Demos To Seek Repeal Of Labor Bill Before Atlantic Pact Debate

Truman Has No Objection To Delaying Treaty Action, Sen. Lucas Asserts

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The Senate Democratic Policy Committee decided today that the Senate should take up the Administration's substitute for the East-West Labor Law ahead of the North Atlantic Security Alliance.

Chairman Lucas (D-Ill.) said he advised the group that President Truman had "raised no objection" to delaying action on the pact. Lucas and other Democratic congressional leaders conferred with Mr. Truman this morning.

Lucas said he expects the labor bill to come up before the end of this week. He said he thought debate on it would not last more than two weeks.

The State Department had been urging speedy consideration of the treaty. Lucas noted that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has not yet completed its formal report on the treaty.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), chairman of the Foreign Relations group, told reporters the committee will begin tomorrow to study a proposed report prepared by its staff.

There are signs that Congress is going to pass up until next year the Administration's proposal for rearming America's European allies.

In other congressional developments:

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) promised there will be "no whitewash" with the House armed services subcommittee investigating the nation's power policies and plans purchases.

The subcommittee will be headed by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) for the inquiry and a $50,000 expense fund.

"Let the chips fall where they will," Vinson told reporters.

Vinson proposed the investigation by the Armed Services Committee after Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) asked the House last week to create a special committee to make such an inquiry.

Van Zandt said he was disturbed by reports linking high defense officials with aircraft companies in the past.

Vinson told the committee the investigation is "a fair thing."

Lewis Denounces Mine Safety Lack At Senate Hearing

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—John L. Lewis today bitterly denounced state officials and coal mine operators for what he called their failure to assure safety in the mines.

The United Mine Workers' chief called on Congress to "act now" by passing a bill which would give federal inspectors the right to close mines in cases where they felt there was imminent danger.

He declared some mine operators have no concern for human life and contemptuously referred to them as "polecats." Seven state mine inspection agencies, he asserted, "choose to ignore completely" the safety provisions of the present laws.

Lewis testified before a Senate labor subcommittee which is studying that bill.

Eisler Boards Czech Plane For Trip To Prague

LONDON, May 31 (AP)—Gustav Eisler boarded a Czech airplane this morning for a non-stop flight to Prague.

The 52-year-old German-born Communist arrived at Northolt airport only a few minutes before the plane took off. His name was not on the passenger list and his baggage bore no labels.

Eisler shook hands with the pilot of his plane and then went to a private room in the airport building. A mechanic gave him the clenched hand Communist salute and Eisler grinned and waved.

Eisler told a newsmen he was happy with the treatment given him by the British people and the British court. He said he realized "all Americans are not like that damned fool Tom Clark." Clark is U. S. Attorney General who tried to have Eisler returned to the United States in face sentences on convictions of passport fraud and contempt of Congress.

Eisler said he did not know how long he would be in Czechoslovakia. He is reported en route to Leipzig in the Soviet zone of Germany, where he has waiting for him a professorship in the university.

The round-faced little Communist said he came to Czechoslovakia suddenly because he could not get to Berlin any other way without risking "monkey business" by American authorities. All other planes to Berlin landed in or to close to American installations, he said.

There are still some important Communist in Prague, who have not left since the recent Czechoslovak Communist Party Congress. Among those who still may be here, their movements are usually shrouded in secrecy—are G. M. Malenkov, Soviet Politburo member; Palmiro Togliatti, Italian Communist leader; Andrej Martov, former Soviet Politburo member.

Court Okays East German Union Demand Hearing Voted On Pay Hike Down By West

Unions Must Be Notified Of Wage Increases Made During Contract Talks

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The Supreme Court held today that a union must be notified before a wage boost can be granted during contract talks unless the increase has been rejected by the union.

Specifically the tribunal held that a Georgia textile mill committed an unfair labor practice because it raised wages 12 days after contract talks with the CIO Textile Workers union had become deadlocked.

The firm, Crompton-Highland Mills, Inc., of Griffin, Ga., contended the increase was necessary to keep a working force in a highly competitive labor market.

Justice Burton delivered the opinion, which was unanimous on the principle issue involved. Justices Douglas, Murphy and Rutledge dissented on a question of procedure.

Burton was joined in the majority opinion by Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Black, Reed, Frankfurter and Jackson.

The increase at issue, ranged from four to six cents an hour. It was more than the union had asked during the negotiations.

The National Labor Relations Board ordered the company to quit refusing to bargain with the union.

