Book drive benefits SHS reading students

SANFORD — The Seminole High School PTSA is again working with the school's Literacy Council to collect used books to give to reading students.

The first distribution of books will occur Dec. 8 and 9, so organizers are eager to receive book donations beginning now and continuing throughout the school year.

The effort will accept middle and high school level books and above, fiction or nonfiction.

The PTSA and the Literacy Council plan to do a second book distribution in the spring. The groups need donations of books to make this project a success, said Kelly Meahl of the SHS English Department.

People can drop off gently used books at the front desk during school office hours.

SANFORD — On Halloween night downtown merchants lined 1st Street as "The Monster Mash" and other spooky songs filled Magnolia Square and children, dressed in their costumes, collected candy.

The city of Sanford in conjunction with Target put on Spooky Hollow on 1st Street where an estimated 1,500 children trick-or-treated with downtown merchants at one time.

City officials said in past years the Sanford

Civic Center has put on a Halloween event, and several years ago when 1st Street had a Mainstreet group, they had a similar event. Mayor Linda Kuhn said this year, because the Civic Center event had gotten so big, they decided to combine the two events.

"They've done a fantastic job," Kuhn said at the event.

She was dressed up as the "mayor" in sweat pants and a sweatsuit, and joined her family in the trick-or-treating fun. Her 2-year-old grandson,

Permits protect Tree City

By Steve Paradis

SANFORD — City personnel conducted an analysis of trees in a Sanford park a couple of weeks ago when they spotted a felled oak tree on a residential property nearby.

According to Elizabeth Vanlandingham, there appeared to be nothing wrong with the tree. And therein lies the problem, said the city's new urban forester. Residents must obtain a permit to cut down trees in Sanford.

Vanlandingham has started trying to educate residents about the need for permits. The permit is only $10, she added.

"Sanford is a tree city," she said Monday. "We have been for 18 years. We want to keep our trees, if possible."

To be a Tree City USA, the community must meet four standards set by The National Arbor Day Foundation: establish a Tree Board, which is underway; have a tree care ordinance, which the city has but may revisit; a community forest program, which is being studied; and an annual observance of Arbor Day, which is being planned.

The program is supported by the USDA Forest Service, and Vanlandingham said the city has received grant money for trees this year. With grants, the city will purchase 260 right-of-way trees and also receive a GPS track-

Reclaimed water service irregular after hurricane

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — The city of Sanford reclaimed water service will be interrupted intermittently for the next few days, the city said Friday.

The impact of Hurricane Wilma at the city's water reclamation facility is preventing Sanford from providing regular reclaimed water service to its over 1,000 users.

"The city is working diligently in resolving the problems and hopes to reestablish reclaimed water service by the end of next week," a news release said.

City Manager Sherman Yehl wrote in his Friday Letter to city commissioners that the rainfall from Hurricane Wilma added to an already high groundwater level. The situation caused increased flow to the wastewater treatment facility due to the infiltration/inflow into the collection system, Yehl wrote.

Utility Manager Bill Marcus said Monday that they hoped to have it working properly later that afternoon.

SANFORD — Seminole Community College and continual growth prove to be synonymous here in Central Florida.

On Oct. 26, SCC celebrated its Groundbreaking Ceremony for the Center for Economic Development at Heathrow, scheduled to open in March 2007.

The Center is located on 6.1 acres of property donated by The Pizzuti Companies and Newport Partners XIV, Ltd. Ron Pizzuti, chairman and CEO of Pizzuti Companies accepted a plaque honoring his donation and assistance in making the Center a reality for SCC.

"I'm a big fan of community colleges," Pizzuti said. "I live in an area where they are very important, as they are in Central Florida."

Strategically located off of AAA Drive, The Center has an initial advantage of being in the heart of Heathrow's high-tech business community, the I-4 Corridor. Prestigious neighbors will include major companies, such as, AAA, Bank One, and Dixon Ticonderoga.

Sally Sherman, SCC alumnus and deputy manager for Seminole County, said: "The groundbreaking today for the SCC Heathrow site is a project that is going to create a win-win for our region."

Grandmother wants thieves out

By Liane Edixon

SANFORD — Local resident Janett Goolsby of West 10th Street wants Sanford thieves to stay out of her neighborhood.

Goolsby's 1993 Dodge Shadow was stolen on Oct. 16, from in front of her apartment, and she said it is not the first thing to get stolen from her neighborhood.

Goolsby said on that morning she went to a friend's house to borrow a few bucks for gas.

"When I got back my car was gone," Goolsby said. "I couldn't believe it. I left it, and here we go — it was gone."

