Housing board agrees to resign

By Dan Ping Editor

SANFORD - Four members of the Sanford Housing Authority (SHA) Board of Commissioners agreed late Tuesday to resign their positions. A fifth board member resigned Monday.

The resignations came after tense negotlations between city officials and representatives of the board. Sanford Mayor Brady Lessard had established a midnight deadline to have a signed agreement or else the city would move forward with a tonight.

"I'm thrilled we were able to find an amicable solution to deal with this situation," Lessard said. "This puts behind us the difficult part and let's us get to the job of making improvements."

The housing authority has been under Intense investigation for mismanagement. Officials from the department of Housing and Urban Development in Jacksonville conducted a two week investigation of SHA. The report released by HUD was highly critical of the operations.

After reviewing that report, Gloria J. Cousar, HUD's acting General Deputy Assistant Secretary, re-evaluated the SHA and labeled it a "troubled agency."

Under terms of the deal allow board members Edward Blacksheare, Emory

Blake, Shirley Wynn Alien and Bernard Brown to maintain their positions albeit in a limited capacity — until April 30. Board member Ida Stephens resigned April 5, though the her letter wasn't received until Monday.

Under the agreement, the board must appoint an interim executive director to handle the transition "from the existing executive director" to "the designation of a permanent executive director." The interim director must be agreed upon by

Cats strut their stuff for judges

Stewart traveled from Harrison, Ark., with her choco-late spotted Ocicat to participate in last weekend's cat show held

As tax day approaches, Post Office provides tips for last minute filers

By Nick Pfelfauf Staff Writer

The final day in which to file Federal Income Tax forms for the year 2000 is upon us. This year however, with April 15 falling on a Sunday, citizens have been given one extra day to file. The deadline for a postmark is midnight Monday, April

Taxpayers who, for one rea-son or another, cannot mail their returns until the deadline, will possibly find special services (Express Mail, Priority Mail, Delivery Confirmation, Certified Mail, Return Receipts, etc.). These however, are only available through the Main Post Office 10401 Post Office Blvd. in Orlando.

Eisewhere in the Central Florida area, only the Lake Mary post office has been listed as being open until midnight Monday, for both accepting tax returns, and maintaining window service.

Among suggestions for last minute filers are the following: • Consider using Priority Mail with Delivery Confirmation if you want to confirm your return is delivered.

Delivery Confirmation is not available for First Class envelopes Use Certified Mail if proof of mailing is required. Check the last pick-up time if mailing in a street-location collection box to make sure your return will be collected that day.

 If possible, mail your returns using the address labels or pre-addressed enveloped sometimes provided by local, state and federal agencies.

 If you address the envelope yourself, make sure the address is legible, correct and complete.

• ALWAYS include your return address. Make sure your tax return has sufficient postage. If you are mailing a number of supplementary forms and schedules with your return, the envelope is likely to weigh more than one

Mullet attract fishermen

Johnny Thompson, of Orlando, was one of many anglers along the Lake Monroe seawall trying to catch their limit. The fishermen and women are after mullet, which are echooling in the shallow water near the entrance to Central Florida Regional Hospital on Highway 17-92. Thompson said he started fishing around 7 a.m. but was still empty handed by late afternoon. I have good days and bad days. Today is a bad day for me," he said, as he tossed another handful of wet chicken feed into the water, trying to attract some fish. Thompson said you could find him fishing Lake Monroe nearly every Monday, which is one of his days off work. "If the mullet stay in the shallow water too long, they will have a slight muddy taste," he remarked. Thompson noted that he likes them anyway. "You have to acquire a taste for them. I like them fried - good and hot," he said smiling

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Be aware, it could save a life

Since a presidential proclamation in 1983, the month of April has been designated Child Abuse Prevention Month. In communities throughout the nation, thousands of people are becoming involved in child abuse prevention efforts.

Pfeifauf

The only difficulty I have in this is that the event is for one month. It would seem to me that preventing child abuse should be every day, every week and every month. Compiling the crime reports for the Seminole Herald here in our county and its various cities, the reports, and arrests are all too frequent.

In the state, during the fiscal year (October to October) 1999 to 2000, the Child Abuse Hotline received 235,823 child abuse or neglect calls. Some were apparently unfounded, but 164,916 cases were investigated and 85,644 cases resulted in proven child abuse situations. The figure was up by 29 percent from the

So far this fiscal year, from October 2000 through March 1, 2001, the hotline has already received 110,646 child abuse or neglect calls. For the similar time period, the figures are again up by 9 percent.

What is even more startling is that 86 children died in Florida as the result of child abuse or neglect in 1998, and 85 in 1999.

Now, you don't have to save my column for today. But I am asking that you clip out the following phone numbers and keep them handy. I hope you never have to use them, but you can never tell. The numbers may be used to call the proper authorities and seek help. It could be for friends, neighbors, or even your own family. Here's the

 1-800-4-A-CHILD for the Childhelp USA National Child Abuse Hotline. Call any time of the day or night. Counselors are available. Or go online at www.childhelpusa.org.

• 1-800-96-ABUSE for the Florida Child Abuse

Registry. If you or someone you know is being abuse, the registry can help.

