

COMMISSION FORM OF CITY GOVERNMENT WILL BE ADVOCATED

SANFORD BOARD OF TRADE WILL CALL MASS MEETING

Sanford will have a chance to vote on the commission form of government if the people wish to have this form. After many requests from the members and many who are not members the board of governors of the Sanford Board of Trade has agreed to invite the people to meet with the Board of Trade at their meeting which will occur on Monday, Oct. 8th, the place to be chosen later.

The commission form of government is the only business form under which a city can operate. It means that the city will be governed by two commissioners and the mayor who is also a commissioner making three. These three will be an advisory board for a city manager who will be on the job of managing the city's business all the time and he will be an expert in the handling of the city's finances, the public utilities and all the various departments of the city government.

With this form of government will the people and the tax payers get a business administration and until the commission form is adopted the city will never be any better than it is today in the matter of results financially. The commissioners will give their time and attention to the city and will be paid for, it guaranteeing results along every line.

The Sanford Board of Trade is anxious to give the people the commission form if they want it and the board's efforts in this respect are simply following the progressive idea of a better form of city government. Other than calling the meeting the Board of Trade will not take any part in the election.

"When We Say Good-Bye to the Boys"

Sanford with every other part of our country has felt deeply in recent days the leaving of the recruits for camp life and possible call to the front. At the Congregational church Mr. Brower will speak on the above theme. In the evening the subject will be, "Taking the Joy Out of, or Putting Joy Into Life." The music of the day will be as follows:

Morning, prelude, "Prayer," from "Der Freischutz," Von Weber; anthem, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," Koschat; offertory, "Hymn of the Nuns," Wely. Evening, prelude, "Miserere," from "Il Trovatore," Verdi; anthem, "God Is Love," Eugene Marks; offertory, by Mrs. Julius Takach, "My Son, Forget Not My Law," Warrs Adama.

The Thornwell Orphanage

The Thornwell Orphanage located at Clinton, S. C. is the name of the home for orphans under the care of the Presbyterian churches in South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. It has thirty-five teachers and matrons for its twenty-four departments and cottage homes, in which are sheltered about three hundred orphans. The Home receives children from any part of the Union, and from any denomination. During July and August 82 applications were received, of whom only 19 could be accepted. About 300 are on the waiting list. These are all supported by the generosity of the Presbyterian public. We hope the friends of the school will do as all the other Orphan Homes are expecting, observe Orphan Work Day on the 13th of October. The observance consists in sending your day's wage for that day to the institution you favor. The Thornwell Home has filled up every vacancy, notwithstanding the war and high prices and will shortly erect another cottage. The pupils of the Home have the best of schooling and manual training and are very carefully taught. None but orphans are received. Contributions should be sent to Rev. J. B. Branch, Clinton, S. C. The life of the Institution has been forty two years in which time more than a thousand boys and girls have been made into useful and educated citizens.

CAMPAIGN FOR LIBRARY TO SOLDIERS

WOMAN'S CLUB WISHES TO RAISE FIFTY DOLLARS

Cities and towns throughout Florida have been assessed specific sums of money to raise toward the $4,000 fund to be contributed by this state to the million dollar fund for war libraries at each of the army cantonments, according to announcement made by Lloyd W. Josselyn, state director of the war service committee.

These assessments have been made by the Florida library war council, which consists of prominent men and women residing at different points throughout the peninsula, and it is proposed to raise the $4,000 sum through local councils which are being organized everywhere. Both Jacksonville and Tampa have agreed to raise $1,000 each, thus leaving $2,000 to be secured elsewhere. Sanford has been asked to raise at least $500.

The campaign commences September 24th and closes September 29th. Every woman's club in the state has been asked to help, and already many of them have designated their willingness to assist. These organizations are rightly noted for their tremendous education along educational lines, and their cooperation will go far toward securing success of the campaign.

In a few weeks all of our new army will be quartered in 32 cantonments and numerous training camps. Hundreds of thousands of vigorous, active, earnest Americans including over 16,000 of our own Florida boys, have been suddenly snatched from a life of civil liberty and as suddenly plunged into a new life of military restraint without many of the pleasures and diversions of their former surroundings. So let Sanford men and women rise up and do their share towards this wonderful work for our boys.

In towns where there are libraries connected with the American Library Association the libraries are organizing these local Library War Councils, but as the Sanford Library has already done such efficient work in collecting the books a few weeks ago the Woman's Club has been asked to appoint a committee of ten, with the president as campaign director and the head librarian, Mrs. A. D. Key as treasurer. Thus the work in Sanford will be cooperative. Mrs. D. A. Kelly and Miss Nellie Elder, assistant librarian will be members of the committee, as well as other prominent women workers in the town.

There was a meeting of this committee this morning to arrange for the campaign. The committee feels sure when you good people of Sanford are approached to contribute toward this worthy cause that the full assessment of $250.00 will be met—and more. Remember the dates—Sept. 24 to 29, inclusive.

ENGLAND COMMENCES NEW DRIVE

EXPECT TO ROUT GERMANS EAST OF YPRES

London, Sept. 20.—The British forces on the Belgian front attacked the German positions at 5:40 o'clock this morning east of Ypres. Field Marshal Haig reports that satisfactory progress has been made, and that the British already have captured some valuable positions.

Field Marshal Haig's selection of the battle front to the east of Ypres in Belgium as the scene of his latest offensive against the Germans indicates that it is a continuance of the expressed purpose of the British commander in chief, to force the armies of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria from the western coast of Belgium and to cut off the German submarine and airplane bases on the North Sea from Zebrugge to Nieuport, including Ostend. The British drive apparently is being made in the direction of Roulers and Courtra from which Belgian towns, according to recent dispatches from the Dutch frontier the German military authorities have been evacuating the civilian population.

That the British offensive had been in preparation for several days was made known in recent statements of the German general army headquarters staff. The Germans reported that the British were maintaining a violent and destructive fire against the Tonton positions, the bombardments frequently reaching the proportions of drum fire.

The British official statement announcing that Field Marshal Haig had taken the offensive this morning says:

"We attacked at 5:40 o'clock this morning on a wide front east of Ypres. Satisfactory progress is reported. Some troops already have captured some valuable positions."

From indications the battle will be an important one and will be known as the battle of Menin Road. From all reports the British are progressing. Gen. Haig, commander of the British forces, in a short communication, reported that although the Germans poured a wicked fire into them, they had succeeded in taking some important points.

The Germans are fighting fiercely and are making every possible effort to stop the British march. Every elevation and all woods in the line of the advance are choked with German machine guns. The splendid work done yesterday by the British artillery has somewhat made their advance easier than it would have otherwise been.

Although the reports do not outline the extent of the front attacked, the Germans yesterday gave a clue when they said the artillery fire was intensive from five miles south of Dixmude to the River Lys, a distance of fifteen miles. The indications are that the British will attempt a direct drive to Roulers and Courtra with the Belgian coast as a ultimate goal.

There does not seem to be much activity on the French front, only the artillery being engaged. The French war office at Paris has failed to state whether or not the French are participating in the Flanders drive.

Rebekah's Meet Seminole Rebekah Lodge will hold their regular meeting on Tuesday evening, Sept. 25th, at 7:30 sharp. After a short business session the doors will be thrown open to our guests, the members of Sanford Lodge, I. O. O. F. and their wives. This is the 6th anniversary of Rebekah Odd Fellowship and there should be a good attendance.

