Raises To Cost District $3.7 Million

Teachers Granted Average 6% Pay Hike

By Richard Truett Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County teachers will begin the new school year Aug. 26 with pay raises ranging from a low of 4 percent to a high of 12 percent, with most of the 2,200 teachers getting a 6 to 7 percent pay raise.

Only about 500 teachers with 15 years or more experience who no longer receive incremental pay increases will get a flat 4 percent pay raise. In salary and benefits for the 2,200 teachers on while roughly 200 teachers will get 12 percent pay raises when the 6-7 percent is added to their incremental pay raise which is built in to their contract negotiations, will cost the district an annual schedule, depending upon the type of degree they hold and the number of years they've worked in the school district.

All in all, it cost the school district $55.4 million.

the payroll last year. The raises, agreed to late Monday afternoon after about two weeks of additional $3.7 million. That will bring the total cost to the district this fiscal year for teacher salaries and benefits to $59.1 million. However, added to that in the coming fiscal year will be another $1 million to $1.6 million for the additional 150 or so new personnel coming on

Last year, a beginning teacher in Seminole County received a base pay of $13,712. Under the new contract, a begining teacher will receive a base salary of $14,260, but that will go to $15.116 with the pay raise.

Middle School Lot Rezoning Back To P&Z

By Rick Brunson Herald Staff Writer

A developer seeking commercial zoning for the 11-acre vacant lot across from Sanford Middle School will have to wait while his proposal goes back to the city's planning and zoning board. The city commission Tuesday threw the hot potato back in the board's lap on a 4-1.

The move means final action on the request won't be taken for another six weeks, which may kill plans for a shopping genter there unless the developer Robert Hattaway in granted an extension on his option to buy the land from the Seminole County School

The school board declared the land surplus last year and wants to sell it and use the money to improve Sanford Middle School. The property has been appraised at $600,000.

Area residents said Tuesday's decision to delay was better than seeing the zoning request granted, but some said the commission is needlessly dragging the issue out.

"I think it's a snow job," said Betsy Phillips, of 423 W. 18th St., Sanford "They're afraid to make a decision and I don't know why."

who motioned for the request to be sent back to the P&Z board, said he did so because only a 3-2 vote of the 9member board voted to recommend the request to the commission July 18. Three members of the board were absent and one member. Dr. Hortense Evans, abstained because she works for the school board.

He also said the P&Z board had not seen the developer's

Residents, about 60 in all, raise their hands to show opposition to the rezoning.

A poll of the planning and zoning commission today shows one member favors the rezoning while two oppose it. Two commissioners said they want to study the plan further. The remaining four members could not be reached for Hattaway, of Altamonte Springs, changed his plan to build a row of 20 duplexes along Elm Street on the east alde of the property. Instead, he said he would build 14 single family homes which he said would be more compatible with the surrounding residen-

Hattaway needs the property rezoned from single family to a single family and commercial district so he can build the foot shopping center there. Total cost of the project is $3.6 million, he said.

About 40,000 square feet of the center would be either a Winn-Dixle or Albertson's grocery store, according to former Sanford City Manager Warren E. "Pete" Knowles, who represented Hattaway at the meeting. A major chain drug store would take about 15,000 square feet, he said.

The remaining space would be taken up by about seven or eight smaller stores and shops, such as a dress shop, donut shop and shoe store, Hattaway said.

There would be no bars, theaters, game or pool rooms to attractive students from across the street, Knowles said.

Longwood Joins County In Block Grant Effort

By Jane Casaelberry

Herald Staff Writer After hearing a pitch by Seminole

County Planning Director Tony Van-Derworp Monday night, Longwood City Commissioners voted unanimously to Join with the county in applying for a Federal Community Development Block

To be eligible for the grant all of the county's seven cities must sign interlocal. agreements and the county's overall population must be 200,000 or more.

VanDerworp said today all seven cities:

have voted to sign the agreements and the population issue, which prevented a grant last year, is no longer a problem.

He said the Census Bureau has assured him the county's population is about 220,000. Last year Census Bureau figures showed Seminole County with about 20 people short of 200,000.

VanDerworp said today grapt funds have to be used for essential community development and low income housing assistance activities. VanDerworp said Longwood will have input into decisions on use of the funds.

In other business, the Commission voted unanimously to accept a $96,350 bid by Sunshine Building and Development Company to make repairs and improvements at the below-standard Columbus Harbour Wastewater Treatment Plant. There was only one bidreceived for the project.

The contractor has agreed to start within 10 days of the signing of the contract and complete the job within 90 and Police Chief Greg Manning the commission will hold a workshop 7 p.m. August 21 to select an architect for the proposed new police building. From those who applied for the job, the topthree contenders are Architecta Design-Group of Florida, Winter Park: Schweizer Associates, Orlando; and Wendell Mounce Associates of California.

At the request of City Administrator

The police complex is to be located on city-owned property on Jessup Avenue. and will cost an estimated $800,000 to be paid for over eight years.

Sales Stagnant; Prices Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) -Despite a strong rebound at department stores and construction supply outlets, the nation's retail sales improved Just 0.4 percent in July, the Census Bureau said today.

The tack of strong improvement held only disappointment for economists who had hoped the second half of the year would get a more vigorous start. But at the same time the figures encouraged investors who believe the Federal Reserve will be forced to lean toward lower interest rates because of the weakness of the economy.

Although slight, the increase was the first of any size since April, when sales rocketed ahead by 3.1 per-

The disappointing sales ligures followed Monday's Labor Department report which showed that sharp increases in the prices of pork, vegetables and tobacco helped raise wholesale prices by a sizeable 0.3 percent in July. It was the strongest rise since April.

However, the wholesale inflation rate is still running at just 1.4 percent when figured on an annual basis. And some analysis predict price increases to slow more by the end of the year, particularly if oil prices keep falling.

The report, a government early warning sign on inflation, showed that food prices were up 1.3 percent for their largest increase in year. Other prices measured in the index showed no change.

Vegetables, pork, fish, eggs, coffee and rice all got cosilier in July by fairly large amounts. The Producer Price Index for July was 294.8, equivalent to a cost of $2.948 for goods that cost business $1,000 in

discovered a crucial tail section prior to the crashof a Japanese Air Lines jet that apparently fell from JAL Flight 123 before it crashed. Four of the 524 people aboard were found

Rescuers who found the survivors amid the smoking wreckage of the Boeing 747 jumbo jet on a remote mountainside earlier today feared the other 520 passengers and crew were killed, making it the most deadly crash involving a single airplane in aviation history. Six Americans were aboard...

JAL spokesman Masaru Watanabe said that part of the vertical stabilizer, a rudder that provides essential directional control in the tail of a plane, was found by the crew of a construction tanker in Sagami Bay, about 60 miles southeast of Tokyo.

The pilot reported about 20 minutes before the crash a right rear cabin door had burst its seal, abruptly depressurizing the passenger cabin.

Authorities at first feared all aboard were dead but Nagano police said rescue teams dropped in by helicopter found two women and two girls alive in the wreckage 17 hours after the

Spotlight On Crime Prevention Tonight

From Staff And Wire Reports

The spotlight will shine on crime prevention tonight as Sanford residents are expected to join homeowners around the country in lighting up their homes to show support for law enforcement agencies.

