Manning To Step Down As Longwood Administrator

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood City Administrator Greg Manning, anxious to get back to being just police chief, will make it official Friday. Back on the job Wednesday after a hunting trip to South Carolina, he told the Evening Herald he plans to submit letters to the mayor and four other city commissioners asking them to replace him as city administrator.

"I would like to return to the police department," Manning said. "Some people have made my holding both positions a political issue and I don't want to delay things the city needs to get done."

Manning said there has been no pressure from any of the commissioners for him to step down and he has had 100 percent backing from them in solving any problems that have come up since he assumed his dual role July 1.

Manning was first named acting city administrator after former city administrator David Chacey resigned under pressure Jan. 7 and served until City Clerk Don Terry was named city administrator on April 8. During that time Capt. Terry Baker served as acting police chief.

County Pulls Rug On Sanford

Land Purchase Destroys City's Wastewater Disposal Plans

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County has entered into a Yankee Lake purchase agreement that will ultimately dismantle Heathrow's planned unit development sewer plant and, do the same — for now — to Sanford's wastewater management program.

The comprehensive effort that took

Sanford more than five years to get on track was rerouted within a matter of minutes early Wednesday morning when county commissioners voted 4-1 to acquire the 287-acre parcel owned by Heathrow developer Jeno Paulucci. Sanford had also bid on the land, hoping to locate an effluent spray irrigation system there.

According to City Manager Frank

Falson, during Sanford's efforts to obtain the site, an arrangement to phase-out the Heathrow plant "was one of Paulucci's primary concerns." In addition to a cash settlement, Falson said the city had offered "in the neighborhood" of $7.5-million.

The county contract calls for $7.5 million from the county and an agreement that once a wastewater treatment plant has been built at the site, "the existing flow at the Heathrow PUD sewer facility will be immediately diverted to the (new) northwest facility and the Heathrow facility will cease operation."

On Friday, the county will formally assume the Heathrow plant's lease and "operate it until the new plant is

Caller Says American Hostages Executed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — An anonymous telephone caller claiming to represent the Islamic Jihad terror organization said today five Americans held hostage by the Moslem group would be killed by a firing squad.

A second caller said the Americans had already been killed but a search did not turn up any bodies.

"We decided to execute the American hostages by a firing squad," the first caller told a Western news agency. "Wait for another call from us at 1 p.m. (6 a.m. EST) regarding the status of the corpses of the American hostages and where these corpses will be found."

More than an hour after the deadline there had been no second call and no bodies had been found.

Another person called the same Western news agency three hours before the deadline, also claiming to represent the Islamic Jihad, to say the hostages had already been killed.

"The man spoke very fast," said a spokesman for the news agency. "He did not read a statement. He said the Americans had been executed and their bodies, including that of (U.S. Embassy official) William Buckley, were dumped in the basement of the Cola building."

The "Cola building" is a devastated former beverage factory in a low-income south Beirut neighborhood. Police who searched the factory turned up nothing and officials were dubious about the authenticity of that call.

The original telephone caller said Islamic Jihad — a shadowy Moslem fundamentalist organization — would send a videotape to news agencies showing the hostages before their execution.

Officials at the U.S. Embassy said they were aware of the threat but refused to comment. "We heard about it but we have absolutely no comment on it," said an official.

The anonymous caller said the decision to kill the American hostages was taken "because indirect negotiation" with the United States "has reached a dead end." He did not elaborate.

"We wish to tell America that this sad end of the American hostages will not be the last," the caller said. "We shall shake the earth under America's feet and the feet of its agents."

Golden Agers Take To Dance Floor

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

The joint was packed and jumping for the Golden Age Games Dance Contest. It was an encore performance for many who waltzed, trotted, tapped and showed other fancy foot work.

Eustis' Bert Repass, 98½, "don't forget the half," was back on the boards for the 11th year with long-time dance partner Frieda Gielow, 80, of Sanford. And in friendly competition against his dad, was Richard Repass, 67 and his wife Judy, said. "That's important in dancing."

Despite their compatibility Repass said all he has taken home from the Golden Age Games dance is "the booby prize." One year he took the silver and another year the bronze in the oldest dancer competition.

But even this year there was at least one dancer who could call Repass "Junior." Former circus performer Bob Ebright of Holly Hill out ranks Repass in the age category at 101. However Ebright wasn't entered in this year's competition, although he took to the floor between the competitive dances.

"I took a prize one year, but they saw me take it and I had to put it back," Ebright joked.

And a joke is what you have to expect from a man who from 1909 to 1968 performed in the circus with seven trained pigs. His circus career started, Ebright said, in 1900 and he was a flying trapeze and trampoline artist as well as a performer with porkers.

Ebright said he guessed he was the oldest person at the dance contest, even though he wasn't in the contest. "I seem to be the oldest where ever I go," he said, but dancing helps him seem younger than his years.

It does the same for Repass whose who year after year returns to the Games if not to grab the gold to at least have a good time trying.

Missionaries Freed

From Staff and Wire Reports

Mel Wyma, foreign secretary for the New Tribes Mission headquartered in Sanford, said today three of the organization's missionaries kidnapped 33 days ago have been released by leftist guerrillas.

"We thank the Lord for their safety and we are looking forward to seeing them and hearing more about their experiences when they get back here," Wyma said.

He said the good news was received here at 12:30 a.m. from a high-ranking Colombian general who said they are expected to be flown this afternoon to the capital city of Bogota.

"I felt like jumping up and down. I can't think of a better reason to be awakened in the middle of the night," Wyma added.

The three Americans were taken to a remote jungle site in eastern Colombia and turned over to delegates of a government-sponsored peace commission Wednesday night, a U.S.

Embassy spokesman in Bogota said.

The three were identified as Timothy Cain, 35, of Keokuk, Iowa, his wife, Bonnie "Bunny" Cain, 33, of Alexandria, Va., and Steve Estelle, 34, of Douglas, Ariz.

The embassy spokesman said no ransom was paid and that the missionaries were being transferred today, possibly to Bogota, for a flight to the United States.

The missionaries were kidnapped Oct. 5 by members of the Colombian Revolutionary Armed Forces, or FARC.

New Tribes had sent a light plane piloted by Estelle and Paul Dye, 45, of Saginaw, Mich., to eastern Colombia to retrieve the Cains who became ill while doing mission work.

The leftist guerrillas captured the Americans when the plane landed in Morichal, 310 miles southeast of Bogota, but Dye escaped a few days later.

FARC offered Oct. 28 to re-

Brain Death Prompts Manslaughter Charge

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A 26-year-old Sanford man has been released on $8,000 bond after being charged with manslaughter in the death of a 19-year-old Sanford man who died of a brain injury after the suspect allegedly knocked him to the ground.

Timothy D. Holt, 19, of 113 West Ridge Drive, was injured at about 2:10 a.m. Saturday. He refused medical treatment at the scene and at about 10:30 a.m. Sunday was found unconscious at his home. He was transported to Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford where he died Monday, a Sanford police report said.

Seminole County Medical Examiner G.V. Garay determined in an autopsy Tuesday that Holt suffered irreversible brain damage from bleeding inside the skull which press upon the brain. The injury was apparently caused when Holt hit his head on the pavement after being knocked to the ground. Garay said.

According to police, Holt on Saturday morning was riding from the Barn nightclub at 1200 French Ave. in Sanford with William Lloyd Jellis, 26, of 1505 W. 25th St., #303A, along with another passenger, Mark Day.

They stopped at the Lil' Champ on French Avenue at 20th Street where Jellis reportedly got mad at Holt and told him to get out of the pickup truck. He did and walked to the driver's side of the car and Jellis reportedly got out of the truck and hit Holt once. Holt was knocked to the ground and his head hit the pavement, police reported.

Jellis drove away with Day and a Sanford emergency rescue team and an ambulance were called to the scene, but police

Yurchenko Goes Home; Suicide Link Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former KGB defector Vitaly Yurchenko returns to the Soviet Union today, leaving the administration with a major embarrassment but facing an uncertain future at home.

Yurchenko, who had been prized by the administration as a top-level defector from the Soviet spy agency, declined comment to reporters as he left Dulles International Airport for Moscow late Wednesday afternoon aboard a special Aeroflot jet.

But a statement issued later in his name by the Soviet Embassy reaffirmed his charges of being "kidnapped and forcibly detained by the American secret services," and said denials from the administration "do not correspond to reality."

President Reagan, in his first public comment on Yurchenko's charges, referred to the cases of three recent would-be Soviet defectors, including Yurchenko, and said, "You can't rule out that this might have been a deliberate ploy."

Meanwhile, in Ottawa, Canada, The Soviet Embassy denied that the wife of a Soviet official who plunged to her death from the 27th floor of an apartment

Prosecutors Promise New Try After Mistrial In FBI Spy Case

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Federal prosecutors, stung by a hung jury in the trial of the only FBI agent ever charged with espionage, say they will seek to try Richard Miller again after jurors deadlocked despite being overwhelmingly in favor of conviction.

U.S. District Judge David Kenyon declared a mistrial Wednesday, the jury's 14th day of deliberations following an 11-week trial.

U.S. Attorney Robert Bonner, who had personally led the prosecution, asked Kenyon to order a new trial for Miller, and the judge set Nov. 21 for a hearing on that and other motions.

The jury told the court it was deadlocked 11-1 for conviction on four charges and 10-2 on the remaining three. Miller was tried on four espionage-related counts involving the passing of secret FBI documents to his Russian immigrant lover, Svetlana Ogorodnikova, and three bribery counts related to his offering to turn over documents for $65,000 in gold and cash and for the sexual favors of Ogorodnikova.

Three Receive Freedom Medal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan is awarding the Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest civilian honor, to veteran arms negotiator Paul Nitze and a husband-and-wife team of national security experts.

The ceremony today in the East Room will recognize Nitze, a special adviser on arms control to Reagan and Secretary of State George Shultz, and Albert and Roberta Wohlstetter, who were among President Kennedy's advisers during the 1962 Cuban missile crisis.

The medals are awarded for "contributions to the national interest or security of the U.S., to world peace, to cultural or other significant private or public endeavors." White House spokesman Larry Speakes said.

Fighting In Colombia Continues; Leftist Guerrillas Hold Hostages

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Fighting intensified today between troops and leftist guerrillas who took 10 judges hostage in the supreme court building and declared "war" on the government. A fire sparked by explosions was burning in the building, authorities said.

There were conflicting reports on the number of casualties. Security sources said 18 rebels and two police officers were killed in the rebel assault Wednesday morning while radio station RCN in Bogota said 21 people died. The reports could not be independently confirmed.

Hundreds of police and troops sealed off the area with tanks and helicopters.

building was the woman thought to have scorned Yurchenko, spurring his return to the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Embassy and Canadian government said Wednesday Svetlana Dedkova, 48, the wife of a Soviet trade representative, died in Toronto Tuesday.

The government refused to detail the circumstances of Dedkova's death, but police said she fell to her death from the 27th floor of a luxury high-rise apartment building in an apparent suicide.

A spokesman for the Soviet Embassy late Wednesday denied an ABC News report that Dedkova was believed to be the woman who abruptly ended a love affair with Yurchenko, prompting his flight from U.S.

custody to the Soviet Embassy in Washington.

"Forget it," said embassy spokesman Eugene Popozhnyakov. "They didn't know each other. Yurchenko never was in Canada."

Soviet Embassy officials presented Yurchenko with bouquets of roses as he left Washington. His statement said he looked forward "with impatience to returning to my country to seeing my family, friends and comrades."

But his future may be bleak. Yelena Mitrokhina, who defected from the Soviet Embassy in 1977, said his fate may depend on just how much secret information he gave the CIA during what he has called "three horrible months" as a defector.

