

ITALY FAVORS GIVING REICH EQUAL ARMS

Action Said To Be Only Practical Solution Of Armament Problem Gripping World

ROME, Jan. 31.—(A.P.)—Italy came out in favor of the rearmament of Germany as the only practical solution to the armaments question in an official memorandum issued today.

This statement, under the Italian plan, would be based on a status quo for other powers on the principal aspects of their armaments.

The following limitations would be applied: Abolition of chemical warfare, prohibition of a bombardment of all civil populations, and the limitation, at present levels, of military expense not bound by treaties in force, a limitation to its present size, of the terrestrial equipment of these powers.

This news was released only a few days after a ten-year pact between Germany and Poland, mutually renouncing war as an instrument of national policy in the settlement of issues between them, was signed at the Foreign Office in Berlin by Baron Konstantin von Neurath, German Foreign Minister, and Josef Lipski, the Polish Ambassador.

The agreement expressly is an extension of the Kellogg-Briand pact, defining more precisely the obligations of the Treaty of Paris in the relations of Germany and Poland. The two countries, whose animosity has been one of the principal causes of the discontent and unrest in post-war Europe, have concluded the treaty with the object, as the document states, of "introducing a new phase in the political relations of Germany and Poland" and, further, of strengthening "the common peace of Europe."

The treaty represents the most brilliant diplomatic achievement of Chancellor Adolf Hitler has yet accomplished. In fact, no other German but the Nazi leader possibly could have concluded such an agreement. For the Chancellor, a few days before the first anniversary of his coming to power, had pledged himself to renounce force as a means of obtaining revision of Germany's eastern frontiers as defined by the Treaty of Versailles.

Lakeland Outbonded Debt Million In 1933

LAKELAND, Jan. 31.—A reduction of more than a million dollars in the bonded debt of the city of Lakeland in the last three years is revealed in a comparative statement prepared by City Comptroller J. L. Davis. The statement shows the bonded debt was $9,231,184 on Aug. 31, 1930, and that it had been reduced more than $1,222,000 to $8,017,500 on Jan. 1 of this year.

It was explained that the reduction was made possible through the city's policy of accepting bonds for delinquent taxes and paving assessment, and of purchasing bonds with any extra money available.

The statement showed disbursements for the last fiscal year were $271,626, compared to $393,121 the previous year, and $445,801 in 1928-29. Receipts from all sources the last year were $401,721, compared to $725,442 in 1928-29.

3 Russian Stratospherists Killed When Gondola Strikes Earth After Record Ascent

MOSCOW, Jan. 31.—(A.P.)—All three members of the crew of a Soviet stratosphere balloon were killed yesterday afternoon several hundred kilometers southeast of Moscow.

The disaster was officially announced today by Soviet civil aviation authorities after 21 hours of unconfirmed reports, with a search went on for the fliers who yesterday reported they had reached an altitude of 67,985 feet, a new record.

The announcement said the crew was killed while attempting to land the great balloon. The balloon had broken away from the gondola as it hit the ground in a hard landing. The force of the concussion killed all the occupants and destroyed all the scientific instruments aboard. The gas bag disappeared into the clouds.

The last word received direct from the balloon, which made its secret ascent as "a present to the seventeenth communist party congress," said it was seeking a landing place near Columbia, 75 miles from Moscow, where the red army's stratosphere balloon landed last September after reaching a height of 19,000 meters (62,301 feet).

Contestants who entered to compete with Soviet aviation officials were unable to find any trace of the fliers and returned to Moscow.

Because of the restriction of the gas after launch it was considered certain the balloon must have come to earth somewhere.

The craft was named by Pavel Fedoseyev, Andrei Vasin, and Lya Usvaykin.

They reported when they reached their limit that the outside temperature was less than 20 and 19 degrees Fahrenheit, zero, and about 20 degrees below zero.

Heavy Frost Found To Have Done Only Little Damage Here

The heavy frost which covered many sections of the county early this morning did little appreciable damage, according to a report made shortly before noon today.

It was just cold enough to be of benefit to celery and other winter crops, and just a little too cold for tender vegetables and flowers, although the total loss in the latter was at a minimum.

The official government aviation report at Sanford for the 24 hours ending at 8:00 o'clock this morning was a low of 38, four degrees higher than yesterday's reading.

A general warning up over the nation is shown in weather reports received here today, with temperatures from the Dakotas to New York state near 30 degrees higher than yesterday.

A new storm was rapidly developing in Texas, with rains over half of the state, and the storm was moving eastward with temperatures rising in the South.

Frost that was light in heavy over the north and central portions of Florida came early this morning with the mercury a low as 28 at Jacksonville when considerable tender vegetation was killed.

From Montreal came word that normal conditions are gradually returning to the neighborhood of the St. Lawrence valley after the worst storm in eastern Canada in 25 years had blocked the main line of the Canadian National railway between Riviere du Loup, Quebec, and Campbellton, Nova Scotia, for more than 24 hours and had stranded 400 passengers.

Deputy Sheriff Killed In Lunch Stand Brawl

MADISON, Jan. 31.—(A.P.)—Deputy Sheriff H. G. Arndt of Jefferson county was killed and Sheriff Lamar Sledge of that county was wounded early today in a shooting at a highway lunch stand near here.

Madison county officers arrested Ernest Handley, operator of the stand, and placed him in jail. Sheriff Morrow of Madison said that Handley admitted the shooting but claimed that he fired in self-defense after Arndt is alleged to have created a disturbance. Pistols carried by the officers were not discharged.

