Benny Show Masterful, Well-Constructed, Funny

By WILLIAM EWALD
NEW YORK (UPI) — Jack Benny's one hour special for CBS-TV Wednesday night was a pro's job, beautifully paced, tidily constructed and in most of its parts, quiet funny.

The hour was unbotled with some cheerful nonsense—two openings. The first, a nice soft-shell send-off, had Benny on a stool, unjacketed, pretending he was warming up to studio audience. The second, a beguiling essay in pomp, was the "big" opening—three marching bands, confetti, balloons, streamers, a unicyclist, a cowboy on a horse, a drawn rickshaw and an equally tired looking camel, a crescent moon with a girl passenger, and just about everything but NBC-TV's Wagon Train, which, unfortunately still is detained somewhere west of St. Joe.

From that point on, it was almost all gravy. Bob Hope was on board and was in handsome form. Mitz Gaynor also was mustered in and although her singing is undistinguished and her dancing a trifle heavy-footed, she is pleasantly contoured and did no real harm.

The meat portions of the show were contained in two Benny skits. One was a bit with Senor Wences, that ventriloquist-refugee from Ed Sullivan, which had Benny's head inside a box. It's rather impossible to explain—you had to be there as they say. But it was certainly a successful chunk of clownery.

The other skit was—and I hate to use the word—a classic. It involved Benny and a trio of chimpanzees who are part of an act called the Marquis Family. It was a file fugee in patachico and the videotape certainly should be deemed to some comic hall of fame.

Bud Yorkin, who strawboxed the Fred Astaire special earlier this season, produced and directed the Benny hour. He can take bow number two for the semester.

Short Notes: Harold Stone turned in a very solid job Wednesday night as the villain on CBS-TV's Trackdown. Robert Culp, the hero of the series, also chipped in his usual four-square performance. Culp, Richard Boone of CBS-TV's

Rawls Is Leading Royal Crown Open
COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI)—Betty Rawls held a three-stroke lead today in the $6,000 Royal Crown women's open here after shooting the only sub-par golf in the opening round Thursday.

Miss Rawls, of Spartanburg, S.C., who shot a blistering 70 at the Augusta Country Club in the titleholders last Sunday but finished second, hoped to break her "Georgia jinx" here this week.

The 5-6, 135-pound veteran golfer shut a two-under women's par 72. That was good enough to put her three strokes in front of Patty Berg, Minneapolis, Minn., and Wilf Smith, St. Clair, Mich. Louis Suggs, Sea Island, Ga., who captured the Titleholders in windy and cold weather, found Thursday's gusty winds and fast greens too much. Miss Suggs ended up at 76 in a tie for third with Marlene Bauer Hagee, Delray Beach, Fla., and Bonnie Randolph, Naples, Fla.

Tibet Anti-Red Revolt Spreads To China, Nationalists Report

Help Is Requested From Free World

TAIPEI (UPI)—The anti-Communist revolt in Tibet has spread to Communist China, a Nationalist Chinese cabinet member said today. He urged the anti-Communist world to assist the revolution lest it become another Hungary.

The official was Li Yung-hsin, chairman of the Nationalist government's Mongolian and Tibetan Affairs Commission. He told United Press International the uprising had spread across the border to the Chinese provinces of Sikkim and Chinghai. Sikkim also borders India.

Li made the statement shortly after Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru told Parliament in New Delhi today that street fighting had broken out in the Tibetan capital of Lhasa. Nehru expressed concern for the safety of the Dalai Lama whose whereabouts are now unknown.

Nehru also disclosed that the heaviest fighting broke out last Friday in the capital when rumors spread through Lhasa that the Chinese Communists planned to kidnap the Dalai Lama, spiritual and temporal ruler of the mountain kingdom.

Revolts had been reported earlier in various parts of Tibet but fighting broke out in Lhasa for the first time. Unconfirmed reports reaching the Indian border said Communist planes had bombed Lhasa.

The Chinese official gave no sources for his report but the revolt had spread across the border, he said. The Nationalist government is known to have intelligence agents on the mainland.

Li and other high-ranking Nationalist officials met in secrecy today to study possible steps the Nationalists might take to help the revolt. President Chiang Kai-shek has predicted the Peiping regime would collapse from internal revolt and officials have hinted they would send troops to the mainland when a revolt does break out.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Kidnaper Richard A. Payne, who attempted to bargain with the governor of West Virginia for the lives of four hostages, was recovering today from an attempt to take his own life with a razor blade.

Payne was discovered Sunday bleeding from a deep cut inside his elbow, and apparent attempt to slash an arterial vein, authorities said at Kanawha County Jail.

A letter written by the 22-year-old ex-convict said, "Today is the 22nd, the day I'm going to end it all."

Payne, described by state police as "an extremely dangerous mental case," apparently changed his mind from his pledge last week that he was anxious to return to the Mountaineer penitentiary to kill his "worst enemy," Burton J. Post.

