THE CITY INDESTRUCTIBLE

By George Hyman, D. D. The Baptist Temple
Sanford, Florida

One of the largest audiences ever assembled in Sanford for religious services, heard Dr. Hyman deliver the sermon we give below. Special music on this occasion was furnished by the Sanford Band and the Temple Chorus. The sermon is given through these columns by special request. Fancy myself to-night a city builder. Called to the office of Mr. Idealist. I am asked, "Are you the man that has to do with the building of cities?" "Somewhat, sir." "I called you to my office in order that I might request and authorize you to construct for me a city indestructible. I understand, Mr. Hyman that you have push, pluck and integrity." (It is fine to have even an imaginary man say these things.) "Thank you, Mr. Idealist, I shall to the best of my ability construct the city."

Leaving his office I come to you. Can you tell me the materials with which to construct such a city? Physically, it must be ideal. For the location, I look for a spot that is dry, but by the banks of some magnificent lake in Florida. I look for a place where there could be ingress and egress. Some great trunk line of railway must pass through. There must be connection with some fine stream of water, where it would not be necessary to depend entirely upon the railway for transportation.

I must select a place where it is possible to produce those things that have to do with the making of the physical man. I would look for a place where you could farm and raise chickens, for a place with swamp lands to raise hogs, and prairies for the cattle. Land that would grow potatoes, celery, lettuce, tomatoes, cauliflower, peppers and all such. A place where manufacturing enterprises could be established. I would look for a place, to which I could invite capitalists to come and invest, a place where there would be innumerable opportunities for these investments. Men from all avenues of life should be able to find employment in this city.

But what is a city when it is located, if it does not have the finer things to it? I must look to its social and intellectual uplift. Culture is the fine thing that should come to every city and would help to make them indestructible. There are cities that claim to be big and noble and strong, that have left out the idea of culture. They have given all thought to growth financially, leaving out the social and intellectual development of the people.

I must give much attention to the construction of this city to education. Education along all lines. Many of our young people when they reach the eighth grade of grammar school feel they are educated. If not then surely when they pass high school. I would bring into this city ambition for young men and women, not only to go through grammar school, high school and college, but to secure the noblest and highest education possible.

I must also train the people of this indestructible city in the fine arts. I would establish a conservatory for music and the other fine arts. I would have chautauquas and lyceums that the people might grow to love entertainment that is educational and uplifting. (I would have a band and that band would have to play every Thursday evening during the summer.) I must have sane and sensible amusements and recreations. To this end I would build a gymnasium and play ground where grown ups and children could come under proper chaperonage and spend the leisure hours in helpful exercise. I would build a great entertainment hall and bring there the world's great entertainers, singers and lecturers.

I would train the people to carry on conversation. All too few know how to converse about current events.

Then I would take another step. I must build the city morally. All business dealing would be on honest basis. In the relationship one person with the other justice should rule. The great words of humanity would be honesty and justice. A city built upon these principles will help to make it indestructible.

"Uprightness", I would have as its slogan.

Morality is one of the greatest assets to the strong city. Give me a man who does not lie, who deals honestly, who does not use profane language and respects the Lord's day and I will point him out to you as the man standing head and shoulders above others. Any old thing can be a liar; and old thing can be dishonest, and cuss, and desecrate the Lord's day and I will point him out to you. He has manhood who says by his life, "I will be just, and honest and righteous. I will maintain integrity in life irrespective of what others may say or do." Such men make a moral city.

Those of you who have read "The Rise and Fall of Rome" by Gibbons, will recall that Rome fell not because of enemies without but because of the immoral life of the people. I would have my city a moral one. There is always the question of how long a city will stand that does not have morality at its foundation. I would have my city upright. The eleventh verse of the eleventh chapter of Proverbs says, "By the blessings of the upright the city is exalted, but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked." This is my text.

Fundamentally the city must be religious. In Christ we find the true religion. Churches must be established in my city. Worship of God in the name of Christ would be maintained in spirit and in truth. The ordinance of law would be Christ's new commandment, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength and with all thy mind; thy neighbour as thyself."

