

Skin Disease Study Fails To Solve Mystery

By Debra Smith
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK — A newly written "natural history" of the itchy skin disease which is connected somehow with allergies, although medical science doesn't know just how, offered little hope to its many victims. And it only accentuated its mysteries.

The average duration among long-term victims who provided facts for this "natural history" was about 30 years. The longest single duration among them was 63 years. The disease is "atopic dermatitis." It is an on-and-off itches and is believed due to deep-down allergic reactions.

Among the now historical victims 55 percent were also given to asthma, hay fever, and allergic rhinitis which is a runny nose not caused by the common cold. All this emphasized its connections to the generalized allergic state called "atopy."

In 65 percent there was a family background of atopy. On the other hand the attacks of itches were brought on most frequently by nervous tension and fatigue in 80 percent. This gave some support to a psychiatric theory that it has some connection with unconscious emotional conflicts.

Furthermore, many of the victims found relaxation and release of tension the most effective remedy. But avoiding the substances to which they were allergic was also effective.

The history-takers were Drs. Harry L. Roth and Robert R. Kierland of the Mayo Clinic and Foundation of Rochester, Minn. They reported to a technical organ of the American Medical Association.

They questioned 492 persons who were treated for atopic dermatitis in the Mayo Clinic 20 years ago to find out how they had fared meanwhile. They were divided between "severe" cases this no-disease-now rate was 29 percent.

Cataracts and pneumonia sometimes are associated with atopic dermatitis. Roth and Kierland found the rate that could be expected was 4 percent for the "mild" and 23 percent for the "severe" as regards cataracts and 13 percent for pneumonia.

Admiring Mob Injures Liz

BOSTON (UPI)—Improper Bostonians have given Liz Taylor and Richard Burton anything but a proper reception.

"My wife was almost killed!" Burton thundered, trembling with rage.

One thousand shouting, clawing admirers swarmed the newlywed stars in the lobby of the usually staid Sheraton Plaza Hotel Sunday night tearing at their hair and clothing for souvenirs.

Mrs. Taylor suffered back and arm injuries. She was treated by a doctor, given a sedative and put to bed in a plush suite once used by the late President Kennedy, former President Eisenhower and other notables.

Councilman-elect Dave Tilson apparently holds the decision as to who will be the next mayor of North Orlando. Holdovers Art Ferrin and Irene Van Epeol want to be mayor. Ferrin, 43, is supported by holdover Art Rhodes. Mrs. Van Epeol is "fishing" for Councilwoman-elect Mona Grinstead's vote. Whether she gets it is a moot question since the two are reported feuding. Which leaves Tilson in the driver's seat. Could he be the five will have to compromise and elect Mrs. Grinstead or Tilson as mayor.

Charlie Scott would like it known he is the only "Scott" running for constable; in fact, for any county office. Seems some voters have him confused with another "Scott" who announced his candidacy but failed to qualify.

Joe Gazil's trials and tribulations continue. A gunman held up his Handy store on French Avenue; a motorist wrecked a part of the front and a display stand at his Handy store on 13th Street, and now a burglar ripped out the wiring of the cooling system of his Tip Top store on West 13th Street, spoiling $30 worth of chickens.

Longwood Police Chief Claude Layo must have set the record Monday for rapid recovery of stolen goods. A used car reported missing by Holler Motor of Sanford, and its two 15-year-old Negro occupants, were recovered by the chief on West Lake Street in Longwood just 15 minutes after the alarm went out from the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Chet Macek of Geneva recently lost a wallet which contained some valuable papers and $51 in cash. It was found by Eddie Hillman, a Geneva Negro, who immediately turned his find over to Mrs. Tommy Summersill. There was no identification in the wallet but through a membership card in a certain organization, which did not contain Mrs. Macek's name, Mrs. Summersill located the owner.

The purpose of this little story is twofold: there're honest people in this world and that Chet is trying to locate Eddie to give him a reward.

Union Official, 3 Others Held In Bomb Plot

MIAMI (UPI) — A railroad union official and 10-year employee of the Florida East Coast Railway was arrested Wednesday and charged with setting a 50-pound dynamite bomb trap on a track south of Vero Beach March 12.

Three other men were arrested within hours after the dynamite bomb was rigged under the noses of FBI agents who had staked out the tracks on a tip from an informer. But a fourth man escaped, agents said.

John Katsikos, 40, recording secretary for Local 553 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Car Men at Miami, was apparently the fourth man.

Katsikos was charged both with conspiracy to set the dynamite trap and with actually placing the bomb on the railroad trestle spanning a canal south of Vero Beach.

After FBI agents watched the bomb being set from their hiding places near the trestle, they said they followed Joseph Leo Vetter of Miami and John Wesley into Fort Pierce and arrested them. The next day, Hugh Winn of Miami was arrested.

All three were former FEC employees and members of operating railroad unions. They are awaiting trial on federal train wreck charges under $50,000 bond each.

Agents said Katsikos, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, was formerly employed by the sabotage-plagued FEC for 10 years as a car inspector.

He lost his FEC job after the carrier was struck (Jan. 23, 1963) by members of 11 non-operating unions. The operating unions, including the Brotherhood of Railroad Car Men, have refused to cross the picket lines set up by the non-operating unions.

Ladies Day Held By Coffee Club
Eighty business women, plus some 25 men, members of the Sanford business community, were honored this morning at a Coffee Club meeting of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce in the USO lounge.

The event, billed as a Pre-Easter Ladies Day program, was conducted by Charlie Morrison, public relations director of the Chamber. He was introduced by Karyllye Housholder, Chamber president.

Several of the women were awarded Easter prizes, ranging from hams to candy. "Among those introduced by Morrison were Miss Lucy Nowlin, home service representative for Florida Power & Light Company, who is leaving the local post to assume the statewide directorship for home services with offices in Miami; and Mrs. Mary Washburn, USO aide in charge of activities for personnel stationed at Sanford Naval Air Station.

The Chamber's Coffee Club meets on the last Thursday of each month.

Meany Assails LBJ Wage-Price Guidelines

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — AFL-CIO President George Meany assailed President Lyndon B. Johnson's wage-price guidelines today and said they could lead to government control of the economy.

Meany challenged the guidelines in a speech to the United Auto Workers convention which heard them reaffirmed Monday by President Johnson.

The leader of the giant labor federation said he would ask the AFL-CIO to take a strong stand against the White House position that wages should not exceed increases in productivity.

"If we go down this road far enough, it leads to the end of free collective bargaining," Meany said. "As far as I am concerned, I don't propose that labor at any time agree to go down this road."

Meany said that the government would have to propose guidelines for executive salaries, stockholders' dividends and corporation cash reserves once it gets into the wage-price field.

He said it would be the first step toward government control of industry.

Tanker Split In Two By Blast
NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — An explosion split the mid-section of the 623-foot tanker San Jacinto 40 miles at sea early today. One crewman was killed and several others were injured.

More than 30 crewmen elected to ride stern section of the vessel, which apparently was still hanging loosely to the forward section by piping, wiring and structural beams.

Spring Training For Met Teams Begins

By Julian Stenstrom
With 51 young ball players on hand Wednesday and more expected today and Friday, the eastern division of the New York Met farm system began spring training at Sanford's Memorial Stadium.

Joe McDonald, camp supervisor, said that the initial workout went off in a more than satisfactory manner when camp officials, managers and scouts expressed surprise at the excellent physical condition of the athletes and the progress displayed at the plate by most of the players during a spirited batting drill.

McDonald said that sometime next week more players are expected to arrive. "This will be the result of the parent club cutting back personnel and sending them to the Buffalo Bisons of the International League. The Bisons, in turn, will cut players and send them to Sanford," he explained.

