N. Y. Society Woman Is Responsible For Buckner's Dry Raid

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—(AP)—A society woman who believes in prohibition enforcement and some young women of society and state who get a thrill out of Broadway night life share part of the responsibility for gloom that pervades fifty-eight ordinarily scintillating night clubs and cabarets.

Federal agents claim that a prominent woman whose name is in the social register and who felt it a civic duty to enforce the dry laws introduced a pseudo English
nobleman to some young women
friends of Broadway and Park Avenue. He, in turn, introduced other "butler and egg men" to the young women, who welcomed these escorts with apparently fat bank-rolls and gladly introduced them into resorts of gaiety nearly as hard to enter as the 400 itself.

Linseed King Finally Lands Its Cargo Of Death

Her bow crushed by a collision with ice floes and submerged until only her cabin roof was clear, the 48-foot motor cruiser Linseed King gave up a grisly cargo of 27 dead when brought to shore and raised by fire boats. Photo shows the smashed cabin from which the bodies were recovered by rescue workers. Eight were jammed in the tiny companionway, and 19 others, their frozen faces distorted in horror, were imprisoned behind them. Six others of the 62 passengers died of exposure in the icy waters of the Hudson river. Twenty-nine of the men were on the deck of the craft and escaped clear. The wreck was the most tragic of recent river catastrophes.

BATTLE AGAINST WHISKEY RING IS OPENED IN COURT

Over 100 Persons Including
Many City, County Officials
Are Named In Indictments
Sworn Out At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Waging its fight against Pacific coast liquor smuggling with added intensity, the government today launched a legal attack on a front extending from Los Angeles to Seattle almost directly at more than a hundred persons who are accused of violating the law in wholesale fashion.

Federal grand juries reporting almost simultaneously in Seattle and in the southern California metropolitan areas brought indictments revealing alleged smuggling activities amounting well above the $1, 000,000 mark in five months.

The Seattle grand jury returned 64 indictments, 21 of which were kept secret. District Attorney Regelle would not make public the names of those involved, but said many city and county officials had been named. Court attaches said a total of 170 persons would be named in the true bills.

Lake Mary Citizens Planning For Big Christmas Festival

A community Christmas celebration, centered around a mammoth tree and a program arranged by the Parent-Teachers' Association, is to be held by the residents of Lake Mary Friday evening at 7 o'clock. The affair is to be held in the Community House and a large crowd is expected to attend.

The Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce, the two churches and other civic organizations to the number of six are co-operating in an effort to make the celebration
one of the most popular ever held in the town.

Turkey And Trimmin's To Cost As Much This Year As Last Christmas, Is Report

The prices of foodstuffs necessary for the usual Christmas dinner are about equal to those of 1925, according to a survey made by a representative of The Herald during the past two days.

The prime turkey of the menu, turkey is selling at prices ranging from 44 to 47
cents per pound. Its understudy duck, is bringing from 44 to 47 cents in local markets. There is said to be an ample supply of the latter but the turkey is not reported to be so plentiful.

The one fowl that is on the market every day and that is much in demand this season is chicken. From 44 to 48 cents is being asked by Sanford dealers for each pound. The dein the Sanford High School for the past six years, passed away last night at the Fernald-Laughton meningitis, with which she was stricken late Monday afternoon.

Miss Gray was one of the most popular teachers of the high school faculty and her death was a shock to her friends, many of whom were her former pupils.

HOLIDAY RECESS BEGUN BY SOLONS AT WASHINGTON

Legislators Will Have Rest
Until January Third But
Work Will Continue To Pile
Up In Committee Rooms

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(AP)— Members of Congress began their Christmas-New Year's vacation today, but like most folks who have regular jobs, their freedom was not without the usual price of work piling up to be done when the holidays are at an end.

When the representatives go back to work, Jan. 3, they will have plenty to do in committees and on the floor, while the senate's list of investigations was increased yesterday and a number of other matters were jammed in the offing waiting for consideration.

The senate made quick work of the Interior department supply bill, and the House hustled it into conference but other developments of the day were portentous of more prolonged disputes.

The House received from the Senate
its version of the hotly contested rivers and harbors bill and from a committee the Swing-Johnson Boulder canyon dam proposal, and the Senate, in receipt of the alien property adjustment bill passed by the House, heard the first thunders of the fight against it by Senators Borah.

Chairman Parker, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, plans to put forward his bill to give the President power to control the coal industry in times of a national crisis, January 4, and his proposal to facilitate railroad consolidation, January 1.

On the same date, the immigration committee is to discuss the Senate bill which seeks to permit entrance into the United States of close relatives of aliens already in this country.

Demand For Opera Tickets Reported On Increase Today

Early buying of tickets for the three performances of the San Carlo Grand Opera Company, which is to be at the Milano Theater Dec. 30 and Dec. 31, is keeping officials of the Chamber of Commerce busy today supplying the demand, according to E. J. Trotter, secretary of the Chamber.

The appearance in Sanford of a company with such a record should instill a great amount of civic pride in the people of this city and I believe they will support the opera to such a successful extent that it will become an annual feature of our Christmas season," Mr. Trotter said today, in commenting on the event.

Many social activities which were scheduled for the evenings of the opera to be here have been cancelled, but several affairs have been carried to precede each performance, as well as a number of events which are to follow.

Church Christmas Party Being Planned

A Christmas party is to be held by the members of the Congregational Church Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, according to an announcement made today. Santa Claus is expected to be present with gifts for every person attending the party.

There is to be a program arranged to please both young and old and the Christmas tree is to be decorated with many lights and laden with presents, according to the announcement of the affair.

HUNT FOR NEGRO WHO KILLED MAN EXTENDED TODAY

Relatives And Friends Gather
For Funeral Of Dead Man Who Was Murdered Tuesday Night By Negro Men

LAKELAND, Fla., Dec. 23.—(AP)—
While a coroner's jury continued its investigation of the slaying of J. E. Harrelson, Polk county deputy sheriff, by two negroes at Galloway Tuesday night, relatives and friends assembled at Mt. Tabor Baptist Church at 11 o'clock
today for the funeral of the dead officer.