Let this be obeyed in my city and I will return to Mr. Idealist and say, "Sir, with the social suggestions I have made; morality I have proposed; and the religious entegrity that will come from the law of Love to God and to neighbours, I turn over to you a city, which no earthly power can, and the powers of heaven surely will not destroy.

"An indestructible city is one that respects God and God's law. No city has reached its best until it has come to God. No individual has reached the best until that individual has come to God. Then, I say No city can be indestructible and no life can be indestructible unless that city and life is built upon the foundation as laid by the Great Builder."

Mr. Idealist replies, "Your selections and your report reach my highest expectations. Your selection of location with the lake, celery lands, and other requirements leads me at once to think of Sanford, Florida. You live Mr. Hyman in the location that would make an ideal city."

Then, I look into the question of morality in my city, and find many men and women who are living morally. God bless these men and women of Sanford, who have backbone enough, in spite of the large number who are living wrong to stand erect and say "I will live right."

Then I look at the religious side Sanford has about 8000 people. Take the membership of the churches and compare with the total population and you see that we are far from being as religious as we should be. If we are, we do not show it by church affiliation. We have a population and you see that we are far from that should overflow every church at every service. Some people were religious where they came from but have not enlisted in God's service in Sanford.

Ladies and gentlemen, I am with you in the making of this city just as ideal as it is possible to be, but I tell you right now, it will never be an ideal city until we recognize God more than we now do. Family worship must be established in the homes. Business men in their dealings with one another must obey God's laws. We must love each other as God commanded us.

There are people in Sanford who must answer to God for their lives and the hindrance they have been in the lives of others.

I move you to-night, that we determine to have an ideal city; that Christian life be its foundation; that it shall be indestructible by our living for righteousness. Will you vote with me? Then, I say, the first step to-night is the step with God.

Sanford! Ideality located let us be what God wants us to be, The City Indestructible!

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Report On Car Movements For The Past Week

Jacksonville Fla. April 10.—There were 386 cars of grapefruit shipped last week. The movement of oranges during the same time was 272 cars. The combined movement was 42 cars more than double the movement during the corresponding week last year. The total number of cars out of the state this year to April 4, was 25,629 compared with 20,410 to the same date last year—5,219 cars to this season's favor so far, or over 2,000,000 boxes.

The spring vegetable crop, set back by the freeze of March 2, has already begun to move from various shipping points over the state. These crops include cucumbers, beans, peppers, eggplants and squashes. There are a few early Irish potatoes, but the comparative output of them is very small.

The first cucumbers of the season to move from the Southern section of the state, sold for $6 at 8 a hamper. Beans sold last week for as high as $9 a hamper, and these were bought by local grocery men for their home trade.

The first peppers moved out of Lee county this spring brought the growers $13 at $15 a crate f. o. b. shipping point platform.

Yellow squash were moving sold last week for $5 at 6 a crate f. o. b. At one shipping point a grower sold 12 crates for $72 or average of $6 per crate.

There is really no movement of Irish potatoes on yet. What few have been dug have found buyers at prices around $4.50 a bushel crate, which would be at the rate of $13.50 a barrel. These potatoes are generally picked up for Florida tourist trade. It is not anticipated that there will be much commercial shipping of Irish potatoes before April 25 or May 1.

Two hundred and thirty-one cars of tomatoes were shipped from South Florida points last week, bringing the total to April 4 to 2,128 cars, compared with 1,089 cars last year to the same date.

Owing to the depreciation in the quality of cabbage offerings, prices during last week, at some shipping points ruled lower at $3.50 against $4.50 last week. There were 376 cars out last week bringing the total to April 4 to 3,563 against 1,166 cars last year. There is some good stock yet in the state and as the supply is decreasing it is anticipated that there will be no general lowering of the market.

There were five cars of strawberries shipped last week, besides the express output the volume of which is not ascertainable. The total carlot movement to date is yet under 100 cars, only 82 having been shipped to April 4.

There were 33 cars of lettuce and 196 cars celery shipped during the week. The following tables set forth the movements of the various fruit and truck crops to date with corresponding figures showing the movement to the same date last year.

HIS VAST WEALTH A CURSE

Sudden Possession of Immense Riches Too Much for Mental Stability of Mexican Indian.