Sanford Police Department officers found Goolsby's car a few days later at the Super Wal-Mart on Rinehart Road. It had about a quarter of a tank, so the thieves must have put gas in the tank, Goolsby said.

Goolsby, although upset about the nuisances, said whoever stole her car was obviously going for a joy ride.

There were three major things wrong with the Dodge Shadow, Goolsby said, that makes her think the thieves dumped the car. She said her car has no power steering, no air conditioning and no radio or CD player. Apparently, a

Survivor to address Kristallnacht

MAITLAND — Ernest Michel will serve as keynote speaker this year as the Central Florida community marks the 67th anniversary of Kristallnacht (Night of Broken Glass).

The program, open to the entire community, will begin at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 7, at the Holocaust Memorial Resource and Education Center located on the Jewish Community Campus at 851 N. Maitland Ave., Maitland. There is no admission cost.

Kristallnacht is the night the world glimpsed a prelude of the Holocaust. On Nov. 9 and 10, 1938, the government of Nazi Germany organized and carried out against the Jewish community a massive act of state-sponsored violence — the very definition of a "pogrom". Led by party officials and storm troopers, mobs looted and burned 267 synagogues. More than 7,500 businesses were vandalized and 91 Jews were killed outright.

Among those who bore witness to this night of horror was Ernest Michel, a young German Jew. A survivor of Nazi concentration camps, Michel was born in Germany and sent to his first camp in 1939 at age 16. He escaped from a death march from Auschwitz before the end of World War II.

After the war, Michel worked as a special correspondent for the German News Agency DANA where he covered the Nuremberg War Crimes Trial. His articles carried the byline, "Auschwitz Survivor #104995," and appeared in all German newspapers. Michel arrived in the United States as a displaced person in 1946.

Since Michel's arrival in the United States, he has served for 19 years as the executive vice president of the Jewish Federation in New York.

He chaired the first World Gathering of Jewish Holocaust Survivors in Israel and the first Auschwitz Memorial Dinner in the United States, and has held leadership roles in many other Jewish or Holocaust-related organizations.

Michel is author of "Promises to Keep", published by Barricade Books, in which he recounts the trials and tribulations of his early life, as well as the successes of his later years.

The Holocaust Memorial Center is open Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.; Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Friday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. There is no admission charge. For information, call 407-628-0555.

ing system to help with arbor planning.

Vanlandingham said part of the grant money includes planting trees at the entrance to the marina north shore as well.

If someone removes a tree without a permit, city ordinance says they shall replace the tree on a 6-to-1 basis. If that is impractical, the violator is supposed to pay a fine, but Vanlandingham is assessing that to see if something more enforceable can be implemented.

"We received a call last week from a woman who wants to remove trees because aesthetically she just thinks there's too many trees," Vanlandingham said. "Proper pruning and some cleaning up can solve some of these problems."

Residents and builders can go to the city's Web site at www.ci.sanford.fl.us, then click on publications and scroll down to engineering and planning forms where they can click on arbor permit requirements.

Vanlandingham will soon distribute leaflets educating people about proper pruning and planting practices. She is also working on getting a flag or sign to designate Sanford as a Tree City USA. She has only been in the position since Oct. 12, so it will take a little time, she said.

People should call the city if there are any questions about trees in the right of way on streets, she said.

"If there is a hazard or danger we're more than happy to take care of that," Vanlandingham said. Once people obtain a permit, the city comes out to look at the tree in question and do an evaluation. The permits are really for removal, rather than pruning, she added.

"We had a lot of calls before Wilma," she said referring to the South Florida hurricane that brought some wind and rain to Sanford last week. People who see hangers, or dead limbs, out over a street or sidewalk should call the city to report it.

With the GPS system, the city will be able to better assess where damaged trees are located and also help locate where new trees can be planted, she said.

"We're going to try to be proactive, rather than reactive," Vanlandingham said, noting that the hurricanes from the summer 2004 taught the city something about that notion.

To receive a free Tree City USA booklet, call 402-474-5655 or send an email to treecity@arborday.org.

Criteria for tree removal

City of Sanford

- The tree is located where a structure or improvement is to be placed and said tree unreasonably restricts the permitted use of the property.
- The tree is dead, diseased, injured, or in danger of falling.
- The tree is too close to existing or proposed structures so as to endanger such structures.
- The interferes with utility services.
- The tree creates unsafe vision clearance.

The Central Florida Motorcycle Drill Team celebrates.

