Oak Tree Inherits Land It Occupies
ATHENS, Ga. — (UPI) — A tree that inherited the land it stands on from its father, who was dead, is the property of a University of Georgia professor. It now is a sturdy white oak 30 feet tall.

The original "tree that owned itself" lived in the age of 150. During its lifetime, it dropped an acorn that grew up to become the present occupant of the plot on Pilety St. in downtown Athens.

The property was signed over to the tree by Prof. William H. Jackson in the 1820's. The deed conveyed "to said white oak tree entire possession of itself and of the land within eight feet of it on all sides."

It is said to have been the only tree ever to receive such an honor.

Injured Man Says Changes Needed In Rules About Buses

Rupert Strickland wonders if it's worth it all, as he moans gently about, with aching muscles, the result of a traffic accident of last week.

Strickland was in a pickup truck going south on Highway 11-92 when he stopped for a school bus that was unloading in the north-bound lane. As he watched two children clear the front of his truck, he checked his rear-view mirror prior to pulling off.

As he did, a large car approached from behind. Strickland told his passenger John Butler to "hold on, we're going to get hit."

When the two men came to they were some 150 to 200 feet further south and, what's more, they were pinned in the cab of the truck.

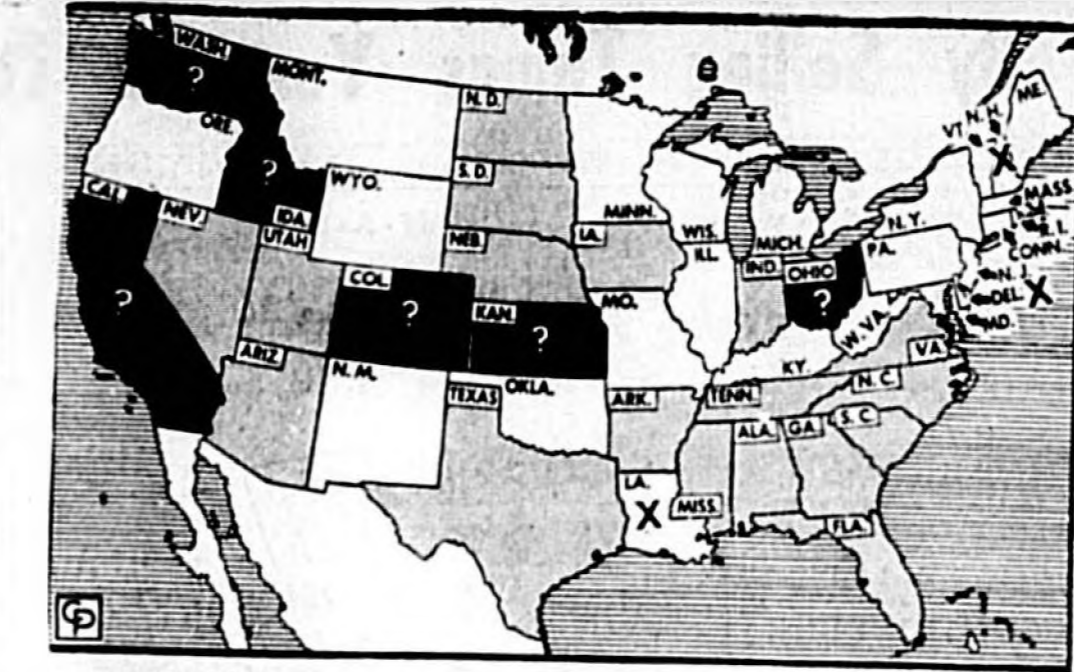

The impact caused the cab to cave in, pinning the occupants. Genial Charlie Morrison happened by and brought Strickland and Butler to Seminole Memorial Hospital. Strickland was released but Butler was sent to Orange Memorial Hospital for special treatment.

He has since returned to his home. Strickland today told The Herald that he believes the existing state law concerning stopping in both lanes of a divided highway for a school bus is dangerous and should be changed. He further stated that some type of pull-off area for buses might help the situation.

State Accepting Orders For Seedlings

The Florida Forest Service announced today that a surplus of pine seedlings permits accepting more orders until further notice.

