Flow Government Will Control The Supply and Price of Wheat

Food Administration Explains the Difficulties That Have Arres and Makes Known Its Plane to Overcome Them.

troi of wheat, four and broad.

The disturbance to the world's commerce and abort supplies has caused a greater disruption of the normal mantate for wheat then may other cereal. Tiret.-As a result of the leolation of certain of the world's wheat producing countries by either belligerent lines or short shipping the normal determination of the price of which by the cho and flow of commerce is totally destroyed.

Becand.—In order to control speculation and to secure more equitable distribution of the available wheat and four between their countries the ullied governments have placed the whole traid are now buying their wheat through single government agents instead of in the normal couses of commerce. Therefore the export price of wheat and four-and this is the real purchaser.

Third.-In . normal times American wheat moves largely to Europe in the fall months. This year the shortage of shipping necessitates its distribution over the entire year. Therefore there is danger of a glut in our warehouse system over a considerable period.

Fourth.-There are large stocks of wheat which cannot be drawn upon by the ailies during the war, but in the event of peace or defeat of the submarines these would be available and might seriously demoralize the demand for American wheat,

Fifth.—It must be clearly understood that the guaranteed minimum price of $2 per bushel for wheat, set out in the food bill, does not apply to the 1017 harvest, but only to the 1918 harvest. and then under conditions which must be elaborated. There'ls therefore no determined price for the 1917 harvest.

Must Regulate the Price.

The result of this altustion is that the normal price, making machinery is entirely broken down unless some efficlent government action is brought into play. Either (a) the American producer may face a slump in wheat, possibly below his production c dent that the United States government can more justly deal with the mentioned.

. Therefore the food administration has determined to take the following course:

First, in order to eliminate speculation in .wheat and flour, all elevators and mills of over 100 barrels daily capacity will be required to take out a this license to be that only reason, ceive indirect benefit in low able and customary charges shall be gins of cost in distribution. made for warehanse vervice, that no wheat shall be stored for more than the food administration and that certath information as to receipts and shipments shall be supplied regularly. The grain exchanges are being asked to suspend all dealings and quotations in future wheat. These regulations will come into force Sept. 1.

While farmers' co-operative elevators are excepted by the food bill, this, however, applies only to mutual concerns and not to stock companies, and, in any the plan none are likely to stand out.

Upon the determina-tion of this fair basis it is the intention of the food administration to us every authority gives it under the bill and the control of exports to effect the universality of this fair basis throughout the whole of the 1917 harvest year without change or fluctuation, If should thus be clear that it will not be to the advantage of any producer to hold back his grain in anticipation of at his own cost of storage and interest and if it is necessary for the government to buy the entire wheat burvest, in order to maintain this fair price in protection of the producer, the food administrators intend to do so.- to

Furthermore, the holding of wheat a flour contracts by persons not engaged in the trade, and even when in trade, in larger quantities than are necessary for the ordinary course of their busiprice—if not controlled will be subject then cases will be prosecuted with vig-to almost a single will of the foreign. And such holders would be advised ness is unlawful under the act, and o liquidate their contracts at once.

> "By the above arrangement we be lieve that we shall stabilize the price of wheat throughout the year, that the hazards of operation due to fluctuating prices which are imposed upon our milling and distributing community will be eliminated, and therefore their business can return to the normal lines and the normal margins of profit, and that we shall not only have stabilized the price of wheat, but stabilized the price of flour, and that it should enable us to arrive at a stabilized price of bread," says the board.

> The food administration has had the patriotic co-operation of the leading millers of the country, and these millers have organized at the request of the food administration a committee to represent the entire trade. Detailed proposals for an agreed differential of profit and expenses per barrel of flour. and per ton of feed are under discusslon. Under this arrangement the publle will be assured an equitable and stabilized price of flour based upon the cost of raw material, and we confidently expect the volunteer arrangement with the mills which will give satisfaclion to the public.

