

Celery Feds To Go Against St. Augustine's Fast Squad In Coast City Friday Night

Sanford Boys Are In Best Of Condition, McLucas Thinks

By HENRY SLAUGHTER

The Celery Feds travel to St. Augustine tomorrow night to meet Ketterlinus High in a Northeast Conference game where the Celery Feds should regain their 50-60 standing in the conference.

Seminole High will rule as the favorite as it has won one game out of seven and the Mulletts of St. Augustine have lost seven out of seven in the same class of competition. The Celery Feds lost their last two games after putting up a good fight and winning much praise from their opponents.

Coach McLucas feels that the boys will pull through tomorrow night and beat the Mulletts. The coach is full of praise for the St. Augustine boys who held the loop leading DeLand Bulldogs to a low score last week. He said that the Mulletts out played the DeLand team and should have won the game.

Last season was the first time that the Celery Feds and the Mulletts played each other and the Seminole High team won by the score of 7-6 after a hard fought game.

After two days of hard scrimmage, Monday and Tuesday, the boys feel good and they seem to have that old pep that it takes to win football games and they all say that they are out to win tomorrow night. In the scrimmage Coach McLucas gave the boys several new plays and they worked excellent against the old plays worked in good form. The coach claims that these two scrimmages were the best of the season.

Glenn Gascock, senior fullback for the Celery Feds, quit the team last week and will be greatly missed should Leland McClelland receive any injury in tomorrow's game. Lester Phillips, who has been playing at quarterback all this season, has been given the fullback plays, but he can not fill the position as well as he should as he has had only a few days in which to learn his new assignment.

Elwin Squires will make another bid for position on the All-Conference team tomorrow night. He is the outstanding center in the conference and should be selected on this team even though his team has lost most of its games.

Bob Williams and Billy Colbert will be the other features of the Seminole High forward wall.

In the backfield the Celery Feds will have Roy Wright at quarterback with Lester Phillips ready to relieve him at any time. Coach McLucas thinks best. It is hoped that Leon Lawson, fleetly halfback, will be back in form after a slight letdown in the last few games. Billy Zachry will be in there throwing passes and charging into the Mulletts' line. Leland McClelland will be at fullback where he is expected to play his usual game. "King Kong" Williams is back in condition and will play the whole game unless he receives an injury.

Stetson-Murray Squads To Play At Homecoming

DELAND, Nov. 21.—After three strenuous practices this week the Stetson Hatters expected to take it easy this afternoon in the next-to-last workout before meeting the Murray State Teachers College eleven Saturday afternoon as the centerpiece of the annual Homecoming festivities.

The Kentucky team is expected to arrive tomorrow, primed for a hard battle, and limber up on some DeLand field in final preparation for Saturday's affair. Head Coach Brady Cowell and Line Coach Chester Freeman felt that the Green and White players are in condition to give their very best in this important home game, in which victory will spell a successful season for the Hatters.

The Stetson backfield, headed by Aubrey Smith who will be captain for Saturday's contest, is now at its peak and Hatter fans are looking for some ground-gaining fireworks both in the air and on the ground. Smith made long runs against the University of Miami, Erskine College and the Spartans of Tampa in the three most recent games—all Stetson victories—and he and his mates should turn in a first-rate performance on this occasion.

The husky thoroughbreds of Kentucky were S. I. A. A. champions in 1933 and defeated Stetson, decisively last year. They are favorites, on paper, to win against the Hatters, but Cowell and Freeman are hoping to win regardless of statistics.

ness is much improved throughout the state," said Gov. Hill McAlister of Tennessee, "and that conditions in Tennessee have improved materially the past year. I think the state has made rapid progress during the year and expect a continued uptrend next year."

Gov. George Peery of Virginia said significant accomplishments of this year include a minimum eight months' public school term, keeping expenditures within income and at the same time restoring some of the deficit and a safe control plan for alcoholic beverages.

An economy program in Arkansas' state government was said by Gov. J. M. Furrell to have brought results in trimming outstanding indebtedness and that continuation of the program would show additional results next year.