SELECTED MEN ARE ASSIGNED

SOME IN INFANTRY AND SOME IN TRENCH BATTERY

Camp Jackson, S. C., Sept. 20.—A reassignment of select men from North and South Carolina and Florida who are to report at Camp Jackson this week, beginning today has been made. This is due to the inability of some of the counties to furnish all white men for the second increment of 40 per cent, as ordered by the proviat marshal.

Col. J. Malcolm Graham, chief mustering officer said this morning that only about 10,000 men would arrive in the second increment, as he had received numerous wires from county chairmen saying they could not send as many white men as they were ordered to supply.

The men will be assigned to branches of the military service as follows:

North Carolina To the 321st infantry, 1,500 men. To the 322d infantry, 1,500 men. To the 317th machine gun battalion, 150 men. To the 316th field artillery, 900 men. To the 317th field artillery, 700 men.

Florida To the 324th infantry, 1,600 men. To the 306th trench mortar battery, 100.

South Carolina To the 323d infantry, 1,700 men. To the 318th machine gun battalion, 200 men. To the 318th field artillery, 900 men.

At Large To the 318th machine gun battalion, 125 men. To the 306th engineers, 700 men. To the engineer train, 50 men. To the 306th military police, 50 men.

To division headquarters, 60 men. To the sanitary train, 175 men.

A. M. Smith, Camp Jackson representative of the American Railway Association has received the program for the movement of the second increment of selection from North and South Carolina and Florida to Camp Jackson.

The following counties from Florida will report half of the 19th and half of the 20th:

Jacksonville city, Tampa city, Alachua, Citrus, Clay, DeSoto, Dade Duval, Hamilton, Hernando, Hillsborough, Lake, Lee, Marion, Palm Beach, Pittman, Seminole, Volusia and Washington.

Arrangements have been made by the railway officials so the men will be fed while en route. The responsibility of feeding them at railroad intersections rests with the railway agents at these points.

A long platform is being built in front of the chief mustering officer's office here for the accommodation of the men as they detrain.

The First Battalion of the Second South Carolina infantry will not move to Greenville Sept. 24 as expected, but will be retained here and at Columbia to do police duty.

The First Battalion, Second South Carolina infantry, under the command of Major A. H. Slicor, has been reorganized and named the Horse section, 80th division. This detachment is commonly known as the Charleston battalion, having been organized there.

Preparations were under way to have Troops L and M, 11th United States cavalry, at Camp Jackson, take over the police duties that were assigned to these two battalions some time ago, and which includes the provost guard in Columbia. Maj. Heywood was in command of the guard in Columbia and upon receipt of the order instructing them to go to Greenville had returned to command of the battalion. It is now expected that he will again become the head of the provost guard in Columbia.

Sunday here was a busy day. Band concerts, religious services, lectures, visitors and baseball featured the day. Many visitors from as far away as Jacksonville, Fla. and Charlotte, N. C., mixed with the crowds, looking for the boys from their homes, who were exceedingly glad to see them.

There are a large number of men here members of secret and fraternal orders. These men have been extended a warm welcome to the orders in Columbia, some of which are going to build halls at the camp.

Polk Growin Rice

As its part of helping to supply plenty of food products, Polk county will this year have a fine rice crop along with the other good things to eat. To take care of the rice crop a rice mill will be established at Fort Meade. If they would, Florida planters could grow all the rice needed to supply the home demand and have plenty to ship to other states.—Times-Union.

SEMINOLE'S DRAFT MEN WERE DINED

LADIES ARRANGED DINNER AT THE HOTEL CARNES

The selected men of Seminole county who were called on the first draft, being fourteen in number were given a banquet at the Hotel Carnes last Tuesday night.

The banquet was arranged for them chiefly through the efforts of Mrs. Henry McLaulin, who with the assistance of Mrs. E. D. Brownlee made a canvass of the business houses and solicited the funds for the banquet. The dinner was greatly enjoyed by the boys and the courses were interspersed by talks from the soldiers and the guests present.

Those present beside the drafted men were Judge Housholder, Sheriff Brady, Dr. Denton, Dr. Neal, E. A. Douglass, Dr. E. D. Brownlee of the Presbyterian church and L. A. Brumley, chairman of the board of county commissioners.

The soldier-citizens were made to feel that the citizens of Seminole county were with them in spirit and that during their absence the good offices of the warm hearted people of this community would follow them and upon their return the same joyful welcome would be given them. The men were all in good spirits and seemed to appreciate the efforts of the ladies in arranging this banquet in their behalf and wish it understood that the ladies and the citizens generally have their thanks for their many acts of kindness. Since the men were leaving early Wednesday morning and wanted to bid good-bye to their friends and relatives the banquet was not held late but much good cheer and good wishes were expressed by the officials and the guests and the select.

Cheaper Brooms

The Florida Broom Factory have a plant here in the old fibre factory and are turning out a superior article in brooms and it will pay the people of Sanford to patronize them. The Florida Broom Factory is doing a big business in brooms and have recently sent a lighter up the river with one hundred hands to get out the palmetto for fiber. The factory means much to Sanford and the people here can get a good article for broom for a very reasonable price as well as patronizing a home industry. Read their advertisement in this issue.

Florida's Food Chief

Braxton Beacham of Orlando has been appointed by the President as food administrator for Florida. Mr. Beacham is well qualified to discharge the duties of the office and is, fortunately so situated that he can devote his whole time to the great task that has been assigned to him. Mr. Beacham will be remembered in Miami as having been here at one time when he was a candidate for congress from this district.—Miami Herald.

WITH BAND AND GUARD OF HONOR MARCHED TO TRAIN

With tears and cheers and the band playing Dixie the Seminole men of the selective draft left on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. There were fourteen of them and they lined up at the court house with Bert Long in charge of them. The Sanford Band led the march in the band wagon, the Home Guards next with Capt. Dingee in charge and then came the selected men accompanied by citizens under the charge of F. P. Forster. The boys of the High School and Boy Scouts brought up the rear and the parade spread out for some distance in the long march to the station.

Arrived at the station the Home Guards lined up in front of the building with the selecta in front of them and Dr. Neal acting as chairman of the meeting called upon Dr. Hyman, E. A. Douglass, F. P. Forster and several others for short talks.

Many of those called upon refused to say anything for their feelings obtained the best of them and already the tears had begun to flow. After the speeches the boys and the entire crowd went to the train on the track and here the friends and relatives and some of the men themselves broke down and the scene was sad indeed, although the boys braced up as the train was leaving and tried to look happy.

Thus with the first contingent of drafted men the sufferings entailed by war are brought home to all of us and we can begin to realize just what the war means. With the going of the volunteers in the full panoply of war and uniforms and guns and with the idea of do and die the leave taking is glossed by the display of patriotism and militarism, but when the men go because they have been called from the peaceful pursuits of workahop and farms and stores—are called from the life of a citizen to the life of a soldier—then the full meaning of war bursts upon us and together with their families and friends we weep and between tears give them our blessing.

And yet there is no one who would have the boys remain at home. There is no one who would not rather make the sacrifice than to have boy or husband a slacker. And so they go forth, volunteer and drafted, to make this world safe to live in and to meet the hosts of the Kaiser before they come to our shores to meet us. They go forth at the behest of President Wilson, the man of peace, who went to war only when it was forced upon him by the unrelenting nation that killed defenseless men, and women to gratify a militaristic ambition.

There will be others to go and we should stand by them and by our own actions stimulate them to stand the shock of separation. And now more than ever can the people at home realize the great sacrifices that are to be made, the need for more work in the Red Cross, the navy league, more food crops, more economy, less society stunts and more real work for the winning of the great war. It is here with us and the time for action has come.

