BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. HE'LL PRENT 'EM'—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

My boy I've shook the hands of potentates an' Congressmen an' such. An' off an' on I've headed with the more than average rich. An' not to speak disparagin' of them nor of their way. I'd rather meet a man from home most any day. I'd rather meet a man from home 'cause in his smile an' hand there's something sort of friendly. There's some men under and there's some in the run of things that gives you half the joy of meetin' folks and used to know an' hear 'em say. "My boy"

They knowed your family like enough an' all your kin an' with when none of 'em had clothes enough to ring a bander with. Why, they was there wen all around was enclaments an' bars. Before they ever heard of folks and paper in their. An' there they've stayed contentedly like country people do. 'Til maybe you've forgotten them, but they remember you. An' about the highest compliment that lies in their employ. Is when they reach their hands to you an' welcome you "My boy"

Don't forget the folks you knew who love you for yourself. They've watched the "wiltin' paths" you go in search of fame an' pelf. Their hearts have quickened when you won an' something when you fell. They've more than likely prayed for you an' liked you wife as well. An' though you'll maybe shake the hands of wealthy an' the great.

The handshake of a man from home is best. I repeat to state: If ever there's a time your heart an' feelings list deploy. It's when you see his eyes thaw but an' hear him say. "My boy"

JOHN D. WELLS.

However disappointing it may be you'll have to take rain checks for the Mexican affair.

What's become of the old fashioned woman who decorated her Sunday walters with designs made from crepe de chine? Ah! here she is wearing almost nothing or else a necktie made from china berries, watermelon seeds or pine cones. Do we protest? Well, I guess yes.

I am glad to see the great improvement being made in our city parks. Sanford has five parks and they should be kept in good shape all the time. Many cities would give millions of dollars for our parks and our lake front and until the last few months we have made very feeble efforts to improve either. Blessings on our present city council for their progressive spirit.

Something over ten years ago I captured to Frank Clark one day my desire to go to the nation's capital and meet some of the "big men" of the country. After agreeing to give me the coveted introduction the Congressman asked who the big men were. I related the names of several supposed giants of those times and looking at me commiseratingly he said: "My boy, the nearer you get to the big men of this country the smaller they get." Isn't it true?

There is entirely too much blarney and politics entering into purely local questions these days and there are only those who seem to thrive and wax fat if they can only keep matters of public concern in the political pot and keep the pot at a boiling point.

The matter of public improvements is not a political matter, but purely one of public pride, necessity and expediency. If the streets must be repaired or rehabilitated it should not be discussed from a political angle, no matter how much certain professional politicians desire to thus use it. The same is true of the construction of bridges; of a drainage system; of brick roads; of school buildings; and all other public improvements.

The progressive politician can always find something wrong in the settlement of every public question. The progress of Sanford depends more on keeping free of the politicians than any other one agency. Politics has no place in civic development.

Poprit Sanford to improve—to grow—to become greater. Politics of the professional variety is a curb on public progress.

Did you ever see such a spread of religion in Sanford and the great amount of good the campaign for every man in Sunday school in April has accomplished. I understand that the Sunday schools will not hold the men who have the fixed idea that they should be in some Sunday school on any Sabbath.

This movement in Sanford will be followed by all the communities in other parts of the state and the United States and the way will bring an increase in the Sunday schools of the world. It was not brought about by any religious revival but by the earnest efforts of our ministers and their assistants, the laymen of the churches and the brotherhood.

Every one can go to church once on Sunday. Most of us can go to Sunday school and church in the morning and again to the evening service but anybody can go to Sunday school in the morning or to church. It will not take any special exertion on your part to go to Sunday school and listen to a good lecture or to church and listen to a good sermon and certainly it will do you no harm. Therefore if some one asks you to come to church don't scoff at the idea or pool pooh the principle. You couldn't do anything better than go to church on Sunday and like the liquor question public opinion will force every one into the churches in the next few years just as public opinion will force the nation to abstain from drinking.

If you don't care to join the ever increasing GO TO CHURCH throng DON'T BE A SCOFFER. Words are inadequate to describe the man who seeks to ridicule or make a jest of the uplift GO TO CHURCH movement. He who finds in it a target for his cheap wit should stop and think what the world would be today without churches. If you don't care to help along the movement don't decry it.

This GO TO CHURCH movement is a winner. It is spreading like a prairie fire. In this the most material age it is gripping the big men of the country. They see that it is a force for good not only to the individual but to the nation.

Of the man who scoffs at the GO TO CHURCH movement, do you think it is a mistake he is making?

Go To Church movement is a serious, broad minded proposition. It will not be denied. In every city, town and hamlet in the United States there is a genuine religious awakening. It is not confined to any class or sect.

It is believed that there never was a time when religion was really dead even among the worst heathen simply slumbering. It required an awakening. As it gradually dawned that the churches were being emptied and that the people were brought to the mid of the people, they were aroused.

The GO TO CHURCH call found a quick and hearty response. As the call became generally disseminated there was a magnificent advance on the house of God. If you haven't joined the throng do it at once. If you have a social engagement for next Sunday week it for an engagement with God. If you have arranged for an auto drive, a fishing trip or some other form of recreation remember that you ought to serve God. Will you serve Him? You will.

A Florida Poem

The first part of the following poem was given to Mr. H. G. Selver by a traveler in a burst of good natured humor. The second part was written by Mrs. Selver as a reply. In our judgment it is a most happy expression of the case. We are very glad to give the verses to our readers:

Home Sick

Nowhere so many tourists seen As here in Florida. Nowhere the woods hog grows so lean. As here in Florida. Nowhere the mud creeks have the smell. As here in Florida. And nowhere else the truth to tell; In it as hot this side of hell. As here in Florida. Nowhere so many days of sun. As here in Florida.

Nowhere the tourists so slowly run. As here in Florida. Nowhere my time has come to go. For nothing me here because I know I'll longer live; I'll die so slow; In it as hot this side of hell. As here in Florida. Nowhere will sails so well suffice. As here in Florida. Nowhere the tourists cut such ice. As here in Florida; And I believe this land. Of hills and rivers, soil and sand, Was simply fashioned to be damned. Down here in Florida.

Six Months Later
Oh! the tourists most always end their trip by buying a home in Florida. And the land, by is sweet for roasting or frying. In dear old Florida. And the people are laden with hay. In dear old Florida. The tourists shine, hot there's a sweat on their face, too. And the mocking birds sing the whole night through. In dear old Florida. Never a day when the sun don't shine. In dear old Florida. If the rains run slow to give you time. To see more of Florida; But the days are short and the time goes by. No one is in a hurry, that the reason why. You live to a healthy old age 'er you die. In dear old Florida. Many beautiful white pulled boats are here. In dear old Florida; Not just thro' the summer, but all thro' the years. In dear old Florida. And the old families of state, broad; Hospital, kind, and a land in need. Make life seem a paradise indeed. In dear old Florida.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MET AND ELECTED OFFICERS FOR YEAR

MEETING LARGELY WAS ATTENDED BY A MOST ENTHUSIASTIC BUNCH

AN AGGRESSIVE POLICY

WILL BE PURSUED IN THE SUMMER AND FALL CAMPAIGN OF ADVERTISING CITY'S RESOURCES

The Sanford Commercial Club met last Tuesday night in the City Hall and the members were most enthusiastic over the prospects for advertising the resources of the city and county during the summer and fall season of 1914.