"Eventually, it is possible he will be court-martialed," she said. "The KGB is not stupid. They know he wasn't kidnapped. He had a lot of sensitive information."

At a dramatic news conference at the Soviet Embassy residential compound Monday night, Yurchenko said he had been abducted in Rome in August and

Monuments Closed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Potomac River surged over its banks into Georgetown today, flooding a fashionable shopping strip and prompting officials to close all national monuments in the capital city.

Georgetown merchants placed sandbags around their stores to prevent water damage and carried expensive merchandise to higher ground.

The Potomac, brimming from days of rain and flooding upstream, was expected to crest at 14 feet by noon today, said a spokesman for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

John MacGregor, supervisor of the District of Columbia's Office of Emergency Preparedness, said the river had reached 9.84 feet by 9 a.m. Seven feet is considered flood level, he said.

At least two streets in Georgetown were under water and officials said more is headed for the intersection of M Street and Wisconsin Avenue, the heart of the Georgetown district.

Swift muddy waters also lapped up toward the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

U.S. Park Police closed the Washington Monument and the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials late Wednesday to keep curious tourists out of the area.

The George Washington Parkway, which winds along the Potomac River from Mount Vernon to the Capital Beltway, was flooded, and officials closed the main commuter artery from the 14th Street Bridge to Alexandria, Va., snarling rush-hour traffic.

A street along the Smithsonian Mall was closed and officials expected to close the Teddy Roosevelt Bridge and island by mid-morning.

Metro officials say train schedules were not affected by high waters and encouraged commuters to use the trains to ease the traffic congestion on main roadways.

In the historic Old Town section of Alexandria, police reported 12 feet of water and said numerous shops and restaurants in the tourist area were damaged.

Georgetown merchants placed sandbags around their stores and carried merchandise to higher ground. Rental agent Lydia Ewing said Thrifty Rental Car of Georgetown would hold a "high water special," taking 85 off the usual rate "so we can get the cars off our lot and out of our basement."

The death toll stood at 37 — 18 in West Virginia, 16 in Virginia, two in Pennsylvania and one in Maryland — and authorities in West Virginia said they could not account for another 43 people in flooded areas.

interrogated and drugged by the CIA at a "safe house" near Fredericksburg, Va. He said he had slipped away from his captors Saturday.

"Right now, nothing will happen to him," said Mitrokhina, who said she knew Yurchenko when he was stationed in Washington during the 1970s.

"He got so much world publicity they can't do anything to him," she said. "After all, there are quite a few reporters in Moscow who may request to see him. They will keep him around. He will go on television go to newspapers, things like that."

"Then, eventually, gradually, he will be eased into retirement. Maybe something else. It really depends on how much of his story they believe. How successful he is in convincing them he did not give out any really important information."

Asked if he might be executed, she said, "It is a capital offense."

The CIA again had no official comment on the controversy. But debate continued over its handling of what administration officials were bragging only weeks ago as one of their largest-ever KGB catches.

George Carver, former deputy to the CIA director and a 26-year veteran of the agency, said the case was "clearly not professionally handled. Allowing him to get away indicates there was sloppy non-professionalism. It's very embarrassing."

South African Government Now Prepared To Negotiate

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — The South African government is prepared to negotiate with black men "of influence," such as Bishop Desmond Tutu and Dr. Allan Boesak, to devise apartheid reform, the state-controlled South African Broadcasting Corporation said today.

The broadcast quoted Deputy Foreign Minister Ron Miller as saying the government was ready to confer with any black leaders who "abhorred violence" to dismantle apartheid, the government's official policy of racial segregation.

Miller made his remarks Wednesday night during a speech at the Institute of African Studies at the Rand Afrikaans University near Johannesburg.

"The government is prepared to talk to men of influence like Boesak and Tutu. They have a constituency, although they are not elected leaders," said Miller. "We will not speak to them on a one-to-one basis but rather around a negotiating table at which various leaders from all communities are represented," Miller said.

Miller said such talks must not be based on the idea of one-man-one-vote in a unitary South Africa. Anything but that was open for discussion.

Tutu said he was warm to the offer of negotiations but said he would prefer one-on-one talks with government leaders because large group discussion rarely ended in anything constructive.

"If the group is not too large conditions might be favorable for constructive talks. My mind is certainly not closed to the idea," Tutu said.

President Pieter Botha has consistently said his government was ready to talk to "moderate" black leaders but no specific names of such people have been mentioned.

Miller said his remarks and the mention of Tutu and Boesak by name was intended to clear up any doubt about whether the South African government viewed religious leaders as having any say in the political arena.

The government has ruled out any talks with the outlawed African National Congress which advocates the overthrow of the white minority government through force.

Prominent opposition politician Helen Suzman said South Africa's white minority government has no intention of ever sharing power with the country's black majority and police are prepared to use even more brutal measures to put down racial unrest if it spreads from black into white areas.

Suzman warned that such incidents of violence were likely to intensify because of the confrontational stance the government has adopted.

"The government has no intention of sharing, let alone of transferring power."

"Indeed it is my opinion that it has nowhere near unleashed its potential power against the townships and will not hesitate to do so should unrest spill over into white areas," Suzman told a political rally in the Johannesburg suburb of Houghton Wednesday night.

Law and Order Minister Louis Le Grange, on a tour of colored areas near Cape Town warned residents Wednesday that police were testing new weapons to be used against rioters in the townships and would not hesitate to use them to control the unrest.

He did not specify what the secret new weapons were but last month police unveiled a truck-mounted machine gun that fires rubber bullets and a water cannon that shoots purple dye so rioters can be identified and arrested later on.

In the latest violence, police said today a black prison guard was burned to death by a mob in the black township of Soweto.

NATIONAL REPORT

West Virginia officials appealed for federal aid for towns with dwindling supplies of food and no water. For towns in Grant and Pendleton counties, there could be no help because they had been swept away, officials said.

"The whole county is a mess," Reese Oltz, spokesman for the Office of Emergency Services, said of Pendleton County. "Circleville is in terrible shape and Riverton has disappeared."

Gov. Arch Moore's press secretary, John Price, said people in the county "are living in extremely primitive conditions."

Burglars Strike Again In Lake Mary

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Thursday, Nov. 7, 1986-3A

Daytime house burglars have struck again in Lake Mary. Norman Robbin, 56, 249 Washington Ave., Lake Mary, reported to police that his house was burglarized while his family was away on Oct. 30 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. Robbin stated to police that the house was locked when the family left in the morning. Police have reported several similar thefts this fall.

Police reports said the burglars gained entrance to the home through the screened-in pool patio in the rear of the home. The thief and or thieves entered through a patio door and then removed a window easement with a screwdriver and reached around and unlocked the back door. Once inside police say the burglar(s) tore the house apart and escaped with at least $2,950 in stolen goods.

Police reported no suspects have been arrested in the case and it is still under investigation. Reports say the Robbin's neighbors didn't notice anything suspicious during the robbery.

Taken in the theft were the following items: (1) a portable AM-FM cassette radio, (2) a video cassette recorder, (3) a portable video cassette recorder, (4) a portable video cassette recorder valued at $100, (5) a 25" color TV valued at $700, (6) a computer valued at $375, (7) a cable decoder valued at $175, (8) a 1917 45 caliber automatic, (9) a "high standard" .22 blue steel automatic.

Also reported taken in the theft were the following items: (1) one white jewelry box containing these items: (a) a diamond ring, (b) five gold chains, (c) four pairs of earrings: one pair black pearl, one pair green jade, one pair white pearl, one pair gold, (d) two rings including a gray pearl ring in a gold pastel setting and a cubic zirconium ring, (e) a white pearl necklace and assorted pewter jewelry, (f) 15 one hundred dollar bills.

A home in Lake Mary was burglarized by a person with a penchant for cigarettes and hot dogs. The burglar used a method of operation similar to that used in other burglaries this fall.

Lake Mary Police reported a burglary to the home of John Backer, 230 Van Buren, that Backer said occurred between 2:30 a. m. Oct. 29 and 12:20 a. m. Oct. 30. Backer said an undetermined amount of property was taken in the break-in, including a 19" color television valued at $219 and a video cassette recorder valued at $350.

Police said the thief apparently gained entrance to the home by breaking the lock on a sliding glass door at the back of the home. That is similar to other break-ins in the city this fall.

The thief, according to police reports, left a cigarette burning in an ashtray and several partially eaten hotdogs on the kitchen floor. That is also similar to other home burglaries this fall in which the thief and/or thieves left food scattered around the kitchen and carried soft drinks throughout the house as they burgled it.

FORGERY CHARGES

A 31-year-old Winter Springs woman accused of stealing two payroll checks from Spanish Trace Apartments, Altamonte Springs, forging a signature and cashing them for a total of $796, has been arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies.

A clerk at Freedom Bank, Altamonte Mall, Altamonte Springs, reported to sheriff's deputies that the woman who cashed the checks on Aug. 23 was driving a Camaro. That and fingerprints on the checks helped link the suspect to the case, a sheriff's report said.

Linda E. Borges of 598 Dumar Circle was arrested at the Seminole County jail at 8:24 p.m. Tuesday. She has been charged with forgery, uttering a forged and grand theft. She has been released on $5,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in court Nov. 25.

EXTORTION

A 16-year-old Altamonte Springs boy has alleged to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that a suspect whom he has named has extorted a total of about $2,700 from him over a period of time. The boy said the 24-year-old suspect threatened him, so to pay him off the boy reportedly stole the cash from his mother.

The boy and his mother reported the alleged extortion and theft to deputies Tuesday.

SANFORD POLICE

A patient watched helplessly from his third floor room at Central Florida Regional Hospital while his wife was robbed of $500 at gunpoint in the parking lot below, a Sanford police report said.

Kristine McWatters, 34, of Ft. Lauderdale said she was walking toward the hospital's front entrance on her way to visit her husband, Thomas, 44, when the incident occurred Sunday at 2:20 p.m. She told police a man approached her and said, "Don't move, give me all your money. I have a gun." He then pulled up his shirt, pulled out a handgun and took her purse. Mrs. McWatters said.

McWatters witnessed the incident and said he saw the man flee into the woods east of the hospital after his wife began walking in the opposite direction. Mrs. McWatters said the thief told her to "keep walking" after taking her purse. Police searched the area but were unable to locate him.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

John T. Allison, 42, of 22 Old Post Road, Longwood, reported to sheriff's deputies a $350 handgun and a $363 camera were stolen from his vehicle between Oct 18 and 20.

About $1,000 worth of jewelry, 300 pounds of meat worth about $400, a $500 microwave oven and a $300 handgun were stolen from the home of James G. Watts, 62, of P.O. Box 646, Scotts Road, Geneva, on Tuesday, a sheriff's report said.

A $400 stereo was stolen from the home of Steve D. Riggs, 36, of 1285 Teal Road, Geneva, on Tuesday, deputies reported.

Mimi Michels, 30, of 104 Buckskin Way, Winter Springs, reported to sheriff's deputies she left her purse which, with contents, is valued at $105, in a shopping cart in the parking lot of Zayre's, State Road 436, Fern Park, at about 1:20 p.m. Tuesday. When she returned for it in about 10 minutes the purse was gone.

A $164 security light was stolen from the driveway of United Tech Communications, 1291 N. U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, on Monday or Tuesday, according to a report an employee filed with sheriff's deputies.

RBI Inc. at 309 West First Street was robbed of $3,000 worth of jewelry on Saturday when the only salesman on duty was in a back room, a Sanford police report said.