In the meantime, one negro,
Earl London, is in the county jail
at Bartow and the other, John Rogers, alias "Smookey Joe", who, according to London, fired the fatal shot, is still at large. The Lakeland police have the blood-stained clothing he is said to have worn when he and London were shot by Ernest Harrelson, brother of the slain deputy in a battle at Galloway.

The clothing was changed at Plant City about noon Wednesday
officers said and Rogers left immediately in a car headed in the direction of Tampa. He is badly wounded, as his clothing indicates.

Only the thickness of his garments prevented the three loads of bird shot from bringing him to the ground, officers say. He wore a brown coat, two pair of trousers,
a sweater, shirt and underclothes.

London told officers that after Deputy Harrelson informed the two negroes that he was an officer, Rogers shot him before he could get out from under the steering wheel. Armed deputies today continued to patrol the highways.

London was arrested by a man named Fletcher near Youmans
and turned over to Chibb McDau-gall, who in turn gave him to Polk county officers.

London is said to have confessed the whole affair. George Smith, the third negro, who is el-eged to have engineered the robbery of the Lakeland grocery store, also is in jail at Bartow, having surrendered an hour before the fatal encounter with the deputy.

Smith, alias "Seven," because three fingers are missing on one hand,
is said to have told the officers that his confederates beat and robbed him of his share of the money in the store robbery.

London had $24 and some odd cents in his pocket when arrested.

Lions Club Hears 2 Soloists At Meeting

Members of the Sanford Lions Club were entertained at their luncheon in the Seminole Cafe today by W. E. Buhrman, a member of the Southern College Quartette, of Lakeland and Paul Emge, of the Lions Club Quartette. Both sang a number of solos. Mr. Buhrman is the son of Rev. W. P. Buhrman, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Plans were discussed for the formation of the club program for 1927 and several projects are expected to be started within the first few months of the year.

Dr. C. W. Knox, who recently established an office here for the practice of medicine, spoke briefly on why he came to Sanford. He complimented the club on its spirit of progress.

Streams In Kentucky Arkansas, West Vir- ginia, Tennessee Rising Above Banks

Death Toll Stands At 6 Early Today

One Hundred Reported To Be Homeless At Pineville, Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 23.—
(AP)—Continued rains, with increased cloudiness and cold weather throughout the flooded territories of Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas and West Virginia today
promised to add to the suffering in the stricken districts.

Streams in four states were rising rapidly with indication that the flood crest would not be reached before tomorrow.

The death toll of the floods early today stood at six with property damage mounting rapidly. Seven-at hundred families were driven from their homes by the muddied waters while tourists were imprisoned where the thickening rainets converted road beds into swirling streams.

A bridge worker at Callatburg,
Ky., died yesterday from injuries sustained when the false work of a new bridge collapsed under pressure of high water. Two workmen were seriously injured and five were missing. Three children were drowned in Arkansas and two men in Kentucky Tuesday.

Tug river, on the boundary between Kentucky and West Virginia, overflowed its banks at Hammon, W. Va., damed, washing and industrial plants and leaving 300 cottages homeless.

One hundred persons were homeless in Pineville, Ky., and 25 families abandoned their homes at Harlan. Bridges were washed out and land slides covered the tracks of several Kentucky and Tennessee mountain railroad lines.

Red river, rushing out of its banks, has covered three principal highways near Clarksville, Tenn., and the Cumberland river, which passed flood stage yesterday, continued to rise.

At Idaho Springs, Tenn., an artificial lake has been formed by waters backed up into Duncans cave and into sulphur wells, a mile from Red river.

Young Negro Caught After Alleged Theft

Edward Baker, 14 year old negro boy, was arrested this morning by Lieut. A. H. Beckwith and lodged in jail charged with breaking and entering. He confessed to entering the Seminole Amusement Shop, at 509 East Second Street,
last night and taking a portable
typewriter.

The machine was recovered after the boy gave police directions for finding it.

Petty thieves have been causing considerable trouble during the past two weeks, police report, and an intensive drive is being made to end the career of many of them.

Baseball Fans Await Latest Development In 7 Year Old Scandal

Cobb And Speaker Assert Innocence In Charges Made By Former Star Hurler

Cobb Acknowledges Letter To Leonard

Two Pilots Resigned Because Of Impending Scandal, Claim

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The attention of the baseball world centered today on seven year-old game that between the Detroit and Cleveland American League teams on Sept. 24, 1919, around which charges of fixing, involving two of the greatest players known to the game, have been made.

Cobb and Tris Speaker, idols of thousands of baseball fans, and holders of many baseball records declared they were innocent of assertions that they were involved in a conspiracy to "throw" the ball game and to benefit by betting, made Hubert (Dutch) Leonard, one-time pitcher for Detroit, and made public by Baseball Commissioner Landis.

In addition they declared they had attempted to get Leonard, now living on a ranch in California, to face them; and Commissioner Landis in giving out Leonard's testimony, mentioned that the former ball player repeatedly had refused to present his charges at a hearing at which Cobb and Speaker could be present. Finally the commissioner called upon Leonard in his California home.

Cobb, who recently resigned as manager of the Tigers, said in Chicago that he had "never bet on an American League baseball game," and denied that he knew of any plan to "throw" the game, while Speaker, who likewise resigned his managerial berth with Cleveland after the close of season, asserted in Cleveland that he was "innocent of any wrongdoing, charging that Leonard deliberately falsified any statement he made that implicates me."

Commissioner Landis, made no demand against Cobb, Speaker and Leonard and Joe Wood, former Cleveland pitcher, mentioned in the case, all stars of baseball fame but said a decision as to the attitude of organized baseball would be forthcoming if required by changed demands.

The testimony however averred that those mentioned in the throwing of the game had put up bets, amounting to $120 apiece when Detroit won but Cobb and Speaker split the pot up there share. The testimony was supported by two letters, one from Wood and the other from Cobb.

