War Vets Of State Department Riled At Legion Censure

Brand As 'Dispicable' Critical Resolution: Say They're Fed Up With Untrue Jibes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of war veterans in the State Department declared today they were "fed up" with "dispicable" criticism of the department and its employees. They branded as "dispicable" a critical resolution adopted by the American Legion in New York Wednesday.

Adrian Fisher, department legal chief, acted as spokesman for the group during a news conference in the State Department press room. Fisher was introduced by Press Officer Michael McCormack as an aerial navigator during World War II.

McCormack said the veterans went to his office this morning and reported they wanted to put out a statement on their reaction to the Legion resolution.

The resolution called for the immediate removal of Secretary of State Acheson and others in the department "found wanting in the proper activation of their duty to their country."

Fisher said in a statement that "strong resentment" of the Legion's action also was felt by other veterans. He released two telegrams to Secretary Acheson. One from the Ames, Iowa, Post No. 37 of the Legion, expressed regret at Acheson's ouster. The other came from Hugh L. McArthur, past judge advocate general of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and a member of the Legion Post 5 at Tampa, Fla.

The 24-man group said it was speaking for the "vast majority" of 7,000 veterans in the State Department and foreign service.

The veterans' statement noted that the American Legion said its "patience is exhausted" with State Department leaders and declared that the patience of State Department veterans also is exhausted.

"For several years now," the statement said, "A NUMBER OF INDIVIDUALS AND ORGANIZATIONS IN THIS COUNTRY HAVE BEEN KICKING THE EMPLOYEES OF THE State Department."

Vandenberg Avers Atom Retaliation By US Unstoppable

DETROIT (AP)—Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg declared today that "the means do not exist for stopping an American atomic counter-offensive" and that such means likely to appear in the near future.

The Air Force chief of staff said he was led to this conclusion through "all the available evidence, based upon our own experts and continuing data and further reinforced by the experience of friendly air forces."

In an address written for the Air Force Association Preparedness Day luncheon, Vandenberg stressed these points:

1. It is economically possible now to use new-type atomic weapons against all types of targets—not merely the larger, more extensive targets.

He said this fact is "well known not only to ourselves but also to our enemies."

"But," he added, "let us not delude ourselves into believing that fleets of the 'fat boy' airplanes will bring the economy we all desire."

"The right solution, we are convinced, lies not in masses of relatively cheap atomic aircraft, but rather in the careful choice of the aircraft most effective for the jobs that must be done."

2. The increased effectiveness of atomic weapons, plus the fact that they are being produced in greater numbers, "may yet save us from a costly re-enactment of the basic strategy of the previous World Wars."

Pravda Attacks Ike's Speech On Commie Threat

Calls General "Most Energetic Propagandist Of Hate"

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda gave its top editorial position today to a blistering attack on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's speech this week before the American Legion convention in New York.

"The organ of the Soviet Communist Party, in the first Russian comment on Eisenhower's speech, termed the Republican party spokesman the 'most energetic propagandist of the hate, contempt and enmity of the American aggressors and warmongers.'"

The editorial was one more in a series of increasingly bitter Soviet press attacks on the general Democratic Party Nominee Adlai Stevenson has been attacked similarly in the past.

The editorial appeared in the two right-hand columns of the top Soviet paper, a key space used for editorials only when they treat of major events in the field of foreign relations.

Pravda told its Russian readers that Eisenhower announced his intention of "including in the American empire Soviet Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia, as well as Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Albania, Eastern Germany, Eastern Austria, China, the Mongolian Peoples Republic and the Korean Peoples Republic."

"Fascists of Hitlerite persuasion ought to open their mouths in amazement," Pravda asserted. "Their appetites were enormous enough, but even they did not decide to include among their 'flesh and blood' the Mongolian, Chinese and Korean peoples."

Eisenhower in his speech on Monday said the United States should tell the Kremlin "Never shall we rest content until the tidal wave of aggressive Communism has receded within its own borders."

(Enumerating the Soviet satellites in Europe and their populations, Eisenhower added that "the conscience of America can never know ease until those peoples of our own blood and our own way are restored to the society of free men.") Referring to Communist conquests in Asia, the general said: "Most of these peoples of the Far East have been friends of America. . . . The conscience of America shall suffer self-reproach until those peoples have opportunity to choose their own path."

Justice Bureau Is Charged With Dilatory Action

Detour War Fraud Is Cited By Committee As Typical Example

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators today charged that the Justice Department has been "most dilatory" in some prosecution cases and cited a Detroit war fraud case as "a typical example."

A committee subcommittee held a number of documents dealing with the Norman E. Miller and Associates, Inc., case, which came up in 1944 and was closed in 1948 without prosecution or recovery of government funds.

Miller and Associates was indicted July 11, 1941, on six counts alleging fraud in that they had "knowingly and fraudulently charged in direct time as direct time for his employees in performing under certain government contracts."

In addition to the indictment, Miller and Associates was fined $36,000.

"The fact that in its early phases the case was described by the Justice Department as one of the best of the department's handling of war fraud cases," the committee charged, "action was delayed through various devices for over six years of which time both suits were dropped."

Miller told the committee that his staff after a review of numerous cases in Justice Department files, decided "it is to the best interests" that it demonstrate publicly how dilatory the department has been.

1. The government asked dismissal of the indictment against Miller in October, 1950 six years after it was returned because it had been "adversely affected with age."

2. The FBI and departmental attorneys recommended repeatedly that the case be disposed of.

3. The defendant frequently changed attorneys, and each of them appeared to have some influence with prosecuting officials.

4. The defendant occasionally refused to answer pertinent questions.

5. Inferences can be drawn that special consideration was given to defense attorneys, even to the extent of supplying them with an FBI investigation report on the case.

6. The defendant, at one point, offered to settle the case and actually deposited $7,500 with the department, the deposit was returned and he paid nothing on the $36,000 claim.

7. The defendant's net worth was (Continued on Page Six)

Plane Carries 41 Off Transport To Sadness At Home

SALEM, Mass. (AP)—A Coast Guard motor plane today plied a soldier off a troop transport in the Atlantic to help speed his return flight to the United States.

The 2-engine seaplane, the second to attempt the mission, flew three hours and 15 minutes to the aid of the Navy transport Gen. Alexander Patch, about 500 miles northwest of New York, and about an hour later began its return flight to the Coast Guard Air Station at Salem, Mass.

Heavy Atlantic waves Thursday crippled an Air Force plane and to pick up Lt. Sgt. Charles E. Buggy and fly him to his home, Nebraska, Neb., home.

There one of his two children was dead of polio, his other child lay ill of the same disease, and his wife suffering from a serious spinal ailment—faced critical surgery.

The first mercy plane failed successfully on the water near the transport but collided with a lifeboat lowered from the ship to secure a line between the two craft. The plane's propeller was damaged.

Two of the transport's crewmen were reported injured after plunging overboard in an apparent effort to aid fellow seamen in the lifeboat.

Buggy, a World War II veteran who enlisted in the Army early this year, has been stationed in Germany.

His 4-year-old son Charles Jr. died two days ago at Sioux City, Ia., hospital.

His 6-year-old daughter Kathleen is still a polio patient at the same hospital. Her condition was listed as good.

And surgeons said they hesitated to operate on his wife unless he was at her bedside.

The Buggys formerly lived in Richmond, O., and moved last May to Winnebago, where Mrs. Buggy's mother resides.

FBI ADDS TO FACULTY
LAKELAND, Fla.—Florida Southern College has announced addition of two faculty members.

They are Dr. Charles A. Woodbury Jr., Allston, Mass., associate professor of psychology; and Richard H. Salazar, Atlantic City, instructor in the Art Department.

Korean Capital Hit By Mightiest Blow Of War By Bombers

Clayton Powell Reverses Stand; Will Back Adlai

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Negro congressman who once said he expected Negroes to boycott the Democratic national ticket, said today after conferring with Gov. Adlai Stevenson that "we are now ready to back him to the limit."

