Schools Got Plenty Of Funds From Legislature

Seminole County schools came out of the 1961 Legislature with a lion's share of available revenue even though appropriations fell far short of amounts asked for by school forces, Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee said today.

Milwee, at the same time handed out a bouquet to the Seminole legislative delegation "for their fine presentation they gave Seminole County, not only in school affairs but in other matters affecting the county and state."

The Legislature appropriated $47.2 million for state schools in the two years beginning July 1, an increase of $64.4 million over allocations for the same purposes in the present biennium, Milwee said.

The increase authorized by the legislature in total spending for state purposes amounted to only $23 million, which means education, below the university level, got three-fourths of the increased funds.

"Although the financial increases granted schools during this session of the legislature falls short of the requests made by the profession and of the demonstrated needs of education, they appear to be the best that could be achieved without increases in state taxes," Milwee said.

Milwee said that the value of each instructional unit for teachers salaries in all ranks under the Minimum Foundation Program was increased by $200. "This means that the state will provide approximately $180 for each instructional unit with Seminole County providing approximately $40 for each unit, Milwee said.

Milwee added that this figure will vary depending on the individual county.

Milwee said "we are pleased that the matching fund program for construction of new buildings and the sales tax refund program were continued with full approval. The only difficulty Seminole County faces is trying to match those funds for building purposes with local money," Milwee said.

"The legislature's awareness of the critical role of education in the space age was evidenced by the number of bills introduced in this field which probably consumed more time than any other subject," Milwee said.

A total of 138 bills directly with education were introduced. Of these, 31 passed and became law while the rest were killed or died with adjournment.

Among the important school bills were:

A $200 pay raise for teachers was provided, along with a $400 merit raise for superior teachers; Provisions were made for teaching of a course in the evils of communism, additional sick leave was provided for teachers, and the Textbook Selection committee was revamped.

Not a single piece of legislation was enacted affecting the continuance of the free public school system. A private school tax credit bill and a measure requiring 30 day notice before enrolling in a school or transferring from one to another died in Senate Committees.

20 Killed As Dutch Airliner Crashes

CAIRO (UPI)—A KLM Royal Dutch airliner with 36 persons aboard crashed in flames today on Cairo's "disaster ridge" while turning in for a landing at the international airport. Officials said 20 persons were killed.

KLM headquarters at The Hague, Holland, said first reports showed 20 persons killed in the Lockheed Electra crash on the ridge which rises almost miraculously to a height of 900 feet some three miles from the end of Cairo airport's Runway 34.

But rescue workers here said they had recovered 18 charred bodies. Another 17 persons were injured, three seriously. Another person was missing and presumed dead.

Army Rebukes General Walker

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army today rebuked Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, former 34th Infantry Division commander in Germany, for "derogatory public statements" about the prominent Americans.

Army secretary Fivis J. Stahr Jr. also canceled Walker's orders to become commander of the 8th Corps at Austin, Tex. He assigned Maj. Gen. Thomas R. Yancey to the post.

Yancey now commands the 2nd Infantry Brigade at Ft. Devens, Mass., and will go to Austin in August.

Walker had been accused by an American publication in Europe, Overseas Weekly, of preaching concepts of the controversial John Birch Society to his troops and of telling a group of Americans in Germany that former President Truman, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt were "definitely pink."

He also was accused by Overseas Weekly of labeling large parts of the American press, radio and television as pro-Communist. Gen. Bruce C. Clark, Army Commander in Europe, gave Walker an "official admonition," an action short of a reprimand.

Berlin Proposals Said Unacceptable

Talking with reporters at National Airport while he awaited the arrival of Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani, Rusk was asked whether he considered the Russian plan unacceptable. He replied, "That is evident on its face."

Homeowners Assn. Is Organized

By MONA GRINSTEAD
A new Homeowner's Assn. has been organized in North Orlando for the purpose of seeking group rather than individual legal representation for those residents who are in protest of the recent 48-acre annexation action of the Village Council.

Art Ferrin, president of the Homeowners, today announced that a meeting for all village residents has been set at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Longwood Elementary School auditorium. Attorney Kenneth McInosh will be present to interpret and answer all questions concerning the North Orlando Charter, he said.

"Every one of our residents has an obligation to attend the meeting and to bring a prepared question on the charter to the attorney," he said, adding that since a capacity attendance is expected, it is requested that all children be allowed to remain at home.

Other officers of the association are Fred Sellers, vice president and block captain representing Devon Ave.; C. C. Clarke, director and block captain for Edgemoor Ave. and Arthur Rhodes, secretary-treasurer and block captain for Cortez Ave. As of Saturday, Ferrin reported, no block captain had signed for Bombay Ave. Members of the Homeowner's group have signed a proxy giving the officials authority to vote and speak for them, he stated.

Rain Drenches Osteen Area

A severe but welcome rain and hailstorm drenched the Osteen area with 1.8 inches of rainfall in a one-hour period Sunday, Mrs. Clarence Sawyer, Osteen reporter, said today.

Hail the size of marbles fell for about 30 minutes, she said, and high winds, accompanying the rain, made visibility impossible at times.

Fallen branches and Spanish moss covered the ground following the storm which came up abruptly at about 2 p.m. and within a few seconds had most residents "happily mopping up."

Telephone service in the area was interrupted until early this morning, she reported.

Frederick May Not Seek Another Term In House-- Depending On Senate Race

State Rep. Gordon Frederick said today that he won't run for a House seat again in 1962 unless Senate reapportionment is passed by the voters and his colleague in the delegation, Mack Cleveland Jr., decides to run for that post.

State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. and Gordon Frederick will discuss the 1961 legislative session at the Kiwanis Club noon luncheon meeting Wednesday.

Frederick said that he would consider running again only if Cleveland runs for the Senate. "I wouldn't like to see two freshman legislators from Seminole County up there," Frederick said. Speculation was high today on whether Cleveland would run for the Senate. He said this morning "it is a little too premature" to make a decision.

Cleveland and Frederick today gave a brief rundown on some of the important bills passed by the Legislature affecting Seminole County.

Among the most significant measures passed, they said was the local bill giving the county the authority to grant and control franchises in the county.

Frederick said that this bill will mean a great deal to the development of the county.

Frederick also cited the hard-fought harness racing bill victory while Cleveland emphasized the importance of reapportionment.

If reapportionment is passed by the voters next year, Seminole County will have its own Senator. Cleveland also said that the county was fortunate in the congressional redistricting fight.

"We are still in Syd Herlong's district which is to our advantage," he said.

Cleveland said that this legislature was one of the hardest working bodies on record and the lawmakers did all they could not to impose any new taxes.

