Fire erupts near Lake Jesup

Firefighters control blaze, 40 acres burn

By Bill Kerns
STAFF WRITER

LAKE JESUP - A brushfire burned 40 acres of natural lands near Lake Jesup Park Tuesday afternoon.

The brushfire started at about 3 p.m. on Seminole County natural lands property, and the wind pushed the flames toward Lake Jesup. In order to contain the fire, Seminole County firefighters allowed the blaze to burn toward the lake.

"We surrounded the fire with units in case there was a wind shift," Seminole County Fire & Rescue public information officer Paula Ritchey said. "It was not ever out of control. There were a couple of flareups. We used waterdrops to control the flareups."

No homes or property were damaged. The fire did not reach Lake Jesup Park or the boat ramp. There were no casualties. The cause of the fire is under investigation, Ritchey said.

By 5 p.m., the fire reached Lake Jesup and began to dissipate. Fire fighters stayed during the night to make sure the fire did not flare up, Ritchey said.

Seminole County fire units used their new "Air Rescue 3" helicopter for the first time.

dropping water on flareups to control the fire.

"This was an opportunity to use it in practice," Ritchey said. "Whenever the fire grew bigger, we would use water drops to knock it down. We were trying to let it burn to the lake."

Acquired through military surplus from the California Division of Forestry, the Bell 205 1071 UH-1H heavy-lift helicopter has a 420-gallon capacity water bucket, a 5,000 pound lift capacity, dual medical lift kits, and a rescue hoist.

Although the helicopter's primary missions are firefighting, Emergency Medical Services transport and rescue missions, the helicopter seats 10 passengers. It can carry SWAT team members, bomb technicians, firefighters or evacuate victims from disaster scenes or traffic accidents.

Seminole County fire fighters were able to control a brushfire that burned 40 acres of natural lands near Lake Jesup on Tuesday. The winds blew the fire toward Lake Jesup, and firefighters allowed the blaze to reach the lake in order to control the fire. No homes or property were damaged. There were no casualties.

Garbage company vows better service

By Russ White
STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - On the same day the county commissioners honored the award-winning Dazzlers dance team from Seminole High School, they requested a more dazzling performance from the DisposAll company garbage haulers.

As directed by the board on March 23, DisposAll officials appeared before the board on Tuesday to discuss customer complaints that have led to more than $19,000 in contract violation fines since 1995.

The company recently was purchased by Republic Services, whose general manager vowed better service. Ray Rivera told the commissioners that he was unaware of the history of complaints about DisposAll's service.

DisposAll, he said, has a new management team and is purchasing extra equipment. Please see County, Page 3A

Man shot in face

SANFORD - The Sanford Police arrested a suspect late Tuesday who allegedly shot a man in the face following a brief conversation at around 2:50 a.m. Monday, police said.

Alton James Smith, 25, who was visiting from Texas, was shot in the left cheek while talking with the suspect from within his 1998 Geo Tracker at the corner of Third Street and Avocado Avenue, police said.

Smith, a white male, is recovering in critical condition at Orlando Regional Medical Center, police said. His family has been notified of the shooting.

Police are not releasing the name of the suspect, a black male, who was arrested peacefully in the south end of Sanford last night. Police said they believe a second suspect, a black male, may have also been involved.

"We are still in the preliminary stages of the investigation. Please see Shooting, Page 3A

Civility policy for schools

By Vivian Callimore
STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Seminole County school board members Tuesday voted unanimously to approve the final draft of language of the state's first school-district-based civility policy.

The policy, now on the agenda for final passage at the April 27 board meeting, provides rules of conduct for parents, other visitors to schools and school district employees, enabling the board to identify and deal with those behaviors which are inappropriate and disruptive to the operation of a school or other facility.

When parents and school officials disagree, the sparks may fly. As legal counsel to the district, Ned Julian is sometimes called on to diffuse the tension. Julian recently penned the policy for school board adoption. He is not aware of any other school districts in Florida with such a policy in place.

"I was reading a [school administration] publication," said Julian, "when I saw an article about a school district in California that adopted a civility policy."

"Often teachers or school administrators face outraged parents who become verbally abusive" and they just want to take a "time-out" from a confrontation, according to Julian. "Parents are entitled to disagree, but if they get outraged when an answer is not to their liking, the staff member needs guidance on how to proceed."

Julian added that he is a degreed professional secure in his position and would have no trouble asking a parent to take a step back.

"But, often the front-line staff members" (bus drivers, cafeteria workers and secretaries) "don't believe they enjoy the same level of job security. When faced with written or verbal abuse, they may ask the parent to stop and be told, 'show me your policy.'"

The board's newest member, Diane Bauer, at a recent meeting asked for assurance that this policy also benefit parents who feel they are mistreated or ignored. A legal concern for Bauer was the interpretation of the policy by school personnel. "My major concern is that it may be the perception of staff members that they can withhold information from parents or School Advisory Council members based on this policy."

Julian assured Bauer that the policy is not designed to impede anyone's access to information.

Bauer also cited common sense when discussing the civility policy because "no matter who you are, you do not have to take abuse. As a teacher, principal or even bus driver, you do not have to subrogate your rights if you seek to diffuse a situation."

Julian said that "a proportionately increasing number of situations escalate to verbal and written abuse" to the extent that the board has to "articulate a standard of behavior." He points to a variety of situations where parents, grandparents and step-parents have used extreme profanity and threats and staff members felt "uncomfortable terminating the meeting. The abuse even extends to voice mail and electronic-mail messages," which will be covered by the policy as well.

The policy is set for a final vote at the next school board meeting on Tuesday, April 27 at 7 p.m. at the Educational Support Center at 400 East Lake Mary Boulevard in Sanford.

public ordered 10 new garbage trucks and additional recycling trucks for DisposAll, which is under contract to the county through 1999 - and has negotiated a 5-year extension.

The key to the contract is that DisposAll improve its service. Most of the complaints accused DisposAll crews of skipping pickup at houses or in entire neighborhoods. There were 347 such complaints from October 1998 to January this year.