Confined in an asylum for the insane in Mexico is a millionaire who never enjoyed a cent of his fortune, though for a time he had it in his possession in cash. The amazing story of this man to whom wealth proved a curse is told by G. F. Weeks in the Wide World Magazine.

Juvenilo Robles, a full-blooded Mexican Indian, was born in a palm leaf hut in the little town of Panuco, inland from Tampico. From earliest childhood he was forced to work, his wages amounting to less than 50 cents a week. When arrived at manhood he married and from then on turned his earnings over to his wife as banker. For several years he led a colorless existence, scripping along day by day and saving little. Then one day some friends inveigled him into a card game. Fortune was with him and he won what was a great sum to them $23. This he invested in a small butcher shop. The market thrived and a few years later he was able to buy some land on which to fatten cattle. When oil was discovered at Tampico his ranch was in the heart of the field. He was offered 1,000,000 pesos and yearly royalties for the oil rights on his land. This he accepted, but demanded payment in gold.

The money was delivered to him as he requested, and from then on his sole interest in life consisted in guarding his treasure. He slept on a box filled with coins and refused to eat for fear his family would poison him. At last his mania reached such a stage that it was necessary to have him confined.

RAIL LINE CROSSES OCEAN

Remarkable Trip That Is Taken by Travelers on Their Way to Key West, Florida.

Thousands of Americans at the vacation time of the year take the only ocean trip which can be made on a railroad train, writes "Niksal" in the Chicago News. They go to Key West by way of the line which runs through the Atlantic ocean on an embankment built from one to another of those tiny islands known as the Florida keys.

As you ride along this remarkable railroad, you look out the window and down into the clear shallow water and see great schools of fish playing near the surface, and deeper down you can glimpse now and then the shadowy form of a small shark. On either side of you reaches away to the horizon a vast expanse of brilliant blue water, dotted with islands, which vary in size from a fraction of an acre, to perhaps a quarter of a square mile. They are low and flat and covered with low-growing mangroves, and other swamp plants. Here and there a group of coconuts or royal palms lifts a feathery silhouette. Occasionally a little shack is glimpsed, and a few sails are seen in the distance, but for the most part the region is a wilderness of blue water, white sand and low-growing jungle—a wilderness that you would love to explore in a small boat.

Of life you see little. Now and then white flocks of ibises rise from the islands; a tree duck splatters clumsily away from the train, or a great blue heron truts his legs in lonely dignity across the sky. For the most part silence and sunlight own the place.

Forged Cameos.

Hundreds of treasured cameos and intaglios, for which large sums have been paid, are spurious, although many of them are masterpieces of art. To such an extent have cameos been forged that, after a certain French count had spent $25,000 in forming a collection, so many forgeries were found among them that, in despair of separating the false from the true, he parted with the lot for a fraction of what they had cost him.

DEER "CHUMS" WITH COWS AND SHEEP

Eight Point Buck Can Be Seen Grazing on Farm in New York.

Many are the interesting idiosyncrasies of wild life met with by the Conservation Commission's field force as a result of the many hours spent in the open. Unusual or noteworthy occurrences are thus constantly being brought to the attention of the commission. An oddity of this kind which was of particular interest was recently reported by D. W. Rose, a game protector of Richfield Springs, Otsego county, who told of a handsome eight point buck that could be seen almost any day grazing in company with cows and sheep on a certain farm in his territory.

Accounts are not uncommon of deer which in the stress of winter have entered barn yards and there satisfied the pangs of hunger. But a deer which in summer when food is abundant, has so far departed from its natural instincts of seclusion and self-obliteration as to "chum up" with farm animals and graze in an open pasture was surely worthy of record.

The services of the camera man were therefore requisitioned, and both still pictures and movies of the unusual deer were secured. The star actor behaved beautifully, from a photographer's standpoint—was found just where he was looked for, had no objection to the brightest sunlight, and went through all his paces in the most approved manner.

