Saunders On Newton: 'I Suggest He Go Fishing Awhile'

MIAMI (AP) — The three hard-fought runoff campaigns for Congress are over, but the bitterness lingers on. One nomination was overturned by the courts and a defeated candidate says she'll pursue libel suits already filed against her opponent.

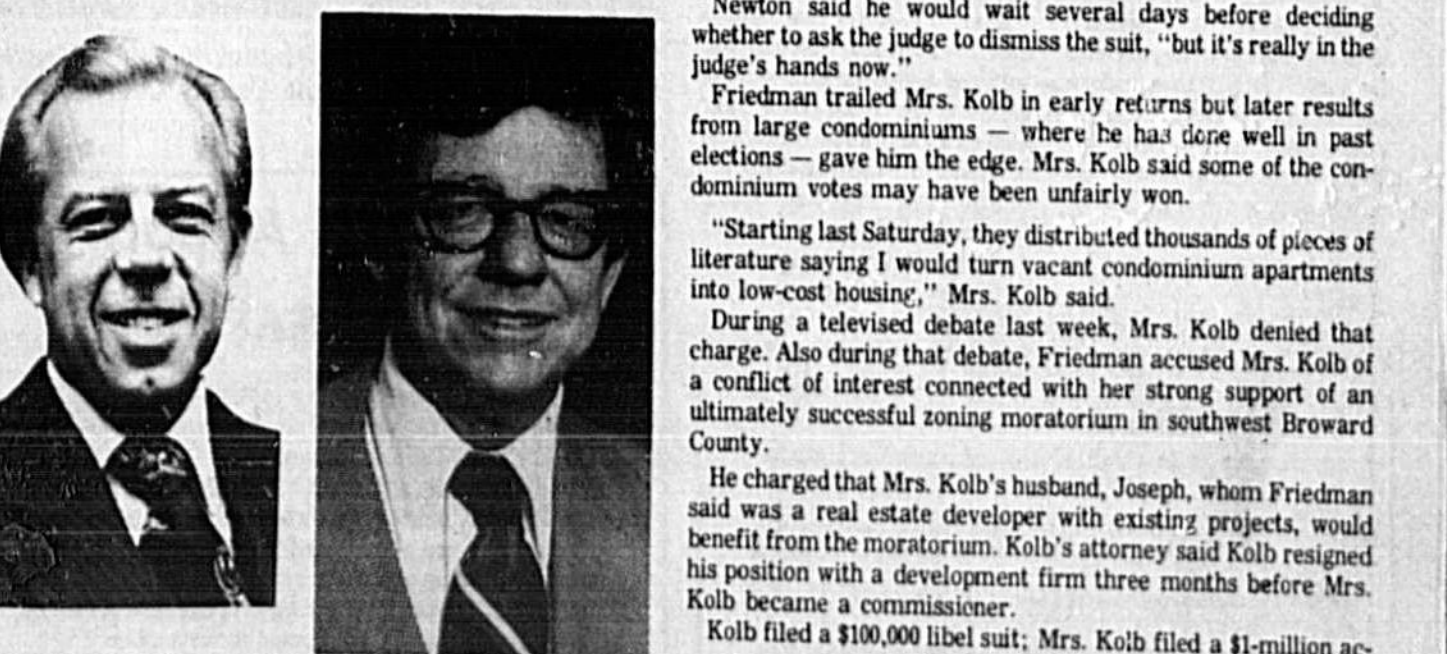

Empty voting booths were highlight of day Tuesday as fewest Seminole voters in history — 16 per cent — turned out at the polls.

NATION IN BRIEF

President Ford To Announce Decision On Public Works Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is to announce whether he will sign or veto a public-works job bill that he has criticized but which Jimmy Carter has challenged him to sign.

Democratic congressional leaders, who want time to attempt a veto override vote, if necessary, before they adjourn the end of the week, won a promise from Ford to disclose his decision today. Ford earlier this year vetoed a similar $6-billion jobs bill, and Congress overrode the veto.

Diplomatic Obstacle Cleared

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration cleared away one obstacle threatening relations with Saudi Arabia, but Congress is still considering legislation opposed by the oil-rich Middle East kingdom.

At issue, according to the administration, is a possible price rise for oil that Arab nations ship to the United States.

Responding to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's plea, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Tuesday cleared the first obstacle by killing any chance that Congress would block the sale of $30 million worth of sophisticated airborne missiles to the Saudis.

Bell To Seek Rate Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bell Telephone, the first company in the nation to ever make more than $1 billion in profits in three months, intends to ask for higher rates unless more competition in the industry is eliminated.

AT&T Chairman John D. DeButts told a House subcommittee on communications Tuesday that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. will ask for rate increases for residential customers if the Federal Communications Commission is allowed to permit competition in the field to continue.

Union Chief Receives Setback

CINCINNATI (AP) — United Mine Workers president Arnold Miller received a major setback when delegates to the union's constitutional convention refused to give him the power he has said he needs to bring peace to the nation's coalfields.

Miller, who came to power with a promise to bring democracy to the 277,000-member union, sought a change in the union constitution to give him more authority in dealing with the UMW executive board, which must approve his policies.

Refugees Having Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most of the 138,000 Indochinese refugees who fled to the United States after Communist-led victories in Southeast Asia are adjusting to their new country but many suffer from mental depression, a new report to Congress says.

Nine Dancers Still Await Fate

at Club Juana.

Still on trial on charges of exposure of sexual organs in nude dancing was Marilyn G. Ward, 20, of Sanford; Susan J. Ronske, 24, of Casselberry; Margaret Ann Davis, 24, Fern Park; Karen Lou Hall, 20, Orlando; Patricia R. Goodwin, 18, Orlando; Sandra Lynn Harrison, 19, Winter Park; Diana Brooks, 19, Altamonte Springs; Penny J. Meeks, 20, Gainesville; and Catherine Norris, 21, Winter Park.

In testimony Tuesday afternoon Seminole sheriff's agent Jim Jones told the jury that one of the dancers he arrested nude on stage at the club had "backed away" and "sprawled legs like a farmer following a plow" and demonstrated what he meant to the jury. "Her whole bottom was showing," Jones said.

State Atty. Abbott Herring's chief investigator, Jack R. Fulenwider, testified that he entered the club to see a dancer on stage nude except for shoes.

He testified that the dancing woman "completely exposed her vagina" and "flooded her breasts and made motions simulating intercourse."

When he dashed onto the stage and arrested her, Fulenwider said the woman told him, "Let me get my damn clothes" and that she picked up clothing from a table on stage.

Fulenwider said Pinter had come to Herring's Sanford office six weeks before the arrests and had asked what would happen if he was arrested. Pinter testified that the establishment would be watched. If there was nude dancing, he said, the participants would be arrested and jailed.

Sheriff's detective Ralph Salerno testified that he had watched a dancer take off her clothes "piece by piece" and danced in the nude "braving her pelvic area and fondling her own breasts."

He said during the dance the woman "turned her back to the audience and bent over."

He demonstrated for the jurors what he described as "pelvic thrusts."

Sanford Airport Granted $686,441

Sanford's airport has won a $686,441 federal grant for improvements. The airport authority and the state will split the rest of the $782,712 cost.

The funds will pay for a new north-south taxiway, completion of a parallel east-west taxiway, a patrol road at the southern end of the airport, and lights on the north-south runway and new taxiways.

Assistant Airport Manager Marvin Greenstein said he hopes construction will be started in November.

What Was Behind Vote On Attorney?

By ED PRACKETT
Herald Staff Writer

County commission members voted for a legal department knocked the stuffing out of the $100,000-a-year political plum known as the county attorney's position.

Democratic Commissioner Sid Vihlen Jr., on his second try, won commission approval to hire one attorney for $22,000 to $27,000 to head up the new legal staff.

A deadline of Friday was included in Vihlen's motion, but Exec. Asst. Roger Neiswender said a more realistic time frame is about two months.

