East-Hand Accounts Of Disaster Told As Rescue Boat Lands In St. Johns Harbor

ST. JOHNS, Mar. 24.—(AP)—The sealer Sagona, which was on the ice, steamed in St. Johns port today bearing survivors of the Viking disaster. Some were sick, one was dead. There were no shouts of greeting, no bustle as the ship berthed.

As the gang plank was lowered, the crew was met by a group of men who had been waiting for the survivors. Body Of Missing Man Is Found By Indians

MIAMI, Mar. 24.—(AP)—Three Seminole Indians, aiding in the search for Thomas Wentz, a wealthy Norristown, Pa. man, missing since Mar. 10, today found his body on the banks of the Everglades. Wentz apparently had been dead 10 days. There was no evidence of foul play. Wentz appeared after floating in a log raft for Miami. Authorities believe he became lost and starved to death. His body was found in a house where he might have found refuge and near which a log raft was found broken Saturday. Harry Wentz, 45, took charge of the body. He recently offered $5,000 reward for information leading to the discovery of Thomas dead or alive.

AUSTRIAN AND GERMAN PACT STIRS EUROPE

Fears Expressed That Economic Protocol May Be Forerunner To Political Union

PARIS, Mar. 24.—(AP)—Europe as a whole was doing a lot of worrying today over the Austro-German economic agreement which may be the first move, it is felt here, toward political union of Austria and Germany, thereby reopening the war wounds which Europe has been striving to heal. News of the customs accord between the two countries comes just at a time when League of Nations forces are in Paris for today's meeting which is expected to advance the project of Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, for a United States of Europe.

Briand's friends and the French press generally insist that the Austro-German agreement, which it is admitted will culminate in the suppression of all customs between Germany and Austria, will turn the Austrian market over to Germany, excluding goods of all other countries.

In some international quarters the Austro-German move is regarded as Germany's answer to the recent naval accord reached by France, Italy and Great Britain, which Germany is said to fear may lead to the loss of expected Italian support for revision of the war treaties and for a campaign toward reduction of the armies of France and her allies.

Both Germany and Austria are left free to conclude commercial treaties with other nations. But when such treaties are made Germany and Austria will conclude separate treaties, ratified documents concerning which would be exchanged simultaneously with the third power.

Yesterday's protocol characterizes the proposed customs union as initiating a new order in European economic conditions by means of regional treaties.

LONDON, Mar. 24.—(AP)—The threatened Austro-German customs union has aroused deep concern in official circles in Downing Street, though perhaps less excitement than in Paris, Prague and London, where it is feared the move foreshadows a political union between Austria and Germany.

Great Britain has not registered a protest against the customs union, as has previously been reported in some nations of the continent. Officially, here are being awaited further details of the proposed union, but it is believed that the British government will not object to the union.

It also was considered probable that the British government would raise $200,000,000 by this means to provide additional funds for loans to World War veterans.

It was reported that the British government had estimated the deficit would be $200,000,000.

WIFE BEATER IS LARGEST DOCKET GIVEN 10 LASHES BY COURT ORDER

BALTIMORE, Mar. 24.—(AP)—John Kowalski, a blacksmith, convicted of beating his ill wife, was given 10 lashes with a cat of nine tails whip by Sheriff Deegan in the city jail yesterday.

The blows were light, on orders of Criminal Court Judge Eugene O'Dunne, and the chief, visible reaction of Kowalski, the third man to undergo the punishment in Maryland in 11 years, was a half grin. He said nothing either before or after the lashing, and evinced no signs of nervousness.

Afterward Kowalski left the jail in a 1924 automobile, the remainder of a 20-day additional sentence having been suspended by Judge O'Dunne in the court.

CONVICT SAYS HE PAID MONEY FOR FREEDOM

Tells Probe Committee That His Parole Cost Him $2,000.00; Raps Pardon Board

JOLIET, Ill., Mar. 24.—(AP)—A convict serving time for bank robbery told a legislative committee investigating the twin Joliet prisoners yesterday that he had paid $2,000 for a parole from an unexpired sentence.

Yet 11 months after he was set free, he was re-arrested and returned to a cell, Joseph D. Moran said.

