Twisters kill 38, 11 in Seminole County

BY DAVID PRAZIER Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD -Tornadoca ripped through the Seminole County area early Monday morning killing 11 residents and injuring dozens of others. Longwood, Winter Springs, Geneva and Sanford felt the brunt of the storm's fury.

Seminole County was the second worst hit by the series of storms that moved into Central Florida Sunday afternoon. It is being called the worst tornado outbreak in Florida since records were kept back in the 1800's. Seminole was one of four counties affected in Central Florida. Osceola County was the worst hit. There are approximately 38 deaths attributed to the storm in Central SANFORD - Gov. Lawton Chiles was wearing tennis shoes as he walked through the debris off S. Sanford Avenue late Monday afternoon.

He already had visited two other tornado-battered areas and the anguish showed on his face. "I cannot restore any lives," he said, "but hopefully we can quickly help people the best we can.

The majority of the damage and each of the 11 deaths from the twister that struck Seminole County occurred in or close to a section near the GreeneWay and Lake Mary

More than 160 homes were damaged, 36 houses and seven mobile homes destroyed on or near S. Sanford Avenue. Myrtle Street, Pine Way Road and Brisson Avenue were hit the hardest.

Late Monday afternoon, David and Julie Myers stood outside what was once their four-bedroom home on S. Sanford Avenue. Their turkey and a couple of chickens had survived the midnight twister and were strutting through the cluttered yard.

And now the governor had

"I am very sorry this has happened to you," Chiles said to David and Julie Myers. Several times. Chiles embraced Julie Myers, who sobbed as she told how the couple was able to get their six-year-old daughter, Brittany, to safety.

By VICKI BELLUCCIA Herald Correspondent

The Humane Society of Seminole County is prepared to help.

For some, the animals scattered when the storm moved through, destroying the homes. For others who managed to keep the family together, the pets were turned away when they arrived at the shelters at Midway Elementary School and at the First Presbyterian Church in Sanford.

Jeff Cashatt, executive director of the humane society, said his facility was undamaged in the storm and that his staff and area volunteers are waiting to help.

SANFORD - First Presbyterian Church, 301 E. Oak Avenue in Sanford, has been designated as the Seminole County American Red Cross shelter for tornado victims. It is one of five opened throughout the storm damaged

Rev. Bruce Scott has been working with the Red Cross volunteers in helping persons needing assistance. We also have five families with serious losses and one death among members of our church," he said.

While the church facilities have been made available as an official shelter, Scott said no one has had to remain overnight. "We only had a few people Sunday night," he said, "So we contacted the Sanford Marina Hotel and they offered to put our folks up for the night at no charge."

During Monday night's Sanford City Commission meeting. Mayor Larry Dale an-nounced that the management of the hotel had informed him of the availability of lodging for persons in Sanford who may have suffered losses from the tornado. Scott said a woman who had her house Tom's enthusiasm in the classroom lit a fire in the minds and imaginations of his students," commented SCC President E. Ann McGee.

In the '70's and '80's Tipton had coached SCC's men's and women's softball teams. Tipton kept score at Saturday night's basketball game, just as he had since SCC had started playing basketball.

Tipton was killed when the tomado tossed his mobile home into a neighbor's back yard. His body was found nearby.

Don Vincent, 53, was a printer, photographer, and historian. He had worked for Seminole Community College in the print shop since 1972. The tornado destroyed Vincent's home and left Vincent's body lying across the street.

Don was senior printer and one of the first employees of SCC's print shop. He is described as a loyal and dedicated employee and friend to many.

"Don was a master of his craft and could work magic with a camera, a printing press and a fishing rod," remarked E. Ann McGee, SCC president. SCC will fly its flag at half mast to salute and remember their friends Don Vincent and Tom Tipton.

WORDS OF CAUTION

The Seminole County Building and Fire Division advises all contractors wishing to engage in repairs or reconstruction work necessitated by the tornado disaster to obtain permits and copies of disaster damage inspection forms before proceeding with any work. In addition, contractors must be currently registered with the Seminole County Building and Fire Division before permits may be issued. The precautions are to help citizens and residents screen out possible opportunists from taking advantage of the current situation. Furthermore, residents are cautioned and warned NOT to sign blank contracts, agree to have work performed with-out first seeing the contractor's registration card, or allow work or alterations not authorized by the Seminole County Building Department.

