Horse Trade Bill OK'd By Senate

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Senate, after heated debate, passed and rushed to the House today a bill designed to give Florida a slate of unpledged electors to "horse trade" for a president friendly to the South.

The vote was 28-16. By passing a controversial bill to put strong controls on future state bond issues, the Senators traded verbal blows over the presidential elector measure termed a "conservative versus liberal" bill.

The only measure both houses were able to agree on was a resolution honoring mothers.

Sen. J. A. Boyd, of Leesburg, sparked the big battle on electors with the argument the measure would give conservative Democrats, who can't stomach the Democratic nominee for president, a place to go besides to the Republican Party.

But Sen. L. K. Edwards, Irvine, said he was a "yellow dog" Democrat, explaining "if the Democrats nominate a yellow dog, I'll support him."

The Boyd bill would give each party in Florida two slates of electors, one pledged to support the regular party nominee, the other unpledged and able to vote for any person they desired. If enough states threw their votes to unpledged slates, the selection of a president could be thrown into the U. S. House of Representatives.

Under the Boyd bill, the unpledged slate would be named by a nominating commission chosen by the president of the Senate, House speaker and the dean of the Republican and Democratic parties in each house and one registered voter selected by this bi-partisan committee.

Republican Sen. C. W. Young, of Pinellas Park, said the legislation was bad even though he thought it would strengthen the GOP party.

Sen. Verle Pope, St. Augustine Democrat, lashed it as moving the presidential selection into the realm of "bartering and trading by ward-heeling politicians."

Sen. Tom Whitaker, of Tampa, said the presidential nominees are selected now by politicians in smoke-filled rooms.

Pope, meanwhile, tossed in to the Senate today a tax program that would raise an estimated $112 million by additional levies on beer, cigarettes and soft drinks but their chances were considered dim due to multiple committee references.

Thursday 30 senators overrode the negative votes of 14 colleagues and passed a bill giving life to the so-called

Haiti Charges U. S. With Plot

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UPI)—The government of Francois Duvalier took a defiant stand against the Organization of American States (OAS) today and accused the United States of trying to overthrow democracy in this troubled Caribbean republic.

Top OAS officials said privately in Washington that Haiti was opposing a planned new on-the-spot inquiry by an OAS team into charges by the neighboring Dominican Republic of government repression and abuses of diplomatic norms.

The OAS mission was reported to have warned that it would take counter-measures against any Haitian attempt to put obstacles in its way.

The Haitian Foreign Ministry charged in an official statement Thursday that "a plot by the United States government to destroy Haiti's democratic institutions" was behind the current crisis.

The United States flew 168 more American residents of Haiti to safety in Miami Thursday, ending the first phase of a withdrawal program attributed to the "deteriorating" situation in Haiti.

A Great Idea!

Ebenezer To Show Film

A special filmstrip entitled "Double Identity" will be shown at the Ebenezer Methodist Church this Sunday at 7:30 p. m. as part of the church's emphasis on National Family Week.

Anna was a grown lady and a school teacher by the time her mother died. She was a person of great intelligence as well as energy. She started by arranging a service to be held honoring her own mother and the mothers who had worked with her in the long years she had served the church she loved so much.

The next year the celebration of "Mother's Day" spread to Philadelphia but this was only the beginning! By 1909 forty-five states as well as Mexico, Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico had joined in the celebration. By this time a motto had been chosen which said, "To honor the best mother who ever lived—your mother."

May 8, 1914, President Wilson designated a specific time for Mother's Day which was the second Sunday in May. This was an act that gave great unity in the celebration of this fine memorial. Congress took notice of the event in an official way by a joint resolution which read, "The service rendered the United States of American mothers is the greatest source of the country's strength and inspiration."

In many ways the pattern set by Miss Jarvis is still followed today. We continue to send our mothers flowers or other gifts. Home have to settle for a telephone call or some other means of communication, and there are many who can do neither because the honored one has passed from this world.

Good Shepherd To Dedicate Organ

An organ recital will be held at 8 p. m. today at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church of Sanford at which time the new Allen Organ, recently installed in the sanctuary, will be officially dedicated.

Walter N. Hewitt, minister of music at the Winter Park Presbyterian Church, will be organist for the recital which will include several Choral Preludes by Bach, Adagio from Concerto No. 10 by Handel and the Musical Clocks by Haydn.

Hewitt is from Prospect Presbyterian Church, Maplewood, N. J., where, for twenty-eight years, he has built and maintained an outstanding musical ministry. He received his academic education at Northwestern University, New York University, Columbia University, and the Julliard School of Music.

He holds the certificates of Associate and Choirmaster of the American Guild of Organists, and is a Licentiate and Fellow of the Trinity College of Music, London, England. He is now completing his third three year term as a member of the National Council of the American Guild of Organists and has served as president of the New Jersey Chapter, National Association of Teachers of Singing, Inc., Music Educators Association of New Jersey, Music Teachers Association of the Oranges, N. J., and Arlington, N. J. Music Club. He is a teacher of piano, organ and voice.

Hewitt will be playing an Allen Organ, Model T-12B, which has a 32-note pedal board, double keyboard and also been equipped with a carillon, harp and percussion unit.

The purchase of this organ was accomplished by gifts only from members and friends. In a period of less than six months, the congregation of Good Shepherd, by each writing to three friends in various parts of the country, was able to raise $1500 towards the purchase of the organ. Gifts have been received from as far away as Spain and the Philippines, consequently, the organ fund is called "An Allstates Organ Fund."

Rev. Ernest Bolick Jr., pastor, invites all friends of Good Shepherd to this evening of music and dedication.

Just For Fun

Doctors can't resist doing a medical survey-type analysis — even when it's just for fun. American Medical Association News has done a "physical" on the congressional make-up. The report:

Average congressman's age is 52. Most of them are war veterans. The youngest is 28, the oldest 85.

Congress includes 102 Methodists, 98 Catholics.

By occupation 316 congressmen are lawyers, 39 are journalists, 158 businessmen or bankers, 61 farmers, 50 teachers, two ministers — and two doctors.

There is no clue in the report as to the reason for one tendency common to most of the solons: a desire to talk excessively.

The Debate On Space

America's space program, and particularly its man-on-the-moon project, is being thrust increasingly into the arena of public debate.

President Kennedy has reasserted — and not for the first time — the government's intention to stay with it. But this is not likely to quell the argument.

The least plausible contentions against the moon project are those which state the money saved from cutbacks could — and would — be used to finance important domestic programs.

No measure of congressional intent, judged by past performance or current attitude, suggests that any such result would follow.

The more thoughtful argument, joined in by many scientists, is that our heavy concentration on the moon program and other space projects is diverting too many engineers and scientists from fruitful contributions to the civilian economy.

That the concentration exists no one doubts. It may also be true, as certain scientists are saying, that civilian technology does not get nearly as much by-product effect from this effort as some government officials assert.

Yet the complainants have not made their case.

There is no ready proof that scientists and engineers drawn into special space labors would, if not thus occupied, be now engaged in civilian research and technology.

The space field today is loaded with young specialists who have found its extraordinary challenges a powerful magnet.

No one knows how many would enter science and engineering at all if the prospect were simply to seek the absolutely silent ice box, the dirt-free carburetor and the shockproof television set.

Our problem is the modern mass production civilian economy is that it is organized, from research through distribution, around the idea of the "big team" with individuals played down.

Space programs, too, are team efforts. But their goals are in the realm of high adventure, affecting the standing and the security of nations caught in a vital struggle. Even the man in the white coat pushing minor buttons on a console has the feeling of crossing new frontiers.

