How Your Tax Dollar Is Spent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—This breakdown in pennies shows how each dollar of the $39,700,000,000 budget proposed by President Truman today would be spent in the 12 months beginning next July 1:

Table with 2 columns: Category and Cents. Categories include National Defense (Army, Air Force, Navy), International Affairs, Interest on National Debt, Social Welfare, Health and Security, Refunds on Taxes, Transportation, Communication, Natural Resources, General Government, Agriculture, Education and General Research, Finance, Commerce and Industry, Reserves for Contingencies, Labor, and Housing and Community Facilities.

Truman's Budget

(Continued from Page One) percent of the total and up $1,500,000,000. After allowing for veterans benefits, interest on the public debt and tax refunds, Mr. Truman said, only 21 percent of the outlay would remain for social welfare and ordinary expenses of government.

He injected a note of optimism, however, with an estimate that "under existing tax laws" federal revenues will yield a record-breaking surplus of $7,482,000,000 this year and another of $4,808,000,000 in the following 12 months if Congress adopts his fiscal plan.

The chief executive said income tax for the 1948 fiscal year, now half over, should reach $45,210,000,000, the highest for any year except the $46,467,000,000 received in wartime 1945.

He estimated next year's receipts at $44,477,000,000. But Mr. Truman insisted the government would not increase over spending to scale down the $256,000,000,000 public debt. He said the debt should be cut to $250,000,000,000 by next June 30 and to $245,000,000,000 one year later.

To do this and still leave room for the $40-per-person tax cut he suggested last week, the President reiterated his call for a $2,500,000,000 hike in corporation taxes.

The new budget is based on the assumption that Congress will accept a variety of other projects outlined in Mr. Truman's state of the union message which GOP leaders denounced as "Hanta-Claus" bidding for votes.

It includes a new program of financial aid for state school systems, health insurance, extension of social security to such groups as farmers, domestics and the self-employed, long range housing aid, and expanded flood control.

Mentioned for future consideration is a new sea level canal to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Mr. Truman's $45,210,000,000 income estimate for the current fiscal year was $3,458,000,000 higher than the one he made in August. His spending program of $37,728,000,000 was up $728,000,000.

He ticked off his main spending proposals for next year as follows: National defense—$11,000,000,000 to maintain the Air Force, Army and Navy at "current strength" and to give a $400,000,000 start to a proposed $2,000,000,000 a year universal (compulsory) military training program.

International affairs—$7,000,000,000, including $4,000,000,000 for the Marshall Plan of aid to Europe, $440,000,000 for "other" proposed aid, $1,250,000,000 for Army-provided relief in occupied areas, and $500,000,000 in trade promotion loans, mostly to Latin America.

Veterans programs—$5,100,000,000, 15 percent of the total and $786,000,000 less than this year. Interest on the public debt—$4,808,000,000, 13.3 percent of the total and $50,000,000 more than this year, largely because of international accumulation on the masses of savings bonds bought during the war.

Social welfare, health and security—$2,000,000,000, 5 percent of the total and $70,000,000 more than this year. This would include increased aid to dependent children and the blind and initial administrative costs of the proposed health insurance program. The medical-care benefits would be self-financing through a 1 percent tax on payrolls, beginning next July 1.

Tax refunds—$1,900,000,000, 5 percent of the total and up $440,000,000. Natural resources—$1,500,000,000, 4.1 percent of the total and $147,000,000 above this year. Atomic energy development work—$660,000,000, a $204,000,000 boost; flood control $449,000,000; a $125,000,000 increase, and reclamation $269,000,000, up $25,500,000.

Transportation and communication—$2,000,000,000, or 5.1 percent of the total and $215,000,000 more than this year. Biggest items: $476,000,000 for highways, a $78,000,000 increase; $321,000,000 to cover a deficit in postal operations; $111,000,000 for airport building and improvement,

General Under Oath Before The Senate, Assumes Full Blame For All Trappings

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Brig. General Wallace H. Graham's broker testified today that under written instructions he held Graham's wheat trading account open until Nov. 23, 1947, seven weeks after President Truman had criticized grain speculators.

Harry Brinker, customer's man for Bache & Co. brokers, also told the Senate Appropriations Committee he does not remember specifically that Graham called him after the President's Oct. 6 blast against speculating.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Brig. General Wallace H. Graham testified today that he got out of the wheat market—except for one small trade—after President Truman criticized commodities speculators last October. But he said he continued to deal in cotton until Dec. 18.

Under oath before the Senate Appropriations Committee, the President's personal physician said, too, that he assumed personal responsibility for the trades. Previously, he had said publicly in a statement that his broker made commodity purchases for him without his knowledge.

Graham told the committee that all of his dealings on the commodities exchanges, including cotton and cottonseed oil, were made through his broker.

GOP Attempts 5 Billion Cut In Demo Budget

Chairman Declines To Specify Items To Be Cut; Notes High Foreign Aid Outlay

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Republicans set out today to chop some $5,000,000,000 out of President Truman's $39,669,000,000 budget for the year starting July 1.

The Foreign Aid Program appeared likely to be the main target of the money saving drive. A $5,000,000,000 slash was the tentative goal set by Chairman Taber (R-N.Y.) pending a meeting of the Senate House Budget Committee to go over details of the unprecedented peacetime spending estimate Mr. Truman sent to Congress yesterday.

While Taber declined to specify just what items most likely would be singled out for cuts, he noted that the President's estimate of actual foreign aid outlays during the year and his requests for funds to finance other projects not yet authorized by law run well over $5,000,000,000.

For example, he said, the President wants half a billion dollars to finance Universal Military Training legislation, which Congress has not enacted and which some of its top leaders expect it to be set aside for at least another year.

Taber pointed out that while the Marshall Plan for European recovery contemplates a $6,390,000,000 appropriation for the first 15 months, the budget says only $4,000,000,000 of that sum will be spent during the 12 months starting July 1.

The New Yorker termed even that "too much."

Roosevelt Bolters Force Selection Of GOP Delegate First Time In Years

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 13 (AP)—It appears a lot of Florida Democrats, by bolting away from the Roosevelt ticket in 1944, have forced selection of the rival Republican Party presidential nominating convention delegates by popular vote for the first time in years.

Attorney General Tom Watson advised Secretary of State R. A. Gray yesterday that since the Republicans polled more than 20 percent of the total vote cast in the 1944 general election their candidates for national convention delegates this year "must" win in primary elections.

Democratic convention delegates long have been chosen by primary election states, but heretofore the Republicans have been allowed under a "minority party" law to select their delegates in state and district executive committee meetings.

Although there were only 35,397 registered Florida Republicans in 1944, and only 9,220 of them voted in a party primary contest to nominate a candidate for governor, there were 143,215 votes for the highest Republican presidential elector in the general election.

That means if you want to go as an official delegate to the Republican National Convention this summer you must qualify with the secretary of state for a place on the May Republican Party primary ballot from either your congressional district or the state at large.

All 46 Rescued From Transport Connolly

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—All 46 survivors who abandoned the Army's flame-awep funnel transport Joseph V. Connolly were safe today aboard two other vessels after a dramatic rescue from life boats in which they had tumbled 11 hours in raging North Atlantic seas.

Rescue of the 46—the Connolly's 45 crewmen and its lone passenger—was completed last night after an all-day air and sea search for the survivors who abandoned their blazing ship in a northeast gale some 300 miles east of New York. The half-frozen men were picked up by the Army transport General H. E. Callan and the Black Diamond Line's Union Victory which sped to the scene after intercepting the airtaken Connolly's calls for help earlier in the day. Long-range air force planes from Kindley Field in Bermuda aided in the rescue.

"This commission will expect the City Manager and all department heads to carry out all their duties in an efficient and courteous manner, realizing at all times that they are working for and being paid by the public."

In the past there has been some dissension within certain departments.

Committee Of Vets Urges Restoration Of Price Controls

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The American Veterans committee today recommended restoration of limited rationing and price control, but opposed President Truman's companion request for standby power to control wages.

The committee's report, which was outlined in the organization's views to the Senate Banking Committee.

The proposal clashed sharply with the ideas of many Republican Congress members on Mr. Truman's 40-point anti-inflation program.

