Gun Control No Answer, Experts Say

By SYBIL MITCHELL GANDY
And CINDY MOOY

In the wake of the assassination attempt on President Reagan, renewed cries for stiffer gun control legislation are being heard.

But according to law enforcement officers in Seminole County, the answer to violent crimes involving firearms lies with courts, not in gun control statutes.

"According to state law, a judge is required to give a convicted felon using firearms a mandatory sentence of three years in prison," says Sgt. Herb Shea Jr., armorer at the Sanford Police Department.

But, Shea and others point out, the judicial system tends to circumvent this mandate through the plea-bargaining process. Many times by court date, the defendant's plea is guilty and the sentence is considerably less than three years.

From what county law officers say, the courts themselves are not using existing laws to the best possible advantage.

"A significant percentage of the felonies involving the use of guns aren't given the three-year mandatory sentence after the plea-bargaining process, said Police Chief Barry Cook of Altamonte Springs.

"Stiffer gun control legislation would probably be futile. For instance, no waiting period exists in the Florida statutes for purchasing a handgun.

"But no period of waiting could be an effective deterrent here unless it is instituted state-wide or nation-wide. Anyone who desires to buy a gun can simply drive a few miles outside the jurisdiction of the county," Cook said.

Officials were pretty much in agreement on one point: there is no magic number for mandatory sentencing — not three years, not five years, and not 10. The answer is in the courts, they say.

Although Casselberry Police Chief George Karcher declined to comment on gun control legislation or the judicial system in Florida, he did express support for a mandatory prison sentence of some kind.

In 1980, more than 1,387 murders were reported by law enforcement agencies throughout Florida, according to the 1980 Crime In Florida Report issued by the State Department of Law Enforcement. Eight occurred in Seminole County: 3 in Sanford, 1 in Casselberry, 1 in Altamonte Springs, and 3 in the unincorporated area of the county. All with firearms.

Of that state-wide murder figure, more than 60 percent involved the use of firearms. Some 190 occurred among family members — and more than half that number involved spouse murder. "I am personally against plea bargaining to a lesser crime when a firearm is used in a criminal offense," said Seminole County Sheriff John Polk. Without plea bargaining, Polk said, the judges are following the mandatory law.

Polk said he is opposed to gun registration "The honest people are going to register their guns anyway. A gun never commits a crime, it's the people who have the gun that commit the crime."

The sheriff said he does favor a law the legislature has considered the last few years requiring a 72-hour "cooling off" period between the time of purchase and the pick up of a purchased firearm.

"I think that is a good law," Polk said. Polk said the sheriff's department confiscated 30 weapons in 1980 including handguns, rifles and a few automatic weapons. Polk said the weapons were taken in drug raids and from unlawful hunters.

"The drug people sometimes have automatic weapons," Polk said, "but there haven't been that many."

All "Saturday Night special"-type handguns are destroyed by the department with two witnesses to the procedure. If a weapon is in good condition, the department may use it, Polk said. Most confiscated weapons are melted down or thrown into a river or the ocean, Polk said. He added the department gets rid of weapons no longer

A handgun costing anywhere from $50-$700, may be purchased in a matter of minutes anywhere in the state since Florida law requires no waiting period.

Outlook Favorable For Friday Launch Of Space Shuttle

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The countdown for the maiden flight of the space shuttle Columbia moved smoothly today toward the Friday launch that would make John Young and Robert Crippen the first Americans in space since 1975.

A late-hour countdown snag was bypassed and even the weather appeared to be cooperating. Forecasters' initial outlook called for good conditions at the scheduled launch time shortly after sunrise.

Although Young says he and Crippen are "140 percent" trained for the mission, they had more flight rehearsals in a spacecraft simulator on today's schedule at the Johnson Space Center in Houston.

Today's countdown work included pressurization of helium tanks used to push propellants into the Columbia's twin orbital maneuvering engines and 44 little control rockets mounted in the ship's nose and tail sections.

The start of the countdown late Sunday marked the start of the final phase in the nation's long and often-troubled effort to get the revolutionary shuttle ready for the ambitious 36-orbit test flight. The long sequential series of flight preparations began almost routinely at 11:30 p.m. EST on the signal of test conductor Andy Brown.

Barring delays, the countdown will end when computers monitoring 1,000 different measurements send the signal that will ignite the Columbia's three engines and twin boosters at 6:50 a.m. EST in four days.

The countdown consists of 73 hours of specific jobs, but it has 30 hours and 20 minutes of "hold" periods interspersed in six places to give technicians a rest and time, if necessary, to catch up on lagging work.

Launch director George F. Page decided to use up some of that "hold" time to recoup work time lost in part when engineers discovered a short circuit in wiring between an electrical distribution device and one of two valves used to control up-and-down vibrations called the "pogo" effect.

The solution was to rewire the pogo system so the valve was connected to the distributor linked to the other valve.

Without a system to dampen the oscillations, they can build up to dangerous levels. Such vibrations nearly ruined the unmanned Apollo 6 test flight in 1968. Surface pieces of the an aluminum honeycomb structure enclosing a dummy spacecraft flaked off under the severe forces and two engines failed.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration official at the time likened the structure of the rocket to a tuning fork. If you strike it right — in this case by engine thrust fluctuations — it will vibrate up and down.

The launch of the Columbia will be America's first manned spaceflight since three astronauts flew an Apollo to an Earth orbital rendezvous with two Soviet cosmonauts in July 1975.

Since then Americans have been grounded while NASA's attention turned to the $9.6 billion shuttle development.

The Soviet Union, meanwhile, has mounted a steady manned spaceflight project and two cosmonauts, Vladimir Kovalyonok and Viktor Savinykh, have been in orbit for three and a half weeks in the Salyut 6 space station.

Troops Pour In

Poland: Next Step Is War, U.S. Says

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Soviet motorized troops were reported pouring in for extended Warsaw Pact maneuvers in and around Poland and Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev attended a Czech meeting today that warned Poland its neighbors are prepared to stop "disruption by anybody and anything."

In Washington, a U.S. intelligence source said Soviet military preparations have been raised to the highest possible levels and the "next step from where they are now is to go to war."

The situation is at a "decisive point," he said. "We are not hiding the fact that our people are following the events in fraternal Poland with disquiet," Czech communist leader Gustav Husak told his party congress in Prague. "The situation in Poland continues to disturb us greatly."

Brezhnev sat in the place of honor directly behind the rostrum listening intently as Husak warned that those creating unrest must understand "our clear standpoint."

"The protection of the socialist system is the concern of each socialist state, but also the joint concern of the states of the Socialist community, which are determined to defend their interests and the social achievements of the people.

"The legacy of the past and an obligation for the future is to ... guard and fortify the unity and fraternal cooperation between our nations and nationalities, to prevent their disruption by anybody and anything."

As Brezhnev suddenly departed Sunday for the Prague emergency talks with East bloc officials, the Soviet Tass news agency raised the prospect of "fraternal" help for Poland — a code term for intervention — for the first time in its commentaries on the Polish crisis.

The mounting tension found two of America's most powerful officials abroad on trips — Secretary of State Alexander Haig in Jerusalem on the second stop of a Middle East tour and Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger in London on the first stop of a trip to meet NATO allies.

"We are watching it minute by minute," Haig said in Jerusalem of the military situation around Poland, characterizing it as "somewhat more ominous" than earlier.

Weinberger said in London that military activities around Poland were reaching a "worrisome" level, and in an interview published today in U.S. News and World Report, warned that the Soviet Union would suffer "enormous" strategic losses if it invaded.

In Berlin, the East German news agency ADN said fresh units have been brought for the extended Warsaw Pact maneuvers and hinted their duties might extend beyond the war games.

"In the staging and deployment areas the troops were briefed politically and militarily on the impending combat mission," ADN said of the maneuvers, which were scheduled to end two weeks ago.

"The commanders and their staffs deployed the new forces quickly," ADN said, while not specifying where the Soviet, East German, Czech and Polish troops taking part in the maneuvers were operating.

But the report said that the news troops landed on the coast, presumably the Baltic coast where the Polish labor movement began in Gdansk, and the sparse details offered indicated a logistical undertaking that could put equipment and staff in place for an invasion.

"Covered by air defense troops, the motorized forces, artillery, missiles, infantry, engineers, and intelligence forces were brought in by rail and road and other units were landed on the coast by landing vessels," ADN said.

In a surprise move, Poland dispatched to Prague hard-line leader Stefan Olszowski, who has been at odds with party chief Stanislaw Kania's moderate policy of seeking to work with the Solidarity union. There was no word on whether Kania would go.

Olszowski ostensibly headed a delegation to Czechoslovakia's Communist Party Congress, which begins today. But with Brezhnev in Prague the real topic was expected to be Poland.

A senior Western diplomat said sending the Politburo member to Prague could be a strategy to show the East bloc that Poland's Communist Party is united. "He will have to defend the party line," the diplomat said.

Referendum Urged For 4 New Libraries

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

A consultant who has completed a preliminary study on the library needs in Seminole County is recommending a special referendum be called to seek voter approval for construction of four new full service libraries.

Estimated cost to build, furnish and supply the four proposed new facilities is set at $4.6 million.

The study, being conducted by Richard L. Waters, assistant director of the Dallas (Texas) Public Library, is to be completed and in final form for presentation to the Board of County Commissioners in the next few weeks.

Waters conducted a preliminary survey of county library needs in 1974 before the county first contracted for library service with the Orlando Public Library. Seminole went into its own library system with branches in Sanford and Casselberry in October, 1978, based on Waters' recommendations.

The recommendations in the current study, according to Waters should be implemented by 1986.

He recommends that a new full service library be built in Sanford, the Forest City-Wekiva area, the Casselberry area and in the Lake Howell-Tuskawilla area.

He also urges that the new facilities be built in or adjacent to shopping centers.

The county Commissioners will receive a separate report next week from architects, Greenleaf-Telesco of Orlando, on the feasibility of expanding the current downtown Sanford library housed in the old post office building on First Street. Waters, however, recommended the Sanford library be more centrally located, but not in the downtown area.

In surveying the library needs of the entire county, Waters recommends:

—No branch is needed for the Markham-Paola area. Books-by-mail service should be continued there.

—No branch is needed in the Lake Monroe area and books-by-mail service should also be continued there.

—Sanford should have a new 8,000 square foot full service library and needs an additional 3,000 square feet to house library administrative offices. He recommends that a new library be constructed within the city limits but in a more central location than the downtown area. He estimated costs for a new facility in Sanford at $971,000.

—The Big Tree area should have a full service library by 1990. He said that facility should be about 8,000 square feet, with estimated costs at $850,000.

—In the Forest City -Wekiva area Waters recommends a full service library of about 12,000 square costing $1,223,000 for construction, furniture and basic library materials.

—For the Casselberry-Altamonte Springs area, called the South Core, Waters said the county should build a facility of about 12,000 square feet with 2,000 additional square feet to house the bookmobile service. He estimated costs at about $1,181,000.

—In Lake Howell-Tuskawilla he recommends a 12,000 square foot full service facility costing $1,233,000. Until the new library can be built he recommends extended bookmobile service.

Currently the county is leasing facilities at Seminole Plaza in Casselberry for a branch facility.

—Econ-Oviedo area— Currently, according to Waters, the area is adequately served by bookmobile, but he said the bookmobile hours should be expanded. By 1990, he said, a 1,200 to 1,500 square foot portable structure should be built at an estimated cost of $150,000.

