I would agree that some changes could be made to save some money, but it would be very small amount compared to the money that hospitals are thinking about. So think instead of the services that are now available and which ones would you like to do without. I think you can get some answers to the money problems from testimony given to the Florida Legislature from other areas in Florida.

Law Day And Seminole County

Mankind has sought the reign of law since the dawn of history. Through statutes, both religious and profane, the passions and ambitions of men and nations have felt the curb of laws.

At times they have almost succeeded in bringing this ideal condition about. Today the struggle continues with the wrestling at a high level as the international scene—the United Nations—and as low a level as the operation of the minor courts.

On this May 1st Florida can congratulate itself that a long overdue re-structuring of the courts has been started. For the constitutional change which altered the rather confused matter of over-lapping courts with jurisdictions which were far from being strictly defined and properly financed is nearing an end.

In Seminole county, however, the grievous situation which confronts this fast growing county with not only a population increase which creates higher case loads, but the impact of all the unwelcome crime concomitants which accompany such enterprises as Walt Disney World is increasing.

This we join with Judges Dominick J. Salfi, Volie A. Williams and Wallace H. Hall to lodge a strong protest against the action of the state legislature in reducing the number of circuit judges for Seminole from the three (approved by the Supreme Court) to one.

To do this on Law Day is proper. For the enactment of the wisest of laws, the best enforcement to bring the criminal to justice are merely exercises in futility, if the courts are not able to dispense justice.

Under the manning which the legislature has provided for Seminole there can be no question that our overburdened courts will become even more so and the saying "justice delayed is justice denied" will find its strongest proof in our courts.

This should not be allowed to take place. Of course we know that it is a "fait accompli" as this comment is being written, but this does not

Notable Change

In a most fitting and proper manner the more than 40 years operation of a high-grade laundry and cleaning business in Sanford by the Raborns has now been concluded with the promise of a continuation of the same quality by the new owner — Marge and Jerry Jerigan.

This is a major happening in the downtown business area where the Raborns have been so prominent. Indeed, this transition cannot be mentioned without recalling the splendid services rendered by "Sonny" Raborn in the Jaycees and an Sanford city commissioner.

To the Jerigans, who are now expanding their business and to the Raborns, who will soon, we trust, find other areas of activity in which their talents can be used for the good of the city, go our best wishes and to both, our congratulations!

It's What They Mean That Counts

By PETER O'LAUGHLIN
Associated Press Writer
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A lady visitor to Bangkok might hesitate before entering an establishment called "Pam Shop."

In fact it is a quite innocent headrest; in Paris a common first name; in Thailand, Mrs. who head for "Kamonee Kie" thinking it is a bar or massage parlor will find instead that it is a tailor.

And tourists who think of buying the kids a gift at "Siamese Dolls Shop" had better think again. The only dolls there are warm, live ones—it's a night club.

There have a bizarre flair when it comes to naming their shops, restaurants and bars. The name frequently has little connection with the line of business.

Men's tailors offer some good examples of Thai sign language. "Pee Shop" and "Joe Louis Shop" might be more appropriate names for sports stores.

Then there is simply "Very Good Shop" and "Wonderful Shop." If one taller hits it big, others are likely to copy his name on the premise that the name brought him fame in the first place.

Thus one finds, "Handsome Man Shop" and "Handsome Shop" and "Handsome Shop." Or "Try '99 Shop" and "999 Shop."

This copying is not confined to shop names. International companies are constantly bringing suits against Chinese merchants who produce items with names so close to registered brand names that the public finds it hard to tell the difference.

One classic was "Colgate" tooth paste which was near enough to "Colgate" to start a law suit.

But shop names are the most colorful, although the copiest is not always sure what he is copying.

It's a Big Surge For Delegations

By BRUCE BROSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Greater participation in the presidential selection process by a wider variety of people, then so far they must be deemed a very considerable success.

Five instances, the sheer numbers of people taking part in precinct or district meetings were impressive in several neopatriotic states. Some 85,000 participated in Minnesota's precinct caucuses, that compares interestingly with the 86,000 who actually went into voting booths in the March 7 New Hampshire primary.

Minnesota was not a "spot" in the 200,000 took part in Washington state, 37,000 in Arizona, 35,000 in Iowa, 20,000 each in Georgia and Mississippi.

Astonishingly, furthermore, are the numbers of people formally filing for delegate spots for the 1972 Democratic convention in Miami Beach. In some primary states they are nearly swamping the ballot.

Some sample figures among these states: For the 20 delegate spots to be filled in New Hampshire's primary, 117 individuals filed. For the 160 seats in the March 21 Illinois primary, 504 filed.

Other totals include 528 for 137 spots in Pennsylvania, 672 for 153 in Ohio, 427 for 46 in Maryland, 266 for 26 in West Virginia, 297 for 22 in Nebraska, 1,384 for 238 in California. In some of these cases, other delegates are chosen outside the direct primary process.

From figures like these, it would be hard to make a case in 1972, except in a few limited areas, that people are being frozen out of the selecting process.

