

Weldon Jump Ahead Of The Posse

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Wanderin' Weldon the wallaroo, a kangaroo-like creature which escaped last week from the San Francisco Zoo, is still keeping one jump ahead of the posse.

The sprightly 75-pound animal has been seen several times since it happened off on its own but witnesses seldom got much more than a glance. Weldon vanishes with the speed of a 100-yd. runner.

The wallaroo made its latest appearance when the children of Eugene Hamilton woke their parents at 6:30 a.m. with exclamations of "Hey, there's a kangaroo eating weeds in our backyard."

The Hamiltons notified zoo director Carver Baldwin, who raced to the scene in hopes of lassoing the critter. But Weldon bounced over a four-foot fence with ease and went about doing whatever wallaroos do when they have free time in San Francisco.

Baldwin admitted that the task of returning Weldon to his home will not be an easy one, because a wallaroo is to catch it by the tail and hold its feet off the ground.

Weldon is extremely fast, can bounce in any direction, and is capable of clearing a six-foot obstacle if he puts his mind to it.

So what Baldwin needs is someone who is extremely fast, can bounce in any direction, is capable of clearing six-foot obstacles, and can catch a wallaroo by the tail.

The zoo director admitted he doesn't qualify—but he intends to keep trying.

Bryant Warns Of Grocery Tax Bill Veto

Equality Campaign Broadened

By United Press International

Negroes carried their drive for racial equality to the lunch counters, swimming pools, negotiating tables and into the streets in widely scattered sections of the Southland today.

The focal point was in Jackson, Miss., where a shocked and saddened Negro community listened Wednesday night to an appeal by the widow of slain civil rights leader Medgar Evers and began an informal "month of mourning" for the Negro leader.

Hundreds of Negroes staged a protest march after a meeting at the headquarters of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) where Evers worked. Police, aware that tensions were high, moved in quickly and arrested 147 persons.

A few hours earlier 13 Negro ministers staging a "mourning march" were arrested as they walked silently toward town.

In Tallahassee theater owners appeared in court today to seek injunctions against Negroes picketing segregated theaters. Sit-ins were successfully conducted Wednesday at Tampa.

Elements of the 2,000 federal National Guardsmen ordered onto the integrated university campus at Tuscaloosa, Ala., arrived today. The campus, however, was quiet as Negroes Vivian Malone and James Hood entered their second day of classes.

Another Negro, David Mack McLathery, a 27-year-old mathematician at the Marshall Space Flight Center, enters the heavily patrolled University of Alabama extension campus at Huntsville today. But officials there predicted there would be no incidents.

City attaches have set up a trial run to solve the traffic jam problem at First Street and Railroad Avenue. Northbound traffic on Railroad may turn right on First or zig-zag across into Oak but may not make a left turn into First. Sandbags are in place as a "traffic island."

Visitor to our fair city called Wednesday afternoon to ask: Is Sanford in distress? Seems the American flag atop the city water tower on French Avenue was flying upside-down... which is a distress signal!

What with Highway 416 East now being improved, John Pope suggests motorists coming from Osteen-way turn left on Cameron Avenue and then right on Geneva Avenue to avoid congestion.

Officers' Wives Club of NAS has contributed $50 to the USO, with Mrs. Robert Lovelace, president, and Mrs. T. Barkley Wood, executive board member, making the presentation to Mrs. Carolyn Higgins, staff aide of the USO.

Jaycees are launching a membership drive, "looking for young men between 21 and 35 who are not satisfied with things the way they are and who would like to take part in making their city, state and nation a better place in which to live."

Registration for summer school makeup classes at South Seminole Junior High will be held from 8 a. m. until 2 p. m. Friday. Classes, Principal John Angel says, will begin Monday on a weekday schedule from 8 a. m. until noon.

We hear a number of Seminole County's fine citizens will be going along with other members of the German-American Society of Central Florida on Friday to the Tradewinds on Melbourne Beach for a three-day "Wee-End on the Beach." Among newly elected directors for the organization is Mrs. Elsa Borchardt of Fern Park.

That unrepaid broken-down concrete block wall out at Country Club Heights serves as a grim reminder that the corner there is more treacherous than it appears and that one driver didn't make it.

South Seminole sources inform us that paving work on the new parking area at Seminole Plaza Shopping Center is scheduled to begin next week.

Downtown merchants... don't forget to put your flags out tomorrow if you don't want the French Avenue merchants to show you up.

Resident, too, should fly the flag at their homes. Many people have them and just forgot to put them out. If you don't have one, call the Jaycee office and they will bring you one. It only costs $3.50 for the whole works, flag pole and everything. Free delivery, too—all you have to do is pick up the pole.

Academy Faculty Interviews Begin

Local educators, including retired Navy officers, were being interviewed today for placement on the faculty of Sanford Military Academy by its superintendent, Col. H. J. Furman.

Colonel Furman, temporarily residing at the Mayfair Inn, has been transferred by the Hearn MacFadden Foundation from the Castle Heights Military Academy, Lebanon, Tenn., to the superintendent of Sanford Military Academy.

J. P. Wieggers, New York City, president of the Foundation, will arrive here Friday evening, Colonel Furman said. They will inspect and make plans for refurbishing the former Giants' dormitories and other remodeling and for construction of a building housing eight classrooms and an auditorium and for a swimming pool.

The new military school will open in September with an anticipated enrollment of 200 cadets in the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades. The "buildings" and land on Meloyville Avenue at Clerly, were purchased by the Foundation from the San Francisco Giants and the City of San Francisco at a total cost of $375,000.

Colonel Furman's family have been educators for generations. His great-grandfather established Green Valley University at Greenville, S. C. Furman U. and Stetson University, Deland, at one time battled on the football field.

The superintendent received his doctor of science degree at St. Tech and his masters in education at the University of Arkansas, with additional work at Clemson University and George Peabody College. While with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, he saw active service in the European and Far Eastern Theaters of War. He was a member of the Engineer Board 1944-46 and the Engineer School 1941-52, joining Castle Heights in 1956, serving as alumni secretary and procurement officer.

He said he will bring his family to Sanford at a later date, adding "I think Sanford is a beautiful city."

8,000 Mob 'Cleopatra'
NEW YORK (UPI) — Cleopatra, the $10 million film fiasco, came to Broadway Wednesday night for a celebrity-packed world premiere that had a Broadway mob of 8,000 cheering and critics roasting for both superlatives and brickbats.

The street crowds reduced Broadway traffic to two lanes and brought 125 police to the scene to maintain order. Mounted police had to charge surging fans three times to keep them behind barricades.

The noisy excitement attendant on the long-awaited debut of the four-hour film—the longest and costliest in movie history—was music to the ears of 20th Century-Fox executives, who risked the future of their company on the super-spectacular. The studio lost $30 million last year and will have to gross $17 million on "Cleopatra" just to break even.

The unanswered post-premiere question was "Is it that good?" Some critics of the film, starring Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Rex Harrison, found it "well worth waiting for" and "generally brilliant and satisfying." But others derided it as "an extravagant exercise in tedium," "unable to involve the viewer's emotions" and "dramatically pallid."

No Plans For Future—Bryant
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant said today he has no plans to run for any office when his present term ends in January, 1965.

As things now stand, Bryant said, he would not even run for reelection if it were possible under the law.

He was asked about his feelings on a constitutional amendment to be presented to the people this fall that would move Florida's election of the governor and cabinet to non-presidential election years.

