Joan Bennett And Joel McCrea Star Comedy Film

"Two In A Crowd" Is Featured Tuesday At Ritz Theater

"Two in a Crowd," Universal's sparkling romantic comedy drama, opens Tuesday at the Ritz Theater, starring Joan Bennett and Joel McCrea, reaches the peak of hilarity, often carrying the work of the stars and the direction of the offering are buoyant as a child's soap bubble floating in the summer sun. And the resultant revelry is sure to cascade.

"Two in a Crowd" proves that a half of a thousand dollar bill is not worth any more than a soap bubble; that a girl should never spend her sweetest wedding trousseau money when she is sure she wants to marry him.

The highly amusing screen comedy begins with the principals, the two halves of a thousand dollar bill. Neither of them can get anywhere with the woman, but they can, and do, when they meet the girl who stole the money. In fact, the young romantic fellow almost goes to jail, when he tries to change the "grand" in the same bank from which some gangster had stolen it.

The humor runs faster and swifter as the modern sweethearts attempt to solve their problems and find themselves continually more deeply entangled in a situation impossible to them but laughable to every body else. "Two in a Crowd" is a "must see" picture, one in a million.

Alfred E. Green is the director. The excellent cast supporting Joan Bennett and Joel McCrea includes Harry Armet, Allen Shipworth, Reginald Denny, Ned Pundstone, Andy Gray and the former stage favorite, Elsie Cook, Jr., remembered for his work with George M. Cohan in "Ah, Wilderness." Young Cook contributes a splendid performance in "Two in a Crowd."

Jack Holt Seen In Newest Adventure, "Crash Donovan"

These hard riding fellows who follow the highways and strive to make them safe for travel, who keep the wild drivers in line and who risk danger and death in their daily work—the state highway patrol—seem to have a thankless task.

The public used to believe their only purpose in life was to say, "Pull over to the curb." But automobile drivers are beginning to understand that cycle patrolmen who control traffic on the roads help to save the lives of motorists and pedestrians.

Because of the courageous work that state highway patrol are doing generally throughout the country, Universal has dedicated a motion picture, "Crash Donovan," to these heroes of the roaring road. The film, starring Jack Holt, is particularly timely now, when a national campaign is in progress to promote safety on the highways of America, during the rush of summer traffic.

Jack Holt portrays the role of a cycle cop who experiences all the tingling thrills of modern cavaliers on wheels in "Crash Donovan," the dramatic picture which plays Saturday at the Ritz. The spirit of daring rides with him on his handsome steed as he follows the path of high adventure.

Nan Gray plays the feminine lead and John King is cast as her sweetheart. While the story moves along rapidly to the tempo of swift drama, the romantic episodes are interwoven with them in an interesting pattern.

THIRD WIVES HIT

"Back to Nature," the third Twentieth Century-Fox picture based on the adventures of the famous Third Jones Family, opens Friday at the Ritz Theater, featuring Ted Froy, Shirley Mason, Dixie Dunbar, Tony Martin, Spring Byington, Kenneth Howell, George Ernest, June Carlson, Florence Roberts and Billy Mahan.

Little Jane Runs Wild Again In New Rollicking Comedy

In response to nation-wide requests of screen fans who have wanted to see "Ginger" Jane Withers run wild again on the screen Twentieth Century-Fox cast her in "Pepper," a hilarious film written especially for Jane. Jane breaks windows, hurls tomatoes, kicks shins, and in general creates havoc with her mischievous antics, while she is curing a dyspeptic millionaire of a chronic grouch, exposing a fake baron, and playing a half-pint Robin Hood of lower New York.

Irvin S. Cobb and Slim Summerville are her hilarious, henchmen, with the cast also including Dean Jagger, Muriel Robert, Ivan Lbedoff, Maurice Cass and Romaine Callender.

Lamar Trotti wrote the screen play of "Pepper," based on a story by Jefferson Parker and Murray Roth. James T. Tilling directed with John Stone associate producer.

"Jane Withers Is Ideal Child," Says Well-Known Actor

"If Jane Withers is a sample of what a movie career does for children, a law should be passed forcing all youngsters to have theatrical experience as part of their regular schooling."

Thus spoke Irvin S. Cobb, the noted author, humorist and actor, between scenes during production of "Pepper," new Twentieth Century-Fox picture playing Wednesday and Thursday at the Ritz Theater, in which Cobb and Slim Summerville head the cast supporting Jane.

"I have you to thank for a sweeter, more well-behaved, kinder, considerate and wholer, mischievous little girl," said Cobb. "I first met her while I was visiting in Hollywood, and my granddaughter Elizabeth, included in dressing me to the stage where she heard Jane was working. At that time, I realized what an amazingly fine actress the child was."

SHE'S MAD, SHE'S MEAN, SHE'S GREAT

Better than ever because she's badder than ever, Jane Withers puts the miss in mischief and the pep in "Pepper," her new Twentieth Century-Fox picture. Irvin S. Cobb (above with Jane) is featured.

Mary Pickford-Buddy Rogers Rumors Again Floating In From Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Said Charles (Buddy) Rogers last year:

"I'm having too good a time just as I am to think of getting married."