The vote will eliminate much of the politics involved in the attorney's position because the county's personnel board will review applicants before recommending names to the county commission for approval.

In addition, commissioners voted not to pay any more bills submitted by labor attorney Alley, Alley & Blue until a need for their services can be decided upon. Commissioners say eventually they will eliminate the county's relationship with the Tampa-based specialty firm.

County Atty. Tom Freeman, a Democrat appointed to his $115,000-a-year job by the Democratic majority on the board, said today he's pleased to get out of the job. "They were making out," Freeman said. The $20 per hour legal fee he charged the commissioners. Last year, Freeman's fees soared to $115,000. Attorneys collected an estimated total of $206,000 in legal fees.

Within two years, Freeman says, the county will have to hire four lawyers. Plus, the attorney predicts legal fees "will double."

But Freeman stresses his attitude is not "sour grapes." "I'm so happy to get out of there you wouldn't believe it."

Officials haven't traded $27,000 for $206,000. That would be too good to be true. The fact is $240,000 is budgeted next year to pay legal costs. But the position has been moved out of the appointive political realm into a staff position to be filled after recommendations from the personnel department.

Just as charges and counter charges have centered on the attorney's position since Both Williams' resignation in early 1975, Tuesday's three-to-two vote was clearly no exception.

Republican Commissioner Dick Williams last year proposed creation of a legal department. John Kimbrogh backed Williams, but Democrats stifled the issue by refusing to provide the needed third vote.

Then on Tuesday Vihlen's first motion failed to get a second. Then just before Commission Chairman Mike Hatway's motion to appoint Kimbrogh as county attorney, Vihlen's motion failed. "If you make that motion again, I'll second it."

But Kimbrogh and the third Democrat on the board, Harry Kwiatkowski, refused to vote in favor.

"It was done to satisfy public pressure with little thought for future consequences," Kwiatkowski said. "I think the action is an excellent example of government by applause meter."

"I don't think (excuse me) Sid) there has been proper thought," Hatway commented. Though the chairman said he agreed, theoretically, with the legal department concept, he said Vihlen was "putting the cart before the horse."

But, Kimbrogh pointed out approval of the Vihlen motion simply means that, legally, commissioners agree to the board named a three-man ad hoc committee to continue the selection process through a series of detailed negotiations with each firm. Joining Weldon and Miller are the committees will be trustee George McCallion.

"I'd like to see them source the work in its entirety," Milwee said of the ad hoc panel's task. "We'll speak to them about the services we want, provided that the relationship between the owners and contractors, and all that sort of thing."

Following these discussions, Milwee added, the committee would probably attempt to work out financial arrangements with the architect, either by contract or on a fee basis.

He said the panel would negotiate with each firm in the preliminary field work to be able to make its final recommendation to the full board at the next regularly scheduled meeting Oct. 12.

Board To Get Bridge Report

By KRIS NASH
Herald Staff Writer

A report from the Orlando contractor who built a $30-million bridge linking the Bel-Aire Watershed subdivision of Altamonte Springs with Spring Lake Elementary School is expected to highlight tonight's meeting of the Seminole County School Board.

The structure was erected last year at school board expense to eliminate busing of students who live along SR-48 within two miles of Spring Lake Elementary School. Officials have estimated that the bridge would save $30,000-$40,000 in transportation costs.

A Weathersfield neighborhood complained to the school board recently that approaches on the east side of the bridge are too steep for young children to negotiate, particularly if they are walking bicycles.

The bridge itself seems to be more than adequate," said Spring Lake PTA President Kathryn Hix. "But the walkways leading to it are not. We're concerned about the use of hay to cover the sandy paths leading to the river and demanded that the walkway be paved with hard material and possibly be terraced to reduce danger of accidents."

Laver said Tuesday that the board named a three-man ad hoc committee to continue the selection process through a series of detailed negotiations with each firm. Joining Weldon and Miller are the committees will be trustee George McCallion.

SCC Trustees Choose Slate Of Architects

Two Sanford architects and another from Casselberry were chosen Tuesday by the Seminole County College board of trustees as top candidates to handle the proposed $2.25 million fourth state in the school's on-going program of campus construction.

The seven firms were designated by the trustees at their Sept. 14 regular meeting after Harvey Milwee, administrative assistant to SCC President Dr. Earl Weldon, presented the board with names of 10 architects he had responded to mailed invitations and newspaper advertising on Phave IV.

The upcoming building project is expected to include expansion of the college library, construction of classroom and shop facilities for the school's growing vocational-technical department, and the erection of general-purpose laboratories and classrooms.

Before adjourning Tuesday, panel members made the selection following a five-hour interview session with representatives of seven architectural concerns. Also in the preliminary field work was a Winter Park firm and three Orlando architects.

Presided over by Board Vice-Chairman Wendell Agee, the special meeting consisted of half-hour presentations by each firm. Architects provided panel members with details of past projects they had handled and offered explanations of present capabilities, then answered questions from the board.

Seminole Jail To Get More Beds

The Seminole County commission's acceptance Tuesday of a $162,000 bid from an Orlando firm for construction of 53 additional beds at the county jail in Sanford means construction should get underway by mid-October.

The bid was submitted by Eagle Contractors of Orlando. At first it was for $184,000, but Sanford Architect James Melvin reduced that to $162,000. The county had budgeted about $160,000.

Sheriff John Polk reminded commissioners that the jail's inmate population is running about 98 per day. The facility was constructed to house 85.

The commission also approved a $27,245 contract with Gutman and Dragash, a Sanford firm, for design of a new county jail. Officials hope to use plans to secure federal funds for construction of a multi-million facility possibly at Five Points.

HRS Shuffles Personnel After Being Criticized

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Feeling the sting of legislative criticism, the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services has completed high-level shuffles by appointing two executives and demoting a third.

HRS Secretary William J. Page named two assistant secretaries who oversee the state's largest agency; a third was named earlier this month.

One of the executives in Tuesday's shuffle said his appointment was linked to criticism by legislators unhappy over sloppy bill handling and personnel practices in the department. HRS has also been slated for House and Senate probes involving Florida's $240-million Medicaid program.

Page named George A. Van Staden as assistant secretary for administrative services, a lateral move from his current job as head of operations. He replaced Robert V. Pearce, who went back to his old job as deputy assistant secretary for administrative services.

Cane Drifts Towards Bermuda

MIAMI (AP) — Hurricane Gloria drifted slowly toward Bermuda today, but forecasters said it posed little threat to the island. "It could pass fairly close and not have much influence," said Dr. Neil Frank, director of the National Hurricane Center.

Forecasters said Gloria — with 75 mile per hour winds — is barely a hurricane and little change in strength is expected.

At 6 a.m. EDT today, Gloria was centered near latitude 29.5 north, longitude 60 west, or about 350 miles east-southeast of Bermuda. It was drifting northwest at around 7 m.p.h. — a movement forecasters said would continue through the day.

Woman Killed; Cops Suspended

INDIANLANTIC (AP) — Officers had no-justia weapons, including a knife and a club, which they did not use.

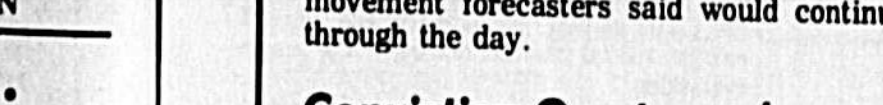

Kreuzkamp gave the following account of the shooting: "Torry and Scarborough answered a report on a domestic quarrel, authorities say."

Police said that Indianlantic policeman Vincent Torpy, 21, killed Perla Lasater in self-defense Monday night while her husband, Dr. James Lasater, and 15-year-old son watched.

Torry and his partner, officer Robert Scarborough, were suspended with pay the next day, authorities said.

Brevard County State Attorney Abbott Herring said he hopes to have the investigation ready to go before a grand jury Thursday.