The grand jury addressed to Mrs. J. Daniel Ames, executive director of the association, was in reply to the organization's appeal for a grand jury to investigate the case. BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THE ROAD TO WANT: He that oppresseth the poor to increase his riches, and he that giveth to the rich, shall surely come to want.—Prov. 22: 16.

One bank failed in France and they nearly had a revolution. It took ten thousand bank failures in this country to produce a revolution.

The headline that "Science Plans Tear Gas for Wild Animals" is news that will make many a beast of the jungle weep.

As we get it, some of our Congressmen are determined that the Philippines shall be given their independence so that they can have revolutions like the Cubans.

Carl Hahn, Jr., of Orlando, won the medal in the qualifying rounds of the Walter J. Travis cup golf tournament in St. Augustine the other day, competing against some of the best golfers in the country.

Twenty thousand persons are said to have attended the races at Hialeah on the opening day of this season. Aside from the fact that twenty thousand people can't be wrong, twenty thousand people must have some money in order to go to the races.

Tommy Mansville, heir to the asbestos fortune, was about to get another divorce, now he has been married four times and might be married twenty times more. Experience may be the best teacher but some people are slow to learn. But what could you expect from the son of the asbestos king?

Congress is making plans to double the number of naval airplanes in America's fighting forces. Rumors of war between Russia and Japan coming in the Spring have lent haste to this government's preparations. Not that we intend to get mixed up in it, but we intend to let other countries know that we are ready for them if they start anything.

See where the Administration is backing up. Senator Johnson's bill to prevent foreign nations, which have defaulted on their debts to our government from selling their bonds to the citizens or corporations of this country. Turned once should be enough. But we would like to see an amendment put on this bill which would also prevent the private corporations located in foreign countries from selling their securities over here. Keep America can money at home to develop America.

The Northwest Florida Association, composed of the residents and officials of some 15 counties in the northwestern part of the state, recently declined to adopt a resolution favoring the continuation of the civil works and the public works program. The Association members evidently feel that their Uncle Sam was spending too much of the taxpayers' money trying to give jobs to the unemployed. The Association should bear in mind, however, that its members will pay their full share of federal taxation whether civil works and public works continue in Florida or not.

Some people think that the wholesale cancellation of all debts is all that is necessary to bring back the prosperity for which everyone yearns. But the cancellation of all debts, of course, would mean that every bank in the country would have to close and could never pay any dividends to its depositors. It would mean that all the insurance companies, all the building and loan associations, all the bond and mortgage companies would go broke. It would mean that all the colleges and universities, scientific laboratories, all the hospitals and libraries which depend for their existence upon endowment funds would have to close. Now anyone who thinks that that would bring back prosperity better think again.

The Price Of Ink

Prices are going up. We offered that advice to our readers nearly nine months ago when the country first abandoned the gold standard. Since that time the wholesale price of wheat has gone up from 57 cents a bushel to $1.05 a bushel. Eggs have risen from 16 cents a dozen to 26 cents a dozen. Wool that sold for 43 cents now sells for 86 cents. Six cent cotton is now eleven cent cotton. Rubber has gone up from three cents to nine cents. Moody's commodity index, covering practically all wholesale prices, shows an increase from 80.5 to 132.4, during the past year.

What has caused prices to go up in this manner? The answer, we suppose, could cover a multitude of sins. But prices are very sensitive things. They go up and down from relatively remote causes. One would hardly think that the cotton processing tax to help farmers could affect the price of hand bills, or prize fight posters. Yet that is exactly the case. We didn't know why it was that the price of ink was going up, but we knew that it had gone up, from six cents a pound to nine cents a pound, and that therefore we had to charge more for job work. And then the other day we got a letter from one of the big manufacturers explaining why ink was going up.

"One would hardly consider that the cotton processing tax to help farmers would affect us," the ink company writes, "nevertheless, the paper bag manufacturers have to pay additional taxes to equalize those of the cotton bag manufacturers, and must of necessity pass this along to the consumer. Printing ink manufacturers use enormous amounts of carbon black, which is all packed in 12 1/2 pound standard double bags." Thus we see that the ink manufacturers are having to pay more for paper bags because the paper bag manufacturers are having to pay a tax to equalize their prices with those of the cotton bag manufacturers which are having to pay a processing tax in order to help the cotton farmers.

Furthermore, the ink company writes, "Carbon black itself has increased over 40 percent in 1934 over 1933, and then only quoted until April 1st. This does not mean that the manufacturers have 40 percent additional profit, which I want to make clear. It means that as carbon black through over-production (too many getting into the industry) and under-consumption had been selling for about one-third less than it should have made prices equal cost—to offset this loss, and to pay higher costs of packing, labor, taxes, etc. this increase had to be made, which brings it to a price very much less than the 1926 level, which the Government has, to a certain extent, used as a yardstick of prices and values."

So remember, when the price of job work is quoted to you at higher prices than it was a year ago, that the price of ink has gone up 33 1-3 percent because the price of carbon black has gone up 40 percent. And that the reason all these things have gone up is in order to help the farmer by paying him to take part of his acreage out of production so that on his remaining crop he can make more money. The idea is that if the farmer makes more money, he will be better able to buy more of the things which industry has to sell. And this in turn, is probably true if the price of the things the farmer has to buy doesn't go up faster than the price of the things the farmer has to sell.