Said Mary Pickford's personal representative last January, just after Mary was granted her divorce from Douglas Fairbanks:

"Miss Pickford and Rogers are just good friends. She has known Rogers and his family many years, but there certainly is no possibility of a romance between the two."

To which Buddy, in London at the time, echoed that the reports of Mary's "new romance" with him were "all news to me."

And Bert Rogers, in Olathe, Kas., joined in the trio of denial. He was "just certain" Buddy and Mary were not planning a wedding.

"Buddy was rather lost out there in California," said Buddy's father, "and Mary took him in tow."

And so—just as Hollywood has been expecting—word comes again that they're going to be married. Friends say the wedding will occur in October.

It would be an all-American marriage—"America's Sweetheart" and "America's Boy Friend" as man and wife. The happy romance depicted in the latest film they made together, "My Best Girl," becoming a reality—despite the 18-year difference in their ages. Mary is 42, Buddy was 33 in August.

Buddy, who says he makes more money leading his orchestra than he does in pictures, has been rumored engaged to one film ingenue and another since he first arrived, a shy and uncertain youth, to enjoy his quick rise to fame.

But he denied all romance rumors as strenuously as Miss Pickford denied for a time that Pickfair, Hollywood's "happiest home," was tottering.

It was Fairbanks' love of g-obsessing that contributed to the dissolution last Jan. 18 of his famous marriage. He Buddy must have changed his mind since the time he said, emphatically: "I like to travel, to play in one city this month and another the next. If you get married, you want a home—and an orchestra leader's home is wherever he is working. No, I'm not ready to marry yet."

SCANNING THE SKIES

Pat O'Brien, star of First National's "China Clipper," and his leading lady, lovely Beverly Roberts, look aloft in a scene from this famous drama playing Wednesday and Thursday at the Ritz, about America's new monarch of the air that blazed a thundering trail of thrills across the Pacific Ocean.

"China Clipper," Thrilling Drama Of The Air, Stars Pat O'Brien

No more thrilling drama of the air has come to the screen than First National's new picture "China Clipper," which opens Wednesday.

A tribute to the vision, ingenuity and courage of the men who battled not only storm and fog, but the timidity and prejudice of capitalistic interests, to establish long distance air lines, "China Clipper" is a brilliant chapter in the pictorial history of daring aviation.

Although fictitious as to characters and plot, Commander Frank Weeds screen play is based on fundamental facts. It is realistic in the extreme and thoroughly accurate, William I. Van Dusen, of the Pan-American Airways, having served as technical advisor.

The exterior scenes were largely filmed right at the air base of the famous China Clipper that recently began its flights from Alameda, on the Pacific Coast near San Francisco, to the Philippine Islands, the giant trans-oceanic ship itself having a prominent part in the picture. Other exteriors were taken at Catalina Islands, where the tropical foliage of the Orient could be duplicated.

Pat O'Brien does superb work in his role of a young aviation enthusiast and war ace who is obsessed with the inspiration to span the world by air. From a youth of famous dreams he develops into a hard bitten, iron souled man who drives his fellows ruthlessly and unmercifully to attain his objective.

Beverly Roberts gives a fine performance as a lonely wife who longs for a home but finds only neglect and poverty.

Excellent performances are given by Ross Alexander and Humphrey Bogart, as two ace pilots who help O'Brien bring his plans to a glowing success. Marie Wilson adds a touch of comedy to an otherwise intensely dramatic production as the sweetheart of Alexander, who hates his work, but who can't give him up, and ever appearing on the scene to insist on marriage just when her fiance is off for other lands.

An exceptional piece of work was done by Henry B. Walthall, the grand old man of the screen, who died just after he completed the picture. He plays the part of the genius behind the scheme to hop across oceans, inventing and constructing Clippers that could withstand the terrible strain of such long voyages in all kinds of weather.

ANN SOTHERN TO WED MUSICIAN

Pretty Ann Sothern, blonde film actress, and Regy Pryor, or a leading son of Arthur Pryor, the famous band director, are shown filing notices of their intention to wed in Los Angeles. They plan to be married Sept. 28 and honeymoon in Chicago where young Pryor's orchestra has an engagement. (AP Photo)

THRILL-PAKED DRAMA OF CHINA

Gary Cooper, soldier-of-fortune on an important mission, succumbs to the wiles of beautiful Madeleine Carroll, who is being paid by a Chinese war-lord to lead him to destruction. It happens in "The General Died at Dawn," opening Sunday at the Ritz Theater, and Gary ultimately wins in the gripping game of hearts laid against the background of modern China.

Jones Family Go Places In Trailer In Newest Comedy

It all happened by accident, but the Jones Family, the happy, terrapin screen family whose every picture is an event, has qualified as a significant sign of the sociological times.

All of which is a little disconcerting to Ted Froy, Shirley Mason, Dixie Dunbar, Tony Martin, Spring Byington, Kenneth Howell, George Ernest, June Carlson, Florence Roberts and Billy Mahan, who are featured in the latest Jones Family picture, "Back to Nature," which plays at the Ritz Theater Friday.

They had supposed that their function was simply to entertain. Instead, in the new film, they instruct; they point the way; they outline a trend.

In short, the Jones Family, takes to a trailer in the new picture, and trailers are regarded, just now, as the most important social manifestation of our times. No less than half a dozen erudite publications have current articles on the subject.

