

Father & Son 'Overnighter' Held At Ocala

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Boy Scout Troop 341 of Casseberrys held its sixth annual Father and Son Overnighter and Barbecue last weekend at Boy Scout Camp Lanochew near the Ocala National Forest.

Blessed with ideal weather, the Scouts and their Dads enjoyed fishing, boating, and hiking.

Saturday morning was devoted to re-walking the interior of "Old Betsy" the troop's 1946 Chevrolet which has been retired from active passenger service and is being converted to an equipment carrier. (When the troop acquired a school bus of more recent vintage last summer the boys didn't have the heart to part with "Old Betsy," who had given so much pleasure and faithful service.)

Several of the fathers, directed by the assistant scoutmaster, E. M. Cundiff, assisted in this task, while the cook, scoutmaster W. T. Daniel, made preliminary preparations for Sunday's barbecue, always the highlight of the weekend.

Saturday evening was a time of games for the boys and fishing and fellowship around the campfire for the men.

Sunday morning was spent exploring the lake and woods around the camp, as well as putting some finishing touches on "Old Betsy."

At 11 a.m. everyone gathered for a worship service conducted by Paul Pontaux and Hiram Cox.

Then at last the moment everyone had been looking forward to... the delicious dinner of barbecued turkey, penny-bone ham, cole slaw, pie, and hot chocolate.

Special guest for lunch was the Camp Ranger, Fred Herman.

After dinner and clean up, everything was packed up for the journey home with the group arriving back at Casseberrys Community Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m., smelling of wood smoke and pleasantly relaxed after a perfect weekend.

Among those taking part were three generations of one family, J. N. Cundiff, his son Ed, and grandson, Edward and Tim.

Others participating included Othal Sullivan and sons, Allan, Bob and Tom; Scoutmaster Daniel and sons, Bill and Tim, J. E. Perry and sons, Dan and Tom; Don Gault and sons, Tom and Joe; D. E. Mount and John; H. S. Daplingford and John; M. E. Campbell and John; George McGuire and son Paul Pontaux, C. E. Wallace and Victor; R. Rankin and Richard; Clyde McKenna and grandson, Herby; William Nicary and Steve, Ray Horn and Larry, and Scouts Steve Adams, Hiram Cox, Arthur Newberg, Bill Bailey, and Terry Lee Jackson.

Reed Cundiff, Little Squirt

By TOM TIDDE
BIEN HOA, Vietnam (NEA) — When Reed Cundiff volunteered for duty in the Long Range Reconnaissance unit, he was less than welcome.

A sergeant put it bluntly enough: "I don't want the little squirt."

The sergeant had reason for his prejudice. Infantry reconnaissance is no work for the weakling. It is a deadly occupation.

Reed Cundiff was hardly the deadly type.

After dinner and clean up, everything was packed up for the journey home with the group arriving back at Casseberrys Community Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m., smelling of wood smoke and pleasantly relaxed after a perfect weekend.

Rankin and Richard; Clyde McKenna and grandson, Herby; William Nicary and Steve, Ray Horn and Larry, and Scouts Steve Adams, Hiram Cox, Arthur Newberg, Bill Bailey, and Terry Lee Jackson.

They did just that.

As long as they were able, anyway.

The men hid near a frequent used Communist trail and counted guerrilla soldiers throughout the day. Big guerrillas, little guerrillas, men and women guerrillas. Hundreds. All heavily armed.

At first it was easy enough. The enemy passed without suspicion. They filed along the trail, and on into the brush. But then, late in the afternoon, a group of them stopped abruptly on the trail. They chatted and nudged their heads. They removed their gear and began cutting down trees. They had decided to set up camp... not 15 feet from the horrified American patrol.

Other guerrillas stopped. Fires were started. Cooking utensils rattled.

Small sprinkles of trout sprang up each GI's neck.

Automatically, the Yanks began to move back. THE ENERGY FOOD!

Longwood Man Receives Award

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Eddie M. Cundiff of Longwood was presented the Scout's Award at a Roundtable held at the Altamonte Baptist Church. The presentation was made by Bruce Nelson, district training chairman.

Cundiff has been active for the past four years as the assistant scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 341 of Casseberrys. The award is one of the few Scouting awards presented to adults, and to earn it the recipient must have completed two training courses and have been active in registered leadership for at least three years.

Field Trip

Brownie Troop 233 of Casseberrys enjoyed a field trip to the Big Tree Park Thursday afternoon after school. The 21 Brownie Scouts were accompanied by their leaders Mrs. Walter Miller and Mrs. E. Vanhorn, and Mrs. H. E. Lash. The girls explored the park and played games before eating their "village" lunches.

Pack Meeting

Monthly pack meeting of Bear Lake Cub Scout Pack 270 will be at 7 p.m. at the Bear Lake Elementary School. Each of the six dens will present a surprise skit.

Virginia has a total area of 40,215 square miles, of which 20,838 square miles are land and 9,377 are water.

The word around town is that E. Y. Kiehlhoff will submit his resignation today as executive director of Seminole Community Action.

Head Start program is definitely dead here. . . . A reliable source told us that CEO is only funding program that already were in operation last year.

A new group is being formed today in an attempt to help the depressed people here. They plan to contact CEO officials in Atlanta about getting a charter. . . . I guess since Seminole Community Action failed someone has to do something. . . . They plan to go up to Atlanta "in the very near future" to lay it on the line what went wrong here.