Robert Brotsch told police he had gone to answer the phone when he heard the shop's front door close. He came out to the front counter, found no one in the store and discovered a tray of gold jewelry had been taken from a cabinet. The store had been empty when he went to answer the phone. Brotsch said.

Thieves broke into Lakeview Middle School last weekend and removed sporting equipment and supplies from a coach's office next to the gym. Sanford police said. The theft was reported by Assistant Principal James Shude on Monday morning. Shude said the point of entry is unknown, as is the amount of equipment taken. An inventory is being conducted.

A jewelry heist at a local home netted burglars $500 worth of rings and chains on Sunday, a Sanford police report said. Robert German, 57, told police he walked into the bedroom of his home at 2565 El Capitan at 9:55 p.m. and discovered a jewelry box was gone. German said he found the empty case on the ground below one of the room's windows.

Deputy Accused

A Seminole County sheriff's sergeant accused of hitting a Lake Mary woman in the face several times is under investigation and may face a charge of battery. Seminole County Sheriff John Polk said today.

Polk said the woman, Stephanie L. McCullum, 29, of 136 Caleedrae Place, Lake Mary, who made allegations against Sgt. Ralph Salerno, 46, of Altamonte Springs, was questioned by a sheriff's investigator Wednesday and has given a taped statement of her allegations to lawmen.

Salerno has also been questioned, Polk said, but will remain on duty until the allegations have been investigated.

According to an initial sheriff's report by sheriff's deputy Darren Tjomstol Ms. McCullum was found by witnesses wandering in an apparent disoriented state near the scene of the alleged attack, which reportedly occurred in the parking lot of Seasons Restaurant, U.S. Highway 17-92 at Dog Track Road, near Casselberry at about 9:30 p.m. Wednesday.

According to the account in Tjomstol's report Ms. McCullum and Salerno had met at the restaurant to "exchange" property she had left at Salerno's home when she moved out. An argument developed and Salerno allegedly hit Ms. McCullum in the face several times, the report said.

Ms. McCullum had an open cut on her face and Tjomstol called Seminole County Fire Department rescue workers to the scene to treat her. She complained of pain and dizziness and could not say where she lives, the report said.

A business card of a friend was found in her possession and Ms. McCullum was taken to the Lake Mary home of a friend, the report said.

She reportedly told Tjomstol that another man working with Salerno had witnessed the alleged attack.

Polk said Salerno has been a sheriff's deputy since Aug. 1972. He has a clean record.

Bureaucrats Aim Privacy Threat

How much privacy should citizens have to surrender in the interest of government efficiency? The question arises anew from a proposal by the federal Office of Management and Budget (OMB), soon to be submitted to Congress, to widen agencies' access to individual tax forms to check the eligibility of applicants to federal benefit programs. OMB wants agencies to be able to tap Internal Revenue Service files for information on the "unearned income" — interest, dividends, rents — of persons applying for guaranteed student loans, federal scholarships, veterans benefits, and the like. Such cross-checking could help the government save $300 million a year in bogus claims, OMB says.

But it would also exact a price in lost privacy for all Americans. One does not need to be paranoid to worry about what can happen when tax returns, designed to ensure compliance with tax laws, are widely available for other purposes to officials outside the IRS: one has only to remember the nation's recent past. President Kennedy tried to use the IRS in 1962 to punish executives for raising steel prices. Administrations from Kennedy to Nixon used information from IRS files to keep tabs on political dissidents. Congress, alerted to these abuses by Watergate, wisely forbade most release of IRS data to other agencies.

But now, even as sophisticated computer technology makes real the prospect of electronic government dossiers, the controls on access to IRS data are slipping. Since 1976, Congress has passed 25 exceptions to its anti-disclosure rule, most notably last year, when it authorized giving IRS data to states to check applicants' eligibility for welfare, food stamps and unemployment benefits. Under that plan, IRS information on 44 million Americans will be subject to inspection by state agencies.

That is a trend in the wrong direction. The need for efficiency and economy in government must be weighed against the risk of abuse of the privacy rights of all citizens. Although it is theoretically possible to build privacy safeguards into systems designed to check benefit application against IRS data, the closer the nation inevitably comes to a national electronic data bank giving dozens of agencies and thousands of officials access to the most private financial records of citizens. And the more bureaucrats and elected officials that have that information, the greater is the likelihood they will abuse it.

To head off that Big Brotherish possibility, Congress should mandate that, as far as possible, investigations about benefit eligibility be carried out by requiring individual applicants to submit their own tax forms, not by authorizing direct agency access to IRS records. Where there is reasonable cause to suspect fraud by an applicant, the tax records can always be obtained through a warrant. If some privacy must inevitably be sacrificed to protect the public purse from fraudulent benefits claims, Congress can at least attempt to forestall the development of the kind of national electronic databank most easily subject to abuse.

Conservative Democrat Plans Campaign

Bruce Babbitt, the young and articulate Democratic governor of Arizona, is running for president. Therein hangs a portent — maybe.

Candidate Babbitt is already visiting here, there and everywhere. He already has most of the new-model electoral toys: a political action committee and a tax-deductible foundation.

In most of these respects, Babbitt's activity is not dissimilar from the stirring around already evidenced by Sens. Ted Kennedy and Gary Hart. Other luminaries will do it their own way. Pundits expect Gov. Mario Cuomo to start campaigning after his re-election race next year. Jesse Jackson will also likely go to the post again.

Babbitt, however, has a game plan quite different from that of any of these four Democratic stars from the liberal side of the party. Babbitt says he's going to challenge that wing of the party, and do it publicly.

For example, Babbitt says big-spending Democrats have come to view the federal government as a candy store that gives away fiscal goodies and entitlements to just about any political special interest that is strong enough to threaten candidates.

He says it's time Democrats got tough with that kind of promiscuous policy-making; they have to, in order to deal with the deficit. The Democratic Party, Babbitt notes, has an honorable tradition of helping people in need. OK, he says, let's concentrate on that. Let's try to scale federal spending to people's needs.

Babbitt's means-testing idea is one that will ruffle feathers: of conservatives because it tilts to the poor, of liberals because its anti-spending rhetoric could undercut the broad coalitionary base of federal programs. But its political sex appeal is not primarily substantive. It comes from the fact that a Democrat will campaign saying "We've been wrong."

What's new? In the past, there have surely been Democratic primary candidates who have disagreed with the leftward drift of the party. But they've usually felt it would be harmful to make public waves within the party.

Babbitt is going the other way. He wants to make changing the direction of the party his big issue. He thinks things have gotten so out of whack that Democrats voting in primaries will agree with him.

Babbitt may well be joined by other candidates singing a similar tune. Among the names one hears in this connection are those of Sen. Sam Nunn, Gov. Charles Robb, Rep. Richard Gephardt. They are not household names; but in recent years that hasn't been necessary to win primaries.

All this may mean a public rather than the usual private struggle for what is always called "the soul of the party." It's easier said than done. Tough-talking candidates have been known to turn to jelly as elections get closer.

But it could happen. It seems as if some Democrats have finally figured out that you can't make an omelet without gently cracking some eggs.

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

American Aid Plans Backfire

Since the end of World War II, the United States has fervently embraced a policy of undiluted internationalism in its diplomatic and economic dealings. Hundreds of billions of dollars which could have gone into the development of the United States have been exported to non-viable nations in the form of foreign aid.

The great expectation behind a generation of giveaways, poorly disguised as loans, was that the faraway countries would become healthy, productive, peace-loving, friendly nations.

Nothing of that sort has happened. Instead, misery has increased steadily in most of the new nations of the world. They have demonstrated instability, incompetence and hostility to the West, chiefly to the United States. They can't be propped up with U.S. aid; they are beyond bail-outs.

A number of the less developed countries, albeit not hostile or incompetent, have become arch-economic competitors of the United States. Their exports are the driving engine of these countries — exports aimed at the U.S. internal market. They have gained advantage through wage-cutting trade.

The result of the export drive, as Dr. John M. Culbertson of the University of Wisconsin has said, is a "fundamental decline in the economic position of the West in recent years." No country has suffered more than the United States, with its near $150 billion trade deficit.

While foreign trade offensives threaten numerous American industries, the U.S. remains committed to its policy of pumping money into the Third World.

In the recent World Bank and International Monetary Fund meeting in South Korea, Secretary of the Treasury James Baker declared that American commercial banks should lend a total of $20 billion over three years to "developing" nations, saying this is necessary if incomes are to rise throughout the world. Reading that support for more World Bank funding, one is inclined to rub one's eyes and ask: is the Carter administration still in the White House?

Mr. Baker's plan is evidence of the absence of the hard-headed economic nationalism this country needs in order to survive. The U.S. is having a terrible time getting together capital for domestic projects of a basic, long-term character. It can't afford to export more capital. It also can't afford to have its internal market — the largest in the world — treated as a prize by foreign trade adversaries.

'Angel Of Death' Had Family Aid

By Jack Anderson and Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON — Josef Mengele may be dead, but the Justice Department is still trying to determine whether he cheated the hangman with the help of U.S. authorities. The notorious "Angel of Death" sent hundreds of thousands to the gas chambers in the Nazi death camp at Auschwitz.

"We are combing archives around the world, talking to people in every continent, trying to put the puzzle together and figure out whether Mengele received any help or protection from the U.S. government which enabled him to hide," Neal Sher, director of the Office of Special Investigations, told our associate Lucette Lagnado.

Sher characterized the investigation as "extraordinarily complex." In terms of hard documentary evidence, he said, it is far more difficult than the case of Klaus Barbie, the SS "Butcher of Lyon," who was found to have worked for

JULIAN BOND

Maybe Nixon's Needed

Why does Ronald Reagan get a negative reaction from affirmative action?

If you believe what the president says, it's because the current affirmative action regulations impose rigid quotas, which discriminate against white men.

But if you take the time to read the order, you'll discover that's simply not true. Quotas are prohibited in the order Reagan wants to scrub. He proposes to make it impossible to measure discrimination or judge the success of efforts to end it.

If he succeeds in erasing Lyndon Johnson's 1965 Executive Order No. 11246, Reagan will be the first president — either Republican or Democrat — in 44 years to weaken the federal government's commitment to equal opportunity.

After words on paper failed to integrate the federally subsidized workplace, the Office of Federal Contract Compliance established a series of special programs to "assure minority group representation in all construction trades and in all phases of the work."

Best known of these was the Philadelphia Plan, developed during the administration of Richard Nixon, requiring that bidders for federally assisted contracts establish goals for minority hiring and commit themselves to "good faith" efforts to achieve the goals they set for themselves.

In 1970, Nixon's secretary of labor, George Shultz, issued the regulations that his current boss wants to discard.

The "Shultz rules" require contractors to see whether there are fewer minorities in their workplaces than would be expected according to their availability to work. If the contractors' own analysis shows women and minority underhired, the contractor is required to develop goals and timetables and to make a good faith effort to meet the target he has set for himself.

Quotas?

There are none.

The order states: "Goals may not be rigid and inflexible quotas, which must be met, but must be targets reasonably attainable."

Attorney General Edwin Meese wants Reagan to sign a new executive order that will gut 11246, making four changes in the existing — and successful — program.

Meese would eliminate numerical goals and timetables, leaving contractors and federal enforcers unable to measure whether a contractor was discriminating, and under no time pressure to correct past or present discrimination. The Meese plan would prohibit the use of statistical evidence required by the Department of Labor and would restrict evidence to "demonstrated discriminatory treatment," limiting the executive order to blatant, overt discrimination of a sort seldom seen today.

Finally, the Meese plan would build in a disincentive for voluntary action, asserting that the order does not require goals or timetables even for a "voluntary" plan.

A recent Cabinet revolt halted this assault on affirmative action, for the time being.