Complaints came from customers in the Tuska Ride sub-division, Woodcrest, Sunrise, Spicewood, Baer Lake Crossing, Howell Estates, Oakland Shores, Adell Park, Aloma Park, Faith Terrace in Maitland and a number of others.

Shawn McFadden, the operations manager for DisposAll said he was certain the complaints would diminish now that Republic was purchasing new equipment and a new management team was in action.

"The improvement already is being noticed," said Bob Briggs, the financial manager for Seminole County Environmental Services. There have been none in the last 30 days. "We're pleased with this."

"Our expectations are high," County Commission Chairman Carlton Henley said.

In other business Tuesday, the commissioners readdressed the need for the county to be prepared for any Y2K computer problems at the start of the Year 2000.

"We want to know who is using what," Henley said. "We need to know what problems exist. We have to have a uniform system."

said that county computer technicians have been preparing for the crisis since 1998 and that he did not anticipate any difficulties. "We've been pro-active," he said.

The commission heard a report from Dave Grovdahl of MetroPlan on air quality. Grovdahl said that the wildfires of 1999 had hurt the quality and could do so again in 1999. He anticipated considerations from the EPA because of this.

Grovdahl said that residents could help by mowing their lawns after sunset. Mowing under the sun significantly affects air quality.

It would be useful, too, he said if people refueled their vehicles after 7 p.m.

Kids will love pizza birthday cake

I know a lot of kids who don't like birthday cake. This may sound like heresy, but observe a little kid's birthday party sometime. What you'll see is a lot of frosting getting eaten and a lot of cake getting left on the plate. This can be very discouraging for a parent who has put a lot of time and effort into making the cake. But there are alternatives. First, you could buy a cake. The kids won't eat it, but you will have less of an emotional investment in it than if you made it yourself. Second, you could do away with cake altogether, and serve root beer floats or ice cream sundaes. This is a perfectly good option, but it will leave your child with the feeling that he or she has been denied a birthday, i.e., cake and candles. Third, you could make a cake that is not a cake. A giant cookie cake or an ice cream pizza is what I have in mind.

A cookie "pizza" topped with frosting and candy drizzles of white chocolate provide the "cheese."

COOKIE PIZZA NO. 1

- For the "pizza"
 - 3/4 cup semisweet chocolate morsels
 - 3/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
 - 3/4 cup granulated sugar
 - 1/2 cup dark or light brown sugar (dark is preferable)
 - 2 eggs
 - 1-1/2 teaspoons vanilla
 - 1-2/3 cups flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1/8 teaspoon salt

- For the M&M topping
 - 1/2 cup unsalted butter, at room temperature
 - 1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1 pound confectioners sugar
 - M&Ms
 - 4 ounces white chocolate (optional)

- For "pepperoni" topping
 - 2/3 cup seedless red jam, such as strawberry or frosting tinted almost red
 - 2 or 3 regular-size Toaste rolls, cut into 1/4-inch slices
 - 4 ounces white chocolate (optional)

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Grease and flour a 13-inch round pizza pan. Chop the chocolate chips in a food processor so that some are powdery and some remain chunky. Set aside. In a large bowl, cream together the butter (or margarine) and sugars. Beat in eggs and then the vanilla. In another bowl, stir together the flour, baking soda and salt. Add to the creamed mixture, stirring until incorporated. Stir in the chocolate. Using lightly floured hands, pat the dough evenly on the prepared pan

FOOD

Place an upside-down muffin tin on the oven rack and place the "pizza" on top of that. (This will help when it comes time to remove the pan.) Bake for 20 minutes, or until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean. Remove the pan from the oven by holding the bottom of the pan; the inverted muffin tins allows you to do this, so the "pizza" will not crack. Allow to cool on a rack.

If you choose to make the M&M topping, in a large bowl, using an electric mixer set on low, cream together the butter and cream cheese. Add vanilla and mix well. Add the sugar, cup by cup until fully incorporated. Spread on cooled cookie, leaving a 1-inch border of "crust." Sprinkle with M&M's. Carefully melt the white chocolate, if using.

ICE-CREAM BIRTHDAY PIE

For the crust

- 18 chocolate wafer cookies
- 1/4 cup butter, melted
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

 For the filling

- 1 quart of the birthday girl or boy's favorite ice cream, homemade or store-bought, slightly softened

 Toppings, if desired

- including small candies (such as M&M's, Skittles, Reese's Pieces), crushed cookies (such as Oreos), chocolate chips, shaved chocolate, or fresh or frozen fruit

Put wafer in a plastic bag, crush and crush with a rolling pin to make crumbs. Put crumbs in a bowl and melted butter and cinnamon and mix. Press into a 9-inch pie plate. Refrigerate about 15 minutes.

Spoon the slightly softened top layer of ice cream onto the crust, spreading it with a rubber spatula to smooth it. Top as desired, cover with plastic wrap and freeze until well set. Remove from freezer a few minutes before serving, and will be successful. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

COOKIE PIZZA NO. 2

- For the "pizza"
 - 1/2 cup butter or margarine, at room temperature
 - 3/4 cup brown sugar
 - 1 egg
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 3/4 cup flour
 - pinch salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1 cup rolled oats

In-laws' invasion of privacy puts couple on the defensive

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I went to Europe on vacation, we asked our next-door neighbor to keep an eye on our house. My husband's parents had volunteered to do it. However, although I have a close and cordial relationship with my in-laws, I felt more comfortable leaving the key with neighbors who are members of our local neighborhood watch group. They could keep a closer eye on things while we were away.

Months later, at Christmas, I discovered my mother-in-law had been in our house several times in our absence, looking for gift ideas. When they gave us a set of pots and pans, she admitted to having gone through the linen closet and our kitchen cupboards. I was shocked and asked when she had done this. She then disclosed that they had made a duplicate of our hide-a-key and had stopped by on several occasions when our neighbor was at work, just to check our house, "which is so much better than leaving it to a stranger."

My husband and I discussed it and decided not to run the holidays by confronting his mom and dad and asking them to return the key.