Their hostility was pointed up by Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate group policy committee, who said in advance of today's hearing that meat rationing, for example, would raise black market prices and lead to even higher prices.

Among other bills designed to implement Mr. Truman's program, one by Senator Taylor (D-Ill.) would restore rationing. The committee expects to receive another measure later this week providing for reversion of meat rationing machinery.

Senator Asks Question After Anderson Said U. S. Can Meet Aid Shipments

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson vigorously denied today that Administration requests for standby rationing and price controls power over meat and other foods stem from shipments planned under the European Recovery Program.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee raised this question after Anderson said the United States can meet huge food shipments to Europe under the aid plan.

The Administration is seeking $6,800,000,000 for the first 15 months of the proposed four-year recovery program known as the Marshall Plan.

Anderson commented that "no meat" for two years under the Plan and Vandenberg said the effect of the proposed exports upon domestic consumers is a big worry.

"Do you mean that if we have meat rationing, the export program would have no effect?" Vandenberg asked.

"Yes, it has no relationship to this program (foreign aid)," Anderson replied, adding that the present meat shortage results from a "very large slaughter" and a short and high-priced corn crop.

"That's a most persuasive statement," (Continued on Page Seven) take other action to "help themselves."

Griswold's statement was made at a news conference. The mission currently is administering a grant of $300,000,000 from the U. S. Treasury.

An authoritative source said large sums of money had been loaned by banks to industrialists for productive purposes and that the loans, instead of being repaid, are being used for speculative purposes.

It was learned that the mission sent a memorandum to the government several days ago charging War Minister George Stratos with lack of cooperation and suggesting that, unless his attitude changes, he be removed.

The latter part of the memorandum later was recalled, but an authoritative source said the mission's "think-in" in this matter has not changed.

The same informant said Stratos had been running the War Ministry without consulting the military or civilian section of the American mission.

area of the port city of Haifa, where one Jew was killed when a large party of Arabs attacked Jewish laborers. Police engaged the attackers, who were believed to have suffered casualties.

A Jewish agency spokesman said a "big bang would be the logical outcome" if Arabs persist in their siege of the 1,500 Jews in Jerusalem's old city. The Jews have been virtual prisoners since New Year's day.

"If any of these days you hear a big bang, with plenty of innocent people killed, don't be surprised," the spokesman said.

Arab guns command all the entrances to the old city. Two convoys of food, brought in by British service personnel, have gone through to the Jewish quarter. The Jewish agency has suggested that authorities blast a hole in the historic walls or reopen one of several closed gates.

A British soldier wounded at Beit Safafa yesterday died in a hospital, and a British constable died of wounds suffered several days ago in Haifa.

Twenty-six explosions and a three-hour period in the Jewish sporadic gunfire were heard in attack on the Sheikh Jarrah quarter.

The outbreak was the latest in a series in recent days in the Jerusalem vicinity. Officials said British soldiers killed three Arabs yesterday in trying to clear out a snipers' nest in nearby Beit Safafa. Gunfire was resumed briefly yesterday in the Mekor Haim Jewish settlement, just outside Jerusalem, scene of an all-day battle Sunday.

A Jew wounded in the Mekor Haim shooting died in Jerusalem in Hadassah Hospital today.

AN AUTOMOBILE DEALER TALKS BACK!

ANONYMOUS

This article is reprinted from the October 1947 issue of CORONET Magazine, with the permission of the editors of Esquire, Inc. The author of this article is a successful automobile dealer in a large Eastern city where the agency has been in the hands of his family for more than 20 years. For obvious reasons, he prefers to remain anonymous. With refreshing candor, he presents the dealer's side of the question: "Why can't I get a car?"

Holler Motor Sales

"BILL, I'LL GIVE YOU $3,000 for a 1947 four-door sedan. I have a customer who needs the car badly, and he has the cash waiting."

These words had a familiar ring. Another used-car dealer was trying to buy a new car, at $500 to $1,000 over list price.

Let's examine this "deal." The car for which I was offered $3,000 is listed at $2,200 on a wall chart in my showroom. This chart is a hangover from OPA days and is still there for all to see. Thus my extra profit would be $800.

But the used-car dealer must reap a fat profit too, probably $400. So the additional cost to the customer who needed that car "right away" would be $1,200. In other words, $3,400 is offered for an automobile which sold for about $1,300 before the war.

The public is well aware that this prodigious profit exists potentially for the new-car dealer. They feel these dealers are taking advantage of the situation and, as proof, point to the number of new cars available on used-car lots for ridiculously high figures. They say that the legitimate dealer in new cars no longer exists; instead, he is taking advantage of a lush opportunity to pyramid profits.

I assure you that nothing could be further from the truth. I will not attempt to make excuses for the unscrupulous dealers who are lining their pockets, but they are actually a small minority. They consist largely of newcomers who managed to obtain a dealership, who will "milk" it to death and then unload it when the going gets difficult.

THE LEGITIMATE DEALER long established in his community is selling all his new cars at the manufacturer's suggested list price. Why? Because he is prevented from accepting bonuses by the basic fundamentals of good business.

In the first place, he cannot destroy the good will of customers. Many of these have been dealing with him for a long time and their business is essential to carry the dealer over the difficult, competitive years ahead.

In the second place, most dealers, in selling the few cars they receive, are making more money than ever before. If for no other reason than tax saving, it is better for the dealer to spread his income over the years. He can see little advantage in cramming profit into one year at the expense of probable lower tax rates in the future.

In the third place, most dealers conduct their business in small communities where they are known personally. Their reputation and integrity must be maintained for their own personal good, which means no shady transactions.

Lastly, the new car dealer will not risk losing his manufacturer's franchise. With five years of tremendous profit possibilities ahead in legitimate business, why should he risk his entire future for shady profits that he does not need now?

Therefore, when a 1947 automobile appears on a used-car lot, place the blame where it belongs. Place it on the greedy individuals to whom the dealer sold cars in good faith, and who resold these cars at big profits.

Take the case of Mrs. T., a respected housewife in my community. During the war, Mrs. T. could get only an A gas-ration book. Disappointed because she could enjoy little use of her car, she sold it. But at the time, she had foresight enough to order a new car.

A week after she received delivery, she was offered $700 over the purchase price. The more she thought about it, the bigger that $700 looked. She felt she could do without a car a little longer for that kind of money. So here was another quick victory for the used-car dealer — and another black eye for the legitimate merchant.

MOST PEOPLE BELIEVE that it is the easiest thing in the world for the dealer to accept $500 under the table when he makes a delivery to John Dough. But no legitimate dealer who gives a hang for his reputation is doing this either.

It is natural for people to brag about their ability to spend money to get what they want. It takes John Dough about one day to boast around the community that he got his car quick — and paid through the nose. When his neighbor, who has been suffering silently for 13 months waiting for a car, learns that Dough got his car in a week through a bonus, he is finished as a future customer. What is more, he tells the world that the dealer is dishonest.

Another common complaint is that a trade is required before the dealer will deliver a new car. This is untrue. Records of the majority of dealers will show that on less than half the new cars did they take in a used car.

I have obtained trade-ins on only 34 per cent of my new car sales. Here again there are a few dealers who, out for the last dollar, ignore purchasers who do not have a used car. But this near-sighted policy is not observed by the long established dealer who intends to stay in business for years to come.

Dealers are also accused of trying to trade the used car at a very low figure. The price is low, however, only when compared to the probable offer the customer has had from a used-car lot.

The used-car dealer will take a car, make minor adjustments, polish it, and sell it for substantially the same price that the new-car dealer can secure. But the latter, because he must guarantee the used car, must often spend $200 or so to put the machine into good condition. Hence, if the new-car dealer gives you within $100 of the figure quoted by a used-car dealer, he is being perfectly fair in most cases.

TO SHOW WHY THE long-established dealer is doing business legitimately, let me use my own company as an example. My best business repeat business, year after year, built on customers who will purchase in the future and come to me regularly for service.

I cannot afford to sell new cars to a neighborhood used-car lot because my customers would see the machines and accuse me of shady transactions. To my mind, I cannot think of a worse example of poor business judgment.

I can well remember the day when, with 20 or 30 new cars on hand, I had to hire a warehouse to store them. A $40,000 new-car inventory can be a real headache, and I expect this situation to return in the not-distant future.