It was the consensus of opinion of those present that never before were the prospects of the city of Sanford so bright and that right now was the time to start advertising our city and bringing it to the attention of the people of the north and west before they had commenced to plan for coming to Florida during another season.

It is a well known fact that no city can prosper or get ahead in this day and age unless the initiative is taken by an aggressive Commercial Club or Board of Trade and all the cities of any part of the world attribute their growth and prosperity to the united efforts of the members of their trade body.

The reason that Sanford has not advanced as rapidly as it should have done in the past three years is due to the fact that not enough of our business men have evinced an interest in the Commercial Club. They have not become members or paid their money into the club but the meeting of last Tuesday night demonstrated that more of them had decided to join now and all of them will become members at the next meeting. No man who is in business in this city should expect the other fellow to bear the burdens of exploitation or attend to all the details of getting more people here and more business and help the city toward prosperity and then share alike in this prosperity. This city will start growing this city will start a new hotel, this city will have everything that is coming to it and that the people are taking more interest in the Commercial Club and are willing to help in the good work of boosting the city's claims.

The Sanford Commercial Club met for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. President Lake presided.

Upon motion the following officers for the year were nominated and elected: President, Forrest Lake; first vice president, G. W. Spencer; second vice president, Bart W. Herndon; treasurer, F. L. Miller; secretary, Thomas K. Bates; directors, J. N. Whitner, A. P. Connelly, Bob Holly, C. R. Walker, D. L. Thrasher, J. Musson, E. E. Brady.

Messrs. C. E. Dooley, C. A. Raulerson and J. H. Huddleston composed a delegation from Geneva which presented for the consideration of the club a project to build a highway from Geneva to Mims on the East Coast, which is to cross the St. Johns river at the south end of Lake Harney. After the presentation by Mr. Dooley, Robert Holly, F. L. Miller and T. K. Bates spoke in favor of the club taking an active part in the fostering of the project.

Mr. C. R. Walker moved that the club tender such material and moral assistance to this road as is within its power, which was passed. This road will open up a new route for those who reside south of the St. Johns and west of the Wekiva rivers, to the East Coast as it will tap the brick roads west of Sanford five miles, and run on through Sanford on the brick road down Celery avenue, thence by Beardsall avenue to Geneva avenue and Geneva avenue one mile on brick at which point there is a good road extending on to Geneva. This promises to be one of the most popular routes in Florida, as it is very picturesque and scenic. J. D. Davison, C. C. Woodruff and R. J. Holly were appointed a committee to take this matter in charge and push it to a final conclusion.

Mr. C. C. Woodruff, who has been actively engaged in organizing a company to erect a crate factory here reported that this matter was about closed now, and the next season would witness Sanford manufacturing the hundreds of thousands of crates which it uses yearly.

Mr. Connelly moved that the yearly dues be increased to $5, which motion was passed.

C. W. CHEESMAN KILLED WHEN WELL CAVED IN

It was a gruesome sight that met the eyes of a party of Ovidio people early Sunday morning when they discovered the body of C. W. Cheesman, who has been mentioned in death by the rays of a well at his home.

The man had been dead for about four days, and the posture in which he was found and the circumstances surrounding the discovery indicated that death was entirely accidental.

The dead man was sexton of the Ovidio Methodist church, and was first missed when no bell was rung for the Thursday evening prayer meeting. The matter was dismissed without any serious thought at the time, but when no preparations were made Saturday for Sunday services the suspicions of the sexton of the Baptist church were aroused, and he paid a visit to Cheesman's home, about two miles south of Ovidio.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—The Navy and War Departments have made plans for the seizure of the line of railroad from Vera Cruz to Mexico City. It is reported by reconnaissance forces that two bridges are still intact on this railroad. One on miles and the other on miles from Vera Cruz. The bridges must be protected if Vera Cruz is to be a base of operations.

used against them and the snipers were less in evidence than at any time during the fighting, eight Americans were killed and some thirty wounded. This makes a total of twelve dead and fifty wounded in the two days' fighting.

While the Mexicans suffered more severely the number of their casualties has not been ascertained but the best estimates obtained by Capt. William R. Rush of the battleship Florida indicated that in the engagements of Tuesday and Wednesday their dead amounted to about 150. No person knows how many Mexicans fell wounded as a large part of them were hidden by friends.

In the streets about the plaza Wednesday afternoon lay fifteen or twenty bodies, a majority attired in citizens' clothing. Some of the men evidently had been dead since the engagement of Tuesday and the highest heat made their immediate disposal imperative.

ENCAMPMENT OF TROOPS MAY BE HELD IN FLORIDA

Washington, April 24.—The maneuver camp next summer for regular troops and the militia of North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida will be located outside of South Carolina, because of Governor Blewett's failure to comply with demand made by Secretary Garrison.

The Secretary had given Blewett until this morning to disavow all previous statements on the subject and to invite the war department to have the maneuvers on the Isle of Palms but instead of such compliance Mr. Garrison received a telegram this morning from Gov. Blewett saying he was sending a special delivery letter on the subject.

Mr. Garrison's announcement that the camp would go to one of the other three states followed.

The Military Company

A meeting has been called for Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at the court house in Sanford to perfect the organization of the company of militia for Sanford. Practically enough men have been lined up and it is hoped to get the company mustered in in time for the encampments this summer. Every man interested in the formation of this company at Sanford is requested to be present, whether you join it or not as a large attendance is needed. Some representative of the military department of the state of Florida will be present at this meeting and it is up to Sanford to make as good a showing as possible. Come out and help the boys in their organization. A good military company will be a valuable asset to Sanford.

Mexico's Troubles

Dr. Brovices will discuss Mexico's Troubles at the Presbyterian church at 7:30 Sunday night. He speaks from a personal knowledge of some of the underlying causes, gained from a trip through Mexico. His lecture last year upon this much thought of neighbor, illustrated by many curious gathered there, elicited much interest in this congregation. If you would like to hear a sane discussion of the cause which have brought about this present state of affairs in that unhappy land, you are cordially invited to this service. A meeting of the congregation of the church is called at the close of the morning service. Every member is earnestly requested to be present as matters of vital interest to the church will be discussed.

We have it now, on the authority of Mrs. Schmeiz, the proud grandmother, that it was a daughter the stork brought, and we humbly beg the pardon of Miss Dorothy Augusta, for calling her a boy.