AROUND THE LAKEFRONT—The landfill and bulldozer project will be completed by this weekend. . . . water lines now being installed. . . . dry storage facility on construction will begin by the middle of next month and in March the motel complex construction starts.

Oh yes, we hear the "House of Beef" in Orlando is "interested" in taking over the restaurant part of the motel.

We hear it on good authority that County Agent Cecil Tucker is having trouble finding a replacement for Myrtle Wilson. Seems no one wants the job. . . . Pay is too low.

Still no word on that Webb Jones case. . . . Preliminary hearing was held earlier in the week. . . . Our favorite county prosecutor says he still hasn't received the case from the Peace Justice. . . . And Justice keeps grinding on and on and on.

How many more delays will the City Commission give the owners of that vacant United Lumber Company building on French Ave.? It was supposed to have been demolished months ago.

Nobody asked me but I think everyone is so vitally concerned at the Naval Air Station plant on the city skyline that a press conference and let the press know what steps they plan to take to acquire the facility.

Let's hope the city doesn't wait too long to close the alley behind the Monroe Lodge and open on Railroad Avenue. . . . Wow! What a bottleneck.

AROUND THE COUNTY Council in Casseberrys is thrashing out disagreements in work sessions about the $125,000 plus budget submitted to them by the new Mayor Arthur Wiseloff.

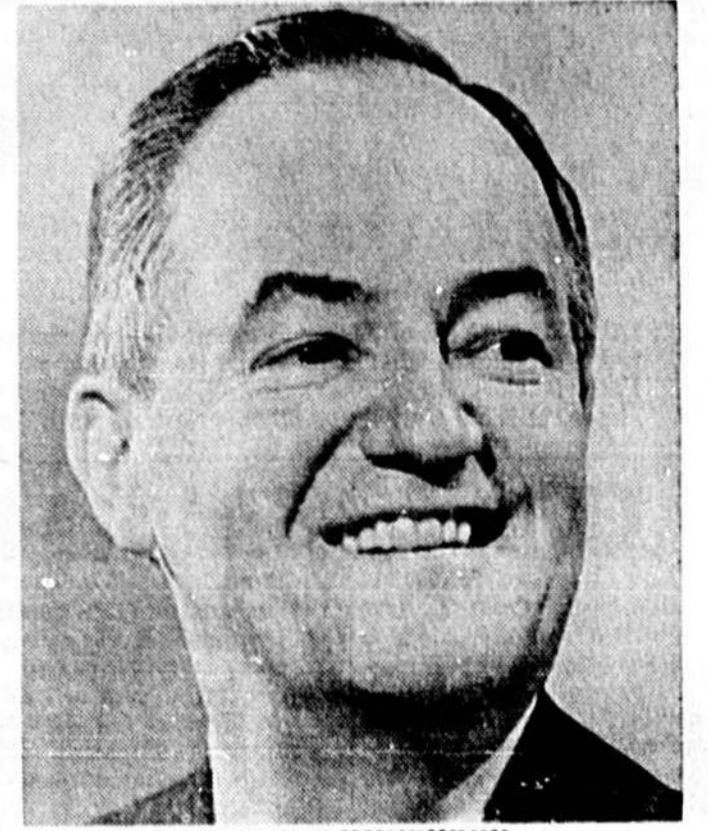

LONGWOOD — Council "mourning" the County Commission — One member planning to run next time out. . . . despite the fact the city clerk was elected by a landslide in December, council plans to eliminate her office as elective in its new charter. . . . They are having weekly meetings with the city attorney in his office working on the new charter. . . . It will be submitted to the legislative delegation during the next few weeks. . . . The council planning to hire a "helper" of their choice for the clerk rather than raise her pay?

ALTAMONTE—City attorney is comparing the figures of D. McIntosh submitted to the State Road Department and at court hearings as value for his property when it was taken for right-of-way for SR 427 to what he claims it is worth for tax purposes.

It seems that his property was worth a great deal more when it was being purchased than what he claims for property tax value. . . . McIntosh filed the suit against Altamonte complaining them from collecting taxes.

How Humphrey Aided Seminole

The $54,000 planning advance received by the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District Wednesday from the U. S. Housing, and Urban Development (HUD) will make it possible for the authority to move ahead on estimated use studies, designs of locks, bridges, etc., according to Chairman John Krider.

The new funds will be coupled with an earlier grant of $40,000 from the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund of Florida for preliminary engineering and alignment surveys. Krider praised the interest and efforts of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's office staff in helping expedite receipt of the funds.

He said, "The community of Sanford and residents of Seminole County owe a debt of gratitude to civic leader Jeno F. Paulucci and to the Vice President who acted as the economics of the project by updating data previously collected.

Paulucci commented, "Hopefully, this is the first step toward completion of other projects of interest to the community. With the help of our congressmen and the continued interest and assistance of the Vice President's office projects of importance to our economy and growth will be brought to successful conclusions."

Woman Still 'Satisfactory' After Attack

Mrs. Mildred Annette Feria, 28, of 2115 West 16th Street, suffering from stab wounds in the neck, was reported in "satisfactory" condition this morning by attaches of Watterman Memorial Hospital, Eastis.

Her husband, Delfin M. Feria, 33, a Navy steward at Sanford Naval Air Station, is being held without bond in Volusia County jail at DeLand, charged with first degree murder and assault with intent to murder.

His preliminary hearing is being held in absence by Volusia County Judge Robert Durden pending Mrs. Feria's release from the hospital.