AUTRY BROTHERS OF SANFORD ARE HATTIESBURG'S FOOTBALL STARS

"Pelican" Autry (left) and Winky Autry (right), brothers of Mrs. D. D. Welborn, are the stars on the Hattiesburg, Miss., high school football eleven. "Pelican" played baseball in Sanford last summer, functioning behind the plate, and his brother Winky visited here. Winky Autry plays center and "Pelican" is one of the tackles on the Mississippi team.

The Hattiesburg American credits "Pelican" Autry with being largely responsible for his team recently defeating Brookhaven by the close score of 14 to 12, while Winky, for two years an all Big Eight center at Hattiesburg, was the star of a 19-0 victory over Summit.

Jacksonville Wants Sanford Boy Boxers To Give Show There

Jacksonville fight fans have been hearing so much about the Seminole Boys' Athletic Club and how handy the young boys are with their mits that they want the Sanford group to put on an exhibition in the state's metropolis. Judge S. A. B. Wilkinson, club sponsor, received a letter yesterday from a Jacksonville club asking if he could take his gang to the big city on the first Thursday evening in December. But Judge Wilkinson is undecided as to whether to accept the invitation, as he has already promised to put on an entertainment for the American Legion in this city on Monday evening, Dec. 2, and he does not know as it would be advisable to take his boys to Jacksonville three days later.

Sholtz, by resolution adopted in Lakeland, that it was relying upon him to furnish $20,000,000 in state funds for public schools this term and thanked him for assuring school interests that amount would be forthcoming.

Another resolution approved the position of the Florida Congress of Parent-Teachers' Association and its president, Mrs. Beatrice Parvin of Bradenton, favoring the closing of schools if funds are not sufficient rather than asking teachers to wait for their salaries.

In the discussion preceding adoption of the Sholtz resolution, speakers said county school boards want some definite commitment upon which they can borrow now. Money next spring or summer, they said, will not take care of current operating expenses.

Some 50 officials attended the meeting.

60th Birthday Of Forestation To Be Observed In 1936

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The American forest is coming back, as the government works to complete the greatest tree-planting program in history in advance of organized forestry's sixtieth anniversary next year.

Nearly six decades ago—in 1876—Congress appropriated $2,000 for an investigation of timber conditions in the United States. Franklin B. Hough was employed to make the inquiry. It was the first official government step toward controlling the devastation of timber, and it was followed ten years later by the creation of the Division of Forestry in the Department of Agriculture. In 1891 President Harrison was authorized to establish forest reserves.

New government estimates are that at least 482,000,000 trees will have been planted in 1935 by federal agencies. Of that 482,000,000 the soil conservation service has planned to set out, principally on private land, 260,000,000, and the forest service predicts its plantings on 244,000 acres within the national forests will exceed 222,000,000 trees, or three times last year's total.

Meanwhile, a non-governmental forestry agency, the American Tree Association, is issuing a special edition of its "Forestry Primer" to commemorate Hough of 1876 as "first forest agent." Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the association, claims that date will "mark the beginning of our economic independence," just as it marked the "centennial of our political independence."

The "depression army," out in the woods now for two years, has been engaged in fire-fighting and prevention of fires, as well as in planting operations. Thousands of miles of telephone line have been strung in forest areas to aid in quickly spreading fire alarms; hundreds of fire-breaks have been created.

"The President's Home," built at Emory college, Oxford, Ga., nearly 100 years ago, has been occupied by seven presidents of the college, four of whom became bishops in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

4 Cities Want 36 Convention Of Republicans

Party Not Expected
To Delay Meeting
Until After Democratic Name Ticket

Probable Date
Is Early June

Party Would Lose By Waiting On Farley
To Call Convention

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Four cities, St. Louis, Cleveland, Kansas City and Chicago, definitely are seeking the 1936 Republican convention. Definite is expected to present the fifth invitation when the National Committee meets in Washington Dec. 16 to select time and place.

Party leaders in New York believe a movement to delay the convention until after the Democratic vote would be self-defeating. They expect the Republicans will meet early in June, as in their custom, or possibly earlier.