So today, I want to sell every new car that I can lay hands on to the neighbor around the corner. And I must make a lasting friend of him at the same time. Isn't this just sound business?

Another thing, I am making more money now than ever before. I have fewer sales over which to distribute overhead, but my expenses are comparatively small. I need no elaborate showroom or warehouse space because I never have a car more than the day or so it takes to ready it for delivery. I need no salesmen because I have orders for more than a year's estimated business.

In normal times, I lose $50 to $100 on every used car traded in. Now my used-car department shows a substantial profit. And my parts and service departments are booming because people are spending big sums to keep their old cars on the road.

With this excellent profit picture being enjoyed by virtually all dealers, why should they risk their future for the sake of a few extra dollars now?

Most manufacturers maintain control over the dealer through a short-term contract. Thus if the dealer proves unsatisfactory, they don't have to go to court. They merely wait for the contract to expire and then refuse to renew. The dealer will get no more new cars and he may no longer advertise authorized service or parts.

The factory's policy today is to have the dealer sell at list price so that the customer's good will is not lost for tomorrow's competitive market. Under the circumstances, what dealer can afford to antagonize the manufacturer upon whom he is dependent for existence?

Aside from the grave risk of losing my franchise, there is also my personal reputation to consider. I must live with my customers. My children will grow up and become members of the community. If I am going to sell merchandise to my neighbors, I certainly must retain their respect.

Yet even while doing business legitimately, life today is difficult for the dealer. I have one customer who drops by almost every day. I patiently explain over and over again that his car has not come in yet. This usually takes an hour, and yet he is still unconvinced.

First he tries persuasion, then he gets obnoxious. He shouts in the showroom, office and shop. He has written to the factory, and they told him that his car was at least a month from delivery. But he knows this was just a run-around.

I fervently pray for the day when this pest will get his car and stay away from my office.

Good friends give the most trouble, for it is hard to refuse them. Pressure has become so great that I hate to go to my golf club. When I do, I get a new tale of woe.

Roger C. has been a good friend and good customer for years, but last time I saw him he said: "Bill, I've been waiting 14 months for a car. You practically promised that I would have it this month, and the wife and kids have their vacation planned. I've been patient for over a year, and I do think it's time I got that car!"

Last week, the minister of our church walked into my office. I said a silent prayer that he might want a donation rather than a car. At first he talked about Sunday School and my charming family. It wasn't long, however, until I heard: "Bill, my old car is getting so bad it won't even take me on my rounds. Can't you help me out?"

Perhaps I handled him unwisely, but when I said it would be more than a year before he could get a new car, he took it as a personal affront. Ministers and doctors usually are good customers, but I'm afraid one minister will be difficult to deal with in the future.

Even my home life affords me little peace. My wife has a friend who has been on our order list for only a few months. He is in the Navy and stationed 200 miles from his family. Train connections are almost impossible, and they cannot find living quarters near camp. Most of his week ends are spent in traveling on trains and busses. His unhappy wife has put the pressure on my wife. It passes, multiplied tenfold, to me.

Perhaps those of you who are now pestering your dealer will remember the strain he is under, and have compassion for him.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that the appearance of new cars on used-car lots is hurting the dealer. Therefore he should try to halt the practice. In some communities the legitimate dealers, through their associations, are doing just that.

The New York State association has printed contracts to be used in the sale of a new car. Part of the contract reads:

"Now, therefore, in consideration of $1 in hand paid by the seller, receipt thereof is hereby acknowledged . . . the purchaser hereby covenants and agrees that the above described motor vehicle will not be offered for resale or exchange within . . . days from the date of the execution thereof without written consent of the seller.

"It is further agreed that the purchaser will not sell, exchange or otherwise dispose of said motor vehicle within . . . days of the date hereof without first giving to the seller the right, privilege and option of purchasing the same for the sum of $"

The number of days to be inserted in the blank spaces is left to the judgment of the individual dealer. To me, 90 or 180 days would seem fair.

The suggested price at which the dealer would repurchase the car is list price, less $100 for depreciation in the first 90 days of use. It is even suggested that a separate receipt be signed for the dollar paid as consideration. If many other states adopt such a plan, it should go far toward stopping greedy practices.

Those of you who are waiting anxiously for a new car should check on the dealer with whom you placed your order. Find out what his attitude is toward a used-car trade. Offer him a bonus, and see if he refuses it. If he is a long-established dealer with an eye to the future, he will tell you that neither a trade nor a bonus is essential.

Once satisfied that you are dealing with a legitimate dealer, give the fellow a break. Call him once in a while to see how matters stand, but don't park in his office and keep him from doing a day's work. And if you don't get your car as soon as expected, remember that your dealer cannot deliver machines that are not shipped to him.

No matter how much pressure you put on your dealer, that shipment of four cars that he just received cannot be stretched to accommodate five customers. So be patient — and you'll soon be rolling down the highway in a brand-new car for which you paid the list price — and nothing more.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THERE ARE SOME WHO LIVE ON A LOW PLANE AND WANT NOTHING BETTER, BUT NO ONE BUT OURSELVES CAN MAKE US REALLY VILE. NAME CALLING CHANGES NOTHING.—Job 18: 3. Wherefore are ye counted as beasts, and reputed vile in your sight?

Another DuPont contribution to the welfare of humanity is the $51,350 recently given by Mrs. Alfred I. DuPont to the University of the South at Seawater, Tenn., which Dr. Guerry, president, announced last week. It will be used to raise teachers' salaries and thus provide better instruction for students who go there.

Senator Pepper and former Senator Byrnes are having a wonderful time opposing each other in Florida's railroad controversy which revolves around the acquisition of the Florida East Coast Railroad by either the Atlantic Coast Line or the DuPont interest. Senator Pepper was one of President Roosevelt's "100 percent yes men," and Senator Byrnes was on Roosevelt's Supreme Court, was later on the War Mobilization Board, and finally Secretary of State, so there must have been a time when Pepper and Byrnes saw eye to eye. That no longer seems to be the case.

Most negroes are expected to vote for Henry Wallace for President, if they get the chance, but one of their number, Leon L. Lewis, editor of The Negro South of New Orleans, sees the light. "We, as a race," he says, "are too often misled and influenced by radically inspired propaganda. Henry Wallace may be in agreement with our thinking, but the question that predominates is 'Can these objectives be influenced by his efforts?' The only sensible thing to do, he adds, is to try to gain some of our objectives by being an asset to one of the major political parties. Yes, you never gain much by throwing your vote away.

Senator Shands of Gainesville who expects to announce his candidacy for governor in a few days was a visitor in Sanford Monday meeting old friends and mending political fences. The Senator is full of optimism over the outlook for his race. "The cities, the counties and the public schools," he says, "are desperately in need of more adequate and more stable finances. The state should assume the legal obligation of operating the schools and relieve the counties of this burden so that they can devote their revenues to other pressing matters." Well, there is a lot of truth to that statement. Since the home-stead exemption amendment was enacted, the cities and counties have been faced with a serious financial problem.

Henning Held, political writer for the Miami Herald, seems to believe that Fuller Warren is out in front in the gubernatorial race at the present writing though admittedly the situation could change considerably before the primary. "The professional politicians," writes Mr. Held, "put Warren out in front and virtually concede him the high vote in the first primary on the basis of his years of making himself known to the greatest possible number of people. Well, to be 'well known' is not always an asset unless you are 'well and favorably known.' Some men have been defeated for office because they were 'too well known.' However, Mr. Warren polled a lot of votes in 1940 to run Holland and Whitehair a close third, has done nothing since then to hurt himself.

The President's Budget

President Truman's budget message might well have been labeled "A Program to Promote Inflation." It not only calls for two billion dollars more than is being spent in the current year, but it is also four times more than was spent during the years just before the war, and ten times more than was spent each year during the Hoover Administration. Moreover, the budget calls for taxes which are expected to raise five billion dollars more than the expenditures.

Outstanding items of expense in the 40 billion dollar outlay will be 11 billion dollars for national defense. This compares with less than one billion in other normal peacetime years. Over seven billion dollars is asked for the Marshall Plan and to carry out other phases of our foreign policy. This item alone is more money than Roosevelt spent on all government operations during the heyday of the New Deal when he was roundly criticized for WPA extravaganzas and boondoggling.