Amusement Center Pushed For Area

A "perpetual year-round amusement" to attract tourists to Seminole County is being considered by local business leaders to offset the proposed Disney land promotion slated for Ocala and Orange Counties.

The idea will be presented tonight, according to President DeWitt Mathews, at a planning conference of executive board members and committee chairman of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at the Lookout restaurant.

Mathews said that Chester A. Merrill and A. J. Thomas, building the motel on Lake Monroe, and Harold Slama, building the new marina, will tell of enlarged plans for those projects.

The three will join with Jeno Paulucci, Mathews said, in broaching the idea of a "perpetual year-round amusement" to draw tourists to the area.

Mathews said the idea will be "kicked around" in detail at tonight's meeting.

Also, the committee chairman will outline plans for future developments in Seminole County.

The three-year plan of the former senate aide this week-end.

A ball field has been completed at Goldstone School. Current facilities under construction and expected to be completed within the next two weeks include a tennis court at Oviedo School and a ball field at Wilson School.

Other facilities planned, which are scheduled to be completed before the fall session of school, are basketball courts at Lonswood Elementary, Hopner Elementary, Pine Crest, Rossmore, and Westside Grammar. Ball fields are planned for South Side Primary, Jackson Heights (Oviedo), Midway, Monroe and Geneva while a tennis court will be built at Bear Lake Elementary.

The Commission plans to utilize property available for the facilities at schools with sufficient land area.

The facilities will be available to the students during the day and to adults and organizations after school hours and during the summer coordinated through the schools.

Integration Guidelines To Be Set

The County School Board will meet in special session tonight to establish integration guidelines for the new year, name an architect for three proposed new schools and look over plans for two maintenance shops on the junior college site.

The new guidelines, set up under the Civil Rights Act of 1964, will mean the doubling of Negroes into the school system here. At the same time the board is expected to set Feb. 15 to "freedom of choice" pre-school registration.

The board also will discuss plans for a new junior high school and Oviedo and Lynn high schools. John Burton, local architect, is expected to be named to draw up plans for the three new facilities. The sale of State Board of Education bonds is anticipated to give the county some $2,500,000 in funds to start the construction program.

The two new maintenance shops will be located at the northeast corner of the junior college site and is expected to cost around $90,000.

A Woman's Hour Of Terror

Johnnie Lee Elliott, accused kidnaper of Mrs. Michael Solitto of Altamonte Springs, was placed on $5,000 bond today by county court.

"When I went into the office, I noticed this boy hanging around in the parking lot, but left my keys in my car as I usually do," she said. "When I came out and got into my car, he opened the door on the other side and told me if I made any noise he would shoot me. I never saw the gun, but I was sure he had one," Mrs. Solitto declared.

"I told him that the car was almost out of gas and that I intended to get gas on my way to work, but he said, 'Drive and keep quiet.'"

"We turned right off 17-92 down SR 426 and got onto I-4. I thought the car would never run out of gas, but when it finally did about two miles east of 557 near the Lake Alford cut-off, I wondered what he would do to me," she said.

"I talked fast, gave him a real con job. I told him I had a son, nearly his age, that I was going to give him to him. 'When he turned his back to lift the hood, I signaled an Esau truck driver to stop. When he did, I asked him to give the boy a ride. I told him the boy worked for my husband and had a death in his family and needed a ride. The truck driver said he would to leave me, but I insisted."

"After the truck went over the hill, I stopped a motorist who was calm until then. All at a sudden I realized how lucky I was to be alive and screamed. I told the highway patrol about the sheriff or somebody, please!"

Mrs. Solitto praised the sheriff's department of Polk County. "Sgt. Bud Crews was so very kind. I was so upset. He took me home to his wife where I could freshen up and rest. "Things like this only happen on television. Thank God, I'm alive!"

DEPUTY LOU HUDDLESTON (right) was accused kidnaper Johnnie Lee Elliott. Elliott was captured by Polk County authorities on a Bartow Street shortly after he released Mrs. Solitto. He was identified by Mrs. Solitto in a lineup at Seminole County Sheriff's office last night.

NEW STREET lights on Hwy. 17-92 from 27th St. to Onora Rd. will go into operation by Friday night. Shown above is a city workman installing one of the new lights that will "brighten up" Sanford Plaza. Some 15 lights are being installed.

Massive Parks Plan Underway

Work has begun on the first phase of a three year program of constructing recreational facilities at strategic spots throughout the county at neighborhood schools. Estimate of the cost of labor, materials and equipment to complete the program undertaken by the County Commission is in excess of $100,000.

This year's phase of the program will cost $10,000 for materials alone.

A ball field has been completed at Goldstone School. Current facilities under construction and expected to be completed within the next two weeks include a tennis court at Oviedo School and a ball field at Wilson School.

Other facilities planned, which are scheduled to be completed before the fall session of school, are basketball courts at Lonswood Elementary, Hopner Elementary, Pine Crest, Rossmore, and Westside Grammar. # Sanfordite Faces Court On Tax Count

Facing two charges of income tax evasion, William A. (Big Bill) Agronova, of 213 Tangerine Drive, will be arraigned at 2 p.m. Feb. 9 before U. S. District Judge George G. Young at Orlando.

Internal Revenue Service spokesman said Agronova was arrested Nov. 30 on an indictment returned in Miami charging tax evasion in 1960 and 1961. He was released under $1,000 bond. The spokesman said Agronova was indicted against tax evasion in 1962.

