Commissioners Fiddle As Nuclear Warning Issue Burns

While County Commissioners continue to twiddle their thumbs on what to do about a warning system, an advisory committee made up of school principals, utility company executives, Sheriff J. L. Hobby and Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson Sr. have been meeting over the past few weeks in an effort to safeguard the close to 15,000 youngsters in Seminole schools in case of any nuclear disaster.

Peterson and Stewart Gatchel, school CD coordinator, will present a report on the committee at Thursday's school meeting emphasizing the need for a "mass exodus" of school children from the schools to their homes in case of any emergency.

The committee which includes Robert Shedd of the telephone company and Scott Burns of Florida Power and Light Company met this morning and ruled out any mass evacuation or leaving the youngsters in the schools in case of any emergency.

They agreed to carry out a refined civil defense operation plan and spell out the need for organization getting the youngsters out of the schools.

Additional meetings will be held to map out means to avoid traffic congestion and how to warn the individual schools without a county-wide warning system, Peterson said this morning.

The committee this morning discussed the use of radio receivers in each school but tabled action pending costs involved and also of telephone warnings in each school.

Peterson emphasized that control and communications must be established and maintained at all times.

The plan would spell out that immediately upon hearing of an emergency dismissal, bus drivers will proceed to the school normally served. Buses normally serving more than one school will follow the regular routes. Buses normally serving one school only, will follow the plan of that school.

Prior to dismissal, when applicable, children will be kept under cover.

Pupils will be dismissed in the following order:

- Those driving automobiles;
- Those riding bicycles;

Those walking and those riding buses.

Buses will report at regular loading areas and children will be held until the bus they ride arrives. Children will then be instructed to load on their bus. When loaded, the bus will proceed on its normal route.

Pupils will be released to parents calling for them and will be told in advance where they are to go, the traffic pattern to follow (where applicable), and the information they should be given when picking up their children.

Peterson emphasized that fast communications will get the pupil and the parent away in short order.

The committee this morning also discussed the need for public shelters but no action was taken.

NEW DIRECTORS OF the Sanford-Seminole Development Co. were elected at a meeting of the corporation Tuesday. Shown here, seated, are Jack Greene, Robert Bauman, and standing, S. J. ## Mayors Get Foot In Door

County Hosts Talk About Roads

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa was re-indicted today on mail fraud charges involving alleged misuse of union funds in a Florida deal, the Justice Department announced.

By LARRY KRESHEL

Nobody asked me, but how come Commissioner Vernon Dunn walked out of Sanford City Manager W. E. Knowles' office Tuesday night to take a crack at him and charge him with muddying the waters, Dunn said that Knowles had a copy of the State Road Department primary and secondary road reports weeks and weeks ago.

"Why did he wait to blast it in the papers today on the day of our meeting?" For your information Mr. Dunn, we tried to get Knowles to release the story "weeks and weeks ago," but he didn't want to take a crack at you while you were bedridden. Bang, bang!

Thursday is the final day to vote on the Good Government Award. All entries in care of me at the Jaycee Information Bldg.

Even the dogs are reading this column. Ted Williams told us Tuesday night that two days after I ran an item about his dog's missing... the dog returned home.

Don't be surprised if the County Commission eliminates the zoning board attorney's job and lets the county attorney handle his affairs.

With the new county jail almost ready it might be a good idea for all of us to remember former County Judge Wilson Alexander and the good fight he waged for a new jail.

You don't have to be a member of the Jaycees or any other organization to name your candidate for the Good Government Award. Get it in by Thursday.

The deadline to qualify for the school trustee election is Oct. 20. The election is county-wide. The present trustees are H. F. Cooper, Ray Staton and Fred Bistline.

Nobody asked me, but whatever happened to the service center booth on Park Ave.?

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Since it was pointed out by a county commissioner Tuesday night that the law allows joint participation on city roads, why did one commissioner say he would never vote five cents being spent out of the road and bridge fund for this purpose?

Seek Ad Agency
LAKELAND (UPI)—The Florida Citrus Commission began a three-day search today to hire an advertising agency to administer the $1.1 million account.

Grand Jury
The Fall grand jury will convene Thursday at 1:30 p. m.

The County Commission, thanks to Chairman J. C. Hutchison's quiet authoritative manner, moved a step closer Tuesday night to breach the gap between the county board and six municipalities in the county.

In a specially called meeting to iron out differences, Hutchison's efficient manner appeared to close a gap that was splitting the county wide open and the two hour session ended on a harmonious note when Hutchison declared that the commission has not closed the book on joint participation projects with any municipality.

"We just don't have the money to carry on any of these projects at the present time," the general said.

Commissioners and officials from six cities attended. They were Mayor Joe Baker, Sanford; Al Lormann, Longwood; Wilber Hawking, Altamonte Springs; Lee Gary, Oviedo; Joseph Laird, Casselberry and Vice Mayor Reggie Webster of North Orlando. It was an effort to iron out differences over the county's five-year road program and "lack of communications between the cities and county government."

The meeting started on a sorry note with cries from the mayors of "taxation without representation; We don't know what's going on, we're treated like step children."

And on the other by commissioners who said "I personally won't vote to spend five cents out of the road and bridge fund in a municipality... so I won't spend one dime out of that fund unless it serves a county purpose."

It appeared that the mayors wanted to hear what since municipalities furnish the burden of the tax dollar why should they be left out in the cold on any road projects?

Hutchison, with the aid of County Engineer Carlton Hiles, supplied a map to the mayors outlining the road program and the chairman said while the county road program was intended only to take care of county roads the secondary road program would insure good connecting links to every municipality.

County Commissioner Vernon Dunn showed figures on just what the cities had received over the past five years while Commissioner James P. Avery said that the road program was a good one, "the best we've ever had" and emphasized that it was "without politics."

Hutchison explained that in the past there was no such thing as a planned program of work and for the first time "we have one."

