that of 1918.

A further break in the main south dyke is allowing the waters of the Yellow river to flow unrestrictedly to the south and a portion may reach the Yangtze river through the Grand canal. The possibility is seen of a complete and permanent termination in the river's course.

2ND MIAMI JAIL BATTLE VICTIM DIES OF INJURIES

B. S. Westbury Succumbs as Result of Injuries Received
Sunday; Officials Looking for Woman In Case

MIAMI, Sept. 29.—(AP)—B. S. Westbury, 23, of Savannah, Ga., died at the local hospital here Monday of gunshot wounds suffered Sunday morning when he and other prisoners in Dade county jail sought to escape.

His death brings the toll in the attempted escape to two, Ollie Moore, negro, twenty, having been shot and killed when deputy sheriffs repulsed the prisoners. Five other prisoners, wounded by bullets fired by officers, were reported in improved condition.

Sheriff H. R. Chase and his deputies have instituted a far reaching search for Joe Tracy, escaped convict, who reported captured in a jail at Fort Lauderdale and at Palm Beach but neither report was well founded.

Other deaths may be added today to that of Ollie Moore, negro, twenty, who passed out in the jail here Sunday after being captured by Sheriff H. R. Chase and his deputies, charged with kidnaping and detaining a boy, is in critical condition and so is B. S. Westbury, of Savannah, Ga., held for grand larceny.

Woman Is Sought.
Reports from the city hospital indicate that the other four will recover. Haywood Register, who led the "crush" but dropped in the first valley and died of death in the first unscathed from the hail of bullets directed by Sheriff Chase and his deputies, concealed in vantage points to ambush the expected break.

Also being sought by deputies is Laura Updegraves, purported bandit queen and friend of the late gang leader, John Ashley, who was captured by Sheriff H. R. Chase and his deputies, concealed in vantage points to ambush the expected break.

Vance E. Douglass Returns From Trip To Eastern Points

Returning to this city early this week from two weeks' trip embracing New York City, Tennessee and a number of the Gulf Coast states, Vance E. Douglass, clerk of the circuit court, reports that current stories concerning the intense and universal interest in Florida throughout the country have not been exaggerated.

He states that many of those whom he met while away have announced their intention of coming here during the winter, and that others regretted their inability to do so. The prevalent belief north of the St. Mary's river, according to Mr. Douglass is that there is assurance of vast and immediate fortune.

While in New York City, Mr. Douglass reports having enjoyed himself, visiting numerous attractions at the metropolis, including Ziegfeld's well known revue, and the Yankee Stadium.

Returning by way of Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia, Mr. Douglass states that the heat experienced in these sections was intense, particularly in Mississippi where record temperatures were a daily occurrence.

He declares that the acute labor shortage recently felt in some parts of the southeastern states has been relieved to a certain extent by the return of laborers attracted to the north earlier in the year by the higher wage scales there.

AEROLOGIST IS QUESTIONED BY U.S. NAVY COURT

Shenandoah Survivor Asserts
Lansdowne And His Fellow
Officers Felt No Concern
When Ship Began to Ascend

Original Course Was Kept By Commander

New Valve System Used on Shenandoah Defended By
Read Admiral Hillary Jones

LAKEHURST, N. J., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Even when the airship Shenandoah began her first rapid ascent before she was wrecked, those in charge of her felt no concern for the craft's safety and thought she would weather the condition as she had similar situations on previous flights, Lieut. Joseph B. Anderson, aerologist on board, declared today before naval court of inquiry.

Later there was discussion as to the change of course but neither Commander Lansdowne, the captain nor Lieut. Anderson could see any immediate danger and the course was held.

Reduction of the Shenandoah's automatic valves from 18 to 8 has been criticized by Captain Anton Heinen, former German Zeppelin pilot, and at the conclusion of the day's sitting announcement was made by the court that he would be called, probably Wednesday or Thursday.

At the same time Rear Admiral Hiary P. Jones, president of the court, directed Judge Advocate Foley to communicate with Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne, widow of the captain of the ill-fated craft, to ascertain whether she desires to make any statement. Mrs. Lansdowne was quoted as having said that her husband did not want to make the flight and feared storms during the trip.

Implying his previous testimony, Lieutenant Roland G. Mayer, construction officer of the Shenandoah, defended the new valve system as an entirely safe one and testified that the covers of all the automatic valves were removed on the day the first began to ascend and that there was no failure of the helium gas cells before the craft broke in two.