Joining Meese were black conservatives Clarence Pendleton, chairman of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, and Clarence Thomas, head of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Energy Secretary John S. Harrington and Education Secretary William Bennett were also in favor of gutting affirmative action.

Holding the line were Housing and Urban Development Secretary Samuel Pierce Jr., the only black Cabinet member; Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole; Treasury Secretary James Baker; Labor Secretary William Brock; and, of course, Secretary of State George Shultz.

ROBERT WALTERS

Planners Target For Cuts

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A tawdry political confrontation over the future of federally funded family-planning services graphically illustrates the dark side of conservatism — its penchant for intruding in people's private lives.

But conservatism's proposed solutions to contemporary social conflicts routinely are mean-spirited formulations that require conformity to zealots' inflexible and unreasonable standards. Those unwilling to relinquish control over their personal lives become targets for punishment.

The current case in point is the dispute over the renewal of the Family Planning Services and Population Research Act. It authorizes federal funding (currently $142.5 million annually) for more than 2,500 public and private agencies throughout the country that provide family-planning counseling and medical services to an estimated 5 million women every year.

But the medical profession's universally accepted practice of obtaining "informed consent" from all patients requires that all treatment alternatives be explained and offered to those who seek a physician's assistance.

In the case of unintended pregnancies, doctors in both private practice and publicly funded clinics routinely offer their patients three basic options — continuing the pregnancy to term and keeping the infant, offering the baby for adoption or foster care, or aborting the pregnancy.

That's not good enough for three conservative members of Congress — Sens. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., and Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, and Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y. — and the anti-abortion fanatics to whom they're pandering.

They want to abrogate the "informed consent" tradition by denying federal funding to any institution or organization that even counsels or refers patients for abortions.

In addition, they would prohibit government financing of any family planning operation that provides abortion services with private funds. A 1981 federal survey of the 5,000 facilities receiving Title X assistance found that only 74 were in that category — and 44 of them were hospitals.

Ironically, the family planning services now being threatened by the opponents of abortion prevent hundreds of thousands of unintended pregnancies — and the abortions that often follow — every year.

the authorities from seizing the Mengele company's assets, as was done with property of major war criminals.

— Despite the technical breach, Mengele continued to get money from his family. The fugitive's personal papers suggest that a Mengele company executive, Hans Sedlmir, served as a go-between.

— In the 1950s, according to the Wiesenthal Center, Mengele's father went to Argentina and gave the fugitive 1 million marks to invest in a pharmaceutical company.

— In the 1960s, according to the testimony of people who sheltered him, when Mengele moved to Brazil, money from the family enabled him to buy a house for himself and a farm for one of the couples who helped him.

— Throughout the years, the Mengele family refused to cooperate with German authorities; under German law they were not obliged to. Nor did the family report his death by drowning in 1979.

U.S. military intelligence after World War II and whose escape to South America was arranged by American authorities.

It is already clear beyond any doubt that Mengele got substantial help over the years from his family, which owns the biggest farm machinery firm in West Germany. Their help is understandable, but what bothers American Nazi-hunters is that the protection given to the war criminal is not punishable under West German law. Indeed, to this day the Mengele family cannot be forced to cooperate with investigating authorities.

Here's what our associate learned about the Mengeles from sources in Germany and this country:

— In the immediate aftermath of World War II, Mengele's father believed that his son was dead. The young SS doctor's wife, Irene, dressed in mourning clothes and had a hometown priest say a funeral mass for him. But the family soon learned that Mengele was alive and well. He returned and lived under an assumed name in a nearby village for several years.

Justice Department sources say there is considerable evidence that, once U.S. occupation forces learned of Mengele's crimes, the family helped Mengele evade capture by pretending he was dead. U.S. government documents of that time reveal that Mengele was listed officially as having died in 1946, and thus was not brought to trial with other death camp doctors at Nuremberg.

— By 1949, renewed interest in Mengele prompted him to flee Germany. According to his own personal papers, the Mengele family provided the money for his escape to Argentina.

— Before he left Germany, Mengele signed legal documents "disassociating" himself from the family firm, according to the Simon Wiesenthal Center, which investigates Nazi war crimes.

This disassociation was to prevent

Cyclists Brave The Headwinds

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Some, like 74-year-old Mary Henri Peterson, coasted along with a smile and a wave, while others, like former Olympic champ John Sinibaldi, 72, took to the course with a look of fierce determination. All braved the headwinds and readily agreed the heat was on for the Golden Age Games quarter-mile bike race.

In groups of three pitting entrants against time rather than one another, the cyclists lined up and were off in a flash and a near flash at the sound of the gun. Their once around the Seminole High School track took most contestants less than a minute.

John Nagergelovic, 64, took to the course like he had been in competitive racing for years, which, in fact he has.

Five to be exact.

"You do as much riding as you can, and then you go back out there and do some more," the Ormond Beach resident said.

Nagergelovic said he'd discovered last week, "I'll have all the time I want to ride. I got laid off."

This extra time may well come in handy. Nagergelovic had to settle for the silver after being eased out of first place in the 60-64 category by his buddy Andy McGuffin, 60. McGuffin, of Eustis, attributed his success to "plenty of sprints, plenty of roadwork."

Helen Medani, 66, was a first place finisher and although the only competitor in the 65-69 category, she turned in a time that would have earned her the bronze in the 60-64 field.

The Winterhaven resident said she swims three times a week, walks every day and fills in "a lot of my extra time with riding."

Her husband, Renato, was at the Seminole High track "for moral support, to root for her and to hold her bag. The important things."

Ellen Julius, 74, cycles "for fun and fitness," and last year won the gold in the 70-74 quarter-mile category. This year she had to settle for the silver, "but I'll be back next year for the gold," she said.

Before 82-year-old Alvar Ryaman took to the track, he said he had "no reason to care that all the younger fellows pass me right by."

"I can't lose," he explained. "I'm the only one in my age category."

All, in fact, were shoe-ins on Monday. They'd come out to enjoy, as well as compete.

Scott Takes Gold In Checkers

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

"Well, I'll be a son-of-a-gun, he just picked me off the board," Katherine Drake said as she went down in defeat to last year's Golden Age Games checkers champ Hugh Banks of Orlando.

Ms. Drake didn't have high hopes when she entered the heat. After all, it was the first checkers challenge for this 65-year-old who traveled with a group of 13 from Nashville, Tenn., to join the Games for the first time.

When she learned that in her first and only match she would face Banks, Ms. Drake said, "Let me out of here." But then she fired her resolve and said, "I'll go down trying, honey. I don't know what I'm going to do. If I surprise him you'd better get a bottle of champagne."

"I don't bother me, honey, one way or another," she said, as her nerve steeled as the match neared. "I might want to smoke two or three cigarettes before it's over with," Ms. Drake said.

But there wasn't time to smoke, because Banks' fast moves burned Ms. Drake off the board in the best two out of three games within 10 minutes.

In this, his second match in a field of 14 players, 76-year-old

Banks dashed Ms. Drake's hopes for beginner's luck. He went on to play other checker buffs, including some who have also taken gold, silver and bronze in past Golden Age Games check-offs.

Banks admired Ms. Drake's effort and guts. "She knows how. She must have beat somebody or she wouldn't be in that chair. She's a good player," he said. "I either win or get beat," Banks said. "I don't take a lot of time."

With a skeptical eye on the 1983 checkers champ, John Eklund, 70, of Wauchula, Banks said, "If I get beat, what difference does it make? It's just a game of checkers. No matter how good you get, somebody's going to beat you."

Banks said a lot of people think anybody can play checkers, and that's true up to a point, he said. "But once you learn to play checkers, you learn there is always a better way to play and plenty of people to beat you. It's interesting. It makes your mind sharp."

And Banks was hoping his mind would be sharp when and if he ended up in a face-off with Eklund who said he had warmed up in the six mile Mini Race and was ready to cool down at the checkerboard at the Sanford Civic Center.

Katherine Drake, 65, of Nashville, Tenn., was no match for 1984 Golden Age Games Checkers champ Hugh Banks, 76, of Orlando. But while Banks made short work of Drake in the match, her competitive spirit was undaunted.

To accept the checker challenge, Eklund said, "It takes somebody able to smile and shake hands even if they lose and feel like crying."

It takes a tad of luck to come up a winner, but basically, Eklund said, checkers is a game based on skillful thought. He got an early start at age eight, had a natural aptitude and many years later picked up a few pointers from books. "Those three things all helped," he said.

And Eklund and Banks fell back on their philosophical attitudes when they were bumped from the top spot in the checkers challenge by gold medalist Jessie Scott, 72, of Trinton, Tenn. Banks took the silver and Eklund the bronze.

Romanian Sailor Gets Political Asylum In U. S.

MIAMI (UPI) — The Immigration and Naturalization Service granted political asylum today for a Romanian sailor who walked into the service's Jacksonville, Fla., office and asked to remain in this country.

The asylum for Stefan Vernea, 38, of Constanta, Romania, as granted by Perry Rivkind, Miami district director for the INS.

"The action was taken through normal asylum claim procedures and after a positive advisory opinion from the department of state which found that Mr. Vernea had established a well-founded fear of persecution," said George Waldroup, deputy district director for the INS.

Waldroup would neither confirm nor deny a report that Vernea was being taken from Jacksonville to Miami.

Shuttle Fliers: More Research

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The five shuttle astronauts who underwent a variety of tests in orbit to see how they adapted to the absence of gravity now face two more weeks of tests to see how they readjust to it on Earth.

Bonnie Dunbar, Guion Bluford, Ernst Messerschmid, Reinhard Furrer and Wubbo Oekels were whisked away to the doctor's office as soon as Challenger landed at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., Wednesday from its weeklong West German space research mission.

...Manning

Two months later Terry resigned and went back to being city clerk. Manning was again named city administrator but this time he asked to continue to run the police department, as chief. He said if it came to choosing between the positions, he would choose police chief.

He said he will stay on in the city administrator position for as long as it takes for the commission to find a qualified replacement, but he said he expects it should be accomplished within 90 days.

"I would like to see them start the process," Manning said. "With all of the experiences of the past year, I feel the commission has learned a lot and when they sit down and start interviewing applicants, they'll have a better knowledge of what to ask and the type of person the city needs as an administrator."

Manning said he feels some of the criticism aimed at him in his dual role can't help but fall on the police department, hurting morale and affecting the department for a long time.

"My main concern is the police department," he said. "I would have preferred to concentrate on running that department, but I have been with the city long enough not to refuse when they asked me to step in again as interim city administrator."

"I've been through all the storms and knew enough about the city to make some headway," he said. "I've learned a lot. My patience is shorter and my skin is thicker as a result. One of my shortcomings is that I don't have enough patience to deal with the long term problems that I have to as an administrator."

Manning said before leaving on his mini-vacation he expressed his feelings informally and individually with each commissioner.

Mayor Harvey Smerilson said earlier that no action will be taken concerning any possible resignation or finding a replacement until it is formally presented.

Smerilson said Manning told him "It (resignation) would be in the best interest of the city and everybody concerned. I would be better off in police work..."

"I told him to think it over and then we'd talk about it," Smerilson added. "I think Greg is doing an outstanding job considering the length of time and his experience."

"I'd like to go back and review the resumes we received the last time and see if they are still available and then run one advertisement locally," he stated.

Smerilson said if it is necessary to replace Manning nothing should be done about naming a new city administrator until after the Dec. 5 election.

Commissioner Junc Lormann said, "Greg doesn't want the job. He hasn't officially done anything, but he has mentioned to me as an individual. He stepped right in and worked with the engineer and commission and kept us apprised of what was going on. I like his way of handling the city, he doesn't try to hide anything."