Another revealing item is the interest on the national debt. Someone said once that it didn't make any difference how much the government borrowed, since we borrowed it from each other, or words to that effect. Well, it makes this much difference: included in this year's budget is an item of five and a quarter billion dollars just to pay interest on the national debt. Another large item is six billion dollars for the Veterans Administration.

Much of the President's program is of a highly meritorious nature. He would spend two billion dollars on social welfare, health and old age pensions, 387 million on education and research, 660 million on atomic energy development, 449 million on flood control, 268 million on reclamation projects, and 478 on federal highways. The only question about any of these projects is whether the country can afford them.

However, it must be borne in mind that taxes are a part of the cost of doing business and that the merchant or the manufacturer adds his taxes to his other costs when determining the prices he will charge the public. Higher taxes mean higher prices.

Practically every dollar which the government spends is used either for payrolls for federal employees who are thus removed from productive activity, or to buy commodities on a short market, further increasing scarcities. Thus, the more the government spends, the higher prices will go.

Population Increase

The natural increase in population in the United States set a new high record in 1947, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, which estimates that more than 2,400,000 were added to the population in the past year through the excess of births over deaths. "The record for 1947 was so extraordinary that it may never again be equaled," the company says.

The number of babies born during the year reached the unprecedentedly high figure of about 3,900,000, which is more than 400,000 above the previous record established in 1946. The record-breaking crop of babies is attributed by the company to the reuniting of families broken by the war and to high postwar marriage rates.

"The 1947 birth rate, a little more than 27 per 1,000 of population, is the highest in at least 25 years," the company notes, "and is 50-percent above the figure for 1933, when the birth rate dropped to the lowest level in our history."

Infant mortality established a new minimum in 1947 with a rate of about 32 per 1,000 live births, a decrease of more than 10 percent from the previous minimum established in 1946. The rate has been reduced by one third since 1939, and by one half since 1930. The company calculates, meant the saving of more than 100,000 infant lives in 1947 alone.

The general death rate in 1947 was slightly more than 10 per 1,000 population, and may prove to be the lowest ever recorded when adjustment is made for changes in the number of babies and of older people in the population.

Days Doubly Famous

The 400th anniversary of the birth of Cervantes, author of "Don Quixote," celebrated last month, led the Boston Public Library to exhibit its many editions of this masterpiece. It also caused them to remind the world that Cervantes and Shakespeare died on the same day, April 23, 1616.

What other day in the world's history could have brought such loss? The only comparable coincidence in our own history is in the death on the same day, July 4, 1826, of John Adams and Thomas Jefferson. The ancient Greeks reported that the final land victory over the Persian invaders, at Plataea, and the final naval victory, at Mycale, took place on the same day in 479.

In general, a single great event is ample glory for one day.

OPEN SEASON

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Here's an ABC report on that big load—the budget—which President Truman dumped on Congress yesterday.

It involves you: how much you'll have to pay and how the government spends your money. Also it will cause so much work and argument in Congress, if it does every year, you'll be hearing about it from now till June.

The budget is Mr. Truman's idea about taxes, government spending and paying off the public debt in the 1949 fiscal year. That's the year beginning July 1, 1948, and ending June 30, 1949. The government runs on a fiscal year instead of from Jan. 1 to the next year.

The government can pay its way only so long as it collects more money in taxes than it has to pay out for expenses.

When the expenses are greater than taxes, the government must borrow money from banks and other resources. It runs in debt then, the public debt. During the war the government's expenses were so much greater than the taxes collected, it had to borrow many millions of dollars.

That's why the public debt now is about $257,000,000,000. It won't be paid off in our lifetime. It can be paid off only bit by bit.

That's why the President and Congress now want to keep expenses lower than taxes so more of the debt can be paid off.

And that's why Mr. Truman, in his budget message to Congress, said that is what he thinks the score should be in the 1949 fiscal year.

Taxes—The government should collect $44,500,000,000. Expenses—The government figures to spend $39,700,000,000, leaving a difference of $4,800,000,000 in the treasury. (Mr. Truman looks for an even bigger difference this year—$7,483,000,000.)

Public Debt—That $4,800,000,000 left-over should be used to pay off part of that huge public debt and bring it down to $246,000,000,000 on June 30, 1949.

Mr. Truman's ideas right down the line? No. From now until next June Congress will try to cut government expenses even lower than the President figured. It tries this every year.

But this year—the elected

J. Ed Larson who was named by Governor Caldwell to be general chairman of the Governor's State-wide Fire Prevention Conference in Orlando, Jan. 19 and 20. Larson, as state treasurer is also the state's fire marshal. He said in Tallahassee today that he expected fully 600 civic, county, municipal and industrial leaders to respond to Governor Caldwell's proclamation calling the conference.

year of 1948—something else is mixed up in this whole business and makes Congress' work even tougher.

The Republicans in control of Congress are bent on cutting income taxes. Some of them talk of cutting taxes as much as $5,800,000,000.

Mr. Truman had figured the government would collect a total of $44,500,000,000 in taxes. A Republican cut of $5,800,000,000 would bring the total collected down to $38,700,000,000.

But—that total tax of $38,900,000,000 would be $5,600,000,000 less than the $39,700,000,000 Mr. Truman figured the government would spend.

So—if the Republicans succeed in cutting taxes they'll still have to cut government expenses till they're below the amount of tax collected.

By doing that, they'd have some tax money left over to pay off some of the public debt.

Note this, though: When they speak of cutting taxes by $5,800,000,000, the Republicans mean income taxes only. They don't plan to cut or raise the tax on corporations.

Mr. Truman also says taxes can be cut but without the government's losing a penny below the total tax of $44,500,000,000 he wants it to collect.

His way of doing it is very

Sanford Employment Board Hits High Mark

The Sanford office of the Florida State Employment Service completed the 1947 year with 1305 placements, L. W. Emerson, manager of the office said today. These placements are 94 per cent more than those in 1946.

There are 240 applicants in the active file at present as compared with 309 at the same time last year. Veteran applicants at the beginning of the year number 184 a decrease over the 248 at the end of 1946.

Job openings in the Sanford office currently total 25 which is 3 less than at the same period last year.

Unemployment compensation payments in Seminole county for the week ending Jan. 3 of this year were $187,000 as compared with $184,000 paid to unemployed in the county for the comparable period last year.

Mr. Emerson said the Florida State Employment Service offices begin the new year with the added responsibility of providing a year-round farm placement service to agricultural workers. The serving of the entire labor market by the local employment offices should benefit both employers and workers as these offices will be the central point in each community to which applicants for all types of jobs may go for employment.

Persons seeking employment should contact the Florida State Employment Service at 112 North Park Avenue. Job orders will also be taken over the telephone.

different from the Republicans'. He'd do it this way: Cut every income tax payer $40 and another $40 for each of his dependents. But wouldn't this mean a cut in the total amount of taxes the government could collect? No, says Mr. Truman.

He'd make it up—the money the government loses on an income tax cut—by raising the tax on corporations. (The Republicans said right away they were against raising the tax on corporations.)

Well, what happens? Will there be a tax cut, or not? You guess it. Nobody can tell at this point. Anyway, you're warned: These next six months won't be quiet.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Secretary of State Marshall, in testifying before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in Washington regarding his proposed European AID Program, declared that "if we do not move out to meet the problem in Europe today it will certainly come under conditions far more unfavorable to us."

The general didn't place a precise interpretation on that grim sounding statement, however, at another point he gave this amplification: "European recovery, we feel is essential to preservation of basic freedom in the most critical area of the world today. European economic recovery is essential to a return of normal trade and commerce throughout the world—we want peace. We want security—A great crisis has to be met: Do we meet the situation with action or do we stop aside and allow other forces to settle the pattern of future European civilization?"

Those statements give us a picture, I believe, of an America (and other countries) suffering all the dire disabilities which accrue from a lack of world peace. Marshall and Secretary of Commerce Harriman told the committee that the aid program would put burdens on the American people. Harriman named high prices as one burden and said that the project would add to our difficulties in trying to control inflation.

Both secretaries, however, asserted that the gains would be worth the cost.

