Land Valuation Ruling Given

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The State Supreme Court ruled Monday that condemnation of land can not be figured into its face value when juries are deciding how much to award the owner.

To rule otherwise, the court said, would permit a condemnor to depreciate property values by a threat of condemnation, then take advantage of the depressed value which results by paying the land owner the depreciated value.

"This would amount to a confiscation of the owner's property," the court said. "Value should be based on highest and best use to which the property is being or might reasonably be put."

Although the court decision could be applied to many condemnation suits for land being taken for public purposes, it specifically granted a new trial in a proceeding to set the price the state must pay for four parcels of land in downtown Orlando for Interstate Highway 4.

Seven Indicted In Explosion

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — A grand jury indicted the state fire marshal, the Indianapolis fire chief and five other persons Monday and charged that "utter disregard of duty by many" contributed to a Halloween explosion here that killed 72 persons.

"No one seemed willing to carefully inspect the premises and protect the safety and welfare of the some 3 million people who have entered the building during the past 10 years," the grand jury said in an accompanying 21 page report.

It called for a special session of the legislature "to completely overhaul" the department of the state fire marshal, "or abolish it entirely."

The strongly worded report and the indictments came after a weeks-long investigation into the blast that shook the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum on Oct. 31 as an ice show was nearing its climax. More than 300 persons were injured.

Just Following Instructions

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Highway patrol driver's license examiners swear this happened.

Will Smith applied for a driver's license and was told to sign his last name first and his first name last on the application.

"How is that?" asked Smith.

"Write your name backwards," replied the examiner.

Smith grumbled but did as he was told. It came out this way: Lllw Hllm.

Plead Innocent

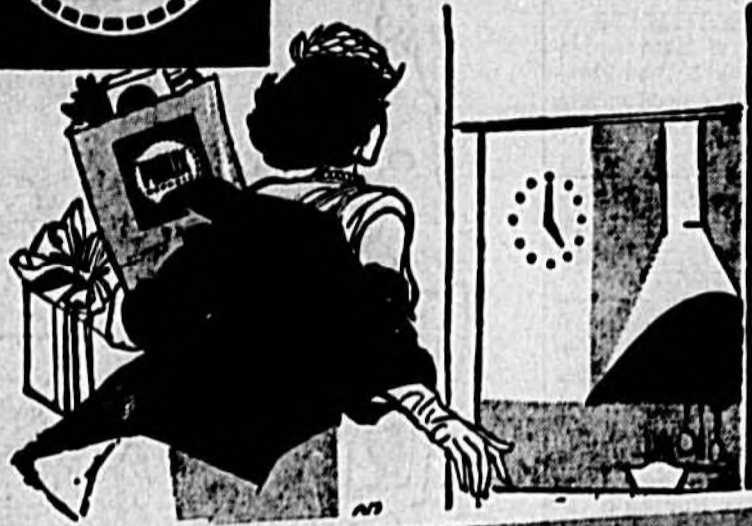

OCALA (UPI) — Twelve University of Florida students and teachers pleaded innocent here yesterday to charges growing out of a racial demonstration Saturday.

The 12, all white, were arrested by Ocala police during the demonstration and later released on $500 bond each.

No trial date was set.

All you guys and dolls planning to wed over the Christmas holiday, hear this from County Judge Vernon Mize: Make application for your wedding license by Friday, Dec. 20, and pick it up by Dec. 23. Courthouse will be closed Dec. 24-25. Hizzoner says that every year it is the same—couples wanting to wed on Christmas Day forget about courthouse closing and holidays. Last call!

Pennies, nickels and dimes DO add up... If you don't believe it, ask Larry Reynolds, who was in charge of the Muscular Dystrophy road block sponsored by Sanford Moose Lodge. Total collection of $42.99 was made up of $12.44 in pennies, $17.50 in nickels, $74.50 in dimes, $112.75 in quarters, $90.50 in half-dollars and $55 in dollar bills. (And if that don't add up, blame Judy Wells.)

NOTE ON THE SPINDLE: R. M. Thompson Company, of Clearwater, telephoned again to say the mayor, commissioners and businessmen have been invited to the groundbreaking for the Sanford Shopping Center at Onora Street and 17-92 at 10 Tuesday... and hopes you will be there for news coverage and pictures. (We will!)

FOR YOU SPORTS and other fans who are missing Julian Stenstrom's writings: He just telephoned at 12:30 this afternoon to say the doctor has ordered him to the hospital and his brother, Doug, will transport him. Seems an old, old injury has developed into blood poisoning in his arm.

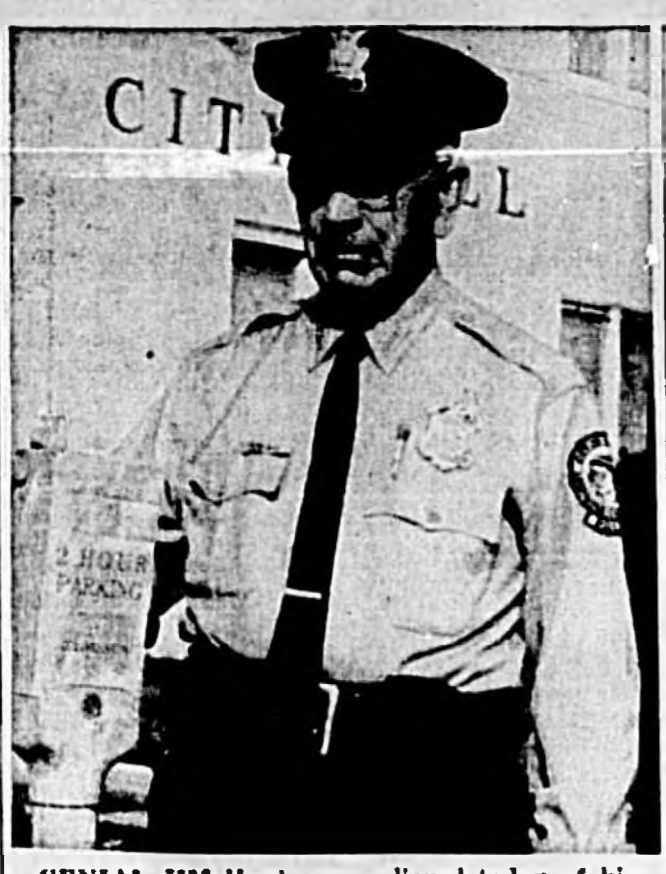

Have you seen those new "phony" dollar bills? They're not really phony... just so new and different that merchants are rejecting them because they look so phony. Actually, they are for real.

Just learned that pretty Pat Hutchison—wife of the city attorney—telephoned congratulations on The Herald's full page of pictures on the social season opening. Maybe Bill didn't tell her—but R. E. Porter already congratulated the counselor about his good-looking wife.