Why System Changed.
The change in the valve system was made primarily to save weight and not helium, Lieutenant Mayer said, adding that experience had "conclusively proved" to us that the change was not detrimental in any way to the safety of the ship with our method of operation.

In view of the necessary lapse of time before application blanks and license forms can be prepared, the commission ruled that a temporary license be issued at the expiration of the present cards, pending acceptance by the commission as provided by the new enactment.

The ordinance also provides for the appointment of a realty board, by the mayor, to pass upon the applications for final approval of the commission.

Private Developers Will Not Get Special Rates Over Railroads

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 29.—Development of private property does not come within the state law which provides that railroads may handle material at rates enjoyed by municipality, county and state.

This is the opinion given by Fred Davis, attorney for the Railroad Commission, to that body, when he was asked for an interpretation of the law as it affects private projects.

In some instances, Mr. Davis said, individuals have sought lower shipping rates on materials, stating that their property would be an asset to the city, county or state, and for that reason they should enjoy the lower rates.

The law plainly states, however, the Railroad Commission attorney said, that the municipality, county or state must be directly behind any project of that kind. Many times, he said, property in the outskirts of a city never comes within the jurisdiction of the municipality.

BANDITS KILL WATCHMAN

DENVER, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Bandits shot and killed a night watchman and blew open the safe in the department store of the A. T. Lewis and Son Company, in the heart of the business district last night. A police cop was thrown about the store in search of the robbers, who were believed to be in the building. The watchman's body was found in the basement. The safe is located on the second floor.

They Escaped When the S-51 Sank

Draped in blankets and clad underneath only in their underwear or pajamas, the three sailors who were rescued from the submarine S-51 when it sank after being rammed by the steamer City of Rome were landed at Boston and taken at once to the Chelsea naval hospital, little the worse for their experiences but sadly in need of new outfits. Left to right, they are D. G. Kile, of Peoria, Miss., engineer first class; M. S. Lira, of St. Louis, fireman first class, and Alfred Geier, of New Bedford, Mass., electrician's mate second class.

CITY COMMISSION PASSES NEW LAW ON REALTY FEES

Commissioners Frame Bill
Monday Regulating Contractual Matter; Will Have Near City Building

The City Commission at a meeting yesterday afternoon definitely disposed of the real estate operators' fee question, when an ordinance was passed regulating the fees and amount of bond required by realty brokers and salesmen for the coming year.

Discussions following the recent proposal of a number of local realtors, for an increase in the license assessment for the next year, to be effective Oct. 1, when the present license expires, culminated yesterday, it is said, when the commissioners, meeting with a committee composed of members of the Sanford Real Estate Board, passed an ordinance satisfactory to the interested parties.

By the terms of the ordinance, the present fee will remain the same in both cases, that of the brokers at $15, and of salesmen at $5 per year. According to the new ordinance, all brokers will be bonded by the city for $2,500 while salesmen must furnish $1,000 bond to their employers, it is shown.

In view of the necessary lapse of time before application blanks and license forms can be prepared, the commission ruled that a temporary license be issued at the expiration of the present cards, pending acceptance by the commission as provided by the new enactment.

The ordinance also provides for the appointment of a realty board, by the mayor, to pass upon the applications for final approval of the commission.

DEBT PARLEY IS COMPLICATED BY TERMS' DISPUTE

Parley Delegates No Nearer
Compromise After Session
Yesterday; Counter Proposals
Occupy Entire Day

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Alternating waves of optimism and pessimism ruffled over the Franco-American debt negotiations Monday but after a series of meetings between the two commissions two more suggested plans for settlement were visible.

The joint sessions were held, and each of them produced a proposal—the first, by France, suggesting terms regarded by the French as more acceptable than the original offer calling for a $25,000,000 first payment, and the second a counter proposal by Secretary Mellon containing figures described as perhaps more favorable than those accorded Great Britain.

Last night M. Caillaux, French finance minister, after sending his cabinet in for a final vote, went to confer with Under Secretary Winston, sought to make an engagement with Secretary Mellon to talk matters over personally.

He called at the treasury but found Mr. Mellon had departed for the day.

The American commissioners frankly admitted there was still a great difference in the view of the two groups and the French entered today's conferences apparently doubtful, but later they apparently were more cheerful.