Powell, New York Democrat, and a dozen other Negro leaders visited the Democratic presidential nominee today.

Powell said Stevenson promised to make "a strong pronouncement" on the question of segregation in Washington.

The congressman told correspondents after the conference: "We are entirely satisfied on the racial civil rights issue. We are ready to back him to the limit."

Powell said the group came to see Stevenson to have him "spell out" his position on the civil rights and other issues.

He said following Stevenson's speeches here Thursday that they were thoroughly satisfied.

Powell's earlier statement that Negroes might boycott the Democratic national ticket was made picked Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama as their vice-presidential candidate.

"It is death," Powell said at the time, "if personally I feel that the feeling of Negroes all over the 'convention floor' today."

Powell said then that it was impossible to sell Sparkman "to the people of Harlem as it would be for him to tell me as a candidate for senator in Alabama."

Powell was asked today about his attitude with respect to Sparkman.

"I have no attitude until I see him," Powell said.

He said he expects to see Sparkman in Washington next week.

A prominent Negro leader, Channing Tobias, who had a long conversation with Stevenson today, said he was "very much impressed" with the candidate's views on civil rights. Tobias raised questions as to whether he would support Stevenson.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Massachusetts Republican who helped direct Eisenhower's pre-nomination strategy, hit back today at Stevenson's stand on the filibuster.

The Stevenson denunciation of the filibuster, said Lodge, was a "pious, insincere piece of double talk."

Lodge said the Democrats had controlled the Senate for four years and had "done nothing about it."

He told a New York news conference that Eisenhower has expressed himself very strongly in favor of curbing filibusters and added that the general "is for every measure that will promote civil rights without defeating its own purpose."

Stevenson said Thursday that if elected he would use whatever influence he might have "to get the Senate to change its rules under which filibusters have killed civil rights legislation."

Today, Stevenson conferred with Bernard Baruch, a long-time adviser to Presidents who currently is out of favor with the Truman administration.

Stevenson told newsmen later "there was no discussion of politics at all. We talked mainly about inflation and some other economic matters."

And Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada, a Democrat who frequently does not agree with the administration, announced that he would support Stevenson for the presidency.

Tropical Storm Swirls Toward Atlantic Coast

MIAMI (AP)—The erratic Atlantic storm developed into a full fledged hurricane again today as it swirled toward the Atlantic Coast with increasing speed and intensity.

Aircraft checking the course of the storm located the center near Latitude 28.0 north and Longitude 76.5 west, or about 280 miles east of Miami this afternoon and tonight.

A report from the hurricane hunting plane to its headquarters at Jacksonville Naval Air Station said the eye was well defined and about 20 miles in diameter. The pilot, Lt. Col. Hardeburg, reported winds of 80 knots or a little more than 90 miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau said the Upper Florida East Coast, Georgia and South Carolina were in the path of the hurricane if present.

Storm warnings were displayed from Vero Beach, Fla., north to Wilmington, N.C.

The advisory warned all interested to stand by for further advance and possibly hurricane warnings this afternoon and tonight.

The Weather Bureau said Hurricane Able was moving west north west, about 10 miles an hour, with stronger winds estimated at about 75 miles an hour.

"It has shown a slight increase and has a more definite center," the bureau said.

"Further intensification may occur during passage over the Gulf Stream and movement is expected to continue at about the present rate in direction with a tendency to curve more to the northwest as it approaches the coast."

The storm had contained hurricane force winds 75 miles north but the center was not well defined. Winds decreased somewhat Thursday.

The Weather Bureau said the approach to the Gulf Stream, a broad current 50 to 60 miles wide flowing northward off the Florida Coast, might lead to further intensification.

1,403 Sorties Flown By Three Waves Of Land And Carrier Based War Planes

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Warplanes from four Allied nations today hit Pyongyang, capital and largest city of Communist North Korea, the mightiest blow of the war. Three waves of land and carrier-based fighter bombers bombed and strafed the big Red nerve center in a record 1,403 sorties, or individual flights, the U. S. Fifth Air Force and Navy said.

Black smoke poured from the factories, supply dumps and troop billets at the outskirts of Pyongyang, which was forested of the roads by radio and leaflets.

A returning U. S. pilot said the city "was blowing up all over."

Planes from three U. S. aircraft carriers off the east coast of Korea flew 210 sorties over the Red capital.

Some 420 planes poured 4,000 gallons of flaming gasoline and 10 tons of high explosives on more than 100 Communist targets during the attack. The planes dropped 5,000 rounds of machine-gun bullets on the area, the Air Force said.

Today, the biggest single air blow of the war had been July 11, when more than 500 fighter bombers and Superfortresses poured 1,400 tons of bombs on Pyongyang during 1,063 sorties.

Today's first wave of jet and prop-driven planes battered Communist targets in the city and suburbs, which pilots said threw up a heavy curtain of flak. Other waves concentrated on stockpiles, barracks, industries and airfield used to bolster the Communist war effort.

Pyongyang Radio was off the air, and monitors in Tokyo said it still had not come on for its regular broadcast tonight.

The U. S. air said a jet-driven Pyongyang Radio from the air (Continued on Page Three)

Disaster Chairman Tells Of Things To Do If Storm Comes

DETROIT (AP)—Disaster Chairman A. B. Peterson, Jr., today announced the Red Cross rules for the protection of life and property during hurricanes.

Even though an immediate concern was felt here this morning over an alert had been received by the Red Cross from the Miami Weather Bureau regarding the present disturbance in the Atlantic east of Florida, Mr. Peterson pointed out that with the storm season approaching, citizens of Sanford and Seminole County should be advised of the best means of self protection during any hurricane.

Many fatalities during hurricanes are due to carelessness and a lack of understanding of the danger the danger.

He pointed out the following rules to be observed during or prior to such storms:

1. Keep radio on and listen for official warning. Get a number of a telephone. Have ready available phone numbers of doctor, fire department and emergency agencies.

2. Board up windows or install storm shutters. Use good lumber and fasten securely.

3. Check on items that might (Continued on Page Three)

Gangster Settles $900,000 Tax With 11 Percent Offer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first six compromise tax cases examined by reporters under a new Bureau of Internal Revenue policy disclosed today the government had accepted settlements totaling $1,643,205 less than original assessments.

The biggest was the case of Jack "Greasy Thumb" Guzik, once connected with the Al Capone organization in Chicago. He settled tax interests and penalty claims of almost $900,000 for $100,000 in 1942.

Another settlement, dating from July, 1945, involved the late William D. Boyle, who, the bureau file said, was affiliated with the Pendergast machine in Kansas City, Mo. After his death the government accepted a settlement from his estate of $135,000 for claims totaling $687,000.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government, peeling the "secrecy" label from compromise tax settlement cases, says it accepted $100,000 from Jack "Greasy Thumb" Guzik as full payment for $900,000 it had claimed he owed in taxes and penalties.

The 11-cent-on-the-dollar settlement by Guzik, once connected with Al Capone's organization in Chicago, was one of several disclosed Thursday by the Bureau of Internal Revenue as it out into effect a new "open book" policy.

Under the new policy, all cases settled on or after Aug. 20 with taxpayers for less than the amount of taxes assessed will be made public. Those before that date will be disclosed upon specific requests naming the taxpayers involved.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue said Guzik was granted a compromise for three reasons: Doubt as to whether he owed the full amount; inability of investigators to determine what he was worth; and "reduced earning power."

For one thing, agents could not or did not get to him to talk about his worth, and could get no information from other sources.

Guzik's name has long been linked with the old Capone gang and other Chicago crime syndicates. The bureau said he once treasurer of Capone's estate. Guzik described himself in his return as a partner in a brokerage

Disaster Advice

Slow away: garbage cans, garden tools, signs, porch furniture, awnings, etc. Remove debris from property. Check roof and make any temporary repairs with heavy canvas and batten strips. Remove and store TV and FM cross members and antennae.