JZ Riders of Sanford receives team world championship cup

By Liane Edixon
Herald Staff

SANFORD — The Central Florida Motorcycle Drill Team presented its sponsor, Jerry Zebrowsky, owner of JZ Riders Custom Motorcycles in Sanford, with the World Championship Cup just prior to the team's show at Sanford's "Thunder in the Streets" bike festival in October.

The team is the current World Champions of the International Drill Team Federation for 2005-2006. Over Labor Day weekend the team competed at the world championship competition in Nashville, Tenn.

Team member Greg Fisk won the best all around individual championship this year, and the team also placed second for the Best in Show Award.

"Our team is very unique in that we are the only team in the United States who combine Harley Davidson Ultra Classics, Classics and Road Glides, and Honda Goldwings on the same team," Team Member Jim Cornell said. "We promote the sport of motorcycling and the safety of how to ride and enjoy this wonderful sport."

The team has performed in front of hundreds, Cornell wrote in an e-mail. The team, which has been together since November 2004, traveled to Branson, Mo.; Rockingham, N.C.; Venice, Fla.; NASA Space Center; Nashville, Tenn.; Naples, Fla.; Crestview, Fla.; Fort Lauderdale; Daytona Beach and Melbourne this year to perform.

Members of the team perform for charity events for the Christian Motorcycle Association, Budweiser "Bud Man Poker Run", ABATE Birthday Salute, and the DeBary Parade, to name a few.

The group is a non-profit organization, with most of their expenses coming directly from the pockets of the 14 team members.

a top notch facility that people from around the region are going to want to visit and replicate. We're very pleased to have this project here in Seminole County."

The Heathrow location will consist of 65,000 square feet of high-tech space. "Ninety percent will be classroom and student related," SCC President E. Ann McGee said. "The idea is that it will be a one stop shop."

SCC Corporate College will be relocated to the new facility and potentially SCC's award-winning Interior Design Program, Associates in Arts and Science will be offered, as well as new programs in Constructional Design and Architectural Rendering. All new classrooms will be equipped with wireless network access.

The University of Central Florida will also be affiliated with the new location — a continuation of a growing partnership between SCC and UCF. Many UCF classes can now be taken at SCC's Sanford/Lake Mary campus. According to UCF Vice Provost Dave

Harrison, UCF will offer programs that will be "targeted at high skill, high wage jobs".

Harrison acknowledges there will be some undergraduate programs offered but a big part of the focus will be on master's type programs.

"A lot of our students work up here or up and down I-4," Harrison said. "So, this is going to be tremendous access from a student's perspective but then it also puts a person right here, literally, in the backyard of some of the most prominent employers."

The Seminole County Regional Chamber of Commerce will share space in the new SCC Heathrow Building.

Diane Parker, who has been the president of the chamber for more than 15 years, was excited to be a part of the Heathrow project.

"We've been probably working on this project for six years plus. This has been a dream and a vision come true," Parker said. "The key to this whole project is that we've become kind of a role model and an icon for economic development."

Speakers for the event included Florida Rep. David Meador, Florida Rep. David Simmons, Seminole County Commission Chairman Carlton Henley, SCC Board of Trustees Chairman, Verdell Pugh and SCC Board of Trustees member Sid Miller.

McGee praised Miller for his key role in the Center.

"Sid took this on as a full time job for awhile. This center was Sid's vision," McGee said.

The Center for Economic Development at Heathrow is one of many projects in the works for SCC.

In January, SCC will be breaking ground once again on a new campus, this location in Altamonte Springs near Maitland Boulevard. In early 2006, a new fire training program is set to begin in partnership with the county and local fire department.

Thieves

CD was left in her car, and the police dusted it for fingerprints.

"I guess they decided, 'Why did we steal this clunker?'" Goolsby said in an interview at her home.

Goolsby, who is a Seminole County school crossing guard, said this is the first time she's ever had a car stolen. For 14 years she rode a bicycle around town, until a friend sold her the Dodge for a reasonable price.

"I have to say this is a new experience for me," she said.

Goolsby, 75, was always a housewife, and has been living off her husband's social security. Her husband died in the early 1990s. She just recently went to work as a crossing guard part-time, and had to miss a week of work because she did not have transportation.

Whoever took her car busted a small window in the backseat, knocked out her dome light, and tore up her ignition.

Goolsby's mechanic was able to show her how to start her car with a screwdriver, because she cannot use her key anymore. The mechanic said it will cost almost $200 to fix the ignition, so Goolsby said she's waiting to get it fixed when she gets her next check.

Whoever stole Goolsby's car also stole her crossing guard vest, stop sign, hat and raincoat. She had to get those items reissued to her by her employer.