Tragedy brings neighbors together

Late Sunday night Central Florida was hit with the worst storms ever recorded in this area. Tornadoes took lives, destroyed property and changed forever the way some families look at life itself. Several staff members of this newspaper lost loved ones. Our hearts go out to them and to everyone who lost someone as a result of this tragedy.

Within hours of the storms, news of the losses began to mount. But other stories began to trickle into the local media. Businesses were calling to offer assistance and special low pricing on needed goods and services. After regular business hours, even faxes kept coming in with offers of aid. And just regular folks like you and I made calls simply to ask "What can I do to help?"

We who choose to live in Florida are often accused of living in a state where people share streets but no one is a neighbor. It is said that because of our highly transient population there is little sense of community. To those critics I have one work..."Baloney."

While the storms were hitting, as well as during the aftermath, strangers quickly became neighbors. Regular folks did the extraordinary things that must be done to help their own survive, yet managed to look in on someone else. People wept openly the next day when they discovered they lost the person next door. If caring for the guy next door is the definition of a neighbor, then we are indeed a neighborhood.

In the days and weeks ahead, families will bury their dead, FEMA will step up to the plate and money will be available for people to rebuild their houses and businesses. No one will nor should forget this experience. It can serve as a daily reminder of just how fragile life can be. But the feeling of "neighborhood" should not be lost either. That feeling of warmth we shared with each other as survivors, the compassion we felt for those who lost their possessions and the pain we felt when we saw life taken. We can and we will go forward because we have no choice. Life will only stand still for a very short while, then as always, it moves on. How we move on will be up to us. I suggest the best way is to revisit the people with whom we share our street, or road, and discover our neighbors and neighborhoods again.

Rise Up! strives to bring races, faiths together

By SUSAN WENNER Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY - Dona Brockman spoke enthusiastically yet expressed her desire for the focus to be on the organization her volunteers for and not herself. She was called by God to work with Rise Upl Sanford in January of 1996 and began as the secretary in October of 1997.

According to a recent newsletter, Rise Upl Is a vehicle by which churches and para-church organizations in our city can come together for joint services, outreaches and special events that lift up the name of Jesus higher than our individual churches? Brockman added, 'Our desire is for the whole city of Sanford and surrounding areas to be on the mailing list for our newsletter. We want the community to know that the body of Christ is working to reach the lost here."

Brockman admitted that she has never been a secretary before but came from a management background. She was blessed with a computer from her son who lives out of state and much support from her husband.

She shared that Jeff Krall, pastor of Family Worship Center, began the work of Rise Upl in July of 1992. 'He and Elijah June, Clark Adams and Thelma Mike all wanted to see this see this see this said. 'Jeff's wife gave her

this scripture."
Rise Upl uses the scripture in John 17:21, Father. I pray that they can be one. As you are in Me and I am in You, I pray that they can also be one in Us." The organisations main focus is in breaking down the walls of denominational and racial division to become one body glorifying God."

Activities and the news-letter all send the message of uniting for Christ and bringing all faiths and all races together to accom-plish this. Brockman gave the illustration of Rise Upt as the center of a wheel with spokes. The spokes are organizations like the Sanford Christian Sharing

I took a typing course in high school but that's the only experience I have. I just love telling people what's going on for the Lord in our community."

Brockman again spoke of Rise Upl by saying, 'Our church gets a list of the newcomers in the area. We mail a copy of the Rise Upl newsletter to them and let them know that if they prefer to not be a part of the list to let us know."

Approximately 10 hours a week or 40 hours a month are spent on com-piling and typing the newsletter. Brockman and her family are also active in regularly attending the functions of the group such as the CityWide Prayer and Concert of Prayer.