Indianlantic Police Chief Paul Kreuzkamp said that Mrs. Lasater lunged at Torpy with a kitchen knife and he shot her. Kreuzkamp also said that both

Conviction Overturned

TAMPA (AP) — An appeal court has overturned a robbery conviction and 199-year prison term handed to Lee Max Hyder by a Tampa judge who called him a "calous individual."

The Second District Court of Appeal ruled that the conviction and sentence were in error because the state violated Hyder's right to a speedy trial.

The three judge panel issued the ruling Monday but did not specify when it was filed in Hillsborough County court until early this week.

It overturned the sentence set by Judge Robert Rawlins, who told Hyder he had never "more calous individual."

FP&L Customers To Pay More

MIAMI (AP) — Fuel adjustment charges for customers of Florida Power & Light Co. will nearly double in October — from $1.41 to $2.48, company officials say.

The October charge, approved by the Public Service Commission, is 76 per cent higher than the September fee.

For a typical FPL customer using 1,000 kilowatt hours of power, the October bill will total $35.68, counting the $33.20 base and the fuel charge.

Cripplé 'Drove Too Slow'

MIAMI (AP) — Earl Petinsky, crippled by polio, is restricted to driving at speeds of 12 miles per hour or less in his specially equipped three wheeler. But now he's got a ticket for driving too slowly.

Petinsky, 28, paralyzed from the waist down since the age of 2, was scheduled to go to traffic court today to answer the charge.

Petinsky, who has graduated from Miami-Dade Community College, also acquired a driver's license, which restricts him to a maximum speed of 12 m.p.h. A governor was fitted onto the new vehicle to keep his speed down.

Rate Hike Hearing Requested

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Insurance Commissioner Philip Ashler should spend a $14.5-million rate increase for Blue-Cross Blue Shield, two Palm Beach County legislators say.

"We'd like to see a few more facts, and we'd like to see a little better hearing on it," said Rep. Don Hazelton, D-West Palm Beach.

Hazelton and Rep. Tom Lewis, R-West Palm Beach, said Tuesday that Ashler should hold hearings on the rate hikes which he approved Sept. 7.

Congress' Last Pre-Election Gasp From Lobbyists To War And Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, rushing to adjourn by this weekend and head to the political campaigns, is deciding a wide variety of issues ranging from dams on the Mississippi to matters of war and peace in the Middle East.

The House passed this morning a bill for a bill that would require lobbyists to make public who they work for and how much money they spend trying to influence Congress and federal agencies. Present law requires only that lobbyists report their income and expenditures twice a year.

Sponsors of the lobbying bill, which now goes to a Senate House conference committee, said they were concerned that the measure might have been done by a last-minute amendment requiring disclosure of big financial contributors to lobbying groups. They said the amendment might lead some groups to withdraw their support for the overall bill.

The Senate today was to take up a bill that would increase unemployment taxes.

The lawmakers' schedule might gain another work item today if President Ford decides to veto a $1.7-billion money bill for public works construction. Ford promised congressional leaders Tuesday that he would make his decision today to allow time for Congress to attempt a veto override before adjourning Friday or Saturday.

Following are some of the items that Congress acted on Tuesday:

FOREIGN AID

Congress gave final approval of a $5.1-billion foreign aid money bill. The bill also includes $1.1 billion in economic aid for the Peace Corps, International development banks and certain

DISASTER AID

The Senate approved a measure appropriating $34 million to repair government facilities and compensate victims of disasters in Idaho and Guam. The problem in Idaho was the flood caused by the collapse June 5 of the Teton Dam. Guam was hit by Typhoon Pamela earlier this year. The measure goes to the House which has not voted on Idaho relief.

POSTAL SUBSIDIES

The Senate approved spending $600 million to pay off a portion of the Postal Service's $1 billion debt. Postal officials say the only alternatives to the payments are higher mail rates or reduced service. The bill goes to the House.

The Senate put off until next year any decision on the controversial Alton Lock and Dam project on the Mississippi River. The $300 million project would have linked approval of major navigation projects to the imposition of fees on barge owners and other users of the inland waterway system.

CIA PAYMENTS

Final congressional approval was given to a bill to pay $750,000 to the family of an Army scientist who leaped to his death in 1950 after being given LSD without his knowledge as part of an experiment.

The Senate had voted $1,250,000 for the family of Frank Olson of Frederick, Md., but the House cut it to $750,000. The Senate agreed.

CLEAR CUTTING

A compromise was reached on legislation to allow clear-cutting in national forests but under strict rules. The bill, approved by a House-Senate conference committee, repeals a 1987 law that federal judges have interpreted as banning clear-cutting in national forests, the timber industry's practice of leveling an entire stand of timber instead of selectively cutting trees. The compromise now goes to both the House and Senate.

SHIPS AND TANKS

The House Armed Services Committee killed President Ford's request for an extra $1.6 billion worth of Navy ships, including a destroyer, a cruiser and four frigates.

However, the panel adopted a resolution urging Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld to rapidly develop an XMI Army tank. The resolution doesn't specify whether Rumsfeld should push ahead with an American tank or a U.S.-German hybrid. He has opted for the hybrid but has delayed awarding production contracts until Nov. 17.

U.S.-SAUDI ARABIA

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee killed a resolution that would have urged the sale of 600 air-to-ground Mavericks missiles to Saudi Arabia. The panel acted after Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger made a personal plea that the sale be allowed.

Grady Okays Chiles' Debate Compromise

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Chiles, the Democratic incumbent, agreed to a compromise with the League in setting up the first presidential debate and with the sound failure during the debate. Chiles has said he wants the debate to be a better forum for statewide telecasts than individual stations.

But Grady said outside sponsorship only added another level of participants and the television stations would still have to be in charge of technical production.

Grady said the problems of outside sponsorship were illustrated by the dispute the Chiles, who was challenged by the Democratic primary issued the compromise to debate before Grady, a Belle Glade physician, won the Republican nomination.

Chiles' aides said that Chiles has always been committed to the debates and responded promptly to all suggestions of Chiles' frankly question whether "I really question whether

A Tax Menu That's Warmed Over

It's not unfair to sniff for politics in any legislation emerging from Congress a few weeks before an election. Try as we might, though, we fail to see how anyone can get any real political mileage out of the "tax reform" bill of 1976.

Gov. Jimmy Carter is getting applause on the campaign circuit by calling the Internal Revenue Code a "disgrace," but he now must swallow the fact that a Democratic-controlled Congress is delivering 1,500 pages of revisions that leave it no less disgraceful, if not more so.

Congress itself must salvage what it can from advertising the "reform" aspects of the bill which increase some taxes, and especially at upper income levels, and provide new tax benefits to certain taxpayers with lower incomes.

The party's people depend on mob action. Republicans benefit from rain, spongy and other natural disasters on ballot day, hence the Democratic philosophy and its survival are linked to the quantity rather than quality of the vote.

Not surprising then that the party of the present is in a sweat attempting to hustle registration. One high committee man speaks quietly of "re-assessing our position against the mandatory vote."

Since the tax bill will reach the President's desk as an all-or-nothing document, Mr. Ford has to weigh it as a whole and decide whether the objectionable features would justify a veto at the expense of what might be considered good about the bill.

While it is easy to say that letting the 1975 tax cuts expire could dampen the pace of recovery next year, it is not so easy to gauge the effect on capital gains, returns on foreign investment and other gains, returns on foreign investment and other gains, returns on foreign investment and other gains.

Actually, NDF's proposal is not merely a tool to increase voter turnout. That happy occasion would be a tangential benefit. Primarily, Perry and his foundation are interested in reducing government influence over tax funds, thus over people's lives.

Approximately $40 billion in corporate taxes are presently collected on an annual basis. This goes into a general fund which is more or less returned to the people, with the government bureaucracy as the middle man.

Perry would have a transition period of five years. The first year voters would get 20 per cent of the corporate taxes, or about $200 a piece. By 1981 the voters would get $1,500. The money would be provided on a quarterly basis so that the kickbacks would not over heat the economy.