Police departments around the

'There's no better crime prevention than nosey neighbors'

country are hoping today's "National Night Out" rally will trigger more efforts to organize neighborhood crime watch programs, which they say are responsible for 95 percent of police

About 10 million people in 45 states will participate in the campaign, many by turning on their porch lights as a sign of unity and as a warning to criminals.

Sanford police are asking restdents to turn on their house and porch lights, decorate their Neighborhood Watch signs and all out on their front lawns from 8 to 9 p.m.

Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett said the event is a symbolic way of drawing attention with the department's Neighborhood Watch program. which he credits with lowering burglaries in the city 30 percent since 1981. Nine Sanford neighorhoods are in the program. and the police are looking to boost that number.

Other police chiefs around the nation also hall the program.

"There's no better crime prevention in the world than nosey neighbors," said Columbus, Ohio Police Lt. Charles Foley, adding citizen patrols alone will not halt crime.

The Los Angeles police department, one of the first in the nation to organize a crime watch group in 1970, said citizen watches are invaluable.

"We work with the community because we can't be everywhere all the time. Obviously, the more interest the community takes, the greater effect on crime. (National Night Out) can't burt," a Los Angeles police officer said.

There's no question that this kind of program can make a difference in fighting crime." said Inspector Dorothy Knox of the Detroit Crime Prevention

Block parties, seminars, lawn fetes, mayoral speeches, police caravans and balloon releases all were planned to mark tonight's event. Some citizens will flick on front porch lights and sit on their

The response has been overwhelming, organizers say.

"It's (response) enormous. We didn't anticipate the scope would be this much." said Matt. Peakin, coordinator of the Wynnewood, Pa.-based National Town Watch Association, organizers of the event.

While activities were planned in dozens of major cities and small towns across the continent and in Hawaii and Alaska, the residents of Gary, Ind., appeared the most enthusiastic, said Peskin.

Scheduled there were sentor citizens' lawn fetes, block parties, wiener roasts and a seminar at Indiana University featuring the police chief.

About 70 Philadelphia community leaders coordinated porch lightings in every police district. A Minuteman dressed like Paul Revere was to gallop into Lower Merion Township to deliver a proclamation and ride on to alert residents of the watch

Chemical-Laden Train Burns Through The Night

VALENTINE. Ariz. (UPI) - A train carrying deadly chemicals burned through the night after jumping the tracks, catching fire and spewing out a cloud of fumes that forced 500 people from their homes.

The estimated 500 residents of Valentine, Hackberry and Truxton in remote western Arizona were evacuated Monday when a 71-car Santa Fe freight carrying such toxic materials as ammonia, benzene and sulfuric acid jumped the tracks and burst into flames so hot they melted the

There were no reported injuries, but the toxic fumes killed several cattle and birds.

Gordon Routley, assistant to the chief of the Phoenix Fire Department, said the various circulcals probably created so many deadly combinations that it would be hard to determine exactly what killed the animals.

Residents of Hackberry, five miles to the west, and Truxton, 10 miles east, were allowed to return about 4 p.m., when the amoke and fire died down, but officials told the residents of Valentine to spend the night somewhere else because of the danger.

Mohave County Sheriff's Lt. Clark Morrell said firefighters let the fire burn itself out because the flames were so hot, and because of the possibility that pouring water on the train could carry deadly eyantde into the ground and contaminate the towns' water supply,

Wage-Hour Law Change Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The National League of Cities says Congress should modify a Supreme Court decision making states and cittes comply with wage-hour laws because it will cost them millions of dollars more in overtime costs

"To comply with the overtime provisions alone will cost city governments well in excess of $1 billion at a time when their financial resources are being severely constrained by cuts in federal programs serving cities," said Cleveland Mayor George Volnovich, the league's president.

At Issue is a February Supreme Court decision that said the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act apply to state and local governments. The ruling affects about 7 million local and state employees and several million

The decision applies the overtime provisions, minimum wage, recordkeeping and other requirements of the act to states and municipalities.

In June, the Labor Department said it would begin enforcing the wage-hour standards in October and any liability would be retroactive to April 15.

House Panel Recommends Lawmaker Be Censured For Lie

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - With a swipe at federal prosecutors, a special House committee has recommended that Rep. John Thomas, D-Jacksonville, be censured by the House for lying while applying for a federally backed

The committee, appointed to consider what action if any the House should take against Thomas, agreed the 4-term member's conduct reflected poorly on the House and said he should be puntshed for it.

But the committee members said Monday they were also disturbed by the behavior of the prosecutors who in June won Thomas' conviction on four felony fraud counts

Committee Chairman Hamilton Upchurch, D-St. Augustine, referred specifically to an offer by Assistant U.S. Attorney Lawrence Gentile to let Thornas plead guilty to less serious charges in exchange for testimony on any public corruption Thomas might be aware of. Thomas said he refused the offer because he knew of no public corruption and intended to light for an aquittal. No House member has ever been censured, said

Upchurch, although several charged with crimes have resigned or have been defeated at the polls. Short of doing nothing, censure is the lightest punishment possible under House rules.

U.S. District Judge John H. Moore sentenced Thomas last month to serve four years probation and pay $12,000 in restitution for lying on application forms for the $20,000 SBA-backed loan from Barnett Bank, Thomas subsequently used some of the money to repay a private debt -In violation of federal law.

Shuttle Engines OK

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) - Shuttle Challenger's big rocket engines have received a clean bill of health with tests pinning the blame for the early shutdown of an engine after launch July 29 on faulty fuel pump

Meanwhile, engineers Monday were evaluating the effect of a powerful lightning bolt that bit shuttle Discovery's launch pad over the weekend.

The blast did not damage the shuttle or its pad, but an electronic satellite control unit mounted in the ship's payload bay acted up after the strike, switching from one electronic channel to another on its own.

A NASA spokesman said engineers were assessing the apparently minor problem but planned to continue on schedule readying Discovery for blastoff Aug. 24 on a mission to launch three communications satellites and to rescue a radio relay station stranded in usclesa orbit.

Chemical Deadlier Than MIC?

Memo Indicates Union Carbide Misleading Public

INSTITUTE, W.Va. (UPI) - Union Carbide, criticized for delays in warning citizens of a toxic gas leak, considers the chemical that sickened 134 people more hazardous than it has publicly stated, an internal document revealed.

A 1983 company memo released in Washington shows that Union Carbide places the chemical aldicarb oxime in Class 4. the category that includes methyl isocyanate, or MIC, the poison that escaped last December from a Carbide plant in Bhopal, India, killing an estimated 2,500 people.

Class 4 is the most toxic of four categories of chemicals.

Senate Democratic leader Robert Byrd, calling public safety "our paramount concern," demanded a full accounting of the pesticide leak and planned to bring federal officials to the Institute plant today to question Carbide officials.

Carbide officials have referred to aldicarb oxime as an eye and nose irritant since it leaked from the pesticide plant Sunday in a yellow cloud of gas and rolled through four Young said it takes 70 times as much methyl isocyanate as aldicarb to kill an experimental rat in a laboratory.

"In terms of what it will do to you with increasing amounts, it causes nausea. vomiting, weakness, tightness of the chest, difficulty in breathing, vision problems, poor muscular coordination, twitching, convulsions, coma and death," he said.

Company spokesmen confirmed aldicarb oxime is rated in the same class of chemicals as MIC but declined comment on the internal document.