One would have to go far to see a fairer sight than the old fields of Hon. T. E. Wilson at Sylvan Lake. The grain is still fresh and tender, though in full head, a rustling, shimmering sea of silvery green as it waves in these glorious spring breezes. Since the cold weather of '98 and '99 Mr. Wilson has turned his back on the culture of citrus fruit and given his attention to general farming, for which his place is particularly adapted.

Clara, with its surrounding acres of park, tiled beds and pasture lands, its grove of tiny lake, fine stock and poultry, makes an admirable showing for a Florida country home and should be seen to be appreciated.

Laura Jean Libbey's Talks on Heart Topics

IF SHE HAS A HUSBAND.

"Place your hands in mine, dear. With their rose leaf touch. If you heed my warning, It will spare you much."

It is strange how a woman's nature seems to change if she has a husband.

The over-analytic, bashful maiden develops into the self-confident wife. The world's attitude seems to change for her.

She is the attraction at all gatherings. She is never a wallflower. The young men know that they can pay any amount of attention to her without their light baggage being taken seriously.

She can dispense with the formality of being attended by a chaperone if she chooses to attend a baseball game of an afternoon, or a theater of an evening.

She is Mrs. Sound So. This seems to give her a prestige, a right to be as democratic as she pleases. She is asked to look after the single girls of a party, although some of them may be half a dozen years her senior.

She sets her approval or ban upon the dances of the day. The single men may admire her to their hearts' content. Single girls look on complementarily knowing they have nothing to fear. She has a husband, and is never in want of an escort.

She is well equipped to look after the love affairs of her single sisters. She can get up unique little affairs to bring the single folks together. The young men follow her advice in selecting a sweetheart. Her encouragement, or discouragement makes of breaks of many a match.

If a woman has a husband she ought to be able to do a great deal of good for her sister women. It should never be said of her by her friends "she has a splendid husband, yet she never helps any of her acquaintances to get good husbands." She who is happily wedded shouldn't insult the intelligence of her young women friends by declaring that there is any amount of single men her husband knows but there isn't one among the lot she'd care to introduce an intimate girl friend to.

She has a ready answer if this one or that one is mentioned, declaring this one couldn't support a wife, that one don't want any but a wealthy girl, who had an indulgent, liberal father. Another wouldn't marry any one but an orphan, he has a fear of a mother-in-law. It's rather discouraging to single women to hear the woman who has a husband pile up objections to get out of helping others to happiness. It is the duty of the married woman to help wedlock on. She should not forget the days when she was single, looking around to discover if she could find the mate who was in store for her. She, who has found a good husband should think kindly of all men for his sake.

ARE YOU IN LOVE?

"Do you think you love me, do you? Well, it may be so; but there are many ways of loving. I have learnt to know. Many ways, and but one true way. Which is very rare; and the counterfeit look brightest. Though they will not wear."

A woman is pleased to admit the fact that Cupid has knocked at her heart—found her in a responsive mood. But most men, if asked the point blank question, "Are you in love?" will deny the soft impediment. They try to be honest with themselves and with those who would know their heart's secrets. They really wish they could convince themselves one way or the other. Few people are shrewd enough to recognize Cupid if, perchance, he roams hidden behind and arrow beneath his coat as he approaches. Most men wish from the bottom of their hearts there was some sort of book or pamphlet printed, giving the information, "How a man may be sure he is in love." Though he knew there was such a valuable guide, he would hesitate about calling for it at a book store.

If there was a young and pretty woman behind the counter, who would be apt to make sport of the would-be purchaser of the book, he would be apt to back out the door in the utmost embarrassment. A male clerk would turn his head away to avoid confronting him. The editor of the heart column seems to be his only refuge. There he reads the following:

If a man's mind runs constantly on one particular girl and he finds the evenings monotonous which are not passed in her society he is deeply interested in her.

If he thought comes to him every time he reads a pretty little love poem in the paper that he would like her to see it and he sends it to her, she is making an inroad into his affections. If he goes out of his way to make himself agreeable to her folks to gain her good will, he has a growing fondness for the girl. If it worries him to see her, entertaining other young men and the desire is strongly within him to fight a duel with them, his heart may be said to be scorched with the tender passion. If he commences to take notice of the kind of men who are lucky enough to win brides, he may be said to be "in the notion." If he goes among the married men he knows and leads the conversation around to the amount of money usually required, to start house-keeping, his mind is steadily itself to take the plunge. If all that his relatives and friends say to him against a certain girl proves to be of no avail, but on the contrary, causes him to be obstinate and the young lady's defender, even though it be against those nearest and dearest to him, Cupid's first arrow has winged him. If he arrives at the conclusion that she is the sweetest, dearest girl the wide world holds, and the truth forces itself upon him that life would be nothing to him without her—that her life would be to him heaven and her No a living death, he may be thoroughly said to be entangled in love's silken skein.

When the realization of his happy plight comes to him, he should listen to the voice of his heart, asking of her the all important question without delay. It's no use in trying to fight off true love. Like the whooping cough or measles it should run its full course. If happy results are to be expected. When a man is in love, marriage is the only means for keeping the rose in his heart forever in bloom.

BREAKING OLD IDOLS

"Oh, inexplicable as sweet Love takes my wife away, I cannot tell thee when we meet What most I long to say."

It is easy to surround oneself with friends believing them to be congenial. But it is quite another matter to break away from them after their faults have become known to us. They have turned themselves about on our everyday lives, clinging so tenaciously that there is no shaking them off.

A woman becomes acquainted with a man. He is chatty, breezy, has a fund of wit and humor at his tongue's end; is well versed in the art of ingratiating himself into the favor of the fair sex. She sees only the gilded, polished side of him. He proposes marriage on an all-too-short acquaintance. She listens to his eloquent pleadings and marries him.

He boldly suggests they might as well live with her father for the time being. If it is the first daughter he has married off her parent is delighted. They are given the best room in the house and waited on hand and foot. There are men wise enough to profit by the good fortune showered upon them. Others cannot stand prosperity. If wedlock opens a door to quick wealth it's "come easy, go easy" with many. It is when the young wife begins to associate with her husband that she finds his protestations of undying love are but a sham. Heaven pity the woman who has, she knows, forced upon her that she has been wedded not for love!

All goes as merry as a marriage bell until father-in-law shuts down upon him. When cash is not forthcoming and his rubs low the man's true character is revealed to the wife. Dissembling affection which cloaked his real sentiment drops from him. She finds him, angry, tyrannical, abusive.

Love is a tender plant. It cannot bloom, and live in cold and chill. The idol which she had enshrined in her heart is thrown from its pedestal; lies in fragments at her feet. There are some affections which can be patched up, though they are almost torn in shreds. When a man needs for any other reason save love the union never turns out well. It is a case of a broken staff sooner or later for the wife. When a woman finds this state of affairs the question arises in her heart:

Ought she to drag out a miserable existence, deceive the world into believing she is a loved and happy wife, when they are farther apart than ever? Where one woman would be justified in clinging to the broken spar of her hopes for her children's sake, another wife, who has no little loves that might be crushed by her action, would feel that it was wisest and best to sweep out the fragments of the broken idol and take up life anew.