Two of the most controversial bills which would have affected Seminole County, were killed—the contractor's bill died in committee and the county code, which passed the House, never got to the Senate.

Cleveland said that the bill was so watered down by the time it got out of committees it would have lost its affect anyway.

Scout Returns

A Lake Mary Boy Scout, missing for 36 hours last week from Camp La-no-chee in the Ocala National Forest, turned up in camp Sunday after an all-out search by Naval Air Station men and deputies from the sheriff's office in Marion County failed to locate him.

The boy, Bill Blakemore, was sent out into the woods by Scout leaders as part of a survival test, with only six matches.

Blakemore told leaders on his return that he wandered off. The youngster said he caught some fish and ate them raw to "keep from starving" and that he walked into a fishing camp in the area and got directions back to the Scout camp.

AWOL Soldiers Trace Bloody Crime Spree

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—A bloody trail of seven murders was traced today by two AWOL soldiers as they told the FBI of a rob, kill and run crime spree that stretched three-fourths of the way across the United States.

Special Agent Leonard Blaylock of the FBI said the teenagers claimed their first murder victims were two women at Jacksonville. The women had been successfully playing a "dream hunch" at a dog race track.

The seventh victim was an attractive 18-year-old hotel maid at Craig, Colo., whom they apparently duped by saying they were law officers on the way to pick up a prisoner on the West Coast.

In between, the youths claimed to have killed a man in Tennessee, two in Illinois, and another in Kansas. In addition, they confessed two assaults and six car thefts. Robbery was believed the major motive in the crimes although officers said the 18-year-old Colorado girl may have been raped.

The youths were Gerald R. York, 18, Jacksonville, Fla., and James Douglas Latham, 19, Mauriceville, Texas. The interstate career of crime they started on May 27 and ended Saturday at a roadblock three miles west of Grantsville, Utah. They were held on charges of interstate transportation of a stolen car.

Sheriff Dale Carson of Duval County, Florida, flew to Utah to question the prisoners and it was expected law officers from other states involved would follow suit.

A murder charge was to be filed in Colorado today against the pair and similar charges were expected in other states.

Blaylock said he was not sure who would be given jurisdiction over the two youths.

When arrested, the two had a .38 caliber pistol stolen from their first victim. On the wooden butt of the weapon, they had carved notches to record each killing. However, the gun contained an eighth notch, apparently for a victim they thought they had killed.

Blaylock said the teenagers reported the following sequence for their crimes.

—May 27, near New Roads, La., they attempted to rob Edward J. Juidors. They hit him on the head with a wrench and stole his truck, leaving him for dead but he survived.

—May 29, at Jacksonville the youths claimed to have killed Mrs. Althea Ottavio, 43, and Mrs. Patricia Ann Hewitt, 25, both of Valdosta, Ga. Both were strangled. The women had gone to Jacksonville to play a "dream hunch" of Mrs. Ottavio at the dog race track. They won $177 on a $2 bet.

—June 6, near Aiken, S. C., they said they tried to stop a man in a Cadillac to rob him. He got away though they shot at him four times.

—June 7, near Tullahoma, Tenn., they robbed and shot John A. Whitaker, a 71-year-old Tullahoma railroad porter, and stole his 1956 sedan.

—June 8, near Litchfield, Ill., they robbed and shot to death Alfred E. Reed, stealing his .22 caliber pistol and automobile.

—June 8, near Chain-O-Rocks, Bridge, Ill., they robbed and killed Martin Drusovac, 72, a service station operator. He was stabbed and beaten on the head with a pipe.

—June 9, near Wallace, Kansas, they robbed, shot and killed Otto Ziegler, 62, a railroad station master.

—June 10, about 1 a.m., they robbed and shot Rachel Marian Moyer, 16, a hotel maid, at Craig, Colo. A clerk at the hotel where the girl worked said she told him she was going to California with "Ronnie" and "Jim" whom she met at a carnival. The clerk said the girl did not have more than a few dollars.

West, Commies Set Compromise

GENEVA (UPI)—The West and the Communist delegates compromised today and agreed to send an appeal to both sides in Laos to cooperate with the International Control Commission on a truce.

But new trouble developed shortly after the delegates to the 14-nation conference on Laos had returned to the conference table for the first time since last Wednesday when the sessions were interrupted by a Western boycott over Communist ceasefire violations. Thailand walked out in a huff over a question of procedure.

Chief U. S. delegate W. Averell Harriman injected the only note of urgency into the two hour, 25-minute meeting by demanding "expedient arrangements" for sending the ICC "necessary equipment and facilities" so it could properly do its policing job.

The Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi immediately objected to U. S. "obstructionism" for its insistence on an effective cease-fire and also lashed out at a French plan for Laos which would provide stringent, veto-free truce controls.

Chen said the fighting in Laos is a "domestic war" outside the jurisdiction of the ICC. He said that if any controls should be placed on anyone they should be placed on the United States and its allies "for causing all the trouble."

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home presided at today's session and announced that the three rival princes of Laos would meet in Zurich in a companion attempt with the conference to reach a solution for the Southeast Asian kingdom's troubles.

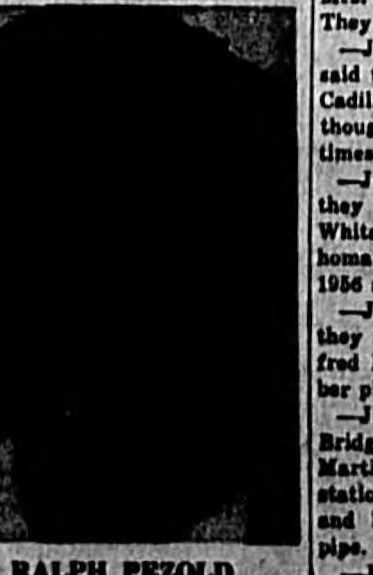

They could do much in laying the groundwork for a joint Laotian delegation to the present Geneva conference. They also could start moves for a coalition government in Laos and order their respective forces to obey the cease-fire.

Home broke the deadlock in a 24-hour visit to Geneva from London in a Sunday session with the Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Entry was gained by breaking the window on the building. Investigating officer J. Q. Galbreath reported.

Retarded Need Public Interest

(Part One of a Herald Series on The Mentally Retarded Child.)

The local organization of people who care about helping the mentally retarded to assume the best place in life that they are capable of holding through education and training is the Seminole Association for the Mentally Retarded, a small group of dedicated people.

They have recently launched a drive to sell "shares" for $1.00 to persons who feel that they would like to help to support the Little Red Schoolhouse, where a few of these handicapped children are taught by a special teacher.

