LUTHER IS STILL LACKING 4 MEN ON HIS CABINET

New German Chancellor Is Having Difficulty Filling Position Which He Formerly Occupied Himself—Finance

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—Dr. Hans Luther, the new German chancellor, Friday afternoon still was lacking four members of his cabinet and hour before he was due to appear before the Reichstag and the session which was to have marked the inauguration of his non-partisan bourgeois ministry was postponed until Monday.

There suddenly has developed a dearth of available candidates for the portfolio of Minister of Finance, the post formerly held by Dr. Luther, which is considered one of the thorniest jobs in the new government as the question of reaching a decision on the government's policy with respect to establishing a temporary gold basis on the pre-war state securities of pre-war government bonds awaits the new minister's decision.

The new chancellor also is minus an incumbent for the ministry of justice which was declined today by Dr. Schumacher, a well-known Cologne jurist who is identified with the clerical party. The post of minister of transportation and the portfolio of minister of occupied areas remained unfilled Friday night.

The frigidly with which the press has the advent of new government finds even more pronounced emphasis in the supplementary comment appearing in the evening journals.

The sentiment among the socialists and organized labor continues outspokenly hostile.

Skeptics around the Reichstag allot to the government only a brief career designating it as a stop-gap primarily installed to cover the few months remaining until the presidential election when the nationalists hope to force a dissolution of the Reichstag with the purposes of bracketing the new parliamentary balloting with that for a successor to President Ebert. It is the hope of the nationalists that the internal situation then will be ripe for a nation-wide bourgeois awakening which will sound the political death knell of the socialists, and incidentally disrupt the Democratic and clerical parties.

Trade union leaders are prepared to counter any reduction in wages by the new government with a general strike of protest, it was announced Friday.

Ministers Aiding In Fight To Cut Unemployed Lists

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Three New York clergymen have pledged their support to Urban Ledoux in his efforts to help the unemployed, it was announced Friday by the man who calls himself "Mr. Zero."

Two of the ministers are the Rev. Dr. Charles Chast, a Congregationalist and the Rev. Dr. W. Lathrop Meeker, a Unitarian. The third, a prominent Episcopal rector, is to be announced as soon as he has completed arrangements with Mr. Ledoux to devote his entire time to the work.

Headquarters for the rehabilitation work have been established at the Church of the Catacombs, formerly called "The Tub," a soup kitchen, sleeping quarters and work rooms are being established there.

AGREEMENT ON SHOALS ISSUE IS UNDERSTOOD

President Thinks House And Senate Leaders Should Seek Understanding Final Form Muscle Shoals Legislation

Plan Will Prevent Rewriting of Bill

Leaders in House Meet With President to Discuss Shoals in White House Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—President Coolidge was represented Friday to be in agreement with Republican house leaders that they should seek an understanding with senate leaders as to the final form of Muscle Shoals legislation before the House confers on the bill advanced to its next legislative step.

Representative Longworth of Ohio, the majority leader in the house, and Chairman Snell, of the president's views at a White House conference today, gave the bill to confer on the subject an understanding, it would be largely rewritten there.

They said afterwards they would seek conferences with senate leaders, including those who would be managers on the part of the senate, in an effort to come to some sort of an understanding. Meanwhile, the Speaker's Gillett's desk where it has been since it was reported from the senate Thursday.

If a full understanding can be had in advance of conference consideration, house leaders are hopeful that congress will be able to dispose of the whole problem before the end of the present session. If that is not done, all pending legislation on the subject will die automatically on Mar. 4, and it would be necessary for the new congress to go over the entire ground again if the problem is to be solved.

In the usual course senate conferees would be Chairman Norris of the senate agriculture committee and Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, and Smith, Democrat, South Carolina. They voted against the Underwood bill and Senator Norris was the recognized leader of the opposition forces during the long fight in the senate.

Refer to the house in the conference would be Chairman McKenzie, if the military committee and Representative Morin, Republican, Pennsylvania, and Quinn, Democrat, Mississippi.

HOOVER REFUSES TO BECOME HEAD OF AGRICULTURE

Will Remain in Cabinet But Prefers to Stay at Head of Department of Commerce Rather Than Direct Farms

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Herbert Hoover, who two years ago declined the interior secretaryship, has refused an offer of the agriculture department portfolio from President Coolidge.

Mr. Hoover intends to remain in the cabinet but prefers to stay at the head of the department of commerce rather than direct the activities of the department of agriculture.

The president offered the agriculture secretaryship to Mr. Hoover because he looked toward him as a type of man he desire to succeed Howard M. Gore—a man qualified to supervise in a business way the many activities of the agricultural department and particularly the work so direct departmental efforts as to aid the farmers of the country in obtaining better and more direct markets.

Mr. Hoover's name also was included in a list of those recommended for the agriculture secretaryship, and Mr. Coolidge thought that in as much as he was a part of the administration he should be given an opportunity to take the place if he desired it. This list contains two hundred names.

Secretary Hoover declined the president's offer on the ground that he felt his present office furnished him with greater opportunities for public service and because several programs of activity which he has been unable to complete.

Thus Mr. Coolidge has turned again to his list in search of an agriculture secretary. It contains the names of a number of agricultural college presidents and faculty members and also the names of several officers of farm organizations, neither of which type exactly conforms to the president's ideas.

Circuit Court Ended With Civil Hearing on Saturday Afternoon

With the acquittal of Theo Morris, charged with manslaughter as a result of an accident last May in which Miss Mary Gabard, of Geneva, was killed, the Seminole Circuit court ended Friday afternoon the criminal proceedings of the term. The court convened Saturday afternoon after remaining idle through the morning to begin trial of a suit in ejectment with Frank Hall as plaintiff and P. D. and Adeline Johnson as defendants. The court will adjourn for the term at the completion of the case.

Four pleas of guilty entertained by the court Friday resulted in the following sentences: One 50 year term and one for life. Those entertaining pleas are: Preasley Williams, first degree murder, state prison farm for life; Henry Williams and Charley Ley, intent breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony, 10 years each, and Robert Mack, indicated on a charge of first degree murder but whose plea of guilty to manslaughter was accepted, 15 years at the state farm.

Miss Gabard received the injuries that caused her death when she was struck by an automobile alleged to have been driven by Morris. The driver was indicted on a charge of manslaughter during the full term of the grand jury. The case went on trial Friday morning.

ACCUSE MEANS BEING UNFAIR WITH PARDONS

Former Department of Justice Agent Is Said to Have Carried On A Wholesale Business in Pardons and Liquors

Chicago Jeweler Is Called to Testify

Declares That Chicago Money Financed The Ring Which Operated in Washington

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A general business in pardons, with liquor permits as a side line, was engaged in by Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent, and by the man known as his "secretary," Elmer W. Jarnecke, the federal jury hearing evidence against Means and Thomas B. Felder, his former attorney, on charges of conspiring to bribe government officials, was told Friday.

The witness, Samuel Schmidt, a Chicago jeweler, said Chicago money financed the operations of the ring which operated in Washington. Some of his money—how much he wouldn't say—went into the enterprise through Jarnecke, he said. Jarnecke, indicted with Felder and Means, pleaded guilty at the start of the trial and is expected to be a witness for the government.

Schmidt said he had advanced "many thousands" to Jarnecke in the summer of 1922, on Jarnecke's assertion that great profits were to be made in obtaining pardons for the release in liquor from bonded warehouses, and for obtaining pardons or "other influence" for persons charged with federal offenses. Schmidt under cross examination said he "understood" the business was to be entirely legal, and that he was to get 50 per cent of all profits in return for his supply of expense cash.

He called on Jarnecke in New York in October, Schmidt said, to ask for $3,500, as he met Means and Jarnecke at the McAlpin hotel where Jarnecke told him he soon would pay him as he daily expected a check for $10,000 for the defendant officers and salesmen of the Crager system, a stock selling concern, as part of a promised $65,000 to be paid for use as a bribe money to induce Harry M. Daugherty, then attorney general, and other high government officials, to "call off" Jarnecke. The check came two days later, Schmidt said, and he was paid $2,000. Jarnecke, he said, promised him more money when the Crager defendants "came through" with the rest of the amount agreed upon. Schmidt testified he subsequently received another $2,000 from Jarnecke.

