

National Sense Of Humor Cuts Down Wartime Strain

AP Features
Americans have not lost their balancing sense of humor as long as they can laugh at themselves in personal predicaments brought about by "light" situations in essential of everyday living.

Here's a roundup of items dealing with predicaments occasioned by shortages of man power, food, transportation, and other living necessities and services, as reported by the Office of War Information:

In Seattle, Wash., a hotel management informs guests that they must make their own beds. A sign explains: Maid's Year Out.

In San Francisco, the deck steward of a South Pacific transport reported on the fate of the ship's mascot, a pig. "Every time we hit port," he said, "so many people seemed to look at her and the ration points on the hoof that we finally gave up and turned her over to the butcher."

Feminine Scaracrow
In Glen Ellyn, Ill., the manpower situation was given ingenious solution. An enterprising 600 new alarm clocks caused a public celebration with emergency gardeners set up two scarecrows stuffed in print dresses.

Still on the wacky side but more serious, a citizen in Tulsa, Okla., explained that he had piled tires across a railroad track because two overcrowded trains had already passed him up, and he was desperate to catch a train.

In Burbank, Calif., arrival of city police called out to keep order. Globe, Ariz., voted to awaken copper mine workers by sounding the fire whistle at 6 A.M. Only one protest was made—by the fire chief who claimed it would disturb his firemen, sleeping after swing-shift hours.

In Charlotte, N.C., a hotel got a key mailed back from North African. A former soldier guard explained he was conscience-stricken on learning of room shortages in the Southern city.

All in The Wash
In Camden, N.J., 3,600 citizens were asked to visit a laundry that had gone into receivership, identify their wash, and take it home. Some 3,000 bundles were dry, but 600 were still wet, and the laundry warned they might mildew.

The village of Harris, in Sullivan County, Missouri, is going to get along with part-time Sunday telephone service after all. Citizens protested loudly when the exchange owner decided to let the operator off Sunday from 9 to 12. "Okay," said the operator, "get my Sundays off or I quit. She got her Sunday off."

In Athens, Tenn., two days after an over-age applicant managed to get himself elected to the police force he received his first call. It was to arrest a horse that had gobbled up Victory Gardens.

In Hollywood, because of the meat shortage, producers of Westerns have decided to omit all shots of stamping cattle. In Maryland, the Baltimore County superintendent of schools is personally ringing doorbells in search of teachers, so that the county's school bells could ring to ring on time this fall in Florida. A woman accused of shoplifting defended herself. "I just got tired of waiting," she said. "There weren't enough back in the store." And in St. Louis, the manpower shortage saved a barber from the workhouse. Instead, he will spend five months trimming the hair of city jail inmates.

Serious Side
True, humor has enabled Americans to take bad situations in their stride. But there is also a serious side to the picture. A wealthy woman in Green Pointe, suburb of Detroit, who opened her home to several families of war workers, was arrested and fined for violating the city zoning ordinance which forbids more than one family per house, no matter what the size of the house.

In Trenton, N.J., at the height of the tomato harvesting season, Gov. Charles Edison was forced to proclaim an emergency in the processing of food products in his state. In Maryland, shortage of help temporarily prevented the admittance of patients to most hospitals for more than two weeks at a time, and some sections of such hospitals had to be closed altogether.

Tycoons Leave WPB To Resume Business Jobs

WASHINGTON
The recent resignation of a number of E. Wilson, the General Electric executive, as deputy director of the War Production Administration has highlighted the fact that business men in the war effort are flocking back to private industry.

However, the fact that Wilson is going back to General Electric isn't really a part of the picture. Government officials who are worried about the thinning ranks of business executives in the war effort are in complete accord with Wilson's move. The simple fact is that General Electric, one of the biggest contributors for vital war production needs, Wilson more than WPB does.

No business man who has come to Washington has made a bigger success of it than Wilson. As a No. 1 man in WPB, given a free rein by Chairman Donald Nelson, he slipped through red tape and brought order out of chaos in a matter of weeks. The machinery in his department is running so smoothly that it would be hard for anyone to mess it up.

Wilson's case is an exception. The back-to-private-industry movement generally is much more complicated and the reasons for it are greater.

In the first place, some business leaders working here are responding to the demands of their boards and stockholders to come home and work out the plans for conversion to peacetime industry. With every success of our armed forces, with every prediction for an early end of the war, this pressure gets greater.

This is only natural. Business men are aware that the industries unprepared for reconversion are likely to leave a trail of bankruptcy. But it is none the less alarming to government officials, for each departing executive takes with him lesser employees who are just as eager to get their feet solidly planted on peacetime ground. That leaves great gaps which at this late date cannot be filled.