We are now moving to a new house in a town farther away. I'm sure his folks will want to stay with us when they come to visit, and we will be happy to have them.

We feel that our privacy has been violated. However, we don't want to cause a rift in the family. How can my husband and I prevent them from having the key to our new home duplicated?

LOOKING FOR PRIVACY, NO CITY, PLEASE

ADVICE COLUMNIST

Dear Abby

DEAR LOOKING: I understand your desire not to spoil the holidays, however, I sense that you are looking for a solution that will avoid confrontation.

Invest in a keyless entry system for your new home, and change the entry code the day after your in-laws depart. If that isn't feasible, I suggest a heart-to-heart discussion about your privacy, or re-key the locks after they leave.

DEAR ABBY: I'm about to be married for the third time to a woman who is also twice divorced. I love her dearly and I know she loves me, but there's a problem.

"Crissy" wants to keep her last married name for the sake of her daughter so that she and her daughter will have the same last name. The daughter, "Janie," is 9, and Crissy is worried that Janie will feel abandoned if her mother has a different last name. She also says it's easier if school records and medical records show her mother having the same last name.

What does this check mean?

By Bruce Williams

DEAR BRUCE: I would like your critique of the enclosed check. It was unsolicited, and the material from the bank doesn't tell me very much. Why was it sent to me? — J.S., Covington, Ky.

DEAR J.S.: The check you enclosed, which, by the way, has expired, was worth $3.50. If you flip the check over, the reason becomes clear: Your credit card company is trying to sell you a $59.95 annual membership, which will be charged to your credit card. The benefits are immaterial — the $3.50 is bait, because once you cash the check you agree to take the $59.95 credit card protection, etc. It is pretty clear to me what they are up to, and hopefully now it is clear to you as well.

DEAR BRUCE: I have made my own will and appointed one of my daughters as executrix. I have two notary public witnesses and enough life insurance for my funeral. I have stated that after all my expenses are paid, my money is to be divided among my six children. Friends are telling me that my executrix daughter will have to hire an attorney and go to probate court. I can't believe this is true. — C.J. Chelmsford, Mass.

DEAR C.J.: Well, your friends are correct on the second point. The will has to go to probate court or surro-certainly a large headache. You would be wise to consider calling an attorney and having a simple will executed. You'll sleep better afterward.

DEAR BRUCE: I have heard something about Roth IRAs for children's education. My bank doesn't seem to have any information. Can you help me? — T.P., Toledo, Ohio

DEAR T.P.: It's not really an IRA, but the Roth law does allow you to contribute $500 each calendar year to an account that will work tax-free for college expenses. The donor must qualify in terms of income limitations, but this is a relatively easy rule to get around legally. The money will stay there until the child is ready for college, and in the event it is not spent by the age of 30 it then must be distributed and taxed.

gate's court in order to be properly filed and probated. If your will is very simple and your daughter has the time, it is possible that she may be able to handle the transaction without the service of an attorney. The part that troubles me is that you say you drew a will and have two notary public witnesses. It could be possible that your will is not drawn in conformance with the laws of the state where you reside. A simple will such as you have described will cost no more than $150 to be drawn by an attorney and properly executed. You would do your children an enormous favor by having it done this way. If your simple will is flawed somehow — and all legal documents are tricky to draw up without professional help — your daughter will have to apply to the court to be named administrator, and in all likelihood the other kids will have to sign off. In general, this path is more expensive and

Sanford ordinance would restrict newsracks

By Bill Kerns

STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - Staff for the City of Sanford are continuing to work on a proposed ordinance that would limit the number of newsracks that can be in one place.

Representatives from area vendors, met with city staff Tuesday to discuss possible city-wide restrictions on newsracks.

The draft ordinance is aimed at preventing the clutter and inappropriate placement of newsracks.

The vendors said that the newsrack ordinance would work better if applied only in the downtown and waterfront area.

"It's one thing within a defined street-scape area," Brad Kuhn, single copy manager for Orlando Sentinel Communications, said. "But, when we have a defined brand identity and you take it away from us city-wide, if you single out newspapers, you're talking about a first amendment issue."

Kuhn said that to apply the newsrack ordinance city-wide, Sanford would need to show a mandate for why the ordinance is being applied throughout the city.

Doug Fetzer, publisher of the Seminole Herald, said the City will receive support from the media for downtown newsrack restrictions.

Jay Marder, director of engineering and planning for the City, said that enforcement of a city-wide newsrack ordinance would be difficult for the code enforcement officers.

The City Commission will hold hearings on April 26 and May 10. Marder said the April 26 hearing will likely be at the 3 p.m. commission work session.

"We're just trying to come to some reasonable accommodation so we don't have 24 multicolored newsracks in a row," Marder said.

Kuhn said that black or dark green would be more appealing colors than the federal brown color being considered by the city. He also said the city should consider placing newsracks on pedestals to allow multiple publications in one location.

The proposal would prohibit newsracks from unreasonably interfering with the flow of pedestrian or vehicular traffic.

Marder said he would prefer limits in the downtown-waterfront area, instead of city-wide limits.

Under the proposal, discussed by the City Commission in February, there would be a maximum of three racks to be tied together, with no more than six located in one place. The standards would define a minimum amount of feet that clusters of newsracks can be placed near each other.

All newsracks in the First Street corridor would be maintained "in a neat and clean condition and in good repair at all times." The news-racks would be a uniform color.

Each newsrack would be maintained reasonably free of dirt and grease. The newsracks would be reasonably free of chipped, faded, peeling and cracked paint in visible areas. The paper or cardboard parts or inserts would be reasonably free of tears, peeling or fading. The structural parts would not be broken or unduly misshapen.

Yesteryears Antiques - A Taste of Southern Charm in downtown Sanford

If you would like to meet two ladies with a lot of southern charm, then just go to Yesteryears in Historical Downtown Sanford.

Sharon Huggins shows a sample of what Yesteryears has to offer. Owners Sharon and her mother Jeri Mitchell (not pictured) opened their doors in 1997.