(6) Provide a 2-3 day supply of canned and non-perishable food. Fill containers with water for drinking and cooking. Sterilize bathtub and fill it with water.

(7) Prepare first aid kit and keep handy, also a tool kit would be advisable for making emergency repairs.

(8) Park vehicles in garage if possible or in walled areas offering protection from flying debris.

(9) Be sure that a window or door can be opened on the side of the house opposite to the one facing the wind.

(10) If the center of the storm passes directly over, there will be a lull in the wind from a few minutes to half an hour. Stay in safe place for the wind will return suddenly from the opposite direction.

(11) Residents of coastal areas should seek high ground.

(12) Do not touch or remove fallen wires nor touch objects upon which they rest. Notify utility service departments.

(13) If you leave your home for a shelter, open master electrical switch, turn out all open flames and burners (leave gas pilot lights on). Have doors of home securely closed but unlocked.

(14) Keep calm.

Mrs. Daisy Knox, who is serving as Red Cross Chapter executive secretary for less than the amount of taxes assessed will be made public. Those before that date will be disclosed upon specific requests naming the taxpayers involved.

Guzik's name has long been linked with the old Capone gang and other Chicago crime syndicates. The bureau said he once treasurer of Capone's estate. Guzik described himself in his return as a partner in a brokerage

Red Cross disaster headquarters will be at the Sanford Armory, or as an alternate location, the St. Johns Realty Co., on North Park Avenue.

Chapter officers will assist during an emergency and include Raymond Lundquist, chairman; Sidney Ives, vice-chairman; Roy Mann, secretary and John Fitzpatrick, treasurer.

Albert Fitts and H. Ewing Deaf are disaster vice-chairmen. Local subcommittee chairmen include Forrest Breckenridge, Roy Holler, Dr. Barks, Mrs. Knox, Howard Jones and Walter Holly.

In event of storm disaster, the Red Cross will survey damage, provide for rescue and evacuation, give medical and nursing aid, and provide emergency food, shelter and clothing to disaster sufferers.

Guzik's compromise settlement was made in 1942 after his earlier offers—one was as low as $5,000—had been turned down by the government.

The claims against Guzik consisted of income taxes from 1924 through 1928, and for 1935 plus interest at 6 per cent and penalties. The exact total was $900,000.

The bureau makes many tax compromises—in 1951 it made 1,300 such settlements—but in the past has withheld them from the public.

Recently, however, President Truman issued an order authorizing the new policy after the American Society of Newspaper Editors and some congressmen demanded more publicity in such cases.

MILK PRICE HIKE MAYBE

TAMPA (AP)—The Florida Milk Commission has under consideration a bid by Tampa area milk producers for higher prices.

The producers didn't ask any definite hike, but an auditor for 44 of them testified Thursday they needed 64.66 cents a gallon on the average to break even.

They now get 57 cents a gallon while the distributor gets 22 cents a quart for pasteurized milk and the retailer charges the consumer 34 cents. There was no mention at Thursday's hearing of how much the distributors' and retailers' prices might be boosted.

Chief opposition to any increase came from James B. Turner, himself a dairy operator, and Mrs. Frank Kerner, a housewife.

Turner said he could make enough profit at the present scale. Mrs. Kerner said milk here is the highest she has found it from coast to coast.

HEADS OF C. OF C.

The Negro woman is accused of fatally shooting Dr. C. Leroy Adams, physician and Democratic State Senate nominee, on the night of Aug. 3 during a dispute in his office over the size of her bill.

A hearing on a change of venue motion was continued until today when John L. Cogdill, Jacksonville defense attorney, told the court Thursday he was circulating affidavits for signatures to show the woman could not get a fair trial in Suwannee County.

Fast Australian Meteor jets and U. S. Sabre jets, flying protective cover, tangled with 10 Russian built MIG 15s in three brief dog-fights, but inflicted no damage.

In accordance with U. N. policy of holding down civilian casualties, Radio Seoul warned of the raid in advance and leaflets were dropped on Pyongyang, urging the anti-aircraft batteries surrounding the targets.

The mud-caked battle front continued relatively quiet for a week. Rain has kept the ground front a quagmire and fighting has been light across the 155 mile front.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE
But God has used frail men to turn the world upside down.
Atomic energy is in comparison a child's toy. Add God's power to any man and you have a world-
moving force.
And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God—Luke 9:15.

Beware of highway accidents
over the Labor Day weekend. The National Safety Council estimates that 480 will meet their deaths this weekend on the nation's highways.

The American Legion calls on President Truman to fire Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Don't worry
the people are going to take care of that situation, come next November.

The people of Mississippi voted this week on the question of whether to call upon the state legislature to repeal prohibition. The people voted to continue buying their liquor from bootleggers.

It is difficult to find anything to choose from in the recent speeches
of Eisenhower and Stevenson before the American Legion convention.
They both apparently believe in the same things, see eye to eye on almost everything. The main question is not what they want to do, but who can get the job done better.

How a middle aged woman swindled a bank in Minneapolis, N. Y., out of $470,000 was brought to light
the other day by the prosecuting attorney of Nassau county. She forged a series of notes with fictitious names and got away with it for a while. But Thursday she was arrested on charges of grand larceny and forgery. It is a great mistake to take things that don't belong to you, even when it seems
you are not going to get caught.

Lammont duPont who died the other day left an estate of $75-000,000. But the government will get 61 percent of the total. But even with that, and even with the big cut it gets of all our large estates, and the big income taxes it levies on all millionaires, the government cannot raise enough money to make ends meet. It is difficult to see how it could tax the rich any more than it is. And the obvious conclusion is that it will have to tax the little bit more and more,
or else cut its expenses.

With all Seminole County schools
opening for the new term Monday,
we can expect bigger enrollments than ever. More new residents are moving here each year, and many of the Navy people also have children who are entering our schools.
Besides the big crop of war babies
is just beginning to make itself felt in school enrollments. It has been over 25 years since any new school buildings were erected in Seminole County and it is about time to giving some thought to additional facilities and how to get them.

General Sumner Lowry, one time
head of the Florida National Guard, has announced his intention of voting for General Eisenhower.
He says: "I am an ardent friend of a line of South Carolina people who never thought of doing other than voting the Democratic ticket,
but my conscience will not let me
vote the present national Democratic administration any longer. I feel that four more years of what we have been having for the past 20 years will mean the end of our country."

The 1952 Democratic platform
is based on Civil Rights as the 1948 platform, and less forthright about it. The 1948 platform plainly called for FEPC, while the 1952
platform doesn't mention FEPC.
It is a fact that it is for federal action to secure "the right for every citizen for employment."
The more time, Governor Wallerstein doesn't seem to have any more to say with "Proclaim your rights."

Get Out The Vote

We congratulate the Junior Chamber of Commerce on its stand in favor of a new hospital. We congratulated the Jaycees in 1938 on the same stand. We hope that we are closer to the construction of a hospital today than we were then.

There is no rational or humane ground for any opposition to this project. The inadequacy of the Fernald Laughton Hospital has been universally recognized since 1926. The possibility that the Fish trustees may build a hospital here does not alter the concrete reality that we must have a hospital whether they build it or not.

The coming bond election seems to be one of those rare occasions when the public is presented with a clear decision between right and wrong. Outright opponents of the hospital must take the position that it is better that the sick and injured of this County should receive inadequate and improper care than that the tax rate should be raised a few mills. This position seems to us morally indefensible. We do not believe that anyone will take it.

There are, however, two other eventualities which might prove even more deadly to hopes for a hospital than open opposition. One of these is that public apathy which once before put an end to an effort to finance a hospital here with county bonds. We would remind the freeholders of the county that unless 60 percent of them vote, the election will be void.