A second reason is that unless the administration moves quickly to designate the demobilization and conversion machinery, a great many business executives here will feel that their wartime job

DRIVING OUT in New York with her husband, Orson Welles, star Rita Hayworth seems unconcerned about the $10,000 attachment suit filed in Los Angeles by her previous spouse Edward Judson. It has just been revealed that she made a $12,000 divorce settlement and waived all community property rights when they parted.

Air Service Group Is Always Busy At Embarkation Port

By HERMAN R. ALLEN
AP Features Writer
AN EASTERN PORT—We are speeding up the harbor in a 40-mile-an-hour armed patrol boat. The boat is the property of the U.S. Army Air Forces, and if that seems strange wait till I tell you some of the things that the Air Service Command does at this port of embarkation.

The ASC has taken over a large municipal airport near here. To it are ferried the great bulk of the fighter planes for shipment overseas. The planes are partially dismantled, and then the engines and every opening are covered over with heavy tape, oilcloth or plywood. The wings and other detached parts are carefully crated and the taped-up fuselage is sprayed all over with an oily black goo that hardens and makes it nearly molature-proof as possible. Once dismantled and sprayed, the fuselage and crates are loaded aboard lighters at a dock adjoining the field. Then they are towed several miles up the harbor to a pier to be loaded. Armed boats like the one we are riding accompany the tugs and their precious "tows." That's how the Army Air Force happens to own a fleet of patrol boats.

As we near the loading pier, we see a strange maritime sight. "What kind of a ship is that?" I asked the officer who is accompanying us. "That," he says, "is a tanker." But what a tanker! Towering 12 feet or so above the masts of pipes and valves which fan out over the deck of a tanker is a platform which the ASC calls a "mechanical deck." Scores of planes are being lashed down to this mechanical deck. The ASC's bright idea for making use of hundreds of square feet of a loaded tanker is at sea.

In the case of freighters, some planes may be stowed below decks and some may be lashed down on deck cargo without the use of the mechanical deck.

But planes and their spare parts are not all that this port ships abroad. In huge warehouses we saw mountains of packing cases—such mountain representing the equipment sent abroad to outfit an air service group. There were garbage cans, staplers, knuckled-down furniture, everything a service group needs to set up housekeeping.

A half-mile or so away an ordnance outfit was preparing all the mobile equipment, trucks, cars and traveling workshop for shipment.

This part is the funnel through which our air might passes. For lack of a gadget the size of your little finger, a squadron might be held in the ASC's lot to see that the gadget gets overseas.

Talk Of Peace Increases As Allies Parley

German Junkers Said Planning To Throw Hitler Out If Satisfied With Terms

LONDON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Junta of old-line professional German soldiers, supported by many Junker industrialists, agrarians, diplomats, are understood to be awaiting an opportune moment to overthrow the Hitler government in the hope of wangling peace terms which would leave enough of German military to form the core of a new world conquest.

News from inside Germany said the group has already made informal armistice overtures, which the Allies dismissed because they were not official and fell far short of the "unconditional surrender" formula. The leaders were said to be Field Marshal Von Rundstedt, Gen. Hans von Brauchitsch, Gen. Beck, the Grand Admiral Raeder, and were said to be convinced Germany is doomed to lose the war.

President Roosevelt's Prime Minister Churchill and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek considered a lengthy meeting of the military leaders in a time in the future. The proposed American short-wave radio station was held by a fan in the French language. The German government now are on their way to an unknown destination in the hope of escaping the hands of the Allies.

The broadcast, based on a letter from the German government, said that the German government had accompanied her husband to Cairo by plane.

OPA Reduces Point Values Of Beef Cuts

New Ruling Permits Grocers To Reduce Can Point Values To Stop Spoilage

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Office of Price Administration today announced a substantial cut in beef point ration values but said the ration cost of lamb and mutton and practically all veal will remain unchanged for December. The new schedule is effective Sunday.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles said, "The entire list of rationed beef items, ranging from porterhouse steak to hamburger, will be cut from two to three ration points." Butter and margarine remain as present values.

In Chicago T. O. Monogram, the grade champion steer of the Chicago Market Fat Stock Show, was sold today at the Food Fair Store, Philadelphia, for $5 a pound the third highest price ever paid. The steer weighed 1020 pounds. The owner was T. Richard Lacy, 17 of Kansas, Ill., who showed last year's grand champion also.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Canned frozen and dried rationed foods may be sold at reduced point values if there is imminent danger of spoilage and prices are cut at least 25 percent, the Office of Price Administration ruled yesterday.