To effect the change, it would be necessary for the governor and cabinet elected in 1964 to serve a two-year term and then run in 1966 for a full four-year term. This would allow the next governor, if elected twice, to serve six years.

Bryant said he had not studied the bill and did not know if it would allow him to run for the brief two-year term. But he is not even considering it, he said.

Nor has he any plans to seek a U. S. Senate seat, he said.

Cantor Dies
SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI) — Abraham Jassen, 82, golden-voiced Hebrew temple cantor who once sang with tenor Enrico Caruso at the Metropolitan Opera, died Wednesday night.

JFK Handed First Defeat In House Vote
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has handed President Kennedy his biggest legislative defeat of the year, perhaps the first payment of a big price for his tough new civil rights stand.

The unexpected upset came Wednesday night when the House defeated by a five-vote margin the President's bill to expand federal aid for communities suffering chronic unemployment.

Some southern Democrats who had been counted on to support the administration bill voted instead with its Republican foes.

The southerners' votes would have swung the decision to the administration, but the tight party-line stand the Republicans took also contributed to the defeat.

Voting for the bill were 180 Democrats and 152 Republicans. Voting against it were 57 Democrats and 152 Republicans. Democratic leaders had counted on about 20 Republican votes.

Space Funds Slash Asked
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Space Committee will recommend cuts of nearly $500 million in the administration's request for $5.7 billion for the civilian space program next year.

As it now stands, the committee will approve a spending ceiling for the federal space agency of just under $4.2 billion.

A check with the three subcommittees of the space committee today revealed that the reductions probably will range from $100 million to $400 million.

There is a chance the full committee will revise some of the figures, but this appears unlikely.

Rezoning Plea Again Denied
Renewal application for a rezoning by Joe Gail for a proposed supermarket site was denied again by the County Zoning Commission Wednesday evening.

Gail's initial application for a change from agricultural to commercial of the site on Country Club Road was denied by the Zoning Commission and his appeal also was denied by the County Commission.

Recess Opposed By Governor

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant said today that he has not flatly threatened to veto a state grocery tax does not mean he would not strike it down if faced with the decision.

It was the closest the governor has come to a veto threat this session.

He said his opposition to such a tax is "strong" but he has a policy of never threatening vetoes until an objectionable bill comes across his desk.

Legislators backing a grocery tax have made a point of noting that Bryant, while speaking publicly against such a levy, has never said outright that he would veto it.

To clear the air, Bryant told his news conference "I never make a preliminary threat of a veto and because of that you would not conclude that I would not veto a grocery tax should one be passed."

The governor also came out strongly against any recess of the current tax-raising session of the legislature without completion of its job.

He said the lawmakers suggested by House Speaker Mallory Horne, would only make the tax job more difficult.

He said the lawmakers could wind up the job this week, although he was not optimistic this will be done.

"But they could do it if they wanted to," he said.

Bryant said he plans an early meeting with Senate President Wilson Carraway and Speaker Horne to see if anything can be done to speed up the job. He said the meeting was suggested last night by Carraway.

The governor told newsmen that the legislature must vote from $150 million to $160 million in new taxes to balance the budget.

The difference, he said, depends on whether the legislature will set up a special election this year for a public vote on a constitutional amendment to permit use of the $16 million school trust fund for educational construction.

As it stands now, the question does not go to the voters until next year and a bill to put it on an emergency basis failed to muster the necessary votes.

If the legislature fails to balance the budget, he said, the state will get by. But some of the individual legislators' pet projects won't be realized.

Bryant said he has let all the special appropriations bills become law. But he said he has told each sponsor that whether the cabinet actually releases the money for such projects depends on the tax situation.

Bryant said he will campaign to help win public approval this November of constitutional amendments authorizing bond financing for higher education construction and a land acquisition program for public recreation.

He said he will help on the educational construction program from a statewide citizens committee that is to be formed.

If this bond program is voted down, Bryant said, the legislature will have to come back in special session to provide the $75 million for essential construction that otherwise would have been financed with money borrowed through bonds.

Bryant said he is taking no part in the legislature's struggle over a proposed $5 increase in vehicle license tags. But he said he would prefer a three per cent sales tax on automobiles to the tag increase.

Teacher Pay Raise Bill Becomes Law
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A $45 million bill giving $400 across-the-board pay raises to Florida's public school teachers became law today.

The bill went on the books along with a batch of others without Gov. Farris Bryant's signature.

The salary raises would go as high as $800 a year in some instances for teachers with 10 years experience in Florida. A total of $45 million has already been written into the giant general appropriations law for the raises.

The governor signed a bill into law which will create a junior college in Polk county at a cost of $2.5 million during the coming biennium. Most of the money would be allocated from capital outlay funds for construction of the school.

Other bills becoming law without the governor's signature:

Extend the Florida Institute for Continuing University Studies (FICUS) for another two years. The institute is responsible for handling off-campus courses for state universities.

Authorize a state prison in Dixie county.

Give the Motor Vehicle Department the go ahead to make state license plates in Spanish yellow and Spanish red for 1965. The lettering on the license plates, in addition to normal designation, would read "St. Augustine Quadriflorental Celebration" in red characters on a yellow background.

Would return all left-over funds allocated to state universities to the state's general revenue fund.

Set a minimum speed limit of 40 miles per hour and a maximum of 70 miles per hour on Florida's interstate highways.

Give broader powers to the State Board of Pharmacy.

Direct the legislative council to study the mobile and shell home selling business in the state.

Altamonte Discusses Area Fire Coverage

Plans for reorganizing the Altamonte Springs Volunteer Fire Dept. now that legislation has been approved for the coverage of areas outside the city limits were informally discussed at Tuesday night's special meeting of the Town Council.

Rate systems and rules and regulations for the outside coverage will have to be prepared and additional volunteer firemen from these areas or from the town will be needed.

Mayor Lawrence Swofford suggested that the firemen work out preliminary schedules to go along with the new plans and submit them to the council for approval. He also advised that regular reports should be submitted from the department on a monthly basis.

In other business of the meeting Councilman Gene Stephenson, at his own request, was given until the June 19 meeting to look into possibilities of getting insurance coverage for all of the town needs under one general plan.

Resolutions correcting the bid figure from $207,816.58 to $206,816.58 of Mackie Brothers Const. on the municipal water system and for rights of way for public utilities easements along SR 427 were approved.

North Orlando To Organize Fire Department

Final plans for the organization of a North Orlando Volunteer Fire Dept. will be made under the leadership of Chief Bill Hahn at a meeting to be held Monday in the Community Building in the Village Recreation Area beginning at 7 p.m.

The new fire truck and equipment available for the men will be on display and outlines of additional needed items will be made.

All men of the village who are interested in serving or helping with the organization are urged to attend.

Church Plans Fish Fry

The Brotherhood of the Elder Springs Baptist Church will sponsor a church-wide fish fry at Muse's Fish Camp on the Wekiva River Friday at 5:30 p.m. Brotherhood President, Wilson Coleman, announced today.

Men of the church have recently caught the fish and have asked the ladies to bring the salads, baked beans, desserts, tea, etc. Some of the men will begin preparation about noon, and serving will begin at 5:30.

Cameron Ranch Made Bald Eagle Sanctuary

A bald eagle sanctuary has been established on a ranch in Seminole County where there are at present five nests of the bird which is the national symbol.

These are more nests than ever seen on any one ranch before, Russ Mason, executive secretary of the Florida Audubon Society, told members of the Kiwanis Club.