The universal endeavor. the export price of wheat, which ulti. country to reduce consumption of wheat mately determines the real price, is at breadstuffs, in order that we may have the will of a single agency. (c) Some the requisite exports with which to one must buy the surplus wheat at any carry the alics over the forthcoming given moment, and if the surplus winter, will result in a largely increaspasses into speculative hands it will ed amount of wheat available for exbe held for higher prices later in the port. By thus encouraging the home production of flour the manufacturing cost will be reduced, and government license, the conditions of therefore the American public will receive indirect benefit in lowered mar-

In accordance with the policy of the administration to co-operate with all thirty days without the approval of trades, it is also discussing details of voluntary arrangements with the dour distributors by which agreed differentials may be effected in the wholesale irade.

GREATEST MISTAKES OF POULTRY RAISERS

One of the greatest mistakes a poul-try raiser can make is to allow sick and alling birds to run with the rest of the stock. In this way the sick bird drinks from the same pan that the oth-ters use, and the disease spreads most rapidly. Chickens with the gapes or any other trouble will easily transmit the disease through the medium of the drinking-pan. The safest way is to take the sick bird out and keep it away, from the rest of the stock until it has it is well to learn how to avoid such mishage in future. entirely recovered.

WOMAN FOOTBALL COACH TRAINS HUSKIES

Mrs. Earl W. Brennon, first women football coach, who is training the First District State Agricultural school, Jonesboro, Ark: She was formerly Miss Coactte McManagil of Lincoln, Neb. Mrs. Brannon is thoroughly familiar with the game and is a great help to her husband who is the official coach of the team.

Mrs. Brannon knows the ins and outs of the game as well as many of the leading coaches of the country and she knows how to develop ability in her squad. While her husband is putting the first team in shape she is drilling the second team. Many famous coaches have said that upon the second team rests the strength of the first. She already has developed several men who show prospects of making the first eleven.

SEVEREST TESTS IN AVIATION CORPS

Candidates For Airmen Must Meet Rigid Requirements.

MANY ARE REFUSED DAILY

Must Not Only Be Physically Sound, but Must Have Acute Eyesight and Balance-Sense of Touch Is Also Carefully Examined by Physicians, and Many Refused on These Grounds.

Perfect physical condition is only one of the regulaites of the aviator, and the degree of perfection desired is far be youd that expected in any other branch of the government military service. But to top this off, the finest organs, perfect limbs and all around physical proficiency count as nothing unless the candidate for a place in the aerial corps can pass a series of tests which for ingenuity of search are appalling to the man under the probe.

Strong, vigorous youths who could fit into any other branch of the service are daily refused in aviation because their lack of balance, the sixth sense, whichdemn them to speedy death, or because of their inability to distinguish browns from greens at great beights would cause them to drop into treetopa instead of plowed fields.

Whispering Test Next.

The candidate must fall within the weights of 120 pounds as a minimum and 100 pounds as a maximum. After each man is credited with his mark for physical fitness and soundness of the organs his hearing is examined by the whispering test at distances of twenty

All possible diseases are then investigated. Each man is sounded and examined from the top of the head to the soles of his feet. If any has skin disease, varicose veins or other complaints of a similar nature he is counted out until cured. Flat feet, unless they are of a very serious nature, are not a bar to the aviator, as he is not compelled to

The dynamic test follows. This is the first deviation from a general physical examination. Each candidate is compelled to stand in a corner of the room and walk diagonally forward with eyes shut and then walk backward to the point from which he start. ed. This tests his sense of direction.

The Vital Sixth Sense.

The most interesting part remains. That is to discover how well developed In each wan is the vital sixth sense, the principle of equilibration, An expert on this subject explains it as fol-

"In each ear are three tiny capals filed with lymph. These really are the spirit levels of the body, Movement in any direction is communicated through the flow of the fluid in these tiny canals to sensitive nerves, which carry the impression to the brain. This organ in turn sets about correcting the balance in the normal method."

