State may change grading system

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — One year into the state's policy of giving schools performance grades and the rules may already be changing. Governor Jeb Bush's one-year-old "A+ Education Reform Plan" provides for schools to receive letter grades based on standards for test scores, attendance, discipline, and high school graduation rates. However, the law was put into effect without changing old state rules that provided for schools to be ranked on a scale

Bush's 'A+' plan in conflict with older legislation of one to five. The state legislature in December will consider changes to the existing rules concerning school performance standards so the rules will not conflict with Bush's plan. Marion Dailey, director of instructional support services for the Seminole County school-district, said the district's school principals want rules to remain consistent between the first year and the second year. "We know how to prepare for the grades right now," Dailey said. "We need the rules to remain consistent." Because the existing rules address school performance there is a possibility that changing the rules may affect the way schools are graded, said Karen Chandler, spokesperson for the Department of Education. "We're not prejudging anything," Chandler said. "We want to hear what the public has to say." Florida Department of Education staff will conduct a rule-development workshop on Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. concerning the grading system at the Seminole County School Board meeting room of the Educational Support Center in Sanford. Concerned member of the public will See Grading, Page 5A

Fire in Lake Mary

Firefighters from the Seminole County Fire Department, Sanford Fire Department and Lake Mary Fire Department responded to a fire at 177 Grand Bend Drive in Lake Mary. No injuries were reported, but the home sustained heavy damage in the garage area. Lake Mary fire officials are still investigating the cause of the fire.

Smoking in the boys' room lands prisoner in hot water

By Joe DeBartle
Staff Writer

SANFORD — A 62-year-old Seminole County jail trusty has been relieved of his status and faces a charge of violation of probation after getting caught smoking and almost starting a fire in a storage room at the jail Tuesday night. Shortly after 6 p.m. a detention deputy smelled smoke in the lobby area of the jail. After finding no sign of fire during a search of the facility's courtrooms, lobby, restrooms, and administrative offices, deputies then turned their attention to a trusty storage room in the lobby of the jail building. There they observed smoke and burning rags inside a milk crate, which was quickly taken outside the building and extinguished. The Seminole County Fire Department responded and determined the fire was started by a lit cigarette. A further search of the storage room revealed a pack of cigarettes on top of an air duct in the room. The outside trusty was charged with violation of probation and placed in Administrative Confinement pending the results of a Disciplinary Review Board Hearing. The trusty is identified as Paul Morris, who is serving a four-and-a-half month sentence for Violation of Community Control in relation to a DUI conviction. Morris has been removed as a trusty and may face an additional charge stemming from the incident. Damage to the storage closet was minimal. The jail is a smoke-free building, and applies to both staff and inmates.

Oviedo council appoints residents to study traffic congestion on SR 434

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

OVIEDO — The Oviedo City Council this week appointed members to an advisory committee to review plans to ease congestion on State Road 434. The council in June agreed to form the group after residents protested plans to route traffic along Division Street. Since then, two new council members have been elected who also oppose plans to route traffic along residential streets. Chris Jepsen and Tom O'Hanlon will replace George Vaile and Gary Gotwalt on the council in October, while Mary Lou Andrews will replace Mimi Bruce as Mayor. The Mayor does not have a vote on Oviedo's City Council.

Oviedo and Seminole County officials are looking to establish a more effective road network in the northwest sector of Oviedo. The council has approved a priority list for areas to re-route traffic, and will receive $4.9 million in funding from Seminole County in October 2001. In addition to 10 representatives from various areas of the city, there was also one at-large member appointed. The city will pay a private company $11,410 to coordinate the activities of the citizens' advisory committee. Councilman John Benson, who opposed forming the advisory committee, provided the lone vote against approving funding for the committee. See Oviedo, Page 5A