This is one of the instances in which marriages can become a failure though entered into under the brightest of auspices.

There are some women who, sincerely love all interests in life when their idols are shattered. Others come out of love's crucible like refined gold, refusing to lose their grasp on life's happiness. They school themselves to be once more their bright selves. No heart, no matter how severely it has suffered from a broken love dream should give way to sorrow. It should draw a curtain between itself and the past through which it cannot glance backward. Better coax a smile to the lips. Faith in mankind should not be lost nor should one distrust the many for the faults of one.

Much happiness might come the way of the woman who keeps her heart and hopes up. If a wife is disappointed that a man should do right, and will countenance nothing else, husbands who have gone a long way on the wrong path have been known to repent and to turn over a new leaf.

Uses Horses to Drag Nets.

In the lower part of the Columbia river between Oregon and Washington men are often seen on horseback wading about in what appears to be an aimless manner. They are really fishing for salmon with huge dragnets, which are so heavy as to make the assistance of horses imperative.

Nothing in it. An advertiser calls his latest selling machine "The Ladies' Lydell." Now, if there is anything more wanting that delights the ladies, we should like to know what it is. There are something but delighted on a walking day.

COULD DO WITHOUT JOHNNY

Daddy's Sober Reflection Resulted in Restoration of Cherub to His Mother's Arms.

A Washington lawyer had a call recently from a woman in distress. The hubby, it seems, was given to the flowing bowl and spending more on his good times than in the upkeep of his home, so the wife sought the attorney with a view of relief in this unhappy state of affairs.

in the parlor and when she heard the crying boy to bed he heard snoring hot and uncomplimentary remarks following his embarrassed footsteps up the stairs. It took a pound of chocolate candy, five "funny papers" and two ice cream sodas to quiet his sorrow.

Day did not break soon enough for Jones. He managed to pull through a frosty reception at breakfast then started for his wife's rooms.

Thirty Years' Will Suit

The death of Mr. Richard Davey of Wheel Buller, near Redruth, England, reopened a litigation which has been going on at intervals of over thirty years.

Nearly 35 years ago his uncle, Capt. John Davey died at sea, leaving a will by which he bequeathed £200 a year to Mr. Richard Davey and the bulk of his estate valued at more than $300,000 to Richard Davey's unborn eldest son, Richard Davey being then unmarried.

Mr. Richard Davey married, but never had any children, and for 21 years the estate remained invested at interest. At the end of which time it amounted to about $200,000. Various attempts were made by Capt. John Davey's six sisters to break the will and at the end of 21 years the court allowed the next of kin to benefit to some extent from the income of the estate.

Captain Davey's will provided for his estate to go to charity in the event of his nephew having no son, but another attempt will be made to have it declared void.

How It Works in Georgia

The Marion Telegraph has always been considered one of the most conservative papers in the country. Therefore its statement can be relied upon. In a recent issue that newspaper published the following appalling facts relative to conditions in Georgia.

The report of the clinical director of the State Sanitarium regarding the great increase in insanity in Georgia, as a result of the use of drugs coming upon the heels of the report of the state chemist and the state drug inspector, brings to public attention a very serious situation in this state. The reports are made independently of each other, but they all indicate the same condition.

In the report of Dr. Green, the clinical director at the State Sanitarium, it is shown there has been a steady increase in insanity from the use of drugs during the past five years. During the same period of time there was a very slight increase in the number of cases from alcoholism, but the increase was so slight that it would be hard to say that it is significant. The increase in the drug cases, however, was great enough to cause alarm. The increase was more than 200 per cent during the five years including 1913, while the first two months of the present year show a jump to nearly 700 per cent. The record for the year will hardly show up as a record, but it will undoubtedly be a large increase over any former year.

The record increase not only includes cases of insanity proper, but a similar increase is shown in what are known as "habitual criminal class and sexual perverts."

The growing increase of the "drug habit" has been so pronounced that it was recently made the subject of reports by both the state chemist and the state drug inspector. Both reports are conservative and are made merely to direct attention to the growing evil. Dr. R. E. Stallings, the state chemist says, "Among the drugs analyzed this year were a number of samples of cocaine, which the inspector found was being sold illegally."

Sudden Shocks

IMPAIR THE SYSTEM, SHORTEN LIFE AND DO GREAT HARM.

If you know that you could cure yourself of a malignant disease by the use of dynamite, would you take the chance?

Calomel acts on the sluggish liver like dynamite on the solid rock. It shocks and upsets the organs and works much harm as proven by its after effects.

Modern science has discovered a vegetable substitute that produces all the desired effects of calomel without the shock or after troubles. It is so harmless that acids may be taken into the system immediately after the medicine without fear of after effects.

It aids liver, kidneys and bowels, and all poisonous accumulations and leaves the patient feeling new and strong.

FLORIDA, A CATTLE STATE

MISSOURI AND ILLINOIS ALONE, COULD USE 100,000 HEAD THIS SPRING

OUR STATE HAS MANY SUPERIOR ADVANTAGES IN THE CATTLE RAISING INDUSTRY

A dispatch from St. Louis, printed on our agricultural page today, tells the story of a great increase in the value of Florida cattle taken to Missouri a few months ago.

They must have been dipped, probably twice, for quarantine regulations demanded it. They were not good in quality when bought, but probably on account of the cattle tick.

The dispatch says: "Missouri and Illinois could use 100,000 Florida, Georgia and Alabama feeders this spring."

Sanford is the wonder of the universe. But the first idea exploded by the stranger is that with the proper effort of the united city there would be an end to our material progress.

The Sunday schools of Sanford had their slogan, "Everybody in Sanford in Sunday school in April" and they have done just that thing.

However, the ordinance is in print and it would be well for every driver to study it well and pay strict attention to details.

HEROIC WORDS

Officers of the United States navy have been famous for gallant and pregnant utterances that have passed into history and been taken to mottoes pointing to shining deeds.

Lawrence's "Don't give up the ship," Perry's "We have met the enemy and they are ours," Paul Jones' "We have not yet begun to fight," all of these are inscribed upon the proud.

Citrus fruit continues to roll in considerable quantities for this time of the year. The men who looked for fancy prices for grapefruit are suffering a little (?) from a bad attack of bad-guessitis.

With Havana shipping over 25,000 crates of pines a week, and Porto Rico shipping 16,000, and the season only beginning, Florida pineapple growers can consider themselves fortunate in not having their crops ready as early as they have been the last few years.

The tomato situation is not a good one just now. The East Coast crop will be the smallest that has been marketed in many years.

Whenever Hon. John S. Beard has been in Florida during a political campaign there has never been any doubt as to his sentiments.

The Euatla Lake Region nominates Bob Holly for president of the Press Association and calls him "founder of the Sanford Herald, the Celery City and the Holly haircut."

