

Charter Of Jax Faces Fight In Supreme Court

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The Florida Supreme Court has been told it should decide if the people of Jacksonville knew what they were doing when they approved their new consolidated city-county government.

Lawyer C. Ray Greene Jr. told the high court Wednesday that he didn't believe residents knew what they were doing when they approved the consolidated city charter because the title they were voting on didn't detail how three beach cities and one town would remain almost autonomous.

But William Durden, the consolidated government's general counsel, told the court it must decide "whether the people of Jacksonville were sick of what they had."

Chief Justice Richard Ervin also asked Greene: "If the requirement for malapportionment that a fair apportionment be created, rather than that the governmental unit be destroyed?"

Durden also noted that the voters had approved the council districts.

Now It's Lot Easier

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Doctors eager to practice in Florida have flooded boards of medical examiners with applications since a 1967 law abolishing the basic science exam for newcomers to the State of Florida.

Dr. George Palmer, director of the Board of Medical Examiners, reported some 800 graduates physicians have applied to take the professional exam this month, compared to 390 last January and 400 a year ago.

Applications to the boards of Osteopathic and Chiropractic Examiners have jumped fivefold since word spread that the 1969 Legislature had declined to repeal the act which junked the five-member Board of Examiners in the Basic Sciences, the St. Petersburg Times reported in today's editions.

Repeal was sought by the Florida Medical Association and influential doctor-legislators with public statements that the quality of doctors entering the state would be adversely affected and inoperable practitioners licensed, according to the Times.

The examination tested knowledge in such subjects as chemistry, biology, physics, bacteriology and "how to balance a chemical equation," according to Dr. Mervin E. Meek of New Smyrna Beach.

New State Aide Runs Into Snag

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Chester Blakemore has run into his first problem as head of the vast new General Services Department. He doesn't have an office.

The $28,000-a-year director of the department that will supervise purchasing, building maintenance, data processing, communications and motor pools for all other state agencies borrowed the office of Democratic Sen. William Beaufort of Jacksonville Wednesday.

"This is going to be a problem until some additional space or funds are made available," said Blakemore, whose appointment was challenged unsuccessfully by Gov. Claude Kirk.

It seems, he said, that the Legislature's Joint Management Committee wants the limited space set up for the general services for a legislative purchasing office.

Blakemore said he would meet with the committee to try to work out a solution. He noted that other departments—like the new Community Affairs Department—will need offices too.

County Budget Requests Face Paring Knife

By DONNA ESTES
County Commissioners continued to listen to astronomical budget requests from county department heads yesterday as the executives quoted time and again the high cost of living and the necessity of bringing county salaries in line to keep good employees and replace those who have gone on to greener pastures.

Dr. Frank Leone, public health director, pointed out he has requested for the past three years in a row that salaries in his department be more in line with the state merit plan and competitive with neighboring counties and private practice.

Dr. Leone asked for the state recommended salary increase from $17,808 to $19,839 for himself to become the highest paid employee on the county payroll.

Counties Now Have Broad Home Rule

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Claude Kirk has vetoed two more bills and is poised to veto the controversial bill granting broad home rule powers to counties.

Kirk Wednesday also signed in to law bills that place a five-year limit on leases to oil and mineral rights on state land and that require annual reports on those leases.

The home rule bill — intended to stop the flood of local bills during the legislative sessions — gives counties the power to govern themselves, except as specifically prohibited by the Legislature.

Previously, counties only had those powers specifically conferred upon them by the Legislature.

The governor vetoed a bill that would give state university pres-

COMING THIS SUMMER

AROUND THE CLOCK THE CLOCK

As you rejoice in the facilities that make for a happy Fourth of July, give a thought to the significance of the day itself. The nation, whose birth anniversary we enjoy, is the greatest (compare with ANY, if you're in doubt) in everything that provides opportunity, an abundant income, freedom (and responsibilities) like nowhere else. In these great United States we don't need fences and walls to keep people in. There just MUST be something here that makes our nation "the heaven on earth" for those who don't live here and who yearn to take part in this "outstanding experiment in democracy." Let's ALL resolve to KEEP it great!!!

Pastor's Corner

What Is God Like?

By REV. JULIUS G. MYERS, First United Methodist Church. In ages past, man's conception of God was that He was a Creator, a Judge, or a vindictive being that one dared not anger. However, throughout the writings of the Old Testament as God continually reveals Himself to man and as man attempts to understand more about the Being of the power that was behind all of life and creation, there is an occasional faint whisper that God might be like a father. "Like as a father pitieth" the Psalmist said, "so the Lord pitieth." The real revelation of God as a Father, however, came in the likeness of Jesus Christ. It was He who taught us to pray, "Our Father." Furthermore, the first recorded words that Jesus spoke were, "I must be about my Father's business." And His last words were, "I commend my spirit into the Father's hands."

The late G. W. Tomberly tells a story from his early ministry that illustrates so well the point of this message. While riding in a railway coach when passengers were few on trains, he noticed a young man moving nervously from one seat to another. The minister exhibited his interest and concern by asking the young man if he could be of help. Overwhelmed by the minister's kindness, the young man unburdened his heart. "Our next stop will be in a little town named Springfield. It is my home. At least, I used to live there until my father and I got involved in a severe argument three years ago and I left home with a resolve never to return again. During those long and lonesome years of meaningless wandering, I have carried on an occasional correspondence with my mother. The other day I wrote her I would be passing through on this train and that I would like to stop and see her again if it would be alright with dad. I am now gaining so anxiously out the window because I told mother to hang something white outside if dad agreed. Just about that time the boy looked out the window and said to his minister friend, "Sir, you know just around the bend? I am afraid to look."