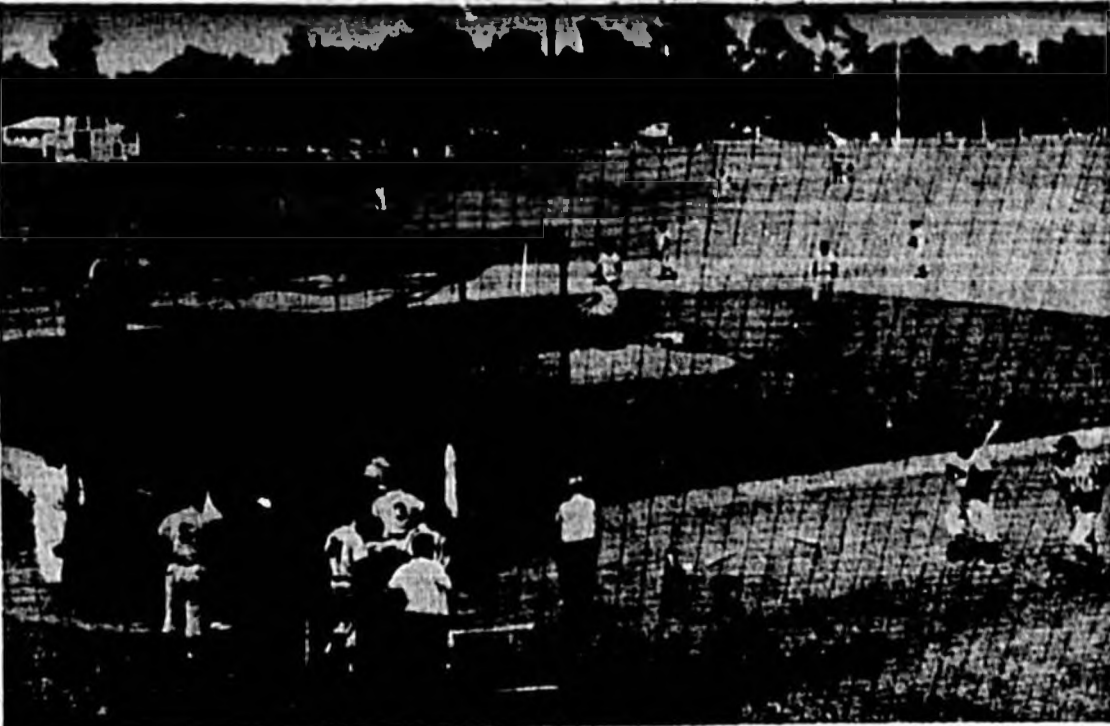

The ex-convict kidnaped Mrs. Elma Baldwin, 29, and her three children from their South Charleston home last Wednesday in an elaborate ransom scheme to trade their lives for Post's "head."

Each net bears the label: "York Manufacturing Company, Sanford, Florida—where fishing is fun."

The slogan appears on all letterheads and envelopes of the firm, which produces television antennas, in addition to fishing equipment.

Soon fishermen all over the world will be aware that the fishing is fun in Sanford.

Sunshine Is Back, Players Get Work

Baseball players, eating heavily and exercising little during a week of rain, started paying the price of "living high on the hog" yesterday.

Although some were puffing after "wind sprints" around the San Francisco Giants' farm league base here, others didn't appear to be a bit out of shape.

Bob Perry definitely appeared to be in the latter category, belting

Daughter Is Dead, Parents Are Mum

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI)—Detectives today probed the mysterious death of an attractive 16-year-old Beverly Hills housewife, whose husband and wealthy parents refused to talk about the baffling case.

The neatly clothed body of Brenda Emerson was found lying on the lawn of St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday night after an unidentified man telephoned and said:

"There's a body lying out on your lawn. A black sedan just drove off real fast."

A preliminary autopsy failed to determine the cause of death, although it was revealed autopsy surgeons found a small mark on the inner part of her right arm which might have been made by a hypodermic needle.

Det. L. E. J. Vandergrift said that when he and another detective went to the nearby West Los Angeles home of Mrs. Emerson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Blonder, they were met by attorney Jerome Weber.

"What's the crime?" Weber demanded, according to Vandergrift.

The detective said Weber told them that he had advised Blonder, a furniture dealer, and his wife to refuse to answer any questions.

"You mean, even though your daughter is dead under strange circumstances that you don't want to help us?" asked Vandergrift.

"Don't be so cruel," the detective said someone in the house shouted.

Angler Lost Fish, Boat And Trunks; Women 'Twitter'
MIAMI (UPI)—It wasn't so long when the fish got away, said fisherman Frank Vernie, 42.

What made him mad was when he lost his boat and flame-red swimming trunks.

It also was embarrassing.

He started Sunday when a big wave threw him from the rear of the 20-foot cabin cruiser he shared with Frank Johnston. Johnston didn't notice Vernie was missing and continued trolling.

As the boat faded into the distance, Vernie peeled off his shorts and waved them frantically. A passing charter boat loaded with men and women spotted him.

By this time, Vernie was too tired to put on his trunks. And despite the uttering of several female fishermen, he allowed himself to be hauled out of the water minus his bright red trunks.

Off-Duty Fireman Douses Truck Fire

An off-duty fireman came to the rescue yesterday. He put out a truck fire before on-duty firemen could arrive at the scene.

Alvin Hittell, grabbed a can of carbon tetrachloride from his car when the semi-truck began to flame. Despite his quick action the entire engine and transmission were destroyed. The fire occurred at 24th St. and French Ave.

Another fire did considerable damage to a dwelling owned by Harold Appleby, 408 Virginia Ave. The rafters were found in flames when a faulty fuse shot fire from the furnace to the ceiling. The Department was assisted by Billy Leffler Jr.

Commission Nixes League Invitation

County Commissioners will not attend the April 1 meeting of the Longwood Citizens League in the County courthouse to discuss the County Home.

In a letter to Joseph S. Rogers, president of the League, John Krider, speaking for the Board, declined the League's invitation to attend the public meeting.