Another government witness, Fred S. Anser, one of the Crager case defendants, followed Schmidt on the stand and testified that he had contributed $1,700 of the first $10,000 he said was paid to Jarnecke. He did this, he said on representation of Joseph O. Coster, Chicago alderman and lawyer, that he had been to Washington to see Means, and that Means had promised not only to have his actions against them stopped, but to write a letter from the department of justice and completely exonerate them.

Coster told Anser he testified, that Means had said: "I'll handle this like I did the Reisenweber case in New York."

LITTLE CHANGE IS SEEN IN POSTAL BILL IN SENATE

Measure As Voted By Coolidge Again Faces Senate With Likelihood of Passing; Another Merryground

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The senate seems to be headed for another merry-go-round, this time on the postal salary increase bill Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, obtained consent Friday to call up his bill in the senate next Thursday. From all the signs it will reach President Coolidge's desk in exactly the form of the measure he vetoed and on which he was sustained by one vote.

The Moses bill, which started its career as the Sterling bill, is identical the same as the defeated pay raise measure, but adds a section for increasing all but first class postage rates. This addition, was contrived to meet Mr. Coolidge's objection that the original bill failed to provide revenue to meet the pay raise, and served, when the Coolidge veto came up, as an alibi for republicans who agreed to change their votes.

If Mr. Moses could get the senate to pass this substitute, President Coolidge would probably sign it. At least, the Republican leaders say so. But the senate seems to be not merely mildly opposed to the Moses bill, but almost violently against it.

The Democrats intend to move to strike out all the rate raising section, and apparently have enough votes to carry such a motion. Then nothing short of an administration filibuster could keep the bill from passing and going to the president again. To be consistent, Mr. Coolidge would veto it once more. And again the senate would be confronted with the question of sustaining that veto.

Mr. Coolidge won the first time chiefly because Senator Curtis, Republican leader, achieved the impossible in rounding up senators who agreed to switch. Mr. Coolidge used the patronage whip freely at the same time, but it left some deep scars. It is more than likely a second go at the veto would find the administration a loser by a wide margin.

Senator Simmons, Democrat, N. C., says he will fight the Moses bill in its present form. Mr. Simmons contends it is simply a cocked-up administration substitute, admitted by cost accounting supplied by Post master General New, and having no justification beyond the desire of the old guard to soothe Mr. Coolidge's feelings.

Senator Simmons charges, further, that the treasury has ample funds to pay the $68,000,000 involved in the raise for the postal employees, but that the administration is trying to hoard its treasury surplus as an excuse for reducing taxes on upper brackets.

Democratic Leader Appeals For Aid In Election Dispute

JOHNSTON, Pa., Jan. 17.—Chairman John H. Bigelow of the Democratic state committee has issued an appeal for moral and financial assistance in the contest in Cambria county over the grant to the Republican congressional candidate of an election certificate despite a majority vote pulled by the Democratic candidate. The issue is to be decided in congress.

Warren Worth Bailey, Democrat, is declared to have been elected representative from the twentieth congressional district, which comprises Cambria county. The Republican candidate upheld as winner by the Pennsylvania courts, was Anderson H. Walters, according to a recount, made after various election boards had admitted errors, Bailey won the election by fourteen votes. A board of computation then ruled however, that it had no right to go behind the returns for the purpose of decided an election.

SALES TOTAL LAND COMPANY RISES STEADILY

Subscription Total Of Saturday Morning Is Placed at More Than $40,000 at Noon

Oversubscription Considered Likely

Sales Will Close At 11 P. M. Saturday; Has Been Great Success

Subscription to the $300,000 stock issue of the Sanford Hotel-Realty will close tonight at 11 o'clock when the entire amount is expected to have been subscribed for, according to officials of the Bodwell Realty Company through which the stock is offered for sale. With subscriptions well past the $200,000 mark Saturday morning an intensive campaign to complete the sale was inaugurated by the realty organization.

Numbers of the smaller subscribers were reached through Saturday morning bringing about a steady mounting of the subscribed total. Solicitors visited places hitherto untouched and were rewarded by numerous and substantial subscriptions.

Shortly after noon Saturday the total of stock subscribed amounted to approximately $240,000, with 204 subscribers included in the list. This shows sales of approximately $40,000 during the Saturday forenoon. The success of the appeal by the company that those desiring stock call at the office without waiting to be visited by solicitors is pointed to by officials of the company as a sure indication that the total amount will be subscribed before the closing time. Indications are said to point to a possible oversubscription of the amount.

The company has announced a week-end selling time for the realty company. The response to last appeal to take the stock is declared to have exceeded substantially the hopes of the realty company when the project was launched.

The staff of the company is preparing for a last minute rush of those who have postponed negotiating for their shares until fear of being left out prompted them into action.

The whole project is confidently declared to be going "over big" and an eloquent indication of the public spirit of the citizens of Sanford and their desire for the progress of the city.

Police Make Big Haul Of Corn Whiskey Here In Friday Night Raid

Thirty gallons of moonshine liquor, a Cadillac automobile and three negroes are held at the Sanford police station as a result of a raid Friday night by the police of the local force. The negroes, with the liquor in their possession, had just arrived from Jacksonville shortly before they were arrested. The arrests were made by Chief R. G. Williams, Officer A. E. Beckwith and County Officer E. E. Walker. The negroes were taken into custody on Goldsboro Avenue and, on arriving at the station, gave their names at T. W. Warren, James Riekenbacker and John Washington.

With the arrest of the negroes the officers believe they have gone far towards breaking up the traffic in moonshine liquor between Jacksonville and Sanford. The three are members of a gang which has organized a band that is smuggling liquor into Florida from the southern section of Georgia.

Pity And Sentiment Are Silent Factors In Life Of Animals

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 17.—There is not much sympathy to be found in wild nature. If a bird meets with a mishap it is usually left to get over it without any assistance from its companions. When a bird is taken ill and expects to die you will not find its mate standing by to console with it, but the suffering creature will just sink away to a place of hiding in which to meet the end.

The beautiful mall bullfinch is one of the best husbands. A pair of these birds attempted to nest in my garden last spring. The first nest came to an untimely end, and a second was built. When this contained young almost ready to fly, I heard the two parents calling out in great distress. I hurriedly looked up the steep bank leading to the nest in a thick hedge, but I was just too late, for a stoat dashed from the nest and disappeared in the thick undergrowth. Three of the young had been eaten, while the fourth was dead outside the nest.

For days afterward the hen bullfinch sat on twigs in the garden looking most disconsolate, and it was rather beautiful to see the male offer her choice morsels, which he continually searched for. I learned as if he was doing his best to cheer her up, and it gave me much pleasure when I found one that he had succeeded. For at the end of a week they began a third nest, and with this they were successful in rearing a family.

It is only natural, however, for a bird to assist its mate during the time of courtship. It is in the winter months, when each bird has to fight its own battle in the grain for food, that sympathy is scarce. I have known only one instance of this.

In my garden there was a pair of sparrows with a flat roof, having the winter months the tabernacle was utilized as a landing for the birds. Many kinds visited, and it was seldom that a sparrow was unaccompanied. One morning a new visitor appeared, and she was a cripple. This great bird had one leg missing, and she had some trouble in balancing her feet as she picked up the food.

The next morning she brought with her another great tit, and again the sparrows tried to drive away. In a flash the second tit set about them, fought the whole flock, and kept the bird clear while the cripple bird gained a good meal. On each succeeding visit this birdland light accompanied her, and such respect did the sparrows have for fighting powers that she afterward obtained her food in peace.

Mrs. Andrew Bertleson and children have returned home after a pleasant visit in Palatka.