—For the Lake Jessup area books-by-mail service should be continued.

—For the Geneva-Chuluota area bookmobile service and books-by-mail should be provided.

He recommends the county begin a search for sites as soon as possible. The four new libraries — Sanford, Casselberry, Forest City-Wekiva and Lake Howell-Tuskawilla are needed "now," he said.

Jean Rhein, county librarian said today that when the completed study is submitted by Waters, its recommendations will be considered by the county's library advisory board. The library board's recommendations and staff comments will be presented to the county commission.

Reagan 'Doing Fine' Under Close Watch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan's temperature was back to normal as he began his second week in the hospital today, and doctors reported he is "doing fine" in his recovery from a would-be assassin's bullet.

Doctors keeping a close watch for possible medical complications are hopeful Reagan may be able to return to the White House this week.

The president was "doing fine" when he awoke today and his temperature — which had fluctuated Friday and Saturday — was normal again, an early medical report said today. "He slept well."

Reagan was shot in the chest during an assassination attempt a week ago that also injured his press secretary and two lawmen. The man charged with trying to kill him, John W. Hinckley Jr., 25, is undergoing psychiatric tests in a federal prison in North Carolina.

Doctors said Sunday new X-rays showed traces of dried blood and dead tissue in Reagan's injured lung, but smears of sputum and cultures found no indication of infection.

There have been no signs of pneumonia, complication that could logically arise from the lung damage Reagan suffered.

"We're watching very closely and covering all eventualities," said Dr. Dennis O'Leary, a spokesman at George Washington University Medical Center, where Reagan has been hospitalized since the shooting.

The president's temperature, which has run as high as 102 in recent days, was described as "normal" in a medical report issued by the White House Sunday.

Acting White House press secretary Larry Speakes disclosed that the president's first words Tuesday, when the tubes were taken out of his chest, dealt with his assailant.

"Boy, what's his beef?" Reagan asked. Speakes said Reagan has been briefed on the shooting and the accused attacker, 25-year-old John Hinckley of Evergreen, Colo.

Reagan was described by the White House as "alert and in good spirits" as he chatted with visitors and took walks down a hospital corridor Sunday.

Break-Out Is Blast For Dignitaries TODAY

FORT MADISON, Iowa (UPI) — Lee County Sheriff Don Arnold dared his 18 "prisoners" to escape from the new $1.8 million county jail — so they did.

Fortunately, the jailbreak occurred in a test of the new facility and the "prisoners" were reporters, local officials and dignitaries invited for an overnight stay at the jail so they could see for themselves just how escape-proof it was.

They found its security was easily breached.

Lowell Junkins, minority leader of the Iowa Senate, was apparently the ring-leader in the break-out.

Junkins said he realized he and the other prisoners could escape detection on the jail's television monitors. Then, he said, he simply walked to an intercom, told a guard on the other end he was the sheriff and asked that the doors to the building be opened. The guard unquestioningly complied and the prisoners made their dash to freedom.

Junkins, Judge David Hendrickson and a probation officer even meandered around the countryside for several hours after their bust-out and telephoned newsmen to brag about their success.

Embarrassed officials said security measures would have to be modified before the jail is put into operation.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Soviets Hint 'Fraternal Help' May Be Needed In Poland

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet press, warning that Poland's Communist government is in grave danger, for the first time raised the prospect of "fraternal" help that could mean a Warsaw Pact invasion of the nation.

In the commentary Sunday that raised the possibility of armed intervention, the national Soviet newspaper Pravda lamented "the foundations of the socialist system in Poland are still in grave jeopardy."

The term "fraternal" help in the Communist vocabulary has been used to describe actions such as the 1968 invasion of Czechoslovakia to end the liberalization of Communism there and the 1979 intervention in Afghanistan when a new pro-Moscow government was installed.

Meanwhile Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev's unexpected arrival at Czechoslovakia's Communist Party Congress has raised fears he is consulting his Warsaw Pact allies on intervention in Poland.

Haig: Soviet Threat Growing

JERUSALEM (UPI)— U. S. Secretary of State Alexander Haig today voiced fresh American concern over Soviet military steps in response to labor unrest in Poland and said the United States was taking some "unprecedented measures" to influence a cease-fire in Lebanon.

"There's plenty new in the context of our concern for the readiness steps that are being taken by the military forces of the Soviet Union and its satellites," said Haig, whose middle East tour has been overshadowed by fears of a Soviet invasion of Poland.

Winding up a 22-hour visit to Israel with his second meeting with Prime Minister Menachem Begin before departing for Amman, Jordan, Haig called his series of meetings with Osaelli officials "highly productive."

Aldo Moro Killer Captured

ROME (UPI) — In the sharpest blow against Italian terrorism in a decade, police believe they have captured the founder of the Red Brigades gang who masterminded the killing of former Premier Aldo Moro three years ago.

Mario Moretti, 35, allegedly one of the group's "historic founders," was arrested along with three other suspected terrorists in northern Milan Saturday afternoon as he walked to a meeting that police believe was called to plan the Red Brigades' reorganization and resurgence.

Lebanon Near Civil War

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Syrian troops fighting rightist Christian militia and Lebanese army regulars ignored a papal peace appeal and calls for a cease-fire today, moving to the brink of civil war in artillery, tank and mortar battles.

Police sources said up to Sunday night more than 150 people were killed and some 400 wounded in the fighting between the Syrians and Phalangists in Beirut and Zahlé that began Wednesday.

Lebanon's pro-Syrian leftist militias, who stayed out of the latest round of fighting, ordered a general mobilization and said "there is no escape from the battle of destiny."

In an apparent warning to the Syrians, Israeli fighter jets broke the sound barrier over Beirut Sunday.

Thais To U.S.: Reject Asylum

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Thailand asked the United States today to reject a request for political asylum from the mastermind behind an abortive 56-hour military coup.

Senior Foreign Ministry officials said the U.S. embassy in Bangkok and the State Department in Washington had both been informed that the Thai government would be displeased if coup leader Gen. Sant Chulpalitma was granted refuge in America.

Sant's wife is already in the United States where her three children are going to college.

Thailand is one of America's staunchest allies in Asia.

Khomeini OKs Peace Plan

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Iranian leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini today accepted a three-point peace plan proposed by the Islamic Conference to end its seven-month war with Iraq, Iran's state-run Para news agency said.

The plan, which was carried by Habib Chatti, secretary general of the Organization of the Islamic Conference, calls for the formation of a committee to study the rival claims to the disputed Shatt al Arab waterway — the key area in dispute.

Dollar At Month's Best

LONDON (UPI) — The dollar opened at an all-time high in Milan and at its best rates in a month in other European money exchanges today. The price of gold rose in London and Zurich.

Gold opened in London at $532.75 an ounce compared with $523.50. In Zurich, gold opened at $530.50, up from $523.50 at the close Friday.

The dollar opened in Milan at a record high of 1,070.50 lire against 1,060.05. The previous opening high for the dollar was 1,063.50 lire on March 27.

Burglary Suspects Shot At In Weekend Burglary Tries

By BRITT SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

It was a bad weekend for burglars in Seminole County. One was shot and another came close to being shot at the hands of armed property owners apparently not adverse to using their guns to protect hearth and home.

The first incident occurred Friday night when Darryl Payne discovered someone trying to break into his 140 Eden Gate Drive home in Longwood. Payne, 27, told sheriff's deputies that he heard noises outside his house around 11 p.m. and went to investigate.

Payne said he spotted a man trying to crawl in through his bathroom window and yelled at the bandit. The man fled, stopped near a wood pile and fired one shot, Payne said.

Payne dropped to the ground, rolled and fired three shots at the fleeing gunman with a .45-caliber pistol. No one was hit in the exchange of gunfire.

Darrell R. Ballard, 16, of 500 E. 4th St., Chuluota, wasn't so lucky. He was shot once in the right elbow while allegedly trying to burglarize the home of Richard D. Carpenter, Lake Mills Road near Oviedo.

Deputy Jim Engelbreton said he responded to a call of a burglary in progress with shots fired about 10:44 p.m. Sunday. Upon arrival, he found Ballard lying on the ground outside Carpenter's house.

Carpenter, 51, said he had discovered Ballard trying to break in through a sliding glass door and fired one shot, hitting Ballard in the elbow.

Ballard was listed in stable condition this morning at Winter Park Memorial Hospital. No charges have been filed.

BIG TIPPERS

It could have been a lot worse. Thieves broke into Donald Zimmer's home at 130 Cambridge Drive in Longwood Saturday, but all they did was eat some potato chips, drink some Coke and left $10 in the kitchen.

Zimmer told sheriff's deputies that someone entered his home between 11:15 a.m. and 7:20 p.m. by crawling through an open front porch window. Once inside, the thieves munched on some potato chips, poured themselves two glasses of cola, then went into a bedroom and stole $10 from a purse.

However, Deputy Steve Walters said the bandits "seemed more interested in eating whatever they could find in the house" than thievery. "The $10 was left in the kitchen."

pending completion of investigation into his background.

Roy was found guilty of trying to sell tools stolen from Kiddy's Service Center, W. 1st St., Sanford, in late December.

In other court action, 20-year-old drifter Gary W. Hubbard, was convicted of burglary and petty theft in connection with the January 13 burglary of a mobile home belonging to Rick Stanley at the Sanford Airport.

Also, Joshua D. Jones, 26, of 1306 W. 3rd St., Sanford, pleaded guilty to grand theft in connection with the September 28 theft of a 1969 Chevrolet pickup truck from American Building Products, 991 Magnolia St., Altamonte Springs.

Sentencing for Hubbard and Jones was deferred pending completion of investigations into their backgrounds.

HEAVY EQUIPMENT THEFT

A bulldozer and trailer valued at $19,600 were stolen from a construction site across from Lake Howell High School early Friday morning.

Deputies reported that someone apparently drove the bulldozer up onto the trailer and towed both away. The equipment belonged to the Sunbelt Underground Co., 420 Orange St., Altamonte Springs.

QUARTER BURGLARY

Sheriff's deputies were canvassing local coin dealers and precious metals merchants today looking for clues to the bandit who stole $3,000 in silver quarters from a Casseberry home Sunday.

Lavera Davis, 60, of 1138 Frangipani Lane, told deputies the theft must have taken place between 9:30 a.m. and midnight. Taken were 25 rolls of silver quarters.

Zoning Board Postpones Site Plan Consideration

The Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission has rescheduled to its April 16 meeting consideration of a site plan for the proposed expansion of S&H Fabricating and Engineering Inc. in the John Krieger Industrial Park.

Consideration was delayed until the 16th after a representative of the firm failed to show up at the board's meeting Thursday night.

S&H Fabricating and Engineering Inc. plans to construct two new buildings in the industrial park to expand its operations. The concrete block buildings are to house a brazing shop and an automotive air-conditioning assembly plant for the Detroit-based firm.

In other business, the planning and zoning board approved: — A request from Fonseca Plumbing to conduct a telephone service from a home at 3010 Park Ave. — A site plan for a proposed quadruplex at 301 W. 8th St.

Lake Mary Pay Up

It won't be much — in most cases amounting to only a few hundred dollars a year — but Lake Mary's 21 employees are getting a raise.