He was not arrested on this indictment, it was said.

District Court clerk said arraignment on all three true bills will be Feb. 9.

The IRS spokesman said Agronova reported for 1960 a tax of $86.29 on no income when he should have paid $43.20 on a taxable income of $132.60 for 1961 a tax of $30.02 on an income of $2,375.67 income when he should have paid $3,015.79 on a $10,322.45 taxable income, and for 1962 a tax of $50.19 on an income of $1,229.38 when he should have paid $1,428.41 on a taxable income of $11,773.93.

St. Johns Clerk Learns From Seminole

Oliver Latham, clerk of the circuit court in St. Johns County, visited the office of Arthur Beckwith Jr., Seminole County clerk, today to "review our system of processing and recording public records."

Latham said the cost of photographing documents in his county has "become prohibitive" and his office is "considering adopting the method used by the court clerk here."

Altamonte Playground Planned

The South Seminole Committee for Progress, organized Jan. 4 as a part of Seminole County Community Action, voted Wednesday night at its second meeting to formally launch a fund raising campaign for purchase of equipment for a new playground on Park Street, Altamonte Springs, as its first major undertaking.

Two fund raising clubs, the Young Women's Auxiliary and the Willing Workers, have been organized from the committee. The auxiliary held its first event at Roosevelt School and realized $43 from the sale of candied apples and peanuts and from dancing admissions.

The Willing Workers group was formed Wednesday night and is making plans for a future entertainment.

Leaders for 4-H also were recruited and will attend a four-session training course at the Agricultural Center. Other persons interested in assisting with the 4-H program should contact James G. Lamoreaux, committee president, or James Florence, vice president.

Other officers are Nora Nelson, secretary; Hasi Simmons, assistant secretary; Heath Stevens, treasurer; Pearl M. Farrier, financial secretary; Rev. M. P. Epps, chaplain; James McMillin, parliamentarian; and Jane Warden, reporter.

The committee plans to hold regular meetings at least once each month and to continue new ideas for progress. All citizens interested in development of the entire South Seminole area are invited to meet with the group and participate in its activity.

Everyone interested in progress of the county as a whole is urged to join Seminole County Community Action by registering at 1100 Pine Street in Sanford and to attend meetings regularly.

Next meeting of the South Seminole committee will be at 7:30 p. m., Feb. 8, at the St. John's Missionary Baptist Church, Longwood Avenue, Altamonte Springs.

Dearing and William E. Cook, both World War I veterans; and Arthur E. Wainfeld and William K. White, transferees.

Program for the meeting was the film, "You and Medicines" which was shown by Vice Commander J. W. Watson. This film is sponsored by the Social Security office and is available for showing to any interested organization.

Loveanna stressed the fact that one of the most important American programs is to promote the flying of the American flag. Fred McLaren of the post has just received a new shipment of flags and flags poles with proceeds from sales to go to the Legion's rehabilitation fund for hospitalized veterans. It was reported that Mackie Brothers of Deltona has purchased more than 100 flags from the DeBary Post.

'Resucie Annie' Use Outlined

The importance of "Resucie Annie," a life-size dummy, as a training aid in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation instruction was stressed for members of Precursor Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Psi at their regular meeting Monday night.

Guest speakers, Judd Wood, American Red Cross emergency services director, and Mrs. Betta McCall, A.R.C., Seminole County unit, also told of the many lives saved each year through mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

BERRY'S WORLD

"A $73 billion dollar defense budget—let's see North Vietnam try to match THAT!"

MIAMI (AP)—Florida's titanic reapportionment struggle which witnessed the slow death of the rural "pork chop gang" and gradual emergence of urban power—appears headed toward a crashing emergency settlement.

Three federal judges, weary of the five-year fight, left little doubt after a hearing Wednesday that they will take the case into their own hands—fashioning a Legislature based precisely on the one-man-one-vote principle.

And they evidently planned to waste no time carrying out this command of the U. S. Supreme Court.

After four hours of arguments, during which the judges indicated strongly that they would toss out the Legislature's latest 48-senator, 120-representative plan, senior Judge Warren G. Jones asked if the attorneys wished to file additional briefs.

"If so," he added, "can you do it instantly (immediately) or a little sooner? The sooner we can hear from you, the sooner we can act."

When several attorneys promised to deliver briefs to the homes of the judges, as well as the court clerk, "within a couple of days," the hearing was adjourned "subject to recall."

Jones and Judge David Dyer and William McArae gave no hint of what route they might take in creating a Legislature. Several times, they mentioned the possibility of calling statewide at-large elections.

"That would be horrible, horrible," cried Joseph Dyer, a Tallahassee, one of several present attorneys defending the present Legislature and also its new plan.

Both Houses were scheduled to convene briefly, then recess to allow members to attend the conference to gain information on the major areas that face lawmakers when the regular session starts in April.

Dr. Albert Sturm, one of the planners of the three-day school, said 120 of the 165 legislators had registered in advance and a "pretty fair turnout" was expected.

He said preparations for the conference had continued despite the uncertainty of the present legislative formula.

Senate President Verle Pope and House Speaker Heath Tullington said earlier that the purpose of the three-day session was to make the Legislature "the best informed in history."

Major topics to be covered were taxation and finance, education, health and welfare, and roads.

Featured speakers during the educational conference included Chesterfield Smith, chairman of the State Constitution Revision Commission, Dr. James Pollock, professor of political science at the University of Michigan, and Gov. Claude Kirk.