The ranch, which has been officially designated as a bird sanctuary, is the Cameron ranch, west of Sanford.

Florida's bald eagle population is the only one left in the country, except in Alaska, Mason said, and sanctuaries are being set up wherever the birds are found to protect the fast disappearing national emblem, Mason reported.

Headquarters of the Florida Audubon Society is at the Audubon House in Maitland, an old farm house which has been refurnished and redecorated.

From only two bird sanctuaries in the state in 1937, the number now has risen to 42 under the guidance of the society, and more are in the planning stage, he said.

The sanctuaries set up with ranchers do not involve any transfer of land, but are a cooperative agreement with the ranch owners, whereby ranches are posted and protected by both federal and state law against the shooting of birds.

One of the nearest sanctuaries is the Egret Island sanctuary in Lake Butler at Windemere, given by Randall Chase, of Chase and Company, here.

First wild-life sanctuary in the United States was at Pelican Island in the Indian River, under the order of President Theodore Roosevelt, Mason stated.

The island birds now are threatened with the loss of their home by land speculators from Miami holding property north of Pelican Island between ocean and river, who have requested the Indian River County Commissioners to extend the bulkhead line 3,000 feet into the river directly north of Pelican Island.

The Florida Audubon Society is attempting to preserve the area for a permanent sanctuary, backed by reports from the Florida State Board of Conservation, the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission and the Federal Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife.

In Majestic Silence

"This flag, which we honor and under which we serve, is the emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than that which we give from generation to generation. The choices are ours. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute those choices, whether in peace or in war. And yet, though silent, it speaks to us — speaks to us of the past, of the men and women who went before us, and of the records they wrote upon it."

WOODROW WILSON
28th United States President

Court Moves With Times

Alabama Gov. George Wallace raises an interesting point about Supreme Court decisions affecting school desegregation.

He suggests that the precedent of a much earlier ruling which specified "separate but equal facilities" for whites and Negroes should be governing today. The obverse side of that is that the high court's 1964 decision calling for desegregation should not have been made — and should have no standing now.

All aside from the merits of this particular controversy, the governor's position runs athwart the basic approach the federal judiciary has applied in attacking the big questions over a span of many decades.

For one thing, the Supreme Court never has felt rigidly bound by precedent. Nor has any court in history. Judicially, precedent always has been thought of as a rough guide, a benchmark giving some stability and order but not a total, final certitude to the law.

Secondly, observers of the Supreme Court note that it has normally felt fairly free to reverse or alter previous decisions when they constitute interpretations of the U.S. Constitution.

The court believes it is an accepted part of the American system, ratified by long historical practice, that it should correct its own mistakes of judgment, enlarge or narrow its interpretations as it deems wise and proper.

In further support of this approach is the argument that to change the Constitution by amendment is a slow, cumbersome, little-used device. Only 23 amendments have been adopted in some 175 years of U.S. history under this document. By contrast, lawyers point out, the high court almost never reverses itself or alters its position when it has once interpreted a statute. The reasoning here is that if the court has made a mistake, Congress can pass another law which somehow skirts the area of error and satisfies constitutional requirements.

So the Supreme Court tends to confine its shifting interpretations to provisions of the Constitution. Obviously many parts of the document are not subject to changing appraisal. It says a person must be 35 years old to serve as president. No court can make it 36.

But the generalized phrases of the constitution are not only susceptible of interpretation. They demand it. They have no clear meaning without it.

What does it mean, for example to say — as the Constitution does — that Congress has power to levy taxes to provide for the "general welfare" of the United States? You could hardly find a bigger tent.

The Supreme Court has met this challenge by interpreting such provisions in a manner designed to accommodate the Constitution to a growing, changing nation.

Thus a due process clause once used to buttress property rights is now invoked in support of individual civil rights. An interstate commerce clause once narrowly applied has become a strong lever of federal control in some fields.

Those who do not like the newer interpretations naturally fall back on older ones, as Wallace is doing.

Yet there is no comfort for such persons in the Constitution's generalized language. The wording supports both the narrow and the broad interpretation. But it contains no sharp details that only the narrow view shall apply.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Fat In The Fire

The saffron robes of the Buddhist monks and the gleaming Buddhist temples are as much a part of Southeast Asia as the monsoons and the rice paddies.

Which helps to explain mounting United States concern over the harsh repressive measures of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem's government against the Buddhist majority there.

For, like it or not, and many Americans in South Vietnam do not, the United States is committed to win the anti-Communist struggle in South Vietnam on a slogan "Win with Diem."

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE 1-44: Harmon H., aged 28, has been married five years.

"Dr. Crane, I have a wonderful wife," he admitted, "but I have her out occasionally because she doesn't have supper ready on time."

"For when I arrive home, I am ravenous. I'm in an irritable mood since my ulcer feels as if it is boring a hole through the wall of my stomach."

"A matter of only 3 minutes can thus make all the difference between my being a serene docile husband versus a raving maniac!"

"And I'm not exaggerating very much. Yet my wife, who knows all this, will still fondle around trying to concoct some fancy twist to the salad, whereas I crave solid food fast."

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The greatest American "secret weapon" given to the Russians by Glenn T. Seaborg, U. S. Atomic Energy Commission Chairman, on his recent cultural exchange visit to the Soviet Union was—a Polaroid color camera.

Dr. Seaborg took such a camera with him on his first trip to inspect Russian scientific installations and to sign the U. S.-U.S.S.R. two-year agreement on co-operation in the field of utilization of atomic energy for peaceful purposes.

Every place he went—shooting pictures like a tourist and pulling off finished color prints in 50 seconds—he was surrounded by amazed Russians—particularly the scientists.

These scientists had developed atomic energy on a scale which Seaborg describes as "comparable" though not necessarily "superior" to U. S. science. But they had nothing to match that camera.

At the end of his 11-day visit, Dr. Seaborg presented the camera to his opposite number, A. Petrosyants, chairman of the Russian State Committee on the Utilization of Atomic Energy. The eminent Russian couldn't have been more pleased if he had given a key and a pass to the AEC top secret files.

"But what will he do for film?" Seaborg was asked. "I've got him there," said

Seaborg. "He has to get his films through me."

This little cultural exchange probably did as much to promote friendly relations between leaders of the two major nuclear powers as their formal agreement or all the typical wining and dining and entertaining that goes with traditional Russian hospitality.

Seaborg soon will invite Petrosyants to head a 10-man team of Russian atomic scientists on a visit to the United States. They probably will come in the fall. At that time they will begin to talk about how the new peaceful nuclear information exchange agreement will be implemented.

The discussions will involve only one or two scientists from each country each day in three fields—nuclear power reactor techniques, controlled thermonuclear fusion and high energy nuclear physics. Each visit will be for more than a year.

This will provide opportunity for joint projects in both countries' laboratories. Research to find element 102 is an example. Joint construction of a research accelerator was discussed a little, but nothing was decided. The Russians are already way ahead in this field, though not in power development.

If Seaborg and the nine scientists who accompanied him to Russia brought back anything more than appreciation of Russian competence in development of peaceful uses of atomic energy, they're keeping mum about it.

Seaborg does not think his visit will advance a nuclear test ban agreement. There was no discussion of nuclear explosions underground or their detection. While the Russians were wide open in showing their peaceful applications of nuclear science, they did not show off any of the plants or the chemical processes they use to produce plutonium.

Seaborg didn't ask about reports that the Russians have developed a nuclear-powered airplane, because he hasn't given any credence to reports that they have one.