At its Thursday night meeting, the city council unanimously approved a formula for raising the salaries of municipal workers to 75 percent of the difference between existing pay scales and the combined average salaries paid in Lake Mary, Oviedo, Winter Springs, and Longwood.

The raise will become effective immediately and will show up in workers' Friday paycheck.

The plan is expected to cost the city $13,622 for the remainder of the 1981 fiscal year which ends September 30. The cost next year would be an estimated $30,000.

The raise was approved following a rash of recent resignations by city employees, primarily policemen, complaining of low pay. —BRITT SMITH needed as trial evidence about every six months.

"I think it's made a lot of difference," said Longwood Police Chief Greg Manning, regarding the three-year mandatory sentencing law. Manning said his city has seen a slow down of confiscated weapons in the last few years. Manning estimated the Longwood Police Department now has 25 to 30 confiscated weapons, about half handguns and half rifles.

"We don't run across them like we used to," Manning said. When I first started here several years ago, we used to have bundles of them."

Manning said he didn't know the reason for the decrease, but said "The search and seizure laws are a lot different than they were then. You've got crime increasing more and more, but we're confiscating fewer weapons. It really doesn't make sense."

It was after the mandatory jail law was passed "basically when we began to see the decrease in confiscation," Manning said.

"Plea bargaining is the worst thing that ever hit the judicial system," Manning said. "To me, it's a way out. Either an attorney is too busy or he feels the case is not strong enough."

"I think all cases should go before the court and let the court decide what is a good case or a bad case or if they have a weak case," Manning said. "No attorney should have that right. I think they take too much on themselves."

Manning said he feels the present gun control laws are effective.

"You're not going to make the bad guys obey the law," Manning said. "Whether you have registration or a cooling off period, they're still going to get a gun if they want it. There may be some decrease in family disputes, but the major crimes are still going to occur."

Manning said law enforcement needs to be backed by the state's attorney's office and the courts with "more severe punishment."

"The punishment needs to be followed through when they've been found guilty, not when they've been arrested, but when they've been tried and convicted. Police are the middlemen," Manning said.

"If they're more straight on sentencing, it will make a lot of difference," Manning said. "There should be no plea bargaining. If found guilty, defendants should get the full sentence for the crime and the weapon used."

Winter Springs Police Chief John Gavoruhk said the courts should be more effective in sentencing criminals. "In too many cases throughout the state and throughout the country, we put them in jail today and they're back on the streets tomorrow."

"You have to ask, is the law for you and me or for the criminal? We catch them in the act, put them in jail, they're out on bond, and we have to pick them up again."

Lake Mary Police Chief Harry Benson said 10 to 15 weapons used in crimes were confiscated by his department over the past few years he's been there. These included shotguns, rifles and revolvers and automatic weapons. He speculated that there are "several thousand" guns in his city. If a defendant is cleared in court the gun can be returned or, if guilty, the sheriff has jurisdiction over disposing of it.

The only murder Benson recalls was a multiple stabbing with a knife, but he said there was one man shot by his wife, but he lived, Benson said.

Although Benson comes from New Jersey, which requires the registration of handguns, he does not believe strict registration of guns would work in Florida. "There are so many transients with people moving in and out all the time," he said. "Guns have been wide open down here so long that it would be an astronomical task to get them registered."

"Who pays for it?" he asked. "In small towns like ours the paper work would be stupendous as we have no full-time secretary in the police department. It would cost the law enforcement agencies a lot, and if it were made law there would be a lot more court cases."

He said registration is helpful in tracing a gun that has been stolen or lost, but would not make people any safer because criminals can get guns if they want them and not register them.

A wide array of .22 and .25 caliber handguns are among confiscated weapons at the Seminole County Sheriff's Department. The weapons were all used in the commission of crimes. If no litigation is involved, firearms are destroyed after six months.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Feds Round Up 14

In Gun-Running Raids

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Federal authorities are continuing their roundup of 14 persons charged with illegal dealing in guns and drugs in a two-month investigation called "Operation Flying Circus" that officials say will crimp the supply of weapons to drug smugglers.

U.S. Attorney Gary Betz said Sunday that the operation — directed in Jacksonville but spreading into Georgia — has brought the seizure of submachine guns apparently stolen from U.S. military bases, silencers and explosives.

By late Sunday night, 10 of the 14 persons charged had been arrested. The federal raids included one in which agents were confronted with loaded submachine guns and another in which a Drug Enforcement agency plane flipped over.

Skydiver Student Killed

INDIANTOWN (UPI) — A young British woman's first class in skydiving ended in death.

The woman, identified by an employee at South Florida Parachute Inc. as Anita Almond, 26, stepped out of an airplane at 3,300 feet altitude Saturday night, after an afternoon of instruction in skydiving. But her parachute failed to open and she fell to her death in an orange grove, Martin County Sheriff's detective Sgt. Glenn Gumbinner said.

Copter Firm Probed

MIAMI (UPI) — A "very unusual" number of crashes recently has brought the Federal Aviation Administration to investigate the operations of a Miami helicopter company.

Roger Jones, FAA area chief of operations, announced the investigation of Dade Helicopter Services Inc. over the weekend — following the crash of one of the firms choppers onto the roof of a building in downtown Miami.

Two persons were injured in the crash, the firm's third helicopter accident in a month.

Search For Bodies Continues

WEEKI WACHEE (UPI) — The number of female skeletons unearthed in the littered yard of a Florida family haunted by sex offense charges stands at three, and officials believe the total could double.

"We shall stay there until we are completely satisfied there are no more bodies out there. We're looking for two, maybe three, more bodies at this time," said sheriff's Maj. C.E. Crosby.

NATION IN BRIEF

No Talks Planned

To End Coal Strike

Union officials indicate talks to end the 11-day-old strike by the nation's 160,000 soft coal miners may not resume until late this week, adding to a gloomy prediction by the coal industry's top negotiator that a settlement will not come quickly.

When UMW spokesman Eldon Callen was asked in Washington Sunday about the resumption of talks, he said, "I don't expect anything to happen for the next few days."

B.R. "Bobby" Brown, head negotiator for the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, said during the weekend he was "not optimistic" at the prospects of ending the walkout, which began March 27 after rank-and-file union members rejected a tentative agreement.

Another Atlanta Victim?

ATLANTA (UPI) — Police said the disappearance of a second mentally retarded black man loosely fits the pattern of Atlanta's missing and murdered children, but stopped short of adding him to the list of 24 cases investigated by a special task force.

Larry Rogers, although 20 or 21, was built like a child at 5-foot-3 and 110 pounds. Police Sunday also described him as having "the mind of a child," much the same as 21-year-old Eddie "Bubba" Duncan, who was buried Saturday and is considered the 24th victim.

Legal Clock Is Stopped For Hinckley

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mental examinations have stopped the legal clock for President Reagan's accused assailant, John W. Hinckley Jr., described by his parents as "a sick boy." The court-ordered psychiatric tests, which could take up to three months, supercede Hinckley's constitutional right to a speedy trial, a Justice Department spokesman said Sunday.

Talk Show Host Admits

Psychic Prediction A Hoax

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Talk show host Dick Maurice now admits he faked a videotape showing what appeared to be psychic Tamara Rand's chilling prediction of the attempted assassination of President Reagan.

"I am sorry," Maurice confessed in front-page copyright story appearing in Sunday's Las Vegas Sun newspaper. "I've committed a terrible wrong. I have committed the cardinal sin of the columnist."

"I have perpetuated a hoax on the public and feel very much ashamed," Maurice, a Las Vegas Sun columnist, said the interview he and Miss Rand had claimed was originally taped in January was instead taped March 31 — the day after the assassination attempt.

Miss Rand, a Hollywood psychic, also apologized for faking the videotape with Ann Hinckley, met with their son's lawyers in Washington Saturday.

Afterward, they issued a statement expressing prayers for the wounded and requesting prayers and understanding for their son.

"We simply ask that you realize John is a sick boy, and that you give him the benefit of the doubt until all the true facts concerning his mental condition are known," they said.

Hinckley is undergoing up to 90 days of psychiatric examinations at the Federal Correctional Institution at Butner, N.C. The tests are to determine if he is mentally competent to stand trial.

"The court order stopped the clock," Justice Department spokesman Tom DeCair said Sunday.

Normally, the grand jury would have had 30 days from the time the case was referred to it last Thursday in which to return an indictment. No later than 10 days after that, an arraignment to formally charge the suspect would have to be held. A trial then would be scheduled.

Brady Continues To Show Progress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — White House press secretary Jim Brady, known for his wit and tenacity, is displaying both as he fights to recover from a bullet that required removal of a portion of his brain.

Doctors Sunday said he "continues to make satisfactory progress," and Brady's own words, spiced with vigor and humor, have given his friends and family renewed hope about his overall chances.

The severity of his wound and the decision to remove a part of his brain damaged in the assassination attempt on President Reagan last week, had spread fears that Brady's chances of escaping brain damage were minimal.

But for the past few days, he has kept up a steady stream of one-liners that indicate "the Bear" — his nickname — is improving quicker than anyone had hoped.

Take Saturday. Brady, whose face is still heavily bandaged and swollen from the wound and subsequent 6½-hour operation, was attempting to open his eyes as his surgeon, Dr. Arthur Koberne stood watching nearby.

When Koberne asked him why he was trying to open his eyes, he received a vintage Bradyism in response: "To see who is the doctor asking all of these dumb questions."

Second Hostage Mission Claimed

ATLANTA (UPI) — After the aborted attempt to free the hostages in Iran failed and eight Americans were killed, former President Jimmy Carter ordered a larger and more powerful military operation to try again, it was reported Sunday.

Free-lance writer Richard T. Sale, in a copyright story printed in the Atlanta Journal-Constitution, quoted unnamed sources as saying secret military rehearsals for a second mission took place in the deserts of Utah, California, Texas and New Mexico while other units practiced at Fort Bragg, N.C., Fort Benning, Ga., and the Special Operations Wing at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

The White House at the time denied reports by syndicated columnist Jack Anderson that Carter had a second plan to "invade Iran," and several major newspapers refused to publish the Anderson story.

U.S. forces, however, already were in position in Egypt and Israel and the countries from which the second mission was to have been staged, Sale said sources told him.

The unidentified sources also said there was a clear push to use military force against Iran until Sept. 12, 1980, when Ayatollah Khomeini announced that Iran was willing to release the hostages.

"Carter was implementing a contingency plan," a source said. The plan was described as one of "major scale" that would have involved as many as 100 U.S. helicopters, units of elite forces, a large number of combat aircraft and as many as 10,000 ground troops.

Under the reported plan, the 82nd Airborne Division was to make an air drop and seize the Mehrabad airport at Tehran. F-15s or F-14s, A-10s and other combat aircraft were to be used, with the latter acting as an "air cap" operation to screen the paratroopers on the ground as well as to strike all major airbases in Iran.

The plan also called for elements of the "Delta Unit" and other top commando groups to arrive at various sites in Tehran and other locations in Iran to free the scattered hostages. It would have included 1,000 Marines who would have attacked the main spigot of Iranian oil on the Persian Gulf, Kharg Island.

Reagan Team To Japan For Auto Plans Briefing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Reagan administration is sending an advance team to Japan to brief the government on a still-secret White House plan to aid the ailing U.S. auto industry.

Officials stressed the group of sub-Cabinet officials will not negotiate restraints on Japanese auto exports to the United States — a move President Reagan has rejected.

Japan last week asked for a briefing on the aid package, which is expected to be publicly released within the next few days.