ARE YOU DISCOURAGED? Then read this story.

The devil, as the story goes, held a convention attended by many imps. He instructed the imps to go out into the world and sell discouragement to the human race. One imp approached an average man. "Aren't you discouraged?" he asked. "No," replied the man. "I can't say that I am." "How about the banks that are closed?" the imp asked. "I guess I am a little discouraged," the man admitted. "How about 11 million people out of work?" "How about 11 million people out of work?" "Yes, I'm discouraged," the man conceded. The imp reported to the devil, who said, "Go sell somebody else." The imp approached another man. "Aren't you discouraged?" he asked. "No," the man roared. "Look at the banks that are closed," the imp suggested. "Look at the banks that are open," the man replied. "Look at the people who don't have jobs." "Look at the people who do." "Stocks are low." "The values are there. Don't argue with me, go to the devil." The imp went to report to the devil. "Did you sell the second prospect?" the devil asked. "No, I didn't," the imp replied. "He said me. Now I'm discouraged."—El Cajon Valley News.

St. Petersburg Makes Settlement On Taxes

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Settlement of 1931 delinquent taxes at 80 percent, until Apr. 1, was accepted by the city council Monday in adopting a program for solution of a long-standing delinquent tax problem. After Apr. 1 the discount is five percent less for each succeeding month until full value collection of the tax is resumed. The plan provides for cancellation of $750,000 of past due interest coupons of the city, with $175,000 or more collected from the delinquencies, and assures dismissal of all pending litigation which prevents use of coupons in paying delinquent taxes.

FINANCING DISABLED NEWSPAPERS TAMPA TRIBUNE

Our recent editorial on the Pub. lishers Finance Corporation, an association formed in North Carolina to obtain government loans for newspapers in financial difficulties, has provoked wide comment. We have, from the headquarters of the corporation in Raleigh, a "press sheet" of comments on the plan. We note with interest both the favorable and unfavorable reactions. While certain notables, such as Prof. Berle, are quoted in strong approval of the project, we find able and practical publishers sounding words of warning as to the dangers lurking in the scheme. For instance, Roy W. Hogard, who is firm in the belief that "as certainly as American newspapers cannot consent to any abridgment of their editorial freedom through financing or otherwise, just as certainly they cannot afford to accept from the government financial assistance in any obligation conferring favors which might be perfectly proper in the case of an ordinary commercial business." And R. R. McCormick, publisher of the "Chicago Tribune," could be nothing but a court critic. And Arthur Brisbane, "That may be sound, although many will think it unwise. The government should know that it takes some experience to know how to run a newspaper in the ordinary sense. It is less carefully watched, the more thought of the government might encourage, instead of help, publishers to buy up non-binding newspapers and try to hold them up with government money. It is successful, well and good, if not, the government will find itself in a newspaper business. And the government is assured by one who has been in the business for some time that it would not enjoy the job." Likewise, the "Tribune News and Observer," owned by Joseph Dunfee, "If there is any enterprise which is intrinsically involved in politics and property, so that it is the newspaper business. Newspapers ought to be constantly in politics in the sense that they should intelligently and honestly

Adherence Of U. S. To World Court Is Urged

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Immediate adherence of the United States to the World Court to fulfill the pledges of the Democratic and Republican platforms was urged Monday by Newton D. Baker and Mrs. George A. Wyeth, president of the women's national Republican club. Adherence hinges on ratification of three treaties before the Senate. Mrs. Wyeth, chairman of the national committee of Republican women for the World Court, and Baker said ratification could be accomplished quickly without disrupting the domestic recovery program and would be a quieting influence on the international situation. As a general rule, however, it is reasonable to expect that a newspaper saved from extermination by a helping hand naturally will be inclined to listen, on questions of policy, to the voice behind the hand. That voice naturally will be not the voice of the government so much as the voice of the directing spirits of the corporation which gets and bestows the help.

Thugs Forget Little Robbing Chicago Store

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Three bandits entered the Wick's department store, and apparently wishing to overlook no detail they— Beat and kicked the owner, robbed him of $100 and left him bound. Smashed down the back door and carried out to their truck in the alley dresses, hats, lingerie, shirts, hose and underwear valued at $1,000. Smashed all the glass counters in the store and dumped all the furniture. Set fire to the store after spraying the floor with turpentine. Kidnaped the night watchman on their way out. The owner was released by firemen summoned to extinguish the blaze. The watchman joined them later, rescued from the bandit's truck. The fire caused $2,000 damage.

SANFORD FORUM

My Dear Sir: In your issue of January 25th, you paragraph, commenting on this pertinent, issues the following: Speaking of bond issues, Arthur Brisbane says, "New currency printed and put out with the 'two-cent' name on it would be not only as good, but much better than interest-bearing bonds. The bonds meaning a tax load of hundreds of millions a year damage to the national credit." Of course, printing billions of dollars of unsecured paper money would not be damaging to the Government's credit. If the paper money you refer to is used for retirement of the bonds now afloat, is there any law, constitutional or statutory, that would keep the same sum, rendering his bonds from purchasing the currency he receives in exchange into the safety receptacle from which he took his bonds? What is the difference in the security about the Government's

Ex-To uhy Gangster Tells Of Activities

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—(AP)—One of Roger Touhy's former beer truck drivers and a woman who cooked meals for the alleged kidnapers of John Factor collaborated Monday in rounding out the prosecution case against Touhy and three others. Their testimony cast considerable light on the jovial, carefree life of beer gangsters, of the economic blight that came to them with the legalization of beer, and of the desperate, intricate machine gun warfare that flared out between the Touhys and the Capone syndicate. As he could not buy any more bonds, and could not speculate in commodities affected by the rise and fall of gold, and the movements of foreign exchange, just what would be the guess for an investment he would take on? And if he were still miserly and a hoarder, it is certain that a portion of his currency would reach channels of trade and be of some benefit to the balance of human life. What would be the country's reaction to a government, or nation, having no public debt at all? Very Sincerely, JOHN F. PEARSON.