Cobb acknowledges he had sent a letter to Leonard, but called the bet to which it referred wholly legitimate. The Georgia peach said that while he refused to bet on games in his own league, it was a frequent custom among players to make such bets.

Speaker called himself the "goat" declared he was not mentioned in the Leonard letters and added: "I know nothing of any wager being made in this contest or of any fixing. The only thing they have against me is the word of a man who is behind this fire-

up, Leonard."

Leonard, who during his baseball career had served under both Cobb and Speaker, refused to comment on the case at his ranch home near Fresno, Calif.

Leonard's two letters provided a subject of considerable interest today. Cobb said that "Leonard got $20,000 for these two letters. I understand, from American League officials." Asked about this phase, Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit American League club, said he didn't know.

Brandal Caused Resignations
That the impending scandal had a part in the resignation of both managers, was hinted from several sources. Although Cobb denied this, Ban Johnson, president of the American League, expressed the opinion that "both Cobb and Speaker saw the handwriting on the wall and decided to pull out."

Cleveland sport writers also believed Speaker as saying he was due to the impending storm. Friends who quoted Speaker as saying he was willing to retire from the game in order to protect another player, suggested that the game in order to protect another player, suggested that the former manager might start a law suit to clear his name. Likewise there was no surprise in Detroit over the case, sport writers there being aware early as last August that Leonard had made such allegations.

While the controversy raged, baseball followers scanned the box score of the same of seven years back. It revealed that while Detroit, won 9 to 5, it was a hitting feat for both sides.

BILLY EVANS Says

Vets Reminiscence

I doubt if players of the old school in football will ever be reconciled to the forward pass. Coming back from the Ohio State-Michigan game I was in the company of three star players, two from the east, one from the west. One of the players was an All-America selection for two successive seasons about a dozen years back.

We were discussing Michigan's 17-16 victory over Ohio State. The former star expressed regret that the game didn't end in a tie. None of them had an ax to grind as they had no feelings for State or Michigan.

Recalling the joy and woe of their football days they simply hailed to see so thrilling a game decided by a one-point margin.

Expert Opinion

"Michigan made two basketball touchdowns while State richly deserved one of hers and got a fortunate break as to the other," remarked the All-American star.

"It's tough," he continued, "to hold a team as good as Michigan for three downs and then see such a real display of football go to waste by the mere flipping of the ball through the air, over the goal line, into a waiting pair of arms for a touchdown."

"Michigan did it twice through the uncanny passing of Friedman. Only one who has played football can appreciate how such a play tends to demoralize a team."

"The new style game is interesting, I will admit, but no one can ever convince me that it is a real test of actual football ability. It is simply the work of a specialist."

Element of Luck

The consensus of the three former big shots in football was that the element of luck was just as big a factor in executing a forward pass as perfect timing.

There were of the opinion that the true test of offense was a running attack featuring dashes around the end, or through the line, and trick plays.

Many coaches argue there is no definite defense that can be framed to meet a forward pass offense. Perhaps the best is the man-to-man defense. However, there is always the fear that the defensive player may interfere, which reacts to the great advantage of the receiver.

In the Ohio State-Michigan game, Marty Karow in spilling Michigan's first long pass, was adjudged to have interfered with the receiver and Michigan got the distance just as if the play had been successfully completed.

After that, State seemed to fear a repetition of the initial play, which of course made Michigan's game more effective.

Wise Suggestions

Here is a rather interesting suggestion made by one of the former stars who thinks the pass is being overplayed:

"Limit the passing game to only one pass in any sequence of downs. The 5-yard penalty means nothing. One pass in every sequence would restrict the indiscriminate use of the play."

"Limit the distance of the pass to 20 yards in the opposition's territory."

"Since after one pass had been made in a sequence, the secondary defense might move in too close and bring back the objectionable in pass play, it would be wise to insist that three secondary defense men be at least 10 yards behind the line of scrimmage.

Rather interesting suggestions I would say.

Averages Take Tumble

Battling averages took a terrific tumble in the major leagues last season. For instance, not a single club in the American finished in the select .300 circle. Washington led with .292, Detroit ranking second, one point behind.

Triumph of Upsets

It's been just one thing after another in the world of sport during the year of 1926, fast coming to a close.

During the football season, a week-end in October and November that didn't furnish at least three startling upsets was the decided exception.

Hardly had football made its exit from the sports stage than the fight game took up the series of upsets where the grid athletes left off.

During the first week of December, on successive nights a trio of ring surprises were added to the long list of unusual happenings that have featured the year.

Wallace Surprises

Billy Wallace of Cleveland, formerly of the Pacific coast, provided the opening thrill. He knocked out "Kid" Kaplan, former featherweight champion, in the fifth round.

No one, except those familiar with Wallace's punching power, gave him so much as a chance. During the first four rounds Kaplan swarmed over Wallace and seemed to be winning as he pleased.

Then, just as the crowd was sympathizing with Wallace, because he appeared to have a strenuous evening ahead of him, it happened.

A punch that didn't travel more than six inches floored Kaplan for the count of nine. Wallace then proceeded to finish him in a masterly manner, the knockout coming with less than 15 seconds of the round remaining.

Debatable Decision

The following evening Mickey Walker took down a Chicago decision over Tiger Flowers. The verdict has been much debated ever since.

Regardless of the merits of the decision, the fact is, Mickey Walker, not Tiger Flowers, is middle-weight champion.

The surprise feature to this bout centers around the fact that Walker, after losing his welter title and later suffering a knockout, came on town over the shifty Flowers in a heavier class.

A return match between these two probably will be an outdoor affair for next summer in New York. Walker's manager, Jack Kearns, is too smart to let Walker start for anything but big dough.

Try to Beat This One

However, to my way of thinking, the biggest upset of the three was turned in by a comparative unknown, in the east at least—Eddie Roberts of Tacoma and other points west.

