Nation Prays, Gives Thanks For Blessings

United Press International
Untold thousands of Americans went to their houses of worship today to pray for their fallen leader and to give thanks for their blessings before indulging in the traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

It was the 100 anniversary of Thanksgiving as a national holiday, proclaimed officially to a war-torn country by Abraham Lincoln in 1863 and honored today with the memory of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

While Thanksgiving is regarded as a stay-at-home holiday, millions of Americans attended football games and parades, traditional church services and gathered from afar in the homes of their loved ones.

A United Press International count at 8:30 a. m., EST, showed that 40 persons died in traffic accidents since the 102-hour holiday started at 6 p. m. local time Wednesday.

The worst accident occurred near Selma, N. C., where four persons died in a head-on collision on a rural road. North Carolina led the nation with six fatalities.

Illinois, Michigan and California had five each.

The National Safety Council said about 472 persons would die in traffic accidents during a normal non-holiday period from 6 p. m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

"Let us gather in sanctuaries dedicated to worship and in homes blessed by family affection to express our gratitude for the glorious gifts of God," President Kennedy said in his Thanksgiving Day Proclamation, the last he issued.

South Seminole Junior High's civics classes recently voted on a "proposal" amendment to the state constitution which would permit a Florida governor to succeed himself at least once.

Of 276 students voting, 162 favored the "proposal" while 114 were against it. The result was particularly interesting inasmuch as former State Senator Douglas Stenstrom, while speaking to the civics classes, recommended that no change be made in the present procedure.

And, out at South Seminole Junior High, Principal John Angel revealed that construction of the plant's new music building and cafeteria is nearing completion. The latter, by the way, will be one of the most utilized areas of the institution. The school's 1,100 students will be provided hot lunches in two shifts. It will also be used for assemblies, though it isn't large enough to accommodate the entire student body. In addition, it will be used for large-group classes. And, no doubt, they'll find one or two other ways to use it.

In case you're interested, George Touhy at First Federal has four scarce-as-hen-teeth tickets to the annual brawl between the Florida Gators and the FSU Seminoles. And, they're available — at regular prices, too.

Today's Chuckle — The boss returned in a good humor from the Kiwanis Club luncheon and called the whole staff to listen to a couple of jokes he picked up. Everybody laughed, except one girl. "What's the matter?" grumbled the boss, "haven't you got a sense of humor?" "I don't have to laugh," replied the employe, "Friday's my last day here."

Except for a bit of trim work here and there the $11,600 face-lifting job on the Seminole County Courthouse is completed. Not only is it quite an improvement, but it looks real nice.

And speaking of senators, Mack Cleveland, Seminole's member of the state senate, has a 25-minute sound film entitled "The Legislative Process," made during the 1961 session of the Florida Legislature. Cleveland says it can be made available to civic clubs and to civic classes of the county's schools. Anyone wishing to utilize it should contact Senator Cleveland.

Current reports of a recent airplane crash at Ocala National Forest were discounted today by Sanford Naval Air Station officials.

United Press reported that hunters had discovered the crash, saying that conditions indicated it was a military aircraft and had crashed some time ago.

SNAS officials said today the crash occurred during World War II, that the pilot safely bailed out but that the aircraft had never been recovered.

Johnson's Talk Impresses Free World Leaders

By United Press International
The free world reacted favorably today to the "courage and sincerity" of President Johnson's pledge to fight for the policies of the late President Kennedy.

The first Russian source to comment on Johnson's speech Wednesday expressed cautious approval.

British editorials indicated immediate reaction to the speech with such headlines as "The President Calls for Action," "A bold Start," and "Continuity in the White House."

There was no immediate official reaction from the Kremlin. Private Russian sources praised Johnson's general approach.

Television viewers in 19 European nations including East Germany, Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia — watched Johnson's speech by U. S. communications satellite relay.

All Seminole Gives Thanks For Benefits

In keeping with the national tradition, Seminole County residents today were observing Thanksgiving . . . each in his or her own personal manner.

Churches throughout the county were having individual or union Thanksgiving Day services. Families were united over the traditional Thanksgiving dinner, while giving Thanks to the Almighty for blessings bestowed.

Old Glory was flying at half-staff throughout the county, in tribute to the martyred President Kennedy.

Governmental offices were closed, excepting for law enforcement agencies, emergency service units and other necessary operations. The county courthouse will be closed until Monday. Sanford city hall will be open Friday.

All schools are closed until Monday.

The Sanford Herald offers its annual Christmas gift guide edition . . . and is closing shop early to give its staff members a half-holiday with their families.

Postal service is on the usual holiday schedule. Collections and out-of-town distribution is being made. Only deliveries today will be special and perishables.

All businesses were closed excepting restaurants, bars and service stations.

In a lighter vein, jail prisoners "never had it so good." Police Chief Roy Williams and Sheriff J. L. Hobby reported city and county jail prisoners would be served turkey and all the trimmings today.

Sanford Naval Air Station was on a holiday basis but with restrictions in social matters because of the 30-day mourning period for the late President Kennedy.

And a most pleasant conclusion to this Thanksgiving Day "wrap-up" story, Kenny Harriet, is flying home from Cincinnati this Saturday afternoon.

A HAPPY THANKSGIVING TO YOU FROM THE SANFORD HERALD AND ALL ITS STAFF!!!

Johnson set a tone and a goal for his administration Wednesday in a speech to a joint session of Congress.

With his voice breaking in emotion, Johnson called on all Americans to scorn hatred and violence. Amid applause from much of his congressional audience, he appealed to lawmakers to enact Kennedy's Civil Rights and tax cut bills as a living memorial to the slain chief executive.

Johnson's busy day, climaxed by the speech to congress, was sprinkled with other activities following his return from Capitol Hill where he had risen to political fame and—in the wake of tragedy—had returned as his nation's leader.

THE TERRY CORDELL MEMORIAL TROPHY was presented Wednesday to Seminole High School by Banks Register (right) vice president of the school's 1952 graduation class. The trophy, a memorial to the late U. S. Army Capt. Terry Cordell, who was killed in action in Viet Nam, will be presented annually to a Seminole High School athlete who participates in three sports and maintains a high scholastic standing. Receiving the trophy is Steve Sewell, student president. Participating in the presentation ceremony is Capt. Cordell's mother, Mrs. Denver Cordell.

Seminole Wins Championship

The Fighting Seminoles captured the Orange-Belt Conference championship Wednesday night in DeLand with a 33 to 20 victory over a stubborn band of DeLand Bulldogs.

Seminole's fleet halfback, Buddy Lawson, scored three touchdowns on pass plays, and Harry Barks scored on another pass play, and Earl Black carried for still another.

This was Seminole's second Orange-Belt Conference title in the past three years. The Sanford club ended its regular season with a record of nine wins against one loss.

The Seminoles will meet the Kissimmee Kowboys in a post-season affair at Sanford's Memorial Stadium on Dec. 6. (See sports page).

No Letup Seen In Drive For Civil Rights

ATLANTA (UPI)— President Kennedy's assassination will change neither the drive for Negro rights nor the views of Southern segregationists.

This was the consensus of a South-wide survey conducted by United Press International. In the South, as in the rest of the country, the tragic events of the past weekend brought shock, then grief and then a quiet assessment of what's to come.

Many Southerners think there will be a change in the impetus from Washington for civil rights and watch President Johnson's administration for indications of this.

But Negro leaders vowed there would be no let-up in their drive against racial discrimination.

"The time is past," when Negro protests were a momentary emotional phenomena, said integration leader Martin Luther King, Jr.

Florida NAACP Field Secretary Robert Saunders of Tampa echoed these sentiments: "We can not sit back and wait. They (whites) may get the picture we are not going to push now."

Saunders said that Johnson's Southern background might mean that he will not push as hard for civil rights as President Kennedy, but added: "My idea is that he is aware of the racial problem and knows it is a world problem. I would hope so."

Dade (Miami) County Metro detectives said there were 62 cases of dynamite — "enough to flatten everything for 100 yards."

Some of the dynamite apparently was stolen from a construction firm several months ago, a detective said. Police said they were seeking a third man to the case and trying to link the cache with illegal sales of explosives to "disident groups" in the area.

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Johnson observed Thanksgiving with his family today in the midst of a busy agenda which included a televised message to the American people.

The new president was scheduled to speak to the nation at 6:15 p. m. EST by television and radio. The White House described his talk as a "personal" address to the citizenry.

Floridans Seek Research Center

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant and a delegation of business and education leaders was in Washington Wednesday to push Florida as a site for a new $30 million electronics research center.

The delegation was slated to appear before a special site committee of the national aeronautics and space agency, which is holding hearings to decide where the facility will be located.

In the delegation besides Bryant were: Edward D. Carter, West Palm Beach, Dr. J. Roward Culpepper, Tallahassee, Dr. Thomas Martin, University of Florida, Gainesville, and Dr. Leland Shanon, Florida Institute for Continuing Studies, Tallahassee.

"Ours will be an all Florida proposal," said Bryant in a statement issued here. "We feel that Florida can offer the NASA officials something very special because of the impetus created by the approval of the college building amendment earlier this month."

The governor said with the state's expanding space facilities and private industrial establishments, Florida had the combination of factors that makes for a strong case for location of the facility in the state.

IVS Older Brother To The Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (UPI) — From the jungles of South Viet Nam to the deserts of Jordan to the bushlands of Liberia, a small group of dedicated Americans is working to bring a better life to the underprivileged.

For $90 a month, they live under primitive conditions in remote villages. They must be willing and eager to help their fellow man regardless of the color of his skin, the god he worships or the amount of money in his pocket.

They should be college graduates and must be above reproach morally, mentally and physically.

Sounds like the Peace Corps? Yes, but it's not. It is the International Voluntary Services (IVS). By the time the Peace Corps came into being, IVS already had eight years of service behind it.

It was founded as a non-profit organization in 1953 by a group of people committed to the idea that American youth could contribute to international understanding by helping the less fortunate on a person-to-person basis.

Although IVS now appears to be a miniature version of the Peace Corps, it would be more exact to describe the Peace Corps as an enlarged copy of the International Voluntary Services.

IVS now has nearly 200 volunteers operating overseas, directed by four men with three secretaries from five small offices in a converted residential dwelling in downtown Washington. Its annual budget is roughly $1 million.

The 6,500 Peace Corps volunteers overseas have their expanding headquarters on three floors of a large Washington office building. The peace corps budget in fiscal 1963 was $50 million and Congress has just authorized $102 million for fiscal 1964.

IVS operates primarily in nations in which the Peace Corps does not have volunteers, although in a few instances it cooperates with the Corps.

It currently has 70 volunteers in South Viet Nam, 25 in Cambodia, 52 in Laos, 10 in Algeria, 30 in Jordan, Syria and Lebanon working at Arab refugee centers. In the past it also has had short-term projects in Ghana, Egypt, Iraq and Nepal.

Because IVS concentrates on agricultural projects, the greater share of its recruits come from rural areas. Because the organization is supported by various churches, volunteers usually have strong religious backgrounds. Their average age range is 25 to 35. Men outnumber women five to one. They volunteer for two years of service.

It costs IVS about $5,000 per person per year, including transportation, living costs, the $80 monthly pay and all administrative costs for the entire organization.

Most projects are financed under contract with the U.S. Government's Agency for International Development (AID). IVS volunteers supplement at the village level the technical assistance given by AID at the national level.

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Inter-Agency Council on Traffic Safety put finishing touches Tuesday on a report for an "action program" on highway safety.

Centaur Missile Can Be Seen

CAPE CANAVERIAL (UPI) — Space scientists watched with jubilation today the flashing orbit of a relatively worthless mass of metal — the sign of success for the hard-luck Centaur rocket.

The revolutionary hydrogen-fueled Centaur, nearly three years behind schedule, took a huge satellite into orbit Wednesday on its first successful performance.

The satellite itself, made up mostly of old rocket casing, will be visible as a white flash in the sky.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said that under ideal weather conditions, it would have the brilliance of a "second or third magnitude star," and its tumbling motion would make it "sort of flash in the sky."

Ideal viewing times would be just after dusk or just before dawn.

The successful flight of the centaur touched off glee from Cape Canaveral to Washington. The big question had been whether the rocket, heavier than the vehicles that will take men to the moon, would fly.

On the first attempt to launch a Centaur—on May 8, 1962, the rocket blew up 55 seconds after liftoff. It was the most spectacular of many Centaur setbacks.

The Centaur is the first U.S. rocket powered by liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen, when generates 35 per cent more thrust per pound than the liquid oxygen-kerosene fuel used in Atlas rockets.

Lake Monroe Jottings

Mrs. E. L. Johnson We have a lot of sadness in our hearts this week. With the untimely death of our President, many a heart is heavy. At Arlington Cemetery, where the President has been buried, stands the Cullis Lee Mansion. It is a beautiful mansion. During my visit to Washington a year ago I had the pleasure of touring the grounds of the Cemetery and going through the entire mansion. I even stood on the front porch and looked over into Washington just like it was shown on television Monday. I can see the exact spot where the President is buried in my mind. A nice place could not have been chosen. . . . Our sympathy goes out to the family of George Poff. Mr. Poff passed away Sunday. He will be buried in West Virginia. . . . A delayed Happy birthday to Steve Swagerty who was a year older (all of 19) last Thursday. He and our son, Bob, had birthdays the same day, also same age. Linda Stapler, Lorraine Cameron, Lloyd Freeman (that real good football "kicker"), Rick Gleason and Sid Hawkins surprised Bob with a party at our home on Wednesday evening. . . . Also a happy fourth birthday to little Joan Douthitt, small daughter of Reverend and Mrs. Joe Douthitt. She was honor guest at a party given by her mother Beverly. . . . What a wonderful turnout for the concerts at the stadium. . . .

Mrs. Buford Vance of Zellwood spent Sunday at the Harman Spivey home. Herman and Lucille's little daughter, Carolyn, also spent the weekend with them. Carolyn is a patient at the Sunland Training Center. . . . Rev. and Mrs. Earl Baker had as their guests last week his parents from Knoxville, Tenn. . . . Bryant Sees No Upset In State Projects

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant says he doesn't feel the death of President Kennedy will affect any federally supported special projects in Florida.