Dr. Bipin Avashia, the Institute plant physician, said the aldicarb decomposed when it hit the air and chemical byproducts caused residents' health problems.

"I don't believe it is as bad as MIC," he

Nabbed In Pool Hall Crap Game

Two of four gambling suspects arrested by Sanford police have been released on $100 bond each. Their two alleged crap shooting chuins were being held today in lieu of $100 bond each.

Police said they nabbed the four as they reportedly shot craps on a pool table at Joe's Pool Hall, 1301 W. 13th St., Sanford, at 11 p.m. Monday. The dice and cash were on the pool table when officers walked in, a police report said.

Two small parks would also be built along the south end of the property.

The shopping center would be divided from the row of homes by an alley running from 15th Street to 18th Street and a 7-foot decorative fence, Knowles said.

Traffic would enter and exit the center from the alley or on French Avenue. The homes would have driveways on Elm-Avenue, Hattaway said the center would not create a traffic problem because most of the customers would come from nearby neighborhoods. The comment drew laughs from one area resident who responded. "How does he think people are going to get there, walk?'

Knowles said the plan was the "highest grade" use of the property. Turning what is now a vacant lot used as an unofficial park into a commercial development would get more land on the tax rolls, he said, which would benefit the entire city. He also said the shopping center would generate much revenue from eigarette taxes.

"What Bob Hattaway Investment Corp. is saying is ... we would like to bring into the city a $3.5 million business," Knowles card.

Hattaway told the commission he did not believe Knowles would be backing the plan unless it was good for the city. He also said he would put deed restrictions on the property so it would be used as promised.

But Sylvia Smith, of 425 W. 18th St., spokesman for the 60-plus residents who showed up to oppose the rezoning, said Hattaway's plan was improved but the residents were still against it.

We do not want a shopping center over there whatsoever,' she said, asking the request to be sent back to the Planning and Zoning Commission

She said the residents want to see the land preserved as an open recreational area.

Yancey questioned if Hat taway's deed restrictions would still be in force if property was sold to someone else. City Attorney William Colbert said it would be difficult to nullify the restrictions but it could be done if the owner, city commission and a court agreed.

Former city commissioner A.A. McClanahan also appeared before the commission and pledged to give $1,000 toward buying the property for a park a gesture that drew applause from the standing room only audience

"This may be the last chance we ever have to have open space in that part of the city of Sanford," McClanahan said.

Patricia Smith, an environmental consultant and sister of the residents' spokesman, said paving of much of the property for parking would create a drainage problem.

"You're going to lose a major percolation area," she said. Jalaine Lee, of 423 W. 18th St., holding up copies of stories in the Evening Herald about residents serving the community, appealed to the commission to preserve the city's "hometown atmosphere" which she said is the city's drawing

"People aren't coming here for the shopping centers that are on every few corners and on every few blocks," she said.

Ms. Phillips resubmitted the group's petition bearing more than 700 signatures opposing the rezoning.

Mercer, in calling for the request to be sent back to the P&Z, told the residents until the school board changes its mind about selling the property, they will keep getting offers to buy it for developments.

'As sure as you are sitting out there, there's going to be something out there (on the property) beside a park unless the school board changes its mind," he said. Another development may be proposed that is worse than Hattaway's plan, he said.

He predicted the aging middle school would be shut down in five years and that the school

Commissioner Robert Thomas agreed with Mercer. But Commissioner David Farr and Mayor Bettye Smith said defaying action would only cause everyone concerned to wait needlessly for a decision.

Nevertheless, the commission, voted, 4-1, with Mayor Smith opposed, to send the request for comment today. back to the P&Z board.

Ms. Lee said the commission was playing "ring around the mulberry bush" with the resi-

"The feeling I get is that they think maybe one of these days we won't be here and it will get passed," she said.

But Ms. Phillips said the residents would be vigilant in their opposition. We're going to be here and we're not going to go away." she said. "And we're not going away at election time."

Hattaway said after the vote he will not adjust his plan for the PårZ board.

"I've got a good plan. I've met the objections of the residents by replacing the duplexes with single family homes," he said.

But, he said, the delay means "trouble" for his option to buy the lot. He has until Aug. 21, which is before the city commission is expected to rule on the rezoning. He is scheduled to appear before the school board Wednesday at 2 p.m. to ask for an extension of the deadline. If the extension is granted he has more time to try and get the rezoning. If not, he will lose his option and the school board will start taking other offers after Aug. 21.

Sanford developer Stanley Sandefur has offerred to pay $610,000 for the property. He wants to build a bank and keep the rest of the land as a park, he

Two members of the fivemember school board, Jean Bryant and Bill Kroll, said today they favor denying an extension for Hattaway. Mrs. Bryant said the board should "open it up for a new offer."

Kroll said the school board board would be sorry it didn't should retake control of the land

Sandefur "was second in line," Kroll said he should get the next shot at the property. Or, he said, the school board could sell the land to the residents if they can come up with the money to buy it. Board member Pat Telson said she would not comment until she could study the matter further. Board chairman Nancy Warren and member Joe Williams could not be reached

School Superintendent Robert Hughes said today "it does not appear to be in the best interest at this point" in granting the extension unless Hattaway puts more money down and firm date for closing the deal is established

Hattaway said he was forced to run so close to the deadline because city hall was two to three weeks late in advertising the rezoning hearings.

He said usually the dates the P&Z and the commission will discuss an issue is run at the same time. But the city ran the two ads separately, two weeks apart, he said, which caused the delay.

He said he believed the city commission really backs his plan and that it would be in the 'best interest" of the school board to grant the extension.

After the vote, Knowles asked the commission to speed up the hearing process so all parties wouldn't have to wait so long.

But Colbert said the city would have to advertise the P&Z and city commission meetings. That means, he said, it would be six weeks before the commission could issue a final ruling on the

Ms. Phillips said the residents would be at the school board meeting to object to the extension.

She said if a development is not found that satisfies the residents, they would try to buy the property and keep it as a park - a proposal Mercer said was not feasible.

But Ms. Phillips said, "They talk like it is isn't feasible, but if we have to buy it, we'll buy it."

After the meeting one man said he would match Mc-Clanahan's $1,000 donation.

Teachers

"We are not totally happy. Experienced teachers aree getting a lesser amount of the raise," said Marshall Ogletree of the Seminole Education Association, the teachers' bargaining agent.

"We Believe that from the amount had to work with and with the growth we are experiencing, it is a good salary," Superintendent Robert Hughes said.

"We can't be satisfied, because teachers are vastly underpaid," said Ogletree. He said he's concerned with the difference in the growth rate of personnel to student growth.

"Personnel growth in the district is 7 percent, and 6 percent at the local school level, while student growth is only 4 percent in the district." There were 39,600 students in the district last year, while that figure is expected to jump by 1,500 this year. Ogletree said next year it will be a priority of the SEA to help the school district find 'creative" ways to bring more of a balance in the personnel-student growth ratios with the thought in mind that if fewer teachers and administrative personnel can do the job, then there'll be more money for pay increases.

SEA had originally asked for a 29 percent salary increase but dropped its demands to 14.9 percent after the school board's budget was tentatively approved July 16. Monday, it agreed to the average 6-7 percent pay raises.