Then begins the test of balance. The candidate is seated in an armchair working upon a pivot, with a head rest for security and a tall handle projecting above, by which the chair can be turned. The youth is told to fasten his eye mon an object and then close. bls eyes.

The chair is then spun rapidly to the right, ten revolutions in twenty seconds. As it is stopped suddenly facing the stationary object the candidate mefit his eyes and endeavors to focus them upon the object. The dizzy motion causes the eyes to jerk rapidly from side to side until they regain their natural control. Twenty-six seconds are allowed for the nerves to regain control. Then the same test is performed with the spinning to the left. This test shows the rapidity with which the candidate regains control of his belance after being violently twisted and turned.

Testing Sense Touch.

The spontaneous touch test next is in order. The candidate closes his eyes. The physician standing before him at arm's length holds his index finger so that the youth's finger rests upon it. He is then ordered to raise his arm and allow it to descend gradcally to see whether it will come back to the same point of contact.

This was no very severe task, but that which followed was one of the hardest of the day. The man is spun in the chair as feat as it can be turned and then, when brought to a standatill, is compelled to raise and lower each arm atternately three times in succeasion in sixteen seconds to see how far past the point of touch his finger will rest. When the spinning is to the direction, and vice versa. The real test that shows the marvel of the balance in the ear is disclosed when the youth is forced to sit in the chair, with fists upon knees and head bent forward until the forehead toucher the hands. The chair is revolved slowly five times, and the candidate is or dered to sir erect without opening his eyes. If he has natural balance as he sits up he falls heavily to the side op-

After the youth has passed through all of these tests and made a perfect mark the physicians say he need have no fear that he will lack the proper balance and sight for cruising in the

Sanford Corn Fields

Would Bring Joy to the Heart of a Regular Corn Farmer From Iowa or any other State.

> In fact several people from the great corn growing states who have driven with me lately have expressed surprise and pleasure to find that the Sanford Celery Delta "looks like home" all corn and not vegetable gardens as they supposed.

Sanford Does Grow the Vegetables

however and corn is only a by-product. Commencing the latter part of September our farmers grow one, two or three crops of the finest fall, winter and spring vegetables of all kinds. When summer comes along, and the north wakes from its frozen slumbers long enough to produce its own truck crops, the Sanford farmer plants a crop of corn and then takes life easy for three months, goes touring in his new automobile, enjoys the breezes of the mountain resorts or the sea bathing at the beach or per-haps visits the old friends back home.

The Northern Farmer Grows Corn for a Living. It is His Mainstay.

The Sanford Farmer makes his thousands from the truck crops of the fall, winter and spring and when this is done grows corn enough to feed his mules, fill his silo, or fatten his hogs, but in Sanford corn is considered simply as a by-product of the "off" season and not primarily as a money crop.

Ten Acres

for the northern farmer-would not be enough land to bother with. He could not make a living from so little. But Ten Acres of Sanford Land under our intensive method of farming, producing three big money crops each season and after that as much corn per acre as the other fellow can grow on his northern farm in a whole year, is a different matter.

Ten Acres in Sanford will Grow Crops Worth as Much as can be Had from the Best of the 160 Acre Northern Farms.

This is not an idle boast. It is honest fact, and you who are here know it to be true. The outside man can readily verify it if he will take the trouble.

The Sanford Board of Trade

recently compiled figures showing the production of the Sanford Celery Delta for the past trucking season. Their published statement is that there were 3,000 cars of all kinds of vegetables shipped out of Sanford the past season. That these 3,000 cars came from a little less than 2,000 acres of improved and subirrigated land. That these same 3,000 car loads brought our farmers $2,200,000.00.

It Don't Take Much "Figgerin" to See

that 2,000 acres producing $2,200,000.00 is at an average rate of *$1,100.00 an acre for a ten acre farm; an average profit of $11,000.00. It isn't at all strange then that our well improved farms are worth $1000,00 to $2000,00 per acre. Why shouldn't they be worth it? Many individual farms paid upwards of $2000,00 net profit per acre last season. And all this time you must remember that our summer crop of corn or hay or cotton is not included in these figures at all.