Without better evidence, therefore, it is unreasonably presumptuous to argue that the moon project and other space work produces damaging scientific undernourishment in the civilian world.

If the undernourishment is a fact, let industry find new lures. With our booming population, there will be plenty of men looking for rewarding work.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Good Intentions

Enough of the pieces have fallen into place now to remove any lingering doubts there may have been over Communist good faith in Laos.

What events in that sorry little kingdom do add up to is simply the early approach of a new moment of truth for the United States in South Vietnam and perhaps in Thailand as well.

Communist objectives are both political and military and are unlikely to be changed by talks, whether they be held in Moscow, Washington or the Plain of Jars.

The United States accepted neutrality for Laos for the very good reason that U. S. trained and equipped Royal Lao forces turned out to be miserable fighters, although probably as good as their opponents numbers in the Pathet Lao were — the latter not beefed up by hard-core Communist troops from neighboring North Vietnam.

With the military stance abandoned, neutrality became the only thing left unless the United States were willing to commit its own forces on a scale far larger than anything yet attempted in Southeast Asia, including South Vietnam.

Current events in Laos recall vividly to this correspondent interviews in 1962 with two individuals who continue to play important roles in the Southeast Asia drama, one of whom proved correct and the other incorrect.

In his office across the street from Bangkok's Temple of the Emerald Buddha, Thailand Foreign Minister Thanat Khuman said that neutrality for Laos would work only if guaranteed by Washington and Moscow. Moscow, he said, would have to guarantee withdrawal of Communist Viet Minh forces back to North Vietnam.

Because of the strained relations between Moscow and Red China, he did not believe the Russians could do it.

On a steamy night in Vientiane, the capital of Laos, long-time Indian diplomat Avtar Singh also was considering Laotian neutrality. As chairman of the International Control Commission, it would be up to him to see it enforced.

The United States, he conceded, was taking a calculated risk but he believed it a good one.

Laos, he believed, would remain neutral rather than lose U. S. aid. The commission, he believed, could prevent transport of Communist reinforcements through Laos over the Ho Chi Minh trail to South Vietnam.

Events proved Avtar Singh somewhat less than realistic.

A glance at the map illustrates the military point. One area of recent fighting in Laos was the market town of Luang Nang. It is near the eastern boundary with South Viet Nam, directly between the key towns of Tchepone and Saravane. Tchepone once served as a Russian air base for ferrying supplies to the Pathet Lao and Viet Minh. Saravane marks the beginning of the last leg of the Ho Chi Minh trail through mountainous jungles into Cambodia and South Vietnam. This trail, the Communists mean to preserve and they will fight for it.

Matter Of Fact

The lantern fly of the American tropics protects himself from his enemies by the close resemblance of the forward part of his head to the profile of an alligator in miniature. The thought seems to be that animals who prey on flies and who are in turn victims of the region's many alligators, will at least hesitate at this representation of their enemy, thereby giving the lantern fly time to escape.

LARRY W. DAY & CO

WASHINGTON (NEA) — People with the greatest interest and the greatest responsibility for dealing with the world-wide Communist threat point out that the flood of rumors and speculation about developments behind the Iron Curtain spring from every source except those inside the Kremlin, where the facts are known.

This puts the proper note of caution into trying to be too much of an expert on Chairman Nikita Khrushchev's personal plans, the Moscow-Peking split or other Communist crises.

Khrushchev himself is quoted as having said that he can't go on forever and eventually will step down.

But U. S. Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman is the last outsider to see and talk with Khrushchev, some back with the word that he was quoted out of context, that he is hale and hearty, and that he has no thought of giving up his position.

Peking calls for the resignation of Khrushchev for having withdrawn his missiles from Cuba. But there has never been any sign of Russian willingness to roll over and play dead just to please the Red Chinese. Furthermore, Khrushchev couldn't quit under such pressure.

This emphasizes the likelihood that the Russians may work out their problems in their own accretive ways, just as they have done time after time in the past.

They will then announce to their own people and the rest of the world only what they

Peter Edson

Political Notebook

Regarded as of greater importance, however, will be any Russian decisions on how it will handle internal economic strains.

The dilemma faced by the Soviet is that big investments must be made in agriculture and housing to raise the standard of living and meet the demands of the Russian people.

To do this, Russia must cut back on either its industrial, military or space program expenditures. This will be difficult.

Russia's current seven-year program is analyzed as being on schedule, with steel production, though not capacity, approaching U. S. levels. Costs are rising, however, and the plan is seen as too ambitious. Something may have to give.

For the first time, it is being said in Washington that President Kennedy is better off with his problems than Khrushchev is with his. Which is praising with faint damns.

What is announced at first may be only a temporary solution. The real struggle for ultimate power will go on behind the scenes.

While the outside world therefore is totally ignorant about what make the Communists behave the way they do, the scheduled Moscow meeting of the party's Central Committee May 28 should be watched closely. This is a time when the newest shift in the Communist Party line may be announced.

Authorities on Russian affairs say that one of the great difficulties of American public opinion in appraising communism is the belief that conditions inside Russia are just the same now as they always have been. This is the principal stock in trade of right-wing crusaders who make anticommunism their principal business. It may not be completely true.

The Stalin era rule of terror has gone. A new cultural wave has shown in Russian intellectual circles. It does not amount to a revolt to overthrow communism. Russian life today is described as better than it has ever been before.

But there is a recognizable split between the Communist Party and the people. This is why American cultural exchange people seem to be knocking themselves out to cultivate contacts between East and West.

The new freedom in the arts and literature which Khrushchev has criticized—and been criticized for—is seen as a manifestation against party dictation and domination over all phases of Soviet life.

Hence, if the Central Committee meeting May 28 produces another crackdown order that every Russian must be indoctrinated with hard line communism and propaganda, it will come as no great surprise to students of Russian affairs. This has happened before, been resisted, and could be opposed again.

Touchton Drug Changing Hands

The Touchton Drugstore on the corner of First St. and Magnolia Ave., a landmark in Sanford for many years is changing hands.

Two local men, druggists Glenn McCall and Ernest Mills have formed a corporation and are purchasing the store and business from the Liggett Drug Co.

"We will still have the chain store items and serve as an agent of the Liggett drugstore sales," McCall said.

Both of the men are pharmacists, McCall having graduated from the University of Florida School of Pharmacy in 1955 and Mills from Wayne University of Detroit, Michigan in 1951.

McCall makes his home in Longwood with his wife Relda and two children. Mills lives at 2815 French Ave. with his wife, Jewel.

The store will retain the name of "Touchton" because it is familiar to shoppers and customers of the area, Mills said.

The Sanford Jewelry and Luggage Shop carries a complete line of silver, gifts, clocks, watches, accessories, rings, luggage, wallets and travel accessories, Eastern Star and Masonic jewelry.

In addition they have a fine watch and jewelry repair service under Mr. D. R. Smith, Jeweler.

Business Briefs

The Sanford Jewelry and Luggage Shop has moved to a new location on the corner of First St. and Palmtoe Ave., from their former spot at 300 Sanford Ave.

The shop was opened by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stein, 18 years ago.

Although Mr. Stein died five years ago Mrs. Stein continues in the business. A photograph of Mr. Stein, along with the first dollar that he made in the store is framed and sits in a conspicuous spot in the new store.

The present location is the former site of the Robb Bakery, and the building has been renovated, repainted and refurnished inside and out.

"We invite all our old friends to come and see us and hope that we will make many new ones. We are here to serve you if you will let us," said Mrs. Stein.

