Israeli Official Here Forecasts Peace

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

While the shooting of an Israeli ambassador may have directly led to the invasion of Lebanon by Israel, it would have happened eventually.

And peace will come when a 25-mile-wide buffer zone is created between Lebanon and Israel and policed by an international force to assure that armed Palestinians will not be allowed to cross into Northern Israel.

This was the message given by the Israeli consul-general to the United States, Joel Arnon, to less than a dozen officials here this morning. They met in a Deltona Inn meeting room, while six armed Volusia County sheriff's deputies provided security at the door.

Dr. George Crossley, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lake Monroe, invited the Israeli representative to meet with his church group to demonstrate evangelical Christian support of the nation of Israel, which Crossley said

"has been ordained to exist by God."

The purpose of the war, he said, is to rout out the arms-carrying and fighting members of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO). Describing the PLO as a world terrorist organization, he said the 15 other terrorist groups operate under the PLO wing while the Soviet Union masterminds and arms the groups.

Arnon blamed the western press for American confusion over the Israeli invasion and the happenings since.

He contended the following:

—"We do not want to hurt civilians." The Israeli military drops leaflets over villages they intend to attack to rout out PLO-armed followers and fighters. The leaflets urge the villagers to leave their homes. In a day or two after the battle is over, they may return.

—Thirty-five Lebanese civilians were killed in the invasion of Lebanon. "We know because we had to bury them," he said. Some 20,000 have been displaced because of the war.

—The PLO has killed more than 120,000 persons over the past seven years.

—While the Western press did not question Britain's limiting press correspondents to one Englishman during the battle for the Falkland Islands, 10 television crews and hundreds of press correspondents have followed the war in Lebanon. "And they are a pain in the neck for military commanders," he said.

—Arab nations will not accept the 150,000 Palestinian refugees into their countries even though they have accepted 2 million foreign workers.

—"Arabs have the same language, the same culture, the same religion, but they lack compassion." Arnon said. "It's to their eternal shame that Arab governments have not offered the Palestinian refugees a way out," Arnon said.

Arnon said no attention has been given by the Western press to the facts that:

—The killers of the Israeli athletes at the 1972 World Olympic games in Munich several years ago may have been found.

—A T-72 Russian tank which Western experts said was indestructible was destroyed in battle by the Israelis.

Arnon said weapons collected from PLO fighters showed 60 percent were from Russia with the balance from China, Europe and the United States.

The consul-general said Israel hopes that if it can move the PLO out of Lebanon it will have a chance for a free government.

Arnon also pleaded, in said, by international strife between Moslems and Christians. "If we succeed there will be peace between Israel and Lebanon."

Turning again to the PLO he said it is a unique institution "with its members coming primarily from the Saudis and other Arab states on the one hand and being master and receiving its training

Seminole School Spending Is Up, But Taxes Down

Seminole County schools will be spending more in Fiscal 1982-83 but county taxpayers will be paying less to fund them.

The tentative $111.7 million budget presented to School Board members Tuesday by School Superintendent Robert Hughes is an increase of $14 million over this year's $97 million budget.

But because of the state's tax rollback provisions, the property tax rate in the county has declined. The rate in fiscal 1981-82 was $8.27 per thousand of assessed value. This year's rate is $6.82 per $1,000 of assessed value, a reduction of $1.45 per $1,000.

That rate is tentative but "no increase in property taxes is anticipated," Roger Harris, assistant superintendent for business and finance, said today.

Included in the total tax package is a proposed levy to fund construction at Lawton Elementary School in Oviedo and a new elementary school in Sanford. The levy would be for $1.38 per $1,000 of assessed value.

The tax rate has been reduced by 17.54 percent this year because of increased construction in the county and the effects of the rollback.

Upgrading of personnel and the addition of new positions has been given a priority in the new budget, Hughes said. Hughes asked for increased personnel in maintenance, operations, transportation and computer services because of growth and additional needed services.

The budget also includes increased staffing in the guidance areas at middle and high schools. Nineteen instructional aides and 22 clinical aides have been added to this year's budget.

Students will be paying more for school lunches if the board follows recommendations made in the budget.

Lunch prices are scheduled to increase by a nickel at all schools, making the price 90 cents at elementary schools and $1 at secondary schools. Adult lunch prices will remain at $1.50.

At that rate, the school lunch program will still run a deficit of more than $192,000. An analysis of the costs for school lunches shows that labor and benefits have become the biggest cost in the program. Labor and benefits will take up 46 percent of the cost compared to 45 percent for food costs.

The cost per lunch is expected to be $1.39 this fiscal year. Costs this year were $1.35 and in 1980-81 the cost was $1.25.

County Commissioners Told

Neiswender: Save For Emergencies

Seminole County commissioners should consider increasing the percentage of county revenue reserved for emergencies, believes County Administrator Roger Neiswender.

Neiswender told the board Tuesday "the county has worked on a very thin contingency fund for the past several years."

He explained the flow of county funds from the recently enacted increase in the state sales tax would be unpredictable.

A 10 to 15 percent drop in sales tax collections would result in a $700,000 shortfall, and would create severe budget difficulties, he explained.

Figures provided by Neiswender to commissioners revealed that in the past five years only two county funds have had a five percent contingency figure.

The general fund had a 5 percent contingency fund in 1977-78 and the transportation 101 fund had a 7 percent contingency fund in 1981-82. Otherwise, the unbudgeted funds have been less than 5 percent in each of the county's funds over the past five years, usually at about 3 percent.

The county's fire fund has had even less contingency funding. Only in fiscal 1981-82 did the unbudgeted funds reach 2 percent. During the two previous years the contingency fund was less than 1 percent.

Neiswender said the contingency funds are used to offset the loss of variable revenues from fluctuating economic periods, compensate for unforeseen adjustments during the fiscal year and to provide funding in the event of a disaster or catastrophic loss.

Under the state law which increased the sales tax and provided a portion of the increase for local governments and rolled back local property taxes, counties are permitted to budget only 95 percent of their estimated income.

Neiswender said the board should increase its contingency funding, at least until a six-month review of the budget allows county officials to see if actual revenue is comparable to estimates.

At that point, he said, if there are no serious problems the commissioners might want to allocate the funds.

'Goat Lady' Goes Free

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Ingeborg "Goat Lady" Morris is free from the Seminole County jail today after she agreed to comply with a court order to rid her Longwood home of goats.

However, Mrs. Morris' lawyer, Richard Mazo, said she is only complying with the order issued by Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr., "in order to appeal the case to the Fifth District Court of Appeals in Daytona Beach."

Mazo said he had received a letter from the appeals court notifying him the court would not rule on the appeal as long as Mrs. Morris is being held on contempt charges. She was released Tuesday afternoon, jail officials said.

Mrs. Morris, who has been the center of controversy for more than 13 months because of her refusal to rid her home of goats which she calls pets, was jailed Friday to serve a sentence of 30 days for contempt of court. The order provided, however, that if Mrs. Morris decided to comply with the court's directive while serving her sentence, she would be released.

"The court has not indicated when it will make its ruling," Mazo said.

Officials Buzzing About Bug Control But Not Spraying

Mosquito control will be discussed by Seminole County and Sanford officials before any request for funds is brought to county commissioners, according to County Administrator Roger Neiswender.

In a commission briefing, Neiswender Tuesday told the board he had discussed a proposed mosquito control project with Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles. Detailed discussions, however, have not been held, he added.

"I want to see just what the plan includes," Neiswender said.

Commissioners Robert G. "Bud" Feather and Sandra Glenn suggested the county ask other municipalities for mosquito control plans.

"But I thought we already voted not to include this in the budget," Mrs. Glenn said. The board of commissioners voted earlier not to include $200,000 in the county budget for mosquito control.

Feather commented that to work with one municipality on mosquito control would be unfair to the other six municipalities in the county.

Sanford officials have discussed a program which would seek $15,000 in federal funds for mosquito control and would mean spraying up to a mile outside the city limits.

That one mile spraying is the sticking point. In order to eradicate the insects within the city, all spawning grounds within a mile must be sprayed, officials have explained.

Commissioners are reluctant to have one unincorporated area included in Sanford's spraying program while others will receive no benefits.

Also unresolved are what type of spraying is best and if the program works at all. Commissioners Feather and Barbara Christensen said they believe only aerial spraying will do an adequate job of controlling the pests. Commission President Robert Sturm doubts even the success of that type of program.

Neiswender said his staff would discuss Sanford's plan with city officials to see what it entails and then a full report would be issued.

Squeeze Courthouse Space Problems Studied

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County commissioners plan to take action to alleviate the most urgent current office space needs with their consultant at a July 26 meeting.

The commissioners Tuesday discussed at length several short-term and long-term alternatives to alleviate the crowding problems already being faced by some county offices.

The most pressing problem exists in the public defender and state attorney's offices where staff increases have made those offices' current quarters too cramped.

A lawsuit has been filed by the public defender seeking a move to larger, permanent quarters. That office has been housed in temporary quarters.

The public defender's staff will increase from 18 to 24 members this month with the addition of three attorneys, one investigator, a paralegal intern and a secretary.

An even larger staff increase will hit the state attorney's office. That staff will grow from 38 to 50 with the addition of seven attorneys and five clerical workers.

Consultant Walter Sobel and Associates of Chicago has prepared a report to address the county's existing space problems and problems anticipated by continued growth over the next 20 years.

Initial findings of that report have already been presented to the board but the consultant's final recommendations have yet to be given and those recommendations will go a long way toward determining what short-term actions the board takes.

One short-term solution to the problems of the public defender's office is to move that office from its existing quarters into the old jail.

But County Administrator Roger

Neiswender said it is important to hear what the Sobel report says about the jail in regard to future plans before taking any action.

"We need to find out exactly what Sobel's problem with the jail is before we renovate," Neiswender said. The initial report discusses building an additional building adjacent to the current courthouse on the spot currently occupied by the jail.

"We have to see what the costs are," he said. "If we're going to spend a lot on making temporary renovations on the jail and then tear it down for a new building it makes no sense."

Another factor which could affect the board's decision is the proposed sale of the former Seminole Memorial Hospital. Bids are due July 21 for the facility, which was abandoned earlier this year. Neiswender said if none of the bids are acceptable the county should conceivably convert that building into additional office space.

Several other facilities also are being considered for expansion by the county. The Roumillat Building on First Street in Sanford and the emergency operations center at the county's Five Points complex also are being considered. The county also could rent space at Sanford City Hall.

Although many possible alternatives were discussed Tuesday, commissioners took no action, agreeing to advertise for an architect and await further information from the consultant.

That information, along with the hospital bids, should allow the board to begin piecing together the puzzle of where to fit all the county offices, Neiswender said.

Commission President Robert Sturm discussed a long-term proposal that would remove the board offices from the courthouse and put them in a new facility at the Five Points complex.

County Tax Rate Drops 15%

Seminole County taxpayers will receive some good news when their notices from the county tax appraiser arrive in the mail — the property tax rate in the county is down, way down.

The figures certified Tuesday by the Board of Commissioners reflect a 15 percent cut in the tax rate countywide and 24 percent cut in the rate for unincorporated areas.

Those decreases were prompted by increased property valuations and a 24.3 percent increase in the county's tax base. The total tax value in the county grew to $3.425 billion this year from $2.755 billion in 1981. Countywide, the rate will drop to $4.44 per $1,000 valuation compared to the $5.23 per $1,000 rate in Fiscal 1981-82.

In unincorporated areas the rate will be $6.65 per $1,000, down from $8.14 per $1,000 last year. Residents in unincorporated areas also pay taxes to support the county fire department and for road improvements. Those taxes are included in the cuts.

County Commissioner Robert Sturm said the rate "is the lowest since 1968."