The owners of Yesteryears, Sharon Huggins and her mother, Jeri Mitchell, opened their doors in 1997. Jeri was born in Mississippi and Sharon in Florida, which lends to the southern charm of the antique store.

Sharon and Jeri owned a Hallmark store in Macon, Georgia for over 10 years. This explains the impeccable customer service that each patron receives at Yesteryears. In fact, one of their favorite parts of the business is when customers come in just to chat, whether they buy anything or not.

Sharon puts aside part of her shop to carry items from the most outstanding dealers. Items that are available are Crabtree and Evelyn, York Wallpaper, Howard Furniture Polish, Rose Window, Victorian Line and Fenton Glassware.

Adding to the charm of the antique store nestled in Downtown Sanford, Yesteryears is adjacent to the Willow Tree Restaurant. Patron can take in a quiet lunch and then head into the shop to see some of the finest gifts and collectibles available in Seminole County.

Wildcats win in a waltz

Undefeated Winter Park thumps Lake Mary in boys lacrosse

By Jeff Brantley
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

LAKE MARY - Losing to Winter Park really doesn't matter too much.

Sure, it would have been nice to knock off the best team in Central Florida, if not the entire state, but the Lake Mary boys lacrosse team is in the same position regardless, despite its 14-3 loss on Senior Night at Don T. Reynolds Stadium Tuesday evening.

Lake Mary is still in fifth-place in the Central Florida standings and six teams make the playoffs. If the Rams run the table over the next two games - at Lyman Thursday and home against Flagler-Palm Coast from Bunnell on Saturday, the Rams should be secure in the fifth spot and make the playoffs.

A loss in either game, both of which should be winnable, would put the Rams in a logjam with several other teams for the final spots.

Lake Mary coach Jim Marino said he wants the wins just to get another shot at Winter Park.

"We just want another shot at Winter Park next week," he said. "If we lose one of these games coming up, we might make it but there's a bunch of teams with five losses. If we win both we're definitely in."

Lyman, Lake Mary's opponent Thursday, is one of those teams with five losses. The incentive will be there for the defense-oriented Gryhounds, but Lake Mary has been on a roll since losing its first two games of the season.

Winter Park came into last night's game at 10-0, coming off a tournament win in Atlanta when it became one of Florida's first teams to win a national tournament. Winter Park knocked off Lake Brantley, wiping out a huge deficit, early in the season and beat Oviedo last week after struggling for most of the first half.

Last night, Winter Park made a statement. The Wildcats jumped out 2-0 early and went up 3-0 as the attack beat the Lake Mary defense for close-range goals.

The Rams fought back. Bobby Link got the Rams on the board, taking a feed from Adam Kurir and, a few minutes later, after Lake Mary missed on a power play opportunity, Kurir took a pass from Link to cut it to one.

Winter Park went on a roll, finding holes in the Lake Mary defense and ran off three straight goals to kill the Rams' momentum and take a 6-3 lead at the half.

It got worse in the third quarter. Lake Mary was playing without face-off man Peter Kim and Winter Park controlled possession. It was 8-2 before Lake Mary made a last effort at coming back when Stuart Barka scored on a feed from Link.

Once again, Winter Park squashed the Rams' momentum, scoring seconds later and, after a barrage of scores, it was garbage time.

Winter Park capitalized throughout the game on power plays, scoring on each one until the final minutes, but Lake Mary goaltender Todd Cherner played well throughout, yielding only point-blank shots while playing well through three quarters before Marino emptied the bench.

With 2:03 remaining in the game, Ryan McLane scored Lake Mary's final goal.

"We missed too many opportunities," Marino said. "We just need to think about getting into the playoffs. If we win both, we're in no matter what."

Game time at Lyman on Thursday is 7 p.m.

PATRIOTS STAY HOT

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - Lake Brantley continued to play outstanding lacrosse as the Patriots boys crushed visiting West Orange, 23-3, at Tom Story Field Tuesday night.

Doing the scoring for Lake Brantley (11-3) were Shellhammer (seven goals), Hogan (five goals), Quinn (three goals) and Favero, Hummel, Piegly, Alte, Lerch, Loeffel, Berger and Hall (one goal each).

The Patriots will close out the regular season by hosting winless Seminole on Thursday at 7 p.m. at Tom Story Field.

SCC softball team sets season victory record

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - It has been an up-and-down year for the Seminole Community College softball team.

But it has also been a record-setting one.

The Raiders set a record for the most wins in a season when it edged Santa Fe Community College from Gainesville, 3-2, for their 34th win of the year.

The victory breaks the record of 33 wins set by the 1995 SCC team, the inaugural season for fastpitch softball.

But even the record-breaking victory was bitter-sweet as the Raiders (34-20-1 overall) had dropped the opening game of Tuesday's Mid-Florida Conference doubleheader, 7-2, and the team is still at .500 (11-11) in conference play. The Salina are 28-19-1 overall and 14-8 in the M-FC after the split.

SCC had reached the .500 mark in the conference on Saturday as it swept a doubleheader from St. Johns River Community College from Palatka that was also played at Raider Field.

The Raiders took the pair from the Vikings in impressive fashion, winning 7-0 and 9-1.

SCC will now go on the road for a conference doubleheader at Lake City Community College on Thursday starting at 2:30 p.m. before returning home for its final two home dates of the season.

On Saturday, Manatee Community College from Bradenton comes calling for a doubleheader and next Tuesday, Daytona Beach Community College pays a visit to Raider Field for an M-FC doubleheader. Those two dates will begin at 2:30 p.m.

The Raiders will then close out the regular season with a trip to Leesburg to face Lake-Sumter Community College in a conference doubleheader beginning at 4 p.m. next Thursday.

SCC had won the first game over the Vikings last Saturday by taking little bites, never scoring more than two runs in an inning.

But the offense was more than enough for Kat Ciccarone as the freshman hurler struck out five and threw a five-hit shut out.