All that Roberts did was knock out Joe Dundee, who ranked mightily close his Champion Pete Latzo before his San Francisco engagement that resulted so disastrously.

The strange part of it is that Dundee and his manager went to the coast as a sort of a vacation, not to fight. Dundee had been working so often in the east it was figured a change of scenery would help.

He took on Roberts for about one-fifth of what he would have received in the east, and was knocked out without landing as much as a real punch.

There is no figuring how costly the vacation will prove. I would say at least $100,000 as a result of the knockout. It means probably that much to Roberts.

Dundee Peculiar Type

Dundee is one of those peculiar types of fighters who are slow to warm up. Every time I have seen him in action he looked anything but impressive for two or three rounds.

One who didn't know that he was courageous would gather from the serious expression he always wears early in his fights that he was decidedly nervous. Scared might be the better word.

Perhaps Roberts had been tipped off in advance; for he made a rushing fight and reached the button for a kayo before Dundee had a chance to show the real ability that he possesses.

Do not miss this wonderful collection of gifts!

Your Christmas worries disappear here like magic. Anyway, PROVE what we say, it's a short evening.

Jimmy Maloney Takes 3rd Step Tonight In His Rise Toward Championship Bout

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Jimmy Maloney, of Boston, takes his third step on the heavyweight championship ladder tonight at Madison Square Garden. What he accomplishes tonight or goes tumbling down in Tex Rickard's series for selecting an outstanding challenger depends on the outcome of a 10-round battle with Harry Persson, of Sweden.

In two previous heavyweight encounters here, Maloney displayed enough skill and punching power to make him a two to one favorite tonight. He stopped Arthur Dwyer of New York, in the first round, requiring only two rounds for his triumph. In the second, he decisively outpointed the German contender, Franz Dierker.

Although Persson's stock took a fall last week as the result of an unexpected defeat at the hands of the McGeehan of Boston, the Boston contender's aggressiveness and power have been accepted as assurance of a rugged mauler. The Swede will have a slight advantage in reach, and height which Maloney is expected to offset by his cleverness and broader experiences.

Tex Rickard's rival in the promotion field, Humbert Pugazy, has announced that Maloney would be pitted against Jack Delaney, world's light heavyweight champion, if he succeeds in outfighting Persson tonight.

Observers expect the 10-round semi-final to provide Monte Munn's crucial test as a potential heavyweight contender. Knute Hansen will engage the big Nebraska in a match between two hitters which holds strong possibility of a knockout. Munn rules a two to one favorite.

Proceeding this encounter, Ottis Van Fork, of Norway, former Olympic champion, will engage Martin Barne, of New Orleans, in a third 10 rounder.

Exchange of Merchandise Biggest Evil Among Buyers Today, Says Mrs. Patterson

Editor's Note: This is the third article by Mrs. Edith McClure-Patterson, wealthy and club woman, who acted as a salesgirl in a New York department store to see Christmas shopping rush on the working girl's viewpoint.

Whenever the subject of returned merchandise is mentioned we think of the hackneyed old joke about the people who took their Christmas presents back and exchanged them for things they really wanted.

That joke has drawn plenty of laughs. But in reality it's no joke at all.

It's certainly no joke to the merchant, who is forced to give out perfect goods in exchange for second-hand articles which he must sell at a marked-down price.

It is not a joke to the salesgirls who find their commissions cut by deduction of the returned articles from their sales slips.

It is no joke to the buyer, either. In the long run the buyer must pay higher prices to make up what the merchant loses on returns.

There is another angle to it, too. When you buy at a reduced price, goods that someone else has returned, you are exposing your family to the possibility of contagion. Who knows what germs the goods may have come in contact with while lying around someone else's home for four or five days?

Only a Habit
It is up to the woman buyer's sense of fair play to do away with this habit. For, in most cases, the returning of Christmas gifts is a habit and nothing more.

Speaking of habits, there is another habit that women buyers and men, too, might well cultivate during the Christmas shopping season and at other times. That is the habit of always getting a receipt for every article that is purchased.

Receipts are always given, in practically every store in the land. Many shoppers, however, make a practice of dropping them, reasoning to save them on the ground that it isn't worth the bother.

That is a mistake. Christmas shopping season is a busy one, and a store can make mistakes in its accounts. And if a collector comes to you and demands payment for an article you have already paid for—well, if you have a receipt the matter ends right there.

Receipt Protects You
In addition, the receipt is invaluable if for any reason the merchandise you have bought is unsatisfactory and must be returned. It is your protection—a check on the honesty and accuracy of the store's workers—and you should always keep it.

One more word—about charge accounts. They're wonderful things to have especially at Christmas time, but be careful you don't say "charge it" too often. It's easy to buy beyond your means when you do it on credit, and it's worth remembering that the day of reckoning is bound to come—all too soon. Buy as carefully as if you were paying cash for everything—and then Christmas won't leave a bad taste in your mouth when the bills begin to come in.

B. Johnson. Mr. Roper stated that he was conveying his property to the state of the canals, and suggested the constitution and law be changed as to make taxes on all lands to the amount increased in value by any canals, so it can be used for construction thereof. He had the attorney general, and to do so, might send him "made out" along those are the canals. Mr. Roper said: "In a direct line from the peninsula at the narrows, perhaps about Or. Lake Mary

Fred Smith is building a new home on Fourth Street.

L. C. Behout was a visitor in Lake Mary last week, representing the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

George A. Jones of Farmington, N. H., returned to Lake Mary last week, and has opened his home on Crystal Lake Avenue for the winter.

The Men's Class of the Lake Mary Community Church held an interesting meeting at the church on Tuesday evening, with a good attendance.

Rev. Robert Black of Brooklyn, N. Y., is stopping at the Lake Mary Hotel, which was purchased by Mrs. Black and himself several years ago.

Telephone service has been recently connected in Lake Mary, and quite a number of our residents have availed themselves of this convenience which is another step in the progress of Lake Mary.