Arriving last night was Clyde McCullough, former catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs, who has been named to manage the Met's Auburn (N.Y.) farm club in the New York-Pennsylvania League. McCullough has also been a coach with the Minnesota Twins of the American League.

Until his arrival here, McCullough has been coaching for the parent Met club, serving under Manager Casey Stengel, Sheriff Robinson, originally assigned to manage Auburn, has been named a coach for Stengel's club.

McDonald also announced this morning that two more scouts had arrived and will serve as instructors during the training period. They are Len Zanka and Lloyd Gearhart. Zanka scouts for the Mets in the Connecticut-Rhode Island area.

Met officials are well pleased with the facilities here, McDonald reported. "The layout at Memorial Stadium is just great," said McDonald, and "we're happy with the facilities and particularly the weather."

Sections of the bill, suggested changes of some degree to virtually the entire bill. In a speech prepared to support Morse's committee referral motion, Dirksen spelled out in detail his proposed revision to the bill's section on banning job discrimination against Negroes or other minority groups. He skipped his proposed amendment to the public accommodations section. He plans to spell out these details later.

2 Outside Fire Calls Answered By Longwood
By Donna Estes
The Longwood Volunteer Fire Department was called to two fires outside the city limits within a six hour period, Chief Claude Layo reported this morning.

The first call, at 6:53 p.m. Wednesday, was a woods fire in Forest City Estates. Several acres burned and the Longwood department responded to a call from the Florida Forestry Service under the mutual aid agreement.

At 12:02 a.m. today, the volunteers received two separate calls to a fire at the Donald Brooks residence on Highway 17-82. It has been determined that this fire was deliberately set in a brush and palmetto patch within six feet of the house by a person or persons unknown. Occupants credit the continued barking of the family pet, which awakened them to the danger, with preventing a possible disaster.

Leaders Hail Decision To Keep Big Facility

By Fred Van Pelt
Fall of gloom which hung over Seminole County's economy during the last 10 days to two weeks, because of persistent rumors, was quickly dispelled Wednesday afternoon with the announcement by the Navy, sanctioned by the Pentagon, that operations will continue as planned at Sanford Naval Air Station.

Over and above the pleasant personal relationship which exists between the Navy personnel assigned to SNAS and the civilian population, there is the selfish point-of-view: Seminole County's economy.

While the continuation of the Navy base does not necessarily mean a boost in the economy at this time, it does mean that the county will not face a "financial bust" with the closing of the facility.

More than 3,000 persons—mostly military—derive their livelihood at Sanford Naval Air Station. This means a monthly payroll of more than $1 million. And most of this is spent or invested in Seminole County.

These base personnel own an estimated 500 homes in the county, which would soon be vacated should the base be closed.

But, happily, the payroll will continue and the homes will continue to be occupied by the Navy friends.

Navy's decision to continue Sanford Naval Air Station, and not consolidate its operations with those of Naval Air Station, Cecil Field, Jacksonville, at that facility, was announced Wednesday afternoon following a conference in Sen. Spessard Holland's Washington office, attended by Senator Holland, representatives of Sen. George Smathers and Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr.; high ranking Navy officers, and State Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr., John Krieger and Randall Chase, of the armed forces committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Sen. Cleveland, chairman of the Chamber's armed forces committee, this morning released the following statement on his return to Sanford from Washington:

"On behalf of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce armed forces committee, we want to express our sincere gratitude to all the individuals, city and county government officials and civic leaders for their outstanding efforts in the successful drive to keep and expand our Naval Air Station.

"We cannot over-emphasize the all-out support of the wonderful folks stationed at NAS. The entire effort is another example of unity, with everyone joining the team.

"When called on to help, Senator Holland was magnificent, with complete support from Senator Smathers, Congressman Herlong, and the entire Florida Congressional delegation.

"The story would not be complete or the successful conclusion possible without mentioning the whole-hearted co-operation of the press."

Howard H. Hodges, president of Sanford Atlantic National Bank, had this to say this morning:

"As it now stands, we will maintain our economic level in relation with the Navy base and we can have high hopes that the operation of the base will expand so that it will mean even more to our general economy."

State Rep. Jan Fortune said: "It was a terrific job (keeping the base in operation). The people who brought it about are to be sincerely congratulated and the county owes them a great debt of gratitude."

George Touhy, executive vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association, stated:

"The fact that Sanford's principal industry, its largest payroll, is to continue in its vital role here undoubtedly is a source of jubilation to everyone who is interested in our continuing progress.

"While the economic support to our area is very important, most of us are very conscious and most appreciative of the other outstanding contributions made by our friends at SNAS. They are active workers in our churches, schools, welfare and charity groups and do outstanding jobs, not only as contributors to the highly efficient Navy base, but as citizens who are boosting the vitality of our entire community."

"The essentiality of our Navy base to our city—to Central Florida, as a matter of fact—cannot be overemphasized."

State Rep. S. J. (Joe) Davis Jr. remarked: "Sanford Naval Air Station is an important factor to the economic picture of Seminole County. Retaining this facility will maintain the economic stability in the county. In addition to this factor, the Navy station makes us aware of the national defense program of this country. It also brings many fine, talented men and women who add to and contribute to the leadership of the civic, cultural and social environment of the community."

run On Silver Dollars Spiked
WASHINGTON (UPI) — From now on the Treasury will redeem paper dollars only in silver bullion or silver dust.

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon called a halt to the great silver dollar raid Wednesday with an announcement that the Treasury no longer will exchange silver certificates for silver dollars.

Dillon said that the recent run on silver dollars at the Treasury had reduced the stock to about 3 million. Since virtually all these would be of value to coin collectors, he said, it would not be possible to distribute them equitably.

A state survey team will appear in Seminole County in mid-April to establish centerlines for future road construction in the county.

This "firm commitment" was obtained Wednesday by the County Commission at a meeting with State Road Board Member Max Brewer and SRB Engineer Ritchie Green. The two groups met in DeLand. Also attending was Seminole County Engineer William Bush.

The survey team will remain in the county to concentrate on such surveys as were requested by Seminole at a previous meeting with the State Road Board.

It will stay on the job, SRB members said, until it is finished unless an "extreme emergency" develops which might pull them out.

The survey was labeled the "most important" by County Commission Chairman James P. Avery Jr. at the previous meeting in DeLand.

At that time, SRB members pondered the value of such a project but agreed to study the proposal and confer with the county delegation at a later date.

Seminole County can thus begin long range planning for roads. With the centerlines established, it can set up zoning regulations and thus avoid building along such areas.

This, Avery said, would keep the county from having to buy the building in the future. There will be none once the program is set up, he added.

Wednesday's meeting and decision emphasized the merits of the Seminole proposition.

With K. Avery said, the county can now plan its roads for future use instead of limiting its scope to today's needs.

Also agreed to was a feasibility study for a causeway over Lake Jessup and one which would make a closer road tie-in with the new university site.

The SRB will place a boring machine in the area as soon as possible and begin testing the section proposed for the causeway. Should it prove advisable, the centerlines for the causeway would be marked.

The Commission chairman reported prospects appear bright for establishing of an early right of way requirement for a railroad overpass on West First Street at Rand's siding.

This, too, was sought by the county delegation at its early DeLand meeting.

Avery declared Wednesday's meeting "very cordial, very fruitful and most constructive." He added the entire board was "most grateful for the kindness shown" by the State Road Board officials.

Senate Votes To Take Up Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, after almost three weeks of Southern opposition, voted to take up the House-passed civil rights bill. It then moved into a second test over sending it to committee.

The vote to take up the bill was, as expected, one-sided—67 to 17.

Senate leaders were confident they could defeat Sen. Wayne Morse's motion to send the measure to the Judiciary Committee for 10 days. But the Oregon Democrat, backed by Senate GOP Leader Everett Dirksen, Ill., argued strongly that the Senate—and the courts—are entitled to full committee consideration of the bill.