• 1-800-FLA-LOVE for the Family Source of Florida Parent Helpline. The parent helpline provides telephone counseling, information and community resources to parents and caregivers. It's a way to seek help BEPORE you do something dras-

1-800-500-1119 the Domestic Molence Hotline, if there is domestic violence in your home. There are progratify to help keep you and your family

 1-800-621-4000 for the National Runaway Switchboard. If you have left home because of family problems and are finding life on the streets tougher than you expected, here is the help you may be needing.

• 1-800-999-9999 for the Covenant House Nineline. Any time, day or night. The Covenant House assists teens and their families in working out difficulties and improving situations at home. Every one of these phone numbers is free, and they are confidential. Each of us should know what constitutes abuse no need to go into details of baby-shaking, beatings, spankings and other actions. The goal is to report it BEFORE it happens, and seek help if it is already under way.

Clip the above. It may save the life of a child.

Charity Bowl

The fireflighters of Seminole and Orange counties are getting ready to kick off the fifth annual Fireflighters Charity Bowl on April 14 at 6 p.m. at Winter Springs High School. The proceeds will benefit The Missing Children Center Inc. located in Seminole County. Last year, more than 3,500 spectators attended the game and over $10,000 was raised for the Center. Time Warmer Cable and Sunshine Network will once again televise the game. In addition, the game has caught the eye of some local celebrities who have participated in the event, such as "Hacksaw" Jim Duggan from the World Championship Wrestling Inc., and the coach and players from the Predators Football Team. Pictured above is the Seminole team.

The poor man's raise

Being 50 years old and making $300 a week is hard enough. It's even tougher when your brother-in-law is pulling in $1,000 a week. You need to find a way to feel good about yourself. Here's what you do.

Yes, your brother-in-law is making blg money, but he's probably a doctor or a lawyer or a plumber or something and is putting in hundreds of hours of concentrated effort to generate that kind of coin. You, on the other hand, are stand-ing over a basket of french fries wearing a paper hat.' Instead of going for a raise that you'll never get, start slacking off. The goal is to do so little that although you're working 40 hours a week, your actual productivity is reduced to one hour. Now, in your mind, you connect that one hour of productivity to your salary. It makes sense. They don't pay you to slack off, so the slack-off hours don't count. It's not much of a leap for you to conclude that you're making $300 an hour. In the same week, your brother-in-law, who never slacks off and therefore has to count the whole 40 hours, is only making $25 an hour. You are the man. But just keep it to yourself. Brother-in-laws can say hurtful things when they don't understand the logic.

The Joy Of Looking Away
As we move closer to equality in society, it's good to identify some of the behavioral differences that sepa-...... rate men and women. One of these involves the bathroom mirror. Women tend to look at themselves in the bathroom mirror much more than men do. That's because a lot of women still wear makeup, and you really need to pay attention when you're putting on mascara or lipstick. Men are just shaving or brushing their teeth, and that doesn't take much attention.

Now, as we get older and fatter, we start disliking what we see in that mirror. Unfortunately, women then have to concentrate even more because they're trying to use makeup as a time machine. Men, on the other hand, can look Avoiding eye contact is the first sign of denial. Over time, as men develop the ability to tune out their own reflection, they get into the habit of looking at things without seeing them.

That's why so many husbands are useless around the house. If men wore makeup, they'd be able to find things in the kitchen.

Sometimes we get so familiar with something, such as an automobile, that we don't notice when it has come to the end of its time. Here are a few signs that indicate it's time for you to get a new car:

— It's impossible to determine its original color. You need advanced notice to

You have to wiggle knobs and lean to one side to get the car to start.

- The doors don't close properly, and one of them is missing.
- Something smells tree trunk.
- You leave it unlocked and running in a high-crime area, and nobody steals it.
- The car is currently on fire.

Discounting Seniors
I was investigating retirement schemes recently, and they are all based on planning to the age of 90. Chances are that after the age of 90 you're either not here or not aware that you're here. So I'm thinking that we should take another look at discounts for seniors. If I'm 85 years old and buying an appliance that will outlive me, I shouldn't have to pay full price. Charge me for five years' worth, and then you can come and pick it up at the funeral.

Suspect Killed

Sunday, April 8, shortly before midnight, Seminole County sheriff's deputies responded to the area of SR-436 and Kewanee Trail, to assist Orange County deputies in a vehicle pursuit of an armed robbery suspect. The suspect, identified as Alexis Gonzalez, 24, of Winter Park, reportedly committed an armed robbery and aggravated battery in east Orange County.

Gonzales was stopped on SR426. Deputies said they saw him hold a firearm to his head.

After giving loud verbal commands to drop his weapon, Sgt.

Mike Weippert and Sgt. D.A. Rufo fired extended range impact munitions which are considered less than lethal. These shots temporarily stunned Gonzalez, but he managed to fire shots directly at the two officers as well as an Orange County deputy.

The return fire by the deputies ultimately resulted in the death of Gonzalez.

Special Agents from the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, along with crime scene technicians from the Seminole County Sheriff's Office and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement responded to assume the investigation of this incident.