Goolsby said she couldn't figure out why they would steal her work uniform.

"Unless they're going to go out as crossing guards on Halloween," she added.

Neighbors of Goolsby's told her that they saw three young teenagers hanging out near her home a few days prior to the theft of her car. She said she thinks it was them, and that her neighbors are able to identify them.

Other petty crimes going on in her neighborhood, she said, are stolen food from different neighbor's freezers, and other stolen items such as lamps and chairs from porches.

Goolsby said if the police do find out her stole her car, she would rather the judge make them work to pay money into the crime victim's fund, instead of facing jail time, if they are kids.

She wants whoever did it to realize the hardship it caused her from missing work.

"They need to replace or repair whatever they steal," Goolsby said.

Goolsby said she loves living in Sanford, but is getting frustrated with petty crimes.

"You get sick and tired of people not respecting what other people have," she said.

But Goolsby said she's blessed. She has three children, five grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

"I didn't think I'd ever live to see great-grandchildren," Goolsby said.

Goolsby said because of the crime in her neighborhood, the community is going to start a neighborhood watch.

"But, I'm just thankful [my car] came back in workable condition," she said.

Health care for children.
And sleuths.

We have a vision for the children of Central Florida — to build a different kind of hospital. Unlike others, Nemours doesn't operate as a division of a community hospital. Our entire organization is dedicated solely to children's health. That frees us to provide a level of care that's as unique as well every kid we see.

The city does have a back up with Seminole County, Marcous said, but they had a line break on their side.

"So, that impeded us from being able to use our back up, but hopefully we'll be back on line today," Marcous said.

Tuesday, Marcous told The Herald that they are back up and running, but because of weather reports of more rain to come, they are waiting to make sure the stormy weather doesn't affect the plant again.

"So, we're not out of the woods, so to speak," Marcous said. "But, so far, so good."

The city of Sanford also reminded residents that the water restrictions for potable and reclaimed water is still in effect. (See box below.)

who was supposed to go as Thomas the Train, decided he didn't want to wear his costume, so Kuhn's daughter and son-in-law dressed him with a Halloween T-Shirt and pumpkin-colored hair.

The Sanford Police Department was also in attendance, walking the streets and handing out candy in front of First Street Grill.

Sgt. Greg Smith, dressed in normal police gear, handed out Tootsie Pops and joked that last year his police uniform "costume" had got him first prize in the children's costume contest.

The contest was held at 7:30 p.m. in Magnolia Square, but the names of the winners had not been announced as of Tuesday.

In addition to a contest and trick-or-treating with the merchants, children could also play in a carnival area that had bounce houses set up and face painting. Target, who was the other main sponsor, had a pumpkin patch area set up near Palmetto Avenue.

Jackson Stuart, a kindergartener from Wilson Elementary School, dressed up as Spider Man and was getting ready to collect candy. When asked what his favorite candy was he looked through his sack and pulled out a Reese's Peanut Butter Cup.

Tymi Howard, daughter of Betty Ann Howard, of Betty Ann's Unisex Hair Styling, said everything was going great.

"A lot of kids," Howard said.

The owner of Bone-Jour, Nicole Poch, had her mother, Vanessa Poch, fill in for her at the candy table set outside the doggie boutique. Nicole Poch was on vacation, her mother said.

Vanessa Poch said she couldn't believe how many children were at the event, but she said she would like to see more street parties downtown. Her daughter opened Bone-Jour in June 2005.

"I'd love to see more of these here. It's just such a neat feeling," Poch said as she handed out candy to a little princess.

Hold onto your seat. A much anticipated showdown between No. 1 state-ranked and defending State Champion Winter Park and No. 4 state-ranked Oviedo will take place tomorrow (Thursday) after both squads swept through their competition on the road in Saturday's FHSAA Class 6A-Region 1 Semifinals.

The Wildcats (27-1) made fairly easy work of Spruce Creek (19-8), 25-18, 25-15 and 25-12, in Port Orange, while the Lions (23-1) had to work a little harder but still moved on with a 25-14, 25-23 and 28-26 victory over Buchholz (16-13)

Oviedo, Lake Howell to host regional finals in Gainesville.

Oviedo at least has the homecourt advantage as the Lions will host the match starting at 7 p.m.

Two other Seminole County teams, Lake Howell and Orangewood Christian, will also be going after a spot in the FHSAA Finals at The Lakeland Center today after sweeping their regional semifinals.