An important reform aim, of course, has been to open up that process to fuller participation by women, the young, blacks and other minorities. Here, too, significant gains are being made.

In Arizona, 44 per cent of the 25-member delegation are young people, the present just under 20 per cent of the state's population.

In Wisconsin, 32 per cent of the elected delegates are young, and they are less than 19 per cent of the state's population.

Youthful representation on chosen delegations is strong, though, not that high, in Georgia, Florida, South Carolina and New Hampshire.

Overall, in a check of nine states where selection is complete, the young hold 17 per cent of the delegate posts, a proportion just slightly below their 18.6 per cent representation in the populations of those states.

In several of these same states, blacks have won delegate spots in proportions higher than their "presence" in state populations.

They have 34 per cent of the delegates in South Carolina, where they represent 31 per cent of the population. They have 26 per cent of the delegates in Georgia, as against 26 per cent of the population. In Arizona, their delegate percentage is 12, their share of the population 9.4 per cent. In Wisconsin, the respective percentages are 5.4 and 3.6. In Iowa 9.0 and a mere 1.5 per cent of the population.

The blacks are somewhat under-represented on the Illinois delegation (9.4 per cent against 13.6 per cent of the population), and in Florida. But their average 15.5 per cent of nine delegations is a sharp improvement over earlier presidential years.

Through these same delegations, representation of women ranges from a low of 11.8 per cent in Illinois to 64 per cent in Wisconsin. The average is just under 30 per cent, against a national percentage of more than 50 per cent of the population.

The chosen numbers of women are at impressive new highs, but they are not satisfying women activists who want a full 50 per cent everywhere.

Doctors Needed

Editor, Herald:
The Flight or Fight of A Soldier.

Just can't help but think the young mother who tried so desperately to get her sick baby in a doctor. My heart goes out to that brave woman for I, too, was a teenage mother and I certainly do know how frightening it can be to have a sick child.

Brings to mind also, an experience I had myself along about the same time. I had not been feeling up to par for few days and since I had pains in my chest decided it would be a good idea to see a doctor for a check-up. Well, I made six calls to one doctor here in Seminole County one day. Next day, two or three more, and so on, first got no answer, then doctor was out, (no room at the inn). After several days trying, I decided to drive down to the office and see if I could find help. (All out of wind) — When I walked in they told me the doctor was on vacation. When I asked about his assistant, "well, you will have a long wait," was her answer. I replied that I would wait. After about 15 minutes I asked Receptionist "finally referred me to two other doctors. Dropped in to see one near by and was informed, "Sorry, doctor is not taking any new patients."

Well, by then my blood pressure was getting higher by the minute, but in desperation I struggled on, just praying to the Good Lord that my heart and car would hold out for me and drive on home, which was about ten miles.

After reaching home I called another and finally made an appointment for the next day, which usually takes two weeks.

That time my blood pressure was soaring, and I think my very stars that I did not pass out on the way home. There surely must be a shortage of doctors in Seminole County. A Senior

GOP Meet Up In Air

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Reubin Askew, seeking to allay the fears of Miami Beach officials, has suggested hiring off-duty policemen from other states to help keep order if the Republican National Convention is held in the city.

City officials, fearing the invasion of thousands of demonstrators, have demanded more law enforcement power before inviting the Republicans to Miami Beach.

Sen. Robert Dole, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, said Sunday some Miami Beach officials are apparently losing their desire to host the Party's national convention this year and the event may still be held in San Diego, Calif., as originally scheduled.

Dole told a news conference in White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., "The thinking has shifted" among some Miami Beach officials who earlier wanted the GOP convention and "I don't think San Diego is out of the picture."

He said at least three Miami Beach City Council members have reservations about hosting the GOP event in August.

Askew's press secretary, Don Pridle, said Sunday "the governor feels that if the Republicans want to go to Miami Beach, they should be able to."

Askew was expected to meet today in Tallahassee with Mayor Chuck Hall and City Manager Clifford O'Key to discuss convention arrangements.

The meeting follows the pledging Saturday of at least $1 million by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration in Washington for extra police protection in the south Florida city during the Democratic and Republican conventions.

"The governor does not want to influence Miami Beach in reaching a decision, but he is anxious that question be settled without further delay," Pridle said. The Democratic convention is scheduled to open July 10.

City Manager O'Key said "There is no way 250 (Miami Beach) policemen will be able to handle the situation" if the GOP moves its gathering to Miami Beach.

Stamps Stretch Budget
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—For the first time every needy family in Florida can now buy food stamps to help stretch the budget.

A crash program that started in January, when only four Florida counties were participating, expanded to the last 16 counties today.

Those first starting are Brevard, Dixie, Escambia, Gilchrist, Hernando, Highlands, Hillsborough, Lake, Levy, Manatee, Pasco, Polk, Santa Rosa, Sarasota, St. Lucie and Volusia.

An estimated 179,998 persons in these counties will use the stamps to buy more food. That will bring the state's total participation to about 500,000 persons.