Cantonment Newspapers

Washington, Sept. 20.—A four page weekly newspaper devoted exclusively to the activities of the cantonments and carrying no advertisements is the latest plan for supplying the public with news of the boys at camp. The publication will be distributed free.

Three pages of the publication will be prepared at the New York Y. M. C. A. headquarters while the fourth page and printing will be under the charge and done by papers at the respective cantonments.

All editors of cantonment sites are enlisted in the aid of the work. The plan is understood to have the approval of President Wilson.

Morris Spencer First

Morris Spencer is probably the first Sanford boy to get to France. In a recent letter he wrote his parents here it is probable that he is now on French soil. He is in the hospital service on board one of the U. S. transports.

Among The Theatres

"The Girl, Glory"

Enid Bennett, the new Lriangle star, who is fast finding favor with the amusement loving public will soon be seen again when she is presented by Thomas H. Ince in "The Girl, Glory," by C. Gardner Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan, who is the author of "Happiness" and "The Pinch Hitter," is said to have surpassed his previous efforts in this new play. It is the story of small town life. It deals with the one falling of Jed Wharton and the efforts of his granddaughter, Glory, to wipe out the evil that has mastered him. Miss Bennett as Glory Wharton is said to offer an intensely human characterization that will carry the spectators back to their own village days and the quaint inhabitants who have given them many treasured recollections. The role is interpreted in a manner which proves the star's capability in handling such a part. At Star Theatre Friday.

"Bawbs O' th' Blue Ridge"

Bessie Barriscale will be presented on the Triangle program at the Star Theater Thursday. The little girl has a great desire for a romance, but when it comes along it almost looks for awhile as if cruel fate, a misunderstanding and a hoot owl were going to give her affairs a most unromantic twist. Love finds a way, however, and when the maiden leaves the mountain cabin it is with the man who came into the wilderness just because friendly Cupid had him picked out for her. The scenes of the story are laid in the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia, and the heroine is a little mountain maid who has a hard struggle for happiness, but wins it after some quaint adventures in the world of romance. A new leading man, Arthur Shirley appears opposite Miss Barriscale in this picture.

Tribute By Sunday School

In the passing away of its superintendent, Mr. Charles R. Walker, the Congregational Sunday school of Sanford has suffered a loss which cannot be expressed in words; but officers, teachers and pupils of the school would put on record an expression which, however necessarily inadequate may serve to show some thing of the deep feeling of regard in which he was held by them. It was not alone by his fidelity to his position and unvarying earnestness in carrying on the work ever since it was laid down by Mr. Ensminger that Mr. Walker was respected and loved; his personality won and held respect and love. His religious nature, his genuine Christian character, his sincere friendliness and his affection for the children made all his friends. His daily life was in keeping with his profession, and his example was a constant and blessed teaching not limited to the Sunday school hour. To have such a leader has been a strength to the school, and the memory of him will go down in the lives made better for this relationship. Giving thanks for him, we also give thanks for the loved ones nearest to him who live to carry on his work, and for the splendid Christian faith which enables Christ's own to endure, also faithful to the end. By vote of the Sunday School, September 16, 1917.

SOLDIERS LIBRARIES

Must Have Money for Arranging the Proper Facilities
The following letter will be of interest to the people of Sanford who are interested in seeing that the boys at the front have the reading and library facilities:
Sept. 11, 1917.
Mrs. Ernest McCown Galloway,
President Woman's Club,
Sanford, Fla.

My Dear Mrs. Galloway:

The Secretary of War recognizing the necessity for our soldiers and sailors wherever assembled having proper library facilities has turned to the American Library Association as the one effective organization to meet this tremendous responsibility. He has appointed the Library War Council upon which devolves the responsibility for raising funds to supply libraries for our soldiers and sailors and to administer these.

To finance this undertaking the Library War Council has organized a campaign for one million dollars as the smallest amount necessary to carry out this work. The club women as one of the most influential bodies in each community and one which will fully recognize the necessity for such a vital need are asked to cooperate with the Library War Council in this campaign. Will you as president of your club arouse the interest of your club women and of the principal business and professional men of your community to the end that you will be able to collect at least the minimum amount of fifty dollars, assigned by the State Council as your city's quota?

The club women of Florida are rightly noted for their tremendous influence along educational and economic lines. Mrs. W. S. Jennings president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. William Hoeker, state chairman Woman's Committee Florida Division Council of National Defense; and Mrs. W. F. Blackman, chairman of Literature and Library Extension are members of the State Library War Council. As the date of this campaign, Sept. 24th-29th, is in the near future an immediate reply accepting the responsibility of the collection of funds in your community is necessary.

Very truly yours,
Lloyd W. Josselyn,
State Director.

GUARD SCHOOLS IN CRISIS.

Commissioner of Education Urges Women's Clubs to Aid.

A special appeal to club women and ministers in the United States has been issued by the United States Commissioner of Education, Dr. P. P. Claxton, urging that their influence be given to the maintenance of the schools of the nation in their full efficiency during the war. Dr. Claxton says:

"Everywhere there seems to be fear lest our schools of all kinds and grades, and especially the public schools, will suffer because of conditions growing out of our entrance into the war. On the other hand, both for the present defense and for the future welfare of our country as well as for the individual benefit of the children, it is of the greatest importance that the schools shall be maintained in their full efficiency.

"While the war continues there will be many unusual temptations to many kinds of juvenile delinquencies. Prompt and regular attendance at school and proper employment during out of school hours will be the children's protection."

Men Make the Nation.

"A nation might be rich in minerals and soil, in natural beauties, in its commerce, but unless it is rich in men, an essential ingredient of national wealth is missing. Great men in a nation are its fertilizing qualities. The world without them would be either a desert or a morass."—Premier David Lloyd George.

Indigestion Causes Asthma.

The traditional teaching about the cause of asthma is wrong. Asthma is due solely to the overproduction of gas through bad digestion. And every person, young or old, who suffers from too much gas in the abdomen should be cured of his indigestion and not wait until asthma develops. The good effects produced by treatment of the indigestion often begin to be noticed within 24 hours.

A picnic party enjoying last Friday on Lake Harney were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Flowers and young people, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Howard and their young people, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Squires and daughter, together with Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Howard from town and Miss Nellie Lough of Tampa. They were joined by a party from Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith have purchased five acres of improved land on Richmond avenue. They are rebuilding the house and will occupy it at once. Mr. and Mrs. Smith came here recently from Pennsylvania.

Joe Cameron has had his tenant houses, a dozen or so, all neatly painted, adding much to their appearance.

L. Royce has moved his house from rear of farm to Beardall avenue. The S. O. Chase tenant house on Beardall has been moved from south side of farm to north end.

Mrs. Moses Jackson of Cameron avenue has been quite ill for two weeks past.

E. M. Howard of Cameron avenue has been ill for two months or more. Horace Chorpensing has also been on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Purvics have moved from Beck Hammock to Cameron City. We are pleased to say Mrs. Purvics is slowly recovering from her serious illness.

Soldier boys from this end of town have said good bye and gone. Among the number are Ingram and Joe Quarry, James Purvics, Jr. (gone some time) James Estridge, Thomas Sullivan, Robert Merrivether, Duncan Mitchell and Okie Weeks. Marvin Austin re-enlisted and Clayton Austin is of the Florida State Troop. May they all return safely.