He didn't ask either, about Russian nuclear-powered submarines. Similarly, there was polite avoidance by both sides on the possibility of nuclear developments in space.

In summary, it wasn't a very revealing intelligence report.

The Seaborg mission was in Russia at the height of the recent Moscow spy trial. There is considerable talk in the Russian press against Communists having anything to do with foreigners at cocktail parties.

But when U. S. Ambassador Foy Kohler gave a reception at the American embassy in honor of Seaborg and his colleagues just before they came home, invited Russian guests turned out in force.

Kohler commented that the Russian scientists' behavior didn't reflect the new policy. That was taken as a hopeful sign for future developments.

Little League Parents Begin Plans For July Celebration

By Mona Grinstead

Plans for a Little League celebration to be held July 29 were begun at Sunday night's meeting of the North Orlando Little League Parent's Auxiliary held at the Community Building in the Village Recreation Area.

Plans made call for the celebration to start at 4 p. m. with a game between the parents and little leaguers followed by a wiener roast at 5:30 p. m. Each mother will be asked to provide a covered dish for the outing and picnic tables will be available for use. Drinks will be provided by the auxiliary.

The event will take place at the Recreation Area.

In other business of the meeting the group voted to give each boy a pin at the end of the season with his batting average inscribed.

Announcement was made that each league will be assessed a sum of $25 to help pay for advertising and programs of the state playoff games which are scheduled for July 30-Aug. 2 in Orlando.

Art Rhodes, president of the group, reported that the North Orlando Civic Assn. had donated $24 and the Village Council had donated $25 towards costs of building a concession stand on the east side of the Community Building. Volunteers were asked to help with labor on the project and it was reported that Roy Burke would lay the block if the auxiliary would have the foundation poured.

Managers reported that the Tuesday afternoon competitive games are working out satisfactorily and requested that all men of the village attend the practices to help advise the players.

Mrs. Kreeck advised that the group had decided against the suggestion made by some of the players that a celebration at the close of the season be held with a trip to Orlando Springs since there are 10 boys on the teams and this number would be too many for such an outing.

The auxiliary is considering the possibility of issuing certificates to all farm team boys at the end of the season.

O'Toole Aims At Record

By United Press International
Cincinnati's Jim O'Toole, who a year ago was just emerging from an early season slump that doomed his 30-victory chances, is setting a pace this year that may make him the National League's most successful lefty in 35 years.

The 37-year-old southpaw scored his 11th victory and fifth shutout of the season Wednesday night as he pitched the Reds to a 2-0 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

With a start like that O'Toole is in position to reach the 25-win mark for the season—a total no National League left-hander has achieved since Carl Hubbell won 26 games for the Giants in 1936.

Only a year ago O'Toole was begged down at 4-7 and even a strong finish earned him no more than a 16-18 mark for the season. O'Toole and Jim Maloney (8-6) have kept the Reds "alive" and still hopeful that they can improve their current fifth-place standing if Joey Jay and Bob Furley round into form.

The hatchmen for the Reds Wednesday night were Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson, who have been making minicircuit of Pirate pitching all season. Each had two hits, scored a run and drove in a run. Pinson is hitting .406 in 10 games against Pittsburgh pitching this season while Robinson's average is .686 with six homers and 12 runs batted in.

The San Francisco Giants beat the Chicago Cubs 3-1, the Los Angeles Dodgers routed the Houston Astros 6-1, the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 6-2, and the Milwaukee Braves romped over the New York Mets 9-0 in other NL activity.

Redskins Sign Two Players

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Washington Redskins can only hope to do as well on the playing field as they have done in the off-season.

The signings Wednesday of offensive end John Griner of Purdue and defensive tackle Joe Baughn of Auburn gave the National Football League club a record of 12 successes among their top 15 draft selections. The Skins also signed their first five picks.

Colts Get Pair

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Offensive backs Bob De Wald and Bill Wood have signed contracts with the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League. Both were free agents.

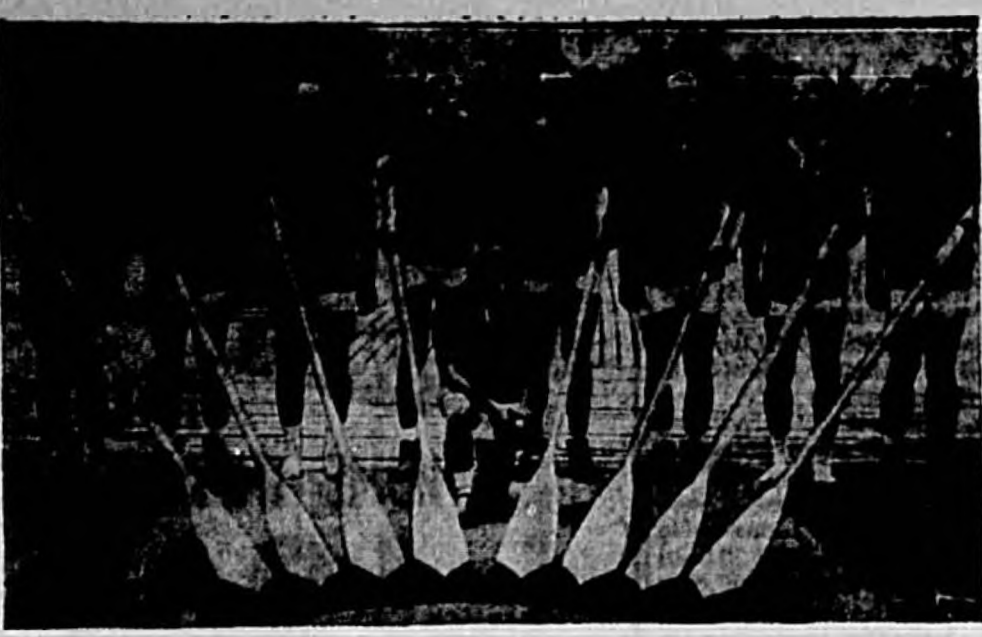

Sasasota, St. Pete Hold 1-2 Spots

SARASOTA (UPI)—Sarasota retained a two and one-half game lead in the Florida State League last night with a 5-4 win over Lakeland, while second-place St. Petersburg blanked Tampa 4-0.

Saints pitcher Hank Harden gave up only three hits for the shutout win and pushed his record to 9-3, the best in the league. Rufus Cox led the Saints at the plate with two RBIs.

In other action last night, Daytona Beach edged Miami 7-4, and Orlando defeated Fort Lauderdale 5-2.

Sun Sox outfielder Bob McKillop scored the winning run in the last inning on an infield out. Buddy Bradford and Haley Young each got two RBIs to lead Sarasota to the win over Lakeland.

Summer Rec Slate Opens Monday

Summer recreation program will get underway Monday, with the City operating five playgrounds, it was reported today by Jim Jeralgan, director of recreation.

Activities in the morning programs will be geared to the elementary school age, which will be offering sports, picnics, frog swimming, treasure hunt, arts and crafts and special tournaments.

The afternoon activities will be set up for junior and senior high school students and will include archery, tennis, horseback riding, chess, school, sailing, ceramics and dancing.

The morning playgrounds will be held at Pinecrest, Southside, and Grammar schools. The colored playgrounds will be operated at

Easy Win For Arizona Seen

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—Arizona had the downhill pull today in the NCAA national baseball tournament semifinals.

The Wildcats ride into tonight's game against Texas as the only team to survive the first three rounds in the battle for the collegiate diamond championship without a loss.