The deadline for orders had been Oct. 1 but a final inventory shows a surplus of seedlings over orders accepted by that time. R. A. Bonninghausen, management chief of the Forest Service, stated, "Orders will be accepted for any amount on a first-come-first-serve basis. This will be in effect until the surplus has been purchased."

Orders on the surplus amount will have no effect on those placed before the Oct. 1 deadline which will be shipped without any reduction. The seedlings may be purchased at $4 per thousand, plus the nursery plus 35 cents per thousand for truck delivery in Florida. Orders for surplus seedlings for conservation, reforestation and agricultural conservation are being accepted.

First shipments of the 131,500 seedlings from all three state nurseries will begin on Nov. 20 and continue on into February. A notice of the freight or truck shipping date will be sent to all who have had seedling orders accepted. Truck deliveries are made to the nearest county headquarters of the Forest Service.

Seed for future seedling crops are collected in September in Florida and Georgia. Nurseryman Aaron Jordan reports that within three weeks, 27,000 bushels were collected. This year the Forest Service paid from $1 to $1.15 per bushel for the cones.

Seminole Voting 'Fairly Heavy'

Nation Registers Heavy Early Vote; Record Is Possible

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Americans in an hourly swelling tide today cast ballots which will determine control of the 96th Congress and affect the 1960 presidential race.

Some forecasts predicted a record off-year vote approaching 65 million. The weather was fine over most of the country except the South.

Early reports showed voting heaviest where the local issues and races were hottest, as in Ohio, and lightest where the outcome was not in doubt, as in the South.

CANDIDATE WITH NO WORRIES—Seminole County Rep. Gordon Frederick went to the polls today with no worries. He had no opposition in the general election, nor in the September Democratic primary. Mrs. E. E. Rountell Sr. checks his name off the list of qualified voters. (Photo by Bergstrom)

County Voters Balloting On Offices, Amendment

Seminole County voters went to the polls today to elect a political campaign enlivened by a battle between a Democratic Party nominee and a write-in candidate for the District 4 seat on the County Commission.

Local voters were to ballot on two members of the county governing body, a Sanford City Commissioner, a congressman, U. S. senator, two members of the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission and the fate of two constitutional amendments.

Mild, Indian summer weather beamed down on the county. This, combined with the interest created by the race between Vernon W. Dunn and Lee Gary, was expected to bring about a "fairly heavy" vote.

United Fund Drive Extended; Leaders Cite Campaign Lag

The United Fund campaign will continue into the month of November in an effort to reach the goal of $30,000 established as the total need for the seven participating agencies for 1959.

The announcement was made yesterday by Harold Kastner, president and Howard McNulty, drive chairman.

The drive during the month of October produced $11,000. McNulty said, and he felt sure that Seminole County residents "would be quick to recognize the need for a more enthusiastic response if these welfare groups are to do the work cut out for them."

The drive leader paid high tribute to the produce and trucking division and its captain, Richard Packard. The goal was $1,000 and by Oct. 31, $720 had been subscribed. This deficit of $280 should be forthcoming in the next week or so, he said.

Florida Expecting Light Vote Today

MIAMI (UPI)—Polling booths opened at 7 a. m. today for an expected light turnout of less than half of Florida's 1,600,000 registered voters.

The Sunshine State voted on six cases of statewide significance, two constitutional amendments, 15 state legislative and scores of minor local officials.

Heading the ballot was the contest between Sen. sponsored L. Hollister and his GOP challenger, LeRoy Byer of Miami. Hollister was expected to win handily.

This figured national attention on the congressional races Democratic incumbents from Florida's five other districts will go back to Congress unopposed.

As a measurement of what should be done and what has been accomplished by Oct. 31, end, McNulty gave these figures:

Div. 101—local firms (down-town section): Goal $10,000, received $4,364.

Div. 102—City County employees and school teachers: Goal $3,000, received $1,110.

Div. 103—Professional trades: Goal $2,000, received $1,206.50.

Reds Say Poison Gas Fired; Charge Denied

TAIPEI (UPI)—The Communist left claimed today that U.S. soldiers fired poison gas shells at Red-held positions on Quemoy Island Monday, and alarmed Nationalists charged that the Communists are preparing to assault the defenders of the tiny outpost island.

A Peiping broadcast beamed at Formosa leveled the charge late today. The Nationalists denied it with a rapidity that reflected their concern.