OPA described the provision, effective Saturday, as an emergency measure designed to conserve these foods which might be lost if not moved into consumption quickly.

Ration point values may be cut 25 percent when there is a similar price reduction and proportionately more when the price is cut further. If the reduction is at least 50 percent, the items may be sold point free.

Yesterday's action extends a policy which has been in effect for fresh meat since the weary days of rationing.

Three touchdowns more, two in the game with Ocala and one in the game with Daytona, would, if scored by the Celeryville with good conversions following, have put them out in the lead of the Northwest Conference. As it is, the Feds are tied for third place with Fletcher High of Jacksonville, each being credited with five wins and two losses in the conference.

In their conference games the Feds beat Euclid ($0.0), DeLand ($9.0), St. Augustine ($21.0), New Smyrna ($8 to $1) and Leesburg ($10.12). Conference losses by the Feds were to Daytona 13 to 7, and Ocala, 28-12.

Outside of the conference, the Feds beat Winter Park, 30 to 7, and Kissimmee 41 to 18. In Ocala the Feds dropped a game on a rain soaked field, 20 to 6, the week after their win over Will Fleming. Fed star back, supported by a fine line and able punter, began to get in full stride for the season in the Daytona game.

PROTECT YOUR HOME FROM TUBERCULOSIS

Hitler's Star Has Set Since Japs Attacked At Pearl Harbor On Dec. 7

By JOHN L. SPRINGER
AP Features Writer

Germany must realize once more that she has bitten off more than she can chew.

Many factors are responsible for Hitler's present plight. Britain will fight on alone even after Dunkirk and the London blitz; the willingness of the Russians to see their cities burned and seared, and to let the invaders pour over their lands so long as they could keep their armies intact to strike a future blow; the fanatical resistance of the conquered peoples to Germany's "New Order."

But the clinching factor is the one that has provided the added weight now dragging down the Nazis—probably has been America's unprecedented mobilization of fighting manpower and her record-shattering production and distribution of war materiel.

Hitler At His Peak

Two years ago, at the time of Pearl Harbor, Hitler was enjoying his greatest glories. His armies had ripped through Russia and parked for the winter within sight of the Kremlin. His submarines were winning the crucial battle of the Atlantic. His air force held control of the skies. His swastika flew across 1,500 miles in Europe, from the Arctic to Africa from the Atlantic to the Black Sea.

For six months more, while American production feverishly picked up speed, the Axis star rose higher. Despite the Russian winter offensive which drove the Nazis from the gates of Moscow, the British, British air power and the beginning of a large-scale air offensive keyed by the first thousand-ton raid on Cologne in May, the Nazis firmly held the initiative. In southern Russia they stormed into the Crimea and headed for Caucasus. They battered the Soviets on the road to Stalingrad and in September entered the city. Stalingrad, a key point on the Volga and his last strong link to the Caucasus. General Erwin Rommel's seasoned desert warriors chased the British across Africa, past Libya and into Egypt, less than seventy miles from Alexandria.

War's Darkest Days

Those were the darkest days of war if the Germans could succeed in driving south from the Caucasus and east from Egypt, they would achieve a juncture in the middle east. With enormous oil fields, rich mineral and agricultural lands in their possession, they could probably sit and hold their lines against all enemies for years—perhaps for decades.

But then the tide turned in one of the most spectacular reverses in the history of war, and the Nazis have been retreating virtually ever since.

