Sanford Sells Notes To Buy 2,200 Acres

By Brad Church Herald Staff Writer

Bond anticipation notes for the purchase of 2,200 acres of land near Lake Jesup, were sold by the Sanford City Commission Tuesday afternoon.

The land is to be used for wastewater disposal, to the expressed dismay of many nearby Geneva residents.

The commission authorized sale of up to $3.75 million in notes to William R. Huff & Company, an underwriting company headquartered in St. Petersburg.

The city will pay 6.1 percent interest on the notes, and pay them off with part of the next bond issue. No date for the next bond issue has been set, but the agreement signed Tuesday does not call for repayment before September,

The agreement with Huff & Company also provides for a 5 percent interest rate on the coupons, meaning the underwriters will receive 5 percent interest on the bonds received in payment for the notes. Frank Faison, city manager, said the

6.1 percent interest rate was as low as could be found for such notes and that See NOTES, page 12A

Reagan Takes Blame For Iran-Contra Fiasco

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan, acknowledging nothing he can say about the Iran-Contra scandal "will make the situation right," says he was "stubborn" in pursuing the policy that nearly wrecked his administration.

In a 16-minute nationally televised address to the nation Wednesday night. Reagan made his most remorseful and contrite comments to date about the 'confusing and painful" affair.

Speaking from the Oval Office, Reagan conceded his ploy of selling arms to Iran to win freedom for American hostages had spawned the scandal and admitted, "There is nothing I can say that will make the situation right."

While insisting he did not know of the diversion of profits from the Iranian deals to the Contra rebels in Nicaragua, Reagan said, "I am the one who is ultimately accountable to the American people."

In assuming responsibility for the scandal. Reagan repudiated statements by his former national security adviser, John Poindexter, who told congressional investigators that "the buck stops funds diversion. Poindexter said he did so to give Reagan "plausible deniability," although he believed the president would have approved the project had he been

"Yet the buck does not stop with Admiral Poindexter, as he stated in his testimony," declared Reagan; "it stops

In the official Democratic response, Sen. George Mitchell of Maine blamed Reagan for serious mistakes that sparked the scandal but noted that "once recognized and corrected, they should be put behind us. For there is much to be done together.

"We want our president to succeed because we want our nation to succeed," Mitchell said. "And succeed we will, if we remain true to our democratic principles and face the future with the energy and enthusiasm that have marked Americans for two centuries."

Under Fed Gun, Florida Cracking Down On Speeders

From Staff And Wire Reports

Under the gun to keep interstate speeders in check or face a cutback in federal highway dollars. Florida today began putting red flags on all "Reduce Speed Ahead" warning signs and on 55 mph speed limit signs that mark the end of 65 mph

Seminole County does not have any 65 mph zones.

To further ensure motorists know where the speed zones change, state Department of Transportion crews today also began erecting "reduce speed" and 55 mph signs in medi-

Two of the plastic rectangular flags are being placed on each of the "reduce speed" signs and 55 mph signs along the interstate, said Steve Homan, spokesman for the DOT 5th District office in DeLand.

Although Seminole has no 65 mph segments, he said the flags will be put on the 55 mph sign on Interstate 4 near the dividing line between Volusia and Seminole counties. A "reduce speed" sign and 55 mph sign will be erected in the I-4 median near the portion of highway leading from Volusia to Seminole County.

The speed limit in Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties has remained 55 mph.

Homan said the DOT acted after the state received word from the federal government that millions of dollars in federal highway funds could be lost if drivers continued to go 65 mph or more in 55 mph zones.

"We're precariously close to non-compliance. The feds said we aren't doing enough to enforce the 55 mph," he said.

Meanwhile, Florida Highway Patrol officials say too many motorists are mistakenly assuming that the speed limit is 65 mph throughout the state.

They plan a crackdown to let drivers know that 55 is still the maximum legal speed on most

Lightning Injures Football Players

By United Press International

Six New Mexico high school football players injured by lightning were "very lucky to be alive" today, and emergency workers stocked with sandbags braced for another day of rain in soggy Louisiana. Flash flood watches were up early today in Nebraska and Iowa and parts of Mississippi. Alabama and the Florida Panhandle. Wet weather hung over the Gulf Coast today for a fifth straight day, drenching Georgia, northern Florida and southern Alabama.

Showers and thunderstorms stretched from the upper Great Lakes through the middle Mississippi Valley and into the central and southern Plains. The heaviest rains were expected to hit Wisconsin. Iowa. Missouri. Kansas and Oklahoma.

In Louisiana, emergency workers and police, ready with såndbags, braced for more rain and flooding from Baton Rouge east to the north shore of Lake Pontchartrain.

The remains of a tropical depression have dumped more than nine inches of rain since Tuesday on Baton Rouge. which had been already soaked by nearly a week of torrential thunderstorms. They're expecting more rain during the day today," National Weather Service forecaster Hugh Crowther said. "A large area of showers and thunderstorms has settled in across the central Gulf Coast states and the Southeast."

The depression came ashore Monday near Beaumont, Texas, and virtually stalled over Louisiana Tuesday night. Crowther said.

"We are at the breaking point," sald John Moseley, NWS meteorologist in New Orleans. "If we get more (rain)

... we could be in trouble pretty quick with everything so saturated."

In New Mexico, 17 members of a high school football team near Silver City were taken to a hospital after a bolt of lightning struck during a Wednesday afternoon practice session. Eleven players were treated and released.

Six were admitted to the hospital. Four were placed in the intensive care unit, and two others were put in the telemetry unit for constant monitoring of their hearts.

"The boys are very, very lucky to be alive," emergency room nurse Pat Thompson said. Hospital officials said the six athletes suffered burns. "They have the smell common to lightning strikes, a strange smell," Thompson said. "Some of them have singed hair.'

Temperatures were forecast near 100 degrees for Texas and Arkansas, where clear skies were expected.

Tropical storm Arlene, the first named storm of what had been a sleepy hurricane season, was not expected to strengthen heading eastnortheast, said National Hurricane Center forecasters in Miami.

Wednesday evening, Arlene, with winds up to 50 mph, was centered about 175 miles west of Bermuda and churning east-northeast at 12-15 mph. Its forward pace was expected to slow today.

"The chances of the storm passing directly over the island (Bermuda) are remote." meteorologist Jim Gross said. Blind sailor Jim Dickson was trying to avoid the storm in his 36-foot sloop Eye Opener. He was expected to reach Bermuda today from the

Can A Bear Change Stripes?

After four decades of bitter but stable rivalry, the relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union faces an uncertain metamorphosis prompted by Mikhail Gorbachev's radical campaign to transform Russian society.

The long twilight struggle between Moscow's expansionist-minded communism and the West's capitalist democracies has entered a momentous period, raising a number of important questions:

Will the sweeping decentralization of the Soviet economy envisioned by Gorbachev pawn individual political freedoms as well, thereby loosening the Kremlin's repressive grip on Russian life?