Vice Adm. Roland Smoot, commander of the U.S.-Taiwan Defense Command, also swiftly denied the Communist implication that the United States furnished the Nationalists with gas shells. Smoot said: "This statement is absolutely untrue. We have not furnished the Chinese Nationalists with poison gas shells. This is obviously a typical propaganda fabrication."

Shameless Lie

"This is a shameless lie, calculated to pave the way for Communist adoption of such weapons," snapped Rear Adm. Liu Hsiu-tu, spokesman of the Nationalist Defense Ministry, less than an hour after the broadcast.

"We have no such weapons. The United States never supplied us with such weapons. We never intend to use such weapons against our own people on the mainland, who are held captive by the Communists."

Liu said Gen. Wang Shao-ting, the Nationalist chief of staff, personally ordered the immediate denial.

"I want to warn the Communists. If they resort to such weapons, they must bear all the consequences," the admiral said.

The Red broadcast said 14 Communist soldiers were "affected" by the alleged attack which involved gas of an unspecified type. It linked the United States with the attack by noting that it took place "after" the supply of large amounts of U.S. ammunition "in the Nationalist position."

The charge was leveled during a full in the "heat and noise" campaign against Quemoy. The Communist guns which hurled 23,162 shells at the outpost island Monday were silent.

Vegetable Farmers Hike Acreage Despite Gamble

Farming, like any other occupation, is a gamble. Vegetable producers probably are the world's best-known business gamblers, facing all of the odds of other businesses and a few peculiar to their own trade.

Like other farmers, vegetable fight the battle of too much rain or too little, insects, gluttonous markets, freezes, high production costs and many others.

Unlike many other types of farmers, however, the vegetable producer can't hold his product "until the market is right." When cabbage, celery, lettuce and beans are ready, they must go to market, regardless of the price. It's true that cold storage has helped preserve the life of vegetables for a few days, but a carload of vegetables isn't like a bale of cotton or a herd of cattle that can be held for an indefinite time.

Heavy rains last week probably were viewed as a nuisance to many city dwellers, but Seminole County vegetable farmers didn't fret. They loved it. These rains were like money in the bank. To some, it could mean the difference between profit and loss for this growing season. To others, it will mean a more successful year.

Farms And Factories Needed In Seminole

Seminole County officials Thursday night got a lengthy report from the Florida Development Commission about industrial potential.

This 80-page report went into much detail, offered many suggestions about correcting some of the deficiencies. In short, however, the Commission told Seminole officials that the county is getting progress in direct relation to its work for this progress.

Seminole County was told that it could not expect progress to "drop in its lap." A certain amount of industrial development will come to Seminole County regardless of the attitude of the people.

The type of industrial growth that Seminole needs, however, must be sought, actively. Officials said after the meeting that the Commission of 100 is a step in the right direction.

This county now is experiencing the struggle between those who urge industrialization and those who favor agriculture as the basis for the economy. It is a quiet, unconscious type of struggle. Many are participating in the tug-of-war without being conscious of the fact.

There is no reason for Seminole County to be industrialized or agricultural. It can be both. Neither need be excluded to the benefit of the other. As a case in point, The Herald offers the example cited by Russell Kay, whose column, "Too Late To Classify," appears weekly in this paper.

In a column, Kay said when we think of million-dollar industries, we usually vision huge industrial plants, smokestacks, fumes, smog and air pollution. For this reason, highly-developed resort areas with substantial tourist patronage and extensive residential development have hesitated in encouraging industries to locate.

Delray Beach, famed tourist resort on Florida's Gold Coast, recently secured a promising new industry that has tremendous potential for large payrolls and increased employment without any of the objectionable features that usually attend such development.

This is Gifts By Wire, Inc., which operates somewhat like telegraph delivery of flowers. More than 2,000 drug stores with service to 3,000 communities across the nation have signed up for this service. The firm opened with 76 employees. At the end of the first year, the company will have 180-200 employees, an annual payroll of about $1 million.

If Delray Beach can do it, so can Sanford and Seminole County. To prosper, this area must have a diversified economy. Agriculture and industry can travel the same road. In modern America, they must.

Riot Over 3 Cents

Three cents isn't too important to Americans. Once, this would have mailed a letter, or purchased three large pieces of candy. Now, what can one buy with three cents?