Both houses of the Legislature were scheduled to convene today, but nobody knew if any actions taken would be legal.

James asked Dan Paul, Miami attorney and architect of the latest Supreme Court appeal that resulted in slapping down of the present apportionment, if the current Legislature could meet pending disposition of the case.

"I think not," Paul replied. "It is the opinion of the Supreme Court that the Legislature should be constitutional before it meets in 1967."

Legislators In Capital But For What??

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Members of the 1967 Legislature come back to the capital today to prepare for a legislative session they may not attend.

A very brief session was planned mainly to get the lawmakers to town for the start of a three-day educational session at Florida State University.

But Rep. Ben E. Williams, Port St. Joe said he would ask his fellow legislators to "stay here until ejected by a United States marshal."

Williams, a retired electrical engineer, contended the U. S. Supreme Court "has usurped power" not granted by the Constitution in rejecting three Florida legislative apportionment plans.

A three-judge federal court in Miami said Wednesday it was under orders to re-constitute the new legislative elections before the regular session.

"I think we ought to sit right here and not move," Williams declared. "Let the marshals come and get us."

Both Houses were scheduled to convene briefly, then recess to allow members to attend the conference to gain information on the major areas that face lawmakers when the regular session starts in April.

Dr. Albert Sturm, one of the planners of the three-day school, said 120 of the 165 legislators had registered in advance and a "pretty fair turnout" was expected.

Thunderstorms, Wind Smash Southern Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Severe thunderstorms, accompanied by hail and high winds, raged through northeastern Oklahoma early today, leaving considerable damage in their wake.

The turbulence was part of a widespread storm in the southern Plains.

In parts of Kansas blizzard conditions made streets and highways treacherous.

A dense fog smothered overcast and domestic flight operations in Kansas and all roads were hazardous. All airlines bypassed the municipal airport in Kansas City. The area expected a snowfall accumulation of 8 to 10 inches. Four inches of snow were expected in eastern Nebraska, but roads were passable.

The snowfall stopped in northern New Mexico after an accumulation of 4 to 8 inches was recorded at higher elevations. Driving was hazardous in northern New Mexico.

Highlights Of LBJ's Message

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are text highlights from President Johnson's economic message:

In purely material terms, most Americans are better off than ever before.

Prosperity is everywhere evident. But prosperity is never without problems—and it is never someone that were serious.

Restoring price stability is not one of our major tasks. It will not be accomplished all at once, or all in 1967. That could be done—if at all—only at the cost of mass unemployment, idle machines, and intolerable economic waste. But a gradual return to stability can go hand in hand with steady economic advance.

Once again, I appeal to business and labor—in their own interest and that of the nation—for the utmost restraint and responsibility in wage and price decisions.

Despite all our efforts for an honorable peace in Vietnam, the war continues. I cannot predict when it will end. Thus our plans must assume the long duration.

Our task for 1967 will require a flexible and delicate balance of economic policies. Above all, we must guard against any interruption of our prosperity.

Christmas Seal Fund Drive Lags

Seminole County's 1966 Christmas seal campaign is running behind last year's results in returns so far, Dr. M. Arthur NeSmith, campaign chairman, reported today.

Receipts as of Jan. 21 were $10,354.41, he said, compared with $11,900.00 by the same date a year ago—a decrease of $1,545.59.

The campaign still has a way to go," Dr. NeSmith said, "and we are earnestly hoping that the people of this county, who have supported our work so loyally in the past, will find time in the next few days to answer their Christmas seal appeals. With so much remaining to be done the struggle to wipe out TB and to control other respiratory diseases, we feel confident that every family will want to renew its annual Christmas Seal contribution which helps make this work possible.

The Central Florida Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, Dr. NeSmith is looking forward to an intensification of its work in the field of prevention, detection and patient care in the respiratory diseases, ranked by the Public Health Service as number one among disabilities in the United States.

"To make such a program successful," he said, "the need for funds is greater than ever before."

Florida Tech Building Fund $8.2 Million Now

Florida Technological University has received some great news from Tallahassee.

That is that the State of Florida has sold an additional $5 million bond issue to help finance public higher education construction projects in the Sunshine State. The issue was sold bearing a 3.616 per cent interest rate.

Dr. Charles N. Millican, president of Florida Tech, today termed the bond issue sale "tremendously good news. Last Nov. 17, I issued a statement to the effect that the tight money market and failure to sell the issue might well hamper opening the sale of the bonds removes that possibility."

Dr. Millican estimated that Florida Tech's share from the latest bond issue would be approximately $2 million and that this means "we have the money to proceed with the first phase of campus construction. The new fund allocations, combined with that of $4.6 million from the sale of an earlier $10 million bond issue, plus $720,000 Federal grant in matching funds from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare amounts to a total of $8,200,000, which FTU will have available to meet the first phase construction costs," Dr. Millican said.

Florida Tech's share of the new funds will have to be approved by the Board of Regents and the Budget Commission.

These additional funds will be used for the final phase of the "Village Center," the sewerage treatment plant, dormitory building, physical education facility and physical education facility, and planning for future projects.

Student's Letters Bring Replies From Vietnam GIs

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

Morale of servicemen and women in Vietnam is raised by letters and prayers from home, according to two letters received by South Seminole Junior High School student Ann Ester Griggs of Altamonte Springs. She has received two replies to letters which she wrote as a seventh grade English project to "any GI in Vietnam."