If a broad liberalization flows inexorably from a profound restructuring of the Soviet system and Gorbachev's newly proclaimed openness, will the tensions that have fueled the Cold War be dramatically reduced?

Such questions embody the hopes of those who believe Gorbachev's reforms will succeed, that the Marxist-Leninist model will lade into history, that the historic expansionism of the Russian empire will be muted

But equally searching questions are raised by those with a healthy skepticism about Moscow's capacity for fundamental change after 70 years of deadening Communist Party rule.

Can the energetic Gorbachev overcome the deep-seated resistance of hard-line ideologues, entrenched bureaucrats, party officials and ordinary citizens who benefit from the grossly inefficient but relatively secure world of cradle-to-grave socialism? Or might he go the way of Nikita S. Khrushchev, who was abruptly ousted by the Central Committee in 1964 for attempting changes much less far-reaching than those being discussed today?

Anther imponderable to be weighed, assuming Gorbachev achieves even modest success, is whether an economically stronger Soviet Union would be a more dangerous adversary for the United States and its allies.

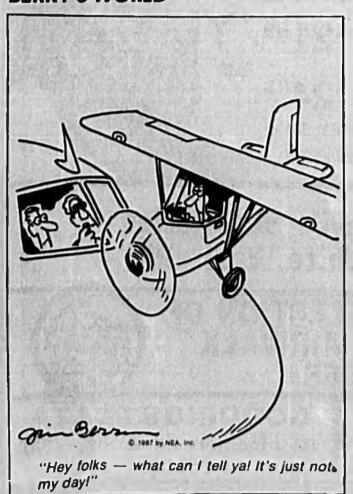

Will the aggressive policies that have marked the Kremlin's behavior during the post-war era disappear automatically if Moscow is integrated into the world economy and, as a result, standards of living rise in the Soviet bloc? Or would a more robust Russian economy underwrite an even larger and technologically more advanced Soviet military machine?

In the short term, at least, Gorbachev's ardor for change is working to the advantage of the United States in the form of a nuclear arms-control agreement in which all of the major concessions have been made by the Soviets. For now, the Kremlin is willing to pay a price for better relations with the West. Surely Washington must continue to probe the evolving Soviet regime for other signs of compromise in the arena of international security.

At this juncture, only the most naive can conclude that the decades of mistrust and competition that color Soviet-American relations will be swept away by Mikhail Gorbachev's rhetorical offensive. Still, as President Reagan declared in July at the Berlin Wall, the West has every reason to wish Gorbachev godspeed: "We welcome change and openness ...(for) the advance of human liberty can only strengthen the cause of world peace."

In the meantine, the West must be steadfast in defending its own interests, bearing in mind Winston Churchill's memorable characterization of the Soviet Union as "a riddle wrapped in a mystery inside an enigma."

Harsh Words, Perhaps, But North No Hero

Few developments have troubled me more than reports that Oliver North is regarded as a hero by many Americans, including President Reagan

To me North represents the most disturbing aspects in American life.

Consider the following:

Most Americans came to understand that our intervention in Vietnam was a mistake. My son-in-law, Wilbur Mead, was every bit as much of a patriot as North. He volunteered for service of a patriot as North. He volunteered for service in Vietnam. Seeking to learn about the war. I visited him in 1965. He, like many of his buddies, had grave doubts about U.S. actions. He had been troubled especially by the killing of a small Vietnamese girl.

No one condemns Americans who went to Vietnam. The policy makers who sent them there were off base. But in North's case, according to a Washington Post report, all indications are that he loved the war, including the most brutal killings in which he took part. He has been described by his buddles as "a zealot" who "burned inside" and could not wait to kill Vietnamese.

Upon returning from Vietnam he became a Marine instructor. Other instructors thought his behavior weird when he came to class covered with camouflage paint and armed with four guns and three knives.

"He was pumped up after Vietnam," one friend observed, and returned there a few months later to support a fellow Marine charged with murdering 16 Vietnamese women and children. As the trial proceeded, North volunteered his spare time to serve on "killer teams" during night patrol. As writer Barbara Ehrenreich has reported: "Even hardened Marines thought this was going a little far, 'hiding behind trees and slitting throats on his own time."

Assigned to a routine Marine Corps job in 1974. North underwent a psychotic episode in which he was found "babbling incoherently and running around naked, wearing a .45 pistol." North explained that once out of the war zone he had "nothing to live for."

North was sent to the Naval War College and from there went to the White House as an aide in 1981. There he devised the invasion of Grenada, assisted the South Africa-supported guerillas in Angola, intercepted the plane carrying the Achille Lauro hijackers and managed the covert war in Nicaragua. As Ehrenreich puts it. "the horror of peace" was ended "once he reached the dark inner core of Reagan's secret government."

As the congressional investigation revealed, North seemed to relish bypassing federal laws blocking aid to the contras. He told Congress it was necessary to violate the law because Congress made a mistake in passing the law. He said he believed he had the president's approval—as though that somehow made lawbreaking acceptable. He showed no regrets over the sales of U.S. weapons to Iran.

A black auto parts man in Washington, D.C., told me recently, "If I had broken as many laws as Oliver North did, I'd be headed for jail. This guy is no hero; he should be locked up."

Harsh words, but they come closer to my sentiments than the president's notion that North is "a national hero."

ANALYSIS More Answers Needed

By Clay F. Richards

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan is taking responsibility for the Iran-Contra scandal as "a policy that went astray," but his address to the American people on the affair left many crucial questions unanswered.

In the closest he has yet come to a direct apology, Reagan said in his Wednesday evening speech he was preoccupied by the hostages in Iran—"Americans in chains, deprived of their freedom and families so far from home"— and just got carried away.

Reagan said he was "mad as a hornet" about being kept in the dark about the diversion, but made no comment on why he never asked Poindexter and his deputy, Lt. Col. Oliver North, what was going on before they left the White House staff Nov. 25, 1986.

Among the questions the president left unanswered:

—Whether he believed the Boland amendment ban on U.S. aid to the Contras applied to the White House and his National Security Council staff.

—What he knew about the North's efforts to help raise private funds for the Contras during the ban on U.S. aid.

—What he was told by former CIA Director William Casey, who was deeply involved in the details of the Iran and Contra operations according to North. Casey was an old and close friend and political adviser of Reagan's, who met with the president often.

—Why he ignored Secretary of State George Shultz and Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger when they both argued vehemently against the arms sale to Iran at two White House meetings. He did acknowledge Shultz and Weinberger were right when they cautioned that the sale could only be interpreted as an arms for hostages swap.

—Why he fired North, but allowed Poindexter to resign, even though it was Poindexter who kept the diversion secret from the president after he authorized North to go ahead with the scheme.

The president shed no light on his apparently forgetting he approved Israel's shipment of TOW missiles to Iran in August and September of 1985, as testified to by former national security adviser Robert McFarlane.

Blame Who First?