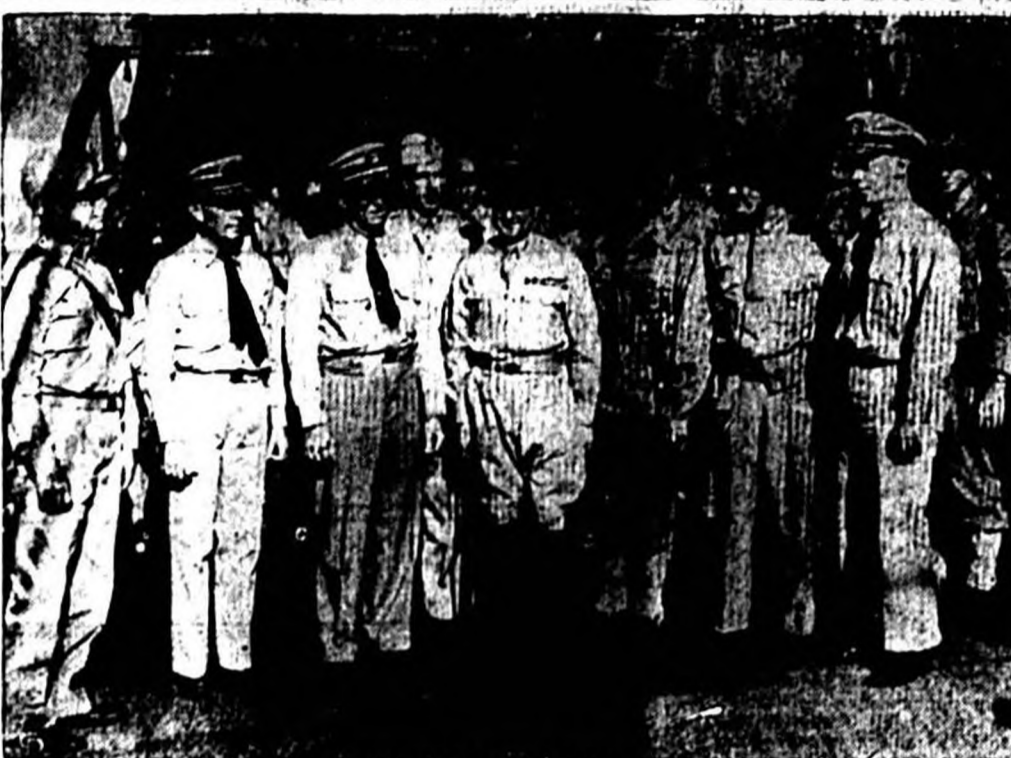

American lend-lease aid tanks and guns and planes—poured into Egypt and it was with the help of this equipment that General Sir Bernard Montgomery began, on October 23, 1942, his campaign at El Alamein that was to chase Rommel back across Africa. On November 8 American forces landed in north Africa to open large-scale action for the first time. And on November 19 the Russians broke the deadlock at Stalingrad and began a drive that captured hundreds of thousands of Hitler's first-line fighters.

The second year since Pearl Harbor has been one of increasing Allied victory and decreasing Axis power.

U.S. Influence

U.S. influence in the year now starting is almost certain to be decisive. The promised second front across the channel will be fought largely, it is expected, by Americans, of whom there will be more than ten million under arms. U.S. war production will provide the bulk of the equipment, and the U.S. shipping fleet the greatest in all history will carry the supplies.

This American offensive will probably mark the climax of the war and break the back of Hitlerism. Even so cautious a prophet as Winston Churchill predicts the doom of Hitler in 1944. And it is likely that within three years after he dared to challenge the United States, Hitler will have fully realized—as did the Kaiser once before—that a fighting mad and mobilized America held the balance of power in Europe.

Talk Of Peace Increases As Allies Parley

Mr. Chiang Kai-shek, made the off by him.
Mr. Winston Churchill arrived in Egypt by ship. The President of the United States, the British premier and the chief of the Chinese government, following their meeting in Cairo, are now heading for an unknown destination in order to meet Marshal Stalin.

Kai-Shek attended the purported conference generally were accepted as correct since Madame Chiang is always called in thinking long has been her usual chief political adviser, and by translator. Chiang speaks little English and understands that language imperfectly.

British Version of Meeting
A British version of the purported meeting, as published in Buenos Aires under a Latin headline, said:

"It can now be revealed definitely that Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek have finished the Cairo conference at Cairo and at present are en route to an unnamed point in Persia to confer with Premier Stalin."
The conference in Cairo, which was of the greatest importance was preliminary to the Persian conference at which resolutions will be adopted of such importance that they will influence extraneously the future course of the war.

Deal With Jap Problems
The Cairo conference very likely dealt with problems related to the war against Japan which concern only China, Britain and the United States since Russia continues to maintain relations with the Mikado.

"During the entire period of the conference, Cairo was isolated from the world to avoid any leakage of news.
In other quarters it was pointed out that China long ago made it plain that she expects to regain all her 'lost territories' as a result of the war. These territories include the Japanese-held islands of Formosa and the Loochei (dyu kyu) group between Japan proper and Formosa, the Japan sponsored state of Manchukuo (Manchuria), the former province of Jehol, now a part of Manchukuo, Inner Mongolia, and the Kwangtung leased territory (Hainan)."

China so far has made no demand for the return of Hong Kong, a British crown colony now occupied by the Japanese, or that of Manila, now a part of the USSR. Both these regions are merely a part of China.