Note to Bob Thomas: We'd like a good complete coverage, with pictures, of the new Midway volunteer fire department. Just learned from Rev. Harold Clark that the fire chief, Rev. E. E. Williams, took delivery on a new fire truck about two weeks ago.

Herald staffers report that 14 is in use, although not officially opened, all the way through Seminole County. In fact, one reporter says she transversed the new through-way clear to Longwood.

"Cathy Casseberry"—pretty little five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Casseberry typed out her name, sitting on R. E. Porter's lap. Cathy made it very plain—it's spelled "Cathy" and not "Kathy."

Castro Tells 'Why' Missiles Were Set Up

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fidel Castro has been quoted as saying that a remark by President Kennedy convinced him and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that a U. S. invasion of Cuba was imminent and led them to place Russian missiles on the island.

The White House said Wednesday, however, that the late President stated at the time to Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexander I. Adzhubel, that no U. S. invasion was planned. Castro's reference was to the talk Kennedy had with Adzhubel, the editor of the newspaper Izvestia, in January 1962.

Castro's statements were reported by Jean Daniel, a French newspaperman who interviewed the Cuban premier shortly before the Nov. 22 assassination of Kennedy.

Castro said Kennedy recalled for Adzhubel that the United States did not intervene when Russia put down the 1956 revolt in Hungary. According to Daniel, Castro said he and Khrushchev took this to mean that the United States planned a second invasion attempt against Cuba and did not expect Russia to intervene.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger, who was among those present during the Adzhubel interview, said that was not the way it was at all. He said his notes show no mention of Hungary, but an interpreter's notes showed that Kennedy "did use the word Hungary, but not in the context used by Castro."

Thief Finds Jail Lucky

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI)—Ahmet Kahramanklar, 18, left the Anatolian village of Canikiri to seek his fortune in Istanbul but lost his job as a dentist's valet when the dentist's wife missed $1,000 worth of jewelry and police locked him up pending trial.

The other prisoners got him interested in the Turkish soccer pools and Kahramanklar won $31,000 by picking winners 13 weeks in a row.

New Rifle Shoots Darts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department is developing a rifle that shoots darts instead of bullets.

A top Pentagon research expert said today the darts are only an inch long and about the thickness of a pencil lead, but are capable of inflicting a gaping wound almost as severe as that caused by a dum-dum bullet.

He explained that the darts have little fins that keep them stabilized in flight. But when they strike flesh, they lose their stability and turn end-over-end in the wound.

The early results were obtained in a project known as "special purpose individual weapon" announced by the Army last February.

"The weapon could be used as both a rifle and a shoulder-fired grenade launcher," the Army said. "Fully loaded, it is expected to weigh no more than the current M14 rifle and will significantly increase the effectiveness of the combat soldier."

The Army did not identify the nature of the ammunition. The defense expert who described the tiny darts indicated that much of the increase in effectiveness would be due to the extreme light weight of the projectiles as compared with regular ammunition.

A soldier could carry thousands of the darts, and could fire them either in separate rounds or in a single deadly stream, he said.

The expert added that the new weapon would not replace the standard rifle, but could prove highly useful for anti-guerrilla purposes.

The Army said the new weapon could be delivered for tests in February next year.

Reds Overrun Saigon Outpost

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist guerrillas have overrun a Vietnamese government outpost 15 miles south of Saigon with the aid of two thousand government militia men who were on duty at the post, a U. S. military spokesman said today.

Government losses in the Viet Cong attack on the outpost were reported as 11 killed, including five civilians, and four wounded. Communist casualties were not reported.

With the aid of the self-defense corps units, the guerrillas exploded a mine near the outpost Wednesday morning and then attacked the post near the Can Tho headquarters of the Vietnamese Army's IV Corps.

The two thousand soldiers then defected with the guerrillas who took along with 21 weapons, two telephones and a radio set they captured from the ruins of the post.

Nine inches of new snow fell at DuBois, Pa., during the night. Phillipsburg, Pa., had eight inches and Bradford, Pa., had seven. Five inches fell at Milwaukee, Wis., and Muskegon, Mich.

$18 Million U. S. Aid Seen For Two New Florida Universities

PARK FACILITIES on the Wekiva River, on the north side of SR 46, soon will be open to members and guests of the Seminole County Sportsmen's Association. The five-acre plot was donated by Joe Cameron Sr. in 1928 for park use to the Federation of Women's Clubs. The Women's Federation has passed the park plot to the Sportsmen's Association, which is moving in to clear the plot for fishing, picnicking and other recreation for its members and guests. Grants Based On Matching State Funds

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Florida education officials began laying plans today to tap a $1.2 billion college construction aid bill passed by Congress Tuesday.

In general, educators reclaimed the bill—which provides federal funds on a matching basis—as the fuel needed to launch Florida into the era of space age education.

A Board of Control spokesman said today the congressional bill might speed construction of two new state universities, in Pensacola and in East Central Florida.

Before the new bill can aid construction of the proposed East-Central Florida university, however, the 1963 Legislature must appropriate building funds for the school to match with federal grants.

The board spokesman said the Pensacola college is apparently already qualified for the federal aid because the last Legislature voted construction money for the school from the $45 million college bond issue.

The board estimated the state could qualify for about $16 million for state and private college construction during the three-year life of the congressional act.

Matching funds from the state could come from the $15 million bond issue which is expected to be sold next spring, the board spokesman said.

Double Deal Fraud Called A Standoff

SWANSEA, Wales (UPI)—David Thomas offered to sell David Roberts a derelict railway station which he didn't own. And Roberts offered to pay for it with a worthless check.

A laughing judge called it a draw Wednesday and dismissed a fraud charge against Thomas.

Thomas told the judge he really thought he owned the abandoned railway station because he paid another man $14 for it. He offered it to Roberts for $81. Roberts paid by check and put a gear to work tearing it down for his scrap iron business.

The station was halfway down when a policeman came along and stopped the work. Roberts' check had bounced.

Lowdermilk's Dismissal Plea Denied

Defense opened its part of a $200,000 "citrus swindle" trial today before Circuit Judge Volle A. Williams.

C. R. Lowdermilk, first defendant of four, lost out this morning when his counsel heard Judge Williams deny motions for a directed verdict for acquittal on a mistrial.

Alba Hall, former state citrus inspector, already has turned state's witness and pleaded guilty to six sundry charges of grand larceny, bribery, etc.

Snow, Freezing Rain Hit East

United Press International Snow and freezing rain knifed into the East today and turned highways into slippery ribbons of death. Another major storm front moved down from the Rockies with winds of nearly 50 miles an hour.

Heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings were posted from Pennsylvania to most of downstate New York and New England. More than six inches of fresh snow were expected in New England by nightfall.

In the frigid West, a fresh surge of arctic air swept down from the northern Rockies across the Great Plains, whipping snow into the air and cutting visibility.