NATION IN BRIEF

Feds, Local Investigators Probe Sex, Drugs Scandal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal and local law enforcement authorities called a meeting today to pool their information about allegations of homosexual activity and cocaine dealing on Capitol Hill, Justice Department sources said.

They are trying to determine if congressmen bribed male, teenage pages with promises of promotions in return for sex. They also are looking into alleged cocaine trafficking in congressional corridors.

RR Strike Possible Sunday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unless President Reagan intervenes, a crippling nationwide railroad strike could begin Sunday — snarling shipments of many goods, ranging from Kentucky coal to California fruit.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers union and the industry bargaining arm, the National Railway Labor Conference, say it is unlikely contract disputes would be resolved before the 12:01 a.m. Sunday strike deadline.

All U.S. rail traffic, with the exception of Amtrak, the government-run national passenger service, and Conrail, the quasi-government freight and commuter system in the Northeast, would be subject to the walkout by the locomotive engineers and firemen.

Powdered Milk Giveaway

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In the latest attempt to make a dent in government-owned dairy surpluses, the Agriculture Department will give away $12 million worth of powdered milk to poor people in Florida, Minnesota and Washington.

The three-month pilot program, which will begin in September, follows a successful cheese giveaway and a butter handout that is just getting underway.

The U.S. government owns 4 pounds of dry milk, 3 pounds of cheese and 2 pounds of butter for every American.

Traffic Toll Hits 470

United Press International

A UPI count showed 470 people were killed in traffic accidents during the Fourth of July holiday — just 30 short of the National Safety Council's prediction for the three-day weekend.

Texas led the nation in a UPI count with 65 deaths, followed by California with 44, Michigan had 21 deaths, Florida reported 19, Ohio and Pennsylvania 18, New York and Georgia reported 17 each.

Auto Sales Down Again

DETROIT (UPI) — U.S. automakers offered no buyer incentive programs last month and suffered their worst June sales since 1958 with foreign cars grabbing a bigger share of the market.

Total industry sales of 647,430 were down 11 percent from 721,939 cars sold during June 1981.

Fire Destroys Sanford Woman's Home

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford woman's home went up in smoke Tuesday night after a small explosion from her gas stove set the wood-framed structure ablaze.

Sanford fire officials said the home of Bailey Jones, 1506 W. 15th., was totally destroyed by fire at about 9:51 p.m. Tuesday. Damage was estimated at $20,000-$25,000, officials said.

According to Assistant Fire Chief Tom Hickson, Mrs. Jones heard a small explosion from the rear of her home where her gas stove is located, noticed the flames and smoke and fled from the home to call police who notified fire personnel.

Mrs. Jones was not injured in the fire and is reportedly staying with relatives, Hickson added.

However, Hickson said he is waiting for a medical report concerning the condition of one of his firefighters who was slightly injured while battling the blaze.

"Lt. (Larry) Helman may have twisted his knee," Hickson said. "He was standing on the porch at the home and the porch apparently gave way under him."

In addition, Sanford firefighters also doused a fire in a Seaboard Coastline Railroad caboose which was reportedly caused by an electrical short in a battery. The incident occurred at about 6:50 p.m. Monday, causing about $5,000 in damage. Fire personnel said.

No one was injured in the blaze which occurred at Eighth Street and Cedar Avenue.

LONGWOOD HOMES HIT

Thieves broke into two Longwood homes during the Fourth of July weekend causing similar damage to each and stealing an undisclosed amount of property without tripping the burglar alarm systems.

Deputies said thieves broke into the home of Walter J. Queen, of 113 Forest Park Court, between noon Friday and 11 a.m. Monday while Queen was away on vacation. Queen is expected to provide a list of the stolen items to deputies soon.

Deputies said the burglars broke into the home after cutting the screened patio-pool door and removing a window. The thieves then threw the screen and window into the man's pool, deputies added.

Once inside, the culprits ransacked the home, knocked a hole in a closet wall and left a soft drink can on the kitchen counter, deputies said. However, deputies added that the thieves apparently understood the home's burglar alarm system because none of the alarms were tripped.

Meanwhile, deputies said burglars broke into the home of Art Mitchell, at 102 Forest Park Dr., while he was away on vacation between 3 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. Monday.

Deputies said the thieves also cut Mitchell's screened patio-pool door, removing the window and tossed the screen and window into the pool. Deputies added the home was ransacked, a hole was knocked in the wall, a soft drink pull-ring was left on the floor and the alarm systems were not triggered.

Mitchell is also expected to provide a list of stolen items to deputies later deputies said.

VANDALS, BURGLARS HIT SEMINOLE SCHOOLS

About $200 worth of damage was done to paving equipment in the parking lot of a Fern Park elementary school, while burglars also broke into two other Seminole County schools and stole an undisclosed amount of property.

J.C. Hughes, an employee of McAsphalt Paving Co., of Winter Haven, told deputies that someone damaged the windshield wipers and tires on his company's paving equipment at the English Estates Elementary School, Oxford Road, parking lot between 1 p.m. Friday and 8:14 a.m. Tuesday.

Meanwhile, deputies reported that a Longwood and Sanford school were burglarized by thieves who stole numerous items, although the list of stolen property is incomplete.

Thieves broke into the Milwee Middle School, State Road 477, in Longwood, between 1:30 p.m. Friday and 8:39 a.m. Tuesday by prying open several office and classroom doors, deputies said. Among those items listed as stolen was an air conditioner, a refrigerator, typewriters, a television and tape recorder. Doors and windows were also damaged in the incident.

Thieves broke into the Lakeview Middle School, Lakeview Drive, Sanford, between 4 p.m. Thursday and 7 a.m. Friday and made off with an undisclosed amount of tools, police said. Police added that the burglars entered the school by prying open a fire door.

CHECKS, CHANGE SWIPED

About $75 worth of change and an undisclosed number of blank checks were stolen from an Apopka man's home between 3 p.m. June 26 and 3:31 p.m. Saturday.

Lawrence Evans Stern, 35, of 138 Spanish Oak Lane, told deputies someone broke into his home through a bathroom window, ransacked it and stole the change, checks and some costume jewelry.

SANFORD MAN'S HOME BURGLARIZED

Thieves forced open a Sanford man's mobile home door and then stole his television a rifle and some jewelry between 9 p.m. Monday and 12:10 a.m. Tuesday.

Fred Angle, 38, of 3500 E. State Road, 46, told police the burglars stole his TV, and a jewelry box but that the box, containing some of the jewelry, was later recovered in a trash pile at the rear of his home.

THREE HELD IN RESTAURANT ROBBERY

Three Orlando men are being held in the Seminole County jail today following their arrests Monday night in connection with a robbery of an Altamonte Springs restaurant.

Kevala Windwalker, 23, of 1816 Rock Lake Road; Timothy Tylee Kane, 23, of 7847 Toledo Drive; and Robert John Garland, 25, of 108 N. Brown St., were charged with robbing Barney's Bar-B-Q restaurant, 1049 E. State Road 436, of about $2,238 at 9:30 p.m. Monday, police said.

According to police, two men entered the restaurant and ordered the employees and customers into a bathroom, then stole the money and fled on foot. One of the robbers was armed with a handgun, police added.

Meanwhile, police Sgt. Jack Martin noticed a man sitting in a car near a closed business and arrested Garland on charges of loitering and prowling, police said. While en route to the county jail with his prisoner, Martin heard a police radio dispatch alerting officers to the restaurant burglary. Martin notified police headquarters of his arrest and police surmised that Garland may be the robber's get-away driver.

Police then notified area taxi companies to alert them if they received calls from people seeking rides near the restaurant. One company told police they had received a call and were to pick up two people in the area of the robbery, police said.

Martin then noticed two men getting into a cab near the restaurant at about midnight, called for additional police units and arrested Windwalker and Kane, police said. Police said both men were carrying large sums of money when arrested.

Windwalker and Kane were also charged with false imprisonment of the restaurant employees and customers, and a charge of carrying a concealed weapon was levied against Windwalker, police added.

INDECENT EXPOSURE REPORTED

A 19-year-old Winter Park woman told deputies that a man exposed himself to her after she left the Zayre department store, at 100 State Road 436, in Casselberry at about 4:10 p.m. Friday.

The woman told deputies she left the store and saw a man, whom she had seen earlier in the store, get out of his car and expose himself. The woman quickly got into her own vehicle and left the parking lot but later saw the man again, in his car, while stopped at a traffic light at Oxford Road and State Road 436, deputies said.

The woman copied the man's license number and notified deputies, who are continuing their investigation of the incident, reports show.

THIEVES TAKE TRACTOR

Thieves stole a 400 to 500-pound tractor from the Kennedy Tractor Co. equipment yard at 3400 W. State Road 46, Sanford, between 10 p.m. Thursday and noon Friday.

Owner Bob Kennedy told deputies the thieves apparently used a truck lift to hoist the tractor, valued at about $400, over the fence surrounding the yard.

Altamonte To Fence In Runaway Crime Problem

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

After reviewing crime statistics and hearing pleas from residents in the Barkley Woods subdivision about criminal mischief stemming from a jogging path in their neighborhood, the Altamonte City Commission has voted unanimously to erect an eight-foot fence to help improve privacy and safety for the 10 residents whose property adjoins the path.

Several Barkley Woods homeowners had requested the city abandon the easement area along Spring Lake Road and allow them to encroach 25-feet on each side of the easement to construct privacy fences. The residents contended that runners and other passers by had been throwing things in their back yards and that the jogging path was an easy getaway route for residential burglars.

The commission reviewed a six-month crime study of the neighborhood compiled by the Altamonte Springs Police Department which revealed that a total of 35 crimes had been reported in the area during the period, a figure police comparisons of other Altamonte neighborhoods showed was about normal.

Responding to the problem, City Attorney Skip Fowler and City Manager Jeff Eitchberger advised the board that the city had two options; draw up a right-of-encroachment agreement between the city and abutting property owners with the city retaining ultimate control of the property, or allow residents to move their fences out enough to eliminate the jogging path.

But citing possible deed problems with buyers of the 10 homes adjoining the path, and access problems for future utility repair work, the commission opted to construct the fence itself and agreed that the police department would increase patrols in the area.

Eitchberger said the problem of jogging path-related crime had been exaggerated and after studying the report found that only one of the 35 crimes could be connected to the jogging path.

Commissioner Lee Constantine said he empathized with the homeowners because he had been the victim of a burglary within the last seven months, but added that he didn't want to set a precedent for the city by abandoning the easement.

Following the vote to construct the fence, Constantine said he wanted to see an area crime report each month to determine if the steps the commission took were strong enough to solve the problem.

As expected, the commission also approved a bid award in the amount of $6,310 to Conservo Products Co., of Casselberry for the purchase of 1,000 water-saving kits.

The kits, which include water-conserving shower heads and toilet flush dams, are expected to save each single family home about 46,000 gallons of water per year, or about $31 per household.

The kits should be delivered in about 60 days. When they arrive, residents will be able to purchase the kits at City Hall for $6.31. Eitchberger said the city's order for the 1,000 kits would also include separate parts for homeowners who already had water-conserving toilet tanks or who wanted to put the water saving devices in half-bathrooms.

40-Foot Sinkhole Inches Toward Apartment Complex

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — The 40-foot-deep Maracaibo sinkhole, which yawned in an apartment complex parking lot and almost instantly swallowed a new car, inched today to within 5 feet of one of the apartment buildings.

The Alachua County Sheriff's Department Tuesday barricaded the area to keep spectators away from the slowly growing chasm, which at last estimate was up to 40 feet deep and 14 to 20 feet across.

More than 200 sinkholes — which caused about $20 million in damage — developed in central Florida in 1981. Authorities say the number of sinkholes increases each year with added development and displacement of the state's underground water supply.