Her volunteer efforts were also previously with the steering committee of the Sanford Crisis Pregnancy Center. She and her husband, Sid, have been married for 30 years. They have two children, Rebecca and Brian and one grand-

Bedding plants provide color advantage of planting plants grown in 4-inch pots is that

Bedding plants can provide that necessary touch of color that often lacks in the landscape. Bedding plants can be grown in containers to add a splash of color to a porch, deck or patio area. They are also enjoyed as fresh and dry cut flowers. In Florida, many of them bloom during the winter months, bringing color to the landscape and producing flow-ers for home decorations. Others grow and flower during the warmer months blooming through the heat and heavy summer rains. Climatic conditions are important for growing annuals in Florida. Petunias, pansies and snapdragons that grow well and flower under cool night temperatures should be planted in the fall, winter and early spring. Bedding plants such as marigold, gazania, amaranthus, celosia, crossanding plants are best used as an accent to the landscape. Fewer species of plants may produce better results than too many different plants, attractive flower beds can be created by using one plant specie. Com-binations of too many flower colors and plant forms can distract from the overall appearance of the display. Buy young, healthy, disease-and insect-free plants with dark green foliage. Bedding plants grown in 4-inch pots are usually more expensive, but they are larger and therefore will produce more flowers sooner than plants grown in smaller pots. As a result, beds established with plants grown in 4-inch pots are attractive sooner and for a longer period of the growing season than beds planted with plants grown in smaller containers. Another because they are larger, they will cover the bed sooner and help to control weeks. Site preparation: Bedding plant sites should be spaded or tilled at least six inches deep several weeks before planting. Florida's sandy soils have very low nutrient and water holding capacities. Incorporation of 2 to 3 inches or organic matter into planting beds will increase nutrient and water holding capacities of these soils. Organic materials such as compost or peat should be thoroughly mixed into the soil. Flower beds should be fertilized prior to planting or at planting time. Apply 6-6-6 or a similar com-plete fertiliser at the rate of 2 pounds per 100 square feet of bed area. Controlled release fertilizers are ideal for Florida's sandy soils. Plants usually grow much better with a continuous nutrient supply, and labor is reduced since con-trolled release fertiliser appli-cation frequency is less than for rapid release fertilisers.

Pleating and eare: Loosen and untargle the root system without breaking the soil ball completely. Plants will usually recover rapidly and become es-tablished quickly. Bedding plants should be watered immediately after planting and daily until they have become established, then water on an "as needed" basis. Wilting will reduce flowering on many bed-ding plants and should not be allowed to happen. Some bedding plants growing in full sunduring the summer may require daily watering. Overhead irrigation can affect flowering plants. My dad, Dale Lynk, must have had a wider reportoire because he had a longer list of substitutions. However, even they were suspi-ciously close to the original. His cleasly class to the original. His standard line went like this: "Cheese and rice, got all muddy, got damp by a stone on the beach." It must have worked, because I do not remember that he said much worse than that. DEAR ABBY: I, too, was a "Cursing Mom" — mostly in traffic. When my two sons were old snough to start imitating me, I set up a system of fines. This worked both ways since spanking and timeouts dea't work so well. They were fined for "not listening to Mama or Daddy," for hitting, etc. I was fined if they caught me swearing. Each boy would get 50 cents each time he caught me. Both collected, even if only one heard me. It got to be a family joke. I'd put the money in family joke. I'd put the money in their savings accounts, and once I

Reality has reared its ugly head once again

SANFORD _ It's amazing how life and reality has a way of bringing you down to earth. Because of other work considerations here at the newspaper I was not able to travel to Lakeland Saturday night to see the Lake Mary girls finish off their fantastic season. So I arose early Sunday morning looking around the different television stations to see if the Rams had indeed won the state championship and was excited and happy when I found out they had won. For most of the rest of the day I was thinking about how to put this special section together to honor the first girls' basketball team from Seminole County to ever win a state championship.

I was also thinking of how glad I was for Carl Brown, one of the nicest and most gentlemanly persons I have ever known, who has worked hard for this title and how it couldn't happen to a more deserving person.