Mud flies in Longwood political races

Candidates warned to keep campaign activities away from city property

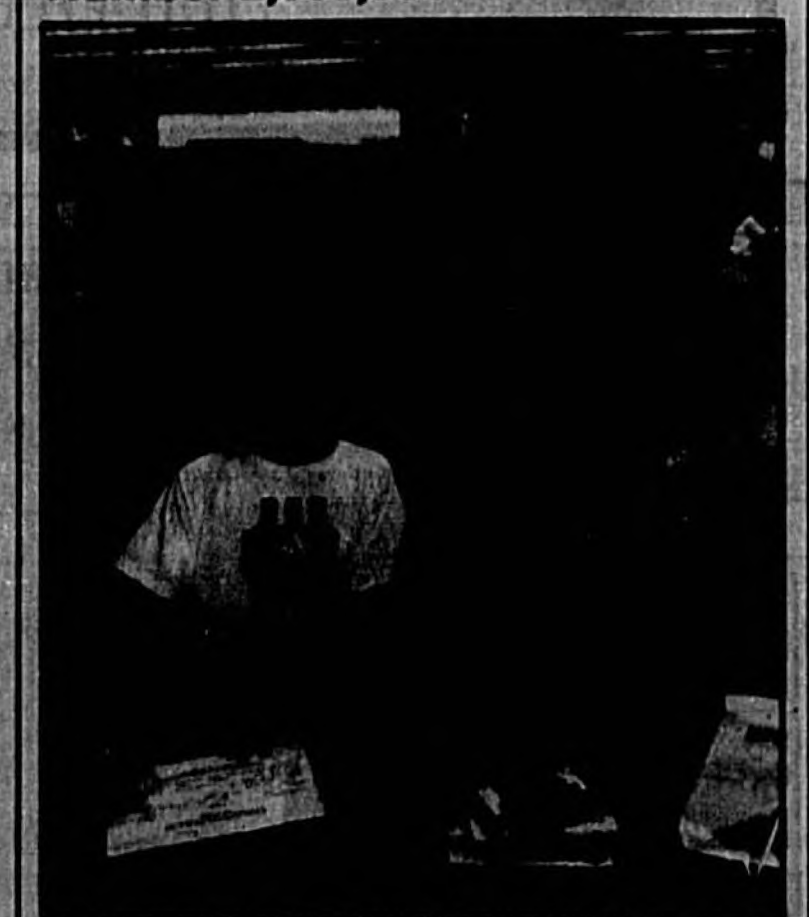

By Joe DeBartle
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — With Longwood's city commission election just six weeks off, the mud is beginning to fly in the municipality and it's not coming from Mud Lake. City Administrator John Drago gently reminded candidates last week that when it comes to politics, city property and city employees on city time are off limits. His admonishment comes none too soon. Drago's wake up call came after a letter of complaint that suggests commissioner Rusty Miles paid a visit to the office of Tom Smith, division manager of

Streets and Fleets who in turn summoned union representative Lou Capone for a meeting in Smith's office while Capone was still on the clock. Miles confirmed the meeting did in fact take place, but it was after hours. "There's some real sour grapes going in and it will get worse as the election gets closer," said Miles. "I guess it's OK for the mayor (Paul Lovstrand) and commissioner Steve Miller to conveniently stop by the fire department and police department to chat now and then — maybe they're talking about the weather." Miles said he met with Capone on Sept. 9 to discuss a promise of political support Capone made in April. See Longwood, Page 4A

Harvey - we hardly knew any of you

Harvey, the storm that was all yap and no zap, won't be remembered a year from now. That's the way it is with most Harveys.

No one remembers them. Harvey, the invisible rabbit, had some hop. And "Good Day" to you, Paul Harvey. Harvey Korman makes us laugh - so does Harvey Lembeck.

Harvey Wallbangers are fun. So is Harvey's Bristol Creme.

Dr. William Harvey (1578-1657) is credited with discovering the circulation of blood. A jolly good doc was he.

Harvey Firestone was big on tires. A jolly good tread was he.

The late Laurence Harvey was a good act. Actor/producer Harvey Keitel is reeling in success today. As a child Keitel had a severe stutter. He sold shoes while studying under Lee Strasberg at the Actor's Studio.

P.J. Harvey can sing. Harvey Weinstein calls the shots at Miramax Studio.

Horace and Harvey Grant are good at hoop - Horace the more successful.

Harvey Haddix pitched a no-hitter for 12 innings but lost in the 13th. Harvey Kuenn was a batting champion. Two fine baseball Harveys who have passed away.

Montreal Canadiens defenseman Doug Harvey is in Hockey's Hall of Fame. A jolly good skate was he.

There is no Saint Harvey, no Apostle Harvey nor Pope Harvey.

There's never been a President Harvey, Vice President Harvey nor First Lady Harvey. No King nor Queen Harvey (unless you count Harvey Firestein).

"Harvey" ran for 1,755 days on Broadway - longer than Guys and Dolls, Annie Get Your Gun, Cabaret, the Music Man or Mame.

Remember Judy Garland in the Harvey Girls? (1946) Look for Ray Bolger and Angela Lansbury they were in the movie, too.

If Steve Garvey wasn't a Steve, he might have been Harvey Garvey. Or if Dana Carvey wasn't a Dana, he might have been a Harvey Carvey.

There are a couple of columns of Harveys - and one Harvie - in the Central Florida telephone book. There's a Napoleon Harvey, a Matthew, Mark, and John but no Luke Harvey. There's a Harvey's Bistro (check the rabbit outside) in Orlando but no HarveyWorld. Nowadays, no one names a child, Harvey.

Harvey Milk may have been the last.

If your first name is Harvey, please forgive what we've done to your name.

If you're not a Harvey, be glad. There's a better chance people will remember you.

Russ White's column appears Tuesday through Saturday in the Seminole Herald.

"Lou conveniently indicated he had no recollection of the promise. Then we talked about setting up a meeting with a union representative from Jacksonville," confirmed Miles. "Maybe the mayor should look at his own house. I can't remember the exact date but last April he went to talk to some city employees during work hours to discuss union business. He's admitted in commission meetings that he's talked to city employees on company time."

