Alaska Begins Vast Job Of Rebuilding Quake Torn Areas

Aleutians Hit Sunday Night

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — Pioneer-spirited Alaskans, ignoring still another massive earthquake, today began rebuilding whole towns and parts of shattered cities, searched for more victims of Friday's quake and buried the dead.

Rescue units and medical teams fanned out through the 900-mile coastal arc ripped by more than 10 times the force of an atomic bomb to minister to the injured and prevent typhoid epidemics. Food kitchens fed the homeless and even bowling alleys were turned into hotels to shelter them from the 18-degree cold.

At least 63 persons were known dead, with the possibility that scores of Aleutian natives may have been killed. Federal authorities after an aerial survey and on-the-scene checks said the total of known dead and missing numbered 88.

Another 10 persons were dead and 15 missing in Crescent City, Calif., battered by four tidal waves from the quake on Good Friday. Three children were missing, one dead, from one family which was swept from a beach at Depoe Bay, Ore.

Damage estimates in Alaska ranged from $50 million by Edward McDermott, director of President Johnson's Office of Emergency Planning, to more than $850 million by state authorities.

Planes airlifted 50 Seabees from Point Mugu, Calif., to Kodiak to assist in relief operations at the stricken city, joining 102 flown to the area Sunday with two mobile generators to provide emergency power to the Kodiak naval station.

Officials said it would be weeks, possibly months, before the full number of casualties was known and the damages completely determined.

The quake caused "a tremendous economic impact... many will never recover," said state Commerce Commissioner Abe Romick.

The towns of Kodiak and Seward appeared to have been "worst hit by the rolling, wrenching upheaval."

A fresh quake Sunday night struck near sparsely settled Unimak Island at the extreme southwest of the remote and foggy Aleutian Islands. It registered at almost 7 on the Richter quake scale—compared with 8.5 on the scale for the Friday tremor.

Officials said they doubted any new danger from tidal waves. Technically, such waves are seismic, not caused by tides, despite the commonly accepted description of them.

Hundreds of tons of goods, supplies, tools, electrical generators and medical supplies, including water purification tablets, were being shuttled into Elmendorf Air Force Base at battered Anchorage.

Casualties included 31 known dead at Valdez, 11 at Kodiak, 12 in Anchorage, eight in Seward and one at Whittier.

Mixed Bama Crowd Hears Billy

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Negroes and whites sat together under the watchful eyes of 300 policemen to hear evangelist Billy Graham deliver an Easter sermon to the largest integrated gathering in Alabama history.

Graham, addressing an estimated 35,000 in Legion Field, a football stadium, called it "a great historic occasion in Birmingham; a moment we'll never forget."

There was no racial trouble and Mayor Albert Boutwell said the one-day "crusade" gave the city "a chance to show its good side."

Negro and white leaders said they considered the mixed meeting a significant step toward improving race relations in this Deep South industrial city, although attendance fell far below the expected 50,000. More than half the audience was Negro.

The evangelist took for his text the death of Christ and its meaning. He called for all who would accept Christ. The thousands who responded covered nearly one-half the football field when they gathered in front of the speaker's stand in the end zone.

In his prepared text, Graham mentioned Birmingham's history of racial discord several times. But he omitted those portions in his actual sermon.

Speaking under a tight security guard which included the city's entire police force of more than 300 men, Graham asked, "What causes hate, prejudice, lust, immorality, greed, deceit, fraud and war?"

"The Bible teaches that man has a moral duty," Graham said. "Problems are not social or lack of education. We are afflicted with heart trouble. Jesus said 'for out of the heart proceeds all these evil things.'"

Graham spoke from a large platform surrounded by flowers. A 3,500-voice choir composed of whites and Negroes from 700 churches provided the songs.

Some 1,000 ushers, both white and Negro and equipped with walkie-talkie radios, directed the seating.

Village Firemen Begin Regular Training

By Doris Dean
The first fire school training session for members of the North Orlando Volunteer Fire Department was conducted last Wednesday by Chief Bill Hahn. This training is divided into 11 phases, one phase to be covered at each meeting to be held on the fourth Wednesday of the month.

Last week's session covered "How to Size up a Fire," Hahn pointed out that success in handling and controlling a fire depends upon how well the firemen size up the situation before they start to extinguish the flames.

At the next session, April 22, Lt. Jack O'Donnell of the Civil Air Patrol will talk to firemen on how the CAP and fire department can work together if a plane should crash in the area.

Other phases of the training to be covered include forcible entry, rescue, handling ladders, handling and using hose, ventilating, handling of ropes, salvaging, overhauling, fire extinguishers and first aid.

Eleven members of the department are taking the training. Drill sessions for the group are held on the second Wednesday of each month.