Remember this is subject to change and even the priorities can be changed," he said.

Mayors also wanted to know if the officials could get copies of minutes of all county commission meetings so "we could know what was going on."

Hutchison said he would turn the matter over to Clerk Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. Beckwith, who was present at the meeting, quickly said that he could produce as many copies of the minutes as the board desired but, "additional help must be put on."

"Our office is taxed to capacity," he added.

The main "gripes" the mayors reported, was not knowing what was going on and having to read it in the paper.

"What the commission does affects every city, and we should be let in on it," Baker said.

This brought Avery to say: "We are not going to let the city do some work on a county road, so much dry weather."

Rayburn's Condition Worsens; Now In Coma

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Cancer-stricken House Speaker Sam Rayburn, 79, developed pneumonia today. The chaplain at Baylor University Medical Center said he is in a coma.

His condition is now considered critical. Physicians, trying to prolong the life of the speaker with a new, experimental drug, had said earlier that they feared a sudden infection.

"Mr. Sam Rayburn's immediate condition has grown more serious during the night," a bulletin issued by his doctors said. "He has developed left lobar pneumonia with pleural effusion."

His lungs were filling with fluid and draining.

"This diagnosis was made from X-ray examinations completed at 9:30 this morning," the bulletin added. Because of this condition, he is now considered critical.

The change was sudden for Rayburn, though doctors had never doubted that his cancer would be fatal. They had hoped, however, that the new drug might slow the progress of his malignancy and extend his life by weeks or months.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said this did not mean any announcement of unusual significance would be made.

However, it gave newsmen their first opportunity to question the President about his meeting last week with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on the Berlin crisis.

Maybe It Was A Wildcat Fishing

NAPLES (UPI)—Alvan Weeks breathlessly told neighbors today how he and his son reeled in their fishing net from the Gulf of Mexico and found a wildcat in it.

Weeks and his son, Billy, said they were fishing Monday about three miles offshore when they pulled in the net and hauled up a full grown wildcat "still full of light."

Weeks shot the animal and brought him to shore at Goodland community "because nobody would believe it if they didn't see it."

Kennedy To Hold News Talks Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy planned to hold his first news conference in six weeks today. Berlin appeared likely to be the dominant subject.

The 4:30 p.m. EDT meeting with newsmen was scheduled to be carried "live" by all major radio and television networks.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said this did not mean any announcement of unusual significance would be made.

Her husband, 35, was held in connection with the shooting.

1000 GIs Stage Alert In Berlin

BERLIN (UPI)—More than 1,000 American soldiers today took part in an alert designed to test the Army's defenses in the Western outpost.

Troops of the 1st Battle Group, 18th Infantry, rushed from barracks this morning in trucks and jeeps and took up battle positions.

One of three battle groups stationed here, it was sent to Berlin by President Kennedy to reinforce the garrison after the Communists sealed the East-West Berlin border Aug. 13.

An announcement described the alert as "a routine operational readiness test which is part of normal training. The test is designed to evaluate the unit's ability to react to various situations."

On the barricaded border, Communist police again opened fire on fleeing East Germans attempting to escape to the West.

West Berlin police said a Communist policeman late Tuesday night fired at a 22-year-old East Berliner who scaled the wall and reached the American sector district of Neukoeln. He was not wounded.

The youth was one of 14 who escaped during the night. Two were Communist policemen, West Berlin police reported.

The United States is stockpiling semi-automatic rifles for West Berlin border guards despite Communist protests against strengthening Berlin's military defenses.

Kennedy Opens Drive On Mental Retardation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy called today for a broad new attack on problems of mental retardation. He said the effort might unlock secrets of life and the human mind.

The President announced that he would name a panel of experts to recommend a program of action. He said it would include outstanding physicians, scientists, educators, lawyers, psychologists, social scientists and leaders in the field.

The membership, expected to number about 20, will be announced in a few days.

Kennedy outlined his proposal in a 2,000-word statement. He said an intensive effort to solve the problems of the mentally retarded had been too long postponed.

Kennedy said there are about five million mentally retarded people in the United States and only about 4 per cent are in institutions.

"Our goal should be to prevent retardation," Kennedy said. "Failing that, we must provide for the retarded the same opportunity for full social development that is the birthright of every American child."

Hoffa 'Mum' On Meany Proposal

NEW YORK (UPI)—Top leaders of the AFL-CIO today were faced with a decision on President George Meany's proposal that the international union now consider taking in locals who defect from James H. Hoffa's Teamsters Union.

The AFL-CIO executive committee Tuesday voted 24-3 against a proposal for "immediate readmission of the Teamsters."

Hoffa, in Portland, Ore., at a Teamsters' meeting, was advised of the executive committee's action.

"I have no comment to make now," Hoffa said. "We'll take care of that in due time."

Meany announced the council would take up the possibility of granting "federal charters" in the AFL-CIO to the estimated 100 Teamster locals which he had inquired about membership.

The proposal, which could touch off major labor strife with Hoffa's 600-000 local union, had strong opposition within the AFL-CIO itself, including that of Walter Reuther's United Automobile Workers.

Hoffa scoffed at the executive council's vote against re-admission.

"Who asked 'em?" he said.

The proposal to readmit the Teamsters had been made without Hoffa's express approval—by firebrand Michael Quill of the Transport Workers Union.

The three members who voted against rejecting it were Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union; David McDonald, president of the Steelworkers Union, and A. Philip Randolph, head of the Sleeping Car Porters.

Curran said his position was that Hoffa and his union should be given a full hearing to determine if they had corrected the practices which led to expulsion.

McDonald said also he thought Hoffa's case should be given further consideration.

Reuther was absent from the meeting, tied up with contract negotiations in Detroit. Emil Mazey, executive secretary of the UAW, said his and Reuther's position was against federal charters and for a hearing for Hoffa if he should apply.

But Meany apparently intended to open up full blast. He told newsmen that the Teamsters are now "even more under the influence of corrupt and criminal elements" than they were in 1957.