It would be highly interesting if we could read the mind of General Marshall, who played such a great part in the late war, and discover what more he thinks it might mean if western Europe weren't rehabilitated economically. However, the situation isn't so complicated that we can't figure the thing out for ourselves.

In the first place Russia has made it clear that she is determined on Communizing western Europe and adding it to the area under her domination. There are two ways of stopping this aggression. One is to create a military barrier through central Europe—A task which only the United States could undertake.

and she won't do it. The other is to put the countries of western Europe on their feet economically—that they can defend themselves—and of course that involves the Marshall Plan.

Now the Marshall Plan is put into effect, Moscow plans to fight tooth and nail. That's official. If the Soviet can defeat the plan, then the road will be open for her to sweep through to the English Channel. And if there is no Marshall Plan at all, the conquest of western Europe will be so much the easier for Bolshevism.

What then? Answer: Russia would have all Europe as a base for operations against the rest of the world. We don't need any diagram to show what that would signify. Most certainly it would mean another world war, with the United States holding the economic democracy against that swollen Bolshevik empire.

That's what we face if there is no Marshall Plan, or if there is one and it fails. However, the general says the program can succeed, and the indications are that the countries of western Europe are eager to cooperate. Why shouldn't they be, when they are sitting tight under the big guns of an aggressive Communist civilization?"

There's only one more point to add, and this column has referred to it previously. If the Russian advance can be held along its present line in Europe, the likelihood of another world war will be vastly lessened.

The United States must import most of the fibers used in making rope.

Seminole Hi

By BOBBY PARK

A dark shadow fell over the students at Seminole High last week. Francis Temple, active member in nearly all of the school's organizations and a recognized leader of his class-mates passed away in an Orlando hospital. Francis will always be remembered by the students for the outstanding part he took in school activities, by his friendly and helpful attitude, and by his untiring willingness to work with the students in the many projects and entertainment features in which he took part. The services were held at the Catholic Church Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock with many of the students attending.

A good deal of work was accomplished in the first week back at school since the Christmas holidays even though the latter part of the week was overshadowed by the loss of such a beloved and active student.

The Key Club members have received their pins at last and report a good profit on their New Year's Dance. Although they started the year with only 42¢ in the Treasury the Key Club hit a highlight in this year of having $182.91 in their Treasury.

The literature students are, as the second semester approaches, donning their grammar-thinking caps and preparing to wade into a sea of verbs, adjectives, participles, and the general confusing tools of speech and writing. On the other hand the English students are getting out their reading glasses before tackling the coming semester of literature.

Last Tuesday the poor people at the scoring table got the scores all mixed up and actually believed that Sea-Breeze won. For some uncanny reason we haven't been able to dislodge this error and replace it with a more Seminole-High-parial score but we made up for it a good deal Friday night in the A squad game.

The Sally Staff, (Miss Stevens) is winding up the last pages and getting them off to the publishers after which everyone will feel a little better. (Miss Stevens will feel a LOT better).

The new buildings have arrived and been set up. The band will begin using their's as soon as the floor is laid and a few minor repairs carried out. The building will be steam-heated.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 13 (AP)—Here's the news in the film capital today:

Low McCarey thinks his next (and last) film for RKO will be "Adam and Eve," although he is still having difficulty with it.

"It is a hard story, because theologians differ on its interpretation," the director said. "And you have to be careful about kidding the story, because a lot of people will say, 'Hey, that's my mother and father.' I wouldn't want the fun created when Mac West did a terrific parody of the biblical figures."

10th year as mayor of Van Nuys and is apparently set for another job, judging from his popularity in the valley community. He has an office in the city hall, but devotes most of his time to making westerns with Roy Rogers and Bill Elliott.

"All I have to do as mayor is go around and bother people and then go back to my office," Joan Crawford showed up with Grace Bauer at Louis B. Mayer's party for the Associated Press board of directors, and apparently her opinion with the Hollywood lawyers is on the mind of the "Party" boys.

Ben Johnson, a Pawhuske, Okla., cowboy, is John Ford's new candidate for station. Now in a lead against Joseph Young of Fresno, he is the only film stunt man to make the grade in the acting field. He told Ford he can't act, but that doesn't bother the director. Ford has done alright with John Wayne.

Ward Bond and other limited histrionic abilities. Ann Sheridan had cast before reporting back to Warner's after "Good Sam" releases. She reported set for "Blazing Saddles," but tells me she hasn't read the

The bride wore a navy blue suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white gardenias and carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan are at present living at 111 Maple Avenue and Mr. Nolan is associated with the Lamson Trail Tour.

School Official Says That Championships Should Be Won On Football Gridiron

SOUTH BEND, Ind. Jan. 13 (AP)—Notre Dame, although defeated by Michigan in a post-season Associated Press poll of sports writers, says that "Championships should be won on the field."

Notre Dame officials made that statement last night before about 1,200 persons at the annual football banquet at which Notre Dame was awarded the Dr. Henry L. Williams trophy, symbolic of the National Football Championship, presented by the University of Minnesota "M" club.

The Williams Trophy was awarded Notre Dame on the basis of the Associated Press poll of sports writers at the close of the regular season Dec. 8. The post-season poll was taken after Michigan's stunning 49-0 victory over Southern California in the Rose Bowl game Jan. 1.

The Rev. John H. Murphy, Notre Dame's athletic director, said that statement last night before about 1,200 persons at the annual football banquet at which Notre Dame was awarded the Dr. Henry L. Williams trophy, symbolic of the National Football Championship, presented by the University of Minnesota "M" club.

"I am sure that you and I and millions of other football fans—as well as the University of Minnesota 'M' club—have no reason to disagree with the voices of the nation's sports writers in the Associated Press poll at the end of the regular season, which has come to be accepted as the final word on this subject; and that we also heartily concur with the logical assurance of the AP that a post season poll was not intended to supersede the votes at the end of the regular season."

"And I am sure that all of us, including the coaches and players of the very fine Michigan squad of this year, believe that, whenever possible, championships should be won on the field."

In mid-season, Irish Coach Frank Leahy said publicly at a Chicago luncheon that "we're ready to play Michigan anytime, anywhere."

Guest speakers praised Notre Dame. Among them were Jeff Cowath, Southern California coach; Tom Hamilton, Navy mentor; George Munger, Pennsylv-

COMMENTS from the SIDELINES

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.

Harr School
Another of the outstanding accomplishments of the George Barr School for Umpires has just come about. Recently George received the shrill paper for three men from the Third Army of the United States to take his course.

The correspondence came from Capt. James E. Williams, who is Special Services chief of the Athletic Branch of the Army Recreation Service Division.

Williams is also receiving national publicity as the result of the school's presence.

Milt Woodard, writing in the Chicago Sun stated, "On Jan. 15 Barr starts his 12th semester of his school. He'll gather together some 100 students, many of them ex-G. I., and train them through a five week course which should land many immediately in organized baseball."

"The school, located in Sanford, Fla., will also include a faculty of Bill Klem, Umpire in Chief of the National League, and Lou Jorda, a fellow workman with Barr in the National wheel. For a sum of $75 the student gets Klem, Barr, Jorda and Florida, too."

"The school, regarded as one of baseball's most productive sources of umpires, already has contributed two Major League of-

Mt. Dora To Face Feds On Local Court Tonight

The Seminole High School basketballers take to the court again tonight at the high school gym to engage a highly touted Mt. Dora five in a twin bill, which is scheduled to get under way at 7:30 o'clock.

Coach Fred Gans has a fresh from their 48 to 25 spanking placed on the Eustis Panthers and will be out to nail their second victory into the record books.

This is the third consecutive home contest for the Fed quintet, which will take to the road on Friday for an engagement with the Palatka Maroons in Palatka and next Tuesday will meet the Ireland Bulldogs in the University City.

Gans will probably start Fred Seigrist and Floyd Cooper at the forwards, Glenn McCall at the center position and "Squirrel" Bowen and Bill Thomas at the guard posts, however nearly every man on the squad will probably see action, Gans stated.

Statistics Reveal That Gators Had Up Hill Battle In '47

GAINESVILLE Jan. 13 (Special)—Now that all returns are in on the statistics of the 1947 football season, it is little wonder that Florida's Gators had such an uphill battle against the ten-gamed schedule from which they emerged with four wins, five losses and a tie.

Final figures released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau reveal that the Gators went against national leaders in practically every department of play.