Now is the time for all good Democrats to come to the aid of their party by coming to the aid of democracy. If Democrats do this, they will take a giant step toward shedding their wimpish image on foreign policy and advance the possibility of their capturing the White House.

The summit meeting of the five Central American presidents has put forth a historic, and fuzzy, plan for peace. In theory, it will bring about stability and democracy in Nicaragua and elsewhere.

But two things haven't changed: The future of the region is still in the hands of the U.S. Congress, and Democrats are in control of Congress.

The situation is this: The Central American presidents have agreed to a revolutionary idea — that only democracy yields peace. They have agreed that democratization in Nicaragua is to be brought about simultaneously with a cease-fire in place and then a demobilization of the contras as the contras move into a civilian political role in Nicaragua.

This is tricky. What is the evidence of democracy? No communist government has subjected itself to free elections. The Sandinistas will likely try to dither: making small cosmetic steps, claiming the Americans aren't cooperating, playing a walting game until Ronald Reagan leaves office, hoping always to demoralize and do away with the contras.

The plan involves a process, not an event. It will test the nature of the Democratic Party in Congress, about 75 percent of whom have been against contra aid, but almost all of whom have said they also disapprove of the Sandinistas. The test will be whether the Democrats use the peace process as a way to try to get rid of the contras or as a way to try to bring about democracy.

A small but influential part of the Democratic Party will use the process to focus on Reagan. They will say he lacks good faith and is using the process to discredit the Sandinistas. They believe Reagan is the problem, not the Soviet-backed communists in Managua.

If the mainstream of the Democratic Party in Congress adopts this posture, they will bring down upon their heads the three little words that have hurt them most: "Blame America First." That's what Jeane Kirkpatrick said characterized the 1984 "San Francisco Democrats." There were tens of millions of Americans nodding their heads in agreement when she said it.

But the Democrats can try another strategy: take the lead in spotlighting Sandinista behavior. There are serious moves the Sandinistas can make to show that they mean to move toward democracy.

Will the Sandinistas free the 3,000 to 6,000 political prisoners they are holding and torturing? Estimates by human rights groups lead observers to believe there are more political prisoners per capita in Nicaragua than in any other place in the world.

Will the Sandinistas allow the opposition newspaper La Prensa to publish uncensored?

So: Only the Democrats can bring democracy to Central America. It will be good for the world and good for Democrats.

'Noblest Flier's' Danger

By David W. Jones

MANILA. Philippines (UPI) — The guerrilla war in the Philippines has been an indiscriminate killer, claiming more than 2,100 lives in this year alone. Now it threatens to extinguish an entire species — the majestic Philippine eagle.

Only 300 specimens remain of the world's largest bird of prey, dubbed by aviator Charles Lindbergh as "the air's noblest flier." They are losing their battle for survival against excessive agriculture and illegal logging, which have denuded the forests and upset their natural reproduction patterns.

Naturalists have been pinning their hopes for saving the fabled bird on a captive breeding program established 15 years ago in the hilly jungles of southern Mindanao island, but even that chance has faded since the remote camp became a battlefield in the war between the government and the communist New Peoples Army (NPA).

"We are trying to maintain neutrality between the army and the rebels. We just want them to take their fight somewhere else," said program coordinator Ron Krupa, who recently visited Manila while scouting possible new and safer sites for his work.

"I don't see why they should use us as a shield. I don't see why they should extort us. I don't see why they should bomb us." said Krupa, a native of Northbrooke, Ili. He has been working since 1977 to save the birds, which boast the largest wingspan of any eagle at up to 7 feet.

The breeding program, based in a mountainous national park near Davao. 600 miles south of Manila in rebel-torn Mindanao, was set up in 1972 — just three years after Lindbergh first called the attention of the World Wildlife Fund and other agencies to the bird's plight.

Krupa said the NPA rebels have long been active near his camp but left the breeding center alone until early this year, when stepped up vigilante activity drove the communists deeper into the forest.

While the leftist insurgency is the source of the eagles' immediate problems. Krupa said it may actually have helped the birds in other ways by disrupting the illegal logging operations and other projects that are wiping out their natural habitat.

Child Porn Study Provokes Controversy

By Jack Anderson And Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON — In February 1984, we disclosed that the Justice Department was about to spend $734.371 to count the number of times children were depicted in cartoons and photos in Playboy. Penthouse and Hustler, and somehow to calculate the effect these depictions would have on the magazines' readers. Unabashed by public exposure of this amorphous endeavor, the department went ahead with the study.

We firmly believe that child pornography is despicable; but this study, in our opinion, was a boondoggle.

Last year, when the study was finally submitted to the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, department officials decided the quality of the research was so questionable that it wasn't worth publishing. So they spiked it.

Alerted by anti-smut groups, Sen. William Armstrong, R-Colo., charged that the Justice Department was suppressing the results of the study. He demanded that it be published.

Verne Speirs, acting chief of the juvenile justice office, refused, so Armstrong put a personal "hold" on Speirs's confirmation as formal chief of the office. The senator and the bureaucrat met recently and worked out a compromise.

Armstrong agreed to withdraw his objection to Speirs's appointment, and Speirs agreed to make the controversial study available to anyone interested through the juvenile justice clearinghouse. If someone wants to publish the report, that will be permitted; it just won't have the Justice Department's imprimatur.

Our reporter Gary Clouser has obtained an executive summary of the report from its author. Judith Reisman, Ph.D. A onetime songwriter for Captain Kangaroo and a research professor at American University here at the time of the study, Reisman now heads the Institute for Media Education in Arlington. Va. She declined to comment on the quarrel between Armstrong and Speirs over her report.

Among the conclusions in the summary is the statement that "it is not unlikely that, some vulnerable juvenile and adult receivers may fuse child depictions with arousal to sex and/or arousal to violence." The summary gave no indication of any evidence to substantiate this claimed effect on the magazines'

Reisman's research tallied "child imagery in the context of erotica/pornography" in the magazines from 1954 to 1984. Cartoons were counted as well as photographs because they "circumvent readers' resistance by humorously trivializing existing taboos." Reisman explained in the summary.

She said her research showed that "children had been extensively sexualized in popular erotica/pornography." One purpose of her study was to provide the public with information for debate on the issue "without requiring exposure to primary sources"—that is, without having to read the magazines.

In a letter last November to the American University. Speirs explained why he opposed publishing the Reisman report. He acknowledged that it was a "very ambitious effort to conduct a complex study, in terms of its scope and the ambiguous nature of the concepts studied." He added, however, that "multiple serious flaws in the methodology significantly reduce the definitiveness and usefulness of the findings."

Speirs added, "The major objectives of the study — to determine whether and to what extent representations of children and portrayals of crime and violence exist in the cartoons and visuals in three sexually explicit magazines, and to identify trends in the portrayal of children, crime and violence — were not accomplished."

The American University referred us to a press release it issued last November, stating that the university "takes no position on the findings of individual faculty members because of its strong adherence to the policy of academic freedom."