However, we believe that this year this obstacle will be overcome. There seems to be a deep and genuine interest in the construction of a hospital on the part of wide sections of the public, and they seem determined to get out the vote.

We have already witnessed signs, nevertheless, that the third eventuality might yet destroy the plans for a county hospital. We have heard men who sincerely agree that a hospital must be built argue bitterly over the amount of bonds which ought to be issued. We have heard others demand assurances as to the future action of the Fish trustees before the election is held.

We have heard another, saying he was in favor of the hospital, nevertheless regret that the published plans provide for only one floor instead of three, and say that the hospital would be so long it would take a "damned kitty cart" to get from one end to the other.

We suppose that before the bond issue is finally laid before the public we shall hear virulent disputes as to whether the camellia bush should be placed upon the right side of the entrance or upon the left.

It may well be that the position of the camellia bush is of some importance to the beauty of the hospital in the years to come, but we do not believe that its position, or any of these other questions, are of such importance as to risk the continued inadequate hospitalization of the sick, the injured and the dying of Seminole County.

We ask that everyone who wants a modern hospital get out and support it, whatever he may think of the specifications or however much or little he may believe necessary to pay for it.
Because the bond issue is "not to exceed $700,000" it does not necessarily follow that all of the bonds will have to be issued. It simply means that they will be available for issue if they are needed to build the hospital. We do not believe that our County Commission will spend a dollar more of county money for the hospital than they must. But we do believe that they ought to spend whatever is necessary.
This is an age of worthy causes, but there is no cause
under whose banner the citizens of this county can enlist
which is worthier than the Seminole County Hospital.

Atlantis Search

A German clergyman scientist says that an expedition
he headed has located the long-sought "Lost Atlantis." He maintains that a diver working with his party discovered a wall, a palace and a temple of the legendary kingdom on the bottom of the North Sea of Helgoland.

The ancients wrote of the kingdom of Atlantis, of its military might and the splendor of its civilization. Plato, basing his statements on the word of Egyptian priests,
placed the kingdom being just beyond the Pillars of Hercules. Atlantis, according to the myth, dominated the Mediterranean until the sea rose up and swept over it and covered it forever.

The story of the clergyman, Dr. Juergen Spanuth, sounds fantastic, for few people really believe today that Atlantis was ever more than the creation of the mind of an imaginative writer. Yet the fabled city of Troy, whose glories were chronicled in the writings of the ancient Greeks, was discovered by archaeologists who followed the directions set out in Homer's epic poems. Schliemann's Troy was not where he first thought he had found it. He unearthed another, older city first. This wall of Dr. Spanuth's in the North Sea may be one of another island, with Atlantis still to be discovered nearer the Pillars of Hercules.

The discovery of Atlantis would be an important find.
It is in the nature of man to seek out his past, to examine it and study it, to learn from it if possible a better way to live in the present and prepare for the future.

Children's Books

Are children's books mediocre? Clifton Fadiman, radio and television artist, writing in Holiday, is of this opinion.
"The overall impression is of high-level, conscientious, blameless golden mediocrity. The moralistic literature of the last century tried to produce small paragons of virtue. How about our own urge to manufacture small paragons of social consciousness?" He thinks that children's books are apt to give more information than their readers can digest.

Fadiman has mentioned the books of the last century.
Today one thing is certain — modern volumes are infinitely more attractive in binding, illustrations and readability of text. They may be mediocre; is this not true of most books for adults also?

TIME FOR A CHANGE!

Business Men Are Putting On Drive To "Get Out" Vote

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen are putting on their biggest drive ever to get out the vote.
Most go to great lengths to avoid favoring any candidate—
but they stress the need for a big turnout. All give as their aim: Serving the public interest.

Some concentrate on their own employees. Others reach out through newspaper and radio advertising to urge the lazy citizen to register and vote.

Others use their products: Loafers of bread and packages of cereals bear the message. Home department stores set up booths where officials can register shoppers.

And this time businessmen are going after the young fry, hoping the kids will light a voting
fire under their parents.

Some of the more modern efforts
The American Heritage Foundation, sponsoring a national non-partisan register and vote campaign, reports that buttons reading: "My daddy is voting on November 4, is yours?" are handed out by the Quaker Oats Co. of Flora, Ill., to an employee's children, when he registers. The firm
also runs a get-out-and vote drive
in each of its 20 district plants.

The Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich., is utilizing a field usually associated with space cadets, cowboys and sports heroes. It is shipping corn flakes in packages covered with non-partisan appeals to citizens to vote. The package has the words: "Vote for the future."
Helpful hints on voting regulations
and statistics on past elections.
This should impress the old folks, but think what it could do for the young fry, accustomed to looking for cereal packages for guidance. In many a household junior may start pestering dad to elect Buck Rogers, Captain Video or the Lone Ranger for President.

Dear Mr. Dean:

The Orlando Sentinel of August
5, 1952, quoted you as saying that Governor Warren pleads for a truce with Florida newspapers in these words: "If these vicious and

telling their shabby lies about me,
I will forgive them for all they

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

In spite of all the screaming
and hair-pulling over the proposal to construct a toll turnpike or freeway to move traffic rapidly and safely between Florida metropolitan areas, we might as well make up our minds that such highways will eventually be built.
If Florida is forward-looking and alert, she will begin now to prepare for such a future development by carefully studying and analyzing the progress of other states in direction, and giving serious consideration as to how the best interests of the state may be served in the securing of rights of-way, type of construction and method of financing.

The day of haphazard, planless,
will-o-the-wisp highway construction is rapidly drawing to a close.
Progressive states know this and are thinking in terms of long-range rather than yesterday or today in squarely facing motor transportation problems.
Millions of tourist dollars come to Florida each year from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania
and other states where motorists
have learned the advantages of modern freeways, and the longer
this state delays the construction of them the less attractive we will become in the eyes of the motoring tourist.

While opposition to super-highways comes primarily from bypassed communities and business
located along toll-free arteries,
and is understandable, a study of the effects of freeways in other states reveals that by-passed towns do not suffer as anticipated
but find the removal of through traffic helpful both in reducing accidents and permitting easier,
freer movement of local travel.

The Wall Street Journal recently made a survey of turnpikes and revealed some interesting information. Because of the greater use of the New Jersey turnpike
than was anticipated, indications are that the bonds can be paid off in 20 years instead of 35. It was originally estimated that 8-000,000 cars would use the road
annually; instead, it is carrying 15,000,000, and if it continues to increase a wider road will be necessary.

The accident record of the state has been sharply reduced by the removal of slow moving traffic from congested areas and local parking situations are improved.

Within two years, the main section of the world's longest and most modern express highways

will be completed in New York State which will be known as the New York Thruway. 41 miles have already been completed, and when entire completed it will extend from New York City to Albany, Syracuse, Buffalo and on to the Pennsylvania state line.

Covering a total distance of 535
miles, it will permit travel safely and comfortably at 70 miles per hour with 1000-foot forward vision
at all points and an uninterrupted traffic flow for its entire record breaking length. It will be the most modern highway in existence, built of the finest materials
for long life and minimum upkeep
cost.

Does anyone believe that millions of motorists accustomed to traveling at 20 miles per hour
without encountering a stop light,
school zone, business section, hospital area or an intersection for over 500 miles, is going to be content to crawl along on antiquated highways that meander through town and village with all the inconvenience of intersections, traffic jams, and road hazards?

This amazing new super-highway, the road of tomorrow, will invite the motorists to visit the state and drive is length in extreme ease and safety. Opposing traffic streamers are separated by a grass wall varying from 20 to 100 feet or more in width, so that motorists are, in effect, traveling on a one-way road. Grades have been eliminated, vision is perfect,
headlight glare is eliminated.