"They (the Commissioners) feel they should not be placed on trial by a jury composed of citizens who have not given the Board the courtesy of discussing with them the conditions in the County Home at one of our regular meetings, of which at least five are held each month in the courthouse," Krider said.

The Commission chairman continued, "Apparently, the object has been to create publicity for certain individuals through the press, with charges and insinuations against the present Board of County Commissioners. As I pointed out in my previous letter,

Unusual Sight, That Sun Shining Bright

It was a rare sight, that strange light which broke through the clouds.

Sun glasses? Yes, quite a few on the streets of Sanford broke them out Saturday morning. It had been so long since this necessary had been needed.

The disposition of the entire population seemed to improve with the coming of the sun. It had been a bad week for Sanford, and Florida. The reputation of the Sunshine State was working in reverse. We were having everything except sunshine.

Steady rains really worked on the roads, paved and unpaved. Drainage ditches, ample under ordinary circumstances, couldn't handle the deluge. John Krider, County Commission chairman, estimates that a month of hard work will be required to repair the damage.

In addition to the ordinary kind of suffering in such weather, local farmers had a special ailment; ripened cabbage and celery, a market for same, but no way to get the vegetables to market. The end result was delayed sales. A few lost sales, too, perhaps.

Baseball players who came to Florida for spring training, and ideal weather for this, had a few problems peculiar to their avocation, too. A couple of Major League teams, seeking a way to beat the weather, flew to Cuba. It was raining there, too.

As a well-known UPI sports writer said, this was the worst Florida weather in the memory of the Arizona Chamber of Commerce. The San Francisco Giants, Cleveland Indians, Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox, all training in Arizona, were playing exhibition games and getting in their regular drills.

Saturday brought the sun, and spring. That should be enough to please the most difficult to satisfy.

To the Arizona Chamber of Commerce: Yes, we had a lot of rain. Probably more than Arizona gets in several years. But, when summer temperatures climb to 120 in the shade (and there is very little shade), Arizona Chamber officials probably will yearn for Florida, its many lakes, abundance of shade and gentle breezes.

Health Units Toured

Seminole Commissioners found "just what the county needs" during a tour of new health units in Lakeland, Winter Haven and Haines City.

Commissioners were accompanied by John Burton IV, architect who will design the local unit; Ralph Lovelock, engineering hospital expert, and Dr. Jack Thurmond, health unit director.

John Krider, Commission chairman, said the Lakeland unit impressed touring officials. Lakeland has a health unit which is simplified and economical.

Soon, the $100,000 facility will start taking shape on French Ave. This new building will fill a vital need in Seminole County. Although somewhat pressed for funds, the Commission came up with the $40,000 needed to match the federal grant.

As a result, Seminole County will get a fine health unit for about one-half the actual cost. This is good business, for the county and its people.

Laborites Might Pay Moscow Visit

LONDON (UPI) — The Communist Daily Worker said Thursday that opposition Labor Party leaders Hugh Gaitskell and Aneurin Bevan "are likely to accept" an invitation to visit Moscow later this year.

The invitation was extended by Mikhail Suslov, Communist Party secretary and member of the Politburo, who is in Britain with a Soviet delegation.

'LUNATIC FRINGE'

Assignment Washington

By Ed Molerba

WASHINGTON — I looked down into the great hole across the street from the Capitol. The squad of pile drivers ker-chunged a muffled, metallic rhythm; the draglines and shovels gulped damp red clay. Workmen scattered around like ants.

What I saw there was Congress' latest project of the space age — The Congressmen's own space age. They need more space for their desks, typewriters, secretaries, trunks and themselves.

So they're putting into that big hole a $15 million new, new House office building. This is three times what the just-finished new Senate building cost — and folks griped about that.

The gentlemen of the House already occupy two big office buildings, known as the old and the new. But each suite has only two rooms. What they want is three.

Which brings us around to the strange tale of how the lawmakers got us taxpayers into the hotel business on Capitol Hill. Our Congressman last year bought a hotel. This taxpayers' hotel is a 190-room, seven-story building, built only 13 years ago.

The hotel is named, oddly enough, the Congressional. It comes complete with fancy cocktail lounges and dining rooms. The main bar is known as the Filibuster Room, the dining halls are the Caucus Room, the Committee Room, the Veto and Presidential Rooms.

Perhaps it was a grave mistake, buying this big hotel, but nobody will own up to that.

The building cost taxpayers a bit more than $15 million. The government purchased it from the Knott hotel system.

The idea was to convert it into temporary three-room suites for our space-conscious Congressmen, while their little of two-room offices in the two present office buildings would be rebuilt piecemeal into three rooms. (After all, Senators now have five and six rooms apiece.)

Somewhere along the line, the idea backfired. Maybe it was that someone suddenly discovered that the lawmakers' big solid mahogany furniture was too heavy for the hotel's floor structure.

Or it could have been some of the doubting Congressmen themselves. Like what Representative Edward P. Boland (D., Mass.) said: "We need more room as much as a hole in the head."

Or it may have been that someone discovered that the new, new House building, to be completed in 1962, would take care of all space problems. The piecemeal building of the present buildings could be put off until then. That new building will have three-room suites for 170 Congressmen.

Thus, the House Office Building Commission had on its hands a big, fancy hotel with no practical taxpayers' use. So what did they do? They turned around and rented the hotel right back to the original owners, the Knott people.

But the taxpayers still own it, and the guests — including 19 Congressmen — pay their room rent to Uncle Sam's lessees.

Just what's going to happen eventually to that hotel is another mystery. The government has a five-year option, and there's no indication our Congressmen want to sell it.