Some of the leaders, discussing the situation privately today, said the Republicans party established itself as a power meeting first. The realization it would be advantageous to wait if the Democrats meet first, but we would lose out if we began to delay for position with Farley (George A. Fedy, predecessor of Farley) and Democratic nomination of Cleveland, as far as Farley is concerned, the Democrats have their convention. Farley has already named his convention.

It is believed that the Republican convention will be an out and out fight against the New Deal.

Lawrence will be a member of the committee to attend the conference with the intention of bringing to the attention of the other delegates the same. The Commission will take session in New Orleans on Dec. 16.

Completion Of City Tax Roll Announced

The City tax roll is now complete, City Clerk E. S. Lannon announced today in requesting property owners to call on their account in City Hall and settle the amount with the municipality. Notices are being mailed out as rapidly as possible. It is explained that taxpayers do not have to wait until receipt of a notice before making payment. A discount of 2 percent will be allowed on taxes paid this month and a discount of 1 percent if paid in December. Both City and County taxes will become delinquent on Apr. 1.

Conditional Pardon Given Seminole Man

The State Pardon Board, in session in Tallahassee yesterday, granted a conditional pardon to Frank Goodman, colored, convicted in Seminole County of the murder of Bob Casey who was shot with a pistol. He was originally sentenced to death, but this was commuted to life imprisonment. Goodman was sent to the state penitentiary on Sept. 9, 1934.

Rural Resettlement Talked At Meeting Held In Sanford

Rural resettlement, its trials and tribulations, hopes and aspirations, were being discussed at a meeting in City Hall this afternoon. Several officials were at the confab which was called to find out why Seminole County applicants "have professed little from the administration," according to C. E. Duveman, County agent. Mr. Duveman attended a rural resettlement conference in Gainesville several days ago and brought back the information that persons who made application to the RRA "need not expect to get any help for their growing crops."

County Tuberculosis Society To Start Campaign On Dec. 1

Thousands of souls will be its result in Seminole County and the Association urges every citizen in the county to do his bit toward helping stamp out tuberculosis by buying as many seals as possible.

Mrs. Dorothy Lamb, member of the advisory committee, states that every unimmunized child should receive milk. Clinics should be held she reported, X-rays taken, and numerous other things done to safeguard public health which has been threatened by the contagious disease. Statistics show that tuberculosis kills more persons in the United States in one year than were killed or died of wounds in the United States forces during the entire 38 months of the World War.

Crews On Dec. 20
On Both Arteries

Sanford streets will not be torn up during the holiday season. Adding one day's work to the schedule for each week for the next month and thereby getting in an extra week's work, Project Engineer W. S. Earl is arranging affairs so that merchants and shoppers will have no complaint to make during the Yuletide. He said today he appreciated the fact that torn up streets, especially in the downtown business district, would not add to the joylessness of the Christmas season, and he has definitely decided to halt work on the street projects on Friday, Dec. 20.

Japan Is Massing Its Troops Along China Great Wall

Chinese sources at Peking reported today that Japanese troops were concentrating along the Great Wall with 1000 already at Kupeikow, 70 miles north of Peking, and reinforcements arriving momentarily. The development came during a hitch in a plan attributed to Japanese military leaders for autonomy of five provinces of North China.

Both Diogenes And Demosthenes May Have Been Pleased

In reporting yesterday of the finding and returning by an impoverished negro of a pocketbook with valuable contents, the observation was made that his act would have delighted the heart of Demosthenes. It can well be imagined that that famous orator would have proclaimed the fact. But another ancient Greek, a certain Diogenes who patrolled the streets of his city in search of an honest man, would, too, have been delighted. He would not have needed a lantern in the home town of John Irwin, negro resident of Sanford's Goldsboro section.

Making the statement that Karl Lehmann "is a man we should all delight to honor," Secretary of State R. A. Gray writes the Chamber of Commerce thanking it for an invitation to be present at the dinner at the Mayfair Hotel next Monday when Mr. Lehmann will be bid God-speed to his new location.

Stump Wrecks Have In Southern Italy

ROME, Nov. 22.—(AP)—At least 30 persons were killed and many were injured in a terrific storm which struck all southern Italy. Houses collapsed under force of the wind, and officials feared there might be a great loss of life. The storm, which caused the destruction of many of the vineyards of Greece for which Italy has been famous, was reported to be intense.