Too Americans are prone to take utility increases in stride. They gripe a little, but go ahead and pay.

This wasn't the case in San Paulo, Brazil, the other day. Brazilians think three cents important. And they are dead set against utility increases. Residents of San Paulo were so opposed to a three-cent hike in bus and trolley fares that they staged riots.

The result was at least five killed and dozens injured. One of the dead was a military policeman, caught in the line of fire. San Paulo residents were so shook up by the announcement of the fare increase that police had to open fire on mobs attacking buses and trolleys.

The United Press International dispatch did not say whether the officials who ordered the increases were sticking to their guns.

GUNPOWDER TEE!

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay

When we think of million dollar industries we usually vision huge industrial plants, smokestacks, fumes, smog and air pollution. For this reason highly developed resort areas with substantial tourist patronage and extensive residential development have hesitated in encouraging industries to locate in these areas.

Delray Beach, famed tourist resort on Florida's Gold Coast, recently secured a promising new industry that has tremendous potential for large payrolls and increased employment without any of the objectionable features that usually attend industrial development.

In this fast-moving jet age young men with new ideas are constantly opening new avenues for progress and profit and a new organization, Gifts By Wire, Inc. has selected Delray Beach for its national headquarters from which bonded retailers will operate a network service whereby gifts of every kind and description can be sent by wire, anywhere in the country by simply making a selection from the local druggist's catalogue and paying a modest service charge for gift wrapping and cost of a telegram.

The plan is somewhat similar to the telegraph delivery service of flowers that has been operated so successfully by florists for a number of years. Consumers will avail themselves of this new Gifts By Wire service by simply baby sets, cigarette lighters, electric razors, pipes, candy, men's toiletries, wallets, clocks, men's and countless other items.

McDaniels Attend Doctors' Meeting

Dr. T. F. McDaniel, Sanford physician attended the annual convention of the Florida Academy of General Practice last weekend in West Palm Beach. Some 200 Florida family physicians were present.

Dr. McDaniel was accompanied by Mrs. McDaniel and their son, Tommy.

The traveler or forgetful relative will have no problem of wrapping, mailing, spoilage, breakage or delivery to contend with when he sends gifts by wire. He simply orders the gift through his local store, fills out a greeting card and pays for it. Gifts-by-wire, Inc. does the rest whether the gift is to be delivered in a neighboring town or 3,000 miles away.

More than 2,000 drug stores representing delivery service to 3,000 communities throughout the country have already subscribed to the service and additional stores are being signed up daily. The service was launched on a national scale November 3.

The new Florida organization now has a staff of 56 people. At the completion of the first year's operation a staff of between 150 and 200 will account for an estimated payroll of between $500,000 and $1 million.

While advisors tried to discourage his location in Delray Beach, contending that he should choose a large city, Nakano believes that Florida and Delray Beach are ideal for such an operation and growth of the new industry bears out his good judgment.

Five years of study, planning, research and survey went into the organization of the new Gifts By Wire operation.

Fred Othman Says

BY FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

WASHINGTON — The old farmer, who once predicted snow in July and made it stick, this time has gone too far.

Breaking all precedent in the Almanac business, Robb Sagendorf, the Old Farmer of Dublin, N. H. is forecasting in the 167th annual edition of The Old Farmer's Almanac a mild winter.

All other old farmers, including myself, are predicting a woe-winter, with fetid, four-foot long, blizzards, and drifts of snow deep enough to bankrupt that tire company offering a free tow to any car unable to navigate on its winter treads. We always have fourteen bitter winters; that's the way the Almanac business is run, and I'm not too happy about Sagendorf expecting June buds in January. If he's right again, like he was about that freak summer snow, he'll make the rest of us seem look silly.

As a veteran in the trade, though, I do coppers his predictions by saying we'll have some storms, too, with the first one coming about the 13th of November. December, he says, may be a little colder than usual, but there won't be so much snow. Fact is, Sagendorf says we'll have about two-thirds as much snow this winter as we did last January, he says, will start with snowy conditions of real blizzard proportions and the wintry fog would freeze a dog. On the 18th it will be mild and wild and, he insists, there'll be a good thaw and then more snow, paw.

"Easterly storm", says Sagendorf about the first of February. "Hide where it's warm. Windows are pelted (Feb. 8), snow almost melted. Drive slow (Feb. 24-25) in this snow."