Alfred R. B. Jones, the statistician, estimated that within 20 years half our population—that is, nearly 75,000,000 of us—will be "rolling our own homes."

Already, according to estimates of William B. Stout, airplane designer and transportation engineer, 300,000 of us are living part or all the year in trailers.

Certain of a rousing reception is the new Jones Family picture in Sarasota, Fla., where a recently-concluded annual convention of the The Car Tourists of the World drew more than 1,000 rolling homes and nearly 3,000 delegates, from 45 states and several Canadian and foreign provinces.

The new Jones Family picture will be of double interest to trailer enthusiasts, current and prospective, because Director James Tilling, himself a trailer owner, insisted upon complete technical fidelity. "Back to Nature" shows every detail of the operation of a typical, middle-priced rolling home.

SOCKO!

Art and chivalry had a pretty tough battle in the manly chest of Gary Cooper while he was acting on the set for "The General Died at Dawn," playing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theater, but art finally won and beautiful Madeleine Carroll, who co-stars with him, got a sock on the jaw.

The artist's greatest exponent of action in the raw, Clifford Odets, calls for the hero to sock the heroine—not a love tap, not a slap, but a real sock that begins away down in the heels. Cooper obeyed. He pleaded with Director Lewis Milestone and with Odets, to change the script. But the two were adamant. So the sock was delivered. Just as the script called for it, and Gary doesn't want a little love tap, not a heart. And Gary has been apologizing to her ever since.

Those Jones' Again

Smashing Drama

Screen Star Finds Lip-Stick Fixative

"More beautiful than Romney's famous portrait of Lady Hamilton," is lovely blonde Madeleine Carroll, according to James Montgomery Flagg, world-famous illustrator, who recently went to Hollywood to find the five most beautiful women in the film capital and paint their pictures for magazine covers.

"Her skull, and proportions of features are exquisite," Flagg said of Miss Carroll, who is starred in "The General Died at Dawn," opening Sunday at the Ritz, "and the bone structure of her body gives her a natural grace that ineffably recalls Romney's Nelson loved."

Miss Carroll is co-starred in "The General Died at Dawn" with virile Gary Cooper. Action of the film is in the midst of the current Chinese rebellion.

FINED FOR KNIFE LICKING

MIAMI, Sept. 23.—(AP)—I. Tenenbaum was fined $25 Thursday when state health inspectors said they found him licking a knife in a bakery. He was cutting a cake, they said, and each time he cut a slice he licked the crumbs and bring off the knife.

North Carolina tobacco farmers used seaweed during the 1935 drought months as a mulch for keeping soil cool and damp.

Adventure Tale With Gary Cooper And Madeleine Carroll In Stellar Parts

Modern, War-Torn China Depicted

International Intrigue Is Bank Of Mystery - Romance

A fast-moving story of adventure, intrigue and romance in modern war-torn China, "The General Died at Dawn," which opens Sunday at the Ritz Theater, brings to the screen a thrilling drama which will have been taken directly from the newspaper headlines.

"The General Died at Dawn" presents Gary Cooper again in a soldier-of-fortune role, one which had added greatly to his stature as one of the nation's outstanding stars. Playing opposite him—as a woman who uses her beauty as a lure in the high game of international intrigue—is beautiful blonde Madeleine Carroll, young English actress who is headed for a major position among the great stars.

The film is based on the struggle between modern China and the predatory war-lords who are laying the country waste. On the one side is General Yang, ambitious war-lord intent upon crushing China under his iron heel. On the other is a growing people's movement. Cooper is in the ranks of this movement.

Sent to Shanghai with money with which to buy arms, Cooper is lured aboard a train by Miss Carroll, daughter of a crashed international agent. The train is held up and Cooper is captured. The agent is given the money and sent to Shanghai to pick up Cooper's arms consignment. Once there he decides to flee to America with the money. Cooper escapes from Yang and reaches Shanghai where he kills the agent in a shooting scrape. Yang arrives and takes Miss Carroll again, together with Miss Carroll. He takes them aboard his junk where he intends to torture them into revealing the hiding place of the money, which will bring them their freedom.

Miss Carroll discovers she loves Cooper and to show her duplicity in leading to his capture, offers to pay Yang with her life if he will permit Cooper to go. Before this becomes necessary, however, Yang is shot in a scuffle. Realizing he is about to die, he orders his soldiers to kill Cooper and the girl and then to kill themselves as an entourage befitting his rank. Just as the soldiers are about to fire, Cooper begins a desperate gamble for life by playing to Yang's vanity.

The part of General Yang is played by Akim Tamiroff, skilled depicter of sinister oriental roles. The picture was directed by Lewis Milestone and the screen play was written by Clifford Odets, the young playwright whose recent works have created a mighty stir among dramatic critics throughout the country.

Screen Actors Are Surrounded By Lucky Numbers

Joel McCrea and Henry Armetts set forth no claims of mathematics, nor do they have particularly in numbers, but the titles of pictures in which they have played are very strongly to suggest the newest film in which they appear in Universal's "Two in a Crowd," which plays at the Ritz Theater on Tuesday.