There have been reports it may include relaxing federal regulations requiring the eventual installation of airbags or other passive restraints in new cars. Requirements for crash-resistant bumpers also are likely targets for change.

Rights Of Man: Heritage Of 1776

No one can read the Declaration of Independence and not be proud to be an American. That document makes clear that this country was founded on the concept of the rights of man.

It is nearly 205 years old now, but the declaration of the summer of 1776 still lies deep at the core of the American spirit.

What we celebrate on July 4 is not the mere founding of a new nation but the founding of one based on an idea — the concept that all men are equal and have natural rights.

The declaration applies not just to Americans but to every man, woman and child on this planet.

It was a revolutionary idea then and it is a revolutionary idea today — that men do not derive their rights from legitimate governments, but that legitimate governments derive their rights from the human beings under their jurisdiction.

There are many self-proclaimed revolutionaries in the world today but the real revolution, the one that really made a difference and that continues to inspire people the world over, is the revolution of 1776.

We need to keep the Declaration of Independence in mind when discussing the foreign policy of the United States. The Carter administration perhaps overemphasized human rights in the context of U.S. foreign policy. But it would be easy for the Reagan administration, in reaction, to go too far in the other direction.

Sure, this country must be realistic. Sure, we have selfish interests that must prevail at times over our idealistic enthusiasms.

But we can never play the power politics game with all the cool detachment of European master diplomats like Metternich and Talleyrand and Bismarck.

Trying to force American foreign policy into that mold won't work. It is against our nature. We can't cozy up to tyrants and be true to ourselves. Trying to make us accept that kind of foreign policy is an invitation to disaster. The revision of the people will eventually be felt and the policy will be rejected.

Isolationism is the worst foreign policy America can follow, and yet that is what we may come to if our foreign policy ceases to be true to the principles of the American Revolution.

Keeping SAT Honest

The College Board, which sponsors the nationwide Scholastic Aptitude Tests for college-bound high school juniors and seniors, has decided to allow students to obtain copies of their tests and lists of correct answers.

The action was taken reluctantly, but it was a good decision.

Our society is fast becoming a meritocracy, in which ratings of scholastic aptitude play an increasingly important part in determining opportunities, not only educational but economic.

It is essential that the fairness and accuracy of the test measurements be universally acknowledged. Opening up the process will build public confidence and acceptance.

The Clock

By DONNA ESTES

A little more than a week remains for persons to file their federal income tax returns.

Community Coordinated Child Care for Central Florida (4C) is reminding its clients that they should not overlook child care expenses when they prepare their returns.

According to 4C, if a parent paid someone to care for his or her child under 14 years old whether a baby sitter or licensed child care center provided the care, the amount paid is tax deductible. At the same time they remind that the expense should be documented with check stubs or receipts.

To deduct child care expenses the long income tax form must be used. The amount of income tax will be reduced by 20 percent of the child care cost, up to $2,000 for each child.

Two bills are currently being considered in the U.S. House and Senate which could produce financial relief for millions of working parents across the nation.

In the House, a tax credit bill is being considered to expand the current 20 percent deduction and $2,000 limit for each child.

If the total income is $10,000 or less, 50 percent of the child care cost could be deducted before taxes are calculated and the limit for each child would be raised to $25,000.

As the family income rises, the percentage would decrease by one point for each $1,000.

Another bill under consideration would make the credit refundable. This would mean that even if the family size and income level were such that the tax bill would be less than the child care costs, the withholding refund could be more than the tax bill to cover the child care.

A third bill is being drafted by a senator to propose a tax credit for 90 percent of the child care cost.

Before last weekend's Greater Sanford chamber of Commerce ceremonies presenting the prestigious "John S. Krider Topper" award to George Touhy, 10 other prominent citizens had been given the honor over the past decade.

They are: John Y. Mercer, Mack N. Cleveland Jr., Lee P. Moore, Dr. George Stark, Harold H. Kastner, Robert Daehn, Walter Gielow, W. Scott Burns, W. Garnett White and John Krider, for whom the award was named.

During the chamber event, immediate past president, Janice Springfield, was given a plaque in recognition of her service to the organization. And certificates of appreciation were given to members who had served on committees during the past year and to numerous merchants and business persons who had helped make many chamber projects successful.

It Is A Crisis As Usual

Well, so we've done it again. We, the press of the United States of America, that is.

It was just a few days ago that a State Department senior official was taking us to task for overplaying the El Salvador story. That's the same story, you may recall, that was Secretary of State Alexander Haig's very own favorite subject in non-stop testimony at congressional hearings until the crisis over crisis suddenly diverted his attention and ours.

Now the White House press secretary says, we've gone and blown that one out of all proportion. Merely, because the secretary's run-in with Vice President George Bush over top billing on the administration's crisis-management team involved 1) Haig's publicity declaring against Bush's getting the job hours before Bush actually did, 2) reports of Haig's repeated threats to resign over this and other tussles for foreign-policy primacy (eight or nine times in the administration's first 65 days, the New York Times heard) and 3) presidential intervention to keep a semblance of peace among his top aides.

Worse, the president himself proceeded to chastise us for trying to make the news instead of being content to report it.

Clearly the press can't do anything right, at least not anything in any way connected with coverage of this administration's problems in lining up its foreign-policy procedures and priorities. Even though those involved in this crucial area of any new administration's responsibilities have so publicly hit Washington running into each other.

It would be one thing if the Haig-Bush fracas were an isolated incident. Although a pretty big thing, considering the intimations of a secretary of state challenging his own president. Americans have had plenty of experience with strong presidents working with strong foreign-policy directors — Richard Nixon and Henry Kissinger, Dwight Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles, Harry Truman and Dean Acheson. But the emphasis is on "working with."

You have to go back to Truman, again, and James F. Byrnes to find a relationship characterized less by mutual trust and confidence than by conflict. Byrnes took very seriously an ex-officio status as "assistant president" earned in many prestigious capacities before he arrived at the State Department. That relationship didn't last long.

But the crisis is not isolated. It follows the now-you-see-it, now-you-don't manipulation of El Salvador as the national security challenge of the decade to date. It coincides with U. N. Ambassador Jeane J. Kirkpatrick's secret — from the ambassador's State Department bosses in particular — meeting with a South African military delegation that had slipped diplomatically into the country. Then there was the recent signal — members of this would-be team seem to be great on signals to everyone except each other — from a National Security Council officials to the Soviets that they had better shed their Communist ways or face the consequences: War.

And yet it is the press, we are told, that is making and overplaying news.

Beet-Sugar Growers Get Taste Of Hunts

WASHINGTON—The saga of the Hunt brothers, the Texas oil billionaires, makes the television soap opera "Dallas" seem like kiddie. Their real-life financial wheeling and dealing would put a TV scriptwriter's imagination to shame.

Over the years, I have chronicled the exploits of the incomparable Hunt clan, founded by the late oil tycoon H.L. Hunt, who had 10 disparate offspring from two marriages.

The acknowledged leader of the clan today is Nelson Bunker Hunt, a teetotaling, non-smoking family man of impressive girth. He will make a multimillion-dollar business decision in minutes — but spend hours studying the menu of Shakey's Pizza Parlors, which the Hunts own.

Hunt not only looks the part of a fat-cat financier, he acts it with relish. His alleged attempt to corner the silver market in the winter of 1979-80 is still under investigation by the Securities and Exchange Commission. There was an earlier federal investigation into charges that the Hunts tried to corner the

JEFFREY HART

Jack Kemp's Future

Rep. Jack Kemp of New York has become too major a figure to remain much longer the representative in the House of the Buffalo region of New York State.

Kemp, during the past few years, has successfully spearheaded the campaign in the Republican Party for a new supply-side economics. Kemp's economics are now Reagan orthodoxy, but the revolution goes far beyond the now dominant Republican Party.

"The continuing gains of conservative economic thought," writes Robert B. Zevin, an economist, in the current Atlantic Monthly, "are impressive by any measure. It is difficult to find an economist who still refers to himself as a Keynesian... The successful conservative advance on our minds has been reflected in an equally successful capture of political power. The consequences of victory are abundant and plainly visible."

Certainly no change of this magnitude can be the work of one man. Kemp had plenty of help — Art Laffer, Jude Wanniski, Craig Roberts, Irving Kristol and others, even, with different emphases, Milton Friedman, helped prepare the way. But Kemp has been the great evangelist of productivity and tax-cutting, tirelessly going up and down the country eloquently spreading the new ideas.

At the Detroit convention, Ronald Reagan's acceptance speech was notable; but the speech everyone was talking about in the Convention Center was Jack Kemp's — and it helped to stimulate a vice presidential move for him.

But what next for Kemp? In 1980, he seriously considered challenging then Senator Jacob Javits in the New York primary, but at length decided against it. Perhaps that was a mistake, perhaps not. The little-known Alphonse d'Amato entered the race, beat Javits for the Republican nomination, then beat both Javits and Rep. Liz Holtzman (the skinny Abzug) in the general election.

Kemp could challenge New York's other senator, Pat Moynihan, but Governor Hugh Cary, whose current term ends in 1982, looks like a much more inviting target.

Cary is not popular in New York State. He is widely perceived as a routine politician, and, insofar as he does have a public identity, it is a pretty boring one. His most notable characteristic seems to be a taste for glamorous and much younger women. Cary's performance in Albany has been lackluster, except, perhaps, for his performance on the capital punishment issue. On that he declared that even if the legislature passed capital punishment over his veto, he would, as governor, commute all sentences of execution. This seems a position of very dubious constitutional morality.

Governor Carey may even face a bruising challenge in the Democratic primary from Mario Cuomo, the lieutenant governor, no admirer of Cary.

Many observers, including former President Nixon, believe that Ronald Reagan will run again and win in 1984. But it is not certain that he will do so at age 73, and in politics being in the right position at the right time can be all important.

It seems clear that, as governor of New York, Kemp would be in a much better position to fight George Bush for the nomination, whether in 1984 or four years later.

It is even possible that Carey will choose not to seek re-election, but step down and devote full time to running for president himself. Cary considers himself a potent contender, though few agree.

New York is a major state and a communications center. Both Thomas Dewey and Nelson Rockefeller used their visibility as governor to launch plausible presidential bids, and Kemp is a better campaigner than either. The governorship would provide administrative experience. Kemp could also experiment with his "enterprise zones" idea for reviving decaying central cities.

Political logic seems to dictate that Kemp run for governor in 1982.

RUSTY BROWN

Victim Of New Morality

The world has always been fascinated by crimes of passion and unrequited love.

In the ballad, we have Frankie shootin' her two-Urmin' lover for doin' her wrong. In literature, Othello smothered his beloved Desdemona because he thinks she has been unfaithful.

In 1908, this country was electrified by the trial of wealthy businessman Harry K. Thaw, who shot architect Stanford White for dallying with Thaw's showgirl-wife.

Now add girls' school headmistress Jean Harris, sentenced to at least 15 years in prison for killing her diet doctor-lover, Herman Tarnower.

I hear that several books are being written about this "crime passionelle." Obviously, these authors and their publishers feel sure that the books will sell. Each author is going to develop a theory about what drove the well-bred, well-mannered headmistress to the ultimate violence.

Some see Mrs. Harris as the classic spurned woman. Others say she is one of those women whose self-esteem and sense of worth is dependent upon the love of a man. One columnist calls it a "sorry, common soap opera of a woman who hung on too long for too little."