The Silver Hawks (23-6) outscored visiting River Ridge (23-5) from New Port Richey in straight games, 25-22, 29-27 and 25-15, to earn homecourt advantage in the Class 5A-Region 2 Finals.

Lake Howell will host Lakeland-Lake Gibson (25-2), which ousted Tampa-King, 25-23, 25-12 and 25-23, also starting at 7 p.m.

The Rams (26-1), ranked No. 1 in the state in Class 1A, cruised past Merritt Island Christian (20-6) in a little over an hour in the 1A-Region 2 Semifinals at home, but if they want to go on to Lakeland they will have to win on the road, traveling to Orlando to take on Pine Castle Christian (15-12), which eliminated Circle Christian (13-6), the runner-up to Orangewood in the District 6 finals, 25-22, 25-21 and 25-18. That match too, will start at 7 p.m.

The only local team to see its season come to a premature end was Trinity Prep (23-6), which lost in Gainesville to P.K. Yonge (26-3), 25-17, 25-22 and 25-18, in the Class 3A-Region 1 Semifinals. Brooke Bushika had 12 kills and Sarah

Brantley by a foot

Patriots win tie-breaker; Bears second

By Dean Smith
Herald Staff

OVIEDO — Yogi Berra was right, it's never over 'til it's over.

At almost any given time during Monday night's Class 6A-District 2 tie-breaker at Oviedo's John Courier Field any of the three teams could have won, finished second or been eliminated.

Maybe it was because it was Halloween, but there was some strange stuff going on on this evening.

But in the end, Lake Brantley (6-3) used a little trickery on offense and the strength of its defense and kicking game to secure the 6A-2 title and a home game in the first round of the FHSAA Football Playoffs and Winter Springs (6-3) bounced back from the brink of elimination to earn its third straight trip to the playoffs.

The big loser was the host Lions (7-2), who came into the tie-breaker as the top seed and the favorite.

The Patriots and Bears opened the night's action by playing a 12-minute quarter.

Lake Brantley took the opening kickoff and moved the ball from its own 21 to the 40 behind the running of Lance Ault. But a botched pitch on third and three gave Winter Springs good field position at the Patriots 32.

The Lake Brantley defense came out fired up and made life miserable for Winter Springs sophomore quarterback Taylor Salem.

After a one-yard loss on first down, the Patriots sacked Salem twice for 13' more yards in losses, forcing a punt.

Starting at its own 17, the Lake Brantley offense, again behind fullback Ault, marched down to the Winter Springs 32 before the drive stalled.

Senior Bill Pigozzi then came on and knocked through a 49-yard field goal right down the middle with plenty of room to spare to give the Patriots the lead.

The drive not only ate up yardage and gave the Pats the lead, it also took over six minutes off the clock, leaving the Bears with only 1:08 on the clock.

The Lake Brantley defense again came up big, sacking Salem for a 10-yard loss on first down, forcing an incompletion and then coming up with an interception by Dylan Livingstone to seal the 3-0 win and assure the Patriots of a spot in the playoffs.

The Patriots changed jerseys.

Lake Brantley's Bill Pigozzi (top) was the star of the evening, kicking game-winning field goals against both Winter Springs and Oviedo, the second in overtime, to give the Patriots the Class 6A-District 2 Championship at the three-way tie-breaker Monday night at Oviedo's John Courier Field. Winter Springs was able to bounce back from the loss to Lake Brantley on the strength of a 34-yard catch-and-run for a touchdown by Ashuwa Richardson (No. 3, above) as the Bears eliminated the top-seeded and host Lions, 10-0. The Patriots had used a smothering rush (left) on Winter Springs sophomore quarterback Taylor Salem in the first segment of the playoffs and had clinched at least a spot in the playoffs by edging the Bears, 3-0.

Knights earn C-USA win on road

Special to the Herald

Junior Steven Moffett threw a pair of fourth quarter touchdown passes to junior Mike Walker as visiting UCF held on for a 30-20 Conference USA victory on Saturday afternoon at Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium. The Golden Knights (5-3, 4-1) recorded their first road victory as a member of C-USA.

With 9:12 left in the game and UCF trailing, 20-17, Moffett hit a sprinting Walker for a 38-yard scoring strike. Just over five minutes later, the duo secured the victory with Walker beating a pair of defenders to haul in a 31-yard touchdown reception.

The Pirates (3-5, 2-3) threatened twice with under six minutes remaining in the fourth quarter, but UCF forced a pair of turnovers with junior Ronnell Sandy recovering a fumble and freshman Joe Burnett recording an interception.