Bryant, speaking at his weekly news conference Tuesday, said President Lyndon B. Johnson is a great supporter of the nation's space program and the activities at Cape Canaveral.

Although he has not talked with Johnson, Bryant said he was "confident" the President will support the proposed $1 million appropriation for the cross-Florida barge canal.

The governor said he will continue to support the Kennedy administration programs he had supported before the Dallas assassination. "If they (the programs) were good before, they are good now. If they were bad before, they are bad now," he said.

This indicates the governor will continue to oppose the public accommodations provision of the Kennedy civil rights program.

The governor, who attended Kennedy's funeral, said it is too early to assess the effect of the assassination on next year's presidential election.

On other subjects, Bryant said:

—He has not and does not plan to ask the State Supreme Court for an opinion on whether he could seek re-election.

Mrs. Simpson To Present Art Program

Mrs. Mary Simpson will present a program Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Circle Center for the Sanford-Seminole Art Association. Mrs. Simpson has chosen for her subject "Art is Everywhere."

To illustrate this point, she will show slides from her collection made while the Simpsons were on world tours. Her pictures of landscapes, plants, well known structures and architect the world over will prove the point. The slides Mrs. Simpson has made may be considered art due to the care and attention used in making them.

This program will be offered in the public interest by SAA and affords an opportunity for those who have never traveled the world "by slides" to see Mrs. Simpson's collection. Refreshments will be served during the evening. Mrs. Helen DeWitt urgently requests members to deliver to Bill Dodson, Lake Mary, the Christmas cards to be posted downtown, so they will be in place by the time of the Christmas parade.

Altamonte Club Sets Workshop

The Altamonte Springs Garden Club will hold a workshop from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Monday at the Altamonte Springs Community House. All members are urged to participate in this project. Those planning to attend are requested to bring a sandwich lunch. Coffee will be provided.

LONGWOOD VOLUNTEER FIREMEN, after serving several hundred cups of coffee to those attending last Friday night's political rally, took a few minutes off to enjoy a cup with Chief Claude Lavo, left. The rallies are sponsored annually by the firemen who also provide the coffee and doughnuts for refreshments. (Herald Photo)

$50,000 Seized In 2 Holdups

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — Smooth-working bandits struck swiftly at two South Florida stores today, collecting $50,000 in gems from an exclusive jewelry shop here and about $10,000 in cash from a savings and loan company at Hialeah.

Both holdups were staged by three-man teams and police and FBI agents sought to determine if the same three men pulled off the robberies. The first was at the Community Federal Savings and Loan Association office in a Hialeah shopping center. While two bandits sat in a white getaway car, the third gunman pushed his way into the office behind an employe who unlocked the door. The gunman made the office employe lay on the floor while he scooped up a bag of cash that had just been delivered by an armored car service.

Carroll's Jewelry, in an exclusive Fort Lauderdale shopping center, was hit by three gunmen dressed in dark Ivy League suits and pointed Italian-type shoes.

They forced six store employes and a male customer to lay on the floor in the back of the shop while they completely cleaned out the contents of three display cases, containing more than 100 gems valued at about $50,000.

While the robbery was in progress, Mrs. Bernice Judy passed the store and looked into the window. One of the holdup men standing guard at the door asked her to step inside. When she did, she also was forced to lay on the floor.

Police were unable to get a description of the getaway car.

MARIANNA (UPI) — Federal Judge Harold Carewell has continued indefinitely a U. S. Justice Department school integration suit against Bay County. The judge continued the suit Tuesday at the request of the U. S. attorney, pending outcome of a similar case involving schools in Gulfport, Miss.

Polynesian Fashion Showing Tuesday

By Jane Casselberry

A complete line of glamorous Polynesian fashions by Alfred Shaheen of Hawaii make their debut in this area at a luncheon Tuesday at the Riksha Inn in Fern Park to be sponsored by Playgirl Fashions of Fern Plaza.

The luncheon will begin at 11:30 with a choice of steak or luau to be followed by the fashion show at 12:30. The public is cordially invited but due to the limited seating capacity those who plan to attend are requested to make reservations in advance with the Riksha Inn or with Janet Sonder of Playgirl.

The line includes dresses, sportswear, luau clothes both for everyday wear and special occasions. Alfred Shaheen fashions will be seen in the soon to be released James Michener movie, "Hawaii." Modeling the fashions will be Mrs. Clare Fite and Miss Ann Mahan of Sanford, Mrs. Ann Morris, Mrs. Jane Webster and Mrs. Nadine Callings of Maitland and Mrs. Lois Lucas of Casselberry.

Grocer Shot; 3 Youths Held

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — A grocery owner was shot Wednesday in an apparent robbery attempt by three youths.

Harlie Arthur Barry, 59, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital in fair condition. Police said the youths grabbed a pistol from the holster of Eric Guest, an off-duty private watchman who was shopping in the market. Authorities said one of the youths yelled, "Don't anyone move." Two shots were fired and Barry slumped against the counter, witnesses said.

CDR. L. J. REINHART, Commanding Officer of Heavy Attack Squadron One congratulates Kenneth R. Mueller upon his recent promotion to Ensign. Ensign Mueller, who just minutes before was Chief Yeoman Mueller, was promoted at ceremonies held in Ready Room Four aboard USS Independence (CVA-62).

Korean DRP Wins Assembly

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — President-elect Park Chung Hee's Democratic-Republican Party (DRP) Wednesday won a majority in the new national assembly on the basis of nearly complete returns from Tuesday's elections.

The party backed by the junta which ruled Korea for nearly three years had captured seats in 88 of the total 131 districts. This was three more seats than the DRP needed to win to be assured of controlling the unicameral legislature.

Under the Korean electoral system, the party also will be entitled to 22 of the 44 seats chosen by proportional representation of the national vote. This will give the DRP at least 91 seats in the new 173-member house, or three more than the 88 needed for an absolute majority.

Fine Silver Adds Luster To Yule

Nothing adds more to the charm and festivity of holiday tables than the luster of fine silver.

For Christmas and for use throughout the year, beautiful silver bowls, platters, candlesticks, ash trays, compotes and vases are gifts of timeless value. A fine silver service grows more beautiful with use and can make every meal a festive occasion.

Most popular in the silver holloware gift lineup are silver bowls of all sizes and designs, with the classic Revere bowl a perennial favorite, available in sizes from tiny individual ashtrays to huge centerpiece bowls for flowers or fruit.

The thoughtful giver will order such gifts well in advance to allow time for the personal touch of initialing or monogramming — an added sentiment quotient sure to be appreciated.

Silver trays are always in demand, and no household ever had too many of them.

Was Oswald Really Guilty? The Evidence Against Him Says 'Yes'

Though it will never be presented in a court of law, the evidence against Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, was "complete and convincing," according to Dallas police officials. Salient aspects of that evidence are illustrated by sketches above.

It goes back as far as 1956 when Oswald, then 17, joined the U. S. Marine Corps and learned sharpshooting (1). FBI analysts proved handwriting on a mail order, sent to a Chicago firm in March 1963 purchasing the rifle used in the assassination, was written by Oswald (2). Oswald was also confronted with a photograph of him posing with rifle and also the pistol used to kill Dallas patrolman J. D. Tippitt (3). Oswald admitted ownership of the pistol.

Only days after details of President Kennedy's trip to Dallas were announced in September, Oswald got a job in a building along the route the President was to take and rented a room nearby under a fictitious name (4). A map was later found in the room plotting the path of the bullets that killed President Kennedy and wounded Texas Gov. John B. Connally, whom Oswald had once threatened by letter.

Galli-Curci Dies At 81

LA JOLLA, Calif. (UPI) — Amelia Galli-Curci, whose name symbolized the skill and temperament of opera glamour for decades, died Tuesday at the age of 81.

Private funeral services are to be conducted Thursday. Interment will be in the Great Hall of Cypress View Mausoleum in nearby San Diego.

The petite, still youthful appearing coloratura soprano had been afflicted during the past 10 years with a lung condition—pulmonary emphysema—and had been confined to bed for the past month.

Caroline Six Years Old Now

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Caroline Kennedy is 6 years old Wednesday.

But the daddy she adored is not here to rejoice.

Someday she may be able to take comfort in knowing the joy she once brought him in his job, the loneliest in the world.

When she didn't pop in to see him, he would go looking for her on the White House playground. He would bend down and she would give him a big hug.

Port Booming At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The Port of Jacksonville has been bustling as never before, port officials said today.

David Rawls, managing director of the Jacksonville Port Authority, said the largest number of dry cargo ships were in port Tuesday and others waited for berths.

"I've never seen anything like it around here," Rawls said.

Tasty Egg Nog Christmas Treat

For many of us, Christmas just isn't Christmas without the tasty treat of egg nog. A welcome holiday sight in the traditional silver punch bowl at Christmas gatherings, and an equally welcome quick refreshment for friends who've dropped in unexpectedly, egg nog is the perfect holiday drink for young and old alike.

If you're planning a party or expecting friends and family over on Christmas Eve, bring out the punch bowl and stock up on bottled egg nog from your favorite dairy. You'll find today's ready-made egg nog better than most home-made versions and it saves so much extra work.

Chatter, Clatter

DUNDEE, Scotland (UPI) — Four women bridge players were hurt Tuesday when the ceiling fell in on them while they were playing in the Dundee Unionist Association bridge club rooms.

slan wife, he always kept the rifle in the garage at their home in suburban Irving but, she said, it was not there on Friday, Nov. 22, the day of the assassination (5). Witnesses testified they saw Oswald carry a package to work that day, which he said was window blinds (6), and fellow workers say that he remained upstairs in the building while they watched the presidential motorcade pass.

Most damaging evidence was Oswald's palm print, found on the murder rifle and on a carton by the window from which the shots were fired (7). The rifle and spent cartridges, and remains of a chicken lunch, were abandoned by the killer.

Behan To Give Bottle To Baby

DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) — Boisterous, hard-drinking Irish playwright Brendan Behan looked at his baby daughter Tuesday night and said he hoped she would be a teetotaler.

"I am going off the bottle," the tousle-haired Behan said on his visit to a hospital to see his wife, Beatrice, 31, and their daughter, born Monday.

rooming house saw him run in while she was listening to news of the assassination, grab a coat and run out again without speaking (8).

Oswald testified against himself by killing one policeman during his flight and attempting to kill another when he was arrested in a theater (9). Finally, a paraffin test for gunpowder proved he had fired a gun (10). Traces were found on both hands, indicating he had fired a rifle.

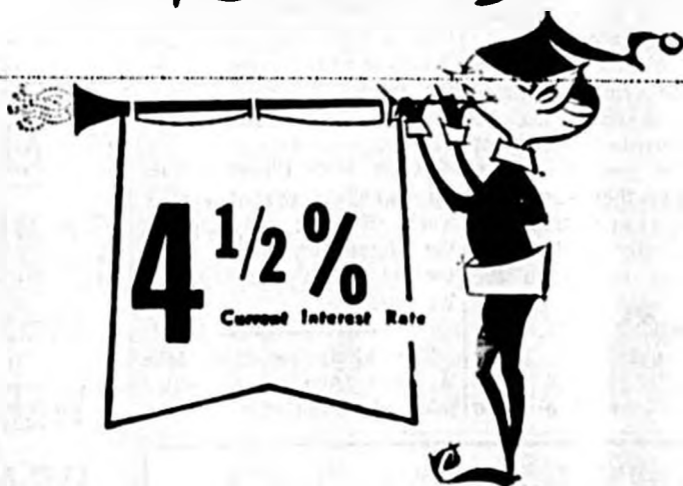

4-H Members Get Life Saving

Florida's 4-H Club leaders made an investment last summer which they hope will net the highest of all returns—saving lives.

For the first time, boys and girls who attended 4-H summer camps operated by the agricultural extension service—some 6,000 of them—received training in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Under the direction of trained swimming instructors, the boys and girls used a life-like mannequin called "Resuscit-Ann" to learn the resuscitation techniques. State 4-H Club Leader W. W. Brown believes Florida is the first state to incorporate such training in its 4-H club program.

About Sports

Thinking Out Loud

BY JULIAN STENSTROM

All Hall, Orange Belt Champs !!!

Congratulations to the Seminole High coaching staff, the entire squad, from Jayvon to Seniors, the cheerleaders and all, the band, the whoop-it-up student body, the Boosters club and all the other fans who followed the Seminoles to this "never-say-die" football edition of the Seminoles Championships take just a lot of work from just a lot of people.

And speaking of a lot of people, it seemed that once more the Sanford side of the field "out-people" the home town supporters. What a peppy crowd!

Among those taking another look at the Warriors was Peter Schaal, donor of the Seminole trophy that bears his name—and that is the one of longest standing in state high school competition. Pete always has been a loyal supporter of the locals.

There was a mighty shout as the Pigottmen ran onto the field, not only for the team, but for the fact that a No. 11 was in the string of Seminoles. Ronnie Hinson, who wears that number, played Lakeview with a fever, had been in bed ever since. It was doubtful that he would make the DeLand fracas. His experience in the QB slot is a big help.

The signal calling was done by Al Boniface, Billy Higgins and Ronnie. The boy off the sick bed didn't have the strength to stay in the huddle for any distance, but when in there, he gave it all he had. Al and Billy "spelled" him.

If there was doubt in anyone's mind that the DeLand Bulldogs intended to win the game, it was quickly dispelled. They won the toss, elected to receive, immediately got the benefit of a 15-yard penalty against the Indians, and from midfield with a series of four first downs went right over the goal line. The score too soon for Seminole supporters was DeLand 7, Seminole 0.

The second quarter opened with Sanford just having gotten possession of the ball on a DeLand punt that went out of bounds on the Seminole 28. And play started with a heave from Billy Higgins to Buddy Lawson that put the oval on the DeLand 20. On the third play after that, the same combination brought the initial TD for the Seminoles, and after Lloyd Freeman's PAT kick everything was even—Steven. The visiting fans felt easier.

Three minutes and four seconds of playing time later, this same aerial combination had The Sprinter taking Higgins' heave on the Bulldog eight. With one of the DeLanders hanging onto him, Lawson jerked loose and sped into "gloryland."