Sanford shipped 2,472 carloads of winter vegetables. For one district and for only a few weeks of the year, this is a sample of Florida productivity.

famine is not likely to be overcome in a year or two. It is practically world wide, and the south is the one section of the United States that can raise cattle abundantly and cheaply.

Peppers and egg plant are going out all along the coast and from some places in lower middle Florida and the west coast. These two vegetables will run clear into July.

What is left at this place and around the Palmetto section and around Tampa will bring fine prices. Florida Growers News.

He Put It Off Until too Late

There was once a man who never saw anything in his life so good that he could not find some excuse to put it off. And thus it was with saving his money—he put it off until some more convenient time—but that time never came and poverty caught him in sickness and advancing years.

Do not procrastinate, but start on the successful road today, by opening an account with the Peoples Bank of Sanford.

COUNCIL DOING THINGS

The present city council of Sanford is on the job at all times and every meeting night they pass an ordinance or two just to keep their hand in and these ordinances are for the benefit of the general public.

At the meeting last Monday night the council passed an ordinance regulating autos, motorcycles and other vehicles and it is a good one.

The cut out feature is cut out and the work of the officers is cut out for them if they enforce this provision about the cutting out of the cut out.

If the automobile or motorcycle does not make sufficient noise upon rounding a corner the driver must have a gong or whistle or fire alarm to awake the sleepy pedestrian and let him know that he is in the middle of a real, live city but the driver must not blow these musical chimes only when approaching the corners.

And yet with all the provisions of this ordinance there will be drivers who will attempt to pull that old gag about being ignorant of this ordinance and fall upon the clemency of the mayor.

However, the ordinance is in print and it would be well for every driver to study it well and pay strict attention to details for the policemen have strict orders to enforce the law and Mayor Thrasher has given his last warning.

Now if the city council will pass an ordinance just as strict governing the actions of the drivers of carriages and wagons upon the streets of Sanford we will indeed be living in a modern paradise.

All the fools do not drive motorcycles and automobiles.

OUR COMMERCIAL CLUB

The meeting of the Commercial Club last Tuesday night for the election of officers for the ensuing year brought out a nice attendance and the old officers were elected with the exception of some new directors.

Too long have the majority of the business men of Sanford stood aloof from the Commercial Club and allowed a few boosters to bear the burden. Too long have the people here slept over their rights when they should have been up and doing and under the united plan of the commercial body accomplished wonders in civic improvement and industrial development.

JUST KEEP ON FEEDING HIM

Secret of Keeping Father Happy and the World Moving is Really No Secret at All.

'How to keep husbands' is coming to be a more important subject with magazine writers than 'How to get husbands.'

Ninety-nine times out of 100 a husband can be kept by feeding him. When he comes home tired, feed him; when he finds fault with things, feed him; when he complains about business or the weather, feed him; when he has the blues about the hopes of the home team, feed him; when he suspects the poor quality of the last bit of apples, feed him; when he crosses, feed him; when he's angry, feed him; when he's sick, feed him; always feed him.

No husband who wanders or strays into the kitchen at evening, tired, worried, disgruntled, half-sour, out of sorts, can remain so after he has filled up on a juicy steak and warm pumpkin pie. No husband with a grudge against the pranks of the children that have torn his magazine, or the sporting section of the evening paper, who has had a good supper. No husband will go to his work with the blues if he has had the right kind of breakfast.

When great deeds are to be done, the world must be depended upon to do them; when great ideas are to be thought out, men with satisfied imaginations are the ones to think them; when skill is demanded, when strength is required, when intelligence is needed, it is the well-fed men who come forward to fill the demands.

On the one hand, a great leader either for his country or for his personal affairs, the conqueror in the man who eats good food and then matches force to victory. Depend upon it, feeding the men of the world is as much a social as an economic problem and the women upon whom it devolves to feed their husbands by doing it not only keep their husbands, but keep the world moving. —Wilmington, Del. Journal-Republican.

He Left the Book. He entered the street car with a parcel in his hand, and he bent down to place it at his back.

"Yes."

"Taking it home to read this evening?"

"Yes."

"The man with the book looked at the other in a queer way for half a minute, and then said:

"Did you want to see the book?"

"Oh, no, I'll take it home with me, you see?"

"That I can't loan it to you."

"No need, you'll leave it in the car."

"Oh, I see. Well, I shan't leave it."

He reached for the book and laid it on his knee, but after riding three blocks more he worked it behind him.

Black and began interested in the woman opposite. The first thing he knew he was carrying a book past his corner.

He suddenly started up and stepped out, and as he went, the man who had been talking to him reached back for the book and exclaimed:

"Told him he'd leave it behind and I'd take it home."

But the book wasn't there. The woman behind him had already grabbed it, and as it rested on her lap she stared straight out of the opposite window as if she were carrying a muscle when she walked out.

Two Debts to Be Remembered. Sir Thomas Lipton's grocery firm is in trouble in England, the war of five acres of it of bribing certain quartermasters to push its groceries in the army canteens.

A Chilean prospect, it is said, said the other day:

"Lipton was a great friend of the King Edward."

"The great friend?"

"Lent him money, you know. That's how he got his knighthood."

"Well, they say that King Edward once told Lipton to be a very smart dinner party at Sandringham. The queen, hearing of the invitation, took the king to task."

"The idea of a great friend of a nouveau riche grocer like that! Think what you owe society!"

"But think, my dear, the king checked, 'think what I owe Lipton.'"