Vishinsky Denounces State Established In French, British And U. S. Sources

PARIS, May 31 (AP)—The Western Powers voted today (Russia's proposal to invite a delegation from the Communist-dominated German People's Congress to appear before the Foreign Ministers Council, French sources reported.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky made the proposal during a two and a half hour speech which, once again, he denounced the west German state established in the American, British and French zones of Germany.

In anticipation of Vishinsky's report to the council, the People's Congress yesterday had named a 22-man delegation which was to present a case to the Foreign Ministers.

In turn, U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman opposed Vishinsky's request.

French officials observed that if the east Germans were invited to have an equal chance. This, they said, would turn the present conference of Allied victors into a debate between two victors of the defeated nation.

The French foreign ministry had held up action on a request of the east Germans for entry visas, saying they would be granted only if the delegation were invited. Thus, the west Germans will not be permitted to come here uninvited.

There is no reason for them to come here.

3 Percent Limited Sales Tax Measure Passes House Group

Hunt Begins For 3 Negroes Who Shot Policeman

HAMILTON, N. C., May 31 (AP)—A posse began a widespread hunt for three negroes today after a fatal shooting was shot in the town.

About two score state, county and town officers formed a cordon around the city limits and began a systematic search of buildings. Night Patrolman Rex Howell, 29, was seriously wounded when he sought to question three negroes. They escaped on their car after the shooting. The car was abandoned here shortly afterward.

Mayor Stewart Gordon said Howell reported he was shot by James Dues, 36, of Norfolk, Va. Norfolk police said Dues was wanted on a charge of murder for the slaying of his wife and two children last week. Dues formerly lived here.

Gordon said the negroes might have fled to South Carolina, five miles south of here.

And in Lewiston, Va., investigators, with no clues as to motive to guide them, searched today for white men who whisked a negro from jail and shot him to death.

"There's nothing to go on," said Sheriff George Hatcher. "All we know is we don't even have a definite motive."

The negro, 28-year-old Caleb Hill, Jr., was taken from the jail Monday morning by two white men. His beaten and bullet-riddled body was found near a creek a few hours later.

Hatcher said an agent of the Groun Bureau of investigation entered the case today at his invitation.

The sheriff said he thinks there were more than two men involved in Hill's death. "I don't think two men would try to handle something like this by themselves," he explained.

Hill was arrested by the sheriff at a negro roadhouse near the town. While he was making the arrest, Hatcher advised, Hill seized the sheriff's pistol and shot him. Hatcher advised, Hill took him to jail and returned to look for his pistol which was lost in the scuffle.

The jail is on the second floor of a negro roadhouse near the town. Hill was taken to jail because he didn't want to disturb his wife.

106,000 Strikers Slowly Return To Ford Auto Plants

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Operations were resumed today at the Ford Motor Company A plants involving 106,000 production workers ended in a 24th day early Sunday.

The company and the CIO United Auto Workers drew up a plan for naming an arbitrator of a dispute over union charges of speeding up on the assembly line. If they cannot agree on an arbitrator within three days, each will select one member by a ballot which will deliver a "final and binding" verdict.

Two weeks are expected to pass before full scale automobile production can be resumed. The Ken Rouge Factory must get into full swing of parts manufacture before Ford's other 49 plants can operate normally.

At a conservative estimate the strike cost workers and the company a total of $7,000,000 in lost wages and production.

The arbitrator will decide whether Ford has the contractual right to work employees temporarily hired over-all costs. He will also decide on a "final and binding" verdict on eight-hour day standards.

Ford and the union faced an arbitrator task in naming the arbitrator—something the negotiators could do.

If company and union committees can't name one within three days each will select one member to a three-man board.

If a third member isn't chosen within a "reasonable" period of time that post will go automatically to Dr. Harry Shulman, umpire of the Ford UAW contract.

The three-man board will deliver a "final and binding" verdict on the strike settlement terms, agreed to renege 35 discharges or suspended employees. All were charged with instigating or leading wildcat strikes before the UAW's formal walkout.

More than 8,000 employees of four New York City plants privately owned has thus far shown an interest in a "reasonable" period of time that post will go automatically to Dr. Harry Shulman, umpire of the Ford UAW contract.

WHO WAS WHO?

AT a gathering of royalty, there was a princess, a baroness, a duchess, a countess, and a lady present. Their first names were Maria, Sophie, Katherine, Dorothy and Elaine, but not respectively. Katherine was not on speaking terms with the lady, but the lady was an intimate friend of Elaine's. The princess was the hostess of the party so that Katherine would not dare to snub her. The duchess, as usual, put on airs and chitchatted in French with Sophie who was the only one who could understand that language. They confided to each other that the lady had good connections and would soon marry a man of high rank. In the meantime, Dorothy adroitly inquired of the baroness about her husband's health. Dorothy told the princess that she had sent her children to a finishing school. The countess consoled Maria who had just lost her husband. Elaine graciously poured tea for all.