McCrea, who stars in "Two in a Crowd" with Joan Bennett, was featured in "Three Men," "Five O'Clock Girl" and "Half a Sinner" on the screen. He had a role in "Twelve Pound Look" on the stage.

Henry Armetts, coach the numbers himself, with parts in "Three Kids and a Queen," "Oh Heaven" and "Her First Love." Henry says, "If anybody believes in numbers, the luckiest combination is 'Two in a Crowd.' That title is just surrounded by numbers."

Joan Bennett observes, "Well, my only number title is '18 Hours by Air.' I don't know if you'd call thirteen lucky or not. The supporting cast of "Two in a Crowd" includes Allen Shipworth, Ned Pundstone, Harry Armetts, Reginald Denny and Billy Mahan.

Fascists Planning Drive On Capital

Attack On Bay City Temporarily Halted By Red Vessels

By The Associated Press
A Fascist army, 5,000 strong, commanded the ancient city of Toledo today after routing Government defenders and freeing comrades from ruins of the long-besieged Fortress Alcazar.

Government forces fled to the south and east. The path north to Madrid being blocked by insurgents. In rugged fights the loyalist militia stopped at intervals to shell Toledo and then sped on their way.

The first step of the Fascists upon entering Toledo was to free the famous Alcazar defenders who for 10 weeks had resisted shell fire, dynamite and gasoline fumes directed against them by Government fighters. The Alcazar forces joined in the battle and the last socialist lines scattered and fled.

The next objective of the Fascist army is expected to be the capture of Madrid, 45 miles to the north.

Government headquarters in the capital officially admitted the fall of Toledo and called upon all militiamen to come to the aid of Madrid.

A Fascist attack on Bilbao on the Bay of Biscay was halted temporarily by Government warships which delivered food supplies to the port city after shelling the Rebels.

Registrations To Cease October 10, Says Supervisor

Registration books for qualification to vote in the November general elections will close Oct. 10, W. J. Thigpen, Seminole County supervisor of registrations, said today.

Through a clerical error, the attorney-general's office last week announced that Oct. 17 was the closing date.

Under the Florida law, the attorney-general has the authority to order registration to cease any time within 30 days before the general election.

Persons who registered and paid poll taxes to vote in the June primaries automatically are eligible to cast their ballot in November.

Persons who are eligible to vote but who have not registered will find books open in Mr. Thigpen's office on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

Before one may visit a voting booth, his poll taxes for 1934 and 1935 must have been paid, according to Joe D. Jinkins, County tax collector.

Arrangements in arrears for 1935 totaled six, the litigation department. For 1936, 14 assessments were unpaid. In the former case, $4,594 was represented, while in the latter case $6,744.

Mr. Jinkins remarked of the particular good condition of the tax situation this year, "I think out that the number of delinquent taxes are unusually low."

Delinquent taxes are collected by means of a lien on other property. The state and federal governments, stock in corporations, other incorporated or unincorporated, notes and other obligations secured by mortgages and money in the bank.

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—Lawrence Simpson, American seaman, today was convicted of sedition by a peoples' court and sentenced to three years in prison minus 11 months he already has served.

Simpson, a sailor on the steamship Manhattan, was convicted in a one-day trial during which he admitted without reservations he and three German Communist friends tried to set up a popular front government in Nazi Germany with three small balloons and packages of anti-Nazi propaganda.

The presiding judge said "sedition" is being observed this time, but the next time a foreigner is caught attempting to spread Communistic doctrines in Germany "harsh treatment" would be handed out. Simpson's German co-defendant, Bruno Rietz, was sentenced to four years in prison.

Simpson said his venture failed because of his colleagues turned out to be a spy for the German secret police.

Seminole County will use about 5,000 vehicle licenses in 1937, according to an estimate made today by Joe D. Jinkins, tax collector from whose office tags are issued.

The figure was based on the 1936 tags used this year. At the State Prison Farm in Raiford, 1937 plates were out of the moulds and ready for stamping. They are bearing white numerals on a green background.

Hunters Required To Enter Reports Of Quarry Taken

Sportsmen applying for hunting license in Florida must file a report of the game killed last season, according to an announcement made today from the office of James G. Sharon, County Judge.

Quoting Dr. I. N. Kennedy, executive secretary of the Commission of Game and Fresh Water Fish, the announcement said the information is an invaluable aid to the state in the formulation of conservation measures and also directs attention to areas which probably need restocking.

One hundred percent co-operation on the part of the sportsman in compiling this census is expected, according to Dr. Kennedy.

Hunters and trappers also were required to file a report of the numbers and kinds of fur-bearing animals taken by them in the previous season.

The Safety Campaign

In 1935 not a single person was killed in automobile accidents in Sanford. So far this year eight fatalities have occurred in Seminole County. Last year 28,400 persons lost their lives and more than 1,500,000 others were injured in motor vehicle accidents throughout the country. One out of every 20 who are alive today will be either killed or injured in an automobile accident within five years if the present rate is maintained.

These cold statistics paint a graphic picture of what is happening on our highways today, a picture that grows steadily darker despite the work of police, safety councils and educational campaigns to reduce the menace. From this it might be deduced that it is useless to make any effort towards the curtailment of accidents, but such is not the case, for if these efforts had not been made, the casualty list for the nation would be still higher.