Israeli Jets Bomb Beirut; Evacuation Plan Rejected

United Press International
Israeli jets bombed west Beirut today for the first time in four days and hopes for peace dimmed with the PLO rejecting a U.S. offer to send in Marines to evacuate 6,000 Palestinian guerrillas from the besieged Lebanese capital.

Shattering a 24-hour cease-fire, Israeli tanks and artillery in east Beirut opened fire Tuesday on PLO forces in the west. Witnesses said Israeli troops followed up with machine-gun fire.

PLO chief Yasser Arafat rejected the evacuation plan in an interview today in The New York Times. "Definitely I will not accept it," Arafat said. "We are not in need of American help."

'Killer Bees' On The Move

PANAMA CITY, Panama (UPI) — "Killer" bees advancing from South America have been spotted as far north as Panama and could reach the southern United States in the next five years, an expert says.

The African bees were first discovered in Panama in February, crossing from Colombia, and since have reached the Panama Canal region, said Thomas John Bendiburg, Panama's national supervisor of agricultural education.

Despite their nickname as "killer bees," Bendiburg told UPI the insects' sting is wicked but seldom fatal.

Casselberry Ponders Possible Tax Hike

The Casselberry City Council begins work at 7 tonight on Mayor Owen Sheppard's proposed $3.6 million budget for fiscal year 1982-83.

Unlike most other Seminole County municipalities, Casselberry residents may face a slight increase in property taxes despite a 40 percent tax roll back, resulting from the state's increased sales tax. The proposed increase of about $5 per year is tied to a 1981 decision by Casselberry residents to begin a paramedic program by the spring of 1983.

Sheppard's proposed base budget for the city is $3,666,472, but doesn't include final figures from the city's enterprise fund which have yet to be submitted. The budget is up slightly more than $500,000 over the city's current $3,103,706 spending plan.

Under the proposed budget, the current property tax millage rate would increase from the 1.95 to 2.08 to include costs of the paramedic program. A mill is $1 of tax per $1,000 of assessed property value.

Casselberry is expecting $345,262 from the increase in the state sales tax. By law, the city must use 40 percent of that to roll back property taxes, which would reduce Casselberry's property tax rate to 1.12 mills. Sheppard is proposing to use a few more dollars of the sales tax revenue to drop the millage rate to about 1.08 mills, or $1.08 tax per $1,000 of assessed property value.

In his budget proposal, the mayor is recommending the city hire four additional police officers and five more dispatchers. The increase in personnel would result in one more patrolman on the street during each patrol shift while the additional dispatchers would handle all calls for fire, police, utilities and city business.

Sheppard is also recommending a five percent cost of living increase for most of the city's full-time employees.

For Emotional Distress

Seminole Clerk Of Court Sued By Fired Worker

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A former employee is suing Seminole County Clerk of the Court Art Beckwith, claiming her constitutional rights were violated and that she has suffered intentional emotional distress since she was fired June 7.

Yvonne M. "Susie" Ford, 33, who served as supervisor of the criminal and juvenile divisions, and was fourth in command in the clerk's office has filed suit against her former employer seeking an undetermined amount of damages "in excess of $5,000."

According to Beckwith, Ms. Ford was fired after an internal investigation revealed she reportedly gathered confidential information and fed it to a friend who is being sought for nonpayment of child support.

However, Ms. Ford, an 8-year veteran of the clerk's office, contends that she was fired without investigation or a hearing and without any due process as is to be guaranteed her by the state and U.S. Constitutions.

In her lawsuit, Ms. Ford says she "will be forced to re-enter the labor market to secure employment at a salary substantially less than that which she was earning." Ms. Ford was paid an annual salary of $15,840.

"She admitted to me that she got the information for him"

(Joe Thomas Baggerly III, of 2509 Yale Ave., Sanford), Beckwith said at the time of Ms. Ford's termination. "She did not admit to obstructing justice by her actions, but to me, that's what it appears to be. For a person to get information that is supposed to be confidential and to pass it along so as the person knows when this office will order him to appear at a child-support hearing, that is an obstruction of justice."

Ms. Ford maintains that she didn't do anything wrong in gathering the information for Baggerly, pointing out that the information was public record.

The case is expected to be tried before Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. No trial date has been set.

Longwood Commission May Roll Back Tax Rate Slightly

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

How do you spell relief? The City of Longwood spells it .76 mills, that's how.

Thanks to the recent one-cent hike in the sales tax, Longwood property owners can look forward to a rollback of 76 cents per $1,000 of assessed property value if the City Commission votes to adopt City Administrator David Chacey's proposed $1,946,000 budget for fiscal 1982-83.

The rollback would mean a decrease from the present $3.12 tax rate to approximately $2.36 per $1,000 of assessed value.

That $236,000, combined with $374,000 in ad valorem taxes, a total of $295,000 in franchise taxes for electricity, gas and cablevision along with an anticipated total of $320,000 in Federal Revenue Sharing monies comprise the bulk of Longwood's General Fund for next year.

The final rollback won't be known until the County Tax Appraiser's

Office releases its final property value figures on Tuesday.

The proposed budget represents an increase of $322,327 over this year's budget of $1,624,322.

Chacey and the commission begin four days of budget workshop sessions today at 3 p.m. at City Hall. The commission will also hold workshop sessions next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Longwood will lose approximately $61,000 in ad valorem tax revenues due to the property tax rollback, but the city will more than make up for the lost cash with $236,000 expected to be generated by the increase in the sales tax, Chacey said.

Under Chacey's 1982-83 proposed budget, a total of $352,000 or 18.1 percent of the total budget is earmarked for city administration costs, a decrease of nine-tenths of one percent from this year; $332,000, or 17.5 percent of the total budget is targeted for the city's fire department, an increase of 1.5 percent over this year; $708,000, or 36.4 percent of the total budget, is geared for the police department, a decrease of six-tenths of a percent and $544,000, or 28 percent of the total budget is earmarked for public works, the same percentage as the current budget.

Chacey is recommending that $150,000 be set aside in a contingency fund. Of that money, $100,000 would go for city operating costs, $25,000 would be placed in the City Commission's contingency, $10,000 would go to the Public Works contingency while the administration, and the fire and police departments would each receive a $5,000 contingency fund.

Major expenditures in the proposed budget under the city's five-year capital improvement program include $75,000 for the paving of Georgia Avenue, $20,000 for parks, $45,000 to begin actual construction of the Mud Lake drainage basin, and $100,000 to add four firemen, upgrade fire department safety equipment and police vehicles.

Considers Pay Hike For Employees

Longwood City Administrator David Chacey is recommending a 7 percent cost of living increase for the city's 70 employees.

The increase is part of Chacey's proposed city budget for fiscal 1982-83 that goes before the City Commission today for the first of four workshop sessions.

Chacey said the 7 percent figure was derived after a check with other local municipalities, private industries and the latest Consumer Price Index.

In addition to the cost of living increase, Chacey is recommending that key city personnel who are demonstrating outstanding ability receive a pay hike not to exceed a maximum of $1,500 as an incentive to remain with the city. Chacey is also recommending that other city personnel receive a minimum 50 cents per hour salary increase, not to exceed $1,040 over the next year.

Chacey said a comparison of the salaries of Longwood's department heads with their counterparts in other Seminole cities indicates that city personnel should receive a substantial increase in their salaries. Chacey indicated that all of Longwood's department heads are in the 7-10-year tenure bracket and deserve com-ensation for continued service without interruption.

Chacey is also asking the commission to include City Clerk Donald Terry in the departmental increase for his continued outstanding efforts.

In his proposal, Chacey states that it is his belief that if the city is going to retain the services of key personnel, Longwood must continue to provide a salary schedule that is competitive with other cities and private business. Chacey said approval of the proposed cost of living and merit raises will accomplish that goal.

Research And Responsibility

The new findings about the outcome of an alcoholism research project at Patton State Hospital are shocking enough in human terms, but they are equally alarming for what they tell us about the ability of the scientific community to deal with its own mistakes.

For 10 years, research data supporting claims of success for an experiment aiming to teach severe alcoholics to control their drinking stood unchallenged in the professional literature. As it turns out, practically all the research subjects had failed from the outset to be social drinkers.

The Patton studies had aroused controversy from the start in the alcoholism field because the premise that persons once addicted to alcohol can learn to control their drinking runs against the traditional view. That controversy may well continue. Scientists have a right to their opinions, and to express them.

What is at issue is whether the debate on such controversial subjects will be based on bona fide research data, whether the subject is alcoholism or any other in which there are conflicting points of view.

Professional journals and textbooks in this case have been infected by data not standing the test of a carefully documented review now being published in Science magazine. Moreover, the now-refuted claims of success for the Patton experiment had been reported in the mass media to the potential harm of victims of alcoholism.

A 10-year lag between the publication of faulty research and a new report setting the record straight is unconscionable. The National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, which had funded some of the original follow-up studies of the Patton patients, was asked to sponsor an independent investigation of the experiment in 1975.

The proposal was rejected on the thin grounds that it was too late to recheck the outcome of the 1970-71 research. Obviously it wasn't too late, and some lives might have been saved if the later follow-up had not been delayed by official indifference and the ability of the original experimenters to shield their data by invoking laws of confidentiality protecting human research subjects.

Federal and state agencies and private foundations that sponsor scientific research must accept more responsibility for what their researchers are reporting. Science depends on principles of free inquiry by researchers and the widest possible dissemination of their results, but there appears to be no effective procedure for auditing the raw data that backs up findings and conclusions flowing from laboratories and hospitals.

Cases of fraudulent research in cancer and heart disease within the past year have embarrassed such prestigious institutions as the Harvard Medical School and the Sloan Kettering Institute. Congressional hearings have explored the problem, but scientists generally resist suggestions that their research be subjected to a greater amount of oversight. The case of the false and misleading data flowing from the Patton alcoholism project is one more reason why the scientific community cannot sweep this problem under the rug.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Guess what? It says here that some experts predict the recession is ending! Oh! EXCUSE me!!"

By JOE DeSANTIS

If it wasn't so ridiculous, it might be funny. City officials in Casselberry are toying with the idea of leveling a small shopping center fronting Highway 17-92 for aesthetic value. The logic behind the brainstorm is that residents will have an unobstructed view of Casselberry's new municipal building scheduled to open in early August.

The construction of the new building cost $1 million. It would run the city somewhere in the neighborhood of $600,000 to level the shopping center and replace it with eye pleasing grass and trees.

The move would also run 12 proprietors right out of business. Many of them have been in the shopping center for years. Many of them say they can't afford to relocate. Many of them don't want to give up their present location which includes a healthy traffic flow past their front doors and high visibility on a main Seminole County artery. And why should these business people pack up and move out? A nice view of a building? Come on, guys.

City officials certainly have every right to be proud as punch over their new building. But all things considered, who really cares what it looks like?

Have most city officials forgotten what the traffic flow most of the time on that particular stretch of 17-92 is like? Most passing motorists would agree that if one does not keep both eyes alertly fixed on the road, one could end up as a wrecked vehicle display for safe driving on Mike's Fina Service Station parking lot. Who has time to be sightseeing while driving on 17-92?

New buildings are nice, but their functional value is far more important than their aesthetic value.

Casselberry seems to be the only municipality concerned about its visual public image when it comes to city hall.

Altamonte Springs' City Hall sits on 225 Newburyport Avenue, completely hidden from passing motorists on equally busy Highway 436. Yet business goes on as usual and city officials haven't lost too many waking hours wondering if the good people of Altamonte Springs get a daily eyeful of City Hall.

Longwood's City Hall is likewise removed from a main drag, yet, again, business goes on as usual, except that Longwood is expanding its building.

Even the Seminole County Court House is removed from the main drag of Highway 17-92, yet that hasn't seem to have an adverse affect on the daily hub of county government business.

Fresh, innovative ideas from local governments are nice. But this isn't one of them.