Missouri, the pre-tournament favorite, felt the sting of Arizona power Wednesday night and has its back to the wall in its collision tonight with Southern California. The loser of that game goes home.

Back-to-back homers by Jim Sevcik and Bob Maxwell helped propel Arizona to a 6-4 win over Missouri Wednesday night. In losers' bracket competition, Texas ousted Penn State 6-4 in 10 innings and Southern Cal survived a ninth inning threat to beat Florida State 4-3.

"Hitch", Houk In Truce

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ralph Houk and Billy Hitchcock, those two baseball feudists, declared a temporary truce today.

Mostly because there was nothing to argue about after the New York Yankees beat the Baltimore Orioles 2-2 in 10 innings Wednesday.

"I got a little hot the last time we played the Orioles and I said the Yankees would win, no matter what," Houk said. "But that was largely because someone asked me what I considered a foolish question."

Likewise, Hitchcock said he had no desire to fan a fire that began last summer when both managers nearly tangled physically at Yankee Stadium and was rekindled by Houk's statement the last time the two clubs met.

In other American League games the Cleveland Indians outslug the Detroit Tigers 12-6, the Boston Red Sox beat the Washington Senators 5-3, the Los Angeles Angels won 5-0 after a 2-1 loss to the Chicago White Sox, and the Minnesota Twins bounced back from a 13-4 shelling to top the Kansas City Athletics 8-1.

Six Yanks In Open Exempt

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—Six Americans are among the 44 golfers who will not have to qualify for this year's British Open championship at the Royal Lytham and St. Anne's links, July 16-18.

The exempt list announced Wednesday night is headed by Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., winner of the last two tournaments, and fellow Yank Jack Nicklaus, the leading money-winner on the current U. S. pro tour.

Other Americans exempt from qualifying are Billy Casper, Cary Middlecoff, Phil Rodgers and Doug Sanders.

The qualifying rounds for 70 other spots will be held on July 4-5.

U. S. Netmen Meet Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—The United States, hopeful of making a comeback in world tennis, opens its 1963 Davis Cup campaign today against Iran in a best-of-five elimination series.

Eugene Scott of St. James, N. Y., meets 18-year-old Reza Akbari of Iran in the first singles match. Allen Fox of Los Angeles, fourth ranking player in the United States, opposes Taeght Akbari, 17-year-old brother of Reza, in the second match.

The doubles are scheduled for Friday and the series will be completed with a pair of singles on Saturday.

Women's Open Set

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 1963 Women's Open golf championship will be held at the Atlantic City Country Club at Northfield, N. J., July 1-3. This year's tourney is scheduled for the Kenwood Country Club in Cincinnati and the 1964 championship at the San Diego Country Club, Chula Vista, Calif.

Thunderbird Classic Prep For U.S. Open

NEW YORK (NKA)—The automobile dealers sponsoring the $100,000 Thunderbird

Classic no doubt dislike having their big show called a prep for the United States

Open Championship, but that is precisely what it was. The 116 combatants in the Invitational ending a four-day run at the Westchester Country Club in Rye Sunday play under conditions similar to those which will exist in the Open at The Country Club in Brookline, Mass., June 30-31.

Winter hill played havoc with northern layouts. Heavy sun burns greens through June and April was one of the drier months on record with severe winds. It was in an effort to get The Country Club course in shape for the Open that it was closed to the contestants until after the Thunderbird.

A lot of golfers liked to drop out of the tournament ahead of the Open contending that it was difficult for them to be up mentally and physically for two supreme efforts in a row.

But a block would have to be little short of psychotic, or be loaded like our current top money winners, if he couldn't steam himself up for a good share of a $100,000 purse.

The winner of the Thunderbird gets $25,000, the second man $10,000. They were Gene Littler and Jack Nicklaus, respectively, a year ago at Upper Montclair in New Jersey.

So, it is not difficult to understand why the winners of the last 47 PGA tournaments showed up for the second Thunderbird. Rarely has there been a field like this with all the big names—Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Tony Lema, Sam Snead, Lister and the currently red hot Julius Boros.

Even the great Ben Hogan went back in competition for the first time since the Augusta Masters of a year ago. It could be the last time around for Bantam Ben, who will be 61 in August. He did not enter the Open because he did not feel he would recover in time from an operation for the removal of calcium deposits in his right shoulder.

It was when he was striking the ball well again in practice at the Colonial Club in Fort Worth that Hogan telephoned Fred Corcoran, the tournament director, and entered the Thunderbird.

Corcoran nearly jumped out of his office window on the 40th floor of the Time and Life Building when he got the word from Hogan. Not often does a golf production get an added attraction like the four-time winner of the Open at the last minute.

The West course of the Westchester Country Club is wooded and well trapped with narrow fairways, dips and hills and is 6,500 yards long, but the sharpies expect to feast on it. They'll reach the par 50 in two. After all, it's a hotel resort course which is why it has never been the site of a major championship.

Dick Crawford, a new young pro from Eldorado, Ark., went around it in 32-34 strokes, which helped give the handicapper the idea that the Thunderbird would be won with 72.

The same prognosticators say that 290 will win the Open, but Francis Ouimet, who made history on it 50 years ago, warns that while the Country Club course might look easy, it won't play that way.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is a man in our crowd who is loaded with money, but we have never seen him without holes in the heels of his socks. He has many pairs of socks, but they ALL have holes in the heels. He's not careless about the rest of his attire. He wears tailor-made suits, and expensive shirts, but his holey socks spoil his appearance. Should we write his wife an anonymous letter telling her to do something about it?

ED'S FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: If Ed has holes in ALL his socks, he knows they're there and doesn't care. Leave his wife alone. She apparently doesn't give a darn.

DEAR ABBY: I know you have had many screwball people write to you, but I assure you I am not one of them. I want to do something to benefit mankind and I can't think of anything better than to give my life for scientific research. If you know of any institution that wants a live, healthy body for a scientific experiment, please let me know. I hope you will not print my name because I have already shucked enough people with my ambition. I am dead serious.

HUNTSVILLE

DEAR HUNTSVILLE: You may be "dead" serious—but you are still very much alive. I know of NO institution that would accept your generous offer.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is going to be an usher at a wedding soon. I know that an usher is expected to "look after" a bridesmaid, but where do I come in? We're out-of-towners, and I know no one on either side, so I'll have to go to the wedding alone. At the reception, am I supposed to sit and watch my husband dance with the bridesmaid all evening? Also, the night before the wedding there is a rehearsal supper party. I am not invited to that, but my husband will escort the bridesmaid. One of the other ushers is married, but HIS wife is a bridesmaid, so she'll be included in everything. Am I supposed to forget that I'm married during the wedding festivities, and let my husband run wild with his bridesmaid?

SIZZLING

DEAR SIZZLING: Your husband's role as a husband takes priority over that of an usher. And his role as a MAN should justify his asking the bride and groom where his wife comes in.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HERMAN: One Frenchman put it very well. He said, "There is no such thing as a 'pretty good' onelet'."

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

One of the best ways to win at bridge is to get a silly contract and then make it, as this hand from the Southeastern championships in Miami, Fla., shows.
 With 20 high card points, South decided to jump to two spades after North responded with one heart to the opening diamond bid.
 From then on North turned him every way but loose and there was South at a nice slam contract that had only one defect. There were two natural trump losers.
 South gazed at dummy somewhat mournfully, but not mournfully enough to tell East and West that his cause was hopeless.
 Dummy's ace of clubs held the first trick and South played the ten of spades. East had a problem. He did not know that South was looking only at ace-nine-seven-three of spades and East decided that it behooved him to play his queen. South put on the ace and when the jack dropped from the West-hand—South was able to ruff out his last low club, pick up the rest of the trump suit with the loss of only one trick and chalk up the impossible slam.