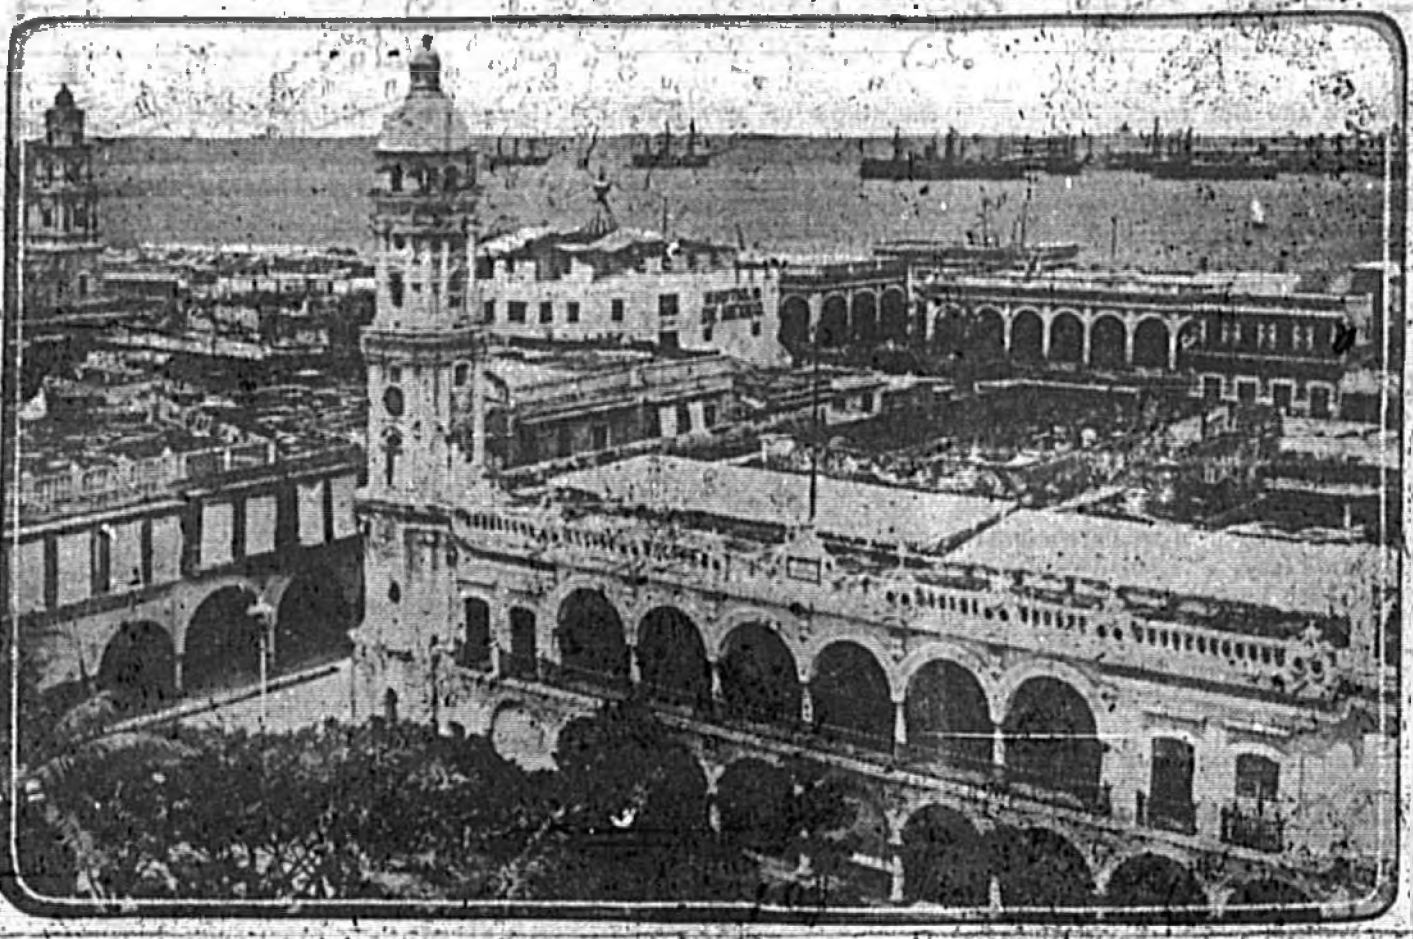

All Honor to the 'Safety First.' Professor Perkins of the University of Manchester, England, after years of experiment has just found a way to make cotton cloth fireproof, and this without injuring either its appearance or its wearing quality.

Before the association of cotton manufacturers held the second week in October, 1913, the professor exhibited some specimens of the cloth that had been washed and then treated in actual tests two years. After repeated trials it was found impossible to make the pieces of cotton burn. This invention is very important because it is expected to save many lives. Girls in factories have been frequently burned to death by their clothes made of light cotton fabrics catching fire.

Evidently Not Income Tax Payers. A burglar captured in the Joseph's first home the other night had $200 worth of plunder in his possession. To get half that amount of plunder at my house," remarked Sackie Mc-Kean, "the burglar would have to tag three more times and take away everything I have, including the furnace."

TELLS OF KING KEELY

Ted Sullivan, the discoverer of Connie Mack, the discoverer of the old St. Louis Browns and Washington, author of baseball books and of the only feature on disorganized subjects in existence, has a wide admiration for two players—King Keely of the past and Tyra Cobb of the present.

Years ago when I was in Washington, D. C., I was in 1888, you were playing baseball on our own grounds. My battery was composed of two men who were still very much in the public eye. Hank O'Day was pitching and Connie Mack catching.

I was sitting on the bench as usual. Keely was up to bat. Although I was naturally some distance from the plate, I could tell from Keely's determined look he was bound to reach first. He did this by drawing a base on balls. To begin with, he fouled off the ball and then he took a walk for a pass. Then when the ball started—although it wasn't actually for him. Then, that I could always appreciate good playing in an opponent. I think I was sportsman enough for that.

In some manner Keely seemed to know that the ball was coming to the plate. Just as the ball reached the plate he struck it and the ball went into the field. I saw the ball go into the field and I saw the ball go into the field.

King was laughing in his usual way. He was laughing in his usual way. He was laughing in his usual way. He was laughing in his usual way.

DECLARATION OF WAR BY HUERTA AGAINST U. S. IS EXPECTED AT ANY MINUTE

American marines were ordered to advance carefully and search every building for men bearing arms. Scores of prisoners were taken, most of them protesting that they were not guilty of any unfriendliness whatsoever toward the Americans. Accustomed as the Mexicans are to their own contending forces shooting immediately all prisoners, the captured men could not believe that they would receive less drastic treatment at the hands of the Americans.

Hot Fight at Naval Academy
The most spirited action on Wednesday was the taking of the naval academy. Aside from that fight there was no definite organized opposition encountered by the Americans. A hot fire was poured into the marines from the naval college which for a time held them back, but a few shots from the cruiser Chester, San Francisco and Prairie tore gaping holes in the stone walls and silenced the rifle fire of the Mexicans inside. The bluejackets were then enabled to proceed with their task.

A squad of soldiers continued to give considerable trouble to the Americans from the battered Benito Juarez tower. After they had been silenced and removed from the tower, it was discovered that they had continued fighting for lack of ability to do anything else. The shells from the warships Tuesday had torn away the stairway in the tower and the men had been compelled to remain in it.

At 10 o'clock Wednesday morning the Americans were in undisputed possession of all the city except the southwest quarter in which the barracks are situated, and a few outlying districts. At noon they had taken the barracks. When the city prison, which faces the main plaza of the city, was captured, Lieut. Commander Buchanan of the Florida inspected it. There was great surprise among the Mexicans who had gathered there that the prisoners were not released. They had been accustomed to seeing the victor always release prisoners and then impress them all into his army.

Chief of Police Antonio Villa Vencio was taken prisoner by the Americans shortly after they had occupied the main plaza of the city. It was suggested to him that he continue in his official capacity to direct the city's protective system. He took the matter under advisement. Had the frightened mayor made up his mind to accede to Admiral Platt's suggestion the Mexicans might have been spared the humiliation of being forced from their positions and undoubtedly a number of lives would have been sacrificed.

