Nevada Solon Says Functions Of Forest Service Will Be Given To Ickes

Vote On Naval Bill Postponed

Regional Planning Legislation Is Expected Next Week

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15. (AP)—Senator Pittman, Nev. Democrat, urging modification of the Administration's reorganization bill, told the Senate today that "there is nothing on earth but what Secretary Ickes wants to meddle with it."

Pittman argued for adoption of amendments to the bill, saying he had received "authoritative" information that if the bill passed, President Roosevelt planned to transfer some of the functions of the Forest Service to the Department of Interior headed by Ickes. These transferred functions would include the giving of titles now operated by the

Celery Market Causes Anxiety Among Localities

Pessimism Is Felt In Face Of Heavy Shipments Anticipated

What will be the trend of the celery market during the next two weeks, the peak of the Florida season, is the question for which every grower and shipper in Sanford and Seminole County would like to know the answer, and next to politics is the most discussed question in this vicinity at the present time.

Much pessimism is felt over the heavy shipments last week and this week even though only a little over half of the available supply of the commodity has been allotted for shipment by the Celery Control Committee.

Prices, however, at the principal terminal markets stood up comparatively well, according to a report of the Federal State News Service. In view of the heavy shipments the latter part of last week and also in view of the enormous supply held on the tracks in 16 principle markets. Yesterday the track holdings at the 16 markets were slightly over 300 and Monday the total cars which had not been unloaded was 322.

Locally, heavy cuttings were reported and the f. o. b. inquiry was light for Monday and Tuesday with the market weak and unsettled. However, prices on the small-

Several persons still were reported missing. Six persons were killed over a stretch of territory in Mississippi. Three were killed in Alabama and one in Georgia.

Loyalist Premier Flies To France To Plead For Aid

Negrin Said To Have Asked For Planes And Ammunition

Paris, Mar. 15. —(AP)—Premier Negrin of Spain was learned last night to have told France in a flying visit the Spanish government was unable to hold out against the rebel drive unless immediate aid were forthcoming.

The Spanish premiere's hurried visit to Paris was kept secret until he had returned by plane to Barcelona, Spanish government capital now threatened by advancing rebels.

Negrin was said to have pleaded with French government officials to send him 200 planes and large quantities of munitions to stave off the rebel attack.

Barcelona dispatches said the Spanish premiere 'summoned' his ministers into 'meeting' as soon as he reached his temporary capital. Shortly after Negrin left Paris (Continued on Page Five)

Salvation Army Is Extending Drive To Include Negroes

After outlining a program for community development which affects persons of all nationalities and creeds, Capt. R. E. Ross, commanding officer of the local Citadel, announced today that the annual Home Service Appeal of the organization will be extended to include the colored race during the coming campaign.

The general chairman of the drive, Fred R. Wilson, today announced the appointment of two negroes, M. C. Mosley as chairman and Montez Harris as vice-chairman to carry on the campaign among the colored population of Sanford and Seminole County.

Capt. Ross pointed to the program for three-fold development in the Community which is the so-called aim of the Salvation Army, namely, religious advancement, character building and social welfare.

Sixty Students Flee Dormitory As Fire Rages

HERMAN, Pa., Mar. 15. —Sixty students fled in their clothing and wrapped in blankets in the "chill morning hour" today as a spectacular fire swept the main building at the Fidelia Seminary.

Sixty-six younger students in a six-story wing fled from the structure in an orderly procession and stood until flames from nearby towers subsided in saving the nearby monastery and other buildings.

The Rev. Bertrand Brookman, director of the school conducted by Capuchin Franciscan Fathers, estimated the damage at $100,000. He said he had no idea what caused the fire.

Be Prepared

Realizing that there is only one kind of language which the military dictators who appear to be running the world today understand, we are inclined to agree with the advocates of preparedness who are today sponsoring in Congress a navy second to none. If the "malted flat" is to be the universal language of the world, let us be ready to match blow for blow.