Notwithstanding that negotiations thus far have brought no definite announcement of results, treasury officials held tonight to their stand that such a situation might be evident in negotiations of such a serious nature and could not be regarded as representing a stage where a break was threatened.

By some American commissioners, however, Monday's French offer was viewed as not departing sufficiently from the first proposal which was found unacceptable, and they expressed no optimism over the progress of the discussions.

Another joint session has been called for tomorrow, but indications tonight were that henceforth more of the negotiations will be carried on by small groups. It was the belief that the private talks between M. Caillaux and Secretary Mellon as well as between other members of the two commissions were likely to provide the methods by which an understanding would be reached, if a settlement is to come from the present conferences.

VICTIM OF AUTO
ACCIDENT TAKEN
HOME FOR BURIAL

Funeral of Will Roberts, Who Died in Orlando Following
Fall From Car Friday, To Be Held In Jasper, Ala.

Funeral services for Will Roberts, who was fatally injured late Friday afternoon in an automobile accident on the Orlando road, will be held today at his home in Jasper, Ala., according to announcement made here this morning.

Following his death late Friday night in an Orlando hospital, the body was prepared for burial, brought to Sanford and from here was shipped to his home town.

Mr. Roberts, aged 22, was hurt about 6 o'clock Friday evening, when he fell from the running board of a Ford motor car, driven by Dan S. Jones 24, and accelerated also by K. D. Roberts, age 26, brother of the dead youth, all of Jasper, Ala. According to a statement made today by Dr. W. Jones, father of the boys, the boys were... the which they occupy on the... of Sanford, after inspecting a real estate project.

Will Roberts it is said, was riding on the running board of the car at the time of the accident. When about two miles from the city limits, at Roseland Heights, the car swerved sharply, throwing Roberts upon the ground, it is said.

His companions picked him up at once and rushed him to their home where a doctor from this city was immediately summoned. After examining the young man, the physician announced the gash in his head a superficial wound. Mr. Roberts' condition became steadily worse, according to the statement, and he was rushed to Orlando hospital by N. B. Willis, foreman for A. J. Lansing, local building contractor. He died at 11 o'clock shortly before reaching Orlando, it is said. Death was due to a fractured skull, according to hospital authorities.

After preparation for burial was made in Orlando, the body was brought to this city, and then shipped to his home in Alabama, accompanied by K. D. Roberts, his brother.

Mr. Roberts is survived by his father, mother, six brothers and four sisters, all of Jasper, Ala., it is stated. He came to this city four weeks ago, joining his brother who had moved to Sanford several months before.

Since coming to this city, they had become interested in real estate, it is said, and were returning from inspection of a lot which they had recently purchased when the accident occurred.

The American commissioners frankly admitted there was still a great difference in the view of the two groups and the French entered today's conferences apparently doubtful, but later they apparently were more cheerful.

Notwithstanding that negotiations thus far have brought no definite announcement of results, treasury officials held tonight to their stand that such a situation might be evident in negotiations of such a serious nature and could not be regarded as representing a stage where a break was threatened.

H. C. DuBose Tells Of Rotarian Ideals At Luncheon Today

A short talk by H. C. DuBose, on Rotarian ideals featured the weekly luncheon of the Sanford Rotary Club, at the Sunnolite Grill today. Mr. DuBose enumerated the various standards upon which he based the Rotarian creed, and stated the purpose of the organization in a well delivered address, according to the report.

Z. N. Holler was welcomed into the organization as a member, according to the announcement. Twenty-four other members in attendance this afternoon included George Brockhahn, George Babcock, Dr. Alex Epps, Hampton C. DuBose, Frank Gonzalez, Milton Haddock, W. J. Harly, Charles E. Henry, Edward Higgins, R. J. Holly, E. F. Housholder, Col. George W. Knight, F. R. MacNeill, Edward Markel, William Parker, Dr. S. Puleston, F. E. Roumillat, S. O. Shinholzer, W. C. C. Smith, D. L. Authorities Hunting Escaped Life Convict TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 29.—(AP)—The State Prison Department is still making a strong effort to find William B. Salter, notorious life termer, who escaped several days ago.

Salter, sentenced for a criminal attack upon a white girl in 1923, was considered a prisoner to be thoroughly trusted by Superintendent J. S. Birk, of the state farm. The fugitive, following a previous escape, which took him to Mexico, where he was accused of the brutal murder of a man in that country, gave himself up voluntarily some time later. Because of his action in doing that, the state prison heads looked upon him as one to be trusted.