Coincident with the orders for the general advance of the Americans, an aged Mexican carrying the white flag of truce came down a street from the center of the city. He carried a letter to the chief of police. The only authority he hoped to reach, and desired Consul Canada to read it. It was an urgent appeal to the chief of police to call off the snipers and prevent the bombardment he believed would follow if they continued their shooting. Even before the messenger had climbed the stairs into the consul's office Captain Rush was informed of the contents of the note and immediately sounded "cease firing" and "halt." But it was too late. The action had begun all along the line and it was not considered wise to attempt further measures to stop it. The commanders ordered their men forward at double quick which they carried out with a vigor that afterwards gave them the city.

Blood-bespattered sidewalks, broken windows and bullet scarred walls gave the plaza a gruesome aspect. Within the Diligencia hotel there were forty Americans—most of them women—who had been there since the beginning of hostilities. When the square was taken they were immediately notified that they might go to other places if they so desired but that they probably would incur no further danger by remaining in the hotel.

Last of Federals Surrendered
It was not until late Tuesday that the last of General Maza's men on top of the hotel received written orders from outside the city to vacate their position. The order was obeyed by a portion of the 100 men who were occupying the roofs and vantage points in the interior but some of the band determined to disobey the orders and fight to the last. Nevertheless they surrendered Wednesday morning. A lieutenant in command of the Mexicans was led out a prisoner and although he had fought desperately he trampled and turned pale in the belief that he would be summarily executed.

None of the American women were in any way mistreated by the Mexicans during the occupation of the building. A few of the women helped the Mexicans in caring for the wounded.

Ancient Fortress Took No Part
In the center of the inner harbor, San Juan de Ullen, an ancient stone fortress, flew the Mexican flag throughout the attack. The commandant and sixty armed men and 300 workmen in the navy yard peered from the embrasures at the Prairie and the other ships shelling the

If You Don't Happen to Go to Church Don't Scoff at Those Who Do

If you don't care to join the ever increasing GO TO CHURCH throng DON'T BE A SCOFFER. Words are inadequate to describe the man who seeks to ridicule or make a jest of the uplift GO TO CHURCH movement. He who finds in it a target for his cheap wit should stop and think what the world today would be without churches. If you don't care to help along the movement don't decry it.

THIS GO TO CHURCH MOVEMENT IS A WINNER. IT IS SPREADING LIKE A PRAIRIE FIRE. IN THIS THE MOST MATERIAL AGE IT IS GRIPPING THE BIG MEN OF THE COUNTRY. THEY SEE THAT IT IS A FORCE FOR GOOD, NOT ONLY TO THE INDIVIDUAL, BUT TO THE NATION.

If the man who scoffs at the GO TO CHURCH movement could see himself as others do he would realize what a mistake he is making. The GO TO CHURCH movement is a serious, broad minded proposition. It will not be denied. In any city, town and hamlet in the United States there is a genuine religious awakening. It is not confined to any class or sect.

IT IS PLAIN THAT THERE NEVER WAS A TIME WHEN RELIGION WAS REALLY DEAD EVEN AMONG THE WORST. IT WAS SIMPLY DUMBERING. IT REQUIRED AN AWAKENING. AS IT GRADUALLY DAWNED THAT THE CHURCHES WERE BEING EMPTIED AND THAT FACT WAS BROUGHT TO THE MINDS OF THE PEOPLE, THEY WERE AROUSED.

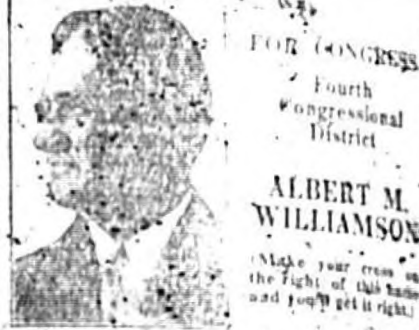

The GO TO CHURCH call found a quick and powerful response. As the call became generally disseminated there was a magnificent advance on the house of God. If you haven't joined the throng do it at once. If you have a social engagement for next Sunday break it for an engagement with God. If you have arranged for an auto drive, a game of golf or some other form of recreation remember that you ought to serve God. Will you serve him? You will!

THE FLORIDA PRESS ASSOCIATION HELD ITS 35th SESSION

FORT MYERS HONORED BY DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

R. J. HOLLY ELECTED AS NEW PRESIDENT

VICE-PRESIDENT MARSHALL AND WIFE GRACED THE OCCASION BY THEIR PRESENCE

The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Florida Press Association has passed into history of the organization and it was one of the best in any way. The distance made it almost prohibitive for many from West Florida and points on the lower East coast to attend but a large crowd had assembled on Thursday morning in the Gate City of the Tropics, beautiful Fort Myers. The fact that Vice President Marshall and his wife would be honored guests of the meeting brought many visitors to Ft. Myers and the hotels were crowded for the three days of the meeting.

The association was called to order on Thursday night in the High School Auditorium by President Russell. The address of welcome delivered by Dr. Porter on behalf of the city of Ft. Myers was responded to by Editor Triplett of the Kissimmee Gazette. The President introduced Vice President Marshall and for one hour he held the vast audience upon his every word in one of the most masterly addresses ever delivered before the Association. All were anxious for his opinion upon the Mexican trouble and he touched upon that subject as follows: "There is no war with Mexico unless one has been declared since I began speaking," said Vice President Marshall in addressing the Florida State Press Association.

"The taking of the customs house at Vera Cruz was not an act of warfare. Under international law it was simply an act of reprisal. Whether there is to be war or not I do not know. Nobody can tell. The gambler would say that it lay at the feet of fate. The poet would say that it rested upon the best of chance. But, for myself, looking back over the 125 years of glorious history, realizing all that it cost to lay the foundation of country, I believe this thing rests in the hands of God and I hope it may be the purpose of Him who rules the destinies of nations as He does the destinies of individuals that this cup may pass from the lips of the American people."

Mr. Marshall also equaled the patience of press and people with the

PIRATES KILL ENGLISH SAILORS

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-ENGLISH WHEN STEAMER IS LOOTED AND BURNED

Hong Kong, April 27.—One hundred eighty sailors perished when British steamer Taipan was looted and burned by Chinese pirates off Moan early today. The vessel carried hundred fifty passengers who were all taken off safely before fighting aboard.

transacted at the meeting held on Thursday and on account of the many visitors who were obliged to leave early, the election of officers and the selection of the next meeting place were held in the afternoon. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

R. J. Holly, Sanford, President; Chris. G. Robinson of Deland, Vice President; T. J. Appleby of Tallahassee, Secretary;

J. W. White of Jacksonville, Treasurer.

Jos. Humphreys of Bradentown, National Committeeman.

The night for the next place was very spirited and a large delegation of Kissimmee people were on hand to boost for their city, headed by Mayor May, H. C. Sanford representing the board of trade and many other prominent citizens.

Miami was the place selected after a close vote, as many had promised their support last year, to Oyster T. Conklin who has made a spirited fight for that city for the past two years.