Drago said he called Miles to remind him of policies relating to political activity and said he may have also mentioned election sensitivities to commission Annamarie Vacca.

"They all need to be reminded of the rules," said Drago. "And that goes for all the candidates, not just the incumbents."

Miles is facing a challenge from Longwood businessman John Maingot while Vacca is facing a challenge for her district seat from Butch Bundy. Bundy and Maingot are supported by Lovestrand.

"Mr. Maingot just became a citizen of this country on August 16," said Miles. "I'm sure he'll enjoy casting his first vote for himself."

The board of commissioners formally approved the city's fiscal budget for the next year on Monday night's public hearing. Within the $10.7 million spending plan are provisions for $500 raises for all city employees in addition to cost of living adjustments and merit pay increases. The boost was pushed by Lovestrand, Miller and Dan Anderson. Miles suggested that Capone's "convenient loss of memory" regarding an April promise of political support may be tied to the raises.

Grading

have up to five minutes to discuss their views about the school performance grading system. The workshop will be coordinated by John Weigman, bureau chief for the Department of Education.

Five workshops will be held statewide on Tuesday to receive public input on rule development concerning public school performance grades. Other workshops will be held in Panama City, Tallahassee, West Palm Beach, and Largo.

Seminole County public schools may have performed well in accountability grades released in August, but as the system enters its second year School Board officials are concerned that the system may favor private schools over public schools.

Board Chairman Larry Furlong said the grading system provides for vouchers to private schools when a school receives an "F," even though teachers at private schools are not required to be state certified.

"How come teachers in these schools don't have to be licensed?" Furlong said. "The lunacy of this whole thing has to be addressed."

The grading system is part of the same education reform package that created a plan for parents in schools receiving an "F" twice in four years to receive vouchers for private schools. School-district administrators will discuss their concerns during Tuesday's meeting. Dailey said that principals are concerned about the state's method of compiling information on school discipline.

"Too many discipline problems knock a school out from an A or B," Dailey said. "Especially in schools where you have a large population of Exceptional Education students, principals are concerned about that."

Dailey said that principals would also like students to be given the FCAT, measuring a student's math and writing achievement, in the 11th grade rather than the 10th grade. In addition, Dailey said school officials want students to be in the district for a certain period of time before the district is held accountable for the student's performance.

"Schools would like to have more time to work with students before they are judged on their performance," Dailey said.

Jeff Siskind, president of Seminole Education Association, said his organization is concerned that if students receive vouchers for private schools, teachers at the schools should face the same certification standards as public school teachers.

"We should have had these hearings and rule changes before the policy took effect," Siskind said. "They're putting the cart before the horse."

Fourteen Seminole County schools received "A's" in revised school accountability grades released by the Florida Department of Education on Monday. Twelve Seminole County schools received "B's," while 17 received "C's" and six received "D's."

The school-district appealed grades released in June because an error was made by the district in reporting the percentage of students who were tested.

Seminole County was not alone in appealing school grades. The Department of Education in August released the results of 111 school grade appeals in 29 districts.

Appeals statewide primarily related to correcting the data for the number of students tested, submission of inaccurate student grade levels, misclassification of students, and misclassification of schools.

The "D" schools performed below expectations in one or two subjects. The "C" schools met minimum expectations in all areas.

To receive a "B," the current reading, writing, and math data must be at or above the state's higher performing standards. No subgroup in the school can perform below the state's minimum standards. In addition, at least 90 percent of standard curriculum students must be tested.

To receive an "A," the percent of students absent more than 20 days, and the suspension and dropout rates must be below state averages. Substantial improvements must be made in reading, without substantial declines in writing or math scores. At least 95 percent of the standard curriculum students must be tested. Plus, the schools must meet all the standards for the "B" schools.

tee. The measure was approved 4-1.

"It's a bad idea to spend money with two new commissioners coming on," Benson said. "I was against this idea to begin with, and now we're going to spend more of the city's money."

The committee will provide input to the Land Planning Agency and City Council on policy issues related to implementing transportation projects.

"I don't think the city should stop everything, no matter how big or small, and delay for two weeks because there are two new members coming."

Councilman Bob Dallari said. "It will be good to have citizen input on this, and we need to move forward."

Appointments to the committee include Richard Carroll, a comptroller for a natural gas utility company, representing Alafaya Woods, Valerie El-Jamil, an attorney, for MacKinley's Mill and Bentley Woods, and civil engineer Chuck McManus for the Kingsbridge subdivision.

Mike Ertel, a public relations specialist, was appointed to represent the Little Creek area. Other appointees include college music instructor Amy Gifford for Mead Manor, former City Councilman and residential contractor E.P. Bruce for the downtown commercial district, and civil engineer Lawrence Wright for the Riverside area.