Dorothy insisted on leaving early and said goodbye to the duchess and countess as well as the others. Sophie left with the baroness while the hostess invited the duchess to stay overnight after Katherine left. Who was the lady?

FARMERS BEAR MOST OF RECENT DECLINE IN COSTS OF FOODS

Everybody's interested in the cost of foods. Consumers want these costs to be as low as possible. Producers also want the cost to be low to consumers, but they want to get enough out of their products to pay production costs and return a reasonable profit.

Eisler Trip

England and some others from Europe, South America, China and Australia. But Eisler said he did not know whom he might meet here.

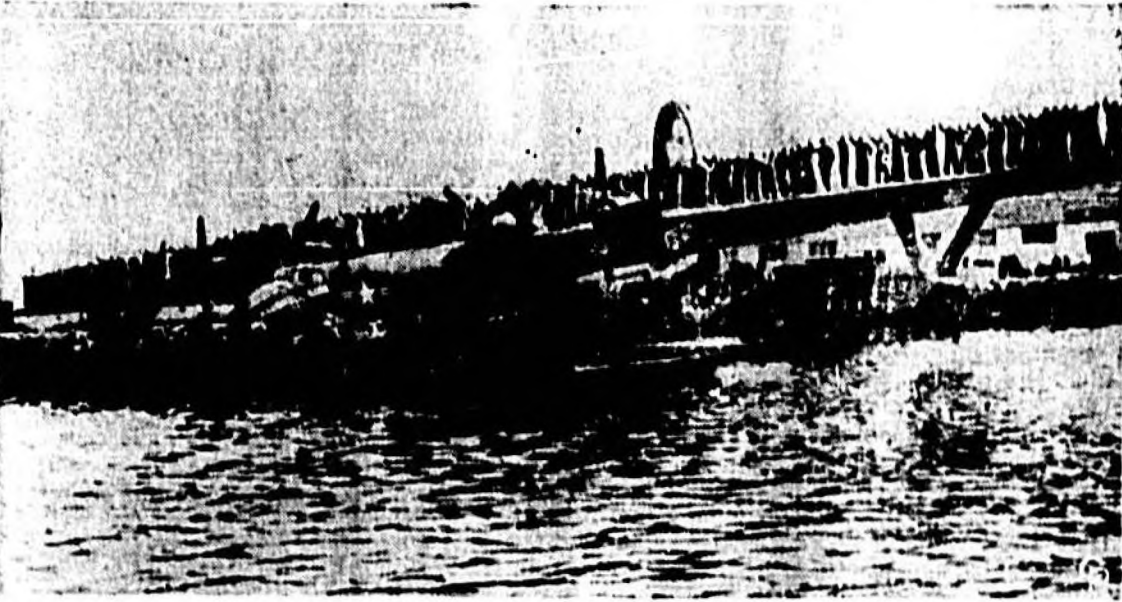

Airport attaches said Eisler had been given the same courtesies as visiting diplomats get. He was listed on the manifest as "stateless." Eisler will go from here to Berlin and then to Leipzig for his professorship and, he said, he will "as a sideline try to advance the Communist cause."

He expressed bitterness over the detention of his wife by U. S. authorities. "It is just like the nazis, who seized parents and children of persons they disliked, as hostages," Eisler said. "Now they are holding her because she does not want to be an FBI agent against her husband—a woman whose family was killed by the nazis. I am very glad to be in Czechoslovakia and not in the United States of the American Activities Committee."

"The attitude of the British was very good, even before the verdict that freed me. You couldn't find a decent judge in the United States who would have done what the British judge did. The United States sentenced me plenty of times."

"I do want to wish good luck to many Americans who are my friends and who were not a party to the stupid activities of that damn fool Tom Clark. You must get rid of him."

It was the second time in the interview he referred to Clark that way.

are rolling in wealth as a result. But a little close inspection of the actual situation will reveal that this is a fallacious belief in most instances. And when prices begin to drop, as they have in the last year, the farmer is the one who takes the biggest cut and the first cut. The USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics, in its report on the May agricultural situation, says that retail food prices dropped about 10 percent from July 1948 to February 1949. Last July a family basket of farm food products cost at the annual rate $708 at retail. By February it had dropped $70.

Most of this saving to consumers was due to the lower prices farmers received for their food products. Farmers were taking a $67 reduction, while marketing costs had dropped $13. Of a 10 per cent reduction, farmers had taken 8 percent, or four-fifths. Another interesting point revealed by the report is that marketing costs now amount to about as much as the entire market basket cost in 1940. In other words, if farmers were not receiving a dime for their products going into the food markets now, food would still cost consumers about as much as it did in 1940. And there is not much prospect for material reduction in marketing costs soon.