As for March, he says: "Some sun, honeybun!"

He sees April beginning with days so hazy you'll feel lazy, plus rain, hail, and maybe a little snow. After rainy beginning, the Old Farmer says May will be hot enough for a Hottentot; the sixes will be without drizzles. June showers may bring flowers, but he says June 1 should bring a real deluge; later in the month, three cheers, clear!

"Sticky and lcky," he says of July. "Events may be tricky." He says tornado trouble will burst the hot bubble the first week of August; then he'll be all sunny, warm, and blue September. He sees as though, he does coppers his predictions by saying we'll have some storms, too, with the first one coming about the 13th of November. December, he says, may be a little colder than usual, but there won't be so much snow. Fact is, Sagendorf says we'll have about two-thirds as much snow this winter as we did last January, he says, will start with snowy conditions of real blizzard proportions and the wintry fog would freeze a dog. On the 18th spendent who visited the moon, via flying saucer, and found the people friendly, living on a great plain reaching to a chain of lofty obelisk-shaped slender pyramids 40 miles in length and made of wine-colored amethyst.

Sagendorf's lunar explorer found 58 species of forest trees, plus beavers that walk on their hind legs and carry their young in the arms. The people most are four feet tall and wear no clothes, but they are covered with short-copper-colored hair.

Quite a book for 35 cents, even if you don't believe a word of it.

Tradition Made Easy

Two of the grand and glorious desserts of the holiday season made their bow... frozen individual pumpkin and mince pies. The spirit of the season was captured amidst a background of colorfully decorated tables in gold and green with Thanksgiving and Christmas centerpieces. An old-fashioned sleigh, piled high with fall and winter vegetables, and a gaily lighted tree, housing many smartly wrapped packages under its boughs, added much to the merry mood.

Stuff Holiday Turkey With Banana Filling
 Everyone expects a traditional turkey dinner at Thanksgiving, and there is no point in tampering with tradition. But an element of surprise can still be a feature of the meal by providing new variations on some of the old traditional dishes.
 Instead of your usual stuffing for the bird, for instance, you might prepare a delicate Banana Stuffing. The light, refreshing fruit flavor goes well with the roast bird and is sure to please everyone at the table. Besides lending a fine flavor to the recipe, the bananas also help assure that the stuffing will be sufficiently moist, which is important both for the taste of the stuffing and for the bird.

Iowa Top Team In UPI Poll

By EARL WRIGHT
NEW YORK (UPI)—The Iowa Hawkeyes retained a slender grip on first place today in the United Press International major college football ratings while the undefeated Louisiana State Tigers pounced into the runner-up spot.

Defeats suffered Saturday by several of last week's highly-ranked teams enabled Northwestern and Notre Dame to climb back into the top 10 and produced several position changes among those that remained in the select group. Mississippi, shut out by Louisiana State in their "meatloaf of the unbeaten," and Pittsburgh, upset by Syracuse, dropped out of the top 10.

Early Christmas presents were collected one of its Christmas presents early when it defeated Michigan for the first time in 34 years, received 12 first-place votes and a total of 305 points from the 35 leading coaches who rate the teams.

Louisiana State, bracketed with Rutgers as the nation's only undefeated major college teams, advanced from fifth to second with 299 points. The Tigers received 12 first-place votes, four more than Iowa, but the Big Ten team remained first because it received 15 second-place votes to the Southern team's three.

Each coach selects 10 teams in the order he rates them nationally. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first through 10th place. Iowa thus led Louisiana State by six points after leading Army by nine last week.

Army slipped from second to third with three first-place votes and 250 points. Auburn was next with a first-place vote and 164 points and Oklahoma was close behind in fifth place with the other first-place vote and 185 points.

Northwestern, 181 points; Wisconsin, 153; Purdue, 133; Ohio State, 36, and Notre Dame, 34, rounded out the top 10.

Mississippi dropped from 6th to 11th with 31 points. Syracuse, Texas Christian, Air Force Academy, Rice, North Carolina, Southern Methodist, Clemson and Georgia Tech followed in that order. Colorado, knocked out of the unbeaten-untied ranks by Oklahoma, was tied for 20th with Texas A&M, Oregon State, Pittsburgh and Virginia Military.