Takes Two To 'Tandem'

By MARIANNA OHE
UPI Business Writer.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The human side of management — shunted aside in the recent wave of MBA analysis, portfolio theory and cost curves — may be the key to solving America's productivity problems, say the authors of a new book.

"We need to relearn old lessons about how culture ties people together and gives meaning and purpose to their day-to-day lives," says Terrence E. Deal, professor at Harvard University's Graduate School of Education, and Allan A. Kennedy, a principal at the consulting firm of McKinsey & Co. who wrote "Corporate Cultures" (Addison-Wesley).

Strong corporate cultures are what made companies like NCR, General Electric, International Business Machines and Procter & Gamble great, and today still directly impact on a firm's bottom line, Deal and Kennedy explained in an interview.

They said their own work over a period of years and an informal survey of 80 companies conducted recently show consistently outstanding performers are strong culture companies.

Building a company-wide set of values, rituals and heroes, aimed at giving employees a sense of belonging, can figure importantly in reviving even ailing U.S. industries like autos and steel, plagued by union management polarization caused in large part by lack of job security.

"Call it people skills, the human element, corporate culture, whatever you like," Deal said. "It's not a new concept. It just went subterranean for a while."

If steel and auto workers were guaranteed employment, Kennedy said, "if they felt the company had a commitment to take care of them, they would not have driven so strongly for the high wages which help lower productivity in those industries."

A company's values — widely shared beliefs which shape the way it operates and how its employees behave — can be grand in scope (GE's "Progress is our most important product") or narrowly focused (Chubb Insurance's "Excellence in underwriting"), the authors say.

They can tell people how to work together (Tandem Corp.'s "It takes two to tandem") or simply drive them ("Fifteen percent period-to-period sales and earning growth"). Heroes contribute to the culture by providing employees with role models. These can be "visionary" heroes, like Procter & Gamble's Harley Procter, who found companies and create cultures based on strong personal beliefs about managing people and the needs of the marketplace, and "situational" heroes like IBM's "Salesman of the Month."

Rites and rituals further strengthen the culture by giving meaning to mundane activities by tying them to the corporation's values. Recognition rituals — from Intel Corp.'s trivial but traditional awarding of a handful of M&Ms for a job well done to Mary Kay Cosmetics' bestowing of pink Cadillacs and Buicks — reward achievement.

And a cultural network enables managers to gather and disseminate information to strengthen values.

Saudi Wealth Runs Washington Show

WASHINGTON — The United States today is more vulnerable to foreign pressure than it has been since the early days of the republic. This pressure is wielded by the remote desert kingdom of Saudi Arabia, whose vast oil wealth is mismatched to a small, backward population.

The cautious Saudi rulers are aware that their influence is not rooted in real power. They are inclined, therefore, to deliver their threats delicately, lamenting that it must be done and scolding us gently for the follies which force them to do so.

The latest threat was precipitated by the Israeli thrust into Lebanon. It's not, the Saudis explained forlornly, that they want to cut off oil shipments to the United States and withdraw their billions from U.S. repositories. But the internal dynamics of the Arab world may compel them, however reluctantly, to use their economic weapons against the United States unless the Reagan administration can restrain Israel.

This strange tyranny of the weak over the strong may be succeeding. For President Reagan appears to be acquiescing to the Saudi demands. Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger, who wants to take a harder line with Israel, has now prevailed over outgoing

Secretary of State Alexander Haig. Supporting Weinberger is the president's national security adviser, William Clark, who has fired some pro-Israel strategists from the National Security Council.

Then add George Shultz, who has been appointed to take Haig's place. Both Shultz and Weinberger were brought into the Reagan administration from Bechtel, which did a minimum of $666 million worth of business in the Arab world last year. By far their biggest single customer was Saudi Arabia.

The Saudis can surely be forgiven if they get the idea that their behind-the-scenes threats had something to do with Reagan's realignment of his policymakers.

Meanwhile, the Saudi threats, if tactful, are not idle. For those desert tribesmen, who appear so quaint and picturesque in their flowing robes, sit on one-quarter of the world's known oil reserves. And the mighty United States has foolishly allowed itself to cross the great divide of oil dependence and slide into a reliance on Arab oil.

It's easy enough for Americans to understand the consequences of a Saudi oil embargo: gas lines and huge increases in fuel prices. But the threat of withdrawing Saudi investments from the United States is not so easy to grasp.

The Saudis have poured billions of petrodollars into U.S. banks, businesses and land holdings. Their investments have given them a silent partnership in ever-widening circles of our business community.

But their biggest partner is the U.S. government itself. Of the estimated $50 billion worth of known Saudi investments in this country, the bulk is in Treasury bills and other government securities. This gives the tribesmen in their burpees great clout in the backrooms of the state, defense, treasury and energy departments.

The reason is that a sudden wholesale withdrawal of Saudi funds would cause serious disruption of the U.S. economy. If the Saudis cashed in their Treasury chips and transferred their billions to banks abroad, the federal government could still borrow the money back from overseas. But the move would drive up interest rates, undercut business recovery and prolong the recession and high unemployment.

As far back as 1978, a CIA report warned that "temporary dislocation of international financial markets would ensure if the Saudi Arabian government ever chose to use its accumulated wealth as a political weapon." This is now precisely what the Saudis are

Clue To Cancer Recurrence

By ELLEN DEBENPORT

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (UPI) — A University of Texas medical researcher whose work with breast cancer patients a decade ago helped establish now-standard testing procedures says he has unearthed an important new clue in predicting the recurrence of cancer in these women.

Dr. William L. McGuire, chief of clinical oncology at the university's Health Science Center, said his studies show that measuring the receptors for progesterone, a hormone, in cancer tissue is a surprisingly accurate predictor of recurrence. The more receptors, the less likely the cancer will return anywhere in the body.

A receptor is a protein which cannot be seen except with radioactive chemicals. The receptor is so named because it receives the hormone into the body. Without it, hormones used in cancer treatment float through the cancerous area without affecting the tumor.

"Patients who have tumors without receptors have a worse survival (rate) than those patients whose tumors have receptors," he said. "If your tumor has a receptor, chances are you can live longer with it."

Based on McGuire's earlier work, doctors for years have been measuring receptors for estrogen, another hormone, to predict the recurrence of cancer. But McGuire said he now believes that measuring receptors for progesterone is more accurate.

McGuire first started measuring estrogen receptors in 1971. At the time, doctors already were treating breast cancer patients with hormones to try to slow the growth of malignant tumors.

McGuire said women with no estrogen receptors were wasting their time with hormone therapy because the hormones had no place to link to the body — like a key with no keyhole.

Later, McGuire noticed that women with estrogen receptors survived longer without a recurrence of cancer and survived longer even with cancer. Cancer cells with receptors were more like normal cells, he said, while those without receptors had lost all resemblance to normal cells and were "really wild."

McGuire's research especially was important because half the women who have breasts removed for cancer already have cancer cells in other parts of their bodies, he said.

"So if it has spread, the next question is, 'How aggressive is it? Is it what we call a wellbehaved tumor?' That's where the receptor test comes in," McGuire said.

"The absence of receptors tells you you've got an aggressive tumor. You have to be more aggressive with your therapy at that point. With receptors, it's less aggressive and you can use hormonal therapy in addition to chemotherapy."

McGuire has studied 7,000 cases of breast cancer since the original estrogen work, and his team recently published the results of a study of 381 patients who had breasts removed and who had received the same therapy. Measuring the women's progesterone receptors supported the theory that the receptors somehow help prevent recurrence, so that the measurements can be used as a tool to predict future cancer.

More Hinckley Reflections

In a recent column I argued, along with Dr. Willard Gaylin in his new book "The Killing of Bonnie Garland," that the scales of justice have been tipped radically in favor of the defendant to the neglect of the legitimate interests of the community.

This has been made especially clear in the acquittal of John Hinckley, and will probably lead to some legal reforms, but it was also true in the case with which Dr. Gaylin deals in his book — the killing of Bonnie Garland by Richard Herrin.

This was a rich and fascinating case, and it had legal, psychiatric, social and even religious aspects.

Richard Herrin, a Mexican-American, stood first in his class at his Los Angeles high school despite his mediocre test scores, yet he was actively recruited by elite colleges — a mild case of affirmative action.

He chose Yale. As a student there, however, he went into academic decline and did very poorly. The reason seemed to be his unwillingness to compete with his more confident high-test-score peers. He played in the musical group that accompanied Mass at the St. Thomas More Catholic Student Center at Yale, but otherwise did little except fall in love with Bonnie Garland, the daughter of a Yale graduate, a successful international lawyer who lived in affluent style in Connecticut. Bonnie was a freshman, Herrin a senior.

On the evidence, Bonnie did love Herrin but not nearly so intensely as he did her. She was sociable, an excellent singer.

In due course Herrin managed to graduate, and was admitted — affirmative action again — to graduate school in Texas.

Not surprisingly, the undergraduate Bonnie's attention began to wander from Herrin. She found other boy friends, and tried — perhaps to gently — to tell Herrin that this was the case.

In July 1977, Herrin paid what would be his last visit to her Connecticut home. While she was sleeping, he made his way to her bedroom and smashed her skull with a claw hammer and fled covered with her blood into the Connecticut night.

The Catholic religious community at Yale made the Herrin defense a prime cause, and raised a large bail and defense fund. He had excellent defense counsel and expert psychiatric witnesses. In its verdict, the jury declined to convict him of murder, did convict him of manslaughter, by reason of mental distress, and he received an 8-15 year sentence. He can get out in five.

Bonnie Garland's parents were outraged, and still are, at the verdict.

Dr. Gaylin points out, powerfully, that at this trial the dead girl was a non-presence. All attention focused on the killer, not the victim. Was he, was he not, crazy, disturbed?

The defense counsel, in effect, put Bonnie on trial by subtly besmirching her reputation in order to mitigate Herrin's crime. In a similar way, Gaylin points out, the lawyers defending Jean Harris in her murder trial for the killing of Dr. Herman Tarnower tore down the doctor's reputation. The victims died twice, Gaylin says, once at the hands of their killers and once when their reputations were murdered in the courtroom.

The Catholic clergy in and around the Herrin case seemed to lose all grasp of reality and even of theology. They "forgave" Herrin almost immediately, and told him that the hardest thing he would have to do is forgive himself. Several clergy opposed any jail sentence at all.

But forgiveness in Catholic terms doesn't quite work that way. It requires repentance, confession, absolution and — insofar as possible — restitution. It by no means replaces the demands of secular justice. Herrin could not restore Bonnie, but he could have satisfied the community's demands for justice had the trial done its job correctly.

Psychiatric legerdemain short-circuited that. As Bonnie's mother said, "everything is upside down."

Indeed, it is.

But now, after Hinckley, maybe something will be done about it.

threatening to do.

What can the U.S. government do to counter such a Saudi move? The answer is: Freeze their assets. Treating the Saudis like the outlaw Iranian government of Ayatollah Khomeini would have disastrous political effects, of course, but it would be effective. Except for one thing: The Treasury might not know the Saudis were pulling their money out until too late.

For information on Saudi investments is scarce and has gotten even harder to find since the Iranian freeze. As one Middle East expert noted: "Since monopolies are corrupt, it is hardly to be wondered that the disposition of OPEC wealth is no open book."

The Saudis have already been channeling billions of their U.S. investments through the Bahamas to disguise the true origin of the funds, a source told my associate Vicki Warren.

The Saudi government's secret holdings, plus those of private Saudi investors who might cooperate in a withdrawal action, are estimated in the tens of billions. But even the CIA doesn't know for sure.

Small wonder that faraway Saudi Arabia is now considered potentially as the most powerful influence on U.S. foreign policy.