Public education and information on the subject of mental retardation may prove to be of great value in enlisting the help and support of the public.

The following paragraphs are excerpts from a speech which has been given by Dr. Bernard Blais, a young doctor at the naval air station, who has been sympathetically drawn to deep interest in the mentally retarded through his membership in the Civitan Club which makes an all-out effort to help support the Little Red Schoolhouse.

WHO is the retarded child? He is a child who, because of impaired intellectual development, will need a wide variety of special services designed to promote social and economic functioning. The mentally retarded are of every nationality, every cultural and economic background. As a group they have in common the need for comprehensive facilities designed to enable them to achieve their maximum potential.

Categories of retardation include the educable or marginal independent, the trainable or semi-dependent child, and the totally dependent child.

The educable child, which is found to be 25 out of every 1,000 population, is one who may be expected to profit from special education facilities designed to make him economically useful and socially adjusted. His mental development is approximately one-half to three-fourths that of the average child. The educable retardate can usually learn enough reading and arithmetic to meet his daily needs. He will require special help for vocational placement, but may become self-supporting and capable of handling his own affairs with a minimum of counseling. There are about 140 of these persons in Seminole County.

The trainable, which is four out of every 1,000 population is one who may be expected to benefit from training in a group setting to further his social adjustment and usefulness at home or in a sheltered environment. The trainable usually develop intellectually at a rate of approximately one-third to one-half that of the average child. By and large, this group will need varying degrees of supervision throughout their lives. There are about 23 of these children in the county.

The dependent retarded, 1 out of 1,000 is one who requires extensive care even to his simplest needs. Some never walk or talk and require total nursing care like that accorded a baby. Others can learn varying degrees of self-care skills. There are approximately 6 of these children in Seminole County.

YEOMAN FIRST CLASS J. T. Buchanan has signed on for six more years of service with the U. S. Navy. He will remain at his present job, as leading yeoman of the Readiness Division on the Staff of Commander Heavy Attack Wing One, until normal rotation to sea duty.

Freedom Riders Plan New Efforts

By United Press International

Supporters of the "Freedom Rider" movement sought today on several fronts to breathe new life into the attack on deep South segregation laws involving interstate travelers.

A federal judge in Montgomery, Ala., was expected to rule on a motion asking that an order barring "Freedom Riders" in the state be lifted.

Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., who issued the original decree last month, will listen to arguments by anti-segregation organizations who claim "Freedom Riders" are merely exercising their constitutional rights and should not be barred from Alabama.

In Washington, the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) scheduled a news conference to announce the itinerary of more riders who will leave the capital later this week for points in the South.

CORE spokesmen said a biracial group of about 30 riders would make the trip.

Six more "Freedom Riders," all of them white and led by a blonde coed, were arrested Sunday in Jackson, Miss., when they tried to obtain service at a lunch counter in the "colored" waiting room of the Greyhound bus terminal.

CORE spokesmen brought to 110 the number of riders taken into custody in Jackson at bus, train and plane terminals since May 24. About 84 riders were still in jail, refusing to pay fines on breach of the peace charges.

The group had arrived from Nashville, Tenn., the jumping off point for rides into Mississippi since they were banned in Alabama. Four members of the group are students at the University of Minnesota.

They were led by Claire O'Conner, 22, St. Paul, Minn., the only girl in the group. She and four others tried to order food at the Negro lunch counter and were arrested.

Later, Eugene John Uphoff, 19, of Minneapolis, walked into the waiting room struggling with a guitar. He conceded he was with the "Freedom Riders" and was also jailed.

The others were identified as Marvia Allen Daddow, 29, Minneapolis; Robert M. Baum, 19, Excelsior, Minn.; David Kerr Morton, 21, Jackson, Wyo.; and Zev Alcony, 23, Minneapolis.

Uphoff told police he brought along the guitar to "whistle away" his time in jail. Officers confiscated it under a policy of allowing no metal objects in cells.

Electrical Workers Union president James B. Carey told a mass biracial rally in Washington Sunday business and industry were "the real and final enemies" of "Freedom Riders."

Carey, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Depart, urged "big business and industry lobbies" to stop supporting Alabama Gov. John Patterson and Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi.

He said organized labor, "with exceedingly tiny exceptions," backs the movement. But he told the rally "not one word of protest" has come from the National Association of Manufacturers or the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Carey was referring to the rioting which occurred last month in Alabama and the mass arrests of riders in Mississippi.

Barnett said he was "too busy with other things" to comment on Carey's remarks and another in which the union leader said Barnett's career depended upon racial segregation.

"I had about 40 planks in my platform," Barnett said in Jackson, "segregation was just one of them."

Trujillo Plot May Have Started On 'Top' Level

CUADRU TRUJILLO (UPI) — The latest confession in the assassination of Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo indicated today that the plot reached into the highest levels of the government.

The government announced Sunday that Maj. Gen. Jose Roman Fernandez, former secretary of Defense, had confessed to complicity in the conspiracy which led to Trujillo's ambush slaying May 30.

A government spokesman said Roman admitted he was one of the men who plotted against the 59-year-old strongman, but he denied being the "mastermind" of the ambush. The spokesman gave no further details.

Roman was dismissed from his cabinet post following his arrest last week. He is held at San Isidro air base, and a government spokesman said he would be interrogated and investigated further.

Before his dismissal as defense secretary Roman had been next in legal line for the presidency. The vice presidency has been vacant since Vice President Joaquin Balaguer assumed the presidency last August.

The fact-finding commission from the Organization of American States planned a visit to La Victoria prison today to interview political prisoners suspected of being involved in the assassination plot.

The commission visited the interior Sunday to interview persons held in "protective custody" because they were related to persons accused of having been connected with the plot.

Kennedy Revoked Ike Cuban Plan, Miller Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican National Chairman William E. Miller has charged that President Kennedy revoked an Eisenhower plan "to have the Cuban freedom fighters protected by American air power."

Miller, a congressman from New York, said that Kennedy had made a "tragic mistake." He made the statement Sunday on a TV-radio program with Sens. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and Joseph S. Clark, (D-Pa.).

The GOP chairman was the first prominent member of his party to state that former President Eisenhower had approved use of U. S. air power in plans for the ill-fated Cuban invasion.

Scott said that when Kennedy "failed to support the Cubans with American naval forces, American supplies and American air cover, that's when the invasion failed."

Clark replied that Eisenhower's plans would have violated international treaties and involved "going in with American troops."

He said Kennedy was "following a carefully laid out plan by the Eisenhower administration which, if he had gone all the way with it, would have gotten us all in dutch in Latin America."