Vehicular Thefts

Gerald F. Frees, 34, of Finger, Tenn., was arrested by Seminole County Sheriff's deputies

Melvin Eugene Holt, 20, S. Lake Avenue, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police last Friday. An officer at Sanford Middle School found a suspicious 1993 Lexus parked near the school, which proved to have been stolen in Longwood. When Holt arrived and attempted to drive off, he was taken into custody. The arrest report said Holt told officers the vehicle had been stolen from a Longwood car lot in August, 2000 by another person. Holt was charged with grand theft auto and dealing in/receiving stolen property.

Bygones Worry about the future, not the past

I wonder if Al Gore, like a losing coach, keeps running the final few months of 2000 in his head as if it were a videotape, freeze-framing certain moments, fast-forwarding to others, calling in Tipper from the garden to look at details he never noticed that could have made all the differ-

I wonder if he agrees now that perhaps he was just a bit overzealous in adopting every consultant's suggestion, so that he ended up looking less like a presidential candidate than an eager starlet on a round of auditions. Does he now think that distancing himself not only from Bill Clinton, but also from the accomplishments of the administration left the American public with little on

Maybe Gore has folded up the last year like a winter sweater and put it away. But certainly many of his supporters haven't, and I understand the impulse, believe me. When I see in the paper that President Bush is fighting against reducing arsenic in our drinking water, and that he reversed his pledge to limit carbon dioxide emissions, and that he is disturbingly cavalier about the sepa-ration of church and state, I find myself thinking back to those long, uncertain weeks in Florida and cursing the combination of circumstances that screwed Gore out of his rightful place in the White House.

Then along comes this USA Today/Knight-Ridder study this week on the Florida recount. The study sought to answer the question: Who would have won had the U.S. Supreme Court not stepped in and halted the recount in Florida, thus handing the presidency to Bush? Remember, this was our main complaint — that Bush stole the election because a Bush-leaning Supreme Court prevented the democratic process from taking its course. Had the votes been counted, we said, our man would have been parading down Pennsylvania Avenue in January instead of George W.

Now we know with a fair amount of certainly that this is not the case.

Using the fairly liberal recount standards Gore advocated — and the Florida Supreme Court mandated — Bush would have stretched his lead over Gore to 1,665 votes, Here's the irony: Had the votes been tallied in the way many Republicans wanted, which was to count ballots only if a hole was cleanly punched, Gore would have won by three votes, at least according to this study.

Yes, we can still argue that many African Americans in Miami were prevented from voting because of registration foul-ups and that Palm Beach County's confusing "butter-fly ballot" caused some Gore supporters to vote for Pat Buchanan by mistake.

But the bottom line is a winner had to be declared. Bush was that winner, and no follow-up study so far has shown that decision was in error. George W. is in the White House with a four-year lease. There is no getting around

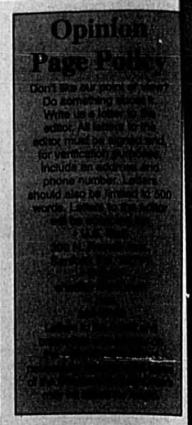

There comes a time in all contests when the defeated need to accept defeat and move on. I don't know if Al Gore has, but I know that we no longer have a choice. We can deny Bush's right to the presidency all we want, but we can't deny him the power of it. So the more energy we devote to fighting the legitimacy of Bush's presidency, the less we have to fight his threats against our water and air, a woman's right to control of her own body and the separation of church and state.

We can't afford to be worrying about what happened in Florida last year. We need to be worrying about what's happening right now, right here.

As Amnesty International reported last year, "Torture is widespread and systematic, committed in the full range of state institutions, from police stations to 're-education through labor' camps, as well as in people's homes, workplaces and in public."

It cited the example of Zhou Jiangxiong, a 30-year-old farmer from Hunan province, who was tortured to death by officials from a township birth control office. They were trying to make him reveal the whereabouts of his wife, suspected of being pregnant without permission.

They hung Zhou upside down and repeatedly whipped and beat him with wooden clubs. They burned him with cigarette butts, branded him with soldering irons and ripped his genitals off. We're sorry the People's

That's why the United States was on the short end of a record $69 billion trade imbalance with China in 1999. Why the trade gap almost certainly was wider last year. It has provided North Korea with raw material for its ballistic missile program. And it has supplied Pakistan with a design for a nuclear weapon.

We're sorry Jiang's government inneled illegal campaign donations to former President Clinton and the Democratic Party.

It was part of a broader campaign by the Communists to acquire U.S. military-related technology, a Justice Department investigation concluded.

The Cox Report identified two of the People's Republic's cashladen emissaries, Wang Jung, son of the late Chinese president, and Liu Chaoying, daughter of China's former top military leader.

Wang actually managed to attend one of Clinton's White House coffees. He's connected to $600,000 in illegal campaign contributions that the notorious Charlie Trie made to the Democratic National Committee.

Washington Times defense and national security reporter Bill Gertz noted that the test was timed to coincide with the first visit to China by Gen. Henry Shelton, chairman of the Joint Art Zielinski asks people what they think ...

The Orlando Magic says it needs a new place to hang its hat. The problem is, the team's new arena will cost more than $250 million. The team says it will contribute $10.5 million, which means tax money and other sources will have to fund the other $239.5 million. Our question today is, "Do you think the Orlando Magic needs a new arena, and who should pay for it?"