Sunday afternoon I watched Nick Anderson put a dagger in the Lakers' hearts and take a shot at Shaquille with his rendition of Mertan Hanka' dance that Mr. O'Neal loves.

Then comes Sunday night and the stormy weather moved in. I was worried about my family when the weathermen, I looked at beveral different stations, started saying that the storm would be moving into the Ravena Park area, near where my parents live, and then other parts of Sanford.

Luckily, the storm did not affect any part of Sanford where my family lives and I felt better. And in the section of Deltona that I live in, we only got about a half-hour of rain and not much wind.

Then I got up Monday morning to see the accounts and pictures of the devastation of Sanford, Kissimmee and Winter Garden. I spent the first 11 years of my life in the midwest, so seeing tornado damage was not that unusual, but this was phenomenal.

When I arrived at the office Monday afternoon I got word that a friend of mine, who I had known for almost 30 years, was killed in the tornado. Several family members of em-ployees here at the Herald had also been lost.

It was very humbling and disheartening. Later I went out to Seminole Community College to watch Seminole High playing in the Raminole Baseball Tournament and found out that a very dear friend of mine, Tom Tipton, with whom I had worked at the college for 11 years, had also been lost to the devastating storm.

Most people in Sanford probably knew Tom. He was an economics instructor at SCC and had been there since the day the school opened its doors in 1965.

Back in the '70s and '80s he had coached the SCC men's and women's softball teams when the school used to sponsor teams.

His son, Carl, was on the Seminole High football team and Tom would never miss a game.

He was also a University of Tennessee football fan. But I, and most other people, will remember him as the person who ran the scoreclock for SCC basketball games.

He had done so since the school started playing and was on the bench Saturday night when the Raiders' women's team played their final home game.

He was a brutally honest man who was not afraid to tell anyone what he thought, but he was always a true fan of the SCC athletes. And that's what I liked about the man. Godspeed Tom.

But back to my point.

We as sports writers have a tendency to get in our own little world and forget about what's going on in the "real" world.

But this slape you right back into reality and makes you think how really insignificant aports are.

Then I got to thinking about parents and fans who complain that the kids aren't playing hard, or the coach isn't playing the team the right way, or an official is cheating his team, which has always bothered me.

nember folks, it's just a game, not life or

Behind the obvious, however, is an Arkaneas boy who liked to play basketball and ended up with the first girls' state championship in basketball in the history of Semi-

"Basketball was my first love, but I never imagined I would be coaching a girls team one day." Brown said. "Now, I couldn't imagine coaching boys."

Actually, despite his love for the game, Brown never really saw him-self coaching when he was younger. He did know, however, that he wanted to work with chil-

After graduating from high school in Arkansas where he was born and raised, Brown attended Delta State on a basketball scholarship. He earned his degree in special education and made his way to Lake Mary because one of his college coaches was from the area.

Upon being hired at the high school in 1988, Brown became the junior varsity coach for the girls basketball team. Then, six years later, varsity coach Anna Van Landingham retired and Brown was offered the position.

I was able to be my own coach at the junior varsity level and do things that way I wanted to."

things done is working. Last year, with a primary core of sophomores, Brown took his team to the championship game. This year, with the same core, only a year older, Brown's team brought home the state title. Brown credits his kids with more than just talent and looks at them as more than a team.

When you see these kids all season long for four months straight, they become part of your family," Brown explained. "I kind of feel like they are my own kids only better, because I can keep them for a while and then give them back to their parents.

To see such a good group of kids who have respect for others and themselves work so hard and achieve their highest goals is so special to me. I know there are kids out there who wouldn't be able to play for me. I am very demanding. But I wouldn't trade one of my

Lake Mary girls refuse to let crown slip away

LAKELAND _ Saturday night wasn't a win as much as it was a coronation.

Did anyone think the Lake Mary girls basketball team wasn't going to win the state title?

Was there anyone who didn't think that after beating third-ranked Evans and second-ranked Pensacola that there could possibly be any other outcome?

Dale's hard work pays off

By KELLIE WERNER Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY _ Since the seventh grade, she has worked toward a goal.