Doing the damage for the Raiders were Lake Mary's Jeanie Manz (3-for-4, two runs), Kerri Rogers (2-for-2, run, RBI), Andrienne Redditt (2-for-3, two runs, two RBI), Lyman's Miranda Schultz (2-for-3, two RBI), Candice Hays (2-for-4, double, two runs), Tiffany Martin (2-for-5, RBI), Deanna Osborn (1-for-1, RBI), Lake Howell's Jen Gillespie (double) and Kelli Vetter (single).

SCC took immediate charge of the second game, scoring four runs in the bottom of the first inning and holding SJRCC scoreless until the sixth and final inning.

Please see SCC, Page 2B

Former Lake Howell star Jen Gillespie (above) hit a home run in a first-game loss to Santa Fe Community College, but SCC came back to win the nightcap and set a single-season record for victories at Raider Field.

Shake up continues in softball

OVIDEO - After a night of upsets early last week it looked like the Seminole Athletic Conference softball had returned to normal when the top teams broke losing streaks.

Then came Tuesday night. Oviedo remained red-hot after recovering from a slow start this season as Sarah Reeber hurled a three-hit shutout as the Lions blanked state-ranked Winter Springs 5-0.

All of Oviedo's scoring came in the bottom of the sixth inning as Alison Parker drove in two runs and Lisa Field plated the third and Reeber (5-5) did the rest as the Lions improved to 17-8 on the season.

Lake Howell, which came on late last season to finish second in the district tournament, has also been playing outstanding softball of late and pulled off its biggest victory yet, upsetting Lake Mary 5-4 at the home of the defending state champions.

The Silver Hawks (10-9) took a 2-0 lead in the top of the second inning, but the Rams (17-4) rallied to tie the contest with single runs in the second and fourth innings.

Lake Howell then took the game for good by scoring three runs in the top of the fifth inning.

Lake Mary mounted one last rally, scoring two runs in the sixth inning, but Kimball came on to shut the door on the Rams and save the victory for Heather Borsum (7-4).

Jenny Rhiner and Ferrell led the way for the Silver Hawks, as both went 2-for-4.

Megan Dontrich had an RBI triple for Lake Mary, which lost for the third time in its last four games after a 15-game winning streak, while Jackie Crispell was 2-for-4 and Sarah Smith drove in two runs.

Lake Brantley has also been playing much better lately and may be ready to make a charge as the district tournaments grow near.

The Patriots (10-11) used a pair of 10-plus run innings to maul Lyman (1-17), 23-0.

Leading the way for Lake Brantley were Richard (2-for-3, triple), Lacy Harrison, Laurin

Special to the Herald

OCALA - Bird lovers mark your calendars on April 10 and 17 for the Welcome Back Songbirds festivals at Wekiwa Springs State Park and Merritt Island National Wildlife Refuge, co-sponsored by the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (OFC).

games for children. Teachers attending lectures can receive in-service credit points and a curriculum provided by the OFC.

This year's Welcome Back Songbird festivals will be held in Brevard County at Merritt Island National Wildlife Refuge on Saturday, April 17, from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., and in Orange County at Wekiwa Springs State Park on Saturday, April 10 from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Powering the Raiders were Amy Fazio (3-for-4, double, two RBI), Rogers (2-for-4, RBI), Schultz (1-for-1, run), Gillespie (1-for-2, double, run, RBI), Oviedo's Danielle Sequino (double, two runs), Redditt (single, run, two RBI), Hays (single, two runs), Barber (single, run), Manz and winning pitcher Traci Miller (one single each) and Osborn (run).

Other contributors for SCC were Hays (3-for-3, run) and Martin, Barber, Redditt and Vetter (one single each).

Fazio was the star of the nightcap, doubling in two runs in the second inning that gave the Raiders a 3-0 lead.

Santa Fe did not make it easy for SCC, scoring single runs, both unearned, in the fourth and sixth innings, but Miller (9-7) refused to give in and finished the game with a three-hitter, striking out seven.

Fazio finished the game 2-for-2 with the double and two RBI, while Redditt was 1-for-3 with an RBI and extended her hitting streak to 21 consecutive games.

Welcome to the Woods offered in Lake County

Special to the Herald

MT. PLYMOUTH - Do you know what a "wildlife management area" is? Many people don't, and those who have heard of them think they're places used only for hunting.

And while it's true that most wildlife management areas, or WMAs for short, are managed primarily for hunting, many offer a hole lot more for the outdoor lover.

On Saturday, April 24, the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (GFC) is offering for the second year, a unique chance for a limited number of participants to learn all there is to do at Seminole Forest WMA, one of the state's most beautiful public areas.

Welcome to the Woods is an unusual opportunity to get out in the woods and see some of the real Florida with experts who will explain all about the area's flora, fauna and recreational opportunities.

The program is limited to 80 participants who will get a hands-on chance to fish, canoe and hike at Seminole Forest - all in a free, guided tour!

The day will begin at 9 a.m., when four groups of 20 participants each will head for different stations in the woods. After about an hour, the groups will rotate to the next station until each group has gone to each of four stations.

Participants will learn to fish, hike and canoe, and then get a chance to try out their new skills at the management area. Canoes and fishing equipment will be provided.

A valid Florida freshwater fishing license is required for anyone age 16 and over.

They will also see a demonstration by the GFC's K-9s, Oakley and Trouble, and learn how important aerial and ground prescribed burns are for habitat management. A GFC helicopter used for aerial burns will be on display.

This is the second time the GFC has offered Welcome to the Woods.

"We held it last year for the first time and had to turn away so many people that we wanted to give those who missed out another chance to participate," said Jean Marie Conner, GFC wildlife biologist and organizer of the event.

One of the goals of the program is to encourage people to go out to Seminole Forest and other WMAs, on their own, and enjoy the unique things they have to offer.

"We hope those who came last year were inspired to continue enjoying the management area on their own," said Conner. "There's so much to see and do, and we feel that once they've become familiar with it, they'll want to come back again and again."

In addition to the interactive stations there will be displays by the Florida Trail Association, as well as informative exhibits about alligators, bald eagles, snakes and birds.