Colossal Water Systems Supplant The Old Oaken Bucket

For 75 of a cent daily they push city dwellers to take their daily luxury bath merely by the turn of a tap—a powerful incentive to this fast increasing health habit. A prodigious use of water is characteristic of the times. One sees a lavish flooding of the city streets, the turning on of young Niagara to extinguish fires, a care-free play of fountains in the parks—yet a citizen may splash in his tub to his heart's content and turn on his shower unrestrainedly, knowing that his bill for all the water used for both public and individual purposes, seldom goes over 75 of a cent daily!

McCormick's Niece Spurns Debut To Manage Cafeterias In California

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Society and Harms may be all right in their place, but they have no lure of Felicia Gizycka, nineteen-year-old daughter of Congressman Gizycka and the granddaughter of the late Robert Patterson, editor of "The Chicago Tribune", and a niece of Senator Medill McCormick. Miss Gizycka who also is a countess, has a mind of her own and an ambition to be of service in the world, rather than to ornament the salons of Washington, New York and Chicago. She has spurned the importunities of her mother to come to Washington for her debut this winter and has remained in San Francisco, where she is earning her living and taking a course of training in the Young Women's Christian Association to become an expert in the management of cafeterias. Early in the winter her mother announced a tentative date for her daughter's debut. Later notice was given that the party had been postponed. Then another date was set and the daughter urged to come to Washington at once. But Felicia did not arrive, and all the maternal urgings for her to leave the Y. W. C. A. school, if only just long enough to come to Washington for the party, have been in vain. Her mother has abandoned the effort for the debut this winter, as the season is far advanced and there is little prospect that Miss Gizycka will go through the formality. The granddaughter of the former Chicago publisher is planning to open a cafeteria of her own, it is said, in the wilds of Wyoming, somewhere in the vicinity of Jackson's Hole, where she has summered with her mother. It was out in the "open spaces" that she was imbued with the idea of work rather than the existence of a social butterfly, and she learned there also of the Y. M. C. A. training school. She wrote for particulars, and when they reached her made up her mind to go to the coast for the classes. Miss Gizycka expects to open her cafe this summer. Her mother, the former Eleanor Patterson, was married to Count Josef Gizycka, of Russia, in Washington in 1904. She went to Russia, but according to the testimony of her divorce trial, found that his ancestral home was only a tumble-down castle. She returned to America in 1909 with her daughter, who, she charged, had been stolen through the efforts of the czar, to whom she appealed. Her divorce petition was not filed until 1917 in Chicago, at which time she got a decree.

Feline Dives Four Stories And Lives

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Psycho, the feline darling of the psychopathic ward at Bellevue, was blown by the high wind yesterday from the roof of Ward 3 to the paved court, four stories below and after being unconscious for two hours, recovered, apparently, his usual perfect health. The only mark of the mishap was his tail. He had evidently lighted on that appendage and it was so badly swollen that every hair stood at its individual perpendicular. A half dozen doctors examined him for broken bones, but found none, and he was wrapped in a blanket and placed near the furnace. A pile of catnip was banked about his nose and in two hours it revived him completely.

Jude Rutherford, President of the International Bible Students Association, says: "The Word of God is the only safe guide for man. Without doubt God has favored America in the past because it has been the home of religious liberty. An abandonment of the Bible and of the Lord necessarily must spell disaster. The Scriptures were written by inspiration of God. They prove themselves. They foretell the happening of future events which have transpired exactly as foretold, thus conclusively proving that the Divine Mind directed their writing. . . . "Jesus and the apostles taught that Satan is the prince or ruler of this evil world, and that the followers of the Lord could not be a part of the world, even as Jesus was not a part of it. Therefore true Christians must keep clear of worldly entanglements and alliances, and proclaim the message of the Lord's kingdom and patiently wait for its control of earth's affairs. "What the people need is not denominationalism, but the true religion of Jesus and the apostles. They need not theology, but they need the Bible in its purity. They need not worldly and selfish politics, but they need to know God and the Lord Jesus Christ, the Redeemer of man, and to know that God's kingdom is the only means of establishing peace, happiness and contentment on earth and life for the human family.

These and other present-day topics will be discussed and amplified in a thoroughly interesting Free Bible lecture in the

How to Solve Puzzle. The best way to solve this crossword puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of equivalent or "key" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend across from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

SIBLE YOUNG MEN

It is dreadful about poor Aunt Emmy! "That company that those bonds in has she has lost nearly all she had." "You know how it happened Aunt Emmy. She started from some so-called 'at home' she knew nothing. She answered it and a plausible young man who persuaded her that any he was selling bonds was a seventh wonder. The case of some people is minimal, Mrs. Fuller might go to her bank, asked for information and saved her. Any bank has or can get about business concerns their condition. Had she shown had been meetings for years, had surplus and good business, she would not be in today. Instead, she took of that plausible man, either deceived himself, fully deceived her, or at not so much interested in her as in selling bonds. There is really very little for the Mrs. Fullers of cause reliable information. Social matters may be had only hadn't put so much in those bonds!" sympathetic Molly. "Another thing it is un- doubted Aunt Emmy, do," replied Aunt Emmy, "in one basket. Now if but only part of her money bonds instead of all she could have stood the loss. There is no telling what the poor little woman has felt into. Like every one Fuller was too greatly by the promise of a high interest on her investment. Some ignorance of finance with the desire for high caused all her trouble. are few things more dan- than thinking you can do you know nothing about as somebody who knows at it. THE REWARD

The individual banker should be much more than a mere lender of money, much more than a mere collector of interest. More than any man in his community, he has the opportunity to guide the farmer along lines of safe progress and toward substantial achievement. The banker in an agricultural district must know agriculture if he is to loan money to farmers and upon agricultural security. In addition to that, the banker is in touch with the activities of the business world. He has correspondent banks in the larger cities; he must, of necessity for the protection of his own business, look beyond the horizon of his immediate vicinity in order to foresee imminent changes in business conditions. The banker has the opportunity to be the point of contact between the farmer and these many other activities of the business world with which the farmer's business is so closely connected. The field is wide, the opportunity is great, the reward of confidence of one's patrons and neighbors—gained by service in their behalf—is worth the effort.—Walter W. Head, President American Bankers Association.

CO-OPS SELL A BILLION'S WORTH

According to the 1929 census figures, $721,933,639 worth of farm products was sold through co-operative marketing associations. The greatest growth in co-operative marketing has come since that time, so that it is safe to assume that much more than a billion dollars worth of products are sold co-operatively at the present time. A general survey shows that the larger co-operatives in fruit are handling nearly $200,000,000 worth of business annually. The large scale milk co-operatives do a total business of about $150,000,000 annually, while the tobacco group is doing a combined business of more than $100,000,000 annually. The cotton group has also passed the $100,000,000 mark. Four Warren County, Illinois banks have offered a total of $200 in prizes for the best cattle club in that county.

Franklin Honored In Observance Of Thrift Campaign

In commenting on the activities of National Thrift Week which begins today with "Thrift Day" postmaster J. P. Hall points out that it is particularly fitting the postal service should play an important part in these activities and pay tribute to the first and foremost advocate of thrift, Benjamin Franklin, who was the first Postmaster General. Postmaster Hall want the patrons of his office to have a clear understanding of the purpose and functions of the Postal Savings System, the agency of the Government by which thrift is promoted. Contrary to the conception of many Postal Savings is not a bank. While it is a savings institution, in the proper sense of the term, its similarity to a bank ends at that point. The deposits received from individuals are immediately turned over to local banks after bonds to secure such deposits are received from the banks as collateral. "While the redeposit of Postal Savings funds in local banks," Mr. Hall said, "inures to the benefit of the community by restoring to active use in the channels of trade funds which might otherwise have remained in hiding in trunks, and under mattresses, and while financial profit accrues to the government by reason of the operation of the service, the real value of this service cannot be measured in dollars and cents. It is a potent force for good in any community and plays an important part in the upbuilding of our country today."

