Ten Events On Card, With 8th Race As The Feature Event

Rain or shine, beautiful Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club greyhound race track at Longwood south of here will open at 7 o'clock tonight for the presentation, promptly at 8:15 o'clock of the first of a series of 10 fast events involving top-notch dogs of the track.

An enthusiastic crowd stayed until the last race Saturday night to see two track records equaled and another one broken, and to reap a fine harvest of high prices which were paid on most of the winning dogs.

The feature race tonight comes off the eighth event in which War Leader, Officer Dale, and Open Heart are billed as the favorites. Least so says the elusive "Railway" whose selections hardly ever go wrong.

Enough Money Is Set Up For City Paving

Commission Told Of No Need To Worry That Project Will Not Be Completed

WPA Engineers At Conference

Work Cannot Be Continuous, Engineers Tell City Officials

Sufficient funds have been set up by the Works Progress Administration for completing the repaving of Park Avenue and First Street in Sanford, the City Commissioners were told at a special session today noon by T. K. Apgar, assistant director for the WPA in District No. 2, with offices in Orlando. Practically the same information was given by D. A. McCluskey, local representative of the Works Progress Administration.

Today's conference between the City Commission and the WPA engineers was decided upon at last night's session of the commission when the four were impressed that available WPA funds might be exhausted and a halt called on various projects before they are completed, and that the Sanford paving project might be included if there was a cessation of activities on the part of the Washington bureau.

This hour on the part of City officials was explained by Mr. Apgar and Mr. McCluskey today.

Mayor Deane told the WPA officials that the WPA officials had been told that the City would be left in a "very predicament" with several blocks torn up in different sections on the two streets being resurfaced. He asked if the work could not be concentrated, starting at one end of Park Avenue and continuing through without stopping around.

While assuming the Commission that funds set up for the project are sufficient to complete the paving work, the engineers explained that because of the nature of the work the paving should be done in different sections on the two streets in different blocks.

North Palmetto Ave. May Be Closed While Fair Is In Progress

City Commissioners last night instructed Chief of Police William to close North Palmetto Avenue, between Lake Shore Boulevard, during the week of the Seminole County Fair if such closing seems desirable. The street closing was requested by fair directors, but members of the Commission stated that it may be found advisable to keep it open for parking purposes even if no traffic.

Special Taxes Are Not Forgotten By City Commission

The Sanford City Commissioners are still thinking about levying special taxes, a proposal suggested several weeks ago but allowed to remain dormant until after the installation of the new commission.

Municipality May Have To Buy Stolen Bonds Of City Bought By Innocent Party

The City of Sanford may have to buy stolen property, to-wit: Three bonds in the value of $1,000 each. But if it does have to pay them the $3,000 worth of paper can be bought for about $450. The City Commission was so advised last night.

The bonds were delivered, along with other securities, to the W. S. DeKey Clay Manufacturing Co. of St. Louis for sewer pipe bought in bond days several years ago. Soon after their delivery to the sewer pipe manufacturer the three bonds were stolen. The municipal authorities were notified at the time, and they in turn notified various bond houses of the theft. And nothing was heard of the bonds for years.

Now they are up in Cinnamon where they were bought by J. S. Todd & Co., innocent purchasers, at 15 cents on the dollar.

City Attorney Fred R. Wilson advised the commission that the city could probably be made to pay for the bonds, but before any action is taken an effort will be made to contact the W. S. DeKey Co. and ask that certificate of it is still in existence, to indemnify the municipality.

Princess Theatre Permit Given By City Commission

Modern Building Is To Replace First Street Structure

Willing to cooperate in every possible way in bringing about improvement was shown by the City Commission last night when it voted to award a few technicalities in the building code applying to a completely new construction, and instructed Building Inspector G. P. Paxton to issue a permit for the remodeling of the old Princess Theatre on First Street.

Mr. Paxton told the commissioners that the plans call for steel posts to support the girders, thus relieving the walls of that strain; that there will be extra iron both sides of the stage, that the electrical equipment will be installed in conformity with governmental regulations, and that the structure, when completed, will be modern in every respect.

Joe L. Marcovitch, manager of the Palace and Princess Theatres, and H. A. Deaton & Phillips, contractor for the theater remodeling, appeared before the commission with the plans for the theater projects.