Georgia Man Is Held For Slaying His Wife

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 29.—(AP)—"She drove me to it with her repeated threats to bob her hair and paint her cheeks," said R. L. Shepherd, 58, alleged slayer of his wife this morning. "It's been going on for two years," he said.

Shepherd was jailed late yesterday following the death of his wife, which came a few minutes after her jugular vein had been slashed with a pocket knife during an alleged struggle with her husband.

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Orders were received at the Boston Navy yard today directing that 20 navy caskets stored at the naval hospital in Chelsea be shipped to Newport, R. I.

Every effort was being made to recover the bodies of those whose lives are known to be lost. Sea-planes and fast cruisers will scour the surrounding waters in the search for those who are believed to have escaped from the craft when the ship was wrecked, but who were not picked up by lifeboats from the City of Rome. Two destroyers with searchlights began the work tonight.

Commander Flanagan, executive officer of the base, was besieged today with telegram telephone calls and callers, mostly relatives of the missing men, who wanted word of the disaster. "There's hope" he told them all.

The divers were ordered into the battery room of the vessel and a wireless message from Rear Admiral Christie, and from there they were instructed to work as far forward and aft as possible preliminary to further lifting operations. How long it might be before they could be heard from was indefinite.

The Barrier To Wealth!

"If" is the stumbling block. Men who surmount it—who take an easy jump and clear it—are the men who make money. Think of the opportunities lost constantly by those who bow to the oppressive influence of the word "if." "If I had only done so and so"—how often it pictures its vivid story of failure! If you want to succeed stop "if-ing" for there is one more chance for you—AND DON'T LOSE OUT THIS TIME—when

The Last

Goes On Sale October 15th

In this last offering of Davis Islands investors are given their final opportunity to purchase Tampa city property—on which more and greater improvements are being made than any other in the entire state—at original development prices. For when this is gone no more Davis Islands property will be for sale except from lot owners who will demand and receive their own prices.

That this is the greatest profit-making opportunity ever presented in Florida is evidenced by the hundreds of checks sent in to sales offices throughout the state and tendered as deposits on purchases giving the D. P. Davis Properties unconditional authority to select the best available locations for them when the property is placed on sale Oct. 15.

This is the opportunity that hundreds of investors have been waiting for—that thousands will literally fight for this winter.

The unusual demand for this last property on Davis Islands is caused by the record-breaking building activity—$7,000,000 for 1925—together with the amazing profits made by buyers of a few months ago through resales this summer—profits that have spelled fortunes for owners with still greater profits to come.

The greatest value increases which are a matter of record, have in turn been caused by the superior location that Davis Islands enjoys—only one-half mile from the City Hall of Tampa—the largest community in Florida.

In less than a year values on Davis Islands have risen from $125 to $600 a front foot. And $600 a front foot has been refused by owners who declare that within 30 days they will receive $800 per foot—$24,000 profit in less than 12 months.

Think of the greater profits to come this winter when a virtual army of investors from all parts of the country come to Florida's largest city seeking just this type of property.

FIFTEEN AIRPLANES

Survey of Army Air Fields Shows What's Wrong With Aviation

ARMY HAS ONLY

FIT FOR COMBAT

—Only 15 airplanes fit for combat use should American suddenly be forced to go to war!

That's the fighting strength of the army air service, an official survey of all the military flying fields shows.

The remaining equipment is composed of training planes, messenger planes and obsolete heaps of junk.

Not a Chance

Sending one of these obsolete planes into battle against a modern aircraft "would be exactly like a river steamer going into a naval engagement against a first-class battleship," a high army officer says.

"It wouldn't even have a ghost of a chance."

The following data relative to equipment at the various fields is taken from War Department records:

At Brooks Field, Tex., are 50 training planes for "green student flyers, and at Kelly Field, nearby, 27 training planes for "advanced students."

These can be used for training purposes only.

One Amphibian Plane

Mitchell Field L. I., has 30 planes. All of them were built during the war and are now obsolete.

The fifty planes at Langley Field, Va., include 15 obsolete war-time Martins and 35 training planes of various types. Of the latter, one is a new, up-to-date Loening amphibian. The others are old and worn out.

At Selfridge Field, Mich., there are 40 pursuit planes. Of these, 15 are modern, first-class Curtiss and Boeing planes. The rest are not battle planes.