Christmas Trees Are Threatening Nation's Forests

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 17.—With commercial cutters taking an estimated total of 1,000,000 Christmas trees annually from privately owned logged-off lands in the state of Washington, their activities are becoming an important factor in the already serious problem of reforestation, according to Fred E. Pape, state supervisor of forestry. The Christmas tree cut, he declared, now equals the number of mature trees ordinarily felled each year in lumbering operations. "The menace of the annual holiday onslaught is all the more serious," Supervisor Pape stated, "when the class of trees selected and the manner in which the cutters proceed is taken into consideration. If they followed a thinning out process, their activities might even be beneficial, but, because of the economic problems involved, the method followed by the cutters is one which is most destructive to the growing timber. "Purchasers demand trees which are well formed and this kind can be secured in large quantities only where the growth is rather sheltered and needs no artificial thinning. In order to render their operations profitable, the cutters select such tracts and then make a clean sweep, as their ratio of profits is increased largely by the number of marketable trees taken from a given acreage. State laws prevent the cutting of Christmas trees on the state property. There is now, however, a growing belief on the part of some legal authorities, Supervisor Pape said, that such cuttings on privately owned lands can be prevented on the general principle that private interests must always be subservient to public welfare. In addition to supplying Yuletide decorations for state residents Washington Christmas trees are now being shipped to many other states and even to the American island possessions.

British Having Trouble With Reckless Drivers

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The increasing number of accidents, fatal and otherwise to pedestrians as a result of careless motor driving has caused the authorities serious to consider framing new laws for the protection of the general public. The bill has not yet been drafted, but the motoring authorities anticipated that it will contain recommendations set down in the departmental committee report of 1922 which included abolition of speed limit of 20 miles an hour but initiating rigid enforcement of regulations against dangerous driving, abolition of fixed reduced speed limits in populous areas and heavier and sharper maximum penalties including prison for second offences. Further regulations are expected to include a declaration in regard to physical fitness from each applicant for a driving license.

Energy Brings Results Despite Prison Bars

HARBIN, Manchuria, Jan. 17.—For the last two years M. Kravonshchokoff, once premier of the Far Eastern Republic, has been in jail; he was found guilty of embezzlement. But prison life has not succeeded in curbing the former statesman's energy. He has written four books on banking, for which he received $4,000; he has organized among his prison mates a lucrative business of making woodcuts and engraving on copper, and altogether he is going so well that he has declined a release from confinement and the offer of a position with a local bank.

"Should Sweep The Country In Fall" Declares Harrison

By J. V. Clarke

NEW YORK.—With such a ticket, upon such a platform, with the magnificent constructive record of the Democratic Party, and the general lack of confidence in the Republican Party—everywhere, we ought to sweep the country this fall," said Senator "Pat" Harrison, the great keynoter of Democracy, when seen at the Waldorf immediately after the Convention. He added, slowly and impressively, weighing each word: "The Democratic platform is the most progressive and far-seeing in the history of national political parties. The Democratic nominees will blend together every element of progress in the thought of the country. They inspire the confidence of business men and give hope to the progressive thought of the nation."

Senator Harrison was enthusiastic about the platform. Among other planks he spoke strongly in favor of that covering the conservation of national resources and mentioned particularly, under this head, the great value of the country's wild life, especially its waterfowl. He stressed the necessity for adequate protection of this: "The Democratic platform calls for the conservation of our National Resources," said Senator Harrison. "It would be very unwise to overlook so important a national resource as the wild life, and particularly the migratory water fowl of the country. The Game Refuge Bill, recently considered by Congress, provides for the protection of migratory waterfowl and the establishment of public shooting grounds so that hunting may not become merely a rich man's pastime. It may remain, as it always has been, rich in waterfowl."

The chief menace to migratory waterfowl in this country has been the draining of vast areas of swamp land, their natural breeding and feeding grounds. Of this type of land a much larger area than that of the Great Lakes or about half again as large as New England has already been drained. In most cases such draining has resulted in increased taxes without any corresponding agricultural gain, while the country's wild life, which draining threatens with extinction, has a value of over one billion dollars, according to Dr. E. W. Nelson, chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey, which has such an excellent record in the administration of the Federal Migratory Bird Law; already enacted. The Game Refuge Bill, S. 2913 H. R. 748, reported out favorably by both the Senate and House Committees of Agriculture, provides for the acquiring of sufficient habitat for the migratory water fowl of the country and for the establishment of public shooting grounds, so that the hunter of small means may continue to enjoy a sport that is fast becoming a rich man's pastime. The cost of this is covered by a one dollar license paid by the hunter. There is no cost to the government and no extra taxation involved. Even Soviet Russia, which we regard as one of the most backward of nations, has established commission and is spending money to provide sufficient water for wild ducks. Support of the Game Refuge Bill which is entirely a non-partisan measure, is merely one angle of Senator Harrison's fight for the conservation of our national resources. His resolution calling for an investigation of forest conservation led to the appointment of a special committee for the purpose, and resulted in the McNary Reforestation Bill, the most progressive step in conservation ever undertaken by the Federal Government.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

LOVE MASTERS FEAR: There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear.

FOLLOW THE STAR

"Follow the Star," was the watchword of the three wise men of old.

Someone was watching them travel. It was He who guided that star.

But God was always guiding. He was ever by their side.

He showed them the way through the desert.

With a little star as a guide. Then when they reached their Saviour.

And kissed His baby feet, They went their way rejoicing.

Their happiness was complete.

We too, should follow the star. Like the three wise men of old.

And fight this battle here on earth. With a courage brave and bold.

When life seems lonely and weary. And we're lost in the desert's sand.

Let us look for the star in the heavens. And to God for a helping hand.

He is always sure to help us. No matter how far we may stray.

He will show us the right way by His light.

To start another day. Through life may seem weary.

Filled with sorrow and pain, Just keep sight of the star.

It will not be in vain.

Though men may laugh when they pass you by.

And offer do things, that will cause you to sigh.

Just let it go as you smile and say, "I've followed the star for many a day."

Then like the three wise men of old, When life's work is done,

And God judges our actions one by one.

We'll leave this world rejoicing. Brought safely through the strife.

For "We've followed the star," faithfully. All through life.

Some Good Promises From Governor Martin

Governor Martin made a bull's eye hit the other day by promising to speed up some of the state's road-building projects.

The Herald has no information at hand as to how much of the Melbourne-Kissimmee road remains unfinished.

Friends of Governor Martin declare that the state's new executive is going to demonstrate that the governor of Florida "can get things done."

For something like five years we have been hearing that the East Coast highway would be completed "before another winter season."

But "they say" that Governor Martin has a way of getting things done. His promises relative to immediate completion of road building projects are accepted as absolute guarantee.

Florida needs a governor like that, has needed one for 10, these many years.

Florida Pays Dearly For Harboring Them

Sanford will probably be spared plundering by Confidence Men, and the disgrace of their presence.

But, while Sanford is passed by, many other towns in Florida and numbers of visitors in Florida will pay heavily for lack of protection against the tricksters that are permitted to operate their various games in this state throughout the winter season.

In Miami, public notice has been given of the arrival of big "Crooks."

Until the police "get something" on these visitors, there can be no arrests.

Make industry attractive, and you solve industrial problems.

When city police departments, county sheriff forces, and the executive officers at Tallahassee know of the arrival of noted crooks.

From the high-rolling "Confidence Man," dealing in big propositions, to the wretched little peddler of bogus wares.

When city police departments, county sheriff forces, and the executive officers at Tallahassee know of the arrival of noted crooks.

And some day the people of Florida will realize this. Some day the people of Florida will see how dearly they have paid for incompetency among the men who are sworn to enforce the laws.

Instead of Florida inaneily expecting to be used as winter quarters for sharpers, instead of Florida accepting as a matter-of-course the protection of gambling resorts and questionable road-houses and "clubs," the state's respectable citizens should be demanding a warfare against such evils as would get results—and get them quick.