SEX INSTRUCTION IS ADVISED FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Should Begin In 7th Grade, Bronxville Superintendent Says

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The value of sex instruction in public schools, family welfare problems related to social hygiene, and the need for human and sympathetic judges were among the questions discussed by prominent workers in the field of social hygiene at the regional conference sponsored by the Social Hygiene Council of New York at the Hotel George Washington, Twenty-third Street and Lexington Avenue.

Magistrate Jonah J. Goldstein, Willard W. Healy, Superintendent of Schools in Bronxville, and Lewis H. Carris, managing director of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, were among the speakers at the conference, the largest of its sort ever held in New York, which was under the general direction of Dr. Jacob A. Goldberg, of the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Dr. Healy, speaking at the occasion on "Sex character education in public and high schools," is such a plan feasible in New York City?" said that the need for such education was evident when one considered that most humans first become aware of such factors between the age of six and eight, long before their parents realize that they have any such knowledge.

The question, he said, is not "whether our children are to be informed with regard to sex," but "a question merely of whether the truth regarding sex and its social implications shall be allowed to compete with the false concepts being commercially exploited, and whether it shall begin its competition early enough to establish an initial impression of naturalness, cleanliness, and the desirability of self-restraint and moderation."

Long experience in school work, he said, has shown him that, if left to parents, such instruction is neglected because the parents lack either factual knowledge or the background which would give them the proper emotional attitude toward the matter.

Mr. Healy said that such instruction should be a "normal part" of courses such as biology, rather than something set off by itself. Emotional difficulties should be avoided, he said, by not intruding the subject of sex until the pupils had been in the class long enough to feel at ease with the teacher and by leading up to it by a study of plant and animal life. The social implications, he said, should be presented with simplicity and conviction if personal conduct is to be influenced, and "truth is not merely so powerful a deterrent as positive idealism."

The personality of the instructor is important, he said, and confidence in him is more important than what he says. He added that while simple lectures are better than no instruction at all, the abrupt introduction in the subject of sex in a period may be "intentionally charged emotional."

Specific instruction in the matter of human reproduction, he said, begins in the schools under his supervision in the seventh grade. Students all through the school grades are taught to treat all such questions with perfect naturalness and frankness, but younger children do not get instruction in them because the matter does not particularly affect them.

"Happy Birthday", U.S. Tells President; Throgs Join In Fun At Mayfair Hotel

Added to the money pouring into the fund from the proceeds of the birthday parties were individual contributions, one of them a gift of $50,000.

A blanket expression of appreciation for the courtesy of many valuable services rendered in staging the affair was voiced today by Harry Papworth, president of the trade body.

He said: "The Chamber of Commerce and other organizations which sponsored the President Roosevelt Birthday Party want to express their fullest appreciation to everyone who so generously gave of their time and service for the success of the party last night, a party which has been referred to as the greatest event staged in the history of Sanford."

Dancing began early and continued until an early hour, and the ballroom was a mass of good-natured humanity that was apparently enjoying the spirit of the occasion.

A traveling studio, lavishly equipped and manned by a staff of men and women who are prepared to answer any question relating to the taking and making of sound motion pictures, will be located in the Sanford Orlando road, to be resorted to by the guests where from about 10:00 o'clock until noon the public is invited to witness a free showing of special motion picture films.

The law gives the Treasury title to all gold stocks, including chiefly $500,000,000 held by the Federal Reserve banks, the transfer of which was approved by reserve system officials in private advice to the President prior to the drafting of the bill and in testimony before congressional committees.

With this initial added to the stocks it already holds, the Treasury owns more than $1,011,000,000 worth of gold. At the statutory price of $20.67 an ounce, when the dollar is revalued at a maximum of 60 percent of its present gold equivalent, this gold supply will be worth $2,198,000,000.

From the profit thus accruing a fund of two billion dollars will be established by the Secretary of the Treasury in charge, and used to keep the foreign value of the dollar as nearly as possible at the point which the Administration believes to be the best advantage of American trade.

With the explicit approval of President Roosevelt, he can use the money also to purchase government bonds, providing him with a weapon for keeping operations on these securities stable through the next few months in which one billion dollars must be borrowed by the government.

Should Ladies Behave? with cast that include Lionel Barrymore, Alan Turing, Conway Teach, Katharine Alexander, and Mary Carlisle in leading roles plays tonight at the Midway Theater. This is an adaptation of the Broadway stage comedy "The Village Idiot" by DeLoach and Galt, by DeLoach and Galt.

AUSTRIA SEEKS SAME STATUS AS THAT OF SWISS

Interests Of European Peace Said Back Of Recent Movement

GENEVA, Jan. 31.—A movement began recently in international circles to give Austria in the interest of European peace the same neutrality as that accorded Switzerland.

European powers would be asked to adopt a "hands-off" policy as regards Austria, whose independence was guaranteed by the treaty of Versailles ending the World war.

