Lynching Bill May Include Gang Killings

Southern Senators To Seek Expansion Of Measure To Cover Racketeer Warfare

Byrnes Says Negro Rules Democrats

Russell Insists Bill Would 'Lynch' Last Bit Of State Rights

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Southern senators fighting the anti-lynching bill told the Senate today they would seek to expand it to include gangsters and mob violence.

Senator Russell, Georgia Democrat, carried on the debate against the pending measure as the Senate rounded out the first full week of discussion without even approaching a vote on any of the number of amendments proposed.

Failure of the Administration leaders to impose longer Senate sessions in order to wear out the opposition speakers led to the defeat among some Senators they were trying to avoid an open break with the southern bloc.

Senators Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, taking the floor when the filibuster entered its fifth day, yesterday asserted that southern white people had given unflinching adherence to the democratic party because they believed they could depend on the support of northern Democrats "when problems affecting the negro and the very soul of the south arose."

Mr. Byrnes said, "The negro has not only come into the democratic party, but the negro has come into control of the democratic party."

The South Carolinian asserted that Walter White, secretary of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People, "has ordered this bill to pass."

If White would agree to shelve the measure, Byrnes asserted, "the advocates would desert it as quickly as football players unscramble when the whistle of the referee is heard."

At the funeral services a choir composed of Mrs. B. P. Herron, Mrs. F. E. Russell, Mrs. Roby Lutz, F. E. Lammson and Roby Lutz sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "In the Garden" with Charlotte Smith as accompanist at the organ.

Bank President Reviews Results During Past Year

Shinholser Is Optimistic Over Prospects For 1938

"Satisfactory progress during the year of 1937," was reported by S. O. Shinholser, president of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank at the annual meeting of the stockholders held in the bank yesterday.

General banking conditions as a whole have shown improvement during the past year, the local bank president who acted as chairman of the meeting stated, adding that the progress made by the institution during the year was satisfactory.

"Loans and discounts," he asserted, "continue to show increase over the past few years, and the records of the bank for 1937 indicate increased activity in savings accounts and Christmas Savings Clubs."

"With a brighter outlook for general improvement in fundamental conditions in this City during the coming year, the bank president concluded, "prospects are better than for several years."

The following directors were re-elected by the stockholders for the coming year: George W. Bishop, Joe Cameron, George W. Fraser, I. I. Fraser, J. L. Ingley, R. A. Newman, and S. O. Shinholser.

Officers of the bank re-elected by the directors for the coming year were: S. O. Shinholser, president; J. L. Ingley, executive vice-president; George W. Fraser, vice-president; A. L. Betts, cashier; and A. F. Colburn was elected assistant cashier.

Mr. Colburn has been connected with the Sanford Atlantic National Bank for the past eight years, mostly in the capacity of head teller and received what officials termed a "well-earned promotion."

He has been engaged in the banking business in Seminole County for over 17 years and during this time he has been prominently identified with church and civic organizations in this City.

The Board of Directors of the Atlantic National Bank of Jacksonville in their annual election yesterday named J. L. Ingley, as assistant trust officer for the coming year.

Dawson Tells Of Causes Of Plant Disease

Co-Operation For Pink Rot Control Urged; Measures To Combat Infection Are Given

Because of the prevalence of pink rot in the celery crop during the past few weeks, County Agent C. R. Dawson, acting under the direction of Dr. R. W. Rupprecht of the local celery experiment laboratory, is sending to all the farmers in this vicinity information regarding the cause and control of the fungus sclerotium, which experiments have proved is responsible for the plant disease.

Thousands of crates of celery and other vegetables are rendered unsalable in Seminole County because of the disease, which those close to the industry claim is gaining prevalence. It has been deemed advisable to bring to the attention of local growers some of the facts regarding the disease as well as suggestions for control which have developed as a result of recent experiments.

According to Dr. William R. Shippy, of the local experiment laboratories, general facts concerning the disease have been known for a number of years but much additional information is needed before suitable control measures can be determined.

"To date complete eradication of the disease has been impossible," Dr. Shippy points out, "however, laboratories in the State, including the Sanford laboratory, are co-operating in a study of the disease in an effort to find a suitable means of eradication or methods to reduce the severity and spread of the noxious plant infection."

It cannot be emphasized too strongly that successful control of the disease will require the concerted efforts of all growers of celery and other susceptible crops.