"We feel that we can serve our customers better in this new location, and that we will be in a more convenient spot for shoppers," she said.

Carnival Nets $200

By Jane Casselberry
The South Seminole Junior High Athletic Assn. netted approximately $200 from the Spring Carnival held last Saturday afternoon in Casselberry.

Junior High students from the various class rooms battled wind and weather earlier in the day trying to outdo each other in decorating the booths which were judged with prizes going to the winners.

The first place $5 prize went to Miss Joan Ostrow's homeroom for the Bean Bag Booth which was decorated with palmetto leaves, bamboo spears, painted shields and garlands of flowers.

The Fish Pond, decorated with gaily colored tropical fish against a blue background by Mrs. Wanda Gaudie's room, took the $5 second prize while Miss Trojan's class won the $3 third prize for the Change Booth which was trimmed with colorful crepe paper and a jolly clown.

A particular attraction for the youngsters among the many games was provided by the rides available on the Seminole County 401 & locomotive.

Do You Know What USDA Stands For

Do you know what the letters USDA stand for? You see them every time you go shopping. They appear on the meat and poultry you buy. They're also on many of the frozen and canned fruits and vegetables, eggs, butter and cheese.

USDA are the initials of the United States Department of Agriculture. And they are your assurance of quality in food products. All meat and poultry that crosses state lines on its way to the food market is inspected by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

On fresh red meats, you probably won't see the USDA inspection seal because the cut you buy may be too small. But if you buy a large rib roast, it's likely to be there.

On chickens and turkeys, you don't have to wonder what the initials stand for. Their inspection seal spells it out big and clear—"U. S. Department of Agriculture Inspected."

But grade labels, wherever they appear, use the initials. The purple-like mark that runs across the fat on a piece of beef bears these letters, along with the quality rating. It appears on a tag tied to the wing of the chicken you buy and you probably remember seeing the USDA grade shield on eggs and butter cartons, and cheese wrappers. Many fruits and vegetables both canned and frozen, also bear the label.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who says, "Honey, I don't know what to get you for Mother's Day. Here is $20 — go buy yourself something"? I felt so bad I cried all night.

WET PILLOW

DEAR WET: Your husband may not have much imagination, but at least he remembered, and he put his money where his mouth was. I hope you never have anything more serious to cry about.

DEAR ABBY: I was married before and so was my husband. We've now been married three years and are very happy. I happened to mention that I had two graves here in Pittsburgh, bought and paid for. He said when he dies he wants to go back to West Virginia. Now, he left West Virginia years ago because he didn't like it, so how come he wants to go back there to be buried? I told him we belonged together and he said if I felt that way about it, I'd be buried in West Virginia with him. I don't care anything about West Virginia. I want to be buried in Pittsburgh. I am 37 and he is 39, which is too young to be worrying about this,

By Abigail Van Buren

of course, but I would like to get it settled. What is your opinion?

PLOT PROBLEM

DEAR PLOT: Does HE have plots bought and paid for in West Virginia? If not, he might just as well get down to earth in Pittsburgh.

DEAR ABBY: Is yawning a sign of physical tiredness? Or is it a sign of boredom?

CURIOS

DEAR CURIOS: It can be either, or both. It's usually an involuntary opening of the mouth when you wish others would shut theirs.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BABE: If you want to find out what makes him tick, meet his wife. She could be the whole works!

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

"When worse contracts are reached," mumbled South when he saw dummy, "I expect to be declarer."

Meanwhile, North wandered around the table to look at South's hand. This is not good bridge etiquette, but it happens all too often.

"Where did you find that immediate two no-trump bid?" yelled North.

"The same place you found your jump to six," replied South. "Keep still, and let me see what I can do with this mess."

After that peroration South proceeded to make the slam and West could do about it.

NORTH (D)	10	South figured out that there was one combination of cards that would allow him to make six no-trump and then gave the cards a chance.
♠	AQJ	He took the first spade, led a heart and finessed dummy's jack. Then he laid down the ace and king of diamonds and dropped East's queen.
♥	A	Now he cashed dummy's three high clubs to see if the jack would fall. Then he took the last trick, but scored game, slam and rubber.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

Every junior and senior high school PTA in the United States would do well to borrow a set of standards for teenage parties drawn up by the headmistress of an English girl's school and sent to parents of all her students.

The code makes only five points—but if those five points were observed by all parents:

1. Don't let teenage parties be held in your home unless you are there.
2. Expect to be regarded as host and hostess, and to be consulted about who is invited.
3. Collect your daughters from late parties, or make sure they have reliable escorts and know what time they have to be home.
4. Cross-check with other parents on any invitations for a daughter to spend the night.
5. Explain to teenagers why such care has to be taken. Warn them of the dangers of teenage drinking.

Those rules are so sound and so basic some parents may assume that any parent in his right mind would take all those precautions in guarding of teenagers, what a difference it would make. Here they are, for any PTA that wants to make use of them:

But every one of them is ignored by some of the parents of almost any teenage group. And the second, "Expect to be regarded as host and hostess and to be consulted about who is invited" is a right most parents of teenagers no longer insist on.

If PTAs all over the country put this code in the form of a pledge and asked all parents to sign it, that would be a giant step for parents—a step toward reclaiming their right as parents, rights too long relinquished to "teenage tyranny."

'State Fair' Drive-In Bound

Like a fascinating and beautiful canvas of American life filled with memorable songs and dances, Rodgers and Hammerstein's "State Fair" will entertain and delight people of all ages when it opens Sunday at the MovieLand Drive-In Theater. This 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope-DeLuxe color extravaganza co-stars such outstanding and fresh talents as Pat Boone, Bobby Darin, Pamela Tiffin, Ann-Margret, Tom Ewell and marks the return of the wonderful Alice Faye to the motion picture screen.

The multi-million dollar Charles Brackett production boasts the magic chemistry of all the right ingredients that make for a truly enjoyable experience. The story of a middle class American farm family who go to the great "State Fair" has been endowed by scenarioist Richard Breen with plenty of fun, romance, sparkling dialogue, exciting sports car racing sequences and lulling production numbers.

Pat Boone, who has endeared himself in the public's heart with his singing, acting and writing, portrays "Wayne Frake," a farm boy with a yen for hot-rod racing and a pretty girl; while singing sensation Bobby Darin continues to sky-rocket to stardom as a screen personality in the role of a fast-talking Easterner who undergoes a change of character when he meets the "sweetest gal on earth."

The other features on the program is "The Miracle Worker" which won two Academy Awards for its co-stars, Ann Bancroft and Patty Duke.

On Wednesday and Thursday, "The Last Word" and "In Love and War" will play. In Friday and Saturday, "Walt Disney's Legend of Lo-Lo," "Swinging Along" and "Hirsdman Of Alcatraz" will play.

YOUNG RONNY HOWARD is instrumental in the meeting between Glenn Ford and Stella Stevens in a penny-arcade sequence of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Courtship of Eddie's Father." Heart-warming comedy-drama of a boy who plays Cupid to his widowed father, the picture co-stars Shirley Jones, with Dina Merrill, Roberta Sherwood and Jerry Van Dyke also playing leading roles. It was filmed in Panavision and color.

Comedy Set For Ritz

Glenn Ford and Shirley Jones head a sparkling cast of performers, co - starring Stella Stevens, Dina Merrill, Roberta Sherwood, young Ronny Howard and Jerry Van Dyke, in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's heart-warming comedy-drama, "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," coming to the Ritz Theater Sunday.