"I feel our money package will help us recruit teachers to Seminole County," said Ernest Cowley, the school board's chief negotiator.

Ogletree said that the career teacher - those with 15 years or more experience - deserve more

"We tried our utmost to get them more money," Ogletree said about career teachers. But the school board had made up its mind and we would have had a hard time justifying an impasse," Ogletree said.

The settlement was reasonably fair for all but the 15-year teachers. One of our goals for next year is to take a look at long term salaries. We want to get more money for career teachers,' Ogletree said.

In addition to the salary agreement, several other issues were settled:

• The school board will pay the 10 percent increase in teachers health insurance premiums An employee assistance program will be established. The program will help teachers deal with personal problems, drug and alcohol abuse or economic problems. · Teachers will get one more paid holiday at Christmas. Seminole teachers are paid for 196 days but now they will work only 191 days and have five paid holidays instead of four. • Teachers who have tenure - a continuing contract - in other counties, will receive the same pay as teachers with similar experience in Seminole County if they come to work for the Seminole County school district.

Claim Of Retaliation

When Secretary of Defense Weinberger gets his signals crossed, he rearranges them. Thus he insists that in the main he was right with his version of Salvadoran army retaliation against guerillas thought responsible for the June 19 murders of six Americans. He also

Mr. Weinberger said recently that the Salvadoran army, "with our assistance, has taken care of - in one way or another, taken prisoner or killed ... a number of the people who participated in the slaying of the six Americans." However, a spokesman for the Salvadoran forces said Mr. Weinberger had misinterpreted army reports and that those killed were not the ones specifically responsible for the attack on the Americans. A Pentagon spokesman agreed. So, finally, did-Mr. Weinberger, but he asserted that a measure of retaliation had been extracted from the guerillas

The episode means little except to demonstrate the eagerness of the Reagan administration to produce results as well as tough talk against terrorism, principally terrorism of the leftist variety.

The administration has been quicker to try to avenge the killings by leftists of the four Marines and two businessmen then it was to force El Salvador to bring to justice the rightist officers who killed four American religious women in 1980. Congress used the threat of an aid cutoff to put the pressure on El Salvador to prosecute the assassins. Since then U.S. officials have helped to find evidence against a Salvadoran captain alleged. to have killed two American labor advisers in 1981, but a Salvadoran judge refused to order bis arrest.

If retaliation is difficult in the case of Americans, however, consider the Salvadorans, who have lost thousands to right-wing death squads. For those massive atrocities retaliation is impossible.

Justice Sleeps

When a corporate chief commends a branch office for aggressive practices that earn an extra $30,000 a month, that's business. When the practice involved is overdrafting at the bank, that could be a crime. And when the corporate chief doing the commending is George L. Ball, former president of the brokerage house, E.F. Hutton & Co., that raises troubling questions about how and why the Justice Department let the whole company plead guilty to 2,000 counts of fraudwithout prosecuting individual Hutton offictals

In recent weeks, there has been a steady flow of leaked documents and newspaper interviews with Hutton employees that suggest the Justice Department was less than diligent, and Hutton less than forthcoming, in the investigation of the overdraft scheme. Documents released recently by Hutton internal memorandums that Button admits were denied to a grand jury even though they were well within the scope of a subpoena suggest that top managers were aware of and encouraged the practice of overdrafting accounts at banks around the nation to earn interest for the firm. The documents reveal that among those urging on the troops in their overdrafting was Ball, now president of Prudential Bache Securities Ball denies the activities he encouraged were those for which the firm was prosecuted.

Nonetheless, it is more difficult than ever to credit the Justice Department's original assertion that the overdrafting scheme was the work of a few middle-level managers. Even Robert Fomon, chairman of Hutton, is disbelieving. "The Justice Department's description seems incredible to me," he says.

He's right it is time for the Justice Department to investigate whether Hutton withheld evidence from prosecutors, thereby sheltering officials, and for Congress to take a deeper look, both at Hutton's practices and at the Justice Department's shoddy performance in the case.

BERRY'S WORLD

BEN WATTENBERG

Shaping A Tax Plan To Help Families

President Reagan's troubled proposal for tax, that it doesn't really help the middle class. And reform is designed to be pro-family and pro-middle-class

Reagan was right to target those goals. We have real family problems in America a very low birth rate, great difficulty for many lower middle-class parents to make ends meet, toomany children who live in poverty but who would be in the middle class if they were not in broken, single-parent families

Reagan's major proposed remedy is to roughly double the tax exemption - from about $1,000 per person to $2,000. This, it was reasoned, will help families. A household with two parents and two children would get tax deductions of $8 000. instead of the roughly $4,000 they now get. That would make it easier for middle-class families to support children, and would help keep children out of poverty. In theory, it would also tend to encourage people to have children

That's fine - but it's only of limited help. If you're in the 15 percent bracket, that extra-$4,000 in deductions yields only $600 in cash savings - which doesn't go very far toward supporting two children for a year

As it stands now, the Reagan tax-reform planfaces tough sledding in Congress. It's being said.

so, it may be dumped or sharply amended

Here — with some very rough numbers — is how the tax plan ought to be shaped in order to maximize help for families and the middle class. First, don't increase the exemption for everyone - but only for children under 16. Because those under 16 make up only about a quarter of the population, the child-exemption could be raised to $5,000 per child without adding any additional costs to the tax plan as now envisioned. A family of four would then get $12,000 in deductions instead of the $8,000 under Reagan's plan. This would have the effect of aiding families with children and penalizing adults without children

Next step. Transform that $5,000 tax deduc tion into a tax credit. A deduction helps rich people in higher brackets more than middleclass or poor people in lower brackets. A taxcredit helps everyone equally. Using the same amount of tax relief as provided in the Reagan plan but spread more fairly, the credit would be worth almost $1,000 per child. That's more than three times as much for a child in a 15-percent-bracket family than under Reagan's

Last step. Make the tax credit applicable even to those who haven't earned enough to gain the credit. In principle, that's called a negative Income tax, and it helps the very poor most. We already have something like it in the tax code called the "Earned Income Tax Credit

A negative income tax for children would provide cash for poor kids who really need it Such a clean, de-stigmatized money transfer through the tax system could be a first step toward changing the crazy quilt of welfare laws we now have. Those laws, even as amended over the years, still have the sad effect of encouraging families to break up, or never to form at all. This negative tax for children could be designed in such a way as to recoup most of its cost by lowering welfare expenditures

In short, a family with two kids would get $2,000 in tax credit help. Three kids - $3,000 In effect, America would have what the European welfare states call a "children's allowance," except this would be administered by the Internal Revenue Service, not a welfare bureaucracy

Such a plan has an added attraction: it might even pass the Congress

WILLIAM RUSHER

Budget Woes To Continue

When President Reagan submitted his proposed budget to Congress last February, the Washington press corps gleefully pronounced it "dead on arrival" at Capitol Hill. Six months later, the members of Congress have at last agreed on a substitute budget and departed on their summer vacations, and a taste for symmetry impels me to point out that their substitute is "dead on departure"

Mr. Reagan's budget died because Congress killed it but the congres stonal substitute was born dead. It is proof positive that Congress is utterly incapable of making serious reductions in these ridiculous and dangerous federal deficits. It purports to cut expenditures for the coming fiscal year by $55 billion. but the Congressional Budget Office has already stated that much of this is eyewash, the true savings are more like $39 billion. And not even these are certain. The cuts approved. in this budget merely declare what Congress allegedly intends to do: the actual appropriations must still he voted on in the months to come. and they may well be higher.