For a little man standing on the corner, looking up at that taxpayers' hotel, it seemed to loom as big as an elephant — a white one.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The extent of the debt owed by the West to Prime Minister Macmillan has become more evident in the course of his talks with President Eisenhower and the President's advisers on foreign policy.

It is hardly too much to say that he prepared the way for the negotiations which are to take place in the spring and summer. This might have come about in any event because of the widespread fear of a nuclear war touched off by the threat to Berlin. But the frank and on the whole hard-boiled talks that he held with Premier Khrushchev in Moscow greatly facilitated the process.

One thing he is credited with achieving there is not generally known. He is credited with persuading Premier Khrushchev to delay the signing of a separate peace treaty with East Germany at least until after negotiations with the West.

Macmillan when he arrived in Moscow found the irrepressible Mr. K. in a highly belligerent mood. After the official welcome, which was cordial enough, Khrushchev informed Macmillan that he was going to East Germany for the express purpose of signing a separate peace with the puppet regime of Walter Ulbricht and Otto Grotewohl.

Then came the brutal speech in which the Soviet Premier seemed to throw the whole idea of a negotiated settlement back in Macmillan's face. It was a grim experience and a less patient man might well have replied in kind and have departed in a huff.

It was against this background in the second round with Khrushchev that Macmillan talked turkey. He made it clear that a separate peace treaty would make any negotiation impossible since it would seem to confirm the intention of the Soviets to turn over full authority over West Berlin to the East Germans on May 31. If that Mr. K. wanted was to confront President Eisenhower at the summit then this was the surest way to prevent it.

Khrushchev went through with his plans to visit the Leipzig trade fair and East Berlin. And while he continued to throw out hints about the possibility of a separate peace, in private with the East Germans he took quite a different tack.

In an off-the-record talk to top officials of the East German Communist apparatus he said that patience was necessary. He pointed to the many years of struggle that the Russian Communists had gone through after the revolution of 1917, contrasting those bitter years with Russia's recent triumphs.

Ending on a note of inspiration he told the East German Communists that they were on the right track. Just a few more years, he concluded in his fiery, ebullient oratorical style, and you will find your system beginning to attract the West Germans and the flow of people will be from the West to the East rather than from East to West as it is today. This was a badly needed shot in the arm and reports to officials here indicate that the dispirited officialdom of the Pankov regime has perked up a little since the Khrushchev visit.

It is possible that they were relieved not to have the kind of showdown that would have been precipitated by a separate treaty of peace. This would have meant brinkmanship of a very dangerous order. On that slippery slope it might have been impossible to check the slide toward war.

How important it was to try to prevent the irrevocable step of a separate treaty between Moscow and East Berlin is seen in the light of the Western effort to put forward a treaty for the two Germans as a major focus of discussion in the conferences to come. As currently considered in the working group set up by the three powers in Paris, the Western idea seems a long way from anything the Russians would accept. Nevertheless a treaty is still in the range of discussion.

On the day he arrived in Washington Macmillan got some magnificent news. Unemployment, which had risen so sharply as to make Laborites confident of an election victory over the Conservatives, took the sharpest drop in 12 years, going from 3 percent of the work force to 2.5 percent. This, combined with the prospect of meaningful negotiation, gives the Prime Minister the look of a lucky winner and at the same time it adds a new note of stability to the Western alliance.

California Credits Defense For Title In NCAA Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Defensive basketball, especially as played on the West Coast, took on new prestige today as California's bull-hugging Bears carried home the national collegiate title, won in a 71-70 thriller over West Virginia in the NCAA finals here Saturday night.

The defensive side of the collegiate game has been making a slow comeback in the past two seasons from the days when most teams were content to have their offense described as "a wave, a shout and a dirty look."

Even though West Virginia, with Jerry West alone getting 28, rolled up the season's highest total allowed by the Bears, it still was California's error-free, deliberate attack and clinging man-for-man defense that proved superior to the Mountaineer's style of run and shoot in the showdown.

West Virginia coach Fred Schaus gave all credit to his coaching rival Pete Newell for "coming up with the best defensive club we've seen all season."

It took the Bears 10 minutes to get set in the title game as West Virginia attacked to 23-13 lead in the first nine minutes. But the Bears played the game they knew best, and held the Mountaineers to a single field goal for the rest of the half.

That gave California the 30-33 halftime lead, and when West collected a fourth personal foul early in the second half, the issue was sealed, even if West Virginia did refuse to concede it.

Trailing 69-64 with two minutes to go, West Virginia came within a point of tying it up when Buck Hollywood sank two free throws and West got a basket on a go-ahead call.

But the Bears played it cool, worked the ball around West Virginia's zone defense until they got it in to 6-10 center Darrell Imhoff, who missed his hook shot but tapped in the rebound for the game winning basket.

Pitchers Key To Cubs' Finish

(Editors Note: This is the seventh dispatch on the prospects of major league teams for 1959.)

By SCOTT BAILLIE
United Press International
MESA, Ariz. (UPI)—Manga, Rob Scheffing of the Cubs is looking to an apple-checked pitching staff plus a veteran outfield and infield to hustle his club back into the first division for the first time since 1946.

"We'll go as far as our young pitchers can take us," says Scheffing, who points out that southpaw Taylor Phillips is the "dean" of the staff at 25. "And I hope for better days from Moe Drabowsky and Dick Drott."

These two right-handers, aged 23 and 22 respectively, won a total of 28 games between them in 1957 when Chicago finished last. Then in 1958 the best they could muster up was 16 wins for a team that ended in a fifth place tie with St. Louis.