The roadways itself will be as safe as the most advanced highway engineering construction and landscaping can make it. The pavement is 6-inch Portland cement concrete on a 12-inch granular base, finished to provide a tire-gripping, non-skid surface,
making the road easy to see at night and in bad weather.

The New York Freeway Authority was empowered by law to sell bonds and other securities in the amount of $500,000,000 to finance acquisition of rights-of-way,
construction and operational costs.
This will be returned at no cost to taxpayers from tolls—a tariff of 1 cent per mile for passenger cars and 3.3 cents per mile for trucks. Residents of the state wishing to do so will be permitted to purchase season tickets for use of the highway for the period of one year for $10.00.

Governor Warren, Chairman McKethan and advocates of such highways for Florida are not nuts
or dreamers—they are thinking ahead and will be proven right.

Shopping Around

With DOTTIE

It's no secret that school is in the air, when you take a walk along First Street and see all the happy faces of the children as they get their new outfits. It is always fun for the kids, but it can be rather hectic for the parents if they aren't sure where the best buys are to be found. With that thought in mind, I did a little shopping around.

For the nicest costume jewelry, made right here in Sanford, of semi-precious stones, look at those on display at the CAMERA AND GIFT SHOP. Pretty and summery and just the thing for the cottons being worn at this time. For those of you going away to college for the first time, a camera for as little as $7.50 will keep your new endeavor a cherished reality for years to come. If you have a camera hobby, then you will be interested to learn that you can also get cameras for as much as $300.00, but always remember that they have the camera men looking for at the price you want to pay.

Something different for the back-to-school party? Place lights on round mirrors will really make your party glow, and to center it all a lovely new mirrored bowl to reflect the flickering of the lighted candles. It is so beautiful and so useful, it can be yours for such a small amount that I won't even quote it here, but you can go in and look at it at the Camera and Gift Shop on Magnolia.

They are having a sale on everything at PURCELL'S and that means real budget savings for the entire family. There's just one thing this, the sale ends Saturday, so you will have to hurry if you want to get in on the many wonderful bargains.

I saw a complete rack of cottons for only $2.49, and each one was worth much more. You could have your choice of sun-beds or regular dresses in many different patterns and colors. Now is the time to get several for around the house.

If you are looking for odds and ends, such as bathing suits, shorts, halters, sport shirts, blouses, children's dresses, or one of a hundred of other items, well, you can stop looking now because they are at Purcell's on West First Street.

Have you ever wondered what you could give the special man in your life, that would be different, good looking and useful? At PERKINS and SON'S I saw a smart 2-in-1 reversible belt, and it comes in brown and blue or brown and green, and is also smart in that it costs only $3.50.

While talking to Mr. Perkins he pointed out to me, stretchy feature of the belt, which insures a perfect fit because it gives up to a full inch.

Attractive too is the cellophane package that it comes in, in every feature of the belt, which insures a perfect fit because it gives up to a full inch.

The college girl will find it mighty comfortable and it is cushioned "Polly Debs" narrow heel. Look for it in this paper and also see it at Ivey's on First Street.

The small fry are taking the spot light at PENNEY'S this week with loads of pretty clothes just like those worn by big stars. She will be proud as punch, and with good reason when she dons one of the many cotton dresses, or a corduroy skirt and cute cotton blouse.

Something new in corduroy skirts will please the youngsters too, and that's the many patterns that are now on display. Until recently you could only find solid colors, but now you can choose from checks, plaids and novelty stripes.

Penney's is also proud of the many little girls' coats with the big girl look that they are showing this season. You can choose now and use the convenient lay-away plan, assuring a wider selection of styles and colors to choose from. Shop regularly at Penney's and save.

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—What a difference a hit song makes. At least so changed the life of Ross Bagdasarian. He's the guy who was responsible for "Come Ona My House," which was driving the nation buggy a year ago. Yes, his cousin, William Saroyan, also got credit for the composition, but his contribution was reportedly slight.

Anyway, the song completely altered the life of Bagdasarian, whose career had long wavered between show business and grapes. Ross-Let's call him by his easier first name—is a member of that tribe of Americans of Armenian ancestry who have settled in the warm San Joaquin valley, principally around Fresno. It is a happy story, full of the joy of living. He might have stepped out of a Saroyan play, which indeed he has.

The lad abandoned the family trade—grapes—to follow his famous cousin. Ross appeared in two Saroyan plays on Broadway, "Time of Your Life," in which he played the pin-ball man, and "Love's Old Sweet Song," with Walter Huter. Then came the war.

"After I got out of the service, I decided I would settle down in Fresno and raise grapes," he recalled. "It so happened that the first crop came in the worst grape season in 32 years. I lost everything. So I decided to come to Hollywood. My wife now says 'Thank you, grapes weren't good that year'."

With a wife and two kids to support, Ross began pounding on music publishers' doors. He had written "Come Ona My House" in years before, but had never been able to interest anyone in it. He still had no luck.

"I tried it with nearly every singer," he said, "but they all turned it down. Peggy Lee and Dave Barbour said it was too late in the summer to put it out. Frank Lane said it was too late. Still nothing happened. Some time later he learned that Kay Arman had recorded the song, and so had a new singer named Ramsey. Then things started popping."

"My luck changed," Ross said. "In the past year, I've had two hit songs (the other 'What's the Use,' recorded by Johnny Ray) and acted in six pictures."

Ross, who is currently playing a landlocked sailor in "60 Saddle Creek," said the film resulted from his fame as a song writer. His life has changed in other ways, too.

"When I used to peddle my songs to publishers, they'd treat me like dirt," he said. "I've turned an opinion of a song, they'd say, 'Who are you?'"

"Now I'm ushered in like a celebrity. And if I say something about a song they listen attentively and say, 'Oh, you're so right!'"

THE CUTAWAY—In a camel-hair coat for a Claire McCordell suit for fall and winter 1952-53. The slim skirt of brown tulle is all pocketed at the hips. A red flannel shirt is tucked down the front with a waist tied hip band.

It's ridiculous, I'm no different from what I was before 'Come Ona My House' was published. He said he also receives many scripts from hopeful songwriters. "I just got 11 songs from a kid from Michigan," Ross said. "He said he had been in New York three days and couldn't get in to see a publisher. All I could tell him was to be patient. It took me 10 years."

Although Ross is thriving in his present profession, he hasn't gotten his old one. He manages to get the word "grape" into the lyrics of every song he writes.

Justice Department

8. The defendant "bribery" entertained witnesses who had appeared against him in the grand jury proceedings and "actually converted" at least one; and

9. That FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover complained of tactics by defense attorney to delay prosecution, strongly implied at least attempted bribery, reported that political pressure was being used and urged an early disposition to avoid embarrassment to both the FBI and the department.

The committee turned to the war fraud phase of its inquiry after hearing charges that Justice Department officials interfered with a tax scandal probe.

The decision to take up the Detroit case came after ranking members of the subcommittee lambasted Justice Department officials for trying to "whitewash" a tax case inquiry by a "Louis grand jury" early in 1941.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) told newsmen:

"This effort at a whitewash of a smelly situation by the grand jury is a disgraceful and patriotic perversion of an upright federal judge who could not stomach such shenanigans and by starkward band of honest men and women who comprised the grand jury."

"But it's still a shocking story of an attempt by the Justice Department, apparently from political motives, to throw a grand jury off the scent and prevent prosecutions of favorably placed law violators."

Earlier Chairman Chelf (D-Ky.) said he agreed with District Judge George H. Moore and the grand jurors that the Department of Justice had made "a deliberate attempt" to stop the probe, which ultimately led to the indictment and conviction of a friend of President Truman, James P. Flinnigan, the St. Louis income tax collector.

Chelf said Ellis N. Slack, an acting assistant attorney general who appeared before the grand jury before it came up with a report finding Revenue Bureau officials a clean bill of health, had "rendered a distinct disservice to law and order and the public good."