Fred Digby, Bowl Founder, Writer Dies; Rites Set

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Fred Digby, "father of Sugar Bowl" and veteran sports writer, died here Monday at the age of 65 after a lifetime of promotion and devotion to every athletic event.

Funeral services are scheduled to be held Wednesday.

At the time of his death, Digby was general manager of the Mid-winter Sports Association, sponsor of the week-long Sugar Bowl events, and historian for the Football Writers' Association of America.

He was one of the most honored sports writers in the nation. He began as a $15 a week cub reporter on the old New Orleans Item in 1912. "I worked for three years at that salary," he said recently, "and never thought to ask for more."

Shortly after he became a reporter, Digby organized the Amateur Baseball Association, and was active in establishing the local Golden Gloves contests, prep schools, intercollegiate Catholic football games and tennis tournaments.

and his editor, Will R. Hampton, drew up a set of bowling rules that are still used to govern the sport in Louisiana.

Digby personally covered most of the world's heavyweight title fights and was one of the few to chase Gene Tunney in 1927 to beat Jack Dempsey.

His greatest achievement came when he masterminded and named the first Sugar Bowl football classic in New Orleans on New Year's Day, 1935.

Defensive Coaches Facing Big Tasks

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Imagine National Football League teams preparing a defense against a pair of backs each averaging around seven yards per run.

That's the task confronting opponents of the Cleveland Browns and their backfield scourges, Jimmie Brown and rookie Bob Mitchell.

Between them, they've netted 1,229 yards in five games to date. Brown, of course, has everything in the offense would wrapped up in the rushing track of total yardage with 815 in 111 carries for a 6.9-yard average, an average of 363 yards per game and 14 touchdowns scored. All this, with seven games to go!

Mitchell, with 414 yards in 53 carries for a 7.8 average, was in second place in the statistics, leading with a comfortable 90 yards over third place Lennie Moore of the Baltimore Colts.

Moore jumped from sixth place to third, with Willie Gallimore of the Chicago Bears holding fourth place with 323 yards and Tommy Wilson of Los Angeles dropping from third to fifth with 302.

The big bump among the passers came when Babe Parilli of Green Bay, profiting on a fat afternoon against the Philadelphia Eagles, jumped into first place in a shift which tumbled previous leader Eddie LeBaron of the Washington Redskins to third.

Parilli, who threw three touchdowns in the Packers' first victory, posted a 85-yard average for each pass thrown this season. Mack Reynolds of the Chicago Cardinals was second with 9.15 and LeBaron's third place average was 9.08.

Demos Sweep Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats rode into commanding control of the House and Senate today with the biggest congressional landslide victory since the Roosevelt New Deal era.

A Democratic tide which surged in Maine two months ago swept across such Republican strongholds as Vermont, Ohio, South Dakota, Nebraska and Wisconsin.

Democrats won 25 Senate races, with one unsettled, to assure them of at least 61 seats in the new Congress, while the GOP won eight for a total of only 34.

Democrats held 272 sure House seats against 132 for the Republicans.

United Press International American voters have consigned some big names to political oblivion, and brought some new faces onto the national political scene.

LOSERS

New York Gov. Averell Harriman, who had bid for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1956 and hoped to do so again in 1960, was defeated for re-election.

FRANCIS ROUMILLAT JR. Roumillat To Head Retail Merchants

Sanford merchants soon will start an all-out drive to keep "local shoppers at home."

The drive will be spearheaded by the newly formed Retail Merchants Division of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Heading the new group is Francis Roumillat Jr., vice president of Roumillat & Anderson Drug Co. and former president of the now defunct Sanford Merchants Association.

Roumillat said, after accepting appointment from Chamber President Mack Cleveland Jr., that a meeting will be held in a week or two to discuss the objectives of the organization.

The Retail Merchants Division will differ from the old Merchants Association in that only merchants will be members of the new group. Membership in the former was not limited to merchants, but was open to professional workers and individuals.

Cleveland, in asking Roumillat to accept the chairmanship of the new group, said that an attempt would be made to unify Sanford merchants. Among the proposed items for discussion at the first meeting will be methods of influencing more Sanford residents to shop at home, store hours and other matters to local merchants.