"Pink rot," Dr. Shippy says, "is caused by the fungus sclerotium which lives in the soil from season to season in the form of resting bodies (sclerotia) which are small, hard and black on the outside but are white inside. During the late fall or early winter sclerotia become active and send out thread like fungus branches on the surface of the soil or just beneath the surface, frequently coming into contact with celery stalks or foliage, gaining entrance to the plant through wounds or other injuries. Once within the plant, infection spreads rapidly in other portions and to neighboring plants."

"A second method of infection is reached when the fungus branches on reaching the surface develop into aerial, brown mushroom-like numbers of spores that are literally exploded into the air and are deposited on lower portions of plants and on the soil. Fortunately, because of a lack of vigor, only a small proportion of these spores actually cause infection. However, enough of the spores lodge in plant wounds and in other favorable spots to account for infection and cause a rapid spread of the disease over large areas."

"The information now available suggests a number of possibilities for attacking the disease. It is realized that all of the measures are not practicable for growers, but many ways are available to the grower to take seriously and to do everything possible to prevent further spread of the infection."

The following measures are suggested to combat the disease: (Continued on page two)

Public Enemies Grand Jury Will Gant And Hunt Probe Charge Of Big Bribe Demand

Pair Arrested Last Night Wanted For 8 Bank Robberies

MIAMI, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Paul Burns ordered a special grand jury to be impaneled Monday to investigate the charge that a city official solicited a $250,000 bribe to settle the electric rate controversy.

The Judge acted upon a request of State Attorney G. A. Worley, Bryan C. Hanks, president of the Florida Power and Light Company, made the charge in a statement in which he declared the city official told him the rate case could be settled only if the company paid $250,000 to him.

"I won't pay a bribe," the statement said. "Negotiations for settlement of the Miami electric rate case have been terminated."

State Attorney G. A. Worley said the power company executive's statement would require immediate action by a grand jury, and he would call the matter to the attention of one of the circuit judges today.

Celery Feds Win Over Daytona 36 To 27 In Basketball Encounter

Lead by Johnny Morgan, ace guard, the Sanford Celery Feds took a 36-27 win from a fast Daytona Beach quintet on the local court last night for the second Northeast Conference victory in as many tries.

Tied 10-10 at the half, the local boys started a scoring spurt in the third quarter to take a lead which the Buccaneers were unable to overcome.

Morgan was the high point man for the Feds, with a total of 18 points to his credit, while Bagwell took scoring honors for the invaders with a total of 10 points.

The most brilliant performance in the game was turned in by Darnell Ferguson, another Fed guard, who time after time introduced the ball when the visitors were in scoring position. Ferguson also tallied 10 points during the tilt.

The teamwork displayed by the localites in the encounter last night and their ability in handling the ball should make them one of the leading contenders for the Northeast Conference championship which the Feds lost last season by a one point margin to the Leesburg Yellowjackets. In their first game of the season the Feds

Gas Tax Receipts Increase Over 2 Million In '37

State Collects Over 22 Million From Gas Tax In 12 Months

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Florida's seven cents a gallon gasoline tax produced $22,022,898.00 in the past 12 months, $2,000,000 more than in 1936 and nearly $6,000,000 more than in 1935.

Comptroller J. M. Lee's office reported the figures, showing 1936 collections amounted to $19,924,984.77; 1935 collections $17,865,732.40; 1934 collections $16,265,182.45 and 1933 collections $14,140,044.

Sales totaled 314,612,693.78 gallons in 1937; 284,642,638.40 in 1936; 253,224,747.4 in 1935; 232,210,891.2 in 1934 and 202,027,849.8 in 1933.

Gasoline tax collections are divided four ways. Revenue from three cents goes to the state road department. Revenue from another three cents goes to the counties in payment for highways which they built and which the state later took over as part of its system. Revenue from the seventh cent of the tax is divided equally between the state general operating fund and the public school fund.

During the past year Florida's 67 counties received a total of $9,392,798.78 in repayment for their roads. Some of the less populous counties received more money than the total collected by the state from the seven cents tax in such counties.

County amounts paid in taxes and amounts received from the state included: Alachua: $418,711.87 and $205,111.84. Bay: $224,155.72 and $150,980.72. Broward: $503,206.47 and $302,405.04. Dade: $3,685,683.88 and $546,711.80. Duval: $2,492,690.62 and $537,880.36. Escambia: $592,116.60 and $229,918.23. Highlands: $136,167.95 and $111,989.14. SONNETS TO THE ROSE (I)
 Dear heart, how strange it was, the tenderness, the sudden loving that was like a rose;
 How sweetly tall you were in lovely white While I, still fearful of the Wilderness, unfolded you entranced, and then I chose
 To see the symbol of the eternal
 That I had meekly worn for many Years.