As the train moved slowly around the bend, the minister couldn't contain himself. He jumped up and literally shouted, "Look, son!" Nestled in a group of trees was the farm house. However, it was hardly visible because of the cloud of white which seemed to surround it. The father and mother had taken every bed sheet, tablecloth, handkerchief, everything that was white, had attached them to the clothingline, trees, the roof of the house. Before the train stopped the young man jumped from it and ran toward the outstretched arms of his father and mother. "What is God like?" He is like a father with outstretched arms standing against a backdrop of white.

Census Shows Catholics Aid Parochial Schools

Among the major findings of the March 2 census of the Catholic Diocese of Orlando released this week was the overwhelming support Catholics give their parochial schools. The religious census which enlisted the services of 15,000 volunteers was the first major project of Bishop William D. Borders since the establishment of the Orlando Diocese in June of last year. According to the census returns the Orlando Diocese, which covers a 12 county area of Central and East Coast Florida has a Catholic population of 128,112 or 46 per cent more than the prior official estimate of 87,274.

According to the census returns the Orlando Diocese, which covers a 12 county area of Central and East Coast Florida has a Catholic population of 128,112 or 46 per cent more than the prior official estimate of 87,274. Moloney referred to a heated dispute currently raging among Catholic intellectuals as to whether Catholic schools are worth the huge deficit spending being provided by the Church. Champion of parochial education, Father Andrew Greeley of the National Opinion Research Center, Chicago several weeks ago in his national syndicated weekly column for the religious press, waged a bit with his opponents on the outcome of the Orlando census. Greeley contended that the "rapid closing down of Catholic schools in many parts of the country is being done without consultation with and against the wishes of the Catholic laity. Greeley asked his opponents to agree not to "phase out" any more schools without massive consultation with the laity should the Orlando Census prove him right. Said Moloney, "The Orlando Census figures prove Greeley to be correct." 72 per cent of all Catholics in the Diocese favor the continuation of Catholic High Schools while 82 per cent support the continuation of parochial elementary schools. Only 6 per cent were opposed to such elementary schools and 12 per cent said they didn't know.

These figures are significant, said Moloney, inasmuch as only one third or 12,700 out of 39,851 Catholic students in the Diocese attend Catholic schools. That the Catholic people have about reached the limit in financing their schools seems indicated in that 46 per cent said they would support efforts to obtain public tax money "within the framework of the Constitution" to help meet the costs of parochial education. Only 16 per cent said they would not support such efforts. Would Catholics support their schools more generously if a detailed financial report on schools were given? Only 20 per cent said yes, 25 per cent said no and the remaining 55 per cent seemed to indicate a "wait and see" attitude in their "don't know" answer. The census shows that 78 per cent of Catholics in the Orlando Diocese attend Church each Sunday, 4 per cent daily, 12 per cent occasionally and 8 per cent rarely or never. (Last year's Gallup poll (1968) showed 45 per cent of all U.S. adults attending church in a typical week.) The Sacramental life of Orlando Catholics was indicated in the 2 per cent who receive Communion daily, 42 per cent who receive weekly and another 40 per cent who receive occasionally.

The Orlando Diocese, one year old on June 16, now consists of 32 parishes, 6 missions, 2 hospitals, one home for the aged, one home for handicapped children, 26 elementary schools and five diocesan high schools. In stating his praise for the lay census workers, Bishop Borders underscored the number of dwellings visited by the volunteers—240,442—and said he was delighted with the large number of people willing to undertake positions of leadership and responsibility in the Diocese. But, he also noted that something had to be done to increase the number of people who are active in Catholic organizations from its present level of 10 per cent. Bishop Borders also expressed concern that of the 27,388 Catholic students attending public schools only 10,872 are attending special religious instruction classes. The census shows that 28 per cent of adult Catholics would be willing to enroll in adult religious instruction courses if such are provided.

We hope to be scouting such courses as Black Mountain Newland and Spruce Pine during the next ten days so we hope you will forgive us for taking a week off. North Carolina has got to have some of the most beautiful golf courses in the world and if we can just play a few of them it will be a great vacation. One of our goals is to play the 600 yard plus hole that is considered a par 6 at Black Mountain that is advertised as one of the longest golf holes in the world. If we do get the opportunity and can get out in better weather we will bring you a blow by blow account. If not well I'm sure most of you have trouble enough of your own without hearing mine.

Speedy Camaro!! Hamilton Caps 250

By ERIC SHARP
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Pete Hamilton said today that winning the Paul Revere 250 stock car race was "the greatest thrill of my life." But he added that the victory did not mean he would switch from the Grand Touring class to Grand National cars.
The 28-year-old bachelor from Charlotte, N.C., drove his 1969 Camaro around the 3.81-mile road and oval course at an average speed of 106.75 miles per hour, finishing nearly a lap ahead of Tony Lund of Cross, S.C., who drove a 1966 Cougar.
Buck Baker of Charlotte was third in another 1969 Camaro. "I think I'll stick with Grand Touring cars for a while," Hamilton said shortly after finishing the 250-mile race that started at midnight.
"I want to get a little more experience before going over to Grand National cars."
Hamilton, who won six of the eight GT races he entered this year, led for the first two hours before the crew he was working with.

Jerry Smith Named Chief At Track

New management has taken over officially at the Seminole Turf Club with the arrival here of Gary Smith, president and general manager, to oversee rebuilding of the thoroughbred racing plant.
The track, formerly operated as Seminole Downs, recently was sold to Seminole Management, Inc., which is headed by Lewis Keller of Virginia Beach, Va., John H. Leib of New York, and Smith, who is from Charles Town, W. Va. The new operators will conduct their first meeting next spring.
Smith, who is 28 and was the youngest racing secretary in America, resigned from that position at Shenandoth Downs in Charles Town to manage Seminole Turf Club.
A native of Cumberland, Md., Smith was appointed to the Shenandoth Downs job five years ago. Smith previously had worked at tracks throughout the East in a variety of jobs, including mutuels and publicity in addition to the racing department.
The new official is married and he and his wife, Carroll, have three daughters. The Smiths will move permanently to the Gaschberry-Orlando area.