Among the most interesting of our present-day public speakers is Vice President Thomas R. Marshall.

The other day Mr. Marshall said that the United States is suffering from the development of the class spirit.

Mr. Marshall said, "We are suffering from the development of the class spirit in America."

There is no room in America for class spirit. The man who digs a decent ditch in Kentucky is as fine a man and as representative a citizen of our republic as the president of the United States.

This is one of those truisms that are accepted theoretically, but which cannot be so easily made effective.

OUR WOMEN GOVERNORS

TAMPA TRIBUNE

This month, for the first time in history, the Governor's chair of two great American States will be occupied by women.

As Governor of Wyoming, Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross will rule a state where almost as big as England.

As Governor of Texas, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson will be chief executive of an empire almost as big as Europe, if we leave out Russia.

Mrs. Ross is a widow. She was elected to serve out the unexpired term of her husband, W. B. Ross, who died in office.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, the first woman to become a Governor, was elected in a campaign to vindicate her husband, a former Governor of Texas, and makes known she will advise with him about official matters.

"I don't know what I shall do," exclaimed Mrs. Ross, when first informed she had been nominated unanimously to succeed her husband.

DEBATING SOCIETY IS FORMED BY ENTHUSIASTIC GROUP AT CHURCH

A very enthusiastic group of men met at the Presbyterian church Thursday night for the purpose of forming a Literary and Debating Society. This meeting was the outgrowth of a desire on the part of some of Sanford's younger citizens to acquire the art of speaking in public. Societies of this character fostered by the Y. M. C. A. or other institutions are found in many cities but this is the first time that an effort has been made to develop Sanford's latent literary talent.

It was proposed to hold semi-monthly meetings. A committee was appointed to work up a program which is to include talks by prominent local citizens and out of town visitors as well as debates and extemporaneous speeches on the part of the members.

A number of interesting talks were made by various men present. D. L. Thrasher voiced his approval of the new movement and pledged his support. L. M. Stephenson gave a very interesting talk in which he said that the value of an organization of this character was very clearly demonstrated to him in connection with an incident which occurred several years ago. The Credit Manager of a Wholesale Grocery company, who had obtained his position as a result of long service often criticized the city salesman on the ground that he spent too much of his time in the local debating society and that he spent too much of his time to his ability as a salesman. That city salesman was John W. Martin, now governor of the state and the credit manager is still holding down his same position.

A meeting will be held next Thursday evening at the same place 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of electing permanent officers and to pass on the Constitution and By-Laws which are being prepared by L. C. Boyle.

There are no obligations in connection with this society and it is hoped that a large number of the men of Sanford will take advantage of this opportunity to become members.

SALLIE HARRISON CHAPTER OF D. A. R. GIVES CARD PARTY

The Sallie Harrison's benefit card party given at the Woman's Club Friday was a most enjoyable and successful affair.

The chairman of publicity, Mrs. R. E. Tolar, was congratulated on the artistic decorations.

In the receiving line was the regent, Mrs. Anna DeForest vice regent Mrs. R. E. Tolar, and honorary regent, Mrs. B. J. Starling; Mrs. Raymond Phillips, conducted the player to their tables.

Proceeding the bridge party the regent Mrs. DeForest gave a most interesting talk explaining the object of this card party. That the chapter was endeavoring to raise money to provide a marker for old Fort Mellon. The regent said that the guests were no doubt all familiar with the history of Fort Mellon as it had been well advertised and that the chapter in placing this boulder would add to the historic publicity of the location of Sanford and Seminole county.

At the conclusion of the games, the players went to their original tables and were served with a delicious salad course and coffee. Those serving were: Mrs. R. E. Tolar, Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Mrs. G. D. Bishop, Mrs. John Leonardy, Mrs. B. J. Starling, Mrs. Fred Daiger, and Mrs. George Hering.

The prize for high score was won by Mrs. O. P. Herndon, second high by Mrs. Victor Check and the consolation by Mrs. L. P. Hagan.

Mrs. B. J. Starling, Chairman of Publicity.

Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Jan. 20, the women of our community are again to be privileged to attend another of the delightful musical teas that have been given by the Music Department of the Sanford Woman's Club this winter.

Sanford has never before had such perfectly planned and carried out entertainments as this series of musicals which have been under the direction of the Music Department Chairman, Mrs. D. P. Drummond.

The program for Tuesday is to be furnished by the Sorosis Club of Orlando, as an exchange courtesy. The Sorosis club has a great deal of unusual talent and the program promises to be a splendid one.

The setting for this musical tea is to be that of a "Country Club" and sport clothes will be quite in order.

The program is open to the public. The admission charge is 50 cents.

NURMI AGAIN IS VICTORIOUS IN N. Y. CONTEST

Phantom Finn Beats His Rival Countryman, Ritola, Smashing 3 More Records Held by U.S. Runner, Jole Ray of Ill.

Ritola Is Beaten By Distance 65 Yards

Track Star on Way to Chicago Where He Races Star Crowd Athletes on Friday Night

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Phavo Nurmi started his ambitious week-end racing program victoriously Thursday night when he conquered Willie Ritola, his rival countryman, and three other starters in the 3,000-metre race featuring the Municipal A. A. games and National Junior Indoor championships.

Nurmi not only won easily, lapping all his rivals except Ritola, who finished in second place, 65 yards behind, but shattered three world's records at distances of one and three-quarters miles, 3,000 metres and one and seven-eighths miles.

The phantom Finn was even in more astonishing form than when he made his spectacular debut here last week, for he ran his most feared rival, Ritola, into the ground early in the race and uncorked a brilliant flash of speed at the close to slice seconds off the former world's record, all of which were held by Jole Ray of Chicago.

Nurmi set the new mile and three-quarters mark at 7 minutes 55.8 seconds as compared with Ray's former standard of 7-59.4.5 and was clocked at the 3,000 meter finish mark in 8:26.4.5 as compared with the former time of 8:31.1.5. Nurmi then carried his speed alone to the one mile and seven-eighths post where his time was 3:29 as against the old record of 3:34.3.5. All of Ray's old marks were set in 1923 in New York.

Nurmi now has shattered six world's records in three starts in this country in each instance erasing a record formerly held by Ray. Thursday, the flying Finn seemed to have in mind the fact that he had only a short time to catch a train for Chicago, where he is slated to run Friday night, for he set out at a dizzy clip early in the race.

Ritola and Verne Borly former Johns Hopkins star, clung to Nurmi's heels for six laps, but after that they dropped steadily behind.

Nurmi added yards to his advantage on every turn of the wooden runway and the crowd burst into noisy acclaim as he lapped the other two entrants, Gunnar Nilson and Hinar Primin quick succession.

Booth was passed two laps from the finish and Ritola was trailing by a third of a lap when Nurmi broke the tape.

A junior championship was equaled in the final when Raymond Wolf broke the tape in 9 seconds, one-fifth of a second, tying the former record.

Thomas J. Clouston, Boston A. A., romped off with the first junior title event, the 1,000 yard run, when he drew away from Pat Kennedy of New York to win by ten yards in a duel over the last lap.

George Marsters, Georgetown flier, took the measure of Jimmy Connolly, former Georgetown star, after a spirited duel between this pair in a special half mile race. Marsters, trailing until a half lap from the finish, uncorked a whirlwind burst of speed to nip Connolly a few strides from the tape.

The veteran Abe Kiviat set the early pace and finished third.

George Kinnally, Georgetown middle distance crack, captured the junior 600 yard title in a thrilling race in which he bested his tape only inches in front of H. Ray of the Newark A. C. after a driving finish. Jocelyn Shore of the Mill Rose A. A. was a close third.

Willie Goodwin, New York A. C. secured a brilliant victory in the junior two mile run and clipped nearly 15 seconds off the former record when he broke the tape in the remarkably good time of 9 minutes 20.2.5 seconds. Goodwin took the lead at the start and lapped his entire field, crossing the finish as second man, Schmid of Solumbia, was starting his last lap.

May Re-organize State Ball League

Tampa, Jan. 17.—Eleven cities have been invited to have representatives at a meeting to be held here Saturday, January 17, for the purpose of reorganizing the Florida State baseball league. Al Lang, president of the league, would not disclose names of the eleven cities invited other than those now holding franchises. These are St. Petersburg, Tampa, Bradenton, Orlando and Lakeland.

Leonard Leaves Ring; To Find New Champion By Elimination Meet

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The world's lightweight championship, vacated by Benny Leonard Thursday after a seven year reign, will be placed on the market for open competition by the New York State Athletic Commission in an elimination test similar to that conducted recently to determine a featherweight title holder.

Leonard today addressed a letter to the commission formally relinquishing his crown. At the same time he indicated a desire for an elimination title tournament to select his successor and George E. Browner, chairman of the commission intimated this body willing to go ahead with such a project.

Browner said the matter would be discussed at the commission's meeting Wednesday and course of action determined. Tex Rickard, Madison Square Garden promoter, has placed a diamond studded belt at the disposition of the New York commission to give to the winner of the tournament.

Leonard left for Chicago this afternoon to begin a 15 week world wide tour. He refused to discuss his withdrawal other than to say that his mother's feelings in the matter were respected by him and that no other motive had prompted his retirement.

Tiger Flowers Is Stopped by Delancy

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Jack Delancy, of Bridgeport, Conn., knocked out Tiger Flowers, of Atlanta, in the second round of a twelve round match at Madison Square Garden Friday night. The fight terminated when Delancy floored Flowers with a right uppercut forty-three seconds after the start of the second round.

The end came with unexpected suddenness. Flowers had the better of the argument in the first round, taking the aggressive at the start and piling on top of Delancy all through the round. He continued these tactics in the second until Delancy let go a right uppercut which caught Flowers flush on the jaw and he toppled to the floor for the full count.

Main Bout Ends In Sanford Basketball Knockout In Friday Night Boxing Bill On Saturday Night

Before a goody gathering of followers of the boxing game last night, at the Armory, Young Ketchel, formerly of Philadelphia, now making his home here, won his initial fight here, by knocking out Young Blanco, of Tampa. Both boys were lightweights.

It was a fast and furious fight from the first gong until Federico Mitchell, counted the fatal ten above the body of Blanco, who was floored for the count by a terrific right to the jaw, after 55 seconds of fighting in the second round of the scheduled ten round bout. Blanco was leading the fight until the knockout.

The semi-final between Young Tony of Jacksonville, and "Wellington" Joe Mate, of Tampa, welterweights, furnished the fans and fanniblers plenty of amusement. It was a hectic fight for the entire eight round. Mate lost the decision to Young Tony by a small margin. However, Tony seemed to be the superior of the two, leading almost at will while Mate took all he had and vainly tried his best to land the finishing blow. He was substituted for another boxer who was to have met Young one and was not in his usual shape that local fans have witnessed.

The second preliminary of the evening consisted of "Dick" Fleming, of New Orleans, and Kid Ernest, local boy, welterweights, which went the eight scheduled rounds to a draw. Both boys showed skill at their game and real exhibition that was well accepted, showing plenty of action.

Kid Young, local welterweight and Marion Gordon, of Columbia, S. C., furnished the first preliminary, boxing four rounds to a draw.

It was announced that another boxing card will be arranged for January 29, at which time a larger crowd is expected to be present.

Argentina Draws German Immigrants

HAMBURG, Jan. 17.—German overseas emigration is on the upward curve again, after having slumped somewhat during the second quarter of 1924. The movement is now proceeding at the rate of about 5,000 a month. The countries preferred are Argentina and Brazil. During the first half of 1924, 12,000 Germans emigrated to these South American lands. Another country that is favored is Paraguay. Of 238 immigrants admitted to Paraguay in ports, no less than 24 were of German nationality.

Jacksonville Wants Free School Books

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 17.—Free textbooks should be provided for Florida's public schools. This is the suggestion of the members of the Jacksonville Education Association, who met at a meeting of the Women's club of the city at a session this week, at which Dr. Joseph Rogner, president of the Florida Education Association, was the principal speaker. Dr. Rogner said "extreme steps have been taken in drafting a law for free textbooks." W. L. Dochow, Duval county trustee and officer, offered numerous arguments for and against free textbooks, the result, he said, of a study he had made of the subject in other states.

Due to a misunderstanding in dates between the girl teams of Sanford and Orlando High Schools scheduled to have been played Friday night on the local school court, will be played at 8 o'clock Saturday night. The announcement that the game would be played last night drew a large crowd to the courts.

The Orlando game is looked forward to as being one of the best of the year. Each team has lost but one game, to Kissimmee, and by practically the same margin which is taken as an indication that the teams are evenly matched.

Two of the regular performers of the Sanford teams are out of the lineup but this Miss Ethel Henry, coach of the local team, believes should not place material odds against the Sanford chances of victory as great faith is placed in the playing ability of the substitutes.

Jail Dictograph Gives Death Clue

GREENVILLE, Jan. 17.—Jerry Hester and his two sons, Charlie and Claude, now in the Greenville jail charged with the murder of J. Ed Thurston, prominent Greenville county merchant, were permitted to converse while officers listened to their conversation over a dictograph.

One result, they said, was the recovery of $149 of the amount alleged to have been taken from the safe located near the dead merchant's body on the night of Dec. 20.

Another was the arrest of Mrs. Jerry Hester and her 16-year-old son, Cromer.

Noted Artists To Be Heard On Radio During New Year By Vast Unseen Audiences

For years radio enthusiasts have waited patiently for the day when lists of international fame could be heard from broadcasting studios.

The announcement by the Victor Talking Machine Company that John McCormack and Lucrezia Bori, two of the world's best known singers, would broadcast on the evening of New Year's Day, aroused universal interest. The radio set was a complete success. These artists, who have sung for a Victor for years and have appeared in grand opera or concert throughout the world, are the first to participate in a great experiment which promises the finest music procurable for the "hut-hut" society and those to whom distance forbids attendance at the great opera houses.

Countless thousands who might never have heard McCormack and Bori in person, were reached by the stations over which the experiment was made. The artists sang before the microphones of stations WEAF, the broadcasting studios of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, at 195 Broadway, New York; their voices were also carried over the broadcasting apparatus at WCAP, Washington; WAAI, Providence; WNAC, Boston; WDBI, Worcester; WGI, Hartford; WFL, Philadelphia and WCAE, Pittsburgh.

A partial list of Victor stars from whom selections will be made for future radio recitals includes: Frances Alda; Harold Bauer; Lucrezia Bori; Emilio de Gogorza; Giuseppe de Luca; Miguel Fleta; Jean Gordon; Maria Jeritza; Giovanni Martinelli; Margareta Mattson; John McCormack; Rosa Ponselle; Ernestine Scott; and Antonio Scotti and the Flourboy Quartet.

PROCK OF DELICATE CHARM
 Smart fashions require smart fashions, and for the afternoon tea or dinner at the country club this Paris-inspired frock is ideal. It is developed in figured material, which may be of silk or satin, and trimmed with long silk fringe, which is stitched about the neck and about the sides and back of the skirt. There is no belt, but gathers at either side of the skirt indicate the vogue of the higher waist-line. Medium size requires 3 yards 36-inch material and 4 1/2 yards fringe.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 2297. Sizes, 34 to 42 inches bust, and 16 to 20 years. Price, 35 cents.

THE NEW WAIST-LINE
 Those who follow the moles are intensely interested just now in the placement of the waist-line. Fashion is so determined to hit it above the hips that many of the great designers are compromising between the very high and the very low effect and accenting it at normal. This frock may be developed in cotton, woolen or silk materials. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 40-inch crepe.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 2118. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust, and 16 to 20 years. Price, 45 cents.