Since space is limited to the first 80 callers, it is important that anyone who wishes to participate register as soon as possible by calling the GFC's Ocala regional office at (352) 732-1225. The event will begin at 9 a.m., sharp in the parking area of Seminole Forest WMA at the south entrance on State Road 46 in Mt. Plymouth. Participants should wear clothing suitable for light hiking and bring binoculars, bug spray, pocket snacks and water. Food and drinks will be available from the Umatilla 4-H Group for a donation, and the event will last until about 2 p.m.

Welcome to the Woods is sponsored by the GFC and the State Division of Forestry, and is being made possible through the cooperation of governmental agencies and private businesses including Comfort House, Winter Park, Kirby Tent Rentals Inc., Orlando; and the Department of Environmental Protection.

By Jeff Berlinicke
 ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

There's more to the last weeks of senior year than just the prom, getting ready for Senior Week, final exams, choosing a college, deciding saying goodbye to friends and teachers...

Now there's Grad Night at Disney World.

Actually, Grad Night has been going on since 1972. Big-name performers stop by the park every year and everyone parties long into the night.

The event last for five different nights and will be observed by all Seminole County schools except Lake Brantley. This year's performers include Brittany Spears, Reel Big Fish, and Sister Hazel and the festivities last from 11 p.m. - 5 a.m.

Any graduating high school senior is welcome to bring a date on their school's night at the park, but keep a nice outfit ready. Dress is formal.

By the way, junior class officers are also invited.

Parents don't have to worry about their kids staying out all night either.

Up to four complimentary chaperones are provided to all groups with less than 50 students attending and an additional pass is made available for every extra 10 students attending. And even though the night is for the grads, the chaperones are welcome to enjoy a special headquarters set up especially for them.

The event isn't limited to the Magic Kingdom. Tickets are available for the water parks and Disney-MGM Studios and the rides at the kingdom will be open all night.

The event has become one of the longest-standing traditions in Florida for High School graduates. In fact, it isn't a bad way to find a date for the prom if it hasn't been held already. Walt Disney World also provides special packages for any school looking to go the extra mile, but, however you get there, just get there. It's one of the biggest parties of the year and a great way to end Senior Year.

Or you could stay home studying. Obviously, strict guidelines are adhered to. No alcohol or similar substances are tolerated; hence, the chaperones.

But except for that, basically anything goes and usually does.

As far as the dress code is concerned, guys are expected to wear a jacket with a tie and slacks; girls should wear dresses with sleeves.

No word on how they might look coming off some of the water rides, but it does give everyone a chance to spend a few bucks at the mall a week before Grad Night.

For convenience, students will also be able to purchase (Grad Night can start to add up, especially right after the prom, but you have been at this high school thing for four years, right?), meal tickets and special meal functions can be arranged at sites throughout Walt Disney World.

Before it's too late, Da Bomb says to check out a lacrosse game at one of the high schools in Seminole County. Sports doesn't get much better.

If you get a chance, check out the Ireland displays in the lobby of Wicklow Elementary. Da Bomb says that when it comes to a great looking lobby, Wicklow does it right.

Awesome performance by the Lyman Drama Club last Saturday in "Once Upon A Mattress." It's a busy time right now in the drama scene, but Da Bomb says don't miss the presentation at Lake Mary High this weekend.

You know what Winter Springs Elementary Schools needs? Da Bomb says it needs a really big sign you can see from State Road 434 that identifies what it is. The school has too much to be proud of to not have some recognition

Winter Springs kids know just what's write

The kids at Winter Springs Elementary School have been working hard preparing for the Florida Writes contest. Here's a few of the practice papers as well as some just plain stories the younger kids worked on. Look for more next week in the next Hangin' Out.

Winter Springs Elementary students offered up some of their best writings to Hangin' Out and here you have a chance to read some of them. Look for more next week.

'Mr. Forgetful' has a really bad day

By Corie J. Bay
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

One day at Winter Springs Elementary School long ago a forgetful student named Mike was having a dreadful day. He had been working on one math problem for the last 15 minutes for countless times. Every time he had figured it out, he kept getting distracted by something and then forgot his answer. Then his teacher, Mr. Perez, called on Mike.

"Michael, please tell the class the answer to number one." Mike was speechless. He didn't know the answer!

"I don't know the answer," he squeaked.

"Well then," Mr. Perez said. "I guess a little detention is in order."

After detention, Mike ran straight home. He went down to the basement and hid behind an old box. He did not want anyone to find him. While sitting there for a while, he fell asleep. When he woke up, he was in his bed. His mom came into the room.

"I heard what happened at school," she said. "Let's make a little settlement. You do your work and we could do something fun."

"All right, I will," he said. His mom left the room and Mike looked out the window. It was night. He threw off his shoes.

"I guess I had a little enjoyment today," Mike murmured. "Oh, thank goodness." Mike felt the softness of his pillow as he dozed off to sleep.

"I'll do my best mom," he whispered. "I will...zzzzzzz."

Corie J. Bay is a fifth-grader at Winter Springs Elementary.

Robert finds a rainbow flower

By Alexis Stuckey
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

Once upon a time there was a leprechaun named Robert. One day he went to follow a rainbow. It took him a long time. When he got there, he saw a little girl picking flowers. Her name was Alexis. There were daisies, tulips and sunflowers. Right before his eyes there was the strangest thing ever. It was a rainbow flower. It made a rainbow wherever it was planted. The girl saw the leprechaun and tried to catch him, but she didn't. He just disappeared. Alexis looked all around and couldn't find him, so she went home. When the little girl was gone, the leprechaun came back out and found the gold by the rainbow.

Alexis Stuckey is a second-grader at Winter Springs Elementary School.

The ape that came out of my computer

By Douglas Rowe
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

Once upon a time there was a bug that was curious about everything. But one day the little bug saw a computer and went into it. He wandered around in the computer. Right when the bug was about to get out, a giant disc blocked the way out. Then all of a sudden a little girl turned on the computer and in the back of him a jungle appeared. Out of nowhere a giant, giant ape came and chased the little bug. When all of a sudden a loud voice shouted out, "time for bed!" The little girl turned off the computer and the jungle and the ape disappeared. The game was over, the bug got out of the computer and then flew away.