The Princess Theatre is to be practically rebuilt, at an estimated cost of $10,000. About two months' time will be required to complete the work, Mr. Marcovitch estimated. Palace Theater improvements, including the installation of extensive neon lighting and the laying of new carpets and the placing of new seats in the balcony, will cost about $5,000.

Senate Group Favors Paying Bonds To Vets

Consideration Of Bill In Upper House Is Expected Thursday By Committee Head

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Senate Finance committee today gave speedy approval to the coupon bonus payment bill by a vote of 15 to two. Senators Connors, Republican, Michigan, and Gerry, Democrat, Rhode Island, were the only senators voting against a favorable report on the measure which provides for full payment after June 15, next, of the bonus certificates in "Baby Bonds" redeemable in cash.

Chairman Harrison, Democrat, Massachusetts, said he would try to get Senate consideration Thursday. By a vote of 18 to nothing the committee authorized the Senate bill for that passed by the House last Friday which provided for full payment but specified no method of payment.

Mr. Roosevelt's testimony on Capitol Hill was said to have advised him several days ago that it was highly unlikely that sufficient votes could be found in either body to uphold another bonus issue. First indication that the Administration had capitulated came when Majority Leader Joe T. Robinson of the Senate predicted that some compromise measure agreeable to the White House could be agreed on.

J.S. Gordy Dies Of Heart Attack In Office Today

Drops Dead At Work; Was Believed To Be In Best Of Health

It was stated that a heart attack was the cause of his sudden death. He had seemingly been in the best of health, and talked and joked with friends only a few minutes before he died.

Mr. Gordy had been a resident of Sanford for about three and one-half years, coming here from Kalamazoo, Mich. He belonged to the First Methodist Church of Sanford and was a member of the Board of Stewards. He also belonged to the Masons and to the Shermans. He was 50 years of age.

Surviving relatives are the widow, one son, Julian Gordy of Lake Wales; one daughter, Mrs. Helen Gordy of Jacksonville; a sister, Mrs. Jones of Lake Placid, Fla., and his father and a brother in Texas.

Funeral arrangements will not be made until the arrival of the son and daughter of the deceased.

Fair Endorsed By Trade Body, Says Papworth

Our "indicated" endorsement by the County Chamber of Commerce of the Seminole County Fair to be given next week is stated by President H. M. Papworth of the trade body in the following letter addressed to the chief of the Sanford Herald:

"I have for the Seminole County Fair to be held the week of Jan. 21 in Sanford by the ladies of the Sanford Women's Club and the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs, have been shown me, and I certainly want to do anything possible to make this Fair a big success.

"The Fair means getting the families from all corners of our County together, to see the arts and crafts, antiques and the many exhibits that we have in our County. We think it a splendid idea to have the fine art exhibit in the Arcade Building where people with practically no previous knowledge will be glad to show them to the patrons of the Fair.

"A carnival company will furnish the amusement and I understand that they have a wonderful free act.

"The Chamber of Commerce endorses this Fair one hundred percent and any assistance we may be to you will be gladly rendered."

Massing Of Fleet In Mediterranean Is To Guard Against Attack Possibility

Bombs Fall Upon Ethiopian Church

10 Killed Or Wounded And 10 Blinded In Demolished Church

The British warships steamed southward today toward the Gibraltar gateway to the Mediterranean as Premier Laval of France began a period of watchful waiting for a settlement of the East African war. Authoritative sources at London said that massing of English craft off the coast of Spain was a defensive preparation against any Mediterranean attack.

The departure of the British ships left the island kingdom without the protection of its major naval strength, although a part of the cruising fleet was held back to await the arrival of four warships withdrawn from stations in southern waters.

This fleet is made up of 19 warships, representing the sally depleted remnants of Britain's home fleet—most of it having been sent to the Mediterranean. It is composed of the battleships Rodney and Nelson, the aircraft carrier Furious, the cruiser Calvo and 15 destroyers.

The admiral announced the home fleet ships would reach Arona Bay, Spain, Jan. 17 and engage in maneuvers until Jan. 22, when it will proceed to Gibraltar, arriving the 24th. The ships will remain at Gibraltar until Feb. 7, when they will steam to various nearby ports, returning to Gibraltar Feb. 17 to remain for an indefinite time.

Mrs. Brinton was born in Westmoreland county, Pa., on Sept. 11, 1868, and funeral services will be held in her native state. In addition to her daughter, the deceased is survived by two sons, John and Eugene A. Brinton, both residents of Sanford, Fla., one brother, E. K. Chasewick of Jamaica, Fla., and three sisters, Mrs. C. C. Brinton, Miss Elsie Chasewick and Miss Belle Chasewick, all of Jamaica.