The Senate wasted no time voting on the long-pending motion to take up the bill. It started voting 21 minutes after it opened a 9 a. m. session. Senators were racing to get away for a three-day Easter weekend.

Adoption of the first motion was a forgone conclusion. Southern senators led by Sen. Richard B. Russell, (D-Ga.), did not even make any closing arguments after 18 days of talk on Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's move to formally consider the legislation. Neither did Mansfield, Dirksen, who has drafted major amendments to two sections of the bill, suggested changes of some degree to virtually the entire bill.

In a speech prepared to support Morse's committee referral motion, Dirksen spelled out in detail his proposed revision to the bill's section on banning job discrimination against Negroes or other minority groups. He skipped his proposed amendment to the public accommodations section. He plans to spell out these details later.

probably a total of five—will have their names submitted to Cuban exiles around the world in a referendum by mail, for approval or disapproval. The assembly also must decide whether additional write-in nominations by the exile electorate will be eligible.

There are nearly 75,000 Cuban exile men and women over 18 years of age who are registered for the referendum with the committee, whose expenses are being underwritten by Bosch. The overall cost is estimated at $100,000.

Scheduled to participate in the assembly, which will convene in the bacardi rum building here on Saturday, are the 21 committeemen plus "representatives of the different delegations of the committee (around the world) and others who have given their cooperation to the activities of referendum," a formal announcement said.

But aside from the committeemen, whose names are known, none of the other expected participants were identified.

Bosch was reported to have already ruled out the possibility of any write-in nominations. But a committee spokesman said the assembly "will be sovereign and it will decide on that and other points."

The fundamental job of those elected in the referendum will be "to enlist all necessary means for the liberation of Cuba," according to Freyre, who played a key role in obtaining the release of the Bay of Pigs prisoners from Cuba.

Although any idea of a government in exile has been opposed by the committee, the possibility of such a move later by the elected leaders is not being discounted by exiles.

The referendum is "not aimed at interfering with the plans of other refugee groups," the spokesman said. But the chosen leaders will have a "clear mandate from free Cubans everywhere to act" against the Fidel Castro regime, he added. Details as to what kind of "action" will be taken were not spelled out.

One refugee organization, the Cuban Revolutionary Junta (JURE) of Manolo Ray, has already pledged itself to be fighting in Cuba by May 20.

Lake Monroe Jottings

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

Yes 'tis said 'tis Spring. But for a few mornings this past week it certainly hasn't felt like spring. In fact, Tuesday afternoon at the high school base ball field it felt more like winter. Lets hope it is a beautiful day this Sunday for Easter. All the little kiddies will be looking as fresh and pretty as spring daisies. Be sure and go to church this Sunday. . . . Talking of this week there will be a choir of 33 voices here at the Wesleyan Methodist church in Paola. The choir is from Central College in Central, S. C. The service will start at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Earl Baker says that the public is extended a very cordial welcome to come hear this famous choir. . . . Keep in mind the date of April 11th. The Monroe 4-H Handy Helpers club will have a bake sale at the Winn-Dixie Store on French Avenue. The girls want to go to 4-H camp in June and they are working toward that goal. So go get that cake or cookies from them. . . . Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sapp were called to Lakeland Tuesday because of the death of Mrs. Sapp's brother-in-law Fred C. Chandler. . . . Had a very nice letter from Sammie Lou Keel's mother, Mrs. W. L. Kendrick, in Bainbridge, Ga. She said that she and Pop will be down here for the Easter holidays. Now that for a gal who can make any man look bad when it comes to fishing. Because she can really catch them. I know that if you want to see her while she is here, just go find her favorite fishing spot. . . . The Charles Baker family is planning to spend the Easter weekend in Del-Ray with Flo's sister. . . . Happy Birthday to Helen Barbour. Her son Bobby, who is here for the Easter holidays from college, made her a pretty purse. It even has her name on it. He did a marvelous job. . . . Sorry to hear that Mrs. Ester Spivey has been confined to the local hospital. She has been released but is having to take it real easy for a while. She had to spend three days under an oxygen tent. . . . Mrs. John (Oxgen) Lenear wants to let everyone know who sent her cards and who called her that she is very grateful. She was saddened last week by the sudden passing of her brother, Earl in Knoxville, Tenn. She and Mr. Lenear have just returned from Knoxville where they attended the services. . . . Talked to Anne Belle Kisinger yesterday. She is here visiting Alvin and Marie Hill (tell for a short time. Anne Belle now resides in Miami and is recuperating from a recent heart ailment. So glad she is feeling good. She told me that she is on a very strict diet but so far hasn't bothered her at all. . . . There will be no school tomorrow (Good Friday) nor will there be any on Monday. I know that the kids are happy. . . . Don't forget the POLLO day APRIL 12th. It will be at the Monroe school, from noon till 5 p. m. Please take advantage of it. You won't be sorry. . . . Our thought this week is a request from several who have asked for "A Beautiful House". . . . The beauty of a house is a house in order. . . . The personality of a house is a house of happiness. . . . The crown of a house is a house of Godliness.

Area C Of C Discusses Building

By Donna Estes
A brief history of the Medical Building located at the corner of Church Street and Wilma Avenue was given by L. L. Cox at the meeting of the Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday evening at the Civic League Building.

Cox pointed out that the building, which is owned by the Chamber, is used by the County Health Department to serve needy families in the South Seminole area. He remarked that the Health Department is constantly striving to expand its facilities and recently has redecorated the interior of the Longwood building.

He reported that grounds around the building have been cleared and urged the Chamber to seek cooperation of the authorities to beautify the grounds and paint the exterior of the building to conform with the new City Hall.

In other business, printing a brochure advertising the city to include pictures and descriptive material, was discussed. Costs of publication will be obtained and submitted at the next meeting.

The regular meeting date was changed from the second Thursday of each month to the fourth Tuesday in order not to conflict with meetings of the city council.

Following the business meeting refreshments furnished by William Baumholser, president, were served by Mrs. Lillian Cox.

Introducing the speakers, and others who took part in the program, was Rev. W. W. Fumphan of the Daytona Beach Drive-In Church. The Scripture was read and prayer offered by Rev. Dan Entwistle of Winter Park Christian Church.

The main address of the afternoon was delivered by Dr. Lawrence S. Ashley of Ocala, executive secretary of the Florida Christian Missionary Society.

The Covenant of Dedication was conducted by Rev. Bernard Moece of the First Christian Church of DeLand. At Sanford Mayor A. L. Wilson completely "sold" the city to Rev. and Mrs. Fuller as he welcomed them to Sanford, both as citizens and as neighbors, telling them of the fine people, churches, schools, civic organizations and natural assets of the city. "All the citizens of Sanford join me in wishing for you a most successful pastorate here at the First Christian Church and may God's richest blessings rest upon you, and your family, and your ministry here among us," he stated.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Earl Scarborough, pastor of Central Christian Church of Orlando. Immediately following the benediction a reception for Rev. and Mrs. Fuller was held in the educational building of the church. In the receiving line with Rev. and Mrs. Fuller were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barnett.

The refreshment table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with a beautiful floral arrangement of pink gladioli and greenery, flanked on either side by tall pink tapers burning in crystal holders. Mrs. William Bristol and Mrs. C. E. Laube presided at the twin punch bowls. The guest book was kept by Miss Maria Rowland. Floating hostesses were Mrs. Hobart Shields, Mrs. Harold Ring, Mrs. William Rowland and Miss Florence Bishop. About 120 friends were on hand to welcome the new minister and his family.

Oviedo Beats Edgewater's JayVees 16-0

Oviedo hurlers Jim Courier, Walt Beasley and Ted Aulin teamed up Wednesday afternoon to limit the Edgewater High School JayVees to a lone hit while the Lions went wild at the plate and roared to a 16 to 0 win of the Orlando aggregation.