The meeting was the seventh between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill and the first in which they had met in person. The last Churchill-Roosevelt meeting was in August, 1942, at Quebec, and subsequently in Washington, at which Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten was named supreme Allied commander in southeast Asia and Roosevelt the grand strategist of the Pacific war was decided.
Since then the American offensive in the Central Pacific has met with the successful occupation of the Gilbert Islands and Adm. William F. Halsey's force have driven to the northern end of the Solomon while Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Australian and American troops have won most of New Guinea's Huon peninsula, clamping a pincer against the big Japanese base of Rabaul.

TWO U. S. MARINES finished with the fighting of the great battle in the island of Guadalcanal. The picture shows the wreckage of a Japanese airplane on the beach. The other fighting in the Guadalcanal area is continuing. The Japanese are being driven back step by step toward the Tokyo goal.

Steady Increase In Produce Sales Seen At Market

Produce sales at the Kresom market were on hand at the stall of Hugh Wheeler. These were quoted at about $150 a bushel for good grades. A few bushels of yellow rocket squash were quoted at $100. Avocado pears, upon which there is no selling, were priced at $1.50 a bushel and up. String beans from the Pakokee section were priced at $3.00. More supplies of eggplant were on hand than in past weeks and were priced at $2.50 and $2.75 a bushel.
Tomatoes from the Kissimmee area are beginning to arrive as well as more supplies from Manatee county. These are being sold and cleaned by modern machinery in the stalls of William Williams and Jack Poynt. They are priced, according to grade, at from $5.00 to $7.00. Cucumbers from Manatee are nearing the end of their season and are bringing $5.25 a bushel.
Orange supplies are reported on the increase by Harry Toole of the Sanford Fruit Company. Ham, limes and Parson Browns are the early varieties now being shipped. There are also some supplies of tangerines. Grapefruit will probably not be available for at least two weeks. It was announced. Recent rains have been of great benefit to the citrus groves which had been affected somewhat by drought of the past several months. Mr. Toole stated.

Land game, and really got going after the defeat by Ocala, and in the New Smyrna game burned up the last for 375 yards. He posted the high school football career in a blaze of glory in the Leesburg game, when after dragging a heavy Yellowjacket tackler, he posted a 100 yard dash, which was 100 yards but three feet from the Leesburg goal line.
Seven teams of the Southeast Conference will clash this week. Palatka against Daytona, Leesburg on a return game with Euclid and Lake City at Live Oak for a return game. DeLand will play Belle of Jacksonville in a return game.
Leon High of Tallahassee leads the Conference with six wins and no losses. Ocala is second with seven wins and two losses. Gainesville, beat Ocala, Friday night 13 to 0 is down below Leesburg which won four and lost two conference games.

Order to obtain the Florida tag. Mr. Jenkins stated.
No applicant was able to get a monopoly on the coveted number one tag, as there is a number one to go with at least a dozen letters used on tags, it was stated. Seminole County tags are still identified by the number 17, which precedes other identification.

Telephone Installations Affected by Wartime Conditions
Because of the shortage of raw materials, it becomes more difficult as the war progresses for the telephone company to fill requests for telephone service. So unless you qualify as an essential user—one who is essential in the discharge of responsibility for public health, welfare or security—you may experience difficulty in getting telephone service.
If you plan to request the installation of new service or if you now have service and plan to move, a reasonable time may be necessary to determine if service can be made available. For further information, please communicate with our business office.

Celery Root

Most people eat celery by the stalk, or by the crate, as the case may be...

"Celery-root fans are prone to favor it plain boiled— as a little water as possible—and dressed with butter..."

"The French like to cook the sliced root in bouillon and serve it with a cream sauce..."

"The Alsians prepare it thus: Alsatian Celery Root 1 celery root, peeled and sliced in thin strips..."

"Put celery root with remaining ingredients in a covered saucepan and simmer until tender..."

"For Silesian celery soup you should have in addition to the knob celery some parsley root also..."

Silesian Celery Soup 2 celery roots, peeled and diced 1 leek 1 parsley root, peeled 1 teaspoon salt 1.8 teaspoon pepper 2 quarts water 2 tablespoons flour 1 bouillon cube 2 tablespoons butter

"Combine celery root, leek, parsley root, seasoning and water in covered saucepan. Simmer 30 minutes or until celery root is tender..."

"This is going to be a water of stews—made with lamb, beef kidneys and all sorts of vegetables..."

"Giving a cocktail party? Think of celery root. Nothing to do but slice it, peeled, into cocktail-size strips..."

More Rabbits

Hunters go forth in November for various kinds of game, be it deer, where there is open season...

It's interesting to know, therefore, that not only are Americans eating more rabbits than ever before...