The "savings" projected for the years ahead are even phonter, being based on revenue estimates that are precarious in any case (since they are mere guesses) and probably wildly optimistic

The real intention of Congress is revealed by what this budget does about domestic spending programs. of all sorts - the "benefits" that Congress insisted on conferring on the voters year after year Mr. Reagan's budget proposed simply closing down many of these. The Republican dominated Senate managed to pass a budget that would at least end 11 of them. But the Democrat-controlled House forced a compromise that, with the sole exception of revenue-sharing (which was scheduled to end in a couple of years anyway), lovingly preserves every single givenway program ever enacted into law by Congress

What all this demonstrates is how right President Reagan has been allalong to insist that only a constitutional amendment flatly requiring a balanced budget will ever produce one. And he is equally right about the desirability of giving presidents. a "line item veto," i.e. the right (now enjoyed, incidentally, by some 43 governors) to veto specific items in an appropriation bill without having to veto it all.

JEFFREY HART Mr. Nixon's Mind

Former President Richard M. Nixon is a formidable presence and cannot be said to be in retirement. He is engaged in writing a book following up on his book about the Vietnam War It's about the political and strategic implications nuclear weapons, as these have developed over the years. Nixon is leisty and enormously alive intellectually. Noone really cares what Jimmy Carter or Jerry Ford thinks, if anything But people are interested in what Nixon thinks, as witness his lengthy. recent interview in Time magazine They are interested because Nixon really does think, really does try to get to the bottom of a subject analytically. He is even, and I hope he will forgive me, an intellectual

These remarks are prompted by a recent reunion with the former president at his new home in Saddle River, New Jersey, A half dozen old. and three new friends, most of them. editors or writers, were on hand and Nixon was expansive

His Saddle River is a gem, a low modern structure of wood, stone, and glass with magnificent landscaping. It is all at once comfortable and in exquisite taste Outside you see the rolling and green countryside of rural New

The phrase that sticks in the mind is "So much for that" Asked a question, for example about the course of U.S. policy in Iran. Mr. Nixon will render a five or 10 minute discourse on that particular disaster. Ending the disquisition. saying about all that can be said, he will pause and conclude, "So much for that." The intellectual power he exhibits in these discourses is formidable

He is currently in high gear intellectually about the strategic consequences of The Bomb because of the book that is underway, and his thinking is both lucid and complex. He does not believe that the Soviets will launch a first strike against us because they don't want to commit suicide, but there are other kinds of aggression than a muclear first-strike.

When someone asked him what our response would be if the Soviets suddenly overran Austria and then announced that they had no further territorial ambitions. Mr. Nixon grew stlent, and then he gave a lengthy analysis which ended with the thought that the NATO Europeans will have to beef up their conventional warfare capabilities in order not to be thus bullied.

Mr. Nixon follows current politics very closely and is candid in his off-the-record assessment of current political figures. He is realistic about often-harsh political realities and about the sometimes flawed individuals playing central roles.

As a political professional he is a great admirer of President Reagan and of the apparently effortless hold he has on public affection, Reagan has brilliantly exploited that hold and turned it into a valuable political lever.

Mr. Nixon's mind remains a great national resource,

Saving Historic Towns

RED WING, Minn. - In the hectic years of the late 20th century an increasing number of Americans are searching for the lost stability. community, and calm of American life. One way they are attempting to find and recover these essential qualities of a good life is through preservation of older communities.

Perhaps this explains the very healthy historic preservation effort in this handsome old grain port on the upper Mississippi River. Undoubtedly, it is one of the most charming of American towns. And, happily, the town, while appreciated by Minnesotans and others in surrounding states, is not the target of the mass tourism that has blighted some of the most historic old cities on the Atlantic seaboard. May Red Wing never be "discovered" by the organizers of mass tourism!

Red Wing traces its origins to a missionary settlement here in the 1830s. Formal establishment of the town didn't come until 1853. Progress was so rapid, however, that a mere four years later James Lawther, an Irish born entrepreneur and commercial developer, who owned 90 farms in the vicinity, built a superb octagonal house of red brick on a high hill overlooking the river. His house, in an excellent state of preservation, stands to this day. Other fine residences, churches and commercial buildings followed in the next generation, and the people of Red Wing are fortunate that these have been spared the wrecker's ball that has been the fate of many old mansions and public buildings across the land. In recent years. Red Wing has become very serious about historic preservation And while not everything valuable has been saved, the integrity of the town is intact. It's a community full of architectural character

A centerpiece of the preservation effort is the old St. James Hotel. which was built in 1874. It stands on the hill above the railroad passenger station that continues to be used - now by Amtrak passenger trains. The hotel has been lovingly and expensively restored by local business interests. It offers meals that are on a par with the best offered in major cities frontcaily, American travelers are probably more familiar with the Rhine River than the scenic splendors of the upper Mississippi, Amerteans need to know more about their own country, especially Americans in the Eastern states.

Wily Commission Finally Bites The Dust

By Jack Anderson and Joseph Spear

Question Name three creatures that have defed the natural extinction Auswer. The Horseshoe Crab, the

Galapagos loitotse and the California Debris Commission Learned people can explain why the Horseshoe Crab and the Galapagos Tortoise have survived. but the longevity of the California Debris Commission is a puzzle, It is a government entity and, as with so many other creatures of that species it does not expire easily Like the snakes down South, you have to cut off its head and beat it with a stick, and it still won't die until the sun goes down.

A bureaucratic adjunct of the Army Corps of Engineers, the California Debrts Commission was created during Grover Cleveland's second administration to regulate the hydraulic gold mining industry.

Miners, having graduated from pans, picks and shovels, were unearthing veins of gold by washing down hillsides with streams of water. The resulting debris poured into streams and rivers and mundated farms. Following torrential rain storms in 1862, according to historians, the San Joaquin Valley became an ocean of mud and

After three decades of lobbying, farmers and shippers who wanted to preserve the navigability of California's rivers won a court battle that banned bydraulte mining Within 10 years, the nation's gold reserves dipped below the $100 million mark and the "Panic of 1893" ensued Railroads went into receivership: 600 banks folded, and 15,000 other commercial houses went broke.

Congress leaped to the rescue and created the California Debris Commission to resuscitate and regulate the gold mining industry. The three commissioners, all high-ranking officers from the Army Corps of Engineers, began issuing mining permits and requiring the construction of dams and stone walls to contain the debris.

The commissioners got no salary tother than their Army pay), required no stall, had no office and no stationery. In 92 years, their expenditures totaled only $3 million, or about $80 million, depending on how the figures are interpreted

But hydraulic gold mining is a practice of the past and has been for 30 years or more. The commission's powers were considerably diminished by flood control and clean water legislation. During the 1970s, it had only one mining permit on file. The wording of its annual report hasn't changed significantly since 1962. It hasn't spent a dime for 20 years.

"It's kind of unique," said Mike Helm, chief of operations for the Sacramento district of the Army Engineers, "that you've got a commission that is no burden on the taxpayers whatever."