Such Profits Make Sanford Land Look Mighty Cheap at any Price, but More Especially When You Think of Some of the Choicest Land in the

I Am Still Offering a Few 10 Acre Tracts at $60 Per Acre with only $150 Down and the Balance in One, Two and Three Years at 6 per cent.

Less than half their value but I am instructed to sell these tracts so you gain if you get one. Flowing wells guaranteed on any of these tracts. Natural drainage is good. No better land any where at any price.

These Ten Acre Tracts

are either heavy hammock land that will cost a let of mony to clear or open land very easily and cheaply cleared and gotten in cultivation. You may take your choice. Some like one kind, some the other. All of them are good, rich, dark, sandy loam soil, close to loading tracks, not far from improved truck farms, some of them joining good, well improved places and they are from four to six miles from the Postoffice in Sanford.

When Improved and in Shape these Tracts

will produce celery, lettuce potatoes, tomatoes, peppers, or any other vegetable you may wish to grow, just as well as any of the 2000 acres now improved and which our Board of Trade says is producing at the rate of $1100.00 per acre each year. After growing three crops of vegetables you can then make a crop of corn equal to the Illinois one-crop-per-year farm, and all inside of one year of twelve months.

Why Am I Specializing on these $60 Unimproved Lands? Because it Pays.

It pay me. It pays you. Pays me a little commission to be sure. but it will pay you vastly more every year you own one of these tracts. They are cheap enough so you can make money to buy 10 acres at $600.00 and hold it. But it will pay you much more to improve and farm.

If You Want More Than 10 Acres You needn't be Bashful

I'll sell you 20, 30 or even 40 acres at the same price of $60.00 per acre. If you pay all cash I will allow you a liberal discount.

I have many other farms, well improved farms and partly improved farms, big farms and little farms, stock ranges, orange groves, etc.

Cleaner Soda Pountains

Miami, Fla., Aug. 22 .- Judge Blanton of the municipal court has made it plain that he intends to back up the Board of Health ordinances as existing in the city of Miami. There were arraigned before him in court yesterday six sods fountain proprietors charged with failing to comply with the city health ordinance providing that, all glasses, used in soda fountains must be washed in holling water or sterilized. The first defendant tried was W. A. Cox and it was proved that the glasses used at his fountain were merely rinsed out in cold water and then filled for other customers. He was promptly fined $15.00 and upon Mrs. D. R. ## THE RECIPE LADY

BY JANE OSBORN.

Among other things Mardy Graham wrote recipes.

she had begun with big ideas about writing short stories for the popular magazines, a play or so and possibly a best seller. But now, ensconced in her very own little studio spartment in a dingy New York side street, she considered herself quite fortunate when she kept the pot bolling by writing anything at all ...

After the rejection of that first play of hers, the ambitious Mardy had taken one reef after another in her sails. Still she chose to sail her own little craft in her own way and sho

I was between 11,000 and the idea of appearing morning after the idea of appearing morning after morning in some Western paper as the originator of countless ways of making cakes, muffins, stews and puddings, the like of which she had not even fasted for many a moon. "But still," reflected Mardy, as she sat before her desk in the spartment, "I really am that recipe lady."

So Mardy went forth to the photographer's one day and sat for her picture, and with the usual misgivings long brown strip of ground that makes and hopefulness she waited the finish-

She really didn't want the man whose friendship she had won through her letters to know that those rooms were all that she knew of home. The recipe lady, of course, must have a home and a kitchen, or how would she know so much about cooking?

But even when the editor knocked the old brass knocker that Mardy had fastened to her studio door, Mardy had not quite decided how she would explain about the picture. She trusted that she would not mind making the explanation when she saw him. If the attachment that he had told her in DISBURSEMENTS for the six months:
