WETUMPKA, Ala. (AP)—A middle-aged nurse, accused of poisoning her two small nieces, injured herself by slashing her wrist with a razor blade Tuesday night, and a few hours before she was to go on trial for murder.

Sheriff Lester Holley said Mrs. Earle Dennison managed to slip a piece of razor blade under the cover of her head at nearby Tutwiler Prison for Women where she has been held since her arrest three months ago.

Gray-haired Mrs. Earle Dennison is accused of feeding arsenic to Shirley Dinn, who died May 1, and also to her tiny sister, Polly Ann.

Shirley was only a few days old when Polly Ann died two and a half years ago after a sudden, violent illness. Only the death of Shirley Dinn was on the court docket for today.

The widowed, 34-year-old nurse who worked at the hospital where the child died was arrested a week later after the parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Weldon of the nearby Claud community, swore out a murder warrant.

Sheriff Lester Holley said Mrs. Dennison admitted, without a show of emotion, that she gave Shirley Dinn arsenic in a soft drink and took her to the hospital when she went into convulsions. The child died five hours later.

State Toxicologist C. J. Rhelling said the autopsy, performed with Mrs. Dennison present, showed arsenic.

Still suspicious about the death of Polly Ann nearly three years before, the Weldons arranged to have her remains analyzed. Dr. Rhelling said she, too, had traces of the deadly metallic poison, and another warrant was signed against the aunt.

Sheriff Holley said Mrs. Dennison denied intentionally poisoning Polly Ann, but admitted giving a salt shaker containing arsenic at the Weldon home after a visit. She said she used it to make an insect killer.

The sheriff said the woman told him, however, that she collected $5,000 on an insurance policy after the first child's death. She gave no motive for the admitted slaying of Shirley Dinn, but Holley said she reportedly had two policies on her totaling $4,000.

Reynolds' Island Retreat Revealed As Gilded Spot

By F. T. MACFARLEY
SAPELO ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—R. J. Reynolds, tobacco heir, is having a big time displaying to his attractive, suburban-bred bride their home here in the Golden Isles.

If you got the idea from stories of their wedding here last Friday that the place is a gossamer palace of gold splashed with diamonds, forget it.

The place is big and it is fine. But there is nothing superficial. It's solid and substantial.

Reynolds, whose many pursuits include building boats and skipping them, running a shipping line, flying, photography, forestry, cattle raising, farming and road building—to mention a few—looked hours away from his honeymoon Tuesday to show an Associated Press newsmen and photographer around the island plantation.

No newsmen were present at last week's wedding of the 46-year-old Reynolds and the former Mrs. Muriel Greenough, 35, the third marriage for each. But the newlyweds pointed out the spot under the aged oaks in front of the 23-room main plantation house where they repeated their vows before the Rev. Gordon C. King, Methodist minister from Darien, Ga.

Contrary to popular belief, Reynolds doesn't own all of this South-east Georgia coastal island. Several Negro families, whose ancestors were slaves here, still hold 10-acre tracts devoted them after the War Between the States by Thomas Spaulding, owner of the island, which is 15 miles long and three miles wide.

While the island can be reached only by plane or boat, Reynolds has several cars, trucks and jeeps. He drove one of the jeeps on the island, and conducted over the five miles of asphalted and many more miles of sand roads on the island.

Within a few months the couple will start on a world cruise aboard their yacht "Aries" being built in England.

Reynolds ended active operations in the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company to become a Navy officer in World War II. He remains a director of Delta Air Lines. In the field of flying where he was a pioneer.

RED LIGHT INDUCES EGG

STORRS, Conn. (AP)—Put a red light over your hen nests, and watch the eggs roll in.

C. S. Hall, Rutgers University egg expert, said in a paper for the National Poultry Association meeting, that air raid regulations blacked out the brilliantly lighted poultry houses along the Jersey coast during the war. So farmers turned on the dim red lights to let them see.

The red light had a tendency to keep the hens longer on the nests. Egg production rose, and since then experiments have confirmed the red light's effect on hens.

METAL REVEALS BILIS

STAFFORD, England (AP)—A Staffordshire smelter worker stated Tuesday at the cauldron of molten lead he was stirring—wads of money were rising up through the bubbles.

The astonished worker snatched 52 one-pound notes ($145.60) from the seething cauldron. The money apparently had been hidden in a bag of lead scrap which later was sent to the smelter for re-use.

Forecasters Of Rise In Prices Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer says those who predict sharply rising prices are just guessing, and that their unfounded forecasts could help speed up inflation.

He said Tuesday he plans to make a survey to get at the facts. Retiring Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) Director Ellis Arnall has said the drought will have "disastrous" effects on prices and that the $5.35 ton steel price increase will cost the average family $100 a year.

Without mentioning Arnall by name, Sawyer said inflation often is stimulated by public fear that prices may go up—he mentioned the fear buying following the Korean invasion.

But Price Boss Arnall has contended the situation is no serious. President Truman should call a special session of Congress to pass anti-inflation laws. Truman said last week he is considering the idea.

Louisiana Election Officials Indicted

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Five Plaquemine Parish (county) election officials were indicted by a federal grand jury on conspiracy charges following an investigation of the 1950 election of U. S. Rep. F. Edward Hebert.

The five were named in the indictment as supporters of Hebert, who last month was re-elected from the Louisiana First Congressional District.

Indicted were: Eugene Trumbull, Henry Gehbauer Sr., Emile Humphrey, Anthony Humphrey and Joseph Bazile.

Hebert said the indictments were "politically inspired and designed to embarrass those who have stood up for states rights and constitutional government."

The investigation began after J. Ben Meyer, who was an unsuccessful candidate in 1950 and lost again to Hebert last month, complained recently that names of persons were listed as having voted when they actually did not cast ballots. He also said some of the voters in Plaquemine first ward were registered in New Orleans.

Records show that Meyer received only three votes in that precinct in 1950.

Meyer took his complaint to Atty. Gen. McCreary, who ordered the grand jury investigation.

ESCAPEE CAPTURED

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP)—John Ramensky, such a good safecracker the British government once hired him to do it, was recaptured Tuesday night after breaking out of grim Peterhead Prison near here.

His escape Monday was his second from Peterhead. He's serving a five-year sentence for robbing a postoffice.

During World War II the British Army remembered Ramensky's reputation as Britain's No. 1 crackman and parachuted him behind the German lines to blow open Nazi safes containing secret documents.

EXPLOSION KILLS 6

FROSINONE, Italy (AP)—Police reported today that an explosion in a clandestine firecracker factory near here killed six persons and crumpled a two-story building.

The explosion, while the firecrackers were being manufactured secretly, set off a large store of fireworks.

Blues In The News

By BOB ANTHONY
Two events in Sanford last night had exceptionally large attendance. One was the "Au Revoir" party at the Navy Center and the other was the "Merchant's" baseball game at Memorial Stadium.

The crowd at the stadium was the largest this season and the Seminole Blues were the winners on all counts for the full house. Besides winning the ball game 10-5, the Blues won the pre-game contests in throwing and batting. Blues catcher, Dusty Rhodes, won two contests himself. First he threw a baseball from homeplate through a barrel at second base. Then, of all things, the crowd witnessed Dusty outrun a horse, after which a common comment was "Now I've seen everything."

The Navy Center had a record crowd on hand for their "Au Revoir" party in honor of the men on the station that will soon leave Sanford on a cruise.

"May Lane's Variety Show" received thunderous applause from the audience and the climax of the show was a lady whistler from the Ted Mack Radio Show. After giving imitations of bird calls and police whistles, she whistled her stylings of "Listen to the Mocking Bird" and "Indian Love Call."

For an encore, she received a request for "Whispering" which she filled with her delightful technique of whistling.

Other acts in the show included singer JoAnne Heasley and a unique vocal duet of "Put Your Shoes on Lucy" by Bill Worth and Marjorie Willis.

A young lad named Harrison drew laughter from the crowd with his comedy vocal of "Foolish Questions" and "Educated Cow."

An act termed "cutest of all" by many of the people in the audience, was young Marjorie Willis' vocal rendition of "How Come You Do Me Like You Do."

Rounding out the entertainment for the night was an acrobatic act and songs by Dean McCrackin and David Heater.

Punch and cake were served after the show and music was furnished for dancing. All in all it was a swell party and will certainly leave some pleasant memories with the many aboard the station who will be leaving Sanford for the cruise.

A "Thank You" to Mrs. May Lane for a job well done! Her variety show was "tops" in entertainment and her audience's diligence and hard work at the Navy Center is definitely appreciated by the men aboard the Air Station.

DEUX, France (AP)—The wife of a Deux factory worker gave birth to twins today. They arrived 17 miles apart.

The older of the twins, a boy, was born here. The doctor, fearing complications, had the mother moved to a clinic at Niot, 17 miles away. The second child, a girl, was born there.

The boy's birth will be registered at Deux, the girl's at Niot.

Red Plot

tographic copies of Communist literature. Matusow said he was in 1930 and later in an effort to set up a Communist led organization known as "Young Pioneers" as a rival to the Boy Scouts.

"The Boy Scouts is an organization for capitalist wars!" read captions emblazoned on the covers of this literature. "Smash the Boy Scouts! Join the Young Pioneers!"

The document was larded with slogans that "Boy Scouts are for bourgeois wars" and "Boy Scouts take part in murder of striking workers."

Matusow said that as a Communist he saw a high powered plan evolved to infiltrate high schools, community and even church clubs, and labor unions. He turned about infiltration a part of this plan.

Another witness, Herbert Romerstein, Brooklyn, N. Y., told of being recruited into the Communist front as a high school student at the age of 15½. Romerstein said he finally divorced himself from communism.

He said Communist youth work first was handled through the Young Communist League, then through American Youth for Democracy, and finally split into two new fronts.

One of these, Romerstein said, is "the Young Progressives of America"—a brand youth organization that could rape in many young people who didn't know what communism was. They get people who are not yet Communists. The idea is to get people workers into a labor union.

The other, he said, is the Labor Youth League, frankly offering Marxist training to young persons interested in communism.

A third witness, Seymour Bakst, Washington, told of being signed up as a Young Communist League choir singer and member in Brooklyn. He said he was fired from a war time job with the Soviet government purchasing commission here for trying to organize fellow workers.

The idea is to get people workers into a labor union.

Iran's premier wants to borrow $50,000,000 from Uncle Sam to get his country's oil flowing again. That's the oil, you remember, which he took away from the British.

We wouldn't go as far as General Eisenhower and say that Governor Stevenson is subservient to President Truman, but President Truman will try to make him subservient.

It looked as if everybody in town was at the ball game Tuesday night, but there were plenty of people at the Navy Center, the softball diamond, and the picture shows. Sanford grows.

The contract has been let by the Bowater Paper Company for the construction of a $54,000,000 newsprint mill at Calhoun, Tenn. It will produce about 100,000 tons of newsprint annually, to match the South's other two mills at Lufkin, Tex., and Conasa Pine, Ala. The manufacture of newsprint from slash pine is getting to be one of the big industries in the South.

There will be no bolt in Georgia as electors are selected who are pledged to the conventional Stevenson-Sparkman ticket. Despite the disappointment over Senator Russell's rejection by the Chicago delegates, Georgians generally will continue to vote the straight Democratic ticket as they have been doing for generations. Habit is an awe-inspiring influence on human conduct.

At the instance of the Tampa Rotary Club which has been concerned over certain trends in the United Nations and which raised the question whether recent innovations could result in one man having the power to abolish such organizations as the Rotary Club, the international board of directors of the club has voted to discontinue its report on the United Nations, and is restoring its policy of international service concerning U.N.

An interesting argument by way of the Tampa Tribune comes from Belle Glade on the value of bolita gambling. "It helps to keep the Negro happy on his job," it says. In other words, it keeps the Negro poor, and being poor and in constant need of more money, he is willing to work less likely to farm and therefore makes a good farm hand. Business men in the Belle Glade area, however, point out that while bolita keeps the Negro working, it also keeps him poor and unable to patronize their stores, and complain that the gamblers are getting all his money. This debate is dealt with obviously from the economic angle. Nothing whatever is said about what gambling does to the Negro's family life or to his soul. Or what it does to the gambler's for that matter.

John Kalbfish, publisher of the Miami Herald, was no more enthusiastic over the conduct of the recent political conventions than the rest of us were, though he calls Governor Stevenson an able man. But of his nomination he says, "It was a performance that must have insulated the intelligence of all mature people." The answer to it may be found, he says, in a national primary "where all the people would have an opportunity to vote for a candidate of their choice." In which case, we suspect Governor Stevenson would have had very little chance of nomination, since he was little known outside the state of Illinois. Where the nomination would probably have gone to Rockefeller who had campaigned all over the country and had demonstrated his vote-getting ability in numerous states. The national system is a good one, but would the primary have better candidates?

Before They Start

It is not necessary to be a prophet or a labor expert to see that there is a possibility of serious trouble between the coal operators and John L. Lewis. The peppy president of the United Mine Workers has served notice that his union's present contract with industry will terminate at the end of September. When the contract ends the strike will begin.

The bargaining position of the United Mine Workers does not appear to be as favorable this year as it has been in the past. The industry is in a slump and stock prices of coal are on hand to allow industries dependent on coal to ride through a strike if it is not too long. While the government has appeared friendly toward labor in the steel controversy there is no sign that this would be the case in difficulties between workers and coal operators. The relations of John L. Lewis with President Truman have not been friendly.

But the industry and the country must not underestimate Lewis. Every effort should be made to reach an agreement before the contract expires. Work stoppages, regardless of stockpiles, mean diminished production at a time when full scale production is essential. The loss of income by miners, added to the loss of income to steel workers during their strike, would have a damaging effect on the purchasing power of millions of people.

There is still time to head off a coal strike and the industry, the union and the government should make every effort to do so. If strikes can be settled after the men leave their jobs, why can't they be settled before the men walk out?

Independents Gaining

The public opinion polls reveal a growing increase in the number of independent voters. Neither party now has admitted enough thick-skinned supporters to carry elections without conciliating the independents.

To them the old-style glorification of one party and indiscriminate abuse of the other make no appeal whatever. Every party has episodes in its career which it would like to have forgotten, and not all prominent office-holders, be they Republicans or Democrats, are totally creditable. Even the strictest partisan knows this in his heart of hearts, and the independent, being less enmeshed with partisan prejudices, is fully conscious of it. A vote-winning argument must therefore be based on intelligence, not on mere emotion.

This increase in political independence makes for better government. Corruption thrives in an atmosphere of unyielding partisanship in which the regular nominee, no matter how unfit, is automatically sure of election. When party managers have to heed others besides their unquestioning followers, they will put up better candidates and clearer arguments.

Millionth Man

Fate seemed to have nothing special in store for Arthur Weinfeld, 22, of Detroit, Mich. He was much like any other young man going to college. He expected to go into the army sooner or later and even had a chance to be deferred because he was a college student. But his draft number came earlier than anticipated. Arthur thought it over and decided to waive his possible deferment.

Then the big moment came in Arthur's life. He found himself swept away in ceremonies and fame. The army made a big thing out of inducting, admitting and swearing him in. Arthur Weinfeld of Detroit was the United States Army's one millionth man drafted into the service since the beginning of the Korean War.

Arthur took it all rather philosophically, calmly taking his oath of allegiance at Fort Wayne and wondering what was ahead. He hopes he can do this next job satisfactorily and then go back and finish his college. Americans hope so, too. They unite in wishing him well, and in praying there may never be another millionth.

Too Late To Classify

Some guys never learn and you can put me down in that category. While I know from experience that no place on earth has more to offer than Florida, summer or winter, every so often I go hog-wild and let friends and relatives talk me into leaving the state every time I do I'm sorry.

Last month I took a trip to Virginia with planned stop-overs in Georgia and the Carolinas, leaving comfortable air-conditioned Florida. I drove north on the coastal route and the farther I got away from Florida the hotter it got.

Stopping for gas at Savannah I noted the thermometer in the gas station read 108 at noon. Rights on the route were pitiful: corn was burned up in the fields, cotton plants half grown, were withering in the heat. Pasture lands were burnt up.

The air that rushed in through our car windows couldn't have been any hotter if it had come directly from the mouth of a blast furnace. And it was that stifling, muggy, sticky kind of heat that settles over you like a blanket and makes you feel like a cross between an overworked dishwasher and a baked potato.

Thinking that Myrtle Beach would probably be as cool a spot as we could find for the night, we drove there and began looking for an air-conditioned court or motel. We found that there aren't very many air-conditioned places available.

After ringing doorbells and asking questions from one end of the beach to the other, we finally located one place where they had, or said they had, an air-conditioned room. It was available at $10 a night double. We took it. It was too hot and uncomfortable to stand around with the sweat trickling over our nose and down our back and argue about the price.

Being an alleged air-conditioned room, it had been closed up tight all day. When the proprietor opened the door we stepped into what might just as well have been a three-alarm fire as far as heat was concerned.

Stepping over to a window-box conditioner the guy turned the thing on and assured us we would be as cool as proverbial cucumbers in a few minutes. Well, yes, but that conditioner tried, it hummed and buzzed and shook and shivered to so avail.

We decided to give the poor contraption a chance, as we went out to get something to eat. When we returned the room was so hot that we couldn't help comparing it with Daytona, Clearwater, Panama City and other delightful Florida spots.

Two Indian guides named Peter and Mark were baptised in Georgia's Ocmulgee River in 1946—the first recorded baptisms in the country.

It was about 100 in the shade outdoors and we felt sorry for the boys in barracks where the temperature was about 193.

Heading for western North Carolina we thought we would find better weather there. Just to make sure we would not forget Florida, Mother Nature turned on the heat again. When we reached Columbia the temperature was 110 in the shade. Air-conditioning was scarce and far between. It is so cool and delightful, according to the natives you don't need it. I used to be like them. I went through another night and then turned off and ran for home the next day. A glorious shower shower greeted us as the Florida rain, but brother, that was one time I enjoyed it. I'll stay at home and play at home from now on.

The majority of newcomers are grown in Florida, California, Georgia, Texas, South Carolina, Missouri and Arizona.

New Wonder Drug Stays On Market But With Warnings

WASHINGTON — The wonder drug Chloromycetin remains on the market, but with clear warnings attached to its use by physicians. Under a government ruling announced Wednesday, every package of it must henceforth carry an explicit caution to doctors against indiscriminate use or for minor infections, and a warning of possible hazards under certain conditions.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) had been faced with deciding whether to use of the drug as a result of serious blood disorders, some of them fatal, recently noted among people treated with the medicine.

There were even talk of a possible ban on the drug which, since 1949, has been used in more than eight million cases. It has been credited with saving thousands of lives from serious infections like typhoid fever, Rocky Mountain spotted fever, undulant fever, epidemic typhus, "scrub" typhus, certain pneumonias and urinary tract infections. It is medicine's only known cure for typhoid.

Ever since nomination of Gov. Adlai Stevenson as his Democratic opponent for the presidency, Eisenhower and his political aides have been hammering away at the idea the Illinois governor is the hand-picked captive of the Truman administration.

The day Stevenson was chosen as his party's standard bearer, Eisenhower said it meant the error could offer the country only a one-man program—defense of the entire Truman record.

When Stevenson sat in Tuesday at a White House briefing on the world situation, Eisenhower and his running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, let fly swiftly with one-two punches.

It meant, said Eisenhower, that Stevenson is "subservient to the political forces which have too long been in power in our country."

Nixon said it added up to Stevenson being "part and parcel of the Truman game" and had made a fatal campaign mistake by going to the White House.

"I hope I can hear this multiple courtesies and civility with becoming modesty," he quipped.

Meanwhile it has not been comfortable to be captured by the Republican old guard.

Clearly, then, there was no question that Eisenhower would turn down an administration invitation that would link them to the political enemy's camp.

In his telegram to Truman retelling the chief executive's bid, Eisenhower underscored that angle by saying it is his duty to administer to "analyze" administration policies and to speak out publicly regarding them.

"Where the first wonderer mumbled about whether he or the nation would last much longer, the second described how he spent last Christmas eating with the troops in Korea and looked forward to new travels and adventures. If the vice president had suggested that he might not be back in four years, the convention hall would have exploded with incredulous laughter."

He and his GOP critics had accused him of being a captive of President Truman, the "city bosses," the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), of the CIO and the Dixiecrats.

Clearly, then, there was no question that Eisenhower would turn down an administration invitation that would link them to the political enemy's camp.

In his telegram to Truman retelling the chief executive's bid, Eisenhower underscored that angle by saying it is his duty to administer to "analyze" administration policies and to speak out publicly regarding them.

And, assuming any implication of working with the administration behind closed doors, Eisenhower behind closed doors, Eisenhower said it added up to Stevenson being "part and parcel of the Truman game" and had made a fatal campaign mistake by going to the White House.

"I hope I can hear this multiple courtesies and civility with becoming modesty," he quipped.

Meanwhile it has not been comfortable to be captured by the Republican old guard.

Eden Weds His Boss's Niece In Civil Ceremony

High Cabinet Member Takes Second Bride As Winnie Watches

LONDON — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden married his boss's niece, 32-year-old Clara Churchill, today in a brief civil ceremony. The handsome groom was all smiles.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill was a witness as the daughter of his dead brother and his 33-year-old political heir apparent were united in London's Canon Hall.

It was Eden's second marriage and his bride's first. Because of his divorce two years ago from the former Beatrice Beckett—now living in New York City—today's ceremony could not be performed in the Church of England.

None of the royal family was present. British royalty doesn't attend the weddings of divorced persons.

The romance between Eden and Churchill's vivacious blonde niece took all London by surprise when it was announced earlier this week.

But the two had known each other for years, and they have much in common. One interest they share is British foreign policy, which Eden has done much to shape in recent years.

During World War II, while Eden was running the foreign office, his bride worked in the department's communications section, decoding telegrams and many confidential documents.

Both are descended from aristocratic, land-owning families. A baronetcy, held by his elder brother, was granted in the Eden family in the 17th Century by King Charles II.

The new Mrs. Eden is the daughter of the late Maj. John Spencer Churchill, who died in 1947. Her mother, Lady Gwendoline Churchill, was a daughter of the seventh baron of Abingdon, died in 1946.

Prime Minister and Mrs. Churchill have taken a warm personal interest in their orphaned niece, who London society hailed in 1934 as the "most beautiful debutante of the year."

Removal of both adrenal glands from animals results in death in about 48 hours.

In his telegram to Truman retelling the chief executive's bid, Eisenhower underscored that angle by saying it is his duty to administer to "analyze" administration policies and to speak out publicly regarding them.

And, assuming any implication of working with the administration behind closed doors, Eisenhower behind closed doors, Eisenhower said it added up to Stevenson being "part and parcel of the Truman game" and had made a fatal campaign mistake by going to the White House.

"I hope I can hear this multiple courtesies and civility with becoming modesty," he quipped.

Meanwhile it has not been comfortable to be captured by the Republican old guard.

Clearly, then, there was no question that Eisenhower would turn down an administration invitation that would link them to the political enemy's camp.

By Their Work

Progress in Her Services

There's an old saying: "If you want something done, do it your self."

Americans have long been familiar with the wisdom of this advice. Self-reliance has been part of our nation's character from early settlement and pioneer days. And evidence abounds that such self-reliance is still very much in the fiber of our life today.

Take for instance, the story of Staunton, Ill., which recently came to the attention of Health Information Foundation of New York. Staunton is a mining town of 3000 people, a mining town which four years ago had no hospital and needed one badly.

Staunton now has that hospital. The citizens themselves repaired an old, abandoned school house to get it virtually rebuilding the structure brick by brick. There was no outside help in this task. And funds for a modern hospital, especially in a small town like Staunton, are difficult to come by.

Not people of Staunton raised the necessary funds out of their own walets and purses. They shopped and saved. And the hospital was built by their own work—manual work, head work, leg work, hard, long and all but frustrating work. Built by miners, mail carriers, grocers, housewives. Women's clubs lent a hand. Church groups, Boy Scouts, civic organizations, all contributed in one way or another. There was plastering to be done and painting, wiring, hammering and sawing—even sewing.

But these things were done by the average citizen of Staunton and the town's Memorial Hospital, with its 50 beds, ultra modern operating room, and iron lung too, today stands as both a place of careful service and a monument to the determination, single-mindedness and self-reliance of the people of Staunton, Ill.

The Delaware River forms a natural boundary for parts of four eastern states—New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

The only sure way to halt him is to try to borrow money from him, or else top him by interrupting. "Oh, by the way, Joe, while you were gone I saw a flying saucer."

What the average office needs from June until Labor Day is a "vacation hour" each morning. For the first 60 minutes of each work day the office staff could assemble and listen to music to the return of pilgrims tell the sad and wonderful story of what befell them. Anybody who even mentioned the word vacation the rest of the day would be automatically his people.

The office vacationists fall into pretty standard types. Here are a few you may recognize:

1. The postcard fiend—he writes you a postcard as he leaves his home, and stops off at every other filling station along the way to mail more. Two weeks after he's back at work you are still getting postcards about what a swell time he is having.

2. The calamity kid—bee-slung and covered with poison ivy, he returns on crutches. "Just stopped by on my way to the hospital," he mumbles through his bandages. "The doc says I got to spend a month in bed. Will you handle my work while I'm gone?"

3. The camera photographer—she looks the color of a hand rubbed with valium bookcase from days of beach sunning, and there are wedding bells in her eyes. But the new bride is not met at the shore suite, calling her up after three days, and for the rest of the summer she snaps at you if you even say "Hello."

4. The camera nut—he has to be forcibly restrained from pulling down the office window blinds and trying to show everybody the interesting new movies he made of Niagara Falls.

5. The statistician—This boy not only has the figures of how much he paid for gas and oil at every stop—he also wants to tell you the air pressure in each tire the day he drove up Pike's peak.

6. The overbearing hombody—"Vacations are more fun at home," he begins. And for the next three hours he bores you with the details of how much a day he saved and what a great time he had repeating his little grey nest in the suburbs.

7. The funny fellow—Every time you get a letter from him, he throws my mother-in-law to the bears in Yellowstone Park," he says, "and guess what—they arrested me. How did I know you aren't allowed to feed the animals?"

8. The don't let-'em-get-away-with anything guy—"They try to rob you every stop of the way," he moans, and neglects to mention the time tip he pocketed that the tourist before him had left for

Blues Lose To Leesburg, 7-4, Then Crush Packers, 17-2

Corrales Wins 13th As Sanford Makes 20 Hits; Packers Play Here Tonight

By KEN CHETLAIN
The last-ditch effort for a play-off berth began to fade for the Seminole Blues after last night's even split with two Packers in Leesburg. Palatka won again to increase their margin over the Blues to five games for the one remaining play-off spot.

The Seminoles have 17 games to play before the end of the season on Aug. 29. Palatka has the same number and is leading the RACE FOR PLAY-OFF BERTH.

Palatka 65 33 554 17
Orlando 63 54 529 24
Sanford 60 54 508 5 17
will have to play one less or 16 more.

The Blues have four more contests with Palatka, three here and one in Azalea Bowl. A clean sweep of these four games by Sanford while the A's and Blues are playing equal percentage ball the rest of the schedule will not be enough for the Seminoles to overtake Palatka.

Daytona has just about finished second place to make the play-offs with the winner DeLand and second place Jax Beach Sea Birds of the first half.

Last night the "Blue Bombers" dropped the first tilt in the twin bill at Leesburg to the Packers, 7-4, but bounced back with a tremendous 20-hit offensive to devastate the hosts, 17-2, in the nightcap.

Joe Corrales pitched his 13th victory of the campaign as against 16 losses in the second game. The smooth working Ybor City native calmed the Packers for eight consecutive frames before yielding a pair of tallies in the ninth.

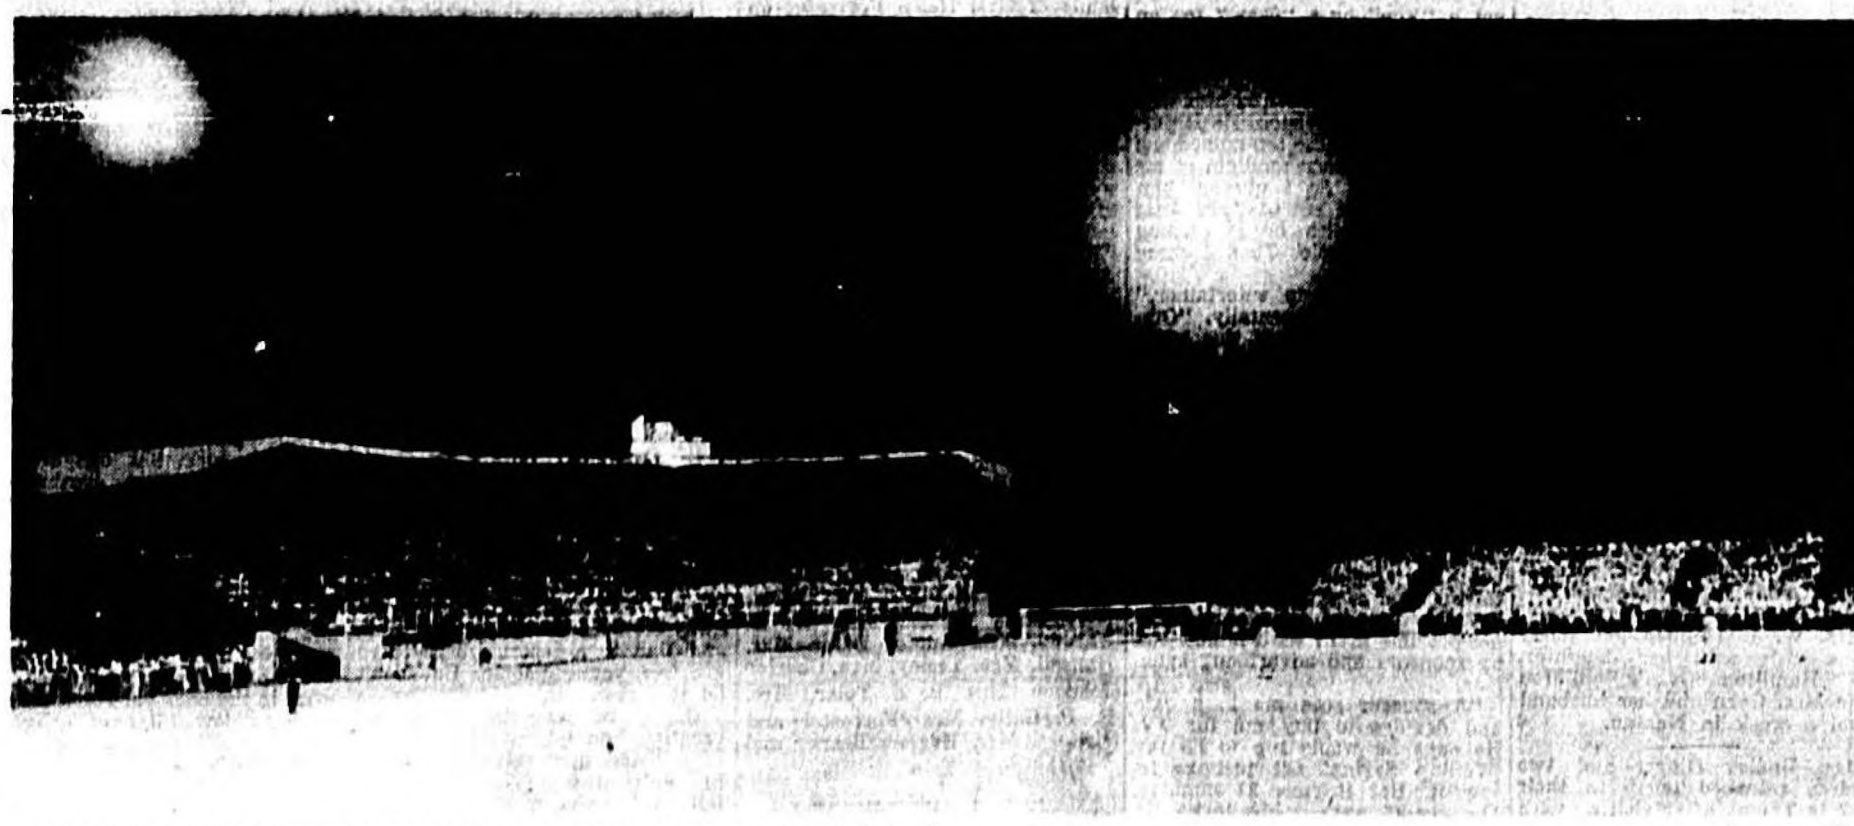

John Imbra and George Kenis paced the big Seminoles hitting onslaught by pounding out four "Jolting Joe" Parise slams out of his 13th home run of the year with two mates aboard. Every Sanford batter had a hand in the batting.

Parise's homer put him two above his total output last year and extended the PSL team HR mark to 78 for the Blues this season.

George Kenis was the batting hero of the evening collecting six hits in 10 trips, 300 percentage. In bill for a total average over the last three games Kenis has pounded out eight home blows in 16 attempts for a sterling .533 batting average.

Chico Corrales, meanwhile, knocked out four for six in last night's games and that gave him an even .500 average over the last four games with eight hits in 16 trips at bat.

Louis Rentas was charged with the defeat in the first game with Bill "Good Deal" Jones and Manager Chuck Aleno appearing in relief roles.

MEMORIAL STADIUM was bulging at the seams last Tuesday night when the Leesburg Packers in Vandalia Garden, which Sanford won by the whopping score of 17-2. Parise's blow gave him two more than he hit last year with the Sanford Giants and he still has 17 games left to play. Joe's circuit smash extended Sanford's league record total for a team to 78.

JOE CORRALES drilled his 13th homer in last night's second game with the Leesburg Packers in Vandalia Garden, which Sanford won by the whopping score of 17-2. 16 Doctoral Degrees Given At U. of F.
GAINESVILLE (Special) — A record number of 16 doctoral degrees will be awarded at University of Florida Commencement exercises Saturday night, Aug. 16.

The previous high was set last June when 13 students were awarded 11 Doctor of Philosophy degrees and two Doctor of Education degrees. The 16 this summer will receive 14 Ph.D. degrees and two Doctor of Education degrees.

In addition to the doctors, some 340 masters degrees are to be awarded, as well as 270 bachelors degrees, and 10 law degrees.

The summer Commencement, which marks the end of a nine-week session, is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. in the Florida Gymnasium. On Saturday afternoon from 4:30 to 6:00 there will be a tea for the graduates, given in the Student Service Center by President and Mrs. J. H. Miller.

Elden Repaski, outfielder for the Rochester Red Wings in the International League, was named St. Cloud (Minn.) Teacher's College on a football scholarship.

Grady Nation of the Cincinnati Reds never played in the minor leagues. He came directly to the Reds after his Army discharge in 1945.

Sportsmen

By ROBERT Z. JOHNSON

Some members of the Sanford Hunting Club with their families and a few friends have been enjoying a successful fishing trip at their camp on Lake Kerr near Salt Springs in the Ocala National Forest. Among those who were there were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Whittington, Mr. and Mrs. George Maffett, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wells and B. G. Methvin of Sanford; Homer Clause, Palatka, and Mr. and Mrs. May of Plant City.

Catching the largest bass in the party were Mrs. Clint May with two 10-pounders, a n d Homer Clause with another 10-pounder. These bass were caught on live bait early in the morning and late in the afternoon.

Mr. Line Jacobs, secretary-treasurer of the Fifth District Sportsmen's Association, advises us that there will be a meeting of the association here Friday night in the City Hall at 8:00 p.m.

All sportsmen, whether a member of a club or not, are urged to attend this meeting. It promises to be a very interesting meeting for all persons interested in conservation.

The organization of a statewide Junior Conservation Club League will be highlighted by the signing of the charter by Governor Fuller Warren at 10:30 a.m. on Aug. 22. The Governor also will be there to attend Florida's first Junior Sportsman's summer camp.

The League organization, which will make Florida one of the three states in the nation having similar youth groups, will follow an address by Governor Warren to the assembled delegates of 25 Junior Sportsmen's Clubs in the state. The two other states having Junior Sportsmen's Leagues are Kentucky and Missouri.

Signing of the charter will climax a year's activities of the Game and Fish Water, Fish and Game Commission throughout the state in organizing groups of youngsters interested in hunting, fishing and other outdoor sports. To date 27 clubs, including a color guard and a girl's unit, have been formed in all sections of Florida with the possibility that this number will be more than doubled during the coming year.

During his visit to the camp, Governor Warren will preside on the dedication ceremony of the new $10,000 traveling Wildlife display unit. Present for the activities will be other state officials including Chairman Cecil Webb, Director Ben L. McCullough and other Commission officials.

It is expected that a large number of Sportsmen members of the Florida Senate and House of Representatives, newspaper and radio men, photographers, members of the Florida Outdoor Writers Association and other interested persons will also be present. Arrangements are also being made to include a news reel camera-man and representatives of several magazines.

17-Year-Old Boy Has Narrow Lead In Golf Tourney

EUGENE, Ore. — Roger Boyd, 17-year-old from Tacoma, Wash., held a narrow lead today as the nation's youngsters headed for the halfway mark of the annual Jaycee Junior golf tournament.

The Washington state Junior champ, who reached the quarter-finals of last year's Jaycee tourney at Durham, N. C., equaled par Country Club Wednesday.

This surprised Boyd as much as anyone else, for he had not been shooting well in qualifying rounds. He was 16 strokes over par in the qualifications, and he went two more strokes over par on the first two holes.

Suddenly his game turned. He slipped over only twice the rest of the day, meanwhile running home four birdies and ten pars.

There were 18 other players close on his heels, though, as the 10 entrants in his Junior Chamber of Commerce journey began to learn how to avoid the numerous trees along the fairways.

Only one stroke back were the day's runners-up, Don Blippling, Orlando, Fla.; Buddy Manderson, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; and Scotty Fraser, Panama City, Fla.

The shooting of the Florida boys was the first round of a four-day tourney in a play-off with California. The four-man teams had tied earlier at 610 strokes each. Florida won the playoff, 299 to 313.

DeLand And "Red" Roberts Register 4-2 Win Over Jax

By NEIL GILBRIDE

DeLand's Red Roberts seems to be making a habit out of pitching, and beating the Jacksonville Beach Sea-Birds in the Florida State League. He beat them 4-2 Wednesday night for his 12th win this season, nine of them over the Sea-Birds.

Roberts, whose two losses this year were both to Jacksonville Beach, gave up nine hits, while loser Ernie Clark allowed eight to the league-leading DeLand Red Hats. The winning DeLand runs were unearned in the fourth inning.

Other games Wednesday night, Daytona Beach beat Cocoa, 5-3. Palatka downed Orlando 6-1. Leesburg won 7-4 and lost 17-2 in a doubleheader with Sanford.

Palatka scored twice in the first inning and once in the second and then coasted to the win over Orlando. Palatka batters swatted 13 hits off the three Orlando pitchers.

Daytona Beach beat Cocoa with a four-run rally in the ninth inning, including catcher Buck Pardue's three-run homer.

Rolando Ortega pitched Leesburg to the first game win over Sanford with a four-hitter. But in the second game, Sanford batters got mad and whacked out 20 hits for their 17-run second-game win.

Prep Highlights

By SAM JACOBSON

Summer is drawing to a close. Baseball is reaching its climax. And, as it does every August, football is slowly edging into the sports spotlight. The pro-football teams have already swung into action; the collegiate "amateur" gridsters are rounding into shape, and high school coaches are beginning to gather their squads together.

The football bug has really begun to take hold again, and Sanford is by no means immune to its bite. Seminole High coaches Fred Ganas and Bill Fleming have issued a call for all prospective candidates to try out.

Bill Fleming, port for practice Monday. They admit that they don't expect every boy out (some are working out of town, etc.) but a big turnout is expected.

Ganas and Fleming, entering into their second year as head mentors at S.H.S., have quite a job in attempting to produce an equal to their 1951 eleven. There are eight lettermen returning from last year's East Florida Conference second place finishers, but only three of them are linemen.

Fleming, in commenting on the football outlook, says, "We have no ideas as to prospects at the present time, but we do have high hopes for a winning team." He further stated that although the backfield is "pretty well fixed" some new replacements are going to be necessary. The locals will also continue to operate from the single wing formation which proved so successful last year.

Practice sessions which will be held twice a day until school opens will consist mainly of conditioning drills. Inasmuch as the State Athletic Association will not permit pads to be issued until Sept. 2, the Seminoles will be in contact with Junior Metts work until after that date.

Lettermen returning from last year's squad are Terry Cordell, all-conference center, Joe Hickens, Harry Byrd, Junior Metts, Ed Lockett, J. B. Howell, Ray "Quincy" Davis, and Joe Hutchison. Other holdovers who saw quite a bit of action are Ross Hannum, selected as a varsity member, and Squire, Bubba Hise, John Carter, Jimmy Fox, Kicking specialist, and Jimmy Wade.

S.H.S.'s basketball hopes may have received a terrific setback when Warren "Mac" McCall, rebounding forward, moved to Oviedo. Warren is at present undecided as to whether or not he will go to school in Sanford, but if he should choose in favor of Oviedo it is definite that his loss will be a serious one to the Feds.

Prior to signing with the Pittsburgh Pirates, Dick Gray was a star in the College World Series at Omaha. He played errorless ball for Duke University in this classic and batted .333.

Next President Of U.S. Is Confronted With Tax Decision

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The next President faces a urgent five-billion dollar tax decision as soon as he takes his oath of office.

The rather vague talk about possible future tax reductions, coming out of both the Eisenhower and Stevenson presidential campaign camps, strikes practical tax men here as interesting but somewhat beside the point.

That's because a lot of taxes are due to go down sharply, starting at the end of next year, unless the President and the 83rd Congress act affirmatively to keep them up. It will be up to the new chief executive to tell the lawmakers what he wants—which may or may not be what he gets.

It will be in the President's advantage to submit his tax recommendations promptly, because it takes a long time to grind a tax bill through the congressional mill. The last one required almost nine months.

In drafting that increase, which went into effect last fall, Congress set definite cut-off dates for the increased rates. The veterans on the tax-writing committees recognized that a tax without an expiration date is, in practical effect, a permanent levy.

In the absence of positive legislative action next year, taxes are due to go down $3,200,000,000. There would be a cut of $2,200,000,000 in corporate taxes, and some $1,000 million in excise levies.

Individual income taxes are scheduled to revert to the last pre-war rates Dec. 31, 1953. The corporate excess profits tax would be cut in half for calendar 1953, and abolished for calendar 1954. The increase in the regular corporation taxes is due to run out April 1, 1954.

That also in the date for the scheduled cut back in a number of excise levies, including those on liquor, beer, cigarettes, autos and tires.

Washington tax experts frankly doubt whether either Gov. A. L. Stevenson or Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has been thoroughly briefed on the national tax problem.

The Republican nominee, Eisenhower, says taxes have approached the point of hurting incentive and initiative. He talks of a 20 or 40 billion dollar cut in the budget, but then declares that a budget reduction doesn't necessarily entail a tax cut.

Eisenhower could get quite an argument out of any congressman on that point.

Gov. Stevenson's headquarters has buzzed recently with talk of a substantial reduction in the cost of government by July 1, 1954. Since arms represent a major share of the U. S. budget, this is strictly tax-cutting talk.

Yet neither candidate has given any public recognition in the program of that five billion dollars which must be faced up to next year.

Three Armed Men Rob Ohio Bank Official

WARREN, O. (AP) — Three armed men masked with burlap sacks forced the car of a Warren Bank official off the road today and robbed him of about $7,000 in cash.

The holdup was staged just seven blocks from Warren's main business section.

Charles Foley was taking the money from the Union Savings & Trust Co.'s main building to its Woodland Avenue branch, of which he is manager.

Police quoted him as saying two of the men leaped out of the holdup car armed with a sawed off shotgun and a revolver after cutting in front of him with their auto.

One smashed the car window with the shotgun butt and the pair grabbed a package which held the money, he told police.

Foley was not harmed.

FRONT PAGE NEWS

LONDON (AP) — The Manchester Guardian, founded 131 years ago, disclosed today it has finally decided to start printing news on its front page.

In common with many other British newspapers, the influential, liberal Guardian now carries nothing on page one but pure advertising matter.

A spokesman said the change-over will be made some time during the autumn. He added that the Guardian hasn't yet decided where it will put the displaced ads.

COURT RULING SOLVARY

BERGHESSADEN, Germany (AP) — A lower German court was asked here to rule whether Adolf Hitler is officially dead.

Pros Are Favored To Defeat Collegians

CHICAGO (AP) — Much to the distress of Coach Jumbo Joe Slydhar, his Los Angeles Rams have been installed as two touchdown favorites over the college all-stars in their football fracas at Soldier Field Friday night.

Joe can't see the odds that way and has become the first coach of the 1952 gridiron season to get out the crying towel.

After predicting that the winning team will have to score at least four touchdowns, the bossman of the National Football League champions said his hair down this way:

1. "It's a one shot game for the All Stars and each boy on that squad is ready to play his heart out. That gives the All Stars a psychological advantage."
2. "It's impossible for us to reach a peak in three weeks of drills because the average age of our play is much more than the All Stars."
3. "A pro team can't get so high although the All Star game is big

Egyptians Warned To Abstain From Riots

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Mob minded Egyptians had warning today to keep still or run the risk of hanging.

The country's military commander announced Wednesday night any attempt at disturbance would be considered high treason, an offense punishable by death.

The announcement from Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, army chief of staff and architect of the recent military coup d'etat, followed a labor riot outside Alexandria Wednesday in which five to seven persons died.

The government said that seven persons were killed and 25 hurt in the fighting. Authorities on the spot listed only five dead and eight persons still hospitalized with injuries.

It was the first public disturbance since Naguib and the army installed Premier Aly Maher and forced King Farouk to abdicate three weeks ago. Maher said the rioters jeopardized "Egypt's security and integrity" and that he was

B-29 Crewmen Saved By Hitting The Silk

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — All 15 crewmen parachuted to safety from a stricken B-29 Superfort last night after it crashed and burned early today.

The B-29, which was on a mission to drop incendiary bombs on the city of Spokane, was hit by a lightning bolt while on a low altitude mission.

The flyers, who bailed out in open darkness over sparsely settled wheat farming country, were located by farmers who scattered the area with flashlights.

Farfield Air Force Base said the pilot ordered all members of his crew to jump after the plane developed engine trouble and he was bailed out.

Base officials did not disclose names or whether there were any injuries to the crewmen, attached to the 11th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing at Fairchild.

Soviet Boss Named Hungarian Minister

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Matyas Rakosi, secretary general of the Hungarian Communists and undisputed boss of this Soviet puppet nation, was elected prime minister by the Hungarian Parliament today. He had held the post as vice premier.

Atvan Doby, former premier and member of the Smallholders Party, resigned the speaker of the House announced. He then was given the job of president of the parliament. The job is a figurehead position in all Communist countries.

Sandor Rona, who had been president of Parliament's presidium, the highest authority in the country, also resigned. He had been the last representative of the former Social Democrats in Hungarian political life.

The right wing section of the party escaped from Hungary to the most part before or just after the merger of the Socialist and Communist Parties. Since then, leftist elements among the Socialists who supported the merger

New Shooting Breaks Out In Balkan Area

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A new outbreak of shooting was reported today on the border between Bulgarian and Greek territory.

A Greek army communiqué said Bulgarians opened fire without warning Wednesday on a Greek patrol on Mount Belles in Greek territory, and the Greek soldiers answered with machine guns. The communiqué said a United Nations armistice observer had gone to the spot to investigate.

Quiet had prevailed along the border in a last weekend, when Greek troops shelled tiny Gannina, a town on the border line. Greek forces had been in the area since the disputed title. The area had been made no further attempt to land on the island.

THE SANFORD HERALD

Warren To Direct Energies Toward Getting Toll Road

TALLAHASSEE — With his time in office running out, Gov. Warren has pledged himself not to waste a single hour that might be devoted to getting the proposed 275 million dollar Florida tollpike under way.

Warren, who leaves office Jan. 6, said his administration "will enthusiastically and vigorously push this project." However, the State Road Board said that while it favors the idea of an East Coast toll highway linking Miami and Jacksonville it doesn't want to take any steps which would bind its successors in office.

The road board members said they haven't enough time left to get the project under way before their terms expire. The State Improvement Commission, which would handle financing of the big project, was told Wednesday it will take at least three months to complete studies of potential tollpike earnings and make necessary engineering and traffic surveys.

The Improvement Commission, which met Wednesday to hear the road board's report, adjourned without taking action. The tollpike meeting was not set but will be called by Gov. Warren. The commission members took with them for study the road board's report.

Elsewhere in Tallahassee Gov. Warren said he may call a special primary election to name a successor to the late State Supreme Court Justice Roy H. Chapman — and apparently Republicans may participate.

The State Supreme Court told Warren he has authority to call the election and set a date for it. Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin said earlier if the governor called the election Republicans might run for the position.

There had been some doubt as to whether the election should be called by the governor or the State Democratic Executive Committee. Chapman was a Democrat and had been nominated without Republican support.

Iranian Peasantry Looks Forward To
'New Deal' Policy

TEHRAN, Iran — Iran's down-trodden peasants looked forward today to a "new deal"—an eight per cent cut from the giant-sized landlord's share of what they produce.

The decree ordering a better break for the nation's poverty-stricken sharecropping farmers was issued Wednesday by Premier Mohammed Mossaddegh.

It also specified that the landlords must deposit another 10 per cent of the income from their estates in special rural banks to aid needy farmers.

The decree was the first of a series of reforms promised by the aged Nationalist leader when Parliament this week granted him the right to rule with near-dictatorial powers for six months.

The first decree is expected to take some of the wind out of Communist propaganda blasts for land and agricultural reforms. Most of Iran's arable land is owned by a comparative handful of large landholders.

Until now, Iranian peasants have received only a tiny share of what they produced on the privately owned estates. The exact amount varied according to arrangements between the tenant and the landowner.

Red Linotypist's Dismissal Due To Error Sanctioned

NEW YORK — An impartial arbitrator today upheld the firing of a newspaper linotypist whose typographical error echoed the Communist Party line.

The Long Island Star Journal fired Allan Ross, a top-pay employee of 13 years and an admitted former Communist, after he set type reading "American system of fascism and security." Instead of "American system of freedom and security."

The error, made last September, was not caught until more than one-third of the first edition was out.

Edward J. McDonald, chairman of the five-man panel which heard the case, said in his report and award that the substitution of "fascism" for "freedom" was "too pat to suggest error; on the contrary, its very aptness suggests willful substitution."

The typographical union, Local 6, AFL, argued Ross made a normal error in setting matter which had not been proof-read and therefore under the union contract was not responsible for errors.

McDonald disagreed. He said, "the type as set represented a disloyal distortion of text in defiance of the spirit and sense of the article in question. When it was deliberately done by Ross or was the inadvertent or subconscious response or reaction of his Communist distaste of the subject matter, it demonstrated his unsuitability for continued employment."

The article in which the error appeared was a syndicated guest column for Robert S. Allen written by "George of the Navy" Dan Kimball about the Marine Corps.

Mrs. Roosevelt Is Rebuked For False
Report About City

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is in hot water with the city fathers here. They are aroused over what they considered a reflection on Poughkeepsie in her syndicated "My Day" column.

Commenting on an experiment in Newburgh to reduce tooth decay by fluoridation of drinking water, she wrote:

"In our nearby city of Poughkeepsie, we are so backward about our water system that I doubt whether we will ever give a thought to such an experiment."

Not so, says Poughkeepsie Mayor Robert E. Stevens. Poughkeepsie already has contracted for equipment so fluoridation can begin next month, he says.

"A retraction should be made," he told newsmen.

Dr. George Kraus, the city's health officer, said "Mrs. Roosevelt isn't very well informed and I believe she should make a correction in her column."

City Manager Hayden Johnson said he was writing to ask her to inform her readers of "Poughkeepsie's progress toward fluoridation."

Mrs. Roosevelt was not immediately available for comment.

To Lift Watch Duty

WASHINGTON — President Truman today refused to increase the tariff on imported watches as proposed by the Tariff Commission.

The President said he was unable to agree with the commission "that our domestic watch industry has been seriously injured, that there is a threat of serious injury."

The domestic watch industry has long sought a duty hike because of large imports of watches, watch movements, parts and cases from Switzerland.

During long maneuvering over the question, Switzerland has made it plain it would increase duties on its imports of U. S. products if the American duty on watches was boosted. Tobacco products are a big item in Swiss purchases from the U. S.

University Experts Analyze Costs In Citrus Industry

GAINESVILLE (Special) — It costs Florida growers or processors at least 45 cents a box for oranges, 33 cents a box for grapefruit and 71 cents a box for tangerines to have fruit picked and hauled to processing plants and sold to the plants.

These figures are revealed in a study covering the 1950-51 season by A. H. Spurlock and Dr. H. G. Hamilton, economists on the staff of the University of Florida Agricultural Experiment Station staff. They made the study with funds provided by the Research and Marketing Act. Costs were summarized for nine firms ranging in volume from 300,000 boxes to more than 3,000,000 boxes.

The economists say picking labor rates are known to have been higher during 1951-52 and some other costs also are reported to have increased. Thus the figures for the season just past are almost certain to have been higher.

Analysis of their 1950-51 study, just concluded, reveals the following details:

Costs of picking averaged 28.30 cents per box for oranges, 18.62 cents for grapefruit and 66.93 cents for tangerines. Only four operators picked tangerines. Most of the oranges included were bunched; the cost of picking seedling oranges was considerably higher.

Hauling costs from the roadside to the processing plant averaged 10.31 cents per box for all types of fruit and over all distances.

Buying and selling costs of citrus handlers were 3.84 cents per box.

Combined average costs for all services of buying and selling, picking, and hauling were 42.51 cents per box for oranges, 32.77 cents for grapefruit and 71.08 cents for tangerines.

The largest items of cost in picking fruit were direct labor of the picking crew, repairs on equipment, management and office salaries, and truck expenses. Hauling costs consisted largely of driver's wages, and fuel, repairs and depreciation on trucks. Buying and selling costs were mostly for brokerage or buyers' salaries, travel expense, and telephone and telegraph.

Interest on borrowed money was included as a cost if actually incurred, but no interest has been allowed on invested capital.