The only answer is that more and greater efforts must be exerted in educating the public to the real dangers of motoring, in teaching them how to avoid these dangers and in enforcing rules of safe driving. There is much missionary work to be done in the matter of informing people how and why accidents occur. We believe it is this ignorance that is responsible for such a mounting number of accidents, and it is with an idea of helping to correct this condition that The Sanford Herald is cooperating with business, professional and farming interests of the city in putting on a "Safety Campaign" which will be extended over a period of nine weeks beginning with The Herald's issue of October 5.

If motorists can be made to learn just a few fundamental rules of good driving and if they will take these rules to heart, there will be fewer accidents in our city and county and the "Safety Campaign" efforts will not have been in vain. If, for instance, people would get it through their heads that there is no given "safe" speed for driving, that any speed is too fast that may lead to an accident, then we could all cheer. If they could remember that cows on the highway, a child on a bicycle, that a bouncing ball with its inevitable following child, are all danger signals which should be heeded by applying the breaks, then we could feel we had accomplished something.

But the instruction along these lines, we will leave to the safety expert who is preparing the copy for the nine-week campaign, and if this campaign results in even one less accident, and if it causes the people to take seriously their responsibilities as motorists, the sponsors' efforts will not have been lost.

Bird Group Will Start Drive For New Members

 Mr. Mason said six other appointments will be made later. In another statement made today by Mr. Russell, he called attention to a typographical error in The Herald Saturday regarding the taking of ducks by hunters. Corrected, the sentence should have read: "Canvasback and red-head ducks, present in some numbers on Lake Jessup last season, are now added to the list of migratory waterfowl protected at all times by federal law."

Absentees Declare Votes Were Cast Without Consent

KEY WEST, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Five state witnesses at the trial on election fraud charges of Rogelio Gomez, former Monroe county judge, testified yesterday absentee ballots were cast for them without their knowledge in the June 2 primary.

The witnesses, first to testify of the 58 summoned by the ousted jurist's prosecutors, swore they did not know who voted in their names or forged their signatures to envelopes enclosing the absentee ballots.

The six man jury was selected with unexpected rapidity from the first 16 tallies called to the box. Anticipating difficulty, a special venire of 36 had been drawn in criminal court along with a regular panel of 18.

The trial opened after Judge Robert Jewell of Bartow, assigned here in the disqualification of Judge William V. Albury, denied defense motions to quash the information on technical grounds.

Gomez, who claimed the three indictments against him resulted from a political conspiracy, was removed as county judge after the grand jury accused him of 25 separate counts of ballot violation, forgery and fraud in his handling of absentee ballots for the first primary.

It was indicated by trend of early cross-examination that the defense will claim that if there were irregularities in the absentee balloting, they occurred without the knowledge of Gomez.

The Encampment

The American Legion has just concluded its annual convention in Cleveland, where much fun-making was indulged in, many resolutions passed and officers for the next year elected. While these former doughboys were holding forth, another group of veterans opened its encampment in Washington.

This latter group at one time was a mighty force. Its influence was felt in national and state elections. Presidents and governors were made by its voting power, and all public officials were always ready to lend an ear to pleas, and to grant pensions to this potent force.

"But today," says the Miami Herald, "this Grand Army of the Republic does not matter so much now. Most of the members lie quietly in cemeteries throughout the United States. There were 2,778,504 of them once; now the total is given as 4391, of whom some 900 attended the encampment—marching, stomping along, or riding, feeble bent with age."

"It was the seventieth annual encampment of these Northern veterans of the strife between the states back in the early sixties. There will be some hundreds still to carry on next year and next. But too few, too sad.

"These veterans have lived long, more than fourscore years. War did not shorten their lives; they have gloried in the deeds of old; they have enjoyed the annual meetings, the reminiscences of the campfires, America has been kind to them.

"These encampments of war veterans, whether of the Civil, the Spanish-American or World wars, serve to stress the inevitable toll of time. Years attack, advance rapidly, mow down quickly. We may note this in others, in returns to old scenes, in reunions.

"War is safe and generous compared to time."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 23.—The Florida troops were ordered to the border Thursday. Four trains, carrying the second Florida infantry probably will begin moving from Black Point within 24 hours, carrying the command to the Mexican border, orders for the movement having been issued this morning from Washington.

Before an audience which taxed the capacity of Kowles Hall, Rollins College yesterday morning formally opened its thirty-third consecutive year's work, under the history of the institution. The event was particularly interesting and inspiring because of the fact that it marked the re-entry of Dr. George Morgan Ward into the active work of Florida's oldest institution of higher learning, as its acting president.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Fleischer and family have arrived home in the city after spending the summer in New York and will be at home at their residence on Tenth Street.

Mr. Williams said an elaborate program has been arranged for the Orlando show. Among the features are the flying comic farmer, Carl Voelter of Miami; a surprise event; airplane radio communication demonstration; a glider exhibition by Barney Barnwell; a new airplane show; air-race games; aerial fox hunt; and the "Light of the Tropics Club," by Jim Erdman of Atlanta.

In another statement today, Mr. Williams urged that all local citizens interested in obtaining an airplane stop here, write letters urging the placement of Sanford on the schedule and forward them to the Chamber of Commerce.

Later the communications will be taken to Washington and laid before the Post Office Department.