Let the Magic organization and the big corporations pay for the new arena. It's a bad idea to make the people pay for it. Plus, a new arena will mean higher ticket prices. Gilbert Aponte, Deltona

The Magic should they have. If they do build a new one, they should pay for it themselves and move it out of downtown Orlando. Anthony Burgos, Deltona

No I don't think they need a new arena. The TD Waterhouse is just fine. They need more programs to enhance the community, instead of taking money out of it. Tony Redden,

If the Magic could afford to spend some $150 million for two players, they could afford to pay for their own arena. That's half the price of the new arena. Why do we have to foot the bit? Tony Brown, Sanford

No, the Magic don't need a new arena. The team does bring money to the city, but with all his (team owner Richard DeVos) money, why should we pay the bill. John Wilk,

The exhibit should be interesting to everybody," said Ettie Jane Keogh, a member of the local exhibit's steering committee. "The younger generations will be able to see things they have heard stories about and others will probably remember some of the things that will be on display."

The traveling tour is part of the Museum on Main Street program of the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service (SITES) and the Federation of State Humanities Councils. The partnership, established in 1991, was formed to enhance the legacies of rural museums throughout the United States.

Collins serves country aboard USS Chicago

Deep beneath the ocean's surface, a black, cigar-shaped steel vessel cruises through the water.

It has no windows, and every so often a sharp ping rings out from the vessel, slightly disturbing the water.

A passing whale answers the call with his own high-pitched song, but when there is no reply, it moves on, perhaps wondering about its mysterious encounter.

Inside the vessel, a U.S. Navy submarine, sailors performing a variety of jobs bustle about, ensuring that each required task is accomplished. One of them is William L. Collins, III of Sanford.

Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Collins, 21, is the son of William Collins Jr. of Sanford. He is an electrician on board the USS Chicago, an attack submarine, home ported in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Collins and other submarine Sailors are the heart of the Chicago, and despite their hazardous work environment, they strive to ensure efficiency in all situations.

The attention to detail and focus these Sailors exhibit directly contributes to the safety record of the submarine force, which is among the highest in the Navy.

"I'm the ship's safety officer," he explained, "so I am in charge of looking for safety deficiencies onboard the ship."

As early as the Revolutionary

Collins

War, submarines were used to help the United States achieve its strategic goals. Modern submarines and Sailors like Collins continue this proud tradition

Using technically advanced systems, the 6,900 ton Chicago can operate jointly with a battle group or independently to protect allied ships and U.S. interests. It is equipped with Harpoon and Tomahawk missiles, MK-48 torpedoes, and can travel at peeds in excess of 30 knots. However, this technologicallyadvanced vessel is nothing withtheir daily jobs. "As the auxiliary electrician, I rove around the entire engine room to ensure that all equipment is running properly while out the men who bring the submarine to life by performing the submarine is underway. While in port, I stand watch as the 'shutdown' electrical operator, which is about the same thing as my underway job" said Collins, a three-year Navy veter-

In the performance of his duties, Collins often spend many months away from family, friends and homeland. However, Collins feels that promoting and defending democracy is worthwhile.

"I think it's important for us to be out there to show what our military is made of and to be capable to aid countries in need of a very short amount of time," Collins said.

Deploying to accomplish U.S. objectives, while rewarding for Collins, is not an easy thing to do aboard a submarine.

On the Chicago, Collins and 130 shipmates share tightly compacted spaces for weeks at a time while working long hours. Collins manages to deal with the Spartan surroundings in his own

Most of the time, I am too busy with work or qualifying to really worry about trying to cope. There is always something to do, either work, watch movies, work out, read or just sleep," Collins said. "My secret to success in the submarine fleet is just hard work and determination."

HUD and the city. Other elements in the agreement include:

 SHA agrees to begin a national search for an executive director; however, the new housing authority board appointed by Lessard will hire the director in concert with HUD and the city.

 SHA must operate under a "zero threshold," which does not allow any procurement action to occur unless it is approved by HUD

 SHA must immediately ask for technical assistance and training from HUD to make improvements at the housing authority.

SHA will host an open house on April 28 to showcase its adult literacy facility, the daycare center, the cosmetology teaching facility and the Harbor Learning Center.

Though the agreement appears to nullify the need for tonight's removal hearing, Lessard said he was unsure whether he could unilateral accept the resignations. He said City Attorney Bill Colbert would research the issue today. Lessard said he would like the support of the commission. I think they need to sign off on it," Lessard said.

Commissioner Velma Williams, who was the city's liaison to SHA, said she wanted to see the agreement in writing.
"I haven't seen it but it sounds like a win-win for all involved,"

Williams said.

Fellow commissioner Randy Jones agreed, saying he want more details about the terms of the agreement.

"Overall, I think it's great news," Jones said. "I don't thinks any of us want to go through with this hearing.
"I'd feel better if a new board would take over sooner," Jones added. He noted, "I'm sure Brady was very involved in this, and with Brady being the mayor, I'm going to support him. I'm sure he's received adequate counsel from (city attorney) Bill

"If the agreement is laid out so there's a smooth transition, I could support it."