The editors and their wives and Vice President Marshall were taken a trip down the river by steamer and passed through some very fine orange groves in which the county of Lee excels. The party was also taken in automobiles for many miles over the fine shell roads surrounding the city of Fort Myers and stopped at the home of Thomas A. Edson where cocktails were gathered for some time.

A reception tendered Mrs. Marshall in the afternoon of Thursday was attended by the visiting ladies. The reception was given by the ladies of Ft. Myers and was a brilliant affair and greatly enjoyed by all present.

On Friday night the Ft. Myers board of trade tendered the editors and visitors a magnificent banquet at the Hotel Bradford and witty toasts from many prominent people present proved to be a most enjoyable affair.

Before the banquet the business session was held at the Methodist church owing to the fact that the Lyceum was conflicting and the Gwynne auditorium was to be used. The meeting opened with invocation by Rev. G. F. Scott. President Russell presented Dr. J. A. Evans of the Agricultural Department at

HUERTA MAY DEMAND MORE THAN THE UNITED STATES WILL CONCEDE IS THE FEAR OF PEACE MAKERS

STRONG ANTI-HUERTA SENTIMENT

IN THE CITY OF MEXICO AND IT LOOKS AS IF THE MEXICAN TIGER MAY HAVE HIS CLAWS CUT AT HOME

Vera Cruz, April 28.—Refugees from Mexico City state strong Anti-Huerta sentiment beginning to be manifested. "Conspirators attempted Saturday to oust Dictator but failed. Huerta hid during the demonstration as his advisers feared assassination."

Washington, April 28.—War and Navy departments today continued actively preparing for extended campaign in Mexico. Diplomats of South America are bringing all possible pressure on Huerta to establish peace.

Washington, April 27.—Spanish Minister Riano today informed Secretary Bryan that Huerta unconditionally accepted principal mediation as involved in the proposed Brazil, Argentine, Chilean government envoys.

Independent Steamship Line. The introduction of the auto freight truck by the Ferrans, described last week, in a 2-ton Rino capable of 42 miles per hour, suggested to some business men the idea of starting a freight line to the St. Johns river to connect with the river steamers. When asked for their opinion they stated that this general class of freight seemed destined to be compelled to go through life without direct communication with Jacksonville via Aator and Seville, Barboursville or Piercon, hence they might as well do the next best thing—establish an auto overland to St. Johns river.

This calls to mind the proposals of the Sanford real estate men to establish an independent steamship line as thus described in the time of the Sanford Herald.

"The very latest wrinkle for making a greater Sanford is the idea of an independent steamship line incorporated by Sanford merchants

Washington, April 27.—Badger reports the Mexicans of Vera Cruz surrendered 6,000 rifles, 4,000 shot-gun, 1,300 revolvers, 1,000 swords, other weapons, 18,300 rounds ammunition, 600 pounds powder, 85 cases traces.

Washington, April 27.—In case of Huerta's acceptance of Mediation Principle regarded as step forward toward peace, but generally believed he will demand formal recognition of his government and evacuation of Vera Cruz. Neither accepted by United States.

Washington, April 28, noon. U. S. preparing to sound Carranza on Principle of Mediation. There is not much stock taken in Huerta's acceptance of Mediation as it is doubted if he will do anything until he is recognized by the United States.

and the money enough has been offered to make the initial payment on a number of vessels. Cheaper freight rates and better service will be the slogan and the St. Johns river will be kept open. What it should have become many years ago, the great highway for trade and travel. The idea of the river traffic being dependent on trains is unheard of in the other states except Florida and the freight to be by railroads can be charged up to Jacksonville and the whole interests. Presiding Elder Coming.

THIS INTERESTING MAN DREW A LARGE CROWD OF SANFORD PEOPLE

Thursday evening at the Congregational church in response to an invitation from the Welfare Department of the Woman's Club Mr. Marcus Fagg, late superintendent of the Children's Home Society addressed the club women and citizens of Sanford.

Mr. Fagg is a student of child laws and their application, as well as of the classes for whom they are provided and he had been requested to explain the widowed mother's right and pension law, which will probably be presented before our next legislature. This he did at length in the various forms in which it has operated in seventeen states during the past four years. Mr. Fagg is deeply sympathetic towards the mothers which shall prevent the separation of mother and child and shall lighten the burden that in the light of the experience of the states which have tested the law it seems one difficult to apply with justice. Mr. Fagg believes that if other laws were made and enforced whereby men were required to support their families that would furnish a better solution of the matter.

Mr. Fagg also told of improved conditions at the Marianna Reformatory, of the change of the name from the State Reformatory School to the State Industrial School for Boys, and of a provision by which boys may be committed to its shelter through probate judges instead of through regular criminal courts. And that under improved conditions there the state may expect in two or three years to have an institution of high order. The best feature of all, however, is that the stigma of criminality is removed and unfortunate and dependent boys are given a chance. A bill for a similar institution for girls will be strangely presented before the next legislature. The people of Sanford are always pleased to receive Mr. Fagg and appreciate the noble work which is being so splendidly accomplished by him and his society for the helpless children of the state.

SEN. FLETCHER IS HOPEFUL WAR MAY BE AVERTED

IF DECLARED U. S. MUST GET FULL PAY FOR ALL DAMAGES SUSTAINED

BLACK POINT MAY GET NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT

IS CONFIDENT OF RE-ELECTION. WILL REMAIN IN STATE UNTIL AFTER THE PRIMARY

Senator Duncan U. Fletcher returned last night from Washington to remain until after the primary election, in June, unless recalled to Washington because of urgent Mexican matters, which he does not expect.

Last night, to a representative of the Times-Union, Senator Fletcher said that when he left Washington officials were hopeful of a speedy settlement of the difficulty, without a declaration of war, and that no declaration from Mexico was looked for as press reports from the fighting republic have stated.

Not speaking for the administration, but solely from his personal standpoint, the senator said he believed the sooner the thing was begun and well attended to the better, and he did not approve of this country getting into war with Mexico, pledged to get out at any particular time or under any certain conditions. He thinks that the best thing to do in case there is open hostility declared, is to do just what was done in the case of Cuba.

"This country," he believes is not going to show itself to be dragged in and then get out without taking care of itself, and it should have ample reparation for all damages inflicted.

Huerta, he said, has wealth in Europe. Villa has an immense amount on deposit in New York and Texas; and he doesn't know about Carranza, but he doubtless is like the others, looking out for himself.

Both Villa and Huerta, he said, are issuing paper money, and it is being printed in Washington. They are having no trouble in financing their military operations.

Speaking of his senatorial campaign, the senator said that he was not in a boasting humor but must say that he is extremely gratified at all he is hearing from the state and that he is confident of his reelection.

Senator Fletcher brought good news relative to the National Guard encampment, which has taken away from South Carolina because of trouble the secretary of war had with Gov. Cole Bleas.

He said that in event of no declaration of war with Mexico, which would of course prevent, it now looks like Jacksonville will get the encampment as asked for at Black Point.