Why do your tires slip and slide?

Because they have stiff, unyielding tread ribs that act like sled runners when you try to stop. To eliminate this sled-runner sliding, General invented the Dual-10—a tire with tread so flexible it wrinkles when brakes are applied. The wrinkles squeeze wet pavements dry—they sweep aside loose dust and greasy traffic film on dry roads—GRIP and STOP right now!

'Two In A Crowd' Is Feature Billing At Ritz Tuesday

"Two In A Crowd" is the sort of picture that will leave a warm, happy, tingling glow, 'way down deep inside of you. Laughter and love ripple and sparkle all through the lively Universal offering which opens at the Ritz Theater on Tuesday.

Joan Bennett and Joel McCrea are ideally starred as a mirth provoking pair of sweethearts in this rollicking screen drama. Joan and Joel, queen and king of romance and comedy, first meet when each of them finds half of a torn thousand dollar bill. This leads to unusual complications when they combine their resources to get a race-horse out of pawn.

The action becomes merrier and madder when Joel walks into the same bank where robbers had earlier stolen some bills, including the one he is trying to change. Humorous situations mount to a thrilling climax, with dizzy detectives and a sweepstake race adding to the fun and excitement.

The supporting cast includes several splendid comedians, among them Henry Armetta, Alison Skipworth, Reginald Denny, Nat Pendleton, Andy Clyde and Elisha Cook, Jr. The picture was directed by Alfred E. Green, one of Hollywood's ace.

Babcock Avers Fruit Fly Issue Non-Political

Says Matter Serious One To Thousand Florida Producers

Howard C. Babcock, Republican nominee for the United States Senate, in a recent address at Jacksonville, declared that the Mediterranean fruit fly issue should be non-political.

His address, in part, follows: "There is one subject which I consider non-partisan, and which I hope will not become political; namely, the Mediterranean fly re-imburement situation. This matter is a serious one to several thousand growers," he told the audience. "It has been handled by a committee which has been recognized by the federal government and the growers of Florida. The committee members come from all parts of the citrus empire. I have been secretary of the organization since it started, and I still have that honor."

"While my grove suffered severe damage, running into thousands of dollars, I have filed no claim, nor do I intend to file any. All of the claims are in my office and in my care. The work has been well done by the committee, at no cost to the growers, the work being carried on by volunteer subscription. So far we have been unsuccessful. It has been a long, slow task. Grind Of Series Begins In Gotham As Crowds Gather

Ticket Seekers Jam Office Gates For Wednesday Opener

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The advance guard of the 1936 world's series throng rolled into New York last night and the big town primed itself for the most hectic week in years.

Hotels began to fill. Restaurants and hot spot trade boomed. Broadway and the side streets in the Forties and Fifties took on a holiday atmosphere. Hotel lobbies buzzed with baseball chatter.

The visitors besieged ticket offices for passbooks to the Giants-Yankees classic starting Wednesday at the Polo Grounds. There was plenty of scuffling but few protests from the out-towners. They wanted world's series tickets and meant to have them.

There was betting palooka on the result; on Carl Hubbell to win the opener for the Giants; on whether the series would go five or six games and against either club to take the first two games. Odds fluctuated all over town but everywhere the Yankees, who made a run-away race in the American League, were outstanding favorites to win in six games.

Eddie Branch, secretary of the Giants, reported a sell-out of box and reserved seats for all three games scheduled at the Polo Grounds. He said the club would be unable to take care of any more applications and could not fill some of these now on hand.

President Roosevelt will see Friday's game. Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis is due from Chicago Tuesday to take charge of the big show.

After two games at the Polo Grounds, the teams will cross the Harlem River for three jousts at the Yankee Stadium. If sixth and seventh games are necessary they'll go back to the Polo Grounds.

Meanwhile, the Giants and Yankees wound up their regular season's ball and prepared for two days of strenuous practice before squaring off against each other at 1:30 P. M. (EST) Wednesday.

Manager Bill Terry ordered his National League champs to report at the Polo Grounds at 12 noon today. Tuesday the Giants will work out in the stadium.

Back from Washington, the Yanks, who say they'll stop the Giants in five games, were to drill on their home lot today and take their first peek at the Polo Grounds Tuesday.

Leon Carl Hubbell, the Oklahoma southpaw who just about single-handed gave the Giants, the pennant with 26 victories, 16 of them in a row, has been picked to see the Big Bertha of Lou Gehrig, Bill Dickey, Joe DiMaggio and company in their opening tilt.

Just who will oppose Carl was uncertain last night although Big Charley Buffing, Yankees right-hander and the only Yank sharpshooter to deliver 20 wins this season, seemed to have the inside track.

For a time Joe McCarthy toyed with the idea of sending Lefty Gomez against Hubbell. The senior looked like he'd sell in firing a two-hitter against Washington recently, but in his last start Saturday he was so wild, McCarthy is

SPORT CHATS

By JIMMY CHAPMAN

Take A Number! Take a number from one to ten, double it, and add two touchdowns, that's how many points that many people missed the score for this past week-end's outstanding grid contests over the nation.