Mets, Cubs Silence St. Louis

By CHARLIE BARBUR
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals were practically killed by the New York Mets and now the Chicago Cubs come to town hoping to bury them.
The four-game series begins today.
Manager Red Schoendienst of the Cards admittedly has little to work with in the battle against the forces of Lee Durcher's Cubs.
The Mets' 8-1 victory Thursday practically depleted the Cardinals' overworked and supported and sometimes ineffective pitching staff.
The starter is going to have to go a long way. Red moved after using five pitchers in the series win against the Mets.
The Mets took three of the five games and now the Cardinals are only in the same division as the Cubs, if not the same class.
Schoendienst's other big worry is the Cardinals' scoring. They go one run against rookie Gary Gentry, but that didn't stand up very well after Tommie Agee and Don Clemons each drove in a pair of runs.

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Mrs. Billie Jean King hoped to celebrate American Independence Day today by equalling a Wimbledon record that has stood for 39 years.
The little valuing specialist from Long Beach, Calif., needed victory over her old British rival Mrs. Ann Jones, to become the first woman since Helen Wills to win the Wimbledon singles crown four years running. Helen Wills, who later Mrs. Wills, won it from 1927 to 1930 and went on to take the title four more times in the next eight years.

'No Sweat' 'Firecracker 400' Rolls

By F. T. MACFEELY
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — To Paul Goldsmith, the Medal of Honor Firecracker 400 stock car race today is "no sweat."
The 41-year-old veteran driver from Munster, Ind., is the only top contender choosing to wear a cool suit, with ice water circulating through tubes in his driver's uniform.
"I won't sweat a bit," he predicted. "It's just like air conditioning. Those other drivers will be sitting there wringing wet. They may need some relief and there's a chance of heat prostration."
But the other Dodge and Ford challengers to pole sitter Lee Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C., in the lone Mercury decided to sweat it out.
They wouldn't add the 50 pounds of cooling equipment to the two-ton stockers for fear of increasing by a fraction of a second the time it takes to get around the 2.8-mile Daytona International Speedway.
"It may get 150 degrees in the car," Yarborough said. "But it won't be too hot to drive."
"For just a couple of hours it won't be too bad," said David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., who is leading the 1969 NASCAR Championship race by a small margin over Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., who also minimized the heat factor.
Pearson and Petty headed the Ford factory contenders along with Donnie Allison of Huntington, Ala., and Lee Roy Yarbrough of Columbia, S.C.
Charlie Gutzbach of Georgetown, Ind., was the fastest Dodge qualifier, but Buddy Baker of Charlotte finally got his car up above 185 m.p.h. in practice Thursday and looked as the chief threat to break the Ford-Mercury monopoly on the superspeedways.
Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C., and Bobby Allison of Huxleytown, Ala., were the only others in the starting field of 40 included a good change at victory.
An expected crowd of 40,000 racing 67 Medal of Honor winners as special guests, had the prospect of a race rivalling the record 167,247 p.h., established by Yarborough last year.
His 190.700 qualifying record — latest ever on a closed course — set the stage for the hottest race possible, in competition as well as the forecast 91 degree high temperature for the day.

Chicago's Jumping Atlanta Comeback Drops Frisco

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Montreal, Mich. (AP) — Mike Kessinger has discovered what other National League pitchers have begun to expect when they struggle with the Chicago Cubs: Keeping Don Kessinger off the basepaths is about as easy as getting Billy Williams to take a day of rest.
Kessinger, the Cubs' dandy shortstop broke up Wagner's no-hit bid Thursday with a sixth-inning triple, then cracked a two-run, go-ahead double in a seventh-inning out that gave the East Division leaders an 8-4 victory over the Expos.
Williams, extending his NL endurance record to 200 consecutive games, also drove in a pair of seventh-inning runs with a single and Ron Santo capped the explosion with a two-run homer.
The victory kept Chicago 7 1/2 games ahead of the second place New York Mets, who smashed St. Louis 8-1 behind rookie Gary Gentry's five-hit performance.
West Division leading Atlanta edged San Francisco 8-4 and moved 1 1/2 lengths in front of the runner-up Los Angeles. A time average, appears certain to surpass his 1968 high of 157 hits.
He halves the league lead in runs scored, 60, with San Francisco's Bob Bonds and Detroit best Boston 4-1. Cleveland stopped Washington 7-2. Chicago took Minnesota 4-1 in 11 innings and Oakland topped Seattle 6-4.
Kessinger, a leading candidate for the shortstop spot on the NL All-Star team, boosted his batting average to .296 with his 16th and 18th hits of the season. The slender switch-hitter's 23 doubles are three shy of pitcher Matty Alon of Pittsburgh.
"The pitchers can't fool him anymore," said teammate Williams. "He's a tough man to keep on base."
Twisting 3-1 in the seventh, the Cubs filled the bases on a day of rest.