OUR BOYS IN CAMP

News From Camp Wheeler and Company C

The following is from Julian Harris writing to the Orlando Sentinel: Camp Wheeler, Macon, Ga., Sept. 16, 1917.

After a trip broken by but one incident worthy of notice we arrived at camp this morning at ten o'clock and a few minutes later detrained and walked from the station up the short, dusty road to the camp proper.

The one thing that marred the trip at all was the pulling out of a drawhead on the front car of Co. C troops when about fifteen miles out of Macon. This occasioned a delay of about thirty minutes, while the engine drew this car ahead to a siding and went back for the others and then put the broken car on the end of the train.

The three meals eaten enroute were prepared by the company cooks on the train and served by the kitchen detail. We arrived in Sanford at 12:15 and spent forty five minutes there. Quite a large crowd of people were at the station to tell the Sanford boys farewell. While there dinner was served. It consisted of fried chicken, French fried potatoes, bread and peaches. Supper was served in the yards at Jacksonville. The menu was: Wienies, pork and beans, bread and coffee. Breakfast was served at a small watering place about twenty miles out of Macon. The menu was the same as for supper.

Several Orlando people met the train in Jacksonville. Among them were: W. W. Yothers, Miss Elise Harris and Capt. and Mrs. H. Ray Chapman. A number of other people who had friends in the company were also at the station.

The temperature dropped considerably during the night and a number of the guards who had to spend part of the time outside complained of the cold. Morning found us in the hills of Georgia. Red clay, muddy creeks, cotton fields, ready for the pickers, and peach orchards all along the road. Everything was hills.

I can't write a description of the camp yet. It is immense and I have been able to see a very small part of it. I don't know yet where the postoffice or telegraph office are, but I found the canteen right away. We are near the entrance to the camp. I can see company mess halls in a line so long that I wouldn't dare to estimate the number of companies they are prepared to take care of and no one that I have met seems to know. The ground is of course red clay and it is very dusty. It is rather level for Georgia, which means that there are plenty of hills but not bad ones.

One of the most interesting things seen yet are the different company mascots. All of Company C want to express their thanks and appreciation to the Misses Mary and Ruth Cullough for the splendid ferret puppy that they presented to the Company as the train was preparing to pull out Sunday. He is a splendid little fellow and has already displaced all the other mascots in the eyes of the boys. He has been named "Orlando" and answers to his name readily. We also have two of the kittens that were at the fair grounds and a pair of rabbits. Company B of Kissimmee has a coon that is their pride and joy while another company (I think it is K of Areadia) has a bear cub who does a fine bit of mascooting himself.

Our second day in camp will stand out in memory a long time as the day that we received our comfort kits, prepared by the ladies of the Orlando Red Cross. One hundred and fifty of them were handed out by Supply Sergeant Dyett and his assistants and all of the boys feel all fixed up tonight.

Our cots have not arrived yet and so we slept on our blankets on the floor, or spread them on the tables in the mess hall. This ground up here in Georgia is as hard as it is to be found anywhere, so that quite a few of us feel as though our backs had been managed with bricks. However, as they were all tired after the trip here, all slept a full night through.

Our hours here are quite different from the schedule of the Fair Grounds. Revellie is six o'clock instead of five. A short period of exercise followed by breakfast. Today and for a few days to come we will be so busy getting our company street into shape that we won't have time to drill. Seven and a half hours per day is to be the drill schedule when we get started.

Even without the drill today was a busy time. A great deal of trash and refuse lumber had to be removed from around the mess hall, bath house and company street. Incinerators were dug and the mess tables cleaned. The days are warm enough but the nights are cool and a number of the boys are still without blankets. All of them were invited in by more fortunate fellows last night. Today we received a supply of hay and filled our bed sacks and they will be a big improvement over the hard ground.

The regimental band paraded up and down the regimental street at reveille this morning. It was quite a surprise to the new men. The band is a dandy. It had the reputation of being one of the best that went to the Border last year and it has lost nothing of its charm during the lay off. We are looking forward to a concert in the near future.

Troops are arriving every day. Companies from Alabama came in today and the Atlanta papers carried a story to the effect that the 6,000 men at Camp Harris ten miles from here were to move here this week. They will send their equipment in trucks and hike here.

Four first class privates who have been acting as corporals were recommended for promotion to Corporal today. They were: Eugene Stallings, Walter Knight, Evans Lucius and Joe Niblack.

Only 10 per cent of each company are to be given passes to town each night. They must be back in camp by ten o'clock. A party went up tonight and your correspondent is hoping to go soon.

Not a sick man in the company.

WILL NOT SEIZE HOME FOODS

Government Issues Emphatic Denial of Report

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—There is no truth in a widely circulated statement that the government expects to take food supplies from any family. Both the Food Administration and the Department of Agriculture join in a statement to counteract what seems to be a deliberate propaganda to the effect that the government intends to take from every family all canned goods put up in excess of 100 quarts.

This is only one of the variations of the rumor, which has been widely circulated. Another statement is that the government has been urging the canning, drying and preserving of fruits and vegetables so that they will be in a convenient form for the government to handle and transport when it takes them away from the people. Further elaboration is that these goods are to be taken away from the American homes and shipped to England.

In one instance a motorist stopped at a farmhouse to fill the radiator of his automobile. In the course of conversation he casually inquired whether the farmer's family was canning all the surplus fruits and vegetables in order to help conserve the food supply. He was informed that the farmer was not doing this because the government intended to take all the canned goods away except a small part of it actually needed by the family itself.

The authorities state emphatically that no such course has ever been contemplated by the government. On the contrary, both the Department of Agriculture and the Food Administration are strongly urging housewives to can and preserve, especially at this time, all surplus fruits and vegetables in order that the households themselves may have a cheap and plentiful supply of food.

Sweet Potato Diseases

This campaign to control and perhaps eradicate the sweet potato root weevil inaugurated a few weeks ago by Plant Commissioner Wilmon Newell under direction of the State Plant Board has been officially recognized and approved of by the Honorable Secretary of Agriculture,

David F. Houston. Upon realizing the serious menace which this insect is to the sweet potato industry, Mr. Newell brought the matter to the attention of prominent officials in the other Gulf states and the latter, seeing at once the practicability of eradicating the pest, joined in bringing the matter to the attention of the Secretary of Agriculture. The result has been that the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars has been set aside for a preliminary survey of the infested territory and for demonstration in control measures. This is without doubt the beginning of a systematic campaign of eradication. The Department at Washington is well pleased with the success which has attended the eradication of citrus canker and there appears no reason why other diseases of crops, and insect pests cannot also be eradicated by using proper methods upon a sufficiently extensive scale.

In writing to Senator Duncan U. Fletcher regarding this matter Dr. Houston says:

"Research work has been conducted by the Bureau of Entomology in Louisiana and Texas, and this work will be continued and extended to the regions in which the insect is a pest, as rapidly as available funds permit in order to learn as early as possible whether it can be suppressed in any one infested area. The State quarantine bill projected in Florida will doubtless be taken by other states and it is hoped that by this means with continued research and extension work, the insect in a short time will be held in check and in time suppressed if not eradicated."

The work of the Department in Florida, on this project, will be in co-operation with the State Plant Board forces.

Crop Conditions Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 19.

Temperature.—The temperature during the week was generally moderate, and the forepart was much cooler than the normal. The lowest temperature ever recorded during the first thirteen days of September occurred at some stations on the 13, when the minima were in the 50's at some western stations.