One Day At A Time

There are two days in every week about which we should not worry, two days which should be kept free from fear and apprehension. One of these days is YESTERDAY with its mistakes and cares, its faults and blunders, its aches and pains. Yesterday has passed forever beyond our control. All the money in the world cannot bring back Yesterday. We cannot undo a single act we performed; we cannot erase a single word we said. Yesterday is gone. The other day we should not worry about is TOMORROW with its possible adversaries, its burdens, its large promise and poor performance.

Tomorrow's sun will rise, either in splendor or behind a mask of clouds - but it will rise. Until it does, we have no stake in Tomorrow, for it is as yet unborn. This leaves only one day - TODAY. Any man can fight the battles of just one day. It is only when we add the burdens of those two awful eternities - Yesterday and Tomorrow that we break down. It is not the Experience of Today that drives men mad - it is remorse or bitterness for something which happened Yesterday and the dread of what Tomorrow may bring. Let us, therefore, live but one day at a time. — AA.

'Higher' Education

The high cost of education is no news to parents with a son or daughter in college, or planning to go to college. Contrary to what they might think, however, this involves more than just generally rising prices for goods and services. To an increasing extent, it is a reflection of a fundamental change in our society — the demand for quality and complexity, both in tools and in knowledge. Rutgers University, for example, notes a surge in its operating costs from $11.5 million in 1953 to nearly $28 million in 1963 and gives a few reasons why. A list of recently installed equipment includes: — An electron microscope for the College of Engineering — $35,000. — A nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometer for the School of Chemistry — $27,000. — A bubble chamber computer for the Department of Physics — $180,000. — A supersonic wind tunnel for the Engineering Center — $20,000; auxiliary equipment—$7,000. — An analog computer and associated equipment — $60,000. — A cup-size platinum crucible for the School of Ceramics — $500. Nor is this "knowledge inflation" confined to the science schools. All other departments offer similar, if less spectacular, examples. Simple growth of the student body, staff and physical plant is no negligible factor, either. The university has had to expand its telephone switchboard to a capacity rivaling that of many nearby communities, and set up a Department of Parking and Transportation and a 24-hour-a-day radio car patrol on the campus. This is what is known as higher — and higher — education.

Court Upholds Press

The U. S. Supreme Court again has reaffirmed the right of the press to criticize the actions of public officials. In another historic decision, growing out of a $600,000 verdict against the New York Times by a circuit court in Montgomery County, Ala., the court ruled unanimously that a public official cannot recover libel damages for criticism of his actions unless he proves that the statement was made with deliberate malice. In defining malice, the court said it can be established only if the one making a defamatory statement knows in advance that it is false or if it is made "with reckless disregard of whether it was false or not." This includes political advertising. Three members of the court proposed to go even further by having the court uphold a doctrine of unconditional and absolute freedom of the press to criticize official conduct.

In upholding in strongest terms the free speech and free press clauses of the First Amendment, the ruling preserves fundamental rights of the press and the people. These rights involve survival of freedom itself. No free system can last without full access to the news and the right to comment on it by the press and by the people. The rights of free speech and free press have been under constant attack since the foundation of this republic. In recent years we have witnessed a rash of harassments and intimidations, mainly under state libel laws, to silence the press. In many instances these have been aimed at newspapers and other media which have dared to champion unpopular causes. In the Alabama case, Justice Black said: "The half-million dollar verdict does give dramatic proof . . . that state libel laws threaten the very existence of an American press virile enough to publish unpopular views on public affairs and bold enough to criticize the conduct of public officials." This decision leaves the press free to carry out its responsibilities and carry them out it should. It spells out the duties of the press, in fact, to inform the people and to promote full discussion of public affairs and public officials. Again quoting Justice Black's concurring opinion: ". . . I doubt that a country can live in freedom where its people can be made to suffer physically or financially for criticizing their government, its actions or its officials." — The Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution

Thought For Today

A dispute also arose among them, which of them was to be regarded as the greatest. — Luke 22:24.

That man is great, and he alone, Who serves a greatness not his own. For neither praise nor self: Content to know and be unknown: Whole in himself. — Owen Meredith.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Like actors who ignore bad reviews, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's top political workmen are shrugging off professional judgments that their man can't win the 1964 Republican presidential nomination. Their net hard aim is on the May 15 Oregon primary, where Robert Mullen, chief of Lodge Washington headquarters, says "we are going for broke." They are already setting up shop there. But that goal, with its prize of 18 convention delegates, is a long way off. In the spacious interval, Lodge leaders hope to build little bonfires of interest in many of the 33 states where they now claim some sort of organization.

The labor will not be easy, despite rekindled excitement over Lodge after his whopping New Hampshire write-in victory. Says a Colorado Republican leader: "Out here most people may be inclined to think that Henry Cabot Lodge is a ski resort." The Lodge people do not blink at such comments. They report that even professionals are writing Lodge leaders now, opening communications lines. Illinois, long marked down as "Goldwater country," is one state that has been heard from.