James Crutchfield, a traffic management analyst, will represent Twin Rivers, while William Baker, vice president and general manager of Oviedo Marketplace will represent the Westgate Mall District.

Also appointed were professional surveyor Rick Burns for the area of Pine Avenue, and Kathryn Townsend, a grants coordinator for Seminole County, as an at-large nomination.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Last-but-not-least winners like overtricks

By Phillip Alder

For our final look at the Millennium Games, we reach the East-West winners for Saturday, June 5. They were Tom Mori, from Lee's Summit, Mo., and Jim Wattenbarger, from Kansas City, Mo. They scored 1741 instant matchpoints: 72.8 percent.

The secret of success in pairs events is twofold: going plus, and raking in overtricks. After a session, if you check your matchpoint scores on all deals, you will find that on most boards in which you went plus, you scored over average. In this deal, though, Mori and Wattenbarger did well because they collected an over-trick.

If an opponent opens with one strong no-trump, it pays to compete. Try to find a safe spot; normally don't think about getting to game. After West's overcall, North employed the Lebensohl convention. His two-suited response forced partner to rebid three clubs. Then the three-heart cue-bid showed exactly four spades and a heart stopper. (An immediate cue-bid denies a heart stopper.)

West led the heart 10, which promised either ace or two higher honors. Wattenbarger saw eight top tricks: one spade, one heart, five diamonds and one club. At trick two, declarer did very well, calling for the spade 10; jack, ace, nine. As that beautiful ace had appeared, Wattenbarger returned the spade seven, setting up three more tricks.

East led his second heart, but after West took two tricks in the suit, Wattenbarger claimed an overtrick for 50 instant matchpoints out of 100. However, if declarer had won only nine tricks, he would have received 60 matchpoints.

ASK DR. GOTT

Nurse needed to 'relax'

DEAR DR. GOTT: I recently watched a nurse try repeatedly to insert an intravenous needle into my 6-year-old granddaughter's arm. The child cried and the nurse yelled: "Relax! I don't like to see a nurse who blames her lack of skill on the patient. Is it possible to relax when someone is hurting you?"

DEAR READER: Not on your life. I do not believe that most of us — certainly not a 6-year-old child — can relax on command. Even though the nurse was frustrated, she acted unprofessionally in responding as she did. I suspect that the nurse was, in fact, telling herself to relax. I am sorry to hear of this event, which only served to increase the little girl's level of fear and mistrust.

In my experience, it's often difficult to start an IV in children because their veins can be very small — and kids wiggle when they're in pain. In such situations, most experienced health-care providers will step back and exhibit a much more supportive and calming tone, even though they may be sweating from the stress. Children need reassurance and some sort of explanation for what's going on. Rather than "Relax!," the more capable nurse might have said: "I'm sorry this is so painful. I'll try to finish this as quickly as I can. It hurts too much, so we stop for a while." Then she ought to get help if she needs it. Above all, medical professionals ought to avoid playing the game of "It's Your Fault" in situations like this.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What's your opinion of the food supplement called Farnox, which is supposed to lower cholesterol?

DEAR READER: Based on the observation that the French, who drink red wine, have a lower incidence of heart attack than do Americans, nutrition experts have hypothesized that phenols contained in the wine may have beneficial health effects. But what to do? These very red-wine drinkers also have a phenomenal rate of alcohol-induced liver disease.

Not surprisingly, a California company has begun marketing non-alcohol-containing pills made up of the polyphenols present in wine. This would seem to be the best of two worlds: The advantages of wine without its risks (or pleasure). I don't know how this pill will play out. To date, there have been no studies showing that polyphenols in wine or pills affect cholesterol to a significant degree. Therefore, in all honesty, I cannot give you an opinion at this time.

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Understanding Cholesterol." Other readers who would like a copy should send $3 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10108. Be sure to mention this title.

Visitation: What are grandparents' rights under Florida law

Last week we discussed grandparent visitation and laid out the statutory framework for enforcing the visitation.

In sum, Florida Statutes provide for grandparent visitation if the Court finds that grandparent visitation is in the best interest of the minor child or children and if any of the following circumstances apply (a) One or both parents of the minor child or children are deceased; (b) The marriage of the parents of the minor child or children has been dissolved; (c) A parent of the minor child or children has deserted the minor child or children; (d) The minor child or children were born out of wedlock and have not been determined to be children born within wedlock by the subsequent marriage of the parents; or (e)

The minor child or children is living with both natural parents who are still married to each other whether or not there is a broken relationship between either or both parents of the minor child or children and the grandparents, and either or both parents have used their parental authority to prohibit a relationship between the minor child or children and the grandparents.

However, the Supreme Court of Florida has ruled that (a) and (e) above are unconstitutional because they violate the right to privacy guaranteed to all citizens by Article 1, Section 23, of the Constitution of Florida.