Precipitation.—Precipitation was moderate in the west, but rain was too frequent and locally heavy in portions of the northeastern and southern counties. More than 5 inches occurred in the Miami districts, flooding some lowlands. More rain is needed, however, in some western counties.

Condition of crops.—The weather was favorable for cotton picking in the western portion of the belt, but cloudy, rainy weather during much of the time was unfavorable in portions of the eastern belt. Some reports indicate that more than one-half the cotton crop has been gathered in some localities. The dry weather favored the harvesting of corn and hay west of the Suwanee River; but overcast, showery weather retarded haying in the eastern and southern divisions. Citrus fruits were benefited by rains in the central and southern divisions, but seeding was retarded on low lands in some southern counties. Corn was harvested where the weather was favorable. Cane, peanuts and sweet potatoes are in good condition, except that more rain is needed locally for sweet potatoes in the western division. Some reports indicate that although sweet potato vines are luxuriant, potatoes are small, and, in some places a small yield is indicated.

Macbeth and McKinley.

Long before William McKinley became a national and international figure I made his acquaintance and was his friendship and good will which ended only when he passed to eternal rest. We often met at his home in Canton, O., and at the house of a mutual friend, M. H. H. the son-in-law of Habbt Levinsky, the editor of the family and school Bible.

When he was elected a member of congress this intimacy continued, and many social and pleasant hours were passed in my home and in his rooms at the Ebbitt House, where he lived during his whole congressional career. He was at all times genial, and no matter what he had to do, either for his constituents or for his friends, he was ever the same patient, courteous and self-sacrificing gentleman. In due course of time he was elected governor of Ohio. I telegraphed him, "Thane of Cawdor, king that shall be," to which he promptly replied, "Thanks, but not yet."—Simon Wolf in American Hebrew.

First Aid For Fainters.

Every member of the Washington police force carries when on duty in crowds a pill box full of tiny glass tubes of aromatic spirits of ammonia according to the Popular Science Monthly. These are for reviving persons who faint in the street. The tubes are about an inch long and slightly more than an eighth of an inch in diameter. Each has a wrapping of absorbent cotton and over this a thin gauze covering.

Slight pressure between the fingers is sufficient to break the tube. The ammonia is promptly absorbed by the cotton about it, which also serves to prevent the starchy particles of glass from doing any harm. Held beneath the nose of the person who has fainted, the fumes of the ammonia soon revive her. The tubes are stored in all the patrol boxes about the city and are carried in patrol wagons and police ambulances.

Speculation and Gambling.

It has often been asked if a man can speculate in the stock market without any one losing in the event of his making a profit.

On the floor of the New York Stock Exchange I once traced 100 shares of Steel that passed through the hands of nineteen speculators in a single day. Each one of these nineteen bought and sold them, and each one made money. It is idle to say that some of these may have lost what they might have made, because that involves us in a double hypothesis. Actually each one profited, and actualities are what count in speculation as in every other form of legitimate business.

This incident illustrates one of seven reasons why speculation is not gambling.—William C. Van Antwerp in New York Sun.

The Golden Rule.

What is known as the golden rule in morals, is the rule laid down by Jesus in the sermon on the mount, and stated by him to be the law and the prophets: "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them; for this is the law and the prophets." (Matt. 7:12)

A Prolific Writer.

The late Andrew Lang, when in the mood, has more than once written 5,000 words of a book between breakfast and a late luncheon.

How Water Puts Out Fire.

Water puts out fire for two good reasons. First, if a thing is covered with water, the oxygen of the air cannot get at it to burn it. But that is not nearly the most important reason why water puts out fire. It is that water has a great capacity for heat, and can hold a great deal of it. It takes so much heat into itself, and so quickly, that it lowers the temperature of the burning thing so that it can no longer burn.

Irritating Problem.

It is an irritating, nay more, a deeply saddening problem for a wise dyspeptic to ponder the superabundance in this little world of ours of things cookable amid the extreme rarity of cooks.—Maarten Maartens.

The Bittern.

The bittern mentioned in Isaiah 44:18; 44:19; and in Zephaniah 2:14, is a fowl about the size of the heron. It is mentioned as the symbol of desolation. "Nineveh and Babylon became a possession of the bittern."

Absence Explained.

A schoolteacher in the Philippines received this excuse from an absent pupil: "Dear Teacher: A thief stole father's clothes last night. Father put on all of mother's garments so he could go forth and chase the robber and mother is wearing everything else in the house except my hat. I will come back to school as soon as father catches the thief."

Fallen in Himself.

When you meet a bowler who blames his environment, his generation, his fellow, his country, you find a man who has fallen in himself.

EDITORS FOR OFFICE

Speaking about Ed Lambright, former editor of the Tampa Tribune, being appointed postmaster of Tampa, Editor Woods of the Eustis Lake Region very truthfully states the views of many other editors:
'Wa no longer entertain the theory—the idealism, as it were, that an editor should not accept an office, but should stick strictly to his trade, martyr himself for the public good, reject salaried positions, work like a slave, starve to death and die and go to hell just to please a few admiring friends. Why should he not have a few of the loaves and fishes being handed around to less competent but more ambitious mortals?'

THE HOME GUARDS

More and more are we convinced of the fact that the Home Guards will prove a mighty valuable organization to any community. Practically all the organized state troops have left the state of Florida. There are many possibilities where the presence of a trained and equipped body of men will be of the first importance. Instead of standing on the outside, criticizing and finding fault, fall in line and accept cheerfully the instruction of the officers elected—who certainly know more about tactics than the average citizen, who knows nothing concerning them. If a good bunch of men will come into the organization with this spirit, we can soon have a company that our citizens can put confidence in and rely upon should we be visited by trouble.—Lakeland Telegram.

THE COMMISSION FORM

The Herald has advocated the commission form of government for many months and it seems now that the citizens of Sanford will have a chance of voting on whether they would like a business administration of their affairs or not. The campaign for the commission form is no reflection on the city council past or present but it is simply impossible for city councilmen giving two nights per month of their time to the city to obtain the proper results. Either the present form of city government with a city manager or the new form of three commissioners with a city manager should prevail. If the commissioners want a city manager they will not be expected to give all their time to city affairs but will be expected to give at least half of each day and the city manager will do all the work of administration of the city. In either event the city should have a city manager who will know exactly what to do and how to do it in the vital matter of bringing city affairs in the proper shape, getting the most out of finances, reducing the city budget and taxes and managing the three million dollar corporation, (the city of Sanford) just as any other three million dollar corporation would be managed if it were a private affair. Other cities that have tried the commission form are well pleased with it and those that have the city manager are more than pleased with the results obtained. Therefore the commission form and the city manager idea is no theory but a well established fact and if Sanford wishes to keep in the progressive class of cities we must have a radical change all round. Think over this matter, you citizens and taxpayers of Sanford and be ready when the meeting is called and the facts are presented to you.

"CARRY ON"

In many branches of military service a rather quaint form of expression has come into use which may well be passed on to civilians in these days when so many young men are leaving home to serve the nation. When an officer appears, wherever it may be, on land or sea, every man stands at attention. Thereupon, the officer wishing to release the men from this token of respect, usually, often simply says, "Carry on." Most of the uniformed men on City streets, with whom we recently made the test of inquiry recognized the expression and explained it rather glibly to the same effect. "It means," said they, "Go on with what you are doing"—writing a letter home, perhaps, or to "the girl I left behind me," playing a friendly game, enjoying a book or magazine, eating a meal, doing some commonplace bit of work. "Carry on" is the "as you were" of ordinary life among military men.