"Nine Old Men"

Because members of the United States Supreme Court have in recent months, occasionally been referred to as "nine old men," the public may have gained a general impression that they are an old and unusually long-lived group. But, according to a survey made by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians, Supreme Court Justices, as the class of their appointments, have practically the same expectation of life as men of their ages in other professions. The survey covers the history of Supreme Court members during the 146 years of the Court's existence.

During these 146 years, 78 appointments and 2 reappointments—John Rutledge and Charles E. Hughes—have been made to this body. Of these 76 men, 66 are dead, their average age at death being 71.4 years. This, the statisticians point out, cannot be called a particularly advanced age, despite the fact that there have been three nonagenarians and nine octogenarians on the Supreme Bench since its foundation. The statisticians compute the aggregate years of life expectation of these 66 men at the time of their appointment was 1,205, while the total number of years actually lived was 1,265. (This means that, as a group, each lived about one year over the life expectancy of men of their ages in ordinary walks of life.)

From the Civil War the total years of life expectation of the Supreme Court Justices appointed numbered 712, while their actual years of life numbered 713. Subsequent to the Civil War, the number of years lived by the Justices exceeded the expectation of life at the time of appointment by an average of 2 years each—553 years lived as against an expected 551 years. The statisticians comment "It can hardly be said, therefore, that life on the Supreme Court Bench is unduly conducive to longevity as is generally supposed."

The average age of appointment of the Justices has increased from approximately 43.5 years before 1862 to an average of 55.5 years since that date. "Of the 26 men appointed during the earlier period," the statisticians report, "4 were in their thirties; 11 were between 40 and 49 years; 15 between 50 and 59; none had attained the age of 60."

Following the Civil War, some means, possibly the rapidly growing complexity of our legal structure, seems to have diminished the appointment of men of older years. Consequently, of the 41 men appointed since 1862, none was under 40; only 6 were under 50 years of age; 25 were between 50 and 59; and 13 between 60 and 69.

However, the older average age of appointment since the Civil War seems not to have affected their ability to carry on, if we may be guided by their greater longevity as compared with that of judges appointed in prior years. The average age at death of these later Justices was almost four and one-half years greater than that of the earlier group—73.7 years as against 69.5."

The Way To World Peace

The best way to promote the peace of the world is to encourage international trade and to facilitate in every way possible the economic well being of all nations. This is the conclusion which was set forth in a recent speech delivered by Cordell Hull, secretary of state, who said that "The American people, in common with other peoples in the world, have, during the past 12 months, come to a growing realization of the necessity for international economic co-operation as the best guarantee of prosperity and peace."

"By the negotiation of reciprocal trade agreements," the Department of State has actively exerted itself to remove indefensible barriers to trade and restore a reasonable free flow of commerce," Secretary Hull declared. "It is my sincere conviction that the surest foundation of world peace is a mutually profitable trade among all nations."

"The United States has done its utmost to maintain peace by strengthening and safeguarding our friendship with other nations and by contributing to the termination of any armed conflict. . . . When the President proclaimed the existence of a state of war between Albania and Italy, the embargo of arms, ammunition, and implements of war became effective, and its position is announced that any of our people who voluntarily engaged in transactions of any character with either of the belligerents would do so at their own risk."

"Shortly thereafter I explained that what had been done was based upon the policy of keeping this country out of war, and that our people should realize that the universal uncertainty created by war is a serious handicap to business and that the longer a conflict is continued, the longer there is general business restriction and stabilization which is infinitely more important than the continuance of trade with belligerents."

"In other statements during the year I have emphasized the final purpose of this government, first, to prevent this country being involved in any foreign conflict, and second, to assist in the restoration of peace and stability of our world. . . . I have declared myself and to it I will devote myself in the future."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

During the past twenty years, Sanford has grown from a small town to a city. The population has increased from 1,000 to 15,000. The city has become a center of industry and commerce. The Sanford Record has been published here since 1898.

THE COURTS

By ARTHUR H. HARRIS

The Supreme Court has just handed down its decision in the case of United States v. Schechter Poultry Corp. The Court has held that the National Industrial Recovery Act is unconstitutional. This decision is a major blow to the New Deal and to the federal government's power to regulate interstate commerce.