Roumillat called the organization of retail merchants a "united front" in that it would be a "united front in Sanford." He pointed out that cities which have a strong merchant group have had a great deal of success in efforts to increase local business.

He asked the cooperation of all local merchants in the venture, pointing out that "anything that does not help us all."

Not only do local merchants have competition from other cities, but the downtown area is getting more competition from shopping centers, he added.

Gary's Supporters Lost, But Ran In Many Races

Supporters of Lee Gary yesterday lost their bid to put him in office by a write-in campaign, but the Oviedo mayor probably set a new world record for races run in one election.

Gary agreed to allow his name to be used in a write-in campaign for the District 4 seat on the County Commission.

In the Longwood precinct, Gary polled one vote, by write-in, in the senatorial race between Spearhead L. Holland and Leland Hyer. In the same box, he also received two votes for the Board of Public Instruction and one each for circuit judge and the House of Representatives.

These were in addition to the valid votes for District 4 Commissioner.

In the Goldenrod precinct, Gary received one vote for the state legislature and two for circuit judge. In precinct one, the Oviedo mayor got two for the House of Representatives, two for the Board of Public Instruction, three for circuit judge, one for the County Commission, District 2, one in the "unopposed" slot on the voting machine and 16 without the needed "X" beside his name.

When the 1,136 votes at Sanford City Hall were tabulated last night, election officials found Gary's name on one of the ballots. At Lake Monroe, Gary also was placed in several races. He collected two for District 2 Commissioner, one for the Board of Public Instruction.

Gormley reported "good cooperation" on the part of Sanford residents, while interior information is needed on all dwellings, the appraisers will not enter the buildings unless invited.

As the work progresses, Dowling, president of the company, will give informative talks to civic clubs and organized groups on request. There are 12 men working in the field and three in the office at the Seminole County Courthouse.

Baker And Raborn Make City Runoff; Total Vote Is Low

Sanford voters yesterday put Joe Baker and M. L. (Sonny) Raborn Jr. into a Dec. 2 runoff for the City Commission seat to be vacated in January by County Commissioner David Gatchel.

Baker and Raborn led a field of nine candidates in an election which aroused little interest. Only 1,136 cast votes. Baker led the ticket with 249, Raborn had 215.

Other candidates in the race and their vote totals: Roger Harris, 219; Wright Kirtley, 138; David Mathis, 27; P. T. Meeks, 130; T. G. Richardson, 32; Clyde Robertson, 37; and Mrs. Jay Beck, write-in candidate, 11.

A few other voters evidently dissatisfied with the candidates on the ballot, wrote in a few names: Lee Samuel, Joe Saunders, Lee Gary (Oviedo mayor) and Gene Watha each had one vote.

A total of nine absentee ballots were cast, 24 were nullified.

The total vote, officials said, was indicative of the interest in the election. While some county polling places registered fairly heavy voting, the expected spurt at city hall failed to materialize.

Pat Baker and Raborn today expressed appreciation for the vote which placed them in the runoff. Gary promised to wage an active campaign in the next month.

Writing candidates, too, expressed appreciation to their supporters.

Winner of the Baker-Raborn race will replace Gatchel, who yesterday was elected to the District 2 seat on the County Commission. Gatchel gave up his City Commission seat to campaign for the county office. He had no opposition in the general election.

GETS FAMED AWARD — Capt. James Reedy, former commander of HAWKING One, NAS Sanford, recently became the fourth man in history to be presented a mahogany gavel made from the trees lining the route of the infamous Death March in the Philippine Islands in World War II.

Former Sanford Captain Gets Death March Gavel

Capt. James R. Reedy, former commander of HAWKING One, NAS Sanford, recently became the fourth man in history to be presented a mahogany gavel made from the trees lining the route of the infamous Death March in the Philippine Islands in World War II.

Reedy left Sanford last Spring to command the Landing Team. His family still resides in Sanford—Bob, 16, Mickey, 14, John 12, Carlyle, 20, and Molly, 22. Mrs. Reedy is the former Eugenia Canaday of San Antonio, Texas.

Reedy is commanding officer of the Landing Team. His family still resides in Sanford—Bob, 16, Mickey, 14, John 12, Carlyle, 20, and Molly, 22. Mrs. Reedy is the former Eugenia Canaday of San Antonio, Texas.