July Marks New Schedule For Bookmobile

The month of July will mark a new phase in the Seminole County Public Library System's Bookmobile program, Jean Rhein, county librarian, has announced.

The library is looking into ways to economize as well as to provide additional outreach service to residents who are not served by existing branch facilities. There will be schedule changes for stops in many communities throughout the county.

The Longwood-Altamonte Springs sections will be visited by the Bookmobile on Tuesdays at the Goodings Plaza between the hours of 5-7 p.m. A new stop will be added at the 434 Shopping Center on Monday mornings 11-1.

In Forest City the Bookmobile will stop at the Wekiva Square on Tuesdays, arriving at 10:30 a.m. and leaving at 1:30 p.m.

Scheduled stops in the east end of Seminole County include the Geneva Post Office on Thursdays 9:30-11:30 a.m. Between noon and 2 p.m. the bookmobile will stop at the Chuluota Post Office. The last stop on Thursday is Oviedo at the Meat World Plaza from 3:30-7 p.m.

Tuskawilla will have a new stop, Willa Springs Village, on Wednesday afternoons 3-7.

Each week the bookmobile will stop at the Driftwood Village on Lake Mary on Monday during the hours of 2:30-4:30 p.m. At 5 p.m. Winter Springs will be visited at the Fairway Market until 7 p.m.

Local And State Officials' Pay Listed

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Florida voters will go to the polls this year and elect a governor, lieutenant governor, six Cabinet members, one U.S. Senator, 19 congressmen, 120 members of the state House and 40 members of the state Senate.

And in individual counties, circuit judges, county commissioners and school board members will be elected. But, what are the annual salaries of these offices?

United States senators and congressmen are paid $60,662.50.

The governor of Florida received $65,000 a year while the lieutenant governor is paid $56,500. Salaries for both these offices will go up to $69,550 and $60,445, respectively Sept. 1.

Members of the Florida Cabinet are paid $55,500 and their salaries will increase to $59,385 in September.

Florida Senate and House members are paid $12,000 annually.

The salaries of circuit judges are $53,000 annually. The salaries will be increased to $56,710 on Sept. 1.

The salary for Seminole County Commissioners and School Board members also are set by state law according to population.

Seminole County commissioners are paid $23,059. Their salaries will be raised to $25,203 Oct. 1.

Seminole School Board members are paid $12,077 but their salaries will rise to $13,016 on Oct. 1.

Supreme Court Term Had Something For Everyone

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court's just-concluded term reached into controversies with wide-ranging social ramifications — including bookbanning, illegal aliens and the rights of the handicapped.

But the justices drew the most attention by ruling on a historic case that pitted a former president, Richard Nixon, against a former Pentagon whistleblower, Ernest Fitzgerald.

The court, in a decision certain to provoke debate for generations, declared that Nixon and any other president cannot be sued for his actions as chief executive — even for deliberately violating the rights of citizens.

Four justices vigorously dissented, charging the ruling threatens the Constitution's most basic principles by placing the president "above the law."

The outcome was a victory for Nixon, who waged a decade-long legal battle against Fitzgerald's accusations that Nixon and his aides fired him because of Fitzgerald's public statements on multibillion-dollar aircraft cost overruns.

In a related ruling, the justices concluded high-ranking government officials have "qualified" — but still significant — immunity from lawsuits.

The court waited until late in the term to address several other explosive cases. Among them was a decision on bookbanning, in which the justices gave students the right to challenge in court the removal of books from school library shelves.

Another such case was a landmark legal victory for the rights of illegal aliens, when the court ruled children of such immigrants are entitled to free education.

In a decision that could save millions of dollars for schools nationwide, the court ruled the education of the handicapped, the court declared deaf students are not entitled to free sign language interpreters.

In other significant actions, the court handed down a series of criminal justice rulings that went to the heart of the national debate on crime.

A major law-and-order decision gave police new power to search items they find in cars without first getting a warrant. It cleared up 60 years of uncertainty about how far police may go in searching an auto stopped for legitimate law enforcement purposes.

Leading the way in other criminal rights decisions was Justice Sandra Day O'Connor. In her most important opinion, the court's first woman justice restricted a criminal's right to contest his conviction indefinitely by claiming technical errors were committed at trial.

Changes Jonas Reassigned To UCF Fund Raising

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

ORLANDO — The University of Central Florida football program took a positive step here Tuesday — and wouldn't you know it — the advancement was initiated by a coach and not an administrator.

Don Jonas, who posted a record of 14-12-1 as the only head coach the Knights have employed, approached Athletic Director Bill Peterson about a move to "athletic fundraising duties" and Peterson complied.

Jonas will become executive director of the UCF Gridiron Club, replacing Ken Sheinkopf who had been handling the position along with other promotions duties for the Knights.

"The fundraising was dragging," said Jonas Tuesday. "You can't do anything about the money. I knew I wouldn't stay in coaching all my life and I thought this was the time to move."

Jonas, who posted a sparkling 6-2 mark during the Knights initial season, had become discouraged with the coaching situation the past two years. Last year, the Knights were 4-6.

Jonas was not consulted on scheduling and last year when Sam Weir was brought in as associate head coach, Jonas concentrated mainly on administrative duties.

Was there any pressure to move to fundraising?

"That's the first question that was asked," said Jonas. "No, there wasn't. I'd have rather fought the pressure than walked out."

"I couldn't do a good job of fundraising at both positions. We've got a lot of talented coaches here and I thought I could do a better job if I just concentrated on fundraising," he added.

The Knights set a goal of $250,000 for the 1982 season, but thus far only $80,000 has been raised. Peterson, who was brought in as a "name person" after successful stints at Florida State and Louisiana State as a head coach, has not been the answer to the UCF budget problems.

Immediate speculation was that Weir, a very popular and successful high school coach at Lake Howell and Orlando Evans would be the interim head coach.

Football

"I would think he (Weir) stands a good chance," said Peterson. "At this point, to go outside the staff would lose all continuity, and we can't afford to do that now."

The Knights begin fall practice on Aug. 15. The first game is against Georgia Southern on Sept. 11. The Knights move up to Division II this season.

Weir seemed surprised by the timing of the move.

"Don had talked some to me about the move, but I didn't think it would come this soon," said Weir. "But you couldn't ask for a better man at the position (fundraising)."

As for the possibility of Weir taking over the full-time head coaching duties, he said, "I'm sure they'll take care of the decision in due time. It's their decision." Jonas will continue to draw his $23,000 per year salary.

KNIGHT NEWS — The UCF assistant coaching staff is close to being intact, according to Jonas and Weir.

Tod Goodyear (defensive coordinator), Phil Rihart (defense), Rich Ammons (defensive line), Tom Murphy (offensive line) and Weir (Offensive coordinator) are all returning.

Bob Kessler, who works for Allegro fundraising in Jacksonville, is still up in the air.

Terry Manfredi, who was dismissed at Spruce Creek High's head coach this past spring, is also being considered. Manfredi is trying to find a teaching job in this area to help with the move.

Payne Interviews For Raiders Today

Seminole High basketball coach Bill Payne will be interviewed today at 3 by Seminole Community College President Dr. Earl Weldon concerning the open SCC basketball head coaching position.

Payne, who has been at Seminole five years, was the second choice of Athletic Director Joe Sterling behind former Raider assistant Tony Mandeville.

Mandeville decided last week he didn't want the position which opened the door for Payne. "I hope everything goes well. I'm looking forward to the opportunity at SCC," said Payne Tuesday.

"I'm not worried about the opening (at

Basketball

Seminole High) until I see him leave," said Seminole High Principal Wayne Epps. "He's been a valuable member of our school in more ways than a basketball coach."

If Payne decides to take the SCC position, Epps says "there is no one waiting in the wings for his job."

"We might have to hire another person just to handle the job applications," laughed Epps Tuesday. "You know this isn't some raggedy position we have here. A lot of people would like to coach basketball here."

Mr. C's Chicken Drops Silver Hawks Twice

Mr. C's Chicken's varsity basketball team rolled to its sixth straight victory, a 76-42 drubbing of the Goldenrod Silver Hawks in summer league basketball Tuesday night at Seminole High.

Calvin "Kiki" Bryant led Mr. C's with 19 points while Willie Mitchell tossed in 18 markers and grabbed 14 rebounds. Point guard Vernon Law had 14 points and seven assists. Steve Alexander added 10 points.

Sanford Plays Winter Park

The Sanford Legion Post 83 squad, having swept a double-header from Orlando Evans last weekend, will travel to Winter Park tonight for a single game and host Winter Park Thursday night at Sanford Memorial Stadium.

Bobby Lundquist's young squad played its most impressive baseball of the summer against Evans and should have some momentum built up for tonight's

Basketball

In junior varsity action, Kenny Gordon and James Rouse scored 14 points apiece as Mr. C's dropped the JV Hawks, 65-56. Sam Redden handed out seven assists.

The varsity, 8-0, and the JV, 4-1, host powerful Orlando Thursday. The Pioneers, who won the Metro Conference at Oak Ridge, return all five starters. JV tipoff is 6:15 p.m.

Baseball

Andy Griffith is coming off one of the best days of any Legion player. Griffith drilled two homers and two doubles for eight RBI in the second game against Evans and also picked up the pitching victory.

Orlando, Leesburg Nationals Post Wins

Nationals Battle Groveland

Baseball

Sanford's Little Major National League All Stars open sub-district tournament play tonight at 8 against Groveland at Fort Mellon Park.

Manager Sylvester "Slick" Franklin, whose Poppa Jay's team won the city championship sees his squad as one with pretty good pitching that "will depend on the bats."

"Our pitching doesn't look bad," said Franklin who will open with city championship's most valuable player Willie "Sugar Tex" McCloud on the mound.

Franklin doesn't know much about Groveland except "their coach (John Reagan) is trying to pick me and I'm trying to pick him."

Reagan, who piloted Clermont to consecutive sub-district and district titles the past two years, moved to Groveland this year. "That's good enough reason to think they're pretty good," said Franklin.

Groveland doesn't keep batting averages, strikeouts, home runs or any other league statistics. "Just say we have nine All Stars that are hitting a 1,000," laughed Reagan.

Along with pitcher McCloud, Jeff Blake will be behind the plate. George Gordon holds down second base while his brother, Edward, handles third base. Ronald Blake, Jeff's uncle, is in right field.

The Nationals have a certified power hitter in first baseman Todd Revels. The husky Sunniland hitter slugged 11 home runs and batted a league-leading .586.

Another quality player is centerfielder Leonard Lucas, who hit a solid .569 and crunched seven homers for Rinker Materials. Tarance Carr, who played for Railroaders, will hold down the left field spot.

The shortstop's position is a little clouded. Last year's most valuable player—Calvin Davis of First Federal is Franklin's choice, but he doesn't have a birth certificate at the moment.

"His grandmother sent it from Miami but win the holiday and everything it hasn't arrived yet," said Franklin.

"I'm hoping it will arrive Wednesday."

If the certificate doesn't arrive, Franklin said he will probably move Lucas to shortstop and either Rinker Materials' Willie Grayson or Sunniland's Timmy Graham will take up the vacant outfield spot.

Tyrone Lee (Cardinal Industries), Shawn Green (Cardinal Industries), Bobby Cofield (D.A.V.), Willie Walton (First Federal), Melvin Stevens (Poppa Jay's) and Sheldon Slater (D.A.V.) complete the squad.

There were a few surprises in the opening day of the Little Major Sub-District Tournament at Fort Mellon Park Tuesday.

The Orlando Bruton All-Stars, a team that has existed for only three years, got a key all-around performance from Rudy Cole en route to a 5-1 victory in the first game of the tourney.

In the second game, a late rally guided Leesburg National to a 7-5 upset of two-time defending champion Clermont.