Drabowsky (9-11) suffered a sore elbow last season, an ailment which may have been caused by some infected teeth which since have been extracted. Drott (7-11) a rather wild strike-out artist with the Cubs in 1957, ran into even more control trouble last year and had a lot of errors behind him.

"I'm also looking for a better year from T. Bone," Scheffing says of the husky Phillips. "He went sort of sour in the latter part of the season."

If the Cubs can get another left-hander to help Bill Henry (5-3) in relief, they'll be happy. And they may have found him in Art Ceccarelli, a draftee from Phoenix where he had a 10-4 mark last season. Rob Anderson (8-6), steady and tireless, figured in Scheffing's plans as a possible starter. So do Glen Hobbie (10-6) and Dave Hillman (4-9).

Banks is Big Man
The most impressive-looking rookie is John Bushardt, a right-hander who compiled a 1.80 earned run average during a 23-inning stint with the Cubs last season.

The big man on the club is Ernie Banks, who won the National League's Most Valuable Player award last year while hitting 47 homers and leading both leagues with 120 runs batted in. The little shortstop appears as dangerous as ever.

Alvin Dark, now 36, is pegged for third base and has said he is ready to go 154 games. But Scheffing wants to play the former LSU football star about two weeks at a stretch, then rest him with either Johnny Goryl or Earl Averill stepping in. Averill, who is the son of Cleveland's star center fielder of two decades ago, was obtained from that club in a recent deal which sent pitcher Johnny Briggs and outfielder Jim Bolger to the Tribe. Some camp experts say that Averill still is not ready for the majors.

Tony Taylor, tremendously fast but rather weak at bat, last season may turn into a better hitter this year while holding down second base. He has been tabbed as the most improved player in camp. Tony hit .300 in Puerto Rico this winter after ending '58 with .235 at Chicago.

Long At First
Dale Long, who never has hit less than 30 homers per season since entering the National League in 1955, continues to be the long ball threat at first. Right behind him is Jim Marshall, who thinks he is at the peak of his career and also hits a steerable ball.

Also on hand for outfield duty are Bob Will, who hit .361 at Port Worth in 1954; Chick King and rookie George Altman.

Scheffing hedges when faced with the question of the Cubs' chances for getting a share of the World Series money for a first-division finish. But Banks says "Everybody is up this season because we are an improved over 1958. Now we know we can win games."

Willie In Action; Giants Appear Set

By JOE SARGIS
United Press International
Willie Mays says he's ready to go again, and apparently so are the San Francisco Giants.

Willie, who has been out of action since March 12 because of a leg cut that required 35 stitches, was his old self Sunday during the Giants' pre-game workout at Phoenix, Ariz.

Even Manager Bill Rigney was surprised when Willie showed up at Municipal Stadium all suited up and ready to play. With an "OK" from his doctor already secured, Mays warmed up with a couple of wind sprints in the outfield.

"There's no pain," he beamed to reporters standing by. And just to prove that the layoff hadn't hurt him one bit, he stepped into the batting cage and rattled a dozen or so smashes over the left field fence.

With his teammates rooting him on, Mays said "I'll be in shape before the season starts."

"Don't forget, we have 16 more pre-season games after today," the $80,000 a year star reminded. "If I play in half of them—which is a cinch—I'll be in condition, don't you worry."

Giants Beat Cubs
The enthusiasm engendered by Mays' lusty hitting carried over as the Giants backed up some solid pitching by lefty Mike McCormick with timely hitting for a 10-7 status league victory over the Chicago Cubs, Felipe Alou, with a pair of homers and four runs batted in, spearheaded the attack against a trio of Chicago pitchers.

Jim Marshall, rookie Ray Bellino and Ernie Banks propelled homers for the Cubs while Andre Rodgers hit another for the Giants.

Meanwhile, a long bus ride away at Tucson, the Cleveland Indians learned that big Mike Garcia, who is attempting a comeback after a poor 1958 showing, will be lost to them for at least a week with a leg injury, Mike, who took over for Gary Bell in the sixth, was hit just inside the left knee with a line drive off the bat of Boston's Billy Consolo in the following frame.

Garcia crumpled to the ground and was carried off on a stretcher. X-rays at St. Mary's Hospital showed only a deep bruise—no break. Erratic play by the Red Sox helped the Indians to three unearned runs and the Tribe went on to score a 7-5 victory.

Williams Has Cold
Ted Williams was scheduled to make his Arizona debut in this game but was confined to his hotel room with a cold in his right shoulder. He reportedly was having some difficulty breathing.

The injury jinx also hit the Washington Senators, who dropped an 11-2 decision to the Kansas City Athletics at West Palm Beach, Fla. The game was called after eight innings because of rain.

Big Leaguers To Discuss All-Star, Series Money

NEW YORK (UPI)—A discussion of rights to the television proceeds of the annual major-league baseball All-Star game and the World Series is on the agenda for a meeting of the 16 big league player representatives Tuesday at Tampa, it was disclosed today.

J. Norman Lewis, attorney for the player representatives, warned the 16 delegates that this topic "now has become extremely important because the commissioner is presently negotiating for a new World Series television contract, although the present contract expires in 1961."

A letter from Lewis to each of the representatives claims that radio proceeds of the 1946 World Series, when there was no television, "was the players' property."

"The players' argument," said Lewis, "is that the TV money would have, and should have been the players' property just as the old radio money was. Of course, the matter was settled out of court by the agreement of a 60-40 per cent division."