Replete with hilarious dialogue and action and with some of the most colorful and endearing characters ever brought to the screen, the new picture is based on Mark Toby's best-selling novel, telling of the efforts of a sensitive six-and-a-half-year-old boy to find a new wife for his widowed father, one who will come up to the exacting specifications of both father and son.

As the story unfolds, three candidates appear to be in the running for the role of a new mate for Tom Corbett (Glenn Ford), program manager for a New York radio station. Right across the hall from the apartment occupied by Tom and his precocious son, Eddie (Ronny Howard), lives the blonde, attractive and sympathetic young divorcee Elizabeth Marton

TABLE HOPPING

It's time once again to pay our tribute to those persons responsible (well, partly) for getting us here on earth. This Sunday is Mother's Day, and nothing would please her more than taking her out over the weekend sometime.

Just especially for Mother's Day, the Capri dining room will be open Sunday between 11 a. m. and 6 p. m. They'll be featuring regular dinners and I can't think of a better way to let mother know she's appreciated than to get her out of the kitchen. Had an excellent brunch at the Capri this week with one of the wife's clubs—they certainly go all out to take care of a group like this. Remember, the Populaires are back at the Capri now, playing every Friday and Saturday nights.

Here's good news for you older fellows and gals who like to skate, but want to be to among company your own age. Melodee Skating rink is starting a new program . . . beginning this Monday night and every other Monday night, the rink will be open only to persons over 18. Melodee's never had anything like this before, and she's just getting the hang of it. She says she hopes the people who've been asking him to do something for the older crowd.

There's something indubitably unique about Jim Spencer's restaurant. Every time I call Doris or "Sam" they say there's nothing new going on, yet as one man said going past the place, "They sure are packing them in." It must be the diversity of the restaurant and lounge . . . You can dress up for dinner and a few drinks in your best bib and tucker or you can stop off after work to relax and feel equally comfortable in both situations.

9-Race Winner

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Jockey Larry Snyder treated his fans right Thursday, finishing in the money in all nine races at Beulah Park. The 20-year-old native of Toledo, Ohio, brought home five winners, finished second twice and third twice.

It's up to the hostess to suggest second helpings at a buffet.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who says, "Honey, I don't know what to get you for Mother's Day. Here is $20—go buy yourself something"? I felt so bad I cried all night.

WET PILLOW

DEAR WET: Your husband may not have much imagination, but at least he remembered, and he put his money where his mouth was. I hope you never have anything more serious to cry about.

DEAR ABBY: I was married before and so was my husband. We've now been married three years and are very happy. I happened to mention that I had two graves here in Pittsburgh, bought and paid for. He said when he dies he wants to go back to West Virginia. Now, he left West Virginia years ago because he didn't like it, so how come he wants to go back there to be buried? I told him we belonged together and he said if I felt that way about it, I'd be buried in West Virginia with him. I don't care anything about West Virginia. I want to be buried in Pittsburgh. I am 37 and he is 39, which is too young to be worrying about this,

of course, but I would like to get it settled. What is your opinion?

PLOT PROBLEM

DEAR PLOT: Does HE have plots bought and paid for in West Virginia? If not, he might just as well get down to earth in Pittsburgh.

DEAR ABBY: Is yawning a sign of physical tiredness? Or is it a sign of boredom?

CURIOS

DEAR CURIOS: It can be either, or both. It's usually an involuntary opening of the mouth when you wish others would shut theirs.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BABE: If you want to find out what makes him tick, meet his wife. She could be the whole works!

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

New Sorority Plans Future Projects

The fifth meeting of the Nu Phi Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held at the home of Miss Leslie Jones.

During the business session the group discussed the new project of collecting clothing for the Good Samaritan Home. Service chairman, Barbara Moses, announced that any toys would be accepted for the Little Red Schoolhouse.

The clothing and toy drive is the first project of the newly organized group and so far it seems to be successful.

Mrs. Jim Warner presented an interesting program on "Qualities of Friendship," pointing out essentials in the growth of friendship and how to make and keep friends.

Other members present were Mmes. Joe Alexander, Rick Erickson, Robert Gonzalez, Bill Reck, Sidney Vihlen, the misses Donna Hodges and the hostess.

DeBary Class Enjoys A Cook-Out

By Mrs. Adam Muller

Scott's mother; Ethel Gray; Ethel Steerman; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis and daughter Elizabeth; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis and daughters, Becky and Linda; Mr. and Mrs. William Cook and sons, Jimmy, Scotty and Tracy.

Mrs. B. Peterson of West Palm Beach; Mr. and Mrs. P. Kelly and son, Mike; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Perry and daughter, Kathy; Jim Council and children, Jim, Timmy, Kathy and Beth; Mrs. Dorothy Lacey and sons, Neal, Martin and Mount; Mr. and Mrs. John Vos and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Saatkamp.

Do You Know What USDA Stands For

Do you know what the letters USDA stand for? You see them every time you go shopping. They appear on the meat and poultry you buy. They're also on many of the frozen and canned fruits and vegetables, eggs, butter and cheese.

USDA are the initials of the United States Department of Agriculture. And they are your assurance of quality in food products. All meat and poultry that crosses state lines on its way to the food market is inspected by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

On fresh red meats, you probably won't see the USDA inspection seal because the cut you buy may be too small. But if you buy a large rib roast, it's likely to be there.

On chickens and turkeys, you don't have to wonder what the initials stand for. Their inspection seal spells it out big and clear—"U. S. Department of Agriculture Inspected."

But grade labels, wherever they appear, use the initials. The purple-like mark that runs across the fat on a piece of beef bears these letters, along with the quality rating. It appears on a tag tied to the wing of the chicken you buy and you probably remember seeing the USDA grade shield on eggs and butter cartons, and cheese wrappers. Many fruits and vegetables both canned and frozen, also bear the label.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

"When worse contracts are reached," mumbled South when he saw dummy, "I expect to be declared."

Meanwhile, North wandered around the table to look at South's hand. This is not good bridge etiquette, but it happens all too often.

"Where did you find that immediate two no-trump bid?" yelled North.

"The same place you found your jump to six," replied South. "Keep still and let me see what I can do with this mess."

After that peroration South proceeded to make the slam and there was nothing East and West could do about it.

South figured out that there was one combination of cards that would allow him to make six no-trump and then give the cards a chance.

He took the first spade, led a heart and finessed dummy's jack. Then he laid down the ace and king of diamonds and dropped East's queen. Now he cashed dummy's three high clubs to see if the jack would fall. Then back to his hand with the ten of diamonds for another heart finesse. Eventually he conceded the last trick, but scored game, slam and rubber.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Every junior and senior high school PTA in the United States would do well to borrow a set of standards for teenage parties drawn up by the headmistress of an English girl's school and sent to parents of all her students.

The code makes only five points—but if those five points were observed by all parents of teenagers, what a difference it would make. Here they are, for any PTA that wants to make use of them:

1. Don't let teenage parties be held in your home unless you are there.
2. Expect to be regarded as host and hostess, and to be consulted about who is invited.
3. Collect your daughters from late parties, or make sure they have reliable escorts and know what time they have to be home.
4. Cross-check with other parents on any invitations for a daughter to spend the night.
5. Explain to teenagers why such care has to be taken. Warn them of the dangers of teenage drinking.

These rules are so sound and so basic some parents may assume that any parent in his right mind would take all those precautions in guarding a daughter as a matter of course.

But every one of them is ignored by some of the parents of almost any teenage group. And the second, "Expect to be regarded as host and hostess and to be consulted about who is invited" is a right most parents of teenagers no longer insist on.

If PTAs all over the country put this code in the form of a pledge and asked all parents to sign it, that would be a giant step for parents—a step toward reclaiming their right as parents, rights too long relinquished to "teenage tyranny."