When Gen. Paul Kavanaugh became chief engineer for the Sacramento district in 1979, he automatically became a commisstoner. "Somebody informed me 1 was a member of the California Debris Commission," he told our reporter Kenneth Reid, "and I thought I was going to be a glorified junk man."

A wise person. Kavanaugh convened the commission and recommended it vote to dissolve itself The notion carried, and a historian, Joseph Hagwood, was chosen to chronicle the commission's achievements.

The recommendation for abolishment slowly climbed the Army chain of command and finally, in February 1985, the Army asked Congress to close the coffin lid over the commission.

The requisite language was inserted into a massive water bill. which was approved by the House Public Works and Transportation Committee this month. A Congressional source said it has to be considered by four other committees before it hits the House floor, some day this fall.

Even then, the critter probably won't die until the sun goes down.

Savages Prepare For National Tourney

Herald Bports Writer After playing in tournaments almost every weekend since May, the Seminole Savages got a well-deserved break from the softball diamond last week before returning to practice Monday in preparation for the ASA National 15 and Under Tournament which begins Thursday in Graham, N.C.

The Savages, representing the Seminole Softball Club and the Southeast Region, will leave Wednesday morning at 8 from the Burger King on Highway 17-92 in Longwood. The team will make the trip to North Carolina in a van donated by Bob Dance Dodge

The double elimination National Tournament is expected to draw between 50 and 55 teams. Seminole is making the trip for the second time in a row and is looking to better last year's performance in the national tourney which was played in Plantation.

"I think we have the opportunity to do real well if we get a good draw," Savages' manager Don Jonas said. 'If we can play our type of ball and hit like we know we can we'll surprise a lot of people.

The Savages came away with a third place finish in the Southeast Regional Tournament which was played two weeks ago at Boca Raton. Last week, the team took some time off to enjoy what's left of the summer before the national tournament and before school starts back

Jonas said the team was as loose as ever in practice Monday and seemed ready to go against the competition the rest of the country has to offer.

"We had a great practice Monday," Jonas said. "One of the advantages of this team is its lackadasical type of attitude. The girls don't seem to let too many things bother them. They just get out there and enjoy playing. They don't build up a lot of pressure on themselves."

With the almost daily rainfall the past few weeks, the Savages have had to concentrate mainly on hitting in practice since the fields are in too bad shape to do much fielding practice.

The Savages will take 13 players to the ASA National Tournament as Heather Meyer, who Jonas said went to church camp the week of regionals, is back. Meyer, who started in the outfield for Lake Brantley High in 1984, adds a strong arm in the outfield and good left handed bat to the lineup. Meyer, a 14-year-old Longwood resident, will be a sophomore at Lake Brantley High this school year.

Rogers Excels At NSB

NEW SMYRNA BEACH -Making good use of all the power available from his R and B Engineering-built, 9 to 1 Chevy engine. David Rogers drove the Wayne Densch Budweiser Firebird to victory in the 25-lap late model feature on Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway.

After LeRoy Porter and his crew took care of burned-out spark plug wires, a broken valvespring, water in the carburetor and other mechanical problems that prevented him from runn ing time trials. LeRoy came out on top of a tough five-car battle for the runner-up spot. Third to fifth were Lee Faulk, Frank Wood and Joe Middleton, Mark Gibson won the heat.

The technical inspection team got busy checking the top five thunderear finishers, but all were legal, with Stan Eads taking the win over Rick Lokey, veteran Harry Brazee who celebrated his 28th wedding anniversary at the race track, Jerry "Red Eye" Fitch in his beautiful new Black Bandit machine and the J.B.'s Fish Camp Firebird of John Cochran

After a tough, contact-filled race, atreet stockers Casey Hathorne and Lance Smith finished in that order. They were closely followed by Joey Warmack, Bill Kinley, Ted Mitchem and division's high point man Doug Howard in the Aloha Marine Nova.

Jerry Symons won the lourcylinder main, with the roadrunner feature going to Mike Kubanek.

Mike Fritts, in a Chevrolet Monte Carlo, bested 45 cars to score his second win in a row in the 100-lap Enduro

Sponsors Want Triple Crown Under One Corporate Entity

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (UPI) - Racetrack sponsors are laying legal groundwork to combine the Triple Crown races under one corporate entity for marketing and competition purposes.

The longterm results of the project that executives of Churchill Downs, Pimlico Race Course and the New York Racing Association have been working on since February definitely willmean bigger purses and some monetary incentives for horse owners and could turn the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and Belmont stakes into one long running TV-touted sports extravaganza like Super Bowl Week and the 1984 Summer Olympics.

NYRA President Gerald McKeon told United Press International Monday that lawyers have begun paper work to incorporate a new entity. Triple cocaine and cash. Two of Williams schoolmates - David Rothenberg and Mark Olensky - told similar stories Monday as prosecutors sought to prove Williams participated actively in the conspiracy and sports bribery Rothenberg, of White Plains, N.Y., admitted reaping a profit of between 86,500-87,000 from his own bets off Tulane games against Southern Mississippi and Memphis Stale.

Yankees Close In

United Press International

The Toronto Blue Jays are stumbling. The New York Yankees are charging. The race is on in the American League

While the Yankees won their seventh straight game Monday night against the White Sox at Chicago, the Blue Jays gave away a game to the Rangers at Arlington, Texas. Toronto's lead over New York has been reduced to six games. Bill Caudill, acquired from the A's in the off-season to solve the Blue Jays' bullpen problems, was a bust again Monday, allowing the Rangers to score four runs for a 5-4 victory. "I play for a tremendous team," said Caudill, "but I've been having a mediocre year." He certainly is being kinder to himself than Toronto manager Bobby Cox would be. Caudill is 4-6 with 14 saves.

Yankess 10, White Sox 4

At Chicago, Ron Hassey, who let the tying run score in the sixth inning with two passed. balls, hit his second homer of the game to trigger a seven-run seventh inning that carried the Yankees to their seventh straight victory. Phil Niekro, 11-9, posted; his 295th career triumph.

Royals 3, Red Soz 2 At Boston, Mark Gubicza and! Dan Quisenberry combined on a : seven-hitter to lead the Royals to ! their fifth victory in six games. Gubicza improved to 9-6 while Quisenberry worked 1 1-3 innings to post his league-leading 26th save. Al Nipper, 7-8, was the loser as the Red Sox dropped. their fourth straight.

Indiana 8, Oriolea 5

At Baltimore, Pat Tabler went 3-for-4 with three RBI to lead Cleveland past the Orioles, Curt Wardle and Jerry Reed combined on a seven-hitter. Scott McGregor, 9-10, was chased in a five-run first. Tabler is 6-for-6 with 15 RBI in bases-loaded situations this scason.

Twins 4-5, A's 3-4 At Minneapolis, Bert Blyleven," 11-12, hurled a four-hitter for his 17th complete game and Roy Smalley and Mark Salas smacked homers to lead the Twins in the first game. Jose Rijo, 0-1, was the loser. Tom Brunansky clubbed his 20th homer in the nightcap to make a winner of Steve Howe, appearing for the first time as a Minnesota

Twin, Chris Codiroli fell to 10-9.

At Milwaukee, Cecil Cooper, Ben Oglivie and Earnest Riles each hit RBI singles in the eighth inning to pace the Brewers. Jaime Cocanower upped his mark to 3-1 and Rollie Fingers notched his 14th save. Willie

Bosley, Landrum Produce In 'Pinch'

United Press International

Pinch litting may be the hardest way to make a living in baseball. One chance is all you get to become a folk hero ... or Burn of the Month.