"We would never have gotten out of the dog house," Clark declared.

Kennedy has publicly taken full responsibility for the Cuban invasion fiasco. Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall drew GOP criticism when he said the Cuban invasion plans were conceived during the Eisenhower administration.

Senate Nears Passage On Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate was almost certain today to pass a $6 billion catch-all housing bill carrying most of what President Kennedy requests.

But it was to undergo another buffeting by detractors. Chairman Harry F. Byrd of the Senate Finance Committee leveled one of the strongest assaults on the measure in remarks prepared for the final debate.

The housing bill is one of the "big five" on President Kennedy's list of priority legislation. It was closed to further amendments after administration forces beat back a major challenge in a lengthy session last Thursday.

Byrd, (D-Va.), said the federal government had been subsidizing or underwriting the housing industry and its allied activities for more than 25 years, with a total outlay by next June 30 of nearly $120 billion.

"I regard the so-called housing bill now before the Senate as the worst bill on this subject ever proposed during the more than a quarter of a century of legislation in this field," he said.

Byrd said the measure embraced all of the objectionable features in both housing bills of 1959 which former President Dwight D. Eisenhower vetoed as too "extravagant" and "inflationary."

Among other things, the bill includes renewed authorizations for urban renewal, loans for college dormitory construction, public housing, FHA-guaranteed home mortgages, and housing loans for World War II and Korean War veterans.

Other congressional news: Elections: Sen. William Proxmire planned to introduce a proposed constitutional amendment today to set up a national primary for nominating presidential candidates. The Wisconsin Democrat said in a prepared Senate speech that "the national conventions are not representative of the rank and file of party members and a majority of the American people want a greater voice in choosing the nominees."

Nuclear: Sen. Henry M. Jackson, (D-Wash.), chairman of the Congressional Atomic Weapons subcommittee, called for resumption of underground weapons testing by this country "at the earliest possible date." Sen. Stuart Symington, (D-Mo.), former Air Force secretary, said one reason for Russia's reluctance to get down to business on a test ban agreement might be that the Soviet Union has a "tremendous unilateral advantage" in developing new nuclear weapons.

Aid: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee resumed hearings on President Kennedy's controversial $4.3 billion foreign aid bill, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., conceded Sunday that there had been waste of the aid sent to Laos and Korea, but he said aid to Korea should continue. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, (R-N. Y.), appealed to fellow Republicans to support the President's aid program with traditional bipartisanship.

Desert pocket mice can live without drinking water. Feedings on dried seeds only, the little rodents flourish for months in arid sand. Their long acclimation to the desert enables them to produce sufficient water through chemical changes of starch in their digestive tracts.

Vigilante Bomber Set To Arrive

The long awaited arrival of the A3J Vigilante bombers is now scheduled for the last part of this coming week.

Capt. F. G. Edwards, commander of Heavy Attack Wing One, has been in constant touch with North American Aviation and now plans to depart for the Columbus plant on Thursday. He will test flight the first Vigilante that is released to Atlantic Fleet custody and then bring the sleek mach two bomber to Ramey Field. The latest information is that there may be as many as four A3J's at Columbus that are ready for flight and destined for Sanford. If so, they will join on Captain Edwards and arrive here as a group.

From then on, additional A3J's will come off the production line and be flown here at regular intervals.

The economic impact of the basing of these newest of the nations operational bombers here will be considerable. Already they have brought over 40 North American Aviation employees and additional military personnel who have been busy conducting ground training and organizing base support equipment.

Each of the new planes arriving will bring more personnel. Besides flight crews, there will be additional mechanics, technicians, and test and evaluation personnel.

New 4-H Club Ends Year With Picnic, Program

The final general achievement and awards program of the year for North Orlando's 4-H Club was held in conjunction with a covered dish picnic at the Fire House on June 1.

All record books and projects of the club, in its first year, were on display.

Marge Stevens, junior leader, was program announcer for Debbie Davis, Sandy Shivers, Iris Greanya and Christine Ginchereau, who modeled garments from their sewing project and for the girls who recited the 4-H Cheer, read the 4-H Creed and sang the 4-H Song.

Taking part in these recitations were Patsy Harville, Debbie Kreck, Bonnie Stodden, Myrtle Harris and Martha Dean.

Mrs. Anton Kreck, adult leader for the club, welcomed parents and guests and introduced County Agent Cecil Tucker who spoke on the advantages of 4-H activities in which parents and children, together, use their hands and their minds.

He congratulated the North Orlando parents for their enthusiastic response to the program and for their aid in making the county's newest club so successful during their first year. The agent also complimented the Village boys and girls on the condition of their record books.

Correct Men's Wear

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am so aggravated I can hardly write this, but I am going to get it in the mail and pray it makes your column if it's the last thing I do. Today I was invited to my FOURTH shower for the same girl. First her mother gave a linen shower. Then her sister gave a kitchen shower. Then her first cousin gave a greenback shower requesting $3 toward the honeymoon. And now her future mother-in-law is giving a "grocery shower" to stock her cupboards.

If I go to this one it will cost me $18. And I am not through yet because I have to buy a wedding present.

I thought relatives were not supposed to give showers. Has etiquette changed? And is this shower racket as disgusting to others as it is to me? Please print your answer in big, bold type, Abby. I am sure it will interest many others, as the season is upon us again.

BLD WHITE

DEAR BLED: Etiquette has not changed. Some people have. It is entirely improper for a relative to give a shower. It should be a gathering of a girl's closest friends to surprise the bride-to-be with tokens of affection. The gifts should be within the means of each invited. The bride's mother usually determines the number of showers given. It is up to her to avoid duplications of the invited guests, since close friends are invited to the wedding, which requires another gift. In my opinion, to request "cash" is crude and nervy. There is only one way to stop this shower racket. Decline politely.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a father who puts himself first in everything? He turns to the channel HE wants to see on television, and nobody in the family can say a word. He buys candy and ice cream for himself and keeps it in the refrigerator and makes other members of the family BUY it from him.

He never misses church on Sunday and sits in their row where everyone can see him. Do you think a person like this belongs in church? QUIET WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Can you think of anyone who needs it more?

DEAR ABBY: Last Saturday I left the hot water on and my father made me pay him a dollar. This morning HE left the hot water on, and when I told him he owed me a dollar, he gave me a dirty look. Don't you think he should pay ME a dollar? I am 9 years old and only get 25 cents a week allowance. MISS TREATED

DEAR MISS: Your father should have paid you a dollar. But don't buck authority.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Half of me is saying yes and half of me is saying no": Tell me which half is saying what and I will tell you what to do.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

A successful career woman concedes that she doesn't really like the aggressive side of her personality that she has had to cultivate to get along in the highly competitive business world.