In the contest played at Oviedo, the Lions, after taking a 1 to 0 lead in the opening stanza, broke the game wide open with a 16-run outburst in the second frame to put the affair in the freer. In that frame the Lions chased Mallan, the Eagles' starting moundman, to the showers and went on to rack his replacement, Johnson, by getting four more tallies in the third and closed out the scoring with a run in the fourth.

Edgewater's only safety came off Courier, Beasley and Aulin tossed hitless baseball the rest of the way. Courier paced the Lions with four singles. Tim Colbert, Lion receiver, had two hits, including a four-bagger. Red Brooks had three hits, including a triple, and Danny Gammage also came in with two hits.

Courier fanned four, Beasley a pair and Aulin one during their respective tours on the hill.

Oviedo, now with a three and one record, will host Lyman next Tuesday at Oviedo. Lyman is the only club thus far this season to beat the Lions.

Bass and bream are bedding locally, especially in the Wekiva River.

Herb Sutton, at Wekiva River Haven, tells that the "mama" bass has been making a nest. It follows, he added, that "mama" will take off, leaving "papa" to guard the eggs. However, when the eggs hatch out, "mama" will return and chase "papa" off to keep him from eating the young ones.

Eleanor Russell, of Marina Isle, said the shad fishermen are taking the limit, while one angler Wednesday came in with the limit for bass. However, most bass reports are not too enthusiastic at this writing.

She added that speckled perch are taking worms and also going for "jigger poles."

W. W. Hiley, down Oviedo way, reports the limit on specks, some bass and plenty of catfish, red breast and bluegills.

Shad and specks are biting at Lemon Bluff, with a few bass, according to Pat Brooks.

Jim Crowe, who recently discussed water pollution on a TV sports show out of Daytona, has come up with a feature story clipping on shad from a Greensboro (N.C.) newspaper. To quote a paragraph:

"The fishing, itself, is largely concentrated in a 25-mile stretch of the Upper St. Johns River between Lakes Monroe and Harney, south of Sanford. This restricted area is rapidly becoming known as one of the most fabulous shad fishing grounds in a Fish and Wildlife Service survey."

Crowe also came up with interesting information from the Palatka Daily News. H. E. Malby writes that hyacinth removal causes erosion and damages wild flowers. It also opens the way for a pest to fertile lowland soils, the alligator weed. Too, it is said that hyacinths in the rivers provide food and shade for the fish.

The Palatka News advertisement "Putnam County is the bass capital of the world" just as we say "Seminole County is the shad capital of the world."

Florida nature lovers and shutter bugs may compete for awards and honors in the Florida Wilderness Photo Contest sponsored by the Gainesville Garden Club and the Alachua Audubon Society. Awards totaling $3,000 will be presented for the best photographs illustrating the inland value of Florida wilderness. A senior division open to both amateur and professional photographers contains both black and white and color classes. A junior division is open to young people not over 18 years of age. Contest closes next Wednesday. Complete information is available at the Alachua Audubon Society, 1423 NW Seventh Road, Gainesville.

Types of fresh water fish tagged for the 1964 Schlitz Derby include black bass, catfish, crappie and bream (including bluegills, shellcrackers and other pan fish).

Derby opens in local waters at 12:01 a. m. next Wednesday. Fish are tagged for cash prizes ranging from $25 to $10,000.

More than 10,000 fresh and salt water fish are being tagged by the Florida Game and Fresh Water Commission and the Florida Board of Conservation and released in waters throughout the state. Of these, 8,000 are to be released in inland waters.

Because of the extreme research value of uncaught 1961, 1962 and 1963 Schlitz tagged fish, the sponsor has assigned $500 values to a number of these fish in each zone. All have a $25 value.

The nice thing about crappies... they seem to come by the case.

Catch one. Catch a dozen. That's the way crappie (bream) fishing goes, observing angling fans. This overcast member of the panfish clan not only provides plenty of action, but tastes so well in the frying pan that he deserves the attention of every guy who picks up a rod and reel.

Since crappies run in schools—particularly during spring—where you find one, you will usually find them in great numbers. The quickest way to locate a "bed" is by trolling a small lure or minnow very slowly, covering a wide expanse of water. Very often they'll congregate in spots offshore where they would be difficult to locate by any other means.

In addition to trying various areas, it is wise to troll at different depths — generally six and 15 feet. Since almost every warmwater lake contains panfish, patience will eventually pay off.

When a single fish is located, cut the motor and cast in all directions around the boat to find the main school. When you hit it, you'll know soon enough. Flukes are always hungry. When fishing drops off, this is the signal the school has moved on, and in your cue to resume probing again.

The second way to discover crappies is preferred in some quarters, but frowned on in others. Simply join up with other boats which are working over known beds. Crappie fishermen, like their quarry, are usually an accommodating lot. So while trout and bass are enjoying the publicity, sneak off for a day of crappie fishing. This little rascal seldom lets you down.

Tribe Defeats Seabreeze And Kissimmee

The Leesburg High School track team, already described as the probable state champions for 1964, posted 100 1/2 points Wednesday afternoon in a track meet with Seminole of Sanford, Osceola of Kissimmee and Seabreeze of Daytona Beach in the Lake County city.

Seminole came in second in the four-way affair with 80 1/2 points, Seabreeze—last year's state champions—was third with 30 1/2 points and the Kowboys were fourth with 18 1/2 points.

Scoring points for Seminole were Reinhart who took second place in the 120-yard high hurdles, Vodopich who placed third in the broad jump and Seminole's relay quartet which placed third in the 800-yard relay.

Sparkman of Seminole won the high jump event with 5-foot 6 inch leap, Walstrom placed in the 100-yard low hurdles and Williams was third in the 800-yard run.

Seminole was second in the spring medley relay, Reinhart placed second in the pole vault, Walstrom tied with Dance of Leesburg for first place in the 220-yard dash, the Sanford quartet won the mile relay with 3:41.5 and Seminole's Barry Barks took the 440-yard dash.

Barks' time was 32.3 seconds, slightly off his school mark of 30.8 seconds established in the last Seminole meet.

"We knew Leesburg would be tough," said Williams, "and we're pleased that we did as well as we did against them. We're very happy with our performance over Seabreeze. Our boys were in top condition."

Williams said Seminole's next meet would be a six-way affair here in Sanford. The locals will host Leesburg, Seabreeze, DeLand, Florida Military Academy and Lyman of Longwood.

Gastl First To Win 100 Games

Gastl became the first player at the Orlando Seminole Jai Alai Fronton, and possibly in the state, Wednesday night to win 100 games in a single season.

The powerful Basque front court ace, winless in the matinee performance, hit the coveted mark in the fifth game of the evening, paired with Echazis in the sixth post position.

He then pushed the mark to 101 with his second victory of the night, teamed with Agustin in post five for the feature eighth game doubles event. Astiga and Fraders were second in post three.

Three more nights of play and one matinee remain in the current 118-day season ending on Monday. The fronton will be closed on Good Friday.

Bowling Awards Record Seen

MILWAUKEE (NEA)—All-time records for bowling awards, set during the 1963-64 season, seem certain to be surpassed in 1964-65, according to the American Bowling Congress.

BASKETBALL AWARDS presented during Lyman High's all sports banquet went to (left) Donnie Smith as the most valuable cager during the recent season and to the Greyhounds' most improved player (right) Bill Tolson. Also pictured is head basketball coach Walt Dzuraz.

Spring Practice For Tribe Set

Seminole High's football squad will open a 20-day session of spring gridiron drills on May 6, in preparation for the fall platoon season, according to an announcement this morning by Head Coach Jim Pigott.