In eligible, the 87,439 already eligible families bought $7 million worth of stamps. They paid $2 million of their own money. The federal government pays $5.47 a month for coupons worth $24.47 for a couple of $88.

The size of the family determines the total amount of stamps it may buy and the family's net income determines how much it must pay for them.

Israel tourism rising

By JEANNE KUFBLER
Copley News Service

JERUSALEM — Israel is bracing itself for a bumper crop of its biggest foreign currency earners — tourists.

Young and old — from dollar-flush retired Jewish businessmen to earnest Christian pilgrims following Christ's path on the Via Dolorosa to almost penniless hippies who earn enough by odd jobs to pay for their daily fingers of hashish and their eventual trips back home — the visitors are expected to come in droves.

Tourist Ministry officials expect a minimum of 750,000 this year, almost twice the number in 1966, the record year before the 1967 Arab-Israeli war transformed the country territorially, economically, and in spirit.

Last year saw 657,000 visitors come, a boost of 49 per cent over 1970 and, in the words of Tourism Minister Moshe Kol, an increase "unique" in international tourism. That's one tourist for every 4 1/2 inhabitants.

The rise has continued in the first months of 1972, with an increase of 43 per cent over last year's figures, when the industry brought in $15 million.

And the season is just starting.

The steady climb in tourists flooding into Israel contrasts sharply with the generally dismal outlook for Western tourists in the Arab countries of the Middle East.

Some 85 per cent of Israel's visitors are from North America or Europe. And last year 45 per cent were non-Jewish — a figure particularly gratifying to Israeli officials who since the 1967 war have tried to persuade Christian pilgrims to return to visit the holy sites in Jerusalem and Bethlehem, though the area is now administered by a Jewish government.

Yet the upsurge has caused problems. In many respects, the country is not equipped to cater satisfactorily to so many tourists. Minister Kol said recently that more than 2,000 complaints were received by his ministry last year.

Some visitors were left without beds for the night, though they had already paid for them, due to heavy overbooking by hotels and travel agents. Many who paid a fairly good price for a package tour found themselves sleeping three and four to a room.

Other complaints ranged from dirty rooms and inadequate sanitary facilities to price gouging by surly cab-drivers.

After ten tourists complained of the "Why ask me? What can I do?" attitude of hotel managers, tourist agents and guides.

To alleviate the overbooking problem, 1,000 hotel rooms are being added. But this may not be enough if the Tourist Ministry's visions of 750,000 visitors are fulfilled.

The rooms situation is particularly tight in Jerusalem, which has become the country's No. 1 attraction since the Eastern (Arab) sector was taken from Jordan in 1967.

Few visitors seem to realize they are in occupied territory as they stroll the narrow, colorful streets of the shuk (market) in the old walled city, mingling with Jews and Arabs going about their daily business.

A bed for the night isn't the visitors' only problem, however. Another difficulty, especially for those on a budget, is the rapid rise in prices — officially 10 per cent last year but most housewives scoff at the official figures.

(Perhaps fittingly, the local version of the popular American guidebook, "Europe on $5 a Day" is titled "Israel on $5 and $10 a Day.")

Last fall's devaluation made the dollar worth 4.2 Israeli pounds (liras) instead of 3.5, but prices have risen more than enough to compensate.

Tourist hotel rates have climbed more than 10 per cent, while service charges now add 15 per cent to the bill instead of 10 per cent. Bed-and-breakfast can still be obtained for $5 if you're lucky, but the five-spot will cover little else.

King of Spices
In the United States, pepper always has been the king of imported spices. It accounted for 19 per cent of the 200-million pounds of spices and herbs consumed in the nation in a recent year.

See Thanks, Gang!

Many thanks to the Raiders for the nice plaque they presented me before Friday's double-header. I was out there trying to get the coaches, Jay Bergman and Floyd Perry, to home plate for a plaque presentation the boys had planned, and they presented me with one at the same time.

Bouton's New Book

Have you heard about Jim Bouton's new book? The answer to that is probably no, even though it's been on the bookstands for several weeks now.

New Officers Elected

Members of the Seminole County Sportsman's Club elected officers and directors for the upcoming year recently. Ed Turner was voted in as the new president, Bob Morris vice-president, Chester E. Merrill, second vice-president, W.A. Adams, custodian, and Howard Hodges secretary-treasurer.

SOCC Sets Handle Mark

Final figures are in from the Sanford - Orlando Kennel Club, they showed an increase of $2,138,414 over last year's $18,000,000 handle. The club gave them a handle total of $23,138,414, which is a new track record, according to Jack Ledoux, general manager.

Attendance figures were also much higher than last year as the Longwood track is quickly climbing toward the top of the list of greyhound tracks in the state.

Two Complete Game Shutouts

Raiders Sweep Pair From Valencia

By GARY TAYLOR

The Seminole Junior College Raiders ran through a final shakedown before the state tournament Friday as they swept a double-header from Valencia, 10-0 and 7-0.