Woman shocked by people's funeral manners

DEAR ABBY: I recently attended a funeral where I was shocked at some of the clothes worn and the lack of respect shown. (In 1993, my brother died, and one of my cousins wore a dress in such on every finger.) My curiosity was aroused concerning appropriate funeral attire.

so I went to the public library and read everything they had on funerals, as well as Miss Manners and Emily Post. Here is what I found: 1. Don't be late.

2. Wear dark clothes. 3. Don't wear more black than the widow.

4. Wear minimal jewelry (wedding band, tasteful carrings, watch, tie tack).

5. Humor is acceptable as long as it's tasteful and lowkeyed.
6. If it's acceptable to the family, exes may attend or serve as pallbearers. 7. Family members only are allowed to sit in the family section. (No exes.)

8. The time for hugs and acknowledgments is when the family is receiving guests at the funeral home or at the cemetery - NOT as people pass by the coffin to pay their last respects to the deceased.

9. Don't bring babies or unruly toddlers. 10. Don't get up and leave during the service.

I hope this will answer some questions for people, so we can all start to show more respect to the families and to the deceased.

MARIE IN GRAND PRAIRIE, TEXAS

DEAR MARIE: I'm sure your list of do's and don'ts will be of interest to many people. However, I have a personal experience I would like to share with you:

When I was in my 20s, a male contemporary, "Doug," was tragically injured in a boat accident. His injuries were massive and irreversible, and for days his life hung by a thread. Then the inevitable happened and he was gone.

The day before the funeral, I spoke to his girifriend and asked if she would like to ride to the service with me. When she arrived at my home, she was wearing a bright orange mini-dress. Of course, when we arrived at the chapel for the service, every head turned in her direction, and there were more than a few raised eyebrows. She saw the stares and turned to me with tears in her eyes. "I know they're looking at me because of what I'm wearing," she whispered. "I'm wearing this dress because Doug always loved to see me in it. It was his favorite."

After that, I stopped forming judgments about what people wore to funerals — and paid more attention to what was in their tree belongs to the legume family and characteristically has large, bilobed, light green, papery leaves. The orchid tree is native of China and India but some related species are found in the American Continent.

The most splendid of all, the Hong Kong Orchid Tree is an evergreen sterile hybrid, producing magnificent reddish purple flowers. In other species, blooms come in shades of purple, red, pink, white, or yellow, and can be three to four inches across.

Blooming occurs mainly in early spring but are produced in abundance at various times of the year, depending upon

The Tree

The tree has a relatively fast growth rate and reaches 25 to 30 feet of height with a spread of 25 to 35 feet. Unpruned trees form a rounded crown. Its foliage is distinctive and attractive, with double-lobed, rounded

Ferrer

The deeply cleft leaflets are heart-shaped with prominent veins. Blossoms are very showy and can be produced year round in warmer climates. Flower colors vary from pink, purple, red, white, to yellow. The elegant, white stamens add to the beauty of the flowers. The fruit is an elongated pod, 6 to 12 inches long, brown in color. The fruit persist on the leaves, light green in color and about tree for a relative long period of time. Although the tree is deciduous, it is effective year-round as a shade or ornamental tree, because its blooms appear at the same time it sheds its leaves.

Species

Bauhinia blakeana, known as the Hong Kong Orchid Tree, the floral symbol of that island, is seedless. It is also the most spectacular and most wanted Bauhinia specie, bear-ing six-inch, orchid-like flowers of rich reddish or rose purple during the winter but is very tender to freezing temperatures.

Bauhinia variegata, a very popular specie, produces in winter and spring orchid-like blossoms with purplish casts. The cultivar 'Candida' produces white blossoms. Bauhinia purpurea, which is vari-able specie, produces narrowpetaled, red-purple to blue-purple flowers in late fall and early winter while leaves are on the trees. Bauhinia monandra produces pink, single-stamened flowers all summer.

Butterfly flower. Bauhinia acuminata also blooms all summer but with white flowers. Bauhinia aculeata, with white flowers, is hardy as far north as hardiness zone 8b but has a tendency to produce many root suckers.

It is commonly known as the Light Requirement

The orchid tree grows well in full sun or in partial shade.

The tree can grow in moist, well drained, clay, loarn, or sandy soils, under slightly acidic conditions. A pH range between 5.5 to 6.5 is optimum for good growth. In alkaline soils, minor element deficiencies will produce yellowing of the leaves.

Pruning

The tree naturally develops several trunks and have to be trained to grow from a single trunk. Branches blooms fade.

Chewing insects and borers may present a problem for the Orchid Tree. No diseases are of major con-cern. Leaf spots and powdery mildew caused by fungi may produce some damage to small trees but should not damage established trees. Interveinal chlorosis caused by micronutrients deficiency may occur on soils with a high pH.

Use And Management

Growing best in full sun or high, shifting pine shade, orchid tree thrives in any well-drained soil. The flowers are followed by many brown, woody, 12-inch-long seed-pods that are unattractive on the tree and a nuisance when they drop.

