The sky's the limit for a young Baptist missionary and he plans to get there with 15 million trading stamps. The missionary is 29-year-old Gerald Price. His goal is an airplane and the cost is 15 million trading stamps. Fifteen million of the little squeres of gummed paper-for those who aim no higher at the redemption store than lamps and electric toothbrush--total 10,000 books at 1,500 stamps per book. Since his drive started, the Rev. Price has gathered nearby 2,000 books. His schedule calls for a new six-passenger Cessna 180 by May 15, "but we hope to have enough stamps before then." With the airplane; Price plans to pack his wife, Lois, his 11 - year - old daughter Rhonda and fly to Brazil for mission work among the In-

"We were planning to go to Brasil long before we had the idea of a plane," Price said. "We were elected by the North American Baptist Association last March to zil and plane or no plane we will go. As long as our health holds out this will be our life's work." The word went out to asso ciation churches last June that Price was on the prowl for a stamp here and stamp there and "the response has been "We've received hundreds of letters," Price said. "We get stamps from women's auxiliary groups, young people groups and individuals. We get stamps from as far away as Washington, California and Florida. Sometimes we get only a few or several books. The most we received from any one church was about 90

Every three or four months, the stamp books and mail them to the firm's headquarfive months, Price has been a pilot since 1955. He spends most of his time studying seronautics and has started work on his commercial and instrument ratings. On weekends he fills preaching assignments in Oklahome, Arkansas, Texas and Kansas. Westminster Abbey Has *900th Birthday

LONDON (UPI) - Queen Elizabeth II led the British people today in ceremonies marking the 900th anniversary of the consecration of Westminster Abbey, religious shrine of the Commonwealth. Among the 2,300 dignitaries in the historic church for the special service was a representative of the Vatican, apostolic delegate Msgr. Ignino Cardinale. Also present was Morris Ernst, a Jewish attorney from New York who helped raise the millions needed to save the fabric of the abbey and restore it to its olden beauty. Although the ancient abbey is a jewel of the Church of England, all faiths joined in the observance today. Commentators saw this as evidence of the new spirit of b hope for Christian unity.

The ceremony launched s year of concerts, exhibitions, poetry readings and special services at the abbey. The original abbey was built by Edward the Confessor, who died a few days after it was dedicated to St. Peter and consecrated on Dec. 28, 1065. Edward became the first of 17 British rulers to be interred there. A $2.8 million restoration program was launched in 1953 by the late Sir Winston Churchill and renovation was only recently completed. Churchill chose to be buried elsewhere but is remembered by memorials inside the ab-

Most of the men who made Britain famous are buried in Westminster. Nearly all Brit ish monarchs have been crowned in the abbey, beginning with William the Conqueror in 1066.