The Raiders meet Miami-Dade North Junior College in the opening round of the state tournament and will play the first game at 10 a.m. Wednesday morning.

The Raiders take off for Winter Haven tomorrow and they'll open the state tournament at 10 a.m. Wednesday morning. We're still looking for that first state championship baseball and I can't think of a better year.

The Raider golfers opened their state tournament competition today at Lehigh Acres and I also wish the best of luck to them. It sure would be nice to see them representing us in the national tournament.

about a squad that boasts one of the highest batting averages in the state, came through with two complete game shutouts. Mike Kelley boosted his season mark to 9-1 in the first game as he hurled a sparkling three-hitter, striking out five while he didn't walk a batter. Kelley has a 2-1 record broken the SJC record for most wins in a season. The Raiders ended the game after six innings under the 10-run rule lead.

The Raiders opened with three runs in the opening frame of the first game. Dick Brink led off with a walk and stole second. He scored on a single by Roger Danson, who moved to second on an overthrow and scored on a single by Larry Parrish. Parrish then scored the final run of the inning on a single by Paul Russo.

The local nine came back with five more runs in the bottom of the second frame. Brink walked to lead off the second and Mike Coombs singled. Parrish then singled to drive two runs across the plate. Russo doubled for a run and Tim Booker and Steve Lindbeck smashed back-to-back run-scoring singles.

with two runs in the initial frame. Danson scored as Russo grounded into a fielder's choice. A two-run double by Coombs highlighted the second inning when the Raiders scored four runs. They were helped by three Valencia errors during the inning. The final run for the Raiders scored on a single by Parrish in the sixth.

Raiders In JuCo Golf Tournament

LEHIGH - Mirror Lakes Country Club is set to provide a stern challenge today as the 1972 Florida Junior College Golf Championship gets underway at this southwest Florida resort community.

The 72-hole state championship, hosted by Edison Junior College and the community of Lehigh, will be contested today through Wednesday at Mirror Lakes, a demanding 7,110-yard, par-72 layout designed by Mark Mahannah Sr.

"I was out at the course over the weekend, and it was in excellent shape," said Bill Stalay, athletic director at Edison Junior College and tournament director.

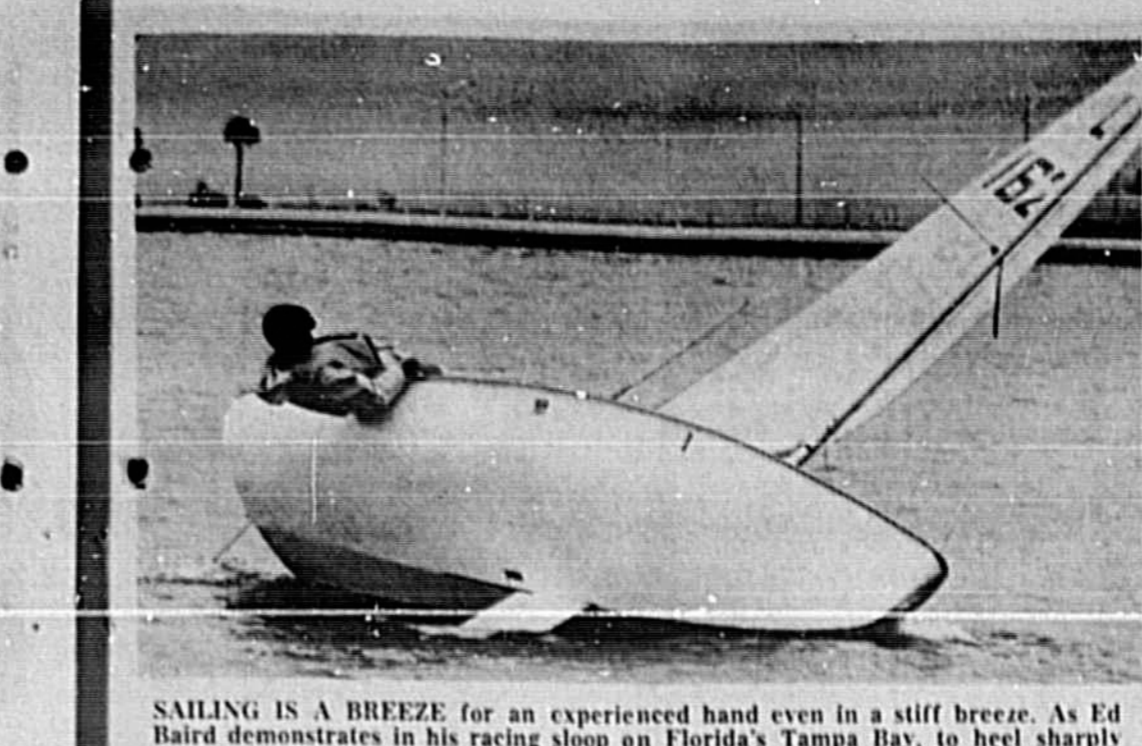

Kenny Brown each had two singles, Terrell Ervin and Tom Duxbury each had a single. For Moore, Glen Godwin and Gary Tarlton had the only hits, both singles. Winning pitcher, David Wells; loser, Gary Tartton.