Slump Ends Sykes Is In Like Flin

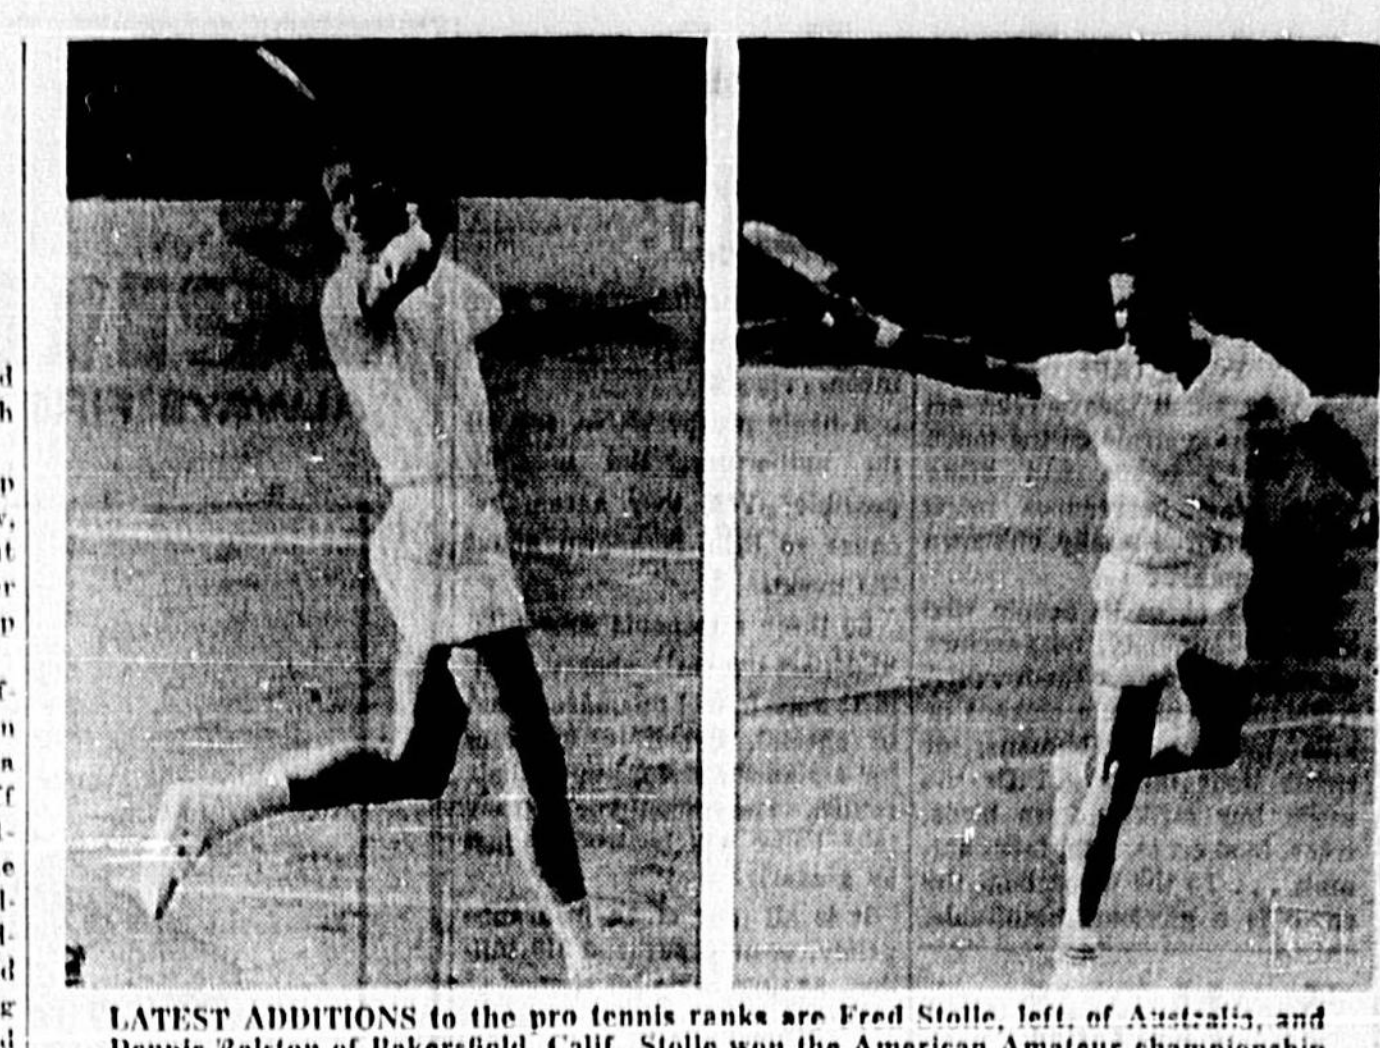

By BOB GREEN

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — The long slump was over for lead pitcher Dick Sykes, but the soft spiken man from Arkansas held off any celebration.
"Tomorrow is the big day," he said Thursday after firing a course record matching 65 and ending Homer Blanton for a first-round lead in the $125,000 Bank Open Golf Tournament.
Sykes, who has won 18 consecutive games, led the Detroit Tigers 4-1 over the Cleveland Indians.
"I was on the plane with Tommie going to Charlotte to Cleveland," he said, "and we talked a lot. It was nothing you could put your finger on more mental than anything."
"And Cleveland followed him around during practice, just watching what he was doing. It helped a lot."
"Then Tuesday in a practice round, the swing suddenly was in the groove. I had the right feeling with the putter. I felt I could knock it in from anywhere in his game."

Do Fans Expect To Much?