Speaking under a pledge of legislative protection, Moran whined in the witness chair, pointed to members of the state parole board and said "you're the cause of all this trouble in the prisons."

"Rotten to the core," he said of all pardon and parole boards since 1918 when he came here. "For 12 years I've served time here for a crime they know I did not commit."

"Ward Thompson, the board member who died, sat there and told me 'Joe, I know you didn't commit the crime you're charged with, but if you'd time for all the crimes you are supposed to have committed, you'd be here a long time.'"

"I paid $2,000 for my parole to a former board member whose name I won't give. Colvin (another member) tried to stop it, but he got his orders from higher up."

"I was paroled out of the state after serving six years and three months, and was re-arrested after I had been out 11 months, because I stepped back into the state, and I have been here since. I was informed that an out of the state parole expired in six months, but I was not allowed to leave the state of Illinois."

He told his story after the committee had clashed heatedly over the question of permitting convicts' testimony to be published in newspapers.

HERE TOMORROW

Connie Mack, the veteran manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, World's Champions, who brings 33 players to Sanford for a game at Municipal Park tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

CONNIE MACK AND OUTFIT WILL BE HERE TOMORROW

Athletics Will Stage Exhibition Game At Local Ball Diamond

Big-league baseball will be seen in Sanford Wednesday. Only a few hours remain before Connie Mack and his World's Champion Philadelphia Athletics will go into action at Municipal Park in the annual "blood" game between the first and second teams, brought to Sanford this year through the efforts of Floyd A. Palmer, and members of the Campbell-Lossing trust of the American Legion.

Advance reports indicate that a large crowd of Central Florida baseball fans will be on hand tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 o'clock to greet the colorful Mack and his 35 baseball players. Ticket sales have mounted rapidly since Saturday, newspapers in several cities in central Florida have carried stories concerning the game, and a large delegation of Orlando fans have promised to be on hand.

Warm, clear weather is promised by the weatherman, to help make the day a success.

More than 40 Sanford merchants have signified their intention of closing their business houses from 2:30 o'clock until 5:00 o'clock to allow their employees the opportunity of seeing the game.

The players will arrive in Sanford in the early morning hours, and will remain in their Pullmans, which will be parked at First Street and Oak Avenue, until shortly after 8:00 o'clock. After breakfast, they will be taken to the Semole High School where Connie Mack will introduce the players to the school children of the city at chapel exercises beginning at 10:00 o'clock.

Mr. Mack, Jimmie Foxx, Eddie Collins and several others, will then be the guests of the Sanford Kiwanis Club at its luncheon at the Montezuma Hotel. The players will dress at the Valdes Hotel, and go to the ball park at about 2:00 o'clock, to allow an hour's practice. They leave Sanford by bus for Orlando at 6:45 o'clock.

It will be the first visit of the Athletics to Sanford since March 1927 when they defeated the Indianapolis Indians by a 3 to 2 score. Mickey Cochrane, Jimmy Dykes, and Joe Foley are the only players who played here before who will be here tomorrow.

The first team will be made up of Mickey Cochrane behind the bat; Lefty Grove, pitching; Jimmie Foxx at first base; Max Blashop at second base; Jimmy Dykes at third base; Joe Foley at short stop; Mule Haas in center field; Bing Miller in right field; and Bob Johnson in left field.

The second team will be led by Lefty Grove, pitching; Mule Haas at first base; Williams at second; Higgins at third; McNair at short; Craner, Moore, and Pinnay in the outfield.

GOLF CLUB CITY SHOWS GREAT ASSETS

Report Made To Commission Discloses That Club Is Most Economical In State

Visible proof that the Sanford Country Club is the most economically operated golf club in Florida, and that under the leadership of its present board of directors it is one of the most vital assets of the City of Sanford was revealed at the bi-monthly meeting of the City Commission last night at the City Hall when Albert T. White, secretary and treasurer of the organization read the annual report of operations.

"At a total expenditure of less than $6,700, part of which was raised by public subscription, and part by a maintenance fund created by the City, 8,827 rounds of golf were played from Apr. 1, 1930 to Mar. 31, 1931, slightly more than 22 each day, or an average cost per round of less than 80 cents.