It may be hard for victory gardeners to realize, but many people actually raise rabbits as a business...

There was a time when tomatoes didn't mean anything to the gardener or the consumer, either...

BUTTER FRUIT BUTTER
Now that you have butter, you can make a delicious fruit butter. It is a simple recipe and the result is a delicious spread for bread and butter. The recipe is as follows: 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup fruit (such as apples, peaches, or berries), 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup cream, 1/2 cup vanilla. Mix all ingredients together and cook for 15 minutes. Spread on bread and butter.

WHAT IS A THEER?
A thoughtful THEER, or one who is just a little but demands quality when she shops. Good cooks ask for Borden's all phosphate baking powder for all their baking.

2nd Anniversary Of Pearl Harbor To Be This Month

By GLENN BARR
Associated Press Foreign News Editor

Two years after Pearl Harbor Japan, which in the first flush of treachery dreamed of an empire embracing nearly half the human race, merely is hopeful of gaining at best a stale mate that would leave her some of her spoils.

The United States now is like a fighter who, floored by a foul blow before the opening song, has cleared his brain, summoned up his latent powers and started softening his opponent for the knockout.

The strategic initiative has passed from Japanese hands; the Japanese know this and are grinding for defensive warfare on a hemispheric scale.

The Pacific war has been largely the flight of the United States to survive that initial, traumatic period of dismay and helplessness, gain time to gather its senses and come to grips with the enemy.

In those first months, when our

Pacific fleet lay crippled, Japan overran a great empire. The tonnage of Japanese airplanes allotted to the bombing of India, to the shores of Australia, to the islands of the mid-Pacific.

Then came Midway. Guadalcanal and the death of the Japanese command within sighted Port Moresby on New Guinea. The Japanese direction was reversed.

There were other stunning reverses. The Allies' island-hopping program on the road to Tokyo, particularly at Iwo Jima, has been progressing. It might take 100 years before we reached the heart of the continent.

But it must be remembered that the enemy's power of resistance does not equal ours, nor does the highest command of the United States, which has returned the Pearl Harbor blow to action and will continue for more power.

Japan's industrial capacity is limited by shortage of skilled workmen and of raw materials. And while she has gained much weight, it is not as fast as we have gained. The shipping resources of a great maritime power.

Japan was on her way to becoming such a power, but now her resources are steadily declining. Since Pearl Harbor she has suffered a net loss of 2,500,000 tons of cargo-carrying capacity, according to best available estimates. All indications are that she can lose more than half the steady attrition she is suffering.

Plan Costly Defense

There is no doubt the Japanese hope they can make the defense of East Asia and its island fringes so costly the attackers will weary of the effort and leave Japan in possession of most of the fruits of her empire.

Whether the Japanese people can withstand the psychological and spiritual strain of this protracted defensive fight, which offers none of the exhilaration of conquest—remains to be seen.

Orthodox American thought appears to be that they will fight to the last man; that they will be routed out and slain one by one as they were at Attu and Guadalcanal. However, we can tell more about the Japanese mind by studying the firing of their rockets and the Japanese industrial cities in ashes and ruins.

Fraternity Men In U. S. Forces Total 360,000

Report At Conference Shows 800 Houses Used In War Effort

NEW YORK CITY, Dec. 13. (Special)—The 88 national college fraternities in the United States are represented by 860,000 fraternity men in the armed forces. It was announced recently at a concluding session of the thirty-fifth annual meeting of the National Interfraternity Conference at the Hotel Commodore.

Ralph F. Burns, of New York, executive secretary of the conference, revealed that more than 92 per cent of the recent college undergraduates are now in uniform. Two per cent of the members in service have been named on casualty lists and about 3 per cent are either dead or missing. Eight hundred Greek-letter houses in the United States are being used for barracks, training ships or dormitories for the armed forces.

The conference adopted a resolution approving Federal assistance for the completion of the education of returning service men, but specified that the assistance should be scholarships at institutions of their own choice. Several delegates said that legislation currently before Congress would permit the government to select colleges.

Speaker at the final conference session was George E. Sokolsky, columnist for "The Sun," who condemned American colleges as "trade schools," that have neglected teaching "moral standards and eternal verities."

"The Army and Navy have gone into our colleges and are streamlining and tightening up the courses and already educators are talking about three-year courses instead of four," Mr. Sokolsky said. "Soon we shall be taking our education in those little capsules in which they feed us vitamins and our education will benefit us as much as our bodies benefit from those little capsules."