*Oak Hill Lots Will Be Placed
On Sale Monday Morning at 8:00 o'Clock.*

Oak Hill is Sanford's newest subdivision, situated on the south side of Geneva Avenue extending from the Oviedo branch of the railroad to Mellonville Avenue. It is all high ground famous for the productiveness of its soil, for its magnificent oaks and stately palms.

Mellonville and Geneva Avenues are soon to be paved; electric lights already have been conducted to this subdivision; water, gas and sewer are to be laid in the near future. These vast improvements cannot fail to add materially to property values in this section. It is conservatively estimated that lots in Oak Hill will double, perhaps triple, in value, within the next six months.

If you are looking for investment possibilities you could find no gusher from any oil well which would provide a more lucrative flow of revenue. Opportunities of this kind seldom come to the man of small means and perhaps but once in a life time, does the salaried man have so unfailing an opportunity to become rich. This is your chance. Make the most of it, or you will have only yourself to blame.

AMERICA'S MENACE? IT'S JACKIE COOGAN!

Natural Development of Children Because they Mimick Startling Declaration of Child Welfare Student.

Jan. 14.—Jackie Coogan a menace to the children of the states! This little cinema star who has thrilled the hearts of kiddies—and grown-ups as well—is a menace to the child.

Dr. Kopelson, who has just returned from Vienna where he spent five years in studying speech defects, and their treatment. He has made speech defects to do with making Jackie Coogan's mother's crown?

His antics on the screen, makes mimics of our children, Kopelson explains. "They follow his every word of their own individuality is destroyed. Such mimicking which causes stuttering and stammering in a neighborhood who stammer may be cured to do likewise, for they consciously or unconsciously. When we mimic, especially a child, the child of the person so mimicked soon become trans-

Parents Against "Baby Talk"

Little boys are mimicking Jackie Coogan. They have hats down over one eye and saunter along with deep in their pockets, just as he does. They are cute, no doubt, but the psychological effects of Coogan's antics are not those of a little child, the thoughts of a mature director, imbedded in the mind through command.

It gives another "don't" for mothers and dotty baby is oo?" should be taboo, he says. "Baby talk" is the perfectly natural language of the young dream. Somewhat mid-Victorian, it is permissible in the proper setting.

An infant, however, "baby talk" may leave a child. "The child will mimic, and retard its learning in many cases it will cause the child to stammer for years.

Particularly the mother, should always exercise care in enunciating and articulating words, and in banning slang and in determining the child to carelessness in thought as well as in action.

Chief assistant to Prof. Theodore S. Flatau, of the correction of speech defects attached to the Berlin's great public hospital.

Preventing Adult Stammerers Now.

Dr. Kopelson's efforts to wipe out the stammerer and to smooth guttural "K's" and "G's," are his only patients—many grown-ups crowd in for examination and retreatment.

Back with him from Berlin now exercises and works for perfecting the cure of faulty main stammer cause.

Devices is the "Kuhn Maske," used to induce nasal and exhale properly. It resembles an inhaler when placed over the mouth forces air into the lung lobes, inactive because of faulty stammerer.

Effects many also result from a bad fall in early childhood (generally on the head), a bad time there is a neurotic basis, such as alcoholism, Kopelson says.

—And Jackie Replies

Jan. 14.—"I am very sorry that the professor says I am bad for children," says Jackie Coogan in a letter to Dr. Kopelson, who claims the cinema child is a menace to the child.

First one who has ever said that. The pictures I appear in school rooms all over the country. I am a boy of "Oliver Twist" and "A Boy in Flanders" are my lessons. Everyone tells me that my pictures are bad for children.

Professor thinks I am any different than other boys of my age. Sometimes I imitate Charlie Chaplin, just for fun. I do only what my director tells me to do in pictures, and I'd like to have him come some time to the pictures.

When, millions of boys and girls imitated me by becoming like me in that way we raised a shipload of food for the Near East. If every boy and girl in this land would do this, they will grow up better men and women."

Florida Motor Bus Winner Increased In Atlanta Fight Population With Rail Service

Jan. 17.—Crime increase with population in Florida by state prison annual report reveals that in the 1904-1905, 47 persons were executed, 8 life sentences, one trying to escape jail.

Within four years, when the population doubled that of 1904, there were only 10 sentences imposed, 5 were executed, 5 to life and one pending before the court.

At six administrative death sentences, 4 to life, one killed, one died in jail.

At death sentences, 5 to life, five re-terminated, one court, one died in jail.

At death sentences, 3 to life, one pending before court, 10 executed.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 17.—Inter-urban service between Atlanta and Marietta was suspended this morning by the Atlanta, Northern railroad company. Officials of the Georgia Railway and Power company who operate the line, announced that service would not be resumed until relief was given by the city of Marietta from "unfair motor bus competition."

The decision to discontinue the service between Marietta and Atlanta came without definite warning to commuters, although the interurban line has for some time complained of loss of revenue and threatened termination of traffic due to inroads on revenue made by the buses.

Many Marietta citizens waited in vain this morning for cars to Atlanta and learned of the company's action upon telephone inquiries to railway officials.

Notices later were posted at stations along the line reading: "Services on the Atlanta Northern railway is discontinued. Commutation tickets will be redeemed at the office of the company in Atlanta."

At death sentences, six to life, four reversed, one executed, 32 executed, 2 death sentences, 2 life, 14 executed, 3 death sentences, 3 life, one pending before court, 10 executed.

McCormick Desires His Grand Daughter To Have Huge Fund

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 15.—Harold F. McCormick, millionaire farm implement manufacturer of Chicago, where his daughter Mathilde was married to Max Oser, Swiss riding master, filed suit in United States district court here Wednesday, asking that shares of Standard Oil Company of Indiana stock with its present market value of more than $8,000,000 claimed by his divorced wife, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, to be held in trust for Anita Oser, nine month's old daughter of Max and Mathilde Oser.

Florida Is Driving Signs From Roads In Many Counties

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 16.—A movement to eliminate unsightly signs from along public highways in Florida, started in Lake county two years ago, has spread so rapidly that 21 of the 63 counties in the state have established regulations prohibiting any signs on public highways except those placed there by authority of the county or state as definite guides.

The Florida Development Board, which is the state chamber of commerce, began 18 months ago a movement to coordinate efforts throughout the state and help to crystallize sentiment favoring conservation of scenery. Following elimination of the unsightly signs, county beautification commissions have been organized in 17 counties.

Now a movement is spreading to replace the road signs with shrubs and flowers in certain locations; elsewhere it is being urged upon the county and state authorities that steps be taken toward the conservation of natural growth along the public highway.

Agitation for the conservation of fine old trees is resulting in two-way roads in some communities. In many places the county engineer has left the old road on one side of a row of magnificent oak trees and has made a new road on the other side rather than take out the trees to widen the roadbed.

Experts Tell Way To Have Backbone All Through Year

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 17.—After one leaves spare ribs and backbone fresh from hog-killing, there is no meat (hog meat) better than that canned and kept pure and sweet, say specialists connected with the home demonstration department. In fact, it is stated canning meat is perhaps the best way to preserve it; so preserved it retains its original taste and texture, and the various seized containers are said to permit of its being put in convenient amounts.

Particularly in the South, because of mildness of climate, the canning of meats is becoming increasingly important, and home demonstration agents are being called on more and more to teach home canning methods. The housewife can do the canning for herself, without calling on the home demonstration specialists, it is declared, by following directions given in Document 20, No. A-32, of the States Relation Service, U. S. department of agriculture, it is suggested. Extracts, instructive and helpful to the women who contemplate canning meat, from the pamphlet, call attention to the fact poisonous compounds often form in the deposition of protein foods, especially in meats and particularly sea foods which spoil quickly. It is of the utmost importance, therefore, the pamphlet suggests, to use for canning only such meats and fish as are known to be absolutely fresh and clean.