German attempts to "Nazify" Austria, as cited by the Austrian government, are a source of worry to Europe and foreign nations, which see the Austrian question as a danger to European peace.

Chancellor Dollfus of Austria was reported as ready to appeal to the League of Nations and to request satisfactory assurances that Chancellor Hitler of Germany would not force what he termed Nazi interference with Austrian internal affairs.

Mr. Dollfus appeals to the League of Nations against Germany under the first paragraph of Article XI of the League covenant, which provides that any threat of war is a matter of concern to the whole league and if any member complains a council meeting shall be immediately summoned. The secretary general, J. A. C. Aynard, must conduct the council to extraordinary session.

Mr. Dollfus should appeal under the second paragraph of the same article, providing "the friendly right of League members to call the attention of the council to the existence of the council would not be required, but, nevertheless, probably would be considered."

International circles heard that Premier Mussolini of Italy has urged Hitler to adopt a less intelligent attitude toward Austria, pointing out the danger that would have to be faced if Italy were to become involved in a war with Austria.

State Racing Commission Cancels Longwood Kennel Club License For Season

Officials of the Kennel Club today stated that despite the cancellation of the original racing permit everything is being held in readiness for the opening of the 45-day dog racing season on Saturday night as scheduled.

They stated that their local attorney had expressed the belief that a legal technicality was all that stood between the opening of the track on scheduled time, and that he would get in touch with the racing commission today to iron out the difficulty.

In the meantime, it was understood that scheduling races which were postponed last night on account of cold weather, will be run tonight at 7:00 o'clock. Admission is free.

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Secretary Walter H. Donovan announced here last night the state racing commission cancelled the license and revoked the racing track previously assigned to the Orlando-Sanford Kennel club, headed by Joe Tinker, former major league baseball player. The action was taken, Donovan said, because Tinker and others in the association had failed to inform the commission they had leased the track to J. E. Gehrung.

The association's permit was not revoked, and Donovan explained that Tinker and others comprising the association could apply for new dates and a license and if the application was granted they could proceed with racing.

"Licenses are issued to operators whose permits are ratified by the voters," Donovan explained, "and they are not transferrable. The state racing law prohibits that."

In a telegram to the Orlando Association the racing commission said "in view of your failing to reveal to the Florida racing commission the fact that you have leased your plant to J. E. Gehrung for the purpose of conducting dog races, and that it is in reality Gehrung who proposes and plans to conduct the business of the association and not your association, in whom the permit has been granted and ratified, the Florida racing commission has this day cancelled the license and date recently issued to you and you are hereby notified not to proceed further under the said license."

The action was taken, Donovan said, after he and Chairman B. F. Faby of West Palm Beach, who also was here yesterday, had conferred with other members of the racing commission by telephone.

The track was scheduled to begin operations next Saturday and continue through Mar. 31, Donovan said.

Washington.

Mr. Schmidt stated that there were more than 1000 men representing all sections of Florida in Tallahassee to press claims for road work. Hotels and rooming houses were filled to capacity, he added, and the confusion in eating houses was reminiscent of 1925 and 1926.

Delegations appearing yesterday to plead with the state road department for new construction costing millions of dollars, were told by Chairman Treadway that there was little hope of starting new work this year without federal aid.

Income of the department for 1934 was estimated at $6,000,000. It now is in debt $2,184,248, Treadway announced, and in addition faces the necessary maintenance of 1800 convicts and 6300 miles of highways for which nearly $4,000,000 will be required.

"We don't know," Treadway said, "whether there will be a federal allotment. We will extend our budget meeting as long as possible to see if Congress does make an appropriation for road construction."

"If Florida gets a federal fund this year, then we can consider some new work."

"In the meantime, we're trying to get the department on a cash basis. We want to pay our debts this year—and the law requires us to maintain the convicts, and we must maintain the highways."

Mr. Treadway of Tavares was re-elected as chairman of the state road department today, and H. M. Bittely was re-elected secretary.

Several additional delegations appeared today seeking new road projects as the commission wound up its meeting.

Treadway estimated that $25,000,000 worth of new construction was urged by delegations, but he said there will not be any unless the federal government furnishes the money.

LONG ROARS INNOCENCE IN SENATE

ply to the charges of corruption leveled against Louisiana political machines by the special Senate committee that investigated the Overton primary of 1933. Long wound up by reading a "confidential" letter saying nothing wrong had been found in his income tax returns.

At the conclusion of his speech, punctuated by jokes and laughter from the galleries, Chairman Connally of the Overton investigating committee, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, majority leader, said the committee had performed its duty despite many hindrances.

Long said the investigating committee had found Overton, whom he backed for the Senate, "as clean as the angel's ghost," but he objected to the criticism of the use of dummy candidates and collecting of campaign funds from state employees.

He contended the dummy candidate device was used in Iowa, Texas, Arkansas and Mississippi and by the national parties in the last general election.

Long added his faction had done everything it could to prevent the use of dummy candidates, taking the question to court three times. He asserted the electoral college was a "device used for fraud" to prevent candidates from running unless they were approved by the "bosses."

He contended there was not one line of evidence that anyone in his state was ever "coerced into making a contribution."

Assuming that were true, he asked: "Why condemn Louisiana? I hold in my hand a receipt from one of the national committees in the last presidential campaign."

"It didn't ask one-tenth, but one-half of a month's salary, and the employe coughed up."