In a sworn statement presented to the subcommittee, the 74-year-old Judge Moore said the Justice Department apparently tried to block his investigation of the tax case handling and indicated that Slack was responsible for the jury's preliminary report which he denounced as "astounding."

Slack disavowed any connection with the report, denied he approved it although he called it "splendid" and said that he was sent to St. Louis only to explain why the Justice Department was not ready to present certain cases to the grand jury.

Fin was still trembling after he had downed it, however. A second drink accomplished equally negligible results. Finally the dentist let Fin swig the rest of the bottle, then said, "I'm sure you've got your courage at last, haven't you?" "That I have, me boy!" he roared, "and I'd like to see the blank-blank dentist who'd dare touch me teeth now!"

Blues End Season Tonight

Seminole Play In Cocoa; Lose To
Jax Beach Birds
And Mills, 10-5

Tonight the curtain will ring down on the Seminole Blues for the 1952 season. Sanford will be in Cocoa for the final game of the season, a "battle for what." Neither club has anything at stake or nothing to lose.

Cocoa is heavily favored in the cellar again this year about 50 games off the pace of DeLand and Sanford is a fixture for 5th spot. Manager Chuck Aleno will have to drive in 10 runs in the evening's fray in order to break the Florida State League RBI mark of 140.

George Kenia Chuck Aleno

Last night Aleno swatted in his 131st run of the campaign as the Blues dropped their final in Memorial Stadium to Jax Beach, 10-5. Tom Mills annexed his 20th victory of the year and only his second at the expense of the Blues.

The game was called off in the eighth inning of rain with Blues way out in front by virtue of their eight-run fourth inning. Bill Jones started on the hill and was charged with the loss. Louie Riera and Jorge Riera saw brief relief work.

Robb's Bakery presented the Blues with a large going away cake last night that weighed 30 pounds and depicted a diamond with the individual players and names placed at their positions.

The Blues will probably pitch Sonny Raper in this evening's final tilt against Cocoa. Raper, who started out so colorfully by winning the first game he pitched for the Blues via the shutout route and went on to twirl 11 consecutive innings before they scored on him, has been a disappointment of late.

About the only record the Blues might set for this season, or ninth inning, is if some player would hit a homerun to extend the Blues' record of 84.

Last night George Kenia and Chico Gonzales paced the Blues' 9-hit losing effort with two apiece.

Four Northern Teams Claim All Positions on Loop Dream Team

Complete masters of the Class D Florida State League during the regular season that ended tonight, the four teams that claimed all positions on the Loop Dream Team were DeLand, Jacksonville Beach, Daytona Beach, and Palatka.

Seventeen and one-half games ahead of Jacksonville Beach over the season thru Tuesday night, the Hats have set a new record in margins of victory, and regardless of who they open with tomorrow night at home, the records at league headquarters here indicate that it likely will be a short series as far as they are concerned.

Thru Tuesday night the Hats had won 10 of 18 from Daytona, 11 of 17 from Jax Beach, and eight of 17 from Palatka, with one game with the A's slated for tonight.

Jax Beach which Wednesday morning appeared to be the second place team over the season and host for the opening game of the second two-out-of-three games series, will go into the play-offs definitely the underdog.

The Sea Birds dropped 11 of 17 to the Hats, 10 of 17 to the Islanders who they meet tonight for a final regular season tilt, and 10 to 16 to the A's.

The Islanders hold nine of 17 wins over Palatka thru Tuesday, and like the Islanders, they have 27 and lost 25 games to teams they may meet in the play-offs.

Red Roberts, with eight wins in 10 decisions against the Sea Birds, and Thomas Stitts of Jax Beach with six wins in nine decisions against Palatka, look as the hurlers to watch in the

Teams Agree On Players' Share Of Shaughnessys
DAYTONA BEACH (AP)—The way in which the players' share of receipts from the 13th annual Florida State League playoffs will be determined has been agreed upon. Plans for the post-season games which get underway Saturday night were completed at a meeting of representatives from the DeLand, Daytona Beach, Palatka, and Jacksonville Beach clubs here Thursday.

Players will get their shares from the net receipts of the first two games of the preliminary series and the first three of the finals.

Club representatives agreed expenses would be limited to $100 a club for each game. This sum, plus taxes and 20 per cent for the league, will be deducted from the gross gate. Players then will get 50 per cent of the balance and the clubs will split the remaining 50 per cent.

Week-day playoff games will start at 8:15 p.m. EST and Sunday games at 1:30 p.m. It was also agreed a game will be played Sunday night at Daytona Beach. The Islanders' opponent will not be known until Friday night after the season's close.

DeLand, pennant winner by a large margin, will be host to one of the two preliminary series.

Ed Gasque Wins 20th Of Season For Daytona's
By The Associated Press
The Florida State League's final 1952 regular season games tonight will probably determine the third and fourth-place clubs in the overall standings.

The windup likewise can have a bearing on opponents for first-place DeLand and second-place Jacksonville Beach, host club in the play-offs which begin Saturday night.

The DeLand Red Hats, top-sportswriters over the entire season by a wide margin, will face fourth-place club and Jacksonville Beach will meet the third-place team. The overall standings—excluding from the second-half standings—determine the playoff line-up.

Jacksonville Beach became the second-place winner Thursday night when the Sea-Birds took a 10-5 decision from the Sea-Birds in a rain-shortened 5th inning game. The victory was the 20th of the season for Tom Mills.

The Daytona Beach Islanders beat the Palatka Athletics, 1-0, and moved into third spot a half game ahead of the Palatka club. Their positions could be changed by the outcome of tonight's contests.

The Islanders triumph marked Eddie Gasque's 20th victory of the season.

In the only other action Thursday night, DeLand beat Leeward, 6-1. The Cocoa-Oriente game was canceled because of rain.

DeLand Red Hats Are Favored To Win 13th Annual Play-Offs

SILVER SPRINGS — (Special)— DeLand, Jacksonville Beach, Daytona Beach, and Palatka—the "northern" teams in the Class D Florida State League—completely dominated the official and 13th annual All-Star Team for 1952, it was announced at league headquarters here today.

The pennant-winning DeLand Red Hats placed six men on the sportswriters giving two places to players from the other three teams.

Not surprising was the writers' selection of the entire DeLand infield, including the catching-handling man, in Red Roberts at first, Charlie Brewster at second, Jack Cade at third, and Bill Mosternsky at short, the league has had one of the best in the 13-year history of the circuit.

The outfield is made up of rookie Howard Tensow of Daytona in left, Ken Brasecke of DeLand in center, and Manager Red Trudaway of Jax Beach in right.

The writers were in almost full agreement that the loop's best utility role, while Bill Steinecke of Palatka was named manager.

Roberts, Brewster, Dunne, and Steinecke are not new to All-Star teams in the league. Roberts was chosen as the 1950 utility man; Brewster was voted the loop's All-star shortstop in 1950; Steinecke was Red-Hats placed six men on the voted All-Star catcher in 1946, and manager in 1947 and 1951, while for Dunne it was his fourth straight year to be chosen as the league's best catcher.

The team thus selected goes into the records of Baseball as the "official" All-Star team for 1952 of the Class D Florida State League.

Writers participating in the balloting were: A. V. Hurt Jr., of Jax Beach, Fred Green of Palatka, Benny Kahn of Daytona Beach, John T. J. Collier of DeLand, Robert Chittling Jr. of Sanford, A. V. Newitt of Leeward, Charlie Wadsworth of Orlando, and Grady McCallister of Cocoa.

Murray Asks Aid Of Industry To Repeal Taft-Hartley Law

CIO President Wants To Provide Guaranteed Annual Wage
For American Labor

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray said today that he would like to see the Taft-Hartley Act repealed and replaced by a law that would guarantee a minimum annual wage for all American workers.

In a Labor Day speech before the annual convention of the United Oil Workers International Union, Murray said he would like to see the Taft-Hartley Act repealed and replaced by a law that would guarantee a minimum annual wage for all American workers.