Kiwaniis 5, Elks 4 - Kiwanis won this game in the last inning when Karl Hammer got his second hit of the game to tie the score, then scored on an error. Jeff Wall had the only other hit for Kiwanis. Elks was led by Gary Harrell, who had two hits, Roger Mills with a double and Mark Russi, a single. Winning pitcher Curtis Wolf; loser, Mark Russi.

Trinity Prep Advances With 5-0 Win Over FC

By HERKY CUSH Herald Sports Writer

Trinity Prep's baseball Saints won themselves a trip to Clearwater this Friday but just who'll they'll play and at what time will not be known until later today.

The Saints won the trip by virtue of their 5-0 conquest of Florida Central Academy Friday afternoon and the Class A District 5 title.

Mark Hanna the southpaw ace of the Saints served up a sparkling two-hitter in which he set the Florida Central team down with 12 strike outs and six walks. Two of the batters Hanna walked did not stay on the base paths very long since the free

By BLOYS BRITT AP Auto Racing Writer MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) - Richard Petty-hot, tired and dirty-watched Sunday as an overflow crowd left Martinsville Speedway and observed: "It's that Chevrolet. That one car is responsible for the boom in attendance at stock car races."

Pittsburgh Loses Fifth Straight

Braves Blasts Bucs For A Sweep

By KEN RAPPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer

"It's just a matter of time before we start doing our thing," says Pittsburgh Pirate Manager Bill Vukobratovic. "They'd better hurry—they've lost five straight games already."

The defending World Champions, who never dropped more than four in a row during last year's run to the National League pennant, continued to spin Sunday when beaten 6-1 by the Atlanta Braves.

Pitching, which helped them beat the Baltimore Orioles in the 1971 World Series, is no where in sight so far this year. None of the starters has lasted a full game.

In the National League's other games Sunday, the Chicago Cubs defeated the Cincinnati Reds 6-4; the Houston Astros beat the St. Louis Cardinals 7-6; the Los Angeles Dodgers downed the New York Mets 7-0; Montreal topped San Diego 5-2 in the first game, then dropped the second to the Giants; the Philadelphia Phillies took two from the San Diego Padres, 6-1 and 3-1.

Atlanta's Ralph Garr drove in two runs with a home run and double as the Braves won their three-game set at Three Rivers Stadium and won their sixth game in the last seven.

Pitch-hitter Carmen Lantzone's two-run double capped a four-run rally in the eighth inning that lifted Chicago over Cincinnati. A sacrifice fly by Glenn Beckert and single by Billy Williams knocked in the first two runs of the rally before Fanslow batted for Rick Monday and delivered a two-bagger down the left field line. Williams and Ron Santo came in with the tie-breaking runs.

Doug Rader drove home one run in a key three-run rally in the third inning, then knocked in the winner with a seventh-inning double for Houston.

Bill Russell honored and doubled and drove in four runs to support Don Sutton's seventh pitching as Los Angeles beat New York.

Sutton, pitching his second shutout, became the majors' first four-game winner. Ken Singleton and Mike Jorgensen combined for five runs batted in as Montreal defeated San Francisco in the opener of their sixth straight game in the last seven.

And after Bill Lee came in on relief to set down the side in order in the bottom of the 10th, the Red Sox had a 3-0 triumph over the Rangers and Krauss had his first victory in a Boston uniform.

In Sunday's other American League games, the New York Yankees beat Minnesota 5-4 before the Twins won the second game of their doubleheader by the same score, Milwaukee beat Oakland 3-1, the Chicago White Sox defeated Detroit 6-3, California edged Baltimore 4-

1 and Cleveland outlasted Kansas City 5-3 in 16 innings before the second game of their twinned was rained out.

Ed Herrmann's grand slam home run, the third of his career and his first four-bagger of the season, was all the White Sox needed to hand Joe Coleman his first setback of the year and snap the Tigers' four game win streak. Jorge Orta also homered for Chicago and Norm Cash had one for Detroit.

Winston Llemus' pinch single drove in the winning run in a three-run seventh inning that vaulted California past the Orioles. Vada Pinson had a first inning homer for the Angels vs. Fred Stanley singled, moved to third on a sacrifice and a passed ball and came home on John Broome's sacrifice fly that broke the extra-inning deadlock for the Indians, who then scored an insurance run to turn back the Royals.

Expectant moms, don't let 'old hens' scare you

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have some good news for that husband who wrote in to say his pregnant wife was scared stiff by those old hens who told her horror stories about the pain and torture of childbirth.

It doesn't have to be that way. I had my first baby seven months ago, and it was the most beautiful experience of my life. My husband and I prepared ourselves for it by enrolling in a class at the "Y." It was called "Childbirth Education."

The reason so many women fear childbirth is because they don't know what to expect. We were shown movies, and we were even taken on a tour of the hospital to see the labor and delivery room, and finally the nursery.