Some of the Gators' vulnerability to enemy passes may be found in the fact that they battled American's One-Two serial artist, Mississippi's Charley Conerly and Georgia's Johnny Rauch picked up a neat 1352.

And the second half of the One-Two aerial punch also found the Gators on the defensive end. Mississippi's Barney Poole ranked first with 513 yards on 52 carries, while Georgia's Dan Edwards stood second with 540 yards on 48 carries.

Florida went against three of the nation's top twenty-five total offense leaders: Conerly, the leader; Rauch, the number five man; and North Carolina's Charlie Justice, who ranked twenty-third at season's end.

The Gators fought the punting artillery of four of the leading twelves: "Bootsie" Palmer, N. C. State's national leader; fifth-place kicker Charlie Justice; Miami's Harry Ghaul, eighth ranking punter; and Cooperly, the number-eleven man among the booters.

Three Florida opponents were in the nation's first twelve total defense teams: Georgia (fifth), North Carolina State (ninth), and North Carolina (twelfth). North Carolina State had the nation's finest pass defense record and Georgia took ninth place.

Graham Deal

closed on Dec. 18.

Graham, who previously said he had "lost his socks" in exchange trading, presented a statement showing that he had made a profit of $6,165.26 in commodities. But he said he had lost $11,012.86 in stock trading and to had a net profit of $4,847.61.

He added that his broker's records showed that all the transactions made by Graham in wheat and oats were closed out October 6, 1947, or earlier "except one smaller percentage of wheat purchases and this was closed out by the end of October."

Denying he had any "inside" information on government commodity purchasing, Graham told the committee:

"Nobody with whom I worked in the government and no other government official or employee ever gave me any information about commodities and if they had, I doubt that I would have understood it very well. I am a surgeon, but I am not a financier or economist and never pretended to be one."

Graham's original public story was that after Mr. Truman's blast at commodity "gamblers," he asked his broker if he had any commodities and immediately ordered them sold.

This account was challenged by Harold E. Stassen, aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination, who said Graham did not get out of the market until after Stassen inquired whether any White House personnel was engaging in such trading.

In a prepared statement he read to the committee today, Graham said that he "assumed that the criticism the President made was of the buying of wheat or grain and I thought of that as commodities."

"I did not think he criticized the buying of cotton, for instance, and when the broker recommended cotton, I, of course, said to go ahead," Graham said.

Speculative trading in commodities is entirely legal, but Mr. Truman contended that "gamblers" was running up the price of grain. Some grain exchange men dispute that contention.

A compilation submitted by Graham showed that he had sold 600 bales of July cotton on Dec. 18. Another notation said "closed out against pur 11/29" indicating that the purchase in question may have sold.

Graham conceded today that his

Petrillo

sic lovers could listen only to the "local trio or to the band playing in the lower square."

He said Petrillo has developed "a concentrated, nation-wide, pro-pooler of the supply of labor" and maintains it through "disruptive ultimatum—disruptive both to unions and industry."

"Mr. Petrillo has not only tried the hand which feeds musicians, but actually has tried to bite off the whole arm," the NAB head said, adding:

"We do not believe that the interests of American industry or of American workers, can ever be served probably by a union leader who regards himself as more important than society as a whole. Here we have a startling example of labor monopoly abusing its power and harming the interests, not only of its own members, but of the general public."

"Here is a union which in the midst of Democracy violates all or most of the principles of Democracy."

"His death decree for recordings and transcriptions fully closes this door to work opportunities for his members and will open new doors to other jobs in the music field."

"His real motive is, of course, to build up a monopoly of the unskilled and non-professional musicians, on the theory that destroying the record industry will provide opportunities for thousands of part-time amateurs in various communities throughout the nation."

City

partments and also between certain departments. In the future this commission will not tolerate such conditions.

3. "This commission will expect complete cooperation with each department and between the City Manager and all departments."

4. "All automobile equipment owned by the City is to be used for City purposes only, and not for private use of department heads."

5. "The City Manager should have signs painted on all automobile equipment. City of Sanford" also designating to which department it belongs."

6. "Each department head is to work with the City Manager in keeping his department within the budget."

7. "The Clerk is directed to keep the minutes of all Commission meetings up to date. This should be done not later than the day following each meeting."

Two other recommendations by Mayor Williams were deferred by the Commission for discussion at the next regular meeting. These were: "The City Manager should employ a secretary, one that can take dictation in order to save the manager time to devote to more important duties of his office. The City Manager should have a private office."

"The Commission should begin to give serious consideration to the idea of dividing the position of City Manager and Clerk-Assessor."

"I believe a manager of a city the size of Sanford could easily devote his full time to this job. However, I would not recommend that this be done until a full study of the matter is made," Mayor Williams stated.

The City authorized installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Park Avenue and Seminole Boulevard, following submission of traffic records of engineers by Police Chief Roy G. Williams.

City Attorney Fred Wilson was directed to prepare an amendment to ordinance 380 so that the Commission can revoke the license of a taxi driver for violation of regulations, whether he is driving a taxi or his own car, said Mr. Sayer.

A five year contract with the Florida Power and Light Company to furnish electricity for water pumping and sewerage disposal at the Municipal Airport was approved by the Commission.

The Commission took up the matter, which has been discussed for several years, of having appraisal engineers value the City. It was directed that appraisal engineers be requested to submit data on the subject.

lays for education, social welfare and housing, just to mention a few, seem way out of line even if Congress does authorize these programs."

Whatever the decision on his $5,000,000,000 goal, Taber said he "wouldn't be satisfied with anything less" than a cut of $1,500,000,000.

Republican leaders are determined to ram through an income tax reduction bill this year that may trim by more than $5,000,000,000 the $14,177,000,000 revenues estimated by Mr. Truman for the next fiscal year.

Although the new budget exceeds by nearly $2,000,000,000 the for the current fiscal year, Mr. Truman told Congress it was tailored to "rigid standards of operating economy" and a necessary to cope with "the realities of our existing international and domestic requirements."

"The plain fact," he said, "is that our budget must remain high until we have met our international responsibilities and can see the way clear to a peaceful and prosperous world."

Two of the biggest items are $1,025,000,000 for national defense and $7,000,000,000 for foreign aid and other international programs, including the Marshall Plan for European recovery.

account for another $3,102,010,000; interest on the national debt, expected to drop to $246,000,000 by June 30, 1949, calls for $5,250,000,000; tax refunds, $1,930,000,000; social welfare, health and security, $2,028,000,000; agriculture, $906,000,000; transportation and communications for the government, $1,946,000,000; general government expenses, $1,187,000,000.

Even economy-minded Republicans said privately there is not much room to cut veterans' appropriations, especially in an election year. And they voted doubt that any large chunks could be chopped from military items.

Gandhi's Fast

held a brief prayer service for his assembled friends and others, reading selections from the Mohammedan Koran, the Christian Bible and the Hindu vedas or religious tenets.

He asked the people, including the Hindu, Sikh and Moslem delegations, to leave him there, and he went indoors to follow his normal routine of reading mail, dictating messages to his followers and closely studying current events in newspapers.

In undertaking his fast, Gandhi said it "will end when and if I am satisfied that there is a reunion of the hearts of all communities, brought about without any outside pressure, but from an inner sense of duty."

MURCO AIR BASE, Jan. 13 (AP)—Cracking of the wall of sound by unmanned rocket-powered sleds which streaked over railroad tracks at more than 1,000 miles an hour has been disclosed by Northrop Aircraft engineers.