Surprisingly, one was from an Army Nurse, Lt. Carol A. Rozrowski from Michigan, who is stationed in the 82d Evacuation Hospital, the largest in Vietnam. Ann Ester's letter was shared with her by one of the patients and the nurse decided to write in answer, herself.

Remarking that it is especially hard to be away at Christmas, the Lieutenant said, "Reading letters like yours certainly helps brighten our day. Knowing that strangers were remembering and praying for them (the patients) was much appreciated."

The hospital can care for 500 sick and injured, many of whom are suffering from tropical diseases. "Working here really makes us appreciate the nice, convenient, clean hospitals of America," she adds.

"No matter how much we complain about America, never mind that we are in Vietnam, your thoughtfulness and concern for the American soldiers here in Vietnam is greatly appreciated. I'm sure my Christmas will be a merry one, thanks to you and the many others who have written and prayed for us."

A hunger for letters from home and a belief in their own country have been the themes for most of the letters received by students since the project began at South Seminole more than a year ago.

Congress Plans Study Of Mail Cost, Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's proposed postal rate increases appeared headed today for a searching study by congressional critics demanding improved mail service and higher rates for magazines and so-called "junk mail."

Senior members of congressional committees that will handle the proposal appeared split on the President's recommendation that first class letter rates be raised to 6 cents, six mail to be raised to 5 cents and other classes except parcel post by 20 to 30 per cent to bring in $700 million annually.

"I want them to give some good justifications for their expenses and explain why the mail service has broken down so badly before I make any commitment to support an increase," said Rep. H.R. Gross of Iowa, second ranking GOP member of the House Post Office Committee.

Rep. Arnold Olsen, D-Mont., another high-ranking committee member, said he opposes "an increase in the first class rate of postage results to a great extent from second and third class mail rates which are too favorable."

Second class includes magazines. Third class covers mass mailings, including advertisements and free samples addressed to "resident" or "occupant."

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., chairman of the Senate Post Office Committee, said his committee will examine the President's proposals "very carefully."

"First class makes the money and they lose it on the rest," Monroney said. He said he recognized the department's need for additional funds.

Rep. Robert J. Corbett of Pennsylvania, senior GOP member of the House committee, said he believes that "some increase in these categories of mail will prove necessary."

Horrors Of Drug Addiction Told Students

By Maryann Miles

Two former drug addicts, accompanied by Rev. Dumitri Turk, a director of the Teen Challenge Training Center in Rehobersburg, Pa., told of the horrors of being a victim of dope before students at Forest Lake Academy during a recent visit to the school.

Paul Garcia, who has been with the center for only four months, and Michael Davidson, there for the past eight months, both emphasized the importance of God in their lives.

Paul's first words before the students were "Praise God." He went on to tell how he and his five brothers always were getting into trouble and how their mother kept bawling them out until one day she "just gave up and left us."

Paul became addicted to the drug habit after being literally "dumped out onto the streets of New York" and although he tried to quit one time for six months, he could not. His family and society gave up their efforts to help him.

"I wanted to change my ways but didn't know how. Then, one day, I saw a group from Teen Challenge speaking on the street and stopped to listen. They made sense."

"Maybe this drug addiction is not my way of life," he thought.

He went to the Center with the thought of only staying a couple of weeks until he found somewhere else to stay. "I was hungry for God," he stated.

"I decided I wanted to stay and be helped and I wrote my eighteen year old brother urging him to come there also. But he thought he was too young to serve at the center, so he turned the idea down. Now he is in prison for killing another boy and tells me he wishes he had listened to me."

"Without God's help I couldn't have recovered... we have failed God many times, but he has never failed us," Paul said in conclusion.

Michael, an addict for 12 years said he thought he could live without God and was on his way to becoming a hardened criminal.

"I felt I didn't deserve a chance. At 12 I committed a felony and didn't realize the seriousness of the charge. The Judge told me 'For the love of God, stop!' No one seemed to know what made me behave the way I did," he said.

Six years ago crime again caught up with Michael and he killed a man. Although it was an accident, no one would believe him as he had been in and out of jail so many times and had led so many times.

"All I could think about," he reported "was that I wanted to die."

After eight months it was proved death of the other boy had been and accident and Michael went free, right back into the streets still not knowing right from wrong.

"Eight months ago, God revealed himself to me. I was about to take another dose of drugs when I felt His speak to me, saying 'I won't show you any mercy, you will keep the pain in your body.'"

Seminole High School issued nine week grades to students Wednesday. Parents who wish to have an interview are encouraged to call 322-4322 to individual teachers Friday between 8 a. m. and 2 p. m.

Students will not attend school Friday, Jan. 27th.

"I felt driven out into the street and there I met Rev. Turk who walked the streets preaching about God. I felt I wanted to pray. I had always done everything alone and I felt His power. I told Him 'I am real, help me' and I felt the pain leave my body," he concluded.

Rev. Turk, speaking briefly at the center, reported boys there are free to come and go as they wish. There are 41 boys in residence at present who take advantage of the program of disciplined life. Purpose of the program is to teach Christian character to converted addicts and members of gangs.

The center was founded four years ago by Rev. Dave Wilkerson and donations always are welcomed as they are the primary source of operating income.

'The Restless Ones' To Open This Evening

The Seminole County Premiere of the Billy Graham film, "The Restless Ones," is scheduled today, Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. each day in the Sanford Civic Center. Tickets for this showing are on sale in the local drug stores, through schools and churches throughout the county and also can be secured by calling Sanford 322-6510.