Transfigured from the loam, a little cry
 In type-reversion to an ecstasy,
 A rare and higher self that dared to Be the rose's avatar . . . Ancestral Tears
 Burst hotly when I knew that You were I . . .
 And yet you murmured (and I Should have kneeled)
 "The daisies wild rose . . . How They star the field!"

We have seen a number of million dollar cars in Sanford lately that couldn't belong to anyone else than tourists either stopping here or going through. We hope they're stopping, because they spend more in a day than some of us do in a month, but even if they're going through, it's nice to see

 Arrow once in a while.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr. received the highest salary of anyone in the United States last year, being paid $283,311 by General Motors. But Mr. Sloan could probably show that that is not such a big salary after taxes, necessary civic and charitable contributions, and service club and organization dues are deducted from it. Still there is no record of a General Motors president having applied to WPA for work relief.

Senator Byrnes says that the anti-lynching bill would stir up a lot of sectional prejudices and bitterness, and that anyway the government couldn't enforce it any better than it did the prohibition law, which as all of us remember, was pretty sadly enforced. But what strikes us as the most appalling thing about the anti-lynching bill is that a bloc of northern senators would continue to try to ride roughshod over the South in order to enact this silly law when such important matters as declining business, unemployment, and unbalanced budgets confront the country.

What some of us cannot understand is why, when tax receipts go up, tax rates do not go down proportionately. In 1933 gas tax revenues in Florida amounted to $14,161,949. That was the first year of Gov. Sholtz administration, and the State got along right, paid all its bills, and considered adequate service to the public. But last year increased consumption of gasoline, resulted in tax collections amounting to $22,222,222, or eight million more than in 1933. And there has been no reduction in the average rate which the motorist has to pay, no increase in the service which the motorist has to pay for, and no increase in the public ser-

A Good Suggestion

Not a bad idea comes from the Lake Wales News which offers a suggestion we would like to see tried around here. Commenting on the passionate desire of our northern visitors to "pick an orange" right off a tree, and the inhibition which keeps many of them from "stealing" one, the News suggests that parks of free orange trees be made available for winter visitors.

"Sitting out in front office here," says the News, "we become interested during some of those brief, passing moments of idleness through watching winter visitors as they stop at the old sour orange tree in the vacant lot across the way, and look wistfully at its golden burden. It is pathetic to see them peer this way and that to see if anybody is watching, then surreptitiously and ingloriously 'snitch' one of the sour oranges—all for the sake of saying to their friends in the north, 'I actually picked an orange!'"

"There are plenty of vacant lots about town. There are plenty of citrus trees in Polk. Under city supervision, these lots could be set in trees which would yield 'free fruit' for visitors to the Sanctuary City, and no one who lives here and sees citrus growing and developing under their very eyes every day can realize the poignant yet touristic sometimes have to 'pick an orange.' The lots would be beautified, their value thus increased, the city would be made lovelier, and our winter visitors immensely gratified if this suggestion could become a project.

"One white-haired old lady stopped across the way last week, walked hesitantly over to the vacant lot tree, reached up and touched an orange as if in a caress, and then walked on away, apparently having to content herself with going through the motions of picking the fruit, but hardly having the temerity to 'steal' one.

"Some organization might take the thought of a real vacant-lot, free-to-tourists grove under advisement and accomplish a civic feat thereby. Think it over!"

Who Is Knudsen?

Testifying before the Senate Unemployment Committee last week was William S. Knudsen, president of the General Motors Corporation, who told the Senators that the slump in buying was caused by a lack of confidence on the part of the man-in-the-street, the average working-man, who, Mr. Knudsen said, seems to feel that he may lose his job soon, and therefore is unwilling to buy anything but necessities.

Mr. Knudsen should know whereof he speaks not only because he is the maker of a number of low-priced automobiles which were the first to suffer when the public stopped buying, but also because he is a man-in-the-street himself, just an average man who happened to make good. No heir to millions, he arrived in this country from Denmark in 1900 at the age of 20, unable to speak English, with but $30 in his pockets, and looking for a job.

"He remembers what he was up against in that first shipyard job in New York as a reamer at $1.75 a day, in learning English slowly by listening to children at play in his neighborhood, and finally in making headway in a Buffalo bicycle factory," says the United States News.