In tonight's action, Orlando plays Tavares at 6 and Sanford National encounters Groveland at 8. All games are at Fort Mellon Park.

The Bruton All-Stars opened up a 2-0 lead in the first inning on the strength of Cole's two-run homer to left center. Orlando got two more runs in the fourth and one in the fifth.

Cole also pitched for Orlando and allowed Leesburg American only one hit, a solo homer by opposing pitcher Jay Connell in the bottom of the fifth. Cole had excellent control as he did not allow a walk while striking out three.

David Fischer pitched four innings of relief and ripped two singles to lead Leesburg National over Clermont. Fischer gave up an unearned run and allowed only two hits while striking out five in earning the pitching victory.

Marcus Lemon belted a two-run homer to ignite Leesburg's late rally that saw six runs score in the last two innings. — CHRIS FISTER

Near-Catastrophic Nuclear Accidents Fairly Common, Agency Study Reveals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A draft Nuclear Regulatory Commission study reveals that the Three Mile Island nuclear accident was one of 141 mishaps between 1969 and 1979 that could have led to a meltdown, a Ralph Nader group says.

A meltdown, which did not occur at Three Mile Island, occurs from the melting of overheated fuel rods in a reactor core. The rods theoretically would then melt through the reactor base and into the ground, leading to a large-scale, hazardous release of radioactivity.

"What this study verifies is that nuclear power plants are riddled with design errors and their operation plagued by equipment failures and human errors," charged Richard Udell, a nuclear safety analyst for the Nader group, Public Citizen's Critical Mass Energy Project.

The Jan. 15, 1981, study was done at Oak Ridge (Tenn.) National Laboratory for the NRC's Division of Systems Reliability Research.

The researchers screened 18,000 "events" — most of minor significance — reported by plant operators and gave 400 incidents a "detailed review."

"Based on this evaluation, 141 events were selected as potential accident precursors (to severe core damage)," the draft said. The incidents were distributed among 58 reactors, some of which are no longer operating.

Donald Winston, spokesman for the Atomic Industrial Forum, the main nuclear industry association, said the law requires reporting of minor incidents, such as blown fuses, that are "significant only because they apply to a nuclear plant."

He said between 2,500 and 3,500 such incidents are reported yearly.

"Maybe these incidents could be (dangerous), but they haven't been in 25 years of operation with the exception of Three Mile Island," Winston said.

According to the Oak Ridge draft report, virtually all of the incidents fit into one of four types of accident scenarios:

— "Loss of Main feedwater." In a nuclear reactor, feedwater flows into a reactor vessel, where heat turns it into steam to generate electricity. Feedwater also performs a safety function by removing heat from the reactor core. Loss of feedwater can lead to overheating of the core.

—"Loss of Coolant," caused by a leak or valve problem, also can lead to overheating of the reactor core. At Three Mile Island, in Middletown, Pa., a coolant loss in 1979 damaged 90 percent of the uranium fuel reactor core.

—"Steam line break." A break in the main steam line of a nuclear reactor could cause an excessive temperature drop in water that cools the core. If heat is carried away too fast from a reactor, operators may have difficulty stopping the atomic chain reaction.

—"Loss of offsite power." When a nuclear plant must shut down, it relies on other plants — offsite electricity — to power its safety systems. If offsite power is lost, diesel generators at the nuclear plant are relied upon for backup power.

But the Nader group argued, "Diesel generators, as it turns out, are notoriously unreliable. Indeed, several of the potential precursors to a core melt cited in the draft study are mishaps involving the failure of more than one on site diesel generator."

Sour Grapes Over Citrus

ORLANDO (UPI) — Florida's grapefruit growers have won their long court fight to have the "Florida Sunshine Tree" logo stamped on their products but the victory could backfire, one citrus official says.

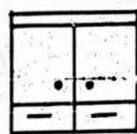

Citrus processors and distributors had vigorously opposed the Florida Citrus Commission regulation requiring containers of 100 percent Florida grapefruit, such as juice and sectioned fruit, to display the state logo. The U.S. Supreme Court last month let the regulation stand.

"We don't believe that the Florida citrus grower has won anything," said Wilson McGee, executive director of the 500-member United Shippers and Growers Inc. in Orlando.

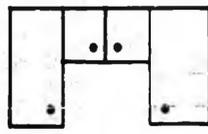

McGee said growers believe that processors will dodge the requirement by adding out-of-state grapefruit juice to their product. Since the logo only applies to products made entirely with Florida citrus, the logo would not have to be applied.

"All the processors would have to do to eliminate the Florida logo problem is mix a little grapefruit juice or grapefruit sections from Texas," McGee said. "It's just going to sell more Texas fruit."

The growers insisted the logo was necessary to distinguish Florida citrus products from others. Growers pay a tax on every box of fruit they pick to support a $42-million, state-run advertising program to promote citrus.

Cook Of The Week

Lodge Manager Proud Of 'Country Girl' Heritage

By LOU CHILDERS
Herald Correspondent

Kathy Dobbs is a country girl who's been cooking since she was 10 years old, and she's "proud of it," too, she says. Kathy recently moved to Oviedo from North Carolina and is now the manager of the Oviedo Lodge.

Kathy's apartment at the lodge houses a small kitchen, but that doesn't prevent her from popping out a batch of All Bran Muffins when she's in the mood for something good to snack on. "When blueberries are in season, this recipe can become Blueberry Muffins by increasing the oatmeal to 1 1/2 cups, omitting the all bran, and adding about 1/2 cup of blueberries," says Kathy.

Kathy's children, Gene, Teresa and Tammy, as well as her husband, Sonny, all love her Apple Sauce Cake. "It is rich, much like a fruit cake," according to Kathy, and it keeps well to be enjoyed when company drops in for coffee.

Another recipe that Kathy recently pulled out of her file is one she has been making for years — Pepper Relish. Now is the perfect time to make this recipe, because the peppers are in good supply — and at a good price. Kathy says, "Put this relish on a hot dog for a treat you won't forget." It is also great with pork, lamb or chicken, served as a garnish, she adds.

Last week's cook of the week shared a recipe for Hot Pennsylvania Dutch Slaw, and Kathy agrees there is nothing to equal the great Dutch recipes, including the one she uses for Pennsylvania Dutch Coleslaw.

Over the years, most good cooks acquire a lot of unusual recipes. The one that Kathy feels is the most unusual in her collection is one for Watermelon Punch. "It was given to me by an aunt, and we loved it so much, my daughter, Teresa, and I chose to serve this punch at her wedding reception. It was festive looking," Kathy recalls, "especially with the lemon and lime slices floating atop the beautiful red melon juice."

It sounds perfect for a bridal shower or wedding reception.

ALL BRAN MUFFINS

- 1 1/4 cup quick oatmeal
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 cups all bran cereal
- 1 1/4 cups milk

Kathy Dobbs serves a batch of All Bran Muffins which are easily converted to Blueberry Muffins when the berries are in season.

1/2 ripe watermelon (about 10 pounds)
7-Up
Sugar to taste
Crushed ice
Remove watermelon from rind, cutting into small chunks, removing seeds. Place chunks in blender and liquify. When you have 2 quarts of watermelon juice in a pitcher, add 1/2 cup 7-Up and sweeten to taste (not more than 1/2 cup of sugar). Fill glasses with crushed ice and completely cover ice with watermelon juice. Garnish with lemon slice, or a sprig of mint.

For Punch Bowl:
Fill punch bowl with crushed ice. Triple recipe for watermelon juice, pouring this over ice. Float thinly sliced lemons and limes on top of punch. Serves 40 people.

Shred enough cabbage to make 1 quart. Chop or grate 2 stalks celery and 2 carrots rather fine. Soak all vegetables in weak salt water for 1 hour in refrigerator. Press out all water. Add 1/4 cup vinegar, 1/4 cup sugar, and stir in 1/2 cup mayonnaise. Add small amount of salt to taste and 1/4 teaspoon celery seed, optional. Let stand in refrigerator before serving to blend flavors.

Expert Authors Book On 'Herpes'

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter signed "Shook," whose girlfriend had given VD to several men, I had to write because there is one form of VD I wish more people knew the facts about. It's genital herpes. I am a 30-year-old unmarried man who has had genital herpes for 11 years, so I know something about it, but the horror stories I've read and heard about herpes — "incurable venereal disease" — could scare a person to death!

I've talked to several doctors, and they have all told me not to make love when I have open herpes sores because that is when I could infect my partner. I have followed that advice, and in all the years I've had herpes I have had many different partners and I have never given the disease to anyone.

Having genital herpes is just like having a cold or the flu; the virus is always present in my body, but I am contagious only when for some reason my immune system breaks down and the sores appear. This happens only three or four times a year, and each outbreak lasts about a week.

I just abstain from making love when the herpes sores appear; otherwise, I lead a normal sex life. You may use my letter to educate people about herpes, Abby, but please do not use my initials, name or city, because I live in a small town.

LIVING WITH HERPES
DEAR LIVING: When you say that having genital herpes is like having "a cold or the flu," you have much to learn.

How do you know that you have never infected any of your partners? Some women might not even know they have it — or they might be too frightened to tell anyone. For that matter, are you sure you have it? The symptoms of herpes are similar to eczema and syphilis. The only way to identify herpes is to have a virus culture, Pap smear or some other laboratory tests run by a qualified physician or dermatologist.

Your letter reflects a lack of knowledge on the subject. Dr. William H. Wickert Jr., a leading medical authority on herpes, has written an excellent new paperback on the subject in language that everyone can understand. It should be required reading for every high school and college student. It's titled: "Herpes, Cause and Control" (Pinnacle Books). Please read it.

Carrot Cake Ring

A Lovely Dessert

A moist carrot cake chock full of flavoring from a combination of allspice, cinnamon, raisins, brown sugar and whole-grain oats is a pleasure to serve.
A carrot cake ring makes a lovely party dessert when it is baked in a fluted tube pan.

CARROT CAKE RING

- 1 tablespoon vegetable shortening
- ¾ cup chopped pecans
- 1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar

- ¾ cup vegetable oil
- 4 eggs
- 1½ cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt

- 1 teaspoon allspice
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 3 cups shredded carrots
- ¾ cup raisins

¾ cup quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked
Heat oven to 325 degrees. Grease a 12-cup fluted tube pan with shortening; coat pan with nuts. Combine sugar and oil in large bowl. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Combine flour, baking powder, salt and spices; stir into egg mixture. Add carrots, raisins and oats; mix well. Pour into prepared pan; bake at 325 degrees for 55 to 60 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes. Remove from pan; cool completely on wire rack. This kitchen-tested recipe makes one 12-cup fluted tube cake.

Tuna Buffet Treat

Tuna casseroles make excellent, nutritious buffet dishes for a party or to serve youngsters kitchen buffet-style. Canned tuna is very economical now so take advantage of specials to stock up on this high-protein food.

For a buffet dinner serve tuna-and-noodles with a variety of side dish "sprinkles" to add as toppings, such as grated cheeses, sieved hard-cooked eggs, corn chips or a variety of cooked, leftover vegetables or fresh veggies chopped.

Another buffet casserole could be a tuna-vegetable health pie baked in a prepared pastry crust. Again, this is a no-fail dinner dish.