UCF dominated the first half, but the Pirates rallied in the third quarter and narrowed the Golden Knights' advantage to 17-10 with 5:03 on the clock on a 26-yard touchdown run by Brandon Fractious. With nine seconds left in the quarter, Robert Lee nailed a 28-yard field goal and UCF led by four entering the fourth.

Fractious found the end zone with 12:14 left in the contest with a seven-yard touchdown scamper and East Carolina had its first lead of the game, 20-17.

Moffett completed 10-of-25 pass attempts for 181 yards with the two scores.

UCF appeared to pull away in the second quarter. Following an interception from senior Paul Carrington, senior Matt Prater nailed a 26-yard field goal to put the Golden Knights up by 10. The hosts finally got on the board with 7:44 left in the half with a 33-yard field goal from Lee.

On the Golden Knights next possession, junior Jason Peters took a handoff from Moffett and ran up the middle untouched for a 67-yard score, the fifth longest run from scrimmage in school history. UCF amassed 265 yards of total offense in the first half and led 17-3 at the intermission.

Peters finished with 113 yards for his second consecutive 100-yard rushing performance. UCF posted 249 yards on the ground and had 430 total yards for the game.

The Golden Knights capitalized on an East Carolina special teams error to get on the board first. Following a punt by junior Aaron Home, sophomore Curtis Francis recovered a Travis Williams fumble on the East Carolina one-yard line. Two plays later, Peters found the end zone on a short rush and UCF led, 7-0, with 5:37 to play in the opening quarter.

UCF forced four Pirate turnovers in the game's first 30 minutes.

Walker totaled 110 yards on seven catches. Senior Brandon Marshall caught three passes for 71 yards.

Remarkable day caps super season in Youth Flag Football

Special to the Herald

Now that's the way to end a season. It was hard to imagine that the playoffs could match a regular season in which a majority of the games were amazingly competitive and saw most going right down to the whistle if not being settled in overtime.

But the playoffs were even tighter, especially on Saturday's final day, as all six games were decided by seven points or less and all three championship games were not decided until the final minutes, including one that went to overtime.

In the 5-6 Year Old Division, Alexandra Frazier scored a pair of touchdowns late in the first half to give the Buccaneers (6-2) a lead at intermission and they were able to hold off a determined Dolphins (4-4) squad, 35-28, as the Bucs claimed the Championship.

In the Third Place Game, Calvin Kunkle scored the final two touchdowns as the Giants (4-4) rallied to outscore the Raiders (1-7), 42-35.

In the 7-9 Year Olds, Santonio Jackson Jr. scored a touchdown late in the first half to erase a 7-6 deficit and the Giants (7-1) stopped a final drive as they won a defensive battle with the Buccaneers (6-2), 12-7.

In the Third Place Game, Raishawn Ranson scored on a 13-yard run in the final minute to tie the game at 33-33, then added the game-winning extra point as the Raiders (1-7) won their first game of the season, 34-33, over the Dolphins (2-6).

There was a near upset in the 10-12 Year Olds as the regular season champion Raiders (7-1) scored in the first few minutes of the game but could never find paydirt again as the Giants (4-4) defense did a great job of slowing the champs' powerful offense.

Fortunately for the Raiders, they also play pretty good defense themselves and held the Giants to a second half touchdown and won the game in overtime with an interception on a tipped pass as the Giants were moving into the 'red zone.'

The Dolphins (2-6) claimed third place when the Buccaneers (3-5) failed to have enough players show up to play.

At the awards ceremony and picnic following the games, League Director Rodney Stancil, Recreation Supervisor with the City of Sanford Leisure Services, announced the City of Sanford Awards for League Most Valuable Players and Coaches of the Year.

In the 5 & 6 Year Old Division, Alexandra Frazier of the Buccaneers was the MVP and Tim Kunkle of the Giants was the Coach of the Year.

In the 7-to-9 Year Old Division, Santonio Jackson Jr. of the Giants was the MVP and Tony Tichonoff of the Giants was the Coach of the Year.

And in the 10-to-12 Year Old Division, Donte Lett of the Raiders was the MVP and Phillip Miller of the Giants was the Coach of the Year.

"The City of Sanford Recreation Department wishes to thank all the coaches, players and parents for all your support and I am personally forever thankful for all the help in putting on a great season," Stancil told the crowd.

5 & 6 YEAR OLDS CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

BUCCANEERS 35, DOLPHINS 28

The Buccaneers and the Dolphins came into this game well prepared as both teams practiced until the sun went down on Friday.

And the effort showed as Eddie Key started the scoring for the Dolphins with a nice run for 20 yards for the score and Daniel Charles followed moments later with a 30 yard touchdown run of his own to give the Fins a 14-0 lead.