The short term goals were met, one by one, until there appeared to be a light at the end of the tunnel that let her know the end was near.

Last week, Stephanie Dale accomplished her long term goal when her team won the girls' state basketball championships.

Lake Mary became the first girls' team in Seminole County history to win the state championships when it defeated Orlando Boone, 48-34 in the Class 6A finals last Saturday at the Lakeland Center.

And not a moment too soon as that was the last time Dale will walk off of a high school basketball court...she graduates in June.

"This feels great," Dale exclaimed after the game as she joked that she will never have to run for her coach again. "Actually, I can't really explain how I feel...I think I'm still dumbfounded. It doesn't mean any more to me than my teamments but it sure does mean a lot It means even more after Dale's team came so close last year and lost at the buzzer when Dale was given the ball with one second left on the clock and a three point deficit.

Her three point attempt hit the rim and bounced...the buzzer sounded as the ball fell to the court.

"I cried for a very long time because I was so disappointed," Dale said. "We came so close. But the fact that I missed the shot wasn't somewhat I hung on to. All us can do is our best. I the shot and it didn't go in. I feel bad that we lost but I don't blame myself."

And she shouldn't. Dale has been an integral part of Lake Mary's team since she entered high school.

She didn't begin playing basketball until she joined the team at Greenwood Lakes Middle School in the seventh grade. Her friend and current teammate, Angi Woodall, was on her softball team and Woodall's dad convinced Dale to give basketball a try since she was such a good athlete. Dale took to the new sport immediately and decided to forego softball in order to dedicate herself to basketball, Once she entered high school. Dale tried out for both the basketball and volleyball teams and earned spots on both junior varsity squads. As a sophomore, she was moved up to the varsity level in both sports and immediately became and important part of both game plans.

"Stephanie has been great for this program," said basketball coach Carl Brown. "She has sweated for four years. This year, she has stepped up and taken on the leadership tole I expected she would. She has improved her free throws and her outside jump shot which has made her a threat from both the inaide and outside. I'll be real sorry to see her go."

Some have termed Dale the most improved player in the area this year and that is based on the obvious hard work she did in the off season coupled with the determination she has shown on the

A big part of Dale's success is her support network...her family. At every game, mem-bers of her large family including her mom, dad, four sisters and twin nieces, fill the stand and give her one of the largest cheering sections. Dale said that she remembers one game when her mom and dad just could not make it and it felt weird to her when she looked in the stands and they weren't there. That has been a very rare occasion, though. All of her time isn't spent on sports, however, as Dale is a good student as well. She plans to attend Florida State University and major in ma-rine biology or oceanography. She won't, however, be playing sports at the college level but intends to play at least one more season of AAU and possibly intramural sports.

"I want to enjoy college without the pressures of athletics," Dale said. "I have been playing sports since I was in elementary school and I just really think it's time to concentrate on my studies and have the time to do college things.

"I wouldn't trade one moment of my high school experience, however. Through the sports I've played I have made the best friendships and learned respect and discipline from my coaches. I will have these great memories forever."

Before Dale goes off to Tallahasace, she is going to take a little time and just enjoy her memories and the feeling of success. She has worked toward and achieved a goal she set several years ago through hard work and dedication and deserves all the time she needs to absorb all that she has attained.

EDITOR'S NOTE SANFORD Because of the special issue on Lake Mary winning the state basketball championship, most of Monday's action will be in brief's today, but a more thorough roundup will appear in Wednesday's section.

Thank you for your patience.

SCC women in Ocala tonight

SANFORD The Seminole Community College women's basketball team dropped its final regular season game, 60-58, to Valencia Community College and missed a chance to clinch second place in the Mid-Florida Conference and an automatic bid to the state tournament in Marianna.

The loss dropped the Raiders (21-7) into a tie with Santa Fe Community College, forcing a playoff for the state berth with the Gainesville school tonight at 7 p.m. at Central Florida Community College in Ocala.

Leading the way for SCC against Valencia were Jaana Kotova (17 points), Daria Kurduyvtseva (13 points), Izzy Mehanie (11 points) and Crystal Tanner (10 points).