SNAS Plays Host To Adm. Paul Ramsey

Vice Adm. Paul H. Ramsey, commander of Naval Air Forces in the Atlantic Fleet, was to see the most recent addition to his forces today when he arrived at the Sanford Naval Air Station for a brief conference with local Navy officials.

Admiral Ramsey and 11 staff officers, who are currently visiting selected Naval installations in Florida, arrived by plane from the Key West Naval Air Station at noon.

The Admiral's visit provides him with his first view of the Navy's new tactical reconnaissance plane, the twin-jet RA-5C Vigilante, in its operational environment. Delivery of the first fully-equipped RA-5C assigned to Sanford's Heavy Attack Wing One is expected to coincide with Admiral Ramsey's visit.

The aircraft will be integrated into the Wing's VAH3 training program, paying the way for subsequent deliveries of the needle-nosed, mach-two aircraft to West Coast squadrons.

The "Air Lant" Commander was greeted upon arrival by Capt. James O. Mayo, Wing Commander; Capt. Robert M. Ware, Commanding Officer of NAS Sanford; commanding officers of locally based squadrons and several local civic leaders.

An informal military luncheon and conference with Capt. Mayo, Wing Commander, followed. Capt. Robert M. Ware, Commanding Officer of NAS Sanford, commanding officers of locally based squadrons and several local civic leaders.

Hope Due To Leave Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Comedian Bob Hope may leave Children's Hospital today after undergoing apparent successful treatment for a blood clot on his left eye.

Doctors at the hospital said the eye ailment had responded so well to special light treatment that the 60-year-old comedian was up and active Wednesday.

They said he planned to return home to Southern California for about a week of quiet rest before making his scheduled trip to entertain servicemen in the Mediterranean area during the Christmas holidays.

Bolivia Ready To Attack Tin Miners

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI)—The government grouped its forces today for a possible attack on rebellious tin miners in Catavi, who had ignored official orders for the immediate release of four American and 15 other hostages.

A 48-hour ultimatum to the Communist-infiltrated miners' union expired at 9 o'clock Wednesday night. Interior Police Minister Jose A. Arce said he and Defense Minister Luis Rodriguez Bilegain are taking charge of operations.

Arce would not say what action the government plans. Rodriguez had said earlier, however, that "necessary action to recover the territory held by the representatives of anarchy" would be taken if the ultimatum were ignored.

The miners also were preparing for action. Radio broadcasts Wednesday night urged them to "be ready with dynamite"—the miners' favorite weapon—to meet any effort by troops to take Catavi.

Secretaries Should Keep Moving At Yule Parties Because---

Heaven Will NOT Protect The Working Girl

CHICAGO (UPI)—Heaven will not protect the working girl, no matter what Edgar Smith said. So today an employment counselor had a few tips for the holiday season of office parties.

Keep moving. No mistletoe in your hair. Don't get personal. Leave early. And, afterward don't talk about the party.

Miss Elaine Revell compiled the rules for secretaries so that they could enjoy the holiday festivities but "keep things under control to avoid regret after the parties are over."

Miss Revell heads a firm bearing her name that employs more than 1,500 girls in temporary office positions.

Miss Revell said one of the most serious mistakes a secretary can make is to arrive at the office on the day of the party as though she were going out with her favorite beau on Saturday night.

"Girls should dress in much the same manner as they do for a regular day at the office. A sprig of holly or some other holiday decoration would suffice as a festive touch," she said. "Proper attire helps to keep a more businesslike atmosphere."

Think, if you enjoy it, but only one or two, Miss Revell said. But if you do not like to drink you should not feel you must, she said.

Miss Revell said if a secretary will keep circulating and talking to as many people as possible, it will eliminate the churning with one of the bosses.

Two Dallas Widows Deluged With Money

DALLAS (UPI) — Money deluged two widows who were caught in the aftermath of the presidential assassination. Donations to the family of hero policeman J. D. Tippit exceeded $202,000 and 12 stacks of mail remained unopened. Mrs. Tippit was amazed and grateful. Her husband was slain while trying to arrest the suspected assassin.

The widow and two babies of accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald had been given $9,000. It was reported the Russian-born woman wept when informed of the outpouring.

Police set-up a clearing house for the Tippit fund and had received more than $158,000. The Dallas Times-Herald collected $44,000, which was turned over to police Wednesday. About one-half sack of mail was processed daily. Both women were in seclusion.

Mrs. Oswald was under guard by Secret Service agents. She requested protection and was reported in hiding at a local motel. Mrs. Shirley Williamson, a Fort Worth housewife who started a campaign to raise money for the poverty-stricken family, reported the $9,000 amount.

"We get more each day than we get the day before," she said.

Firemen Plan Holiday Dance

The entertainment committee of the DeBary Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a Christmas party and dance from 8 until 11:30 p.m. this Saturday in the firemen's recreation hall.

Gifts will be exchanged and those attending are asked to bring a gift suitable for their sex. A Christmas tree will be trimmed and refreshments will be served.

Before sewing plastic material, rub a little talcum on the needle to prevent sticking.

Cape Change Not Binding

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Interior Department spokesman said today the renaming of Cape Canaveral to Cape Kennedy is binding only on the federal government.

The 1947 law establishing the committee on domestic names has been interpreted to mean that its decisions apply only to names on federal maps and publications so that Florida is not legally bound to change the name of the Cape itself.

But when President Johnson on Thanksgiving Day announced his proposal to rename the area and designate the space center after the late president, he said that Florida Gov. Farris Bryant had agreed to co-operate.

Arthur A. Baker, chairman of the domestic names committee of the Board of Geographic Names, said Johnson had only exercised the right of any citizen to suggest a name change. He did not order that the cape be called Kennedy, Baker said.

It was the first time in his eight years with the committee that a president proposed a new name, Baker said, and the committee, after a poll by telephone, unanimously agreed with Johnson's suggestion.

Meredith F. Burrill, executive secretary of the Board of Geographic Names, parent agency of the committee, said the change was the first for a whole geographic entity such as the Florida land area.

Vandy, Davidson Giant Killers

Sharp Shooters Bag Duke And Ohio State

United Press International
A little guard and a small school proved that size alone doesn't count—not even in basketball—as they combined to score two of the biggest upsets of the college season.

John Ed Miller, the smallest man on the court, tossed in 20 points in a phenomenal shooting display to lead Vanderbilt to a 97-92 overtime victory over second-ranked Duke, and tiny Davidson, the smallest school in the Southern Conference, clubbed 10th-ranked Ohio State, 95-73, in Wednesday night's feature game.

Miller, whose three names only average out to six feet, connected on a fantastic 17 of 23 shots from the floor, mostly on fading jumpers, to stun the Blue Devils.