 East had been faced with a tough play, but he could have afforded a low card on that first spade lead just in case West did hold that singleton jack.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

Do you belong to a woman's club? If you do, you'll recognize these types:
 The Clothes Horse, who manages to make all the other women feel like frumps.
 The Memory, who slows down proceedings by pointing out what the club did about a certain matter in 1941—or was it 1942?
 The Prodder, who is always trying to get the meeting back to the business at hand.
 The Rambler, who takes 10 minutes to make a minor point.
 The Born President, who is determined to run the show whether her title is past, present—or never.
 The Grumbler, who votes with the crowd, but states how she really feels privately to one member after another after the votes are cast.
 The Outdoer who, when it is her turn to entertain the club, always has things a little fancier than she is supposed to—making it tough on the next hostess.
 The Do-gooder, who never misses an opportunity to let the girls know what she's been up to, though prettily making light of it all.
 The Handshaker, who wears the same bright, meaningless smile for everyone.
 The Absent-minded, who doesn't listen to what is going on and always has to have everything explained twice.
 The Practical, who is always suggesting simple ways of doing things—and getting nowhere, because no woman's organization is interested in doing anything the easy way.
 Go a club meeting tomorrow? See if you can't spot all these types.
 Look around at your next club meeting. You'll spot 'em!

Homemakers Corner

By Mrs. E. L. Johnson

Good afternoon. We would like to make a correction in last week's Corner. In the recipe for Swedish Cookies it should be 4 tablespoons of powdered sugar instead of 4 lbs., as stated. Now try them because they are really good.

Before the time of Christ, the production of raisins was a flourishing business in Armenia. Through the ages, they have been a choice ingredient in cherished recipe favorites. Raisins are about 70 percent natural sugar and contain a healthy amount of vitamins and minerals. Here is a wonderful use for day old raisin bread. It soaks up the sweet milk and egg mixture and becomes soft and custardy. It's called Glorified Bread Pudding.

10 slices day old raisin bread
1/4 cup butter or margarine
4 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1 qt. milk
2 tps. vanilla

Butter bread and arrange slices in buttered baking dish (6 by 10 by 2 inches). Beat eggs and sugar together, stir in milk and vanilla. Pour half of mixture over bread. Let stand until thoroughly moistened. Pour on remaining milk mixture. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) about 1 hour, until custard is firm. Serve warm or cold. Serves 6.

Another raisin use. Raisin Lemonade Cake. Raisins are put through a food chopper with lemon to release all their flavor to this cake. It has a moist, slightly heavy crumb and keeps well for days. Thin lemonade glaze absorbs into the cake, adding flavor and moisture.

1 cup dark or golden raisins
1/4 cup lemon
1/4 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 cup sour milk or butter-milk
Lemonade Glaze
Put raisins and lemon peel through food chopper, using knife. Cream shortening and sugar. Blend in eggs, beating well. Resift flour with baking powder, soda, salt and nutmeg. Blend into creamed mixture alternately with sour milk, beginning and ending with flour. Blend in raisin mixture thoroughly. Turn into greased 9 inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 50 to 60 minutes. Allow cake to cool about 10 minutes, then spoon lemonade glaze over it slowly, allowing it to absorb into cake. Makes 9 squares.

Lemonade Glaze
Combine 1/4 cup sugar, 3 tps. lemon juice, 1/4 tsp. grated lemon peel and 1 tps. water. Stir to dissolve sugar.

Chopping raisins is made easier if they're coated first with a small amount of oil, use 1 tsp. oil per cup raisins. This makes grinding raisins easier, too.

The longer you put off an apology, the harder it will be to make.

President Gets Gavel

By Mona Grinstead
Mrs. Richard Stodden, incoming president of the North Orlando Garden Club, was officially presented with the gavel by Mrs. Bill Ryan, outgoing president, at last Thursday night's meeting of the group held at the home of Mayor and Mrs. W. W. Anderson.

Formal installation of officers will take place at a banquet to be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the Hamilton House. Club members planning to attend are asked to meet at 7 p. m. in front of the North Orlando Co. offices in order that the group may arrive at the restaurant at the same time.

All members also are asked to meet at 8 p. m. today at the home of Mrs. E. W. Harrison, 21 N. Third St., to make arrangements for incoming and outgoing officers to be presented at the banquet.

In other business of last week's meeting members voted to meet the club's folding chairs back in the Community building when the Civic Association notifies that insurance has been purchased and repairs are complete.

The program for the evening featured film of various activities and events which have taken place in the village during the past several years.

A number of members wore costumes of other lands to the meeting and, as the roll was called, each stood and modeled her outfit, telling the country from which it originated.

Husbands of members were guests for the meeting.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Not The Time

A special meeting of the Town Council of Altamonte Springs, called Tuesday night after a quorum failed to materialize at last week's regularly scheduled meeting, was attended by all but one of the council members.

It is to be hoped that this attendance was a good indication that never again will one of the town meetings have to be canceled because other business, or pleasure, keeps the men away.

Now, perhaps more than ever before, Altamonte needs the guidance of its elected officials for this week construction began on the new municipal water system and the way was cleared for the town to go ahead with plans for an overall, systematic street and drainage program.

Altamonte, just like all of our cities and towns, also is faced with the many problems involved in meeting demands of a fast growing population.

Now is no time for a "take it easy" attitude on the part of the town officials.

FIRST ENTRY in the Miss Flame of Seminole County Beauty Contest is Charlotte Ann Sanders, daughter of Mrs. Frances Sanders of Lormann Circle N., Longdale. Fourteen year old Charlotte, who will be a sophomore at Lyman next year, is five feet seven inches tall with 36-24-36 measurements. Hobbies are swimming and horseback riding. The contest is being sponsored by the Longwood Volunteer Firemen as part of their annual Fourth of July Fiesta.

Casselberry Okays Requests On Annexation

Ordinance 105, calling for the annexation of 52 parcels of land to the Town of Casselberry, was passed unanimously on the first and second readings at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

City Attorney Ken McIntosh explained that the area includes parcels owned by 31 individuals.

McIntosh was asked from the floor whether any concessions had been made to any of the applicants or whether any paving had been promised. He said, "Definitely not."

The Board approved a months vacation with pay for Town Marshal Gus Sawyer and, at a request from McIntosh concerning his own vacation, agreed to change the July meeting date to July 15.

The Board also authorized the attorney to negotiate with ABC Garbage Co. on a contract for the collection of garbage and trash in the town.

Young Republicans Hear Election Recap

By Jane Casselberry

Bill Medcal, campaign treasurer for successful candidate Jan Fortune, and Bob Fox, campaign assistant, gave a recap on the special election of state representatives at a meeting of the Seminole County Young Republican Club held Tuesday night at Howell Park.

The men gave a step by step resume of how a small group of political neophytes from the Seminole YR's formed a nucleus to back Fortune and overcame overwhelming odds to bring about his election.

They recounted how in the short time remaining before the election the group of faithful workers grew and worked at a frenzied pace contacting prospective voters in person or by phone and letter and said the campaign reached a climax when Fortune blitzed Sanford with "three live elephants and a friendly handshake."