It's time once again to pay our tribute to those persons responsible (well, partly) for getting us here on earth. This Sunday is Mother's Day, and nothing would please her more than taking her out over the weekend sometime.

Just especially for Mother's Day, the Capri dining room will be open Sunday between 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. They'll be featuring regular dinners and I can't think of a better way to let mother know she's appreciated than to get her out of the kitchen. Had an excellent brunch at the Capri this week with one of the wife's clubs—they certainly go all out to take care of a group like this. Remember, the Populares are back at the Capri now, playing every Friday and Saturday nights.

Here's good news for you older fellows and gals who like to skate, but want to be among company your own age. Melodee Skating Rink is starting a new program . . . beginning this Monday night and every other Monday night, the rink will be open only to persons over 18. Melodee's never had anything like this before, and Sheely Best says he hopes this answers the needs of the people who've been asking him to do something for the older crowd.

Millie just got back to her job at the Lake Monroe Inn after a bout with the flu, so she was running around trying to catch up on everything . . . says they've been really busy the last couple of weeks. It must be the weather, it's so nice out there on a warm day. You'd never guess it, but Millie's secret ambition is to be a barber . . . she's even going to school to learn how. The Inn is open til 2 a. m., remember, so you can stop out for one last drink.

There's something indisputably unique about Jim Spencer's restaurant. Every time I call Doris or "Sam" they say there's nothing new going on, yet as one man said going past the place, "They sure are packing them in." It must be the diversity of the restaurant and lounge . . . You can dress up for dinner and a few drinks in your best bib and tucker or you can stop off after work to relax and feel equally comfortable in both situations.

is Mrs. Marcie Williams, who is around the restaurant and lounge almost all the time . . . if you see someone working diligently on some books, that's her. She says that Jean Fedler, the daytime bartender, is a beautiful redhead . . . Larry Enos isn't beautiful, but he is the night bartender. Mrs. Williams son Dick, helps out in the evenings Mar-Lou is open til 2 a. m. too.

New owners at the Club Diamond are a couple of "old salts," Raymond and Dorothy Palmer took over the place recently and are busy getting it squared away. She was a Marine and he was a nuclear weapons chief who retired last August. They had met while fishing in Maryland. He was transferred here and working at the chiefs club and the country club. Club Diamond just "fell in our laps," said Mrs. Palmer. The prices are about half what they were, she said, and they're getting a new cook so will be serving food too.

Flo was so enthusiastic over the new guitar player at the Caribe she didn't quite have the words to express it. Just said he was going over great; and that he was "a real musician." And that's a real compliment. He also sings and recites things like "Face on the Barroom Floor," and "keeps the customers captivated," in Flo's words. Last Friday night when he was playing with the Slayton's, they had to bring in extra chairs, the place was so crowded.

9-Race Winner
COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Jockey Larry Snyder treated his fans right Thursday, finishing in the money in all nine races at Deulish Park. The 20-year-old native of Toledo, Ohio, brought home five winners, finished second twice and third twice .

It's up to the hostess to suggest second helpings at a buffet.

Sad Day In New York: 'Marvelous Marv' Gone

NEW YORK (UPI) — The fans here will be at half mast at the Polo Grounds today.

"Marvelous Marv" Throneberry is gone.

The fans here all loved him because he typified the Mets in so many ways.

He floundered around first base, he dropped throws and didn't terrorize enemy pitchers, but he always gave a bit more than 100 per cent and somehow managed to deliver several key blows last season.

That's why the fans dubbed him "Marvelous Marv." Good or bad, they cheered him on and were responsible for his receiving a 25-foot cabin cruise last summer as the most popular member of the Mets.

But it all came to an end Thursday on cut-down day when the 29-year-old first baseman was optioned to Buffalo of the International League.

Marv was standing around the batting cage two hours before the game with the Phillies when it happened.

A courier from the Mets' clubhouse in center-field notified Throneberry that Casey Stengel wished to see both him and Gil Hodges in his private office.

"You go first, Gil," Marv told Hodges, who was hitting at that moment. "I'll wait on you."

Both walked toward Stengel's office together and Hodges was informed the Mets were placing him on the disabled list.

Then it was Throneberry's turn.

Like a man who knew what was coming, he walked slowly into Casey's office and closed the door.

The two men spoke for nearly 10 minutes.

When Marv came out, the news was written all over his face.

He walked slowly toward his locker, sat down with head bowed and reached in for a cigarette. He lit it, then sat silent for a long time.

"I was prepared for it," he said finally. "I could tell when they weren't playing me..."

Throneberry looked like a fighter who just couldn't believe he had been knocked out.

"I've been with a lot of clubs," he half-mumbled. "None I ever enjoyed more than this one."

That was taking in quite a bit of territory considering he had played for the Yankees two entire seasons.

"Casey said if I start hitting he'll bring me back," he said hopefully.

Throneberry, used mostly as a pinch hitter by the Mets this season, came to bat only 14 times and had two hits for a .143 average.

YANKEE KILLER By Alan Mauer

Herbert New Yankee Killer For Chisox

By United Press International

It took Ray Herbert a long time to learn how to beat the New York Yankees, but once acquired the technique is habit-forming.

A 20-game winner in 1962, the Chicago White Sox right-hander from Detroit is the newest American League pitcher to qualify as a "Yankee killer." And, in the bargain, his flashing curveball is making him one of the AL's top pitchers and a "shoutout artist" reminiscent of the dead ball era.

Herbert, who had a 6-14 record against the Yankees until he beat them twice in the last week of the 1963 season, topped 'em for the third straight time Thursday night when he hurled a two-hitter that gave the White Sox a 2-0 victory. It was Herbert's fourth win of the season and his fourth shutout.

The White Sox' fourth consecutive triumph and sixth in their last eight games enabled them to take a one-game lead over the idle Kansas City A's and the Baltimore Orioles, who suffered a 4-1 loss to the Boston Red Sox.

Dave Stenhouse pitched a seven-hitter to give the Washington Senators a 6-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians in the only other AL activity of day or night.

Herbert, a refugee from the Kansas City Athletics, from whom he was acquired June 10, 1961, has now shut out the A's, Orioles and Senators in that order. In those 27 shutout innings, he has allowed a total of only nine hits. His victory Thursday night also dumped the lordly Yankees into fifth place in the AL and tagged them with their first shutout of the 1963 season.

Herbert was tapped for singles by Joe Peplone and Clete Doyler, walked only one batter and permitted one Yankee batter to reach third base. The White Sox scored both their runs off World Series hero Ralph Terry (3-4) in the fourth inning on a double by Pete Ward, a walk to Dave Nicholson and Ron Hansen's double.

Senkarik Hurls Shutout

Skippy Senkarik hit shutout as Kingwood Builders blanked Badcock, Daurus and Underwood in counter.

Senkarik also aided his own cause with a home run. A four master was also blasted by Billy Miller.

In other Little League action, Perfection topped Sanford Atlantic, 12-3, with Albert Jarrell gaining the win for the Dairy boys aided by a home run from Bill Bracken.

Altamonte Little League Teams took both games Wednesday afternoon with the Nationals topping the Longwood Tigers 8-1 in a home game while the Americans were equally successful taking their North Orlando hosts by a score of 15-2.

Winning pitchers were Steve Cockrell for the Nationals and Bruce Stuart for the Americans.

In Babe Ruth League action, Civilian slugged Hotary, 10-3 with Walston gaining the win and C.P.O. bargaged O'wado 11-4 with Gellisher slugging a homer and scattering seven hits for the victory.