With the expected signal from Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, Lodge's own Massachusetts now will give him its 34 delegates and may add a bonus of a plump write-in in the state's primary April 28. Richard Treadway, Massachusetts GOP national committeeman, is reported to be happy to see that there is to be a study made about bringing the Econ into Lake Jessup. This will cut down on pollution of the St. Johns which is necessary if we are to continue to have good fishing. It is imperative that the pollution, both from sewage and industrial waste, be controlled. S. B. "Jim" Crowe

Am happy to see that there is to be a study made about bringing the Econ into Lake Jessup. This will cut down on pollution of the St. Johns which is necessary if we are holds a popular edge, though Rockefeller's early jump in organization has not been wiped out. Some word is heard that Nixon, allegedly concerned over his fourth place write-in showing in New Hampshire, may allow a bigger try in Oregon. A respected eastern professional says: "Nixon can't be fourth in Oregon and keep alive." Scranton's latest move in that state is puzzling politicians and observers aew. "Is he, or isn't he?" they ask. He permitted his name to stay on the primary ballot. But when Pennsylvania's State Chairman Craig Truax put up the required $300 and supplied state officials with Scranton material for a state-mailed voters' pamphlet covering all candidates, Scranton disavowed Truax and pulled the material out. The Lodge people missed the deadline for pamphlet material. But the Scranton pullout is the kind of thing that gives them heart that in Oregon they can bring off another New Hampshire.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Lola is going through one of the most dangerous ages in the life of a woman, but it is not the menopause! So study this case carefully and all you husbands can profit by reading for the sex booklet below. Wives who enter mental hospitals often complain of "choking" but this is often a symbolic sexual symptom. CASE 5-425: Lola, aged 23, has been married 11 years. "Dr. Crane," her husband began, "Lola has been a very good wife and mother to our four children. "But the last six months she has grown moody and restless. "She says I never want to go out to movies or dances. So I have learned recently that she hires a baby sitter in the afternoons and visits taverns, all by herself. "This is so different from her past background that I wonder if she is losing her mind! "I even caught her parked with another man on a lover's lane!" When women reach the age of 23, they often grow restless and inclined to be flirtatious. For the next birthday is Number 30, which seems terrifying to many women. For they think that the decade of the thirties will mean they are old and on be shelf. This is doubly frightening to a wife who married young, as Lola did.

For Lola was barely 18 on her wedding day and her first baby arrived before she was 19. So she was washing diapers and cooking, cleaning house and fretting over other domestic chores while the usual girl of 19 is in college or working in an office or factory, with free time for romance. Lola was so preoccupied with her home duties that she didn't get into the '29 panic until now. Meanwhile, three or her four children are all in grammar school, so she now has a little more time to think. "I'm too young to be a senile old grandmother," is the typical idea that flits across her mind. "Besides, I married so young that I have been cheated out of much fun which other girls enjoy. "Before I am too old for romantic thrills, I'd at least like to have a last fling at life." That is the usual attitude of women at the age of 23, so I have designated it the typical '29 panic of females. Even unmarried spinsters of 23, such as school teachers, nurses and private secretaries, also entertain such thoughts, though maybe not as intensely as the wife who married young. "Doctor, I feel as if I am choking," is a common statement of such young wives when they enter mental sanitariums. And the "choking" in the throat, of which they complain, is often a symbolical choking. For they fear that they have been stifled or choked off from youthful thrills and romantic excitement, due to a stodgy marriage and too early to diapers, cooking and domestic chores. If you husbands want to combat this '29 panic quickly, send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c. Beware, for romantic starvation in wives is usually due to inadequate sexual techniques by the husband!

Cherokee Indian tongue still is spoken by 30,000 Indians in Oklahoma and North Dakota, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Why should YOU buy a Studebaker?

Studebaker is a unique automobile, unique among the many motor cars being sold in the U.S. and Canadian markets. Studebaker is unique in its reputation for durability . . . unique in its convenient size and wheelbase—no longer a compact in appearance . . . unique in engineering advancements . . . and now unique in its new concept of enduring styling.

Studebaker automobiles are no longer "stubby" — they have been restyled from bumper to bumper for the 1964 model year with clean, distinctive, modern lines which have earned high praise from the experts of the motoring press throughout the world. This styling will continue to be identified with Studebaker models in the future and we believe it will wear well with our owners—like the rest of the Studebaker automobile.

Studebaker is a SAFE, SOLID automobile investment. It spells security for its passengers with more built-in safety factors than any other car on the North American market. In addition, it is a safe car from the standpoint of investment. It has a built-in freedom from mechanical faults. Tomorrow, it will have built-in resale value, insured by the continuity of our new styling theme.