WASHINGTON — A mysterious group of Texas oilmen, bound by blood, marriage and the corporate bond, have quietly been funneling thousands of dollars to politicians who champion oil interests.

The Texans own and operate the Quintana Petroleum Corporation, although one would hardly know it since the oilmen, according to a company official, "don't like to have anything publicized about it."

This penchant for secrecy, apparently, is the reason the Quintana crowd has had such close connections with the company on several federal campaign contribution forms. Such omissions raised the official curiosity of the Federal Election Commission.

The group works closely with ex-Treasurer Secretary John Connally's Houston law firm. A member of the firm, William H. Drushel Jr., actually maintains an office at Quintana. In the past, Connally has distributed oil money to favored politicians.

The Quintana crowd has concentrated this year on rewarding members of Congress who support oil tax benefits. While the tax bill was being drafted this spring, the Quintana executives and their wives passed out $12,000 to five key members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

Payoff To Come At Polls

WITH THE CARTER CAMPAIGN — Indications that 70 million eligible Americans will not vote this November are particularly troubling to Democratic politicians.

Not surprising then that the party of the present is in a sweat attempting to hustle registration. One high committee man speaks quietly of "re-assessing our position against the mandatory vote."

And, too, the candidate himself has gotten on the act, wrongly. At a New Jersey stop recently he was seen in arm with a party congressman who is using taxpayer's funds to encourage the vote.

So frantic are the Democrats actually, that a few of them have even been talking of paying people to vote in future elections. Not so silly, in fact, the idea has been circulating for more than 20 years.

The group works closely with ex-Treasurer Secretary John Connally's Houston law firm. A member of the firm, William H. Drushel Jr., actually maintains an office at Quintana. In the past, Connally has distributed oil money to favored politicians.

The Quintana crowd has concentrated this year on rewarding members of Congress who support oil tax benefits. While the tax bill was being drafted this spring, the Quintana executives and their wives passed out $12,000 to five key members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

My liprechaun sidekick Timothy Dooley has changed his mind about the question of life on other planets. In fact, Tim told me recently that he had paid a visit to Mars, and while he was there he had spotted a group of little Martians meeting on the dry bed of one of those Martian canals.

"Sure, and it was quite a fancy piece of liprechaun magic that boosted me into outer space," Tim boasted. "The only reason I ever attempted it was patriotism, if you don't mind my saying so. I was concerned about the Viking landings that seemed to have found some difficulties. So, being a good self-appointed Irish-American I just had to go see for myself."

"Well, sir, when I got up there I inspected one Viking machine and found it to be in good working order, except for this little monkey wrench that somebody had thrown into the joint of its mechanical arm. Well, sir, I removed the wrench and was just fixin to go visit the other one, when I heard voices coming from a dry riverbed nearby. I went and crouched behind a rock and listened to the whole proceeding. Rather than try to explain it to ye, Audie, me boy, I'll just give ye a summary of the proceedings, which I managed to swipe — er, borrow — from the recorder secretary."

That was how Tim explained it to me, and here is the summary of the proceedings of the Twelfth District Court of Mars:

Edwood T. Pinto, along with 10 dancers, were brought before the court on charges of lewd and lascivious conduct stemming from a dance routine performed by the girls at Pinto's club on May 22, when the girls allegedly exposed their reproductive parts, namely their elbows, during a dance routine.

It is noted by the Court that this is the 27th attempt by the Twelfth District Prosecutor to bring these charges to fruition, and that the aforementioned attempts (all unsuccessful) have cost 65 million Martian dollars, and that 1,000 Martians in District Twelve have died from hunger and exposure due to the resulting bankrupt status of District Twelve, and its inability to provide basic social services to its Martian constituents.

Having noted the above, the Court heard the Prosecutor, who made the following argument: the said 10 dancers did, on May 22, expose their naked elbows in a lewd and lascivious manner, thereby inspiring feelings of lust and impure desire in the bosoms of several prominent Martians, including Martian presidential candidate Jimmy 'Peanut' Barber, who is known to be susceptible to such feelings.

Summation statement by Prosecutor: This wickedness must be stopped, to affirm once and for all that reproduction is inherently sinful, and that Martians as a species are evil and doomed to burn in the furnaces of Polokow, Pennsylvania.

Summation statement by Defender: Ye are all crazy? What ever happened to the Martian Constitution? Above data was fed into Judicial Computer, which produced the following judgment: Get out of here and don't bother me with such garbage.

Conclusion: Twelfth Martian District Judge Howard Conell overruled computer judgment and scheduled another trial for next month. Estimated cost: 1.5 million Martian dollars.

So, that's it, folks. And though I like Tim a lot, I would advise ye to take it all with a grain of salt: the little beggar may have made it all up.

JOHN D. LOFTON, JR.

Mrs. Carter Is Mum On Interests

STILL ABOARD THE CARTER-MONDALE WHISTLE STOP SOMEWHERE WEST OF PLYMOUTH, INDIANA — Throughout this two-day, 15-city, 960-mile tour-de-force traveling from New York to Chicago, the Republican party, Gerald Ford, Warren Harding, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover, and Richard Nixon have all caught holy hell from Jimmy Carter, Walter Mondale, and Mrs. Rosalynn Carter.

Not surprisingly, Mrs. Carter repeatedly slams "the special interests," pointing out that her husband will be a good president for the same reason he was a good governor: that is, he has "no obligations" and "no strings attached."

At stop after stop, Mrs. Carter repeatedly slams "the special interests," pointing out that her husband will be a good president for the same reason he was a good governor: that is, he has "no obligations" and "no strings attached."

But exactly who or what are "the special interests"? Well, from my naive, provincial point of view, I would guess that organized labor would, by definition, qualify, since only 25 per cent of the American work force is unionized.

Well, then, how about Big Business? It has to be a "special interest." Nope. Again, this can't be true, because Mr. Carter has received thousands of dollars in contributions from executives working for such corporations as Continental Airlines; the Burlington Northern Railroad; Pan American Airlines; Time Magazine; Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith; and International Telephone and Telegraph.

Now fortunately, joining the Carter-Mondale train in Indiana is a real expert on "special interests," Sen. Vance Hartke (D-Ind.), who has earned the nickname "Sen. Bought." The other Democratic senator from Indiana is Birch Bayh. Sen. Hartke is on the stump this year and as chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee's subcommittee on Surface Transportation, has received tons of dough from those he regulates, the railroads and the railway unions. In 1970, Mr. Hartke got $80,000 in campaign contributions from nine railroad presidents and several leaders of the trucking industry. Certainly he must have some idea who "the special interests" are.

So in Plymouth, Indiana, after the rally is over, I ask the senator if he has any idea who "the special interests" are that Mrs. Carter attacked just prior to introducing him. For a full five seconds, Mr. Hartke stares at me as if I had asked him to explain the mystery of Stonehenge or how the great pyramid of Cheops was constructed. Looking down at the press tag around my neck, he softly suggests: "I think you better ask Mrs. Carter that."

Good idea. But Mrs. Carter refuses to see me personally. So, I write her a note and, an hour or so later, I receive an answer from her press aide, Mary Hoyt. It reads: "Mrs. Carter does not wish to respond. She says that she believes her point is perfectly clear."

Well, maybe it is. But I don't think so. I mean, if Vance Hartke doesn't know who "the special interests" are, can you imagine how many other people must be confused?

Letters to the editor are welcomed for publication. All letters must be signed, with a mailing address and, if possible, a telephone number so the identity of the writer may be verified. The Evening Herald will respect the wishes of writers who do not want their names in print. The Evening Herald also reserves the right to edit letters to eliminate libel or to conform to space requirements.

By all accounts, Olson is an honest, decent businessman, with political experience. A White House spokesman described Olson as a "good and well qualified" appointee. But the deposed Weiss is far more qualified for the post.

How State Legislative Races Turned Out

Dempsey: 'Most Satisfying,' Marchant: 'It's Been Hell'
TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Senate President Dempsey Barron called his come-from-behind Senate runoff victory "the most satisfying win" of his 30-year legislative career.