In men's softball play, Grants of Longwood rolled over Chase, 2-4 with Gerald Bowling pitching for the winners. Lisk hit two four-batters with Bowling aiding his own cause with a round circuit.

Bud Moncrief hurled a six

Sanders, Collins Pace Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Doug Sanders and Bill Collins, fortified with anti-pain pills and sharp chipping irons and putters, led the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament flight into the second round today.

Sanders, chipping so well he had 12 one-putt greens, fashioned a three-under-par 31-33-67 in Thursday's first round. Collins capitalized on a 62-foot chip shot for one of his four birdies en route to a 25-33-68.

Only two other players were able to conquer Colonial Country Club's 7, 122-yard par 35-35-70 layout and the gusty winds which raked the course during the first round. They were Jerry Barber and Bob Rosburg with identical 34-35-69s.

As Robinson Goes, So Goes Redlegs

By United Press International

There's a "fresh good" today that the Cincinnati Reds go as Frank Robinson goes.

National Leaguers actually put it another way.

"When Robinson's not hitting," they say, "it's like playing a team that's blind-folded when it bats."

The 1961 NL champions seemed blind-folded, at that, for the first three weeks of the season. They were shut out four times and held to one run three other times as they stumbled around in a hill famine that was enough to make Manager Fred (The Bear) Hutchinson tear up the clubhouse furniture.

Then, Robinson, the NL's Most Valuable Player in 1961 and a .342 hitter with 39 homers and 136 runs-batted-in last season whose average this year had dwindled to a sickly .261, suddenly burst out of his slump. And what a coming out party it was!

All Robinson did Thursday night was go 3-for-3, with two homers, a double and two singles, score three runs and drive in seven to pace the Reds to a 13-3 rout of the Houston Colts. Teammate Vada Pinson weighed in with 3-for-3, three runs scored and four RBIs to make it a breeze for Jim Maloney to chalk up his fourth victory against one loss.

Robinson's splurge raised his 1963 average 40 points to .301 and gave him six homers and 22 runs batted in.

The San Francisco Giants downed the Milwaukee Braves, 8-2, the St. Louis Cardinals turned on the Los Angeles Dodgers, 10-7, the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1, and the New York Mets defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, in other NL action.

Robinson hammered a two-run double to cap a four-run third-inning rally, hit a two-run homer in the sixth and added a three-run round-tripper in the eighth to round out his one-man attack on Houston pitchers.

Ed Bailey and Felipe Alou each drove in three runs for the Giants, who have won nine of their last 10 games. The Giants routed Warren Spahn with a 10-hit, seven-run outburst in 5 1/2 innings to hand the great lefty his second loss of the season against four wins. Billy O'Dell pitched a seven-hitter to win his fourth in a row for the Giants.

Bill White hit a grand slam homer, Charlie James connected for a three-run round-tripper and Gene Oliver connected for a two-run blast as the Cardinals collected 17 hits against five Dodger pitchers. Bob Gibson went 6 1/2 innings to win his first game for the Cardinals.

The Cubs ran their winning streak to six games, longest since 1961, on the strength of the two-hit pitching of Dick Ellsworth. Billy Williams and Ron Santo had two hits each for the Cubs, who have won nine of their last 10 games.

The Mets ran their winning streak to four games when reliever Johnny Kilpatrick's ninth-inning wild pitch let pinch-runner Al Jackson score from third with the winning run. Relief pitcher Ken MacKenzie, who pitched a perfect ninth inning in relief of Roger Craig, received credit for his third straight victory.

If you ask someone to fill in at bridge, he frank-explain that one player was unable to show up.

Levy R-Elected

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Leon Levy was re-elected president of the Atlantic City Hacing Association at a track meeting Thursday.

Crawford Cops Golf Tourney

First prize in the golf tournament sponsored at the Mayfair Country Club by the Navy Wives for the Civilian members was won by Jackie Crawford with a net 75.

Second prize went to Marlon Cox with a net 76. Harriett Williams and Minerva Keenan tied for low putt at 28.

Prizes were gifts of silver trays.

Lakeland defeated the Miami Marlins 8-6 behind the seven-hit pitching of Jim Brown. Brown also slugged a two-run homer in the second inning to help Lakeland's cause.

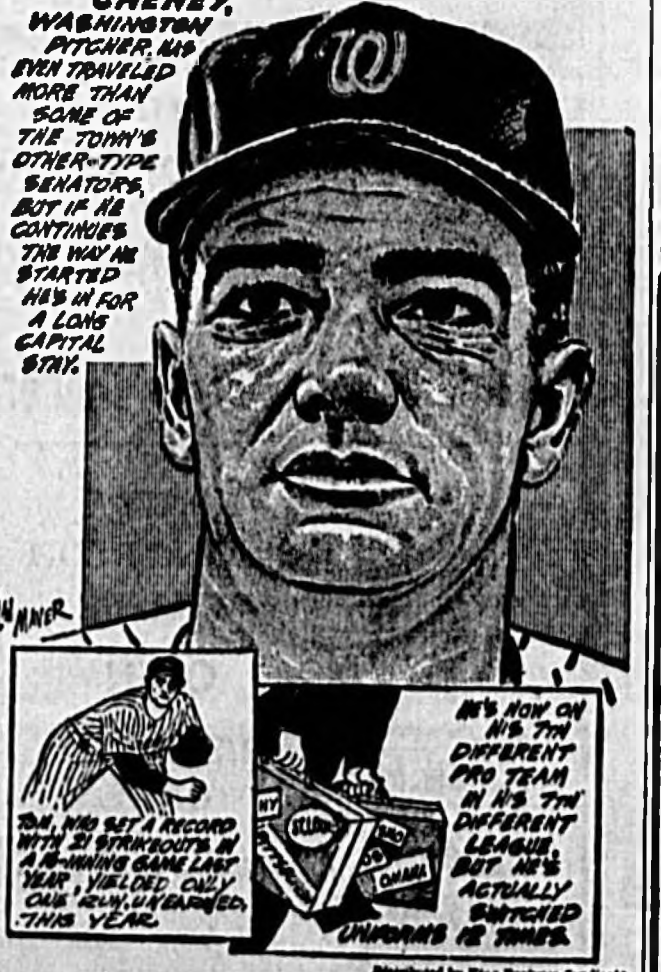

The Yankees slipped by the Tampa Tarpons 2-4 in 11 innings when Fort Lauderdale right fielder Jim Covington doubled, stole third and came home on Frank Petrelli's sacrifice fly to center field.

Make your refusal of an invitation sound sincerely regretful.

3 Tied For FSL Lead

Lakeland, Fort Lauderdale and St. Petersburg were knotted for the Florida State League lead today after downing their opponents last night.

All Kinds Of Homes For Just All Kinds

There are all kinds of homes in the world, depending on who or what you are.

"Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests," as a passage in the Bible relates.

Lions have dens, beavers build mud houses, squirrels live in trees, fish live in water.

Only people and dogs live in houses.

Seminole County realtors don't sell dog houses, but they do have all kinds of houses for people.

Greenbriar, one of the newest subdivisions advertises their homes as being "fit for a king".

On this page are fine homes in Ravenna Park, Idyllwilde, Sunland, Lake Wayman Heights, Tee 'N Green and Greenbriar.