Studebaker is in the U.S. and the Canadian marketplace to STAY. Studebaker is manufactured today on a basis fully compatible with the selective nature of its market. Some details of our forward thinking and forward planning at Studebaker are set forth here:

A NEW CONCEPT

The past 40 days have been exciting ones at Studebaker. Our production for the world auto market has been centralized at Hamilton, Ontario. One of our first decisions was to break away from the wasteful practice of the rest of the industry, that of imposing yearly styling changes on car owners. Studebaker, from here on, will make continuing mechanical changes in its cars. We will not wait 'till the end of a fixed "model year" to offer improvements to our owners. To you, the Studebaker driver, this means a top-quality, trouble-free car with built-in resale value. We certainly have no aim to build the lowest priced car on this continent. We are now building — we will continue to build — the best car in the low-priced field.

OBJECT: PRACTICABILITY

We now have a single objective in design and manufacturing: to build the most durable, useful and practical automobile on the market. Studebaker aims to provide the ideal car for Canadian motorists. More than ever, Studebaker will be an ideal car for U.S. motorists who seek to combine maximum thrift with maximum function. Our reputation in those two fields has always been outstanding. We will strive to improve it — this year, next year, every year.

We agree, Studebaker may not be the ideal car for every buyer — either in the U.S. or Canada. But it is a product for the discriminating buyer who demands quality, durability and smartness over all other things.

Don't take our word for this. Ask any person now driving a Studebaker product. Ask the man who services Studebaker automobiles. I think they will agree with me that a Studebaker will reward you with value, performance, thrift and dependability—this year, next year and into the future.

WHAT THE EXPERTS THINK

Recently, Studebaker was named "Car of the Year" by Canada's Track and Traffic Magazine. They gave us their coveted Golden Wheel Award for the second time in three years. We are holders of an earlier "Car of the Year" award by Car Life Magazine. We were recently named "Recreation Car of the Year" by recreation directors of the United States. Our cars have been singled out for warm praise by every leading U.S. and Canadian auto magazine this year because of the scores of features which are exclusively ours.

WHY MANUFACTURE IN CANADA?

Studebaker has always been a relatively small volume builder of very high quality automobiles. Following our new formula for success, Studebaker will not attempt to out-advertise, out-produce and out-sell the giants in today's enormously competitive U.S. auto industry. From a smaller, more efficient base in Canada, however, Studebaker can continue to build the kind of quality of which we are proud. We can build with a profit in limited volume and continue to sell these quality vehicles to the discriminating motorists who have preferred our kind of quality over the years — both in Canada and the U.S. Our Hamilton plant is perfectly matched to this immediate sales potential of Studebaker.

WHERE ARE WE GOING

We will expand and develop the capacity of our Canadian plant to meet the combined demands of the Canadian, U.S. and world market of our automobiles. The first stage of our plant expansion program at Hamilton is nearly completed. We can build more than 30,000 cars a year in this factory.

Studebaker buyers CAN BE SURE that as demand rises in the marketplace for our cars, Studebaker will be prepared to fill that demand. There may be some short waiting periods for delivery. But a fine product is well worth waiting for.

We want you to know that ample supplies of Studebaker parts and arrangements for the finest kind of Studebaker service will continue in the best Studebaker tradition.

Canadian-built products have already established a strong reputation for quality and durability. Already, the quality of our Canadian-built Studebakers is being noted in our showrooms as a bonus for U.S. buyers.

Seminole Swimmers Defeat Evans In Dual Match

This Is Year Twins Should Come Of Age

ORLANDO (UPI)—The Minnesota Twins have been coming close and this is the year their manager, Sam Rice, thinks they can come of age by winning the American League pennant.

He says there's only two things they have to do to de-throne the New York Yankees—tighten up their defense and cut down on their strikeouts.

"We're not thinking about anything but winning it all," Rice says. "And once we do that, you can count on us to stay on top for a long time. For we are a young club and I think we have more players on our team who have yet to hit their peak than any other team in the league."

He rattled off the ages of his chief hopes.

Outfielders Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison and Jimmie Hall are 27, 28 and 28, respectively. They form the hitting core of the Twins. They hit 113 home runs and batted in a total of 267. No outfielder in the league—including that of those perennial winners, the Yankees—came close to that power.

He thinks his infield of Vic Power at first base, Bernie Allen at second, Zoilo Versalles at short and Richie Rollins at third will improve this year.

All the infielders, except Power, were a disappointment with their gloves and their bats. Power did the job in the field but he failed so badly at bat that he was benched for Don Mnuch, a long ball hitter whose fielding does not measure up.

Rollins and Allen were outstanding rookies in 1962. Last year they fell off. Versalles made more errors in the first half of last season than he did in all of 1962.

"You can't win with the kind of fielding we had," Rice points out. "But I know they are better glove men than that."

The Twins have one of the better catchers in the league in Earl Batley. Behind him are Gerry Zimmerman and Paul Ratliff—not too much of a reserve corps there. But as Rice points out, second string catchers are hard to come by.