"We will complete the practice sessions," said Pigott, "with a varsity intersquad contest on May 29 at the SIS athletic field."

Pigott said that he and his coaching staff are inviting any male student who honestly thinks he can win a berth on the Seminoles' 34-man varsity squad to participate in the workouts.

"We'll have 21 returning lettermen this fall," said Pigott and our entire coaching staff has decided that we will continue to have three varsity teams. We'll try to divide them as evenly as possible but they will not be specialty eleven as they were last season.

"In other words," explained Pigott, "instead of having two offensive units and the defensive unit, we're going to build on the idea of letting each unit go both ways—offensively and defensively—for certain periods of time."

"As long as they're operating effectively we'll let the unit in the game remain there," Pigott declared.

Pigott said that the spring drills will be geared to putting this plan into action this fall.

Meanwhile, Pigott said he has posted the 1964 gridiron schedule in the athletic department at the school and has called to the attention of the players the slate of games which will, for the first time, include the seven Orange County schools in the Metro Conference along with Seminole. The Sanford eleven will meet each one of the Metro schools plus Titusville, Lyman and DeLand. Last season Seminole won 10 of its 11 games and took the OBC championship.

Lawson Memorial Awards Committee Is Announced

It was announced today that Bill Lovelace, manager of the Ritz Theater, has been named chairman of the newly organized Buddy Lawson Memorial Fund Committee which is embarking upon a campaign to raise some $2,000 in memory of the Seminole High School athlete recently killed in an auto accident in Orlando.

Margaret Botts In 200 Class

The Holler Motors Navy Wives League this week welcomed Margaret Botts to the 200 club with an even 200 game. Margaret had a total series of 479.

Rose Patrick rolled a 480 for the high series, with a 167. Pat Siple had a 191 for a 474 series. Suzy Reno rolled a 166 for a 471. JoAnn McDonald had a 162 for a 472.

Evelyn Fitzpatrick had a 172 while Rainey Olson rolled a 168. Jo Cleveland and Charlotte Bassett had a 164. M. A. Williams and Thelma Ungor rolled a game of 160 while Dee Rose followed with a 159.

Rose Patrick had the only turkey for the week.

Margaret Botts converted the 6-7-10, Pat Tourney picked up the 5-7-9, Jo Watson got the 3-9-10 and Fran Morton and Suzy Reno converted the 6-7.

Betty Washburn picked up the 5-6-10 and the 5-10, Dot Oakes, JoAnn McDonald and Suzy Reno got the 4-5 while Rose Patrick and Jennie Runyon picked up the 5-10.

Donna Ord and Ann Snyder got the 2-7. The 5-4 fell for Betty Lilla and Tina Miller and Rainey Olson picked up the 2-10 while Sharon Kee got the 3-10.

VAH-3 "E" Wives still hold the lead with a 68-36 record while VAH 9 "O" Wives are in second place with 66-38.

Jim Pigott has been named secretary, and George Touhy of the First Federal Savings and Loan will serve as treasurer.

The committee, according to Black, has not yet reached a decision on how the $2,000 plus will be used. The plan is to expend the funds in a way to appropriately honor the youngster, Lawson, Seminole's leading score during the past gridiron season, paced the Tribe to 10 victories in 11 contests and to the Orange Belt Conference title.

Touhy announced this morning that arrangements have been made with local postal officials to handle contributions by mail. Touhy said that all donations should be addressed to Buddy Lawson Fund, Sanford, Fla., 32771.

The treasurer of the committee emphasized that envelopes should be addressed to "Sanford" and not "city", and that the zip code number should be used.

Lovelace, the committee chairman, is urging all Seminole gridiron fans to participate. "There's no doubt that Lawson's performances on the football field during the past several seasons have provided all of us with more than the usual thrills we get from a well played football game. The fact that he scored 16 touchdowns last season alone should be reminder enough for all of us to contribute a dollar, maybe even five or more, to this worthy cause."

Assisting Lovelace, Black, Pigott and Touhy are the following committee members: SHS Principal Andrew Bracken, Coach Jim McCoy, Coach Ralph Stumpf, Coach John Colbert, Coach Dick Williams, Seminole High Athletic Director Fred Ganas, Seminole Booster Club President Dr. Orville Barks, Julian Stenstrom of The Sanford Herald, Mrs. Dorothy Odham plus football players Barry Barks, Frank Noell, Billy Higgins and Lloyd Freeman.

Lovelace said "The drive is now underway and we'll be grateful for everyone's cooperation."

Crooms' Boston Strikes Out 16

The only time the Crooms High Panthers and the Hungerford High Bobcats of Winter Park were on par with one another Wednesday afternoon was when the umpire shouted play ball.

The Panthers, playing at the Crooms athletic field, went right to work and blasted out a 19 to 0 decision over the Bobcats while righthander Wesley Boston handcuffed the Winter Park nine with one hit during his whitewash performance.

Boston, although wild at intervals, was effective enough to whiff 16 Hungerford batters during the contest.

Billy Bush paced the Panthers at the plate with a pair of doubles. The Panther coach is Richard Evans.

The new Plymouth has special engines for lots of Zoooooooom (optional, of course). That's an important item to a number of people.

Peterson Of Bob's Restaurant Rolls 608 Series

Pete Peterson Wednesday night rolled his bomb to the tune of a 608 total as he scored games of 213, 193, 202 to help Bob's Restaurant trio take a clean three-game sweep from the Allied Van Lines team. Pete had some pretty good help from teammates, Eddie Monroe and John Wright as they rolled 600 and 604 series respectively. Phil Roche was high for Allied with a 212 game and a 888 total.

In other league action the trio of Bill Hall, John Bridges, and Archie King took a clean three game sweep from Larry's Mart. John Bridges was high for Betty Anne's with his 605 total while Gary Fox's 400 series was high for Larry's Mart.

The match between Inland Materials and Mendors Marine ended up in a split of 1 1/2 wins and 1 1/2 losses each. The two teams tied the last games to get a half win a piece. John Spolski was high for Inland with a 213/565 while Gordon Honeycutt was high for Mendors with a 561 total.

Games of 200 or more were rolled by Peterson 202 and 213, Wright 201 and 203, Bridges 202 and 213, Pentecost 200 and 201, Murphy 216, Spolski 213, King 221, Roche 212, and the high game of the night was 234 rolled by Eddie

Not Human Yet

Scientists at Johns Hopkins University have come up with a machine that is so nearly human it scares you to think about it.

So nearly human, in fact, that its designers call it "The Beast."

"The Beast" wanders around the halls of the laboratory, poking its metallic nose into places it has no business to be.

When it gets hungry, it plugs itself into the nearest electrical outlet and takes a straight shot of voltage juice on the rocks.

When it becomes tired, it simply quits working, the lucky bum.

When it runs into trouble — like tangling with a railing or getting trapped in a narrow space — it panics even as you and I and bangs itself around like crazy trying to get loose.

Now if its creators can teach "The Beast" to pop off when it should keep quiet, blow its top when it should keep cool, and go into debt for things it doesn't need, science will have taken a big step toward replacing human beings.

Until then, we mere mortals can still regard ourselves as superior to any darn machine.

Naval Stores

To most people, the term "naval stores" sounds like a place to buy equipment for ships or boats.

But the term applied to forestry is misleading. Gum naval stores is an industry that collects, distills and produces resin from pine trees to manufacture spirits of rosin and turpentine for industrial uses.

According to Tony Jensen, assistant forester with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, the words "naval stores" are a carry-over from the 16th and 17th centuries when shipbuilders caulked pitch and tar into the seams of wooden vessels. Today, few of the products are employed in ship building.

What are naval stores used for? Jensen points out that the largest single use of rosin (resin is the raw sap) in the U.S. is for paper size. Size is a gluey substance which is coated on paper to make it suitable for writing and printing. Rosin is also mixed in paints, printing inks and adhesives.