"I just hope I can continue to be able to put that personality aside at the end of each work day," she says, "because I certainly would hate for it to take over completely."

That, of course, is the big problem of the successful career woman who also wants to be a successful woman-at-home, able to maintain two different personalities.

For the qualities that make a successful businesswoman aren't the qualities that make a successful woman.

The businesswoman who gets to the top and stays there has to be hard-headed, crisply competent, able to make quick decisions, able to back up her judgments with convincing arguments, and completely sold on her own ability.

Those are hardly the qualities that make a woman successful as a woman. For they are all qualities that the world long ago labeled "masculine."

So the woman who wants to have her cake and eat it, too—to be a hard-headed businesswoman during working hours and a much more gentle and gracious person when the work day is over has to be able to switch smoothly from one personality to the other.

Some women are able to achieve this quick change with remarkable success. Meeting such a woman away from her office you think, "What a charming woman." See her at work and you think, "How efficient she is."

It can be done—but it isn't easy. For unless a woman is mighty careful—that hard-driving aggressive personality takes over completely.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Today's hand illustrates a new bid in the Jacoby-Smith system. North's three no-trump response shows from 11 to 15 high card points and from 18 to 17 supporting points for South's spade opening.

Looks crazy, but if you will make it a point to read the next several articles in this column you will see that this bid greatly simplifies bidding problems in any standard American system. I cannot claim originality for it. Someone else (I don't know who) invented it, but Curtis and I and my son, Jim, have refined it and made it an important part of our system.

South four club bid was a mild slam try and since North had the maximum for his first bid North took over. His Blackwood four no-trump asked for aces and his five no-trump for kings.

The only lead that would give South a problem was a low diamond. Against the trump opening South just drew trumps; led the

Gable's Son Is Baptised

ENCINO, Calif. (UPI)—"It's a pity his father couldn't be here," said Mrs. Clark Gable at the baptism of the late king of Hollywood's only son.

Gable died last fall, before the birth of 11-week-old John Clark Gable.

John Clark was christened Sunday at St. Cyril's Roman Catholic Church before a crowd of movie stars that included Marilyn Monroe, Fred Astaire and Ray Milland.

The infant wore a gown fit for a prince at the ceremonies. The fancy garment was created by fashion designer Don Loper out of white lace and given to the Gables as a gift. Loper said it was "the kind of christening dress that England's Prince Charles wore."

KEEPING BUSY JACKSONVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—When Police Chief Sam Bollinger returned from vacation he found that policemen on off-duty time had repainted the police station and city hall. The officers also repainted the top of the chief's desk.

HO-HUM summer again, appear to be the thoughts of this long-haired pooch named "Teddy Bear." Not only is he dreading the heat from the summer months, but his playmate, two-year-old Sharon Heustess starts the mutt with teeter-totter lessons. Cheer up Teddy, maybe she'll come across with some ice cream later.

Rooney, Hackett--A Pair Of Cut-Ups

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
Hollywood Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—"Welcome to the land of wise quacks," the producer named Red Doff said as we tripped over a flock of ducks. The ducks were tripping over light and sound cables laid down for a movie titled "Everything's Ducky."

"There's nothing like a mad comedy," Mickey Rooney said, brushing feathers off his navy uniform.

Then Buddy Hackett brushed the feathers off his navy uniform and said: "You should have seen Rooney in a scene yesterday. Hilarious! He was so funny I felt like Dean Martin."

Service comedies were certain to become increasingly preposterous because, as you know, no one in Hollywood hardly ever thinks of saying, "Say when," and when they do no one ever responds.

The latest sounds as though it was conceived by writers who spent the weekend at the bottom of a swimming pool filled with a 10-to-1 Martini mix. When they emerged, at low tide, they had with them a talking duck named Scuttlebutt. The duck, they insisted, had a genius IQ and a penchant for quoting Longfellow. Give the talking duck a pair of lame-brained Navy buddies assigned to a rocket launching site and—well, that's the picture and I must say the plot is as fuzzy as a duck.

"This story," Rooney explained, "is about a talking duck with the mind of a physicist. He likes Martinis (we know it), can recite Longfellow and is the personal pet of a scientist who is about to launch the first American into space. When the scientist dies, the duck provides the missing formula for the space probe."

Hollywood, in other words, was getting a man into space before Cape Canaveral and the Russians with the help of a talking duck.

They were pretty far out already. The company, with Don Taylor helping plant the corn as director, was shooting on location at a San Fernando Valley restaurant built around a little lake which is always stocked with hungry trout. Guests can catch their own dinners. It's relatively simple because the trout are thicker than flies.

"There are so many fish," Hackett said, "that you will notice they swim in a traffic control regulated by a traffic CARP."

After hearing more about the plot of "Everything's Ducky," I realized Buddy was under quite a strain and probably even running a fever. He had just played a sailor in a Pat Boone comedy.

"I re-enlisted for another picture," he explained. "Two good reasons for my re-enlistment were on the set. From left to right they were husky-voiced singer Jonnie Sommers and Liz MacRae, a southern drawl blonde from North Carolina. They play Mickey and Buddy's girl friends."

"Liz gives me my first screen kiss," Buddy beamed.

Rooney, who has been kissed before, went on with the story. "It's a howl," he said. "We win a bet at a bar when the duck quotes Longfellow. We get thrown out and a drunk complains, 'Nobody likes Longfellow any more.'"

Buddy picked up the story. "The duck wants to play tennis but I talk him out of it by telling him, 'You'd look so stupid jumping over the net with those short legs.'"

The boys WITH the nets better hurry.

Civil Liberties Disappearing Under New ROK Junta Decrees

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Three weeks ago a military junta seized power in the Republic of Korea and, like a Korean-type Don Quixote, began riding off in all directions.

What followed was a bewildering set of decrees issued almost daily and a growing impression that this revolution, as others before it, regarded color and laughter as proof of decadence.

As too often with other revolutions, civil liberties disappeared under the oppressive attitude that big brother knows best.

Thus under the puritanical eyes of the 30 generals and colonels who toppled the regime of Premier John M. Chang on May 16, dance halls have been closed, students ordered into austere uniforms and, in a heavy blow against ancient prerogatives of the Korean male, concubinage forbidden.

As decrees followed upon decrees, public bulletin boards in the streets of Seoul became the daily centers of public attraction.

Among the Korean people there was confusion, among American officials who first rejected the new regime a cautious wait-and-see attitude for what would happen next.

So far it seemed mainly a government of good intentions. It had distributed some rice to the poor.