The right to privacy prohibits the State from intruding into a citizen's private life unless the State can demonstrate that the challenged regulation serves a compelling state interest and accomplishes its goal through the use of the least intrusive means. Through its opinions, the Supreme Court of Florida has ruled that the above two sections of the statute do not demonstrate such a compelling interest because they do not require that the State demonstrate a harm to the child prior to the award of grandparents visitation rights.

ANNOUNCEMENT

People's Law

Unlike with sections (a) and (e) above, with sections (b) and (d) above, the District Courts of Appeal of Florida are in conflict and the Supreme Court of Florida has yet to rule on them. This means that in the Districts where those sections have been held to be constitutional the Courts can award grandparents visitation if the circumstances delineated in the statute apply and if the visitation is in the best interests of the child or children.

Conversely, in those Districts where those sections have been held to be unconstitutional the Courts can not enforce grandparents visitation via this statute. Finally, in those Districts that have not ruled either way, the Courts may adopt the reasoning of the District they find persuasive.

Unfortunately, the conflicts between the Courts have increased the controversy between grandparents and their children in many cases because the most likely way to get grandparents visitation is to file a Dependency Petition alleging that the child or children have been neglected or to report the neglect to the Department of Children and Families and hope that the Department brings an action for dependency. If a Petition for Dependency is brought and the child or children are found dependent, the Court hearing that matter would then be empowered to grant grandparents visitation, under a best interests of the child standard, thereby obviating the constitutional issues.

Florida Statutes provide for grandparent visitation if the Court finds that grandparent visitation is in the best interest of the minor child or children and certain circumstances apply. And although grandparents visitation is still available to grandparents under certain circumstances those circumstances have been limited by the rulings of the Supreme Court of Florida and the District Courts of Appeal.

In the coming weeks we will discuss other aspects of grandparent visitation as well as other aspects of family law.

Taking deceased's property is burglary

DEAR ABBY: The letter about the ex-wife who removed property from the home of her former mother-in-law on the day of the woman's funeral prompts this letter. You were right when you advised that what the woman did qualifies as a criminal activity. Entering a dwelling in order to remove property not your own is a felony called burglary.

I would not merely call my lawyer; I would immediately notify the police before the ex-wife disappears of the property. Having knowledge of a crime and failing to report that crime is also a violation in some jurisdictions. The irony here is that the son of the deceased may be adding to the offense by failing to notify the police.

Also, the executor of the estate has an additional duty, enforced by the probate court, to secure and properly dispose of the deceased's assets. Failing to do so is also an offense.

You know all of this, I'm sure. I am a retired law enforcement officer, but please just sign me ...

NOT A LAWYER IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

DEAR NOT: I was not aware of much of the information in your letter, and the case it will be of interest to many people.

I received another comment about that letter from an attorney in Louisiana, who informed me that asking one's lawyer to write a letter demanding the property be returned, and threatening to call the law if it's not, could be construed as extortion or coercion. So I'm revising my answer. Waste no time in informing the police about the theft.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have a dilemma over something that occurred at our wedding. We invited my mother's first cousin (whom I've only met twice) and his wife out of courtesy to my grandmother. (My mother is deceased.) The cousin called our home five days before the wedding and informed us that he would be bringing his son from college and bringing him to the wedding, "since he's family and all." He said he'd be doing this because it would give the three of them time to spend together.

Given the late notice with which he called, we decided that it was simply too late to add another guest. I spoke with him the following day, and he agreed with us and said it was "no problem" to come without his son.

To our surprise, however, while dancing at our reception, my new bride and I noticed the cousin's wife and son dancing! We don't know when he arrived or if he was there for the ceremony, cocktail party and/or dinner (however, no dinner was ordered for him and no place setting reserved). They never came over to speak to us during the evening, and we decided not to address the issue on our wedding day.

Abby, we spent a year carefully planning our wedding, and as hosts, we felt it was presumptuous of them to make a decision about our guest list against our explicit request. Under the circumstances, we do not feel comfortable accepting their wedding gift. We appreciate the gift, but are too hurt by the disrespect and disregard we feel we were shown to accept it. Should we send a letter explaining our feelings and return the gift, or is there a more appropriate course of action?

IGNORED IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

DEAR IGNORED: Although I don't blame you for being furious, to return their gift would mean the end of the relationship. Unless you're prepared for that, I wouldn't recommend it. Remember instead the happiness of the occasion, and don't dwell on the faults of these distant relatives.

To receive a collection of Abby's most memorable - and most frequently requested - poems and essays, send a business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $2.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby's "Response," P.O. Box 467, Mount Morris, IL 61854-0467. (Postage is included.)

Company provides neighborhood watch with special wireless phones

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Neighborhood Watch program volunteers in Seminole County are getting a boost in their ability to "drop a dime" on crime this week.

BellSouth Mobility and Motorola Mobile Phones, in partnership with the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, will donate 15 special-use wireless phones to be utilized by the sheriff's Neighborhood Watch program.