But Tom Hill's lads stormed back. Aided by a 15 yard penalty on the Tribe that put the ball on the Seminole 40, the Bulldogs racked up three first downs. Three seconds remained in the half when an end sweep succeeded. The run for the point was choked up and the breathtaking half ended—Sanford 14, DeLand 13.

Through the stands went the ripple "Ole One-point Pigott." And right then that one point looked ever so good!

But the Indians were steamed up and given a boost by a 15 yarder against the Hillmen that put the ball on the DeLand 28 following the kickoff, the boys of Pigott put together three first downs. The drive ended when Hinson flipped the ball to Barry Barks in the end zone.

DeLand made it 20-20 following one of the prettiest plays of the game. It was a pass, not very long, but the downfield blocking that the Bulldogs did made the trek a delight to the hosts and a nightmare to the visitors. The redoming feature from the Seminole viewpoint was the race that Buddy Lawson made to overtake the fleeing Hillman. Buddy was blocked out, got up and overtook the ball carrier on the five yard line. It was as determined an effort as there was in the game—and there were just heads of them!

Speaking of Buddy's, Buddy Burton in his "roving" line-backer role, did a whole of a defense job.

While pass protection of Indian tossers was generally good, in the fourth quarter it was outstanding. Example: The Seminoles were on their own 48 following an on-side kick attempt by DeLand. Hinson dropped back into "the pocket" and those protecting linemen looked like pros as they warded off the surge of Bulldogs, gave Ronnie plenty of time, gave Lawson time to seat to the 20 where he took Hinson's well-placed shot and then streaked on screen. Just great! That's all!

Again the line play—both offense and defense—was terrific. Mike Glad was his usual tower of strength. Joe Farless was calling the defense shots. On offense that 64-74-83 combination on the left side of the line (Steve Clark, Jim Touhy, Frank Noell) seemed to work well together in giving the backs "air" for running room.

But let there be no doubt, this season has been a fine display of team play, from the coaching staff right on down.

An now, bring on those Kissimmee Kowboys!

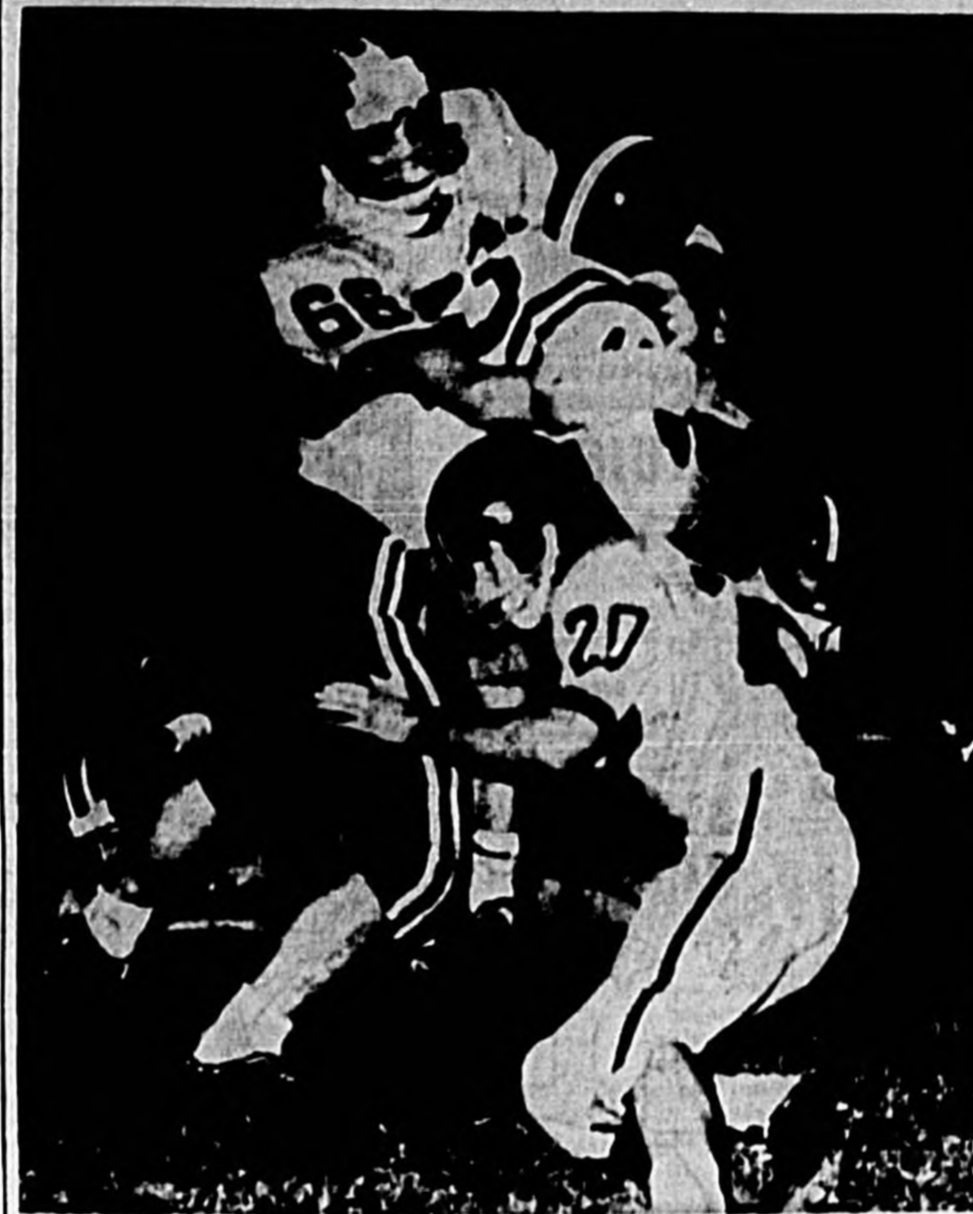

That Seminole-Kissimmee battle should be a classic. No doubt Memorial Stadium will be overflowing on Dec. 6, for this battle.

Oviedo Beats Crescent City By 33 To 6

By Joe Warden
Herald Sports Writer

The Oviedo Lions roared to their fourth victory of the season last night when they carved out a 33 to 6 win over the Crescent City High School Rebels with Oviedo halfback Barry Gouge running rough-shod for a trio of touchdowns.

It was a great night for the Lions—one of their best this season. As they closed out the schedule, the Lions wound up with a record of four victories, five losses and one tie.

The Lions wanted no time in starting to chew up the Rebels. In the initial period, Billy Mikler sped nine yards for the opening Oviedo touchdown. The tally was set up by a 24-yard gallop by Gouge after a sensational pass interception by fullback Rex Brooks on the Rebel 35-yard line. The Lions misused on the attempted conversion.

Moments later the Lions roared again when Courier shot a seven-yard bullet to Brooks for the second Oviedo touchdown. This climaxed a 54-yard Oviedo drive which was featured by a 15-yard jaunt by Gouge plus a play in which Brooks took in a Courrier pass and lateraled to Gouge for a total of 17 yards. Tim Colbert, an Oviedo tackle, booted the extra point.

In the second period Crescent City fought its way back into the ball game when Harold Rob tallied from three yards out. This culminated a 78-yard effort during which the Rebels blasted their way yard by yard.

But this was Crescent City's one and only successful scoring effort.

But the Lions were hot, they knew it, and they took advantage of it. Oviedo returned the ensuing kickoff to its own 40-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage Courier fired a 60-yard pass to Gouge for a touchdown. Again, Colbert split the uprights for the extra point.

Leading 20 to 6 as the second half of play opened, Oviedo went right to work again. Ted Belhorn hauled in a 42-yard pass from Courrier who later fired a 12-yard aerial to Gouge. Then the Lions went into paydirt when Courier again fired to Gouge from five yards out for the TD.

Gouge, who rolled for 87 yards on the ground during the night, sped 25 yards in the fourth period for Oviedo's final marker. The play closed out an 85-yard drive which was featured by Ted Belhorn's 60-yard jaunt after intercepting a Rebel pass.

While the Rebels posted eight first downs to six for the Lions, Oviedo piled up 117 yards on the ground and 100 in the air as they connected on six of 10 pass attempts.

Halfback Billy Mikler took second place honors in the individual yardage department by racking up 37.

Tribe Scalps DeLand 33-20

A determined band of Seminoles wouldn't be denied last night as they presented 4,500 fans at DeLand Stadium with a dazzling aerial act that produced four of five touchdowns which carried the Tribe to a 33 to 20 win over the DeLand Bulldogs and the Orange-Belt Conference title.

Seminole, while rolling up 160 yards on the ground, connected on but five of 13 passes but four of them were bombs for touchdowns.

No matter how it sliced—and it was a team effort if Seminole fans ever saw one—a medal for distinguished service should be pinned on Sanford's Buddy Lawson. He ran his total of touchdowns for the season to 13 by hauling in passes for 28, 48 and 7 yards for touchdowns.

And, despite the score, once again the Tribe had to come from behind.

It began when the Bulldogs took the kickoff on their own 15. With Jerry Gill and Jerry DeLoach alternating the haul-

Gasti And Zubi Win Feature

Gasti and Zubi brought post position three home for the win in Wednesday night's eight game feature doubles match at the Orlando Seminole Jai Alai Fronton.

They came on after Uri and Iriarte, in post two, had racked up three straight points to take an imposing lead in the five-point contest.

Gasti and Zubi then scored five straight points, the final marker coming in a sustained volley with Jacin and Agustin that brought the Thanksgiving Eve crowd to their feet with a series of championship plays.

Uri and Iriarte, thwarted in their determined bid for the win, finished second.

In the daily double, Estrada and Pradera posted a winning 6-4 combination that paid $102.00.

Missile Bowl Tilt Uncertain

ORLANDO (UPI) — Officials of the Missile Bowl were waiting word today from military authorities about the fate of the scheduled Dec. 7 clash between the Quantico, Va., and San Diego, Calif., Marines.

The date falls within the 30-day period of mourning for President Kennedy and military officials had not made up their mind to allow the teams to play.

Light Drill

CORAL GABLES (UPI) — The Miami Hurricanes will hold a light drill today, and conclude their preparations for Saturday night's Orange Bowl clash with Pittsburgh on Friday.

Coach Andy Gustafson kept his backfield out of contact work all week and only put the linemen through light contact drills Tuesday and Wednesday.

Packers Return To Scene Of 1962 Defeat

DETROIT (UPI) — The Green Bay Packers return to the site of their only defeat of their celebrated 1962 season today to meet the Detroit Lions in the final Thanksgiving Day clash between the two keen rivals.

The Packers, who came in here a year ago with an 11-0 record en route to their second straight National Football League championship and their third consecutive western division crown, are 9-2 this time.

But both losses have been at the hands of the Chicago Bears, who lead the Western Division with a 9-1-1 record.

Coach Vince Lombardi's team must win the nationally televised game to remain in contention for the title.

The Packers, who were man-handled here 26-14 a year ago by the fired-up Lions, are heavy favorites to avenge that defeat. The Packers won the first meeting in Green Bay this season, 31-10.

Detroit has only a 4-7 record and will be missing at least three of the defensive starters who blighted the Packers a year ago.

Two of the injured starters, all-pro standouts Yale Lary and Dick (Night Train) Lane hope to return to the lineup even though they're still not 100 per cent.

The Lion defense, which has carried the team ever since Hobby Layne was traded and was the best in pro football last season, has been crippled by the injuries and may have a trying time trying to contain the Packer offense.

SEC Teams Ready For 'Feuds'

By United Press International
Southeastern conference teams began tapering off drills today for the spirited family feuds this weekend that traditionally mark the end to the football season.

Alabama is the only conference team with a regular season game to play after Saturday. The Crimson Tide takes on Miami in the Orange Bowl Dec. 7.

One SEC team, LSU, already has accepted a bid to play in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston.

Coach Bobby Dodd ran his Yellow Jackets through a snappy workout under gray skies Wednesday and predicted that rain Saturday would help equalize the Tech-Georgia game. The Engineers currently are a two-touchdown favorite.

Coach Johnny Griffith also is hoping it won't rain. His offense is geared to the passing of quarterback Larry Rakestraw, who is not a murderer.

Both Mississippi and Mississippi State, which meet in Jackson Saturday for their annual blood game, went through two-hour workouts Wednesday.

The Rebels were to begin a light-contact drill early today. The session Wednesday was devoted to a review of blocking assignments and defensive patterns against Bulldog-style plays.

Coach Shug Jordan, hopeful of ending a four-game losing streak against Alabama, sent his charges through a stiff workout at Auburn.

Florida, the only SEC team playing a non-conference opponent this weekend, sharpened offensive formations in preparation for the meeting with Florida State.

Coach Ray Graves warned that FSU will be the toughest defensive team his Gators have met this season.

Vanderbilt fullback Bill Waldrup won praise for Coach Jack Green in an offensive workout. He ripped through the line for several large gains. The Commodore defense also worked out defensive assignments for Tennessee's single-wing.

While the Rebels posted eight first downs to six for the Lions, Oviedo piled up 117 yards on the ground and 100 in the air as they connected on six of 10 pass attempts.

Halfback Billy Mikler took second place honors in the individual yardage department by racking up 37.

Johnson Described As Born Leader

By Holmes Alexander

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Even the mildest mystic among us can see the hand of destiny in the Lyndon Baines Johnson story. Tall and talkative, earthy and ebullient, not quite handsome and never too serious-minded, the proprietor of the famous LBJ Ranch is a born leader of men. He is a parliamentary genius who pulls majorities out of his sleeve like magicians' rabbits, and writes legislation to provide unheard of things like Space Agencies. All of his adult 55 years he has walked with greatness, knowing virtually every big figure of our time from Franklin Roosevelt to Werner Von Braun; but Lyndon Johnson could no more lose the common touch than his rawhide Texas accent. Yet, with all this, Johnson is our 36th President largely by luck. He has lived through a hairbreadth series of near demises to his life and career. Some of the events are fateful, some have a funny touch, all are robust and, by hindsight, appear to be blessings in disguise. For, taken together, they form a web which binds Johnson and his ever-loving family of wife and two daughters to all who get to know them as the generous, hospitable, fortunate, sophisticated, wholly unspelled, folksy individuals they are.