It tore down one of Seoul's worst slums with the promise that its people would be relocated in decent dwellings.

But there still emerged no plan to meet the basic problem. Among South Korea's 25 million people, more than 2.5 million were unemployed. Another four million were under-employed.

Korea, a nation once able to export rice, now had to buy it. United States doubts sprang not only from the junta's high-handed methods again civil liberties but also from its attitude toward the United Nations Command which has directed South Korean armed forces since the outbreak of the Korean War 11 years ago. The rebels were back on a promise to return 6,000 men to the Korean truce line.

Democracy is a scarce commodity in Asia and the record shows that military regimes seldom relinquish control voluntarily. Therein lies another of the U.S. doubts about the new government in Seoul.

Essegian Deal Pays Off For Tribe

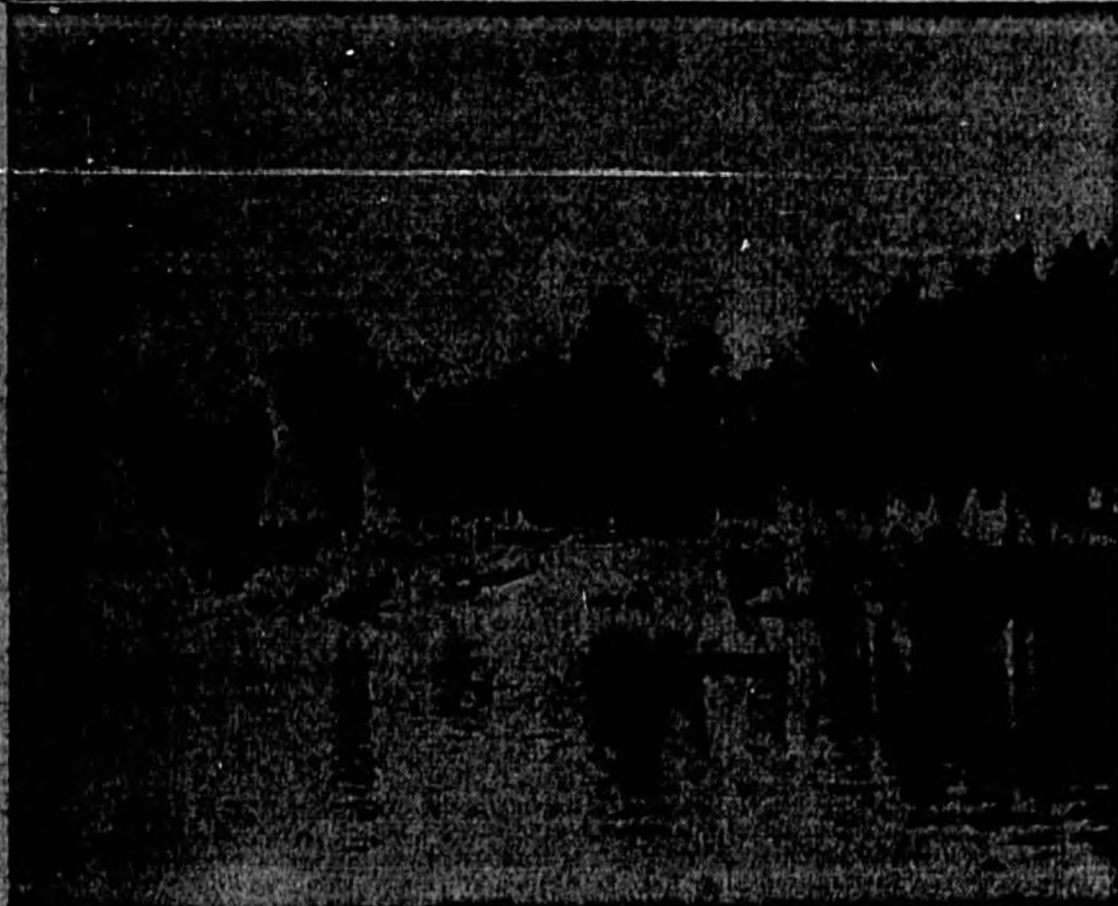

United Press International
What's the rap on Chuck Essegian?
Nobody seems to know, although everyone agrees he never seems able to hang on with any club too long.
The 28-year-old trillity outfielder for the Cleveland Indians has been with six major league clubs already, including three different ones so far this season.

Some say Essegian isn't too fast, others say he's not much on defense, but no one says he can't hit. Least of all the delighted first place Indians. They can thank him personally — and they did — for increasing their American League lead to 1½ games.
Essegian got into the opener of Sunday's doubleheader with Kansas City as a pinch runner for Jim Piersall in the fifth inning. He hit a pair of homers in his only two times up to drive in five runs and lead the Tribe to a 7-3 victory.

Then he doubled off loser Bud Daley in the ninth inning of the nightcap, driving in the winning run in the 4-3 triumph.
What hurt the A's most was that they were the ones who traded him to Cleveland last month for a minor league pitcher. Essegian now is hitting .382.

Willie Kirkland homered for the Indians in each game, helping Dick Stigman score his first victory of the season in the opener and Barry Latman his sixth straight without a defeat in the nightcap.
The Detroit Tigers held on to second place with an 11-inning 7-6 victory over Washington in the nightcap after the Senators won the opener, 7-4, the New York Yankees took two from the Los Angeles Angels, 2-1 and 3-1, the Baltimore Orioles beat the Chicago White Sox, 8-3, but dropped the nightcap, 7-1, and the Boston Red Sox also split, defeating the Minnesota Twins, 8-2, and then losing, 10-5.

GETTING UP SAIL FOR RACES held on Lake Monroe Sunday between members of the Orlando Sailing Assn. and the Daytona Beach club, these boats were among the entries in the event which the organizations hope to make an annual event here. The craft were launched at the Seminole Blvd. ramp and sailed a triangular race course on Lake Monroe. (Herald Photo)

Kiwanis Still Paces Babe Ruth League Play

Rotary's Babe Ruth league baseball team broke into the win column last week when George Mice's charges beat Civitan 5 to 3 and CPO 4 to 2. However, the Bay Thomas and Glen Price's Civitans came back on Friday to down the Rotarians, 7-4.

League standings remained the same as those of the preceding week as the eight teams battled back and forth in the scrappy scramble for the pennant.
One of the highlights of the week's competition was Ernie Belmeister's no hitter pitched against Lake Mary, when he and his Kiwanis team mates took them, 11 to 0.