"It was up to him to learn the rules, play by them and improve them if possible. He did so with such success that he was managing the factory when Henry Ford took it over in 1911. Progress continued through 1914, when he became an American citizen, until he was named production manager for Mr. Ford. In that role he did much to bring about mass production as it is now known. His salary reached $50,000 a year in 1916."

"General Motors took him over then and within three years he had charge of the Chevrolet unit, in intense competition with his former employer. There was and is about him a 'hurry up' drive, a sense of diplomacy, a will to mediate and at the same time a will to accomplish what is expected of him if possible—to increase profits. It was with this background that he undertook to tell the Senators his opinions of what is happening and to answer their questions.

"The years have brought a stoop to his tall figure and lines to his face. His once dark hair has grayed, his moustache has yellowed from the smoke of his ever-present cigar. But that inclination to speak to the point with any and all corners appears as characteristic now as when he first became foreman in the bicycle factory. Friends say it probably will be used to advantage as a member of the newly-established board which will handle General Motors' relations with the 20,000 dealers handling its products."

 tivity of Chairman J. L. Marquette of the Chamber's Publicity Committee, we were successful in having two full page advertisements carried in MOTORBOATING exploiting the St. Johns River cruise to yachtmasters of the nation, the entire cost of the space being borne by the City of Jacksonville. Included in our campaign to advertise the river, will be a personal invitation to the owners and captains of yachts in the Miami territory the latter part of January, calling attention to the beauty of a river trip and the cordial hospitality that awaits them at the "Port of Central Florida".

"The Book 'So This Is Florida'" was released this month containing several pages descriptive of and complimentary to this section. Full page photographs of the "Big Tree" and a celery field were also carried. It will be recalled that the author of this book, Frank Parker Stebbins, was brought to Seminole County through the activity of the Chamber of Commerce, and our efforts have been repaid many times by the value of space he has given to us.

"We, this month, entertained a large party of Virginia School boys whom we believe were very much impressed with this section, and will do much to advertise its appeal.

"We aided with publicity for Mary Margaret McBride, nationally known radio columnist, who spent the Christmas holidays in Florida. In connection with Nina Oliver Dean, who assisted Miss McBride, the equipment of our office was made available in sending out newspaper stories. A "Sanford" dateline was carried on all items and Miss McBride plugged Seminole County's St. Johns River, "Big Tree", celery fields and "Ezekiel" several times in her broadcast covering the entire coast to coast network of the Columbia Broadcasting System, thus giving this section radio publicity that could not have been bought.

"An important meeting has been held by your Industrial Committee, of which Ralph Wight is chairman, and several plans for securing new industries for Seminole County have been advanced. It is expected that an announcement will be made within the very near future regarding the establishment of a small new manufacturing plant in the County.

"Over two thousand copies of the descriptive folder, WHEN WINTER COMES, have been distributed this month and satisfactory results have been obtained. It is also pleasing to know that this folder has been rated as one of the most attractive pieces of advertising material issued by a Chamber of Commerce in the State, which is a very high compliment.

"Many statewide comments have been made regarding this organization's campaign to eliminate racketeers, and marked success is repaying our efforts."

A report was made by C. E. Dawson, Chairman of the Chamber's Exhibit Committee, regarding plans for the Seminole County Exhibit at the Central Florida Exposition, in Orlando, Feb. 14 to 19, inclusive.

 1. Steeply sloping beds if previously used for celery or other susceptible crops (live steam if possible; otherwise formaldehyde).
 2. Avoid injuries to plants (breaking or cutting of leaves and stalks by men and equipment should be reduced to a minimum).
 3. Hold soil moisture as low as practicable.
 4. During December, scrape soil surface beneath plants at frequent intervals (dry soil surface; detritus spores; this practice not considered so necessary during balance of season).
 5. Apply regular basic copper chloride spray with suitable spacing.
 6. Particularly cool lower portions of plants and soil beneath plants with above spray; use so much pressure as possible.
 7. Destroy strippings and all plant refuse (gather strippings immediately after cutting; either carry off fields or destroy by burning or by use of chemicals).
 8. Either (or both) flood the fields for 30 to 60 days after close of season . . . effective against both pink rot and root-knot) or
 9. Invert top soil by deep plowing (selective below 3 inch depth unable to reach the surface).
 10. Rotate with less susceptible crops.