"On the playing field, the athlete presents himself naked before the world. . . . The athlete shows us what we ideally are as bodies. . . . The world's impersonal process has him as a focal point.
"It is because he is an outstanding instance of what man might do and be that an athlete is an outstanding man. . . . Athlete as excellence in the game of man."
"But" sooner or later the athlete falls short. Eventually he reveals some failure of nerve, self-discipline, courage, insight, generosity, caution or imagination. These limitations we treat somewhat in the way we deal with those that characterize thinkers, artists, and religious men. We tend to blame the failures on the individual, not on man.
"Sport: A Philosophical Inquiry."
By Dr. Paul Weiss
NEW YORK (USA) — The locker room is a comfortable place, not so much physically — what with soaps and simple soap leechers — but mentally. The athlete is alone there with his peers, not having to prove his worth over and over again as he does on the field before crowds.
"I don't like the crowds, and fans, except for a very few, are all fair weather," said St. Louis Cardinal pitcher Bob Gibson, sitting up in the sanctity of the clubhouse.
"People think they are you because you're a famous athlete. And that's those matters. They treat you as an object rather than a human being. My job is to give 100 per cent on the field. Off the field, I should be left alone to be a private man. People just don't see it that way."
"Day in and day out people are coming to me and asking me to do things, talk to them, sign autographs, pose for pictures. And they don't care what you're doing at the time."
"Not long ago I was eating in a restaurant. A woman comes over and asks for an autograph. I told her politely that if she felt the paper I would sign it, she could have it. She said, 'I'll be back, I'll be back.' She came over and said, 'You think you're too big to sign an autograph.' He tore up the paper and threw it in my face."
"I'm not the type of guy who can turn a whole crowd in 10 minutes. I had to wait five minutes to cool off. Then I went to my table and gave him a piece of my mind. Another time I was sitting on a plane with my wife and some guy comes over and says, 'I'd like to see you.' I said, 'I'd like to see you.' He said, 'Go to hell.'"
"Recently, my two daughters asked me to take them to the pleasure boat 'Black Finn' for a ride down the Mississippi in St. Louis. I hesitated because I knew what would happen. Well, I hadn't seen them in two months so I said O.K. I wore sunglasses and hid my head between my legs. But pretty soon everyone on that boat — must have been 300 people — were around me. I refused to sign any autographs. And I know they went away saying, 'Bob Gibson, that creep.'"
"You get cold treatment on the field, too. I'll never forget something that happened two years ago. I had been in a winning streak. Then one game I

No-no's Not Allowed

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — "Anyone committing a no-no will be black flagged," according to one of the entries in the recently published Rules and Regulations governing conduct of the first annual Automobile World Championship Golf Cart Grand Prix at Daytona International Speedway on July 4.
"Publication of the stringent rule sheet by the United States Golf Cart Racing Association (USGCRA) confirms beyond any doubt the seriousness of big-time golf cart racing," said USGCRA president Evnie Myers of San Diego, Calif.
Among the "no-no's" listed for the event — which precedes the NASCAR Medal of Honor Firecracker 400 on Friday morning — are "any activities or behavior which reflect discredit upon the sport of golf cart racing, such as assault with golf clubs. Golf clubs are intended to be wrapped around trees, not around fellow drivers' necks."

Is Hanoi Slowing The War?

By JOHN M. EIGHTOWER AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is looking for some sign that the recent sharp drop in combat and the reported curtailment in North Vietnam infiltration into the South mean Hanoi is deliberately slowing down the war.

But officials are not sure they will get such an indication. Secretary of State William P. Rogers suggests these developments may be due to some "change of plan" by the enemy command. And he has held open the possibility that could lead to increased U.S. troop withdrawal from Vietnam when President Nixon reviews his plans next month.

But Rogers also told a news conference Wednesday the decline in enemy activities could be due to manpower supply problems or to a regrouping of forces for new attacks.

Other officials say privately a new enemy offensive is a definite possibility based on present, admittedly inadequate information.

Homebound bound, they will store their moon suits in plastic bags. Pills will vacuum clean the air in the returning spacecraft. When they land, special biological protection suits will be dropped into their craft, hobbling on the seat, once the hatch is opened.

Military Pullout Early?

By FRED S. HOFFMAN WASHINGTON (AP)—Some key military leaders say it would be premature to withdraw as many as 100,000 U.S. troops from Vietnam this year, despite recent indications of reduced enemy battlefield activities.

While crediting the South Vietnamese army with steady progress, these high ranking officers say it is unlikely the ARVN could improve enough in the next six months to permit a U.S. pullout of that magnitude.

"It would be like taking a cake out of the oven before it is done," said one general. The United States is about to start withdrawing some 25,000 Army, Marine and Navy men. President Nixon indicated recently he hopes the total could reach 100,000 by year's end. A decision on further U.S. troop reductions in Vietnam is due in early August and there have been indications it might involve an additional 25,000 men.

Improvement of South Vietnamese armed forces, a substantial reduction in enemy activity and agreement with Hanoi on mutual withdrawal are the three stated Nixon administration conditions for a significant U.S. troop pullback from Vietnam.

Military officers are refraining from reading any significance yet into the dropoff of enemy attacks reported Wednesday by Secretary of State William P. Rogers and confirmed by Pentagon statistics. Some sources suggest Rogers may have been trying to signal Hanoi that, if the enemy keeps his battlefield operations at about the current low level, the United States will be able to go through with a second withdrawal beyond the 25,000 now definitely scheduled.

Military men say there has been a rhythm to enemy operations for the past four years—periods of lull interrupting spells of heightened enemy battlefield activity at intervals of several months. In the past, these military men say, the lulls have occurred when the enemy paused to replace battle losses of men and equipment, to regroup and rest.

Flag Flies Day, Night At Only Five Places

FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — Every Boy Scout knows that the American flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset.