New Farm Aid Plan

A new farm aid plan, to replace the Administration's AAA, is being submitted this week to 1,500,000 farmers for criticism and discussion.

The plan comes from Wheeler McMillen, editor of The Country Home, a national farm magazine, and is the result of studies made continuously during the past six months by the magazine's editorial staff and agricultural correspondents.

Instead of paying farmers for not growing particular commodities, the new plan would have the government pay farmers for producing those commodities which the United States now imports from foreign countries.

Mr. McMillen summarizes his proposals as follows: "1. Surpluses would be diminished while new and needed farm crops would be encouraged."

"Further, individual farmers would be permitted to expand their volume of total production. Consumption would not be restricted because fixed sums would not be added through processing taxes to the consumer prices."

Under the present Administration, benefit payments are mailed to a given farmer in consideration of his agreement not to produce a specified amount of corn, wheat, cotton or pork.

Philippine "Independence"

Strange things are going on throughout the world. Not the least strange of these is the launching of a new nation, soon to be free and independent of outside support, on a troubled sea inhabited by ferocious serpents.

The President's signature ended 36 years' rule of the 7,083 Philippine Islands by the United States and brought to a successful conclusion ceaseless agitation on the part of island politicians for independence.

However, with Japan on the loose and ready to gobble up any stray pieces of territory which may come in sight, one is inclined to wonder whether the fragile string by which the Philippines are still tied to the U. S. will prove sufficient to protect them from this insatiable monster.

It was rather significant that almost at the same time that the Philippines were being given their "independence," the Japanese military staff announced a new move in China.

It is also interesting that exactly as these things are taking place the Pan American Airways is announcing the completion of the China Clipper, giant four motored monoplane, which is scheduled to inaugurate today the first regular trans-Pacific mail and passenger service.

But now that the Philippines are geographically our next door neighbors, they are politically farther away from us than at any time during the past 36 years.

THE COMPASS

Fathers and Sons By Arthur Dicks

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 22.

Twenty-four hundred and eighty five years ago, Croesus, King of Lydia, after being defeated in war by Cyrus the Persian, made this observation: "For no one is so senseless as to choose of his own will rather than peace, since in peace sons bury their fathers, but in war fathers bury their sons."

For the die is cast. The members of the League and Mussolini have been marking time until after the English elections. The date for the imposing of sanctions was purposely postponed until a week after that event.

Even Germany has joined with League members in refusing to let Italy the essentials of war. That leaves Japan and ourselves the only sources. The Japanese are too absorbed in acquiring another slice of China to risk offending 22 nations by supplying Italy.

Italy has adequate munitions plants. Selling her the necessary raw materials and motor transportation is a certain way of prolonging the slaughter. So it is really up to you, American fathers!

More than eight and one-half million young men went to their deaths in the World War. They supposed, all of them, that they were fighting to make the world somehow a better place to live in; they hoped, and were told so by the men who sent them out to die, that through the sacrifice of their lives it was going to be possible to devise some sort of world order in which wars could hereafter be avoided.

"No one needs to look around the world long today to see how tragically that hope has been dashed. In Africa the fighting is on. The thunder of guns, the staccato of approaching shells, the staccato of machine gun-fire—these noises that we hoped had been stilled forever, on Nov. 11, 1918—are sounding again, and the price of their sounding is the same as it was before."

"Perhaps if we could see all of those eight million war victims we would be so shocked, so profoundly moved in the bottom of our hearts, that we would have the courage to redeem our forgotten pledges to them."

"We would have to watch for a long, long time to see their ranks pass by; all the soldiers who have fought in all our wars would not equal them in number. There is no way of making our imaginations comprehend what a tremendous army of World War dead really is."

"Until we find the courage to make that promise of a lasting peace and a better world something more than an empty phrase, we must be recorded as the ignominious of all the earth's generations—a generation condemned by right and one-half million dead men."

Gregory was the talk of 10 papers and one anti-paper.