The golf report was the first of several matters brought to the attention of the Commission. Following its disposal, the Commission, in rapid order, provided payment of a $118 bill incurred by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce in the printing of 5,000 booklets advertising Sanford, raising the maintenance rate to $1.50, the minimum water supply, 4,233 gallons, read and passed an ordinance creating an aviation board of three who are to have powers to be conferred any time a resolution which offers to the United States Veterans Bureau the Marine Hotel and grounds for use as a veterans' home, and a resolution which offers to the city a bill of DeCotton, a realtor's fee for their services in City litigation in Florida courts, was not

AT THE CAMPS

ST. PETERSBURG, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Tom Zachary, a former Yankee, and Fred Frankhouse held the New York Yankees to six hits yesterday while the Boston Braves pounded out a 9 to 2 victory in their exhibition game yesterday. Zachary burlied seven innings in fine style and dove in two runs with a single in the second inning. The Braves touched big Jim Weaver for five runs in the second and third innings then added four more off Vernon Gomes in the eighth as Red Worthington tripped with the bases full. Gehrig and Lester scored the Yankee runs, each getting a triple and scoring on infield outs. The score by innings: Boston 022 000 040—5 15 0 New York 000 100 100—2 6 1 Zachary, Frankhouse and Cool, Cronin; Weaver, Gomes and Jergens.

MIAMI, Mar. 23.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns bowed for the second straight day to the Toledo Mudhens of the American association, but made more of a contest of it than Saturday. A home run by "Bert" Lehoureau, first up in the ninth, decided the issue. Five St. Louis errors, two by Blasholder, in the eighth inning ruined the Browns' chances. Lehoureau, of the Browns, hit for the circuit in the fifth with the bases "unpopulated." The score by innings: St. Louis 011 010 220—7 14 0 Toledo 101 003 021—3 13 2 Stewart, Blasholder and Ferrell, Cronin; Mays, Rabb, Tate and Devarmer, Kles.

HAVANA, Cuba, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Fifteen thousand Cubans jammed the tropical stadium here yesterday to see the Brooklyn regulars defeat the recruits, 2 to 1. Cubans figured largely in the offensive and defensive features of the six scoreless innings for the regulars and Al Lopez, young Cuban catcher, singled in the eighth and scored the regulars' first run on a double by Freddy Heimach. Ramirez, a new Cuban recruit, tied the score in the first half of the ninth when he was safe on Thompson's error, went to second on an infield out and scored on Lombard's single. Hits by O'Dool, Blasholder and Thompson won the game for the regulars in the last half of the ninth inning. The score by innings: Brooklyn 000 000 000—1 0 1 Havana 000 000 011—2 13 2 Cronin, Gomez and Lombard; Heimach and Lopez.

GRAND LINES TO EUROPE SEEN BY ECKENER

Master Of Graf Zeppelin Says Flights Will Be Frequent

MIAMI, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, master of the Graf Zeppelin, said at a conference of officials of the International Zeppelin Transportation Corporation yesterday that trips to Europe and back with a week's time will be commonplace in 10 years. The conference, called to discuss plans for a trans-Atlantic Zeppelin line, was held aboard the yacht Lotoland, owned by Col. E. A. Douds, who said the meeting was held here because he was unable to go to New York at this time. Accompanying Dr. Eckener to Miami was a conference with J. C. Humacher, vice president of the International Zeppelin Transportation Corporation; Joseph P. Ripley, vice president of the National City Company; and William von Meister, representing the Maybach Engine Company. Dr. Eckener said his various transoceanic flights with the Graf Zeppelin during the past few months had been successful. He said the plan, as outlined, would be to cut in half at least the present time required to make the trip in two and one-half days. Leg stations affecting air travel in various countries, financing and other factors will be considered before operation of the proposed line can be started, Dr. Eckener said. Express and mail transportation would be available on the air line as well as passenger service, Dr. Eckener pointed out. He said construction had been started in Friedrichshafen, Germany, on a new dirigible which could be used in the proposed trans-Atlantic service. The new ship is expected to be completed late in 1932, said Dr. Eckener. He asserted it would be 612 feet long. Following the meeting yesterday, the dirigible was being taken to a town near Stuttgart. They planned to remain overnight on the Lotoland.