For starting pitchers the Twins have right handers Camilo Pascual (31-8), Jim Perry (9-9) and Leo Stango (12-5) and left handers Dick Stigman (15-15) and Jim Kaat (10-10).

Heading the bullpen will be Bill Dalry (6-3), whom Rice regards as the second best relief pitcher in the league—only behind Dick Radatz of the Boston Red Sox.

After there is a dropoff in the Twins pitching. There's Bill Fischer, who had a 9-9 record with the Kansas City Athletics last year; holdovers Bill Pleis (6-2), Jim Roland (4-1) and Garry Roggenburk (2-4), and they figure in the relief category.

He definitely is not worried about his pitching or his power. It's defense and strikeouts which concern him most.

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

BY JULIAN STENSTROM

A lot of men have been in baseball for a lot of years. However, only a few have been associated with the game longer than has an old diamond grooved in the personage of Wid Mathews.

And we seriously doubt if anybody likes to talk about baseball anymore than the administrative assistant to George Weisa, the general manager of the New York Mets.

The forthcoming baseball season will mark Wid's 44th year of participation in the game in one way or another. And he's as proud of that fact as he seems to be that a writer put two "T's" in "Mathews".

"I've never done anything else for a living except to be associated with the game ever since I broke into baseball in 1919," says Mathews, "and I'll tell you right now that if I had it all to do over again I wouldn't change one bit of it!"

It was in 1919 that Wid signed a contract with Rochester of the International League. He joined the club in June of that year and played all of the '20 season with Rochester. In 1921 he was at Toronto, also in the IL, and in '22 he played for the Milwaukee Brewers of the old American Association.

After several seasons in the IL and AA Mathews broke into the majors with Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics in 1924. During that Seminole's 200-yard medley relay team went the distance in 1:18.8 to defeat the Evans tanker. Bob Headrick and Darryl McLain posted times of 2:41.9 and 3:00.0 seconds respectively to grab first and second spots in the 200-yard freestyle event.

Fight Probers Hint Surprise

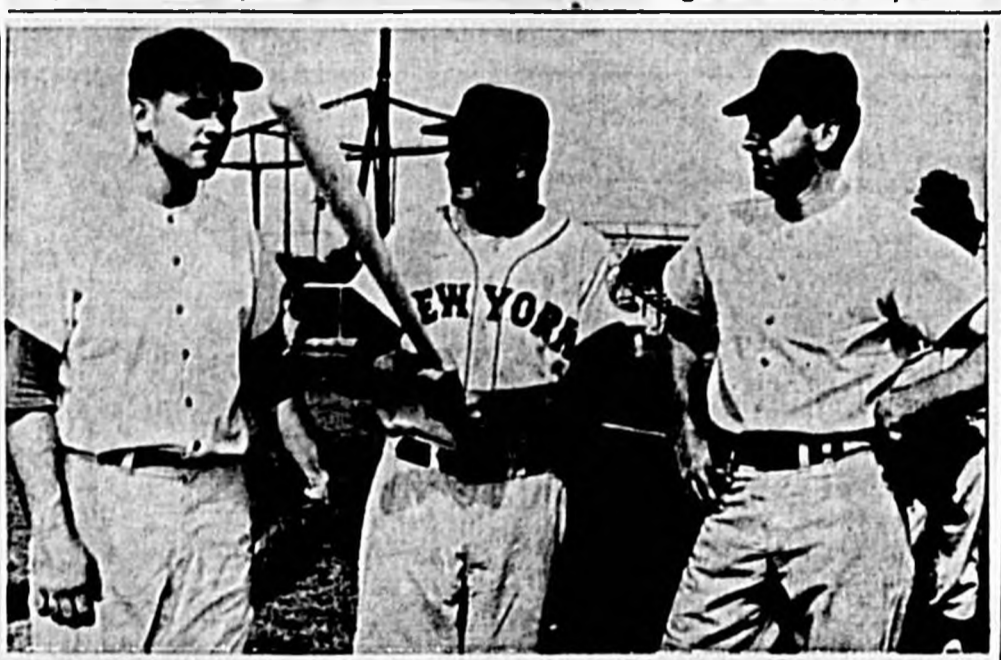

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate investigators hinted of surprise developments today in their inquiry into possible links between convicted fight racketeer Frankie Carbo and the camps of both Cassius Clay and Sonny Lison.

The anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee, headed by Sen. Philip A. Hart, (D-Mich.), were to resume hearings on the Lison-Clay title fight by questioning three more members of Lison's promotional syndicate.