The wood tends to be weak and sprouts are often seen growing from the base of the tree creating an unattractive landscape. Some people consider the fallen leaves messy because they are large and decom-pose slowly. In full bloom, orchid trees make a beautiful street tree with their foliage and flowers arching over the road However, the drooping branches must be removed as they develop, to allow for vehicle clearance beneath. Because sprouts will have to be removed regularly and the tree is bare for a munth or two, it is con-sidered by many to be a high-maintenance tree not suited for large-scale street tree planting. It is often used as a specimen and a residential street tree

A rapidly growing tree requires little care once started, and should be fertilize annually. It is cultivated worldwide mainly because of its beautiful flowers but its bark is sometimes used in dyeing, and the flower buds are considered edible in

Biologists to study largemouth bass habits

If you've ever spent any amount of time on the attempting to coax a largemouth bass into biting whatever offerdangling from your line, at some point that age-old question: "Where are the fish?" has undoubtedly crossed your

Well, in an effort to try and unravel the mystery behind that proverbial ques-tion, biologists working out of the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) Kissimmee Fisheries Office will be conducting a twoyear tracking study on largemouth bass in Lake Jackson (1,020 acres), a fish management area located in Osceola County.

"By fitting base five

"By fitting bass five-pounds and greater with small radio transmitters, we will have the ability to doc-ument movement patterns of these larger fish across various weather, seasonal and water level conditions, as west as moon phase periods," said FWC fishery biologist and project coordinator Kevin McDaniel. "We are targeting larger fish in this study because we feel that a majority of anglers who use Lake Jackson seek this size of fish and, in general, they are just simply curious as to where these fish go during certain times of the year."

Information gained from this study will not only aid biologists in understanding how these environmental influences affect bass movement, but also provide information to educate anglers regarding general activity of largemouth bass, which ultimately should help anglers in their quest for this sometimes-elusive quarry. As of Jan. 30, 10 transmitters had been surgically implanted into the body cavity of bass ranging in size from 20 to 24 inches and weighing from 5-1/2 to 9-1/4 pounds. Each implanted transmitter emits a different radio signal that is detectable by a portable receiving unit, so the location of each individual fish can be recorded.

Although the transmitter itself is not visible, a flexible, 12-inch wire antenna protrudes from the fishes' abdomen and extends back toward the tail.

The actual tracking segment of the study began in early February 2001 and will extend for approximately two years.

Anglers who are thinking of visiting Lake Jackson for a day of fishing need to be aware of specific rules and regulations that apply to the fish management area, which include a catch-andrelease regulation on largemouth bass and a 12-inch, minimum-size limit on black crappie. Statewide length and bag limit regula-tions pertain to all other fish species. In addition, Lake Jackson is within the Three Lakes Wildlife Management Area, where a daily-use fee of $3 a person or $6 per non-commercial vehicle is applicable.

Rams continue climb up the rankings

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

LAKE MARY — Despite suffering just its second loss of the season to Winter Park late last week, both the ESPN and Baseball America national polls continue to recognize Lake Mary as one of the elite baseball programs in america.

The Rams maintained their #6 ranking by ESPN and in spite of the non-conference loss, Lake Mary moved up four spots in this week's Baseball America poll

The Rams didn't let the loss affect them, either, as they bounced back with a impressive victories over Winter Springs and Lyman.

On Friday, Adam Sanabria allowed just three hits in hurling a complete game, 3-

The senior lefthander struck out eight and walked two to improve his personal record to 6-0, the same record Lake Mary has in district play.

Offensively, Chad Legate drove in a pair of runs with a single and a sacrifice fly, while sophomore Austin Pride singled in the other run. Kyle Bono and Josh Gray each added a double for the win-

Monday night the Rams exploded for five runs in the fourth inning and six runs in the fifth inning to close out an 111 run rule victory over the Greyhounds and keep Lake Mary unbeaten against Seminole Athletic Conference competi-

Trevor Berryhill got the Rams started in the fourth with a two-run homer follow-ing Kyle Bono's leadoff double.

Tucker Pearce was the big man on offense for the game, going three-for-four, including a triple and a double. He had a chance to complete the cycle in the sixth inning, but had to settle for reaching safely on an error. Matt Horwath also had a good night, going two-for-four and driving in two Mehul Patel (1-1) picked up his first win of the season, allowing four hits and striking out six.

Lake Mary is now 19-2 on the season and will go after its 20th victory on Wednesday when the Rams host Oviedo in a crucial Class 6A-District 3 and SAC contest. The game will begin at 7 p.m. at Lake Mary High School.

On Friday, the Rams will make up the game against DeLand that was rained out two weeks ago. SANFORD — Ashley Hill and Kara Lively provided the offense and Mindy Crouse won her seventh straight decision as Seminole upset Winter Springs, 5-4, in a Seminole Athletic Conference game at the Seminole High School Softball Complex Monday night, "We proved again that we can play with anyone," said Seminole head coach David Rogers. "We just have to stay focused and confident."

Things did not start well for the Fighting Seminoles as the Bears, who are considered by to be the best team in the state in Class 6A, plated two runs in the top of the first

It was not until the third inning that the Tribe flexed its muscles as Ashley Hill ripped a bases-loaded double to give the hosts a 3-2 lead.