SIBIRK VIKING TODAY

God walks in my garden every day when the flowers are in bloom. We can even make appointments with him. They heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day.—Gen 3:2.

We may be wrong about it, but we have the feeling that any legislator voting for a sales tax this year will be signing his political death warrant.

Memorial Day is observed annually as a fitting tribute to those who died in their country's wartime service was celebrated this year with repeated reminders that the only way to avoid another war is to be too strong for anyone to attack.

The way George Smallers is making speeches around the state, in areas not limited to his congressional district, we jump to the conclusion that he is not to be counted out in 1952's gubernatorial election. Or is it next year's senatorial election?

Death on the highways is no respecter of persons. It is not only the names of the unknown whose tragic deaths are daily recorded in the newspapers. No man is immune. Monday we read that W. A. Julian was killed in a head-on crash. His name appears on every dollar bill which Uncle Sam issues. He is, or was, the Treasurer of the United States.

With the big vacation period and the open season on the motorist public still ahead of us, the highway accident toll is already 3 percent ahead of last year. Some 8,870 persons met death in traffic accidents during the first four months of this year. There is some improvement noted, however, on the mileage basis. Since the average person is driving more miles than he did last year, the number of deaths per mile is slightly lower than last year. And since 112 cities, one of them as large as Fall River, Mass., reported no traffic fatalities whatever, it shows what can be done when the people have the will and determination to stamp out this menace to the highways.

How many of you folks know how to spell "dickener"? How many know what it means? That is the word which little 13 year old Kim Calvin of Canton, Ohio, had to spell when 13 year old James Shea of Brooklyn missed it in the 22nd annual national spelling bee in Washington the other day. Such words as "onerous," "dextrous," "obligato," "reparate," "reize," and "nieve" had previously been handled with amazing ease and perfection. But the word "dickener" shattered the dreams and aspirations of James, made Kim a national hero and winner of the $500 award. Most of us, however, would be satisfied if we could remember how to spell "picknicking" and "chicken pilau."

The influence of government spending on municipal finances was shown by City Manager McKibbin at the Rotary Club Monday when he said that while the federal government was increasing its expenditures from $9,400,000,000 in 1940 to $108,000,000,000 in 1948, the City of Sanford's expenses gradually increased from $292,500 in 1940 to $1,100,000 in 1948. As a result the amount of Sanford now pay over to the federal government on that account has increased from $100,000 in 1940 to $1,000,000 in 1948.

Paper And Appearance

A manufacturer of paper goods predicts that within a decade the size of the family washing can be cut in half by replacing many common household articles made of cloth, and requiring periodic washing, with things made of paper, to be thrown away when soiled. Discovery of ways to make paper which does not disintegrate when wet opens whole new fields for the paper industry.

Thus a lightening of the washing chores of the housewife is seen. But the unqualified thanks of the public will not be earned unless there is also some increased education on the art of throwing paper away. If the unsightly pieces of paper scattered over the ground, soaked by spring rains, hold together instead of falling apart when picked up, that will be some help. But it would be much more help to take care of the paper before it starts blowing around.

Proper disposal of used paper, of all kinds, should have two objectives. One is neatness. The tendency to toss casually to the ground everything from gum wrappers to newspapers results in sordid cluttering of the landscape. The other objective is conservation. There is something of a crimp in that aim at the moment, because the conscientious cooperation of the public in saving used paper has exceeded the cleverness of the paper industry in salvaging it. But if more and more articles are to be made of paper, it is correspondingly important that more new paper be made from old paper.

If those two aims of properly getting rid of discarded paper can be well served, the public might be happy to save time, trouble and expense by using more paper and less cloth.

Personal Exchange

In a recent meeting of the National Association of Foreign Student Advisers the fact was brought out that last year every accredited college in the United States had at least one foreign student. That is one of the most promising things which has happened to this country in current times.

The exchange of students between this nation and others in an exchange of personalities, on the most effective basis imaginable. When ambassadors and ministers are exchanged, they meet others of their kind and a few government officials and capital reporters. When intellectuals are exchanged, they meet other intellectuals and make brief, distant contacts with lecture audiences and afternoon party-goers.

When students are exchanged, they meet and live with really representative people, other students, teachers, housekeepers, merchants, bus drivers and the rest. In the course of a school year, a foreign student and the surrounding Americans get to know and understand each other. And the influence of the contact is spread to other friends by both the visitor and the host.