LBJ's first bit of luck in living to be President was prenatal. His paternal grandmother had the foresight during an Indian massacre to wiggle under the clapboard cabin near Stonewall, in central Texas, which subsequently became Lyndon's birthplace. In July, 1955, Johnson had a heart attack heard round the world, but a sequel to it may be published here for the first time. The then-Senator's late mother, Mrs. Rebekah Baines Johnson, feared for his life as Lyndon lay brooding in the oxygen tent after doctors told him that he could not return that session to his post as Senate Majority Floor Leader. As she told me later, his mother restored his will-to-live by popping through the cellophane a column of mine in which his attack was compared with Franklin Roosevelt's polio attack—not the finish of a career, but the beginning of a new one.

Suspenseful brushes with death and defeat were his specialty long before this. Just two days prior to his first election to the House of Representatives, Lyndon was hauled out of a ten-candidate battle royal for an emergency appendectomy. He and his young wife, the luminous and wonderful Lady Bird, kept the surgeon's knife aloft, as it were, until non-partisan medical documentation was collected to prove that the operation wasn't a melodramatic bid for sympathy. In 1948, at an early stage of his cliff-hanging, 87-vote majority election to the Senate, Lady Bird saw him blanching and flinching in the handshaking line. It turned out that he had kidney stones. The doctors in Dallas advised an immediate abdominal operation which would render him hors de combat for several weeks.

While husband and wife were glumly taking counsel, the renowned Jacqueline Cochran, an old friend, made a welcomed proposal. Miss Cochran knew a doctor at the Mayo Clinic who could extract stones by forceps. If Lyndon could stand the pain, Jackie would fly him to the Clinic and have him back on the hustings in a week. It was done. In 1942 Lieutenant Commander Johnson, going on a raid over Jap-held Leyte, at the last moment was taken off a plane that didn't come back and assigned to one that did. Later, he survived a crashed bomber in Australia. On such controversial legislation as Civil Rights, gas and oil loopholes, Presidential vetoes and flogging the filibuster, Johnson has walked away from more wheels-ups landings than any body on Capitol Hill.

Fortuity had a lot to do with these escapes. But fortitude was there, too. To use a favorite Johnsonian, Lyndon has always been a "can-do" person. President of his high school class, member and later coach of champion debating teams, he cultivated the success habit. He did it so effectively that, between school and college, Lyndon became a top-notch ballion and boy-hobo who wandered about the west on rough jobs and wild settlements.

Steered back into education by his mother, Lyndon worked his way through the State Teachers College at San Marcos and took up teaching, which was also his mother's profession. By the time he met and married the other lady of his life, nee Claudia Alta Taylor, Lyndon was State Director of the National Youth Administration. He shone at the job which mainly comprised taking other boy-hobos of America, Mexican, Indian and Negro lineage off the road and getting them into constructive labor.

On Election Night Bobby Kennedy exuberantly shouted: "Lady Bird has carried Texas!" She did more. Her 30-state campaign trip was like the road-tour of a sensitive, all-conquering actress. Since her school days she had loved the shape and sound of words. From observation cars, airports and platforms, she spoke in sweet Alabama of "those early sun-up days," "watermelon cutting time" and "kin-folks."

Springing from a bashful, untrained ambition for the stage, her projection and audience identification during the campaign were sheer magic. There was a sly, devastating emotional wallop in her voice and sentiments. On the steps of the Borough Hall, in Queens, and in Manhattan, I heard her say no more than that she was far from home but felt among friends. My eyes began to seep. A veteran member of the Johnson staff was recalling how, at San Francisco, she told of first going there to be with Lyndon before he went into the Pacific Combat Zone. The grizzled staffer misted up behind his spectacles at the mere recounting. The Johnsons get stellar support from their daughters, Lynda Bird, 19, and Lucy Baines, 16, who have learned campaigning from their parents.

Early in the campaign, Johnson hedge-hopped through the northeast where Governor Robert Meyner introduced him as a latter-day Will Rogers. Johnson told about old Boies Penrose, a rakish bachelor, who was warned that to win his last election he must marry and settle down. "All right, boys. Whom does the organization pick?" Another old reprobate was ordered to give up drinking to curb his deafness. "But, Doctor, I like what I drink much better'n what I hear!"—and "I expect you'll feel that way about me," Johnson would tell his howling audiences. Will Rogers Jr., heard him in California, and said: "By golly, he does remind me of Dad."

Together, Lyndon and Lady Bird were invincible, as always. He was a salaried man, she a modest heiress. Between 1941-47, she inherited in small amounts the total of about $63,000. In partnership they have put together a million-dollar corporation, which includes Texas radio-television stations, cotton and pine trees in Alabama, as well as the ranch. There are elaborate profit-sharing incentives, welfare and retirement plans.

What better time to tell you that we're thankful for your patronage? Have a good holiday and take it easy on the turkey.

Here's a MEAT LOAF using frozen cream of potato soup. 1 can frozen cream of potato soup, undrained, 1 1/2 lb. ground beef, 1/4 lb. fresh ground pork sausage, 1 egg beaten, 1 cup dry bread crumbs, 1/4 cup frozen chopped onions, 1/4 cup frozen chopped green pepper, 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. baking powder. Remove soup from freezer 2 hours before time to prepare, let stand at room temperature to defrost. Mix ground beef with pork using a pastry cutter or fork. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Place in a 9 by 4 by 3 inch loaf pan and bake in preheated 350 degree oven for 1 1/2 hours. Serves 6 to 8.

APPLE PIE PUDDING 2 cups corn flakes or 1/4 cup packaged corn flake crumbs, 2 tbsps. flour, 2 tbsps. baking powder, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 tsp. vanilla, 1 cup chopped nutmeats, 1 cup chopped pared apples. If corn flakes are used, crush fine into crumbs. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually add sugar to egg, beating well after each addition. Stir in vanilla. Add corn flake crumbs and sifted dry ingredients, mix well. Fold in nutmeats and apples. Spread in greased 8 inch layer cake pan. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees about 30 minutes. Cut into wedges and serve warm or cold with whipped cream. Serves 6.

Marian Kennedy sent in this PUMPKIN BREAD recipe. She said it is simply grand and that she got it from Libby Smathers of Lake Mary. 2 1/2 cups sugar, 4 eggs, beaten, 1/2 cup shortening, 2 cups pumpkin, 3 1/2 cups flour, 1/2 tsp. baking powder, 2 tsp. soda, 1 1/4 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1/4 tsp. cloves, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup nut meats, 1/2 cup raisins or chopped dates. Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs, pumpkin, water and mix. Combine flour, baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Add to pumpkin mix. Add nuts and raisins or dates. Bake in two greased loaf pans for one hour at 350 degrees.

Did you know that a survey showed women are willing to pay more for an attractive package. Sales of tomatoes in plastic tubes were nearly 10 per cent higher than they were when they were displayed in cardboard cartons—even though those in plastic cost three cents more.

There's a new spray-on product for fabrics which prevents perspiration stain, damage and odor on fabrics, also acts as a resistant finish against food and liquid stains. According to the company this product can be used on all fabric types.

Warm OLD-FASHIONED GINGERBREAD, always a favorite with coffee. It's so easy to bake, we sometimes wonder why it's not on more tables more often. 5 tbsps. shortening, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg well beaten, 1/4 cup molasses, 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 tsp. ginger, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. baking soda, 1/2 cup buttermilk. Cream shortening. Add sugar gradually, while continuing to cream. Add egg and molasses. Mix well. Mix and sift flour, ginger, cinnamon and salt. Dissolve baking soda in buttermilk. Add alternately with dry ingredients to creamed mixture. Pour into greased 8-inch square cake pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until done. Cut in squares.

Frozen foods are more than 100 years old. Not, of course, the same quick-freezing process we have today. In 1842, a patent was granted to an English firm for a process of freezing food by immersing it in an ice-and-salt brine.

From the book put out by the Department of Agriculture called "Florida's Favorite Foods" we found a muffin recipe using grapefruit. It's called ELOISE MUFFINS. Sweeten and drain grapefruit pulp. Cream: 1/2 cup shortening, 1/2 cup sugar. Add: 2 beaten eggs, 1 cup milk. Sift together: 2 tps. baking powder, 3 cups flour, 1 tsp. salt. Add: 1/4 tsp. baking soda to 1 cup grapefruit pulp. Add to above mixtures. Put in muffin tins. Bake 1/2 hour at 350 degrees. Makes about 16 muffins.

Here's another. GRAPEFRUIT CREAM SHERBET 1 tbsps. gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 cup boiling water, 2 eggs, grated rind of 1 grapefruit, 2 cups orange juice, 1 cups grapefruit juice, 1 pint cream or evaporated milk, 1/2 cup powdered sugar, few grains salt. Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Dissolve gelatin and 1/4 cup sugar in boiling water. Add grapefruit rind, juice and orange juice. Place in mold next to ice, or in tray of your quick freezer and harden to mush. Beat cream until stiff, add 1/2 cup sugar and salt. Separate yolks from whites. Beat yolks until foaming and whites until stiff. Combine, add to cream. Fold into the hardened mixture. Return to freezer or top of ice. Stir this mixture twice during the freezing process.

Thanksgiving Day is just about over and another big holiday coming soon. If you had plenty of turkey or chicken left why not try these CROQUETTES. This will serve 6 to 8. 1/4 cup milk, 1/4 cup stock, 3 tbsps. flour, 3 tbsps. fat, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1 or 2 cups finely chopped turkey or chicken, 1 cup dry bread crumbs, 1 egg slightly beaten, 1/4 tsp. papery, 1/4 tsp. parsley. Divide cooled mixture into 6 or 8 parts. Shape each ball or cylinder. Coat with egg, then with crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat.

Or maybe you would like a salad, using the turkey or chicken. 2 cups turkey or chicken, diced, 1 cup celery, cubed, 1 cup seedless white grapes, sliced, 1 head lettuce, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 1/4 tsp. Accent, 1 tsp. salt, 1/4 cup toasted almonds. Dice turkey or chicken into large or small cubes, add celery and sliced grapes. Mix mayonnaise and seasonings. Sprinkle with toasted almonds. Serve on shredded lettuce.

Tiny Yule Trees Dress Up Home

Tiny, whimsical Christmas trees that you make yourself can do a great deal to dress up your home during the holidays.

The greatest fun in making these miniature trees is in dressing up the ideas for them yourself. But, here are a few ideas for trees to get you started thinking in the right direction.

Christmas tree balls in graduated sizes can be stacked one on the other by attaching the balls, Christmas seals, tinsel, picture hanging wire.

Funnel or cone shapes (tin or paper) ranging from large at the bottom to smallest at the top can be stacked for a smart effect, too.

At present, about 10 per cent of the land area of the world is covered by ice, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Most American Of Holidays

The very name Thanksgiving conjures up an image of a table heaped with an abundance of different foods. One can almost taste the duck, the turkey, the pig and breathe the smell of steaming hot chestnuts.

This is as it should be, for Thanksgiving is the day to remember the special blessings we as Americans enjoy, and surely one of them has always been a plenty of food. In this respect, Thanksgiving is the most American of our holidays.

For chestnuts are that most tables across the nation are set almost exclusively with foods that were known to the Indians long before the white man came and which they taught settlers to use.

They range from the traditional turkey, potatoes (white or yellow), different kinds of beans, cranberries, squash, pumpkin and corn right through to the after-dinner tobacco.

Other grown-in-America foods are apples, chocolate, pineapple, avocado, peppers and various nuts.

To be really authentic, our menus should include these dishes which the Pilgrims also enjoyed: Pigeons, partridges, venison, fish, clams and oysters. Our turkeys should be wild, and stuffed with chestnuts.

Speaking of the noble bird, our domestic store-bought fowl are not descendants of the Pilgrims' bird but are immigrants from Europe of a stock which was developed by the Aztecs and was carried over from Mexico by the Spaniards. So the turkey is doubly American.

It originally got its name from confusing it with the guinea cock, a bird that was raised in Turkey. (In Turkey, the turkey is known as "the American bird.")

There is probably one further similarity between a modern Thanksgiving and that of the Pilgrims: Undoubtedly more than one of the partakers of that first feast staggered away from the groaning board absolutely convinced that he would never want to eat another morsel in his life.

This, while his good wife sat with head on hand contemplating a monumental clean-up job and what to do with the leftovers.

80 MILLION BELLS, AND ALL'S WELL

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Kei Wan has been "tagged" in the eternal game of religious idealism. Editor Glen Ferriss says she proves that miracles still occur. He calls her a Chinese Cinderella. Send for the booklet below to help "tag" the coming generation, too.

CASE D-416: Kei Wan Yin, aged 22, is a Chinese girl. And the reason I use her case today is because it illustrates what I refer to as a world-wide game of "religious tag."

For our moral progress has been due to the fact that devout mothers and fathers, clergymen, teachers and Boy Scout leaders, have "tagged" each new crop of children.

Why do literally millions of Sunday school teachers get out of bed on blizzardy winter mornings to go down to a neighboring church by 9:30 and implant idealism in a group of toddlers? Because those teachers, when they were youngsters, also were "tagged" by similar unselfish teachers!

So this "religious" tag is very similar to the playground game of ordinary "tag."

Kei Wan had served as an interpreter in a Mormon Mission in Hong Kong.

She had only a limited knowledge of English so she could not qualify as an exchange student.

But she had faith that somehow the impossible would be accomplished by a modern miracle.

And it was. For out in Roy, Utah, were a generous couple named Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Russell.

They were "tagged" with religious idealism by a missionary.

So they just passed along the "tag" by going to the assistance of Kei Wan.

Now this Chinese girl plans to enter Weber College, which is one of America's fastest growing schools.

Kei Wan says she hopes some day to be able to help others as the Russells have so kindly aided her.

So Kei Wan is simply planning to "tag" others and thus continue this unbroken chain of moral idealism.

When I address dental and medical conventions, I urge those doctors to "tag" top-notch young high school graduates.

"Pick the cream of the crop," I suggest. "Then try to 'sell' them on your own profession till they resolve to enter dental or medical college."

"For, unless we continue this job of recruiting new leaders for science and morality in each new generation, the whole fabric of moral society may fall apart."

Ask yourselves, as you read this column today: "Have I ever tagged anybody with enthusiasm to help make this world a better place?"

And if you haven't, then get into action quickly!

God didn't put us down here in this classroom in His Cosmic School System, just to mark time.