Sandinista Chief Flies To Havana For Peace Plan Meet With Castro

MANAGUA. Nicaragua (UPI) — President Daniel Ortega planned to discuss a new Central American peace plan with Cuban President Fidel Castro in Havana, and dismissed suggestions that the meeting may anger critics of the Sandinista government.

In a news conference shortly before leaving Managua's Sandino International Airport Wednesday evening. Ortega said his surprise Cuban trip was to consult on terms of the peace accord with Castro and to obtain his support.

The peace plan was approved last week by Central America's five presidents at the end of a two-day summit in Guatemala.

Flanked by Vice President Sergio Ramirez and Foreign Minister Miguel D'Escoto, Ortega was asked about potential negative reaction to the trip. In 1984, Ortega traveled to Moscow after a congressional vote against aid to Contra rebels; congressmen outraged by the trip later approved

DUBAI, United Arab Emirates (UPI) — About 20 stranded ships awaited the clearing of suspected Iranian mines from the vital United Arab Emirates port of Fujairah in the Gulf of Oman, once considered the only safe haven near the entrance to the Persian Gulf.

In Washington, the State Department Wednesday accused Iran of "obstructionism and delaying tactics" following the release of Iran's response to a U.N. resolution for a cease-fire in its nearly 7-year-old war with Iraq.

Tehran said the July 20 resolution was "formulated and adopted by the United States with the explicit intention of intervention in the Persian Gulf' and "cannot therefore be considered a balanced, impartial, comprehensive and practical resolution.'

State Department spokesman Charles Redman said unless Iran changes its attitude, the U.N. Security Council should "move quickly" to consider ways to enforce a cease-fire. Iraq has accepted the proposal.

Hazardous Waste Site ATTENTION!! Selection Hearing Slated

The job of finding a Florida site best. suitable for a facility to treat and store the more than 1.3 million tons of hazardous waste generated annually in the state has been given to a North Carolina consulting firm.

A public meeting will be held on Aug. 26 In room 609 of the Twin Towers Building on Blair Stone Road in Tallahassee to discuss criteria for selecting the top three sites. Criteria will include the social, economic, transportation, population and environmental issues necessary to meet local, state and federal regulations, according to state Department of Environmental Regulation project manager Richard Deadman.

Public comment from the meeting will be incorporated into the selection criteria, according to the DER.

environmental and energy report which identifies the three by Florida law.

While Florida is not considered an industrialized state, the DER estimates that more than 1.3 million tons of hazardous wastes are generated annually in the state, posing an increasing threat to groundwater. A total of 113 hazardous waste sites are undergoing cleanup in Florida.

The state legislature called for a hazardous waste treatment and storage facility when it passed the Water Quality Assurance Act of 1983. Since then, the DER, regional planning councils and local governments have assessed the amount of hazardous waste generated ion the state, possible sites for state and local facilities and the

Mayfair Gets Compliance Reprieve

By Brad Church Herald Staff Writer

Mayfair Country Club has another 30 days to certify to the satisfaction of the city of Sanford that it has completed all the work needed to bring the building up to building and fire code standards.

The Sanford Code Enforcement Board was told by its staff Tuesday night that most of the work has been completed and inspections completed certifying the work. A small amount of mechanical and electrical work remains, the board was told.

John Daniels, club manager. told the board that the original contractor hired to do the work was not licensed by the state, a fact that wasn't known when he was hired. The contractor, not being licensed, could not draw permits for the work from the city, nor legally certify the work. Other contractors have had to be hired to inspect the work already completed and certify to its completion, Daniels said. This has caused a delay in getting all the work done, and certifying to the board its completion.

The club has to hire a licensed contractor to complete the work left and certify to the city its

BOSTON (UPI) — A drug appearing effective for multiple sclerosis and a hormone reproduced through genetic engineering which may offer effective treatment for sickle cell anemia have been developed by researchers and reported in this week's issue of The New England Journal

Three Justices Ailing

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall is undergoing treatment at the Bethesda Naval Hospital for a blood clot in his right foot and will remain hospitalized for about a week, a spokeswoman said.

Marshall, 78, was reported in good condition at the medical facility outside the nation's capital, where he was admitted Wednesday afternoon, said Toni House, a Supreme Court spokeswoman.

"He is in good condition, according to his physicians and is expected to be hospitalized approximately a week because he is receiving intravenous anti-coagulants, which require monitoring," House said.

Two other justices are ailing. The oldest member of the Supreme Court, Justice William Brennan, 81, said Wednesday he is suffering from a slightly enlarged prostate gland, but reported the TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - The politically connected firm awarded a $10 million lease for Lottery Department office space was high bidder, not the low one, but the losing firm feels it was treated fairly.

State officials contend Associated Mortgage Investors' proposal was the best, however, because AMI says it can meet a May 15 deadline for completion of the office space and the other bidder, Koger Properties, Inc., says it cannot.

The New York Times Florida Newspapers reported last week that AMI, together with its officials and related firms and individuals, raised at least $42,000 for Gov. Bob Martinez' election campaign last year.

Martinez' chief aide, J.M. "Mac" Stipanovich, said the governor was unaware of the AMI contributions, so the money had nothing to do with the awarding of the lottery

Site Readied For 256-Unit Apartment Complex

By Brad Church Herald Staff Writer

Site preparation is underway off Seminole Boulevard for a $5.3 million, 256-unit apartment complex expected to be completed in 11 or 12 months.

The development, to have its first apartments ready for occupancy in December, is located west of Central Florida Regional Hospital and will have two entrances off of Seminole Boulevard.

The project is being developed by Lake Monroe Partners, made up of Hillebrand & Son of Longwood, contractor for the project: and James Hall, a Tampa developer.

Wernecke said the developers think Sanford has a potential for population growth and the need for more housing, especially in light of the recent announcements of the construction of a new regional postal facility in Lake Mary and the construction of the 1.083 square feet of living space. The other, American Automobile Association's headquarters in Heathrow. Both of those developments will bring many more employees to this area, Werencke pointed out.

The complex will be named Regatta Shores and is to include a private boat dock on Lake Monroe for the use of residents. The dock is to be constructed across from the apartment complex, where the remains of an old dock stand at the site of the old

Wernecke said 162 of the apartments will have two bedrooms and two baths and 94 apartments will have one bedroom and one bath and include 829 square feet. All apartments will be unfurnished and include a patio, or deck, with awnings. Some of the units will have strepaces. Rent will range from $450 to $530 per month.

Buildings will include atriums, or garden areas, partially screened, which some apartments will face.

Landscaping of the 11-acre site will include creation of two small lakes, connected by a waterway. Traffic coming in the main entrance to the development will cross a bridge over the waterway, and there will be two more bridges in the interior of the development.

The company plans to begin selling leases in December through the Hillebrand & Son office in Longwood.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Sanford Herald and all staff members for their devoted assistance in helping with the establishment and growth of our new grooming salon into the Sanford area.