Turpentine is a more familiar product used mainly as a solvent or thinner for paints and varnishes. Recently, low-cost petroleum solvents have replaced turpentine in this area. Nowadays most turpentine is employed in a variety of chemical compounds and pharmaceutical products.

There are three major sources of naval stores, says Jensen. They are longleaf and slash pine trees, resin-saturated stumps of the original old growth longleaf and slash pine forests, and by-products of paper production in the sulphate process. Most of the resin comes from the latter two sources.

Before paper pulp mills came south several decades ago, naval stores and lumber were the main products taken from the pine forests. Now gum farming plays a less important role in the overall forestry operation, says Jensen. A tree is designated for cutting, and is then chipped for gum for two or three years before being chopped down for pulp or lumber.

Georgia dominates the gum naval stores industry with 82 per cent of the annual crop while Florida claims about 200 producers and 11 per cent of the market.

Thought For Today

Behold, I cry out, Violence! But I am not answered; I call aloud, but there is no justice.—Job 19:7.

The reason so many people never get anywhere in life is because when opportunity knocks, they are out in the back yard looking for four-leaf clovers. — Walter P. Chrysler.

Helen Fuller Says U. S. Loses

WASHINGTON—Without a shot being fired or an insult hurled—the United States lost ground in Latin America last week.

Sometimes the subtle setbacks are more costly than the dramatic upsets in foreign relations, and this may be such a moment for us south of the border.

The cause of our difficulty last week was not General DeGaulle's successful diplomatic invasion of Mexico or his plans to repeat it in South America but the Johnson administration's awkward handling of its first major venture into high-level dealings with Latin American nations as a group.

Two weeks ago President Johnson suddenly announced that he was summoning to Washington all of our ambassadors and chiefs of foreign aid missions to the Latin American countries. The occasion was the third anniversary of the Alliance for Progress which John F. Kennedy began. The Council of the Organization of American States was meeting in Washington at that time, and Congress was about to begin debate on next year's appropriations for-sign assistance—good reason, from the President's view, to have the men on hand who could best defend the much-publicized program of Latin aid. A staff meeting in Washington with all his chiefs in the field would also be a proper send-off for his new man in charge of Inter-American affairs, Assistant Secretary of State Thomas Mann, the President must have reasoned.

Had these hopes been realized, our economy-minded President could have counted it money well spent to bring so many men so far. But in practical effect, the meeting did far more harm than good. To begin with, the President dismayed Latin American delegates to the OAS by publicly rejecting a formula for resolving the dispute between Panama and the United States which Johnson's deputy, Assistant Secretary Mann, had helped to draft. The next day, at the end of his prepared speech to the OAS Council, the President ad-libbed some remarks on the Panamanian situation which the Latin Americans considered out of place. A special commission of the OAS which has been investigating Panama's charges

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA)—An age-and-experience profile of the U. S. Senate discloses some hitherto little appreciated facts about this body as it immerses itself in the great civil rights debate of 1964.

Seventy-four of the Senate's 100 members were elected to the upper chambers in the years from 1950 on; 23 actually did not begin their service until the 1960s.

Thus some of the 74 has as much as 14 full years in the Senate. And nearly a quarter of its membership has less than four years of service.

An experience analysis of the 26 senators with continuous service predating 1950 reveals some curiosities and under-scores some well established notions about the Senate.

Exactly half of the 26 are from the 11-state Old South, still sufficiently Democratic to return these senators safely time and again. There are four Democratic southerners — Senators Richard Russell of Georgia, Harry Byrd of Virginia, Allen Ellender of Louisiana and Lister Hill of Alabama — among the slim five who predate 1940 in Senate service.

The fifth veteran is, of course, 86-year-old Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, the Senate's dean. His term of office began in 1927.

One special circumstance needs to be noted. Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, whose continuous service began in 1937, served two earlier short terms, one of them in the mid-1940s. He is not counted among the 26 whose duty predates 1950.

But look further at the 26. Among them are the chairmen of 12 of the Senate's 16 regular committees. The 12 lead every important Senate committee. The four not chaired by pre-1950 veterans: Interior (Jackson of Washington), Public Works (McNamera of Michigan), Rules (Everett Jordan of North Carolina), and District of Columbia (Bible of Nevada).

Here again, to no one's surprise, the Old South bulks large. Nine major Senate committees are led by pre-1950 southern veterans. Jordan of North Carolina, heading Rules, gives the South 10 of the 16 regular groups. He dates from 1958.

The Senate's "age portrait" correlates interestingly with the experience picture. Seventy-two percent of the Senate's 100 members are under 65 years of age. Yet more than two-thirds of the 16 regular committees are chaired by senators 65 or older.

Here are the details on the 11 committees thus led:

Appropriations — Hayden, 86; Armed Services — Russell, 86; Banking and Currency — A. Willis Robertson of Virginia, 76; Finance — Byrd, 76; Agriculture — Ellender, 73; Labor and Public Welfare — Hill, 69; Government Operations — John McClellan of Arkansas, 68; Post Office and Civil Service — Olin Johnston of South Carolina, 67; Rules Jordan, 67; Space — Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, 68; Public Works — McNamera, 68.

Eight of these 11 committee chairmen are, once again, southerners. And of the eight, all but Jordan go back in service before 1950. The South's command of committees is further beefed up by Mississippi Sen. James Eastland, 68.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE 5-422: Tess V., aged 25, thinks she is going insane. "Oh, Dr. Crane," she moaned, "I am positive I am losing my mind!"

"For I can't even remember for one hour the cute things our baby girl says or does."

"When my husband telephones from the office and asks about her, my mind goes blank."

"And I am now having the most awful dreams at night. I seem to be at a funeral and I see a child's casket in y' dreams."

"So I get nightmares and wake up screaming. Then I run into the baby's room to make sure she is still alive."

"Oh, Dr. Crane, I am living on tranquilizers but I keep getting worse. Will I end in a sanitarium, for I feel sure I am losing my mind?"

Following childbirth, it is not uncommon to find a new mother who ends in a mental sanitarium.

Sometimes this postpartum psychosis is deemed a result of chemical imbalance of some sort.

But in many cases the underlying cause is due to a subconscious "Death Wish," from which the victim later recoils in horror.

Then the victim assumes various symptoms that she feels are linked with insanity, for she feels she really ought to have God punish her with mental derangement.

For example, when a girl like Tess has been an only child or has previously had a great deal of adult attention and spotlighting, she suffers terrific ego deflation after her first baby is born.

That's even more so if the baby is a little girl, for then the "triangle" develops.

Prior to the birth of her first baby, a spoiled or overly indulged wife may command all the attention of both her doting parents and her mate.

And after the wedding, she still is the focal point of her husband's interest, too.

When he would telephone from the office during her pregnancy Tess would always be asked: "Honey, how are you feeling? Are you all right?"

And this same solicitude would be evident when her father or mother telephoned.

If they dropped in for a personal visit, they would also caution Tess with:

"Now be careful! Don't do any lifting. Let me hold your arm as you go upstairs, etc."

Even during her labor, Tess still was the focus of attention of her parents and husband.

But the very instant her baby daughter arrived, all this changed!

Tess was instantly demoted from the prima donna role to a secondary position "in the chorus," as it were. So she was now an also-ran!

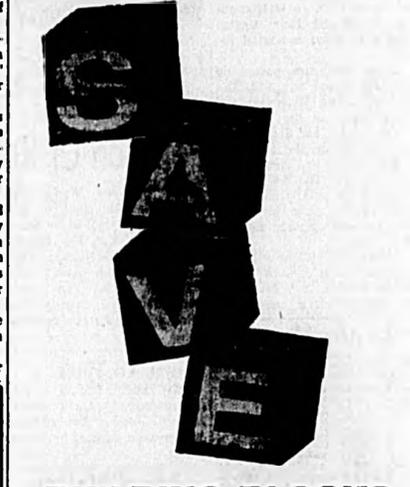

Her ego thus rebelled. Subconsciously she resented the fact her baby had stolen her public away from her.