Nor are we here just to consume ice cream and cake or build beautiful homes, to gloat over.

We are not the end of human creation, but are supposed to become links in an eternal chain of moral progress.

So see if you can tag a youngster with the ambition to go onward and later tag the youth of his generation with similar idealism.

Discuss this idea of "religious tag" at Sunday School this week.

And send for my booklet "How to Perk Up Sunday School," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Letters

To The Editor

Editor: The Herald
I would appreciate it if you would print this letter so that the 101 persons who signed a petition asking for improvement to Route 46 between Wilson's Corner and the Wekiva River can have the following facts:

I wrote, in July of this year, to the Commissioner of Roads, Mr. John R. Phillips, requesting repairs to this section of road and received a reply from Max A. Brewer, Titonville, stating that Route 46 was a secondary road and would have to be recommended for repair by the County Commission. I spent almost a month getting the users in this area to sign a petition to present to the Commission and upon presentation found that Route 46 is a primary road and does not have to be recommended by the Commission but is the responsibility of the State Road Department. However, the County Commission stated that they had recommended improvement to this road, by the State on several occasions. On receiving this information, I wrote these facts to Mr. Brewer and received the following answer from him:

Dear Mrs. Gallagher:
Re: State Road 46.
"This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of Nov. 5, 1963 in regard to the improvement of the above road. I am very sorry, and you are correct that I misinformed you in my previous letter of July 22, 1963, in that State Road 46 is a State Primary Road and, therefore, reconstruction or improvement of the same could be done either with primary funds or could be done with secondary road funds if the County Commissioners will approve same. "The budget for this fiscal year which terminates July 1, 1964 has already been approved and published, and this road was not included in the budget. In March of 1964, we will have a budget hearing for the fiscal year and I assure you that your request for the improvement of Route 46 west of Sanford between Wilson's Corner and the Wekiva River will be given consideration at that time.

Very truly yours,
A. Max Brewer
The above frankly says nothing except some consideration will be given and it certainly seems strange to me that such a dangerous three miles of road cannot have attention for almost another year. I am sure that anyone using this section will agree with me that it is a disgrace to the State of Florida.

New Bridge System

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New bridge books are just about as common nowadays as new cook books. Both contribute to our society.

Thanks mainly to such publications, America is the only country in the world where a housewife can burn the roast and go down three tricks on a cinch slam hand simultaneously.

The latest bridge book to come to my attention is a bit unusual in that it was written by a practicing bureaucrat. Its title is "New Dimension Bidding in Contract Bridge" and its author is John E. Duncan, one of the District of Columbia commissioners.

If Charles Goren wants to write a book entitled "How to Run the District of Columbia," I'll be glad to give him equal time.

Duncan has devised a new system of bidding which he feels is superior to the Goren point count system that is widely used in this country.

Possibly Goren, in retaliation, could be persuaded to take a crack at improving traffic conditions around here.

As I understand it, the Duncan system is based largely on the so-called "artificial" bid. And as I understand that, an artificial bid is a bid that is totally unrelated to the cards in your hand.

Oftentimes that happens when the bid is not artificial. But when it is done artificially, it is intentional.

What I don't understand is why the commissioner calls his system a "new dimension." My bridge crowd has been using artificial bidding for years.

Only ours is sixth dimensional. We employ, in addition to hearts, spades, clubs, diamonds and no trumps, a bid known as "oops."

For accuracy in bidding, it can't be beat, for it permits the bidder to rectify a mistake. That, of course, is the main weakness of other bidding systems. Once you have made a bid there is no way to weasel out of it.

Let us assume, for example, that your partner has opened with one spade and you have raised to two diamonds. Partner then jumps to three spades, making it obvious that your two-diamond response was a mistake.

Therefore, when it comes your time to bid again you bid "three oops."

This gives partner the option of either standing firm on three spades, going on to four spades or dropping back to two spades.

If partner is smart, however, she will jump up from the table and exclaim "I think the roast is burning."

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Trade With Russia

The "boycott" of trade once offered to the West by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev haven't yet quite reached those proportions.

But the volume of East-West trade, which hit $4.5 billion last year, is headed for a new record this year and is enough to cause the United States concern.

It also carries with it the possibility of opening up a new rift among the already-bickering Western Allies.

U. S. concern, which is being expounded in Europe this week by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, is based on two counts. One is the growing temptation, notably among Britain and some of the smaller NATO nations, to reduce the list of strategic materials now embargoed against sale to the Soviet Union and its satellites.

The other deals with the long-term credits being granted in some cases to the Soviets. The United States holds that these credits not only underwrite the Communist economy, they also permit the Soviets to continue to build up a war machine which some day may be used against the West.

The United States believes credit should be limited to five years with at least a 20 per cent down payment.

Russia's huge grain deals, including the $250 million wheat agreement with the United States, have helped to focus attention on trade with the Soviet bloc but they are not at the seat of the argument.

The deal for U. S. wheat presumably is one-shot and is for cash.

Meanwhile, Russian agents have been on a real buying spree.

They want not only Western industrial goods but Western know-how as well.

The Russians are buying entire plants with which to produce fertilizer. They are buying ships from Italy, Sweden and Japan and pulp mills from Finland.

From Britain they have ordered plants and machinery. With West Germany, the Soviets have closed deals for construction machinery, box cars and synthetic fiber plants.

Under an agreement with Italy, Russia will ship large amounts of oil in exchange for machinery and chemical equipment.

Germany is extending its system of economic missions throughout the Soviet bloc in the interests of expanding trade but agrees with the United States on the need for limited credit. France also is in general agreement and especially is not interested in Soviet barter schemes.

The argument for expanded trade is that it will strengthen diplomatic ties and weaken Communist revolutionary zeal. The argument against it is that in Soviet hands trade is as much a weapon as a rock-er.

A Town Can "Die On The Vine" Tool

Begins when people start to buy out of town and invest their money away from home.

Financial institutions such as banks and savings and loan associations no longer have these dollars available in the form of loans to help people buy a home or car, improve a home, help a merchant carry better stock, finance farm machinery or for a hundred other uses. Business slows down, young people leave for greener pastures. A town withers, then dies. It's happening all over America.

Today, nothing ever paid greater dividends or more handsome returns than loyalty to your community. Buy at home and save at home. That's the way to keep our future as it should be, bright.

Beatrice Christian Visits Sanford Kin

By Robert B. Thomas Jr.

(Ed Note: The following article was written by Theresa Beam, formerly of Oriedo and now of Yanceyville, N. C. She titles it "My First School Superintendent.")

Theresa Beam

After I matriculated at Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., I taught mathematics at Hungerford School, Eatonville, and Florida Normal School, St. Augustine.

After spending five years at the above named schools Supt. T. W. Lawton succeeded in getting my father, P. B. Boston, to persuade me to become principal of Orange Academy at Oriedo.

Mr. Lawton said that he wanted me to be a principal of a public school. Mr. Lawton was very kind and sympathetic. He warned me to be careful about discipline of the large boys since I did not weigh but 96 pounds. I was very anxious for my pupils to have for their motto "excellence in each subject." For the most part the pupils lived up to my expectations.

I invited Superintendent Lawton to visit my pupils each month and observe the work. He accepted my invitation, and said that he found it a pleasure to visit us often. I believe one reason why the teachers and pupils did very good work was because we had wonderful co-operation from the parents.

Even though many of the parents knew me from babyhood they gave me money to purchase everything that we wanted for the school. We bought a fine new piano among other things and I trained the young choir for music programs. Mr. Lawton had studied music at Rollins College, Winter Park, so he was always glad to attend my concerts.

I shall always remember the helpful advice that I received from Mr. Lawton my first year as principal of a first-teacher school.

After I finish directing various types of workshops and music festivals, I relax by looking at Perry Mason on TV and remember my first school superintendent.

shears Jr. and paternal grand mother, Mrs. Leslie Thomas. Relatives attending from DeLand were Frederick and mother, Dr. E. W. Sharpe; Stanley Karl and mother, Mrs. S. W. Dix.

Visiting in our city recently was Mrs. Thelma Knight Evans and children of East Lansing, Michigan.

Members of the H-Y and Tri-H-Y of Crooms High attended services at Antioch Missionary Baptist Church of Oriedo last Sunday morning. Accompanying the group were Mrs. Altamase Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Holloway, W. A. Ashley and Mrs. D. A. Thomas. At 11 on Thanksgiving morning, the Tri-H-Y will present a special Thanksgiving program at the Good Samaritan Home for its residents. Rev. and Mrs. Harold B. Whitehurst attended the First South Florida Baptist Association in Kissimmee.

Mrs. Whitehurst served as minister of music. The association choir is composed of members of the churches of the host city. The performance by the choir was most gratifying, according to Mrs. Whitehurst. She was given a handkerchief shower in appreciation for her unselfish devotion to duty. Rev. Whitehurst is second vice moderator of the association. He served faithfully during the entire session.

VFW Conducting Safety Program For Bicyclists

Nothing brightens a boy's eyes like seeing a bicycle under the Christmas tree. The gleam of bright new paint, the shine of metal spokes and the flash of handle bars are reflected in his eyes.

As a parent you should make sure that the bike that you buy him has all the equipment that he needs—not the flashy accessories that impress the kid next door, but the basic safety equipment required for safe bicycling. He also needs to be told or reminded — about bike riding rules.

One way to do this is to see that the child participates in a national safety program being conducted by the V.F.W. Their posts throughout the country are conducting this program in conjunction with the National Safety Council. The local V.F.W. posts distribute free reflective tape to some four million youngsters in 1953 for use on their bicycles.

In addition, the V.F.W. is continuing a program to check the brakes, lights, handle bars, and tires of individual bicycles to make sure they are safe. They also check the ability of each youngster to handle his own bike.

Your child can have many hours of safe fun on his bike if he will just remember these basic rules.

Obey traffic laws, signs and signals.

A good bike rider always stays on the right and rides with traffic.

Always ride single file and in a straight line, never zig zag.

Night riding is always dangerous and should be avoided. If the child has to ride at night, for some reason, be sure that the bike is equipped with light, reflector, reflective tape and see that the child wears light-colored clothing.

Jerry Lewis Down But Not Out Of TV

By Alex Freeman
ABC-TV's cancellation of Jerry Lewis' Tver confirmed our tip of many weeks ago, but unhappy as this columnist was with the show, I can't help feeling sorry for Lewis. He's alternating between blasts at the network and tears — real ones — which he sheds at the drop of a sympathetic smile.

Tonight Show" earned him a strong industry reputation, which was smashed in a few months with Lewis. But Johnny Carson won't feel sorry for him. Carson's decision to go with Lewis came after weeks of dealing, but the first Carson heard about it was when Perry handed in his two-week notice. Further, Carson got a real shock when Perry decided to leave the show a week earlier than he promised. "Johnny,

I'm really tired and I need and deserve a rest before going to California," he said. Lewis isn't through with Videoland by a long shot. He'll be back as soon as he can figure a good format, because Jerry can't take defeat in anything. When he comes back, five will get you ten he's the same blustering, run-anything, insincerely modest lad he is right now.

Wolpers' future holds a sideline seat at the birth of a movie. In this case, "The Cardinal." Wolper and the movie's producer, Otto Preminger, have worked very closely to put together what must be an excellent entertainment. Hollywood's gossip mill is touting "The Cardinal" as an extra-special good bet for an Academy Award. . . . Susan Strauberg has her heart set on a handsome young actor, who is her constant escort in New York. Her problem is that the actor's wife digs him too, and she thinks he's studying in Europe. Brett Haley, of TV's erstwhile "Follow The Sun," is in hot water around California. His first wife, now wed to a lawyer, plans to take him to court the minute he sets foot in that state. She wants the courts to make him cough up for their two children.

Eddie Fisher's reason for not getting a divorce from Lis Taylor is a very good one. If he files without her consent, he won't get a cent of her "Cleopatra" loot, according to the deal they made while still happily married. Lawyers for both are trying to work out a settlement which would allow Lis to keep a bigger share than the 50 per cent called for in their agreement. . . . If it's TV violence you like, watch for a "Route 66" segment called "It's a Long Way From St. Louis."

Statements Released On Charter Election

By Don Cristoforo
Members of the North Orlando Village Council, questioned this week for individual opinion on Mayor W. W. Anderson's proposal to hold a special election to name a five-man citizens' charter board, today released the following statements:

Mrs. Irene Van Koppel: "I feel that this matter should be left entirely in the hands of the people. If they wish changes in the charter they can petition for the election of a charter board. I, personally, have encountered one change I feel would be desirable. . . . I feel it would be a great benefit to change that section of the charter which limits us to making arrests to the village and county."

Bob Stephenson: "I am not in favor of a charter board. It would not benefit the community. As I see it, it would only benefit certain individuals. At one time we had a group of citizens go through the charter. Their findings did not turn up anything derogative with their answer submitted back to the council."

Art Rhodes: "Reading the mayor's announcement in the newspapers was a surprise. I did not know it was going to be done, especially since we already have a charter board. After the March elections, the first thing we did was to appoint a charter board. They went through the charter while the legislature was in session. The committee reported that the charter is a good time such as the Recreation Area, for instance. "Lawyers have told us that as long as the charter is in the hands of residents, it is a good charter. If money is to be spent, I feel it should benefit the majority of the people."

Public Hearing Set By Council In Longwood

By Donna Estes
The Longwood City Council will conduct a public hearing at 8 p. m. next Monday in the City Hall on a proposed amendment to the general zoning ordinance which would permit Tru-Juice Products, Inc., a fresh fruit juice company, to locate at the corner of E. Lake Avenue and Sandalwood Springs Drive.

President of the Orlando company, William R. Creeden, has advised council that his firm wishes to build a two-story plant adjoining the east side of Atlantic Coast Line tracks which would employ an estimated 60 persons for nine months of the year.

Objections to the zoning amendment which would allow the town to get another new industry, if any, will be heard Monday night for council consideration.

"There are things more important which will interest the majority of the people at this time. The committee reported that the charter is a good time such as the Recreation Area, for instance. "Lawyers have told us that as long as the charter is in the hands of residents, it is a good charter. If money is to be spent, I feel it should benefit the majority of the people."