I have tried advertising in other states and never received the response the Herald has given me.

Jan McClung, the advertising representative for my area, has been a joy to work with. She is always so pleasant and talented in helping compile my scattered thoughts into an eye-appealing, to the point ad.

In closing I would like to mention the Herald's Business Review. I believe this is something all new businesses need. I was amazed at the response the Salon received. Through the Business Review I was able to introduce myself to the community of Sanford. As a result I not only gained many new clients I also gained many new friends.

Bristol 'Wares' Out Northwest

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS -When his first two pitches were nearly knocked out of the park. it did not seem like Brandon Ware would be around too long Wednesday night.

But, after two outstanding catches by right slelder Gary "Two" Morton saved Ware from early trouble, the determined right-hander settled into a groove and kept San Antonio Northwest's hitters off balance the rest of the game in leading Bristol, Tenn. to a 7-1 victory in the winners' bracket final of the Little League Baseball Junior Southern Region Tournament at Eastmonte Park.

The victory puts Bristol in the tournament finals where it needs only one more win to advance to the Junior World Series in Taylor, Mich. San Antonio drops to the losers' bracket where it faces Windermere tonight at 7.

"Brandon (Ware) is the only pitcher who has a loss for us in tournament play." Bristol manager Brian Jessee said. "But after that loss, he has pitched two perfect ballgames."

Ware, who threw only 88 pitches in the seven innings. allowed six hits, struck out three and walked two. The only run San Antonio got was a solo homer off the bat of Josh Ammons in the fifth inning.

"He (Ware) is a smart pitcher and he did a good job mixing up his pitches tonight," Jessee said. "And the defense behind him

In the top of the first inning. Ammons smashed Ware's first pitch to deep right field. Morton was turned every which way but loose on the blast but finally hauled it down to save at least a double. David Sammon then stepped up and unloaded Ware's next pitch deep to right and again Morton made a nice running catch to take away a sure double. After defense got Bristol out of the first frame, the offense came out swinging in the bottom half. Bristol scored three times on four hits in the bottom of the first and never looked back.

By Chris Fister

Herald Sports Writer ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - AIthough it has suffered some serious wounds the last two games. Windermere is still alive and kicking in the Little League Baseball Junior Southern Region

After an exciting 5-4 victory over Greenville, S.C. Wednesday night, the gutsy Florida State champions take on San Antonio Northwest tonight at 7 in the losers' bracket final at Eastmonte Park. Tonight's victor advances to the tournament finals Friday against unbeaten Bristol, Tenn.

Windermere goes into tonight's contest with two of its Matt Fipps, who pitched a tremendous game in a 3-1 loss to Bristol on Tuesday, played shortstop with a sore shoulder on Wednesday and will not be used tonight, according to manager Tim Bates. Windermere received another solid pitching performance top three pitchers ailing. Ace Wednesday as Kevin Chabot went the distance. # Shower Call: Padres Promote Reichle To Class A

By Scott Sander Herald Sports Writer

While showering after a game in Everett. Wash., Chuluota's Darrin Reichle was yanked out of the shower before he had time to wash the soap off of his body.

"I was in the shower, and all of the sudden this other guy and I got pulled out by the coaches." Reichle, who was playing for the San Diego Padres' Spokane (Wash.) Rookle League team. said. "They told us that we were to get on plane for Reno, Nev. that night."

Reno is the site of the Padres' top Class A California League affiliate. It was a quick promotion for the former Oviedo High pitching standout who began his major league baseball career in early June after being drafted by the Padres in the fourth round.

"I can't tell you how happy I am to be here." Reichle said via telephome from his Reno hotel room on Tuesday. "I got a real break. They have had a couple of starting pitchers go down with injuries, and they gave me the call.

Now that I am here. I'm going to have to take advantage of that break," the 6-foot-5, 215 pound Reichle added. "I've been pitching pretty well, and hopefully I can keep it up.

Reichle said that he was caught totally off guard. "I didn't even get a chance to get my clothes from Spokane." Reichle chuckled. "It all happened very fast."

After taking a look at Reichle's statistics while pitching in Spokane. It is easy to see why the Reno club was anxious to get him on its roster. Reichle posted a 4-1 record with an earned run

"I really liked Spokane," Reichle said. "But I like it here better. Our hotel room is right on the strip and there is a lot to do here."

Reichle pitched in his first game for Reno last week. The bullet-throwing right-hander went seven innings and gave up two runs. Unfortunately for Reichle, the offense didn't back him up as Reno lost, 5.0.

"I was pitching on three days rest," Reichle said. "I'm used to four days rest. I threw 126 pitches in the game before that, and I threw 132 in this game. I was kind of tired."

Reichle said the team will have a five-man rotation. "I'm glad of that," Reichle said. "All of the pitchers run and work every day in practice. "

Reichle is scheduled to pitch tonight in Reno. While attending Saint Leo College near St. Petersburg last 'year, Reichle, who had been predominantly a fastball and curveball hurler. lcarned to throw the screwball. "The screwball has gotten me out of a lot of jams." Reichle said. "I can usually use my fastball and curve the first two times through the lineup, but I start throwing the screwball later in the game. I'm throwing it pretty well." Reno is currently in first place in the North Division of the California League. Reichle said that his team has 24 games remaining. "This is a very good club," Reichte said. "Some of the guys have been here for a few years, and they are all very nice to me.'

The level of hitting progresses with the level of play, and Reichle said that hitters are better in the CL than in the Northwest League. "They are a lot more disciplined," Reichle said. "They won't swing at bad pitches."

If there is one problem that Reichle has encountered while playing in the Padres' organization, it has been his control. "I need to cut down on my walks," Reichle said. "I haven't been striking that many people out, but I'm more concerned with my control at this point.

Reichle said that his immediate goal is pitch well for the rest of the season. "I just want to perform well every time I take the hill." Reichle said. "I want to be a very consistent pitcher."

The Padres' AA club is in Wichita, Kan. Reichle said that he'd love to move up to that club, but realizes that moving up a level will take some

"I'd definitely like to play there," Reichle said about Wichita. "But moving up can take awhile. I'm just going to do my best here, and see what happens after the season is over."

Aquaculturists Catching

Aquaculture, or raising fish commercially, is a relatively new concept.

Currently, attempts are being made to raise lobster, shrimp, catfish, fresh water trout and oysters. The experiments with catfish and fresh water trout are proving to be highly successful in meeting the demand for both individuals and restaurants.

Under a new Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission regulation, certain game fish previously protected from commercial production may be sold by fresh water aquaculturists.

The game fish affected by the new law include sunshine bass, bluegill, shellcracker (and other sunfish) and black crapple or speckled perch. Black bass and pickeral are still protected from commercial production.

According to fisheries biologist Rick Stout, this regulation applies only to those game fish that are privately produced in manmade fish culture ponds. A man-made fish culture pond is one that does not occur naturally, does not exceed 20 acres and falls entirely within the grower's private pro-

"Only aquaculturists who produce and grow fish can sell them," Stout, who works on the state-wide project, said. "This rule does not allow a fisherman to catch game fish from a natural lake, turn around and sell them."