For many weeks now the Steering Committee, made up of ministers and laymen in the county, have been planning for the showing. Interest is keen and a large attendance is expected at the showing.

The film has been shown in several Florida cities. In Sarasota it was shown to 4,500 people, in Miami to 15,000, in Fort Lauderdale to 15,000 where 1,500 made first decisions for Christ. It has just recently been shown in Lake Wales to more than 3,500 people with 900 decisions for Christ. In all, over the United States, more than 2 1/2 million people have seen the film, and 100,000 people have made first decisions for Christ.

The Billy Graham Evangelistic Association believes in the ministry of films and has backed the production of "The Restless Ones" with its financial interests. It is a first class Hollywood production starring Johnny Crawford, star of the TV series "The Rifleman," and Kim Darby, popular television actress. Four popular hit songs have been written for the film and are sung during the showing.

Rev. Fred Chanon, pastor of First Baptist Church, Sanford, and a member of the Steering Committee said, "This is one of the finest films of its kind I have ever seen, everyone owes it to himself and to the Lord, to witness to see it. Richard Barnett, assistant principal of Seminole High School believes that "It will change the whole concept of thinking among our youth."

"More films like this are needed," he said, "which will tell the story as it really is happening and will give our youth some concrete answers to the questions of the day."

"It is no secret that our youth need something to help them realize their true potential in today's world," said Rev. Robert M. Jenkins, pastor of First Methodist Church in Sanford, "and we of the Ministerial Association are indebted to the laymen who have worked so hard on this committee. To this end, we all need to support this venture with our presence together with a youth of our city as our guest."

Restraints Urged To Avoid Recession, Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson directed today that plans be prepared to avoid a recession that might otherwise follow "the welcome day of peace" in Vietnam.

The possibilities of quick tax reduction and spending speed-ups will be studied by a Cabinet-level group, Johnson told Congress, as part of a "major and coordinated effort to review our readiness" for the war's end—a day still not foreseen, he emphasized.

The announcement came in his annual economic report to Congress, as part of a "major and coordinated effort to review our readiness" for the war's end—a day still not foreseen, he emphasized.

The council's accompanying report foresees a price rise of about 2.5 per cent this year, compared with the 3.3 per cent of 1966—which Johnson called "insupportable."

Too Much Power?

About 10 days ago an official of the Florida Education Assn. spoke in the county at one of the schools and after reading a reporter's interpretation of what happened, we are left with two distinct impressions.

1. FEA officials intend to remake the organization into a powerful labor union with a strong voice in running county school systems.

2. Educators may know what "quality education" isn't, but they are not in agreement on what it is.

What emerged from the speaker's ideas on how children should be taught was the impression that "quality education" means different things to different educators. He implied that quality education is a lofty goal that is difficult to attain without a number of idealistic conditions being met.

However, the real distressing aspect is the role envisioned for FEA in the future: that of a strong labor union which would have a hand in school board decisions.

Such a notion indicates that a lack of understanding of the function of the school board and the position of the teacher, what FEA suggests amounts to the same thing as Walter Reuther telling General Motors how it will sell automobiles.

With Reuther running the show, we have little doubt that the auto makers soon would be bankrupt.

The same might be said of the school systems with the FEA calling the shots. The school board in Seminole is elected by the people to organize and operate a school system. It is directly responsible to the people and must account to the public for the manner in which the taxpayers' money is spent.

Headsstrong FEA officials seem to overlook the fact that the school board hires administrative personnel to operate the schools, hire teachers, negotiate contracts, and handle all incidental details.

Are we to assume that FEA wants to leapfrog the superintendent and his administrators and deal directly with the school board? If so, we wonder what they think the purpose of the administrative set-up is.

Teachers already have every right and opportunity to negotiate with administrators and have their ideas taken up directly with the school board. But they should never forget they are employees and not elected representatives of the public.

The school board represents the public and teachers already have a hand in the school system through the administrative office.

James Marlow Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the field of spying, J. Edgar Hoover is the American version of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, was a section titled "After Vietnam."

Johnson said he was naming Gardner Ackley, economic council chairman, to take leadership of a postwar study group made up of the heads of the appropriate federal departments.

Among other preparedness efforts, he said, Ackley's group will:

- Consider "possibilities and priorities for tax reduction."
- Determine which high-priority government programs can be expanded quickly.
- Prepare for a prompt easing of credit and expansion of money supply.
- Examine ways in which the transition to peace can be smoothed for the workers, companies and communities now engaged in supplying our defense needs, and the men released from our armed forces.

The message exuded economic optimism. "Prosperity is everywhere evident," said the President in forecasting a seventh year of unbroken growth.

The unemployment rate should stay close to the current 2.9 per cent, he predicted.

But the forecast of 1967 as national output was conservative. It called for a 6.5 per cent rise compared to 8.3 per cent last year. When deflated for probable price increases, it shrank to 4 per cent.

Johnson said the stimulus of his $115-billion spending budget.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It would be a mistake to think that interest in religion is at a low ebb in the college campus.

A survey among the day students at one large big-city college brought out these figures: Some 67 per cent of the students had discussed religion within the past week, 63 per cent with a person of a different religion.

In a fall third of the discussions, the aim was to share religious experience. Another fourth of the discussions centered in one man explaining his views to others. A tenth of the discussions were aimed at building new friendships. Only 5 per cent were attempts to prove the other man wrong.