SCOUT SENTENCED

EXETER, England — A Boy Scout who was a dead shot with a rifle scored direct hits from the 150-foot high Gothic tower of Exeter Cathedral on two cathedral dignitaries walking sedately below.

The victims were quite prepared to regard it as a childish prank but not the sharpshooter's fellow scouts. The culprit had been admitted to the top of the ancient tower only after promising on his honor to be well-behaved.

In a letter of apology to cathedral authorities Wednesday, other members of the scout troop said they had court-martialed the culprit and sentenced him to stand under a tall tree while fellow scouts pulled him from the topmost branches with pitons.

LOVE IS BLIND

DERBY, England — Seeking a divorce on grounds of cruelty, Mrs. Chapman testified Wednesday her husband tried to strangle her on her wedding day, slapped her face, took all her earnings on her first pay day after the wedding and threw a knife at her. She won the case.

Talkathon Device "Goes To Town" In Other State Polls

MIAMI — When Bradley Odham first used the radio "talkathon" to belabor the candidates of Florida voters in the primaries last spring, he really started some thing.

Odham didn't win the Democratic nomination for governor, but his question-and-answer "talkathon" brought him from nowhere into a contending position and lured so many votes he was able to force favored Dan McCarthy into a run off.

Wednesday the "talkathon" blossomed into a nationally famous political gimmick when Francis Chery, an obscure country judge who had used it defeated Truman-backed Gov. Sid McMath for the Democratic nomination for governor of Arkansas.

In Wisconsin, Leonard A. Schmitt is using it in his campaign for the Republican nomination for the Senate seat now held by Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

And in Ohio, former Price Adm. Michael V. DiSalle is considering this unique campaign method in his effort to unseat Republican Sen. John W. Bricker.

Father of the "talkathon" is Bob Venn, radio and television director of Houck & Company of Florida, a Miami advertising firm which controls the name and is selling it in political candidates.

Karl Bishop, president of Houck & Company, said the idea was first recommended by Venn to George Smathers in his successful 1950 Senate campaign against Claude Pepper. Smathers, he said, considered it but felt he didn't need it to win.

"Then last January Venn and Herbert F. Thomson, a Houck vice president, sold the idea to Bradley Odham and Bradley almost pulled it out," Bishop said.

Odham's "talkathon" lasted from a few hours to 24 hours or longer without a break. Sometimes they were broadcast on statewide networks.

The Sanford business man told the voters they were entitled to know how he stood on everything and invited their questions. They took him up, shouting queries at him by the thousands.

If there was anything about Odham the people didn't know when the campaign was over, it wasn't Odham's fault.

The people liked the "talkathons" so well they responded generously to Odham's plea for small contributions. "With no strings attached," usually he collected enough to pay for the radio time and other expenses.

In Arkansas Judge Chery declared the "talkathon" enabled him to reach more voters than any other candidate. And it enabled the voters to find out everything about him there is to know, including how he like my eggs for breakfast.

Entering the campaign without a political record that could be attacked, Judge Chery answered an estimated 30,000 questions on the radio. The veteran politician he beat blamed the "talkathons."

Mark Sullivan, 74, Columnist, Is Dead

WEST CHESTER, Pa. — Mark Sullivan, 74, nationally known newspaper columnist, died of a heart attack Wednesday night in Chester County Hospital.

In the newspaper business for 45 years, Sullivan was the author of several books, including his own autobiography, and once served as editor of Collier's Magazine.

A lifelong resident of Chester County, he was born in Axwilde, Pa., near West Chester on Sept. 10, 1874. Sullivan was the youngest of 10 children. His parents were Irish immigrants who became prosperous Pennsylvania farmers.

Sullivan, himself, grew up on a farm and was a part owner of a newspaper at 19.

night the Marines can see the bright beam of a searchlight over Panmunjom, warning away planes. A tanned Marine in another bunk said the Chinese mortars are "terrible." A big hunk of shrapnel had torn through his armored vest and cut open his side. But he said the vest saved his life.

"We were digging with our helmets to get some cover," said the blond youth. "When those mortars started dropping, we'd put on our helmets, hug the ground and pray one of 'em didn't hit. When it did quiet again, we'd take them off and resume digging."

"You know, it's amazing how fast you can throw dirt with a helmet when it's a matter of survival."

Cuba, Bolita Have Become Big Racket Says Miami Herald

MIAMI — The numbers racket, Cuba and bolita have grown to "gigantic" proportions in Miami, the Herald said today.

No longer the stepchildren of the high gold coast gambling families, they have stepped into long pants with pockets heavily lined with silver, said an article by staff writer J. J. Smith.

Some ground in the Negro section where the lottery houses have their bustling empires. You'll find people who know how to gamble the numbers racket has grown.

They'll tell you that Miami's 15,000 lottery houses, handling bets, during peak seasons, totaling $1,000,000 a week, much of it in time, and quarters from Miami's 20,000 Negroes.

You'll find the operators, many of them about the high end of protection and complaining about the $100 to $1,000 a month they say they pay out in graft in order to keep operating.

Each operator of a numbers house gets a state-issued license for $200 to $300 each week he has the take is listed on the record book. He keeps to clear him self with the federal government.

Actually, the 10 per cent fed and tax on gambling hasn't both ended the numbers operators at all. Before the new tax law went into effect last October, the pay-off on the numbers used to be 70 per cent of the take. Now they get only a 60 per cent payout.

ITALY STRENGTHENS

Rome — Italy's armed forces have been strengthened by 100,000 men and 150 new planes since the American military aid program began, it was reported today.

The Rome News Agency, which usually depends on official communications, said a list of the planes were not completed.

Other American aid to Italy has included the loan for two destroyer escorts, three patrol vessels and 11 landing craft, the agency reported.

August Torrid Spell Clings To Wide Area

By The Associated Press

August turned up its burners today over wide areas of the nation. Much of Texas went into the 13th consecutive day of 100-degree plus heat.

The mercury mounted toward the high 90s and 90s in the Northern and Southern Rockies and Northern Great Plains.

Parts of Kansas also sweltered in 100-degree heat Wednesday, Hill City reporting a high of 103.

Rising temperatures were forecast for most of the Midwest. Cooler weather came to the coastal regions of the Pacific Southwest and cool Canadian air moved over the extreme Northern Plains.

Tornadoes ripped up several farms in Eastern Nebraska Wednesday night, damaging farm homes and buildings and injuring at least six persons.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms dampened sections of the East Gulf, South Atlantic States, Middle Mississippi and Lower Missouri Valleys. Northern Great Lakes region, the Central Plains, Central Rockies and Southern Plains states.

Business Group Happier, Opine Pulse-Takers

Fear Of Depression
Reported Shelved
In Current Bliss

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — Businessmen are swinging around to a happier frame of mind—after a long period of pessimism—according to a group of pulse-takers who are to be credited.

Businessmen, who are to be credited with a more optimistic outlook, are lining up on the side of the optimists in appraising prospects for the rest of the year.

A poll of 2,271 business executives by Dun & Bradstreet shows that 60 percent of them expect the year to be profitable.

Nearly all plan to maintain present employment levels and some expect to hire more men.

Sixty-five per cent believe prices will be maintained for the rest of the year. Sixteen per cent look for higher prices, while 19 per cent predict lower prices for the year.

Those who believe price levels will be steady appear to have a more optimistic outlook than the pessimists who believe prices will fall.

Most of the businessmen polled by Dun & Bradstreet also believe that the economy is generally strong. The majority expect the economy to be strong in the months ahead.

Textile men are especially happy. The Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York says the month's survey on profits has ended. Not only is mill activity on the increase, but so are textile prices.

Some of the buoyant forces he sees ahead are high demand for housing, the building of toll roads and TV stations, and general capital goods expansion.

He stresses that high wages, low individual debt levels in general, and the large amount of liquid capital for investment all bolster the economy. And when defense spending declines, he looks for tax reductions to offset it by giving business greater incentives.