Stories About Vehicles Of Sorts Found In Columns Of Various Florida Papers

Hitching posts and watering troughs have passed into the limbo of forgotten things along with wooden Indian cigar store signs and women's bustles but, believe it or not, an ox team was arrested in Clearwater the other day for blocking street traffic.

"To Officer St. Lowry goes the credit of being the first member of the police department to arrest a team of oxen."

"The oxen were charged with blocking traffic. It seems that 'Colonel' Porter, negro owner of the famous pair of oxen that daily traverse the streets of Clearwater, went in a grocery store, and while he was gone, the oxen started meandering down the street."

"Officer Lowry, walking along, found the animals weaving back and forth, holding up traffic, so he hitched up his belt and led the team to the police station."

"The old negro driver finally came out of the store, but his oxen were nowhere to be seen. After considerable search, he found them tied up in front of the station. Sergeant Gatewood notified the negro that one dollar fine would be placed against the ox team, and if he wanted them back a dollar was the price."

"The 'Colonel' immediately started the rounds to borrow the one spot. He finally returned to the station and drove off with his more docile charges. Officer Lowry is confident of a promotion for the fulfillment of his duty."

City Manager Thomason of St. Petersburg is of the opinion that city cars are strictly for city use, and the St. Petersburg Times reawning cloth, cardboard and other materials.

The motor of another vehicle was fished out of the bay at St. Petersburg, the Times also reports, which says that "this sounds like a tall fish tale, but the boys who made the catch are ready to swear that it is true."

"Fishing about one mile in the bay east of the municipal airport, three Manhattan Fish Company employees pulled in their huge net to find approximately 20,000 pounds of mullet and, they said, an automobile motor."

"They believed the net, which had a 350-yard spread, snagged the motor as they drew it in."

"Cars may be exchanged from employee to employee, as need arises, by daily assignment under the new order."

The other St. Petersburg paper, the Independent, reports that complaints pouring into the city hall from property owners in various sections throughout the city against the parking and habitation of house-cars on vacant lots brought officials face to face with problems of regulation which search of the building code and other ordinances indicates are not adequately covered."

After a conference with Harry Young, assistant city attorney, Building Inspector J. W. Wahlman indicated that it may be necessary to obtain an amendment to the building code to provide restrictions that will protect abutting residential properties."

Another issue of the Independent tells about another kind of vehicle—a merry-go-round constructed by second grade children in Rover Park school "that actually works." The device was built by the children after they had derived the idea from a story about "A Visit to the Fair," and was constructed out of cheese boxes,

Here Comes The Band To Milane Theater

Ted Lewis, high-batted purveyor of happiness, brings his band, his clarinet and his famous song hits to the talking screen in "Here Comes The Band." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new joy musical now playing at the Milane Theatre.

"Here Comes The Band" presents a new form of musical entertainment, with the bandmaster and his merry syncopators running through a gay romance centering about a song. It is a composite of typical American songs. Lewis and his band appear as a former army band which holds reunions from time to time. Brilliant dancing spectacles, elaborate vocal ensembles, a hilarious "amateur contest" in a radio station, and the great musical lawsuit are among highlights of the merry entertainment.

The principal song is "Headin' Home," a new type of typical American music. "Roll Along Prairie Moon," "My Baby Smiles," "When My Baby Smiles," and "Wear a Hat with a Silver Lining." The "Peanuts" number is in a chorus. A hundred songs are heard in the more elaborate musical sequences.

Wiggins, Mrs. J. I. Baskin, Mrs. Winnie W. Butler, Mrs. W. J. Hill, Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, Mrs. I. Hawkins Connelly, Mrs. W. A. Adams, Mrs. Glenn Lingle, Mrs. Wallace W. Bell, and Mrs. E. L. Perkins.

ATTENDS PRAIRIE SCHOOL

Mrs. A. K. Rosetter has returned from West Palm Beach where on Monday she attended a school of floral design.

A school of floral design was conducted by the Florist Telegraph Delivery Association under the direction of two nationally known designers. On Tuesday and Wednesday she was at the convention of the Florida State Florist Association in the George Washington Hotel at West Palm Beach where many new and interesting facts about flowers and their arrangement were taken up.