The end...or is it?

Rudolph had a great Christmas

By Jenna Ilkshons
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

My name is Rudolph. I had a great adventure on Christmas Eve. I soared through the sky with Santa and the other reindeer. I didn't like it when Santa went down the chimney because the reindeer would make fun of me. We soared through the air all night and hardly ever landed on a rooftop. I was exhausted. The other reindeer were acting like they weren't tired at all, but they were! I tried and tried to go fast but it was too hard and too late. Santa was already starting back home to drop me off.

After he did, he went back out into the night sky. It was hard for the reindeer to see through without my glowing red nose. They crashed into houses, just missed the rooftops, and gave some of the presents to the wrong kids! I had to do something before it was too late! I decided I would fly out to help them. I soared through the air like a torpedo. I found Santa and the reindeer. They were struggling to get the sleigh on the top of the roof. So I decided to be macho reindeer and help them. So I did and the sleigh was on the roof where it was supposed to be.

After we finished going around to all of the houses, we went home and had a party. Mrs. Clause provided the food and guess who provided the light? If you guessed the cute little reindeer named Rudolph, you're 100 percent correct. After the party was over, we went back out into the early morning and sang Christmas carols. Me, the reindeer, Santa, Mrs. Clause and even the elves. We had a great time that night.

I sure hope you like Christmas and my story.

Jenna Ilkshons is a fourth-grader at Winter Springs Elementary School.

Enjoying the 'Lymlight'- The Lyman High School "Lymlight Productions" Drama department presented "Once Upon A Mattress," last week. Michelle Backel directed the production which included Barry Alan Hall, Josh Siniscalco, Angela Florio, Erik Morris, Chris Nelson, J.D. Hutchinson, Alex Carroll and Brittany Hardy, all members of International Thespian Troupe 2329. The cast presented three shows.

WSES student won't feel sorry for herself

By Jeff Berthelcke
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

Life is what you make of it. Winter Springs fifth-grader Virgen Osario could sit in her wheelchair and feel sorry for herself.

Instead, she demands more of herself, and with the help of her teachers and friends, she was named Disney Dreamer and Doer for her school.

She'll be honored at a special ceremony at Walt Disney World May 6.

To understand the struggle Virgen has overcome, it might be best for her to explain it herself:

"I want to tell you a little something about myself. I was born in Puerto Rico on Dec. 18, 1987 and I was named Virgen in honor of the Virgen Mary. After I was born, doctors noticed my back was open. Surgeons closed it. From that day on I have had no movement from my waist down. I have been in a wheelchair almost all of my life. I have a cerebral shunt implanted in my head that has to be checked to be sure it works right. That means more surgery.

"I live with my mom, my little seven-year-old brother and my 13-year-old sister. We get along just like sister and brother. They bother me and I bother them right back. Even though we fuss and bother each other, they love me, take care of me, and make sure I am happy.

"My mom is very special. She is a single parent raising all of us. She does the best she can for us. In Puerto Rico she was a nurse, but to work here, she would have to go back to school. Instead she has dedicated herself to staying at home and taking care of us and especially me. She always makes sure I am clean, dressed nicely, and happy. My mom is doing this because she loves me and wants everything to be just right for me. I help my mom out by interpreting English to Spanish for her. She doesn't speak a lot of English so I interpret for her because I speak Spanish and English.

"I am like most 11-year-old children. I like arts and crafts, I like Rugrats, watching TV, and working on computers. One thing I really like is to race other kids in wheelchairs. I don't let my handicap hold me back and I don't let it get me down. There are times when I wish I could run, jump and walk down the street. When I start feeling sad I think about things I can do. When I grow up I want to be a teacher. I will teach Science, Art, or be a sign language teacher for deaf children. Deaf children need to know what is going on around them even if they can't hear.

"This year has been a big year for me. For the first time I am going to class with regular children. It has been hard and there is a lot to do, but I worked really hard to learn how to do new things. I like it because I am making new friends, getting to meet new kids, and learning how to do things for myself. Being with other children has made me feel good, happy and welcomed."

Virgen Osario's triumph against her serious physical challenges earned her the nomination of Winter Springs Elementary School's Disney Dreamer and Doer Award.

Virgen has earned all A's and B's in her first regular school year and hopes to learn to walk one day. "Nobody tells me much about it, but I dream I'll be able to walk one day," she said. "I go to therapy every Tuesday and work really hard."

Patrice Still, a Winter Springs teacher who nominated Virgen, wrote,

"Virgen has overcome tremendous academic and social obstacles. She has gracefully met challenges and has become an accepted and needed member of her homeroom class. She is determined to make the best of any new experience." She already has.

Just one year left: Can I make it?

By Amy Guenther
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

It's roughly one year before graduation and already doubt starts seeping in...can I make it?

Graduation is not that far away, yet I still cannot prevent the "what if" questions from coming.

What if I cannot handle the stress of my senior year?

What if I don't get into the college of my choice?

What if I don't have a dominantly happy life?

Some people do not understand why "good kids" and "smart kids" contemplate dropping out, getting their G.E.D. and going to junior college in order to leave the stress factors of high school behind.

One very important reason that some teens feel this way is because we are maturing. Most teens that feel this way are 17- or 18-years-old and still have to abide by the exact same rules as when they were 5- and 6-years-old. School rules never change and in some cases the enforcement of these rules thwarts growth.

Teens, myself included, sometimes do not recognize that stress will be a factor of everyday life, now and always. Whether it is simply being stressed over homework or taxes, stress is a part of everyday life.

A big issue is in the air here. The main goal in life is not to get rich and be famous (of course, that would be nice too.) The goal in life is to be happy.

Dropping out of high school may not prevent you from being happy in life, but it is a big risk. Most people are not happy in a "go nowhere job."

Yet, if a dropout pursues and obtains a Masters Degree, then that dropout probably will not get stuck in a "go nowhere job."