Presbyterian Church

The Presbyterians had an unusual and very interesting service last Wednesday night in behalf of the schools and colleges where the children of the congregation are in attendance. Besides the public school system here, talks were made by the parents of the boys who are off at college, telling of the various schools. An unusual state of things was found to exist: there are 7 Presbyterian boys in college and only 1 girl. We had a very interesting account given by Miss Moffatt of the Woman's College at Tallahassee, and its very fine religious atmosphere. The Senior Christian Endeavor which meets at 7:30 tonight will be led by Co. B, with Mrs. E. D. Brownlee, Capt. The following are the services for next Sabbath:

SCHOOL DISCIPLINE

In choosing the public school teachers whose work for the year is now beginning, the biggest problem is always to find the people who have the gift of discipline. This does not mean a perfunctory submission to authority, where the children are sufficiently scared to keep quiet. It means a condition where the pupils loyally take hold to work and where they feel responsibility for the condition of the school.

In the old days, things never settled down in a school until the matter of authority had been firmly settled. In the backwoods districts many were the unfortunate pedagogues who were dumped out of doors in the pushes by the big boys. When the school board secured a more athletic instructor quiet reigned and pupils worked as docile as old sheep.

In a more refined way the same thing is tried out everywhere. In subordinate children work their little tricks, not because the tricks are essentially interesting, but they want to find out just how far they can safely go. If the teacher is flabby, the ingenuity of the children is amazing in devising means for promoting anarchy and irritating the "school-marm."

The spirit of loyalty to the school and its work cannot be drilled into children by punishment or nagging. It takes knowledge of the child mind and arguments that appeal to it. There are teachers who have no particularly magnetic personality, but somehow they succeed in making the children feel that they want to study.

They arouse the spirit of competition and make the youngsters ashamed to fall behind. They stir the spirit of ambition, and make a boy see that if he wants to get higher in life he must do some work. A teacher that has these gifts is a prize not to be parted with readily. Too many communities lose such teachers from being too parsimonious to give small advances in salary. It is poor policy to let any teacher go who has the gift of inspiring youthful enthusiasm.—Gainesville Sun.

Spurs Diplomatic Marriage

Miss Pearson plays the part of the Princess Sylvia, a charming girl who has a few decided views on matrimony, the most important of which is that she refuses to have her husband picked out for her by a body of diplomats. So while refusing the opportunity thus offered to wed Emperor Maximilian, her old and hero since childhood she sets out to win him in the good old fashioned way.

One look at sweet, queenly Miss Pearson makes the Emperor's surrender certain. To put his love to a very severe test she poses as an untitled English girl and only allows her royal rank to be revealed when she is sure her Emperor would love her anyway.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Q. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Miller and Mrs. Toyama spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. C. W. Powell.

The farmers are busy preparing seed beds for the fall crops. A piece of lumber fell upon Rev. Morrison last Saturday, making a severe bruise; but it did not prevent the zealous preacher from preaching a good sermon Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson and their son Andrew and daughter Edna and Mrs. I. C. Hughes of DeLand spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. I. D. Hart.

A. J. Johnson has been suffering with an attack of malaria and consequent bad temper this week, so the "slackers" among the pupils are having a troublesome time. Our trustee, James A. Johnson is having a flag pole erected for a school flag. "Old Glory will soon float over the school premises of Lake Monroe and do its part in arousing the patriotism so well exemplified in the words and deeds of all true Americans: "Hurrah, for the Red, White and Blue!"

Ladies Rest Room

The Woman's Club Rest Room invites the ladies of the town and out of town to visit their quarters located in the court house building on Park avenue. The room has been entirely renovated and now presents a cozy, comfortable appearance and under the management of Mrs. May Collins, a cordiality will be found that will inspire other visits. The Rest Room is especially designed to care for the out of town ladies shopping in Sanford. Have your packages delivered there from the various stores, tell your friends to meet you at the Rest Room. Go there and while away an hour or two. Every convenience is there for you. Bring the children and let the tots play there while you are busy in town. The room is for you and it is absolutely free. Its origin is the Woman's Club, assisted by the Board of Trade and both of these organizations want you to go there, meet the manager, Mrs. Collins, and she will see that you spend a pleasant time.

Carl Has Gone

The first of the War Service Flags, permitted by the government to be flown from the home or business place of those who have entered the service of Uncle Sam in his fight to make the world safe for democracy was seen in Gainesville yesterday, and created some comment, and many eager questions "What kind of a flag is that?" have been asked a hundred times already. From the front of the little lunch room operated by Mrs. Carl A. Takach is seen the first in this section of the country and signifies that Carl Takach has enlisted and is now training at Macdon with the Second Florida Infantry. During his absence Mrs. Takach will continue to conduct the business as usual opposite the A. C. L. Depot ably demonstrating that noble women can take the place of Uncle Sam's brave men and each do their bit in their humble way.—Gainesville Sun.

Remembered County Home

The inmates of the County Farm Home wish to express their thanks to the ladies of the Red Cross for the fine lunches sent out there one day this week.

A. J. Johnson has been suffering with an attack of malaria and consequent bad temper this week, so the "slackers" among the pupils are having a troublesome time.

Our trustee, James A. Johnson is having a flag pole erected for a school flag. "Old Glory will soon float over the school premises of Lake Monroe and do its part in arousing the patriotism so well exemplified in the words and deeds of all true Americans: "Hurrah, for the Red, White and Blue!"

Ladies Rest Room

The Woman's Club Rest Room invites the ladies of the town and out of town to visit their quarters located in the court house building on Park avenue. The room has been entirely renovated and now presents a cozy, comfortable appearance and under the management of Mrs. May Collins, a cordiality will be found that will inspire other visits. The Rest Room is especially designed to care for the out of town ladies shopping in Sanford. Have your packages delivered there from the various stores, tell your friends to meet you at the Rest Room. Go there and while away an hour or two. Every convenience is there for you. Bring the children and let the tots play there while you are busy in town. The room is for you and it is absolutely free. Its origin is the Woman's Club, assisted by the Board of Trade and both of these organizations want you to go there, meet the manager, Mrs. Collins, and she will see that you spend a pleasant time.

Carl Has Gone

The first of the War Service Flags, permitted by the government to be flown from the home or business place of those who have entered the service of Uncle Sam in his fight to make the world safe for democracy was seen in Gainesville yesterday, and created some comment, and many eager questions "What kind of a flag is that?" have been asked a hundred times already. From the front of the little lunch room operated by Mrs. Carl A. Takach is seen the first in this section of the country and signifies that Carl Takach has enlisted and is now training at Macdon with the Second Florida Infantry. During his absence Mrs. Takach will continue to conduct the business as usual opposite the A. C. L. Depot ably demonstrating that noble women can take the place of Uncle Sam's brave men and each do their bit in their humble way.—Gainesville Sun.

Remembered County Home

The inmates of the County Farm Home wish to express their thanks to the ladies of the Red Cross for the fine lunches sent out there one day this week.

A gentleman in a southern town found a pocketbook on the street and placed a notice in the local paper, saying the property would be delivered to the owner upon identification. Among others who appeared to claim the wallet was a colored girl who said her aunt had lost it.

"What denomination were the bills?" asked the finder. "Dead Ab-don," know, Mr. Cyarter. Ah reckon they was Baptist, same as Aunt 'Ezra."