Commissioner Larry Goldberg, who has been a staunch supporter of Manning and was instrumental in getting him named acting city administrator, said Manning has done an "outstanding job."

Commissioner Ed Myers said, "Nothing has been discussed, but I had anticipated the commission would evaluate the situation in January. Greg didn't want the job in the first place, he doesn't have time to do both jobs and he would lose too much by moving off the police force, his pension for instance."

"I think he did a good job. Bringing in professional people (the city engineer, the land planner and the finance director) was a big help."

After appointing Manning city administrator the second time, the commission raised his salary. Manning told the commission that they should know by Oct. 1 whether he was doing the job satisfactorily and decide whether to make the arrangement permanent. For doing the double duty, Manning has been receiving an annual salary of $36,000 — more than either of the two previous administrators. Because Manning is doing two jobs this figure represents half of each salary.

While acting administrator the first time, Manning received the same salary as Chacey had, $34,290. Terry was paid $35,000 while he held the post. Manning's salary as police chief was $30,400 plus $800 incentive pay.

After Chacey's resignation the commission conducted a three month search for a replacement, saying they wanted a professional with sufficient educational and employment background. They received 63 applications and weeded out all but two, who they interviewed in person. The choice William T. Powers, assistant city administrator and finance director for the city of Perry. They offered Powers $35,000, but contract negotiations fell through when the commission balked at Powers' demand for $40,000 with a $5,000 pay raise in nine months. Terry, who had not applied for the job, was then asked to serve as city administrator on-line." Heathrow spokesman Jim Tills said today.

Payment for the site of this new plant will either be effected through existing water and sewer account revenues or a bank loan, County Administrator Ken Hooper said.

Commission Chairman Bob Sturm said today although the county has yet to hire consulting and design engineers, preliminary studies have indicated the plant could be on-line by 1987 with a capacity to process up to 10-million gallons of effluent a day.

The commissioners adopted the contract at 2 a.m., after they had ultimately approved expanding the Tuscawilla-Deer Run treatment plant despite the resounding resident protest that preceded the decision. In opposition to the Yankee Lake purchase was Commissioner Barbara Christensen, who said the measure "should be done through a joint effort with the city of Sanford."

According to Sturm, the purchase proposal was finalized at 6 p.m. Tuesday with an attorney representing Paulucci. According to City Manager

Frank Faison, one hour prior to this a hand delivered letter informed him Sanford's offer had been refused.

The city was also told on Sept. 21 it would have to wait 30 days for a response to its offer, Faison said.

"The Paulucci representatives told us they needed time to conduct their own appraisal of the property."

The letter received by Faison Tuesday said in part "It is in our best interest to proceed with a sale to Seminole County." It was signed by Paulucci representative and Heathrow President Roger Soderstrom.

Through the contract's stipulations, in addition to Heathrow's having a 300,000 "substitute" sewer capacity to accommodate the closing of its PUD sewer, the development will also receive "guaranteed reserve" service. During a period not to exceed 20 years of the plants' commencing operation, 3.5-million gallons of daily capacity will be designated to Heathrow "on an incremental basis."

The contract also states this treated effluent will be pumped back to Heathrow for disposal through a piping system that "Seminole County will construct, operate and maintain at its own expense."

According to Sturm, Sanford and Lake Mary can also utilize the treatment facility, although "they would have to arrange for their own disposal."

Faison called this statement "false on its face" because "our disposal site was supposed to be what's now their plant site."

Faison declined to discuss how the county's move will affect Sanford's state mandated wastewater management program, including the state grant already received by the city to purchase its effluent disposal site.

Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith said Monday the Yankee Lake parcel "is the only site in our area that has the size and soil type we need" for the spray irrigation system. Today she said "we don't know what we're going to do."

"The problem is we're required by the state to do this. We signed an agreement to get out of (dumping into) Lake Monroe and we thought we were on our way," she said.

Regarding the commissioners' action, Mayor Smith said she is "very, very sad and disappointed they did this. They went right ahead and never said a word to us."

According to Sturm, during the county's efforts to obtain the site, "all our discussion addressed a regional mini-plant," which he said "would offer service to Sanford and Lake Mary," in addition to northwest Seminole County. He added, however, "I don't know if this was ever relayed to them directly."

Faison and Smith both say it wasn't, although "they had plenty of opportunity," according to the mayor.

Faison also said the other aspects of Sanford's wastewater management project "will continue to move forward."

"We've still got a program to conduct," he said. "Although now it's a considerably more complicated one."

...Hostages

The Islamic Jihad, which has claimed responsibility for the kidnapping of eight Americans since March 1984, had demanded the release of 17 Moslems held in Kuwait jails for the release of the hostages.

The 17 are accused of carrying out bombing attacks against American and French interests in Kuwait in December 1983.

The United States has publicly refused to negotiate with the kidnappers, and the telephone caller today did not elaborate on the alleged indirect negotiations.

Islamic Jihad — believed to be holding five American hostages — released Jeremy Levin, the Beirut office manager of Cable News Network, earlier this year and freed the Rev. Benjamin Weir Sept. 14.

In October, the terror group said it killed U.S. Embassy official William Buckley, abducted in west Beirut in March 1984. The group released a blurred photograph of what it claimed was Buckley's body, but his corpse has not been found.

The Americans still held hostage in Lebanon are:

- Peter Kilburn, librarian at the American University of Beirut, kidnapped Nov. 30, 1984.
- Father Lawrence Jenco, Roman Catholic priest and Beirut director of U.S.-based Catholic Relief services aid organization, kidnapped January 8, 1985.
- Terry Anderson, Associated Press Middle East Bureau chief, kidnapped March 16, 1985.
- David Jacobsen, administrative director of the American University Hospital, kidnapped May 28, 1985.
- Thomas Sutherland, Dean of the Agriculture department of the American University of Beirut, kidnapped June 9, 1985.

Ridenour Hopes 'Sanford Connection' Clicks For Scots

By Tim Horn
Special to the Herald

Any success that the Daytona Beach Community College's basketball team has this season may greatly depend on its "Sanford Connection."

The "Sanford Connection" consists of Fred Miller, Willie Mitchell and Darryl Merthie, three former high school standouts from this area who will all be taking jump shots this season for Coach Ray Ridenour's DBCC Scots. And according to Ridenour, all three will play major roles with the team.

Seminole Community College

coach Bill Payne said he was interested in the trio but all three indicated a preference to get away from Sanford to play, so they opted for Daytona Beach.

As freshmen last season, Miller, a graduate of Lake Mary High, and Mitchell, a graduate of Seminole High, both played key bench roles as the Scots advanced to the junior college state tourney for the first time in the school's history. They were eliminated in the semifinals.

With four of the Scots starting players having graduated from last season's team, both Miller and Mitchell will now move into starting positions as sophomores.

Merthie, who graduated from Lake Mary last year, is heading into his freshman season for the Scots. Ridenour said although Merthie may not start, coming off the bench he will still see as much playing time as the starters.

Miller, an exciting 6-1 point guard, will run the show for the Scots as point guard. Ridenour said he is expecting good things from him.

"Freddie can really penetrate," Ridenour said. "He is probably the best penetrator I have ever been around. Last season he played very well for us coming off the bench. I can't wait to see him play this year."

Miller said he has not had any problem making the transition from coming off the bench last year to a starting role this season.

"It has been pretty easy making the transition," he said. "I haven't had any problem with it."

Miller said that along with running the show for the Scots,

Ridenour is also looking to him for leadership.

"Coach (Ridenour) is depending on me to play the key role and be a leader this year," Miller said. "It's a lot of pressure but I did it in high school so I'm confident I can do it again."

At 6-3, Mitchell will play center for the Scots. As a backup forward last season, he was the Scots' second leading rebounder.

"Willie is our security guard," Ridenour said. "He is one of the damndest rebounders I've ever seen for not having that much

Fred Miller, left, Darryl Merthie are two players from Sanford coach Ray Ridenour is counting on this year.

Hawks Jell, Oust Tribe

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Just before Seminole's Sheri Peterson served to open the match, Lake Howell coach Jo Luciano told her team, "Okay, let's get out of here in two."

It wasn't that Luciano wanted to go catch the Macneil-Lehrer Report or something, she just felt that the Lady Hawks were ready to go for the opening round of the 4A-9 District Tournament at Lyman High.

After trailing, 8-7, in the opening game, Lake Howell took charge and went on to outscore the Lady Seminoles, 23-3, the rest of the way en route to a 15-8, 15-3 victory.

Volleyball

points of the second game, one an ace. The closest Seminole could get after that was 6-3.

The Lady Hawks took an 8-3 lead on Cechowski's serve with Christy Tibbitts' block of a Seminole dink leading the way. Lake Howell made it 11-3 on Jaudon Jonas' serve and 12-3 on the serve of Tammy Lewis. A spike by Scott returned the serve to the Hawks and Michelle Arana served the last three points. Johnson's spike highlighted the final Lake Howell rally.

"I felt we had a little better attack when we went from defense to offense," Luciano said. "The transition was pretty good."

Along with Cechowski's serving and setting, senior co-captains Scott and Johnson played well at the net. Lewis and Efstathion were outstanding in the back row. Tibbitts also turned in an excellent performance including a number of aces of balls that looked almost impossible to return. "Christy (Tibbitts) had an excellent match," Luciano said.

DELAND STAVES OFF BUCS

After rolling to an early 10-2 lead, DeLand's Lady Bulldogs may have been thinking of the road ahead instead of watching out for the oncoming Mainland Lady Bucs.

Mainland bounced back to take a 14-12 lead in the first game before DeLand got back on track to pull out a 16-14 win. The Lady Bulldogs, two time defending district champions, went on to win the second game, 15-3, to advance to tonight's semifinals.

Lake Howell regained the serve on a spike by Scott and Anita Cechowski then riddled the Seminole defense with her serve. Cechowski's serve accounted for seven straight points as the Lady Hawks built a 14-8 lead. Four of the serves were not returned and one was an ace. Two illegal hits and two net fouls hurt the Seminoles on the rally.

Cindy Hogan's spike fended off game point for Lake Howell, but a Seminole missed serve gave it right back to the Hawks and they closed out the first game on Scott's serve.

In the opening game Patty Corr served six straight points to give DeLand the early advantage. The Lady Bulldogs then hit a dry spell and Mainland got back in the match. With DeLand holding a 12-10 lead, Raychell Williams served four straight points for a 14-12 Mainland lead.

DeLand regained the serve and pulled within 14-13 before Mainland got it back. Mary Aman's hit kept the Bucs from closing out the game and DeLand got the serve back.

Seminole seemed as if it would get the serve back when Jackie Farr unloaded a devastating spike. But Lake Howell's Denise Efstathion made an excellent play to dig it out. Not only did she dig it out, but Efstathion got the pass to setter Cechowski who set up Jolee Johnson for a spike that provided the 15th point of the first game.

Efstathion's dig not only enabled Lake Howell to get the winning point of the first game, but it demoralized the Lady Seminoles. Seminole couldn't regain its composure in the second game as Lake Howell rolled.

Bulldogs and Tamy Martin went on to serve the final two points of the first game.

In game two, with DeLand holding a 3-1 lead, Lori McDowell served nine straight points for a 12-1 DeLand lead. Five of the nine points came on Mainland illegal hits.

C.C. Hayden later served two points for a 14-3 lead and Wyche served the final point.

Politowicz: Make Your Move By Football Field

Once again, the 4A-5 District Cross Country Championships will be held at Trinity Preparatory School. Trinity Prep is one of the fastest courses in the Central Florida area and the season is nearing the point of peak performances so Saturday morning's meet promises to be a good one.