Raminole gets wet again

SANFORD _ Seminole High School crushed New Smyrna Beach 16-4 in five innings at Seminole Community College's Raider Field, but the remainder of Monday's first round of the Raminole Baseball Tournament was postponed until today.

in today's game, Lyman will take on Seabreeze at the Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium at 5 p.m., while at Lake Mary High School, Deltona will play Spruce Creek at 4:30 p.m. and Lake Mary will host Mainland at 7 p.m.

Lance Odom hurled a four-hitter to win his second game of the season, while Tim Raines had a double and a triple and Ned Raines had a double in a 17-hit attack as the Fighting Seminoles improved to 4-0 on the Seminole will host Lyman at 4:30 p.m. at SHS's Alumni Field on Wednesday.

Oviedo moves B-ball game

LONGWOOD The Oviedo Lions wrapped up second place in the Lyman invitational Baseball Tournament on Saturday by beating Lake Mary 3-0 and Colonial 13-5.

Monday's game was rained out and will be moved to Orlando's Edgewater High School today at 3:30 p.m.

The Lions will then travel to Lake Brantley on Wednesday for a 7 p.m. game that will feature two of the top pitching prospects in Florida, Oviedo's Ben Knapp and the Patri-ots' Robbie Sitz, facing each other.

Tribe tennis teams sweep

DELTONA ... The Seminole boys improved to 3-0 and the girls to 2-0 on the season with a sweep of Deltona in Class 5A-District 5 tennia action Monday afternoon in Deltona. The boys came away with a 5-2 triumph. while the girls won all seven of their matches. The girls will host Lyman today at 3:30 p.m., then both teams will play host to Oviedo, the boys on Wednesday and the girls on Thursday, both starting at 3:30 p.m.

SCC nine struggling

SANFORD The Seminole Community College baseball team new its record fall to 1-7-1 as it dropped a 10-5 decision to Broward (10-1) on Saturday.

The Raiders will be at home for a 3 p.m. game at Raider Field on Wednesday.

Oviedo jv's lose in lacrosse

OVIEDO The Oviedo junior varsity Lacrosse team dropped its season opener, 4-3, to Winter Park at John Courier Field Monday

The Lions will play a junior varsity/varsity doubleheader at Lake Mary starting at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, March 4th.

Champions

pled with the two points from Sutton, weren't enough to take the lead at the end of the first period. Boone sent four through the net and had a one point lead, 8-7, going into the second. It was all Lake Mary in the opening minutes of the second period, with junior point guard Ashlee Ballance scoring five, including a three-pointer and Becky Pedro hitting for two while dominating on defense. The Lady Rams were having trouble boxing out and rebounding, however, and Boone was able to get back in the game near the half. Boone's center, Vanessa Randall was like a brick wall, keeping Sutton and Bradley away from the ball and making Ballance's job difficult. Sophomore forward Dawn Heinrich scored four for Boone and brought her team within two at the half, trailing only 16-14 when they entered the locker room.

True to form, the Lady Rams came out in the second half like swarming sharks who had smelled blood.

Sutton went ruts, pulling down boards like she had all season and playing like she was 7,0 instead of 6,0. She and Bradley refused to allow Boone anywhere near the ball and despite Randall's eight points in the third, Lake Mary outscored the Orlando team 15-10 and rode a 31-24 lead into the final

The only senior starter in the Lake Mary line-up, guard Stephanie Dale, came to life in the fourth and even though she only had three points in the period, she was stealing from Boone and feeding her team-mates almost to perfection. After eight unanswered points by the Lady Rams, Randall and guard Eho Mahaa tried desperately to keep their team's hopes alive, adding eight of Boone's 10 points to the score

That wouldn't be enough, however, as Lake Mary had the momentum and refused to let it go. They outscored Boone again in the final period, 17-10 and after Bradley left the game with five fouls, senior Angi Woodall scored the final two of the game and secured the ending everyone knew Lake Mary would have to this story.

After the celebration, tears and hugs, Lake Mary was finally presented with the long awaited state championship title and trophy. Four of their starting five players were named to the all-tournament team, but by that point, little coach and his players.