On election day, for the first time, poll watchers were provided by Republicans at voting locations and an effort was made to assure that the party was represented on each election board.

A breakdown of election results by precinct was read showing that votes for Fortune outnumbered registered Republicans in each case.

The speakers concluded that the turnout of registered voters for both parties was disgraceful and figures show that Seminole County trails many other Florida counties with only a total of 29 percent of the total population registered to vote.

The announced that there will be a total of 22 offices up for election in the county in 1964 and reminded that only six months remain to secure prospective candidates.

Dave Kanaly of Tanglewood was elected without opposition to the office of second vice president in the club which was vacant due to resignation of H. H. Haynie.

Plans were made by the club to take part in the fourth of July celebrations at Maitland and Longwood.

Coffee was served from the new 84-cup coffeemaker obtained with trading stamps donated by members of the club.

Lake Mary Appoints C of C Committees

By Frances Wester

Richard Keogh, Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce president, appointed the following committees, during the business session of last Thursday night's meeting:

Road Committee: Raymond M. Ball, Homer M. Gleason and George Hess Jr.

Nominating Committee: Herbert J. Sahler, Mrs. Frank Evans and Otis Sjöblom.

Ways and Means Committee: Mrs. Hilda Gardner, Mrs. Ruth Boutwell and Donald Jackson.

Keogh commented on the fact that each of these members had gladly agreed to serve when they were asked.

The committees in turn will meet to choose a chairman. Jack Wilber made a report on the action taken by the committee appointed to establish boundaries for a tax district and study the possible mileage increase. He presented a map of legal descriptions of Lake Mary and the surrounding acreage which had been approved by the county attorney.

Wilber explained the necessary steps for the Chamber to take after they draw up the petition. He also said that the special district assessment should only raise individual taxes three or four dollars and that the benefits the community will get from the improvements are certainly worth the small increase.

The Lake Mary area is in an expanding predicament. It was agreed to study both solutions, to incorporate or to establish a tax district, to get the necessary improvements. Both committees will investigate.

Aldermen To 'Tape' Meetings

The proposal that tape recordings be made of all meetings of the Casselberry Board of Aldermen for record purposes was made at Monday night's meeting of the board by Acting Chairman Cliff Overman.

Overman explained that the "eraser" button would have to be removed from the recorder to assure true recordings of meetings and assured that floor speakers would be provided with a mike to eliminate any "babble" of voices on the tape.

Alderman Art Lego, who thought the idea had "a lot of good points," estimated that a machine would cost up to $300 and Alderman George Howard suggested that local businessmen be contacted and given a chance to provide tape machines on a rental basis.

The Lyman High School annual, the "Greyhound," brought a big laugh at Supt. Ray Milwee's expense Thursday afternoon . . . and Ray joined in. It was devoted to the annual depicting a half-page to the school custodian but failed to mention the school superintendent.

Proposal that Seminole County school kids be provided with "dog tags" to wear on a string around their necks was rejected in a hurry by the school board. A tag manufacturer suggested the kids be tagged for identification in case of disaster or any other emergency. The gimmick was that some local business house would buy the tags, with their advertising on them, and give them away. Board members agreed the kids wouldn't play like Army GIs.

A local family may be faced with legal action over two missing cornets. The cornets, presented to a county school, were lent to a student, who since has left school. Family says the instruments were "lost." School board wants them returned, or the equivalent in cash. Supt. Ray Milwee indicated there will be other such cases . . . the families reporting the instruments were left in the school music room and were stolen.

George Harden of Sanford has hidden his "Lee's Pride" to the first spot in the top 10 cutting horses in Florida, according to Joan Davis, Fort Pierce, secretary of the Florida Cutting Horse Association. Second in the standings is "Miss Nan Play" ridden and owned by Spencer Harden, brother of George.

Here's an interesting question. Residents of Alabama are Sarasotans. Those of Florida are Sarasotans. Down in Punta Gorda they are Punta Gordans. Then why is a "Floridan" called a "Floridan"?

Sheriff J. L. Hobby today advised all motorists to check their driver's licenses. "We are finding many drivers are unaware their licenses have expired, due to the change in the renewal date," said the Sheriff. Some licenses were issued for only one year under the renewal change and, he added, the drivers believe these licenses are good for two years.

City police force has been augmented by two temporary appointments. Chief Roy Williams said today. He has named for part-time duty George M. Harriett Jr., son of Fire Lt. George M. Harriett, and C. B. Franklin, a school teacher who will work with the three other Negro officers.

City Manager Pete Knowles has ordered the two bus lines to discontinue using Park Avenue south of Third Street, in violation of city rules. He instructed Chief Roy Williams that "this must cease" and police officers are to stop any buses found on Park Avenue south of Third.

Funeral services for W. C. "Billy" Hill, one of Sanford's most prominent pioneer business men who died Thursday at Seminole Memorial Hospital, will be held this afternoon.

Mr. Hill was born on July 6, 1890 in Sanford, the son of W. J. and Alice Hill, original settlers who came to Sanford in 1873 and established the Hill Lumber and Hardware Company, a leading building supply firm for more than 90 years, now serving its fifth generation of customers.

He was a 50 year member of the Elks Club, BPOE, 1241 Sanford; a 50 year member of Masonic Lodge No. 62, a member of the Morocco Temple, the First Methodist Church and an ardent sportsman.

OK Of 4 School Projects Asked

State Board of Public Instruction was to be asked today to approve four construction projects for Seminole County schools during the next fiscal year.

Seminole School Board Thursday afternoon authorized Walter Teague, administrative assistant, to present the tentative building program at Tallahassee.

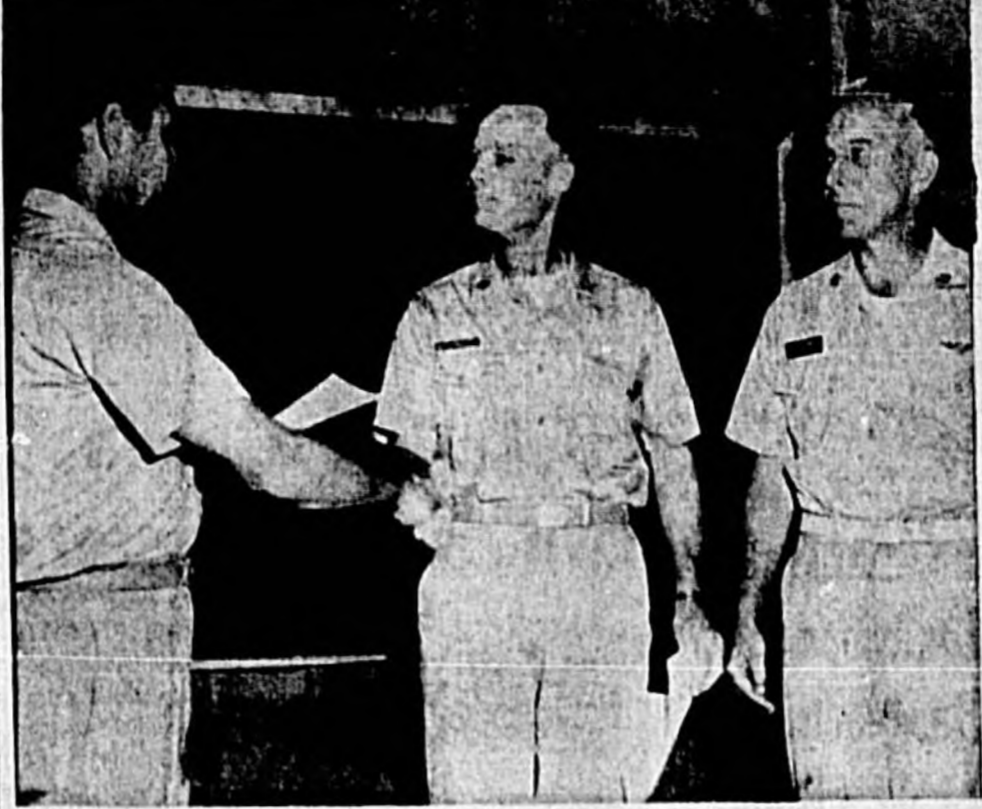

Plans call for five new classrooms at Lake Mary School, a band and vocal room at Crooms High School, two classrooms at Oviedo High School and an industrial arts building at Seminole High School.