At Bolling Field, near Washington, there are 12 old DeHavillands, three of which have been rebuilt; two Sperry messengers; and one small Vought training plane.

Rockwell Field, near San Diego, has six old DeHavillands.

That sums up America's flying strength now in commission.

McCook Field, near Dayton, O., is simply an experiment station.

An army air service headquarters officer, who for obvious reasons requested that his name be withheld, summed up the condition of the country's air forces as follows:

"General Mitchell stated that we have only 19 planes fit for combat use.

"When he made that statement, about a year ago, it was undoubtedly true.

"Of the 19 planes he referred to, I know that at least four have crashed and are now out of commission.

"Our entire combat strength in the air is represented by the 15 Curtiss and Boeing pursuit planes at Selfridge Field—and there may not be that many now.

"The only other up-to-date planes we have is the Loening amphibian.

"The old planes, built during the war are obsolete and absolutely unfit for combat.

Flaming Coffins

"Some of these are known as 'flaming coffins.' They 'have caused the death of many a good flyer. And yet we go on buying them!

"The training planes and messenger planes serve their purpose well enough, but of course these are not combat planes.

"Secretary Weeks has stated that we could not buy 1500 planes in the air in a pinch. Counting all the training planes and the planes in storage, we probably could.

"But we have 15, not 1500, first-class fighting planes."

FLORIDA FACTS

Stack of rain in west Florida has caused the death of several thousands of fish in the shallow lakes, according to J. B. Royal, state game commissioner.

Crews of workmen are now busily engaged in connecting the lakes and streams with larger ones for a supply of water.

The claims are searched for pearls to be used in the manufacture of buttons.

Applications totaling approximately 15,000 are still pending in the office of the automobile license department because of irregularities in given data.

The automobile owners cannot secure their 1925 license until the 1925 application has been adjusted, says Captain R. A. Gray, assistant comptroller, under whose jurisdiction the automobile license bureau comes.

Between one million and one million five hundred thousand names under go classification in this department.

A monument will be erected just outside the capital at Tallahassee marking the original spot of the government marker of the intersection of the guide meridian and the base meridian for Florida.

Chief Engineer Fred Elliott of the drainage department has the erection of the monument under his supervision and it will be completed within a short time. Its erection was authorized by the last legislature.

Plans are under way by the executive council of the alumni association of the University of Florida to collect $50,000 to be used for the construction of a standard basketball court.

The groves and farms of Florida yield annually more than $85,000,000.

Naval stores in the state amount to $20,000,000 annually in the past and this product is now on the upgrade.

The sale and shipment of fish in the state amount to approximately $15,000,000 annually.

Walton county has the largest corn club in western Florida, according to J. W. Mathison, county agent.

In this county there are 1,044 farmers, of which 924 are white and 120 are negroes.

The value of the farms has been placed at $2,119,127.

Last year there were 13,086 acres of corn planted and the farmers gathered 169,167 bushels of that product.

The county also has planted 26,075 young satsumas, 15,649 young pecan trees; there are 13,574 cows, and 18,311 hogs.

The agent states that with the use of the free hog serum treatment that there should be 40,000 hogs by next season.

Florida people spend millions of dollars annually on imported food stuffs, according to statistics compiled by L. M. Rhodes, commissioner of the state bureau of marketing.

Of the twelve leading crops a five percent average shows that the yield per acre is $278 per year. It would be foolish the commissioner asserts to change these crops on a semi-tropical climate for a staple food crop that would probably make $25 per acre.

An acre of celery land will bring a profit of $874.80 per year.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—What politicians say and what they really think often are two quite different things.

For instance, Republican politicians say they expect their party to gain control of the Senate at the next Congressional election.

Also for instance, Democratic politicians predict that their crowd will gain control of the house.

It isn't a bit likely that either group actually thinks any such thing.

When the Republicans speak of controlling the Senate, they mean genuine control. They control it on paper now, but they can't depend on all their own votes—that is, the votes of independents only, nominally classed as Republicans.

They way they tell it, the agricultural states are so much more prosperous than they were that radical sentiment has subsided and they're confident that these states will choose "regular" Republicans in place of "insurgent" Republican senators in 1926.

The point the Republicans neglect to stress is that all the chances favor their loss of at least six Senate seats to the Democrats and that there's no prospect the Democrats will lose any seats to them.

Seven Democratic Senators' terms will expire next year and all will succeed themselves or be succeeded by other Democrats. This is certain because the selections will be made by the voters of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana and North and South Carolina, and they always do select Democrats.