Long said the receipt was from the Republican national committee and signed by Chairman Sanders. Even the Democrats "do it when they are in power, and always have and always will," he said.

Long said J. P. Morgan had hired a man named Shipp in Washington to conduct a publicity campaign against him; and that Mrs. Hilda Phelps Hammond, who is seeking his ouster, had been seen in the company of this agent entering a newspaper office.

In a resolution, Long asked that a special committee of five senators be named to investigate how much money had been spent in sending information about him through the mails, over the radio and in the newspapers and whether it was libelous.

Light-Heavy Champ Expected To Retain Crown In Miami Bout

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 31.—Down in Miami tomorrow night, Joe Knight, 34-year-old Cairo, Ga., fighter, will attempt to bring to a close the Rosenbloom regime over the light heavyweight division. He will have 18 rounds in which to accomplish his feat.

The dark, handsome Georgian, who has done most of his campaigning in this state, defeated Blaise Maxie in an overweight bout at Daytona Beach almost two years ago but it is a widely known fact that the playboy ruler of the 175-pounders is a most indifferent competitor in these non-title engagements.

Although Rosenbloom has been ruffed about considerably on his tours of the flint hinterland when his title was not at stake, the Harlem clown, whenever he puts his mythical diadem on the line, is right there with the stuff that it takes to keep it. So, the odds are that he will not be dethroned in his latest defense of his crown.

These odds vary from the 8 to 6 quoted in New York, where the boys vividly recall Knight's disappointing exhibition with George Nichols several months ago, to the 6 to 5 and even money quotations handed out in Miami, where the Georgian is popular to an extreme.

More Help For Owners Of Homes Is Planned

(WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Already engaged in efforts to lift the mortgage, the Roosevelt administration intends to help the hard-pressed home owner modernize the family mansion and keep it in repair.

The legislative plans to that end were outlined Monday by John H. Fahey, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank board and the Home Owners Loan Corporation, who said that aid for new building was also contemplated.

Fahey revealed that the program, whose purpose has the support of the President, would be included probably in the measure to guarantee the entire principal of the home loan bonds.

Bremer Family Hopes Aroused By Reports

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 31.—(AP)—A new attitude of optimism prevailed members of the family Monday as they remained alert for word from the kidnappers of Edward G. Bremer, 37-year-old banker seized Jan. 17 for $200,000 ransom.

Walter Magee, friend of Bremer, who received the first ransom note within a few hours of the banker's seizure, hinted fish developments were a possibility soon.

"I am optimistic," said Magee "that we will hear something within the next few days. The appeals by Adolph Bremer (father of the missing man) and assurance that the ransom is ready for payment to the gang as soon as authentic word is received to bring some results soon."

JEAN HARLOW SUE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The ashes of the tragic case of Paul Bern were stirred again Monday by a suit seeking half of his $61,000 estate from his widow, Jean Harlow, actress. Action was brought by Herman A. Koch, Sacramento public administrator, on behalf of the estate of Dorothy Millette Bern.

Stomach Distress

"I suffered from stomach trouble," writes Mrs. Roy Holstein, of Marquette, W. Va. "I was run-down, could not sleep well at night, and could not eat like I should. I craved and would have the heartburn a lot. I was nervous and when would take sick headaches. Now I can eat just fine—sleep fine. I highly recommend Theodore's Black-Draught for it has done so much for me. I can truly say it stepped me from weakness." Black-Draught is purely vegetable. It contains the most pleasant of children like the new, pleasant-tasting STRUP of Black-Draught.

Tampa Concern Has Blue Eagle Returned

TAMPA, Jan. 31.—The Tropical Ice Cream and Sherbert Company has had its blue eagle restored by the Tampa NRA compliance board, since it paid nearly $1000 in back salaries and overtime to bring wages up to the code standard.

The Tampa board recommended the removal of the company's blue eagle some months ago and Washington authorities immediately ordered that it be turned in to the postoffice.

Officers of the company told the board business subsequently dropped off 60 percent and asked what would have to be done to have the eagle restored. They were told it would be necessary to pay back salaries due their employes under code stipulations.

Cancelled checks were presented Monday to show the company had paid $965 and officers submitted a signed statement that they would comply fully in the future. The board immediately recommended to Washington that the eagle be restored.

JAPAN HAS NO WAR AIMS SAYS NEW MINISTER

No Conflict Impending Unless Carried To Nippon By Russia, Hayashi Tells Press

TOKIO, Feb. 1.—(A.P.)—There will be no Russo-Japanese war "unless the war is carried to us by the other side," General Senjuro Hayashi told the Associated Press today in his first interview since he became war minister succeeding General Sadao Araki.

At the same time Hayashi said he "was incapable of conceiving any Japanese-American differences justifying any belief in a future Japanese-American war."

"We are making no preparations for any war with Russia," the general said flatly. "Our dispositions in Manchuria are merely (Continued on Page Two)

SOVIET HEAD SAYS NATION SET FOR WAR

Leader Sees Industry Eager To Mobilize In Order To Equip Red Troops For Conflict

MOSCOW, Feb. 1.—The Soviet Union produced "Many more tanks, heavy artillery, and machine guns in 1933 than in 1932," Ordzhonikidze, president of the supreme economic council told the all-union congress of the communist party today.

Then, using the term applied by Stalin to those cherishing warlike aims against the Soviet Union, he added "If those swines' noses compel our industry to mobilize in order to arm our Red troops I think we will do it with more strength and more successfully than we have ever done anything before."