The Court's decision is based on the Commerce Clause of the Constitution. It holds that the Commerce Clause only gives Congress the power to regulate interstate commerce, not to regulate intrastate commerce. The National Industrial Recovery Act gives Congress the power to regulate intrastate commerce, which is beyond its constitutional authority.

The Court's decision is a landmark case. It limits the federal government's power to regulate the economy. It is a major victory for the states' rights movement and for the business community.

Farmer Leaders Are Also Scattered

Regulation Now Gets Chance To Forward Into Farm Program

By HENRY H. HARRIS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The six-three decision of the Supreme Court which swept AAA off completely overboard makes it possible for the Department of Agriculture to proceed forthwith in formulating a new farm program.

S. O. P. leaders in Congress were approached experts on agricultural legislation in the various farm organizations for their advice on what should be done. They were told to wait until the court had spoken on AAA.

Five of the farm organization leaders believed the Supreme Court would scuttle AAA completely. There was some doubt in their minds as to the constitutionality of the governing act, but they were confident some method could be devised to cope with an adverse decision in this respect.

It was an open secret that AAA officials had a variety of plans on tap ready for immediate submission to Congress. The sweeping declaration of the majority of the Justices, however, that AAA "invades the reserved rights of the states" and that "it is a statutory plan to regulate and control agricultural production, a matter beyond the power delegated to the federal government" rendered them useless.

The absence of expressions on the part of high Administration officials as to plans for the future indicates how completely overwhelmed all were by the court's decision.

Had the court gone even as far as to rule against use of the federal spending power in any way that would lend directly or indirectly to a control of farm production, AAA officials were prepared.

Congress would have been asked to amend the act to conform with the court's decision.

As the Supreme Court is scheduled to meet again in a few days, it is expected that the government will be presenting its case for the maintenance of the act.

It is believed that the government will be presenting its case for the maintenance of the act. The government will be presenting its case for the maintenance of the act.

When the farmer holds for the farmer himself in view of the stability of AAA is a subject of debate among agricultural leaders in and out of the Administration. Some believe AAA was not wholly responsible for taking the farmer out of his troubles. Others argue that better payments and the holding of authority for farm production are necessary.

Canaveral O.K. Is Postponed By Trade Body

Indian River Harbor Endorsement Withheld Until After Study Of Project

Canal And Road To Coast Desired

Effort Will Be Made To Get Highway 44 Improved By State

Action on a request from the Cape Canaveral harbor project directors that the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce endorse the proposed building of a port at that point on the Indian River was deferred at last night's meeting until the February session. In the meantime the proposed harbor is to be made a matter of study by directors of the Chamber of Commerce and information will be sought to show wherein another port on the east coast will be beneficial to this section of the state.

President G. M. Papworth of the trade body stated that there is no doubt but that the proposed harbor at Titusville, Fla., connecting the St. Johns River with the Atlantic Ocean, would be of much greater benefit to this county. This opinion was expressed at a recent meeting in Orlando called to consider the proposed project, but he not only expressed that opinion at the Orlando meeting, he said, but he had the same thing to say at the Sanford meeting. Among other benefits to be derived from the canal, this communication stated, would be cheaper water transportation from the Canaveral port through the Sanford-to-Titusville canal, than via the St. Johns from Jacksonville.

Since the Orlando meeting the Canaveral promoters have "latched" their project onto the proposed canal from this city to the coast. Mr. Papworth stated, and this was shown in the communication from Cape Canaveral read at the Chamber of Commerce meeting. Among other benefits to be derived from the canal, this communication stated, would be cheaper water transportation from the Canaveral port through the Sanford-to-Titusville canal, than via the St. Johns from Jacksonville.

Mr. Papworth announced his intention of attending the State Highway board meeting in Tallahassee on Jan. 27 where he plans to make a strenuous effort to get an improved highway between Sanford and the Atlantic seaboard. He called attention to the fact that Sanford and Titusville are the only county seat towns in Florida not connected by an improved highway. He hopes that Senator J. J. Bagwell had other Titusville men of prominence will attend the board meeting and help convince the highway officials of the desirability of putting No. 44 in the class condition.

It was reported that petitions for improving the highway have been already signed by Gov. Nathan, Duggan and Mims, and that the board of highway commissioners would be asked to sign the petitions.