National Spelling Week

There are special days for this thing and special weeks for that thing until almost everything under the sun has a special time set aside for observing it. We have Baseball Week, Be-Kind-To-Animals Week, Waste Week, Good Health Day, Pay-Up Week, Laugh Day, Mother's Day and Father's Day, Fire Prevention Week, and Forest Protection Week. Why not a National Spelling Week?

Ever since we can remember we have heard much about poor spelling. It used to be that the old time spelling books accomplished a lot toward teaching this art. Spelling contests in schools used to be great things but it seems as if in later years more time has been given to teaching higher subjects to the detriment of the most important of them all.

Newspaper offices especially recognize the need of better spelling. Scarcely a mail is received in the office of newspaper publications that some letter or article does not come along so badly written and with words so poorly spelled that it is scarcely possible to decipher it. Articles sent newspapers for publication often contain innumerable inaccurately spelled words. What's wrong? Who's to blame for this condition?

The time has gone when the blame can be placed on the lack of schools. In this day of opportunity there are no children who don't have a chance to learn how to spell. Probably as much stress is not placed on this subject as there used to be, but surely it must still be considered of some importance.

Why not inaugurate a year for good spelling, when special contests can be held, old time spelling bees and various spelling competitions employed in a general all-year training along this line? Would not a drive of this kind be worth while?

Let's emphasize the importance of being able to spell during the coming year and then see what happens.

A Question Of News

The old story about the reporter who was sent out to cover a city commission meeting but soon returned and declared, "There is no story; the meeting broke up in a fight," was enacted again when Ray Long, editor of the Cosmopolitan, gave a dinner in honor of the Russian Communist, Boris Pilyak. The guests were largely literary folk who spoke at length in generous flights of oratory.

That, however, as the Miami Herald insists, "was not news. The event would have been dismissed with a few lines in the social columns except for one little incident. Sinclair Lewis, who slapped the United States in the face when he accepted the Nobel prize for literature, was himself slapped by Theodore Dreiser, author of 'The American Tragedy,' in resenting the charge he had stolen from a book by Mrs. Lewis. The row was just a mild expression of an emotional impulse. Obeying the scriptural injunction, Lewis turned the other cheek and was promptly slapped again. That ended the row.

But that slap was news. It was action. It turned the spotlight on an important dinner that would have otherwise been ignored. It may sell more books for both authors. The old question as to what is news receives another answer. When writers meet it is not news. When one slaps another, it is news."

TELLING THE WORLD

ON THE USE OF CHILDREN

That children should be used and not abused is an axiom we understand on good authority, of the modern school of child-raising.

Half-raising child-raising where in bogie-men and paddy-whack figure largely is supposedly out of date, love and interest are the ingredients by which the twig is bent so that the tree may realize its aim.

Let's define love, in accordance with what the brightest heathen think is a wise humanity the Chinese say, "Love begins where Passion ends." This may be taken in one sense as an argument against love, or as a subtle definition of love.

The eternal question, which has kept many couples from Cleopatra and Mark Antony, backward and forward, in a state of argumentative suspense, is usually expressed in the title of the popular song: "What is this thing called love?" The answers have been many. The Freudian school answers the query thus: "Love is when I ain't." They further assert that love is a complex which gets its name from the Greek word for it.

The Chinese school, so far as we can learn from ancient Chinese records, defines love as a state of mind which is characterized by a certain amount of self-interest. They further assert that love is a complex which gets its name from the Greek word for it.

The Greek school, so far as we can learn from ancient Greek records, defines love as a state of mind which is characterized by a certain amount of self-interest. They further assert that love is a complex which gets its name from the Greek word for it.

The English school, so far as we can learn from ancient English records, defines love as a state of mind which is characterized by a certain amount of self-interest. They further assert that love is a complex which gets its name from the Greek word for it.

Father: It hurts me more than it does you, Al, but you came home with marks on your plume instead of your report card and the rumor is that Bertrams, your teacher, is irked. How come?