Stout said there are additional regulations that the aquaculturist must follow in order to get their fish to the market.

• Fish farmers must first apply for an aquaculture game fish license. Applications are available from the aquaculture office at the commission's regional office in Lake-

Upon receipt of the application, a biologist with the aquaculture project will inspect the site to determine if the pond meets the specifications. If approved, they must purchase a $25 annual license before operations can begin.

"That just gets the farmer started." Stout said. "Once they begin harvesting the fish there are more rules with which to comply."

 All fish must be tagged individually with a 5-cent aquaculture game fish tag. Tagging and handling must take place in a facility approved by the local county health department.

• Finally, all sales must be reported weekly to the commission's aquaculture project to accurate accounts of the production, harvest and sale of game fish can be maintained.

More information on game fish farming or an application for a license can be obtained by calling 813-644-9577 or toll free. 1-800-282-8002.

OSTEEN RECORD — The August Outcom Bridge Season Tournament was a huge success. A record 35 season participated in this popular event.

Dell Abernathy at Osteen Bridgs Fish Camp reports that bass fishing is still surprisingly good in spite of the hot weather. Quite a few bass in the 1-3 pound range are being caught on lopwaters. Rapelas, crankbalts and worms. Look for areas of moving water or for feeding spots next to despriwater. Bream and speckled perch are still being caught in good numbers at the new bridge. Grass shrimp are the best balt for these tasty pantish. If you want to tangle with something big, loss out a chunk of cut beit or a chicken liver and wait for a big catfish to gobble up the offering. Some real monsters in excess of 25 pounds have been caught lately in the river.

Captain Jack at Pert Caneveral reports that the ramps have been packed with anglers the last few weekends. The oceans have been calm and fishermen have been going offshore in droves. A lot of dolphin and salifish have been caught in 170-130 feet of water. Look for school kings on Pelican Flats and 6A. Bottom fishing has been slow, but some good grouper and snapper have been caught in 110-170 feet of water. Flounder, bluefish, jack crevalle and sheepshead have been keeping anglers busy inside the Pert. The busy line has been slow, with only a few tripletall and jack crevalle being caught. Trout have been very slow in the Banana and Indian rivers. A few king mackeral have been caught at the buey just beyond the New Smyrna jettles. Sheepshead, flounder, whilling and drum are present in good numbers around the lettles. ### Stalemate: Leary's Hit Drops Reds

United Press International

On the strength of a struggling pitcher's RBI single, the Cincinnati Reds were forced to share first place in the National League West for the first time in two months.

"We work on hitting here," Tim Leary said Wednesday night after he pitched five-hit ball into the eighth inning and singled in a fifth-inning run to lift the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 1-0 victory over Cincinnati. The loss dropped the Reds into a first-place tie in the National League West for the first time since June 12.

"We get good instruction in spring training and I like to hit." Leary said.

Earlier, the San Francisco Giants closed within a half-game of the lead with an 8-1 rout of Houston. The Dodgers moved within seven games of the Reds. who have lost six of their first seven games of an 11-game road

Leary, 3-7, had lost five straight games as a starter. He walked three and struck out two before leaving in the eighth following a walk to Nick Esasky and single by Kurt Stillwell that moved Esasky to second. "I went as hard as I could for as long as I could," Leary said.

Tim Crews relieved and Dave Collins, pinch hitting for Bill Gullickson, sacrificed. Barry Larkin grounded to third and the runners could not advance. Buddy Bell bounced to third to end the threat.

"You have to score in that situation and we didn't," said Cincinnati Manager Pete Rose.

Crews, a rookie purchased July 26, worked one-plus innings and Matt Young recorded three outs for his 10th save. Crews, who left in the ninth after issuing a leadoff walk to Eric Davis, hasn't allowed a run in 8 2-3 innings.

Gullickson, who has lost four straight, yielded four hits over seven innings. He walked two and struck out three.

Confident Stieb Stops Bosox McCaskill Cools Off Twins

United Press International Two right-handers recovering from injuries showed Wednesday night they have regained enough form to help down the stretch.

Dave Stieb. 12-5, pitched seven strong innings Wednesday night, leading the Toronto Blue Jays to a 10-4 rout of the Boston Red Sox.

Kirk McCaskill collected his first victory in four months, helping the California Angels snap Minnesota's five-game winning streak with an 8-2 decision over the Twins.

Stieb, suffered a 7-12 season in 1986, and looked at times as if years of averaging 200 innings per season had ruined his arm. Now he has come within five victories of his career high. Toronto remained 1 1/2 games ahead of second-place Detroit in the division, and moved 2 1/2 games ahead of New York.

Stieb, 30, gave up two runs and six hits and struck out eight in seven innings.

"I have my confidence back," said Stieb. "My motion's back. the ball's got movement on it. I'm able to go out there and do it

The Blue Jays staked Stieb to a 4-0 lead after one inning and he said the margin helped him.

"Sure it helps," he said. "It allows you to go out there and just pitch."

McCaskill, 3-4, allowed four hits and four walks in 7 1-3 innings in notching his first triumph since he beat Seattle April 15. McCaskill, a 17-game winner last season, underwent elbow surgery earlier this year. If he can pitch well down the stretch, then California, 3 1/2 games fom first place, could make a move.

"It was very nice to be able to contribute finally," said Mc-Caskill. "Getting out to a lead really helped. I was just trying to throw strikes and not be so fine. This is very satisfying."

"The timing was perfect," said Angels Manager Gene Mauch.

Nicklaus' 67 Snares 12 Points At International

CASTLE ROCK, Colo. (UPI) -Jack Nickiaus and Greg Norman played the kind of golf they would liked to have played in this year's major championships - keeping them around to play at least one more round in the strangest tournament on the PGA tour.

Nicklaus and Norman Wednesday advanced to the second round of the $1 million International tournament, as did Tom Watson, U.S. Open champion Scott Simpson, Craig Stadler, Mark Calcavecchia and defending title-holder Ken Green.

The 39 survivors from Wednesday's round get to rest today while the other half of the Nicklaus shot a 5-under 67 which earned him 12 points while Norman birdled five of the last six holes to fight off elimination and score seven points.

"It's probably the best round I've played all year," said Nicklaus, who designed the course on which the event is played at the Castle Pines Country Club.

a pitch and then stole second to put runners on second and third. Kent Pistel followed with a grounder to the second baseman who threw home but Fipps slid under the tag to tie the score at 2-2. Still with one out, Bryan Bruce lined a single up the middle to drive in Grosch. Pistel also tried to score on the play but was cut down on a nice block of the plate and tag by catcher Cliff Hembree.