"Sunday Morning Quiet" The attention of Sunday morning automobilists is earnestly called to the disturbance created during the hour or two before noon in the neighborhood of the churches. It seems that there is more noise, and unnecessary noise, during those hours than at any similar ones during the week. A church on Park avenue near a garage finds its services drowned out at times by the whirr and burr of adjacent passing machines which seem absolutely regardless of respect. It is pure thoughtlessness, and it would seem that it would be necessary only to call attention to the condition to bring about a courteous quiet on Park avenue during the hours of church worship.

Dr. Brownlee expects to make the prayer meetings each week more interesting and the larger attendance attests to the fact that his labors are bearing fruit.

OVIEDO HOME GUARDS Two Squads Formed for County Organization The Home Guards were organized at Oviedo Thursday night with two squads. A meeting of interested citizens was called to order by County Commissioner O. P. Swope, acting as temporary chairman. The recent act of the Florida legislature relative to the organization of Home Guards was read. After a discussion of the need of the proposed organization it was voted to organize.

Seventeen men immediately volunteered for service, the required number for two squads, the maximum quota assigned Oviedo.

The members of the guard elected J. E. Partin sergeant, C. L. West and R. W. Lawton, corporals. Sergeant Partin saw service in the Spanish American war and Corporals West and Lawton had military training in college. The two squads are composed of the following:

W. J. Lawton L. T. Hunt J. E. Partin J. Lehnart Carl Farnell R. W. Lawton N. J. Tanner Emmett McCall Tolbert McCulley C. B. Jones J. B. Jones E. D. Dowling W. E. Young Dr. W. F. Nickel S. W. Swope C. L. West H. B. McCall.

Teachers Will Meet Oviedo, Fla., Sept. 17, 1917. The meeting will be devoted to organizing and consideration of plans for increasing the usefulness of the association. All teachers, especially those teaching in Seminole for the first time are requested to attend and aid in making the initial session a get-together gathering as well as a business meeting.

Service Flags The first service flag seen here is on the porch of Mrs. Minnie Jones and means that her son, Allan, is in the navy fighting for his country. The service flags are red with a white star for every member of the family in the service.

Woman Cures Horse Colic The men were away as usual. The horse was bad. A lone woman could not "drench" in the old way. She called up a neighbor, and her men were away—but: "We have Farris Colic Remedy that you drop on the horse's tongue," says Mrs. Neighbor. So she came over and dropped Farris's Colic Remedy on the horse's tongue and the horse was well when the men came home. Moral: Get Farris Colic Remedy so the women can cure horse colic. We sell it at 50 cts. a bottle on the Money Back plan.—L. Allen Seed Company.

Feed out Your Hogs Six Weeks Earlier In every lot of hogs on feed two or three weeks quickly and actually eat less than others. If all would fatten like these, the entire drove would be ready for the market six weeks earlier and to save six weeks feed is an item that you fully understand.

The hog that fattens easily must be in prime physical condition. The B. A. Thomas Hog powder is a conditioner for hogs. It keeps their system clean and healthy and enables them to fatten quickly without falling a prey to the usual diseases of hogs. The B. A. Thomas Hog Powder is not stock food. It's straight medicine and we took the agency because it enables you to feed out your hogs much earlier. L. Allen Seed Co.

HOW FAST DOES A BASEBALL TRAVEL?

Pitcher Throws Sphere Nearly Three Miles a Minute.

WHY THE DROP IS EFFECTIVE

Ball Has About Seven Feet in Which to Take Unexpected Jump Up, Down or Sidewise Between Time Batter Starts Swing and Time It is Concluded.

How fast does a thrown baseball travel?

That question has been asked many times and had never been satisfactorily settled until some recent experiments of Frank B. Gilbreth, an efficiency engineer of Providence, R. I., as described in the Popular Science Monthly.

First and foremost Mr. Gilbreth found that a fast ball thrown by a reasonably fast pitcher, from the time it left his hands to the time it reached the bat, required 0.888 seconds. That was traveling at the rate of 210.07 feet per second or about 2.4 miles per minute, which is nothing like the speed generally attributed to a fast ball by the public or by the ball players themselves.

The pitcher in this particular case was Arthur Fromme, formerly of Cincinnati and the New York Giants.

Some comparisons are interesting. Mile-a-Minute Murphy rode a bicycle by his own foot power, paced by a railroad train, one mile in a fraction of a second less than a minute. Bob Burman drove an auto a mile on the beach at Daytona, Fla., in 25.40 seconds in 1914. Teitzlaff drove an auto a mile in 25.20 seconds at Saldura, Utah, in 1914. Teitzlaff was traveling at the rate of a very small fraction more than 2.3 miles per minute.

Surprising Point.

Mr. Gilbreth found some exceptionally fast pitchers who delivered a ball at the rate of 2.58 miles per minute. In that case the latter occupied 0.642 seconds in swinging at the ball, but the most surprising point is that the photographic machine showed that the batter began to swing on that fast one when it was 0.24 feet away from him.

How many batters have figured that in going after a fast one they have frequently started the swing when the ball was three yards or more in front of them?

Then, again, the revelation of how far the ball is in front of the batter when he starts to swing will help both the player and the fan to understand how much opportunity the ball has to break. Since the batter would ordinarily not swing more than two feet in front of him, and some "late" hitters not that far, the ball has about seven feet in which to take an unexpected jump up, down or sidewise between the time the batter starts his swing and the time it is concluded.

Why Drop is Effective.

As it would be practically impossible for the batter to change the plane in which his swing is started, it can be seen what a tremendous advantage the pitcher of a ball like Mathewson's fade away drop had when he was in good form. On the other hand, a pitcher with a rise ball, such as that which made Joe McGinnity famous, would have almost an equal advantage.

When the mathematics of pitching are brought home in such a forcible manner the wonder is not that there is so little hitting, but that there is so much.

The present writer once tried to get the ordnance officials of the war department at Washington to conduct experiments similar to those of Mr. Gilbreth, but nothing ever came of it. The machines used for determining the speed of guns of all sorts are so finely adjusted that they could not register the comparatively dead slow motion of a thrown baseball. That was found to be the case when Nap Rucker and Walter Johnson were invited by a certain arms manufacturer company to test their speed at its plant. The results were almost certainly inaccurate.

JO LOOMIS GOING GOOD.

Driving Ambulance in France and Thinks War Near End.

Jo Loomis, that wonderful Chicago athlete who has won three titles in one national championship meeting, has gained an unusual degree of optimism somewhere in France. Jo is driving an ambulance donated by the Chicago Athletic association. Hightower, the Northwestern university athlete, is with him. In a letter Jo writes:

"Our unit goes into active service tomorrow. There has been unusually heavy firing at the front, and we have been ordered out of camp sooner than we thought possible. I for one shall be glad to see action, although the past two weeks in Paris have been great."

"Hightower and I bought a little lion cub the other day while we were exploring the zoos, etc. We feed him with a bottle and are planning to keep him with us as a mascot as long as we can."

"The most exciting adventure of our period in training camp was a baseball game between two hospital sections. We all took part in it, and it did away with thoughts of war for a time, anyhow. We feel sure that we will be home soon, for the general opinion here seems to be that victory for the allies can't be many months away."

TO SING WAY TO WAR.

Plans Completed to Convert Army into Legion of Warblers.

United States soldiers are going to sing their way to the trenches. Plans for converting the new national army into a legion of cheerful warblers who will hum their way through the Hunns have been formulated. The organization which will have charge of this work, under the direction of the war and navy departments, has been named the national committee on army and navy training camp music. W. Kirkpatrick Brice was elected chairman.