Al: I cannot tell a lie, Father. Teacher is a fossil type, dug from antiquarian days. We moderns know best. Learning lessons is a pain in the neck.

Father: Better a pain in the neck, my boy, than elsewhere.

Al: That, as my moon teacher Euclid says, remains to be demonstrated.

Father: Take down your legs, my child. It hurts me more than it does you.

Thereupon, standing in an attitude, the father, a Alchibides turned the proceedings and liberally administered that species of discipline known to the ancients as the "cercus of the sandal."

As the youthful Alchibides departed for school his father remarked kindly, "School lessons are important, my child, but the most important lessons are learned at home—perhaps on the parental knee. It is often kind to be cruel to your children." "Dad, I hurt now."

The Greek had a word for it. The word was discipline.

TAX REVENUE

Heretofore efforts have been made to increase revenue by increasing the number of taxes and by increasing the rates on existing taxes. It is suggested that the legislature take the following steps:

NEW REVENUE

After putting into effect the above mentioned suggestions for economy and for reallocation of funds, in order to entirely eliminate state ad valorem taxes and to carry out our suggestions with reference to schools, it will be necessary to have some new revenue. We recommend that this revenue be secured from the following sources:

(a) An increase in license taxes on professional men such as lawyers, physicians, druggists, accountants, engineers and architects. There are 7,500 professional men in the state.

(b) A general revision of the occupational license taxes, so as to include many businesses which have sprung up within the last 20 years, and which pay no license tax except $3 in the "catch all" provision of the license tax law.

(c) We propose an annual license tax on notaries public of $5 per year.

(d) An annual capital stock or license tax upon corporations, graduated.

(e) An annual license tax upon all signs and billboards within 200 feet of any highway, of five cents per square foot, with a minimum tax of each sign of $1.

(f) A tax upon intangibles with different rates for different classes.

(g) A excise tax on public utilities companies.

(h) A tax upon inheritance in accordance with the constitutional amendment adopted last November. It is estimated that this tax will produce between two and three million dollars per annum. We have heretofore recommended that $2,500,000 of the present revenue going to the state road department be allocated so that the same may be used to eliminate state ad valorem taxes. Should it be found desirable or necessary that in lieu of this sum of money other money be appropriated to the state road department, we recommend that the inheritance tax be apportioned to the state road department.

The ordinary functions of the state government must go on, and the budget should be based on definite and certain income. It is not a safe governmental policy to base the budget for ordinary state purposes upon revenue, the amount of which will depend upon the number and wealth of the people who die.

The above suggestions and recommendations for economy and reallocation of funds and new revenue, total a sum in excess of the amount necessary to eliminate the state ad valorem taxes. After the amount of money necessary to run the state government has been definitely fixed and determined by the appropriation bill, we then propose that all excess revenue be used for the purpose of carrying out the recommendations hereinafter made with reference to schools.

RECOMMENDATIONS

We have heretofore determined that one of the first steps in our program of school reform is to take the burden of the state ad valorem taxes largely contributed toward the maintenance of the county school system, thereby eliminating some of the local taxes for that purpose.

In the consideration of this problem we must make a clear distinction between the state school fund, mentioned in section 4 of article 12 of the constitution, and the county school fund, mentioned in section 9 of article 12 of the constitution.

The power of the legislature to make appropriations to the state school fund has never been questioned. However, when such appropriations are made to the state school fund, the income of the state school fund is reduced, and the income of the county school fund is increased.

We have heretofore recommended that the state ad valorem taxes be eliminated and that the revenue therefrom be used to carry out the recommendations hereinafter made with reference to schools.

The first step in this program with reference to schools is for the legislature to provide for a uniform system of free public schools. It is the primary duty of the state to make provision whereby every boy and girl in the state, from the large counties and the small counties, the rich counties and the poor counties, will be given the opportunity for the fundamentals of an education.

THE TRAGEDY OF THE GREAT ADVISURE

There is no such limitation as the "county school fund" mentioned in section 9. This fund shall consist of:

- First—Of the interest on the state school fund, and
- Second—The one mill state tax apportioned to the counties.
- Third—All "capitation" taxes collected within the county.
- Fourth—All appropriations by the legislature.
- Fifth—The local county tax for school purposes authorized by section 8, and
- Sixth—Any and other county school taxes which may be designated by law.