Home, a new type of typical American music. "Roll Along Prairie Moon," "My Baby Smiles," "When My Baby Smiles," and "Wear a Hat with a Silver Lining." The "Peanuts" number is in a chorus. A hundred songs are heard in the more elaborate musical sequences.

Herald Plans Picture Edition For The Very Young Of Sanford

By NINA OLIVER DEAN VESPERN

"Little Boy Knew" at the foot of the bed. Droops on the little hands. Little gold head. Hush! Hush! Whisper who darest? Christopher Robin is saying his prayers.

God bless Mummy. I know that's right. Waken it fun in the bath tonight. The child is cold, and the hot's so hot. God bless Daddy. I quite forgot.

If I open my fingers a little bit more, Nanny's dressing gown on the door. It's a beautiful blue, but it hasn't a hole. God bless Nanny and make her good.

Mum has a hood, and I'm in bed. And I'll tell the hood right out my head. And I shut my eyes, and I curl up small. And I don't know, but I'm there all.

Thank you, God, for a lovely day. And what was the other I had to say? "God bless Daddy," so what can it be? Now I remember it, God bless Me.

Little Boy knew, at the foot of the bed. Droops on the little hands, little gold head. Hush! Hush! Whisper who darest? Christopher Robin is saying his prayers.

The poem is from A. A. Milne's "When We Were Very Young" and is about the feeling of wide-eyed wonder that "the world is so full of a number of things, the very spirit of childhood, that beautiful time when everything is new."

Mrs. Gill Lectures On French Costumes

Mrs. Madeline B. Gill of the French Museum in Deland displayed French costumes and lectured on them when the Literary Department of the Woman's Club entertained Sanford school teachers at a French tea Wednesday afternoon at the club house on Oak Avenue. About 100 guests were in attendance.

Costumes from five generations of the D'Argenteaux family of France extending from the time of Marie Antoinette through the two Napoleonic reigns were modeled by Mrs. Fred T. Williams, Mrs. Walter L. Morgan, Mrs. John Q. Stanford, Mrs. F. A. Douglass, Mrs. Margaret Louck, and Mrs. A. M. Phillips. Mrs. Gill wore a gown which belonged to the great grandmother of the last Princess D'Argenteaux who died in Florida a few years ago.

Mrs. A. M. Phillips wearing a gown which Geraldine Ferrar selected when she sang before the Kaiser, rendered a vocal solo, "La Habanera," from Carmen. Mrs. Ferrar was introduced to the Kaiser by the last Princess D'Argenteaux.

Faded miniatures of the women represented by the six modeled costumes of French jeweled prayer books, and the plate gold knife and fork used by Marie Antoinette were among the items on display by Mrs. Gill.

At the conclusion of the program the guests were received by Mrs. Gill, Mrs. Walter L. Morgan, and Mrs. F. A. Douglass. Refreshments were served from the table where Mrs. W. J. Lingle and Mrs. Ralph A. Smith presided.

Mrs. Henry Wight was program sponsor and hostesses were Mrs. H. G. Moore, Mrs. J. B. Coghburn, Mrs. W. E. Knishoff, and Mrs. J. M. Strouffer. Mrs. V. E. Douglass, Mrs. Ross Adams, and Mrs. Hal Wight had charge of the decoration.

Quantities of Mexican slippers in large quantities were placed in large quantities about the club and terrace. The table was set with a lace of the red and white with a view of the table.

British Taxpayers Filled With Gloom By Defense Plans

ROGER D. GREENE LONDON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Already groaning under an income tax of $1.25 per $5, British taxpayers are gloomily weighing their privy purses against the calls of patriotism as symbolized by a proposed billion-dollar defense program.

Many a jaundiced eye greeted Lord Mottistons' booming suggestion that it should be called "the great national happiness loan"—using national credit, as represented by some $6,390,000 savings amassed in the three major savings institutions, to bolster the defense forces.

lasting benefit to the nation. "The second and final argument is political. If Britain gives the lead in renewing armaments by loans, our example will be copied all over the world."