A number of friends gathered at the home of W. V. Dunn last Monday evening, and extended congratulations to him upon his fifty-ninth birthday. A pleasant social evening was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

The Crystal Lake Improvement Society held its weekly meeting at the Lake Mary Hotel on Tuesday evening. After the business meeting, games and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour.

Mrs. C. S. Donaldson was hostess to a number of friends from Lake Mary and Sanford on Thursday evening, the occasion being a farewell party to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marteneau, who are leaving Sanford to make their home in Ucceda. The evening passed quickly with games and music, and at the close of the evening, delicious refreshments were served.

The Lake Mary Community Church will conduct a Christmas Service on Sunday evening when it will present "The Light on Synnaburgh," portraying scenes near Bethlehem at the time of the Nativity. As the church platform will not permit proper staging for these scenes, it will be presented at the new Chamber of Commerce Building, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Saunders and two children have recently moved to Lake Mary and are living in one of the new bungalows in Evansdale. Mr. Saunders will be remembered by old residents in this section, as he lived with his father and mother at their home near the Atlantic Coast Line Depot when a boy, the family moving to Tennessee a number of years ago. Mr.

Saunders is very enthusiastic regarding the future of Lake Mary and is forming an orchestra here. The first rehearsal was held last Friday evening at the Chamber of Commerce Building. As Mr. Saunders has successfully conducted a band in Tennessee for years, we look forward to their public appearance.

Plans for the Community Christmas tree under the auspices of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce are progressing nicely, with the tree in place and the assurance of Santa Claus that he will be present. This tree will be held at the new Chamber of Commerce Building and every resident of Lake Mary is invited. The program will start at 7 o'clock with a playlet and drill by the school children. Co-operating to make this affair a success are the following organizations of Lake Mary: Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce, Lake Mary Parent-Teacher Association, Lake Mary Community Church, Lake Mary M. E. Church, and Crystal Lake Improvement Association.

In accordance with a notice sent out last week, members of the Parent-Teachers Association together with other interested citizens met at the schoolhouse on Thursday evening, and attended in a body the meeting of the voters of District 2, called by T. W. Lawton, at the Lyman School, relative to the proposed bond issue for school purposes, of which Lake Mary is to be allotted $15,000, for additional rooms. This bond issue was endorsed by those present, and Mr. Lawton stated that the present millage was adequate to take care of this bond issue without any increase in same. Therefore, it is expected that this much needed step will have the support of our citizens inasmuch as the present time, the auditorium has been cut up into classrooms, and the school overcrowded.

Four Cent Gas Tax Brings Huge Return

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 23. —(P)—The four-cent gasoline tax for good roads of Florida brought nearly $60,000 more the last fiscal month than the previous one, according to the December distribution, made today at the comptroller's office.

The December distribution was $871,811.52, compared with $817,042.52 for November.

Three-fourths of the tax goes to the State Road department and one-fourth to the counties, after the deduction of a nominal sum covering the cost of distribution.

Officials of the comptroller's office predicted that a steady increase would be shown from now on in the monthly distributions.

Author Says Abolish The Day "Christmas"

LONDON, Dec. 23. —(P)—George Bernard Shaw, the sprightly British dramatist, who recently was awarded the Nobel prize for literature for 1925, thinks that Christmas should be abolished. Writing in the New Leader, Shaw says: "It has become an unbearable nuisance, but the difficulty is to draft a bill making the celebration of Christmas a criminal act and compensating the shopkeepers who are justly enabled by the Christmas trade to pay their rents, not to mention all the other people who make money out of it and who do not know that the landlord's pocket it all in the long run."

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

OUR HONOR—"But who am I, and what do I try people, that we should be able to offer so willingly after this sort? For all things come of Thee, and of Thine own hand we give Thee." 1 Chron. 29:14.

AMBITION

Why choose the baser role? Why fling high dreams away? Why desecrate the soul? For pleasure's little day? Why not, though strong or weak, The greater conquest seek?

THINK FIRST

When the American people would devote as much time to investigate the different propositions that claim their money before they invest as they put in trying to recover their money after it has been lost, they soon would cease to be losers.

Newspaper Costs

Advertising solicitors frequently run into the argument that rates are too high. It is very seldom indeed that a merchant is found so poorly posted as not to know that newspaper advertising is absolutely essential to the success of his store.

When they talk that way, they show that they very obviously do not know what they are talking about. Very few persons realize the expense attached to getting out a newspaper.

Speaking of the expense in newspaper operation and advising extraordinary curtailment of expenses for the coming year while at the same time predicting the failure of thousands of unsound publications throughout the country, the Special Investigations Committee of the National Editorial Association reports:

"Ninety per cent of Country newspapers are selling advertising at or below cost. The cost of advertising composition alone is 20c per inch for weekly newspapers and 24.75c per inch for small daily publications.

"In the mechanical departments labor costs have increased from 50 to 150 per cent. Machinery and materials have advanced in keeping with the rising costs and the newspaper publishers have not followed in the procession.

"Only a small percentage of country newspaper publishers realize the perils which confront their future existence. Economic pressure will aid the elimination process and it will be a case of survival of the medium that renders the greatest service to the community.

"Disaster and ruin faces thousands of publications unless they immediately adjust themselves to the new conditions and rigidly adhere to the rates which the committee of investigations recommends."

The Hurricane Brought Some Benefits

In Miami they are staging ceremonies for flower and shrub planting in the public parks. Programs are arranged. The newspapers tell all about it. The plants are put into the ground with much ado. And the people rush home to plant something in their own yards.

That is the scheme, of course, and it is working fine. Since the hurricane people whose property was in the path of the storm are in frantic haste to get something growing where trees and shrubs were destroyed, and it looks as if the Miami area is going to be immeasurably more beautiful because of this new, and usually careful, planting.

The hurricane, it is said, is being praised for starting the great interest in flower and shrub planting. Citizens who have long been somewhat alone in the advocacy of more flowers for Miami are chuckling to themselves as they watch unsightly places being changed into things of beauty by excitedly working neighbors. And they are very sure that once the beauty of the flowers and vines is seen that the interest in garden work in their neighborhood will continue.