Karl: From Private Practice To Bench

Karl captured Seminole County by better than 5-1, taking 83 of the 85 precincts. He lost one precinct to Holley by only two votes and tied in another. Karl's local total in unofficial returns was 4,784 to Holley's 2,988.

Joe Knowles Wins; Faces Rep. Fechtel

Joe Knowles, Leesburg citrus grower, won the Democratic nomination Tuesday to face incumbent State Rep. Vince Fechtel (R-Leesburg) in the November general election for Florida's district 34.

Democrats Zeroing In On Investigations Of Ford

By DAVE RILEY
Associated Press Writer

Democrats are beginning to take some public notice of federal investigations into alleged misuse of campaign funds during President Ford's congressional campaign and Ford's golfing trips with corporate lobbyists.

Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter, at home for a rest in Plains, Ga., has avoided direct comment on the investigations and, until Tuesday, so did other Democrats.

But Carter's running mate, Sen. Walter Mondale, and party chairman Robert Strauss both offered comments on the Ford investigations Tuesday. Mondale, in Toledo, Ohio, said Ford has been "ducking and hiding" from questions about the investigation. And Strauss chastised GOP vice presidential candidate Bob Dole for suggesting that the probes were political in nature.

The special Watergate prosecutor's office is investigating the records of Ford's home district GOP organization in Kent County, Mich., reportedly looking into allegations that Ford, while in Congress, illegally diverted campaign contributions to personal or improper use, "laundering" the money through local party organizations.

Ford has not personally mentioned the investigations and has not been available for questions. He has not been available for questions about the corporate golfing trips, Dole said he had no information and could not discuss it. But Strauss said Dole's remarks about Watergate Prosecutor Charles Ruff were off base.

"I would remind the public and Sen. Dole that this is the very response Americans got from Nixon, Agnew — and Dole with regularity during his years in Washington and he has accepted invitations at various clubs, which is customary. He played with friends, and at other times he invited his friends to be his guests at his club."

He said Ford quit accepting golfing trips when he became vice president in 1973. Asked why, Nissen replied, "He's in a different position now. He was vice president then and now he's President. Before that, he was a member of Congress."

Mondale at first avoided questions on the probes, saying: "I don't think I should be commenting on that until I'm personally sure what the situation is. Those questions shouldn't be put to me. They should be put to the person in the White House. I am told the President is unavailable for comment. I'm told he won't answer questions."

Then, in Toledo, he said Ford was "ducking and hiding behind his desk" and should answer questions about the investigations.

Dole said Monday that the Watergate prosecutor's investigation was "nothing but election year politics." Told about the White House revelation about the corporate golfing trips, Dole said he had no information and could not discuss it.

But Strauss said Dole's remarks about Watergate Prosecutor Charles Ruff were off base.

"I would remind the public and Sen. Dole that this is the very response Americans got from Nixon, Agnew — and Dole in 1972, covering up the Watergate scandal until after the election."

Strauss said Dole and Ford have a right to remain silent on the probes but that "they do not have a right to impugn the motives of the FBI, the special prosecutor or Democratic party officials."

White Carter has not directly commented on the Ford investigations, he did refer Monday to "political leadership that has been bogged down in Washington for 25 or 30 years," drawing advice, counsel and financial support from lobbyists and special interests that "belong to the same club, play golf on the same golf courses."

Asked if his remarks were directed at the Ford probes, Carter smiled and said, "I'll let you make the judgment about that."

His headquarters issued a lengthy statement in his name after the government issued its latest reading of economic indicators.

The indicators, which are supposed to hint at future economic performance, declined in August for the first time in 18 months, leading Carter to conclude, "There is nothing in the economic outlook to be optimistic about."

Carter has been advised by his top aides to be more cautious when answering questions because of criticism of his statements in recent interviews, including a controversial discussion in Playboy magazine.

Give a darn... Get it in high gear

You'll save gas that way. Keep your car's transmission in the high gear possible as long as you drive. More gas is consumed in the lower gears and quickly, then build speed in high gear. With an automatic transmission use a light foot on the accelerator to engage the transmission to shift into higher gears as quickly as possible. Break other gas-wasting habits like pumping the accelerator or racing the engine while the car is stopped. Save money. — Save gas. — Give a darn.

STAINS

When the "stain squad" challenged Tru-Test E-Z Kare latex flat enamel... they got wiped out!

Most food stains wash clean from the enamel-hard E-Z Kare finish without "shining" or need for repainting. It was hardly a contest for Tru-Test E-Z Kare Latex Flat Enamel. Because stains, grease and grime can't readily penetrate the E-Z Kare surface, most soil washes away. Tough stains can usually be scrubbed off with no damage to the flat latex finish. The soft look and easy application of latex plus the rugged durability of enamel make E-Z Kare perfect for both walls and woodwork.

Canal 'Roadshow' Comes To Area

By JACQUELINE DOWD
Herald Staff Writer

The Army Corps of Engineers brought its traveling roadshow to Central Florida Tuesday and gave area residents a chance to present facts and opinions about the controversial Cross-Florida Barge Canal.

The people who spoke at a public hearing in Orlando — the last of a series held in cities all over the state — represented a cross-section of Florida's diverse population. The speakers included an elderly couple from Winter Haven, a Tallahassee lawyer, a mariner from Neptune Beach — and three Seminole residents.

James Ryan, administrator for the Seminole County Port Authority, said the port and its industrial park were developed with the idea that the canal would soon be increasing traffic on the St. Johns River, as well as opening up large transportation to the Gulf Coast and the Midwest.

"Our facility will continue without the canal," Ryan said, "but it will never have any major impact on the area because its major emphasis was on the canal."

Alexander K. Dickson of Alamoonte Springs, who is chairman of the Orlando Sierra Club, said "Our elected officials should realize that the canal is a bad investment and could cause untold damage to the environment."

He said the environmentalist group he chairs feels the top priority should be restoring the Oklawaha River "to as near its natural state as possible."

Edward Shear of Longwood questioned the economic benefits of finishing construction of the $400 million canal, which was halted in 1971 by former President Richard Nixon.

A federal judge ruled that Nixon did not have authority to take such action and ordered new economic and environmental studies by the Army Corps of Engineers to guide Congress in deciding whether to complete the canal or give it up.

"I wonder if the economic approach of evaluating benefits of the canal is as meaningful in the long run as an energy approach," Shear said. "My gut feeling is that there would be a net energy loss."

The canal's fate is expected to be decided by the Florida Cabinet Dec. 16 and 17. After two days of hearings, the Cabinet members are expected to vote on whether to abandon the project or resume construction of the 110-mile canal from Yankeetown on the Gulf of Mexico to Palatka on the St. Johns River.

State and federal officials say Cabinet opposition to the canal almost certainly would kill it as Congress usually does not fund projects opposed by local officials.

Information gathered during the public hearings will be presented to the Cabinet officers.

Cook Of The Week Rowena Remembers, Shares Recipes In Book

By DORIS DISTRICH Herald Correspondent. Nostalgia! With her hazel eyes dancing, Rowena Billetter was all smiles as she reminisced about the years as the owner of one of Orlando's most famous dining spots.

The charming pink and white building surrounded by colorful plants was identified by a lastful sign, "The Rowena-Gracious Dining." Business offices now occupy the site that was at one time, the "hot with the moon" for all-Florida and celebrities and notable visiting the area.

However, "The Rowena" is not just a memory, but today, a living memorial through a cookbook compiled by Rowena and appropriately entitled "Rowena's Recipes With Memories."

During her years of catering, Rowena was a part of the Big Navy luau staged at Sanford Naval Air Station (SNAS) in 1959 with Ty Ranney as the chairman who was challenging to raise $10,000 for Navy Relief.

Rowena ponders, "How does one decide to whom a cookbook should be dedicated? My clientele of appreciative guests, of whom many in my 20 years in the Rowena have become dear friends, shall always be remembered and they certainly deserve honorable mention.