With all its problems of high taxation, governmental deficits, unemployment and whatnot, the United States nevertheless is fully able to maintain the largest navy afloat, the strongest standing army, and the most airplanes. If put to it, we could build ten battleships or airplanes, for every one which Germany, Italy, or Japan could produce.

During the past few days Sanford has been treated to a slight impression of the United States' might in the air. A number of the United States' fastest and most powerful bombers have been collected in Orlando and on their way have flown over this city. They are wonderful fighting ships and show that while we are a peace-loving nation, we are not unaware of what is going on in the rest of the world.

We would like to agree with those who seem to think there is absolutely no danger under any circumstances that the United States would be attacked. But as long as countries like Germany are run by men like Hitler, anything can happen. There is never any telling what a megalomaniac drunk with power is going to do.

The best course for us is to be prepared, and then keep our ships and our soldiers at home.

Business Profits

Indicating how unfair it is to enact laws which increase the burdens of all business is the following summary of facts published in the St. Petersburg Independent which shows that only a very small percentage of businesses are profitable, and that most of them are exceedingly unprofitable enterprises. This year, the Independent says, more than two-thirds of all corporations in the United States are likely to lose money.

"In 1930, slightly more than one-half of all active corporations finished in the red. In 1931, more than 60 percent. In 1932, the last full year of depression, more than 80 percent. Even in 1934, the first full year of the recovery, about 70 percent of all active corporations reported a net deficit for the year. In 1935 the recovery continued, yet almost two-thirds of all active corporations ended the year in the red.

"The story of 1934 and 1935 may be repeated this year, because business is now bumping along on a level of activity about equal to the 1934 average. Even if the recovery predicted for the latter part of the year should materialize, the average of business activity in 1938 will hardly go above the average for 1935.

"During 1935 about 477,000 corporations actively engaged in business in the United States. Only about a third of them made a profit. Yet these profits amounted to more than the net deficits suffered by the remaining two-thirds—$5,165,000,000 in net incomes as against $3,489,000,000 in net deficits."

From these figures it can be seen that while a few corporations may be singled out as "profiters," the vast majority of them are by no means money-makers or in a position to stand increased tax burdens or oppressive legislation.

WOMEN ON STAMPS . . .
 Although women have been given the right to vote under provisions of the Constitution only since 1920, efforts on the part of women leaders to secure equal rights have figured prominently in the history of the United States since its beginning.

Actually, women did have a vote in this country at one time, even before our present government was formed. Under the Old Province Charter of Massachusetts, women property-holders were permitted to vote from 1641 to 1780.

Abigail Adams was one of the early suffragettes of American history. In a letter to her husband, John Adams, who was sitting in the Continental Congress, she wrote:

"If particular care and attention are not paid to the ladies, we are determined to foment a rebellion and will not hold ourelves bound to any laws in which we have no voice or representation."

In spite of this gentle threat, Mrs. Adams did not live to see rights. Through the next century her plea for equal political rights for women carried on the banner of the women's movement.

In 1848 the National American Woman Suffrage Association was formed. At the turn of the century Mrs. Carry Chapman Catt, wife of the eminent civic engineer, George Catt, became the organization's new fighting president. In 1904 Mrs. Catt became president of the International Women Suffrage Alliance, a position she has since held.

The 12th Congress of the Alliance was held at Constantinople in 1925, and at the meeting, besides Mrs. Catt, went Jane Addams, another social worker as America's second representative. Original of Chicago's famous Hull House and up-time Municipal Inspector of Streets and Alleys in that city, Jane Adams was one of the greatest women leaders of the century.

Both Mrs. Catt and Jane Adams were singularly honored by the Turkish government, when their pictures appeared on that country's postage stamps, commemorating the meeting of the Alliance.

TARDY DIXITION . . .
 When John L. Sullivan fought Dominick McCaffrey at Cincinnati 33 years ago, in the first championship bout under the Marquis of Queensbury rules, Sullivan had to wait 48 hours before Referee Billy Tait wired his decision from Toledo, Ohio, before he knew the official outcome.

Tomorrow: Farming in the clouds!