Results of the past week's games: Rotary 5, Civitan 3; Kiwanis 11, Lake Mary 0; Oviedo 5, Elks 2; Rotary 4, CPO 3; Elks 4, Civitan 1; Lake Mary 15, Shrine 3; Shrine 10, Oviedo 3; Kiwanis 7, CPO 0; Civitan 7, Rotary 4.

Schedule for this week: Mon.—Lake Mary vs Civitan, Rotary vs Oviedo; Tues.—Elks vs Shrine, Kiwanis vs CPO; Wed.—Civitan vs Kiwanis; Thurs.—CPO vs Oviedo; Fri.—Elks vs Rotary, Lake Mary vs Shrine.

Standings after Friday's games:

Grand Prix Regionals Slated For Local Kart Track In July

Announcement was made last week by Chester Kart Track president, Edward B. Mims, that the Grand Prix Kart Club of America will hold their Southern Regional competitions at the South Brevard County track on the weekend of July 1, 2, 3 and 4.
The meet which, according to Mims, will bring together the finest collection of top flight drivers ever to appear at a karting track, will determine the South State Championship and the regional state regional champion.

Drivers in the championship division will receive points on the Grand Prix team schedule.

There must have been about 100 yards from the Lemon Bluff camp.
A big cypress tree was blown off the banks of the St. Johns River close to the Lemon Bluff camp of Mr. and Mrs. John Crim and it rested in the water, partially submerged.
One day a fisherman cast a plug under the branches and, whammo, a seven pound bass!

So many large bass have been hooked from under the old tree that now people come to the camp and ask "where is the tree the hurricane blew down," Mrs. Crim said.
She recalls at least a dozen bass weighing seven pounds or more which have been landed from under Donna's cypress victim. In fact, she has seen some of them caught—the tree is only

One always fascinating season of the year is the time from May to July when the big sea turtles come onto Florida beaches to lay their eggs. Turtle watching has become a beach pastime as the lumbering loggers move to spots above the high tide mark and dig their holes.
Conservation agents keep a constant patrol along the beaches to protect the turtles from poachers, since turtle meat and eggs bring a high price from some who have no regard for conservation efforts.

The agents also are engaged in what amounts to guided tour type lectures to the many curious people who come to watch the turtle digging routine.

Suppliers Take Mixed Loop Lead

Powell's Office Supply grabbed the lead from Appleby's Restaurant in The Thursday Nile Mixed League, after this weeks play, holding first with 15 wins, while Appleby's dropped to second spot with 14.

Pryor's State Farm Inc., Steinmeyer Roofing, and Sanford Mfg. all are in third with 13 wins, followed closely by DeBary Pharmacy, Union Park Pharmacy and Pierre's Mfg.

George Conklin was high in the league this week, with a 545 series, with Dot Powell leading the women with a 529.
Bill Harris and Woody Wilson picked up the 3-10 split twice each to convert their apares, while Bill Foster, Ken Stone, Harold Appleby, Harry Pentecost and Jerry Farella all made it ones. Doris Nicholson got the 3-10, Beverly Grabarkiewicz made the 3-7, Ron Robinson 4-5-7, and Chester Fawley outdid them all with his pick up of the mean 9-7.

SALT LAKE CITY—Presidents of the eight schools making up the Skyline Conference voted unanimously to dissolve the league next year.

Bass fishing has been pretty good, although the St. Johns water level still is way down, Mrs. Crim said.
Biggest one caught last week was a 15-pounder landed by J.R. Clark, 2101½ Magnolia Ave., Sanford. The catch was registered for entry in the Ted Williams Bears Roebuck Fishing contest, for which Lemon Bluff is one of the official weighing stations.

$900,000 School Bonds Are Sold For Seminole

The State Board of Education today sold more than $9 million in school bonds for 12 counties, including $900,000 for Seminole County.

A total of seven firms submitted bids and two firms bought the whole batch. Halsey Stuart and Co. and Associates of New York bought nine of the issues and Arch Roberts, St. Petersburg, the other three.

The Halsey Stuart firm bought the Seminole issue at the interest rate of 3.675 per cent.

The money from the sale of the bonds will go for a new Bear Lake Elementary School and for a new Junior high school next to South Seminole Elementary School.

Final plans on both schools were approved at last week's school board meeting. Work on the schools are expected to start in August.

The Bear Lake school will have 20 classrooms and the Junior High School will have 28 classrooms.

Special Session Might Be Called

State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. said today there is a "liberal chance" for a special session of the Legislature if there isn't enough revenue to finance needed state construction placed in second priority.

The 1961 Legislature provided little money for construction in first priority appropriations and Cleveland said "the amount might not take care of us."

At Bradenton, State Sen. Ed H. Price Jr. said he has been opposed to a special session because "I've said from the beginning the job should have been done in the regular session."

However, he said he "certainly would agree to a special session" if it were necessary to get enough money to finance necessary second priority construction, including additional buildings for mental institutions.

Price said there was sufficient tax legislation proposed "during the regular session to take care of needed construction of state buildings." But he said he didn't think Gov. Farris Bryant, who has insisted new taxes were not needed, would call a special session.

West Consults On Berlin Paper

PARIS (UPI)—The Western Allies are consulting on a reply to Russia's demand that they get out of Berlin, French diplomatic sources said today.

They said the consultations among France, Britain, West Germany and the United States likely would lead to a high-level Allied meeting on the crucial issues, although no final decision was expected for some time.

French diplomats said Moscow's public release of the documents headed by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to President Kennedy in Vienna represents the "first phase" of a long-term maneuver in Soviet cold war strategy.

The document on Berlin and Germany, they said, was merely a reiteration of Soviet policy statements since 1958. The document on a nuclear test ban and disarmament was seen as demonstrating Soviet firmness in the demand for a three-way veto system.

The Communist East Berlin newspaper Berliner Zeitung said today the Allies have six months to accept the Soviet plan to end Western rights in Berlin or face unilateral Soviet action. The newspaper indicated the six-month time began when Khrushchev handed Kennedy his memorandum.

New Well Pump To Bolster City Water Supply

The city commissioners moved Monday night to give Sanford's water supply a big boost when they awarded the low bid from a Tampa firm for a well pump at a cost of $18,686.

The pump will be connected to the newest test well on Hwy. 17-92 and according to Engineer William Leffler will increase the city's water supply by "approximately 39 percent."

Leffler told the commission Monday that the new pump would increase the supply for a 24 hour period from 3,600,000 to 5,000,000 gallons.

The low bid was made by Southern Water Contractors. Leffler asked the board to approve the low bid pending completion of a check of the firm's performance ability.

In other business, the commission denied a request from Sanford Junior High School teacher Zeb Dickson to sell his book, "The Common Sense of Segregation, door-to-door."