Catcher Tim Bates kept Greenville from rallying in the bottom of the fourth as he threw out two runners trying to steal. Windermere then increased its lead to 4-2 in the top of the fifth when Bates singled, stole second, took third on a wild pitch and scored on Chabot's sacrifice

Greenville came back with a run in the bottom of the fifth to pull within 4-3. Hembree reached on a fielder's choice, I beate stole second, took third on a groundout and scored on a Windermere error.

Greenville made it a thrilling conclusion in the bottom of the seventh. Cary Moore reached on an error to start off the inning. stole second, took third on a passed ball and scored when Dill crushed a ball down the left field

Dill soured the Greenville rally, though, as he hesitated around first, then tried for a double but was nailed on a perfect relay play from left fielder Grosch to shortstop Fipps to second baseman Bruce. Dill vehemently argued the call and was ejected from the game by second base umpire Woody Woodard. Chabot then struck out Erwin on three pitches to end the game.

"That play at second base was one of the biggest of the game," Bates sald. "It took two perfect throws to nail him (Dill)."

Both Bristol runs scored on a two-out San Antonio error in the fourth inning.

San Antonio's lone run came in the top of the fifth when, with two outs. Ammons clouted a Ware curve ball over the left field fence. It was the second home run of the tournament, both coming in Wednesday's games. Greenville's Brad Dill hit a similar blast in Windermere's 5-4 victory over South Carolina in the first game.

Stocks Active, Higher

NEW YORK (UPI) - Prices opened higher Thursday in active trading of New York, Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which fell 11.16 Wednesday, was up 10.84 to 2680.16 shortly after the market opened.

Advances led declines 605-392 among the 1.458 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 15,210,000

The stock market suffered modest losses Wednesday in heavy trading as sporadic bouts of profit-taking cooled the record-setting pace Wail Street enjoyed during the previous two sessions.

Analysts said the market engaged in a "natural and healthy" period of "backing and filling" after the runup of more than 88 points in the Dow over the previous two sessions.

John Burnett, senior vice president at Donaldson Lufkin & Jenrette, said the market acted "well all day long," and despite the mild profit-taking, it "refused to crack."

Burnett said IBM is acting as the leader and has received support from other technology-related stocks, such as Digital Equipment.

Speedwatch and is targeting highways where the limit is still 55.

A 65 mph speed limit took effect earlier this summer, but it applies only to rural stretches of the interstates.

"We're very concerned with the carryover effect of the 65 mph speed limit," said Maj. Charles Hall, a patrol spokesman. "People have the perception they can drive 65 or higher everywhere because it has been authorized for rural Interstates. We are going to re-acquaint motorists with what the speed limit actually is."

Violation of the 55 mph limit is especially widespread on metropolitan interstates and roads connecting with rural interstate stretches, and may lead to an Increase in traffic fatalaties, Hali said.

The patrol contends that a 65 mph limit is safe on an isolated stretch of interstate, but not on interstates around or through cities where traffic is especially heavy, and not on two-lane or even four-lane primary

And if motorists continue to disobey the speed limit, it might cost Florida $12.5 million.

The state can be cited by the Federal Highway Administration and fined 10 percent of its annual highway funding allotment unless it can show "compliance" with the speed limit by the end of the federal fiscal year Sept. 30.

Most recent figures released by the Florida Department of Transportation seem to show more drivers ignoring the 55 mph speed limit than obeying it. State DOT officials disagree on how close Florida is to being penalized because of the complicated way FHA determines noncompliance. But the patrol is classrooms, a science demonstration lab and an exceptional education suite are also included in the major work for the additions.

Other work to be done by the contractor includes building six new classrooms, renovating the school's media center, expanding student parking facilities and recarpeting several areas in the

The latter is listed by the board as alternate work and is not covered by the base bids of the contractors. The base and alternate bids by Carlson will allow the board to go ahead with this alternate work as well as the major construction if the company signs the contract it is offered.

Arnold said he feels people at LHHS are excited about the project even with the bidding problem caused by the contractor wanting more money.

"They've (LHHS staff and students) been walting along time for this," Arnold said.

Carlson came in with the lowest price of the four general contractors interested in the project after bidding opened Aug. 4, according to Arnold. The decision to award the job to Carlson was made after the bids were evaluated by Arnold and the acrhitectural/engineering firm of Helman, Hurley, Charvat and Peacock before Wednesday's school board meeting. The firm of Schenkel and Shultz, the bond project facilitator for the school board, also helped in the evaluation of bids.

The mistake made by the contractors in their bid was of 'such magnitude" it would cause severe hardship upon the Carlson Corporation, which it feels is not justified by the facts of the case, Carlson has asked the board for a meeting to work out a resolution of the problem. The company stated in the letter it didn't think it would be equitable for the board to "force them to bear the entire burden" caused by the error of the sub-contractor.

As far as I'm concerened they're (Carlson) the successful low bidders," Arnold said, "I'm expecting dinner and a contract from them." Arnold said the board has put the Carlson Corporation on notice that the contract has been awarded to them.

"We sent them (Carlson) the standard letter saying we'd be available to sign a contract, so we'll see how that goes." he

If Carlson refuses to sign a contract, Arnold said he would recommend the contract be awarded to the Hedron. Hedron submitted a base bid of $6,199,000 for the LHHS work. The bids it turned in for the alternate projects invioved at the school amounted to $2,322,101. The entire Hedron bid came to $8,521,101.

Upon the refusal of Carlson to sign the contract it has been awarded, Arnold said the board would take legal action against the company by filing suit. "I'm not about to just waive the bid we have from them (Carlson)," Arnold said, "There are laws that prevent me from doing that anyway.

The ball is in their (Carlson) hands now," he said, "we'll just have to wait and see what they

"This sort of thing has never happened in my career."

In other action during Wednesday's meeting the board awarded a contract for the lease/purchase of musical instruments for Lake Brantley High School to Bandwagon Music for the price of $2,709.15 a year for the next four years. The total cost of providing the instruments for the high school amounts to $10,836.60 for the length of the contract.

The second lowest bld was made by the Glardinelli Band Instrument Company at $2839.59 over a four period amounting to $11,437.56.

Of the five other music companies contacted two did not place a bld. The other three didn't respond at all.

A contract for new lockers at Lake Howell High School was awarded to Webb Equipment Company for $6,598. The com-pany originally bid $7,388 on the lockers, but lowered its price in an alternate bid by offering less expensive lockers.

Bids by Storage Concepts for $7,841 and Dula-Wright for $7,285 came in behind Webb's bid. Four other companies made no response to the bidding.

A bid by Terrace Carpets to provide 7,500 square yards of indoor carpet for the school district at $7.50 per square yard was accepted by the board. The total cost of the carpet will be $56,918.25.

The lower bid of $7.21 per square yard by Strickland Floor Covering was struck by the board because the company was bidding an alternate brand of carpet.

Two businesses contacted did not bid, and eight did not respond at all.