Flog Case Judge Is Asked To Disqualify

BARTOW, Jan. 12.—(P)—State Attorney Rex Farris asked recently Judge Robert Dewell to disqualify himself so another judge might preside at the remaining kidnap trials resulting from the Tampa slugging case. Pat Whitaker, chief defense attorney objected.
 Judge Dewell told lawyers to submit written memoranda on the point by Thursday. He delayed setting trial dates for the former Tampa policeman who is still charged with kidnapping Joseph Shoemaker, Eugene F. Poulton and Sam Rogers at Tampa.

DR. SPOUL INSISTS Miracles Not Passed

Declaring that the day of miracles is not past and that the Holy Spirit is today a miracle worker, Rev. Dr. W. Sproul, soldier-evangelist, continued his healing services at the Sanford Gospel Tabernacle at Ninth Street and Laurel Avenue last night.

In a testimony meeting preceding the healing message, Rev. Sproul stated that approximately 25 persons testified to being divinely healed, including Mrs. W. A. Sween of Lake Nippos and Mrs. W. M. Brown of Sanford.

In her testimony, Mrs. Sween stated that "I had stomach trouble for 15 years so bad that I could hardly eat anything without severe pain. I have tried every kind of medicine and many physicians without avail; but as soon as Dr. Sproul anointed me I was instantly healed and can now eat anything."

Mrs. W. M. Brown testified that "about Dec. 10th I hurt my side so severely it seemed that I could not turn my head without severe pain and I suffered continually. Dr. Sproul prayed for me and I was instantly healed, the pain left and I can turn my head any way."

7-Point Program Adopted To Fight 7-Cent Gas Tax

Oil Dealers Are Told Florida's Gas Tax Highest In Nation

A seven-point program of the Florida Petroleum Industries Committee setting forth principles of taxation for dealers of petroleum and motorists in Florida was ratified by members of the Seminoles County Oil Men's Association, at a meeting in the Seminoles County Chamber of Commerce building last night, officials of the composed Association reported today.

The joint group which is composed of wholesalers and retail oil dealers in Sanford and Seminole County, is affiliated with similar organizations in Florida counties and also the Florida Petroleum Industries Committee which is sponsoring the drive to secure fair and equitable taxes and legislation for Florida motorists and those engaged in supplying their needs.

C. L. Beldin, local distributor for the Standard Oil Company, presided over the meeting in which the localities agreed to the adoption of the seven-point program which is as follows:

1. That the State gasoline tax be reduced from 7 cents to 6 cents per gallon.
2. That all gasoline and motor vehicle tax revenues be used for highway purposes only, and to urge adoption of a constitutional amendment to accomplish this end.
3. To urge recognition of the fundamental principle that the state alone should tax gasoline, and to seek a constitutional amendment prohibiting municipalities from taxing the commodity.
4. That the date for registration of motor vehicles be postponed until April 1.
5. To render assistance to State and federal authorities in detection and elimination of gasoline tax evasion.
6. To urge the repeal of federal excise and lubricating oil taxes.
7. To oppose all tax and other proposals (injunction) to the petroleum industry and motorists.

At the meeting last night, Berwick Anderson, secretary of the Florida Petroleum Industries Committee, declared that "Florida's present gasoline tax is the highest in the United States and that together with the proceeds of the license and mileage taxes amounts for over 60 percent of Florida's revenues."

"The present levy," the speaker asserted, "forces the motorist taxpayer to pay a disproportionate share of the State's tax burden."

Labor Board Investigates CIO Charges

Eckerson And Union Officials Sign Agreement Ending Grievance At Local Plant

Thomas F. Nebbett, New Orleans representative of the National Labor Relations Board, was in Sanford today investigating the charges of unfair labor practices and violations of the National Labor Relations Act which had been filed against the Eckerson Fruit Canners, Inc., by organizers for the United Cannery, Agricultural, Packers and Allied Workers Union a C. I. O. affiliate, during the recent strike here, W. L. Boisclair, International organizer for the union, reported today.

Mr. Boisclair said that an amicable settlement of the recent situation was made after a consultation of Union officials and the existing plant management following the investigation.

C. H. Eckerson, president of the Canning Company could not be reached for a statement, but Mr. Boisclair, in commenting upon the settlement of the case stated that:

"This settlement provides a basis for a more satisfactory relationship between management and employees. Full use of the National Labor Relations Act will do much to settle disputes between employer and employee. This national law forbids any unfair labor practices, and any interference with union activity by employers. The C. I. O. union in citrus intends to see that this law is enforced throughout Florida."