A surprise came our way when the Mississippi Mud Blingers failed to come through as predicted and defeat the Greenies from Tulane. We'll venture that many people were surprised at the outcome of the South Carolina and V. M. I. game, for most of the pick-the-winner charts sent into this office picked the Gamecocks to win, but we went them one better and picked the caddy from Virginia.

As far as score-telling goes, we'll forget all except the Alabama-Howard contest, the score of which we missed only one point. This columnist in his Friday selections named Alabama by a 33 to 0 count, and the Crimson Tide failed to let us down, scoring a 34 to 0 victory.

No, after all, there is some satisfaction from these Monday morning grid musings for sometimes we have a good week at picking winners, then again, a bad one.

Gotham Game Goody With the World Series, which will see the brains of Bill Terry's Giants and the power of Joe McCarthy's Yankees matched in an intra-city battle for baseball supremacy, only two days off, the Big Town has gone wild over the subject of baseball.

What appears, at present, to be the most vital question confronting scribes is whether "King Carl" Hubbell can silence, with any degree of potency, the big bats of the Yankee players, who play all day at knocking balls over fences and running around the bases. Most of the bookmakers will lay down 6 to 5 odds that the screw-ball artist has the ability to stop the rush of the powerful "Murderer's Row" and they are getting plenty of coverage on these odds, for there are many who believe that not even Dizzy

Wife Of Incoming County Judge Picks Perfect Ten

Sidney J. Nix Is Second With Rice-L. S. U. Score Deciding The Winner, While Four Others Also Run Close

Mrs. R. W. Ware wife of Seminole County's Democratic nominee for the office of county judge, led all others in last week's football pick-the-winner contest and by virtue of her win, Mrs. Ware will receive her choice of any $5.05 dress in the Purcell Company's local store.

The Purcell Company, sponsor of the contest last week, was very pleased with the unusually large number of fans who turned in charts. Trolan of George's Place will sponsor the event.

Mrs. Ware successfully picked all 10 of the football games correctly to win she picked Tulane V. M. I. and L. S. U. to win and among these three games the Tulane and V. M. I. upsets eliminated at least 90 percent of all contestants last week.

However, Mrs. Ware was not alone in selecting correctly all 10 of the required games. So, according to the rules of the game, all six persons turning in perfect scores, immediately became tying contestants for the capital prize. They were: Mrs. Ware, Sidney Nix, E. H. Cullum, Marjorie Ballard, Julian Stranstrom and Mary Morris.

In view of the ties the second department of the contest had to be counted. Therefore, the person selecting the nearest perfect score in the Rice-L. S. U. game was declared winner.

Mrs. Ware led with a 94 percentage and the others followed in the order: Sidney Nix, 93 percent; E. H. Cullum 91 percent; Marjorie Ballard, 86 percent; Mary Morris, 80 percent; and Julian Stranstrom, 79 percent. Mrs. Ware selected L. S. U. to win by a score of 14-7. The other scores were: Nix 14-6, Cullum 14-6, Ballard 13-0, Morris 7-0 and Stranstrom 6-0.

There were only six perfect scores, so far as the principal feature of the contest was concerned, therefore it became necessary to select a seventh winner. For seventh place there were 17 tying contestants. But out of the entire list Max Rumbly turned in the best score for the Rice game, in fact his score for seventh prize being topped to win by a score of 20-7.

Each of the 17 ties for seventh position missed one game and Mr. Rumbly would have been top winner last week if he had correctly picked the Mississippi-Tulane game. He made the mistake of picking Mississippi like so many other fans.

Therefore, persons winning prizes this week are as follows: Mrs. Ware, capital prize, and Mr. Nix, Mr. Cullum, Mr. Stranstrom, Miss Ballard, Mary Morris and Mr. Rumbly will each receive a $15 Theater ticket good for either Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

Others who missed only one game were: Joseph N. Tinsley, Volle Williams, Jr., Clifford Mills, A. D. Shoemaker, Mrs. Henry Tamm, Quillian Jordan, G. E. Upchurch, Mrs. G. B. Little, Arthur Weisberg, A. B. Rosettor, Raymond Landquist, Douglas Stranstrom, Carl Vance, W. H. Stewart, Donald Bishop, and R. W. Ware.

Donald Bishop, last week's capital prize winner, again placed among the better pickers. He missed only the Tulane upset and selected L. S. U. to win by a score of 13-7. However, all he drew was a draw for seventh prize was topped only by Max Rumbly.

When Wesley L. Fry, Kansas State mentor, was head coach at Classen high school, Oklahoma City, his teams won 41, lost 11 and tied 1.

Sanford Milk Disease Free, Paxton Says

City Health Officer Makes Report Of Diphtheria Cases Said To Be Here

Body Authorizes Bond Retirement

Election Board Appointed For Voting In November

Less than a dozen diphtheria cases in Sanford today did not originate through the use of contaminated milk, City Health Officer G. P. Paxton told the City Commission last night.

After a personal call at all residences where the remedy has been reported, Mr. Paxton asserted that only two of the entire group were supplied with milk from the same source, making it highly improbable that the disease was transmitted by dairy products.

The Commission waded into a stack of routine business which required nearly three and one-half hours of continuous work. Immediately afterward, it sat for another hour as a tax equalization board.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the cancellation of $43,000 in municipal bonds which had been collected throughout the year. Tentative plans were made for destroying some of the certificates which are accumulating in City Hall vault and crowding storage space.