The victory gave Vanderbilt, ranked 10th in the latest United Press International ratings, its fourth win in four games. The loss was the first for Duke, which had swept its first three games.

Davidson handed Ohio State its first home-court loss in 51 games and its second defeat of the season. The Wildcats ran away from the Buckeyes in the first half.

Sophomore hot-shot Dick Snyder paced Davidson with 25 points and teammate Terry Holland contributed 22 to the Wildcats' fast-break offense, but Ohio State's All-America center Gary Brads led all scorers with 26 points.

Unranked Bradley produced the third upset of the night when it stunned Arizona State, the nation's fourth-ranked team, 92-83. The combination of Joe Strawder and Eddie Jackson and a man-to-man press carried the Braves to their victory.

Fifth-ranked Michigan barely managed to keep its head against winter Butler. The Wolverines, paced by sophomore Cazzie Russell (25) and Bill Bunin (23), had to stage a second half rally to beat down the Bulldogs, 80-70.

In other major games, Rice trampled Florida State, 102-81, unbeaten Utah thrashed Texas A&M, 95-71; Louisville topped La Salle, 70-60; Cornell clouted Canisius, 97-83; St. Bonaventure bombed Steubenville, 113-66; Fordham edged Yale, 69-64; Princeton scored a double overtime victory over Lafayette, 69-64; Selma Hall whipped Loyola (Md.), 68-61; and Temple crushed Lehigh, 66-58.

TNT Gets TV Fight Rights
PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Theatre Network Television Inc. of New York has acquired closed circuit television rights to the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay heavyweight title fight, Feb. 25, in Miami.

No fee was disclosed Wednesday when the rights were awarded to TNT, one of 17 companies in the bidding, but TNT President Nate Halpern said he expected a $5 million gross from theaters.

Shackelford Signs
The Denver Broncos Wednesday signed Don Shackelford, 245-pound University of Pacific lineman, away from the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

Shackelford was the sixth round draft choice of the American Football League Broncos and the fourth round pick of the Browns.

Ed Mathews' Average .968

CINCINNATI (UPI)—All seven individual defensive leaders in the National League this year had one thing in common:

Not one ever had earned the honor before.

It took Ed Mathews 11 years to do it but official figures released today by the Elias Sports Bureau disclosed that the Milwaukee Braves slugger topped the circuit's third basemen with a .968 average.

Mathews never had come close to winning the honor previously and had twice led and once shared the lead for errors.

The National League's six other first-time defensive leaders made it somewhat more rapidly than Mathews.

The NL's all-defensive infield is composed of first baseman Ron Fairly of the Los Angeles Dodgers, second baseman Tony Taylor of the Philadelphia Phillies, shortstop Leo Cardenas of the Cincinnati Reds and Mathews.

Staubach Is Chosen 'Back Of The Year'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Roger Staubach, the scrambling skipper of Coach Wayne Hardin's powerful Navy fleet, today was chosen from an unusual wealth of backfield talent as college football's "back of the year" for 1963 by United Press International.

Feverishly eluding enemy linemen in his own backfield, long-legged broken-field running and pin-point passing have marked the junior Midshipman from Cincinnati clearly as the most exciting player of the year, and perhaps the decade.

Staubach captured the honor in a landslide despite one of the most productive harvests of backfield superstars—particularly in his quarterbacking field. He received 189 out of a possible 202 votes in the nationwide poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Sherman Lewis, Michigan State's speedy halfback was a distant second, with 20 votes, just two ahead of Baylor passing ace Don Trull, who had 18.

Celtics Have 19 Wins Out Of 21 Games

By United Press International
The Boston Celtics may be too good for their own good.

With 19 victories in their first 21 games they're making a shambles of the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division race. But continued success may also make a haunted house of the Boston Garden where a mere 2,520 fans turned out Wednesday night for a very fine attraction—the Celtics against the St. Louis Hawks.

The Hawks are second in the Western Division of the NBA and feature such crowd-pleasing stars as Bob Pettit, Len Wilkens and Richie Guerin.

The fans who "stood in bed" must have known something because the Celtics led all the way for a 104-95 victory that gave them their 11th straight home court triumph. John Havlicek scored 33 points and Bill Russell seized 30 rebounds to lead the Celtics.

The Cincinnati Royals defeated the Detroit Pistons, 127-117, and the Philadelphia 76ers beat the New York Knicks, 113-102, in other games.

Oscar Robertson scored 26 points and six other Royals hit in double figures as Cincinnati rolled to a 66-43 half-time margin and led by 89-56 in the third period. Bailey Howell scored 22 points for the Pistons.

John Kerr, playing in his 608th consecutive game, scored 29 points and Hal Greer added 27 for the 76ers. Johnny Green and Bill McGill had 18 points each for the Knicks.

The cinnamon bear is not a separate species but a dark chestnut-colored phase of the common black bear.

Cdr. Farmer To End SNAS Tour Of Duty

A tour of duty spanning six consecutive years with Sanford-based units will close Monday for Cdr. Roy E. Farmer, as the veteran Naval aviator hands command of Heavy Attack Squadron Three to Cdr. George W. Kimmons. Cdr. Farmer will report soon after Jan. 1 to the attack carrier USS Constellation, homeported in his native North Island (Coronado), Calif.

ROY E. FARMER

He leaves service in Sanford's heavy attack program dating back to August 1957. That was the year he reported to Heavy Attack Squadron Five as supply officer. He assumed command of the squadron in October 1961 just in time to guide the "Savage Sons" to victory in the Ninth Annual Bombing Derby that November.

He took the helm of VAH-3, the training squadron for all Heavy Attack Wing One units, in November 1962.

Cdr. Kimmons, his replacement, is currently completing a short tour as Chief Staff Officer to Capt. James O. Mayo, Commander Heavy Attack Wing One.

Like Cdr. Farmer, Kimmons commanded a Sanford-based squadron, and also like his predecessor, collected some laurels in the process. Under Cdr. Kimmons' leadership, VAH-3 won the Wing's Fiscal 1963 training competitions.

Cdr. Warren J. Hoeller, VAH-3's Executive Officer, will assume Kimmons' duties as Chief Staff Officer. Finally, Cdr. Henry F. Dement will move up from Operations to Executive officer of VAH-3.

Although leadership of the largest Sanford-based squadron is involved, Monday's Change of Command will not include the usual pomp and color attending such ceremonies.

This is a result of the 30-day period of mourning proclaimed after the death of the late Pres. John F. Kennedy. The command will be changed in a simple military procedure before the more than 300 officers and men of the squadron. The guest list will be limited to immediate families of the officers involved.