Why is the gavel of such interest to history? Because Capt. Reedy follows the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who led the U. S. through the critical years of World War II, expressed appreciation to his supporters.

Winner of the Baker-Raborn race will replace Gatchel, who yesterday was elected to the District 2 seat on the County Commission. Gatchel gave up his City Commission seat to campaign for the county office. He had no opposition in the general election.

County Nixes Bid By GOP, Write-In

Seminole County remained solidly in the Democratic column in yesterday's general election, turning down bids of four Republicans and a write-in candidate for the County Commission.

Republicans made a surprisingly strong showing in the election, however. U. S. Sen. Spearhead L. Holland was the only Democrat on the ballot who took every precinct. U. S. Rep. A. Sydney Herlong lost one to his GOP foe, the Democratic nominee for the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission lost three precincts.

Seminole added to the state tide which beat down the controversial "delay chain" amendment which would have allowed "package revisions only" in amending the state constitution.

Vernon W. Dunn, Democratic nominee for the District 4 seat on the County Commission, polled 2,402 total unofficial votes. Lee Gary, Oviedo mayor, candidate of a group which conducted a write-in campaign, received 1,241.

Republicans for the Railroad and Utilities Commission, Louis W. Ingram and Andrew Sandargren, took Fern Park, Altamonte Springs and Bear Lake from Jerry Carter and Wilbur King, Democrats. Ingram and Sandargren also made strong bids in Lake Mary, Forest City and Goldenrod.

Holland's closest call came in Fern Park. He received 281 to Leland Hyer's 205. It was in this precinct that Herlong trailed William C. Hilli Coleman, 227-238.

Seminole GOP officials attributed the heavy Republican vote in the Fern Park-Castelberry road to personal visits by candidates. Said one official: "There just isn't anything like a candidate meeting the people."

Dunn, who withdrew an active write-in campaign to win going away, today expressed his appreciation for the victory. He said: "I am grateful to the people for this opportunity to carry out the pledges I made. I will work for betterment of the entire county."

Early boxes that reported published a trend that wasn't changed during the vote-counting. The notable exception was the Slavia box which gave Gary 43 votes, Dunn three.

'Disappointed' Ike To Continue Battle On U. S. Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower, disappointed over the outcome of the election, said today he intends to continue battling as hard as possible against what he regards as excessive spending proposals by some congressional Democrats.

The President, in his news conference review of the Democratic sweep, was not coming fully toward his political opposition. He did say, however, that during the campaign he had not meant to label all Democrats as devotees of "wholesale reckless spending" and left wing extremism.

He said he was sticking only to his disagreement for what he called the spender-wing of the party. Apparently, he confessed, he did not make a great impression because the Republicans did not get enough votes.

He pledged an unrelenting fight for lower federal spending next year, including cuts in the Defense Department.

Predicts Trouble

He was asked whether he considered that the people had chosen the left wing by putting the Democrats into commanding control of Congress as against the "reasonable government" he had offered for the Republicans. Eisenhower replied that the people obviously voted for a class of Democrats he would rank among the spenders. Then he added gravely—that's where there's going to be trouble.

God willing, he continued, he planned to spend the next two years fighting to get the cost of government down instead of permitting loosely handled federal finances, which he had denounced repeatedly during the campaign and attributed to the Democrats.

Syd Herlong Says 'Man Beat Party'

LAESBURG (UPI)—Democratic Rep. A. S. Herlong said today his re-election in the 15th District proves "people still vote for the man instead of the party."

"We had hundreds of Republicans write in and tell us they were going to vote Democratic," the victorious candidate said before leaving on a trip to Southern Pines, N.C.

Herlong, who narrowly defeated a Republican two years ago, piled up a huge margin in defeating GOP challenger William C. Coleman of Winter Park Tuesday.

The congressman said the only issue to appear in his campaign was "the two party system."

He said Coleman talked a lot about the value of a two-party system and my stand was that the people should vote for the better qualified man regardless of his party."

The big difference, however, was "hard work by me and my friends," Herlong said.

Two years ago, Herlong defeated Republican Arnold Lund of Daytona Beach by only 4,000 votes. He said in that race "we all thought it was a pushover and we nearly got beat."

He said this year he talked to about 30,000 to 40,000 voters. Herlong defeated Coleman by about 30,000 votes.