A second resolution proclaimed a City election to be called November 3 to elect two commissioners, Mayor Shindler named W. M. McManis as clerk of the election board. The following inspectors were appointed by Commissioners: R. W. Shindler by Commissioner; L. E. Garner by Commissioner; W. E. Watson by Commissioner; L. G. Longwood by Commissioner; W. H. Eckerman by Commissioner.

In a communication from City Attorney Fred R. Wilson, it was reported that 21 pieces of litigation originating from the old incorporated Gold-boro had been dismissed.

Ingley Addresses Junior High School Pupils On Athletics

The Junior High School student body listened to an address by J. L. Ingley, president of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, this morning at their regular chapel program.

Mr. Ingley spoke on "the value of outdoor athletics to the youth of today." In his talk, he pointed out the fact that though there was nothing better for young men than outdoor exercise, there is an over-emphasis placed on these athletics in many of our colleges and high schools today.

Miss Catherine Takach also spoke to the group on "value of volleyball in relation to health," in which she pointed out the superior advantages of this fast outdoor sport.

A third address was made by Miss Betty Burman.

11 Persons Meet Death In Severe September Storm

Heavy Snows In Colorado Spread Destruction; Damage Mounts Above Seven Millions In Denver

DENVER, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Eleven deaths were attributed directly or indirectly to Colorado's worst September snow storm today. Damage was estimated in millions of dollars.

Dead as a direct result of the storm were: Pilot C. H. Child of El Paso, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Elkins of San Francisco. Their plane crashed near Walsenburg.

Thousands of workers started the task of erasing unsightly wreckage of the storm, confined mostly to trees and shrubbery in Denver, Pueblo and Colorado Springs.

In Denver, officials estimated damage to parks at $1,000,000 and said a conservative summary of loss to private property owners would be $6,000,000.

Utilities were restored today after being interrupted by the storm.

More than 26 inches of snow was recorded at several Colorado points and damage to telephone and telegraph wires, crops and trees was heavy. Highway and rail transportation were crippled in several regions.

The storm broke last Friday night with a gale which stirred up clouds of dust. Harry Pettinger, power company employe, was blown from a pole to his death while repairing a power line. Charles A. Sheeley was injured fatally when he walked into the side of an automobile during the blinding dust storm.

Automobile crashes due to blinded windshield and slick roads caused the other deaths.

The storm extended from north of Denver into New Mexico on (Continued on page three)

School, City Heads Plan Discussion Of Athletic Lighting

New Regulations In Local Scout Troops Adopted

Advancement Necessary For Member To Stay In Unit

Due to a large increase in the size of local Boy Scout Troops, Scout officials of this City will put into effect immediately a set of new laws governing present members wishing to remain in local troops.

The new regulations, which will go into effect this week, require every member to make advancement in the next Court of Honor, which will be held here in December.

Also a requisite is that the youths shall not miss two meetings in succession without due cause.

According to H. E. Morris, leader of Troop 5 which is sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club, it was necessary to make these rules in that the size of the Troops might be cut down to normal, which is 32 members.

Troop Five met last night at the Junior High School, with Byrd Higgs, senior patrol leader, in charge of the program. Members addressed the flag and personal inspection was held. Henry Tamm was made honor sent as a result of the personal inspection.

Following this routine, the group was led in songs and cheers by Raymond Monsalvatge. Plans were then discussed for winter games and games were led by Chas. Stanley.

At present the members of the troop are working on their camp at Silver Lake, which they hope to complete soon, with plans already being made for securing camping equipment. The possibility of a Halloween party was also discussed by the 52 youths present.

Night Patrols Raid City As Prisoners Hoped For Relief

Babes Are Born Under Shellfire

80 Men Die, 500 Hurt In 72-Day Siege Of Famed Castle

By The Associated Press

The terrifying epic of Toledo and its rescued Alcazar unfolded today in stories of survivors while Spanish insurgents started a fresh drive on Madrid and the Government built a giant defense around the capital.

In the last hours of the Fascist assault on Toledo Sunday, survivors said today, 600 Catholic priests supporting the rebellion were slaughtered by frenzied Leftists. Looting and slaying raged while Fascist guns boomed at the city's gates. The defenders led by Fascists entered triumphantly.

Survivors of the 72-day siege on the Alcazar said all women and children escaped death by underground chambers while Government troops stormed the castle with artillery fire, dynamite and flaming gasoline. Faculty of the men were killed and about 500 wounded.

There were 1,200 persons in all within the Alcazar. They lived on horse and mule meat, food made from grain stored at night by a strange sent out under cover of darkness, and some food dropped from airplanes by Rebel planes.

Radio reports received over a battered instrument, gave them hope of rescue as Fascist troops fought their way to Toledo.

The commanding officer refused to surrender even to save the life of his son who was held by the Government. He sent a message to his son to die bravely for his country and the boy promptly was executed.

Two babies were born in the underground refuge during the bombardment. Soldiers said they looked upon it as a good omen from heaven.

Dynamite blasts set off by the Government killed a few of the Rebels but artillery fire took many of them.

As the Rebels lead 4 troops from Madrid from Toledo today the Government in the capital called upon every available man to defend the city.