G. W. KIMMONS

Roads Ready In Casselberry

Work on straightening and grading Winter Park Drive in Casselberry from Red Bug Road on the south to Seminola Boulevard on the north should be completed and the strip opened for public use within the week, J. D. Self, road board chairman, reported at Monday's meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

HD Club Has Annual Luncheon In Lake Mary

The annual Christmas party and luncheon meeting of the Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club was held Tuesday in the Lake Mary Fire Hall with Mrs. George Smathers and Mrs. Harry Sandusky as hostesses for the 15 members in attendance.

A letter was read during the business session from Mrs. Ruth Boutwell who stated that she was donating a number of place settings of stainless steel table service to the club. Members voted to purchase enough additional settings to complete a full 20 place service.

Mrs. T. A. Siles, food chairman, presented a talk on advisability of using the best brands in groceries after which members conducted an open discussion on how to get best values and nutrition for dollars spent.

Luncheon tables were attractively decorated with Christmas candles, Santa Claus and angels. The main table was centered with a beautiful decorated Christmas tree cake baked by Mrs. Smathers.

Honeymoon Will End

The easy expectation is that President Johnson, the veteran master manager of the Senate, will command support from the nation's lawmakers for his legislative program that the late President Kennedy could not have matched.

Yet there are important reasons why this expectation might not be fulfilled, whether Johnson should have one year and two months in office, or one or two full terms beyond that.

The first of these is the elemental fact that, whatever his long background in the Congress and his mastery of its processes, Johnson is now a man apart. Many lawmakers hold him in fond memory and cherish his friendship even now. But he is no longer one of them.

His view of the nation's problems will hereafter be different from theirs. His proposals for solutions will inevitably differ from those he would promote as a leader in Congress. They seem almost sure to be stoutly resisted on these grounds alone: they are the product of an outsider, of a competing source of governmental power.

To those who doubt this likelihood the lessons of history may prove impressive. From the very outset of our history under the present Constitution, the president and the Congress have warred continuously. No chief executive has been free of this conflict altogether, even in the moments of great national unity which real war and economic depression bring.

Run through the solidly researched biographies of our presidents and you find the documentary evidence of this unending struggle overwhelming. Congress generally may like one president more or less than another. But nothing in history suggests it is inclined to yield its prerogatives to either friend or foe.

Secondly, neither Congress nor the president himself may regard as fitting and suitable the use by a man in the White House of the maneuvers Johnson employed so effectively as Senate majority leader.

Even if such maneuvers were not perhaps viewed as unbecoming for a president to rely upon, the question must arise whether—as a practical matter—they could be used as well. For they depend at least in substantial part on some continuing degree of physical proximity. This is clearly impossible for a busy president working two miles from Capitol Hill. The telephone is no substitute for personal contact.

For a third thing, at least in 1964, partisan politics can become a serious obstacle. President Johnson, with just a few precious months at his disposal, will be out to make a record he can run on in the fall elections. The Republicans will be out to see that he makes no record—or a poor one they can easily attack.

None of this is to predict that Johnson will be totally hamstrung by Congress as he undertakes to make a legislative showing. It is simply to indicate that, for all his talents with lawmakers, Johnson may find he will have the same difficulties with Congress that presidents have had since George Washington's day.

Thought For Today

If anyone says "I love God" and hates his brother, he is a liar; for who does not love his brother whom he has seen, cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him, that he who loves God should love his brother also." — John 4:20:21.

The greatest thing in the world is love; the greatest evil in the world is hate! To which are we contributing? — John H. Hires, Jr., Minister, Grace Methodist Church, Sanford.

Peter Edson

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A first test on President Johnson's influence with Congress is shaping up on civil rights.

The Johnson goal is simply to get the administration's civil rights bill cleared by the House Rules Committee before Christmas, for floor action early next year.

Octogenarian Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the Rules Committee, has made a flat statement that he will not let the civil rights bill be reported out this year. He is supported in this position by southern Democrats, the House Republican leadership and a House GOP caucus.

President Johnson has approved an effort by liberal Democrats to force the bill out of the Rules Committee for a floor vote. This can be done only by a petition signed by 218 of the 435 representatives.

According to House rules this petition was not to be placed in the well of the House for signing before Dec. 9 and cannot be considered by the whole House before Dec. 23.

This makes it a battle against time. Many congressmen want to adjourn the session for the Christmas holidays on Dec. 20. Some would like to push adjournment to Dec. 17 or even Dec. 14. Congress would then reconvene on Jan. 2.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and chairman of the 80-organization Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, thinks that the 218 signatures can be obtained.

NAACP and other Negro organizations have counted congressional noses on this score often enough to know. But

Wilkins admits that he doesn't have absolute pledges to sign and that after 200, the going will be tough.

So the outcome will be close and it could be failure.

But Wilkins says: "We won't make a bow to anyone's Christmas vacation to get action this year." In other words, he wants Congress to work right through the Christmas holidays. Most congressmen say there isn't a chance.

But Wilkins, speaking only for himself and not for his organizations, says: "This is a crusade. It can't be guided by cold realism. You have to believe in fairness and magic will be accomplished." This is like believing there will be another Christmas miracle this year.

The political question is what will happen if there isn't a miracle.

Wilkins promises retaliation at the polls in the 1964 elections. Failure to sign the petition will place a congressman under suspicion, though it won't necessarily blacklist him. But he will have to have a good alibi.

Failure to vote for civil rights legislation on final passage will subject a congressman to NAACP opposition.

Wilkins says that a moratorium on direct political action of this kind has not speeded congressional passage of civil rights legislation in the past. "This year's demonstration have sharpened appreciation of the issue," he adds.

He refers to "the terror, the persecution, the assassination of Medgar Evers in Mississippi, the death of four little girls in a Birmingham Sunday School bombing" as an accumulation of events demanding faster action now.

"Within 24 hours after Argentina threatened to confiscate American oil properties, there were demands in Congress that foreign aid be cut off," Wilkins points out.

"If Congress can get that excited about oil," he asks, "why can't it do something about killing little girls?"

From 25 to 50 Washington representatives of the 80 organizations in the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights are being reinforced by 30 special legislative lobbyists from the United Steel Workers Union to pressure congressmen into signing the House discharge petition.

These forces will be supplemented by volunteers from other labor unions, church groups and Negro organizations in a drive to get some House action on civil rights this year. It is admitted there is no chance to get Senate action before late spring or early summer.

'I See Lyndon's Been In to See You Too'

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Dr. Coleman is like many professional men who have learned that prize contesting is a fascinating hobby. It widens our outlook, adds occasional cash rewards, and makes us think forward as we eagerly await the postman's steps for a letter telling us we have won a prize. Send for the booklet below.

CASE R-434: Dr. E. T. Coleman Jr., is a talented dental surgeon in Knoxville, Tennessee.

"But, Dr. Crane," he told me when I addressed his state dental convention earlier this year "you may recall my prize contesting hobby."

"For I wrote to you several years ago to obtain your newspaper booklet on that subject. 'Well, I am still at it, for I find that prize contests are a very stimulating hobby.'"