"That day will be hastened if industry will cast aside its prejudices and join with labor in asking the Congress to pass a law that is fair to us, fair to enlightened business men and good for the welfare of every American," Murray added.

After Murray's speech the delegates turned to union business which will occupy the greater part of their five-day convention. Later in the week two candidates for each of the various offices will be nominated by the convention. A referendum by secret ballot after the convention among the union's 110,000 members will elect the officers.

Elsewhere, John L. Lewis, Labor Day message to other labor organizations is that they may be destroyed if they don't unite.

But such labor unity isn't likely in the near future for a couple of obvious reasons:

1. Union leaders themselves.

2. There is no immediate peril to organized labor.

This isn't the first suggestion of its kind from the one-time rambling leader who may be mellowing in his later years. It was Lewis who led the CIO out of the AFL and later led his own United Mine Workers out of the CIO.

While Lewis is considered a fairly strong-willed man, the other big union leaders, William Green of the AFL and Philip Murray of the CIO, have displayed will of their own.

So the first question in any effort toward labor unity would be: Who'll be boss? Lewis, Murray, Green?

While Lewis' UMW has maybe 400,000 members, it's only a small outfit compared with the millions under Green and Murray in the AFL and CIO.

It's hard to imagine Lewis setting up an organization in which he'd have to say "Yes, sir" to Murray or Green.

It's hard to imagine them wanting to say "No, sir" to him.

Maybe when the big three retire or die, labor unity will seem more possible than it does now.

But just one rung below them on the labor ladder is a host of other leaders, the heads of the various unions making up the AFL and CIO.

They all, more or less, make good salaries and, being human, are jealous of their power and position. They might have something to say, too, about yielding anything they have.

The times don't seem favorable for labor unity.

The unions are not under concentrated attack or in danger of dissolution. Being prosperous they do not feel pressure to make the sacrifices which would be necessary to achieve unity.

Meanwhile, Lewis, Murray, and Green are getting older.

Automobile Wreck Is Reported Here

Only one automobile wreck was reported in the Sanford area during the week end. No traffic injuries have been reported by police.

Three automobiles were damaged shortly before 2:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when one car, a 1946 Nash sedan driven by J. C. Becker, Orlando, slipped on Park Avenue at the traffic light at Thirteenth Street and was hit in the rear by an Oldsmobile sedan driven by Joan W. Davis, Maitland.

The Oldsmobile in turn was damaged by a 1948 Chevrolet sedan, coming from behind and driven by B. N. Besseler, Green Cove Springs.

The Oldsmobile was estimated at $215; the Nash at $135 and the Chevrolet at $225.

Twisting Winds Wreak Damage In Virginia Area

Offshoot Of Tropical Storm Levels Two
Homes and Trees

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP)—Twisting winds whipped across Fairfax County early today, demolishing one house and unroofing at least two others in the Virginia area which borders Washington. No injuries were reported.

One automobile was tossed nearly 100 feet. Trees were uprooted, power lines were torn down and outbuildings shattered.

The Weather Bureau officials described it as a by-product of the tropical hurricane blowing itself off the South Carolina Coast along the Virginia border.

Property damage was reported that the winds dissipated after cutting through a 10-mile area. They were accompanied by heavy rains throughout Northern Virginia, the District of Columbia and its Maryland suburbs.

Hurricane Able, a small Atlantic storm as such storms go, swept in on the South Carolina Coast Sunday night. At its center as it roared through Charleston and down the coast to Beaufort, winds shrieked up to 100 miles an hour, leaving torn and twisted power lines and communication lines, devastated trees and signboards, and roofless houses.

The rain-swept highways, in some places inches deep in water, claimed two victims near Hardeeville, south of Beaufort. One death was reported at Beaufort itself, by the Civil Air Patrol.

Properly, however, was comparatively light, although no official estimate of the amount has yet been made.

The path of minor destruction ranged in a wide arc inland during the early hours of Sunday, whistling up from the coast toward Orangeburg and Columbia in South Carolina. Then, veering in a westerly direction, the diminishing winds and violent rains, hit at Greensboro, N. C., and passed through the Tar Heel Piedmont into the Danville, Va., area.

By that time, however, the hurricane had slimmered down to what the Weather Bureau calls an "active low pressure area," with wind velocity of about 25 miles per hour.

Tax Liens Filed Against Residents

Income tax liens totalling $334,000 were filed recently against three persons in this area, according to records in the office of O. P. Harnden, county clerk.

Named by the Bureau of Internal Revenue for unpaid income taxes are Harley Blackburn, sometimes known as Thomas Davis and wife, Lucille Blackburn to the amount of $128,000; Harvey Olsen, $126,000, and Connor Merritt, Negro, of Altamonte Springs, $80,000.

The government claims against Blackburn include unpaid income taxes and penalties due of $3,885 for 1946; $28,704 in 1947 and $85,444 for 1948. The liens are on property in Seminole County owned by the three persons named.

Meeting On Hospital Scheduled Thursday

A public information meeting to discuss the proposed Seminole County hospital bond issue "not in excess of $700,000" is slated for 8:00 o'clock Thursday evening in the Court House, Douglas Stratton, president of the Jaycee who are to sponsor the meeting, announced Saturday.

The purpose of the meeting, Judge Stratton said, will be to assimilate all the facts and information regarding the proposed hospital. He added that every citizen who is interested in the project is invited to attend the meeting and express his convictions, pro or con.

He said that he especially hoped that members of men's and women's civic clubs from Sanford and other cities in the county would be present.

3 U. S. Carriers Stage Greatest Navy Air Strike

Destroy Red Installations
within Sight
Of Soviet Siberia

By SAM SUMMERLIN
SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Three U. S. carriers, staging the greatest Navy air strike of the Korean War, struck within sight and sound of Soviet Siberia today in the U. N. air campaign of utter destruction for Red military installations.

The attack by 184 Navy bombers and fighters from the Boxer, Essex and Princeton hit an oil refinery and an iron works in northeastern Korea. The reports the Reds were so totally surprised they didn't even throw up flak.

The refinery was at Anju, 12 miles south of the Siberian border and northernmost air target of the war. The iron mine works was at Musan, across the Tumen River from the Chinese border.

The Navy said 70 per cent of the Musan works—including ore concentrating and hydrogen plants—was destroyed and the synthetic oil refinery at Anju was left burning with smoke rising four miles into the air.

U. S. Fifth Air Force Sabre jet interceptors—in a coordinated effort—rained north through Central Korea and drew Communist MIG-15 jets away from the carrier craft.

Sixty-two Sabre pilots aloft sighted 28 MIGs and peeled off for six fights. The Air Force said two MIGs were damaged.

The Navy said fighters and bombers from the three carriers teamed up in the afternoon with the heavy cruiser Bremerton in a heavy raid on Chongjin, North Korea's largest port only 50 miles from Manchuria.

The planes and the cruiser hammered an iron works, thermal electric plant, factories and coastal defenses with high explosives.

Navy pilots hitting Anju refinery said they saw what probably were two Russian MIG-15s flying peacefully 10 to 15 miles north of the Russian border at 30,000 feet. Thirty MIGs were engaged, the Navy said.

Revolt Of Satellite Nation Against Russia Would Pose Serious Problem

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—An armed revolt by a satellite nation against the Soviet Union could pose the most dangerous and difficult problem confronting the United States in all the years of the cold war.

America would have to decide quickly whether it should help the satellite, and determine the extent and form of help.

Any direct support by American armed forces to the satellite presumably would mean engagement with troops of the USSR and create the direct danger of setting off World War III.

Conversely, failure to help could injure American prestige, possibly and discourage other Communist-occupied countries from seeking freedom.

The possibility of an elaborate Moscow plan to start a world war by placing the blame on the free world would have to be reckoned with. Russia's Kremlin policy would not hesitate to foment a revolutionary move deliberately to start a world war.