Boisclair added "that the Union is here to stay, and the influence of the union is now stronger than ever. Despite malicious misstatements regarding the purpose and aims of the C. I. O. in Florida, what the Union is after," he said, "is American wages, American hours, and decent American working conditions for American workers. Wages for agricultural and cannery workers are still 25 percent below what they have been brought by the New Deal in other fields. Bringing these wages to decent levels in the agricultural areas will benefit the local communities first, but in a short time will bring valuable benefits to the nation as a whole. The Union stands solidly behind President Roosevelt in his efforts to bring better conditions to the working people of the United States."

Illusion at eventide. This graceful craft which appears like a giant glider soaring in the twilight is not what it seems. The ship is a model showing its paces during an aviation meet in Paris. Although tiny in size, it duplicates the bird-like flight of larger sailplanes.

Three Lives Are Lost And Ship Is Sunk In Worst Snowstorm Of The Current Season

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The winter's heaviest snowstorm, enveloping most of New England, claimed at least three lives, sank a fishing schooner, disrupted traffic and communications, and cloaked the region in a white blanket from four to 13 1/2 inches deep.

Ten inches of snow fell in Boston, one more inch than during all the winter.

Father-Son Night At Christian Church

Wednesday night was "Father and Son" night at the First Christian church, and a prize was given to P. S. Lamson and his son Donald for looking more alike than any other father and son present.

Mr. Harry Box, evangelist, sang "Shadows" and preached on "How to be a Real Father in 1938". He emphasized very clearly the importance of a father's example to his son. He said a father's sins as well as his good qualities were reflected almost exactly in the life of his son, and that when a boy went wrong, it was usually the fault of the father's example.

Mr. Box will speak tonight on "Who is the Holy Spirit?"

"What It Takes to be a Real Mother in 1938" was the subject of Rev. Harry Box's message Tuesday night at the First Christian Church. Machine Gun And Two Shotguns Seized As Prisoners Hold Up Jail

Machine Gun And Two Shotguns Seized As Prisoners Hold Up Jail And Helper

Pistol Smuggled To One Of Them

One Prisoner Prefers To Remain And Gives Alarm To Officers

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 12. (AP)—Three prisoners, armed with two sawed-off shotguns, a machine gun and an automatic pistol, escaped from the Duval county jail here today.

Jailer Henry Thomas said the fugitives were Hugh Horne, 45, held for $22,500 narcotics robbery; Herbert Craven, 25, held by federal authorities of robbing at least eight rural post offices in south Georgia and north Florida; and Hillard Sanders, 24, held by federal agents for motor car theft.

W. M. Tatum, assistant jailer, said he and Bob Wingate, foreman, were surprised in the jail office by Horne and Craven who suddenly appeared in the doorway. Horne covered them with an automatic pistol. They asked where Jailer Thomas was and Tatum replied Thomas was elsewhere in the building.

Horne snatched up a package which lay nearby and rushed to cover the officers while Craven took the pistol and went after Thomas. Then the pair forced Thomas to unlock the gunroom where the pair selected the arms they wanted. With the keys taken from Thomas the pair opened the cell and freed Sanders. The latter calmly declined to escape. Thomas, Tatum and Wingate were locked in the cell. When the three prisoners fled through the front door the prisoner who refused to accompany them locked the jail door and telephoned the police.

Thomas said Horne and Craven apparently had a pistol smuggled to them and must have fashioned the key with which they freed themselves from their own cell.

Dr. Harry Box Is Speaker At Kiwanis Lunch

'Playing The Game' Is Subject Of Talk By Singer-Evangelist

Declaring that life is but a game, Dr. Harry Box, singer evangelist who is conducting revival services at the First Christian Church, addressed the Kiwanis Club at the weekly luncheon in the Valdez Hotel yesterday on "Playing the Game."

"Americans are thinking too much of the Almighty Dollar," the young evangelist asserted, "our greatest need today is for men of fine, clean character." Pointing to Washington, Lincoln and other figures who played prominent parts in the building of the nation, he said that these men first had good character. "Take care of character and reputation will take care of itself," he stated.

"There are five essential rules in playing the 'Game of Life,'" Rev. Box said, "first, play square with yourself; second, play square with your family; third, play square with the public; fourth, play square with your church; and last, but most important, play square with God."

"We're helpless without God," he said, "for it is He who put the coal in the hills, the oil in the earth, germs of life and growth in plants and animals; it is He who gives us sunshine and rain. Owing all to Him, we should give Him our best," the speaker concluded.

Prior to his address, Dr. Box sang the "Trumpeter's Song."