The address created a sensation in the audience, many of whose members had only last Sunday listened to Stalin's ringing warning to the world against declaring war with Russia.

In that address, Stalin said "We warn everybody not to poke their snouts into the Soviet potato patch." In the talk in which he singled out Japan and Germany for particular criticism

Roosevelt Fixes Dollar Value At 59.06 Percent Of Former Equivalent In Gold; Change Seen Slight To Average Citizen

President Establishes Price At $35 Ounce For International Dealings In Metal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt yesterday devalued the dollar and gave the world a standing offer to buy and sell gold, according to the needs of international trade, at a fixed price in dollars, an action interpreted by treasury officials as putting the country "on a modified gold standard."

The President fixed the value of the dollar at 59.06 percent of its former gold equivalent, and on this basis a price of $35 an ounce was established for international dealings in gold.

With the cut in the dollar's gold content there was established automatically a $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund for the purpose of regulating the foreign value of the dollar, which officials said might not have to be extensively used, as they expected exchange rates would be firmly pegged by the price set on gold sales for export.

For the first time since last March, the President made it possible to settle America's international obligations in gold.

If Plan Is Success Dollar To Buy Less

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(A.P.)—The dollar in its new 59.06 percent dress will still make as much change as before.

But if President Roosevelt's managed currency plan succeeds, it eventually will buy less. That is, it will take more dollars to buy a bale of cotton or a bushel of wheat.

This is another way of expressing the theory that commodity prices will follow gold prices, that by making gold more easily in terms of dollars, other commodities will become more costly and producers, especially the farm population, will get more for what they sell.

Except as prices react, the dollar that's carried around in pocket books won't change at all. It still contains 23.22 grains of gold, 24.07 grains of silver, four-quarters, 20 grains.

What President Roosevelt's proclamation did was to reduce the amount of gold in the gold dollar as defined in the statute books.

The old gold dollar was 23.22 grains of gold, 24.07 grains of silver, and 120.00 grains of copper.

GREAT BRITAIN OKEYS ARMING OF GERMANY

10-Year Plan Proposed Would Approve All Reich Claims, Offer Additional Security

LONDON, Feb. 1.—(A.P.)—The British government last night made public its latest disarmament plan, calling on other nations to agree with the alternative "proposals," rare, the end of a long campaign.

The proposals of the armaments plan were published in a "White Paper" which said the proposal was submitted during the last few days to the powers concerned.

The note said that Great Britain recognized Germany's claim to equality in arms and emphasized that the return of Germany to Geneva and to the League of Nations should be an essential condition of an agreement.

The choice facing Europe, the memorandum declared, is as follows:

1. To reach an agreement to a treaty abandoning certain classes of weapons by the most heavily armed powers; or

2. To reach an agreement on a basis of equality of armaments.

January Bond Sales Highest On Record

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(A.P.)—Excluding U. S. government issues, January transactions in bonds on the New York Stock Exchange reached the highest total for any month on record. The aggregate approximated $343,000,000 while transfers of federal obligations amounted to an additional $70,000,000. The previous high mark, excluding U. S. government obligations, was about $357,000,000 made in October of 1929.

VERNE SANKEY, U. S. BAD MAN, IS ARRESTED

Long Hunt Ends With Peaceful Capture Of Man Suspected In Lindbergh Case

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(A.P.)—Verne Sankey, one of the nation's most notorious kidnapers, suspected of the fatal Lindbergh abduction and nearly a half dozen others, was captured here yesterday by federal agents, who said he confessed to taking part in two major kidnappings.

The former South Dakota rancher, turned desperado, was taken in a northside barber shop. He was unarmed and offered no resistance.

In his clothing were found several poison pills, presumably obtained for the purpose of ending his own life in event of apprehension. He was overpowered before having a chance to resist.

In Sankey's apartment was found a small arm and two .38 caliber revolvers, a sawed-off shotgun and a large quantity of ammunition. In a tin box was $20 bills, and $5.00 in $1 bills. A woman giving the name of Mrs. Matern was arrested at the apartment. She denied knowing Sankey's true identity.

Months of tireless search by Department of Justice agents ended last night in the announcement that Sankey had been arrested and had confessed to participating in the kidnaping of Charles Bremer and Haskell Bohn.

He denied agents said that he had any part in the kidnaping of William Hamm, Jr., wealthy St. Paul brewer, or Edward G. Bremer, banker son of another St. Paul brewer and close friend of President Roosevelt. Bremer disappeared Jan. 17 and is still missing.

ROPER ANSWERS ACCUSATIONS OF DICTATORSHIP

Congress Approved All Points Of Program Now In Use, He Says

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(A.P.)—One of the Roosevelt Administration's foremost spokesmen, Secretary Roper, yesterday replied in a public speech to charges of dictatorship leveled at the recovery programs.

Roper chose as a vehicle for his remarks an address before the conference of state directors of the various relief agencies and the Administration's national emergency council. He did not refer to the Republican leadership's Topeka address of Monday night, but he wove into his discussion an almost categorical answer to some of Mills' charges.

Roper said yesterday:

"Numerous plans and remedies were proposed last spring by the several industrial, economic and social groupings of our people. Through the efforts of President Roosevelt and his assistants and members of Congress, these several plans were brought together. After intelligent analysis and consideration, they were approved by an overwhelming majority in both houses of Congress."