At the same time the terms of 25 Republican senators will expire and the states they represent include Arizona, Colorado, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri and Oklahoma, which generally select Democrats.

Besides this, the Republicans will have to fight hard in Idaho, Nevada, New York and Utah.

The Democrats may make some gains in the latter house.

They hold few, if any, seats representing normally Republican districts and the Republicans do hold a number of seats representing normally Democratic constituencies—three in Kentucky, two in Maryland, seven in Missouri, two in Oklahoma, two in Tennessee and one in Texas. The Democrats may gain some of these but hardly enough to give them control unless there should be a landslide, of which there's no suggestion at present.

Paid In Full

What will be the result of the French Debt Funding Commission now meeting in Washington is the question pressing in everybody's minds not only in America but on the other side of the Atlantic as well.

M. Caillaux, a Frenchman of pronounced Latin instincts and a good business man too, is going to the limits of bargaining power in working toward a complete cancellation of the debt.

After cutting the debt to the lowest possible figure, he will doubtless ask for a ten year moratorium, or perhaps a twenty year moratorium.

But in all probability M. Caillaux will not get everything he wants. Secretary Mellon of our Treasury Department is a banker of long experience.

But if it is not possible for France to repay this debt in its entirety? The wealth of France was widely dissipated during the war, her resources were almost exhausted.

That indeed is the big question for the debt commission to settle. Other questions upon which this one is dependent include:

Why has France never unified her budget, systematized her budget accounting, collected her taxes and revalued her franc?

Following so closely in the wake of the Shenandoah disaster and the misadventure of the PN-9 No. 1, the sinking of the submarine S-51 will cause considerably more disturbance in the Navy Department.

The fact that the owners of the City of Rome have filed affidavits stating that the S-51 was commanded by inexperienced navy officers and that at the time it was rammed it was running without side lights, does not help any.

At the same time, however, there is no reason for the rest of the country to become unduly excited.

Such things have happened before and we have survived; such things have happened in the best regulated nations in the world, and they apparently in the end were all the better for it.

On a hotel porch at a summer resort a visitor approached, in the dark, the spot where a beautiful young thing with bobbed hair and melting baby-blue eyes was sitting with an adoring youth.

Each season the weather man appears to dish us up something a bit bigger than we have ever had before.

There is satisfaction though in knowing that these ultra-hot days cannot continue much longer.

Then there will be happiness in knowing that the ensuing six months will be perfect in comparison with other parts of the country where bally furnaces and coal hills are sources of terror.

As Brisbane Sees It

Speaking of "Differences." Why Waste Time On Lions? 150 Lbs. Rides 10,000 Lbs. Greatest of All Wealth.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

YOU READ: "The consensus of opinion is against a separate air force." If public opinion has anything to do with it, opinion is overwhelmingly in FAVOR of the separate air force.

We have separate Army and Navy departments, because the army and navy are DIFFERENT. The navy requires one kind of skill, the army another kind.

WHY DON'T the respectable dodos, middle-aged incompetents that sent the Shenandoah to destruction, ask themselves this question: "Is the difference between army and navy, land and water fighting, any greater than between the flying machine and the army or the navy?"

IF ARMY and navy gentlemen can't see it, President Coolidge and he is responsible for the army and navy.

IT IS SAID Colonel Mitchell intends, if dismissed or forced from the Army, to hunt big game in Africa.

Colonel Mitchell ought to stay here AND TEACH YOUNG AMERICANS TO FLY.

AT THE GENESSEE, N. Y., fair yesterday, Lieutenant Governor Lowman arranged to ride one mile on the back of a five-ton elephant.

A 10,000-pound elephant will carry on its head one mahout, to guide the big beast, and in the howdah on its back an English gentleman eager to kill a tiger without giving that tiger a chance to kill him.

OUR CROPS are worth billions every year. That's encouraging. In our mines and oil wells are hundreds of billions stored away, and that's encouraging.

THE unused water power of this nation is worth tens of billions, and other tens of billions for irrigation afterward.

BUT THERE is a greater wealth and its figures more important.

TAKE AWAY those children, and this country, with all its mines, water power and fertile soil, would amount to as little as it did when a few Indians possessed it.

LIUTENANT WILLIAMS, first class American pilot, sent a stubby little airplane of steel, brass, wood and canvas through the air at the rate of 302 miles an hour yesterday.