"Mildred Smith, a dear friend co-worker for 10 years, deserves much credit. How else would I ever have had a vacation? And without the encouragement and help of my dear friend Carrie Bonham, the cookbook would not be a reality.

"I do not consider myself a professional cook, but one cooking with TLC. This was on the menu when we first opened. When my son Bud, who deserved much credit for the Rowena, was asked the meaning of TLC, he replied, "Our Mother's Tender Loving Care."

"And so it is to my five dear children Bud, Barbara, Beverly, Bernice and Beth that I dedicate my book. Among the many celebrities who have dined at The Rowena was Buddy Rogers, husband of Mary Pickford who attended, "This is the best fried chicken I ever ate."

Rowena's was "hot" spot for many visiting politicians, performers, theatrical artists, bands, symphonies, sportsmen and scores of others. Somehow, they were all housed at the familiar spot which featured only the finest of home-cooked foods.

Snap beans with apples make unusual and delicious vegetable and fruit combination.

Good Allies: Green Beans, Apples

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
There's a delicious sweet-and-sour dish made with green beans and green apples. Favored by European cooks, in our opinion it should be better known on American tables.
We first tasted it about a dozen years ago at a supper given by an English friend. She told us it was her Dutch mother's recipe. Recently another friend who learned to cook from her Viennese mother gave us a similar recipe; hers adds onion to the bean and apple combination. After trying this version, we think it's as interesting as the Dutch recipe and are happy to pass it along.

APPLE SNAP BEANS
1 pound snap beans, tipped and cut into 1-inch lengths
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium onion, chopped medium-fine
2 medium green apples, pared and coarsely chopped
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 medium onion, chopped medium-fine
1 and 1/3 cups clear fat-free chicken broth
Salt to taste
Boil beans, covered, in a small amount of salted water until just tender-crisp — 7 to 10 minutes; drain. In a 10-inch skillet melt the butter; add onion and apple and cook gently, stirring often, until onion is softened and apple is cooked through — about 10 minutes. (The apple will probably be "mushy.") Stir in the flour; add the sugar and vinegar; gradually stir in the chicken broth; stir constantly over gentle heat until thickened and bubbling. Stir in beans and reheat, adding salt. Makes 6 servings.
Note: If you haven't home-made chicken broth to use in this recipe, you may substitute 1/2 teaspoon chicken bouillon granules dissolved in 1 and 1/3 cups water.

Flavor From India Chutney Gives Added Zest To Curries

By TOM HOGUE
AP Newsfeatures Writer
In the culinary world, India is best known perhaps for its curries, those artfully prepared, tongue-tlingling mixtures of spiced-up meat, fish or fowl, tempered with rice. And no Indian curry is truly complete unless it is accompanied by that unique relish known as chutney. When the British held sway over the Indian subcontinent in the 18th and 19th centuries they acquired a taste for curry and brought this unique, volcanic dish back to England with them. Soon it found its way to America.
To many Westerners, curry is a flavorful, thick, yellow cream sauce that can be poured over meats, vegetables and even eggs. Most Indian cooks would scorn a prepared curry powder such as we use because each dish must have its own distinctive seasoning.
But since curry is actually a blend of up to 50 spices capable of a dazzling range of tastes, most of us have to settle for a good prepared powder, of which there are many.
There is nothing to stop a cook from doctoring the curry powder with spices, fresh herbs and fruits. Chili powder or tabasco will give it more bite and grated orange or lemon rind will tone it down.
Chutney is really quite easy to make and not too expensive. Here's a formula for one with a carrot and apple base.
3 cups chopped, pared carrots
3 cups chopped, pared apples
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 orange, thinly sliced and quartered
3 cups cider vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/4 teaspoon ginger
Combine all ingredients in large kettle. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Reduce heat and simmer uncovered 1 1/2 hours. 1/2 liquid is syrupy. Ladle into 18 sterilized jars to within 1/4 inch of rim. Screw on lids. Place jars in kettle on wire rack. Add water to cover jars by 1 inch. Bring to boil; boil 10 minutes. Remove jars and cool. Store in cool place. Makes 4 8-ounce jars.

Cocido From Spain Is Favorite Dish For Light Supper

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Cocido, a Spanish soup-stew, has recently come into great favor at our house. Once you try it, you too may want to offer it regularly.
We enjoy serving Cocido for a light supper during the week on Sunday. It's so easy to have ready, to heat and put on the table. With the Cocido you need lots of crusty bread and sweet butter; after it, salad and perhaps cheese, then dessert.
Yams or sweet potatoes are often used in Cocido and classic recipes call for adding them to the pot during the last 20 minutes or so of cooking. When we tried this, we found the solid pieces in the soup-stew stuck to the bottom of the pot. Now we steam the yams separately and add them along with their sweet juices. You'll find directions for doing this in the following recipe which is strictly our own version of the dish.

Yams or sweet potatoes are often used in Cocido and classic recipes call for adding them to the pot during the last 20 minutes or so of cooking. When we tried this, we found the solid pieces in the soup-stew stuck to the bottom of the pot. Now we steam the yams separately and add them along with their sweet juices. You'll find directions for doing this in the following recipe which is strictly our own version of the dish.

COCIDO U.S.A.
1/2 pound chorizo, sliced
1/4-inch thick (pork sausage, specially seasoned, available in some supermarkets and specialty food shops.)
1 1/2 pounds "back beef" for stew, 1-inch cubes
1 large (1 1/2 pound) Spanish onion, coarsely chopped
2 medium carrots, pared and thinly sliced
1 can (1 pound) peeled plum tomatoes, undrained
2 tablespoons instant beef granules dissolved in 3 cups water
1 can (1 pound, 5 ounces) chick peas, undrained
1/4 to 1/2 pound yams (pared and cut into 2-inch chunks), steamed according to note below
Salt and pepper to taste
In a 5-quart saucepot lightly brown the chorizo; remove with a slotted spoon. To drippings in saucepot add beef and brown briefly, just before beef has finished browning, add onion and stir to brown lightly. Add carrots, tomatoes and beef bouillon; simmer, covered, until beef is tender — about 1 1/2 hours. Chill; remove some of the hardened fat according to the note below. Add chick peas and the steamed yams and their juices plus salt and pepper; reheat. Serve in large soup bowls as a main dish. Makes 6 servings.
(Note: For steaming the yams you need a steamer with a solid bottom or you need to construct one. The steamer we used was once called a "bungalo cooker," and it was the late Elaine Masterton (author of the Blueberry Hill Cookbooks) who first sang its virtues. This steamer has an upper pan with a solid bottom and perforations at the top of its sides. However, there are many ways to improvise a solid-bottom steamer. Mary Greene, our recipe tester, uses our recipe for Cocido at home and improvises this way: she puts a rack in the bottom of a large saucepot and stands a heatproof bowl on the rack. Into the bowl goes a colander (with legs or a pedestal bottom) and the yams go into the bowl. She pours water into the saucepot, making sure there is enough for steaming but not so much that it will flow into the bowl. The pot is covered lightly and the water is kept boiling while the yams cook. Yams, pared and cut into 2-inch chunks, usually take from 10 to 20 minutes to steam. Removing fat: Enough of the fat must be left to give good flavor without having the soup-greasy. We remove most of the fat, then add more as the cocido heats, tasting and observing, until there is just the right amount.)

Crab Chowder Quick, Easy

Convenience and good flavor join to create this creamy King Crab Chowder. Juicy chunks of Alaska King crab permeate the rich chowder made in an instant, with canned soups.
KING CRAB CHOWDER
1 can (1 1/2 oz.) Alaska King crab or 1/2 pound frozen Alaska King crab
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) tomato soup, undrained
1 can (1 1/2 oz.) green pea soup, undrained
2 cups chicken bouillon
1/2 cup heavy cream
1/2 cup diced green pepper
1 tablespoon sherry wine
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Drain canned crab or defrost and drain frozen crab, reserving a few pieces for garnish. Slice crab with sharp knife. Combine tomato soup, pea soup, and bouillon. Bring to boil. Add crab, cream, green pepper and sherry. Heat gently, stirring until just heated through. Garnish with reserved pieces of crab and parsley. Serves 4.