Twenty-three per cent of those questioned said their religious discussions had led to a sharing of private feelings. Forty-four per cent said that these religious discussions encouraged further exchanges of ideas.

Seventy per cent of the discussions were at "informal gathering places." Another 26 per cent were held at home. Only 2 per cent of the discussions were held with a friend, only 2 per cent with clergyman.

Sixty-one per cent of the students said they were deeply or moderately religious. Only 11 per cent said they were "irreligious."

Forty-one per cent of the students said they attended religious services regularly.

All this would indicate that many college students are much more ready for religious discussions and religious experience than attendance at Sunday church services would indicate.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE B-546: Mabel M., aged 19, is a college student.

"But, Dr. Crane," she began, "although I have many dates with attractive men, I can't seem to get a steady boyfriend."

"So I'd like to have you suggest how I can quit being a one-date coed and get my escort to ask for a second date. It surely can't be that I am unattractive or I'd never get so many 'first dates,' would it?"

"And I have ruled out such social errors as halitosis and B.O., so why do men drop me after that first date?"

"Good! Mistakes!"

Many coeds and other unmarried girls scare their escorts on that first date, even though they are unaware of doing so.

For marriage is the culmination of a fairly lengthy period of salesmanship.

And in selling, you must be aware about wanting too much pressure at the outset, for this frightens prospects.

Be a little different. Instead of trying to corral every eligible male that asks you for a date.

Don't make that first date a high-pressure effort to get his name on the dotted line.

Instead of focussing on a wedding ceremony, merely limit your goal to a joyful evening of fun and frolic, with no strings attached and no subtle convincing to implicate the boy for the future.

And, girls, don't inquire in poorly concealed panic: "Will I be seeing you again?"

Remember, if the boy has enjoyed himself, he will soon be asking to come back for an encore, without your pleading! So apply the "short version" goal and simply enjoy the first date for its own sake.

In order to make your escort feel happier, just visualize this letter as being handed across his chest:

"I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT!"

So pay him honest compliments.

Don't tout your own horn excessively but praise him!

For when you make him feel more important, the evening will have been so wonderful from his viewpoint that he will let on believe you are wonderful, too.

Moreover, we have a law in psychology that men, as well as the lower animals, want to return to pleasure.

But they also do not come back to pain, humiliation or shame.

Too many modern girls tout their own horn by mentioning their father's wealth or swanky cars or their travel abroad, school honors, etc.

This doesn't make the boy feel more important!

So reverse that egotistical tendency and praise your escort both by direct compliments concerning his tie or suit or safe auto driving or dancing and athletic prowess.

And use the deft method of asking him for advice about your career or math problems and hairdo, or frock.

Most men are as glib as kindergarten youngsters to honest praise, yet the average coed still doesn't realize that fact or there would be few unmarried college women! See tomorrow's follow-up.

Beauty after Forty

By Edyth Thornton Nicleod

It is always stimulating to read a woman who has the leadership of Mrs. Harry L. Jones of Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Jones has just been named National Chairman of the United Jewish Appeal Women's Division of the organization's recent annual conference in New York. While talking with Mrs. Jones, I realized she has the quality of leadership that inspires others.

A grandmother of four, she is most attractive. Her hair is soft, graying, with a small touch of white at the sides. The afternoon we met she wore a soft gray wool dress, with side closing; a string of pearls and a diamond pin at the shoulder.

As a girl, Jennie Jones studied ballet with Mordkin and Fokin and the Russian Ballet and she also studied with the great American dancer Martha Graham. Mrs. Jones told me that the discipline of ballet stands her in good stead today. She learned never to waste a motion, perhaps because of her study gets so much done.

Mrs. Jones has an extraordinary record of leadership in both philanthropic and cultural fields. Jewish and non-Jewish alike, in Detroit, where she now lives, Mrs. Jones is with every important activity in the world of community responsibility.

She has always been fond of traveling. She has traveled throughout the U. S. and last October she spent three weeks in Europe and Israel, surveying the UJA's migrant aid programs.

It is wonderful to meet a woman who is so poised, attractive and dedicated to her cause, making the most of her after-40 career. Tomorrow: Something for Ameri-gans.

DEAR POLLY: I am looking for a husband. I am looking for a man who is kind, gentle, and who has a good job. I am looking for a man who is a Christian and who is a member of the church. I am looking for a man who is a good father and who is a good provider for his family. I am looking for a man who is a good friend and who is a good neighbor. I am looking for a man who is a good person and who is a good man.

I've been wanted to lay off Seminole Community Action... Seems I'm stepping on some mighty important toes. Well, that's too bad.

What goes on there just gets me so mad... Made three calls to Atlanta this morning about the possibility of starting another organization... OEO official said not enough funds to charter a group.

It will be interesting to see what the commission does... if they get legislation on getting a separate juvenile judge... eliminating JPs and constables... more home rule.

Some school board members last night said they wanted to know where we got the idea that it will take a local bond issue to finish those proposed new schools... I wonder where the school board thinks they will get the money from.

FOR THE STATISTICAL MIND... Withholding tax for all city employees during 1966 totaled $56,189... As far as the county goes... the total was $38,869.

The city's main legislative proposal will be annexing the Naval Air Station property... Which reminds me, a sparrow on Fulton St. told me this morning the commission will hold an informal meeting next week to steps to acquire the base.

Don't look for any teen club in Sanford until late Spring... That's when the Fleet & Reserve will move into its new building.