They were Robert Nilon, Chester, Pa., executive vice president of Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., and brother of Lison's "advisor"; Sam Margolis, Philadelphia vending machine operator and a stockholder in the syndicate; and Salvatore Arena of Camden, N. J., a director of Inter-Continental. Lison is president of the syndicate.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, (R-N.Y.), a subcommittee member, demanded that the group dig into a March 19, 1958, meeting here of Carbo and a group of lieutenants that included Margolis and Angelo Dundee, Clay's trainer for the Miami Beach fight last month in which Clay won Lison's world heavyweight crown.

Keating said the 1958 meeting, which was disclosed at 1960 boxing hearings of the anti-trust subcommittee, might be termed "boxing's Apalachin conference."

Concern For Mantle Eases

By SANDY PADWE UPI Sports Writer

The tension and anxiety over Mickey Mantle's physical condition have eased a bit for the New York Yankees.

The powerful centerfielder hit two home runs which carried the Yankees to a 6-4 victory over Cincinnati, Sunday but the final score wasn't the most important development of the day for the American League champions.

Mantle's health has been the top question in the Yankee camp this spring and his performance Sunday in Tampa, showed he is progressing fairly well after an off-season knee operation.

Both home runs came from the right-hand side and they accounted for three Yankee runs. Now the big questions will be what affect the operation has on his fielding and his swing from the left-hand side.

Mantle's homers were two of 10 hits the Yankees collected off Joe Nuxhall and Al Worthington. Bill Stafford, Steve Hamilton, Hal Reniff and Jack Cullen pitched for New York and allowed Cincinnati nine hits, including three by shortstop Leo Cardenas.

Mantle wasn't the only star in Florida Sunday. Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers became the first pitcher in either league to go nine innings, but he lost his third straight exhibition decision. He has one victory.

Koufax lost to the Minnesota Twins, 3-1, despite allowing five hits and striking out seven. A two-run homer by Jimmie Hall was the big blow off Koufax.

Outfielder Wolfe Horton continued his sensational spring showing for the Detroit Tigers Sunday, hitting home runs in both games as the Tigers swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 2-1 and 3-0.

Horton's home run in the opener came in the ninth inning when he was sent up as a pinchhitter. His two home runs raised his spring total to five.

Carlton Willey extended his string of scoreless innings to 17 in an 8-3 New York Met victory over Washington. Willey pitched three innings for the Mets who broke Washington's five-game win streak. Tim Lincecum had a home run and a double for the Mets.

A two-out single by Bill White in the 11th inning enabled St. Louis to defeat Milwaukee, 6-5, and end the Braves' winning streak at seven games.

Utility infielder Julio Go-tay hit two home runs and drove in five runs with four hits while leading the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 13-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

In other games, Baltimore defeated the Houston Colts "B" team, 2-1. The Colts "A" team also lost, 2-1, to Kansas City.

In the West, Al Luplow's home run gave the Cleveland Indians a 7-6 victory over the Los Angeles Angels' "B" team; the Chicago Cubs defeated the San Francisco Giants, 11-7; and the Boston Red Sox defeated the Los Angeles Angels' "A" team, 6-4, in 13 innings, with Dick Radatz receiving the victory.

Hitting Stressed At Met Session

Ernie White, director of field operations for the eastern division of the New York Met farm system which is currently undergoing spring drills here, put his charges through extensive hitting practice today as well as sessions on fundamentals following Sunday's inter-squad game which went 15 innings.

Joe McDonald, camp supervisor, reported this morning that hitting in Sunday's exhibition was exceptionally sharp. "This could be the result," said Joe, "of being rained out of batting drills on Friday and Saturday."

Today White divided the 50-man plus squad into two units. One unit went through batting practice this morning while the other unit went to the auxiliary field for work on fundamentals. This afternoon the two units reversed fields and workout schedules.

Both McDonald and White this morning said that the playing field at Memorial Stadium was in excellent condition Sunday despite the weekend rains.

Tribe, Oak Ridge Play Tuesday

Seminole High School's baseball team returns to action Tuesday afternoon when the Seminoles host the Oak Ridge Pioneers at the SHS athletic field in a contest which gets underway at 3:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, Lyman High's Greyhounds and the Oviedo Lions will tangle Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m., at Courter Field in Oviedo. This will be the second meeting between the two outfits this season. In the first, Lyman defeated the Lions, 2-0.

Sanford JH To Host Kowboys

The Sanford Junior High School Braves will host the Kissimmee Kowboys' junior varsity nine Tuesday afternoon in a contest slated for the SJH athletic field, French Avenue and 18th Street.

The Braves, in their initial outing of the season, pounded out a 10 to 4 victory over the Jayvees of Orlando's Evans High.

No Riot, They Just 'Got Out Of Line'

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI)—Police said today they arrested more than 100 college students whose annual frolics on the beaches got out of hand Sunday resulting in a melee broken up by club-swinging police.

Police chief A. O. Folsom Jr. said those arrested were booked on charges ranging from disorderly conduct and unlawful assembly and attempting to start a riot.