Moussaka: Staple Of Mid-East

Moussaka, made with layers of ground meat, eggplant, onions and spices, is topped with a rich custard layer made with egg yolks, milk, margarine, flour, nutmeg and salt.

Plump, plum colored eggplant, aromatic garlic and rosy tomatoes are among the staples of the glorious cuisines of Middle Eastern countries. Moussaka, a Greek specialty, though enjoyed in many other Middle Eastern spots, is one of the best ways to combine the flavors of each in one, wonderful casserole dish.
A traditional moussaka has a multitude of tastes and textures in its layered, baked form. Because it includes meat, vegetables, and a thick, rich custardy sauce it makes the perfect meal-to-eat-for buffet style entertaining.
Most moussaka recipes require the use of preparation but here's one that's as elegant as any other and quite easy. The ground lamb or beef is browned in a skillet then drained. Peeled, chopped eggplant, onions, garlic and seasonings are then browned in a generous amount of margarine. The meat, vegetables, seasonings, eggplant, canned beef gravy and tomato paste are then layered in the casserole dish and spread with the custard sauce made with flour, salt, nutmeg, milk, egg yolks and margarine.
Serve this elegant Middle Eastern fare on the buffet table along with a large, tossed green salad with Curried Croutons, and round crusty pita bread.

MOUSSAKA
1 1/2 pounds ground lamb or beef
3 pounds eggplant
2 onions, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/2 teaspoon crushed rosemary
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) beef gravy
3 tablespoons tomato paste
1/2 teaspoon flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
2 cups milk
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
Brown meat in large skillet breaking up meat with a fork. Remove with slotted spoon; drain on absorbent paper. Discard fat. Peel and chop eggplant. Melt 4 tablespoons margarine in same skillet. Brown eggplant lightly adding 2 tablespoons more margarine if needed. Place in 15" x 17" baking pan. Melt 2 tablespoons margarine in same skillet. Sauté onions, garlic, salt, thyme, rosemary and pepper until onions are transparent. Add meat, gravy and tomato paste; mix lightly. Spoon over eggplant. Sprinkle mixture firmly into baking pan with fork of spoon. Melt remaining 4 tablespoons margarine in saucepan. Stir in flour, salt and nutmeg until well blended. Add milk. Cook quickly, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add a small amount of hot sauce to mixture if needed. Spread sauce evenly over meat mixture in baking pan. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 25-30 minutes or until bubbly and sauce is lightly browned. Makes 10-12 servings.

CURRIED CROUTONS
1/4 cup margarine
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1/2 cup white bread cubes, 1/2 inch
Melt margarine in large skillet; stir in curry. Add bread cubes. Brown lightly, stirring frequently. Serve sizzling hot.

Main dish fritters dress up leftovers

Fritter Away Leftover Meat

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor
There is a lot of good left on ham, turkey and chicken bones. Rather than throwing such leftovers away since you can't get good slices for sandwiches, clean the meat from the bones and make main dish fritters. These prove to be surprise treats for most. Deep fry in peanut oil to cut down on cholesterol and add different seasonings or ingredients to the leftover meats according to your whim or family tastes. Serve fritters with a tomato sauce, creamy mushroom sauce or your favorite maple syrup.

MAIN DISH FRITTERS
2 cups all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
4 egg yolks
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten
2 cups diced cooked ham, chicken, turkey or sautéed cooking ground beef

Add one of the following for seasoning:
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded cheddar cheese for ham
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning for poultry
2 tablespoons instant minced onion and 1/2 teaspoon oregano for beef
Peanut oil — 2 inches deep
Heat to 380 degrees
In a bowl, mix flour, baking powder, salt, egg yolks and milk until smooth. Fold in egg whites and cooked meat. Stir in desired seasoning. Drop mixture by heaping tablespoons into preheated peanut oil. Fry 5 to 6 minutes or until fritters are golden brown on all sides. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve topped with your favorite spicy tomato sauce or creamy mushroom sauce. Can also be served with warm maple syrup. Makes 21 fritters.

'A' Is For Apples; Fall Is For Pies

Many a primer starts with apples. And the season for fresh Red and Golden Delicious apples starts in North Carolina. That state's mountain orchards have a happy combination of warm days and cool nights which get the fruit ready for market sooner than crops from other parts of the country.
The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association recommends eating apples out-of-hand as snacks that act as "Nature's toothbrush." For fresh apple pie, try this biscuit topped deep-dish recipe with North Carolina apples.
To prepare filling, pare, core and thinly slice apples. Place in 1-quart casserole. Sprinkle with brown sugar, lemon juice, flour, salt, nutmeg and lemon rind.
To prepare topping, mix biscuit mix, sugar and milk in bowl until smooth. Form into a ball and roll out on floured surface to a circle 9 inches in diameter, or 2 inches larger than diameter of casserole. Place over apples and seal around edge. Bake in 400 degree F. oven 45 minutes until topping is browned and apples are tender. Serve warm with cream or ice cream.
Makes 8 servings.

For Thursday, September 30, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be extra careful not to step on too many toes in your zeal to reach your goals today. You have a tendency to rub people the wrong way today.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Underlings won't take too kindly to you today if you use dictatorial methods. Make them feel part of the team.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Although your better judgment may be flashing, warning signals, you could go out on a limb today in hopes of getting something for nothing.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) Be as tolerant of your family today as you are of friends, even though the kids seem to be trying to get your goat.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22) Problems at work today will be of your own doing, but you're likely to try to cast at least partial blame on someone else.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Usually you're rather prudent in managing your budget.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't wear your frustrations on your face today. If you're a bit of a perfectionist, you may form an alliance with one of the opposite sex purely for business reasons this year. You'll be friends, but innocent bystanders today. If deceptive play. They cashed their jacks of hearts to discard a diamond from dummy. Then they led a trump only to have each West player take his ace, shift to a club and bid them.

The second West's reason was that he had seen that type of deception written up in books and columns and wasn't going to fall for it.

The third said, "There wasn't a thing you could do. Once my partner showed up with the ace of hearts, he could not hold more than four other high-card points. If he had the full four and they were represented by the ace of clubs I could beat you. If they weren't, I couldn't so a club shift was automatic against any play."

Continuing our bidding questions the sequence has been: One diamond — pass — one spade — pass — three declarers. Each one reached four spades after a notrump opening and a Stayman response. The 10 of hearts was opened. East took his ace and returned the three.

As you can see the contract will make if South can clear trumps before the defense cashes two club tricks.

Declarer one was a simple suit. He won the heart with his king and led the king of trumps. West took his ace and led a second trump, whereupon our simple suit romped home.

Declarer two and three decided to try some brilliant

Leukemia Appears In Varied Forms

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I want to know something about chronic myelogenous leukemia. There is very little available about it and most of the information is about acute leukemia.

This happens to be very close to my heart as someone I love dearly has it. He is on medication. It is a very frightening illness as it has its ups and downs. He is totally unaware of what he has.

He got the illness at age 19 and it is such a hidden subject. I know they don't know too much about it but people like me look all the time for hope.

DEAR READER — Leukemia is a complex subject and there are many different types. What is true of one does not necessarily apply to another type. My remarks here should not be applied generally to all types of leukemia.

The primary disease in chronic myelogenous leukemia is an enormous excessive production of part of the white blood cells. You normally have about two major groups of white cells, those associated with acute infections which we will call the myelocyte group and those produced mostly by lymphocytes. Overproduction of the myelocyte group is the feature of myelogenous leukemia. The slow long term form is called as chronic as opposed to acute.

The cause is not known. It results in about 15 to 20 per cent of all forms of leukemia. We do know that excess radiation may cause it. Radiologists used to get it because of inadequate protection against X rays.