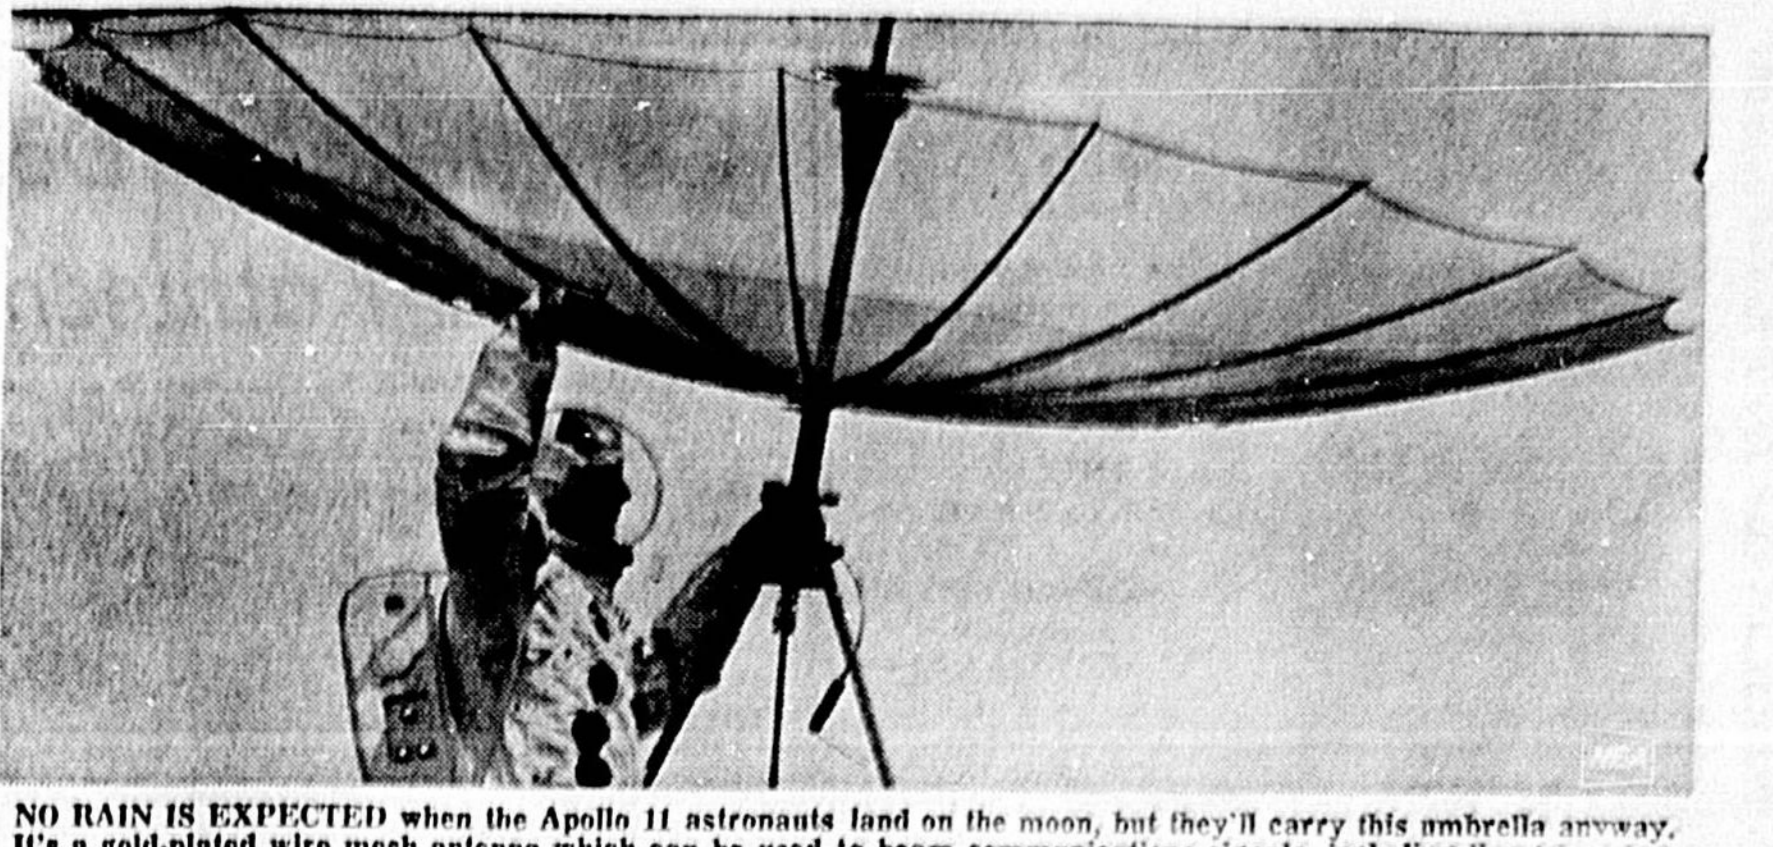

There are some exceptions, however, where it flies day and night in all kinds of weather. Moon Shuttle System Seen

By JIM STROTTHMAN CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A high-ranking space agency official says he will recommend that America develop during the 1970s a reusable, low cost earth to moon shuttle system to "test by open up space" for the benefit of mankind.

The project would have a price "roughly the cost of bringing Apollo into being," or about $24 billion spread over a 10-year period, predicted Dr. George E. Mueller, associate administrator of manned space flight for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

It would consist of three shuttle systems. The first would ferry up to 12 men to and from a space station in earth orbit. The second, possibly propelled by a nuclear rocket, would taxi men to and from the earth orbiting base to a similar station circling the moon. A third would carry up

U. S. Seeks Fish Boat Confab

By JOE MCGOWAN JR. Associated Press Writer
LIMA, Peru (AP) — The U.S. decision to lift its ban on arms sales to Peru and Ecuador may open the way for a conference on offshore fishing rights. Foreign Minister Eduardo Mercado of Peru said Thursday night.

The United States has been pressing for the conference with Peru, Ecuador and Chile for more than a year, but its diplomatic efforts have been thwarted by continuing seizures of U.S. tuna boats off South America's Pacific coast.

When the suspension of the arms sales ban was announced Thursday, it was understood a four-nation conference already had been arranged. But Mercado indicated his government had not yet committed itself.

Peruvian sources said they expected the four-nation talks to start soon, possibly this month or next, in Lima or Buenos Aires. An American source suggested they would take place in a "neutral" country, perhaps Colombia.

In the 1952 Declaration of Santiago, the three South American Pacific nations declared their territorial boundaries extended 200 miles beyond the coast and that they had jurisdiction over all fishing in those waters.

Reagan Wins Fiscal Victory

By BILL BOVARSKY Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — After four days of battling California's budget crisis is over and Gov. Ronald Reagan has the last word reducing the spending bill by $125.67 million. He said the cuts were "more than any governor has vetoed in recent times."