The phones and airtime are donated as part of BellSouth Mobility's continuing commitment to the nationwide Community on Phone Patrol (COPP) program. Research indicates that Neighborhood Watch programs armed with wireless phones can reduce burglaries and other crimes by as much as 30 percent and reduce other risks to homeowners.

The program, now four years old, has also equipped walking postal workers who have served as the eyes and ears of law enforcement for residential areas around the country. The special-use phones are equipped to call two telephone numbers. One is pre-programmed for 911 emergencies, while the second pre-programmed number dials directly to non-emergency numbers at the sheriff's office so Neighborhood Watch members can report suspicious activities or other public safety hazards.

"Nationwide, about 90,000 911-calls and other emergency calls are received over wireless phones to various agencies each day," said BellSouth Mobility's Caryn Krumwiede. BellSouth Mobility has also donated wireless phones to the National Guard, American Red Cross, emergency shelters, and domestic violence counselors.

"The Neighborhood Watch program is a critical part of our community policing strategy. With these phones, Neighborhood Watch coordinators will be able to do a better job of serving as extra eyes and ears for our officers."

Don Eslinger
Seminole County Sheriff

In Seminole County's case, block captains for Neighborhood Watch programs can report crimes and other dangerous situations on a direct link with the Sheriff's office without having to leave the scene of an incident.

"The Neighborhood Watch program is a critical part of our community policing strategy," said Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger. "With these phones, Neighborhood Watch coordinators will be able to do a better job of serving as extra eyes and ears for our officers."

Krumwiede said the sheriff's department will have use of the phones for the Neighborhood Watch program for an indefinite period of time.

"We track the number of calls and the program seems to be a benefit in the areas that it is used," said Krumwiede.

Crucial district match-ups highlight this week's prep football schedule

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Without much doubt, the big game on the Central Florida High School football scene this week is the match-up of fellow undefeated and Class 5A state-ranked teams Mainland and Seminole at Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium this Friday night.

But it is far from the only important contest as all seven Seminole Athletic Conference squads will face what amounts to must-win district games this week.

The Fighting Seminole improved to 3-0 overall and 3-0 in the SAC by edging Lake Brantley 28-21 last Friday.

That victory impressed voters as the Tribe jumped from No. 10 to No. 7 in this week's Class 5A FSWA State Poll.

But the Buccaneers (3-0) have also been very impressive, blanketing all three of its foes, including a 38-20 victory over Hueneme High School from Oxnard, California last Saturday night at the Disney Wide World of Sports complex.

Mainland also moved up a spot in the state poll with the win, improving to No. 4.

The Bucs have been led by running backs P.J. Smith (310-yards on 45 attempts, four touchdowns) and freshman Brandon Wingfield, but it is outstanding senior quarterback Brandon Summer that directs the attack.

Summer is 14-1 since becoming Mainland's starting signal-caller last season and has completed 18 of 27 passes for 444 yards (27.4 yards per catch).

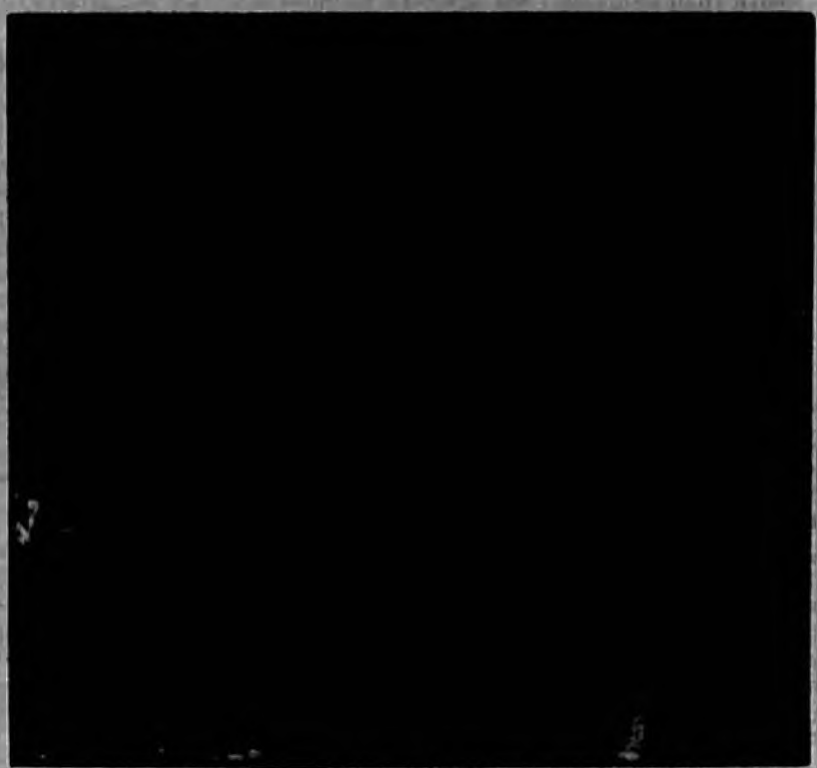

A lot of the credit for the Bucs' early success goes to an offensive line that averages just under 300 pounds. The biggest of the quartet is junior John Wilson, who is 6-foot-8 and weighs 331 pounds.