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—There was a familiar night about town for a few days recently—Frederick Londale, the Harrold boy who writes of the theater and looks as a playwright should look!

There is something about Londale that is very charming if you lean toward the sophisticated type of English drawing-room comedy. The author of "Gone is Knook" looks the same year after year. His hair is whiter now, of course, but there remains plenty of it, and he still has the stamp of good breed on his tall, smart frame.

Seeing him walk through the lobby of his hotel, and noting the almost imperceptible yet always present look of surprise in his eyes, an observer remarked: "Why, he looks just like an animated Punch! . . . And he does Frederick Londale learned early in life how to enjoy things and he has never forgotten."

But what I started out to mention was the enthusiastic yet cautious curiosity with which New York awaited his new play. After all, it has been seven years since "Freddy" had a hand in the Broadway scene. Not since 1935, when his "Canaries Sometimes Sing" was presented here, has the author of "The Last of Mrs. Cheyne" had a play in New York.

I may say that within 15 minutes after the opening curtain New York had settled confidently back into its seat. The years seem only to have whittled its appetites for the Londale manner, and when the final returns were in, Londale's had again moved up to the pie counter—and New York had a new hit.

One would think he would "hang around" a few days and see what the "inspired" sentiment

Nine Indians Carry On Tribe's Traditions

TULSA, Okla., Mar. 16.—(AP)—There are still some Oklahomans left to carry on the traditions of a once proud Indian tribe, the Piankashaw.

The tribe were scattered centuries ago with the hardy together on mid-western plains of a group of sturdy agriculturists.

Last chieftain of the Piankashaw, George Washington Finley, died in 1925. There left to tell the story of the tribe are his daughter, Mrs. L. O. Bernard of Tulsa, and her children, Orlena Leach and Charles, his son Leo Finley; his grandchildren, Carol Jeanne, Dale Don, John and Jim Finley, who live in Miami, Okla.

A Tulsa artist, Frank Vander Lanchen, painted the chief's portrait a short time before his death, called "The Last Piankashaw." But now he has a portrait of another Piankashaw, Ford Jeanne Finley.

Rosemarie Brancato To Sing Here Monday

Rosemarie Brancato, young American coloratura, will appear next Monday evening at the Princess Theatre at 8:15 o'clock. The performance will be the third in the series of concerts presented under the auspices of the Woman's Club for members of the Co-operative Concerts Association.

Miss Brancato made a sensational debut in 1924 in the role of Gilda in "Rikolto" with the Chicago Civic Opera Company. Landing up in this debut in 1930, she won for New York the Atwater Kent State Contest in which 15 singers participated.

This young singer had the honor of appearing at the White House last season for President Roosevelt and brilliant assemblage of guests.

Miss Brancato has many times been compared with the great Galli-Curi. The Kansas City Times said: "There is a strong similarity between Rosemarie Brancato and Galli-Curi. Like Galli-Curi Miss Brancato is not only a mistress in the field of florid music but in lyric passages displays a classic charm."

In addition to her operatic and concert appearances each season, Miss Brancato continues to hold her spot in radio. It is now two years since she made her debut in "Echoes of New York Town."

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

By JULIAN STENSTROM

Tommy Pankowski, former Sanford hurler who has been signed by the Cleveland Indians of the American League, has changed his name by request of Cleveland officials to Adams. Pankowski told us in a letter that his full name was Thomas Adam Pankowski and that he's just forgetting the final part of his moniker.

He has received orders to give up his great boxing career which has already made him the amateur heavyweight champion of Detroit that seems to disappoint him a great deal but he says he'll just have to get over it.

Floyd Palmer should be given a lot of credit for the work he has been doing for years in attempting to "corner" a major league ball club for Sanford. A big league ball club would do wonders for Sanford in many ways. We had a successful adventure with the Chattanooga Lookouts of the Southern Association last season. What would be the rewards of a major adventure?