Perhaps it requires a hurricane or a flood to shock some folks into appreciation of trees and plants. If our own beautiful Lake Region of Florida were visited by a devastating wind storm, possibly the people gazing in sadness at their fallen trees and mutilated shrubs, would see just how much those carelessly accepted trees and shrubs had been doing for them.

Perhaps, too, a storm must come before the people of this most lovely part of Florida will in systematic, wholesale fashion, start a flower, shrub, and tree-planting campaign that will convert their territory into the famous flower-land it was adapted to be.

Why not some ceremonies that will send Seminole county folks hurrying home to put flower seeds in the ground and beautifying shrubs in their dooryards and along the highways?

Good News for Christmas. Canals, Crooked Prosperity. The End. Fight or Be Friendly. IT'S REALLY A prosperous country we live in, and the prosperity has only commenced.

REVISED GOVERNMENT reports on crops put corn for this year at two billion six hundred and forty-five million bushels, wheat at 822,305,000 bushels. Add forty million bushels of rye, forty-one million bushels of rice, 18,618,000 bales of cotton, 33,900,000 boxes of oranges, etc., and you have a slight idea of what prosperity means.

AND UNLIKE OIL, those crops are not exhausted, but go on forever, increasing. Land in France planted to wheat for centuries produces more bushels per acre now than it did 200 years ago.

THE RIGHT PLAN would be an all-American waterway from the lakes through New York state, and that will come. But it would cost five or six hundred millions more than the low cost of the St. Lawrence canal, which probably will come first.

FARMERS are deeply interested in these canal projects, for which Secretary Hoover deserves a great deal of credit. He is a worker. The canal will cut an average of 12 cents from the freight on export wheat, and add 12 cents to the farmer's price.

HARNESSING THE Colorado river seems not far away, thanks to a number of earnest men, including Senator Hiram Johnson, Secretaries Work and Hoover, and others. The remaining difficulty seems to be arranging an agreement between California and Arizona. The dam would be in Arizona, a great part of the power and irrigation would be used in California. The prosperity of one state is reflected in all states. California cannot thrive without benefiting Florida and Maine.

ARIZONA, THE great state of copper, cotton, citrus, climate and the Colorado, will prove itself the state of brotherly conciliation. The thing desired is to use the country's wealth, water and power especially, and thus build up the entire nation. Arizona will not unwisely withhold from development and use that which, at the moment, she herself cannot use.

CALIFORNIA, HAVING had a calamitous year among gasoline consumers, is now to see the other side of the medal. From sixteen and a half to eighteen and a half cents a gallon does not seem much, only two cents, but that means $9,000,000 a year profit in Southern California alone with 800,000 cars using 150,000,000 gallons of gasoline.

EASTERN STATES will wish that some kind of oil fairy would grow them oil in eighteen and a half cents. In California they have the cars, the roads and the oil. This single state, during the past week, produced 689,900 barrels of oil every day, and has billions of barrels safe under ground, away from fire, lightning, storage charges and taxes.

THE MAN THAT bought 1,000 shares of Standard Oil of California in 1912 has had 32,000 more shares handed to him. No one knows what that stock will be worth 20 years hence. But don't gamble.

Mr. Hearst's advice to this government is to fight, if it means to fight, or be friendly, if that is what it intends, but not to pursue a foolish policy of threatening and meddling.

MEXICO HAS A right to do as it pleases, with its own people, institutions and laws as we have. It is none of our business what Mexico does to Mexicans. Woodrow Wilson is dead, and we no longer consider ourselves responsible for the whole world, and bound to manage it all. The more we mind our own business, and let other countries mind theirs, the better for everybody.

SCIENTISTS ANNOUNCE that life on Venus is more probable than life on Mars. Martian animals, if any, must have light bodies and live on unsubstantial lichens and such foods. So says learned Dr. Coblentz of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, just back from the Lowell observatory at Flagstaff, Arizona. There is little water, not much oxygen on Mars, and great extremes of temperature, etc.

Most of this is scientific guessing. We have on this planet an aerobic life on a low scale elsewhere in space. Really high grade beings might even live on planets, rarified with the pure

SENSIBLE GIVING

It is quite an art to go through the Christmas season and pick out gifts that are worth making and that your friends will appreciate. In former years large amounts of money were not wisely spent. Of course people are usually pleased by almost any gift that is received, even if a thing is useless. It may appeal to some prevailing popular notion. But people have acquired better taste than formerly, and the stocks of goods carried by the stores reveal that fact very clearly.

There was a big demand some years ago, for instance, for very ornate parlor ornaments and bric-a-brac that served no use and had no real decorative value, but were florid and gorgeous without taste.

People in those days would give as presents very elaborate ornamental books, and the contents of many of these volumes were of little or no value. It was supposed that such books reposing on the parlor table gave an air of richness and culture.

But now the people who give books want something of real merit that will please intelligent people. In the average family now careful inquiry is made to find out what the people want. The selection is apt to be made from the suggestions offered by the prospective recipient. A great many substantial articles of clothing and household use are thus presented.

The number of women around the men's furnishing goods counters in the stores shows how many of them are making useful presents to the male member of the families. A gift that has beauty is always appropriate, though people who feel many urgent needs sometimes wish the money had been used for such pressing demands. But every home needs some touch of imagination, and that which does something to make the daily routine less burdensome.

SPEND AT HOME

Every time a dollar is spent in Daytona Beach it increases the community's collective buying power one dollar. This is an old argument, but it is so important and so valuable that it cannot be over-emphasized.

Winter Park recently felt the need of re-selling itself on the value of home-spent dollars and a dollar was set in motion in the home community just to see what it could accomplish. A record was kept of its pilgrimages from person to person, from store to shop, from office to bank, and so on.