"They cause me to widen my range of interests and to read more fully in encyclopedias. Besides, the training in terse, short sentence structure is also invaluable."

"So I wish you'd urge others to start this fascinating hobby."

Prize Contesting

Dr. Coleman has won many prizes, consisting of electrical kitchen equipment, wrist watches, silverware, etc., as well as cash prizes ranging up to $1,000, as I recall.

Prize contests are really very educational. For they usually involve writing a 25-word or 60-word letter outlining why you like a certain product.

Sometimes, all you need to do is name a pony or a dog. Again, you may be asked to complete the last line of a limbo or humorous little stanza.

The pay-off usually depends on original ideas or clever suggestions about the use of a commercial product.

Consequently, in order to win you don't need to be a college graduate or even hold a high school diploma.

While teaching my psychology courses at Northwestern University on "Advertising and Selling," I would utilize current prize contests as homework assignments.

Later I'd read the letters, slogans or limerick last lines about to the class, and we'd discuss and criticize them. Then I would urge the students to revise their entries in the light of such criticisms and submit them in the official contest.

Many of my students did so. They often won prizes, such as an electric iron or toaster, a refrigerator, or small cash prizes of $5 to $100.

Obviously, this added much zest and practical motivation to our advertising course, so enrollments in my classes grew so big we didn't have classrooms large enough to hold the group.

For example, I often was assigned the auditorium in our downtown Law School for some of my evening classes.

Just because of the need for added seating capacity. Folks past 65 and chronic invalids will find that prize contesting is a superb tonic for the mind, as well as a body.

For then you look forward eagerly to the postman's arrival to see if you have won a check or some merchandise prizes.

So send for my booklet "How to Write Salable Copy," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It also contains a section on "Prize Contesting."

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

and here's a tip from Santa....

This year you'll find better merchandise and more bargains than ever before up and down both sides of the street.

Our merchants deserve our support. Let's keep our community a good place in which to live and do business by doing our Christmas shopping at home.

Phil Newsom Says...

Bolivia's Trouble Maker

When Victor Paz Estenssoro returned from Argentina exile to become president of Bolivia after a successful revolt in April, 1952, a prime mover in his return was a labor leader named Juan Lechin Oquendo.

Since the 1940's the two had worked together in leadership of National Revolutionary Movement (MNR) and when Paz became president Lechin assumed the post of minister of mining and petroleum.

Lechin's power rested upon his control of the Communist-dominated tin miners' union. He himself has been described as a Trotskyite.

The MNR was leftist. But upon the question just how far to the left the two men separated.

For his part, Paz declared: "In an economically dependent country like ours an extremist revolution cannot be accomplished. Guarantees will be given to foreign capital on the condition that it brings real benefits to the country."

The Paz government has had two main supports. One came from the peasants who received land under government agrarian reform. The other source was the United States which has supported the government with $250 million. This year's aid program is budgeted at $65 million.

U. S. aid to Bolivia is the largest per capita in Latin America.

The elections of 1960 named Paz president of the country for a second consecutive term and Lechin vice president.

But, although operating under the same party banner, the two men had reached the end of the political ways.

Lechin went into virtual exile as Bolivian ambassador to the Vatican. He quit that post two months ago to take up active opposition to Paz, depending for his support upon the restless tin miners who still retained their weapons from the revolt of 1952.

His campaign, both anti-Paz and anti-United States, is based upon opposition to government efforts to clean up the mess in the nationalized tin industry.

The miners, nationalized as one of the first acts of the 1952 revolution, are shot through with featherbedding and fraud. Exhaustion of once-rich veins, worn-out machinery and falling prices had added to the chaos in an industry accountable for 60 per cent of Bolivian exports.

Government efforts to introduce economic reforms, including reduction in the work force, have met violent resistance. The resistance, stirred up by Lechin, reached a climax in the kidnapping of four Americans and six other foreigners as hostages for the release of three Communist leaders held by the government, two for murder and a third for fraud.

Inherent in the act were two threats. —The use of the 16,000-man miners' militia in civil war against the government, with the end result in case of government defeat a Marxist government.

—The establishment of a pattern of kidnapping first employed by Fidel Castro and later by Venezuelan rebels to dramatize any grievance against the home government or the United States.

Holiday Dinner For Pilot Club

A silver Christmas tree, hung with bright red balls, gaily wrapped packages and a wreath of holly, holding a jolly snow man and his wife, provided a holiday atmosphere at the civic center Tuesday night for Pilot Club members and their guests. Mrs. Raymond Ball, George Stine and Donald Deault were hostesses for the annual dinner meeting attended by some 65 "pilots," their husbands and other guests. Each club member arrived bearing three gifts, one for her secret pal, another for her guest and a card containing money for patients in the mental hospital at Arcadia. The dinner tables were lighted with tall pillar candles, ringed with holly, and graceful goblets on long stems floating tiny flames. These were made by Mrs. Raymond Ball. The candles were interspersed with silver cedar running the length of the tables holding small reindeer. Colorful foil cups of mixed nuts served as place cards. Rev. Grover Sewell offered the prayer before dinner and Miss Janet Smith, president, welcomed the guests and reminded members of the Anchor Club regional meeting Dec. 14 at the high school. After dinner, guests were introduced and the president read Christmas cards from clubs in District 4, Pilot International. During the gift exchange a gift was presented to Mrs. Homer Little in appreciation for her services during the year.

Mrs. Philip Westgate, program chairman, gave a talk "Christmas Has Three Faces." She explained the three as travel—family members arriving home; festive—gift exchange, and religious—history of Christmas. To conclude the party Mrs. John Lambertson accompanied Miss Janet Smith as she sang "Silent Night," and everyone joined in singing carols.

Party For Daughters Of Wesley Class

Mrs. Donald Dunn and Mrs. R. B. Monroe were hostesses for the annual Christmas party and business meeting of the Daughters of Wesley Sunday School class in McKinley Hall.

The room was decorated with Christmas arrangements. A large green tree hung with blue balls stood on one side of the stage, balanced by a large container of red poinsettias on the other. A lighted picture of the Christ was on the back of the stage.

Mrs. C. M. Flowers presided during the brief business session when chairmen gave the reports.

Christmas gifts were exchanged by the members while the hostesses served fruit cake and Russian tea. Guests introduced were Rev. John Adams Jr. and Mmes. Adams, Pearl Yarborough, Ora Kipp, Sarah Polley, Ruby Nesbitt, W. A. Hunter and Miss Lois Messer.

Holiday Fun With Flowers And Candles

Goblets, turned upside down, can be used attractively as candleholders in floral arrangements for the holidays. The candles should be trimmed to fit the hollow of the bases. Red-berried holly clusters can be tied to the stems with narrow red ribbon. An important extra touch is the addition of a few red or white flowers.