Trade Body To Seek Changes Next Month

At the annual meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, held in Sanford on Tuesday or Wednesday of last week, the board of directors of the trade body voted to send a representative commission to the State Highway Board in Tallahassee next month to urge the improvement of the highway between Sanford and Titusville. The commission will be headed by President G. M. Papworth and will include other members of the board of directors.

Future Farmers Earn $3,751 In Projects Carried On At Home While Going To School

Three thousand, seven hundred and fifty-one dollars were earned last year by 32 High School boys in home project work carried on in conjunction with their school work, according to the yearly report forwarded to Tallahassee today by Alex R. Johnson, instructor in agricultural subjects at the Seminole High School. The boys belong to Seminole Chapter of the Future Farmers of America and the net profits of $3,751.41 came from farming operations they carried on at home during the year. At the same time, however, the boys all went to school, carrying full courses there and getting as high marks (higher in some instances, it was said) as others who had no work to perform out of school hours.

Japanese Quit Naval Confab; Demand Parity

U. S. Is Opposed To Naval Equality; London Conference Is Without Result

LONDON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Japanese delegates announced tonight their withdrawal from the International Naval Conference. Their decision, signifying the ending of the five-power discussions seeking to effect an agreement on naval limitations to replace the expired Washington and London treaties, was announced following a "show-down" session of the conference. Discussions had been deadlocked by the Japanese demand for fleet equality and "common upper limit" tonnage.

Norma Davis, American delegate, read to the conference the flat refusal of the United States to discuss Japanese equality demands. The conference's breakdown, a Japanese spokesman said, is due "not to the adamant opposition of the Japanese but to the adamant opposition of other delegations to the Japanese proposition."

"We would be quite willing to leave observers, behind depending upon the nature of the invitation given them. It is our earnest desire not to make international feeling any worse. We do not think our withdrawal will mean a building race, unless the atmosphere of naval competition is created by others. We do not intend to start one."

Delegates of other nations tentatively agreed to continue the talks on a four power basis—Great Britain, the United States, France and Italy participating.

Nye Says Wilson Falsified About U.S. Entry In War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Chairman Nye, Republican, North Dakota, of the Senate munitions committee asserted today that Woodrow Wilson "falsified" in chronicling some of the circumstances surrounding American entrance into the World War. He attacked Wilson's post-war story that he did not know at the time this country went into the struggle of secret treaties between the Allies for redistribution of Europe.

Chairman Nye interpreted facts found in the diplomatic documents as showing a constant easing of neutrality restrictions to accommodate America's vast and growing sales of war supplies to the Allies.

Hauptmann's Wife Tells Him Court Denied Last Plea

TRENTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Mrs. Bruno Richard Hauptmann told her husband today his desperate plea to the Federal Circuit Court had failed and that a reprieve remained the best hope of escaping the electric chair Friday night.

Defense lawyers went ahead with plans to ask Governor Harold G. Hoffman for a reprieve. Meanwhile the governor announced through his press aide that he had "reached no decision." It was said he was continuing his private investigation of the case and seeking legal advice upon his power to reprieve at this late date. What, if any, comment Hauptmann made on the turn of events was not disclosed.

Rejecting all of the arguments of defense counsel that Hauptmann's trial at Flemington was surrounded by prejudicial influences, U. S. Circuit Court Judge J. Warren Davis said yesterday that to grant the writ he would have to overrule both the New Jersey Court of Errors and Appeals and the United States Supreme Court.

Despair was written on the faces of the defense lawyers as they left the court room. "That is the end," said one of the five attorneys who would not be quoted by name.

Central Florida Council Meeting Attended By Many

This morning's meeting in Howey-in-the-Hills of the Central Florida Council of Chambers of Commerce was the most largely attended of any such meetings since the council was formed, it was reported by Karl Lehmann, former secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and now acting in a similar capacity for the organization. He said that every city between Melbourne and St. Augustine and from Ocala to Kissimmee was represented with the exception of Sanford and Winter Park. Altamonte Springs in this County was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Benj. F. Haines.

Frank D. Waterman, New York, of fountain pen fame, was the principal speaker, and told about the advertising in New York papers of Florida citrus fruits. Representatives of the Florida Citrus Commission were also present and exhibited copies of advertisements now running in northern newspapers and demonstrated the program being given over 22 radio broadcasting stations.

On the bill of fare at this morning's breakfast was baked grapefruit, something Mr. Lehmann said he had never heard of before. He said the grapefruit was baked in brown sugar and then smeared with butter and sprinkled with cinnamon and served hot, "and it was delicious."