"Oh, it was so much more peaceful before the baby came," she unconsciously thinks. "I wish it were like that again."

But this final idea suddenly strikes her full consciousness and she recalls "I must be abnormal or deranged, to wish for my baby's death, so God must punish me!"

SS Truth Seekers Class Convenes

The Truth Seekers Class of the First Methodist Church held its regular business and social meeting last Monday afternoon at McKinley Hall with the president, Mrs. Clarence Pursell, presiding over the program.

Resolutions in memory of Mrs. C. C. Earl were read and adopted, and birthday greetings were extended to the members having birthdays this month.

Mrs. Chapman read a letter from her daughter, Miss Virginia Chapman, who is serving as a missionary in Uruguay, South America. Miss Chapman was recently appointed rector of Christian Martha Logan says that ham for your Easter dinner is the meat chosen by many because there is a kind and style for everyone. For a 6 lb. ham it requires about 2 1/2 hours in an open pan in a slow oven (325 degrees). The meat thermometer should be 130 degrees. For using some of the left over ham she gives us this recipe.

HAM SPAGHETTI SKILLET
 2 cups diced, cooked ham
 2 tbsps. fat
 1/4 cup chopped onion
 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1 lb., 3 oz. can (2 1/2 cups) cooked tomatoes
 8 oz. spaghetti
 1 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese
 1 tsp. salt
 Melt fat in a large heavy skillet. Pan-fry onion and green pepper until tender. Add garlic and tomatoes. Cover and cook over low heat 30 minutes. Cook spaghetti according to directions on pkg. Combine spaghetti, cheese and salt with ham mixture in skillet. Combine cooking, uncovered about 10 minutes.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am in the eighth grade and I like a boy in my home room. I called him up last night and told him that a girl friend of mine wanted his picture, but she was too bashful to ask him for it, so I was asking for her. He said he was sorry but he didn't have any more. Then I called him back and told him that the picture really wasn't for a girl friend, it was for me, and maybe he could dig one up. He said he didn't have any more and he wouldn't know where to dig one up from. Then I called him back again to ask him what page our history assignment started on, but this time his mother answered the phone and told me to quit bothering him. I feel terrible. Should I call him up and apologize for bothering him?

FEELS TERRIBLE
DEAR FEELS: No! This boy has your number. Forget him!

DEAR ABBY: I am not mentioning any names and,

If you print this, please don't use mine, but what do you think of a husband who is not man enough to speak his own mind? He and his wife have worked out "signals" between them. When they are at a party and HE wants to go home, he either mops his brow with a handkerchief or crosses his legs, and then SHE suggests that it is late and they should be heading for home.

"ON TO THEM"
DEAR "ON": I think they're wonderful. I didn't know teamwork like that still existed.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my daughter. She is 29 so I can't tell her what to do, but she is still my daughter and I worry about her. Abby, she is five feet five, and I will be the first to admit that she was overweight, but she is big-boned, like I am, and she never looked as heavy as she was. She weighed 255 last July. That's when she started going to this doctor who specializes in reducing people.

She lost 80 pounds and she's still dieting. I have begged her to stop before she kills herself, but she doesn't listen to me. Abby, please, as one mother to another, help me save my daughter.

TEARS IN MY EYES
DEAR TEARS: Unless my subtraction is wrong, your daughter still weighs 195 pounds! She has to lose another 60 before she's in the proper weight range for her height. Trust the doctor, and don't demoralize your daughter. Calories are tough enough to battle without the additional burden of an hysterical mother.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The subject of scientific bidding recalls to me one of my favorite hands. The game was rubber bridge. I was sitting North and playing with Mrs. Jacoby against two very fine players. We were vulnerable and they were not. I opened one diamond in the third seat and East jumped to four hearts. Mrs. Jacoby bid four spades and West went to five hearts.

It was up to me to act, and I had quite a problem. Obviously Mrs. Jacoby held the king of spades, and I was quite certain that she also held the diamond king. It would have been far too dangerous for her to go to four spades on a broken suit if she did not have a diamond fit in reserve.

Hence, it appeared that we go to seven spades later? West was too smart for that. He would say to himself, "Why did Jacoby cue bid hearts if he intended to bid seven all the time?" Out would come a heart!

Should I bid five spades and let them push me to six? They would probably defend anyway and if I went on to seven I would still get that heart lead.

Finally, the winning bid occurred to me. I jumped right to seven spades.

West thought about his opening lead for a long time. He finally decided that I would not have made the bid with a heart loser, so he opened a club. Mrs. Jacoby ruffed, drew trumps, discarded her losing heart on a diamond and made the grand slam.

Should I bid six hearts and had a rather easy grand slam provided I could stop a heart lead. How could I do that?

Should I bid six hearts and

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

This harried husband writes of a problem that is all too common in the early years of married life.

"For the five years we have been married, my wife and I have been going around with a crowd that has a lot of more money to spend than we do.

"My wife doesn't complain because my job is small potatoes compared to the jobs of the other husbands in our crowd. But I know it makes her unhappy not to have as good a home as her friends have, not to be able to entertain the way the other girls do, or to dress as well.

"I think that gradually, we ought to stop seeing so much of this crowd and look for friends more nearly on our economic level. But my wife thinks that for the sake of our two young daughters we should keep the friends we have so that our children can grow up with theirs, etc. . . even though it is all we can do to try to keep up with the kind of social life they can afford. What do you think?"

I think that you're absolutely right. Evidently trying to keep up a social life with friends who have so much more to spend isn't making either of you happy.

And what possible good can it do your children, as they grow older, to be shoved into a position where all their friends have a lot more than they have?

There's no need to drop out completely from the crowd you have been going around with—but you can do it gradually without causing any hard feelings.

Just start being honest about not being able to afford to do some of the things they do. Look around for a few couples who like to do the kind of things you and your wife can afford.

You'll find that you'll genuinely enjoy your leisure time when you don't have to "keep up with the Joneses."

Highlights TV Time Previews

8-9 p.m. CBS. Rawhide. "Incident of the Odyssey." More a characterization effort than an exciting plot, the minimal action here is more than offset by Mickey Rooney's portrayal of a Greek immigrant with an almost childlike innocence and belief in the goodness of man.

9-10 p.m. CBS. Perry Mason. "The Case of the Woeful Widower." By the time this one is half over, the suspects should narrow down to just two or you're no armchair detective. A housekeeper tips Perry Mason (Raymond Burr) that her employer plans to murder his invalid wife.

Sure enough, she's murdered, but the police suspect the victim's stepister, since she's chief beneficiary in the will. 10-11 p.m. CBS. The Nurses. "No Score." (Rerun) An excellent episode. Susan Oliver as a drug addict nurse is perfect in her frustration to return to a normal life complicated by an absolute necessity for narcotics.

It's interesting to be on the sidelines and watch the maneuvering leading up to the choosing of a mayor of North Orlando by the council members on April 6. Art Ferrin and Irene Van Epeol both want the job.

Councilwoman-elect Mona Grinstead today issued this statement: "Irene Van Epeol and I are supposed to be having a feud, according to R. E. Porter in 'Around the Clock.' I have not seen Mrs. Van Epeol since the election. She has not asked me to vote for her for mayor April 6, though I know she wants my vote. I sincerely wish the people had this opportunity to elect their own mayor. This would eliminate any future rumors or disagreements about the mayor's election among the council. When I do vote, I will vote for the one I feel the majority would choose."