I have a different hunch. I think Mrs. Harris is a victim of the New Morality. She is like a lot of women over 40 who thought they could handle the "uncommitted" love-together relationship so heartily endorsed as an alternative to binding marital entanglements. I'm not suggesting that affairs and eternal triangles are a recent invention, but people like Mrs. Harris would have shunned this kind of relationship unless the times convinced them that it was OK by everybody's standards.

The uncommitted affair seems to work for younger women. But for many of us, programmed in the mores of an earlier period, it presents a risk greater than we can handle emotionally.

Mrs. Harris had a 14-year romance with the "Scarsdale Diet" author. When they met and fell in love, it was 1966. She was 42 and just divorced. Women's liberation was beginning to have an impact on all of us.

Millions of women were awakening to broader concepts of themselves and how to spend their lives. The movement encouraged them to examine their potentials — to go back to school or seek careers as well as raise a family. I'm all for all of that.

Between my parents and the Methodist Church, my life had definite limitations. No roller skating or going to movies on Sunday, for example. It was considered a major breakthrough when square dancing was allowed inside the Lakewood Methodist Church. Social dancing was unthinkable!

I tell you all of this because Mrs. Harris and I grew up within a decade of each other in similar Cleveland suburbs only a few miles apart.

Is it possible for those of us reared in the "nice-girls-don't" era to make the leap to the world of the savvy, uninhibited, sexually free modern woman? I have my doubts. The case of Mrs. Harris reinforces those doubts.

The depth of her bewilderment and despair tumbled out when she said to police shortly after the shooting: "He slept with every woman he could. I have been through so much hell with him. I loved him very much. I had it!"

Streaking Seminole Hosts Lyman Tonight; Hawks Battle Patriots

Seminole's streaking baseball team will try for its fourth straight against Lyman tonight at 7:30 at Sanford Memorial Stadium.

Coach Bobby Lundquist's crew is fresh from a 13-9 pasting of Seabreeze in which senior Sam Griffith started his first game as a pitcher and turned in a creditable performance.

Sophomore Greg Hill came to Griffith's aid in the seventh inning to cement the victory over the Sandcrabs.

Tonight against the Greyhounds, Lundquist in all probability will go with ace right-hander Tracy Walker. The sore-armed junior has not pitched in over a week and the arm should be ready.

Lyman will counter with Tom McFadden or Mike Andriano. Andriano, like Griffith, earned his first starting assignment last week and turned in a five-hitter.

Swinging the big sticks for Sanford are Alton Davis, Tracy Walker, Bret Von Herbulis, Eugene DeAlba and Chip Saunders.

The sweet-swinging Davis is hitting .338 with 18 runs batted in, which rates second in the county. Saunders is tied for third with 17 RBI.

Walker (.313), Von Herbulis (.307 and DeAlba (.300) all are consistent smackers. "Von" also has 15 runs batted in and 16-of-18 stealing bases. Davis is a perfect 10-of-10 and DeAlba is 13-of-15 for the Speedy Seminoles.

Pitching-wise, Hill tops the county in earned run average with a 1.85 reading. Walker is fourth with 2.33 per nine innings.

The Greyhounds of Bob McCullough, meanwhile, have been on a tear of their own.

McCullough has received solid mound efforts from Andriano and Kevin Brubaker (2.43 ERA) in their last two performances.

Senior second sacker Benton Wood has led the way offensively with a .356 batting average and nine stolen bases without being caught.

Power-hitting catcher Brian Holzworth is just behind Wood with a .350 average along with two round trippers and 16 RBI. Andriano checks in at .318 for the other Lyman player over .300. Todd Marriot has driven in 13 runs. Swift John Reich has nine steals in 12 attempts.

In other Five Star Conference action today, first place Lake Howell travels to Lake Brantley to take on Sam Momary's Patriots at 3:30 p.m.

The Pats have lost three straight and Momary is looking for his lusty hitting attack to return to form.

Outfielder John Simas still leads the county in runs batted in, but some of the other Brantley bats have gone silent.

Simas has 22 RBI and three home runs. Ronnie Coleman is hitting .400 and Brian Wright is batting .397. Simas is at .333.

The Silver Hawks, who are defending Five Star champs, have a devastating attack pitching and hitting.

Charlie Miller is swatting the ball at a near .500 clip and has a no-hitter to his credit this year. On the hill, Coach Birto Benjamin can hand the ball to senior Gary Smith or junior transfer David Martinez and feel pretty secure.

Martinez is a hard-throwing left-hander. He is also an outstanding hitter, who is coveted by the Boston Red Sox among others.

Slugging first baseman Jerry Winterhalter complement the Hawk's torrid attack.

Fighting Seminole Baker Hefts Weightlifting Title

Seminole's Abdul Baker hefted 450 pounds Saturday at DeLand to capture the state weight lifting championship at 123 pounds and help the Tribe to a second place finish.

Baker benchpressed 250 pounds, then came back with a clean-and-jerk of 200 to edge Lyman's Sean Dessow by 20 pounds.

The difference came in the clean-and-jerk where Dessow lifted 180 pounds. "He just out clenched-and-jerked him for the title," said Coach Bill McDaniel about Baker.

Spruce Creek was a runaway winner with 53 points, while Seminole and DeLand were next with 20 to give the Five Star a sweep of the top three spots. Lyman and Mainland tied for fifth with 11 points.

"Spruce Creek really trounced everybody," said McLaughlin. "But the Five Star is getting tough."

Seminole's Robert Guy placed second in the 165-pound class. John Eastham picked up a fourth at 114 pounds. Guy lifted 570 pounds and Eastham hoisted 355.

Dawson's Three-Run Blast Propels Expos Past Twins

By United Press International
The Montreal Expos gave the Minnesota Twins a first-hand look at why they are a consensus pick by baseball experts to win the National League East.

The Expos, who finished only one game behind Philadelphia in the East in 1980, feature an enviable blend of youth, power and pitching and they utilized all their components against the Twins Sunday. Andre Dawson's three-run homer supported shutout pitching by four Montreal pitchers to pace the Expos to a 7-0 exhibition victory.

Dawson, 26, hit his third homer of the spring in the sixth inning after two singles and an error had scored an earlier run. Roger Erickson had held the Expos to one hit over the first five innings. Montreal scored its final three runs in the eighth against John Verhoeven with the help of a wild pitch and an error by left fielder Rick Sofield.

In his final test before pitching the Expos' opener Thursday against Pittsburgh, Steve Rogers ran his shutout string to 11 innings with five scoreless innings. Young Charlie Lea and veterans Woodie Fryman and Stan Bahnsen also pitched for Montreal.

After the game, the Expos announced that David Palmer had been placed on the 21-day disabled list. Palmer is still recovering from arm surgery in November and will remain in Florida with the Class A Florida State League.

Elsewhere, Jason Thompson, in his first exhibition game with Pittsburgh, drove in three runs with a home run and two singles, pacing the Pirates to a 14-1 rout of the Cincinnati Reds ... Tommy John prepared for his Opening Day assignment by pitching five scoreless innings to lead the Yankees to a 6-0 victory over St. Louis ... Jim Sundberg doubled, tripled and scored twice on Mario Mendoza hits to lead the Texas Rangers to a 3-2 victory over Kansas City ...

Pete Guerrero hit a pair of two-run home runs, the first capping a four-run rally in the third inning, and the Dodgers held on to beat the California Angels 8-6 ... rookie Randy Bass hit a three-run double in the sixth inning to lead the San Diego Padres to 3-1 victory over Seattle ... Chris Chambliss knocked in three runs with a single, infield out and a sacrifice fly, enabling the Atlanta Braves to snap the New York Mets' six-game winning streak with a 7-2 triumph ...

Rich Dauer's 10th-inning single gave the Baltimore Orioles a 4-3 victory over Philadelphia ... Mack Babiitt's base-loaded double in the 11th inning scored two runs and gave the Oakland A's a 6-5 triumph over San Francisco ... Jeff Leonard, who had sent the game into extra innings with a ninth-inning single, singled in Gary Woods in the 11th inning to give the Houston Astros a 10-8 victory over Milwaukee ...

Catcher Lance Parrish returned after an absence of more than a week due to back spasms and blasted a three-run home run to trigger the Detroit Tigers to a 12-2 romp over Boston ... Miguel Dilone tripled home Pat Kelly with a go-ahead run in the top of the 11th and the Cleveland Indians added two more runs in the inning for an 8-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs ... A two-out pinch double by Ernie Whitt in the top of the ninth propelled the Toronto Blue Jays into extra innings against the Chicago White Sox in a game called after 13 innings with the score tied 5-5.

In other developments: the Kansas City Royals sent pitcher Craig Chamberlain to Omaha of the American Association ... the Milwaukee Brewers sent pitcher Dan Bortano to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League ... the New York Yankees sent pitcher Dave Righetti to their Hollywood, Fla., camp for reassignment and cut free agent pitcher Dave Lemanczyk ...

Seminole Community College pitcher John Thompson was mistakenly identified as John Anderson in Friday's game story. The Evening Herald regrets the error.

'Johnny Bench Era' Over, 'Carter Era' Just Begins

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — A tiny bead of perspiration dangled tantalizingly on the tip of Gary Carter's nose. He ignored it. He was so hot and sticky and sweating so much from his exertions, nothing bothered him anymore.

He had been going at a steady clip for more than four hours, taking batting practice first, then putting on all his harness and squatting down behind the plate while the other Montreal Expos hit.

After the work-out, Carter stopped a few feet from the clubhouse to talk to a newsmag waiting on a bench. Still wringing wet, the Expos' catcher sat down alongside him.

"What's that Ernie Banks always says?" he laughed. "It's a great day to play two."

"How much weight do you figure you lost today?" the writer asked him.

"Maybe five or six pounds. It's mostly water. You get it back in a hurry."

A man and his wife came by with their two little children.

"We're from Michigan and we wondered if our little girl could have your autograph," the woman said to Carter.

"Sure," he said, signing his name.

Along with a lot of ability, Gary Carter has a lot of patience. The daily grind and outside distractions of six weeks in spring training do not wear him down. He was in shape to catch the first day he reported here a month ago. He's in even better shape now and you can look for him to be handling Steve Rogers when the Expos open up this coming Thursday in Pittsburgh.

Montreal manager Dick Williams says flat out that Carter is the best catcher in baseball.

"Carter has come along so well on the mechanics of catching, he could be a tremendous catching instructor himself,"

Milton Richman
UPI Sports Editor

he said. "It used to be the 'Era of Johnny Bench.' Now it's Carter's era."

Such tributes plus so many others are nice for Carter to hear. He certainly appreciates them, but what he really is listening for is what the Expos have in mind for him in more tangible terms. Meaning money. His present contract has two more years to run and some kind of extension of that pact now is being discussed between his agent, Jerry Petrie, and Expos' President John McHale.

"I love the Expos and they've treated me fine," says Carter. "They're the only organization I've ever played with and there are a lotta reasons I want to stay right where I am. I'm what's called a landed immigrant. I have all the privileges of a Canadian citizen although I still maintain my U.S. citizenship and I make my home in Kirkland, Quebec. I like Canada, and the people there and the climate. But I'll be 27 in a few days and if I'm being looked on as the best catcher in baseball, it's only natural for me to associate that with my salary."