The U. S. and other Western Nations would have to decide—and that quickly—whether an uprising was genuine.

And short of a full-scale expeditionary force could be given a revolving satellite by Western Nations but its value would be determined by the extent to which Russia moved against the revolution and the interpretation the might choose to place on the act.

Kirchhoff Boasts Unique Ike Button

Arthur Kirchhoff posed yesterday in front of the Post Office with a new creation, an Eisenhower campaign button nearly four feet in diameter, while Charles H. Stafford took colored motion pictures of him.

Formerly used to advertise a soft drink, the metal circular sign is shaped exactly like a button and is painted with the letters "IKE" against a red, white and blue background.

Mr. Kirchhoff, who was pictured in many newspapers with a large poster which he sent to the Postmasters Convention in Arkansas, also sent one of the big Sanford souvenirs to General Eisenhower at the Republican National Convention in Chicago.

Much enthusiasm was shown for "Ike" at the "Demo for Ike" organization meeting Wednesday in Orlando, said Mr. Kirchhoff. He declared that he is leaving early tomorrow for Jacksonville with a big button, which he plans to display at the reception for General Eisenhower.

Perfect Murder Believed Solved By Authorities

Maryland Police Tear
Mask Off Accident
Masquerade Alibi

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland police, who claim they have solved the perfect murder mystery of a Baltimore school teacher, are charging off of a brutal killing, are charging a quiet New York office manager with the "perfect murder" of his Sunday school teacher wife.

The plot that police said led to the death of 31-year-old Dorothy May Grammer would do credit to a 30-cent paper's barbed mystery novel.

It involved a scheme so engineered that the woman appeared to have died in a traffic accident—actually witnessed by two Baltimore city policemen.

Edward Grammer, and the woman he is accused of beating to death seem strangely out of character in the story unfolded on the stage of the police.

She is described by neighbors in the well-ordered Bronx apartment community where she lived as a "sweet, nice person," a woman (Continued on Page Two)

Convicted Murderer Escapes From Train

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—A convicted murderer, his hands handcuffed in front of him, escaped from a train here today while being taken to Kilby, Ala., State Prison.

Officers said David Taylor, 25, Walker County, Ala., jumped from a Louisville & Nashville passenger train as it pulled into the station yards.

He outran officers and eluded police cars which quickly surrounded an area of several square blocks. Taylor had escaped from Draper Prison in the mass break there last Sept. 14. Almost a score of prisoners fled in that break.

He was recaptured in Chicago by Paul Sexton, Montgomery, and was being returned to prison transfer agent for the State Corrections Department.

He was serving 34 years after convictions in Walker County of second degree murder, grand larceny, forgery and petty larceny.

RELEASED ON BOND
Two Negro brothers, Ernest Smith 42, and Willie Smith, 28, were released on $100 bond each Saturday morning, following arrest on a charge of cutting each other in a quarrel Friday night on Main Street, Midway. Deputy Sheriff Howard Hilday said today that Negroes required emergency treatment by physicians to patch up their wounds.

Ike Pledges Fair Treatment Of Civil Service Employees

Compromise Of Vitriolic Road
Dispute Reached

Spencer Plan Adopted
As Satisfactory To
Both Sides In Issue

The County Commission achieved a compromise which was apparently satisfactory to all parties in the heated Horse Track Road dispute at the special meeting called to discuss the road Friday night.

The compromise, proposed by G. W. Spencer, attorney for the town of Casselberry, and agreed to by Hubbard Casselberry, Mrs. Stanley J. Karp, representing the Arizona Driving Park, and not opposed by any of the group which had objected to the paving of the Horse Track road converted in the agreement of the Commission to a "statute" the late Drive east of the old Seminole Boulevard Road past the Driving Park.

It was explained in answer to queries by Hannu Majeski, one of the opponents of the Horse Track Road, that "statute" means the use of sand and clay to make a good all-weather road without blacktopping it.

Prior to the discussion of the Horse Track Road the Commission also agreed to direct the State Road Department to give the work on the San Jose Road, Longwood Road and accepted the deed necessary to the right of way of this road.

The floor was then opened to public discussion of the Horse Track Road issue, but debate did not approach the "statute" which it was carried on at the regular meeting of the Commission last Monday morning.

The position of the Arizona Driving Park was stated by Mrs. Karp and by Mr. Spencer who presented the Commission with a petition signed by 222 names asking that the road be completed.

Mrs. Karp wanted to know if Commissioners Doid and Fogarty are now strongly opposed to the road where they had originally favored it. She requested that the Commissioners "stop playing the children" and proceed with the work which they had previously agreed to.

Mr. Majeski, speaking for the opposition, reiterated his arguments of last Monday's meeting that the citizens of the area would not let their tax dollars spend where they would do the most good and urged the blacktopping of Lake Drive. He also charged that the people had never got a fair story of what the Horse Track Road was to cost.

Some discussion among the Commissioners followed on the question of cost but the matter was closed when Mr. Majeski also objected to the spending of County funds in the limits of a (Continued on Page Two)

Election Is Held By Seminole C. Of C.

Some 161 ballots for nominations to the board of directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce were mailed Saturday, Jack Hall, president of the Chamber, said today.

Separate ballots were sent to the City of Sanford and for the County. Sixteen nominations may be made on each ballot, and the top 16 nominated from the county will be put up for election when additional ballots are sent out Thursday.

Eight new directors will then be elected from among those nominated in the city and eight from among those nominated in the county. The deadline for nominations will be next Wednesday night. All returning ballots must be postmarked not later than midnight of that evening.

REMINOLE CLUB
Charles Giddens of Winter Park obtained a lease to the Seminole Club last week from Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Harper. Sheriff Hilday said today that vandals had caused $4,000 damage to mirrors and fixtures in the building.

General Eisenhower Over Democratic Officer Asking Postal Contributions

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower pledged today that if he becomes President he will neither authorize nor condone immediate firing of any civil service worker who is doing a good job.

"No one could say I was fair," he declared "if on the instant that the Republican Party went into power I should authorize or condone any discharge of a hard worker who has done a good job."

He promised to "stand for justice and fairness" for such workers.

The Republican presidential nominee declared he was "sure" because of a Kansas situation in which a Democratic leader allegedly sought that campaign contributions from mail carriers with the admonition they might lose their jobs if the GOP won.

Eisenhower added that the benediction of the National Association of Letter Carriers was warmly appreciated before during and after his brief speech.

The general said he had come to the convention in Manhattan center a large amphitheater in downtown Manhattan not to say "hell no."

But he declared that he found himself making a political speech "because when I get sore, I get sore."

Eisenhower directly accused the Democrats of having reduced the postal services efficiency. He said if he were elected he would work for a more efficient service with more frequent deliveries of mail.

The general said that he had been in the Army too long to place the mail above any other duty that a single might do.

Eisenhower spoke extemporaneously, his speech lasting seven and one-half minutes.

The charge that a Democratic leader sought campaign contributions came from Sen. Carl Vinson of Kentucky in a speech immediately preceding Eisenhower's talk to the convention.

The Kansas senator, one of the public opinion presidential nominees, charged that Eisenhower's political advisers, including Kenneth T. Anderson, Democratic national committee chairman for Kansas, sent out letters to mail carriers asking for contributions from rural and other letter carriers in the state.

Anderson and in an interview at Topeka, Kas., stated that he had sent letters to more than 2,000 Kansas postmasters and rural mail carriers requesting contributions.

He said the practice is not illegal and is followed by the Republicans as well.

Carlson leveled the charge as a prelude to an Eisenhower speech at the annual convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

The general's Labor Day speaking date was the first of nine for a week that mark a critical point in the campaign of the republican presidential nominee.

The speeches will tip off the direction the campaign goes from here, whether the same direction (Continued on Page Two)