Asked the chances of Hoffa himself ever being readmitted to the AFL-CIO, Meany said: "Only if he emulates Saul of Tarsus and goes off in the wilderness for a year to repent."

UAW Meets On Ford Pact Tonight

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers Union executive committee tonight to examine the status of Ford Motor Co.'s negotiations and made a "policy decision" concerning the American Motors profit sharing contract.

Only two national issues remained unsettled at Ford and UAW President Walter P. Reuther has set Thursday as a target date to end the strike against the nation's second largest automobile producer.

The "historic" American Motors pact was plunged back into the limelight Sunday when AMC's largest local, Local 72 at Kenosha, Wis., voted not to ratify the agreement.

In making their decision concerning the AMC contract, three alternatives face the 24-member board. It can decide the contract has been ratified because the majority of AMC workers approved it; it can decide it was rejected, or the board can call for another vote on the contract.

Scout Leaders Set Roundtable Meet At DeLand Hut

The monthly roundtable of the St. Johns River District, Central Florida Council, Boy Scouts of America will be held at the Scout Hut on East Pennsylvania Ave. in DeLand, Thursday at 8 p. m.

All adult leaders in the Cub packs, Scout troops and Explorer posts are asked to attend. There will be group meetings covering the activities in all areas.

The meeting will be opened by the leaders of Troop 500 of Sanford and closed by those in Troop 844 in DeBary.

All are urged to bring their survival gear as the theme for the month is "Survival Through Preparedness."

Other important business will include final plans for the historical trip to Okechobee where the Civil War Battle of Ocean Pond ended in Confederate victory. Plans for leadership training courses will be completed.

200 Attend State Teachers Meet In Orlando

The Cherry Plaza Hotel in Orlando was the scene last Friday and Saturday of the Tenth Annual Conference for Florida Business Education Teachers.

The Conference proved to be an inspiring, informative and pleasurable event and was well attended by Business Teachers, numbering close to 200, from all over the State of Florida.

The Conference theme "Accent on the Positive," developed throughout the Conference, was highlighted and was particularly brought home to every one through the individual groupings on Saturday. In these groups positive guidance procedure in Business Education were specifically developed for the High School, the Vocational School and the Junior College.

In addition to guidance, the topics "Developing a Positive Attitude for Business Education" and "Positive Teaching Techniques for Business Education" were vividly and remarkably discussed by Dr. Mary Ellen Oliverio, Columbia University, New York City.

The Seminole County Vocational School was represented by Mrs. Penrose H. Love, head of the Business Education Department. Mrs. Love found the Seminole County Vocational School to be most up to date and extensive in its course offerings.

For any who have not yet visited the Vocational School at its new location on Palmetto between Ninth and Tenth, an invitation is now extended. Most of the courses, including Bookkeeping, Dictation, Typing, Business English, Business Law, Filing and Consumer Economics, may be entered at any time during the year, since instruction is given on an individual basis. Enrollment is only $3.

Death Of Astronaut Could Mean End Of Entire Space Program

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sooner or later an American astronaut will be killed in space. The nation's entire space program could die with him—in a wave of angry public reaction.

The salvation for space exploration at this critical moment, say two U. S. scientists, would be the people's acceptance that men "after all, have been killed in every new development to date."

M. W. Hunter and Eugene B. Konecki of Douglas Aircraft Co. brought up the touchy subject of space deaths to about 15,000 fellow engineers and scientists Tuesday at the American Rocket Society's week-long annual convention.

"If we of the U.S.A. permit ourselves to be slowed by the first casualty, it should cause our first real case of panic," Hunter said.

"For it will then be obvious that we have completely lost the pioneering spirit of ancient America, and it will be time to willingly stand aside and let other people take over the leadership of the space adventure."

The two experts predicted that "men will most certainly lose their lives in the conquest of space," but that "probably not as many people will be lost in the first century of space flight as will be killed by automobiles in only the U.S.A. this year."

About 35,000 Americans were killed in traffic accidents in 1960, Konecki and Hunter said "reasonable safety precautions are being taken" in space programs that have sent Mercury astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grisson on "sub-orbital" rocket rides, and several men on safe flights to high altitudes in the X15 rocket plane.

But, they added, "the pioneer spacemen deserve as much protection as the average test pilot, but no more." This is about the "safety rating" of the Mercury program.

Utah permits execution by either hanging or shooting.

South Seminole Democratic Women Announce Meeting

Official activities of the newly organized South Seminole Democratic Women's Club will get underway Thursday when the group meets for the first time since its charter was presented and approved at the State Convention last weekend.

The meeting will convene at 7:30 p.m. in the Club Room of the King and Prince Restaurant at Seminole Raceway in Casselberry. Mrs. Hope Bennett, acting president, urges the attendance of women from all parts of South Seminole County who are interested in working with the club and are interested in seeking better government on every level.

Mrs. Lucile Mullane, delegate, who with Mrs. Bennett represented the club at the state convention in Clearwater, will present a brief summary report on convention activities.

Longwood C of C To Hear Mayor

By BETTIE SMITH

Longwood Mayor Al Lorman will stress the importance of "Closer Relationship between Town and Chamber of Commerce" when he speaks for members of the Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce Thursday.

Gaining Slowly

Florida is making slowly in its drive to provide hospital beds for its citizens.

Fourteen years ago, the Development Commission reported there were 24 counties in six hospital areas lacking hospital facilities. Under its program scheduled for completion in July, 1964, this will be reduced to four counties.

Originally one of the counties pegged was Seminole ... But not any more.

Work had already started on a massive wing to Seminole Memorial Hospital which will be finished by early next year.

The hospital addition will bring Seminole to the forefront on hospital care in the state and should be a proud asset to the entire community.