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham led the opposition to granting Dickson a selling permit, saying "we don't want anything to stir up any misunderstanding among our people."

Office Building Request Okayed

A request by Sanford architect Hal Harris was approved by the Casselberry Board of Aldermen Monday for a zoning variation on property located on Hwy. 17-92 between the Community Methodist Church and the Sinclair Service Station.

Harris, whose request was accompanied by preliminary sketches for the office building he plans to build on the property, asked that the presently required 25-foot highway setback be varied in order that show windows of his building could be reasonably close to the highway.

Parking spaces, the architect advised, would be in back of the building.

Agreement Seen By United Press International

Two Florida legislators, both citrus men, said today they were confident the governor and agriculture commissioners could work out a mutual agreement with Georgia about breeder fees to prevent such retaliatory action as has been proposed by that state.

Georgia agriculture officials Monday proposed a 10 cent tax on every container of Florida fresh fruit shipped into Georgia in retaliation against fees totaling $225,000 annually that Florida imposes on Georgia broilers.

Citizen Threatened Arrest, Commissioner Avery Says

District 3 County Commissioner James P. Avery told the commission today that he was "abused" and threatened with arrest when he and road department officials, tried to clear a dedicated park on Bear Lake Road.

Avery said that George Bunnell, who owns property on Bear Lake Road, ordered Avery off the property claiming squatter's rights.

Avery said he refused to get off the property and said "it will take a legal court order to stop us from doing this work."

The commissioner stressed that "someone put up a barbed wire fence in the middle of the 30 foot piece of property which fronts on Bear Lake Road."

Avery said road crews attempted to tear down the fence and clean up the place and Bunnell threatened to swear out a warrant. "I was defending the public right to use the park and will continue the fight by all means to retain title to the property," Avery said.

A delegation of property owners along Bear Lake Road appeared before the board today wanting clarification on rights of way on the road.

The delegation, headed by Bunnell, his son, Archie, and R. F. Loomis, said that they didn't want any work done on private property.

Avery said he has "suffered more abuse in two weeks while trying to clear rights of way on this road than in my entire life. "We are certainly not going to bother any private property, but this road was a confused mess when I took office," Avery said.

"We are now conducting a survey to show where the county line is and no work will start until we get an accurate survey," Avery said.

The property in question is on south Bear Lake Road near Bunnell Road.

In other business, the board deferred action on approving a trailer park on SR 434 west of Longwood.

The Board of Adjustment denied the use of the property and the board tabled action for two weeks pending further study by attorney Mack Cleveland Jr.

Hospital Board Has A Problem

This is the week that the board of trustees of Seminole Memorial Hospital will consider bids on the new addition to the hospital's building and facilities.

Original estimates of the cost of expansion was in excess of half a million dollars and when the hospital was approved for a Hill-Burton grant of federal funds to match its own money, financing did not appear to be any problem.

The picture may have changed slightly now since costs of construction, materials and equipment is so changeable these days. The hospital board may be faced with the possibility of revising its original hopes for the addition. The cost factor might necessitate omission of some facilities which the expansion was planned to include.

We hope the board will not have to decide on such a matter. But one thing the trustees should keep in mind is that the hospital is at the stage where it must have a resident physician, an intern program and the resulting improvement in emergency services.

Certain criteria must be reached in the way of facilities, number of patient beds—in other words, size and scope of operations—before the hospital can have what it needs in the way of more complete services.

We hope the trustees will not make any adjustments in their plans which will jeopardize the hospital's ability to proceed with expanded staff and services.

We hope the cost problem won't put the board in too cautious a mood when it comes time to decide that we must have the best possible hospital, regardless of the costs to be met.

The way things are going, costs are bound to be higher at any future time than they are right now, so there is no way to clear the economy hurdle. Now it the best time for action.

Casselberry Hears Fire Building Plan

Casselberry's Board of Aldermen, meeting Monday in the Women's Club, disposed of a heavy agenda in less than three hours.

First item before the board was the report from developer Hibbard Casselberry on progress of a previous agreement to build an extension for the fire department on the present Town Hall in exchange for an adjoining lot.

Casselberry's building plans, drawn some time ago, were displayed and explained by Paul Bates, fire chief and newly elected alderman.

On vacation, in addition to Chairman Lytle Swope, is Alderman Ben Evans who is expected to return late this month.

Reports from Roads Supervisor Graham Wilson, prepared with cooperation of board attorney Kenneth McIntosh, advised that as far as the town is concerned, it has no issue with Lillian McDonald over encroaching road rights of way on her property.

Since he is not prepared to sign an affidavit stating that the town had maintained the road for the past four years, Wilson said, he assumed the property question would have to be settled by the beauty parlor operator and Hibbard Casselberry, developer of the area.

The roads chairman also submitted a 13-page advisory report requested by the board at its May meeting, which contained recommendations for preventing inadequate and inferior road construction by future subdividers.

Mrs. Lillian Baisel, town clerk, will keep a copy of the complete report on hand at the Town Hall to be available at all times. Individual copies, to be prepared within the month, also will be available upon request, plus a small handling fee.

John Ladd, proving an able substitute in the absence of Chairman Swope, presided at the meeting which, was the regular June business session.

The new addition, to be erected east of the present Fire Hall, would be a 16-foot structure running the depth of the building with a 12-foot entrance door. Bates explained, adding that it would make an excellent location for the new fire truck which now has to maneuver through an eight-foot entrance.

Informed by Casselberry that he was "ready to go to work when you are ready," the board decided to table action on the matter until it has a full quorum seated.

Bryant Requests $18 Million U. S. Waterway Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant asked Congress today to make available more than $18 million for Florida public works projects, including enough to start the long-awaited barge canal across the state.

Bryant testified before the Senate and House public works appropriations subcommittees. He was the first southern governor to make a personal appeal in behalf of his state's projects.

Bryant was accompanied by Secretary of State Tom Adams, Atty. Gen. Richard Erwin, Comptroller Ray Green, Treasurer Ed Larson and Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner.

The state's congressmen appeared with Bryant and later testified on behalf of projects in their districts before the House subcommittee.

Bryant's request included the amount requested by former President Eisenhower in his budget and also additional asked by President Kennedy when he revised the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The key addition made by Kennedy was a request for $18,000 to start planning on the Cross-Florida Barge Canal which will run from Yankeetown on the west coast to Jacksonville on the east coast. It would provide a barge route from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic Ocean.

The biggest item requested by Bryant was $13 million for the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District. Bryant said the Corps of Engineers could use $14.5 million, but he did not make an extra effort to have the subcommittee approve the larger amount.