Arthur Ferrin: "We were not notified by Anderson that he was going to release this matter to the newspapers. He did it all on his own. "After the election last March, a resident of North Orlando, Frank Gore, and a group of other citizens studied the charter and reported to the council that there is nothing to be concerned with. "I believe it will be a waste of time and money for the people. We have had it in the hands of several attorneys and they all said it is a good charter as long as it is in the hands of people elected."

"The lawyer who prepared this charter had nothing to do with North Orlando and did not write it for personal benefit. "I am very surprised at Mayor Anderson releasing this to the papers. If such a charter board is found necessary, a qualified man to lead it would be Frank Gore, a man with previous experience with the charter."

Lady, who, if elected probably will be the youngest mayor in the state, had not released a statement or photograph to The Herald before today's deadline. He has served one term, from 1960 until 1962, on the Board of Aldermen.

Anstey, a newcomer on the political scene in Casselberry, has been a resident of the town for the past four years. A member of the Volunteer Fire Department and first aid instructor, he recently was cited for quick action in application of direct breathing to help save the life of an infant David Kenneth Hamill.

Altamonte To Vote Tuesday

Altamonte Springs voters are slated to go to the polls next Tuesday to elect a mayor and council representatives from Ward One and Ward Two.

Only candidate in the election facing opposition is incumbent Mayor Lawrence Swofford whose opponent is G. W. "Jerry" Tetrault. Bunning for the Ward One post is incumbent Keith L. Nixon while newcomer Robert E. "Bob" Newell is the only candidate out for the Ward Two post.

Swofford is an experienced public official having served four years as county commissioner, four terms on the Altamonte Springs council and five terms as mayor of the town.

He lists a five-item platform: (1) to work for a complete new charter and a complete planning report to assure orderly development of the town; (2) to endeavor to keep taxes equitable and at a minimum; (3) to work for beautification of the entire municipality with emphasis on the SR 436 area as soon as four-laning is completed; (4) to begin work, as soon as engineering plans are completed, on the streets and drainage improvements program and (5) to establish an adequate fire department to protect property and assure a reduction in insurance rates.

He cites an accomplishment under his administration the new $350,000 municipal water system to be financed solely by water revenues; the purchase of a new Easy Pack garbage truck; start of the streets and drainage project and, in recreation, the building of a Little League Baseball field, appointment of a Citizens Recreation Committee and the taking of initial steps for the new Recreation Building.

Tetrault has advised that if elected mayor he feels his first consideration should be for the safety of the lives and property of the people pointing out that he thinks the fire department is in desperate need of improvement, of manpower, equipment and supervision.

He further states that he feels there is a great need for better organization of town records stressing the fact that information should be readily available to the clerk and tax collector to avoid unnecessary time loss and delay to the public when information is desired.

He advocates a closer relationship with civic clubs, social organizations and churches and says that many improvements can be made for the welfare and beautification of Altamonte Springs.

Nixon, who has served on the council for the past two years as finance chairman and mayor pro-tem, describes himself as being "conservative by under his administration the new $350,000 municipal water system to be financed solely by water revenues; the purchase of a new Easy Pack garbage truck; start of the streets and drainage project and, in recreation, the building of a Little League Baseball field, appointment of a Citizens Recreation Committee and the taking of initial steps for the new Recreation Building.

He is employed at the Commercial Bank in Winter Park where he is assistant vice president in charge of the installment loan division. He presently is taking a graduate course in business and banking from the University of Virginia.

Newell, whose only promise is "to perform to the best of his ability as a councilman," presently is serving as chairman of the Citizens Committee to plan the town's new Recreation Building.

He is in business in Altamonte Springs and is an active member of the Community Chapel where he serves as chairman of the board of trustees. He works with Boy Scout Troop 38 and is vice president of the Altamonte Springs Little League.

As the father of five children, he says that he is especially interested in all organizations and plans of the town which benefit the young people.

Overman, a general building contractor, has served on the board for the past two years. He has been a property owner in Casselberry for the past 11 years and lives with his wife, Betty, at 1047 Crystal Bowl Circle.

A former building inspector for the town, he is a disabled veteran of World War II and is a member of VFW Post 10050 and of American Legion Memorial Post 256.

In a statement to the Herald, he "promises the citizens that if returned to office he will advocate honest and intelligent consideration of problems as they arise and will represent them to the best of his ability, working for the advancement of the community, not just one day of the month, but every day."

He continued, "I have been your alderman for the past two years and in the last year alone have attended more than 40 meetings of the board on your behalf."

Howard, also a member of the board for the past two years and a former member of the zoning board, has been a resident of Casselberry for eight years and presently lives at 505 Queen's Mirror Circle with his wife, Lois, and their five year old daughter, Maurice Ann.

He is a masonry contractor by trade and is active in civic organizations in the community. He is commander of the VFW Post and is a member of the American Legion and Volunteer Fire Department.

Nine Seek Election In Casselberry

By Jane Casselberry
Annual municipal elections will be held in Casselberry next Monday to elect a mayor, two aldermen, a clerk and a marshal. Running for mayor are Carl Stoddard, Rohn Lady and Owen Anstey; for aldermen, incumbents Cliff Overman and George Howard and newcomers, Elton Bennett and C. S. Magill.

Mrs. Mary Hawthorne, candidate for clerk and Gus Sawyer, candidate for marshal, are unopposed.

Stoddard, who served as mayor of Casselberry in 1962, is a retired civil service employee. He has lived in the town for the past four years and is active in many community and civic activities.

He has devoted much time to the organization of civil defense in the area. He is a member of American Legion Memorial Post 256 and is on the credit committee of the Casselberry Citizens Credit Union.

Lady, who, if elected probably will be the youngest mayor in the state, had not released a statement or photograph to The Herald before today's deadline. He has served one term, from 1960 until 1962, on the Board of Aldermen.

Anstey, a newcomer on the political scene in Casselberry, has been a resident of the town for the past four years. A member of the Volunteer Fire Department and first aid instructor, he recently was cited for quick action in application of direct breathing to help save the life of an infant David Kenneth Hamill.

He is a member of the Florida State Firemen's Association, Veterans and of the American Legion. He is employed as manager of Cordray Inc., an electronics firm.

He promises to operate the town in a business like and progressive manner without partiality; institute a local beautification program; expand the recreation program and facilities and work to further industrial potentialities.

Overman, a general building contractor, has served on the board for the past two years. He has been a property owner in Casselberry for the past 11 years and lives with his wife, Betty, at 1047 Crystal Bowl Circle.

Candidate Gives Statement
By Donna Estes
Longwood Council Candidate Joe Dean today issued a statement to the press concerning his opinion on Sunday hours and extended daily hours for the sale of intoxicating beverages in the city. Dean said:

"Contrary to the way it was reported, I did express an opinion on the forthcoming referendum to appear on the Dec. 3 ballot concerning Sunday sales of beer and the 2 a. m. closing of taverns.

"I said the alcohol question should be settled by popular vote. The referendum should contain a definite final and binding conclusion, not a suggestive referendum. "It is not Democracy when six men have the right to tell the majority of the voters if they vote correctly or not. If the town charter demands that council must make any change in the city ordinance, regardless of the express will of the people, then the charter should be changed."

He and his wife, Zeta, live at 741 Seminola Boulevard. Sawyer says, if elected, he plans to continue a safety program for the protection of school children who are loading and unloading in the town as well as providing police protection for citizens of the community.

He told the Herald that, if elected, he would like to see additional recreation facilities and expansion of the police force. He said that he "will put up a good fight for election and will stand up for what is right if elected to the board."

Christmas Parade Scheduled For Wednesday

The 14th annual Christmas parade will be held in Sanford Wednesday, starting at 8:30 p.m. The theme for this year's parade, "Christmas Under the Sun," promises to inspire paricipants in getting original ideas for floats. The annual event is sponsored by the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce and is staged by the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees and this year's parade promises to be bigger and better than ever with over 100 units scheduled to participate.

Bands from Seminole High, Lyman, South Seminole Junior High, Crooms Academy, DeLand, Daytona Mainland, Leesburg, Eustis, Winter Park and Jones High are slated to march in the parade.

First and second place trophies will be awarded floats in the following categories: Commercial, junior civic, schools, senior civic, and religious organizations. Many city and county dignitaries have been invited to ride in the parade.

The judges stand will be located at First and Magnolia. Starting point for the parade will be First Street and Sanford Avenue with all units other than bands lining up to Sanford Avenue; breaking down East First. School buses will unload and load the bands at East Second Street and from there they will be funneled into the parade at regular intervals. The parade will continue down First to Oak; south on Oak to Fourth; east on Fourth up on East Second. Each unit will be mailed information concerning its location in the line-up and a map of the parade route prior to the parade date.

Dave Klingensmith is general parade chairman and David Berrien will be parade marshal. Jack Ludwig will be in charge of crowd control; Wendall Davis, judges and dignitaries; DeWitt Matthews, transportation; Ronald Ross, the Jaycee Santa float, and Harold Chapman, publicity.

Jimmy Jones and Jim Wade are chairmen in charge of selling balloons and peanuts at the parade with the proceeds to the Jaycees' annual project of taking children from the Lutheran Haven in Slavia Christmas shopping.

Homemakers Can Use Help

Harried homemakers need all the help they can get during the holiday season. One way a thoughtful husband can lend a hand without lifting a finger is by presenting his wife with a new automatic electric range just before Christmas.

With its automatic timing and accurate heat controls, a new electric range will save her from constant pot-watching and those tiresome treks to the kitchen to make sure everything's all right. It'll also assure her of consistently good results.

Christmas dinner cooked in a new electric range with two ovens will be just as lavish and succulent as Grandma's used to, but Mother will have far more time to spend with the family instead of in a steaming kitchen.

Those double ovens will be especially handy during the weeks before the holidays—for making pies, cookies and cakes to give as Christmas presents. Baking them in big batches in two automatically controlled ovens saves hours of kitchen time.

Native Materials Good Decorations

Members of the local garden and home demonstration clubs are ingenious when it comes to fashioning attractive holiday decorations from native materials.

The various types of palms supply the raw material for much of their handiwork, with just about every part of the palm coming in for attention.

The spathes from the Queen Palm, erroneously known as the Cocos plumosis, are used plain, painted or varnished for containers for fruit, flowers or Christmas decorations. They are also cut in half and used as background for floral arrangements.

The seed stalks are used plain or spray painted, decorated or woven into attractive epergnes which can be used to hold flowers or Christmas decorations.

The frond of the lowly palmetto is used plain or silvered as background for many arrangements and is made into clever door swags by braiding and spraying.

Fine cones ranging from the large cones of the Longleaf Pine to the small Shortleaf cones are used in many ways either natural or painted.

A lovely wreath can be made from sprigs of podocarpus stuck into rolled chicken wire.

A table sized Christmas tree can be formed by attaching sprigs of Arborvitae into both sides of a tree shaped piece of plywood covered with hardware cloth and decorated with tiny lights.

Clusters of dried China berries which have been sprayed gold or silver also make lovely decorations.

Novel and attractive "flowers" for corsages, wreaths, plaques and arrangements are made from the leaves of Spanish Bayonets or Yucca trees, which are cut in V-shaped pieces, washed, dried and baked in a 250-degree oven for an hour. They are then fastened with florist wire and floral tape. They are used in the natural brown shades or can be sprayed gold.

Tips On Making Own Yule Cards

All you need, to make your own distinctive Christmas cards, is a little artistic talent, lots of spare time, plenty of patience and some scraps of cloth!

If you have these things, then this article is for you. The first step is to select the envelope. It's much easier to cut your cards to fit the envelope than to have to make or even try to find envelopes to fit your cards.

Start with a nice piece of card-weight paper, folded in half so your message can be written inside.

Next, sketch or trace the design you like (keep it very simple) onto a piece of tracing paper. Then transfer the sketch to your card by means of carbon paper. Try to keep the pencil lines light.

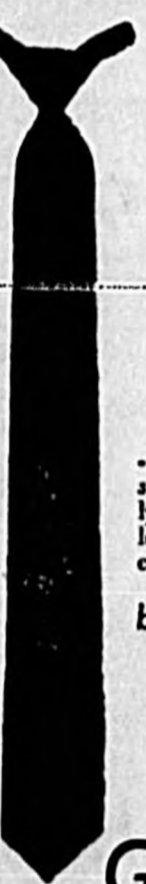

Now you're ready to cut the pieces of fabric that you will paste into position on the card. To do this, use the original design and trace the section you want on the back side of the fabric. Cut out and paste into place.

Small feathers, beads, braids, woven pants, lace and dollies can be used, too. Just make sure that you use a good glue.

Floridans Appreciate Yule Without Snow

It is the custom for many of our visitors from northern climates to bemoan the fact that "It just doesn't seem like Christmas without snow" while they are sitting around soaking up the Florida sunshine and sipping fresh orange juice surrounded by palms and flaming poinsettias.

Perhaps they have forgotten that it was in a land of palm trees and sunshine that the very first Christmas took place.

Floridians enjoy their "Christmas in the Sun," observing the traditional joys of the season with a Florida flair.

The same beloved carols fill the air as the area's many churches welcome the Advent season with special pageants and services. Some of them present manger scenes in front of their churches, using live actors and animals.

Hearst is filled with the "Christmas Spirit" as residents strive to make things a little bit brighter for their fellowmen.

Homeowners go all out to decorate their yards and homes with gay lights and figures or religious scenes.

Local stores will soon be filled with shoppers intent on finding just "the right gift" to please family or friends. Each year the increased selection of beautiful and useful gifts makes the choosing more difficult.

Homeowners try to outdo themselves in decorating for the holidays and preparing all those delicious treats.

Yule Kettles Appear Monday

The familiar Salvation Army Christmas kettles are scheduled to make their annual appearance in downtown Sanford beginning Dec. 2. As in the past, they will be manned by members of the various civic organizations. Participating groups are Pilot Club, Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Sanford Woman's Club, and World War I Veterans, Baracks 463.

Christmas Cards First Designed In England

Today we take the sending and receiving of Christmas cards as a matter of course. Actually, they didn't come into existence until the 19th century. Prior to that, no one thought of greeting friends and family at Yuletide through cards.

It remained for a sixteen-year-old English engraving apprentice, William Maw Egley, to design a card in 1842 illustrating scenes of a formal banquet, a party dance and skaters. Below the illustrations was the legend "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You."