The development commission set 3.5 general hospital beds per 1,000 population as its goal under the new plan for construction of hospital facilities with federal funds. A target of 2.75 beds for patients suffering nervous and mental ailments also was set, compared to the present ratio of 2.23 beds per 1,000 population.

Seminole Memorial is helping to make the Development Commission's dream a reality.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Vaccinate your children against insanity. But a nervous breakdown does not mean insanity, as you see in this case record in your scrapbook. Breakdowns are frequently due to emotional causes, frequently in the realm of sex desires versus conscience.

CASE K-421: Marie E., aged 27, has been married for five years. "Dr. Crane I nursed an invalid aunt for two weeks before she finally died," Marie informed me. "Maybe the prolonged strain was too much. Anyway, I lost all my self confidence when I returned to my husband, and finally had a nervous breakdown."

"I was sent to the sanitarium, where I received shock treatment. But it didn't do any good."

"For I am still afraid of losing my mind and am so nervous and fearful, I can't sleep at night."

"Dr. Crane, my mother lost her mind when she was 46 years old. Do you think I am losing my mind?"

No, Marie is not losing her mind. She is simply a normal person who has become involved in an emotional snarl.

Most people who fear they are losing their minds, have no abnormal mental symptoms at all. They are emotionally upset, not mentally unbalanced.

But they don't seem to realize the fact. So they fear insanity and may subconsciously adopt symptoms of mental derangement.

It is not necessary to subject a nervous breakdown patient to shock treatment. The latter cannot cure a broken heart or straighten out a sexual fear or guilt complex.

Shock treatment cannot build self-reliance or develop scores of friends for the patient. And it can't offer a love hungry spinster a devoted husband.

Except for its possible temporary value in diverting a patient's mind from a circular pattern of thinking, it is not effective therapy for neurotics.

In certain types of insanity, it does bring the patients back to reality so they will converse with the doctor or relatives and thus permit the latter to help re-educate the patient.

Shock treatment may value the insane patient, however, from his world of dreams and cause him to focus his attention on external reality.

But it simply gives him a temporary reprieve. During that lucid period he doesn't learn to look with more joy and fondness on the external world, he may slip away from it once more at a later date.

The real cure for insanity of the functional sort thus lies in a positive or pleased outlook on external reality, instead of the negative fearful view that causes withdrawal.

Nervous breakdowns are not insanity. They are as different from it as diphtheria is from measles. They result from a prolonged emotional conflict in which the victim worries himself into such a poor physical condition that he collapses.

This column probably has cured more potential insanity in the past 26 years than all drugs discovered since the beginning of time, for prophylaxis is the real antidote for schizophrenia.

Vaccinate your child against insanity by freeing him from a sense of guilt regarding sex. Give him a wholesome scientific attitude toward life.

Then fasten his love and interest on many external objects or persons so that he finds life too pleasant to permit his wanting to flee from it.

Give him a dog and a tricycle. Teach him to play the game of his age group. Show him how to win friends and later a sweetheart.

Give him toys or possessions in which he will take pride. Then you will not need to worry thereafter about his becoming a victim of schizophrenia - the most prevalent type of insanity.

Send for my bulletin "How to Avoid Nervous Breakdowns," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20c.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Life in these United States has become a huge numbers racket, and it's mostly Washington's fault.

If there is anyone else around to remember it, a Luxembourg named Hugo Gernsback published the first string of "Modern Electrics" magazines about 50 years ago, in which the science fiction for boys was simply wonderful.

One of his heroes was a character named "Ralph 124 C 41 Plus." He was named that because world population was so great that the same first, middle and last names were held by so many people that it was confusing. So everybody got a number.

What the "O" and the "Plus" stood for escapes the feeble memory for the moment, but no matter. "Ralph" was a handy name to yell at him, and he was "Plus" all over.

He talked and saw pictures over the radio, when in real life it was a system of dots and dashes called the wireless telegraph.

He wore space helmet and suit. He visited the distant planets in his rocket ship and he did all the things Cmdr. Alan Shepard, Maj. Yuri Gagarin and other astronauts are just beginning to do.

And he had a number for a name. Lucky Ralph. He had only one number to remember. But now, 60 years later, it turns out that everybody has to have not one number but a score of 'em. Life is dominated by numbers. And it takes a whole battery of electronic computers to keep the numbers straight.

In the beginning, man had a house number and the date of his birth to remember, which wasn't too difficult. Then he got a telephone number, but it was something simple like "912 Green."

If you forgot your hat, neck, chest or bust, waist, hips, socks, shoe or glove sizes, you tried something on till you got a fit, and that was that.

It wasn't so bad, either, when four million Americans went into World War I and were assigned identification numbers. If you forgot for a moment who you were, your hand made an automatic coolie-scratching gesture and out came your dog tag.

Things got a little more complicated when automobile tag and driver's license numbers had to be paid for. But the real trouble began in the New Deal 30 years ago, when Social Security was introduced and everyone insured was given a number.

The original intention was that everyone except the bookkeepers could forget Soc-Sec numbers until the retirement age of 65 was reached. Then the number could be dug out to collect benefits, which was compensation.

But next the Internal Revenue Service took over this number system and required it on income tax forms.

What's worse, they're going to assign income tax account numbers to people who don't have Social Security numbers.

And according to a new law which President Kennedy is signing, anybody who forgets to put his number on his tax return can be fined $5.

This is going too far, but it is only the beginning of what's ahead in this world of numbers.

The telephone companies, having accustomed everyone to remembering two letters and 8 digits, is switching over to an 8-digit system, without letters. And if this space communications business develops as they're saying it will, 10 and 12-digit numbers are likely in the next generation, so you can dial Moscow or Luang Prabang direct.

Moreover, the banks are taking it up now. Checking accounts must have 7 and 8-digit numbers in impossible combinations of spaces, with or without commas, so that some electronic brain can sort out your checks and deposit slips, to say nothing of your overdrafts.

Poor Ralph 124 C 41 Plus. See what you started.