SPORTS WRITER

For an accurate assessment of the Trinity course, this reporter contacted the one person who knows it better than anyone else — Adrienne Politowicz. Politowicz, a senior at Trinity Prep, has been practicing and competing on the course since she was in seventh grade.

"You start out on a grassy field, then stay on the grass and run alongside the baseball field. Then you hit the road and run on the road for about 100 feet. Then, you're back on the grass and follow it around by the football field. You cross over a road, come up in front of the school, and then run on cement. Then you're back on the grass and you come back to the start for the second loop."

"It seems that's where people try to make it up if they've fallen behind, on the start of the second time around," continued Politowicz. "I think the best place to make your move would be by the football field. That's where people start falling back."

"It's not a real fast course," added the senior standout. "It's kind of uneven, grassy, and has pits and stuff — not real big ones — that you have to look out for. When it gets wet, it's a lot slower. The way the grass is, there's a lot of mud and you kind of sink in it."

"It's a good spectator course, too," Politowicz said. "The facilities are not big enough and all, but I'd rather have state at Trinity than DeLand."

Politowicz said her times seem to always be good at Trinity but that she doesn't consider it her favorite course. Among the ones she has run on that she likes best is Boone.

The DeLand Airport course, the sight of this year's state meet, is not one of Politowicz's favorites.

"I really don't like the DeLand course," she said. "You have to concentrate a lot more on it. You can't get a steady stride going either. It takes like five strides and then you jump over a hole or go through a gully. It's a lot harder to keep a good steady rate going and it tires you out even more."

Politowicz, who blazed to a time of 11:27 in winning the Individual title at the Saints Invitational last weekend, said she isn't sure what meet she will run in this weekend but that there is a possibility she will run in an AAU qualifying meet.

The Lady Saints district meet will be held at Trinity Prep next weekend (Nov. 16). In 1A districts, the top two teams and top five individuals qualify for state. Politowicz will be the individual favorite along with Keawick Christian's Jenni Soles.

"The quality of my races haven't been that good recently," Politowicz said. "But I was real pleased with my time last week. I hope to keep getting better. I think I can still go under 11 (preseason goal). I haven't given up on it."

Lakeland Christian is the team favorite in the district.

The district meet will also mark the last time a classy young lady named Adrienne Politowicz will run on her home course.

Lyman Bumps Patriots

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Lyman's Lady Greyhounds lived up to their "bump, set, destroy," motto in the first game against Lake Brantley Wednesday night with a 15-5 victory. Lyman let down a bit in the second game though and Brantley rallied for a 15-12 win.

Neither team could take command early in game three and both were looking for someone to ignite them. With Lyman holding a 4-1 lead, Tami Foss provided that spark for the Lady Greyhounds.

Not known for her serving prowess in the past, Foss served 11 straight points, seven of which weren't returned, as Lyman claimed a 15-1 victory over the upset-minded Lady Patriots in the 4A-9 District Tournament at Lyman High.

Lyman advances to tonight's semifinals against Spruce Creek. The match starts at 7:30. Spruce Creek advanced with a 15-9, 15-11 victory over Lake Mary. Lake Howell and DeLand square off in the first semifinal match.

"Tami (Foss) was having a little problem serving about midseason," Lyman coach Jerri Kelly said. "It's not that she was never effective, but we had other girls who were serving well. And we like to use whatever is working. Tonight, she did an excellent job."

Lake Brantley got off to a slow start in the first game as Lyman's Dawn Boyesen served five straight points to open the match. Four of Boyesen's serves weren't returned.

Brantley came back with four straight on the strong serve of Dawn Gebhart but a spike by Foss stopped the rally. Lyman then reeled off nine points before the Lady Patriots scored again. Kristie Kaiser, Donna Ball and Boyesen served two points each in that span.

Gebhart served a point to make it 13-5 but a nicely placed dink by Sheila Mandy gave it back to Lyman and Mandy served the last two points of the game. Kim Forsyth's vicious spike provided the final point. Forsyth converted on four spikes and one block in the game.

Lake Brantley came out fired up in game two and it was Gebhart's serve that got the Patriots off to a good start. Gebhart, only a freshman, served four straight to open the second game.

Lyman came back with five straight for a 5-4 lead before Gebhart came around to serve two more for a 6-5 Brantley lead. The Patriots regained the serve on a Lyman net foul and Lynda Abraham then had the best service string of the match for Brantley. Abraham served five straight points as the Lady Patriots took an 11-5 lead. Three of the points came on Lyman missed spikes while two came on spikes by Gigi Griffin.

The Lady Greyhounds came back to within one point, 13-12, late in the game, but Gebhart came back to serve the last two points for a 15-12 Brantley win, forcing a third and deciding game.

"After the first game, I think the girls let the game get out of their minds," Kelly said. "It's very hard to take a tournament like this one game at a time. The girls may have been looking ahead."

Brantley won the coin toss for the serve to open game three but Gebhart hit her serve into the net. That was a bad omen for the Lady Patriots who missed the serve three of the four times they had it in the third game.

Lyman took a 4-0 lead with

IN BRIEF

Turner Clubs 2 Home Runs As TRC Moves Into Top Spot

Rodney Turner clubbed two homers and a double and drove in four runs Wednesday night as the Tim Ralnes Connection moved into first place in the Sanford Men's Softball Fall League with a three-inning, 21-0 rout of Thorne Land Clearing at Pinchurst Field.

TRC, which now stands at 14-2 and leads Sesson Well Drilling (13-2) by one half game, scored seven runs in each of the three innings while Thorne Land Clearing was blanked on just one hit.

Lloyd Wall's two-run homer and Turner's solo shot highlighted the first inning while Turner hammered a two-run shot in the second and Burnett "Slim" Washington slugged a two-run homer in the third.

In other action Wednesday, Sunniland upheld Cardinal 12-5, on the strength of an eight-run third inning and Geyser Systems pounded out 11 homers to bomb McKee Development, 24-4.

The big hits for Sunniland in the eight-run third included Gee Knight's two-run triple and RBI singles by Nick Mergo, Chris Frank and Kelvin Riggins.

For Geyser Systems, Ray Mack cracked three homers while Jeff Brake, Mike Timmons and Marvin White each hit two homers. Mark Dowell and Ted Miller added solo shots.

Team Europe Leads By 1 Stroke

KAPALUA, Hawaii (UPI) — Team Europe holds a one-stroke lead over the United States entering today's second round of the $750,000 Nissan Cup World Championship of Golf and it is interesting to note how they got there.

Bernhard Langer of West Germany, captain of the European six-man team went on the offensive to rout Japan 9-3, while his American counterpart Raymond Floyd played defense to turn back the Australia-New Zealand combine 8-4 Wednesday.

Both winning teams gained an additional 10 bonus points for totals of 19 for Europe and 18 for the United States.

Playing under an overcast sky with barely a breeze over the normally windy 6,879-yard Kapalua Bay Course on the island of Maui, Langer lined himself in the anchor position and checked in with a 5-under-par 67.

Soviets Glum Despite Gold

MONTREAL (UPI) — The triumphant smiles audiences grew accustomed to seeing during the Olympic gymnastics competition were absent when the men's World Championship medals were handed out Wednesday night.

The victorious Soviet Union gymnasts were glum because they felt they should have scored better, and the silver-medalist Chinese were disappointed their brilliant display of optional routines Wednesday night had not been enough for them to successfully defend their 1983 title.

The East Germans weren't too thrilled with winning the bronze either.

But their disappointments paled when compared to that of the United States' rebuilding 1984 Olympic gold medal team. Forced by injury to compete a man short, the squad fumbled and fell its way through its usually strong optional routines and finished ninth.

Men's Tennis Approves Test

LONDON (UPI) — Professional men's tennis players will be tested for illegal drug use next year at two of the sport's five major tournaments under a rule unanimously approved Wednesday by the Men's International Professional Tennis Council.

John McEnroe, the world's No. 2-ranked player, playing at the Stockholm (Sweden) Open, voiced his support for the ruling, saying, "Drugs won't help your tennis."

The new policy voted by the nine-member council, which represents the International Tennis Federation, tournament organizers and players, requires mandatory testing of players as well as members of the council and its employees.

The testing will seek traces of cocaine, heroin or amphetamines, the MIPTC said.

Bird Settles Out Of Court

BOSTON (UPI) — Celtics superstar Larry Bird has agreed to an out-of-court settlement stemming from a barroom melee that allegedly took place shortly before his shooting slump during last season's NBA playoffs.

Terms of the confidential settlement, reached in principle late last month and finalized Monday, were not made public.

Lawyers for Bird, the man he is accused of punching, and the unidentified woman who was reportedly the focus of the brawl all described the settlement as "amicable."

The fight in and around Chelsea's Bar near Boston's Quincy Market reportedly took place May 16, when the Celtics were battling for the NBA's Eastern Conference Championship.

Rams Will Start Kemp At QB

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — Los Angeles Rams coach John Robinson announced Wednesday that Jeff Kemp will start at quarterback this weekend against the New York Giants.

Robinson chose Kemp, last year's starter, over Steve Dils. Dieter Brock is out for at least a week after undergoing surgery to remove a kidney stone.

"It mattered that Jeff has started before here and played against this team (the Giants) twice last year," Robinson said. "We feel he'll do a good job."

Hate Mail Brings Laughs From Sisk After Surgery

A prescription?
 Now who in the world would be sending him one in the mail? Doug Sisk couldn't understand it. He wasn't sick. His pitching maybe, but not him.

The Mets' right-handed reliever studied the letter that came with the prescription. It offered him specific directions.

"Take one capsule of cyanide and two Tylenol daily," his anonymous good Samaritan instructed Sisk, leaving the obvious consequences to his imagination.

Sisk remembers another poison pen letter among the mountain of hate mail he got during the last half of 1984 and the first half of last season when he couldn't get anybody out.

This one showed some solitude. About the company he was keeping in the Mets' bullpen.

"Stay away from Roger McDowell," the letter writer ordered. "I don't want you screwing him up, too."

Sisk laughed over those letters from his home in Tacoma, Wash., Wednesday. He had just come from a remarkable and exciting experience. He and his father were playing catch in his backyard.

What's so exciting about that? You'd be excited also if they had done surgery on your elbow only a few weeks ago and if everything that happened to Doug Sisk in the past 18 months happened to you.

The Mets' 28-year-old sinkerballer came out of the chute like a jackrabbit at the start of 1984. Until mid-July, his ERA was 0.92. Then he ran into a case of tendinitis and could hardly help at all when the Mets were trying to catch the Cubs.

His right shoulder still bothered him at the beginning of this year but he tried to pitch anyway and that's when those "I hate you, I hate you" letters came pouring in. The fans at Shea Stadium got on him so loudly and regularly, he knew what was coming beforehand.

"OK, guys, hold your ears," he'd warn some of the other Mets before heading to the mound from the bullpen. "I was pitching lousy but I didn't need for the fans to stuff it down my throat. I felt badly enough as it was. I was trying."

Implicably, Sisk turned everything around from Aug. 23 to Sept. 12, relieving in six games without giving up a run in 10 innings. The following day, Sept. 13 in Montreal, the pain in his right shoulder and arm became almost unbearable. Examination disclosed bone chips in his elbow.

shot, not flashy moves. The winning basket was perfect illustration.

"I was just trying to set a pick for Purvis, and I fell down," Mullin said. "Then I found myself open in the corner, so I took the shot."

Simple. Wonderfully simple for Golden State. Painfully simple for Seattle, which has lost four of six games this season.

Xavier McDaniel, Seattle's top draft pick, had 25 points, and Al Wood added 24. Wood committed a costly traveling violation with 10 seconds remaining and Seattle down by 3 points.