Alan Histed by Lewis as topics for discussion at the meeting were:

—Discussion of the players' "best move" in their bid for a "set share" of the major league clubs' gross income, which Lewis said was rejected by the club owners as "wrong in principle."

—The election of a new American League representative to succeed Eddie Yost of Detroit, who has resigned.

—A discussion of attempts to have Lewis named a co-counsel in case of

Bob Goalby Leads, Middlecoff Second In St. Pete Golf

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Bob Goalby held a slim one-stroke lead today entering the final round of the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open golf tournament.

Goalby gave himself a belated birthday gift Sunday by taking the lead with a three-under-par 69 and a three-round total of 205. The Belleville, Ill. pro turned 28 Saturday.

Right behind him at 206 was Cary Middlecoff of Hollywood, Fla., who fired a sizzling 31 on the back nine Sunday for the lowest nine holes in the tournament. He shot a par 36 for the front nine.

George Bayer of Glenview, Ill., who entered the third round with a one-stroke lead, dropped to a 207 after shooting a 77. Peter Cooper, Lakeland, Fla., moved up to third place with a 207 after carding a 69. Tied at 210 were Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich. and Wes Ellis Jr., Aldecross, N. J.

Knotted with Bayer at 212 were Art Wall Jr., Pocomo Manor, Pa., and Tommy Jacobs, Whittier, Calif.

Goalby fired deadly accurate drives and approach shots which left him short puts most of the way. He collected four birdies and one bogey and capped the round with a 25-foot putt for a birdie one the last hole.

Middlecoff's putts were outstanding and he had them going from all angles on the back nine. He said he played a conservative game which usually gives him a better score.

Bayer, one of the longest hitters in the game, had trouble with controlling his drives. Most of his drives were hooking and a strong wind carried them further away from the fairways. His fine putting failed to make up for his drives.

Beauchamp Defeats Petty In Atlanta

ATLANTA (UPI)—The anticipated stock car duel between Johnny Beauchamp of Harlan, Iowa, and Lee Petty of Randleman, N. C., failed to materialize Sunday.

Beauchamp, who lost the Daytona, Fla., 500 by inches on a reversed judge's decision, took no chances on repeat occurrence in the Atlanta 100-mile grand national auto race Sunday afternoon. Driving a 1958 Thunderbird, Beauchamp lapped every car in the race and won going away by nearly a mile.

Graduation To Get 4 St. Johns Stars

NEW YORK (UPI)—Graduation will wreck St. John's newly-crowned National Invitation Tournament champions, but Coach Joe Lapchick is expected to build another basketball powerhouse next season around "most valuable player" Tony Jackson.

Jackson, the sophomore sensation who scored 21 points and grabbed 27 rebounds in the Redmen's 16-1 overtime win over Bradley in Saturday's nationally televised finale, is the only St. John's starter returning next year.

One will be Alan Seiden, who was a unanimous choice along with Jackson today on the All-NIT team picked for United Press International by 16 sports writers who covered the 12-team carnival at Madison Square Gardens.

Named to the all-tourney team along with Jackson and Seiden were Bobby Joe Mason of Bradley, Cal Ramsey of New York U., and Lennie Wilkens of Providence. Second team selections were Joe Billy McDade and Mike Owens of Bradley, Jim Peay of Denver, Bob Ferry of St. Louis, and Louie Roethel of St. John's.

St. John's, after trailing Bradley by eight points during the opening minutes, didn't catch up until five minutes from the end. The Redmen led briefly in the closing minutes but the score was tied at 63-63 at the end of regulation time. St. John's led, 66-67, with 30 seconds left in the overtime when Gus Allieri drove in for a layup and added a free throw for the winning point.

Two nationally-ranked stars from Keith Dillon's kennel are regarded as the dogs to beat in a pair of Derby qualifying races slated tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

Bel Del in the ninth and Cri Tears in the 10th are favored to set the pace in the 24th annual Central Florida Derby, scheduled at the Longwood track Friday night.

The first four finishers in each elimination test will land in the Derby. The four also-rans will compete in the Derby Consolation on tap Thursday night.

Other early favorites in addition to Bel Del and Cri Tears, who both have won important derby events at other tracks, are Hural Commander and Happy Joe Lucky.

Green Will Settle Assessment Level

The long-debated level of assessment and millage on Seminole County property will be settled in the office of State Comptroller Ray E. Green.

An announcement yesterday that Green would "mediate" the debate between Mrs. Mary Earle Walker, tax assessor, and the County Commission and School Board does not mean that the officials are arguing again, Commission Chairman John Krider said today.

Commissioners, members of the School Board, members of the Zoning Board, the county attorney and a representative of the private appraisal company now making a survey in the county visited Green's office yesterday.

Krider said the group was not attempting to criticize anyone. He added that "it was a conference to go over the problems."

Green told the group that he would call Mrs. Walker and members of the Seminole legislative delegation to Tallahassee on April 9 to discuss the level of assessments.

At the same time, he said he wanted assurance that tax millage would be reduced in proportion to the increase in the assessment level.

"I will try to persuade Mrs. Walker to prepare a tax roll based on more realistic values," Green told the local officials.

Krider said an appraisal such as being prepared by Dowling Appraisal Co. could give the county a tax roll of $100 million or more.

He said this figure would be reached if property assessments were raised from the current 40 per cent level to 75 per cent of value.

Krider added that the millage in the county could be reduced from 6 1/2 mills to about 16, if the assessment level is raised to 75 per cent of value.