It is a very fine thing that every accredited college has participated in this program. It is also good to know that there are now nearly 25,000 foreign students in the United States. For these are 25,000 points of personal contact at which can be developed the beginnings of real world understanding.

New Light On Lee

New letters of Gen. Robert E. Lee, just given to Washington and Lee University, make even clearer the almost impossible military task undertaken by the Confederacy. Not only did it have only 9,000,000 people to 23,000,000 in the North, but the South was deficient in manufacturing, and in highways and railroads. Only superior generalship on the part of Lee enabled the war to stretch out for four years.

That Lee was offered the command of the Federal army at the start of the war is well known. Far less familiar is the startling statement made by George Fort Milton, Tennessee newspaper writer and historian, that at the same time Grant declined the command of the Confederate armies. What might Lee have done, with the resources of the North, against Confederate forces led by U. S. Grant as commander-in-chief?

Children's Home Society Seeks Assistance For Building Program

JACKSONVILLE, May 31 (Special)—For the first time during the forty-seven years of non-sectarian services to thousands of Florida's homeless, orphaned and needy children, The Children's Home Society of Florida, generally called "Florida's Greatest Charity" is putting on an effort to secure funds for a Building Program all through the state.

Heretofore appeals have been for shelter, food, wearables, and direct services to children. The Home Society is asking the citizens of Florida everywhere to contribute $450,000 with which to erect four, modern, fire-proof, cottage-plan receiving home buildings, to replace the very old, totally inadequate buildings in Jacksonville, which are all potential fire traps.

The new buildings will be erected upon the lovely sixteen-acre tract of land in South Jacksonville, which was bequeathed to the Society some years ago, upon which the Society erected a fine modern building for boys in 1940. Ever since that time the Society has wanted to erect the desperately needed additional buildings, but the high costs of building and the lack of funds have delayed the Building Program.

The urgent need, particularly for safe-sanitary, fireproof buildings has become so great, according to the long-time State Superintendent, Marcus C. "Daddy" Feger, that the construction program could not be put off any longer.

Requests paid during recent years have brought to the Society $1,000,000 in total amount. $1,000,000 of this amount has been drawn in return for the cash received by growers during the 1948 fiscal year was estimated at $1,750,000,000. This would be the largest amount ever collected in any fiscal year.

LAST TIMES TONIGHT CITY ACROSS

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

When Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Gromyko left New York for Europe at the conclusion of the United Nations Assembly meeting the other day, he flabbergasted America by smiling for the reporters and news photographers.

Newspapers published pictures of the smile, and commented on this notable event. It wasn't a big smile, but it was an attractive one which softened an ordinarily stern countenance. America as a whole didn't know Gromyko could smile, but obviously he can, although it's seven wonders whether it isn't in truth a rictus.

In any event, the Soviet Statesman doesn't figure further in our disquiet. One often hears it said merely because it reminded me that recently a reader of this column asked me to explain "Why Communists never smile?"

Well, now that question assumes a premise which clearly isn't absolutely sound, because Mr. Gromyko did smile—a wee bit. However, broadly speaking it is probably true that Communist and Communist don't smile much.

Why? Because they are ideological zealots. They have one track minds which are directed towards the objective of world revolution by Communism, all nations and being them under the rule of Moscow, the oracle of Bolshevism. It is a project which leaves little room for other thoughts.

Communism isn't merely a political ideal. One often hears it described as a "religion," but that is a fantastic characterization which perhaps has been seized upon because there is a similarity in the intensity of belief between the Communist and a highly religious person. The similarity stops with the intensity of feeling, however. As a matter of fact, religion is the antithesis of religion which under the Red doctrine is the opiate of the masses. All true Communists are atheists. It is impossible to be a true Communist and be religious at the same time.

I think perhaps a good definition of Communism is that it is a way of life. It controls not only the political activities of the individual but his existence with an iron hand. The fan takes control of the individual when he is about six years of age and from that time on throughout life.

Under Red totalitarianism the individual belongs to the state and the sovereignty of the state in turn rests in Moscow. The fan takes control of the individual when he is about six years of age and from that time on throughout life.

Much of the training of future Communist leaders is in the field of espionage. This is being increasingly clear in the trials and investigations now proceeding in America. Naturally the members of a party which has been declared by the United States government aren't keen to acknowledge membership, which accounts for the frequent refusal of witnesses to disclose names of others who came out into the open, but the rank and file as a whole in America works secretly.

Now all this underground activity and secrecy and the fan has a glum, or adventurous, look, and especially the young. That has been true throughout the ages. Mussolini and Hitler both trafficked on this trait of human nature, but Communism makes them both look like amateurs.