"I'm just glad it's over and glad I got my feet wet," said Mullin, who added 2 rebounds and 1 assist in 24 minutes. "I didn't know the plays, and my game

They were removed in New York on Sept. 23, not even seven weeks ago, and the doctors originally told him it would be anywhere from six to eight months — months, mind you — before he could seriously think of doing much pitching again.

Now you can understand why he's that excited over those catches he has been having with his father.

"If you would've asked me three weeks ago, hell, I'd have told you I'd never pitch again," Sisk said. "Now I'd say by the end of December, I should be throwing pretty good."

"I'm just lobbing the ball, but the swelling has gone down and I'm not having any problem at all. I can't believe it, I should be right there well before the spring."

A couple of other big reasons also are making him happy. On the 22nd of this month, he's marrying Lisa Michaelson and he has gotten an unexpected wedding present already. When he got back home at the end of the season, he was informed his boat, an inboard-outboard 19-footer, was gone. But it was found and he's got it back now.

Over the past two seasons, the Mets have won a total of 188 games, more than any other club in the National League, yet they finished three games behind the Cardinals in their division this year and 6 1/2 behind the Cubs last year.

Dave Johnson says had Sisk not come up with his shoulder and elbow problems, the Mets would've won both times. Johnson isn't holding Sisk responsible and Sisk realizes that. But he hates hearing it, anyway.

"We played great for two years," he says. The other teams played better. Too bad we weren't in the American League West."

Doug Sisk just went and made himself some brand new pen pals in Kansas City.

UPI: Cox Is Top Manager

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bobby Cox assumes his new job as general manager of the Atlanta Braves knowing he left his managerial career in style.

Cox, who led the Toronto Blue Jays to the AL East title and the club's first pennant of any kind, Wednesday was named American League Manager of the Year by the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Cox tends to agree with Detroit Tigers manager Sparky Anderson, who believes a manager has never directly affected the outcome of a game.

"Lots of times, a manager is managing a last-place team or near-to-last-place team and he's one of the best managers in baseball," Cox said. "Without players and a staff, a manager doesn't mean a whole lot."

Without a top-flight manager, however, talent can go unutilized, and personalities can conflict with performances. Cox's strength as a manager was his ability to communicate with his players and get the most out of his bench.

He left the Blue Jays as the most successful manager in the club's history, posting a four-year mark of 355-302. Under Cox, the Blue Jays won more games (99) than any team in the AL this season.

Picked as a preseason favorite for the division title, the Blue Jays took over first place on May 20 and held it the rest of the way. They fought

Marino Questionable For Jets

MIAMI (UPI) — Miami quarterback Dan Marino, hobbled with a thigh bruise and was listed as questionable for Sunday's game with the New York Jets, said his leg is improving daily.

Marino, who suffered the bruise in last Sunday's 17-13 loss at New England, threw some early in practice, although he was not in pads. Marino said after practice his leg felt all right.

"It felt pretty good," he said. "It felt all right."

Coach Don Shula said Marino's leg was improved since Tuesday.

"He was throwing the ball all right," Shula said. "It was much Improved."

While Marino was out of pads, wide receiver Mark Duper practiced in pads for the first time in several weeks. Duper is trying to come off injured reserve with a hamstring tendon injury and ran much better in practice.

"Duper worked pretty hard," Shula said. "We'll see how he feels (Thursday). It was the first time in a long time in pads for him. I don't think he really tried to turn it loose."

COLTS SIGN McGREGOR

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — The Indianapolis Colts signed Kell McGregor and put tight end Tim Sherwin on injured reserve Wednesday.

Sherwin underwent knee surgery to repair a partial ligament tear suffered Sunday against the New York Jets.

McGregor, a fourth-round pick for Denver last spring, was signed as a free agent. The Broncos waived the 6-6, 250-pound McGregor three weeks into the regular season.

McGregor played college football at Colorado State. The Colts also waived tight end Paul Bergmann from the reserve list. Bergmann, from UCLA, was the team's first pick in the 1984 supplemental draft for players in the USFL and the Canadian Football League. He played with several USFL teams.

49ERS WAIVE LEONARD

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers, looking to beef up their ailing defensive line, waived backup center Jim Leonard Wednesday and activated defensive lineman John Hart.

Leonard anchored the offensive line for the U.S. Football League's Oakland Invaders last season.

DeLand Slips Past Seminoles, 54-53

By Chuck Burgess
Special to the Herald

"It was the closest loss I've ever had in coaching swimming."

Those were Donalyn Knight's, head swim coach of the Sanford Seminoles swim team, after the 'Noles boys' team lost a hard fought meet, 54-53, against DeLand at DeLand.

"It was a hard loss because we were without Jay Adcock," Knight said. "The water was real cold and Jay (Adcock) had an asthma attack."

Although Adcock wasn't feeling up to par, Seminole sophomore Jaime Bojanowski was feeling excellent.

Bojanowski flew to victory in the 100 butterfly with a time of 1:01.7 and added another triumph in the 100 breast in 1:09.9. Bojanowski also teamed with freshmen Scott Lewis, Matt Chock and junior Kirby

Swimming

Swinchart to post a second place finish in the 200 medley relay with a clocking of 2:09.6.

"I moved some events around because the water was so cold," Knight said. "I put Jaime (Bojanowski) in the 100 fly and Kirby (Swinchart) in the 200 I.M. instead of their usual events."

Also swimming to wins in the boys' meet was Swinchart in the 100 back, 1:13.2 and Lewis in the 100 free, 1:04.9.

Taking second places included senior John Dubols (200 free 2:34 and 500 free 7:05), Scott Lewis (100 back 1:16.7), Chock (50 free 29.6) and Swinchart (200 individual medley 2:37).

The girls' meet wasn't as close and didn't have as many first places as the boys; however, Knight was still impressed with the team's performance.

One Lady Swinchart who will be in the mood to swim fast in the district meet is freshman Stasi Bojanowski.

Bojanowski destroyed the field in the 200 free finishing in 2:15.0 and followed up with another conquest in the 100 fly where she touched in at 1:12.1.

Not only did Bojanowski do exceptionally well as an individual against the Bulldogs, but she also contributed a leg of the Seminoles' winning 200 medley relay team of junior Kristy Keeling, and seniors LeAnne Sundvall and Shawna Cole. The relay churned in at 2:27.0.

Scoring second place points included Cole (200 I.M. 3:02), Keeling (50 free 29.6) and freshman Abby Whitehead (100 breast 1:34).

height or jumping ability. He is a sure bet to get his share of rebounds every night."

Merthie is a 6-0 shooting guard. Ridenour said the play of Merthie has been a pleasant surprise. "He is so much stronger than I thought he was in high school," Ridenour said of Merthie, "and he has really improved his shooting too."

"I don't know how we are going to keep him out of the lineup. If he doesn't start, he'll probably play 32 minutes (of 40 minutes) a game."

Merthie said he is happy with his role.

"Even though I'm not starting, I'm getting a lot of playing time," he said. "I have a lot of time to play so I should be able to work my way into the starting lineup."

Merthie added that since being at DBCC he has found out that there is a big difference in caliber of play between the high school and junior college levels.

"The junior college game is a lot faster than in high school," he said.

Ridenour said the Scots' starting lineup would be Mitchell at center, 6-4 sophomore Terry Givens and 6-2 freshman Darryl Harris at the forwards, along with Miller at the point and 6-1 freshman Levertis Williams at the second guard.

Ridenour said this team will have great difficulty in matching last year's 28-4 record, but he expects it to do well.

"We should be pretty quick, but without a true big man, we are not going to be able to rebound against the bigger teams," he said. "We'll win our share of games, but no way in the big game are we going to be able to win."

Besides a lack of size, the 45-second shot clock that the Mid-Florida conference has adopted (along with all NCAA-member schools) this season will also have a great effect against the Scots, Ridenour said.

"It has hurt us a lot," he said. "It seems like every year we are always smaller than the other teams and because of this we used to bring the ball out to make their big men come out at us."

"This enabled us to be able to do the things we do best. But with the shot clock, we won't be able to do that."

Miller said the Scots can have a real good season, maybe even as good as last year.

"We lost a lot of players from last year, but I think we still have a lot of good athletes," he said. "It is going to all depend on how bad we want it."

In the Mid-Florida Conference race this season, Ridenour expects Seminole Community College, Florida Junior and Santa Fe to have a good shot at winning the title and an automatic berth in the state tournament.

"Yeah, they (SCC) should have a good chance from what I know about them," he said. "Florida Junior College is there every year, too, and Santa Fe can't be counted out because they have a 6-8 guy in the middle."

Faculty, Alumni To Collide

The old greats and the not-so-old greats — and even some not-so-great old and young — will be on display Friday night when the third annual Seminole High Faculty-Alumni football game will be played. Kickoff is 7:30.

Football will be of the flag variety but the action is nonetheless diminished when these two rivals go at it. The faculty won the first battle two years ago but the alumni came back last year to post a win.

"They were lucky to win the first one," Alumni coach Brent Carl said earlier this week. "We will re-establish our superiority again this year."

Carl, who is sidelined with an injury, is banks on ex-Seminole Tim Raines, Mike Good, Clifford Martin, Ntek Brady, Mark Whigham and Rodney Turner to make the difference.

Boyesen and Mandy serving one point each and Kaiser serving two. Forsyth slipped a dink past three blockers to account for the fourth point. After Forsyth's strong play at the net in the first game, Brantley put two, sometimes three blockers on her the rest of the way.

"Kim (Forsyth) was thinking a lot at the net," Kelly said. "She was dinking a lot instead of trying to cram it through the blockers."

After Griffin served a point for Brantley to make it 4-1, Foss came on and served out the match.

One of Foss' serves was an ace while Forsyth and Lori Helms each had spikes and Boyesen a well-disguised dink.

CREEK DOWNS LADY RAMS
Lake Mary staged an exciting comeback Wednesday night but the Lady Rams found that playing catchup is not the best way to go as Spruce Creek claimed a 15-9, 15-11 victory.

In the opening game, Lake Mary took an early 2-0 lead on Betsy Perry's serve, but Spruce Creek scored six straight on the serve of Samantha Osterman. The Creek went on to take a 12-6 lead before Angie Capps served three straight to pull Lake Mary within 12-9.

Spruce Creek regained the serve though and Jennifer Gaddis served the last three points of the first game. Tyrina Mack's spike highlighted the rally. The Creek assumed command early in game two as Osterman served three straight points with a dink and spike by Mack leading the way. The Lady Hawks eventually took leads of 8-1 and 14-4 before the Lady Rams came alive.

Michele Cistaro came off the bench to serve four straight for the Lady Rams to trim the lead to 14-8. Anquetette Whack's dink led the way. Whack whacked a spike to the floor to return the serve the Rams and Capps served three straight to make it 14-11. Nance Morgan's hit returned it to Spruce Creek though and Osterman came back to serve the final point.

"I almost thought we had it," Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry said of the comeback. "But it's hard to rally all the way when the other team has 14 points. If it was 13 or 12 we might have done it."

Spruce Creek now advances to the semifinals and a rematch with Lyman. Earlier in the season, Spruce Creek snapped Lyman's 12-match winning streak.

LADY LIONS ADVANCE
In District 3A-6 volleyball play Wednesday, Kim Verne's serving paved the way for Oviedo's Lady Lions to move into the championship game as Oviedo trounced St. Cloud, 15-0, and 15-9, at Kissimmee Osceola High School.

Oviedo takes on Osceola tonight at 6:30 for the district title at 6:30. Osceola drubbed Jones, 15-6 and 15-11 in Tuesday's other semifinal game.