The patient may not have any symptoms at all to begin with. The diagnosis may be made because of an abnormal blood

As 10 Nude Dancers Acquitted Club Operator Claims 'Vendetta'

Club Juana operator Michael Pinter, acquitted Wednesday in County Court along with 10 dancers charged with exposure of sexual organs in nude dancing, claims State Atty. Abbott Herring and his chief investigator, Jack R. Fulewider, have a vendetta against him and the Casellberry night spot.

"I knew Herring and Fulewider had it in for me and the Juana," Pinter told reporters after the group came cheering from the courtroom. "I was scared but the judicial system works. Herring is unbelievable. Just wait till November. Now people will see how he uses his office."

Associated Press today reported Pinter promptly vowed that his girls would soon bare it all again and that if law enforcement officers "beat us again, we'll file for an injunction to stop the harassment."

Both Herring and Fulewider denied there is any vendetta. "I just do my job based on the law," Fulewider said. "Any investigations involving Pinter and Club Juana are based on information requiring investigation," Herring said today at Titusville in a telephone interview.

"As long as we get information we'll continue to investigate. I think it's his (Pinter's) activities that require investigation. I think any investigation... he brought on himself. Anytime there are nude performances that in my opinion are violations of the law, I'll continue to file cases. The sheriff will continue to enforce the law and I'll file cases and go to court," Herring said.

Pinter and the dancers were arrested May 12 when a combined force of sheriff's deputies, Casellberry policemen and state attorney investigators raided the club on U.S. 17-92.

County Court Judge Harold Johnson directed a verdict of acquittal for Pinter and one dancer before the case went to the four-man, two-woman jury Wednesday. The court ruled that state witnesses failed to prove a prima facie case against Pinter on 19 misdemeanor counts of aiding and abetting and hiring or procuring nude dancing in which dancers exposed their sexual organs in a vulgar, indecent manner. The directed verdict of acquittal for Mrs. Theresa Renee Weaver, 18, of Lakeland, was the dancers arrested in the raid, the court ruled.

Dr. Richard Smith, an Orlando gynecologist, testified for the defense that if a girl was standing erect, her sexual organs wouldn't be visible.

Smith said on cross-examination by Assistant State Atty. Ralph Erickson that he's allowed to drink free at Club Juana about 80 per cent of the time and that he's dating a former Club Juana employee. He also said that he would charge the club at least $300 for his testimony as an expert witness.

Herring told reporters he believes the verdicts have "set a precedent in all of Florida" and the verdicts are an indication that adults can seek adult entertainment.

A Casellberry policeman testified during the two-day trial that the front door of the Club Juana bears a sign stating, "If nudity offends you do not enter."

Bond Issue Okayed To Lure Phone Firm

County officials today approved an $800,000 bond issue which will allow a telephone repair firm to locate in Sanford.

Phoneserv Inc. officials today said they will employ about 35 workers initially at a site in industrial park near Interstate 4 and S.W. 46.

Frank Proctor, Phoneserv secretary, said he anticipates doing one-half million dollars worth of business the first year beginning in January.

The second year Phoneserv plans to double its output, according to Proctor.

The industrial bonds were okayed at a Seminole County Industrial Development Authority (SCIDA) board meeting in Sanford.

Mary Lee Garfield, a specialist in corporate industrial bonding, said two California underwriters have agreed to purchase the bonds for resale. In addition, the Washington-based lawyer said Phoneserv's corporate officers have pledged $255,000 in operating and start-up capital.

In the event Phoneserv is unsuccessful, the county would not be obligated to repay bondholders.

"That little nicely would fall to J.A. Overton & Co. and Eldridge & Co., the two

Sanford Kill Techniques 'Cruel' Humane Society

The Humane Society of Seminole County has complained that the method used by the city of Sanford to kill stray dogs and cats is "terribly cruel and inhumane."

The issue centers on a drug called succinylcholine chloride, which produces death by immobilizing the muscles of a dog or cat used to breathe. The animal suffocates.

"It takes them three to four minutes to die," animal control director Ralph Willis said.

The Humane Society feels an animal injected with the drug remains fully conscious as it suffocates.

Willis disagrees. "The dog suffers 20 seconds maybe, then loses consciousness. He won't be conscious when he dies."

Willis says other commonly-used methods are more expensive and harder to use.

Unlike the drug now used, sodium phenobarbital must be injected into an animal's vein. Willis says that would require more training for animal control employees.

"It's harder to hit a dog's vein than a human's," he said. "And a hurt dog is not going to lie still while you probe around with a needle."

Seminole County recently began using a new drug called T-16, a brain depressant which starts acting in six seconds — if it can be injected directly into an animal's blood stream. "If you miss it goes into the lungs and the dog suffers," he said.

The old method of killing unwanted animals with carbon monoxide has been rejected because it is too slow.

"Sometimes takes a dog 20 minutes to die," Willis said.

In a letter to Mayor Lee Moore, Humane Society President Jack Condon offered his group's help in establishing "a more suitable and humane policy of euthanasia."

At suggestion of City Commissioner A.A. McClanahan, Willis is looking into the possibility of local veterinarians and the city cooperating to establish a clinic for spaying animals. "This is where the problem really lies," McClanahan said.

Ford 'Confident' About Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford said today he is confident the current inquiry into his past campaign finances will demonstrate he is "free of any allegations" of impropriety and expressed hope the matter can be resolved quickly.

Perched on the side of his Oval Office desk, Ford told reporters he had never diverted any campaign contributions for his personal use.

SCIDA Asks Study On Selling SCOPA

Seminole County government's industry-seeking agency today called for a study by the county commission to look into the possibility of selling assets at the Port of Sanford and returning the money to the taxpayers.

Emphasizing kids he's seen on the streets without jobs, Georges St. Laurent said today the Seminole County Industrial Development Authority (SCIDA) budget should be three or four times its present $100,000 allocation.

SCOPA, however, was created by an act of the Florida Legislature. Any sale would probably require an appropriate resolution introduced by the Seminole Legislature.

"Let's underestimate it," St. Laurent declared.

St. Laurent said the port situation is "unique" in that it is a $5-million dollar asset which returns no dollars to the taxpayer. He said turning the port over to an aggressive entrepreneur could "channel funds into an aggressive industry-seeking agency."

SCIDA was created after

Clerical Group Contract Approved School Board Hears Bridge Report

The Seminole County School Board heard a report today that while the $20,000 bridge built last year by the school system seemed "adequate," the walkways leading to its east entrance were too steep for young children and were too slippery to be safe.

The panel was asked to look into the possibility of grading down earthen banks near the bridge, surfacing walkways with asphalt or concrete and possibly creating a "terraced" approach to further reduce danger potential.

The report given to the board Wednesday indicated that installation of a six-foot-high chain link fence over the 600-foot distance from the bridge to a nearby residential street would cost $2,700.

Construction of an eight-foot-wide concrete sidewalk adjacent to the fence would cost

Steps Framed by Heavy Timbers

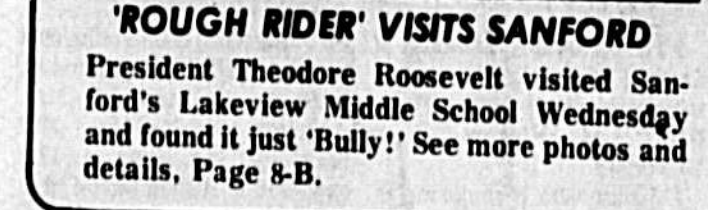

Chairman Robert (Bud) Feather pointed out that Layer is "charged by law with the safety of all our 34,000 students, and if he says he thinks we ought to leave the bridge, the way it is because of safety, then I think we should seriously consider his recommendation."

Board members and parents attending the session seemed to agree with a section of the report which noted that "the grade from the existing bridge to the street may create rather than eliminate safety problems."

Earlier than make the sidewalk "straight shot" from street to bridge, board Vice-Chairman Pat Telson suggested constructing a series of large