Thad Bosley doesn't like the job at all; Tito Landrum is proud of it.

The two rate among the game's best at that difficult task and verified that fact Monday by coming through with clutch pinch-hits to help their teams to victory in key National League games.

Bosley pinch hit a three-run homer in the sixth Inning, then stayed in the game and hit a two-run shot in the eighth to lift the Chicago Cubs to a 7-6 victory over the Montreal Expos and help the Cubs snap their seven-game losing streak

"I won't accept my role as a pinch hitter and that is why I've been successful," said Bosley, who has 13pinch-hits, tops in the majors.

Bosley's second homer - his fourth of the season came on a 1-2 pitch from Jeff Reardon, 2-5, and landed in the center field bleachers.

"I was looking to drive the ball both times," said Bosley. "He threw me a pitch over the plate and I wasn't sure whether the wind would hold it up. The wind, blowing out at 13 miles per hour, helped provide a typical Wrigley Field day as seven homers were hit, including four by Expos - two by Tim-Wallach "It was a Wrigley Field day," said Montreal manager Buck Rodgers. "We were giving it to them, they were giving it to us, and they finally took it.

Landrum came through with a bases loaded single inthe fifth linning to spark the Cardinals to an 8-1 triumph over the Pittaburgh Pirates.

N.L. Baseball

With St. Louis clinging to a 2-0 lead in the fifth inning, St. Louis manager Whitey Herzog brought in Landrum to but against Pittsburgh southpaw Larry McWilliams with one out and the bases loaded.

Landrum lashed a two-run single to left just past shortstop Sammy Khalifa and Darrell Porter followed with a two-out, three-run homer to complete a five-run Inning to help John Tudor to his 15th victory.

"All those years in the minors paid off," Landrum said. "I was around those sandlots for a long time. Being there gave me confidence up here. I looked at a lot of pitchers down there and was in a lot of situations.

"I like the pinch-hitting role. I've grown accustomed to it. Like Vinny (Coleman) says about his base stealing. 'Confidence breeds confidence.' Vinny's confident about stealing bases; I'm confident about hitting."

At New York, Keith Hernandez drove in three runs and Wally Backman scored-three times to lead the Mets to their eighth straight victory. Sid Fernandez, 4.6, struck out 13 and allowed only three hits over eight innings to get the victory. Glenn Wilson hit a three-run homer for Philadelphia.

double in the sixth inning and 2/2/3 innings of one-hit relief by Lance McCullers led the Padres to victory. The loss was the fourth in a row for the Reds. Cincinnati player manager Pete Rose did not play and needs 21 hits to break Ty Cobb's record of 4,191.

Dodgers 3, Braves 0

At Los Angeles Rick Honeycutt snapped his three-game losing streak by allowing two hits over six innings and Enos Cabell drove in two runs to lead the Dodgers to victory. Honeycutt, 7-10, who had been relegated to the bullpen late in July, did not allow a runner past second base before giving way to Tom-Niedenfuer, who allowed only one hit over the final three innings for his 10th save.

Injured Selmon To Skip 1985 Season

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) - Rejecting a recommendation by team doctors for interosurgery on his hermated disc, All-Prodefensive end Lee Roy Selmon of the Tampa-Bay Buccaneers Monday said he would skip. the 1985 season and embark on a rehabilitation program.

Selmon who was placed on the injured reserve list July 25, was accompanied at an emotional news conference by Coach Leeman Bennett and Owner Hugh Culverhouse Selmon is eligible to return to the active toster in two months, but Culverhouse's opening statement quickly crased that possibility

"Lee Roy Selmon will not be playing with the Buccancers for the 85 season," said

Football

Culverhouse. "If he had surgery today, he could probably be back in 8-10 weeks, but Eve encouraged him to take this additional time to decide on a course of action.

"Hopefully he'll return to the squad nextyear and I think his teammates will dedicate this season to Lee Roy. We're proud of him and he'll always be Mr. Buccaneer.'

Selmon, who has been named to the Pro-Bowl six consecutive years, was the first player drafted by the Buccaneers and he has remained the cornerstone of their defense. The 30-year-old former All-America from the University of Oklahoma will now begin a non-surgical rehabilitation process. "I'd like to thank Mr. Culverhouse and the Bucs for giving me the opportunity to explore other methods of treatment," said Selmon, who said he had a "tough" experience with knee surgery in 1978. Surgery is a last alternative. I was looking forward to playing for Coach Bennett and a new staff, but you have to be healthy to play I'm currently exploring all types of procedures, but the program for my back will probably be a combination of manipulation, traction, exercise and heat."

Selmon came public with his lower back problem July 19, just before the Buccaneers began training camp.

Hampton Excels In Pro Debut

MIAMI (UPI) - The Miami Dolphins used their No. 1 pick in the NFL Draft to select running back Lorenzo Hampton from Florida, expecting to add punch to the Dolphins' ground game. The theory is that quarterback Dan Marino & Co will be even more dangerous to opponents who have to worry about a Miami team that also can runeffectively.

Although one exhibition game does not a season make, it appears that Hampton is going to give the Dolphins exactly what they were looking for good running and an ability to catch the ball coming out of the backfield in the exhibition opener against Minnesona Satur- up."

Football

day. Hampton gained 69 yards on 12 carries, including a 15yard scamper around left end on his first prorushing attempt. Hampton, who gained 1,993 yards on 418 carries in college, admitted to being a bit jittery at the start. But as the game went on, he settled down and began to teel more confident.

"As the game progressed, I gained confidence in myself and the line started blocking well as they gained confidence in me." Hampton said. "What I need to do now is not wait until the second half to start cranking

Hampton also is getting a chance to return kicks in the pre-scason and returned two for 33 yards against Minnesota.

Couch Don Shula says Hampton was one of the few bright spots in the 16-13 overtime loss to the Vikings.

"Hampton showed a lot of good effort, there were some things he did real well," said Shula, who has been talking highly of Hampton since the start of training camp. "There's no question where he's going when he a got that ball.

"When he turns it up, he's going for the goal line." Hampton, however, is not about to rest on the laurels of one exhibition game.

Wife Wants To Save Marriage, Still See Lover

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for nearly three years to a very beautiful 23-year-old woman I am 30 Our marriage hasn't been perfect, but I considered it better than average. with one exception - "Betty has no interest in sex. Once every two or three months is enough for her, then she acts like she's doing me a favor.

When I try to discuss it with her, she gets angry. Despite our differences. I have given her all my devotion and a very comfortable life with all the material things a woman could want - a lovely home, clothes, jewelry and a car of he, own

Two weeks ago I discovered that Betty had been seeing a married man. I was shocked and hurt. When I confronted her, she admitted it, and told me she'd never been physically attracted to me; she married me because I had money and she wanted to get out of her parents' home. She says she "loves me" - but not in a physical way.

Betty doesn't want a divorce. She says she's strongly attracted to the married man and will not give him up. She insists that she wants to save our marriage, but needs to see her lover twice a week. I find this totally absurd and unacceptable.

Abby, is this marriage worth saving?

HURTING HUSBAND

DEAR HURTING: You didn't have much of a marriage in the first place. By Betty's own admission, she used you. You may qualify for an annulment.