The task of selecting thirty-six song leaders who will teach the drafted army to sing has been left to Lee F. Hammer of the war department's commission on training camp activities and appointed to the same post by the navy department. These leaders will be trained by Harry Barnhart, leader of New York's Community chorus. Mr. Brice has been placed in charge of a subcommittee to compile and issue a song book by Oct. 1. This book will contain the old, familiar American folksongs as well as the new, patriotic marching words and tunes.

Chevrons of Honor.

The French are quick to bestow symbols of honor on soldiers who perform deeds of self sacrifice or daring. More than any other of the allies, perhaps, they recognize the value of emblems of service.

Among the many neat little marks upon the French uniforms that indicate the rank and the department of the wearer, says Sir A. Conan Doyle in "A Visit to Three Fronts," there was one that puzzled me. It was to be found on the left sleeve of men of all ranks, from generals to privates, and it consisted of small gold chevrons, one, two or more. No rule seemed to regulate them, for the general might have none, and I have heard of a private who wore ten.

Suddenly I solved the mystery. The marks are the record of wounds received. By this admirable little device the French ally the smart of a wound and make it bring lasting honor to the man among his fellows.

The Good Old Mustard Plaster.

There was a day when no well regulated home in the States was without a mustard plaster or the "knicker" of one. It had its own place in the house, just as the smoking tobacco or the green coffee had.

For years Kansas kept the and broke the prairies, and the Indians and wasted the buffalo's on quinine and mustard plasters. Many times the mustard plaster stopped the "ager" when quinine wouldn't phase it.

In those good old days, when every ache in the back anywhere between the neck and the hips was called "lumbar" and every other pain was called the "old fashioned colic," mustard plaster served as the family physician. It was applied to the earache in children and to the rheumatism in father's arm. Good old mustard plaster! - Kansas City Times.

Old Time Irrigation.

The remains of irrigation systems that date back to prehistoric times when the valleys of Arizona were inhabited by highly civilized Indian tribes are still in existence. One of the most famous of these is on the state highway running from Prescott to the Grand canyon. Water is taken from what is known as Montezuma's well, a curious natural well 440 feet in diameter and 93 feet deep, except in one spot, where no bottom has been reached at 500 feet. Lime in solution is carried by the water, and the sides of the ditch have been preserved by the petrification of the original earth. A line of levels was run along the bottom of one of these old Indian ditches and showed the grade to be almost perfectly uniform at the rate of 1 foot each 100 feet. - Indianapolis News.

Athens the Seat of Learning.

It may be said unhesitatingly that the country which has produced the greatest men in literature and philosophy, art and architecture is Greece. In the little state of Attica—not much larger than Greater New York—true civilization and all that goes along with it were born. All that has been done since the "age of Pericles" has been simply the carrying out of the ideas, principles and methods laid down by the men who won Marathon and Salamis, Plataea and Mycale. Galton, a high authority, does not hesitate to say that Athens and the little state of which it was the capital produced more first class intellects than have since been produced by all the world put together.

Keeping Track of Ships.

In the course of a year more than a dozen ponderous books are filled at Lloyd's with nothing but the names of ships, their captains and the dates on which they touch and leave port. Every known vessel in the world of more than a hundred tons register has its record in them, and the underwriters can easily turn to the name of any British or foreign ship and tell approximately where she is at the moment. - London Tit-Bits.

A Good Reason.

"Does your wife begin complaining about your coming home late?"
"My wife never begins complaining about anything I do."
"You are fortunate."
"Not at all. She doesn't begin complaining because she's never stopped." - Baltimore American.

All the Same.

"Are you sure that he is crazy, doctor?"
"You are his wife. You ought to know."
"But I've been married twice before, and I thought he acted about the same as the others." - Life.

In the Stocks.

The term "stocks" as an instrument of punishment is applied in the authorized version of the Bible to two different articles, one of which answers rather to the pillory. The other answers to the stocks, the feet alone being confined in it.

Legislative Bodies.

Any legislative body may be called a congress or parliament, but different countries have different names and some of distinctive meaning. France has a national assembly with two houses called senate and chamber of deputies; Germany has an upper and lower house, bundsrath and reichstag; Belgium has a senate and chamber of representatives; Spain has a cortes and two houses, senate and congress; Denmark, two houses, senate and cortes; Italy has a parliament with senate and camera di deputati, or chamber of deputies; Prussia, a landtag composed of two chambers called the herrenhaus, or house of lords, and the abgeordnetenhaus, or chamber of deputies; Sweden, a diet, with a first chamber and second chamber. All the South American republics, being fashioned on the government of the United States, have a congress composed of two bodies, senate and chamber of deputies.

Take The Sting Out Of Mosquitoes

Mosquitoes in a room are very hard to kill—unless you use the one quick and sure method. Close all doors and windows and fan BEE BRAND INSECT POWDER into the air or burn a little of it. It will kill every fly and mosquito there. Harmless to human beings and domestic animals.

Congress of Kings

King Alcohol said to Old King Coal: 'The public's getting restless and beyond control. In some respects we are immense. But they're growing rather weary of our great expense.' King Beefsteak said to old King Wheat: 'We're getting so exclusive that we need a diet.' For the man who dines on meat, 'tis said, Has exhausted his resources (till he can't buy bread.' King Butter said to old King Milk: 'We're officially inspected till we're fine as silk. Our tax would not be quite so great if it didn't cost so large a sum to sanitize.'

GOOD PRIZEFIGHTERS AT NAVAL TRAINING STATION

Seasoned scrappers guaranteed to stand up against any of the Kaiser's are being turned out by Captain W. A. Moffett, commandant of the Great Lakes naval training station, north of Chicago. Of the 12,000 in training there, all picked from perhaps 10,000 applicants for perfect physical condition, scores of first rate boxers have been uncovered, and the game in the squared ring is second to none in popularity among the 'landmen for admirals'. Aspirants are given tryouts upon merit alone. From the first day in camp the newcomer is given an opportunity to try his hand when volunteer scrappers at all weights are called for. By elimination the best scrappers in each class have been discovered. After proving their ability in the ring they are given an opportunity to challenge the champion for his title. Bout of three two-minute rounds each are held regularly each Tuesday afternoon. A big natural amphitheater seating 3,000 is the scene. Wilbur Kendall, who hails from Kokomo, Ind., is pronounced by Martiu Delaney, director of athletics at the Chicago Athletic club, one of the classic amateur scrappers he has ever seen. Kendall, a lightweight, was no far above the rank and file of boxers at the Lakes that he tired of successfully defending his title time after time and finally 'retired,' giving the championship belt to Naman Favor of Galveston, Tex., a boy who had shown the most class among the aspirants. Joe Doyd, who received his first training in the amateur rings of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Detroit, is holding the featherweight title against all comers, while Steve Gumbaw of Wilkesbarre, Pa., is the best of the bantams. Every one is a boxing fan at the Lakes, from the lowest 'boot' to Commandant Moffett himself.

Robbed of Her Privileges

A woman tells the following story about her little girls: They sleep together. One night one of them was heard sobbing heartbrokenly about a half-hour after they had gone to bed. The mother went in and asked her what the trouble was. She said: 'Ruth kicked me in the back, an' then said "excuse me" before I could kick her back.'

"Key" Not Spanish Word

The word "Key" as used in Key West, the island and city of Florida, is not, as supposed, entirely a Spanish word. Key is a Spanish corruption of an American Indian word meaning an island, a mandank or a rock in the sea.