Please, Abby, let others know about these wonderful educational courses. Every doctor is aware of what is available in his area. It is free, too. You cannot believe how much it helped my husband and me.

GLAD I LEARNED

DEAR ABBY: About that girl expecting her first baby and being frightened by old ladies who told her how rough it was: Don't let the old biddies scare you, Honey. The inconvenience of not being able to clip your toenails for about four months is worse than the sharp pain of labor, which is something like all the menstrual cramps you missed all rolled into a couple of hours!

How can I speak with such authority? Simple. I am writing this from the hospital where I had my first baby just three days ago!

It really wasn't so bad. But even if it had been as rough as some of those old biddies said it would be, it would have been worth it. You should see my beautiful baby boy!

HAPPY IN FLORIDA

DEAR ABBY: I can just hear those old hens telling that poor pregnant girl how terrible it is to give birth to a baby!

I'll bet they didn't tell her how they made their husbands, doctor and nurses suffer right along with them. Nor how they overate during their pregnancies and delivered great big, oversized babies.

Labor and delivery is too miraculous a time to waste by thrashing and screaming, trying to prove that a "good mother" has to suffer for her child.

These martyrs are the reason I no longer work on the maternity floor.

AN R. N. (AND MOTHER)

DEAR ABBY: Good grief! Nobody has to suffer in childbirth any more. All an expectant mother has to do is ask her doctor about the various classes that are offered in her community. She can practically take her pick of the "method" she wants to use.

I chose the Lamaze method, which is natural childbirth. It takes some studying and practice, but it is worth it to have a healthy baby that hasn't been struggling to be born of a mother who is so doped up and out of it she makes it rough on herself and the baby.

The husbands are included in these courses, too. My husband took it, and he stayed right with me the whole time.

We recommend it for all expectant parents. M. AND J.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

8-9 NBC, Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In (Rerun) New York's "finest," who have been the target of much merriment in recent years, are verbally harassed again tonight at Carl Reiner plays a cop on the take. Carl also turns up as Ruth Buzzi's dream husband in "The Last of the Mohicans." See Anne Langdon (of the "Arnie" series) and black comic Slappy White (now a regular on "Sanford and Son") also are featured.

9-10 CBS, The Sonny & Cher Show (Rerun). Tony Randall, an opera buff from way back, gets a chance to perform in an opera tonight, a rather weird one at that. It's called "The Student Prince" and Tony plays an ego-maniacal student leader. Frederick Von Rotten. It's a classic! Cher does her version of "Lady Chatterley," Sadie Thompson and Maud Marlan.

8-9 ABC, Monday Night Sports Special. The segment is apparently mistitled. "The Last of Jim Ryan," written and narrated by Eric Segal (author of "Love Story") and may have been meant as a requiem for the great runner's career. But Jim Ryan, the Kentucky Derby favorite; the Indianapolis Speedway, which opened two days ago for practice sessions, and an exploration of Jack Nicklaus's chances for the big sweep in golf.

9-11 ABC, ABC Monday Night Movie "Daring Game." Good, typical underwater suspense for Lloyd Bridges, who is always at home in a scuba outfit. He is enlisted to rescue a famous professor of political science, the program takes a look at Ilva Ridge, the Kentucky Derby favorite; the Indianapolis Speedway, which opened two days ago for practice sessions, and an exploration of Jack Nicklaus's chances for the big sweep in golf.

9-11 NBC, World Premiere (Rerun) "Ellery Queen: Don't Look Behind You." There had been hopes that, with Peter Lawford as the famous private eye, this would turn out to be a series. It didn't make it. This time the famous amateur detective is called upon to track down a stranger whose male victims are murdered with blue cords and females with pink rope. Harry Morgan plays Inspector Richard Queen, who seeks his nephew's aid. E. G. Marshall is seen as a consulting psychiatrist.

9-10 CBS, Here's Lucy (Rerun). Ginger Rogers plays herself. Both Lucy and her boss, Harry, are watching an old Ginger Rogers movie in a theater and Lucy makes a few side remarks that upset the woman next to her. The woman leaves in a huff, forgetting her purse, and when Lucy checks it out, she realizes that was Miss Rogers sitting there. Then Lucy and Harry fight over who will return it and break the purse's strap. When Miss Rogers stops by the next day to reclaim the purse, she's not too thrilled with Lucy.

9-10 CBS, Doris Day Show (Rerun). Duty calls, even if it means sacrificing the one big chance of love for Doris. More distressed, however, is Angie (Kay Ballard), the mat-

stars

World Peace Pictured Law Day Is Celebrated

By JAMES CARY
Copy News Service

WASHINGTON — At the beginning of time the lone hunter was the symbol of the age.

Later family units became the basic form of social organization.

Much later families descended from a common ancestor found it in their common interests to form clans.

Still later groups of clans came together in tribes. Finally the nation-state was born, usually when one clan or tribe became dominant over others and named "kings."

There the world remains today, organized into nation-states. Or does it?