So in many countries there are Communist parties which are conducting underground operations. Part of the secrecy is to conceal the extent of the Red organization, part is because some of the operations are subversive and are aimed at overthrow of the government.

Obviously there is little humor in the lives of such ideological zealots. One can only add the observation that perhaps democracy could give a useful lesson from this ideological training of youth. Far more might be done in our schools, and throughout legitimate youth organizations.

BURNING OUR BRIDGES BEHIND

Inside WASHINGTON

MARCH OF EVENTS

Atom Bomb Now Fourth Among U. S. Weapons

WASHINGTON—The United States has a new top secret weapon which military experts classify as more potent than the atom bomb.

However, destructive as it is, the mystery missile still is not placed at the top of the list of United States weapons.

Military authorities list the atom bomb in fourth place among the newly-developed lethal instruments of war. The horror weapons line up this way:

1—Biological warfare, 2—Radioactive dust or spray, 3—The new top-secret weapon, and 4—The atom bomb.

Military experts say that the extreme destructiveness of the atom bomb makes its use in warfare highly debatable.

They contend that an atom bomb explosion, with the radiation effects created by the blast, would shut off any given area from troop operations for a long period.

Hence, the bomb which destroyed Hiroshima and Nagasaki, would in future wars be useless except in operations where it was desired to knock out an enemy stronghold without occupying it. This is a rare situation in combat.

NEW MOON—The United States is working on a rocket to be propelled into outer space, where it will circle the earth endlessly. Such a "new moon" would provide valuable military and industrial data.

However, recent articles about 10,000-mile-an-hour space ships are fantastic. Such a ship would have to be re-fueled and would have to travel 25,000 miles an hour to escape the earth's gravitational pull.

The "new moon" carrying only instruments to send scientific information back to earth, probably will be a part of a "step" rocket whose overall weight will be over 100 tons.

The "step" will probably be three—three rockets attached to each other. The first two will drop off in turn after expending their fuel, sending the third and smallest rocket on into space.

Rocket experts say it can be done in a maximum of 10 years—perhaps sooner if enough money is poured into the project.

SLUMS TO RENATE—Senator Wayne Morse (R), Oregon, credits some of the liberal philosophy, for which he is noted, to the "melting pot" school he attended as a boy. He recently told the Senate:

"As I analyze my background, I suppose the greatest contributing factor in my social views on the whole racial problem is that as a boy, from the first grade through the eighth, I went to a school in Madison, Wis., which served the children of the slum area.

"Many of my playmates were boys from the Negro quarter, the Italian quarter, the Polish quarter and the Jewish quarter—the melting pot of Madison. We did not have a large slum area, but we had a very large grade school, filled with what were referred to in those days as 'foreigners.'"

"Because of the small economic resources of my parents, it was my happy lot to have to go to school in that locality. I think that probably explains more than anything else my social outlook on all these questions of social relations."

Business Survey

Researchers for the National Industrial Conference Board put the two sets of figures together. They chose house furnishings of like quality and durability in the four years, but occasionally had to choose the next best thing—today's refrigerator had to be compared with 1914's icebox. The modern item costs $25 per cent more than the old icebox, or $216.95 against $226.35, but most housewives appear to think its worth the difference.

The average annual house furnishings bill of today's moderate-income family takes 82 hours of work to pay. What a similar family bought in 1914 took 96 hours of labor. But there is a joker in that comparison, because families today spend more proportionately on their house than they did in 1914. If you bought now only what you bought in 1914, you would have had to work 159 hours to buy that much furniture, even at those low prices.

However, the picture is far less bright. If compared with furniture prices and factory wages in 1939.

Here are some items for which you now have to work more hours than you did before the war (prices of every item are higher now than then, of course):

Living room, dining room and bedroom suites;avenport, studio couch, dresser, steel bedstead and bedspring; mattress, 5 1/2 x 7 1/2, blanket, towel, curtains, table oilcloth; stove, vacuum cleaner sewing machines and brooms.

It takes four hours of labor now to pay for the following that in 1939 (although prices of all are higher today: refrigerators, washing machines, carpet, Holman, and dishwasher).

While prices tumblers cost about twice as much today as then, it takes exactly the same amount of time at the average hourly earnings of factory workers to pay for them.

And, while all these items cost more now than in 1939, it takes less when the price is figured in hours of labor to pay for all of them, with the one exception of dressers.

In other words, if you're that unlikely specimen, the "average," change are you are living in a better furnished house than did the man of 1914, and it costs you more in cash but less in sweat of the brow to furnish it, and keep it up. But you're not as well off in this regard as in 1939.