SHORT SPORT SHOTS—It has been reported several times that Al Kanzo would return to play center field for the Sanford entry in the State Loop this season. Kanzo must have a salary hike because he's married and two can't live as cheap as one. . . . ask Danny Brainard of the Lookouts last season that are married include Brainard, Kanzo, George Phillips, Wes Kingston, Skipper Rodgers, Lee Head, Mayo Langston and Sammy Holbrook.

Most of the odd jobs in this city are taken up at present time as there are a number of ball players already here. . . . Not the regular Sanford club but a group of "rookies" that will try out for honors. . . . We do hope that Robert Stoinoff will carry the University of Georgia pigskin to honors within the next few years. . . . However, local youngsters who hope to be with the "Gators" by that time say he won't do much in Jacksonville some November afternoon. . . . After reviewing most of the major and minor loop Spring training schedules, it appears that our fair city will be without one of these affairs. . . . The Chattanooga-Washington game here last Spring caused much comment. . . . The Lookouts nosed out the Senators by a score of 5 to 4.

It is expected that Guy Lacy, first baseman and pilot of the Sanford club this season, will report here about the first of next week to make arrangements for the local training situation. Henry Watson still refuses to give out any dope concerning the local entry in the State circuit. . . . St. Augustine and Orlando have come across with their franchise money. . . . Six "Blind Toms" have already been signed to call 'em this season. . . . They are Reid, Peters, Vaughn, Smith, Cowart and a new Comer.

Harry Stratton leading batsman in the South Atlantic League last season while with the Jacksonville Tars, today announced the signing of a contract with Joe Engel's Chattanooga Lookouts. Stratton was purchased by Engel from the Tars during the winter but had previously refused to sign the Lookout contract because of a salary dispute.

Stratton stated that he had come to a settlement with the Southern League club and would report for Spring training activities next Monday in the Lookouts quarters at Daytona Beach.

Harry Stratton To Report To Lookout Training Quarters

Stratton has been employed during the winter months by J. C. Trawick's Fernier Station here and also by the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

Kiwanians Told Of Operations Of National Guards

Third Army of the United States. The Fourth Corps area. Capt. Washburn explained, is made up of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, and South Carolina.

The object of the weekly drills for the National Guards, Capt. Washburn explained, is to teach the enlisted personnel the use of weapons, first aid, personal hygiene and good citizenship. He also explained that it was the aim to instill in the personnel the virtues of loyalty, faithfulness, willingness and obedience.

He declared that the National Guards are the first line of defense and that they are sponsored jointly by the Federal and State governments.

Capt. Washburn expressed appreciation to the local Kiwanis Club and other civic organizations for their aid in the construction of the local armory, which he declared, along with the equipment, was valued at $65,000.

He also announced that the annual Federal inspection of the local units will be held in the Armory Thursday and Friday night.

During the meeting, Kiwanian Jno. D. Jenkins reported his trip to the National Forests as a representative of the local club.

A visitor at the meeting today, which was presided over by President Sidney J. Nix, was William Connell of Boston.

Mooney's Pardon Plea Fails Again

Tom Mooney is shown as he made his futile appeal to the California legislature at Sacramento for a pardon from prison in which he is serving life sentence for the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing in 1916. After hearing his plea, the assembly voted 33 to 25 to free him but that was two votes short of the necessary majority.

While the Senate debated the government reorganization measure, House leaders announced the final vote on the Administration's $1,000,000 naval expansion bill would be deferred until Monday.

Majority leader Rayburn, Tex. Democrat, announced the Rivers and Harbors Committee probably would recommend regional planning legislation "within the week." The Senate Finance Committee even considered the House-approved tax bill.

On the House floor a debate over TVA broke out yesterday. Representative Jenkins (R. Ohio) said an inquiry would show that Chairman Arthur E. Morgan of the authority's board of directors was "the same honorable high class man" his friends have known him to be in the past.

Representative Allen (R. Ill.) called the authority perhaps "the most corrupt in the government in the world," while Representative Voorhis (D. Calif.) predicted an investigation would show it to be "as clean as a hound's tooth."

From Representative Fish (R. N. Y.) came a statement that "liberals and radicals" who have supported TVA are afraid of an inquiry.