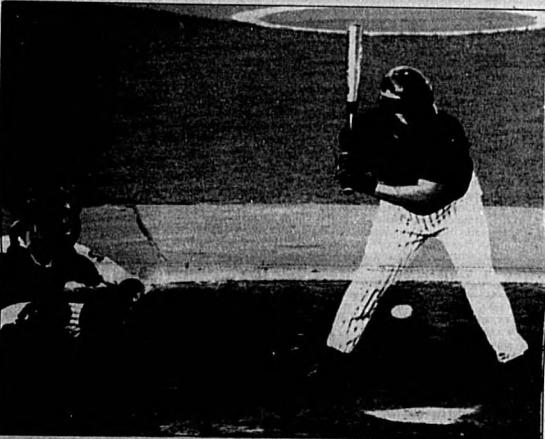

Winter Springs scratched across a run in the fourth inning to tie the game at 3-3, before Lively (2-for-3) drove in the go-ahead run in the fifth inning and scored what would prove to be the winning run on a passed ball.

The Bears got a run back in the top of the seventh inning, but Crouse and the Seminole defense stood up to the chal-lenge and completed the upset. Crouse had also thrown a two-hitter at Lake Howell on Friday as the Tribe edged the Silver Hawks, 2-1.

Crouse, who is now 9-2 on the season, struck out six, while Samantha Ferrell hit a gamewinning home run and Lively See Tribe, Page 3B

Seminole High School's Angelo Petracca takes a pitch during last week's win at DeLand, but the senior has not let much go by since, tripling in one run and scoring the other in a 2-1 victory over Lyman on Friday and going 2-for-2 with another triple, scoring two runs and driving in three as the Fighting Seminoles extended their winning streak to 16 games with a 10-0, six-inning win over Hopkinsville, Kentucky Monday night.

SANFORD — Even a break from the riggers of conference and district play did not hurt the focus of the Seminole High School base-ball team as it rolled to its county-best 16th consecutive victory Monday night at Alumni Field.

Travis Walker made his first start of the season a suc-first start of the season a successful one, throwing a perfect game for 3-2/3's innings and allowing only one hit before giving way to Victor Gilbert as the Fighting Seminoles rolled to a 10-0, run rule victory over Hopkinsville High School from Kentucky.

Lake Mary boys lacrosse splits on road

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

JACKSONVILE — The Lake Mary High School boys lacrosse team closed the 2001 regular season on a mixed note Saturday, losing the varsity game and winning the junior varsity game at The Bolles School in Jacksonville.

With a devastating varsity attack led by Midfielder Dan Yalango and Attackman Will Towers, Bolles jumped off to an early lead and toyed with the Rams throughout the afternoon never letting them closer than the three goals they were ahead by the end of the first period.

Yalango in particular dominated the youthful Lake Mary middles with constant probes, feeds, and hard shots.

The Bulldogs led 3-0 at the quarter, and 7-1 at halftime, but David Sloan led a furious comeback as the Rams were able to close to within 9-6 with about four minutes left in the game, but Lake Mary never really endangered the Bolles lead.

Following the rally, the hosts put it in overdrive again and pulled away to win by a final score of 12-7.

While not particularly dominating the shots at goal (28-23), nor the ground balls, the Bulldogs dominated play and almost all of their shots were on goal (24 of the 28) and almost all from right in front of Lake Mary freshman goalie Nick Kurir.

A key to the game was the face offs, which Bolles did dominate, never letting the Rams win one other than a few due to illegal procedure until the fourth period.

Doing the scoring for the Bulldogs were Dan Yolango and Will Towers (five goals and one assist each), Bryan O'Neil and Ret Tanner (one goal and one assist each), and Anthony Gilcrest (one assist).

Contributing to the Rams offense were David Sloan (five goals), Patrick Rauch and Travis Briggs (one goals and one assist each), and Matt Crowe, Kenny Myers and Ron Vanderbecke (one assist each).

The young Rams spotted Bolles two first period goals by Joe Donovan in the junior varsity game and then roared back to dominate the last three periods and win going away 12-2.

Lake Brantley wins sixth straight SAC weightlifting championship

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

SANFORD — It was closer than normal, but Lake Brantley High School is still the king when it comes to Seminole Athletic Conference weightlift-

The Patriots claimed their ninth conference title in 10 years and sixth consecutive SAC champi-onship last Wednesday at Seminole High School's Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium on the srength of their superior depth and dominating the middle weight classes. Coach David Tullis' Lake Brantley squad won the 154, 169, and 183 pound weight classes and finished second at 139 and 219 to score 58 points.

The Patriots also had seven lifters finish either first or second in the clean-and-jerk event.

Host Seminole and Lake Mary also had three individual weight class champions, but Lake

Brantley just had too much depth.

The Fighting Seminoles finished second with 37 points, with Oviedo and the Bears coming in third and fourth with 45 and 44 points, respectively.

Lake Howell (15 points), the Rams (14 points), and Lyman (12 points) completed the scoring. Jason Alpert was the first weight champion for the Patriots, lifting 520-pounds (260 in both the bench and clean-and-jerk) to win the 154-pound

Jonathan Koren then claimed the 169-pound division, hefting 315-pounds in the bench and 260-pounds in the clean-and-jerk to record a total of 575-pounds.