This may help answer that question which keeps coming up on the eyes of every pay-day: "Where on earth did the money go?"

Amendment Barrage Hits Sales Tax Bill; House Okays Fag Tax

General Appropriations Measure Is Approved In House After Hot Debate

TALLAHASSEE, June 1 (AP)—The limited sales tax ran into a barrage of amendments in the Florida Senate today as the House passed a reduced general appropriations bill.

Voting was close on the first ballot on the sales tax measure. The Senate adopted by a 19-18 vote an amendment making the tax apply to all rentals above $100 a month. As drawn it would have applied only to commercial lodging rentals.

Opponents of the bill said the vote indicated eventual defeat, but finance committee Chairman W. A. Shands said he didn't consider it a real test.

After more than two days of tedious debate, the House adopted its $230,000,000 general appropriations bill with 10 percent of the amount clipped out and put in a contingent fund. More than $5,000,000 in special appropriations previously have been voted by the House, though.

The House spending bill is about $17,000,000 below the one approved by the Senate earlier in the week. Differences will have to be ironed out by a compromise committee.

The head of Florida's school system declared the 10 percent cut in the House bill will "jeopardize the school program."

Thomas D. Bailey, state school superintendent, said although the (Continued on Page Two)

Bolivian Cabinet Mobilizes Army To Combat Riots

State Of Civil War Exists In Andes Tin Mines

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Bolivian cabinet has mobilized army reservists from 19 to 50 to cope with tin mine riots which it says brought "about a state of civil war."

Reports from the strike-torn mine area said the army was "in control of the situation."

Two thousand dynamite-burning miners yesterday battled 500 troops for control of the pitino mining area of Huamuni, high in the Andes. The strike started after the government on Friday deported 26 men, including some union leaders, to Chile.

The government said the situation was grave. Striking miners have seized mine officials, including Americans and held them as hostages. Unofficial reports said the death list might reach 60.

It was a continuation of violence, which the government described as a politically inspired "state of civil war," set off at the weekend in the tin mining region of the Andes southeast of La Paz. A state of siege, or modified martial law, was imposed last night.

U. S. citizens and other foreigners were being evacuated from the mining area. Sympathy strikes crippled railway service.

The government announced that 14 persons had been killed and 25 wounded, but its figures were incomplete.

Two miners were killed and six wounded yesterday in an attack on the federal police station at Huamuni. Several policemen were (Continued on Page Two)

Measure Will Add Another Penny To Cigarette Levy To Finance Sanatoria

TALLAHASSEE, June 1 (AP)—The House passed H.R. 5165 last night relating to compensation of members of the County Board of Public Instruction.

TALLAHASSEE, June 1 (AP)—The House today passed with no debate a bill to add an extra penny to the state cigarette tax to finance construction of tuberculosis sanatoria.

Rep. Tappan of Gulf, introduced the measure, said it would raise $3,300,000 a year. It would raise the per capita tax to a total of 10 cents.

The bill goes to the Senate.

Tappan said the House bill to appropriate money for tuberculosis sanatoria had been passed by several former legislatures but since no funds were voted they were nothing more than "checks written with disappearing ink."

The bill to regulate private gas and electric companies in Florida popped up in the House again.

The House promptly dropped it.

The House killed the measure by indefinite postponement a week or so ago and thought that was the end of it.

However, the Senate passed a utility regulation bill which was received in the House today.

The fate of the bill was apparently sealed when it was referred to the Public Utilities and Transportation and Appropriations Committee. The Public Utilities Committee has rejected such proposals before, and the Appropriations Committee is highly unlikely to consider the measure in the short time before the regular session ends Friday.

The House voted down an attempt to require that the central purchasing bill be debated tomorrow until a vote is taken on it.

The central purchasing bill is on the House calendar for consideration at 10:30 A. M. tomorrow. However, a resolution adopted by the House would postpone consideration of any except revenue measures after 12:30 P. M. Thursday. The regular session of the Legislature will adjourn Friday.

The Senate passed a proposed constitutional amendment to authorize a state income tax. The vote was 26-10. A three-fifths majority was required.

However, the measure introduced by 21 senators was amended to limit the state tax to 20 percent of the federal income tax. A 35 percent limit originally was asked.

The proposal in itself does not levy a income tax, but merely grants the Legislature authority to do so. An amendment to prohibit a state tax on income under $4,000 was defeated.

Berlin Control Is Studied By Big 4 Leaders

Ministers Council Clashes Over Veto; Currency Situation Featured In Fight

PARIS, June 1 (AP)—The Foreign Ministers Council today took up the question of restoring four powers control of Berlin and clashed at once on the veto issue.