What will it be like when you die, go to heaven, and St. Peter tells you that you can't get in unless you give him the numbers on your credit card and charge plates?

It will be like the other place for you, that's what it will be.

From Rome

Henry McLemore

Ever since I got back from Italy I have spent three or four hours a day lounging around a butcher shop.

I go in for a couple of hours in the morning and hang about the bacon, chops, and hamburger, and return in the afternoon for a visit with the roasts, steaks and spareribs.

For pure grandeur, the American butcher shop is ten times as exciting as anything to be seen abroad. To run one's eyes along the display cases is many times more soul-satisfying than a stroll through the Uffizi Gallery in Florence. Botticelli, was a master, but nothing he ever did can match a prime sirloin steak for beauty.

I'll take a prime rib roast over any fountain Bernali ever executed, and a slab of lean spareribs has it all over a Michelin-style masterpiece for depth, tone and pure promise.

Too, I'd rather watch a butcher use his knife and cleaver than stand beside the greatest artist while he worked with brush and palette. There's a sureness of stroke that has no equal, especially when the butcher is working, say, on a loin of roast pork.

Naturally, the butchers have become interested in my interest in their work and shop. They thought at first that I wanted to become an apprentice, but then they took another look and decided that I was a bit on the long-cured side to be a novice.

Then they thought I might be a burglar using the joint for a heist, but my friendly attitude and absorbing interest cast aside that notion.

Then I told them why I was there, and hoped to keep visiting them for six or seven months, in Europe, Italy especially, good meat is as scarce as ushers at a shotgun wedding. They sell tens of what goes under the name of meat, but with the exception of veal, none of it is recognizable by an American last bud.

There is a great field for an American butcher with American meat in Italy. He could sell thousands of cows in Rome alone every day.

No one has ever been able to figure out what Italian cattle graze on to give them the taste and texture they have. Certainly not grass. Certainly not grain that comes in sacks and is meant for them.

I have tasted Italian grass and it is very succulent, and would make good fodder. It has a much better flavor than the best.

My guess is that Italian cattle are fed on table scraps. Yes, table scraps. I believe they hang around the table like cats and dogs and moo for handouts. This would account for the taste of the beef. As any farmer knows, a cow fed on a steady diet of left-over green peas, rice, gravy, spaghetti, tomato sauce and Parmesan cheese, is not going to produce prime beef, or anything near it.

One has to travel to appreciate home, sweet home, especially when home, sweet home is America. I saw some cows yesterday, plain everyday cows, grazing peacefully in a meadow, and they were more thrilling than the spires of any cathedral, the curves of any monument.

I took out my camera and took a picture of them, and wished that someone had happened along so I could have been snapped standing with the cows. It would have a prize place in my album, even if I had had to remove a picture of myself in front of Trevi Fountain.

Report Chiang Ok's Outer Mongolia

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—Nationalist China has decided not to use its veto to bar Communist Outer Mongolia from membership in the United Nations, diplomatic sources reported.

The sources said Nationalist Chinese officials have told foreign diplomats in Taipei that the government has decided the use of its veto in the Security Council could spell disaster for its UN seat.

They said the Nationalist government could not risk offending the 12-nation Braxville group of French-African nations who had applied heavy pressure to prevent use of the veto.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When I was young I had to walk home more than once. I am now a widow of 60, and I have found that men are still the same. Whether they are 18 or 80, if they take a woman out to dinner and a show, they think they have rented her for twelve hours. I have been from California to Boston, and down to Texas, and they are all the same all over. The first thing they think of is to make up for everything the poor woman has missed since her husband died. But they aren't interested in marriage. What does a decent woman do? I am—

PLAIN DISGUSTED

DEAR PLAIN: She keeps herself busy doing decent things with decent people. She volunteers to help at church, in hospitals, or in politics in her spare time. And she might even attempt to broaden her horizons by taking some courses with other adults. Decency is still an asset, not a liability.

DEAR ABBY: I've got a guy who loves to bowl. He has a reputation for being a very good bowler, but whenever I come to watch him bowl, he is terrible. Now he has started calling me "Jinx." I know he means it as a joke, but I wonder if maybe I am really bad luck to him? "JINX"

DEAR "JINX": When you are near, he obviously is unable to concentrate on his bowling. But that is probably because he likes you, which is good luck, all the way 'round.

DEAR ABBY: An elderly man, who claims he knew my husband many years ago, turned up in our town. My husband barely remembers him. Anyway, this man said my husband was his favorite when he was a small boy. I had him to dinner and he saw my dishes didn't match, so he sent me a new set which must have cost him forty dollars. He met our children, and took them all downtown and bought them new clothes. We had a few bills, and he paid those. He is staying with us, and hands me fifty dollars a week. He buys us turkeys, steaks and chops. I personally think he's off his rocker, but you can't argue with him as he says he has heart trouble. He says he's divorced, and his family doesn't care for him... that he's not a millionaire, but he wants to spend what money he has his own way. He'll go broke, I fear. How should we stop him? VERY WORRIED

DEAR VERY: Find out something about his background. Your local sheriff or police can help you. If he is just a generous old gent, you are in luck. If he is, indeed, "off his rocker," you could be accused of taking advantage of his condition.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

News story with a London date line: "Sifting through statistics, the Society of French Perfumers discovered to their horror that British men spend more on scented than on British women."

How to explain that situation? Well, perhaps British women are more logical than feminine. If so, they've probably reasoned it out this way:

Why do women buy and wear perfume? Because men like it. So take it a step further. If the men are so crazy about perfume, why not let them indulge their noses by paying out of their own wallets for perfume? They can get all those scented shaving lotions, soaps, colognes, and now they can even buy scented neckties.

That way, the British women might reason, men can choose whatever scent they like best—the scent of leather, pine trees, new-mown hay or anything else that strikes their fancy.

Furthermore, they can disguise themselves in it to their heart's content.