BUFFET TUNA AND NOODLES

- one-third cup butter or margarine
- 1 large clove garlic, minced
- 1 medium onion, finely chopped
- 1 large red or green pepper, chopped
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1½ cups chicken or vegetable broth
- ¼ cup chopped fresh parsley
- ½ cup pitted black olives, sliced

- 1 can (6½ or 7 ounces) tuna, drained and flaked
- 1 package (8 ounces) spinach-egg noodles, cooked according to directions and drained

In large skillet, melt butter over medium heat; stir in garlic. Add onion and pepper; saute until tender. Blend in flour, cook 1 minute, stirring constantly. Add chicken broth and cook, stirring until sauce thickens. Stir in parsley, olives and tuna. Heat thoroughly. Keep warm over low heat while noodles are cooking. Place hot, drained noodles in large, heated serving dish. Spoon tuna sauce over noodles; toss gently to combine. Set out with several or all of the following: chopped walnuts, grated cheese, sieved hard-cooked eggs, cooked green peas (or cut-up, leftover cooked vegetables), minced fresh or dried herbs, crushed corn chips. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

TUNA-VEGETABLE HEALTH PIE

- 1 unbaked 9-inch pastry crust
- 2 tablespoons sesame or sunflower seeds
- 3 tablespoons salad oil
- one-third cup finely chopped onion
- ¼ cups wholewheat bread cubes (3 slices)
- 1 cup shredded unpared zucchini (2 medium)
- 1 cup chopped fresh tomato (2 medium)
- 1 cup (½ pound) shredded American cheese
- ½ cup wheat germ, divided
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley

- ½ teaspoon dried leaf basil
- 2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna, drained and flaked
- 2 tablespoons margarine, melted
- ½ cup chopped toasted almonds or peanuts

Press sesame seeds over bottom of pie shell. Bake in 400-degree oven 5 minutes. Cool. In large skillet, heat oil; saute onion until tender. Stir in bread cubes, zucchini, tomatoes, cheese, ¼ cup wheat germ, eggs, parsley, basil and flaked tuna. Mix well. Turn mixture into prepared pie shell. Combine margarine, almonds and remaining ¼ cup wheat germ; sprinkle over top of pie. Bake in 350-degree oven for 25 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Serve with yogurt (as a topping) and accompany with pickled beets, cole slaw, grated carrots and banana muffins or bread. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

Super Salad For Summer Supper

Summer appetites seem to crave salads. So celebrate the coming of warmer weather by serving a deliciously different salad for dinner. Nothing is more satisfying or tasty than the current craze of pasta salads.

For a quick and easy treat, try this recipe for Chili Tomatoes. The ground beef and macaroni salad is spiced with chili and tomato flavors. Stuffed into a garden-fresh tomato and topped with grated Parmesan cheese and dried basil, it's an attractive dinner idea. And the best part is it can be prepared in less than 30 minutes!

prepared in less than 30 minutes!

CHILI TOMATOES

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 package hamburger helper mix for chili tomato
- 3 cups hot water
- 1/2 teaspoon chili powder
- 5 large tomatoes
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- Dried basil leaves

Cook and stir ground beef in 10-inch skillet until brown; drain. Stir in Macaroni, Sauce Mix, water and chili powder.

Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Reduce heat; cover and simmer, stirring occasionally, 10 minutes. Cut stem ends from tomatoes. Place tomatoes cut sides down; cut each into sixths to within 1/2 inch of bottom. Carefully spread out sections, forming a "flower." Fill each with about 1 cup beef mixture. Sprinkle with cheese and basil leaves. Serve immediately. 3 servings.

Secret In The Sauce

With the temperature risin', it's not so surprisin' that cooks are moving outdoors to once again test their skill to create the perfect barbecue.

While a variety of elements contribute to a tasty barbecue, it's the pungent, rich "barbecued" flavor that separates outdoor cookery from everyday kitchen fare. The secret to the best-tasting barbecues, say La Choy home economists, is in the sauce.

Sauces, either plain or fancy, are ideal for marinades, as tenderizers before cooking, basting while cooking and as a flavor accent at the table. Some sauces, such as soy sauce, are versatile enough to be used in all of the above mentioned ways.

Remember, too, that sauces with a sugar base should be brushed on foods only during the last 10 minutes of grilling to prevent burning.

Now that you know a few saucy secrets, here's a selection of barbecue sauce recipes and serving suggestions. One is sure to become your family favorite.

HONEY OF A SAUCE

- 1 small onion, minced
 - 2 tablespoons butter
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 1/4 teaspoon oregano
 - 1/2 cup tomato sauce
 - 2 tablespoons honey
 - 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- Cook onion in butter until tender, about 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients; simmer 5 minutes. Brush on grilled chicken or meats during last 10 minutes of cooking. Warm leftover sauce for use at serving time.

POULTRY MARINADE

Chicken and turkey pieces combine naturally with this sweet-sour marinade which doubles as a baste while grilling.

- 1/2 cup soy sauce
- 1/2 cup pineapple juice
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard (or 4 teaspoons freshly ground mustard)
- 1 teaspoon brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons ground ginger
- 1 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground pepper

Combine marinade ingredients in a small saucepan; simmer 5 minutes. Cool. Marinate chicken or turkey pieces for one hour, stirring occasionally. Grill or broil for twenty minutes or until done, basting with reserve marinade. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

SWEET SOUR GLAZE

- 1 jar (10 oz.) sweet & sour sauce
- 3 tablespoons white wine vinegar
- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 small onions, chopped fine
- 1 clove garlic, chopped fine
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard (or 2 teaspoons prepared mustard)

Combine all ingredients in small saucepan; bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes. Use to brush on steaks, lamb, chicken, pork during grilling.

TERRIFIC TERIYAKI

- 3/4 cup teriyaki sauce
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard (or 1 tablespoon prepared mustard)
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1/4 cup catsup

Combine ingredients in small saucepan. Cover; simmer for 10 minutes. Especially good with pork and as a basting sauce for chicken and beef.

- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1/4 cup catsup

Combine ingredients in small saucepan. Cover; simmer for 10 minutes. Especially good with pork and as a basting sauce for chicken and beef.

Sprinkle a generous amount of salt on your carpet. Let stand for an hour before vacuuming. You may be amazed at the results.

Ladyfingers: Royal History Of Taste, Convenience

Ladyfingers, one of the oldest and most delicate of sponge cakes, dates from the House of Savoy in eleventh century France. The "Doigts de Dames" is as popular today as it was in the courts of Versailles as a light dessert, snack or ingredient in more elaborate desserts.

The recipe, which was changed little in nine hundred years, was carried throughout Europe by the marriages of the many daughters of Bertha of Savoy to the scattered thrones of Europe. Folklore has it that Czar Peter the Great of Russia and his wife, the peasant Empress Catherine, so enjoyed ladyfingers when visiting Louis XV of France, that they purchased the baker and sent him immediately to St. Petersburg.

Today, the ladyfinger is a delicacy considered by many to be one of the rarest of the baker's arts. It has grown in popularity in America since it was first introduced probably by the earliest French settlers in the Northeast and New Orleans. It is used extensively in the country's finest restaurants as an ingredient for elaborate French and Italian desserts.

Very few ladyfingers are produced today. Specialty Ladyfingers, Inc., a small, highly efficient bakery company on the banks of the Susquehanna River in Marysville, Pa., is one of the only known bakers of ladyfingers in the United States.

Virtually all of the commercially available ladyfingers in this country are baked at that plant, which has been in continuous operation since 1901.

A convenient product, ladyfingers are consumed as a snack finger food, or filled with cream, jellies, puddings and fruits. As a dessert ingredient, the ladyfinger is a perennial and versatile favorite.

SPECIALTY BAKED ALASKA

- 4 dessert shells
- 4 egg whites
- 1 tsp vanilla
- 1/2 tsp. cream of tartar
- two-thirds cup sugar
- 1 pint ice cream (any flavor)
- toasted slivered almonds for garnish

Divide ice cream into 4 portions. Shape each into ball. Place in hollow in dessert shell. Place on baking pan and set in freezer until very hard. To make meringue, beat egg whites with cream of tartar and vanilla until soft peaks form. Slowly add sugar, continuing to beat until stiff peaks form and sugar crystals are dissolved. Divide meringue evenly among the four shells spreading evenly over top and sides completely sealing entire dessert. These may be baked immediately or returned to the freezer until serving time. Bake at 500 degrees for 3 minutes until golden brown. Watch carefully and serve immediately, garnished with slivered toasted almonds.

CHEESE TART MANDARIN

As the popularity of the orient continues to grow, you are guaranteed to please your holiday guests with the colorful and convenient Cheese Tart Mandarin.

- 16 ladyfingers, split
- 3 3-ounce packages cream cheese, softened
- 1 tablespoon milk
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 11-ounce can mandarin orange segments, drained

Line the bottom and sides of an 8-inch quiche pan with ladyfingers. In a small mixer bowl, combine cream cheese, milk, lemon juice, sugar and vanilla and beat at a high speed until smooth and creamy.

Carefully spread the mixture over the ladyfingers. Place mandarin oranges over the filling in a decorative pattern and chill well. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CHIPPED CHOCOLATE RUSSE

- 1 3/4 ounce package chocolate fudge pudding or pie filling
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 2 1/2 cups of milk
- 2 eggs, separated
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 5 ounces of frozen whipped topping
- 6 ladyfingers, split and cut in half
- Shaved chocolate

In a saucepan, combine pudding filling and gelatin; blend in milk and egg yolks, beating well. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a full boil and is thick. Remove from heat; chill well.

Beat egg whites until soft peaks form and fold into the chocolate mixture. Fold half the whipped topping into the chocolate. Line sides of a 5-cup ring mold with waxed paper, then the ladyfingers. Spoon chocolate mixture into the mold and chill until firm.

To serve, unmold and fill center with remaining whipped topping and the shaved chocolate. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

EDWARDIAN SHERRIED MINCEMEAT SPLENDOR

Popular since the turn of the century, this special holiday treat retains all the ceremony of Edwardian England, but ladyfingers provide the convenience in keeping with contemporary life styles.

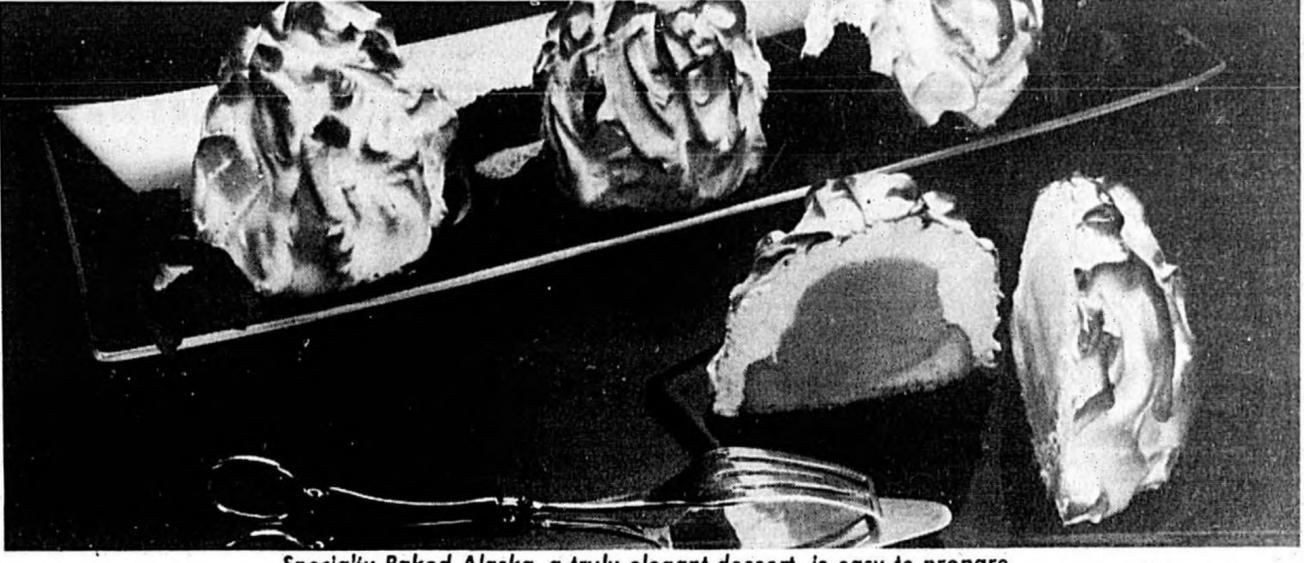

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1/4 cup of cold water
- 1 1/2 cups of orange juice
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup sherry
- 2 cups mincemeat
- 6 ladyfingers, split
- Whipped cream
- Maraschino cherries

First soften the gelatin in cold water. In the top of a double boiler combine sugar, orange juice, and egg yolks and blend well. Cook over hot water stirring constantly until the mixture begins to thicken.