The sleds were propelled in secret experimental runs over 2,800 feet of standard gauge track in less than two seconds to break through the 763 M. P. H. (sea level) sonic barrier. Tests were started 18 months ago.

ment, Mr. Secretary. It's the most direct statement I've heard," Vandenberg commented.
Senator Connolly (D-Tex.), former committee chairman and supporter of the European Aid Plan, also complimented Anderson.
"Possibly I've rushed in where angels fear to tread. I've done that before," Anderson told the Senators.
Anderson appeared before the Senate group as some House Republicans insisted definite orders should be written out for who ever is to run the program with certain limitations specified on his power.
Rep. Vorys (R-O) and Chipperfield (D-Ill.) were among those talking along that line as Lewis H. Douglas, ambassador to Great Britain, gave the House Foreign Affairs Committee background information on its study of the Marshall Plan.
Meanwhile, the amount asked by the administration for the program was further questioned by Senators with Vandenberg commenting there is nothing "sacrosanct" about the figure.
Anderson told the senators "there is nothing in our exports this year that justifies the violent fluctuations and variations in wheat market."
Anderson said present indications are that this year's crop will be about 1,200,000,000 bushels or as high as 1,300,000,000 if we get some decent weather.
As a result, he said, the country should have a surplus of about 200,000,000 bushels above domestic needs.
"We should be able to take 500,000,000 bushels from it for export and still have an adequate supply," he said.
He said the corn crop is so short that shipments tend to push prices upward. But he noted that exports of corn and other coarse grains have been limited to 100,000,000 bushels for the next year.
Anderson said the outlook on "fats and oils is not so nice" because there will be a shortage in a large part of 1948.
He commented on other commodities:
Wool - Unprecedented demands from U. S. farmers but about eight percent of nitrogen and four percent of phosphate rock will be exported under the Marshall Plan.
Fruits - Exports will help because of large domestic production. He has purchased fruit to prevent waste and loss through lack of harvesting.

Some of the new models may be announced before the end of the current month, although others will not be ready until next month or later. The previous postwar high was October with 184,888 vehicles.
Eggs - Unusually large domestic consumption has reduced amounts for exports.
Tobacco - Ample reserves exist because the dollar shortage had stopped normal tobacco shipments to Europe.
Cotton - Planned shipments are well within the normal exporting capacity.
Asked by Senator Wiley (R-Wis) whether price controls are needed along with rationing, Anderson replied "not necessarily" but that rationing would "be better" with price controls. He said that "if enough of the people want controls, controls will be successful."

Nation's Automotive Plants Report Production Of First Week In 1948

By DAVID L. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor
DETROIT Jan. 13 (AP) - The nation's automotive assembly plants turned out approximately 82,000 passenger cars and 25,300 trucks in the first full week of 1948 operations.
This represented a marked uptick over the final week of last year when about 65,000 cars and trucks came from the assembly lines in a holiday-curtailed working period.
The week also brought a start on the production of 1948 models by most of the General Motors car divisions. Of these vehicles, only the Cadillacs and the budget-priced Oldsmobiles are to show any marked styling departures and all will be sufficiently different in appearance to distinguish them from the 1947 types.
Ford and Chrysler meanwhile have gone ahead with only progressive changes in the models they produced all last year. Chrysler made a number of unannounced alterations as the new pressure types were adapted to all its models from the Chrysler right through the Plymouth lines.
The new type tires now are standard equipment on all Chrysler models and industry Chrysler expect other manufacturers to use them quite generally.
Some of the new models may be announced before the end of the current month, although others will not be ready until next month or later. The previous postwar high was October with 184,888 vehicles.

A Pat On The Back For College Kids Short Of Finances

NEW YORK (AP)—Notes on a changing world: If paying bills is a sign of character then college kids have plenty.

Most large schools now have special loan funds to help students in straitened financial circumstances finish their education. Since 1913 the University of Missouri has advanced $1,018,490 to more than 8,500 students, and its Vice President, Leslie Cowan, says that only $5,500 has had to be written off as lost.

The students have paid back the loans 99 1/2 cents on every dollar.

Although conducted on a strictly business basis these loans to students are really investments in human character," Cowan said. Last year one wealthy graduate who had borrowed from the loan fund as a student showed his gratitude by contributing $100,000 to the fund.

Continuing our explorations into the academic life, we report that a housing survey by the city college school of business here came up with this interesting conclusion:

Of the landlords interviewed 75 per cent said they preferred college instructors as tenants because of their "restrained type of living, their stable intelligent associates and their tendency to ward off the respect of living quarters."

This was all flattering to professional vanity—but the survey still failed to locate enough apartments to care for the teaching staffs.

There is a shortage of ivory towers, too.

One unusual impact on Manhattan made by the recent record snowfall: It even crowded the class struggle out of the headlines of the "Daily Workers," Communist newspaper.

Three days after the big snowfall the paper bannered: "6-inch snow due today."

(P.S. It didn't arrive. You can't even count on the weather in a capitalistic country.)

Representative Finds Truman's Soil Conservation Ideas Highly Gratifying

WASHINGTON Jan. 13 (AP)—Soil conservation recommendations of President Truman are "highly gratifying" to Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss) he said today.

The President, noting that Congress has authorized a soil conservation program of $150,000,000 for 1948, said he recommends increasing this to $300,000,000 for the 1949 crop year.

"The gratifying thing to me," Abernethy told a reporter, "is that the President is making an effort to restore the soil conservation program which has been authorized and followed except for the reduction last year."

Congress last year voted $265,000,000 to pay for the 1947 program which had been planned for $300,000,000. It then authorized $150,000,000 for the 1948 year, with the money to be voted in the appropriations bill for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Abernethy said the program was "reduced by a hostile congress after a bitter fight," and that the Republicans tried to "eliminate the program entirely."

He added that if the $150,000,000 authorized for this year does not meet the soil conservation practices worked out by the President to make a fight for such additional funds as are needed to follow a full program.

The Mississippian said Mr. Truman's recommendation for 1949 "is in keeping with the suggestion I made to him last December and I hope Congress will act as wisely as the President."

"It is unthinkable that Congress would not accept the recommendation in view of the food production goals fixed by the Agriculture Department and the

White Russians Do Not Like The Name Of Doorman, Cabbie

By CARL HARTMAN
AP Newsfeatures

PARIS—France's White Russian colony, now 75,000 strong, resents being thought of as a levy of taxi-drivers and night-club doormen.

Many of its members are celebrating 30 years residence in France, since the 1917 revolution when the Communist Party took power.

Most of these former members of the Russian nobility and prosperous classes have bettered their positions, including the Cossack farmers who settled in the neighborhood of Rheims, and such figures as Brig. Gen. Zinovi Pechkoff is the son of the late Soviet writer known by his pen-name of Maxim Gorki.

Nominal head of the exiles in France is the Grand Duke Andrei Vladimirovitch, grandson of Czar Alexander II and uncle of the current pretender to the throne of all the Russias—Vladimir Cyrillovitch.

The pretender, who used to live quietly in provincial Brittany before the war, was carried off to Germany just before the liberation of France—his supporters say—and though freed by Allied troops, he has not returned. The grand duke married a commoner, the famous ballerina Chesmarava, who now runs a dancing school in Paris under the title accorded at marriage—Princess Krasinsky.

Since upper class Russians before the revolution usually spoke French as well as, or better than their native tongue, they found it relatively easy to fit into French life. They nevertheless built themselves a "little Russia" in Paris, and still complain of discrimination against them as foreigners.

Greatly devoted to religion, the Russians have 30 Orthodox churches in the Paris area, and a cathedral and theological school as well. There is even a Russian cemetery, St. Genevieve of the Wood, landscaped in Russian style and sometimes called St. Genevieve of the Steppes.

Paris now has no Russian quarter, although at one time the prosperous Passy residential district was sometimes called the "Russian village." Many of the emigres have moved to more modest districts, and their favorite streets, food shops and restaurants can be found on the left bank, traditionally the poor artists' and students' quarter.

There were both collaborationists and active resisters to the Germans among the Russian colony in France, as there have always been pro-and anti-Soviet groups among its members.

Enthusiasm for the accomplishments of the Red Army ran so high just after V.E. Day that probably an overwhelming majority of the emigres—many of whom were officers or close relatives of officers in the imperial army—would have been eager to return to Russia then. But it was not until a year later that Moscow offered Soviet passports to the Russians in France. About 11,000 accepted, and 1,500 have sailed for Odessa.

The Russian colony in France is now increasing slowly by the arrival of displaced persons in Germany.

Senators Ask Aid Receivers To Pledge Gold

Treasury Secretary Estimates European U. S. Assets At $4,800,000,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Senators today emphasized demands that the 16 nations to receive aid under the Marshall Plan pledge their hoards of "gold and dollars" abroad and their investments in this country to help cover costs of the $6,800,000,000 European Recovery Program.