Or perhaps it was like this: Maybe the men were splashing on so many perfumed preparations that the women thought, "With all the pine scent HE wears he'll never know whether I'm wearing my favorite scent, anyhow. So why spend my good money trying to lure him with perfume when he is so prepped up with pine fragrance he won't even know I'm wearing perfume?"

These are just a couple of possible explanations. But those are only guesses. When the French perfumers get to the bottom of the matter, which they have indicated they will waste no time doing, they may come up with some other reason.

But what other reason could there possibly be?

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

At both tables South reached a doubtful four-heart contract. West opened the ten of diamonds. South won in dummy and let the ten of hearts ride to West's jack.

One West led a second diamond. South won in his own hand and led the queen of clubs. West covered with the king. Dummy won with the ace and a second heart lead found West in an end play. A club lead would set up dummy's 10-spot. A spade lead would give declarer two spade tricks.

At the other table West saw the danger of that end play and after taking his jack of hearts, cashed the ace also before leading a second diamond. His idea was good, but South found a way to make the hand anyway.

South won the diamond with his ace; led a diamond to dummy; ruffed dummy's last diamond and ran out all his trumps.

On the last trump lead West had to let a spade go in order to hang on to the king and jack of clubs.

Now South let the last club, except the ace, go from dummy and led the five of spades. West ducked, but South rose with dummy's queen; led the suit back and played low. West had to take his ace and this South had also made his contract.

Monroe Home Club Studies Pastries

A program on table setting and pastry making was the highlight of the Lake Monroe Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. Daisy Dowell, in Loch Arbor.

The demonstration was given by Mrs. J. C. Sapp and Mrs. Dowell, who attended a workshop on the above subjects, recently, at the HD Center in Sanford.

It was brought out in the demonstration that a table set with a flowered cloth should not have a place setting with conflicting designs. The best way would be to use a plain colored cloth with a setting of striped edges or small designs.

Fancy pie crusts were made and from the left over dough, Mrs.

Sapp made jam preserve, petal turnovers and cinnamon rolls.

Mrs. Lucille Fitzgerald, president, announced that the club will have charge of refreshments at the County Christmas party, on Dec. 1. Reports were given from the workshop at the center.

Mrs. H. L. Johnson, county council president, read a letter from the Dade County HD Council, inviting Seminole County to visit them, Nov. 14.

It was decided that the November meeting of the club would be held at the home of Mrs. Sapp and the five members who attended the fish school will prepare the food, using the recipes from this school.

Mrs. Johnson, served pumpkin and lemon pie, cookies and fruit punch. Decorations were in keeping with the Halloween theme.

Mets Grab Hodges In Player Draft

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Houston Colts concentrated on pitching strength and the New York Mets placed a heavy emphasis on long-ball hitters in selecting their first players from the National League grab bag.

Among the pitchers chosen by the Colts during Tuesday's special draft were Ken Johnson, who had a 6-2 record with the pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds this year; Dick Farrell (8-7) of the Los Angeles Dodgers; Bobby Shantz (6-3) of the Pittsburgh Pirates; and Sam Jones (8-4) of the San Francisco Giants.

Because the Mets will be forced to play their home games in the Polo Grounds during their initial season next year, they went into the meeting in search of power

However, the Mets also managed to latch onto such established left-handed hitters as Hobe Landrith of the Giants, Gus Bell of the Reds, and Ed Bouchee of the Chicago Cubs — all of whom will be aiming at the Polo Grounds' inviting 287-foot right field wall next season.

The statistics appear to bear out the feeling that the Mets wound up with more power than the Colts. The players chosen by New York from the eight other NL clubs hit a total of 33 homers to 22 for the Colts during the past season.

The new Houston pitchers, though, had an overall record of 30-25 in the majors this year while New York's hurlers had a composite 13-16 mark.

"We concentrated on defense, a strong infield and overall balance," the former Baltimore Orioles' manager added. "We think we got it. From now on I'm asking no favors from anyone."

George Weiss, who helped build the present New York Yankees' dynasty before becoming general manager of the Mets, admitted "we managed to get two-thirds of the choices we wanted." Weiss declared. "Please don't think, though, that this is the lineup we'll open the season with. We expect to make a number of changes — by trades and with money."

Broken Nose Won't Keep Star Out Of Action

By PETE LEVEQUE
Lyman High starting fullback Carl Presley received a broken nose as a result of the vicious, throatcutting gridiron jostle, of last Friday's Admiral Farragut game, it was learned today. Examining physician Dr. George Culpepper made the discovery in a post-game examination. A half-time examination subsequent to the injury by Defensive Coach Buck (Junior) Metts, had previously revealed only a bad nose puncture. It is not expected, however, that his nose break will keep Presley out of action for the Greyhounds in this Friday's important tussle with the Cadets of Florida Military Academy.

Other than halfback Presley's nose injury, a minor shake-up of starting offensive tackle Bill Toonk, a few blackened eyes and other minor abrasions of last week's game, the Greyhounds are without serious personal injuries.

Junior Varsity Preps For DeLand Tilt Thursday

By PETE LEVEQUE
Seminole High School Head Junior Varsity Coach and "B" Squad offensive-defensive backfield Coach Ralph Stump's undefeated slippery Seminole Indian boys are busy preparing this week to try for their 4th and what easily may be their toughest gridiron contest of the season on Thursday against the top-notch DeLand Junior Varsity Bulldogs.

After a vicious 26-0 slashing blow dealt the Titusville Terriers on their home field last week, the Seminole "B" team will attempt its 11th straight victory. Undeated for all five games of last year's season, the Seminole Indian boys skinned the Titusville Terriers a crushing 34-0 defeat in the Titusville Shrine Bowl Game to walk off with last year's winning trophy.

Georgia Tech Has 'Dismal' Grid Season

By United Press International
The news was on the dark side at Georgia Tech, Alabama and Georgia football drills Tuesday but elsewhere in the Southeastern Conference things were looking up.