Remove from heat and add softened gelatin and sherry, stirring until the gelatin dissolves. Then chill until the mixture begins to mound from a spoon, then add mincemeat.

Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form and fold into the gelatin. Spoon the mixture into a 2-quart mold to about two inches from the top of mold. Place ladyfingers around the edge of the mold and fill with remaining mixture.

To serve, unmold and garnish with whipped cream and maraschino cherries. Produces 8 to 10 servings.

Ham Rollups Perfect For Picnic Fare

Warm weather meals should look as refreshing as they taste. To delight the eye as well as the palate, serve Ham-Rice Salad Rollups at your next picnic or patio supper.

Created by home economists of LaChoy Food Products, the rollups offer pleasing contrasts in color, texture and flavor. Serve frozen pea pods, thawed and drained, with soy sauce for dipping as an easy yet unusual finger-food appetizer. For dessert, try La Choy Surprises, light and sweet chow mein noodle cookies drizzled with chocolate glaze.

Baked Beans A Summertime Favorite

Baked beans are a summertime favorite we often associate with cookouts and picnics.

If you have prepared dried legumes beans for a baked bean dish before you know they take hours of baking in the conventional oven. First the dried beans must be rehydrated.

Soaking overnight is still the best way to do this, although it can be done in the microwave.

To microwave dried legumes (peas, beans, lentils) try this method: Wash and sort 1 lb. beans. In a 5-quart casserole place beans and cover with water. Any seasonings called for in recipe. Cover with plastic wrap or tight cover. Microwave 100 percent power 8 to 10 minutes or until boiling. Let stand 1 hour or reduce power to 50 percent and microwave until beans are tender. Stir several times and add hot water if needed to keep beans covered.

Serve hot as a vegetable, in salads, soups etc. or combine with other ingredients such as this recipe for Boston Baked Beans.

BOSTON BAKED BEANS

Microwave 100 percent power 7-10 minutes or until bacon is fully cooked. Stir 3-4 times. Add water as needed to keep moist.

Luscious Lamb Fills Bill For Different Barbecue

Shake a leg — a leg of lamb, that is. For a change-of-pace barbecue this summer, lamb delivers an exceptionally rich, robust flavor and juicy tenderness that outshines other meats!

One leg of lamb conveniently divides into mouth-watering steaks for the grown-ups and appetizing burgers for the kids. That's an economical dividend you won't get with more expensive cuts of meat.

But it's important to serve your family the highest-quality meat. In New Zealand, an old-world sense of pride and ultra-modern facilities combine to produce a superior meat. Lambs there are raised on a healthy diet of mother's milk and grass on rolling, green pastures. Then the meat is aged to perfection in sophisticated facilities and quick-frozen at peak quality.

By serving a lamb barbecue you can also be assured that your family is getting a rich source of protein, B vitamins, thiamine, riboflavin and iron.

To make your luscious lamb steaks and Lamburgers, simply have your supermarket butcher cut several steaks from a frozen lamb leg on his bandsaw. You can then thaw the shank end at home and grind the meat from it in a meat grinder or food processor.

A five to seven pound New Zealand Spring lamb will yield four one-inch thick steaks and enough ground meat for four generous Lamburgers.

Accompany succulent Grilled Lamb Steaks with New Zealand Mint Sauce. A quick-and-easy, sweet-and-sour dressing, its cool, refreshing taste perfectly complements the heartiness of lamb.

To make your barbecue the best ever, here are some tips culled from expert outdoor cooks:

Cover the bottom of the grill with aluminum foil with holes cut out for the draft openings.

Make sure you have barbecue accessories at hand: tongs, a long fork with a handle, a spatula for turning meat, fire-resistant gloves and pads and a basting brush.

To get the coals burning, tear empty milk cartons loosely, then pile briquettes around the cartons.

LAMBURGERS

1 pound ground lamb, cut from leg of New Zealand Spring lamb

$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt

$\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon pepper

Combine meat, salt and pepper. Shape into 4 patties. Grill 4 inches over medium-high heat 10 to 15 minutes until desired doneness. YIELD: 4 servings.

GRILLED LAMB STEAKS

4 lamb steaks (1-inch thick), cut from leg of lamb

Salt

Pepper

Sprinkle lamb on both sides with salt and pepper. Grill three to five inches over medium-high heat 10 minutes on one side; turn and grill 5 minutes longer or until desired doneness. Serve with New Zealand Mint Sauce (Below). YIELD: 4 servings.

NEW ZEALAND MINT SAUCE

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped fresh mint

2 tablespoons sugar

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup boiling water

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup cider vinegar

In a small bowl combine mint and sugar. With back of a wooden spoon crush mint. Add boiling water; mix well. Cool. Add vinegar; stir. YIELD: $\frac{3}{4}$ cup sauce.

4 cups confectioners' sugar

Decorations:

(optional)

Washed and dried flowers, candied flowers, satin bows, drizzles of melted chocolate, chocolate leaves, chocolate curls, tinted coconut

Preheat oven to 350.

In a bowl, beat shortening until fluffy. Stir in sugar and brown sugar. Add eggs one at a time, beating until smooth after each addition. Stir in sauce. Sift flour with baking powder, salt and baking soda. Alternate adding flour mixture and water to shortening-sugar mixture, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Fold in vanilla, chocolate pieces and nuts.

Spoon batter into 24 greased and floured cupcake muffin pans, filling cups $\frac{1}{2}$ full. Spoon the remaining batter into 24 greased and floured tea-sized muffin pans, filling cups $\frac{1}{2}$ full. Bake for 20 to 25 minutes for regular size and 15 to 18 minutes for tea-size. Unmold and cool.

Combine frosting ingredients and beat until smooth. Spread side and top of both cupcake and tea-size muffins. Place small ones on bigger ones. Using a pastry bag fitted with a star tip, decorate tops of both cakes with remaining frosting and decorate if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 24 cakes.

IVORY WEDDING PUNCH

6 cups cranberry apple drink

2 quarts grapefruit juice, chilled

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup superfine sugar

1 quart ginger ale or sweet white wine

1 quart lemon-lime soda or champagne

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup kirsch or

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon almond extract

Pour cranberry juice into a 6-cup ring mold and freeze until hard. When ready to serve, mix grapefruit juice and sugar in punch bowl until sugar is completely dissolved. Add remaining ingredients and stir gently. Unmold ice ring and place in punch bowl. Stir until very cold and serve in punch glasses. This kitchen tested recipe makes 10 to 12 servings.

Doubly Delicious Pie

Salute summer with Double Berry Pie... doubly delicious, thanks to juicy, fresh blueberries and strawberries. It is also doubly easy to prepare with ever-handy lemon flavor gelatin and frozen whipped topping. These two convenient products combine with the fresh fruit to create a fluffy filling and the perfect finale to a summer meal.

DOUBLE BERRY PIE

1 package (3 oz.) lemon flavor gelatin

2-3rd cup boiling water

2 cups ice cubes

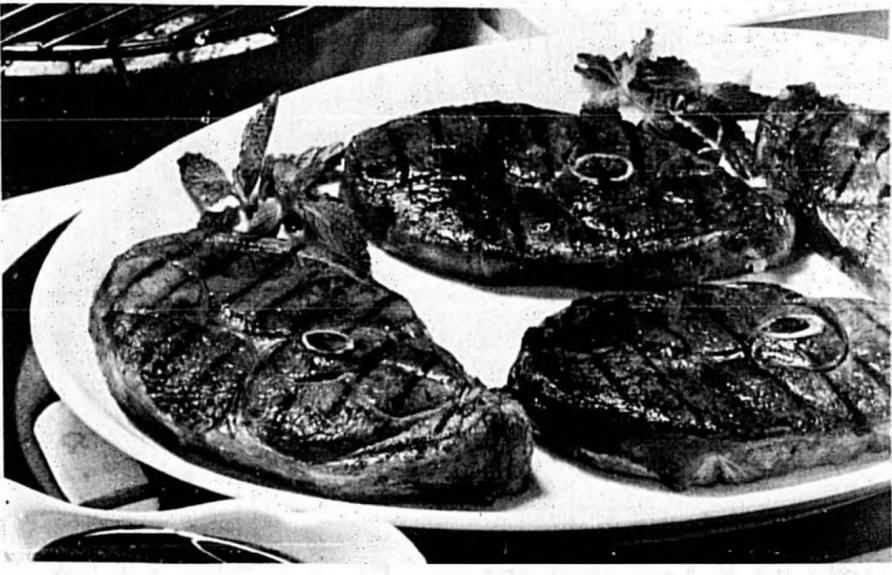

1 container (8 oz.) non-dairy whipped topping

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup fresh blueberries

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup sliced fresh strawberries

1 baked 9-inch graham cracker crumb crust, cooled

Dissolve gelatin completely in boiling water, stirring about 3 minutes. Add ice cubes and stir constantly until gelatin is thickened, about 2 to 3 minutes. Remove any unmelted ice. Using wire whip, blend in whipped topping; then whip until smooth. Fold in berries and chill, if necessary, until mixture will mound. Spoon into pie crust. Chill 2 hours. Garnish with additional fruit, if desired.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Thursday, July 8, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY

July 8, 1982

You will be fortunate this coming year through participation in projects which others began.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

Don't be dismayed by early signals today. Your luck improves as time ticks on.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

Ventures or arrangements that you have which require a partner should work out rather well for you today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Your financial prospects look brighter today, although you may not get an immediate yield from your efforts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)

You need stimulating activities today in order to function at your best, so don't back away from challenge or competition.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

You are capable of substantial accomplishments today, so if there is something important you wish to conclude, bring all your forces to bear.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Try to keep your schedule as flexible as possible today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Your possibilities for profit look good today, but not necessarily from new ventures.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

Success is likely today because you'll know how to reduce mountains to molehills and deal with them satisfactorily.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

Although a situation appears to be a negative one, your concerns should prove groundless today when you probe the matter more deeply.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

Your becoming manner in dealing with others today will win you admiration and respect.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

Conditions should be right today to afford you opportunities to achieve two important goals.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

It's not that you'll be out to use people today, but good things could develop for you from your social contacts.

Walking First Step In Weight Loss Plan

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am 63 and on Social Security. I'm 5 feet 6 and weigh 180. That is my problem or one of them.

I had two disks removed from my back 10 years ago and had three operations on my breasts but no cancer. Thank God!

I am so depressed and all I do is eat all the wrong things. The only way I can stop is by going to bed.

DEAR READER - Your letter certainly points out the psychological aspects of overeating. A lot of people simply eat because they are depressed, anxious, bored or get emotional satisfaction out of eating.

At the early stages of your program I would recommend that you start a walking program. Don't overdo it at first. Start with a short walk and set up a schedule so that you gradually increase the number of times a day and the length of each walk.

Keep food out of your house, except low-calorie food that fits with your diet.

And follow a sensible diet that helps you lose about a pound a week. I'm sending you The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet, that you can use as a basic plan.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm 30 years old and the serology part from a routine blood test came back positive.

DEAR READER - Your first test was undoubtedly a VDRL test for syphilis. It is the one commonly used for screening. It can give a false positive test in some acute medical problems such as during viral infections.

Your second test was probably a different type of blood test that is frequently used to evaluate the initial VDRL screening test reaction.