The proposals by members of the Foreign Relations Committee were made to Secretary of Treasury Snyder who estimated Europeans have $4,800,000,000 assets in the United States, consisting largely of stocks, bonds and other investments.

In his prepared testimony before the committee, Snyder had said "it would be folly" to force the European nations to make such pledges.

Prospects Seen For Cut In Lumber Prices For Homes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Prospects for a reduction in lumber prices to cut home construction costs were seen today by Rep. Gamble (R-NY) after Congressional conferences with representatives of the lumber industry.

Gamble, chairman of the House Senate Housing Committee, told reporters the lumbermen had given assurances individually that "we are going to get some reductions in lumber prices." Lumber prices have increased by 229 per cent since 1939, he said.

The committee has conferred with the lumbermen behind closed doors.

In an open session Monday, Miles L. Coleman, a construction economist, testified "it is in the market, not the producer, that is the most influential element in setting the price." He added:

The second Southeastern States Glider Contest will start tomorrow between 10:30 and 11:00 o'clock at the Municipal Airport, and it is expected that between 25 and 30 noted airplane pilots will strive for records of altitude, distance and duration. The meet will be continued through Sunday.

Petrillo Freed Of Violation Of Lea Act Charges

Government Alleged Defendant Tried To Coerce WAAF

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—James C. Petrillo today was acquitted on a charge of violating the Lea Act which Congress passed to curb his broad union powers.

Federal Judge Walter J. Luby, in his written opinion of eight pages, said "there is no evidence whatever in the record to show that the defendant had knowledge of or was informed of the lack of need of additional employees prior to the trial of this case."

The government alleged in its case that Petrillo, head of the AFL American Federation of Musicians, had violated the law by calling a strike to coerce Station WAAF, Chicago, to hire extra help.

The judge added: "Nothing contained in the letters and telegrams between the defendant and the representatives of the station disclosed to the defendant the lack of need for additional employees as a reason for rejecting the defendant's demands."

"Neither does the testimony in the case show the defendant had knowledge of or was told that the station had no need for additional employees."

Petrillo, stern-faced, was present as the verdict was read.

The government may not appeal the acquittal because the judge did not pass on the Lea Act's constitutionality. In a previous trial Judge Luby held the law was unconstitutional, but the Supreme Court declined to pass on his ruling in an appeal by the government and ordered instead that a new trial be held on the facts in the case.

In dealing with the question whether Petrillo was bargaining in good faith in an effort "to obtain honest employment for additional musicians, or if his actions established 'union racketeering,' or 'feather-bedding,' or an attempt through threats to compel the hiring of more persons than needed, the judge said:

"In the absence of any evidence to the contrary, this request (Petrillo's request for reinstatement) is granted."

Defensive Air Force Only Is Said U. S. Aim

Commission's Report Recommends That U. S. Double Its Present Strength

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Forrestal said today the United States does not seek to build an aggressive Air Force but only one for defense.

He made that statement at a news conference when questioned regarding the expanded Air Force recommended by President Truman's Air Policy Commission.

(The Commission's report, made public today, recommended among other things that the United States double its present total of 3,500 first line combat aircraft by the end of 1949.)

A reporter asked Forrestal if he believes the United States should have an aggressive Air Force.

"I don't consider that we are going to have an Air Force that is aggressive," Forrestal said. "I'm for an Air Force of sufficient power to give us a force capable of defending the United States."

Then he added that democracies never plan for war.

The Secretary was asked about the Air Policy Commission's statement that he was unable to furnish it with the requirements of the air establishment as they should be now and at various specified future periods.

Forrestal said preparation of such requirements "is a complex task. He added:

"I want to be sure the requirements are based on solid information, not fantasy. I have not yet reached the point where I can say with precision that this (Continued on Page Four)

Wacker Speaks To Pilots About Publicity Value

Winter Park Rotarian Reveals Growth Of Service Clubs

Speaking to members of the Pilot Club at their dinner meeting held in the Tourist Center last night on publicity and its various channels, Kenneth Wacker, president of the Rotary Club of Winter Park, advanced the theory that good publicity was designed to formulate opinion and stimulate action in worthwhile projects.

While some publicity is highly exaggerated—often things really worthwhile are difficult to exaggerate, such as the beauty of the bougainvillea, the sun rising over Lake Monroe, or even a group of underprivileged blind, lame or poverty stricken. Not does it require a lullaby of music in a radio announcement to pull across some youth movement, he said.

Dixie Gets Nipped By Freezing Weather

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dixie got a touch of below freezing weather and light snow in some sections and colder weather and temperatures to near season's lows in some parts of the Midwest today. The mercury plunged to 94 below in Minnesota and the sub-zero readings extended to northern Illinois. The mass of cold air moderated as it spread over all of the Gulf states except southern Florida, where the coldest weather of the season was reported in many Southern states. San Antonio, Tex., which had a high of 55 yesterday, shivered in 35-degree temperatures this morning, and in Atlanta, Ga., the mercury was four degrees lower. Knoxville, Tenn., reported light snow and 20 above while in Birmingham, Ala., the minimum was 24. Snow fell in northern Alabama and also in parts of Tennessee.

Below freezing also was reported in North Carolina, with lows of 24 at Asheville and 23 at Greensboro, while the mercury stopped at the freezing mark of 33 at New Orleans, La. and Tallahassee, Fla. The coldest in Jacksonville, Fla., was 33, while the warmest city reporting on the early morning weather map was Miami, with a reading of 61.

The sub-zero marks were reported in Minnesota, with International Falls—34 the lowest; the Dakotas, Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois. The one below at Chicago equalled the low mark for the season.

Truman Says Nation Is Riding Inflation Wave Toward Slump; Republicans Spurn Program

Little Prospect Is Seen For Enactment Of 10 Point Anti-Inflation Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—President Truman sent his message to the state of the nation's economy to Congress today and fresh signs that the Republican majority intends to spurn key actions of his anti-inflation program.

The chief executive's second annual economic report, presented to the Senate and House at noon, contained a new appeal for quick enactment of his full 10-point cost of living plan.

From the Administration's standpoint, the most important parts of the program are those calling for hold-in-reserve authority to restore rationing and wage-price controls if necessary.

The slim prospects these measures face in Congress was pointed up again yesterday as Republican members of the Senate Banking Committee tore into the testimony of Secretary of Labor Schweikert. His support of a steady wage-price control program prompted the attack.

In addition to another appeal for his anti-inflation program, Mr. Truman's message to include a defense of his $40-a-person income tax cut proposal, to counter-balance by a $3,200,000,000-a-year hike in corporation taxes.

Republicans and some Democrats already have assailed this suggestion and the GOP leadership is going ahead with plans for an overall tax cut of perhaps $5,600,000,000.

Mr. Truman also set up an employment and production goal in his report and renewed his call for broader social action.

Steel Industry Told It Must Take Initiative In Gray Market Fight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—A Senate committee told the steel industry today it must take the lead in wiping out a flourishing "gray market" if it hopes to avoid new government controls.

A report filed with the Senate by Chairman Martin (R-Pa.) of the small business subcommittee on steel said members of his group themselves oppose the renewal of wartime government powers to divide up the supply.

The report declared, however, that something must be done to curb the gray market deals in which steel is sold at far above normal prices.

Despite its public hearings on the subject, the committee said, "The gray market still flourishes and has, if anything, become better organized."

Highlights Of President's Message

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Key quotations from President Truman's economic report to Congress today:

"The country has maintained a high level of prosperity but a wave of inflation which has already caused serious hardship and present grave concern for the future."

"The American people are keenly aware that inflation is the most serious business slump."

Keying his second annual economic report to a renewed plea for legislative power to cope with soaring prices, the chief executive told the Republican-controlled Congress:

"The American people are keenly aware that inflation is the dominant problem in our affairs. Mr. Truman used urgent words in demanding once again the full ten-piece kit of anti-inflation tools which the lawmakers refused him during last fall's special session. He asserted that steady price, wage and rationing authority are "needed, needed badly, and needed promptly."

In addition to congressional action, the President called upon business to cut prices wherever possible, "foregoing a quick and dangerous excess profit in favor of long-run stability."

And he urged labor to be "moderate" in its third round wage demands.

Nor did he yield any ground on taxes. He insisted that the $7,500,000,000 Treasury surplus now in sight (Continued on Page Four)