If Seminole is to knock off Mainland for the first time in several years, just as it did last week against Lake Brantley, the linebacking corps of Johnnie McKinnon, Mike Bradley, Chris White and Diron Torain must come up big again.

Against the Patriots last Friday, the Tribe came up with four crucial fourth-down stops and also kept the Lake Brantley offense in check for much of the second half.

The Seminole offense, under the direction of senior quarterback Garrett Goldsmith, must also

The Seminole High School offense will have to match the big-play attack of Mainland if the Fighting Seminole hope to remain undefeated and take control of the Class 5A-District 4 race.

Tribe girls drop heart-breaker to Spruce Creek in volleyball

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

PORT ORANGE - The Seminole High School girls' volleyball team fought back from a bad first game to force a winner-take-all third game, but could not keep up the momentum as it dropped a three-game match to Spruce Creek Wednesday night.

"It was a hard-fought battle," said Seminole coach Beth Corso. "We've got to learn to pull that win out."

The Hawks routed the Fighting Seminole in the first game, prevailing 15-6.

But the Tribe battled back in the second game, taking a 15-10 victory.

The deciding game was close throughout, but in the end the hosts survived 15-12.

The loss was especially disheartening after Seminole (3-6) had swept past Lake Howell (1-6), 15-5 and 16-14, in a big Class 5A-District 4 match at home on Tuesday.

The Tribe's serving game was outstanding, with seniors Kim Nelson (five aces, 13 good serves) and Courtney Newman (three aces, 13 good serves) having no errors as the team came up with 15 aces. Junior Kim Corso had six aces, while sophomore Tara Wiggins (1 ace, 10 good serves) and junior Michelle Carrel (nine good serves) also had good matches.

Seminole had 31 kills on 83 attacks and also had 23 assists, two block assists and 26 digs.

Doing the damage for the Tribe were Corso (14 assists, one block assist, four kills), Nelson (seven assists, four kills, four digs), Newman (six kills, five digs), Carrel (six kills, seven digs), Wiggins (seven kills, four digs), sophomore Jessica Chick (four kills, one block assist) and junior Tracy Swaynes (five digs).

Seminole has a pair of Seminole Athletic Conference matches next week, hosting Oviedo at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium on Tuesday, with the freshmen serving off the action at 4:30 p.m., and going to Lake Brantley on Thursday, with the freshman match beginning at 5 p.m.

In other girls' volleyball matches:

Winter Springs (9-1) routed Lyman, 15-7 and 15-1, and Oviedo (7-6) knocked off Lake Brantley, 15-3, 9-15 and 15-

12, on Tuesday, while Apopka (5-2) edged the Greyhounds (0-9), 15-7 and 15-6 and defeated Bishop Moore (7-0) clobbered Lake Howell (1-7), 15-4 and 15-3, on Wednesday.

In a boys' match on Wednesday, Lake Mary improved to 7-0 on the season with a 15-4 and 15-13 defeat of Lake Howell (3-2) in a Seminole Athletic Conference match-up.

In other prep action:

Fall softball season begins with a bang

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - The City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Fall Slowpitch Softball League finally got started Wednesday and if the first night is any indication, this is going to be some season.

Playing at Pinehurst Park, the Men's Wednesday Night League opened with an outstanding tri-pehader, including one game that was not decided until the final at bat.

The first game saw Wells Contracting jump out to a 10-0 on the strength of a five-run top of the fourth inning.

On the verge of being caught by the Sun Rule, the newest entry in the league, IFI, did battle back to make it the final score respectable, falling 12-5.

The middle game found two of the top teams in all of Sanford, Beer :30 and Wilson-Eichelberger Funeral Home, put on a furious battle.

Sam Raines and Myriel Reid drove in second inning runs as Wilson-Eichelberger broke on top in the second inning.

Jeremy Chumot piated a run for Beer :30 in the third inning, before Calvin Davis and Duke

Roberts drove in runs for Wilson-Eichelberger in the fourth inning to make the score 4-1.

Wilson-Eichelberger looked like it was headed to an easy victory as it scored another in the fifth inning on RBI by Tony Smith to take a 5-1 advantage.

But Beer :30 suddenly caught fire, scoring five runs in the top of the sixth inning with Jerry Governale driving in two runs and Tom Willis and Mark Clatterback plating one each to give the visitors a 6-5 lead.

Wilson-Eichelberger was not about to give a victory away, however, as, with one out in the bottom of the seventh inning, Greg Hardy singled and Derek Brinson reached on an error. Steve Dennis walked to lead the bases and Arthur Barnes followed with a single to tie the score. Smith then capped off the rally with a single to give Wilson-Eichelberger the 7-6 victory.