Exercising his right to eliminate or reduce individual items, Reagan reduced state support for primary and secondary schools to $6.24 billion.

Before the use of water meters, slaughter houses in New York and St. Louis were charged on the basis of five cents for each bullock slaughtered. Most other cities charged flat monthly rates ranging from $5 to $10, according to Rockwell Manufacturing Co.

Without authority to spend more than $1.41 billion—478 million less than Democrats sought. The Democrats settled for language in the budget pleading that Reagan would allocate any surplus during the year to schools. "It was no occasion" Reagan said.

Deltonas Gather For Cookout

By MELBRED HANBY
Deltonas is known for its friendliness, with one of the nicest groups of neighbors in the area at the top of the hill on Hartley Circle, overlooking lovely Lake Lapanscia.

The latest get-together of these contented Deltonas centered about the outdoor grill in the back garden of the Boyette's on N. Hartley Circle.

Each guest brought his contribution to the cookout including steaks which were all grilled together to perfection.

Among those getting the party off to a good start were Mrs. Frances Golder, visiting the Boyettes from California, Betty and John Roster, Davis and Maria Lewis, Clifford and Peg Myers, Jeff and Marcy Myers, Nancy Gilliam and Ruth Myers.

Frank Strader is on the improving list as it is told as is W. E. Kinnaird (affectionately known to all, including yours truly, as "Grandpa").

Yesterday, Joe, Todd, Don and I went over to Orlando where we were the guests of David and Bonnie Wright who took us out on Lake Fairview in the boat, fresh fish was served and the water even smelled good.

Candlelight, Double Ring Ceremony Unites Kathleen Moore, L. J. Lovell

Miss Kathleen Lois Moore and Larry Joe Lovell were united in Holy Matrimony, Saturday, June 28, 1969, at 8 p.m., at Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Lee P. Moore of Sanford and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lovell of Clarksville, Ga.

Rev. Leroy Soper was the officiating clergyman at the candlelight, double ring ceremony before the altar arranged with two vases of white stock and white fuzi mums. A profusion of potted palms in the background was accented with two seven-branched candelabras. White fuzi mums, white pom-poms and greenery decorated the choir railing, and family pews were identified with white satin ribbons.

Miss Beatrice Buck, church organist, presented a recital of appropriate musical selections including "Trumpet Voluntary," "Pavane," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Bach," "Missa," "Mareello," "Pocahontas in E," "Pachelbel," "O Perfect Love," "Schubert," "Aria Pastorella," "Ragtime," "Ripaudon," "Campana," and "Panfare," Handel.

Given in marriage by her father, the radiant bride chose for her vows a formal gown elegantly designed of pseudo-silk and beaded, scalloped imported Chantilly lace in an Empire A-line silhouette. The all-pearl lace bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and elbow sleeves. Her sweeping train, lavishly embroidered with scalloped lace, fell from a self-button back to a chapel length.

Her three-tiered bouffant, waist-length silk illusion veil was held by a crown of matching Chantilly lace, sprinkled with tiny pearls. A cascade bouquet of white phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis centered with a removable corsage, completed the bridal picture.

Each attendant wore a floor-length gown of blue organza over bridal taffeta. Empress styled the gowns were designed with ruffled necklines, ruffled sleeves and highlighted at the waistline with royal blue velvet ribbon. They wore matching organza picture hats featuring a wide ruffle brim, enhanced with royal blue velvet streamers. Their flowers were French hand bouquets of blue shaded delphinium showered with blue satin ribbons.

Duplicate Club Reports Winners

The Sanford Duplicate Club met June 20 at the Civic Center with six tables in play.

In a Howell progression George Kellner and Donald MacLaughlin placed first, leading Irving Feinberg and Wallace Phillips by the narrow margin of one point. Mrs. Marilyn Busey and Mrs. Janet Leon finished third with Mrs. E. M. Hinkle and Dr. R. B. Rowanrough, a close fourth.

Three games, held each Monday evening at 7:30, offer area players outstanding competition in a friendly atmosphere. The public is cordially invited.

accented with lovely bouquets of fresh garden flowers. After luncheon they adjourned to the living room where Mrs. Wade led them in singing while she presided at the organ. After much singing and many reminiscences, the invited guests left for their respective homes all filled with a strong desire to do this again real soon.

Delta Jew Moore, flower girl and sister of the bride, was gowned in a white floor-length dress featuring a lace bodice and blue velvet waist streamers. She carried a Rocco basket with blue shower ribbons and wore a halo of blue delphinium in her hair.

Randy Brunel served the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Jerry Barron, Tommy Moore, brother of the bride, and Jim Rogers, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Moore chose an aqua cotton lace A-line dress, fashioned with a scalloped collar and long sleeves, edged in ruffles. Mrs. Lovell, mother of the bridegroom, wore a pink crepe dress embellished with seed pearl embroidery. Both mothers wore white Cattleya orchids.

The bride's grandmothers, Mrs. T. J. Taylor, Mrs. M. S. Wiggins, wore white rose corsages interspersed with pink and blue baby's breath. Immediately following the ceremony, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Paris, Jr., aunt and uncle of the bride, entertained at the reception at their home.

The bride's table, overlaid with a white cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake with gold trim. Accented the cake were two silver candelabras. Decorated silver punch bowls were featured on tables arranged on the patio. The tables were covered with white cloths and laid with green net. Floral decorations included cascading arrangements of white stock and white roses and also topiary trees of natural greenery and white fuzi mums.

Doris Day Sings Out... Actress Advises Positive Thinking

It's improbable... It's unfair... But Doris Day, now has a right to sing out... She has been playing the ingenue for 25 years, still looks fresh, sweetly sexy and startlingly unaffected by life, reports Hester Van Home in the current Family Circle.

Miss Day's serenity, her youthful glow and high spirits are the more remarkable when you remember that she is some where between 45 and 50, and that she is recovering from the deepest psychic wound a woman can experience, says the magazine.