Night Club Fire In Boston Was One Year Ago

Cocoanut Grove Tragedy Taught Lessons In Treating Burns

BOSTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—From the pain, death and tragedy of the Cocoanut Grove fire a year ago Sunday, medical knowledge has come that can help save lives and heal burned bodies for as long as man may live.

Chief among invaluable medical lessons, learned and reported by the staffs of the Massachusetts General and Boston City Hospitals, were the following facts, in layman's language:

1. Mother Nature is the best healer of burns. Give her a chance to do her work in peace by minimum handling of the burn and encasing it with a plaster cast or dry-pressure dressing.
  2. A severely burned patient may starve to death unless his diet is supplemented with concentrated protein food to counterbalance excessive loss of nitrogen from the body.
  3. Plasma is the main reliance in the treatment of burn shock.
  4. Destruction of red blood cells may take place so rapidly in severely burned patients that damaged kidneys and anemia result.
- These contributions stem from that Saturday night a year ago when a gay football crowd jammed the Cocoanut Grove. A flash fire swept through the night club, to claim 493 victims in one of the nation's greatest civilian disasters.
- Many escaped with burns that hospitalized them for days, weeks, months. The last burn victim, Coast Guardsman Clifford Johnson, of Sumner, Mo., left the City Hospital yesterday, a year after he had been brought there with almost half of his body a mass of third-degree burns.

Discussing malnutrition in severely burned patients, Dr. Charles C. Lund, of City Hospital, asserted that Johnson dropped in weight from 167 pounds to close to 100 pounds, even while being fed a concentrated protein diet that at times was the equivalent of six pounds of steak a day. Johnson now weighs around 138 pounds.

Dr. Lund asserted that the lessons learned from the Cocoanut Grove fire were made possible only by the combined efforts of all doctors, nurses, technicians, chemists and staff members of hospitals and emergency organizations.

"No one man is responsible for the advancement in the treatment and knowledge of burns," he said.

Felton Warren Fined $25.00 For Assault

Harper, Joseph Gibson Willie Collier and M.M. Brown. The case of Fletcher Jones, negro charged with disorderly conduct, was continued.

In Municipal Court Friday afternoon, Judge J.G. Sharon fined Felton Warren, ex-service man and farm laborer, $25 and costs or 60 days for his assault Thursday evening against James Jones, a sailor from the Sanford Naval Air Station, whom he found sitting next to his wife at the Ritz Theater. Yesterday Warren was still in jail, his fine yet unpaid.

Other cases Friday were: A.J. Roundtree, who extracted bond of $11 on a charge of reckless driving; Herbert Hinesley, drunkennes, $11 bond extracted; Elijah Vickers, negro, improper parking, $3 bond extracted.

The following negroes each extracted bond of $8 on charges of disorderly conduct: Odester Brown, Levi Dixon, D.L. McCoy, Ernest Roberts, Gary Gibson, J.R. Hill, Sammy Kinard, James

Harper, Joseph Gibson Willie Collier and M.M. Brown. The case of Fletcher Jones, negro charged with disorderly conduct, was continued.

One boy must keep on fighting—we must keep on fighting WAR BOWS until victory is won. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

Wheeler Sees FDR Declining '44 Nomination

Declares President Is Able To Sense The Trend Better Than Any Of Advisors

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. (AP)—Expressing doubt that any Democrat can win the Burdette K. Wheeler (D-Presidency in 1944, Senator Mont.) today predicted President Roosevelt will not be a candidate regardless of the state of the war.

"War or no war," Wheeler told an interviewer, "a definite Republican trend has set in and the President will be able to sense this far more quickly than any of his advisors."

Another Senator, however, Wendell (D-N.Y.), said he thought Roosevelt should be drafted as the Democratic nominee, asserting: "He is the most powerful government leader in the world today. He represents the most powerful country and his leadership and prestige insure an expeditious termination of the war and will give the best possible assurance that he will win the peace this time."

Navy Lieutenant Re- lates Thrilling Account Of Sea Saga; Lauds Armbruster

Possibility that Francis "Frank" Armbruster, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Shaffer of 1618 Park Avenue, may yet be alive has been revived in a story occupying nearly a full page in the Boston Globe recently.

According to Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer, Francis had been reported missing after the De Troyes Steamer, which he had served, was torpedoed and sunk in the Gulf near New Georgia Island on July 1 of his year.

Lieut. Hugh Barr Miller, U.S.N., made an epic report to his commander, J. Harold Williams, DeLinn, recounted the sinking of the ship which went down as it was rescuing two comrades pinned by a scaled line.