Teague informed the board members that county schools will receive $150,000 in state money for new building next year, as compared to $800,000 being spent this year.

Double sessions will be in effect during the first half of the next school year at South Seminole School and Rosewald School. However, Supt. R. T. Milwee said the double sessions will end in January when English Estates School will be completed to relieve South Seminole and five new classrooms will be completed at Rosewald.

The new building was tentatively authorized in a state survey made in October 1962. Teague said that the proposed building completes action in the 1960 survey and Milwee expressed the opinion the state will make a new survey for future expansion next year.

The board authorized the chairman and superintendent to meet with City Commissioners to map a school crossing program.

COMMENDATION FOR "outstanding performance" is presented to Lt. Neil S. Pruden (center) and Lt. William Maliczowski (right) by Capt. Joseph M. Tully Jr.

2 Sanford NAS Officers Win Commendations

Two officers of Heavy Attack Squadron Three have been commended by the commander of Heavy Attack One for "outstanding performance" based on results of a Wing-conducted administrative and material inspection.

Capt. Joseph M. Tully Jr. presented letters of commendation to Lt. Neil S. Pruden, VMI-3 aviation electronics officer, and Lt. William Maliczowski, VMI-3 basic training officer, upon completion of his annual inspection of the squadron.

Lt. Pruden was cited specifically for establishing administrative procedures insuring positive control of technical and maintenance instructions which resulted in the saving of valuable man hours.

Lt. Maliczowski was cited for his efficient reorganization of the basic training phase, which has resulted in the bombardier-navigator students completing this important phase of training with a high degree of proficiency.

Both Pruden and Maliczowski are 19-year veterans of the heavy attack program, having flown all three types of heavy attack aircraft, beginning with the A-1J (Savage), then the A-3A (Sky Warrior) and now the AXV (Vigilante).

Their careers have run parallel courses for the past several years as both started their heavy attack assignments with VC-9 (now designated VMI-9) flying as enlisted crew members in the first heavy attack bomber, the A-1J (Savage). Both advanced to commissioned officer status through the Navy's limited duty officer program, went on to bombardier-navigator training and assignments in heavy attack.

Dies Preparing Son's Funeral

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Mildred Smoother, 75, was making burial arrangements for her stepson at a funeral home here Thursday when he collapsed and died.

A double funeral for Smoother and his 4-year-old stepson, Harry Sterling, was scheduled today. Sterling was killed in a New York hotel fire earlier this week.

School Building Fund Clears Legislature

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A bill spelling out $30 million in bond construction funds for junior colleges and $45 million for state universities cleared the Legislature with virtually no debate and went to the Governor.

Pushed as a compromise plan to implement an already approved $75 million bond issue, the bill drew fire from only one opponent in the House and was whipped through the Senate, which concurred in a couple of technical amendments.

Rep. Charles Holley, of Pinellas, criticized the bill as a future appropriations act. He said the $75 million in construction would create a need for additional $60 million in operational funds in the next biennium.

The bill passed the House 107-9. Originally, the bill called for $124.9 million in construction to implement a proposed bonding program of $125 million. But the Legislature slapped a $75 million ceiling on the bond issue and the lawmakers had to follow with a lower-cost implementing bill.

Actually, the measure sets out $18.8 million in university projects and $33.9 million worth of work for junior colleges, for a total of $52.7 million. But the additional projects were included to give the Cabinet Board of Education and the Board of Control some leeway in deciding what projects will be completed.

Among the big projects spelled out in today's bond implementing bill were: University of Florida $13.9 million, Florida State University $11.1 million, Florida A & M $4.7 million, University of South Florida $10.7 million, Florida Atlantic University $8.6 million, New State University in East-Central Florida $200,000 in planning funds, extension of the University of Florida engineering college in East-Central Florida $1 million and a new two-year college at Pensacola $1.6 million.

Kennedy Record Blasted By Ike

HERSHEY, Pa. (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Thursday night that only a "cunningly manipulated veneer of imagery" hides President Kennedy's "sorry record."

Eisenhower said many persons are upset by the administration's "non-action and headlong retreat on matters of national survival and domestic well-being, on which were promised firm, unequivocal decision and action."

"The roll call—a long record of glowing promises and anemic deliveries—would include such campaigning catch phrases as 'missile gap,' 'stroke of the pen,' 'strong presidency,' 'get the country moving again,' and so on," he said.

Object Is 'Study For Long Trip'

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia blasted its fifth manned space ship into orbit today on a flight that may be the prelude to the launching of the first spaceman.

Lt. Col. Valery Fedorovich Bykovsky, 29-year-old air force pilot, was hurled into orbit at 3 p. m. (9 a. m. EST) in the space ship Vostok 5. His flight was believed to be the first step in a "Romanov and Juliet" man-and-woman tandem space marathon.

Bykovsky, described as an athletic type with a young wife and a three-month-old son, "feels fine," Radio Moscow said, in announcing that "all systems are functioning normally."

The official Soviet Tass news agency said without giving details that Bykovsky's mission was to study conditions "of a long flight" in space.

There were unofficial indications the young Russian might be kept up for as long as a record eight days and be joined soon by the world's first space woman—also a Russian.

Reports have been circulating for days that the Soviets were on the verge of launching a space woman—said to be an attractive, unmarried girl in her 20's.

According to these unofficial reports, the Soviets were hoping to launch and bring the first woman to the start of an international woman's congress in Moscow June 24.

With the blasting of Bykovsky into orbit today, the belief was that a man-and-woman flight in twin space ships was planned.

Pioneering work in twin orbiting was carried out last year by "space twins" Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich.

A day later, Popovich went up in Vostok 4 and, according to official Soviet accounts, jockeyed to within sight of his comrade in a space spectacular that brought cheers of admiration from all the world.

The two men talked back and forth with one another as they loped around the earth at speeds of 17,000 miles an hour. They came down within moments of one another after marathon flights that broke all space records.

Tass said the Vostok 5 was put into an orbit "close to the calculated one," indicating that perhaps the shot might not have been a bullseye. It said the ship was orbiting the earth every 88.4 minutes.

"BIG BILL" is pictured being removed from his home of 37 years at the Sanford Zoo. The 2,000-pound alligator was reputed to be the biggest in captivity in the United States. He was found dead in his pool at the zoo this morning. Sid Richard, city director of public works, captured "Big Bill" 37 years ago in a celery field ditch east of the city. "Bill" was eight feet long when Richard strapped him to a 2x6 board for removal to the zoo. He measured 12 feet six inches this morning. Since Bill's hide was too tough to cut, he was buried intact at the city land fill.