Carter says he isn't upset with his present one, estimated somewhere in the $175,000 to $200,000 range, but neither is he turning handsprings over it. And he can't help being curious as to what he'd rate on the open market if he becomes a free agent two years from now.

"I look at Darrell Porter, who makes about $800,000 a year," he says. "Ted Simmons is right around there also or even higher. Where does Gary Carter fit in? In my salary bracket, I rank somewhere like 16th or 17th on this team. That makes me among the lowest paid. I realize I was happy with my contract when I signed it three years ago but everything in economics has changed since then. I'm not worried about it, though. The Expos offered me an extension that would put me in a much better bracket. We're trying to work it out."

Unquestionably, McHale will do everything he can to satisfy Carter. When all the details are settled, it's quite likely Montreal's three-time All-Star, Gold Glove and MVP runner-up last season will have his contract extended at least three more years and that he'll get $1 million, or very close to it, a year. That's how much the Expos think of him.

Last season, Carter drove in 101 runs, hit 29 homers and caught in 148 games. He has averaged over 150 games played the past four years and Williams plans to give him some rest this season.

"I'm gonna try to rest him once a week and in the second games of doubleheaders, but I can't go with a total out," says the Expos' manager, hinting that backup receiver Bobby Ramos, who'll spell Carter, will have to hit sufficiently to keep working.

Carter welcomes any brief rest he gets.

"I'll take it," he says grinning. "It'll keep me strong."

Lake Mary Names Richardson

By SAM COOK

Herald Sports Editor
Willie Richardson was named the head basketball coach at Lake Mary High School the Evening Herald learned Monday morning.

Principal Don Reynolds named the Lake Brantley girls head coach of last year to the position.

Richardson joins football coach Roger Beathard and cross country and track coach Mike Gibson at the new Seminole County school.

Richardson coached boys junior varsity at Lake Brantley prior to taking over a floundering girls varsity last year.

The 33-year-old former Hungerford (Wymore Tech) basketball standout produced a 13-victory season after the Lady Patriots had won just two games the season before.

"I think it's a real good opportunity," said Richardson about the Lake Mary position. "If a person wanted to make a move, he couldn't find a better spot to go."

Richardson played two years of basketball for St. Petersburg Junior College before finishing his basketball career at Xavier University.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Elks Battles Knights Of Columbus In Junior Opener

Two teams expected to be strong in the Sanford Junior League square off against each other at 5 p.m. today in the league's season opener at Chase Park on Celery Avenue.

Knights of Columbus, coached by Alvin Whitted, will be playing the Elks entry of Coach Reginald Walton in that game. Knights of Columbus finished second last season and has several key players returning.

Defending champ Kiwanis makes its 1981 debut at 7 p.m. tonight against Masters Cove Apartments. Kiwanis is coached by Everard Archer, while Dave Sullivan is at the reins of Masters Cove, which was formerly sponsored by V.F.W.

The league's other two teams, Moose and Rotary, are idle today. They play each other at 5 p.m. Wednesday. Moose is coached by Bill Dube, while Bob Rowe is the Rotary coach.

Junior League games are played at 5 and 7 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at Chase Park.

Bagley Fly Gives Tribe Split

Sue Bagley's sacrifice fly in the second inning brought home Robin Riggins as Seminole dropped DeLand for a split of a Saturday double-header at Ft. Mellon Park.

The loss avenged an earlier 7-4 setback to Seabreeze in which the Lady Sandcrabs exploded for five first-inning runs and never trailed.

The Seminole mustered only four hits in the first game. Jackie Link had two singles and a run batted in. Lack of hitting also hampered Seminole against the Bulldogs, but of the three blows, two figured in the two-run second inning.

Tony Hardy opened the frame by reaching on an error by the DeLand second baseman. Riggins promptly chased home Hardy with a booming triple to center field.

Bagley then followed with a lengthy fly ball to left field which plated Riggins with the eventual winning run.

Defensively, shortstop Johnnie Bennett and second baseman Cindy Pendarvis corroborated on an excellent double play to shut off a DeLand threat.

Bennett went to her knees for a ground ball, rifled the ball to Pendarvis from her prone position and the quick second sacker relayed to first for the twin killing.

"Johnnie made a great great stop and throw, then Cindy really got rid of the ball in a hurry to first base," said Coach Beth Corso. Marti Warner also turned in a nice stretch at first for the game's final out.

Tuesday Seminole travels to Lyman to play Cindy Henry's Lady Greyhounds at 3:30 p.m. The Tribe beat Lyman in the bottom of the seventh in the first meeting of the two teams.

Lakers 'Magic' Missing; Kings, Celtics Post Wins

By United Press International

A funny thing happened on the way out of The Forum Sunday ... the Los Angeles Lakers weren't smiling.

With Houston trailing 86-85 after Magic Johnson could make only 1-of-3 free throws, Mike Dunleavy sank a 15-foot jumper with 15 seconds remaining to put the Rockets ahead. After a Laker timeout, Johnson missed an off-balance shot and Moses Malone added two insurance free throws to lift Houston to an 89-86 triumph — sending Los Angeles packing off to the quickest exit for a defending NBA champion in 11 years.

The 1980-81 Boston Celtics won their second consecutive NBA title, but couldn't even make the playoffs the next season following the retirement of the legendary Bill Russell — who cackled a little louder than usual in providing the commentary for Sunday's nationally televised game.

The Rockets, who entered the playoffs with a 40-42 record, won the best-of-three miniseries by taking two games in the Forum — where the Lakers posted a 30-11 record. Houston opens its best-of-seven Western Conference semifinal series in San Antonio Tuesday night against the Midwest champion Spurs.

Dunleavy was an unlikely hero Sunday. He had committed five fouls while scoring just 8 points in 14 minutes and watched most of the game from the bench because of foul trouble.

The Lakers were led by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who scored 30 points and grabbed 18 rebounds in outplaying Malone, who had 21 points and 15 rebounds.

Portland Coach Jack Ramsay also has a void to fill after another Pacific Division club was shockingly eliminated at home by a Midwest foe in the miniseries.

Reggie King was the star for Kansas City in Game 3, scoring 20 of his 28 points in the second half to help the Kings eliminate the Trail Blazers 104-95. The Kings, who also won two games on the road, came from 15 points behind to a 49-48 halftime lead on King's two free throws.

Kansas City opens up a best-of-seven Western Conference semifinal series Tuesday night in Phoenix against the Pacific Division champion Suns.

Form held in the opening games of the best-of-seven Eastern Conference semifinals as Philadelphia edged Central Division champ Milwaukee 125-122 in the Spectrum and the Atlantic Division champion Celtics whipped Chicago 121-109 in Boston Garden.

Julius Erving scored 18 of his game-high 38 points in the fourth quarter to help the 76ers take a 1-0 edge. Game 2 is slated at the Spectrum Tuesday night.

After Milwaukee took a 122-121 lead on a steal and driving dunk by Sidney Moncrief with 53 seconds remaining, Erving made two free throws as the 76ers — who own the best home record in the league — took the lead with 38 seconds left. After Marques Johnson missed a jumper with 21 seconds to play, Philadelphia's Lionel Hollins sank two free throws with 11 seconds remaining for the final margin. Bobby Jones stole the ensuing inbounds pass to seal the verdict.

Junior Bridgeman led the Bucks with 32 points.

Larry Bird scored 23 points and Cedric Maxwell added 21 as the Celtics won their opening playoff game.

Elusive Smith Put On 'Hold'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — For 71 days, boxing promoter Harold J. Smith lived in hiding, intensifying the mystery of a $21.3 million bank embezzlement and claiming he'd be killed if he appeared publicly.

Today, following his weekend arrest at gunpoint by nearly 30 federal agents, Smith was to appear in federal court to be arraigned on passport violation charges.

Also, FBI agent Jack Jackson said a "hold" has been placed on Smith by North Carolina authorities.

And while Jackson refused to offer details or say if it was related to the bank fraud, the hold would normally mean Smith could not be released on bail following his arraignment.

That's when charges in the bank fraud case could be leveled against the flamboyant Smith. He and a business partner were expected to be named in federal grand jury indictments, a federal official said several weeks ago.

"The mystery will be resolved (at the arraignment)," Jackson said Sunday.

Smith was arrested Saturday in a motor home by a swarm of FBI agents near the Los Angeles Police Academy and Dodger Stadium on a warrant charging him with making a false statement in applying for a U.S. passport.

He spent the weekend in county jail pending today's appearance before the U.S. magistrate.

The penalties for filing a false passport application include a $2,000 fine or five years in prison.

The Wells Fargo Bank branch in Beverly Hills reported last January the loss of $21.3 million which had been siphoned from accounts over a two-year period. As the investigation progressed, former bank operations officer Lloyd Ben Lewis, an official of Muhammad Ali Professionals Sports (MAPS) headed by Smith, was named as the mastermind of the scheme.

Bank officials claimed the fraud was carried out after a method was found to bypass the bank's auditing system. It involved the writing of false debit and credit tickets, a bank official said.

The funds flowed out of the accounts in the names of MAPS, Muhammad Ali Amateur Sports, Inc.; Harold J. Smith Productions; Bodak Productions.

Game Cancelled

The basketball rematch between the Tampa Bay Bucs and the Seminole faculty has been cancelled due to poor pregame ticket sales.

"We have to guarantee them a $1,000," said Seminole Business Manager Gay Alling Monday morning. "We're not close to doing that."

In the first meeting the faculty whipped the Bucs by 22 points. The game was scheduled for Tuesday evening.

Friendship Force: Americans, Germans Exchange Countries

The Friendship Force, a non-profit organization originated by Rosalyn Carter, has just completed the first tour from Orlando.

This is an exchange program where the fare to and from a country is paid by the traveler, who is then a guest of volunteer hosts in the country visited.

This travel program started in 1976, and has proven to be a successful method of establishing a friendly relationship.

Alma and Avery Harrison, Longwood, agreed to take two German men as guests for about two weeks.

When the Harrisons arrived at Bob Carr Auditorium to meet their guests, there were 170 residents of Germany and not enough hosts to take care of them all. They ended up taking four men. It turned out well, however, since the last two men were able to speak English.

Guest Hartmut Becker, 34, a bachelor who teaches business administration and economics to Americans working in the General Food Plant. He also works in a bank in Hamburg and speaks fluent English. He spent two years in the equivalent to the U.S. National Guard and patrolled the boarder between East and West Germany.

Harry Potske, another guest, and 53, married, was given this trip by his wife for his birthday. He is a salesman for a concrete water proof company, lives in Hamburg and speaks no English.

Guest Walter Beyer, 48, is married and is a vocational and technological science teacher in Hamburg. He speaks no English.

Guest Gerd Meastorf, 55, is a contractor and builder of houses and apartments. This was his third trip to the United States and has also traveled in Russia. He lives in Schlesweg. Captured by the Americans in Holland during WW II, he spent two years as an American Prisoner of War. He speaks some English.

The guests from Germany were well liked by the people at a rally outside St. Augustine, where they entertained The International Caravan Club's past president and the executive secretary were at the Rally and took pictures which will appear with an article in the "Blue Beret", the international magazine for the club.

For Harry Potske's birthday celebration, they went to Rosie O'Grady's and that was a highlight for them all. The Harrisons accompanied the guests on sightseeing tours of the state.