HOWEVER, CANVAS and wood should play no important part in air machines intended for such speed.

THIS DEMONSTRATION shows that we have the pilots, even if we haven't got the machines.

THE WAY TO MAKE A REAL ESTATE ALBANY HERALD

An Albany realtor makes the complaint that many owners of Albany property refuse to put a price on what presumably was bought for investment purposes.

Of course he is. There is no argument on that score. However, something is to be said on the other side of this question of selling real estate.

And there is a price on practicality. However, with the exception of the home a man owns and the building in which he carries on his business, often even these are for sale.

THRIFT MIAMI HERALD

Thrifty on the part of an individual or the government is commendable. It is something to be encouraged. But it may be carried to excess, to the stage of ridiculousness.

Governmental extravagance has been notorious in the past and is to be condemned. It may be necessary to lean too far to the other side in order to overcome the bent towards waste.

It begins to sound rather small, however, to hear how the Federal departments are saving the pins and the pencils, how paper brackets thrown away have been recovered and used again.

The Cash Value of a Sunday School ST. AUGUSTINE RECORD

The pastor of a Chicago church recently declared, in an address before a group of social workers, that his organization handled an average of three thousand children every year through its Sunday school activities.

Yet that church is located in the ward which has the second highest juvenile delinquency rate of all the wards of the city.

Good government depends upon an authority far more fundamental than force. If a child has no deep-seated moral conviction concerning obedience to law, respect for authority and the rights of others, no police system in the world can make a good citizen out of him.

CRACKERS LOSE TO FORT WORTH IN FIFTH GAME

Paul Wachtel Invincible With Spittball and Atlanta Club Is White Washed by 9 to 0

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Paul Wachtel, of spittball fame, Monday gave the Fort Worth Panthers their third victory of the Dixie series by holding the Atlanta Crackers scoreless while his mates pounded out nine runs. Cy Warmoth, a pitcher, started for Atlanta, but lasted only three and a fraction innings. He was replaced by Wheeler Dell, who failed to check the Panthers. Wachtel beat the Crackers in the third game of the series here Saturday.

The two teams left last night for Atlanta, where the sixth game of the series will be played Wednesday. If Fort Worth wins the next encounter, it will be declared the champion club of the south. Should Atlanta be victorious, the series again would be tied and it would be necessary for a seventh contest to be played. Fort Worth would be the scene of playing as a toss of the coin today gave the game to ATLANTA.

TARS PREPARING FOR ANNUAL TILT AGAINST CITADEL

Coch Talman Gives Rollins Gridders Finishing Touches Before Leaving for Charleston for Game on Saturday

WINTER PARK, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Finishing touches are being placed on the Rollins College gridiron machine prior to its departure from Winter Park Thursday for Charleston, S. C., where it will face the strong Citadel Military College aggregation Saturday afternoon in the initial contest of the season for the Tars.

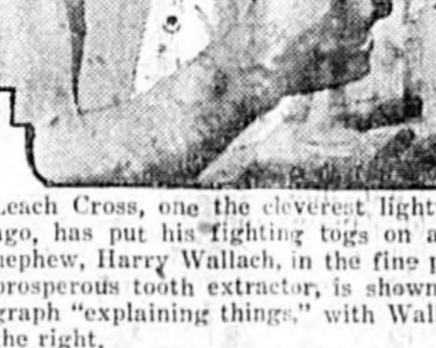

Coch Talman gave his protégé a stiff workout Monday afternoon on the Winter Park Municipal Athletic Field and another strenuous period is scheduled for today. It is expected that Wednesday will be devoted to a snappy signal drill and skull practice to iron out the little weak spots, and then the team will be ready for its journey.

A hard game is expected in Carolina, the Cadets of Citadel having already scored a victory this season, defeating the Paris Island Marines last Saturday by a good margin.

Lineup Is Strengthened.
The Tar lineup has been somewhat strengthened by the return of several more of last year's squad who have entered the college again this year and have reported to Coach Talman for training. Among the late arrivals are George Seeds, considered one of the fastest backfield men Rollins has ever had and one of the stars of the team last year and the year before; Robert Wilson, who held down the center position last year and the year before, and who has shown himself to be a demon in the pivot position in the line; and George Bowers, who arrived from his home in Vernon, N. Y., and who played in the line last year.

Mercer Game 2 Weeks Away.
No announcement has been made as to what members of the squad