American sources said that the role of unanimity had abolished in a revised Memorandum.

A Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinskiy strongly objected, saying that numerous decisions were "the only way to proceed."

The Memorandum, a four-power heads-of-state Berlin in the immediate past, stated before the cold war division of the city. It broke up last year, haltingly continued East-West deadlock.

The issue of Berlin and the currency situation there made up the second item on the agenda of the Foreign Ministers' Council.

Before this afternoon's session of the Four Power representatives, the three western ministers conferred among themselves for about 45 minutes. It was understood that one of the questions should be whether the council should go into "restricted" session.

This would mean that the deliberations would be secret and that the Soviet Union would not be invited to the conclusion of the meetings. There was no indication as to what decision was reached.

At present, westerners are barred from the inner middle Berlin when the meeting is in session. After the conclusion of the session, however, press officers from each of the four delegations give summaries.

The issue of Berlin centers around the question of transportation of goods and services into the Soviet zone. This zone is 200 miles deep in the Soviet zone. Any agreement might eventually allow goods to flow between the zone east and west of Germany.

An American source said U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson proposed that the council session now be on a "restricted" basis. It was supported by Britain's Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman. The information said Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinskiy replied he would have to consult the Kremlin on the point.

Reuther Shootings Prompt Sweeping Detroit Mop-Up

DETROIT, June 1 (AP)—Seeking clues in the Reuther shooting, police today began a sweeping mop-up of one of the most active hotspots of the criminal element in Detroit's history.

Police headquarters reported that the Detroit Police Department is conducting a search of the city's 4,000-man law enforcement force was ordered into action.

The sudden order was issued in mid-afternoon yesterday. Last night 180 men were in jail after quick raids on gambling and hoodlum hangouts.

One theory in the investigation is that a blow-out, when the gapping hole lets the air out all at once. That's what no one as yet has predicted in the current business situation, which by a normal standards has been over-inflated.

By manual manipulation of the valve, the government made a few attempts to lessen credit pressures during the inflationary stage; has tried to close the holes in the economy in the deflationary stage by raising credit restrictions. Critics have said the government didn't do the one thing that would have worked best—cut its own expenses. Instead, it has increased them, saying by inflating the money supply.

It's well to remember that it's not good for either a tire or an economy to be blown up too high.

The rank of air you heard Tuesday from falling stocks, bonds and grain meant concentrated speculation of the recession trend.

Nation's Businessmen Say There Will Be No 'Bang' In Deflation

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP)—There are four ways a tire—or the nation's economy—can be deflated, as we were reminded sharply by what happened in the nation's market places Tuesday. They are:

By a slow leak, so small that it is scarcely noticed until the results are visible. That's the way the recession started.

By a small puncture, with the rush of the escaping air audible and the tire changing shape before your eyes.

By a blow-out, when the gapping hole lets the air out all at once. That's what no one as yet has predicted in the current business situation, which by a normal standards has been over-inflated.

By manual manipulation of the valve, the government made a few attempts to lessen credit pressures during the inflationary stage; has tried to close the holes in the economy in the deflationary stage by raising credit restrictions. ## Two Mobile And Stationary X-Ray Units Start Survey In County

An x-ray survey, designed to aid in detecting possible tuberculosis symptoms, was started this morning by two mobile and one stationary units in Seminole County by State Health Department technicians.

The goal is to survey 8,000 or more persons over 15 years of age.

Due to the fact that floor standing operations are going on at the Street and Magnolia Avenue, the mobile unit originally scheduled to be put into operation at Geneva Friday, was parked this morning on First Street in front of the store and many x-rays were taken.

X-rays will be taken in the store tomorrow. A stationary unit was in operation at the Peoples Shoe Store on Sanford Avenue.

At Seminole High School this morning and afternoon, an x-ray survey was made by another mobile unit of all students over 15 years of age. The unit will be at Crooms Academy for colored students tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, said Bert Higgins, State Board of Health representative.

Volunteers are needed to aid in the registration of both white and colored applicants, said Mrs. Edward Kircher, secretary of the County Tuberculosis Association, this morning. They are advised to telephone her at 794 or to contact Monica Harris who is in charge of negro volunteers.

Dr. Frank Guillman, director of the Seminole County Health Unit, is sending out letters to all food handling establishments, urging that all employees be x-rayed, and V. Robling, sanitary officer of the unit, is contacting employers personally on the matter.

Mrs. Kircher yesterday traveled about the county to complete arrangements for registration of white and colored students. She also talked with heads of packing houses, ferries and business houses with a view to obtaining 100 percent registration for x-rays.

Today members of the Kiwanis Club are scheduled to be x-rayed.