He and other county officials told Green that tax revenues are not keeping pace with population in Seminole County and that many new homes are getting a complete tax exemption under existing conditions.

Mrs. Walker said several weeks ago that she would not set an assessment level until after she had conferred with Green. She said this would be done at Green's request.

Meanwhile, the Legislative Council's special committee on taxation mailed to all legislators an 18-page statement of the state's financial outlook for the next two years.

It was compiled by Sen. W. C. Pearce of Palatka and the council's research staff.

Pearce reiterated his belief that income in the next two years will not exceed 700 million dollars and may fall below that.

Both houses have set their sights on a general appropriations bill that will not exceed 600 million dollars.

Pearce, in a cover letter, informed the legislators that the financial problems facing the 1950 session are "serious" and invited them to use the figures in making their own estimates of how much the state can spend.

Miami Gets Pair For Theft Of Car

Two car thieves were returned to the scene of the crime today after a week in the Seminole County jail.

Bobby Joe Davis and William Johnson were turned over to Miami authorities this morning for stealing a car in that area last week.

The men were arrested Saturday night by Trooper T. Mark Mack, after the Highway Patrol had been alerted. Mack noticed the stolen car in Casselberry. Davis and Johnson are both from Miami.

Too Much For Judge

LONDON (UPI)—A plaintiff's attorney told Judge St. Clair Picher that his client was injured so severely in an assault that he is unable to watch television for only 15 minutes at a time.

"That," said the judge, "is a great deal more than I can stand."

Firm Stand Needed In Negotiations Macmillan Thinks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said today that as long as the Western Allies stand firm on their principles "the free world has everything to gain from being ready to negotiate" with Russia.

He conceded in a statement on his departure for London that "the next few months will be a testing period for the whole free world."

But he expressed confidence that the West "shall succeed."

The prime minister noted that he had said upon his arrival here Thursday for his conferences with President Eisenhower that the differences between the West and Russia over Germany, Berlin and so forth, ought to be settled by negotiation and not by force.

"I have no doubt that so long as we stand firmly on our principles — as we shall do — the free world has everything to gain from being ready to negotiate," Macmillan told reporters.

He said the first phase of such negotiations was drawing to an end and "we are about to embark upon the next stage."

"The difficult decisions will have to be made," he said.

"While we must be reasonable in negotiation, we must also stand firmly on our rights and upon the positions which we have a duty to defend."

"It will be a tough task, but one in which I believe we shall succeed."

Ike Was Lengthy In Explanation Of Why No Comment

WASHINGTON (UPI)—At his press conference, President Eisenhower took two minutes to tell why he couldn't comment on Premier Khrushchev's latest proposal.

This is the proposal in which Khrushchev says West Berlin needn't worry if the Allies pull out; he will guarantee it stays free.

It explained that it wouldn't make sense for him to react every time the Russian boss makes one of his wisecracks. Putting it in medical terms with which he has become pretty familiar in his six years at the White House, the President said this could be like kicking your foot up every time the doctor taps your knee with a hammer.

He said the U. S. has Allies, and he has to talk to them first. He said that four-power talks are planned on what to tell Khrushchev, and after that NATO must be asked.

"Violating everything I've just said," he went on, grinning "I don't think much of it."

The President was in top form at this session with newsmen. Sometimes the reporters get the impression he doesn't care much for these meetings. This time, he was in command all the way, and having fun.

For awhile there, throwing verbal punches at Congress, he sounded more like Harry S. Truman than Dwight Eisenhower.

Faubus Says Feds 'After Men' Again

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Gov. Orval Faubus said today he has "confidential" information that the grand jury decision of segregationist Dale Alford's election to Congress is another attempt by the federal government to discredit him.

A 22-member federal grand jury containing two Negroes heard testimony from FBI agents there were irregularities involved in Alford's 1,300 vote victory in victory over Rep. Brooks Hays and ordered all ballot boxes in the district impounded.

Faubus charged the FBI report to the grand jury was biased. He said if it were fair, supporters of Hays would be in "deeper trouble" than Alford's backers.

"I have inside, confidential information that they are using this to get me by trying my name in with the election," Faubus said.

Read That Fine Print, Casual Reader

The fine print in The Herald may change the habits and life of the casual reader, who passes it by for more easily read material.

Zoning and Planning Board Chairman Clifford McKibbin Jr. told the City Commission last night that people don't read the legal advertisements in the paper.

"Many times they don't know that their neighborhood is being rezoned, until someone starts to build something objectionable," he said.

At Winter Park, when rezoning to a lower category is anticipated the residents within a block of the area are notified by mail.

The rezoning will permit Mrs. Ann Mitchell to build a best hotel.

'Bungling' Blamed For Innocent Men Going To Prison

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI)—Bungling officials are condemning innocent men as murderers, the head of Harvard's legal medicine department charged today.

He said the nation's homicide setup is in somewhat of a mess and "as many innocent persons are going to jail as murderers are going free."

"It's inevitable this is going to happen when you have incompetent people handling the operation," said Dr. Richard Ford.

He said the only solution was "to get enough money" to train and keep competent forensic pathologists—where they are called coroners or medical examiners—and create the laws to back them up.

He said absolutely no one should be allowed at the scene of a suspicious death until a trained scientific crew has gathered all possible evidence.

"The police should freeze everybody out—that goes for newsmen, too," he told newsmen from 22 states, Japan, France and Bolivia gathered for the first annual Northwestern University short course for newsmen in crime news analysis and reporting.

Ford said it was impossible to estimate how many innocent men are rotting in prison under false murder charges.