Francis Armbruster, he stated, was one of the men surviving on a floating net, after an explosion of depth bombs on the sinking ship caused many men to fall into the water to have fatal injuries. They had ample fresh water and drifted at the will of tides and winds, until the night of July 8, when Miller awoke and roused the group and pointed to the fact that they were only a few yards from land.

Everyone then paddled and pulled and finally reached land, tiny isle with no fresh water and only a few coconuts, Lieut. Miller stated. Several of the group died and the only ones left beside Lieut. Miller were Lieut. J. A. E. Oberg, U.S.N., and four other men: Armbruster, Edith Deering, D. J. Mulligan and Lieut. Lawrence Oberg died on the 10th of his injuries and the DeLinn was very seriously injured. Lieut. Miller was unable to retain solid food, serving only on coconuts.

It was necessary to proceed to Aradale Island, a large body of land only one half mile away, where a "war" might be fought. Edith Deering was placed in the center of the net.

"I was of very little assistance," wrote Lieut. Miller, "and could only sit on the back of the net and kick. The line work of Mulligan and Lawrence with makeshifts from the front corner of the net and the extreme courage and powerful swimming of Armbruster pulling the net got us across in two hours of constant work on the net."

Work Is Begun On Camp For Housing Farm Laborers

$9,000 Will Be Spent On Project To Lure Migratory Workers

Work was started Wednesday morning on the camp for migratory negro farm workers at Jacksonville and Tenth Street, west of the A. C. L. Depot on the same site that a camp was belatedly constructed last year by the FSA.

Construction of the major unit, a 100-unit camp, is under administration, which is building similar camps at Zellwood, Dunn, Ft. Pierce, Palmetto and other points in the state.

W. C. Cox, superintendent of construction yesterday pointed out to C. S. Brumley, assistant to County Agent C. R. Dawson, that construction of the major unit of the camp is well advanced.

Mr. Cox said that the camp will include the placing of 100 army type tents 16 by 16 feet in size with four foot sidewalk; 100 showers; 100 toilets; 100 workers ordered for this section during the early season. Many of the workers will be from the Bahamas, it was stated.

It is hoped, Mr. Brumley stated, that the camp will be completed by Jan. 1, when most of the workers are expected to be here. The camp will have a manager, steward, nurse and maintenance man. Modern plumbing and hot water facilities will be installed.

Mr. Dawson and Mr. Brumley will handle the farm placement of the workers who will be brought here under direction of the State Agricultural Extension Service, working in co-operation with government agencies. Dr. A. P. Spenser is director of this service. E. F. DeLoach is State supervisor of supervision of farm labor.

Fire Chief Mack Cleveland and his men were busy yesterday afternoon burning off high growth on sections of the camp ground.

Practices Blackouts And Air Raid Drills To Continue, Says Peterson

Practices blackouts and air raid drills are to be continued in all Atlantic Coast states, according to Eastern Defense Command headquarters, and a blackout for Florida is scheduled on Thursday, Dec. 3, at 9:30 P.M. Eastern War Time, it was announced by A.E. Peterson, commander of the Seminole County Defense Corps.

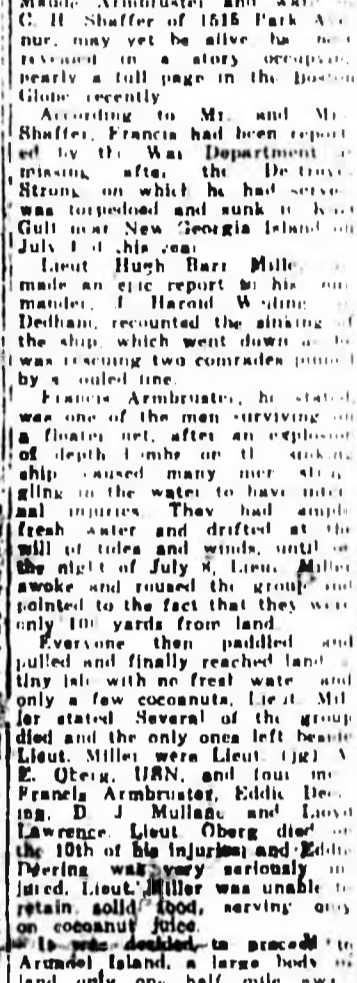

A meeting of the staff of the Defense Corps and similar air raid practices will be held Wednesday evening Oct. 3, Mr. Peterson stated.

"It would be a mistake thinking that the war is over," he said, "and that the danger of enemy air raid attacks is over. We must continue to practice blackouts and air raid drills to maintain a high degree of preparedness and to ensure the interest of our citizens in the war effort."