Inverted snifters and goblets may be used for appealing Christmas decorations. One suggested is an inverted clear glass snifter, housing an angel figure, with red roses, eucalyptus and a red candle atop the snifter. Another thought is use of an inverted colored goblet as a perch for red carnations, a red candle and some artificial grapes.

Combining fresh flowers with the more usual holly branches and fir brings today's living into the old-fashioned feeling with a modern adaptation. A fireside grouping of chrysanthemums, holly, magnolia leaves and dried pine cones, beautiful in itself, becomes stunning when arranged in an old copper container. A smaller arrangement of holly, and fresh flowers, would make a delightful centerpiece for a coffee table when arranged in a small antique sugar bowl. A demitasse filled with a tight little bunch of two or three colorful carnations rimmed, once again, with holly would be a joy to behold on the shelf below a mirror in the bathroom.

For a new idea in centerpieces for the table—Christmas wreaths. The same type used over mantels or on welcoming front doors. Dull Robia combined blossoms with tiny oranges, lemons, apples and grapes. These same wreaths make wonderful focal points for a dining table. They are decorative, lie flat on a table and best of all the wreaths are so very, very beautiful.

Circle Members
Meet For Social And Study Period

Circle Three of Christian Women's Fellowship met at the First Christian Church Monday night, with Mrs. O. D. Landress presiding. Mrs. Mason Gregg gave the devotion. The regular order of business was carried out and the sale of fruit cakes discussed. A social hour followed the meeting and Mrs. Eula Grantham won the door prize, which she presented to Mrs. Gregg, the minister's wife.

The study period, from the Christmas scripture and excerpts from the book "The Day Christ Was Born," was led by Mrs. O. T. Pearson.

Others present were Mrs. J. L. Horton Sr., Jesse Gardner, Frank Washburn, Euphemia Huntley, Effie Durden, Harold Ring, Miss Florence Bishop and the minister.

Bobby Jo Brady gives us this Jello Pound Cake.

1 box lemon Supreme—Duncan Hines.

Combine first 6 ingredients and mix well. Shape into 8 balls. Place peach halves hollow sides up in buttered shallow baking pan. Place a ham ball in each half. Bake in 350 degree oven about 25-30 minutes. Serves 8.

End your holiday dinner on a traditional note, but an easy one, with an old fashioned steamed pudding.

Holiday Pudding

1 cup suet
1 cup raisins
1 cup molasses
1 cup buttermilk
1 tsp. soda
2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. cream of tartar
1/4 tsp. salt

Grind suet and raisins together in food chopper. Add molasses and buttermilk to which soda has been added. Sift flour, cream of tartar, salt together. Combine with molasses mixture. Spread in greased pudding mold and steam at least 2 hours. Fills a 6 1/2 cup mold. Serve warm with Hard Sauce. Serves 16.

Hard Sauce
Cream together 1/2 cup softened butter, 2 cups sifted powdered sugar, 1 tsp. vanilla. Blend in 1/4 cup chopped nuts and 1/4 cup chopped red and green maraschino cherries. On a piece of saran, shape mixture into roll 2" in diameter. Wrap and freeze. Just before serving, cut into 1/4 inch slices. Makes enough to serve 8.

Sauerbraten Meatballs
1 lb. ground beef
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 tsp. salt
dash of pepper
1/2 cup milk
2 tbsps. butter
1 cup water
2 tbsps. vinegar
2 tbsps. catsup
1 tsp. brown sugar
6 peppercorns
1 bay leaf, crumbled
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
6 ginger snaps, crushed

Mix together the ground beef, bread crumbs, onion, 1 tsp. salt, pepper and the 1/2 cup milk in a medium sized mixing bowl. Shape into 12 meatballs. Melt the butter in a large skillet over medium heat. Add meatballs and brown evenly on all sides. While the meatballs are browning mix remaining ingredients in a small bowl. When the meatballs are evenly browned, stir in the liquid mixture gently, mixing well. Bring to a boil over medium heat, cover with a tight fitting lid and reduce heat to low. Cook 15 minutes, stir and cook 15 minutes longer. Serves 6.

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

This is a very old Georgia recipe for

Corneal Pie
1 small egg, separated
1/4 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup sweet milk
3 tbsps. corneal
1 unbaked pie crust
Melt butter, add sugar, beat egg yolk until creamy and add to butter mixture. Stir in sweet milk. Beat egg white until stiff and fold in above mixture. Fold in the corneal last, working quickly. Pour in unbaked pie crust. Bake 40 minutes in 375 degree oven.

Chef's Salad Bowl
1 head iceberg lettuce
1 cup diced celery
1 cup cooked ham, chicken or meat strips
3 hard cooked eggs
Low calorie Italian dressing
Tomatoes for garnish

Tear crisp lettuce into a large salad bowl. Toss with celery, meat and eggs, cover with saran and refrigerate. To serve, add Italian dressing and toss lightly again. Garnish with tomatoes. Serve in individual salad bowls. Serves 4.

STRAWBERRY BUTTER FROSTING is tops for festive cakes — It's made with the same quick strawberry-flavored mix that makes Junior's strawberry milk. Dissolve 2 tbsps. quick strawberry-flavored mix in 3 tbsps. milk; reserve. Combine 1 cup confectioners sugar, 1/4 cup soft butter, and 1/4 tsp. salt. Beat until creamy and gradually add 2 more cups confectioners sugar alternately with 1 tbsps. strawberry mixture, beating until blended. Frost and fills two 8 or 9 inch layers.

Substitute
Honey For Sugar

With sugar prices at an extremely high level, many homemakers are seeking ways to use less sugar but still supply "sweets" for their families. In many dishes, corn syrup or honey may be substituted for sugar.

Honey and syrup are good sweeteners for breakfast cereal, fruits, dessert toppings, beverages, candied vegetables or meat glazes.

In addition, they may be substituted for part of the sugar in cake or cookie recipes. In general, when substituting honey for sugar, use 1/2 cup honey to replace one cup of sugar, and use 1/4 cup less liquid per cup than the amount called for in the recipe.

Cakes and cookies using honey remain moist when stored. Honey can take the place of part of the sugar in most cake and cookie recipes; however, crisp cookies made with part honey tend to lose their crispness when stored. Recipes using honey as their only sweetener can be found in many cook books.

To send coins through the mail, tape them inside an empty matchbook cover. Fasten with tape.

Always keep an emery board near the sewing machine. It makes a fine file to sharpen needles and pins.

Special chapter for Monday night's program on welfare was given by the Women's Chapter of the Florida State Welfare Department. The program was held at the home of Mrs. Jackie Brown, member of the Florida State Welfare Department who has been on all phases of the state's welfare program.

As part of the overall work program, Mrs. Brown included an address on the state's welfare program, including the state's medical care to the aged and aid to dependent children.