Playing a TV widow is one way of telling the world that she is not so chaste as assumed... "It's time I started acting my age," she said recently. Family Circle says it may offerred or inflated—the hard-earned... Doris Day has still to acquire her under her eyes and a spruce pimple.

Landscape Lovers

As soon as we met, I knew Elaine was special. She has an air that says she knows who she is and where she is going. I like the way she paints, too—she's quiet and unassuming.

Everything about her appeals to me. She dances like a dream, plays tennis well enough to keep me on my toes and loves painting as I do. She's my kind of girl.

In a world that seems mad, her outlook is refreshing. Maybe it's because her church and her God are important to her! And she isn't afraid to say so.

We'll be married next month—on a shooting star, but whatever the future holds, we know God and His Church are the source of all goodness.

Your church has the key to real happiness. It is eager to help you.

CLIMBING TO the clouds — Crew building the Mount Washington Cog Railway complete the great trestle called Jacob's Ladder, with steeped grade of 87.4 per cent, early in 1968. The engine is Old Pennsylvania, first of the line locomotives.

By JOE SHILLEY

As the cog railway is built, it is a feat regarded there as more important than a landing on the moon. It is a feat that will be remembered for many years to come.

Council's Decision 'Unreasonable, Unfair'

Altamonte Springs Sued On Zoning

By DONNA ESTES

Declaring actions of the Altamonte Springs City Council were "arbitrary, unreasonable and grossly unfair," three Altamonte couples filed suit against the municipality today asking the Circuit Court to "quash or reverse" the body's ruling denying change of zoning on plain hills' Maitland Avenue properties.

The petitioners, Charles James Fox Sr. and Ruth B. Fox, Helms E. Baister and Dorothy E. Baister and Paul D. Roche and Virginia H. Roche, state Council's decision in denying rezoning from R-1AA residential to R-1 multi-family dwelling district was a "gross abuse of discretion in violation of Florida statutes."

The tract in question is on the east side of Maitland Avenue south of SR 417 and is zoned R-1AA residential. It is bounded on the south side by the public library zoned R-3, is directly across from a site zoned R-1 commercial and is bounded on the east by R-3 zoned property, according to the complaint.

It is further stated the Bixks property to the east was rezoned R-1 at the June 4 meeting when the petitioners' request for like zoning was denied.

"All property owners abutting are in favor," the complaint states.

Jurist Quoted In 3 Magazines

By FRED VAN PELT

To break into print in a national publication is not too common but to break into print in three national magazines in one week is something of an accomplishment.

Circuit Judge Volie A. Williams Jr. did just that this week — three interviews on the same subject in three national periodicals.

The jurist said that last January a news reporter from Commodore magazine called on him. This was followed in March by a news reporter from Parade magazine. And at about the time of the last moon launch, when the astronauts got down to within less than eight miles of the moon, along came a reporter from Time magazine.

By coincidence all three interviews came out within the last week.

And all three interviews were about divorce among the "space people." All are in the same vein, so the brief Time report is printed verbatim:

"Divorce is common. Circuit Judge Volie Williams, who has handled 3,000 divorces in the past two years, finds that plaintiff wives of engineers present a strikingly similar recital of marital discord.

"By their accounts, says the judge, the husband never wants any family life. He likes to build a stereo set from component parts and then dare anyone in the family to touch it. Every weekend he goes out in his boat by himself and doesn't even his wife or kids to go with him.

"He never physically abuses his wife and he's a good provider, but when he gives material things he thinks he is fulfilling his obligation. He's selfish but he doesn't think so."

Drowning Only 4th Fatality

By BILL SCOTT

The drowning of a four-year-old Altamonte Springs boy was the only fatality listed by Seminole County authorities during the July 4 holiday period ending Sunday night.

Sheriff John Polk said Jeffrey L. Weeks, son of Mrs. Annie Davis Weeks, Station Street, apparently died after he fell into a man-made lake near his home.

Polk and other county officers arrived on the scene and the body was found in the lake at 4:30 p.m. Probable time of death was listed at 8 p.m. by county officers.

A three-year-old boy is listed in "fair" condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital in Sanford with injuries sustained after a car ran over him.

Danny Ingraham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Ingraham, 2535 Sanford Avenue, was playing in the yard when a car driven by Margaret W. Downer, 28, of 135 Country Club Circle, backed over the boy, county authorities reported. The incident occurred Sunday at 4 p.m.

William Burton Guy III, Valley Forge Apartments, is listed in "fair" condition with injuries after the 1969 model Jaguar he was driving went out of control and overturned.

Altamonte Store Burglarized $3,000 In Dope Stolen

Altamonte Springs drug store was burglarized of between $2,500 to $3,000 worth of narcotics, sedatives and abuse drugs by a professional team of drug burglars in a Saturday night incident.

David L. Bean, owner of Altamonte Pharmacy, SE 426, said the thieves escaped after "doing a professional job of burglarizing the store."

Entry was gained by removing the metal air conditioner vent on the roof to enable the intruders to climb down into the store.

Bean said the burglar alarm was turned off and his shelves picked clean of drugs while several dollars was left undisturbed in the cash register.

"This is the second time I've been hit by the thieves," Bean said. His store was also burglarized by narcotic thieves March 7, he stated.

Eugene Adler said he was confronted by two bushy-headed men with guns yesterday as he walked along First Street near Park Avenue. He said the men appeared to be 18-19 years of age and tied on foot after removing the money from his wallet. Detective Ralph Russell is investigating the report.

In a final report, the loss of $60 cash, a floor mat and mace was listed after burglars entered the home of James Smith, 2807 Truman Avenue.

Smith, a reserve deputy sheriff, said someone apparently entered his home early Saturday while his family was asleep and took the items used by him when on duty with the county.