Opera Music Made Available To Radio Audiences Through Star Broadcasting Experiment

America's most famous opera and concert stars have been placed at the disposal of the radio public through the efforts of E. R. Johnson, president and founder of the Victor Talking Machine Company, in co-operation with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. This departure from what Herndon Hoover recently termed "an endless diet of jazz" in radio programs, is the outgrowth of a movement on the part of both companies to improve the standards of radio music, and it is believed will have far-reaching consequences. It is Mr. Johnson's opinion that the influence of good music in the home is an important factor in the growing child as the influence of happy environment and the life. Under tentative ar-

Press Association Will Hear Address Missouri Teacher

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Jan. 17.—Dean Walter Williams of the School of Journalism University of Missouri, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the annual meeting of the Florida Press Association here Mar. 29-28. He was asked to speak twice on subjects selected by himself but indicated in his reply that he preferred to deliver only one address, that on the afternoon of Thursday, Mar. 26.

Dean Williams has been asked to discuss how the University of Florida can improve its courses in journalism and it could best build up a department of school of journalism. This subject probably will be broadened to include "co-operation of the press of the state with the University in establishing courses" for a department of school of journalism," it is said.

The address of the Missourian will follow a brief explanation by Ralph Stoutmire, professor of journalism at Florida, or someone else, of what has been done and what is being done or is planned along this line.

Preceding these talks will be a distribution of an edition of the Gainesville Sun edited by students in journalism here.

Members of the press association have intimated that they may ask the 1925 legislature for an appropriation to establish a school of journalism at the University. Nothing definite has been decided upon in this connection as yet, however, it is said.

Auto Association To Hold Meeting In Orlando Soon

ORLANDO, Jan. 15.—State-wide meeting of all members and directors of the Florida Automobile Association and affiliated clubs; secretaries of all chambers of commerce; representatives of all civic bodies, municipalities, traffic and police department and railroads in the state has been called by President M. M. Smith, of the F. A. A., to be held in Orlando on Thursday, Jan. 29. The purpose of the convention, which probably will be attended by more than 1,000 persons, is to formulate measures to be advocated at the forthcoming legislature, designed to reduce automobile accidents on the highways and a growing tendency to shift unjust taxation to the shoulders of the automobile owner and secure more wholesome and uniform traffic laws throughout Florida.

The Association is in receipt of numerous recommendations in this respect which are backed by concerted effort. Some of these would reduce the cost of automobile licenses to a nominal charge and place a further tax on gasoline; do away with the so-called tourist license law and secure the enactment of legislation permitting motorists in possession of foreign licenses to use the same in Florida so long as the tags are liquid in the states where they were issued.

Jiggs And Maggie Now Live In Fine Persian Silk Rug

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A magnificent gift from the Orient in the form of a silk Persian rug reproducing one of his most famous cartoons has just been received by George McManus, creator of "Bringing Up Father" as a Christmas present from Adil Ahmad Khan, a Persian noble and art connoisseur.

The rug is a reproduction of a cover drawn by Mr. McManus for circulation, the magazine for newsmen. In 1922, and in one of the most unusual specimens of rug weaving ever made in the Orient. It is of silk, about six feet long by five feet wide, and was woven at the order of Ahmad Khan by the celebrated Abdul Hamid Keshany whose looms in Keshan have for 30 years produced the famous Kazanah silk rugs which are the envy of collectors of modern Persian rugs everywhere.

The Jiggs and Maggie rug was sent to Mr. McManus in token of a friendship between him and its donor which had its origin six years ago through a furtive copy of the China Press which found its way into Teheran, the capital of Persia with a camel caravan which had been sent with a consignment of art objects from Shanghai. "Bringing Up Father" had just begun to appear in the China Press at that time and a Chinese merchant, wrapping up a hide vase for the long journey to Persia rolled it in several coverings of old newspapers before fastening it in the box in which it was to be conveyed. One of the pieces of newspaper wrapping happened to be a discarded copy of the China Press.

In due course the vase with its wrappings reached a wealthy Persian whose estates adjoin those of Ahmad Khan. News of the world filters slowly into Persia and the man who received the vase gave his newspaper wrappings due attention. Mr. McManus' cartoon captivated his fancy and he circulated it jubilantly among his friends. Ahmad Khan, whose flair for art is keen and universal was so delighted with it that he wrote to the China Press for Mr. McManus' American address and, upon receiving it, wrote in turn to Mr. McManus praising his wit and pen and expressing the hope that they might meet sometime.

Ahmad Khan was educated at Oxford, and visits London and Paris every four or five years. His letter was the beginning of a correspondence between him and the artist which continued regularly for four years, or until 1922 when they did meet in Paris and cemented their friendship.

GERMANY IN 1924 MADE PROGRESS ON SOUND MONEY

Year Was Ushered In With Plenty of Sound Money Upon Virtually All Progress During The Year Is Based

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—German, English and American capital has united to produce an international film, the story and the treatment of which will ensure popularity in all important countries of the world. The purpose is to increase salability by making a universal appeal.

The film is called "The City of Temptation," and it is being taken under the gigantic glass sheds that at one time were used by the aviators of former Emperor William. Ten nations are represented in the colony of actors, producers, photographers, directors and writers engaged in the work.

The film is a development from a story of Sir Philip Gibbs, who is personally assisting in the production. It centers about Constantinople and shows the tragedy of Russian refugees who crowded the Turkish capital without funds four years ago when the movements in South Russia against the Bolshevik armies failed and all non-Bolsheviks were compelled to flee. Miss Julianne Johnson, of Los Angeles, has the leading role in the film, that of a Russian girl who was compelled to support herself and her aged father by dancing in one of the cabarets of the Turkish capital. Mile. Chekova, a niece of Chekov, the celebrated Russian novelist and playwright, also fills a prominent role as one of the Russian princesses who were compelled to become waitresses in Levantine cafes.

Walter Niebuhr, of Los Angeles, is directing the film, and Malcolm Todd and several other English actors are playing the roles of Englishmen. There are a number of German actors in the cast, where all the Scandinavian countries and most of the Balkan states are represented. The Turkish minister here and other members of the Turkish legation have been called into conference in the production, and have attended the staging of many of the scenes.

California actors, directors and photographers find the German winter rather trying after years of work in the land of sunshine. Street scenes of Constantinople had to be staged in a shed so immense that it is impossible to heat it. Consequently attendants are kept busy supplying hot water bags and fur coats to actresses when they are not actually before the camera in their summy costumes.

*Oak Hill Lots Will Be Placed
On Sale Monday Morning at 8:00 o'Clock.*

Oak Hill is Sanford's newest subdivision, situated on the south side of Geneva Avenue extending from the Oviedo branch of the railroad to Mellonville Avenue. It is all high ground famous for the productiveness of its soil, for its magnificent oaks and stately palms.

Mellonville and Geneva Avenues are soon to be paved; electric lights already have been conducted to this subdivision; water, gas and sewer are to be laid in the near future. These vast improvements cannot fail to add materially to property values in this section. It is conservatively estimated that lots in Oak Hill will double, perhaps triple, in value, within the next six months.

If you are looking for investment possibilities you could find no gusher from any oil well which would provide a more lucrative flow of revenue. Opportunities of this kind seldom come to the man of small means and perhaps but once in a life time, does the salaried man have so unfailing an opportunity to become rich. This is your chance. Make the most of it, or you will have only yourself to blame.

Appreciation to the Citizens of Sanford

I can not adequately express my appreciation of the splendid support given this civic movement during the past few days. The aim of the men associated with me has been to bring to Sanford that which it has long required—namely a real, tourist hotel. The support which the many citizens have given this project has indeed been wonderful and with the closing of the campaign tonight we will undoubtedly have accomplished the most important undertaking to date for the building of our city. Your continued co-operation in this civic movement is earnestly solicited and I hereby return the hearty thanks of my associates and myself for everything which you, one and all, have contributed in moral and financial support to date.

Yours very truly,
FORREST LAKE, President.