The only limitation as to the apportionment and distribution of the county school fund is that the same "shall be made by general law, based upon some declared principle of classification, to be determined by the legislature."

education. By the state law largely contributing to the county school fund, and apportioning the same upon a reasonable basis of classification, as hereinafter outlined, the primary purpose will be accomplished:

1. The elimination of some of the local taxes for schools in the counties which are all added to the state school fund, and the transfer of the same to the county school fund, so that the county school fund will be increased by the amount of the same.

2. The program would make possible the maintenance of a minimum school term of six months, and the transfer of the same to the state an opportunity for the fundamentals of an education. We do not intend to make any recommendation for the allocation of the same to the two cents per gallon gasoline tax now levied as a school tax, and being used for the purpose of assisting counties and districts in paying their indebtedness. In the event should appear desirable, any portion of the same may be reallocated or appropriated for other purposes, then recommended that the same be appropriated to the county school fund, to be apportioned upon the principle of classification herein above proposed.

Tom Thumb Wedding Is Staged in School

With Miss Trussie McKee as director and Mrs. Burke Steele, assisting, the Jack and Jill Kindergarten presented a "Tom Thumb Wedding" at the Southside Primary School last Thursday. The affair opened with "To A Wild Rose" rendered by Mrs. W. M. McKinnon at the piano and Miss Charlotte Nix, violinist.

The following guests at the wedding entered and were announced by L. M. Walter Hayes, as the minister, then entered and was followed by Herbert MacLellan, the groom, and Katherine Spencer, the bride. After Virginia Chapman, as the mother, appeared, the following bridesmaids and groomsmen entered: Katherine Wiggins, Martha Anderson, Nancy Collins, Valarie Wells and Charles Coleman, Morene Owens, Carolyn Roler, and Doris Swindle. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 22.

The Golden Text was from Isaiah 42:3, "I am the Lord; that is my name, and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. And the higher individuality and destiny" (p. 265-266).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The pains of sense are voluntary. If they wrench away false pleasurable beliefs and transplant the affections from sense to Soul, where the creations of God are good, 'rejoicing the heart.' Spaniards Receive Personal Rights By Decree Of Premier MADRID, Mar. 24. (AP)—For the first time since Primo de Rivera revoked constitutional guarantees in 1925, Spaniards yesterday had a free press, the right of free speech and assembly and protection from invasion of their homes without search warrants.

These guarantees were restored in a decree prepared by Premier Aznar, assigned by King Alfonso while he was in London recently and returned to the premier by air mail.

The people received the news quietly and there was no outward indication that the old order had changed. This was the usual Sunday holiday but there were no newspapers and the effects of removal of press censorship were not immediately apparent.

The move is a preliminary to municipal and parliamentary elections which are to be held this spring and next summer.

32 Physicians Report Findings On New Sargon

So remarkable have been the results accomplished by Sargon in helping restore health to countless thousands of people that during the past thirty days alone, thirty-two leading physicians have broken the rule of a life-time and have come out openly and publicly to give their unqualified endorsement.

So startling have been the reports in many thousands of cases that selected physicians in principal cities were expressly retained to study the Sargon formula and report their findings so that the public might know the whole truth.

Outstanding among the number are:

Dr. P. K. Drummond, plant physician for the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, for 12 years.

Dr. C. J. Roberts, Philadelphia—Residing in Philadelphia for the Pennsylvania Railroad for 26 years.

Dr. W. L. Mair—Graduate McGill University Faculty of Medicine, Montreal—Medical Examiner for Sears-Roebuck, Detroit.

Dr. G. Warburton—Graduate famous Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York.

Dr. Eugene Perkins—Physician for Western Electric Company, Philadelphia.

Dr. W. W. Kern—Examining Physician for New York Life Insurance Company—and many others.

In order that the public may receive the full benefit of the advice of these well-known physicians, their report will be published in later issues of this paper. The statements of physicians of such standing are perhaps without precedent. Study their reports and profit by their advice.

Sold by Lane's Drug Store, 445.