We are just going to enjoy this and share it with each other. There will be no thought of next season until that time comes. Right now, this is what we have worked for and this is what we're going to think about for awhile," Brown said.

People are always told that if they set their mind to some-thing, there's nothing they can't accomplish.

Lake Mary has proven that to be true.

It will be interesting to see what they set their minds to

Lake Mary fans came out on masse to The Labeltond Counter Bat- out equad won their SSrd consecutive game and claimed the first-rday and gave the Rams a big beest with their support so the lo- over girls state basketball championship for Seminole County, Fans turn Lakeland into Lake Mary south LAKELAND What can give a visiting team a bigger advantage when they are on the road? they were there.

The fans, of course.

That being true, Lake Mary had home court advantage in the state playoffs.

Sure, Boone and Dillard had fans. And makeup, signs and wigs.

And they had parents. Not ones who only knew how to belittle the referees or yell at the opposing team. But parents who encouraged their kids with things like "We believe in you," You can do it and You're the best."

But Lake Mary had more.

the locker room after the game. Brown would probably never admit to that, but he deserved a few tears. It was a special team.

There was Ashlee Ballance, a flery player who showed defiance to any team that tried to press her. Ballance can hit a three, beat a press and smirk after she does it. At the press conference after the Pensacola loss last season, she was silent until someone asked her if she was bothered by the press-

Her eyes lit up and she leaned forward and responded with the same intensity she brought to the floor. No way.

After a columnist for this paper wrote that Oviedo might have a chance to beat them in a regular season game this year. Ballance had the perfect line.

"Quote me on this," she yelled. "You were

There was Mary Leah Sutton who played with damaged knees, a broken nose and a bad back. She only led the team in scoring Saturday and dominated the boards all year. She's the voice of the Lady Rams, someone who's not afraid to speak her mind to stupid reporters or the opposing team.

Lauren Bradley is the scorer. She's softspoken but her play does all of the talking. She would be the leading scorer in Central Florida if Lake Mary didn't jump out to so many large leads, affording Brown the opportunity to clear the bench. On a lesser team that needed her for 32 minutes. Bradley would easily be putting up some of the best numbers in the country.

Becky Pedro was the team clown. At least, she was on the court. Pedro had the threepointer that kept teams from collapsing on Sutton and Bradley. She also loves to laugh and did so often on the court. She always had a smile and, usually, her trademark white headband. Of all the super sophs of last season and the juniors of this year. Pedro got the least attention, but she was never afraid to fire it up.

Then, there was the senior. Stephanie Dale, a player who really doesn't want to play ball in college, but walked off the court for her final time in glory. She did a little of everything, from rebounding to scoring to making a perfect feed. Ironically, it was Dale who missed that buzzer-beater in the final game last year. She made up for it and improved more than anyone on the Lake Mary roster this season. Don't forget the bench. If players like Lindsay Manz and Angi Woodall played anywhere else, they would start, but they never complained. Manz was a key all season long and the youngsters that watched most of the season from the bench guarantee that the Lake Mary dynasty can continue:

It was a special season as Lake Mary became the first team ever from Seminole County team to bring the trophy home. No team ever deserved it more.

Last Second Shot: One of the greatest, yet unnoticed moments of the evening was when Oviedo's Mary Lou Johnston, one of the best point guards in the state, walked up and hugged Sutton, telling her how happy she was for Lake Mary. It was great sportsmanship that showed that, even though Lake Mary and Oviedo are blood rivals, there is great respect and friendship between the teams.

A day later, when Penny walked up to Shaq in the Laker dressing room to say hello after the Magic's stunning win, Shaq pretty much blew him off.

Shaq could learn a lot from Mary Lou

Singing surgeons, anyone?