Of course, being a wild deer, he had to be approached with the utmost caution. Every photograph of him that was obtained shows his head raised in instinctive suspicion, while his lethargic companions are unconcernedly munching the grass. The best picture of him was made by stalking up behind a feeding cow and waiting, with camera all set, until the cow grazed out of range, when a snap shot of the deer and some of his associates was secured before he realized that a stranger was in their midst.

"BARBARY COAST" TAME

Notorious San Francisco Region Is Now Quiet.

Those who may come to San Francisco at the time of the Democratic convention the latter part of June with the idea of experiencing a thrill by visiting the "Barbary Coast" will be disappointed.

Many of the resorts, celebrated in story and verse, where cheap boarding house operators, commonly known as

"crimps," freely piled their trade of shanghaiing sailors for unscrupulous sea captains, are permanently closed. Others have but the name of the places that once flamed with color, music and revelry.

Long before national prohibition was generally considered a possibility, "Barbary Coast," a section of Pacific street extending back from the bay front a half dozen blocks to where Chinatown touches the Italian district, had been rendered innocuous by the prohibition of the sale of liquor in the long row of dance halls there.

The main artery from this district to Market street, San Francisco's principal thoroughfare, is Kearney street, where once, it is declared, within an hour enough reckless spirits could be picked up to start almost any sort of desperate enterprise.

Now Kearney is one of the quietest and most respectable business streets.

LONG WALK TO WED

Youth and Sweetheart Trudge 106 Miles for Ceremony.

Roy Greenwood, nineteen years old, and Malinda Strange, who says she is eighteen years of age but looks sixteen years old, walked 100 miles from Flora, Ill., to East St. Louis to be married, but their plans went wrong.

J. K. Ewing, humane officer, saw the youthful couple sitting on a railroad track in the yards in East St. Louis and took them into custody. The two were eating pie. They had 80 cents between them. The girl told Ewing her father died when she was a baby and her mother about three years ago. For a while, she said, she lived at the Soldiers' Orphan home at Bloomington, Ill. Then went to live with her brother in Flora.

"I love Roy," she declared, "and I want to marry him."

The humane officer said he would get new clothes for the girl and obtain work for her.

HUGE LAWSUITS SETTLED

London Prize Court Disposed of 1,500 Actions Involving $20,000,000.

In a short time in the prize court at London 1,500 lawsuits, involving a sum amounting to about $20,000,000, were disposed of by Justice Duke. They related to outstanding claims between the British government and Swedish subjects, 50 per cent comprising South American consignments of coffee seized on 200 steamers.

Half the expense of the costs incurred and half the net proceeds are divided between the British and Swedish parties.

child suicides, 225 boys and 252 girls. The average age was 15 for boys and 16 for girls. The youngest girl suicide was 7. In one instance a four-year-old boy killed himself. The other extreme was a suicide at 100 years.

Neglect or mistreatment at home or lack of sympathetic handling at school were the major reasons for the child suicides. Shooting was the chief method with boys and poison with girls. It is claimed that since the signing of the armistice there has been a constantly increasing number of suicides everywhere.

Leather-Stocking.
Leather-Stocking is the nickname of Natty Bumppo, one of the favorite characters drawn by the American writer of Indian and sea tales, James Fenimore Cooper. The bearer of the nickname is a half-savage, half-Christian chieftain of American wild life of almost a century and a quarter ago. Leather-Stocking reappears and closes his career in Cooper's story, "The Prairie."

The Muggletonians.
This peculiar sect, founded by an English tailor named Muggleton in the seventeenth century, is not extinct. Muggletonians, one of whose chief beliefs is that the "place of hell will be this earth when sun, moon, and stars are extinguished" still meet in London and Derbyshire.

Is the prediction true? You will marry a fair man. Your star promises two alliances. With your first husband you will have a tragical lawsuit. Your second husband, a dark man of slender means, will fill the world with his fame and glory. You will be greater than 'queen.' You will die unhappy. The entire prediction came true.

The Greatest Carnival on earth opens here this afternoon and night and lasts for three nights. And the money goes for a good cause.

Big headlines in Lakeland Star say "His Bridal Night" was a complete Knockout. Well, you can never tell what is going to happen with all these strikes and everything.

Tampa Tribune says "Tampa Cigar Makers are ready to Strike." We are glad to learn that the people gave them time to get ready before they made them strike.