As the world celebrates Law Day May 1, there are those who claim national boundaries and divisions are being steadily eroded by pressures and demands of a world that has suddenly become much smaller.

They say nations are being pushed, prodded and compelled by forces beyond their control into extranational activities and agreements at a faster pace than ever before in history.

globe in less than a second. Even the most distant nations now are only hours apart. World trade has grown massively. The world is far more interdependent than it has ever been before.

That such changes have produced increasing efforts to reach out and form permanent, international arrangements to handle the problems of an interdependent world seems self-evident.

There has been both an institutional and a treaty approach.

Neither is nor has the center of a world government or a world parliament. But they are pursuing a world law system by what they call a slower, more sound approach — "treaty by treaty, convention by convention and legal institution by legal institution."

At a time when the world is still torn by war and divided by ideology and fear, it is perhaps fitting to look back over man's long and still incomplete voyage from the era of jungle confrontation toward one effective international negotiation and organization.

There is much to ponder. No man can prove the nation-state is the final basic unit of social organization in the world. Nor, contrariwise, can he prove the opposite is true, that a new international age is dawning.

The world has changed. An idea can be flashed around the

Schools Nix Vote For Added Taxes

A marathon School Board meeting ended near midnight Monday with a two-vote and an abstention that failed to pass a recommendation from Supt. John Angel that Board ask voters for four mills in a June 13 millage election. Stuart Culpepper, after failing in a motion to couple the millage vote with a rescission of the Board's decision a week ago to implement the 45-15 extended year school plan, abstained on a vote to seek the extra millage to provide for air conditioning of schools as first priority and construction of a new middle school in the Eastbrook area as second priority with an expected $2,589,000 which would be realized in the 1972-73 school year, if approved.

Angel said since the Board voted to institute the 45-15 plan beginning in July, 1973, the millage needed to be levied to provide funds to air condition schools since they will now be utilized on a year-round basis.

Of the amount, $1.5 million would go to build a new middle school which the Board voted a week ago to place at Eastbrook but that decision had drawn the ire of Oviedo residents, who, at last night's session, pointed out the State Education Department survey team designated Jackson Heights as the site for the new middle school.

Oviedoans opposed the Board action in changing the site as it could mean the state would not approve expenditure of its funds on a site not chosen by its surveyors. Voting for the millage election were A.P. Buie Jr. and A. F. Keeth; opposing were Jean Bryant and Ray Slaton.

Culpepper, who previously had sought the millage approval, abstained since he stated the 45-15 stance taken by three board members had killed chances of voters passing the millage.

Douglas Stenstrom, board attorney, warned, "If you are going to have a millage election, you should call it tonight since a 30-day advertisement is required before it can be voted on."

If the election is not held in June, the levy, if approved, cannot be applied to next year's property taxes. Hence the schools would have to wait another year before it could acquire the additional funding.

Buie moved to put the millage proposal on the ballot and Keeth exchanged chairs with Mrs. Bryant to second the motion.

On the voice vote, Culpepper abstained thus preventing the passage.

From a caller: "How come you ain't said nothin' about the sale of the hospital in your column yet?"

"Cause there's been so much confusion already on the matter, my comments would do nothing more than be swallowed within same," sez I. "Further, I didn't have the opportunity of talking with the commissioners, personally."

ASSUMPTION: That comments attributed to the County Commission would indicate they're ALL in favor of the sale.

FACT: It has NOT been officially established that the MAJORITY of the board wants to sell. The only point on which there is agreement . . . to INVESTIGATE the feasibility of a sale.

Which means . . . a lotta smoke, but the fire was extinguished before it got out of control.

They grow and grow and G-R-O-W!

If C. Howard McMully's effervescent smile is slightly larger than usual these days, could be due to the news of still two more banks being added to the First Florida Bancorporation.

Applications have been filed with the state comptroller for new banks in Forest City and Kissimmee.

Come to think of it, I don't know which produces the bigger smile . . . the thought of these new banks, or after he drives one of his booming golf shots down the fairways at the Mayfair Country Club.

Why all the fuss about the "need" of additional court room space at the new court house, if and when Article V is implemented?

You must have read some of the statements that "instead of tearing down the old building, get estimates on renovating same because of the need for additional space for the county trials, etc."

Did some checking and learned the following from Attorney General Robert Shevin: "In the absence of statute or court rule, a County Judge may not hold court in any location other than the county seat; however, Section 30 (c) (9) of the approved revision of Article V, Florida Constitution, effective January 1, 1973, would appear to provide a procedure to authorize the County Court to be held in a suitable location other than the county seat."

Assuming that proper remuneration could be negotiated, there are a number of potential buildings throughout the county where these trials could be held . . . without the added expense of (1) enlarging on the yet-to-be-completed new court house, or (2) renovating the old place.

I'm thinking of places like the beautiful Casselberry City Hall, the proposed Sanford Police Complex; Altamonte's City Hall.

To Abolish Municipal Entity City Bows To County Court

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford City Commission, although not taking formal action, by a voice vote during a work session Monday afternoon indicated preliminary approval of abolishing the municipal court system to allow Seminole County a second county judge.