The late game saw the Spring champions get upset as Vivona's, another new team, rallied to beat Brian's Lawn Maintenance (formerly Pebble Junction), 9-6.

Powering Wells Contracting to victory were Chris Wargo (one triple, one double, one single, three runs scored, three RBI), George Forzig (three singles, one run scored, one RBI), Chris Bryson (two doubles, one run scored, two RBI), Randy Brown (two singles, one run scored, one RBI) and Mike Hughes (two singles, one run scored).

Also contributing were Matt Kalaanik (one single, three runs scored), Tim Cooper (one single, one RBI), Kenny Brown (one single) and Troy Hickson and Rick Wells (one run scored each).

Providing the offense for IFI were Red Garner (two singles, one run scored), Javier Casarcho (one triple, one run scored, two RBI), Bobby Brown (one triple, one run scored), Jay Bacak (one triple), Downy Corco (one single, one run scored), Robert LaFontaine (one single, one RBI), Ben Wettsack (one single) and Terry Adkinson (one run scored, one RBI).

Leading the way for Wilson-Eichelberger were Tony Smith (one double, two singles, two runs scored, two RBI), Sam Raines (three singles, one RBI) and Duke Roberts (two singles, one run scored, one RBI).

Other hitters were Calvin Davis (one single, one run scored, one RBI), Dana Neek and Greg Hardy (one single and one run scored each), Arthur Barnes (one single, one RBI), Chris Wargo went 3-for-5, including a triple and a double, reached base all five trips to the plate, scored three runs and drove in three to help Wells Contracting defeat IFI, 12-5, Wednesday night.

Derek Brinson (two runs scored) and Myriel Reid (one RBI).

Doing the damage for Beer :30 were Jamie Pizar (three singles, one run scored), Tom Willis (two singles, one RBI), Jerry Governale (one single, one run scored, two RBI), Jeremy Chumot (one single, one run scored, one RBI), Mike McLean (one single) and Mike Marshall (one run scored).

Facing Vivona's attack were Jimmy King (one triple, three

UCF home for soccer matches

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - The University of Central Florida women's soccer team (2-3) returns to the UCF Arena field today (Thursday) after going 2-3 on a four game stretch on the road.

They play host to Trans America Athletic Conference rival Campbell University (1-1) at 7 p.m.

UCF will fight to maintain a perfect 5-0 record against Campbell. The Golden Knights are second in TAAC standings while Campbell is tied for seventh. Defending TAAC champion UCF will looking to regain the first place slot, which it held until a 4-0 loss to Miami this past Sunday.

"The Miami game was obviously not pretty to watch," said UCF head coach Amanda Cromwell (20-18-1). "We did give away much to our opponents in that game in penalties, so we hope not to be caught off guard like we were against Miami and Florida."

Part of the recovery lies in the hosting of starting midfielder Christy Roberts (Clackmann, Ohio/Blakesley High School), who injured her shoulder in UCF's 2-0 win over Florida International two days before the Miami game.

Roberts, who leads the team in scoring, expressed a wish for an interesting matchup on Tuesday and should be at full force for Thursday's game.

Campbell is coming off a hard-fought tie against Station. UCF defenders will have to work to contain sophomore midfielder Deborah Hartgrove who has scored twice on only three attempts this season.

UCF will follow the Campbell match-up with a home game against TAAC leader Georgia State on Saturday, September 26, at 2 p.m.

Running backs Willie Bennett and Clarence Lattner have been outstanding, as has been Goldsmith when called upon to run, but Goldsmith will need to be more accurate with his throws than last week and complete some passes to receivers Julius Francis, Ed Manning, Andrew Beatty and Mark Hughes if the Tribe want to keep a talented Mainland defense off balance.

In other games this week, Lake Brantley (2-1) will be looking to get back into the victory column and go to 2-0 in Class 6A-District 2 when it visits University.

Quarterback Bryan Smith, running backs Hector Diaz, Lanier Bush and Randy Casey and defensive lineman Chris Rauth lead the way for the Patriots.

Winter Springs will be heading to Port Orange to take on undefeated (3-0) Spruce Creek in a 5A-4 contest. The Bears have already lost to Mainland and if they want to keep any hopes of a post-season bid alive, they must beat the high-flying Hawks in their home turf.

Oviedo and Lake Mary (2-1) will be at Oviedo's John Courter Field to take on the 2-1 Lions. The Rams are 1-0 in the district race and hopes to remain undefeated with a big game scheduled later this year with Lake Brantley. Oviedo has already lost to the Patriots and must win this game to keep its district title hopes alive.

Winless Lake Howell and Lyman, both 0-2, will battle in a 5A-4 game at the Carlton Herley Sports Complex in Longwood. This will be the district opener for the Silver Hawks, while the Greyhounds have a loss at the hands of Seminole, so a victory by each school is monumentally important to any playoff hopes.