Then Alexandra Frazier took over. The League MVP scored a pair of touchdowns on runs of 10- and five-yards to tie the game at 14-14 at halftime.

The Bucs then turned to their other key players to help lead the way in the second half with Frazier, Xavier Moody and Joseph Lewis provided the scoring as the champs pulled out the victory.

Lincoln Mitchell scored on a 10 yard run to bring the Dolphins close, but the Fins' one-two punch of Charles and Henry Segura could not carry the Dolphins to the upset this week as the Bucs won the championship.

THIRD PLACE GAME

GIANTS 42, RAIDERS 35

The Giants displayed their passing offense this week by throwing two touchdown passes, one from Casey Lessard to Dane Futrell and the other from Jordan McIntyre to his brother, Jaylen McIntyre.

The Raiders got two touchdowns each from Blake Hailam and J.T. Hollie, but Calvin Kunkle provided the difference in the game as he scored the final two touchdowns for the Giants as they pulled out the win over the Raiders.

Players of the Game: Giants - Coach Tim Kunkle; Raiders - Coach Tim Adside.

7-TO-9 YEAR OLDS CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

GIANTS 12, BUCCANEERS 7

The Buccaneers got off to a fine start with a nine-yard run from running back R.J. Bradley. But the Giants came back when Andrew Folger Oviadu was able to overcome some mental lapses in the final game to advance behind 36 assists from setter Kaitlin Cole, 15 kills, six blocks and three service aces from team captain Chelsea Kauss and 15 more kills from Kirsty Blue.

Lake Howell got another big game from star Brittainy Daiger with 13 kills and seven blocks, but it was Ruthie King that was the standout in this win for the Silver Hawks with 17 kills.

Orangewood Christian only led 19-18 in the first game against Merritt Island Christian, which knocked off the Rams in five games in the regional semis last year, when freshman Anne Pietkiewicz pounded down one of her five kills on the day, jump-starting a 56-20 run, and then served the final six points to close out the first game and OC pulled away from there.

Blair Muller had 27 assists for the Rams, while Meg Weathersby had 10 kills, Jessie Jakes nine kills and star Ria Varnell eight kills.

On Monday, it was announced by the Florida High School Athletic Association Office in Gainesville that the 2005 FHSAA Girls Volleyball Finals state championship tournament, originally rescheduled for Wednesday through Sunday, Nov. 9-12, will be delayed by one day to Thursday through Sunday, Nov. 10-13.

Class 1A, 3A and 5A semifinal matches originally scheduled for Wednesday will move to Thursday, with the championship matches in those classifications moving from Thursday to Friday. Class 2A, 4A and 6A semifinal matches originally scheduled for Friday will move to Saturday, with the championship matches in those classifications moving from Saturday to Sunday. All match times remain unchanged, with the exception of the Class 2A, 4A and 6A championship matches on Sunday, which will be played at noon, 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. rather than 2 p.m., 4:30 p.m. and 7 p.m.

The one-day bump will give any teams in southeast Florida that are unable to play their regional tournament finals until Monday, Nov. 7, a day to complete travel preparations and practice before departing for the tournament site in Lakeland.

The girls volleyball finals is the latest FHSAA Finals event to be rescheduled due to Hurricane Wilma. Already rescheduled were state finals events in golf, fall soccer and swimming & diving.

"We are grateful to The Lakeland Center for agreeing to this one-day schedule adjustment," said Commissioner John A. Stewart. "A day might not seem like much but it will mean a great deal to those schools impacted by the hurricane."

Sunday competition, while prohibited by FHSAA rules, is not unprecedented. The Commissioner can approve Sunday competition when extenuating circumstances make it necessary.

Said Stewart: "If this isn't extenuating circumstances, what is?"

Painter realizes his dream in vibrant color

By Steve Paradis
Herold Staff

WINTER PARK — Life couldn't be much better for Orlando artist Ed Sanderson who painted the brilliant poster for this weekend's Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts. Sanderson and his wife, Chris, are building a new house, which will have a special room for a first baby. Sanderson's art is selling very well and especially important is that painting remains fun as he tries to capture life's special moments with vibrant abstract color.

"That is my thing, saturated hues with decent composition," Sanderson said in a recent interview. "I capture life's fleeting moments."

He explained that his mother succumbed to cancer. The family only had 10 days notice. "To me every day is a gift," he said.

He admits he doesn't possess the will to paint realistic photo-like works, which he said he admires. Sanderson's art portrays strong emotions that he usually applies to canvases in a rapid fashion.