Mrs. Marion Schwiebert, social service chairman, was in charge of the enrollment.

Refreshments of punch and Christmas cookies were served during the social hour which followed the enrollment.

Mrs. Schwiebert, as social service chairman, also is in charge of arrangements for the Chapter project through which four families in Seminole County will be provided supplies for a Christmas dinner of turkey and all the trimmings.

The Chapter's annual Christmas Party for children of the Moose and Women of the Moose is being planned under direction of Mrs. Eloise Small and will be held at 2 p. m. on Sunday, Dec. 22, in the Lodge Hall in Lake Mary.

Members are to bring wrapped gifts, not to exceed $1 in cost, for their own children and Santa will be on hand to distribute them. Refreshments will be served.

Den Mother Aids Handicapped Boys

DeBary Club To Offer Class In Sculpture

Plans to offer a class in sculpture, if sufficient interest is shown, were made at last week's meeting of the DeBary Arts and Crafts Club held at the DeBary Mansion House with President Chester Eldridge presiding.

Those interested in the sculpture class, which would be taught by Col. Paul Bissell of Lake Mary, are asked to register at the Mansion or contact any member of the club.

In other business, changes to be made in the by-laws were explained. Archie MacNaughton gave a resume of the recent convention held in Hollywood and informed members that two lots at the Mansion entrance will be given to the Federation in place of two located at the swimming pool. This change in lot location will allow the view from the Mansion overlooking Lake Monroe to remain as it has been for past years.

Mrs. G. Patterson was presented as a new member by Mrs. Adam Muller, membership chairman.

The public is invited to view the Religion in Art exhibit now on display by the club and the Florida Circuit Show now hanging in the three main galleries at the Mansion.

DeBary AARP Plans Holiday Meeting

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The Christmas meeting of the DeBary Chapter, American Association of Retired Persons, will be held at 9:30 a. m. Friday in the Recreation Hall of the Fire Station.

Refreshments will be served by Hazy Bell, fellowship chairman, to open the meeting and a program of Christmas carols will be led by Mrs. H. Whitaker with Laura Platt Brown serving as piano accompanist.

Members will receive copies of a comprehensive analysis guide for comparing health insurance contracts which have been prepared by Elmer Grumbacher, past president. Mr. C. Ulrich, president, reports that studies have shown marked variations in conditions and provisions for payments in hospital and surgical insurance contracts and it is felt that some guide lines are needed to evaluate the flood of new contracts now being offered.

Howard Middleton, program chairman, advises that a representative of the Bureau of Internal Revenue will attend the Jan. 10 meeting of the group to explain new provisions of the Federal Income Tax Return.

Altamonte Club Has Program On 'Christmas In America'

By Julia Barlow
An enlightening and thoroughly interesting account of "Christmas in America" was presented by Mrs. Julia Day when she was guest speaker recently at the annual covered dish Christmas luncheon of the Altamonte Springs Civic Club.

Mrs. Day explained that the only holiday observed by the early settlers was Thanksgiving as they could not find any evidence in the Bible providing a basis for celebrating Christmas and that it was in the middle of the 19th century before some churches began to observe the holiday.

Santa Claus made his appearance a little more than 100 years ago and Christmas cards were introduced in England in 1843. By the year 1900, sending cards had become an established custom and today it is estimated that some one-and-one-half billion are mailed out each year.

Mrs. Day told of her visit to Christmas (Florida), which is only a 28 mile trip from Altamonte Springs, of her visit with Postmaster Mrs. J. Tucker and of the Living Christmas Tree, Peace Garden and museum located there. Many members of the club expressed interest in visiting the small community to mail their Christmas greeting cards and to view the attractions there.

Club members voted during the short business meeting to sponsor a male patient at Sunland Training Center in Gainesville. This patient, although 60 years old, has the mind of a child and especially enjoys receiving gifts of candy, cards, etc.

The club also voted to help a fatherless Negro family with four children at Christmas. There are three girls and one boy in the family and it is said that the little girls would like "skirts and blouses like other little girls wear."

Further information may be obtained from members of the club by anyone wishing to assist with this project.

Mrs. Frank O'Brien was in charge of table arrangements for the meeting and decorations included poinsettias, silvered Christmas trees, green wreaths and Santa and his reindeer were placed on the mantle.

Guests attending were Mrs. Richard Cockley, Mrs. Charles Muffley, Mrs. Wayne Sobatka, Mrs. William Eckard, Mrs. William Lancaster, Mrs. Stephen Tully, Mrs. Charles Curry and Miss Deborah Glover. Joining the club at this meeting were Mrs. Sobatka, Mrs. Curry and Mrs. Muffley.

Hostesses for the luncheon were members of the executive board.

Welcome Wagon Sets Meeting

The South Seminole Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club will meet next Thursday at 11:30 a.m. at the Villa Nova Restaurant in Winter Park for luncheon and cards.

Members will be asked to donate one dollar for the club's charity projects in place of the usual gift exchange. Four needy families were helped by the newcomers at Thanksgiving and for Christmas they plan to outfit the two girls whom they sponsor at Sunland Training Center and aid the old folks at the Shamer Nursing Home in Casselberry.

Mrs. Jo Mayo and Mrs. Mary Ann Miles recently visited Sunland and took a large quantity of clothing which was donated by the South Seminole Elementary C.T.P. following their rummage sale.

Forty club members enjoyed the buffet luncheon and benefit matinee at the Orange Blossom Theater Wednesday.

South Seminole Garden Club To Meet

By Jane Casselberry
The December meeting of the South Seminole Garden Club will be held next Monday at 1:30 p. m. at the Casselberry Women's Club on Overbrook Drive with the theme to be "Magic of Christmas."

Mrs. E. P. Richards will present a monologue entitled "Marital Showdown." Members of the executive board will present a playlet, "Strategy in Garden Club."

Each member is asked to bring a 60 cent toy or gift for the Lions Club Christmas baskets. Each should be marked with the age and sex of the child who might enjoy it.

There will be a gift exchange of 15 cent gifts pertaining to gardening among members of the club.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Elton Bennett, Mrs. Walter Krohne, Mrs. O. W. Holmes, Mrs. Ralph Hammond and Mrs. W. J. Hartley.

Altamonte PTA Has Meeting

By Julia Barlow
This month's meeting of the Altamonte Springs Elementary PTA was held on Dec. 3 at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The meeting was opened with the presentation of a living Nativity scene by Mrs. Sue O'Hara's fifth graders followed by a Christmas carol song fest.

During the business meeting it was reported by Mrs. Louise Kirschner that the Halloween Carnival brought in a net profit of $439. The magazine sales project has been completed and final reports will be given at the next meeting.

Mrs. VI Segrest reported that student eye exams by means of tele-biocular are nearing completion.