City Okays Change In Zoning Rules

City commissioners last night approved an amendment to the Zoning Ordinance to allow mechanical garages in retail-commercial zones.

Mechanical garages and paint and body shops previously have been prohibited within the city limits, although many are operating unlicensed.

Earl Higginbotham requested an amendment allowing paint and body shops to operate within the city limits. A hearing will be held April 13 on the consideration.

Commissioner Bob Brown commented, "The average paint and body shop is dangerous and noisy. It allows in a Cat home it should be housed in a proper structure."

Don't Get Angry If He Zooms By; Just Smile, Relax

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Don't get angry the next time a speed-happy driver zooms by you in a classy-looking sports car. Chances are he's just feeling sexually inadequate.

At least that's the opinion of Dr. Jerome M. Kummer, a psychiatrist at the University of California at Los Angeles.

"We have found that a great many sports car drivers go in for these risky vehicles because they express feelings such as sexual inadequacy," Kummer told delegates to the sixth annual Western Safety Congress.

"The sports car driver is saying: 'I'm not a sissy!'" Kummer said.

City utilities will be extended no longer beyond the city limits without annexation. The action last night by the Commission should make a significant impression on those refusing to sign petitions.

Big Manhunt Set For Family Killer

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Police in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia and 75 FBI agents today mapped one of the East's biggest manhunts for the killer of a Virginia family of four.

A "general staff" of top homicide investigators will coordinate the hunt, spurred by the similarity of five other unsolved slayings in the Washington area during the past four years.

Washington police entered the case Saturday when the bodies of Mrs. Carroll W. Jackson, 27, and her daughter, Susan B., were uncovered in a shallow grave near Gambrills, Md.

The bodies of her husband, 29, and another daughter, Janet, 11, were found in a sandpit pile near Frederickburg, Va., on March 4.

The family had been missing since Jan. 11 when they were abducted from their car on a lonely road near their home south of Frederickburg.

Exhibition Games Start In Sanford

The first baseball training exhibition game in Sanford was scheduled this afternoon.

Corpus Christi was to meet Omaha in the 10th game, delayed about one week due to heavy rains. Phoenix is scheduled to make its off-delayed bow tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. Minneapolis is scheduled to be here to furnish the competition.

All minor league teams of the San Francisco Giants greeted the sunshine again today by working out in extra sessions.

Foundations Sink At Housing Unit

The foundations are settling in Cowan-Moughton Terrace.

Large cracks have appeared in the walls of several units in Sanford's newest low-cost housing project.

Gordon Bradley, executive director of the Sanford Housing Authority, said he had notified the contractor of the condition.

"Every new building settles to a certain degree," Bradley said. "But if extensive damage is done, it is still the responsibility of the contractor. We are lucky this happened now and not next year, when the grace period would be over."

Cowan-Moughton Terrace was opened in January. It contains 30 units for white families on West Third St.

Bradley added that heavy rains have been responsible for some of the settling of the buildings. Residents complained that the noise of the walls cracking at night has disturbed their sleep.

Production Hiked; Operators Needed

One of Sanford's clothing manufacturing plants received orders today to double its production immediately, while another announced plans to lure Florida fashions back to this city.

Coupled with pleas for experienced machine operators or trainees, Brookfield Mills revealed that production of Alix of Miami bathing suits would double immediately, and redouble next summer.

John Pietro of Pietro Manufacturing Company was jubilant. He said that work was begun today on an order from Florida Fashions, with more to come. The plant has produced pajamas and shirts until this time. Now, exclusive dresses will be added to the line.

A. B. Gussow, manager of Brookfield Mills, said, "We need all the experienced operators there are, and will take all the trainees we can get."

Pietro asked for at least 20 or 30 operators, preferably experienced.

Marvin Moltzer of Sanford Manufacturing Company said his plant can use experienced help anytime. "We already have increased our production, and at the end of this year will be greatly expanded; we are planning an addition covering 10,000 feet in this building, and will need many more operators," he said.

The only fly in the ointment appeared to be the lack of experienced machine operators. But there is a solution.

A continuous training class is operated free of charge by the Florida State Employment Service. The class convenes five nights a week from 6-10 p. m. at Pietro Manufacturing Company. The course lasts five weeks, or 35 hours.

Interested women may come to Pietro at 4 p. m. or inquire at the Employment Office, 110 West Second St. The classes have been depleted by demands from the clothing manufacturers. Brookfield wants all it can get; Pietro does too. Sanford Manufacturing needs more. There are ten women in the present class. Five already have been given jobs. The class can accommodate 25.

Officials said the training class has become a vital necessity to the Sanford garment industry. Talent or experience is not necessary; almost anyone can be taught to operate the machines.

War Erupts Anew In Tibet's Capital

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—Fighting has broken out again in the Tibetan capital of Lhasa and 13,000 Buddhist monks have joined the revolt against the Chinese Communists, informed sources reported today.

The sources said the fighting was on a smaller scale than last week in the mountain capital but that it had spread to other important centers of Tibet.

A U P I dispatch from Taipei quoted a member of the Chinese Nationalist Cabinet, Li Yun-hsin, as saying anti-Communist forces in southwestern China are marching on Tibet to join the uprising.

The rebels were reported to have reverted to their tactics of guerrilla warfare against the Chinese Communists whom they have been fighting at intervals for the past two years.

The sources said Chinese troops were having a tough time finding the rebels in the mountainous countryside.

They said it was difficult to estimate the number of casualties but they believed the total would run into the hundreds, and perhaps thousands.