Majority Of Votes Against New Deal In First Returns Of Literary Digest's Poll

A majority is voting against the Roosevelt New Deal to date, as shown by the first returns of the Literary Digest's current 10,000,000-ballof poll on the Administration's "acts and policies" which will be published in tomorrow's issue of the magazine.

The initial returns include 46,053 votes from 19,711 voters in the South and West.

The tabulation of the early balloting shows 62.2 percent voting "no" and 37.8 percent "yes" in answer to the question: "Do you now approve the acts and policies of the Roosevelt New Deal to date?"

A previous poll on the same issue conducted in the late spring of 1934, to practically the same voters, revealed a national sentiment of 61.15 percent against it. This was a larger percentage of popular approval for the President than the 59.15 percent of the official Roosevelt-Hoover vote he received in 1932.

Two of the five states, Georgia and Oklahoma, from which returns are published this week, give a majority vote for the New Deal while the other three states of Iowa, Kansas and Missouri, in the farm belt, register outright disapproval.

Roosevelt's "other home state" of Georgia shows 70.38 percent of the first 3,947 ballots tallied voting in support of his policies.

Iowa, with 17,756 votes, now tabulated, shows 41.16 percent for the New Deal as compared to an approval vote in last year's Literary Digest poll.

The tabulation shows that the New Deal popularity has declined in Kansas since 1934 to 44.67 percent in the current poll. Missouri so far returns 11,779 ballots of which 46.82 percent are for the New Deal. Both states voted for Roosevelt in 1932.

The returns from Oklahoma show 52.06 percent of the 2,353 votes cast so far supporting the New Deal.

An analysis of how voters in this poll voted in 1932 is also reported in the magazine showing the drift of the former Roosevelt and Hoover supporters now and against the New Deal.

"Less than a year in advance of the 1936 Presidential election," the magazine's analysis of the tabulation states, "Americans are casting secret ballots in another great straw vote of The Literary Digest."

"This poll is being operated in the same way as its predecessors."

Holding Company Proved Of Value During Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 22.—In a letter mailed Tuesday to senators and congressmen from Florida, G. C. Estill, president of the Florida Power & Light Company, brought out the importance of a holding company to a local electric company, especially during emergencies such as the recent hurricane, which caused a minimum loss of $750,000 to his company.

"It would be neglect of duty on my part," Mr. Estill said, "if I failed to tell you that again the American Power & Light Company and Electric Bond and Share Company, our respective holding and service companies, have been of tremendous benefit to Florida Power & Light Company, its customers, its employees and its security owners. While the storm of Nov. 4 was in progress and before Miami lost communication to the North, I was able to telephone officials of our service and holding companies and give them our estimated requirements in money, men and equipment needed to restore the certain damage the storm would cause our company's property in Southeastern Florida."

Mr. Estill informed the Florida delegation that even though his company is now obligated to the American Power & Light Company to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars in open account, its holding company agreed to advance to the Florida Power & Light Company necessary money for reconstruction of its property and the Electric Bond and Share Company rushed necessary man-power and equipment, making possible the quick restoration of electric service.

"In the emergency we did not appeal to the taxpayers or the federal, state or city governments for any loans or financial aid whatsoever," said Mr. Estill. "With the aid, advice and assistance of our holding and service companies, we proceeded within the hour after the hurricane struck to bring order out of chaos as far as electric service was concerned."

"Had Florida Power & Light Company been an independent company in this great emergency, our customers would have been without electric service a much longer period and would have suffered greater inconvenience and losses; our employees most probably could not have been paid their wages in cash; and our security owners would have lost tremendously because the longer period of delay in restoring service would have lost additional thousands of dollars of gross revenue."

Old Treaty Found That Might Effect U.S. Embargo Rule

Terms Are To Remain In Effect For Year From Notice Date

By HERBERT PLUMMER WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Resurrection of a 65-year-old treaty at the state department which might have important bearing on whether the United States legally could, if it desired, embargo raw materials to Italy, has focused attention on a small, dusty chamber of which few in Washington have been aware.

Officially designated as the protocol room, it is the repository for copies of treaties concluded between this and other countries since the foundation of the American republic.