But the chief denied that there was a riot. "They just got out of line," Folsom said. "They jumped on the police to start with but we were ready and controlled them. I don't know if anyone can say exactly how it started."

Folsom estimated the crowd of collegians at 75,000. They were packed along a beach running little more than two miles in a Easter vacation frolic that has become a tradition at Florida beaches.

Authorities said some 1,000 collegians have been arrested since the annual migration began a week ago.

Preparations For Proper Picnic Procedure

It's picnic time again. When you prepare foods for a picnic, take care to plan foods not subject to food poisoning, advises Miss Pauline Brimhall, health education specialist, Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

What are some foods which attract organisms that poison food? Creamed dishes and chicken, fish and egg salads, precooked hams that are not thoroughly re-cooked, potato salad and custard-type pie fillings are the chief offenders.

If these foods are used for picnicking, then keep them packed in ice until time to eat.

Make certain your picnic foods are prepared under sanitary conditions. If you plan to go to a place where the water is not safe, carry your own water.

Miss Brimhall cautions you to include a first aid kit with your picnic supplies. Be prepared to combat insect bites, cuts, burns, scratches and poisonous plants.

A final reminder from Miss Brimhall: Before you leave the picnic spot, douse your campfire with water and clean up all debris and garbage.

A polite listener appreciates a chance for rebuttal.

Ice Facilitates Removal Of Gum From Fabrics

Chewing gum has a way of getting on clothing, upholstery and rugs.

When this problem arises, chemists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture suggest first, harden the gum by rubbing it with a cube of ice. Then scrape the gum off with the back of a knife.

If a stain remains on the fabric or rug, sponge it with a grease solvent. These can be purchased under various trade or chemical names. But be careful. Fumes from solvents are toxic. Some solvents are also flammable. Read the label carefully and observe all precautions listed by the manufacturer.

For more information on removing stains, call Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent and ask for bulletin, "Removing Stains From Fabrics."

The key to success in growing African violets is proper watering, says the Society of American Florists. The soil should always be moist but not saturated. African violets may be watered from either bottom or top but the water should be warm or at room temperature, never cold.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My father-in-law celebrates his birthday on February 22nd. He was born in the old country and either they didn't figure time the way we do or else his birth records were lost but, anyway, I am sure he chose that date himself because it was Washington's birthday and he wanted to share in the honor. We always have a cake and sing "Happy Birthday" and make a big occasion of it. All of a sudden and clerly aunt of his from Elmira, N.Y., turned up and when she saw this birthday celebration for Papa Joe she loudly announced that he was born in the summer! He was so embarrassed, it spoiled the party. I think she owes Papa Joe an apology (he's been very quiet since then). Should I suggest it?

DEAR ABBY: I am sorry but I have to disagree with you about men in uniform. You said they were okay. Well, a few years back I would have said they were okay, too, but I learned my lesson. My father never approved of any of his daughters going out with men in uniform. (There were six of us girls.) We thought it was kind of peculiar because Papa had been in the Navy himself for three years. Anyway I met this hot shot Air Force guy and I went for him in a big way. He acted the perfect gentleman. I sneaked off to date him. And, sure enough, the minute he got out of uniform he was no gentleman.

When you are declarer if you will just think of the key word "Arch" the moment dummy hits the table and then follow the code letters you will find yourself making many more contracts than before. "A" is analyze the lead. "R" is review the bidding. "C" is count your winners and losers. I am indebted to my friend George Goden, the great California teacher, for the ARC.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

What makes a woman "easy to live with"—from a man's point of view? Let's give a man a chance to answer that question. One who writes that he reads this column regularly claims that the woman who is easy to live with is the woman who: —Enjoys doing things on the spur of the moment. (Wives who dislike doing anything on the spur-of-the-moment can always find a ready excuse for vetoing their husbands' unexpected invitations)

A Delinquent's Best Friend Could Be Juvenile Council

A juvenile's best friend, especially when he runs into trouble, could be members of the Seminole County Juvenile Council Inc.

The group is organized—has been since 1958—for that purpose.

Chartered in '58 by the late County and Juvenile Judge Wilson Alexander, the council consists of dedicated citizens to assist the Juvenile Court, schools, and other agencies concerned with delinquent and dependent children in the county.

Its job so far has gone unheralded and, in many instances, unnoticed by the general public.

But its effort has won the grateful thanks of those involved.

The group's first president was Herold Heckenbach, a school principal. Presidents in subsequent years were Ken McIntosh, an attorney; William Thomas, a druggist; John Angel, school principal; and William Tanner, a life insurance agent presently serving as president.

It is an incorporated, non-profit organization with membership open to all citizens in the county. Officers and directors represent the whole of the county and serve without compensation of any kind. These officers are elected annually from the general membership of the council.