Six Yanks Make All-Star Team

NEW YORK (UPI)—Six members of the world champion New York Yankees, including the only unanimous choice, were named to the 1961 major league all-star team today by the United Press International's board of baseball experts.

Tuesday's scheduled showing of the films of Lyman's slaughter of Admiral Farragut Academy last week was postponed because of a recent breakdown in the motion picture projection equipment. However, there will be a showing of these films tonight at the Booster's Club at 7:30 in the Lyman High cafeteria.

The Georgia Bulldogs had full-back troubles. Coach Johnny Griffith said Mack Faircloth, who suffered a shoulder injury in the South Carolina game, will not be able to go at full speed against Florida State this weekend.

Another byproduct of Coach Proctor's rigid training techniques is a heavy 225 lb. center, Roy Lisk, a Lyman senior. Lisk, as seen from practice sessions and an adequate amount of actual ballgame play, is a 225 lb. mass of solid coordination.

Kentucky's Tom Hutchinson, the talented end who last year as a sophomore was one of the top pass receivers in the league, was named Southeastern Conference Lineman of the Week by United Press International for the second week in a row.

Starting offensive 130 lb. quarterback Billy Lovelace has made a good showing this season in the three games played on the ball field, marking better than average improvement in the practice sessions on the offensive end of the game.

LSU over South Carolina—One, two and three games. Maryland over North Carolina—in Cincinnati on a Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Practice has been the keynote on the Junior Varsity field at Seminole High this week in developing better offensive and defensive working plays for use in Thursday's contest. The Seminole Indian boys looked good in the practice sessions—even better than they looked before last week's game with Titusville. A good football contest should be in store for the Junior Varsity fans here Thursday night.

Alabama Coach Paul Bryant was still displeased with the Tide's pass defense. "It hasn't been good," he said. "We've already let them complete passes on us in the clutch."

Offensive-defensive line Coach Bud Laver has developed a heavy blocking technique in his starting lineups which should throw a hard, solid blockage against the DeLand Bulldogs in Thursday's pigskin tussle.

Chicago (UPI)—Murray Balfour ended his holdout with the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League today when he returned his signed contract for the 1961-62 season.

Fraley's Weekend Picks

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—Fraley's follies and the weekend football "winners" — along with a few World Series records you won't find in the baseball history book.

County Council Of Schools Sets Meeting On Thursday

The first meeting of the year of the Seminole County Council of Schools will be held Thursday at 9:30 a. m. in the cafeteria of Seminole High School, Mrs. W. L. Kirk, program chairman and vice president of the organization announced today.

"Know Your School People" will be the theme of the program which will feature Superintendent of Schools R. T. Milwee, the members of the county school board, the trustees and other school officials.

Milwee will introduce the officials and outline their duties. Also to be introduced are the new members representing each member school. Schools composing the council include Wilson, Lake Monroe, Geneva, Oviedo, South Seminole, Altamonte Elementary, Longwood Elementary, Lyman, Lake Mary, Pinecrest, Westside-Grammar, Southside, Sanford Junior High and Seminole High School.

The session will be under the leadership of Mrs. Dick Aiken, president and mothers of the host school will assist in serving refreshments during the social hour.

Scout Troop Asks For Used Uniforms; Needs Leaders

Scout leaders of Troop 501 ask that Sanford parents who have outgrown Boy Scout uniforms hanging in their closets, donate them to the troop for distribution.

Anyone having these used uniforms is asked to call Phillip W. Simpson, 147 Pinecrest Drive, or the office of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church, sponsor of Troop 501.

The troop is also in need of leaders. Men who are interested in Scouting and in working with boys can contact the same sources.

Business Briefs

Blue Lustre Carpet and Upholstery Cleaner, now being featured by the Carroll Furniture Company in Sanford, can be used on rugs and carpets right on the floor.

Blue Lustre is a concentrated product, which when mixed with water produces a billowy foam that is easily applied to the carpet with a long-handled brush, or it can be used with any make of rug shampooer.

It is perfectly safe to use and is odorless and non-inflammable. Since it contains no soap ingredients, no rinsing is required after using and a simple vacuuming is all that is necessary to remove carpet soil after using Blue Lustre.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving I. Pryor have returned from New Orleans where they attended the State Farm Career Club meeting at the Roosevelt Hotel there.

While there they met with fellow agents and the chief executives of the three State Farm Companies.

Nobody asked me, but isn't it an unhealthy situation when a radio is unopposed in an election?

With the County Commission talking about all the new duties they want to hang on the new county attorney I wonder if he will be responsible for making sure all the lights are off in the courtroom at night, or making sure the flags fly on all holidays.

Nobody asked me, but why does there have to be so much sectionalism in Seminole County? Why is there a South Seminole Democratic Women's Club and why all this talk about a proposed South Seminole Chamber of Commerce?

The Jaycees will sponsor Radio Day Oct. 28. First clue to the mystery celebrity. Never saw him without a suit. There'll be clues every day in this column. If you know who it is, send station to Paul Lewis at the Jaycees Building.

Don't be surprised if civil defense is the hottest political issue during the next county commission election.

It is all around! The County Commission had better think twice before they decide to get rid of the county attorney and let the county attorney handle his job. Wouldn't be surprised if instead of one lawyer withdrawing his name there'll be three others.

Juvenile Counselor C. E. McCord suffered a heart attack a few days ago and is reported resting comfortably in Orlando Air Force Base Hospital. No visitors allowed.

The Juvenile Council will hold its first meeting of the fall Oct. 20 in the courtroom and the general public is invited. Plans for the coming year will be discussed and Judge W. Troy Hall of Lake County will be the principal speaker.

Members of the Seminole County Nursing Assn. who have volunteered to assist in the Jaycees Polo Day are Mrs. Meredith McClure, Mrs. Helen Bradley, Mrs. Clara Wyatt, Miss Kathy Bauman and Mrs. Miriam Jenkins. In addition to members of the Seminole County Medical Society, Dr. James Phillips and Dr. R. P. Rasmussen of the Naval Air Station will supervise the shots. Polo Day is Saturday.