THE LATEST SCANDAL Mary Pickford is at the Jefferson in "Pollyanna," and Owen Moore is on the Orpheum boards in "Picadilly Jim."

A COWARDLY CONGRESS Railroad and steamboat embargoes of the past two or three weeks have materially injured the citrus growers.

It is an illegal strike. The railroad brotherhoods have made contracts with the railroads to operate the road for a certain length of time, at certain wages.

The condition is intolerable if Congress had the backbone of a snake, if the administration was not afraid of its own shadow, the trains and steamboats would be operated.

people's transportation lines, as at present, it is a crime, in which those in authority are as much at fault as the irresponsible operatives who have violated their contract.

MAKING MATTERS WORSE

The St. Petersburg Times does not take kindly to the Overall Club idea and the argument which it advances certainly has merit to it.

It was so in the week the government advocated the purchasing of cheap cuts of meat, as soon as the demand for cheap cuts was created there wasn't any more cheap cuts.

Charged With Profiteering! A Brooklyn Haberdasher Seeks Other Fields

New York, April 11.—Facing trial on a charge of profiteering, Joseph Nichthausen, 42, whose haberdashery store is one of the best known shops of the kind in Brooklyn, killed himself with a revolver today at his home.

Mrs. Regina Nichthausen, his wife, said her husband was much depressed last evening over his arrest, and that she believed he had not slept at all during the night, as she was frequently awakened by his restless thrashings about the bed.

Nichthausen, who was arrested on a specific charge of violating the Lever act by offering for sale a rain coat at $45 which had cost $23, and who was held under $2,000 bail by Federal Commissioner McCabe, made no mention of the "decree" to his wife, she said.

Department of Justice Agents Edward Williams and Shelby Williams, of the profiteering-hunting squad deciphered Nichthausen's code marks in his display window. The code was based upon the words, "Go help us," the nine letters representing the digits and the letter "x" being used for the cipher.

World's Races Divided. Amphiscians are the people who inhabit the tropics, whose shadows in one part of the year are cast to the north and in the other to the south.

The antiscians are the inhabitants of the earth living on different sides of the equator, whose shadows at noon are cast in contrary directions. Those living north of the equator are antiscians to those living south of that line.

The ascians are the people who live in a land where, at a certain time of each year, they have no shadows at noon. All the inhabitants of the torrid zone are ascians, they having a vertical sun twice a year.

The periscians are the inhabitants of the polar circle, whose shadows during some portions of the summer must in the course of the day move entirely round and fall toward every point of the compass.

NAMES MEAN NOTHING

You're Merely a Number in U. S. Census Records.

Identity Lost When Individuals Become Cards With a Lot of Holes Punched in Them.

Washington.—Names mean nothing at all in the job of counting noses in the United States for the 1920 census. You have a name when you come into the big barn-like building here where 4,000 clerks are tabulating you and about 110,000,000 like you.

Very soon, though, you become nothing but a card with a lot of holes punched in it. You have sex, age, nationality and a lot of other things, but no name.

Your card is just as important, yet as anonymous, as the president's. In the census bureau the president isn't Woodrow Wilson. He is merely a white man, born in America, living in Washington, head of a family, English-speaking and able to read and write.

Neither king's horses nor king's men could drag your name out of the census bureau. Draft officials in 1917 tried it and failed.

The census bureau gave General Crowder lots of information about the number of men between certain ages living in certain areas. But when the slacker drive was on and General Crowder, with the whole war department back of him, tried to get the names to check up against enlistments and draftees the census bureau called his attention to the law.

It's not only against the law to give out such information, but enumeration sheets carrying names are destroyed after the information has been transferred to cards.

UNCLE SAM'S OLDEST WARD

Uncle Sam's oldest ward is O-moskos, a Chippewa Indian, one hundred and ten years old, who lives on Turtle mountain in North Dakota, just south of the Canadian border. He is blind and spends his days sitting outside the shack of mud with thatched roof which has been his home for many years.

CANDY EXPORTS UP TENFOLD

United States Shipments of Sweets in 1919 Reach Total of $12,306,000.