Directors meet four times a year, on the second Thursday in March, June, September and December at 7:30 p. m. in the County Commission rooms of the courthouse.

In addition, the president can call special directors to meet. All meetings are open to the public.

Aims and purposes of the council, as provided in constitution and by-laws are:

- To promote the general welfare of all needy children
- To develop in the public a better understanding of the problems involved.

- To encourage the correct training, education and placement of delinquent and dependent children.
- To render financial assistance for the correction and rehabilitation for children when no other means of assistance are available.
- And to promote the organization and operation of agencies as can be deemed advisable to provide the necessary correctional training, education and placement of dependent and delinquent children.

No salary or other compensation is paid to any of the officers or directors. The administration expenses consist primarily for postage and stationery.

The council depends entirely on contributions to accomplish its purpose. Donations are used in working with delinquent and dependent children in cases where no other money is available.

Contributions are deductible for income tax purposes and any contributor will be granted a council membership.

The investment may be made payable to the Seminole County Juvenile Council Inc., Post Office Box 1742, Sanford. A return address is requested so a membership card can be sent to the contributor.

The council exists for one purpose—to help a child.

Bullion Grains? Who Wants 'Em

By Joseph Breen

NEW YORK (UPI)—In exchange for that dollar bill in your pocket marked "silver certificate" the government of the United States will give you one dollar's worth of silver bullion grains.

But just try to spend them.

The U. S. Treasury Department announced Wednesday that it no longer will give out silver dollars in exchange for paper currency because of a run on the "cartwheels." The Treasury fears collectors will try to gobble up its entire available supply ($8 million worth) since Congress has refused to authorize minting of more.

This reporter, who traded a crisp $1 bill for an envelope of silver grains at the U. S. assay office here, offers this advice for those who may wish to do their consumer buying in bullion: Forget it! Nobody wants the stuff.

Freed Singer Back In U. S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Singer Gabriele Hammerstein back in the United States after two years and three months in an East German prison cell, said "it felt wonderful to be home."

"There's no question about it," said the 40-year-old woman who was released Thursday by the East German Communists.

Mrs. Hammerstein was a singing Wagnerian roles in East German opera houses at the time of her arrest reportedly on charges of espionage.

The merger will become effective on April 15, unless stopped by a federal court order.

The eight railroads filed a motion in federal court here and charged the Interstate Commerce Commission order which approved the merger was "unlawful and void."

A Sea board spokesman Richmond, Va., said, "There isn't anything to comment on. They're all up against the commission's deadline."

Asking to intervene in the Florida East Coast suit were the Southern Railway Co., the Alabama Great Southern Railroad Co., the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railway Co., New Orleans and Georgia Southern and Florida Railway Co., Central of Georgia Railway Co., Savannah and Atlanta Railway Co. and Carolina and Northwestern Railway Co.

The complaint motion by the eight lines said the merger would "destroy and disrupt competition among us in the southeastern United States deprive large segments of the public of the benefits of rail competition and impair the ability of some railroads, not only to continue to compete effectively, but even to continue to provide adequate transportation service."

VAH-1 Command Is Changed

The command of Heavy Attack Squadron One changed hands at the Sanford Naval Air Station today in a colorful ceremony attended by the next Chief of the Bureau of Naval Weapons and other civilian and military leaders.

Arriving shortly before the dress ceremony amid traditional military ruffles and flourishes was Rear Adm. Allen M. Shinn, who was announced last week as the next head of the Bureau of Naval Weapons.

Adm. Shinn currently serves as Commander, Carrier Division Six, thus placing him in charge of a carrier striking force that includes VAIL-1's twin-jet A-5A Vigilantes.

Today he had an opportunity to review the Heavy One officers and men who recently returned from an eight-month deployment aboard the admiral's flagship, the USS Independence.

Standing in smart formation, the squadron personnel heard Cdr. Reinhart read orders assigning him to the U.S. Sixth Fleet staff in the Mediterranean.

This is the Naval leader's latest step in a 21-year career that includes many years of test and development work in Naval aviation and a sizeable role in shaping the training program for flight crews learning to operate the machtwo (twice the speed of sound) Vigilante attack bomber.

Then Commander Taft read his orders, placing him in charge of the squadron. His background for assuming the task includes duty on several major Navy and joint-service staffs plus more than four years in Sanford's heavy attack aviation program.

Before flying the Vigilante, Cdr. Taft served as an A-3D Skywarrior pilot and Assistant Operations Officer of Heavy Attack Squadron Five based also at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

In 1966 he left Sanford to serve on the Joint Strategic Target Planning Staff at Offutt AFB, Neb., then returned in Oct. 1962 for A-3A training and assignment as Executive Officer of VAIL-1.

He will be temporarily succeeded at this post by LCDR Patrick O'Gara. His eventual replacement will be Cdr. Valentin G. Matula, who is currently going through A-3A training.