Senator Bridges, and Senator King (D. Utah), introduced a resolution proposing the appointment of a joint committee of five senators and five House members to make a "full and complete investigation of all phases of the administration of TVA." They said they had the support of Representative May (D. Ky.) and Representative Andrews (R. N. Y.), leading House critics of TVA.

Cone Denies Man Is Treated Roughly

TALLAHASSEE—Mar. 16 (AP)—The Rev. Marcus Cook of St. Leo told the State Pardon Board yesterday James Ragan was mistreated in a prison camp because of his Catholic religion.

"I think you must be mistaken," replied Governor Fred P. Cone, the Board Chairman. We don't allow anything like that."

Secretary of State Robert A. Gray said a change had been made in the camp guard "which cleared up any trouble." There was no further discussion, and the minister left the meeting immediately after hearing Governor Cone say: "If you hear of anything like that, let us know."

Ragan, sentenced to seven years for breaking and entering in Dade County in 1933, is in a prison camp near Floral City. The State Prison Bureau said the Rev. Cook sent several letters here about the case, charging he was being denied opportunities to lead Ragan in worship.

The Prison Bureau said the minister wanted to conduct services with Ragan away from other prisoners, but prison rules prohibit a person being taken from the camp.

Race Taxes Produce Over Half Million

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 16.—State taxes on race track wagering produced $67,691 yesterday for distribution to the 67 counties.

Last year, the counties received $1,834,324. Knott said other distributions would be made before April 15 on collections still to be received from racing taxes.

er sizes were maintained at from $1.35 to $1.50 on a few sales here.

Shipment from Florida last week from Tuesday through Friday averaged nearly 120 cars per day and was the heaviest during the current season.

It was learned that the shippers met in the Control Committee office last night to discuss possible means to alleviate the condition of the market but the results of the meeting could not be ascertained today.

Small sizes in most of the terminal markets were bringing good prices because of small supplies of these sizes. Because of the fine quality of the present crop sizes are running chiefly to three and four-dozen sizes with a large quantity of six dozen sizes as a result of heavy stripping. In many instances the prices on these large sizes are quoted as low as $1.25 per crate with some quotations on fair quality at $1.00 per crate in northern markets.

Hull Demands U. S. Protect Foreign Rights

Policy Is Laid Down By Secretary Condemning International Lawlessness Isolation Called No Way To Peace In Worldwide Broadcast, Hull Supports Big Navy Program

WASHINGTON, Mar. 17. (AP)—Secretary of State Hull, declaring that America must hold to its rights in its quest for world peace, laid down a policy of arming for protection against "international lawlessness."

"It is my considered judgment that, in the present state of world affairs, to do less than is now proposed would lay our country open to unpredictable hazards," he said, referring to the naval expansion program now before Congress.

Hull treated every aspect of the world situation in an address before the National Press Club. His speech went over an international radio hookup in a world distributed by the spectre of war in Europe and Asia. "The momentous question," he said, "is whether the doctrine of force shall become enthroned once more and bring in its wake, inexorably, international anarchy and a relapse into barbarism."

Nine Air Raids In 16 Hours Cause Heavy Loss To Loyalists; Drive To Sea Pushed

BARCELONA, Mar. 17. (AP)—Nine insurgent air raids took well over 300 lives last night and today in this metropolitan capital, hundreds were wounded in a series of bombardments which shook the city at intervals during the 16 hours.

A bomb fell near the United States Embassy in the night and the building was jarred and windows were broken but none was hurt.

Hospitals were too busy caring for wounded to issue an official count of the dead. Thousands of persons were in the streets when Generalissimo Franco's airmen struck for the ninth time, the third daylight attack following six raids last night.

The stricken city was still searching for the dead and wounded, and cleaning up debris from the night raids when the airmen began a series of daylight attacks. Many buildings, including some six stories high, collapsed under the rain of bombs.

Meanwhile insurgent troops reported they had driven the last government defenders from Caspe and were continuing the march to the Mediterranean Sea. They also reported capturing other cities in the vicinity of Caspe which is an important junction city.