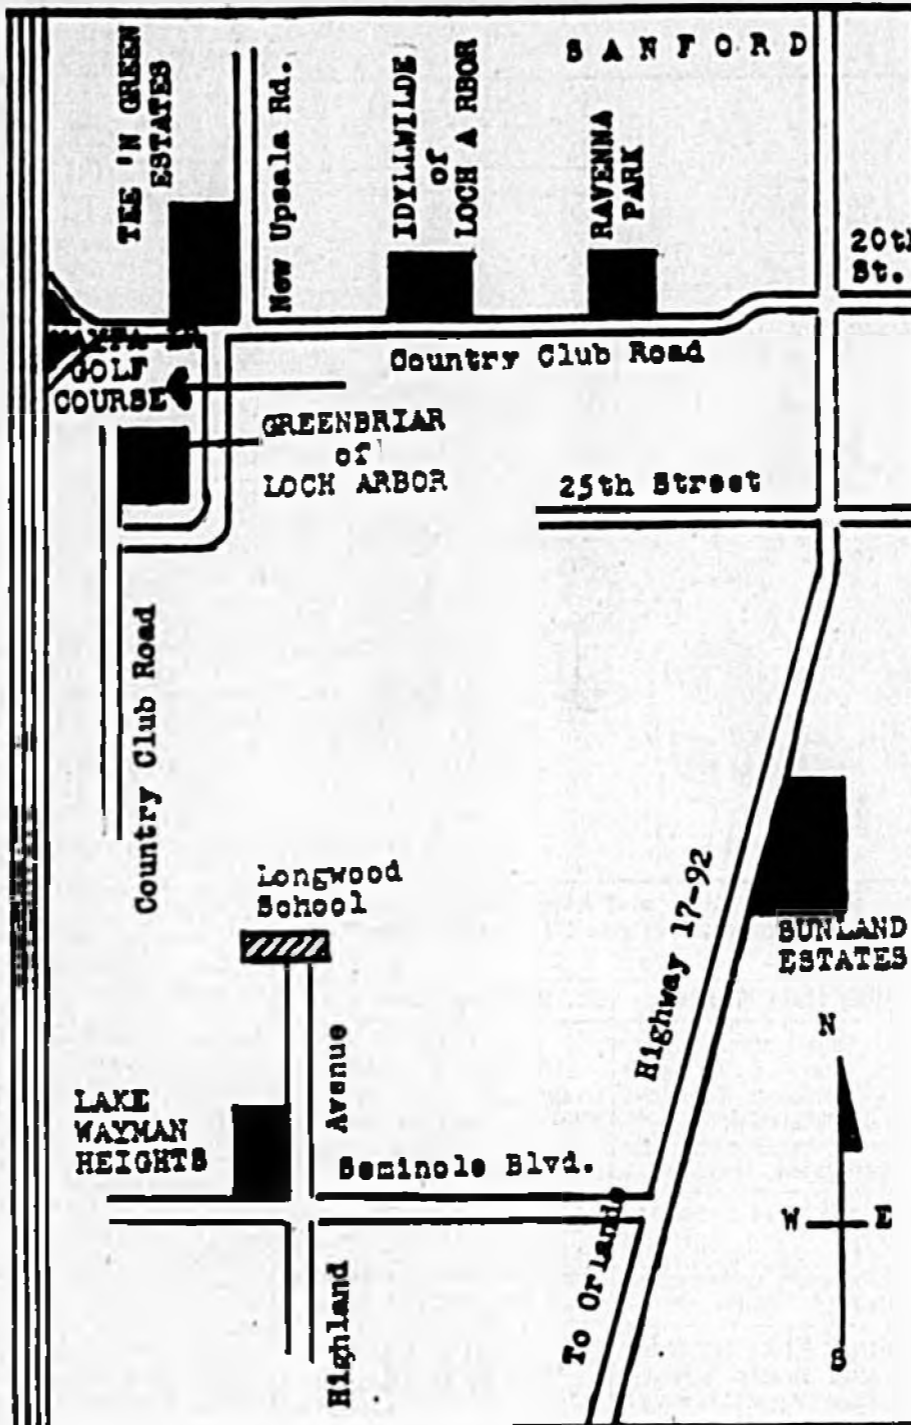

Builders of these ready-made homes are also prepared to build a custom home on your lot, to suit your own plans.

Detailed maps show the locations of all the homes advertised here, to make it easier for the lookers to find their choice, or to look them all over.

Birmingham Quiet As Troops Move In

The Sanford Herald news staff feels really happy today. A story about the unhappy plight of a 17-year-old being held for car theft in the county jail may have paid off. A Seminole County resident interviewed the young man and then informed his attorney that the boy has found a home if county authorities are willing. In fact, the resident wanted to bail the young man out right then and there. But the court was unavailable and no bond had been set.

Castle Heights Military Academy is anxious to commence operations here with the beginning of the next school term in September. The school, which has its headquarters at Lebanon, Tenn., is backed by the MacFadden Foundation, which wants to open a preparatory school here. At the moment, foundation officials are trying to get together on a sale price for the Giants' building and the City's 18 acres on Mellonville at Celery.

A 7 p.m. private meeting of the Casselberry Board of Aldermen will be held at the Town Hall tonight preceding the 7:30 p.m. monthly meeting to be held at the Casselberry Women's Club. We understand that there is a 13-item agenda on tap; that the attorney will be delayed and that it is possible the mayor and clerk won't be able to make it at all.

Jim Crowe bid a "bon voyage" early Sunday to John E. Ansley and his dog, Ansley, of 9134 Bear Lake Road, Orlando, took off with his dog in a canoe from Crowe's fishing camp for a week-long trip down the St. Johns River to Jacksonville.

Business must be booming at the Caribe Lounge, Flo, the smiling bar maid, is driving a new white Cadillac. And you should hear her description of her feelings while driving that new car... good for a big laugh.

Sanford Shriner's are rooting all-out for Astronaut "Gordo" Cooper and will be really plugging for him when he takes off "into the wild blue yonder" Tuesday. You see, Cooper is a member of the Sanford Shrine Club.

Sanford's Fleet Reserve Association will meet at 7:30 tonight at the FRA home. Nominated are Gene Taffer, Don Pierce and Mich Thomas for president and Gerald G. Myers and Bob M. Myers for vice president. All career Navy and Marine men with more than four years of active duty are invited. Visitors are welcome also.

Sanford and Seminole County medical doctors will gather with others from throughout the state May 16-19 at the 89th annual meeting of the Florida Medical Association at Hollywood.

Mrs. Charles Park Sr. has been inducted as "Sanford Mother of the Year" by Rose Circle of the Sanford Garden Club. The resolution reads that the club expresses "to Geneva Park its appreciation of her devoted service - not only to them - but to all with whom she has worked, a service so dedicated that to be near her is an inspiration."

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—An advance detail of federal forces set up headquarters today five blocks from a Negro section of Birmingham where a four-hour riot erupted Sunday morning.

Combat-equipped federal troops were poised at jump-off spots 80 miles south and 60 miles east of this racially-torn industrial city on orders from President Kennedy. Birmingham was quiet and on the surface, at least near-normal today.

An Army colonel commanding about 15 soldiers worked through the night bringing in equipment in an office building that houses several government agencies. The headquarters was set up in the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service area across the hall from the Federal Bureau of Investigation on the 14th floor of the 2121 Building, five blocks from where rioting erupted Sunday.

The soldiers arrived aboard a C-130 transport shortly before midnight. Ed Guthman, of the Justice Department, had an office next door to the military headquarters. Heavily armed highway patrolmen remained in the riot-torn area. Traffic moved along the streets as on any other Monday morning. But at intersections were patrolmen who had slept in patrol cars during the night with carbines and shotguns close at hand.

State authorities claimed the crisis here was "firmly under control" and said the riot trained federal troops that flew into Maxwell Air Force Base to the South and Ft. McClellan to the East were not needed.