However, if a person does not have enough ambition to finish high school, then how are they going to push themselves through a Master's Degree program or even a Bachelor's degree. It is feasible to graduate from college even after dropping out of high school, but it is not realistic.

Most people think of high school dropouts as rebels, idiots or the ones who just couldn't cut it. From some perspectives that may be true, but in some cases it is those who just couldn't take it anymore.

Another stereotype that I have personally decided is simply not true is that high school is the "best time of your life." My answer to this is that if this is the best time of my life, I don't need to see the worst, because right now is pretty dreary.

Not all teachers in high school try to enforce that they are the dictators, whose sole job is to prevent students from using the restroom on a two-hour basis. Teachers like this hinder individual thinking.

Some teachers are very good, some even recognize the fact that some of their students are considered legally to be adults and will readily grant them the permission to use the "privilege" of going to the restroom.

Then there are still some reasons such as cruel peers that push some kids to drop out and flee their bad situations.

Kids and teens especially should be taught how to think for themselves and make their own resolutions about things.

People in general should never accept "because I said so" as an answer. This type of philosophy is pretty much what causes teens to succumb to peer pressure.

It is simply small meager rules and the people who hinder individual thinking and torment their peers that drive the "good kids" and "smart kids" to drop out.

Oviedo students have write stuff

By Russ White
HERALD STAFF WRITER

Maybe it isn't too late after all. Maybe there is a future for our newspapers. Maybe some of the big shot editors will make room for the new kids who want to write the world.

For 11 years, Deborah Jepson has been preparing hundreds of eager students for careers in journalism in her classes at Oviedo High School.

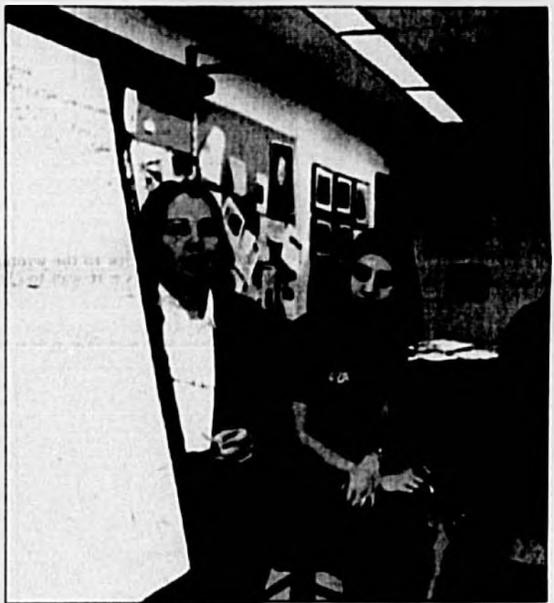

She teaches with the same enthusiasm and wonder she had as a youngster in Centerville, Iowa, where her dad was a reporter for the Centerville Daily Iowa Star. At 17, Jepson was a proofreader and covered two or three stories a week.

Jepson recalls the first solo assignment for the newspaper - trying to make sense of a county budget story. "I was scared to death," she told 17-year-old Randy Smith, Jr., one of her Oviedo High students.

"You know you felt when you did your first story?" Jepson asked Smith. "How many times did you need to rewrite it? How much more comfortable are you now than you were then? Was I too strict?"

"I'm a better writer - I'm more experienced," Smith said. "I feel much more confident."

Getting started early can make a world of difference, Jepson said. "Many of our journalism students began to write and edit at Jackson Heights or Indian Hills Middle schools. They worked on the newspapers at those schools."

Oviedo teacher Deborah Jepson (left) is the head of one of the top newspapers in the state.

On Friday, the staff for The Lion's Tale, met to make assignments for the last edition of the school year - The Graduation Issue. Jepson allowed the editors to conduct the session. Laura Hoffman and Sofia Kazi, the senior editors, were assisted by Christine Brownyard and Samantha Riepe, juniors who will edit next year's paper.

No one was left out of the plans or the planning. "These kids aren't shy," Jepson said from aside. "They're creative and they like to express themselves." Even if two students tried to talk at the same time, Jepson allowed the editors to maintain order.

It greatly pleases Jepson that the school's journalism students rank at the top of the classes at Oviedo. A year ago,

"J" students were 1-2-3 in the Graduating Class. Valedictorian Shawn Nichols is now at Duke University, Robyn Schriever is at Yale and Jordan Weins is at the University of Florida.

Jepson said she would prefer the state of Florida have a stricter set of rules that focus on writing. "We talk at length about journalism every day," she said. "We exist in a TV environment. So it is important to talk about what is behind a story. To go more in depth and to investigate more.

"It's much more involved than asking the who, what, why, when, where and how. Those must still be addressed but that's only the start if a reporter or writer wants to get the whole story. We have to get deeper and deeper in the human side of each story."

Little League Team of the Week

T-ball kids play for the fun of it

By Amy Guenther
STAFF CORRESPONDENT

"Where dreams begin."
That is what the sign on the Casselberry Little League T-Ball field reads.

T-Ball is the sport for the age where the kids play purely for the sake of playing. There are not any million-dollar contracts here and everybody plays.

The Cardinals, a Casselberry T-Ball team, is one such squad. They have 11 players, all between the ages of 5 and 6. It is at this age that the kids develop their love for the game and that is exactly what the Cardinals are doing.

Everybody gets to bat; they do not keep track of outs. The kids get one base for every hit and everybody wins. The team is made up of both boys and girls. T-Ball in the 90's is quite diverse.

The coach of the Cardinals is Pete Tatro, and his daughter Hessie Tatro plays for the team. Pete has been coaching for several years. He also coaches his son's.

"Hitting" is player Austin Disset's favorite part of the game. Austin is 5-years-old and this is his first year of playing.

Hitting is also Alberto Rivera's favorite part of the game. Alberto is also 5 and this is his first year of playing T-Ball.

At this age, little emphasis is placed on skill. Most of it is dedicated to effort.

Pasta for Pennies at Indian Trails

The kids at Indian Trails Middle School worked with schools from all over the county in the annual Pasta For Pennies Campaign to raise money for