"When's that place I don't know, a place I'd like to be," he said he asks himself. Maybe he'll see a sunset on the way home from managing an Orlando frame shop. "Most people miss so much, they focus on the bad. I've got to stop and smell the roses."

His vocation as a painter started early in life. When he was 5 years old, the youngest of four siblings, he admired his father's artwork. His dad painted mainly seascapes, and the young Ed told his father he wanted to paint when he got older.

"You'll never make a living doing that," the budding artist was told. To prove that he was serious, 5-year-old Ed painted an abstract on one of the home's walls.

Now his dad, from Atlanta, is amazed at his son's success.

A couple of years ago, he had the idea to paint one of the posters for an art festival. He was too late for the Lake Mary-Heathrow festival, but this year organizers contacted him to see if he was interested.

After his first effort, the Board wanted more of a Florida feel to it. Sanderson added palm trees to a late night scene of the Colonial Town Park where the arts festival takes place, Nov. 5 and 6.

For this case, he made an exception, but Sanderson normally works with his own emotions and reveals in his paintings his own vision.

"I've got such a strong technique," he said. "It comes from pure emotion and when people like it the work makes great money." Which isn't a bad thing, as Sanderson figures unsold creativity begets great awards.

"I paint for myself because it's a great therapy," Sanderson said. "If someone wants to buy it, that's fine too."

After pursuing a degree in fine arts at the University of Central Florida, the self-taught Sanderson traveled Europe, studying art in London. He said Cezanne and Van Gogh influenced him.

He once worked on portraits at Walt Disney World. He once dreamed of becoming a Disney animator, but he had in Orlando, but the direction of his work must follow his own path.

He left that dream when he donated a work to the American Cancer Society to auction off for charity. He donated much time and also his painting skills to a new potential and new dream. "I just want to create," he said. He didn't need Disney.

He decided to do art shows at juried art shows.

Some of his work is on display at Café Tu Tu Tango in Orlando where he does live painting on Tuesday nights from 7 to 11 p.m. They appear next to pieces that he spends weeks on, but he said.

The colors in his work are strong and evocative, but also contain a sense of mystery. Sanderson said he likes to take risks with his work. He has painted abstracts, cityscapes, figures, landscapes and graphic images.

At first sales his art shows were not great, he said, but he did win first place and best of show honors at the Celebration Art Festival this year. Sales have increased to the point where his wife may not have to work much longer.

If people visit Sanderson's double booth at the Lake Mary-Heathrow festival, they will not see one theme. Sanderson likes variety, and while one may see a parking lot painted at night, they may as likely see a scene from Tahiti. His philosophy is to paint for himself, but if someone likes the work and it talks to them, then he gets great satisfaction out of that as well.

He is grateful for people who even stop to look at his work. He always thanks patrons for stopping in, and he wants to meet them. Sanderson has a gregarious manner and a certain confidence in his art, but it doesn't rise to conceit.

He acknowledges that there are better artists than himself. At art shows, he says, he is honored just to be there. He also tries to have five or six new pieces for each of the dozen or so shows he attends per year.

Recently at a show in Celebration, Sanderson said he sold more pieces than ever. He has clients who have bought many works, and he has a philosophy about selling his work.

"Without clients, it's just a hobby," he asserts. Sanderson prices his pieces himself on the knowledge that, while the particular piece may not have taken long to produce, his technique has taken years to develop.

"When people are excited about my artwork, I play off of them," Sanderson said. It serves as a motivation.

Many of his pieces are unconventional in size, he said. That's why he likes to work for the frame shop.

"Frames can make or break a painting," Sanderson explained.

Many of his artworks are priced in the thousands of dollars, but he also produces giclees that he embellishes to make it original. Sanderson likes to add gold leaf, for example. Giclees are electric printed pieces that reproduce artwork at a more affordable price. They may be $50 or $100.

Among his goals are for people to look at a piece and say, "That's a Sanderson", even if he hasn't signed it. They will know by the technique, he said.

He would also one day like to open his own gallery and help promoting artists starting in their profession. He wouldn't take that huge commission out to make it easier for the beginning artist.

Talking with Sanderson, one gets the feeling that this artist is on a wonderful path in life. What a great thing to love your work and to have it provide for his growing family.

"I never want to get up and say, 'Man, I've got to paint today,'" he said.

Sanderson has a Web site at originalsbysanderson.com.

Edward Sanderson is on a roll. His paintings are selling, he enjoys his profession as an artist, and he is building a new home with his wife, Chris, who is expecting any day.