PEOPLE

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Thursday, Nov. 7, 1986-1B

Winner: Little Miss Cover Girl U.S.A.

Roxanne Erica Hirt, 8-month-old daughter of Terry and Robert Hirt of Osteen was crowned Little Miss Cover Girl U.S.A., for her age division, birth through 11 months, at a pageant held at the DeLand Woman's Club, DeLand. The petite beauty queen will go on to compete for the national title on June 21-23, 1986 in a pageant at Fort Walton Beach. Roxanne is the maternal granddaughter of Juanita Wright, Orange City, and Frances and Robert Hirt Sr. of Osteen. Her paternal grandmothers are Wilma Clark and Mae Smith, both of Osteen.

Double Ring Rites Unite Lisa Greene, R.F. Temple

Lisa Dale Greene of Austin, Texas, and Robert Frank Temple of Washington, D.C., were married at 6 p.m. Sept. 28 at Covenant Presbyterian Church, Austin. The Rev. James S. Boelens was the officiating clergyman for the candlelight and double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack I. Greene, 1242 Royal Oak Drive, Winter Springs. The bridegroom is the son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Charles E. Temple Jr., 534 E. Mariposa Way, Santa Maria, Calif.

Given in marriage by her father, the radiant bride chose for her vows a crisp white silk organza Alfred Angelo Original gown fashioned along a slim, elegant silhouette. The low-cut neckline was embellished with delicate Venise lace medallions and tiny satin rosettes. The surplice bodice was enhanced with full pouffed sleeves worn off-the-shoulder. Her gently flowing semi-cathedral train, edged in Venise lace, was sprinkled with reembroidered lace flower motifs. A delicate satin bow with rosette streamers highlighted the back of the exquisite gown. A Juliet cap, enriched with seed pearls and iridescents, secured her laced-edged chapel length soft tulle veil and added blusher. The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls that belonged to her late maternal grandmother. She carried an arm bouquet of long-stemmed pink roses, Alstic lilies, stephanotis, pink orchid lilies and trailing ivy showered with white knotted satin streamers.

'No' Better Than 'Maybe' To Man Looking For Date

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "Often Stuck" was all wet. She wanted to know how to avoid giving her phone number to a man in whom she wasn't interested, and you told her to take his number instead and say she'll call him when she has some free time.

Why is it so hard for women to say no? I have had women give me their phone number after I've asked for it only to find them surprised when I call, and then I get turned down.

Women have told me that they're afraid of hurting a man's feelings by refusing to give him their phone number. Believe me, straightforward honesty would be refreshing after putting up with some of the games people play with each other.

STAN IN INDIANAPOLIS
DEAR STAN: If a woman is absolutely, positively not interested in the man, then a straight-forward rejection is probably kinder than giving him false hope.

But since it's a woman's prerogative to change her mind, it's smart to ask the man for his number because the man in whom she had no interest in may might look better to her in November (after a long, dry summer).

DEAR ABBY: I'm not happy with my marriage and I want out, but my husband isn't the type to let me go without a fight. We've been married for 10 years and have two children. I wasn't quite 16 when I got married, and he was 24. We fight all the time. If we're not screaming and yelling, we're hitting each other. I don't like to fight in front of the children, but I just can't stand there and take all his verbal abuse, plus punching and slapping.

Abby, just one more thing. There is this man who really cares for me and we think we could be happy together if I were free. I need to know how I can leave my husband without getting myself, my children or my boyfriend hurt. My husband can be very mean if provoked.

RUNNING OUT OF TIME AND COMMON SENSE

DEAR RUNNING: Your signature shows you to be a very insightful woman. I don't know whether your marriage went sour because you found another man, or you found another man because your marriage went sour, but don't chuck your marriage in order to jump into another. No woman (or man) should live with a mate who dishes out verbal or physical abuse. I recommend family counseling for you and your husband. If he refuses to go with you, go alone.

DEAR ABBY: I am a pastor who believes in a lot of home visitation, and when I go into a home I will inevitably find the boob tube blaring. After I've been seated for about three minutes, I ask pleasantly, "May I turn down the TV a wee bit?" Usually they say, "Oh, just shut it off!" If they hesitate, or say, "Well, I will turn it down just a little bit," then this is a signal to me that they are more interested in their "soap" than their salvation, and in 15 minutes I am gone.

And incidentally, Abby, I don't agree with you that people are not socially obligated to turn off the TV when someone drops in unexpectedly. After all, is a television program more precious than friendship?

SOUTH CAROLINA PASTOR

DEAR PASTOR: How important a television program is to an individual is a personal matter that can be answered only by the individual. I could be mistaken, but I have always thought healthy friendships are based on mutual consideration, not obligation.

Jacqui Greene of Cincinnati, Ohio, attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a pink gown designed with a tiered, lace neckline worn off-the-shoulder. The skirt was highlighted with delicate lace insets and she wore matching lace gloves. The honor attendant carried an arm bouquet of long-stemmed pink roses and wore a spray of baby's breath in her hair.

Carol Greene Asher, the bride's sister, and Emily Asher, the bride's niece, both of West Palm Beach, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the honor attendants'.

Charles E. Temple III of Sacramento, Calif., served his brother as best man. Ushers were Richard Temple, the bridegroom's brother, Sacramento, and David Alcalá, Austin.

Immediately following the wedding, the bride's parents entertained at a buffet dinner at Lost Creek Country Club in Austin.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the traditional rehearsal dinner at the Austin Club in Austin.

After a wedding trip to points of interest in the central and eastern states, the newlyweds are making their home in Wheaton, Md. The bridegroom is employed as a government relations representative by J.C. Penney Co. Inc in Washington, D.C.

Myositis May Be Only Temporary

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — My brother-in-law, 37, was recently in an auto accident. While he was in the hospital, the doctor said he was going to treat him for myositis. My family has never heard of that disease. Can you tell me what it is and if the accident caused it?

DEAR DR. GOTT — Myositis is simply muscle irritation. It could have been caused by the trauma your brother-in-law experienced during the accident. I suggest you wait and see how he feels in several weeks before becoming alarmed about his myositis, which may be only a temporary condition.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I attended a health fair recently. Blood was taken for analysis. My report showed high triglycerides (587) and cholesterol (387). I am a 76-year-old female, 160 pounds, 5 feet 8, a diabetic and a vegetarian. I'm puzzled by these results.

DEAR READER — Diabetics have high blood fats, so I'm not surprised by your triglycerides and cholesterol. Nonetheless, your values are quite elevated, and I wonder if your physician might not urge you to lose a few pounds. This could improve your diabetic control. Also, you don't mention whether you are on diabetes medicine. With high blood fats, your sugar, too, may be high and your medication may have to be adjusted upward — or perhaps you should be started on one of the oral agents. In any case, I'm sure your doctor will want to take some action once he obtains your health-fair data.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I heard a doctor on TV say there is now a medication to help people who suffer from raw nerve ends caused by shingles. What can you tell me about this?

DEAR READER — I don't know precisely what the TV doctor was referring to. I do know, however, that more and more doctors are now using cortisone for shingles. The medicine appears to help prevent the nerve pain (neuralgia) that may accompany (and follow) shingles.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I was told I have a very rare disease that they had seen in cats, but not in many human beings: chronic intestinal pseudo-obstruction. It causes my colon to swell up like a balloon, and when this happens, my colon does not function. I'm very sick with this a lot of times and have real bad pain. I have had six operations and was told the next one would take my life. What is this? Would seeing another doctor help me? Will I have to live on IVs the rest of my life?

DEAR READER — Although intestinal pseudo-obstruction may be common to cats, it is rare in humans.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio 44101.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Unimpeded slam bidding isn't so hard. After you and partner have agreed on a suit, you show strength and controls, ask for aces now and then, and bid your slam. It's not so easy when some nasty opponent skips three rounds of bidding, pre-empting in his long suit. Bidding a slam now may require making some inferences, not to mention taking some chances.

The three-spade bid by West was a nuisance, for sure. North liked his hand but he had no bidding room left for delicate exploration. He finally decided to get his partner into the decision-making process, but at the same time risked getting too high. He cue-bid four spades. What did that mean? It meant he was willing to play five hearts, he had a control in spades, and he thought there just might be a slam.

That cue-bid was enough for South. Although his hand was minimum, it had some very good features. First, the heart suit was solid. Second, that diamond ace certainly took on an added glow when North announced he was interested in slam. South asked for aces and kings, and bid six hearts.

If declarer had tried to go set, he might have succeeded. Instead, he won the ace of spades, drew two rounds of trump, and played ace and a diamond. With that suit set up, he could now draw the remaining trumps and make the contract.

Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) An important objective can be achieved now, but you must first let people in positions to help you know what you expect from them.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A new situation that has been commanding your attention has even greater potential than you suspect. Reappraise it carefully, taking in all of its ramifications.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your greatest luck today is likely to come from situations that are not of your own making. Chance will have a hand in drawing you into them.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Partnership arrangements have more potential benefits for you today than your independent operations. Ally yourself with people who have what you lack.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your greatest possibilities for success today will be in joint arrangements. A strong ally, plus Lady Luck's input, provides the winning combination.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Someone with whom you'll be involved today can be of great help to your career. It's a person with clout who has already done several favors for you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you are determined to see an important matter through today, you'll get the results you desire. Stay on course.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It will be more gratifying for you today to aid others instead of serving your own interests and ambitions. Render assistance where needed.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Financial conditions continue to be favorable for you. A new way could be found to expand upon what you already have going.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Good news for which you've been hoping might come today. It pertains to a matter that affects your material well-being.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You might have more control over today's events than you think. But you might have to pull the strings from behind the scenes.

Controversial Cagney-Lacey Takes Its Cue From Real Life

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Cagney & Lacey" will deal with the issue of abortion next week and one of the most touching scenes is the one in which Mary Beth Lacey admits to her partner, Christine Cagney, that she once had an abortion.

If the scene holds an even deeper ring of truth than usual, it is because the story Tyne Daly relates as Mary Beth really did happen.

The woman to whom it happened is Barbara Corday. She is the wife of executive producer Barney Rosenzweig, creative consultant to the show, and president of Columbia Pictures Television.

"The story Mary Beth tells about her history is a very low key one, a very simple one," Rosenzweig said recently when the cast and crew was in New York to shoot exteriors. "Tyne came to me with her instincts aflame."

Her actor's instincts demanded pyrotechnics — but they were instantly damped when Rosenzweig told her, "This is a real story. This happened to my wife."

When Corday saw the result, her husband said, she cried.

Rosenzweig, who said his consciousness has been raised on women's issues by his wife, four female children and two female stars, has strong private views on the abortion issue, but says in on breast cancer, he said, the purpose really was to educate women that there were alternatives in the treatment of breast cancer and he said the show got "a little Quincey-ish," complete with charts and teaching aids. This time around the idea is to present a situation, not argue a polemic, he said.

Rosenzweig said he set up a meeting with the CBS censors and rehearsed a long presentation for the defense. Then the new head of the department told him, "Barney, understand, you are among friends. Tell us what is non-negotiable for you."

"It took all the air out of my sails," he said, delighted.

Rosenzweig has already shown the episode to several pro-choice groups, and now is showing it to pro-life groups.

He makes no bones that he screened what he admitted was a "potentially controversial" episode to the pro-choice feminist groups that have been "Cagney & Lacey's" strongest supporters before showing it to pro-life groups.

He still smarts from an incident early in the history of "Cagney & Lacey" when Julie Adams played a Phyllis Schlafly-like character and some CBS affiliates were pressured into not airing the episode.

He thinks the conservatives might have liked the character if they had watched the show.

Moment For History