Clerk Art Beckwith today reminded political candidates it is against the law to place any advertising within the rights-of-way of any state road system, state park road system, county road system and any city connecting link with any of those roads. Further, he said, candidates desiring to place advertising on private property must obtain the written consent and a permit from the State Road Department. The penalty on conviction of a misdemeanor in this matter is a $300 fine per violation per month. This eliminates East First Street, where a gubernatorial candidate has hung a huge banner across the right-of-way. City officials disclaim responsibility for that sign.

From the pen of Bill MacLaughlin, editor of the Lions Pause: If the world consisted of only 1,000 people, we'd have 60 Americans and 940 persons representing the rest of the world; we Americans would have half the income, the remaining 940 dividing the other half; of the 1,000, 80 would be practicing Communists, with 370 more under Communist control. There would be 303 whites and 697 non-whites. Americans would have a life expectancy of 70 years; the others less than 40 years. The Americans would have 15 times as many possessions per person as the rest of the world combined; they would be rich and well-fed and the other 940 would be hungry most of the time. The American families would be spending at least $50 annually for military defense.

Change Of Command For VAH-1 Tuesday

Cdr. Leonard J. Reinhart will be relieved as Commanding Officer of Heavy Attack Squadron One at a change of command ceremony to be held on Tuesday, after a very successful year as "Head Tiger."

Cdr. Reinhart turns over the helm to Cdr. Jesse W. Taft.

Cdr. Reinhart and family will be stationed at Villa France where he will serve on Sixth Fleet Staff. A little sad at leaving friends in Heavy Attack Wing One, Cdr. Reinhart leaves with the satisfaction of knowing that he did a job well. The officers and men of Heavy One wish him smooth sailing and a hearty welcome aboard for their new "Head Tiger."

Weather permitting the Mets planned a long hitting drill today under the direction of Ernie White, manager of the Williamsport Club of the Eastern League. Matthews announced that White has been placed in charge of field operations here for the remainder of the training period.

White will manage one of the teams in Sunday's exhibition and Clyde McCullough, manager of the Auburn club of the New York-Pennsylvania League, will pilot the other.

Those wishing to kick the smoking habit will converge on the Assembly Room of the County Health Department Sunday at 8 p. m. when the famous "Five Day Plan To Stop Smoking" will start.

The plan has worked successfully in many areas in the country and this is the first time it has been offered in Sanford.

Conducting it will be R. L. Matthews, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, and John G. Marsh, M. D.

The meetings will continue each night at 8 through Thursday at the same place.

Red Cross Session

An emergency need for supplemental funds will be discussed Tuesday at 4 p. m. at a special meeting of Seminoles County Chapter, American Red Cross, at the room of First Federal Savings and Loan Association Building.

Leaders Split Over Route Of Capitol March

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — An apparent split in the leadership of a civil rights march on the Capitol developed today as Negro and white integration leaders gathered to protest the civil rights filibuster in Congress and honor "Florida Freedom Fighters."

Leaders of the march called a news conference to announce the split between the NAACP, originators of the march, and the Congress of Racial Equality who disagreed over the route of the march and other planning.

The local CORE chapter, dominated by white and Negro university students, are insisting on a parade route that would give the demonstrators more public exposure by circling the Capitol building in downtown Tallahassee.

Robert Saunders of Tampa, NAACP field secretary, and Mrs. Ruby Hurley, regional NAACP said the march would go as planned, from A&M University's campus to a state-owned baseball field three blocks south of the Capitol.

Saunders dropped his earlier estimate of 10,000 marchers to a maximum of 3,500.

Russia Releases Two U. S. Fliers

Faithful Over Nation Mark Good Friday

By United Press International

"There was darkness over the whole land."

St. Mark 15:33

Christians across the nation gathered in churches today to commemorate the suffering of Christ upon the cross.

Singly and in families, in whitewashed hilltop churches and in cathedrals carved from the stone and concrete of big cities, they came to relive the agony of the Crucifixion.

Most churches scheduled three-hour midday services in remembrance of the time nearly 2,000 years ago when hope was plunged into the heart of darkness.

Others opened their doors throughout the day and thousands of faithful kept a quiet vigil of prayer and meditation.

Stark reminders of the first Good Friday — rough-hewn crosses bound in place by rope — were erected on the lawns of three Chicago-area cemeteries.

A tattered linen shroud fluttered from the crossbars to symbolize the scene in the shadow of Calvary.

Most churches scheduled special Good Friday services from noon until 3 p. m.

Major securities and commodity exchanges in the United States and Canada were closed today. Banks in some cities were also closed and many businesses offered employees time off to attend church services.

Argentine Marines Fight Red Sailors

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Loyal marines clashed today with sailors who abandoned a Brazilian aircraft carrier to Communist-supported naval mutineers.

Two of the sailors were wounded and the others arrested as they landed in a launch near the Naval Ministry. It was the first bloodshed of the "pocket revolt."

A spokesman for the Naval Ministry said the sailors had left the aircraft carrier Minas Gerais, anchored in Guanabara Bay.

Navy Minister Sylvio Mota resigned Thursday when a group of marines threw down their arms and joined the mutineers.

Orders from President Jono Goulart averted a clash Thursday night between mutineers and marines sent to quash the revolt.

About 100 marine tommy-guns surrounded a union hall where tied speakers were haranguing some 600 mutinous sailors and marines. But the loyal marines withdrew reluctantly when Rear Adm. Luiz F. Sinal, acting commander of the marine corps, threatened to resign if they rounded up the "rebels" by force.

Subordinate officers begged for permission to storm the hall, but Sinal refused.

"You are a disgrace to the marine corps!" he shouted at the officers, in hearing of the rebels. "I'm in charge here, not you. If anyone tries to use force, I quit."

Communists in the hall exulted as the marines marched away, muttering and flinging their tommy-guns.

Plane Missing In Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI) — An L19 light observation plane with two American officers aboard has been missing since Thursday on a reconnaissance flight over South Viet Nam's northern highlands. It was reported today.

A U.S. military spokesman said the plane may have gone down in the dense rain forest which covers the area, making a search from the air extremely difficult. The two men aboard were not identified.

Reds Escort In Style To Checkpoint

HELMSTEDT, Germany (UPI) — The Soviet Union today released two captive U. S. Air Force fliers, West German police said.

The two fliers, whose RB66 jet reconnaissance bomber was shot down March 10 after straying into East German skies, sweeping homeward through this East-West German border checkpoint after 17 days in Russian hands.

The Soviets released the pair this Good Friday—and a third crewman set free last Saturday — after Washington warned the Kremlin continued captivity would "jeopardize" improvement of U. S.-Soviet relations.

Capt. David I. Holand, 35, of Holland, Minn., and Melvin J. Kessler, 30, of Philadelphia, wore grim expressions when their U. S. Army sedan sped into West Germany.

A West German police car—its siren screaming—led the fliers' automobile toward Hannover, where a U. S. Air Force DC4 four-engine transport awaited them.

The Russians saw their captives away in style.

A Soviet Red Army officer with a detail of troops smartly saluted the Americans' sedan when it came roaring out of East Germany and into West Germany.

Only very rarely in recent years have Soviet troops appeared at the Communist Marlenborn checkpoint opposite Helmsstedt.

The U. S. Army sedan entered Western territory at 2:57 p. m. (8:57 a. m. EST) from the comparatively vacant East German autobahn and slipped into massive holiday traffic on the Western side.

The two fliers, despite their grim—almost frowning—expressions, did not appear to be injured.

Job Service Is Penniless

Is the United States government honest?

An honorably discharged member of the Armed Forces, unable to find gainful employment, applied for unemployment compensation at the Winter Park office of the Florida State Employment Service.

The Winter Park supervisor said the same situation occurred at about this time in 1963 and again in 1963.