I have taken great delight in renam- be more inclined to blame his selfish ing certain popular songs, which we call the "Hospital Hit Parade." Here marriage. Although women in their are some examples:

- "Somebody Stole My Gall"

- "76 Sore Bones"

- "I've Grown Accustomed to My Gown' - "Be Still, My Heartburn"

"It Seems to Me I've Felt This Pain Before -- "Has Anybody Seen My Scar?" "Stitched, Bothered and

Rewildered" "What Now, My Spleen?" "I Left My Sponge in San Francisco' "What is This Thing Called Lunch?'

DEAR READER: I love new proects, and this is a great one - very clever and amusing. I'd add "Surgery for Sale," "It All Depends on Your Insurance," "X-raying in the Dark" and "There'll Never Be Another Enema." My favorites also include unchanged titles, such as "I've Got You Under My Skin," "Black and Blue," "Please Don't Talk About Me When I'm Gone" and "When Hearts

Are Young. However, the most fun is tossing this out to the reading public. All right, everybody - start thinking, pull out your pencils, and send me your titles for the Hospital Hit Parade. In a few weeks, I'll publish the funniest examples. Ready. Get set. Go!

DEAR DR. GOTT: Because of arthritis, my husband takes 1800 milligrams of ibuprofen daily, on his doctor's recommendation. He feels better, but isn't this addictive?

DEAR READER: Ibuprofen and similar drugs are not addictive. They simply reduce the inflammation that accompanies many types of arthritis. For millions of consumers, ibuprofen makes an enormous difference in the quality of life by enabling arthritic patients to maintain greater indepen-

This benefit is not without hazard. however, because ibuprofen can cause gastric irritation, stomach upset and intestinal bleeding when used for extended periods. This is a real concern and is something that your husband should remember. Nonetheless, in most cases, the benefit outweighs the risks — especially if such patients have regular checkups by their physicians.

To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Managing Chronic Pain."

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 40 year old husband recently changed jobs, sold our house, left his family, and moved out of state. I still love him and believe he is the victim of stress. Could this be a midlife crisis?

behavior on the disintegration of the 40s can sometimes become irritable, dissatisfied and moody because of the hormonal changes of oncoming menopause, the so-called midlife crisis is not hormonal in men. True, in midlife, both men and women may fear growing old and feel that life is passing them by: They want a change in partners, life, a car, almost anything. However, your husband's actions seem to reflect a more drastic alteration. Perhaps this could be treated by counseling, if he is willing to make that commitment. But I suspect that your best bet is to contact a good divorce lawyer. While you may love your husband and sympathize with him, your primary concerns must dren's welfare. Don't become the victim in this scenario. Accept the reality of the separation and take steps to ensure your best interests. Maybe when your husband sees that you are willing to become independent and assume responsibility, he will be attracted to the changes that you have made and may reconsider his decision. But for now, take care of yourself and the children.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Phillip Alder

In the last 25 years, the United States has easily the best record in world team championships. However, one country has a 4-1 advantage in finals against the United States: France. The United States won the 1971 Bermuda Bowl, but France was victorious in 1980, '82, '92 and '97 (and France beat North America in 1956). Last year in Tunisia, France won the Bermuda Bowl, 328-301. The winners were Paul Chemia, Michel Perron, Christian Mari, Alain Levy, Herve Mouici and Frank Multon, with Jean-Louis Stoppa the nonplaying captain.

This deal was indicative of the play. After South opens one diamond, what should West bid at favorable vulnera-

At the other table, Eric Rodwell predictably bid five clubs. North's double

The thorn in our side was passed out. Levy thornin led the diamond eight, Mari correctly playing low when declarer called for dummy's seven. Now the defenders had to score four tricks tone spade, two diamonds and one club) for plus 300.

Here, Chemia's four-club overcall worked better. After North's cardshowing double, South had a problem. Passing was clearly an option; guessing a three-card major might work. But eventually Nick Nickell decided to go with his long suit. Four diamonds was no fun. After winning with dummy's club ace, declarer ran the diamond eight to West's jack. Chemia cashed the club queen, then continued with another club. which was covered in turn by three trumps: the four, king and ace. Nickell continued with the diamond 10, but Chemia won with the queen and forced declarer with another club. South could take only five tricks (one spade, three diamonds and one club). Plus matchpoints. 500 gave France 13 international
