Toni Russe Sings country great. In introducing Judge Stenstrom Mr. Evans pointed out that Isaac Terwilleger and the Judge's grand-father, N. J. Stenstrom, were competitors in the milk and vegetable business in Sanford about 85 years ago.

Judge Stenstrom declared that he represented the business men; and farmers of Seminole County when he paid tribute to the pio neers whose efforts had made the! county prosper, "We realize and recognize our heritage and will carry on to build a better Seminole County," he said. He revealed that his paternal grandfather had come here from Sweden and raised 10 children; that his father had spent his life in this county, and expressed the wish to spend hi own declining years here.

Mr. Housholder spoke of the "golden age" when youth is passed, when the individual no longer seeks to strive for self alone, but seeks to do something for mankind. "In that, we get the peace of mind that God intended," he asserted. In humorous vein, he told of filibusters in the U. S. Senate 1.50 - 5.00 State Farmers Market and declared that he was thinking of making a speech before the State Legislature which he once served, with the idea to "stop all speeches."

Mrs. James Smith, 80, daughter of the late Isane Terwilleger, a pioneer of Seminole County, delared that her father shipped the first celery grown in 1897 and revealed that she had helped in the planting of it during the Fall of 1896. The celery was grown on farm located on the north side of West First Street just west of the stone bridge over the creek. Mr. Terwilleger and A. C. Harrold originated the sub-irrigation system now in use in the county,

Fred R. Wilson told the pioneers that he joined them in being happy on that occasion and stated that the people of Seminole County hold all of its pioneers, past and present, in loving memory.

Denmark, Iceland, Italy And Portugal To Enter Pact To Curb Aggression

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS Four more nations were expected today to line up under the North Atlantic Defense Alliance, details of which will finally be made public

Denmark, Iceland, Portugal and Italy were invited today to join the United States and seven other nations in the pact--a treaty designed to curb aggression.

Inclusion of Italy would be a triumph for France and the United States. Britain, abbetted by Canada and the low countries, has object-ed that Italy's entry might extend the alliance too far southward and expose the members to unnees-sary risk.

The American and British governments contended that Italy's pro-Western outlook and her strutegic position make it necessary to include her. In Rome, Communist members of the Chamber of Deputies held up a vote on the treaty with so all-night talking marathon.

But having won a great and uncompromising victory, the South, if it wants to make its victory stick, must now sincerely set about the task of cleaning up its own back yard, must not close its eyes, as it often has in the past, to garbage cans full and overflowing and teaming with flies which carry the disease of jealousy, prejudice and hatred into every home. We must do something of our own free will and accord, not about poll tax discriminations which do not exist, not about lynchings which are virtually non existant but about sewers which are also non existant in certain areas, about streets where cars get stuck in the sand in dry weather, and in the mud when it rains, about schools which do not give "an equal opportunity to all".

Pitching presents an unknown factor beyond Larry Jansen, the ce of the corps, who again should be the leading hurler on the staff. The second best pitcher on the staff will probably be Sheldon Jones, starting his second year in the Glants livery. He won 16 games for the team last season. Monte Kennedy, who spent most of 1948 with Minneapolis in the American Association, could prove invaluable. His only difficulty will be his wildness. If he conquers this, he should be counted on for at least 15

Challenges Estimate Unemployed

W. E. Says Check Of Nation Shows Over 5,000,000 Are Idle

WASHINGTON, Mar. 17-(4)-

The government's figure of J. 222,000 onemployed was challenged by the CIO United Electrical workers. The union said the U. S. now has at least 5,000,000 idle. At a news conference, the U Washington representative called a government tendency to "pool pool;" the extent of present unemployment. The U. E. said its studies showed more then 5,000,000 were idle today ... instead of the 3,320,000 which the Census Bureau counted in its last cross section check for cently February.

The union's president, Albert J. Fitzgerald, wrote President Tu-Sun urging a vast preparedness program of public works to cope with unemployment.
The union argued that three classes of idle were being left out of the census count-and that they numbered 1,500,000 in February.

1. Those laid off for temporary periods or who were to start new jobs within 30 days.

2. Those who are forced into part-time work, while idling from their own jobs, even though they way be employed only one hour a