Later another Englishman, Henry Cole, commissioned the artist John Calcott Horsely, a member of the Royal Academy, to paint an illustration which ultimately depicted a Victorian family gathered around the holiday table, in addition to depicting customs of giving to the poor. Cole had lithographed copies of Horsely's work struck off and mailed the cards out in December of 1844.

In 1874, Louis Prang printed the first American greeting cards in his lithograph shop in Boston. These cards were noted for their artistic quality and were sold all over the United States. Thus was begun a holiday tradition which is now an accepted part of the season . . . receiving warm greetings of love and good will through the mail at Christmas time.

Christmas Cards First Designed In England

Local women's groups are now engaged in dressing 108 new dolls secured wholesale by the Salvation Army and fixing up used dolls donated in good condition.

A toy shop will be set up at the Salvation Army's headquarters for needy parents to come in and choose a toy for each child in their family. Many toys are donated by individuals or groups such as the Marine Reserve through their "Toys for Tots" drive and the Seminole High Broadcast Club.

The Salvation Army also has an annual Christmas Party and distributes Christmas baskets to individuals and families in need. "Sunshine" bags are distributed to cheer up patients in the hospital and rest homes, as well as inmates of the city and county jails given out as near Christmas as possible, these bags contain fruit, candy and a useful gift.

Applications will be taken during the month of December from those seeking assistance.

This year the Salvation Army is cooperating with

THREE OF SANTA'S local helpers, Mrs. Caren Gager, Capt. Harry Foden and Capt. Mildred Foden, his wife, of the Salvation Army, are shown wrapping toys in an effort to see that no child is forgotten this Christmas.

Clearing House Set To Aid Yule Needy

By Jane Casselberry
The Salvation Army and Sanford Elks Lodge No. 1241 are co-operating this year in an effort to establish for the first time a clearing house to aid all local agencies, churches and civic clubs in their welfare projects at Christmas time.

A card index will be set up with the name and address of families receiving baskets or other help from local groups to avoid duplication whereby one family might receive aid from several sources and another be overlooked entirely.

The clearing house also will supply information to anyone who might want to give a basket or any other form of help, thereby aiding a family who might not be known to need assistance.

Any organizations planning to aid needy families are asked to submit the names by calling the Salvation Army's local office during the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. between Dec. 2 and Dec. 20. If the names are not in the master file they will be added to it.

If someone calls wishing to help a family or individual, they will be given a name not on the master list and a card will be added to the file.

It is felt that if all the organizations and individuals cooperate to make this clearing house a success, that there can be a more effective distribution of aid to the needy during the Christmas holiday.

Gene Walters is chairman

Barbara Berry Writes Theme

This year's Christmas Parade theme "Christmas under the Sun" was chosen from over 100 entries submitted by school children all over the county.

It was suggested by 11-year-old Barbara Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Berry, Lake Howell Lane, who is a student in the sixth grade at South Seminole Elementary School at Casselberry.

She was presented with a $25 savings bond and will ride in the parade on Wednesday, Dec. 4.

New Baby Dolls Are Performers

The world of dolls abounds with astonishing new talents, all keyed to making it more difficult than ever to differentiate dolls from real children.

Star performers this Yuletide are the new contingent of baby dolls whose behavior almost exactly reproduces the muscular virtuosity of infants and toddlers and most of the human babies, repertoire of sound effects as well.

The muscular activity of the baby is reproduced with fascinating realism by a new infant doll prototype. When this accomplished cherub sucks on her bottle she squirms and wriggles in a manner modeled exactly after real baby movements. There's a doll that laughs when tickled and another that cries when spanked.

A real surprise for even experienced connoisseurs of the modern playroom phenomenon—the doll conversationalist—is a new pram, wired so that when the doll mother pulls a cord the doll in the pram starts chattering without being touched at all.

Another addition to new doll accomplishments in the vocal area is the inclusion of foreign languages in the doll conversational repertoire.

Sugar Plum Tree Will Add To Joy

Be a sugar plum fairy this holiday season. For a Christmas gift any family will enjoy, make a sugar plum tree. It will add a warm, festive note to the Yuletide celebration.

Use a real or artificial tree about two feet tall and hang it with brightly frosted Christmas cookies, garlands of cranberries and tinted popcorn, fruit candies tied with ribbon, and candy-dotted popcorn balls. Top it with a star-shaped cookie agleam with silver candies.

Head of the home economics department of a spice company, packers of spices, herbs, and extracts, suggests that a cookie tree be used as a decoration for the front hall during the holidays. Guests can be invited to nibble on the decorations! (Keep extra cookies on hand to replace disappearing ones, she suggests).

The "goodie tree" is so easy to make that even the children can help. In fact, they'll probably want to. Put them to work stringing the cranberries and popcorn, which go on first. (For extra color, tint the popcorn by sprinkling with diluted food color).

Next comes the popcorn balls. Roll them in cake decorations while still sticky, insert colored pipe cleaners and hook the ends over the tips of the branches.

Next, fix your fruit candy balls. Here's how: grind together 1/2 pound each of pitted prunes, seedless raisins soaked five minutes in warm water, seeded dates, and figs or apricots. Add 1 cup of chopped nuts, 1/2 teaspoon of salt and 1 teaspoon of cinnamon.

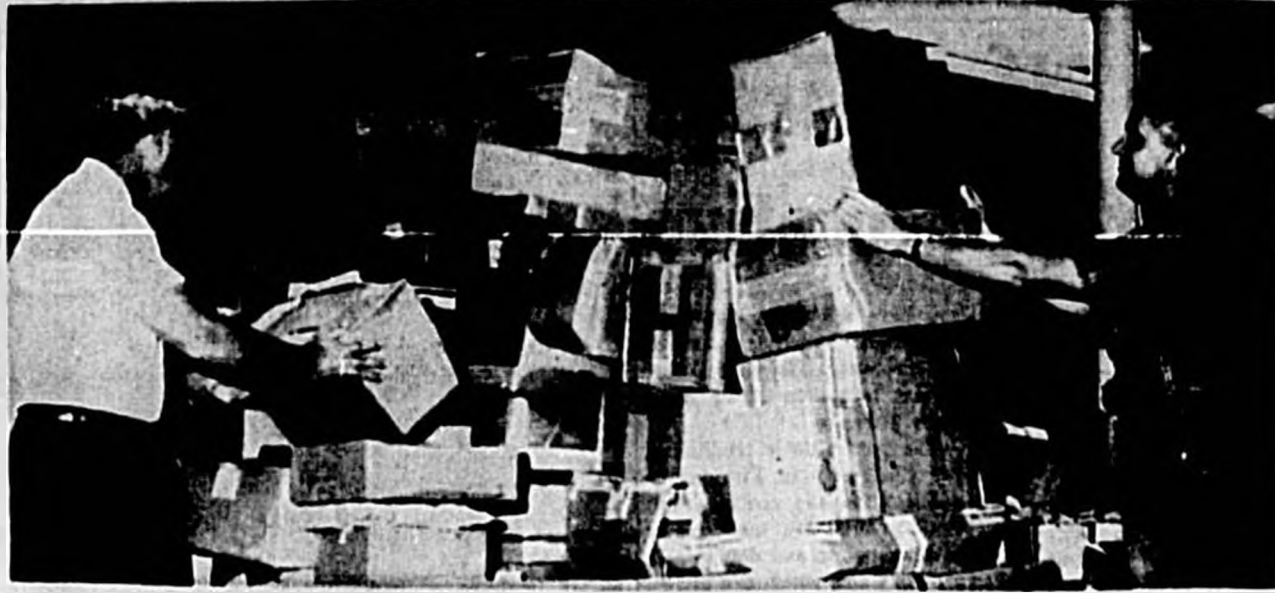

Shape into small balls. Roll in a mixture of 1/2 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Wrap balls in squares of colored cellophane and tie the ends with red or green ribbons and loop to tips of branches.

Now for the cookies and here you can let your fancy roam. Use cookie cutters or make your own cardboard patterns by tracing whimsical animals from children's books or magazines. Place cardboard patterns on the dough and cut around them with a sharp knife.

Before the cookies are popped into the oven, make a hole in each one large enough for the string which will be used to hang it on the tree. When cookies are done, let your artistic talents take over. Decorate them with confectioners' sugar frosting and cake decorations and make them as gay and colorful as your Christmas mood.

MRS. C. E. CLEMMER, president of Grace Methodist Church WSCS, displays some of the attractive Christmas decorations which can be made from native materials. The door awag was made from braided palmetto fronds sprayed with gold by Mrs. Russell Kitner, who will instruct others how to make them at the Advent Festival at the church from 8:30 to 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Area Plants, Trees Can Be Decorative

Many of the plants and trees grown in the area, both native and adopted, are at their showiest at the Christmas season and are widely used for decorating.

The Brazilian pepper, the Ardisia crenata, the Pyraecantha, and the various holly trees all have bright berries.

You are advised not to rush out into the woods and start breaking off branches, though, as the Dahoon Ilex or swamp holly, Yaupon Ilex and Ilex opaca or American prickly holly are protected by Florida law. Their purchase or sale is prohibited by law except by licensed nurserymen or by the owner of land. It is against the law to take them unless you have a written statement of consent from the owner of the property. There is a fine of not less than $1 or more than $100.

The poinsettia is traditional for Christmas in Florida. In addition to the common red variety they are also grown in pink, white and double red. Turk's Cape, which are grown commonly in hedges, have an abundance of red blossoms.

Branches and cones from the native pines are used in wreaths and decorations and short leaf pines are used by many Floridians in preference to the Christmas trees imported from the north.

Arboretums and cedar trees growing in the yards of residents are often decorated as living Christmas trees with strings of colored lights.

Poinsettia Tips For Christmas

Poinsettias, originally introduced into this country from Mexico, have become synonymous with Christmas in Florida.

Particular care must be used in cutting poinsettias for flower arrangements as they will wilt unless the proper precautions are taken to coagulate the milky sap which runs from the stems when they are cut.

There are several methods of treating the stems, all of which must be done immediately upon cutting them.

One method is to dip the end of the stem into melted paraffin. Another is to immerse the cut end in hot water for one minute and then placing immediately in cold water using care to prevent the steam from the hot water damaging the blooms.

A third method is to singe the cut end over a flame for a second or two and then place the stem in cold water.

Poinsettia flowers should be cut at least 18 to 24 hours before they are to be used in arrangements and should be stored in a cool place away from drafts.

MRS. E. R. WOOD, of the Sanford Garden Club, displays some of the clever holiday decorations which she has fashioned. Left, a palmetto frond is the simple background for an arrangement of Christmas balls. The epergne on the right is made from the seed stalk of a palm which has been woven, sprayed and decorated. The permanent wreath in the foreground was created from tin can lids which were cut, sprayed green and decorated with a red bow and small red balls. (Herald Photo)

Good Advice For Toy Buying

Who will use the toys? This question needs careful thought, if Santa's assistants are going to rate good marks for efficiency. Most of the errors in toy buying result from inattention to this basic point.

This advice comes from Dr.

Greeting Cards Also Serve As Practical Use

Those gay Christmas cards that decorated mantel and mirror and tree can serve a practical purpose when you take them down.

That is the best time—and they are the simplest means—for making up your 1954 Christmas card list. If the list is revised now, while new names and addresses are readily at hand, the addressing of cards next Christmas will be almost effortless.

For those to whom maintaining a list is a problem in itself, the card maker offers a number of easy solutions, some of which are available in stores and others hand-fashioned at home.

If your list runs to several hundred people and you must of necessity be meticulous about it, then probably the best system is to post the names and addresses on file cards and index them in a small file box. An advantage of this system is that the cards offer ample space to jot down information about the person and his family as it is received during the year.

For those with shorter lists, the personal telephone directory is a handy reference. A tiny check mark beside a name may be used to indicate that you two exchanged cards the previous Christmas. A second mark could be used for those to whom you send gifts.

Mary Moffit of the Toy Guidance Council Educator Advisory Committee who notes that most inappropriate toy selections are made by harried shoppers who leave the procurement of gifts for the children on their lists to the last minute.

Playthings are vital tools of childhood — the tools which help youngsters to learn by doing, Dr. Moffit noted. The value of well chosen toys as basic aids to child development is so tremendous, that the selection of playthings should merit priority on the busiest shopper's list of activities.

The color and movement of many toys is enchanting to adults, Dr. Moffit notes. This is natural and grownups would be happier if they relaxed more by playing with toys. But this yearning for amusement should not be allowed to conflict with the very real need of children to have toys which are suited to their state of development.

No assistant Santa should be reticent about asking for information about the children on the gift list, Dr. Moffit states. Parents and even teachers can provide very helpful clues to the kind of toys which will fit special interests of individual children.

Safety is a most important rule of toy selection, Dr. Moffit notes, and here, the key is the choice of toy gifts that especially fit the age. The hobby kit that will be fine for a school age youngster will be dangerous in the hands of a kindergartner.

Most care, of course, should be exercised in the choice of toys for the baby. Since everything is likely to go mouthward, it is important to pick playthings which are safe to suck and which have no loose parts which might be swallowed. It is important, too, to remember that toys for baby should be light weight to avoid strain on developing muscles.

Babies are endeavoring to develop their sense of touch, so toys of different textures will be helpful. Musical toys help the cherub to develop his sense of hearing. Doting relatives will be wise to give careful attention to labels and instructions on boxes when picking toys for babies and toddlers as a double check on safety factors.

It is considerate to give thought to where a child lives too. If he has the run of a back yard play space, a garage or a basement playroom, then large scale toys and games will be appropriate gifts. If he lives in a small apartment, space problems will have to be weighed to determine a toy's utility.