The Seminole Petroleum Company was awarded a contract to provide gasoline and diesel fuel to the school district. Under the contract 50,000 gallons of unleaded gasoline will cost 80 cents per gallon. Diesel fuel #2, which is used for vehicles will cost 82 cents per gallon. And Diesel fuel #2 for heating will cost 63 cents per gallon.

No other fuel companies responded to the announcement for bidding by the board.

Contracts for the maintenance of the school district's offset printing presses were awarded to Florida Printing Machinery for $3,190 and Roberts Repair Service for $480. The total for the maintenance amounts to $3,670.

The low bld of the Jack Williams Company to supply service award pins given to school district employees was accepted by the board. The total cost of the seven different style pins is $7,251.

Michael B. Meyera Florida Balfour, Herff Jones Inc. and National Awards submitted high blds for the award pins contract.

The Florida Sheriffs Youth Ranches will celebrate its 30th anniversary over the weekend of Oct. 2, 3 and 4, at the Boys Ranch.

The FSYRs comprises five residential child care programs, a summer camping program, and a network of community family social workers who provide counseling for boys and girls and their families.

On Oct. 2, 1957, 30 years ago, Florida's Sheriffs were inspired with the idea of helping boys who, through circumstances beyond their control, were on the brink of becoming deliquent. These sheriffs were determined to make the Florida Sheriffs Boys Ranch a place to turn these young lives around. With the support of many generous people around the state, the Boys Ranch prospered and grew.

With the Boys Ranch facility firmly in place, the Florida Sherilis Youth Villa was established near Bartow in 1970, to provide a similar program for girls. Still strong in their desire to help troubled youngsters, the Sheriffs of Florida opted to organize the Florida Sheriffs Youth Ranch near Clearwater in 1978, to enable brothers and sisters to receive residential care as a family. Continuing to grow, the Florida Sheriffs Youth Camp became a reality in 1981. This provides a ten-day camping experience five times a summer for youngsters who are on the waiting list for admission to a residential program.

Evolving into the Florida Sheriffs Youth Ranches Inc., the Youth Ranches operates as the governing body which oversees each of these programs. The Youth Ranches is supported almost entirely by voluntary gifts.

ARTS also gives these talented young men and women national exposure and acknowledges their remarkable artistic achievements in the same way as high school athletes and academic achievers are also recognized by other programs and organizations.

ARTS is open to all 17 and 18 year olds, whether they are in high school, attending college or out of school. Through ARTS, talented high school seniors are also eligible for the U.S. Presidential Scholar in the ARTS awards — the most prestigious honor that can be bestowed upon them.

Interested young artists have until Oct. 1 to apply. A portion of the $35 application fee may be waived, depending on eligibility. ARTS applications are available at high schools, or can be obtained by writing or calling ARTS directly at: ARTS, 300 NE Second Ave., Miami, FL 33132, 305/347-3416.

Approximately 7,500 students participated in last year's ARTS program. Of these, 125 young artists received a total of $223,000 cash awards and 216 honorable mention awards were distributed. Individual cash ARTS awards are $3,000 (first level), $1,500 (second level) and $500 (third level).

Many Home Remedies Will Work Sometimes

DEAR DR. GOTT - I've heard treated by a variety of means. of numerous cures for ulcers, such as cabbage juice, raw potatoes and herbs. Is there any validity to these home remedies? DEAR READER - Peptic ulcers are caused by too much atomach acid entering the first part of the small intestine (duodenum). Treatment is directed at either neutralizing this acid (usually with antacids) or reducing the production of gastric acid (with Tagamet or Zantac).

Home remedles sometimes work for diseases. When they do. there is usually a sound scientific rationale. For example, blcarbonate of soda used to be the tried-and-true treatment for ulcers because soda is alkaline and neutralizes acid. Likewise, milk - an effective chemical buffer - used to be in fashion for the same reason. I am not aware that cabbage juice, raw potatoes and herbs have enjoyed the popularity of the other "kitchen cures." but perhaps they offer relief for some people.

I tend to be less skeptical of home remedies than I was years ago - particularly if they work. However, there are so many effective compounds available today for ulcers that I believe home remedies have been superseded by more useful. equally inexpensive commercial preparations.

To confuse the issue further, ulcers tend to improve with time, even without treatment. For many ulcer patients, the old program still works: Avoid nicotine, caffeine, alcohol, spicy and rich foods; eat frequent small portions; use milk; and stay away from edibles that cause indigestion.

DEAR DR. GOTT - My father died young from what my mother calls "the dropsy." is it the same as edema?

DEAR READER - Dropsy is an antiquated word used to describe an abnormal amount of water in a body tissue or cavity. In the past, this usually resulted from severe and progressive congestive heart failure, a condition causing immense fluid overload in the abdomen and lower extremities. Today we call this "edema," and it is readily including digitalis and drugs to force the kidneys to excrete the excess fluid.

DEAR DR. GOTT - Will you please define and discuss Schamberg's disease?

DEAR READER - You really sent me to the books on this one. Schamberg's disease (progressive pigmentary dermatosis) consists of small, dimpled dots that appear on the legs, coalesce into larger areas, and eventually merge into pigmented patches. It is caused by an inflammation of the capillaries in the skin (small blood vessels that lie close to the surface). This skin condition is not serious. It is treated with hesperidin, vitamin C and hydrocortisone cream.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby Even in a tournament (a form of the game that may bore some readers), it is difficult to conceive of anyone being so greedy as to should have done.

Just a word about the bidding: Rather than jump to three notrump with the 10-8-7 of spades, South would have been better off trying two diamonds. North, now have bid no-trump. Today's elsewhere. However, South did tricks and making his contract.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

By Bernice Bede Osol YOUR BIRTHDAY

AUGUST 14, 1987 New opportunities will be offered to you in the year ahead. Take advantage of those that are advanced by people whose ideals parallel your own. Shun materialistic schemers.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your mettle will be tested today if you hope to achieve worthwhile objectives. Good things can happen, but you'll have to truly earn everything you get. Major changes are ahead for Leos in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428. Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Opportunity is all around you today, yet your attitude may be unduly pessimistic. Brighten up. If you expect good things to happen, they will.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Proceed cautiously in important financial affairs today. What looks good to you now may prove to be costly in the long SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be wary today of the grandiose schemes of an associate who, up until now, has had a rather unimpressive track record. This could be another loser.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you attend to important assignments early in the day, the results will be pleasing. However, should you let things drag on until later, the outcome could be disheartening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Limit your involvements today. If you overtax yourself, you might deplete your mental and material reserves and gain nothing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be careful today: the urgings of your ego may get you into a situation where you might make promises you can't keep.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) For the sake of your own peace of mind today, it's best to avoid a companion who is always insistent upon having his or her way.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't let money burn a hole through your purse today. If you have a little accumulation, save it for a rainy day instead of wasting it on a drizzle.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It could prove unwise today to abdicate your authority and let someone else make an important decision for you. Think for yourself.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Let your charitable instincts direct your behavior today. Strive to be helpful, even toward those who have been unappreciative of your gestures in the past.