These few remaining pages of parchment, comprising a treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and Italy, contain a provision that the treaty shall remain in force one year from the day notice of intention to terminate is given by one of the contracting parties. Neither the United States nor Italy as yet has given such notice.

It is only one of the priceless documents to be found in this sequestered nook at the state department.

The state department watches over these precious treaties with the greatest care. No one except research students ever are admitted to the protocol room, and these only after they have satisfied the custodians they are qualified and previously have examined all printed material on the treaty they wish to study.

The documents are fragile. The diplomatic history of America is contained in them.

There is, for example, the Louisiana Purchase treaty, signed by Napoleon Bonaparte, on parchment enclosed between heavy purple velvet covers. It is sealed by a cord of silk passing through the pages and imbedded at the other end in sealing wax. The whole treaty rests in a circular box of gold which weighs more than 500 pounds.

There is the treaty signed by Queen Victoria shortly after the Civil War, sealed in another fashion. It, too, is enclosed in velvet, but about twice the size of the French one.

The original manuscripts containing ratification of the Constitution are there with their priceless signatures.

A treaty with 12 Indian tribes signed by George Washington in 1778 is deposited there, as well as the formal request of the King of Burma in 1836 for a treaty with the United States because he feared the growing power of Great Britain.

One of the most interesting to the treaty signed with the Ottoman empire in 1830. It stands three feet high and two feet wide. The text starts far below the top in order that Allah might be left for Allah to insert anything he pleased.

Eventually, these historic documents may be removed from state department to the magnificent new archives building in Pennsylvania Avenue, which will be ready and open to the public in 1936. However, because many of them are being used for historical purposes by the state department, they may remain where they are.

Final decision will be made by a special committee composed of the members of the President's cabinet, the chairman of the Senate and House Judiciary committees, the national archivist and the secretary of the Smithsonian Institution.

Resettlement New Deal Will Be Necessary

Special Dispensation For Seminole Growers May Be Worked Out In Washington

Conditions Here Quite Different

State Director Says Aid Under Present Set Up Impossible

There's got to be another "new deal" in the set up of the Rural Resettlement Administration if the farmers of Seminole County receive any aid from the Administration for their growing crops, it developed at a hearing conducted by RRA officials in Sanford Friday afternoon. Officials at the meeting agreed that conditions here are vastly different from those that obtain in other agricultural sections, and because of this difference an attempt will be made to get Washington officials to grant a special dispensation whereby Central and South Florida growers will be able to participate in RRA grants.

Dr. Wischer of Washington, D. C., assistant to Prof. Rex Tugwell, director, attended the Sanford hearing and afterwards made the statement that he was returning to the nation's capital with a different picture of conditions in this section of the state than that which he would have presented within his power to have the situation in Florida. He commented upon the marked difference between the specialized farming in Florida and general farming in northern states.

J. A. Texada of Gainesville, Florida state director of the Rural Resettlement Administration, presided at the meeting. Mr. Texada emphasized the fact that he "fully realizes the difference in our farming areas down here with other sections," and that he was taking Dr. Wischer on this trip for the purpose of letting the Washington officials see at first hand just how different conditions here are so the latter might acquaint officials in Washington with the situation.

New Committee For Market Is Appointed

Ben Packard, chairman, John Mack, Jr., and Geo. E. Balme comprise the new building committee of the Sanford State Farmers' Wholesale Market, as appointed by Chairman H. M. Papworth of the larger committee. No building operations at the market are contemplated at the present time, Market Manager J. G. Michael stated, but the committee will be ready to function at any time it is found possible to add to the facilities of the big institution.

Mosquitoes Will Be Controlled In Seminole County

Mosquitoes are not to be allowed to buzz around at will in Seminole County and let whom they please and when ever they have the inclination. They're going to be controlled by Uncle Sam.

A. C. Newman of Jacksonville, director of mosquito control work in Florida, has just only notified County Engineer Tony L. Pittsford that work on the County House ditch will be undertaken within the next fortnight but that other drainage ditches will be dug in order to force mosquitoes to go elsewhere for pastures.

He advised Mr. Pittsford that other drainage projects in this county will be worked out as soon as possible.