Leigh Francis then gave Lake Brantley its third straight win, totalling 615-pounds (300 in the bench and 315 in the clean-and-jerk) to take the See Weightlifting, Page 3B

Reutimann Sr. tops TBARA, Davis gets first mod win at New Smyrna

By Dave Westerman Special to the Herald

SAMSULA - Making calculated veteran moves, Wayne Reutimann, Sr. claimed his second straight TBARA (Tampa Bay Area Racing Association) sprint car victory in front of a huge crowd last Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway.

This Saturday, the Classic Cars will make an appearance along with heats and features in the Super Late Models, Late Model, Modified, Mini-Stock, Super Stock, and Strictly Stock divi-

Reutimann won the third heat and lined up 10th on the start-ing grid of 19 winged outlaw sprinters. First heat winner Gary Gimmler had his machine dialed in and jumped to a full straightaway lead from his pole starting position. Bobby Rose was doing all he could to hold off a charging pack for second, but it wasn't long before the train consisting of Shane Butler, Doug Heveron, Reutimann, and second heat race winner Dude

Teate came sweeping by.

to pull away from the rest, but they were still well behind Gimmler. Reutimann dogged Butler, finally getting past him with just a handful of laps remaining but it looked like there wouldn't be time to catch the high-flying Gimmler. Reutlmann quickly began to eat up the distance as Gimmler's right rear tire was going away as he caught lapped traffic. Gimmler gamely held on, but Reutimann was not to be denied on this night as he swept past and into the lead on lap 22 and pulled away for the victory.

Shane Butler made a banzai charge on the final race to the flag but came up just inches short as Gimmler got second for his best career TBARA finish. Butler took third followed by Heveron and Teate. Dave Pletcher, Jimmy Alvis, Joey Aguilar, Kevin Cahill, and Wayne Reutimann, Jr. rounded out the top 10.

Reutimann was driving the Heckman Motorsports entry sponsored by Case Contracting and James Rivard Pontiac/GMC.

Fans were also treated to a wild and woolly Modified feature that produced a first-time winner at New Smyrna.

Bo Davis survived all sorts of altercations to take his first win at the half-mile speedplant. Davis led early, but then watched as Tom Root worked by to the lead, but ticular about where they hang out. If you or someone you know has caught a big bass from a particular spot, always try this spot later on as another big bass will eventually move into the vacated area.

FISHING FORECAST Sebastian Inlet has had fair action with snook, trout, redfish, and flounder. Large live shrimp or small baitfish are the top offerings. Fish the baits slowly across the rocky bottom with the tide. Most veterans simply walk along the rocks, letting their bait work with the tide. Rver action with bass is still great, and speckled perch are in the lilly pad fields. Anglers are catching good numbers of specks jigging holes in the lilly pads. The river is still in the banks, but base are working back into newly flooded areas in search of food. I prefer to fish areas that are clearly defined such as a steep bank or a deep bend. A wide variety of lures work well, from plastic worms to shiners and small Rapalas.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports that high seas have kept boats in Port. King mackerel and dolphin will be offshore. while some cobia will be found just off the beach. Inside the Port, look for sheepshead and flounder. Trout and redfish are rated as fair in the Banana and Indian rivers.

Ponce Inlet has featured fast action with sheepshead, drum, redfish, jack crevalle, and ladyfish. Live or dead shrimp is the top bait. Trout and redfish are rated fair to good in Mosquito Lagoon.

Winter Springs got off to a fast start as Daniel Moctezuma claimed the first weight title, lifting 425 pounds to win the 119-pound weight class.

Moctezuma set an SAC record by lifting 245 pounds in the bench and then adding 180 pounds in the clean-and-jerk to post the victory.

The Bears also won the 139 pound class as Esteban Murillo set a conference record with a 285-pound bench press and then picked up 235 pounds in the clean-and-jerk to earn the Winter Springs would not score again until James Sprague lifted 650 pounds (370 in the bench and 280 in the clean-andjerk) to win the 219-pound weight division.

Coach Mickey Casko's Tribe squad spread its points out, as Quoc Van, the defending State Champion at 119 pounds, moved up to the 129-pound class to win gold, while Josh Lively won at 199 pounds and Lee Moore collected the trophy in the Heavyweight division.

Van did what he had to do to win, but it was not easy.

He lifted 245 pounds in the bench press, but Oviedo's James Jordan set a conference record by pushing 275-pounds in the bench press, and then lifted 220 pounds in the clean-andjerk, forcing Van to lift at least 250 pounds in the clean-andjerk to claim the crown.

And that's what he did. After an easy 245-pound lift, Van struggled with the heavier weight, but the judges ruled the lift good, giving the title to the Tribesman.

The Tribe then closed out the run rule win with single runs in the third and sixth innings and two runs in the fourth inning. Angelo Petracca led the way

Other contributors were Krall (single, run, RBI), Kimmig and Dominic Petracca (one single and two runs scored each), Matt Fraysier (single) and Parrett (run).

On Friday, Seminole had survived a major scare to edge Lyman, 2-1, in Longwood. Jacob Davis hurled a one-hitter to keep his record unblem-