Abby, it's not a matter of the juror "telling secrets" Except for some juvenile cases, and some cases involving criminal sexual conduct, nearly all trials are open to the public, so the husband could attend the trial himself if he wanted to

A juror is instructed not to discuss the case — even with fellow jurors — during the course of the trtal for the following reason: First, one side presents its entire case, then the other side does likewise. If a juror were to discuss the case before hearing all the evidence from both sides, he or she might reach a premature and unfatr conclusion.

After the verdict has been reached, a juror may discuss the case with anyone he or she chooses. But not until.

Does anyone realize how difficult it is for a woman with a child to get a date? Once a man finds out a woman has a child, he assumes she wants to get married and stick him with a ready-made family, then boom! It's all over!

Chinese Officials Embezzle Millions

PEKING (UPI) - Chinese officials embezzled several million dollars worth of funds in a huge corruption scandal which has rocked the southern island of Hainan, a top Communist Party official said in an interview published Monday.

The officials were involved in 143 cases of embezzlement, bribery and economic crimes. Guangdong Provincial Communist Party Secretary Lin Ruo told the China Dally newspaper. Two of the officials embezzled more than $350,000 each and four others pocketed at least $175,000 each. Another 100 each misappropriated more than $70,000, Lin said. Lin did not say whether any officials have been formally charged yet in the case, which was officially revealed in a government report July 31. The officials were not identified. Officials on Hainan, a tropical, palm-fringed island 250 miles southeast of Hanol and part of Guangdong Province, have been under investigation for corruption by the powerful Party Discipline Inspection Commission since May. The massive scandal involved the use of more than $1 billion in public funds to illegally import tens of thousands of Japanese cars, televisions and motorcycles which were then sold at highly inflated prices throughout mainland China. Mammoth profits obtained from sales of the highly demanded goods by Hainan firms, backed by local officials, were then allocated in illegal bonuses to local government employees. In 15 months beginning in January 1984, the island took advantage of its status as a de facto free-trade zone to import 89,000 cars worth up to $1,06 billion, 2.86 million television sets, 252,000 video recorders and 122,000 motorcycles. Hainan obtained the foreign currency needed for the huge imports illegally, using local currency to purchase foreign exchange on China's burgeoning black market at twice the official exchange rate. Lin, attending a two-week meeting organized by the Provincial Party Committee to assess the actions and motives of Hainan's leading officials, stressed the incident would not alter the Island's

'open door'' economic development policy. This is an ideological and political problem rather than an economic one," he said.

Rep. Stephen Solarz, D.N.Y., a leading advocate of economic sanctions against Botha's white minority government, met with Botha Monday and said the session "made a cold shower seem warm by comparison."

There was widespread speculation Botha planned to announce major changes in the apartheid system of institutionalized racial segregation Thursday in a speech to National Party faithful in Natal.

The speculation followed a meeting in Vienna last week between top U.S. and South African officials during which South African Foreign Minister Roelof "Pik" Botha reportedly spelled out "specific" changes being considered.

Probe Asked In Christian Activist's Letter Writing

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Rep. Patricia Schroeder, D-Colo., is seeking a Treasury Department investigation of one of its workers, a Christian activist who wrote a stinging letter to a citizen about religion.

In a letter Monday to Treasury Secretary James Baker, Schroeder protested the activities of Christopher Sundseth, who wrote an unsolitized response to Gerald Leib of Mountain View, Calif. Leib had complained in a postcard about an Education Department official distributing a speech calling America a "Christian nation" and sent it to the department's regional office in Denver.

Two weeks later, he got a biting reply from Sundseth, an administration appointee at the Treasury Department in Washington. A Treasury spokesman said the department had not yet received Schroeder's letter and declined comment. Sundacth said last week that he received a photocopy of the postcard "from a friend" and that he and a small network of friends in government "write a lot of letters." 'Just because people are elected to government doesn't mean they are obligated to compromise their religious beliefs," Sundseth said. He conceded that some of his friends may use the Freedom of Information Act "to find letters of anti-religious zealots." In asking for an investigation, Schroeder said she wanted to know whether "Sundseth's pen pai club meets on government time, uses government facilities or is the unauthorized recipient of government documents."

It's Almost Impossible To Totally Avoid Salt

DEAR DR. GOTT - Is it safe listed on the container. I suppose for a healthy person to be on a the reason this isn't done is that sali-free diet? Can doing without it is too "expensive" and too salt cause problems?

means different things to different people. We all need some salt, but for those people who ingredients for fear you wouldn't retain inordinate amounts in their systems, restriction is appropriate.

It's almost impossible to avoid cating salt. All meats and fish contain it, as do dairy products and vegetables. Processed foods contain large amounts of salt. So going on a truly salt-free diet is virtually impossible, without Normal people will excrete whatever salt is not required for metabolism. Within reason, salt is not harmful for healthy adults. Salt depletion, however, is a dangerous condition which can result from excessive sweating or profuse diarrhea. Salt restriction can be more debilitating than salt abundance: the normal human body has much less difficulty handling salt than the tack of it. I don't advise healthy people to go without salt, although they may wish to cut down on obviously salty foods. There is one exception Premenstrual syndrome may be helped if those women who have it make an effort to reduce substantially their dietary salt during the few days before their.

DEAR DR. GOTT - FDA regulation is allegedly stringent - but why doesn't the agency require that drug manufacturers list all ingredients? Many over-the-counter items must contain sugar, sodium, etc., that some people should avoid, but labels only list "active" or majoringredients.

DEAR READER - 1 don't know. Some "Inactive" Ingredients may turn out to be "active," especially in people who are allergic to them. As an example, certain "harmless" food dyes can cause life. threatening reactions in persons who are sensitive to them. HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring... YOUR BIRTHDAY

AUGUST 14, 1985 In the year ahead you are going to want more from life than what previously made you content. The course you choose may be a tough one, but you can weather it successfully.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Today you could experience opposition from sources who are usually in accord with your aims Don't overreact. Just smile, even if it hurts. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) It may be necessary for you to deal with someone today who treated you disagreeably in the past. If you hold a grudge, you'll have a repeat performance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Use your common sense today regarding social expenditures. Don't be too proud to back out of activities that friends can afford. but you can't.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov.22) Just because you're a nice person doesn't mean things will be handed to you gratis today. You'll have to work hard for what you hope to get.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This is the wrong day for you to try to impose your philosophy on others. Let everyone think for himself.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. [9] Don't be drawn into a complicated situation with some friends today. You could end up being obligated to an undealrable action.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Decisions based upon spiteful motives or the desire to get even with someone you dislike will backfire today and cause more problems.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 19) Pace your work sensibly today, If you press yourself too hard, you'll get fatigued and make needless mistakes. ARIES (March 21-April 19) h's only best at this time not to become involved businesswise with someone you know only socially. You may get along great at the club, but not in the marketplace. TAURUS (April 20 May 20)

Most of your frustrations today are apt to be generated from domestic matters. He patient and keep your temper in check so they're not enlarged. GEMINI (May 21 June 20)

Weigh the severity of your words carefully today, especially in discourses with co-workers. Harsh comments could ignite an argument.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be extremely prudent and careful in money matters today, because, if you do something wrong, it could prove to be difficult to rectify.