Sixteen members of the 20-member Seminole Singers, along with two husbands, two daughters, a sister and a granddaughter left Orlando for Hamburg, Germany as members of the Friendship Force the day after the German group arrived. There was a total of 50 people on the German bound tour, and there were 200 host homes available.

They all met at Eve Cookes home in Spring Lake Hills, Altamonte, recently to compare notes and experiences.

This American Friendship Force group were covered by Channel 9 TV. Segments of the trip have been televised locally. Brunhilde Nakutis is a native of southern Germany, Freiburg, in the Black Forest. During World War II, she was unable to travel so the trip to Hamburg and the North Sea area was particularly thrilling for her. Brunhilde and Bronius, her husband were guests of a doctor and his wife in Hamburg who plan to visit the Nakutis in their Longwood home.

On arrival in Hamburg, the Americans were given an official welcome at the Hamburg City Hall. There was a royal-like reception with free champagne, cigars, cigarettes and other refreshments.

While there, the Seminole Singers put on four programs: three "hat rack" performances and one religious. The religious program was held in a beautiful church with marvelous acoustics, just outside the city of Hamburg. The doctor recorded the performance, and Brunhilde said she could not believe it was them—the sound was so beautiful!

It was cold—in the 40s—and raining all but two or three days while they were there. This did not dampen their spirits, however.

Before leaving Orlando, the Florida Citrus Growers gave each traveler a bag of oranges as a gift to the host family. All reported that the Florida oranges were well received.

Each traveler had wonderful, different experiences with his host family—never to be forgotten. Mrs. Joe (Donnalean) White, pianist for the singers was allowed to play the largest organ in Hamburg at the St. Michael's Cathedral. This was reported to have been quite a thrill for her.

Everyone agreed they were treated well, and they enjoyed the trip tremendously, even if the weather was not perfect.

Brunhilde said, "We did not leave people in Germany; we left our friends to return home."

Members of the Seminole Singers and their families who were a part of the first Friendship Force originating in the Orlando area were: Alda Rowe, director of Seminole Singers; Donnalean White, pianist; Donna Pratt and her daughter, Penny, who is a student at Rollins; Sarah Walter and her sister, Caroline Garrison; Florence Smith and her granddaughter, Laura Lent, who was given the trip as a graduation present; Pat Rodgers, Wanda Hansford and daughter, Dana; Jan Menzies, Ruth Johnson; Phyllis Parker, Joy McFarland; Brunhilde Nakutis and husband, Bronius; Gladys Massett husband, Joe; Vivian Hall, Joan Ridilla and Mildred McLendon.

MR. AND MRS. ALAN LUTHER HARKEY

Janet Bosse, A.L. Harkey Repeat Vows

Janet Elizabeth Bosse and Alan Luther Harkey were married March 7, at 4 p.m., at the First United Methodist Church, Sanford. The bridegroom's father, the Rev. Bernard Harkey, and the Rev. Edward Kircher performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hammond E. Bosse, 115 S. Lake Florence, Winter Haven. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary Kronjaeger, Jacksonville, and the Rev. Harkey of Jacksonville. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a silk organza gown fashioned with a modified Queen Anne neckline and full bishop sleeves. The gown was lavishly embellished with Venise lace and clusters of seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion, edged in lace, was secured to a lace and pearl Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses showered with baby's breath and satin streamers.

Lisa Albritton attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a lilac chiffon gown designed with a cowl neckline, open cap sleeves and a peplum at the waistline.

Bridesmaids were Donna Bosse, and Joan Bosse, Winter Haven; Grace Jones and Sarah Harkey, Jacksonville. Their attire was identical to the honor attendants.

Fred Adkins served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsman were Scott Neisler, King Mountain, N.C.; Larry Bosse, Winter Haven; Herbert Hughes, Jacksonville; and Kenneth Kircher, Miami. Larry Bosse Jr. of Winter Haven, was the junior usher.

Kimberly Bosse of Winter Haven, was the flower girl. Ring bearer was William Ella, Winter Haven.

The reception was held in the church social hall. After a wedding trip to Sapphire Valley, N.C., the newlyweds are making their home in Winter Haven. The bride is employed by Crowder Bros. and the bridegroom is administrative assistant to Sen. Alan Trask.

Priest Lauds Item, 'Advice To Teens'

DEAR ABBY: I am a Jesuit priest who just finished reading your magnificent article, "Advice to Teens," in February's Good Housekeeping magazine. That dynamic article is so useful, so positive, so practical, I simply must take time out to say "Congratulations!"

Dear Abby

For 30 years I've been combining my work at the local university with teaching teens in high school, so I know from my contact with young people how very important your message is.

I am certain that parents and teachers everywhere will be grateful to you for this excellent article. God love you and prosper you.

Minofsky is or was, but my wife's relative, Sir Frederick Grant Banting (1891-1941), together with Charles H. Best, made that discovery in 1921. Dr. Banting was not Jewish.

(My source: Encyclopedia Britannica, 1962, Volume 3, page 79.) C.B.H., CITRUS HEIGHTS, CALIF.

DEAR MR. H.: My apologies. Dr. Banting and Dr. Best (both Canadians) were indeed credited with having discovered insulin.

No doubt Mr. Levenson anglicized the name of Dr. Oskar Minowski, the German scientist who with Dr. Joseph von Mering introduced in 1889 the concept that diabetes results from suppression of a pancreatic substance, later found to be a hormone that was named insulin.

(My source: Encyclopedia Britannica, 1977, Volume VI, page 917.)

Pro Sisters In Springs Water Act

Former World's Professional Synchronized Swimming Champions and newly crowned National Masters Synchro Champions for Duets, Mary Rose and Fran Gloe (formerly the Dwight Sisters) will perform with the Loreleis of Sharidan Aquatic, a 35-girl water ballet team, at the annual Florida Symphony Orchestra "Spirings Concert" Saturday, at 8 p.m.

The Dwight Sisters gained fame as swimmers with the internationally known Water Follies and traveled to every major city in the world demonstrating their skills.

The sisters are now living and working in Central Florida. Fran has the Atlantis Swim School and Mary is the coach of the Loreleis.

Mary is also the National Age Group Chairman for the US Olympic Committee.

The Loreleis, along with Mary and Fran, will be accompanied by the Florida Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Associate Conductor Alfred Savia at the popular outdoor concert at The Springs (1/4 mile west of I-4 on State Route 434).

The girls, aged six to seventeen, practice six hours a week in the winter and ten hours a week in the summer.

Tickets for the "Springs Concert" are available at the Florida Symphony office and local ticket agencies. Call the Symphony office (841-1200 for information.

Who's Killing Whom?

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Although the number of murders in Florida broke a record last year, the pattern of killing in the state remained largely unchanged.

Analysts at the Florida Department of Law Enforcement go beyond counting homicides in their annual crime reports to search for hints at those killing whom, why, where and when.

A comparison of 1990 trends finds little statistically significant differences from those spotted in recent years.

Florida recorded 1,387 murders last year — one every 6.3 hours. The figure was up 28 percent over the previous year's and broke the record of 1,190 set in 1974.

The murder rate — considered the most important figure by law enforcement specialists — was 14.5 per 100,000 population, an increase over the 1979 figure of 11.7 and 1978's 10.6.

Delving into the broad statistics, analysts found: Handguns were responsible for 50.6 percent of all murders last year; rifles, 4.2 percent; shotguns, 5.7 percent, and knives, 18.4 percent.

With some minor fluctuations, these ratios have remained constant over the past five years.

Eight murder victims were infants under one year of age; 31 were elderly people over 75. Forty-two percent — or 596 — were between the ages of 20 and 34.

Seventy-six percent of the victims were men and 58 percent were white.

Police "cleared" 896 murders — or 65 percent — either through arrests or other means such as when an alleged murderer himself dies. This is down from the 70-plus percent figures of recent years.

Males accounted for 87.6 percent of those arrested for murder and 18.7 percent of the suspects were between 25 and 29. The suspects were evenly divided between white and black, 50.1 percent and 49.2 percent respectively. Arguments within families led to 13.7 percent of the murders, with 114 homicides representing one spouse killing another, and 20 a parent killing a child.

Arguments between non-relatives accounted for 46.5 percent of the killings and 39.8 percent of the victims were murdered in connection with robberies and other crimes.

Lovers' quarrels represented 9.2 percent of the killings; drinking arguments, 6.8 percent; narcotics arguments, 5.6 percent, and money arguments, 4.5 percent. All are comparable to the figures for recent years.

Saturday continued to be the most dangerous day of the week with 18.7 percent of the killings. The safest day was Thursday with 11.8 percent.

Seven law enforcement officers were among the victims — a jump of three above the 1979 figure. Five were killed by handguns, one by a shotgun and one by a knife.

All the officers were attacked from a range of less than six feet and all but one of the killings occurred without warning to the officers of immediate danger.

"The attitude of disrespect for law enforcement officials and the failure of citizens to come to the aid of the officers being attacked as they attempt to perform their lawful duties is one of the serious problems facing law enforcement today," the FDLE said.

Dade County led the state with 515 murders and Broward had 174. Five counties — Charlotte, Gilchrist, Lafayette, Levy and Suwannee — reported none.

Miami experienced the largest percentage increase of any city of 100,000 residents or more in the nation, jumping 66 percent from 134 murders in 1979 to 220 last year.

Critical Balance Must For Health

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am hoping you can help me in some way. I'm a 66-year-old man. About six months ago I developed internal bleeding.

The balance can be upset because of a loss of too many blood cells, which apparently happened in your case.

You need certain vital elements to enable the bone marrow to function properly.

The balance factors involved in an anemia are discussed in greater detail in The Health Letter number 4-3.

1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Meanwhile, your doctors are doing what needs to be done to prevent bleeding while at the same time providing medicines to stimulate or support your bone marrow.

Medical World News reviewed this problem some time ago and pointed out that Dr. Victor Herbert, a nutritionist from Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn, said that when it was mixed with saliva it was mutagenic, meaning a cancer risk.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, April 7, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY

APRIL 7, 1981
There is a possibility that you might do a considerable amount of traveling this coming year.

ARIES (March 22-April 19)
You've heard that old adage, "The harder you work the luckier you get."

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Your possibilities for personal gain are very promising today, but you must take care not to become discouraged if you don't grab the brass ring on the first try.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Don't deliberately seek them, but know in the back of your mind that you're very good at dealing with difficult situations today should any arise.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Pleasant surprises could be in store for you today if you've recently gone out of your way to be helpful.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Business and pleasure should mix well today. You're gifted at handling the mundane, but you also know how to make friends in the process.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Don't discount any clever ideas you get today which you feel could advance your status or increase your income.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Difficulties which could overwhelm others aren't apt to have the same effect on you today.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Associations with the right types could turn out extremely profitable for you today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Subdue your independent impulses today and strive to work more in harmony with others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
There is a possibility that you will be luckier later in the day than you are in the a.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
Take advantage of opportunities today to meet or mix with influential persons.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Situations today where you are using the assets or resources of others, rather than your own, should turn out to be fortunate for all.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Table with columns for NORTH, WEST, EAST, SOUTH and card counts for various suits.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag
Oswald: "Here is a hand that really illustrates the difference between a good bridge game and a championship game."

game. East plays his five of diamonds at trick one. South takes his ace, draws trumps with three leads, stopping in dummy, leads a heart and plays his nine. West takes the trick and continues diamonds.