"I mention this to emphasize the fact that there was no dictatorial attitude in evidence in suggesting a recovery program, no dictatorial attitude in presenting the bills to Congress, no dictatorial pressure in the passing of these bills by Congress, no dictatorial insistence that the Democratic procedure of our form of government be disregarded or suspended."

Mills said "our ancestors gave their lives to make the individual the master of his destiny and to take the servant rather than the master of the people."

"No countenance," Roper said, should be given to the hypothesis that the profit system is to be destroyed. But in the interest of all concerned, it must be controlled, harmonized and balanced."

New Orleans Mayor Threatens To Whip Huey Long On Sight

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(A.P.)—T. Semmes Walmisley, newly elected mayor of New Orleans and bitter political foe of Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana, said upon his arrival here yesterday on a business trip that if he ran into Long he would "beat him up."

Walmisley's declaration gave New Orleans one of its most heated municipal election campaigns during the course of which Walmisley said in a speech that if Long did not retract certain statements he had made "I'll go to Washington and make him swallow them."

Asked if he planned to see Long while here, Walmisley said: "I don't intend to place myself in the position of a mayor lying in wait for a senator, but if I see Long I'm going to beat him up."

Asked if he would make a point of seeing Long if he failed to meet him accidentally, the mayor said:

"Well, I deliberately stopp'd in the same hotel that he occupies. He has a reputation for staying in his room here—but I may run into him in the lobby."

Dollar Goes Down In Foreign Marts But Doesn't Stay

(By The Associated Press)

President Roosevelt's action yesterday in cutting the value of the United States dollar to 59.06 cents against gold, operations in all foreign exchange markets abroad today.

In those markets, the value of the dollar in terms of various foreign currencies represented as had been expected, remained unchanged, however, and instantly that the dollar value abroad was not merely to drop a few cents, but to fall and not stay there.

In London the dollar fell five cents, but to only a fraction it had gained back a cent and a half, selling at 107 in the market.

The dollar finally closed in London at 107 and three-quarters to the pound, only three-eighths of a cent weaker than yesterday.

In other places, where an active trading in commodities, the advance in gold and sterling on Chicago markets.

In New York stock market upward in heavy trading, and points of one to two dollars were numerous at the opening.

Home's mining gold stock soared nine dollars to 319 in the first sale and last closing. Railroad and industrial also jumped.

2 Rollins Students Die When Auto Fails To Negotiate Curve

ORLANDO, Feb. 1.—John McNutt was instantly killed, Thomas Trammell was fatally injured and three men received lesser hurts when the Packard car in which they were driving crashed into a fire plug at the 2000 block on North Orange Avenue last night.

All were Rollins College students.

The accident occurred when the huge open car, driven by Trammell, crashed into the fire plug as it failed to make the curve at that point. Witnesses said the car was being driven at a high rate of speed.

Bouncing from the fire plug, the car struck a telephone pole, tearing loose high tension wires, and rolled into the front yard of an adjoining house.

2 Women Injured In Head-On Collision On Orlando Road

Two women tourists were injured, one of them critically, and five other persons were bruised and shaken up when two automobiles collided head-on near the B. W. Anderson estate on the Sanford-Orlando highway south of the city during the driving rainstorm this morning.

The more seriously injured is Mrs. H. W. Felt of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, who suffered a brain concussion, a badly lacerated tongue, and other cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Felt, and Mrs. J. P. Streeter of Johnstown, N. Y., who received a broken leg and cuts about the head, were at the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital this afternoon, under treatment.

The accident happened at about 10:00 o'clock within the road area that is bounded on both sides by a wire guard railing, about 500 feet from the Anderson property.

Mr. Felt, driving his Ford coach passenger, had just rounded a slight curve in the roadway when he felt the rear tires skidding.

Before he could bring the car under control it had crashed head-on into a heavy sedan being driven southward by Mrs. Streeter, driving toward Orlando with Mrs. Streeter and three other women as passengers.

Damage to the two automobiles will not exceed $200, although both were crushed and dented by the impact when they all passengers forward in the cars. Mrs. Felt's head struck the windshield of the coach, while Mrs. Streeter's knee is believed to have struck the dashboard. Drivers of the cars agreed on a settlement of the damage.

New Kind Of Racket Successful In State

A brand new racket scheme operated with success in Central Florida, and there is reason to believe that the alleged racketeers are in or near this city, it was learned today in press reports.

The idea is that a man or a woman approaches you in all confidence to borrow a couple of dollars. If he receives the money, he or she will ask that the lender write his name and address on a slip of a paper that there is a good local endorsement.

The catch is that the piece of paper is a blank check, and the person signing his name endorses what is later tendered at some other store as a check upon which there is a good local endorsement.

Early Morning Fire Destroys Valuable Flock Of Chickens

First major fire loss in Sanford this morning when a three-story chicken house containing nearly 1200 White Leghorn hens and a large quantity of valuable equipment, all belonging to Hayward Walker of the Seminole Canning Co., was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at more than $1000. Most of the loss is covered by insurance.

The fire began at about 6:00 o'clock, stated Mr. Walker, who resides at 2014 Washington Avenue, in the city, and who is south of Sanford.

Mr. Walker stated that when he first noticed the fire, it had consumed the entire lower floor of the three-story chicken house which stood to the north of his property. Within a short time, the fire had spread to the upper floors, and had been extinguished with more than 500 gallons of water.

Commander Lane stated that the fire was caused by a gas stove which had exploded in the kitchen of the chicken house.