Are the County Commissioners planning an undercover investigation on who is supplying News Week to the Herald?

Highway Patrol Trooper J. S. Foster will be transferred to Ft. Walton Beach soon.

One more cheerful note: Tomorrow is Friday the 13th!

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn, 79, dying of cancer, was making a "miraculous" recovery, today from pneumonia which put him in a coma only 24 hours before.

John Holton, Rayburn's administration assistant, publicly described Rayburn's improvement as miraculous. A bulletin issued by Rayburn's doctors at 10 a. m. EST, said:

"Mr. Rayburn is out of coma. He is definitely improved and the major change occurred this morning. He looks and appears younger this morning and recognizes his family and associates. His temperature is normal. His pulse, blood pressure and respiration have remained unchanged since the change for the better."

Rayburn's basic ailment — the cancer which has spread through at least half his body — remains the same. There is no hope.

Never Ok Castro's Cuba -- Rusk

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The United States will never accept peaceful coexistence with Fidel Castro's Cuban government, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Wednesday.

"There is no prospect that this country would do the OAS talk to act. But he said President Kennedy's statement that the United States would act in self-defense against Cuba 'if necessary' still stands.

"Cuba has made its commitment to forces outside this hemisphere and, as President Kennedy has indicated, this is not negotiable."

He denied recent charges by Castro that the United States is planning an invasion of Cuba. In his talk before the church members and his restrictive U. S. military trade policy, he said this was needed to successfully negotiate with the European common market.

He said the nation should seek ways to underwrite losses suffered by U. S. producers as a result of foreign sales in this country.

Hoffa Arraignment Set

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa and an associate may be arraigned here next week on charges of using the mails illegally to promote a fraudulent arrangement of date Oct. 20 was set by the U. S. district court Wednesday following return of a second writ.

Hoffa's attorneys may seek at the arraignment or before to determine whether the Justice Department presented the grand jury with wire tap evidence they contend is "hearsay" and therefore not admissible.

The attorneys filed a motion Sept. 29 asking Federal Judge Joseph P. Lab to suppress the evidence. The indictment was handed down before the judge ruled, however, and it was not known if the jury ever heard the evidence.

The 16-count indictment embodies the same offenses charged against Hoffa, McCarthy and Hoffa aide Henry Leroy of Detroit last Dec. 7. The charges were thrown out in July on ground the grand jury had been picked in violation of federal regulations. Lower since has died of cancer.

The indictment charged that Hoffa and McCarthy poured more than $500,000 in Teamster Union funds into Sun Valley, Inc., proposed as a housing development near Cape Canaveral sponsored by the union for retired teamsters.

$10,000 Damage Suit Filed By Altamonte Man

A suit asking $10,000 damages was filed Wednesday by Homer Sewell Jr., a member of the Town Council of Altamonte Springs, against Tracy Walker, also a resident of Altamonte Springs.

Walker appeared before the monthly meeting of the Council Monday night and said he represented a group of residents which had asked him to ask some questions from the record. Later he said that some members of the group were willing to sign affidavits to that effect. Walker admitted shooting the four curing the Scottsdale-McKinley football game.

Deputies quoted Minor as saying: "Everybody else was shooting, so I just started shooting, too." The deputies said no other shots were fired.

4 Teachers Shot At Football Game

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — A 17-year-old Negro, Harry Minor, was booked on four counts of attempted murder Wednesday night after he allegedly shot four teachers in the stadium at a football game.

Minor's deputies said Minor admitted shooting the four curing the Scottsdale-McKinley football game.

United Press International
PROVO, Utah (UPI) — A courageous pilot who had nothing but snow-halls to eat as he lay in a ditch in a wooded place for four days was rescued today by a team of 9,300-foot level of a towering mountain near here.

Joe J. Honey, 35, Needles, Calif., was determined not to die. Although he had a broken hip, broken jaw and possible broken ankle, he signalled to search aircraft with a flashlight and later helped ground crews find him with the same light.

In seeming good spirits, he gave instructions to rescuers who found him in a ditch. Honey was stretched to an ambulance.

Honey, a fireman on the Santa Fe Railway, crashed Saturday afternoon during a snow storm while flying to visit his son, Bruce, 27, a senior at Brigham Young University.

Bruce was in the first party to reach the plane. The father and son were reunited joyfully, but four days later than intended.

Honey told rescuers he had spotted a hole in the clouds surrounding Mt. Timpanogas and was turning toward it when he passed the plane's controls.

The single engine craft nosed into the mountain in an open grove and Honey was killed.

Honey was knocked unconscious. When he revived he crawled into the plane's baggage compartment and put on three pairs of trousers and as much other heavy clothing as he could slip around him.

He also ignited signal flares of gasoline on the plane's wings. He packed his leg and hip in snow to ease the pain. He tore clothing into strips, tied snowballs on for weights and tried to throw them over tree limbs to act as streamers and attract attention.

Schools May Buy Warning Radios

The County School Board today agreed to consider purchase of 22 Comrad radios for each school as a protection in case of nuclear disaster.

C. D. Director A. B. Peterson Sr. told board members this morning that civil defense will help defray part of the cost of the radios.

Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwe recommended consideration of purchase of the radios "because it looks like no other warning system is available."

"We are obligated to protect these children," Milwe stressed. "Cost of the radios are expected to be approximately $50 each but Peterson said he would have more information on the cost at the board's next meeting.

The radios, used by individual schools, would be activated for an alert by local radio station and was called by Peterson "the most dependable and economical means of this time."

Peterson's report also ruled out public shelters being constructed on school grounds because of the "lack of adequate facilities to house children at the schools."

The report emphasized the need of a mass exodus of youngsters from the schools to their homes.