Washington.—Exports of confectionery from the United States during 1919 increased tenfold over 1918, according to statistics compiled by the department of commerce, the declared value being $12,306,000, against $1,235,000.

Great Britain ranked first among the consumers of American candy, exports to British ports comprising 34 per cent of the total. Shipments to the Orient also showed large increases.

ROMAN PALACE TO GERMANS?

Newspapers Protest Against Plan to Sell Historic Villa for Embassy.

Rome, Italy.—Newspapers here are protesting against an attempt by Germany to purchase the Volkonski villa, now belonging to the Marchese Campanari, as the seat of the German embassy here.

The claim is made that no palace having such historic importance should be allowed to pass into foreign hands.

TELLS HOW HE CURED COLD

New York Physician Passes on Remedy Which He Declares Does Away With Affliction.

This is how Dr. L. Duncan Bulkley of New York cures his own colds and those of other people. Doctor Bulkley tells the story in the Medical Record, as follows:

"Yesterday I had about as severe a cold as possible, which had been coming on several days, and had been simply neglected, and I sneezed and coughed all day, using any number of handkerchiefs. In the afternoon I took one or two doses of soda, half a teaspoonful, and in the evening took five more, at half-hour intervals, in warm water.

"Last year from October to late spring I wrote for the phenacetin and soda powders, ten grains and 20, almost every day, and sometimes at least four times in the day, for patients threatened with grippe, and although I questioned many patients at subsequent office visits I have yet to learn of any failure to arrest the trouble."

TO WORK OLD COPPER MINES

American Company, With Modern Machinery, Will Reopen Shaft on the Isle of Cyprus.

Equipped with modern mining machinery purchased in the United States with California money, the rich copper mines of the Isle of Cyprus, which centuries ago furnished copper for the civilized world, may in a few months be turning out thousands of tons of that metal.

According to an announcement made yesterday, a syndicate of California capitalists has secured a long-term purchase lease on a score or more of the most valuable workings on the island, and engineers are now on the ground outlining plans for installing modern mining machinery to replace the crude plants maintained by the Phoenicians centuries ago.

When the war first broke out the syndicate had about completed plans for perfecting their lease of 22 claims on the island, but complications brought about by the conflict forced abandonment of the plan until after the signing of the armistice.

Art Criticism.

Lived Long in Seclusion.

Forty years in the District of Columbia without having set foot on the streets! Such was the record of several of the sisters of the Visitation convent, formerly located at Connecticut avenue and L street Northwest. I am told on authority. For forty years these sisters lived in the school, taking their exercise in the spacious grounds back of the building, surrounded by a high wall.

Bitten By Mad Dog
Miss Taber who resides at Twin Lakes was bitten by a dog and after Dr. Tolar had rendered medical aid he sent the head of the dog to the Board of Health in Jacksonville where it was pronounced that the dog was suffering from rabies. Miss Taber has received the proper treatment for rabies and will suffer no ill effects. The people are cautioned about dogs as it is said several other dogs were bitten by this dog and there may be others running loose. It would be well for people to be careful until the full extent of the mad dog scare is investigated.

Iowa Has Successful Woman Auto Dealer

Over in Leon, Iowa, is one of the Ford Motor Company's most interesting dealers—Mrs. M. P. Estes, who sells something like 300 Ford Cars yearly, to say nothing of the Fordson Tractor she sells. Her only regret is that the company couldn't promise her more than 300 cars. She is said to be one of the most successful women automobile dealers in Iowa.

Mrs. Estes is a thorough business woman. She knows her product, she knows her territory, she knows how to sell cars and she knows the value of business system for that is her hobby. "You can't do business right without a good system," she declares. "People don't like to wait. If a man comes in and wants to know if he can get a certain part, or what his account is or what something will cost, you've got to be able to tell him quickly."

In a letter to the Ford Motor Company, the Des Moines Branch manager says of Mrs. Estes: "This dealer has the largest number of cars according to the population of her territory of any dealer under this Branch. Her estimate for this year is one car for every twenty-seven people including men, women, children and inmates of the poor farm. And she has constantly carried a greater percentage of unfilled orders for immediate delivery than any other dealer we have."