That dollar changed hands 47 times in a single day. Had the dollar been sent out of town on its original purchase it would have depreciated Winter Park's buying power by 46 dollars. But by keeping the dollar circulating in the home town, it did the work of 47 dollars in one day.

LITTLE MISS SHARON ENTERTAINS WITH PARTY ON HER BIRTHDAY

A merry group of children gathered at the home of Judge and Mrs. James G. Sharon Wednesday afternoon when little Miss Jane Sharon entertained a number of her friends in celebration of her tenth birthday anniversary.

The spacious home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with quantities of poinsettias, wreaths of red and green and others Yuletide suggestions.

In the dining room, the refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth and covered with a gorgeous Christmas tree hung with tinsel, bright-colored ornaments and vari-colored lights. At the base of the tree were banked numerous red bags filled with candies and blowers, which were given as favors.

Surrounding the tree were 10 tall red Cathedral candles in green holly holders. At either end of the long table were large birthday cakes iced in white and trimmed with red, and topped with red hearts in the form of four leaf clovers. One cake was for Jane Sharon, while the other was for Helen Wilson, who celebrated her eleventh birthday on this date.

The afternoon passed quickly in games of all kinds which were played on the lawn, and late in the afternoon refreshments of ice cream, individual cakes as well as the birthday cake were served by Mrs. James G. Sharon, mother of hostess, her two grandmothers, Mrs. Jane Smith and Mrs. Ellen G. Sharon and aunt, Miss Ashton Thomas of DeLand.

ENJOYABLE CHILDREN'S PARTY IS GIVEN AT THE WOMAN'S CLUB

The annual Christmas party given by the members of the Literature Department of the Woman's Club and anticipated with much pleasure each year by children of the club members, was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. William McKinnon as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Anna Van Ness Brown, department chairman, Mrs. Carro Willis, Mrs. C. D. Wolfe and Mrs. C. F. Vincent. It was one of the cleverest and most enjoyable parties ever staged in Sanford.

The large club auditorium presented a festive appearance with numbers of baskets of poinsettias, holly and other cut flowers in the varying shades of red, as well as all kinds of holiday symbols. The huge colored electric lights, occupied a prominent position.

Placed about this and across the stage were armies of cunning Santa Clauses, in which lolly pops were concealed.

Games of all kinds dear to the childish heart, and the singing of carols caused the hours to pass quickly. The feature of the afternoon was the "puppet show," conducted by Mrs. C. D. Wolfe, in which the monkeys, dogs and other animals did their stunts in a most realistic manner, bringing forth rounds of applause from delighted youngsters.

After the "show," the children were seated in a large circle and refreshments of chocolate "lolly-pops," mallowmats, and tiny bottles of grape juice, in which were imitation sippers topped with Santa Claus heads. On each plate were snapper favors. The children were also each presented a lovely Santa Claus "Lolly-pop" doll.

This department is noted for its cordial hospitality and especially for the children parties, and the on this year far surpassed any of the many delightful affairs.

The parlors of red and white, mistletoe, as well as fully decorated and lighted Christmas trees were used in decoration of this attractive party. The lights glowed in red which cast a warm glow over the pretty evening. The refreshment table was laden with a lovely lace cloth and centered with a Christmas tree, and tiny electric lights. Our Windows Reveal New and Lovely Christmas Inspirations

DO YOUR SHOPPING EARLY IN DAY MRS. PATTERSON URGES

By Edith McClure-Patterson

There is a very simple way in which you can make your Christmas shopping easier and pleasanter, not only for yourself but for the overworked girls behind the counter.

That is, avoid the rush hours. Big stores are almost empty until about 10:30 or 11 a. m.—empty, that is, in comparison with what they become a few hours later.

The housewife can almost always plan her work so that she can take advantage of these slack hours. The advantages are obvious.

There are fewer people in the store. You don't have to jostle and rub elbows, wearing out your nervous system and exhausting your energy.

The salesgirls aren't so busy. Each one can devote more time to you.

Earlier on the Tupper

You have more time to make choices. You can spend an extra five minutes or so comparing the relative values of two pieces of merchandise, whereas you can't do it when the store is crowded.

It's easier on your temper and on the temper of the salesgirls.

People who are employed generally are able to shop only on Saturday afternoons, or at the noon-day lunch hour. If those who can shop at earlier hours would do so much of the Christmas shopping jam would be eliminated.

Here is another thing to remember in your Christmas shopping: Every delivery the store makes costs money and takes time.

When you buy several large packages, of course, the delivery system is a splendid thing to use; but where your purchase is a small one it saves trouble and expense all around if you take it with you.

Raises All Prices

It costs just as much, remember, to deliver a spool of thread as it does to deliver a kitchen stove. The merchant has no recourse but to add the cost of delivery to the price of his merchandise. So by eliminating unnecessary deliveries a large part of the cost of maintaining a delivery service is done away with, and prices are lower.

Here is another way to cut down on deliveries: Instead of going shopping several times a week, sit down in advance and list the things you want to buy. Then get them all at once.

Having a detailed list made out in advance also saves you much trouble when you reach the store. It saves your time and the time of the salesgirl when you have a fairly definite idea of just what you want.

One more thing: have an identification card with your name and address plainly listed. This enables clerks to get your name and address quickly and accurately, on a number of purchases saves a good deal of time.

Alleged Spies Are Arrested In Poland

WARSAW, Poland, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Poland's secret service agents near the frontier at Katowitz have arrested several Germans whom they accuse of being spies.

The agents said that papers had been found on the men showing that they employed illegally by Dr. Lukasech, German member of the International Control commission for upper Silesia.

The Polish authorities said the Germans had been spying on Polish frontier garrisons with fake diplomatic passports.

Defaulting Cashier Refuses To Tell Of Flight Movements

MEMPHIS, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Courtney Glisson, confessed defaulting assistant cashier of the Bank of Commerce and Trust company, who voluntarily returned last night after an international search of eight weeks had failed to locate him, was in the county jail here today in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Maintaining the same composure which characterized his voluntary return, Glisson refused today to tell where he had been or what his motive was in returning. He had previously admitted speculation of approximately $465,000 of the bank's funds.