Oswald: "In the very good game, South ducks the first diamond, but takes the second. Then he draws trumps, ruffs dummy's last diamond, cashes all the clubs, leads a heart, sticks in his nine and makes his contract since West must either lead a second heart to the king or give South a ruff and discard."

Alan: "In the championship game, South is given no chance to make his contract. East puts his king of diamonds on his partner's queen. If South ducks, East leads a heart back and the defense eventually gets three heart tricks. South's best play is to take his diamond ace right away. Then to draw trumps and to lead a diamond from dummy. In that case, East must play the ten (second hand high) in order to lead a heart while West still has an out card."

$390 Million For Jails

Graham Pushes 'War On Crime'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham challenged the Legislature today to implement a massive attack on crime, including a $390 million program to build local jails, and act immediately.

Graham told legislators convening for the 1981 session he is so confident they will appropriate additional money for the crime fight he is instructing state agencies to start recruiting 150 additional Florida Highway Patrol troopers, 441 additional state's attorneys' staff, 141 additional public defenders' staff and 74 additional corrections officers.

He also asked lawmakers in his "State of the State" speech to authorize 27 additional judgeships by May 1, so the Judicial Nominating Commission can begin screening candidates.

He also imposed a May 1 deadline for changes in the juvenile justice law so authorities can detain troublesome youthful offenders.

This early action will enable Florida's intensified fight against major crime — which went up 18 percent last year — to begin almost immediately when the new fiscal year commences July 1.

"We will never turn Florida over to the mobsters, drug smugglers and thugs who would destroy the great state we have worked hard to build," the governor said.

"Without a safe and secure community in which to live, the hopes and efforts of our people for a more beautiful and bountiful state are in vain. Domestic tranquility, peace and justice under the law — these are the foundation of our charge as public servants."

Graham renewed his call for tax increases to generate $300 million a year in additional transportation money and also emphasized the need for beefed up funding for education and economic development. But he made it clear he sees the crime issue as the most critical one facing the Legislature this year.

"We must guarantee that no convicted criminal ever is turned back into the street because we didn't have a jail cell to put him in," he said.

He asked legislators to accept appropriations in his proposed state budget adding 1,768 beds to the critically overcrowded state prison system. And he proposed a unique solution to the crisis overcrowding existing in most county and city jails.

He renewed his demand that Cuban felons be taken to the U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo and pushed out the gates if necessary.

The Legislature should place before the voters this November, he said, a constitutional amendment authorizing the state to issue bonds to raise money for local jails and pass a statute ordering a $390 million bond issue, contingent on passage of the amendment.

The $390 million would enable the state to provide 80 percent of the money for local jails constructed between now and the year 2,000. In addition, the state would reimburse local governments for 80 percent of the costs for jails constructed or renovated since 1975.

This state help will free property tax dollars to hire more policemen and sheriff's deputies.

Graham asked the Legislature to expand the state prison industries program, to locate future prisons near metropolitan areas where most criminals come from so inmates will be closer to their families and pass a law specifically authorizing the statewide victim-witness coordinating program.

He called for legislation letting local governments keep civil forfeitures collected under Florida's RICO, organized crime statute and to give judges more discretion in refusing bond to accused persons who have serious previous criminal records.

He blasted the federal government for not doing its fair share in the fight against drug smuggling and relocation of Cuban and Haitian refugees and for letting "known criminals" from Cuba and Haiti into Florida.

He renewed his demand that Cuban felons be taken to the U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo and pushed out the gates if necessary.

He asked House Speaker Ralph Haben and Senate President W.D. Childers to select a delegation "to travel with me to Washington to personally ensure that the federal government recognizes its responsibility to act on this (the refugee) issue."

Graham said he continues to stand behind his gas tax increase plan to provide additional money for transportation, but is willing to consider other options, including, presumably, the sales tax hike being proposed by Childers and other Senate leaders.

Music Teacher Faces Dismissal

By SYBIL MITCHELL GANDY
Herald Staff Writer

Robert Maguire, a Seminole High School chorus instructor who was suspended last week for "neglect of duty," faces possible job termination after nearly six years in the Seminole County School System.

Reprimanded by County Superintendent Robert Hughes for an unexcused April 1 absence, Maguire has been under suspension with pay for failing to report for work that morning.

Hughes suspended Maguire citing willful neglect of duty and "misconduct in office."

Maguire, according to Hughes, violated school board policy when he did not contact the principal of Seminole High School to report he was not coming in because he had a doctor's appointment.

The policy states that "any member of the instructional staff" who is ill must notify the principal as soon as possible before the school opens so that arrangements for substitution can be made. Only an emergency situation would excuse a neglect to follow this established procedure.

Maguire teaches at both Seminole and Crooms high schools on a continuing contract basis, therefore exempting him from direct dismissal action by the board. But if the board upholds a recommendation by Hughes to set dismissal procedures in motion through public hearings, Maguire may be ultimately fired.

Represented by John Shamblee, a Tampa attorney for the Seminole Education Association, Maguire declined to comment on the action he expected board members to take at tonight's preliminary hearing.

Ned Julian Jr., school board attorney, explained that three actions were possible: board members could vote to continue the suspension with pay, enact suspension without pay, or terminate the suspension and fully reinstate.

MIRRORED SUNSET

Twilight and the early evening's rays transform the Seminole County Courthouse into a sun-splashed mirror. Clouds drift across flat reflective windows. Palm fronds rustle gently in the breeze. It's a peaceful world colored bright by the spring sun's fading fire. The colors fade quickly, however. Night creeps in. But then, with the coming of dawn, the show begins anew. And it's free to all who will but look.

Trouble Delays Shuttle Launch 9-11 Hours

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Engineers ran into new countdown trouble early today, setting back by nine to 11 hours preparations to launch two astronauts Friday on the first test flight of the space shuttle Columbia.

The difficulty dealt with gaseous contamination in the ship's three fuel cell generators.

The problem meant the launch team probably would not be able to make up lagging countdown work by tonight as hoped. But there was no immediate indication that the difficulty would force a delay in the launch of astronauts John Young and Robert Crippen.

The space agency said in a 6 a.m. EST status report that samples taken of hydrogen and oxygen gases pushed through the fuel cell system found a "high reading" of nitrogen, argon and helium.

The systems contain pure oxygen and hydrogen to work properly.

The fuel cells use the chemical reaction between hydrogen and oxygen to produce electricity with water as a useful byproduct.

The agency said the bypass of a damaged electrical circuit in the shuttle's engine compartment was completed early today.

Technicians had an eight-hour "hold" beginning at 10 a.m. to make up much of the lagging work, but an official said it appeared the countdown still would be behind as a result of the fuel cell trouble when the clock was to restart at 6 p.m.

Weather forecasters continued to be optimistic about conditions at launch time. But Capt. Merlyn Forsyth said Air Force meteorologists were keeping a close watch on a frontal system approaching from the west.

He said the outlook was that the rain and clouds associated with the front would be about 100 miles north of the Cape for the scheduled 6:50 a.m. takeoff of Young and Crippen.

The pilots, now living in a health isolation trailer at the Johnson Space Center in Houston, planned to fly to the launch site Wednesday. So is Crippen's mother, Ruth, proprietor of a beer parlor in Porter, Texas. "I'd a whole lot rather see him land," she admitted Monday.

Engineers were earlier set back three hours by a leaking oxygen valve in a pipe running between the launch pad and ground storage tanks.

Launch director George Page said today's hold and two others like it were inserted into this week's countdown specifically to deal with problems of the kind that have been experienced so far.

Study Could Net Funds To Save Downtown Library

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Completion of the study on library needs in Seminole County could pave the way for state funding to expand and renovate the county's branch library in Sanford.

John Percy, director of county development, said today a $5,000 contract for the study was executed with Richard L. Waters, assistant director of the Dallas, Texas Library about two months ago with the idea of gaining the state money.

Some $50,000 was set aside by the Legislature, under a bill supported by State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, specifically for Seminole County a year ago, Percy said.

Another study being conducted by architects Greenleaf-Telesco of Orlando is to be given to the County Commission next week, outlining costs and feasibility of expanding the old post office building in downtown Sanford where the Sanford branch library is currently located.

Percy said the state requires the county to provide $50,000 in matching funds.

He said the deadline for filing application for the state funding is April 15. A report from the architects stating the old building can be expanded must be in hand before commissioners can make a decision to go with the application, specifically for the Sanford branch.

"Everyone seems to think it is a pretty good building," Percy said. It will likely be the choice for the first expansion of county library services if the project is feasible, he said.

Percy said it was believed the county should look at county-wide library needs before deciding definitely where the state money should be spent and that is why Waters was hired to do the study.

Meanwhile, Waters' preliminary report of his study of county library needs recommends the current Sanford facility be replaced by a library "more centrally located" than in the downtown area of Sanford.

It also recommends the commission consider placing the issue of new construction of libraries in the county on an early ballot. He has estimated a cost of $4.6 million to build four county libraries, saying the facilities are needed "now." The county also operates a branch library in leased space in Seminole Plaza in Casselberry.

County Commissioners Sandra Glenn and Barbara Christensen said today they have no objection to the issue being placed on the ballot. But, both added that they favor keeping the branch library in downtown Sanford at its current location if at all possible.

"I'm not willing to spend the money to build new libraries unless we go to referendum and it's approved by the people," Mrs. Christensen said.

"I didn't vote for the study and personally felt the study was a waste of time and money inasmuch as it didn't tell us anything we didn't know," she said. "When the county spends money I like to see something tangible in return."

"I think the facilities downtown should be kept there. It seems to me it would be more costly to abandon that facility and build a new one," she said.

Mrs. Glenn said: "The city of Sanford has cooperated with the county by leasing the current library building to us. There is a vacant lot available for expansion adjacent to the facility and many people are using the Sanford branch. I would have to be shown a graphic change has occurred in all three of these areas before I would agree to move the library from its current location."

She also said that she does not favor a special election on a library bond issue. But, she added, she has no objections to a referendum on the issue in 1982 during a regular election.

Before that is done, however, Mrs. Glenn said she would want to know a firm cost so that a definite rate of taxation for the new library facilities could be included in the ballot question. Under lease agreement signed by Sanford and the county commission a year ago, the old post office building may be used by the county as long as a public library is located there.

Commission Chairman Bob Sturm said when an expenditure of $4.6 million is being discussed, the people should have an opportunity "to tell us if they want that type of service."

Sturm said if a project of that scope were to be accomplished, a countywide library taxing district would have to be established. He said additional libraries are needed in the county.

Several years ago the people in a straw ballot question indicated they wanted library service. But Sturm added the straw ballot was not a clear mandate to go into this recommended construction program.

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff said he is waiting for a final report from Waters before he makes any decision.

Yanks Join Feast Fit For King-in-Laws

LONDON (UPI)—Americans in search of the romantic, offbeat holiday are happily plunking down $2,200 apiece for a tour highlighted by the privilege of dining with the in-laws of England's future king.

Snapping up a package offered by a New York travel agency, tourists from the United States will share a four-course meal, including wine, with the Earl and Countess Spencer. Their daughter, Lady Diana, is marrying Prince Charles in July.

"The chance to hob-nob with her folks is a huge attraction," said Wynn Oz, president of the Manhattan-based travel agency World of Oz.

Mrs. Oz said Saturday the tour was a sell-out.

The seven-day "Romantic World" holiday package also includes tea with romantic novelist Barbara Cartland, Lady Diana's grandmother.