The Commission met for a luncheon discussion with Judges Wallace Hall, Dominick Salfi, Roger Berry and Kenneth R. Monroe to iron out what problems might crop up if the city foregoes trying its own cases.

The city manager and City Judge Berry were at odds over a county judge but a provision was established which would approve a second county judge in the event Sanford abolishes its municipal court, since Sanford is the largest county municipality.

City Manager W. E. Knowles recommended the city divest itself of the city court but indicated along with the transfer should also go the costs of running the court, which is now funded by city taxpayers.

The transfer should become effective Jan. 1, 1973, after a new county judge has been selected by the voters in November's general election. There are reportedly several lawyers interested in seeking the position but no announcements are expected until after the City Commission takes formal action.

Judge Hall, county judge, told the Commission Sanford's cases could be scheduled into

JUDGES-COMMISSIONERS met Monday to discuss the problems coming with the probable transfer of Sanford municipal court functions to the county to provide another needed judge. Among those participating in the confab were: from left, Sanford Municipal Court Judge Roger Berry, Wallace Hall, county judge; Circuit Court Judge Dominick Salfi (back to camera) and Small Claims Court Judge Kenneth Monroe. # Ruled Bureau 48 Years FBI Chief Hoover Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation since 1924, died Monday night at his home at the age of 77, the Justice Department announced.

Hoover, the nation's chief law officer for 48 years, had become a legend in the United States, shaping the FBI into a massive, powerful federal agency.

Acting Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst issued a one-paragraph statement in which he said Hoover's body was found by his maid at approximately 8:30 a. m. today.

"It is with profound personal grief that I announce that J. Edgar Hoover passed away during the night at his residence," Kleindienst said. "His personal physician informed me that his death was due to natural causes."

The jet-jawed FBI head was permitted by presidential order to continue in his $42,500-a-year government job after reaching the mandatory retirement age of 70.

Hoover, unmarried, dominated the bureau during his lifetime as no man in any other federal agency. Wielding vast power, he was said to lavish on the FBI the pride and possessiveness of a stern and watchful parent.

He joined the bureau as its acting director in 1921 after several years as a $900-a-year Justice Department law clerk, and became director three years later. Born in Washington, D.C., on Jan. 1, 1895, Hoover received his law degree from George Washington University and lived all his life in the District of Columbia.

He had a fondness for dogs, for his garden and for horseracing, confining himself to two-dollar bets. But nothing transcended his devotion for the FBI.

CLUBHOUSE COMPLEX of The Forest mobile home park on Rinehart Road, off Lake Mary Boulevard, is pictured in this aerial photo by Herald staffer Bill Vincent Jr. Robert M. Anderson, of Robert Anderson Ltd., said today over a half-million dollars has been invested in the clubhouse and adjacent swimming pool, 19-hole shot-and-put golf course, shuffleboard courts, lawn bowling, etc. Overall, he said, the project will represent an investment of $2 million when completed.

Anderson emphasized the present environment of the 200-acre site (75 acres are being developed now) will be retained, even to the point of "hiding" the water and sewage disposal plants. Eventually the park will have spaces for 350 mobile homes. It will be ready for its first occupants in late June or early July.

At Casselberry June 6 Realty Tax Vote OKd

By KATHY NIBLACK

CASSELBERRY—The date of June 6 has been set for the proposed referendum on ad valorem taxes. At this time, city property owners will vote on whether they favor ad valorem referendum is Friday.

The city council last night authorized the city attorney, Kenneth McIntosh, to prepare an emergency ordinance concerning restriction of water usage. This proposed ordinance would allow the mayor or council to impose restrictions on water usage during times of extreme dryness and crisis with the water system. According to the ordinance, use of water for lawn sprinkling, filling of swimming pools or washing cars would be prohibited during the hours of 4:30 to 8:30 Monday through Friday and all day Saturday and Sunday during periods of water shortage. The ordinance would not apply to private water systems, but would only affect customers of the CASSUCO (City of Casselberry and South Seminole Utilities Company) system.

In other action at last night's continued meeting, council accepted the resignation of Prosecuting Attorney Chandler Muller effective May 31, and voted to accept the appointment of Allen Scott to fill this position.

It also considered recommendations from the street lighting committee, tabled a request for a building permit for apartments on SR 438, and voted to forward to petition on the traffic problem at SR 406 and Highway 17-92 to the Department of Transportation for their consideration.

The council decided during work session to file a letter with the County Commission protesting Maitland's proposed purchase of the Indian Hills Utilities System.

More On Hospital

Today's report on the hospital-for-sale situation was written as a letter to the editor by Greg Drummond, chairman of the Seminole County Commission. In adherence to Drummond's request in the first paragraph of his letter — that it not be printed on page 1 — his message is published on page 3.

Dear Friend:

In my 25 years of automobile experience I have never tried to insult the buying public's intelligence by down grading my competition (domestic or import).

I only ask that you compare the quality, the ride and price and judge for yourself!