The only request Glisson made to police officials who had him in charge last night was that no one be allowed to visit him except friends. He talked to two vice-presidents of the bank last night.

Glisson was believed to have expended the money in two private business ventures. W. T. Griffin, inspector of detectives, said after Glisson surrendered that he believed Glisson had not disposed of all the money. The audit conducted by the bank could not account for about $200,000 Mr. Griffin said.

NO. 2 KILGORE'S EXTRA SELECTED GLOBE

MARGLOBE has been grown in Florida in a limited way for a year or two and the main claim for it, is that it is resistant to nail-head rust and wilt. MARGLOBE is a second early, red fruited variety. Its plants are medium large, erect and fairly dense. It usually produces heavy yields of large, smooth, meaty globular fruits, which ripen uniformly around the stem and, resists cracking well and maintains good quality fruit throughout a relatively long picking season. CHARLIE CHAPLIN SHUNS THE AIR, TUNNEY NERVOUS

Famous Radio Announcer Recalls How Notables Have Taken To Air; Al Jolson Chummy With The "Mike"

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Radio announcers who introduce celebrities to the microphone may furnish future biographers with anecdotes of a new order.

Nils T. Grandlund, announcer of station WHN, who has called upon many notables for impromptu entertainments, has tales to tell about several of them.

For instance, Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of flatland, and Captain Charles Nungesser, flying ace of France, Grandlund says, were extremely uneasy during their first efforts at broadcasting.

Picking out prominent personalities at a banquet, ball or Broadway supper club, Grandlund introduces each briefly and hands him the "mike." The result is an extemporaneous program of songs, stories, speeches, stammers and stutters. Here are a few of the announcer's observations:

Al Jolson is chummy with the "mike." So much that he once used it to broadcast instructions for putting his adopted family to bed and for telling his dog at home to stop barking at its master's voice.

Charlie Chaplin makes a practice of declining invitations to broadcast his voice.

Captain Nungesser brought down 44 enemy airplanes in the war, but was so rattled before the microphone that he had to be constantly prompted.

Cantor Given Lesson
Jack Dempsey, having become somewhat of a veteran at broadcast casting, is fully at ease when called upon to say a few words.

An innovation was introduced by Grandlund in July, 1925, when he held the microphone to Dave Shadoe just before the latter's fight with Jimmy Slattery. "I am going out there to win just as quick as I can," Shadoe said, and ten minutes later he was back to tell the world, and particularly Mrs. Shadoe, that he had knocked out Slattery in the third round.

A willing entertainer has been found by Grandlund in "Sir" Joseph Ginzburg, a Broadway character who, the announcer says, once showed Eddie Cantor how to sing.

Cantor dropped into a studio to broadcast a few songs and stories. "Sir Joseph" was present and consented to contribute a solo for the instruction of the comedian. Cantor, who has had some experience with songs, so enjoyed the lesson that he was overcome with laughter.

Vera Cruz Will Be Next Stop Of U.S. Good Will Aviators

TAMPICO, Mexico, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Vera Cruz, 200 miles down the coast, is the next stop for the American good-will fliers. The time of their departure is dependent upon weather conditions, but Major H. A. Dargue, U. S. A. commander of the expedition, said he hoped to get away some time today.

The five big amphibian planes arrived here from Brownsville, Tex., at 6:30 o'clock last night after bucking a thirty mile wind which made difficult their 263 mile flight down the coast.

The fliers took off from the waters of Laguna Madre near Brownsville shortly before 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the start being delayed by fog. The planes were escorted in by two Mexican aviators. The Mexicans' plane overturned on landing, injuring a mechanic slightly.

After an enthusiastic welcome, the aviators were escorted into the city and later attended a banquet arranged in their honor.

British Racing Yachts Are To Be Altered

LONDON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—England's big racing yachts will be considerably altered in appearance before they appear next season. Among the best known of the many affected by the new rules of the Yacht Racing association are the Britannia, Lutworth, White Heather and Shamrock, the alterations being made to conform with new international racing. Boats over seventy feet must have their masts cut down and their sails reduced before they can race under the new measurement rules.

The Yacht Racing association requested that the national dinghies be made international. It has made great strides in the past two or three years, it is stated, and international races would make the interest still keener.

30 BOATS ARE SUNK
TOKYO, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Disasters from Mukpo, Korea, reported by fishing boats sunk in a heavy storm yesterday. A hundred fishermen were missing.

CHRISTMAS brings the time when one may send a kindly remembrance to the seldom seen friend who will be delighted to learn that he is not only not forgotten—but that he is valued—and that is a joyous Christmas morning thought.

The enrollment for the 1925-26 term was 342,976, compared with 286,197 for the 1924-25 term, or an increase of 54,860. In 1924-25, the enrollment of whites was 212,506 and 75,601 negroes.

The average attendance in 1925-26 was 11,439 more than that of 1924-25. That of 1925-26 was 250,400, and of 1924-25 it was 216,221, or 34,179 more.

In 1924-25, the high school attendance numbered 26,665. During the same term, 7,030 teachers taught in the school for whites, and 1,585 for negroes. The teachers drew a total of $6,207,576 in salaries for that term. The average monthly salaries paid teachers was $93.35 for all, with white males drawing $144.31; white females, $92.84; negro males, $72.71, and negro females, $48.01.

It cost the state of Florida $14,907,248 to operate its public schools in 1924-25, while $3,844,239 was spent for building and equipment, and salaries ranging from $1,200 to $6,300 were paid the county superintendents. Duval and Hillsborough counties are said to be paying their county superintendents the highest salaries of the state.

The total value of school property at the end of the 1925 term was fixed at $37,348,659.

The principal of the common school fund is now about $4,000,000.

Last year, the state distributed $566,773 from the state school fund, including the 1 mill tax.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day. Also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, hair pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Dr. Sells from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may get new life. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Dr. Sells is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.