Huge Air Force transport planes began landing the troops at Maxwell AFB 90 miles south of here at Montgomery within an hour after Kennedy issued his order Sunday. By early morning, more than 10 planes had arrived with cargoes of soldiers, jeeps and other equipment.

The steel-helmeted troops, carrying bayonet-tipped carbines, were housed in vacant barracks for the night at Maxwell which was placed on alert. Kennedy said in calling out the troops that he would "do whatever must be done to preserve order" in Birmingham which was racked by bombings and rioting early Sunday. Twenty-two persons were injured in the pitched battles between Negroes and police that climaxed six weeks of integration demonstrations.

It was the second time in a little more than seven months that Kennedy had ordered federal troops into the South in connection with racial violence. He dispatched 23,000 troops to the Oxford (Miss.) area last October after University of Mississippi students rioted over the admission of Negro student James H. Meredith.

Gov. George Wallace protested the sending of troops to Alabama. In a telegram to the President Sunday, he said "sufficient state law enforcement officers are available to maintain peace and order" in Birmingham. In another wire Sunday night to the Alabama congressional delegation, he said, "The President has completely ignored lawfully constituted state authority."

Road Program Will Be Aired
Interim road improvement program requested by County Engineer William Bush will be discussed at Tuesday's County Commission meeting.

Commission deferred late last year to approve an overall highway road program for Bush because of the December freeze. Several public hearings on a number of issues also are scheduled.

'Green Go' Signal For Cooper

MERCURY capsule "Faith 7" is carefully hoisted to top of the gantry at Pad 14 for mating with its Atlas booster.

ASTRONAUT Gordon Cooper tries on the helmet he will wear during the 34 hours of his 22-orbit space flight.

Astronaut Ready For 22 Orbits

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—An anxious man, a fueled-up machine and unusually good weather today signaled a tentative go-ahead for an attempt to launch Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. on America's most ambitious flight into space Thursday.

The man was Cooper, himself, a 36-year-old Air Force major who braved four years of waiting and a rash of "inner circle" opposition for the chance to make the prize flight of Project Mercury—a planned 22-orbit voyage around earth.

The machine was a silvery Atlas rocket that will boost the slender spaceman-elect into the sky at a speed of 17,500 miles per hour, if all goes well.

Technicians were so confident of the rocket's readiness Sunday that they loaded it up with fuel one day ahead of schedule.

Around the world, the weather was reported in top shape—"for a change," as one federal space agency spokesman put it. Some areas still were being watched closely, but the foul weather conditions that regularly stepped in to interfere with the previous U. S. manned orbital flights were remarkably absent this time around.

"The weatherman for a change is optimistic; everything is green go," said Col. John (Shorty) Powers, spokesman for the astronauts. Preparations for the flight by Cooper ranked as far and away the smoothest of any shot in the turbulent, five-year history of the $500 million Mercury man-into-space program.

Missing even was the usual epidemic of postponement rumors that normally sweep through the tide of newsmen who have poured into the area to cover the launching. "It looks so good I'm really getting a bit worried," said one.

Instead, the odds appeared good that—barring a last-hour hitch—Cooper will arise shortly after midnight tonight, grab a heavy breakfast and don a silver, 20-pound spacesuit for a planned blast-off between 9 a. m. and 11:30 a. m. (EST) Tuesday.

Sunday — as expected — Cooper and "back up" astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. swept through physical and psychological examinations without a hitch. "Both pilots are in excellent mental and physical condition and are very 'up' for the flight," said Dr. Charles Berry, medical expert.

Meanwhile, some 75,000 pounds of high grade kerosene known as "RP-1" was sent flowing into the voluminous fuel tanks of the Atlas well ahead of the original timetable. "Everything looked so good," said one source, "that we thought we'd go ahead and fuel to get it out of the way."

If the schedule holds, tons of volatile liquid oxygen—the other half of the potent fuel combination that will be depended upon to start Cooper on the planned $75,000-mile voyage through space—will pour into the Atlas early Tuesday.

Storm Flags Raised Over Midsection

By United Press International
Severe thunderstorms and wind gusts today lashed the nation's midsection.

Storm warnings were raised in Northern Oklahoma, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, Southern Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The thunderstorms hit the eastern, central and northern plains and parts of the middle and upper Mississippi Valley.

Tornadoes touched down in Northeast Nebraska and Northwest Iowa Sunday. A twister demolished a garage on a farm near Hornick, Iowa, and another funnel cloud damaged several farms near Randolph, Neb., killing a few livestock. No persons were injured.

A tornado cut a six-mile swath through five farms near McClellan, Neb., damaging two homes and five other buildings, and injuring some cattle. A twister also touched down near Norfolk, Neb.

Unseasonably cold temperatures gripped the northern border from coast to coast and some snow fell in New England Sunday.

'Daddy Astronaut' Hopes For Shot At Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—If Donald K. (Deke) Slayton is disappointed that he will not ride into space Tuesday he does a superb job of concealing it.

It could have been Slayton, the wiry 30-year-old Air Force major, who would slot in the Mercury capsule instead of L. Gordon Cooper Jr. in what may be the final solo orbital flight in this country's reach for the moon.

More ambitious programs, including Gemini and Apollo, are coming up. Two-and three-man teams will reach further into space and, if the timetable runs true, land on the moon in 1968.

Slayton, one of the seven astronauts picked in 1958 for Project Mercury, is the only one who has not ridden the familiar bell-shaped capsule on a sub-orbital or orbital trip.

A "heart murmur" officially grounded the man sometimes called the "Daddy Astronaut." He was scheduled for an orbital mission a year ago but was replaced by M. Scott Carpenter.

Sunday, facing more than 100 newsmen and photographers with America's nine new astronauts on the platform with him, Slayton was asked about his flight status with Project Mercury. He now is "coordinator" for the astronauts and a spokesman at such appearances.

"I'm officially grounded," he shot back without a pause. He added quickly that the Gemini and Apollo flights would utilize two and three man teams.

"I hope to fly one or both," he said with a grin. Then came a question about the "cut off" age for the astronauts who might travel to the moon.

John Glenn Jr., who made the first orbital flight, now is 41. Slayton will be in his 40s when the moon trip comes. He smiled and replied: "We (the space program) have not set any age for the cut off. As long as a guy can get out the mustard, we say let him work."

He sounded like a man waiting for a mission.

Five-Day Feud Promised Over Spending Bill

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—A spending bill exceeding $1 billion, which has been handed about in committee, cloak rooms and coffee shops over a month, will reach the House floor for debate this week in what promises to be a feud-filled five days.

Economy forces in the lower chamber, with the support of Gov. Farris Bryant, have been trying to keep the spending bill in the neighborhood of $850 million, while splurgers have been pushing for about $1.05 billion.

Efforts to reach a figure acceptable to both sides apparently failed and the appropriations committee voted out a proposal calling for $1,034,000,000, which is $113 million more than expected revenue.

The rules committee has been asked to place the bill on the calendar for debate Wednesday.

Dade Rep. George Stallings summed up the economy forces' feelings toward the bill this way: "There goes an accident out to happen."

Foremost in the minds of most lawmakers considering the spending bill will be the problem of obtaining additional revenue to support expenditures over the next two years.

In the minds of most legislators, there are only two choices—extend the scope of the state sales tax or borrow the money for specific projects.

Governor Bryant favors borrowing $125 million for construction of universities, junior colleges and technical schools, and this weekend Secretary of State Tom Adams and Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin threw their weighty support behind this scheme.

Former State Rep.