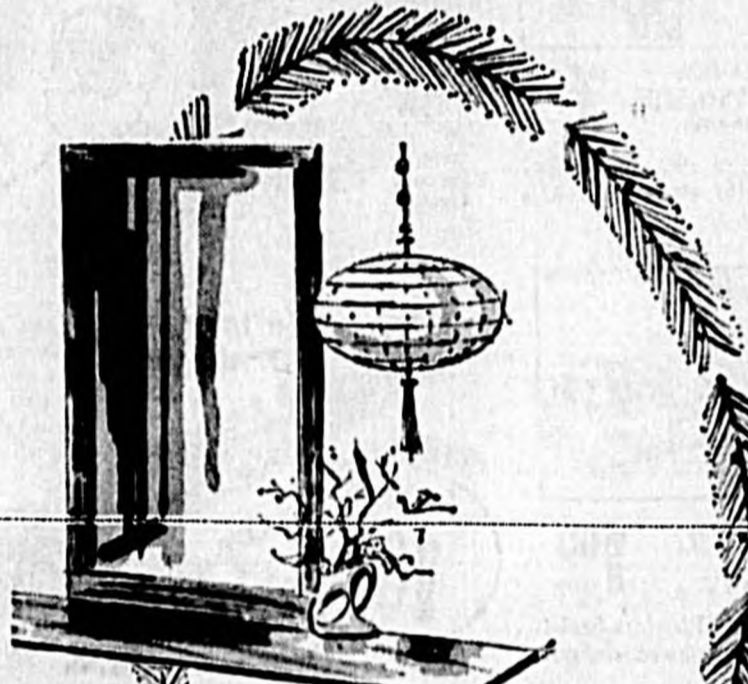

When a large family must be remembered, it may be helpful to give playthings which can be used by different age groups together.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: About six years ago my husband hurt his back in an accident. He wore a back brace for a while, but he quit wearing it because he said it was heavy and uncomfortable. When he tried on an old corset of mine I thought he was slowing, but he wasn't. He wore it to work one day and said his back never felt better. When I saw he was serious, I bought him a new one. It's been two years and he continues to wear a lady's corset. The worst part of it is that he has started to wear nylon stockings, saying it helps to keep the corset down. His doctor has examined him and has seen these undergarments. When I asked him about it, he told me it wasn't any of his business what his patients wore. Should I stop worrying about this?

GRAND ISLAND
DEAR GRAND: There are corsets (without garters) on the market for orthopedic purposes. If it's back comfort your husband wants, he can buy one. As for the nylon stockings, that is where your husband put his foot in it!

DEAR ABBY: My husband is very jealous and

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The time to do your serious thinking about the play of a hand is before you commit yourself to a line of play. Once you get yourself into trouble no amount of celebration is likely to rescue you.

South won the first trick with the ace of clubs and promptly led three rounds of diamonds. His idea was to get rid of his club loser and if diamonds had gone around three times everything would have been pleasant. Unfortunately for South's plan East dropped the nine of hearts on the third diamond.

Now South started to think but the boat had sailed. He still discarded his losing club and ruffed East's club return.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

Why is it so hard for a wife to make a husband understand that:

—She hasn't got a thing to wear, even though her clothes take up three-fourths of their joint closet space?

—Just because she greets another woman with a kiss and "Darling, how marvelous to see you" it doesn't necessarily mean she likes her?

—Because she is quick to see and comment on another woman's shortcomings, it doesn't mean she isn't one of her best friends?

—Because she hates a new fashion he doesn't assume she won't be wearing it next week if all the other women are?

—Because she tells a few best friends everything she hears doesn't mean that she would stoop to gossip?

—Just because she complains a lot about how hard she works for this and that club or organization it doesn't mean that she has any intention of getting out of any of them?

—Because she has set her own age back a few years is no reason why she shouldn't be annoyed when another woman tries to pull the same thing on her?

—Because she tries to be helpful when her husband is at the wheel of the car is no reason for him to accuse her of back-seat driving?

—Just because every time he tries to call her from the office the line is busy he has no right to accuse her of spending half of her time on the telephone?

It is estimated that 7 to 10 per cent of the retail cost of food goes into packaging.

Highlights TV Time Previews

8:30-9:30 p. m. (ABC) "The Cowboy and the Tiger." This year's best entertainment shows seem to be all for children or in the mental age of the average viewer really about 7? and this is a case in point. It's a delightful, original musical fantasy about a young boy whose desire to own a horse leads him to mistake only adopt an affable tiger. The music is a joy and the casting is just perfect and the show stands as a prime example of how to extract the most from what was obviously a limited budget. Jack Gilford's comic tiger is a gentle genius. David Wayne a perfect narrator and plays a multitude of lesser parts to the hilt. Paul O'Keefe is ideal (and he sings charmingly) as the boy, and Nathaniel Frey and Sue Lawless as a bear and peacock couldn't be better. Such songs as "I Wish I Had a Horse," "1,200 Miles," "Need You" and others deserve to become standards. Everyone connected with this one can take a bow.

7:30-8:30 p. m. (NBC) Temple Houston, "Billy Hart" with Audrey Dalton playing an "unfit mother," this is hardly the sort of thing one expects for Thanksgiving. However, now that this series has announced its intentions to produce "lighter fare," this is one of your last two chances to catch one of its mean shows.

8 p. m. (CBS) Rawhide. "Innocent At Confidence Check." There are more angry words than angry physical action in this episode, but Dick York racks up a good performance as a slick conman who thanks good samaritan Gil Favor (Eric Fleming) for stealing his herd's ownership papers and selling the herd in a nearby town. The drovers are arrested and put on trial as cattle thieves when they can't prove ownership, but they're aided by York's pretty companion (Barbara Eden) in joggling the conscience of the real thief.

8:30-9:30 p. m. (NBC) Dr. Kildare. "The Pack Rat and the Prima Donna." No tragic overtones in this episode which mainly settles for good characterization by a fussy doctor (Ed Nelson) who feuds angrily with a supply nurse (Celeste Holm) over her personal musical fantasy about a young boy whose desire to own a horse leads him to mistake only adopt an affable tiger. 8 Cubans Flee Castro Draft

MIAMI (UPI) — Eight Cuban refugees sailed into Miami Thursday, saying they fled their Communist homeland to avoid being drafted into Fidel Castro's militia.

The refugees said they overpowered three militiamen in Cuba Sunday night and stole the 14-foot motorboat they were guarding.

About a half mile offshore, the engine conked out and machine gun batteries on the beach opened fire. But they managed to restart the engine before they were hit.

The Cubans, three men, three children, one woman and a nine-day-old infant, were taken to Miami for routine processing.

A spokesman for the group said they fled Cuba "to avoid being drafted into the militia and government labor forces starting Dec. 1, 1963."

Chinese Reds Bolt Meeting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Communist China, which has continued its attacks on President Kennedy since his death, broke up a Communist-sponsored peace meeting here Thursday by refusing to take part in a tribute to him.

Peking's reaction to the President's assassination has been in sharp contrast to that of Moscow and the Soviet bloc, where the Russians and their allies have offered praise and condolences. The Chinese have given scorn and ridicule.

Two Locations For University In Seminole

The State Board of Control will make every effort to give a final decision next week on the selection of a site for the proposed four-year state university, and possibly the site for an extension of the University of Florida engineering college.

The board already has reduced the original proffered 23 sites in East Central Florida to eight, including the Lake Ada and Lee ranch sites in Seminole County.

Baya Harrison, St. Petersburg attorney and board chairman, informed The Sanford Herald this morning that the "board members have every hope of making a final selection at its meeting next Friday at Boca Raton."

However, he added, the five board members, "still have an open mind" regarding the remaining eight sites in five counties—Seminole, Orange, Brevard, Volusia and Lake.

It was learned today that the five board members were here Tuesday and Wednesday viewing Lake Ada and Lee ranch sites. In fact, they viewed all but the Vero Beach site and will inspect it Dec. 3 en route to Boca Raton.

Harrison pointed out it is because the board still must visit the Vero Beach site that it has not "at least made a tentative final selection."

Sanford City Commission was to meet in special session this afternoon to consider enlarging its commitment for utilities and other services should the state board select the Lake Ada site.

The new university was authorized by the 1963 Legislature, which provided money to start planning the new facility. Last Tuesday, the cabinet budget commission released $100,000 to get planning under way.

Site survey teams worked throughout the late summer and early fall to take on-the-spot looks at proposed university locations in the East Central Florida counties. Later, the survey reports were handed to the board and a staff agenda was started with an eye towards picking the final site.

Action on the site selection was expected to come shortly before noon next Friday if the board keeps to its agenda.

LBJ Pleads For United Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson appealed to the American people in a nationwide broadcast Thursday to "banish racism and malice" so the nation can face its problems united.

The President, in a special Thanksgiving Day speech from his White House office, announced that he had renamed Cape Canaveral, the nation's spaceport, Cape Kennedy, in honor of his slain predecessor.

The idea for the change in name came from Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, who felt it would be a fitting memorial to her husband who had made the nation's space program one of the key goals of his administration.

Johnson also expressed confidence that the tragedy of Kennedy's assassination had bound America together. "A great leader is dead, a great nation must move on," he said. "Yesterday is not ours to recover, but tomorrow is ours to win or to lose."

"I am resolved that we shall win the tomorrows before us. So I ask you to join me in that resolve, determined that from this midnight of tragedy, we shall move toward a new American greatness."

Speaking slowly and solemnly, Johnson said that "a deed that was meant to tear us apart has bound us together." He asked the "help, the strength, the prayers" of the American people, as well as God's guidance.

Praying for a closing of ranks, Johnson said that "we must make our society well and whole for the task ahead." He called for unity in North and South, East and West, free of the burdens of hate and prejudice "we have borne too long."

Despite the sadness of this Thanksgiving, Johnson said, the nation still has much to be thankful for. "Our harvest is bountiful, our factories flourish, our homes are safe, our defenses are secure. We know that our system is strong," he said.

Johnson quoted from Kennedy's Thanksgiving proclamation, issued before his death, and told his countrymen they had passed a great

Thongs Still Visit Grave Of Kennedy

ARLINGTON NATIONAL CEMETERY (UPI) — Mourners by the tens of thousands are wearing a scar of sorrow across the Virginia hillside leading to the grave of the slain President Kennedy.

The pilgrimages of tribute show no signs of abating. Long lines of mourners were waiting at Arlington National Cemetery Thursday even before the gates opened at 8 a. m.

As the day wore on, the lines snaked across the hillside, pausing at the white-fenced grave of the President, and then moving on.

The once-manicured lawn sweeping down from the mansion of Gen. Robert E. Lee at the crest of the hill was turned brown and muddy by thousands of feet.

Military police set up rope guides to handle the throng, some of whom were forced to park their cars a mile from the graveside.

Among the sorrowing was one who brought even the bushest comments of the crowd to an end.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy paid her fifth visit to the tomb of her husband.

Pausing up a family Mass trip to Hyannis Port, Mass., for a Thanksgiving day reunion, Mrs. Kennedy knelt briefly in prayer beside the flower-bedecked grave.

Plane Hijackers Back In Caracas

CARACAS (UPI) — Six young Castro Communists who hijacked a Venezuelan airliner over Bolivar City Thursday were back in this country today, facing the prospect of a trial for their terrorist act.

The six—five teenagers and a girl who calls herself "Major Olga"—were brought back to Venezuela under military guard Thursday night from Trinidad. They were arrested here 13 hours after they had forced the pilot of the hijacked plane at gunpoint to fly them to the former British colony.

They were flown to Caracas and turned over to the political police to be questioned and prepared for trial.

Trinidad's Premier Eric Williams assured Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt that he will not allow Betancourt's foes to use Trinidad as a "trampoline against the Venezuelan government."

The plane and its six non-Communist passengers were returned earlier.

Turkey Thief Dines On Jail Turkey

ELIZABETH, N. J. (UPI) — Charles Smith of Elizabeth, N. J. doesn't care if he never sees another turkey. Smith, 59, had six of them, weighing a total of 71 pounds—when police grabbed him Wednesday near a freight car.

Sentenced to 40 days in jail, he arrived there in time for the traditional Thanksgiving Day dinner.

Reaction At Cape Mixed

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — About 15,000 missile and space workers reported for work today at Cape Kennedy instead of Cape Canaveral.

By an edict of President Lyndon B. Johnson Thursday, America's No. 1 moonport was renamed for his martyred predecessor.

It was a dramatic Thanksgiving Day tribute to John Fitzgerald Kennedy, who gave the Cape its mightiest task—that of sending a three-man team of Americans to the moon this decade—and who defended the dream of space exploration virtually unto the day of his death.

The change hit the Canaveral environs with a mixture of emotion—a heartfelt wish that the slain President be honored in a singularly fitting way, mingled with a reluctance to give up the cherished name that has come to be synonymous with U. S. space achievements.

Jail Turkey Ruby's Fare

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby, self-appointed executioner of Lee Harvey Oswald, ate heartily of jailhouse turkey Thursday and gave his regards to the chief.

Included on the Thanksgiving menu at the Dallas County Jail was cornbread dressing, giblet gravy, green beans and potatoes. For dessert, there was pumpkin pie.

Sheriff Bill Decker said Ruby "ate everything we put before him."

Ruby ate with two other prisoners.

Reaction At Cape Mixed

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — About 15,000 missile and space workers reported for work today at Cape Kennedy instead of Cape Canaveral.

By an edict of President Lyndon B. Johnson Thursday, America's No. 1 moonport was renamed for his martyred predecessor.

It was a dramatic Thanksgiving Day tribute to John Fitzgerald Kennedy, who gave the Cape its mightiest task—that of sending a three-man team of Americans to the moon this decade—and who defended the dream of space exploration virtually unto the day of his death.

The change hit the Canaveral environs with a mixture of emotion—a heartfelt wish that the slain President be honored in a singularly fitting way, mingled with a reluctance to give up the cherished name that has come to be synonymous with U. S. space achievements.

Turkey Thief Dines On Jail Turkey

ELIZABETH, N. J. (UPI) — Charles Smith of Elizabeth, N. J. doesn't care if he never sees another turkey. Smith, 59, had six of them, weighing a total of 71 pounds—when police grabbed him Wednesday near a freight car.

Sentenced to 40 days in jail, he arrived there in time for the traditional Thanksgiving Day dinner.

If you're one of those who didn't feel like eating breakfast this morning just pay up your dues and become one of us.

We won't mention names but one family we know of approached the Thanksgiving food front in a slightly different way. Instead of spending a day and a half in the kitchen preparing the foods for the festivity she did it all in a jiffy.

The menu went like this: frozen turkey, instant potatoes, instant gravies, frozen mixed vegetables, chilled cranberry sauce, instant dressing, frozen candied yams, pre-mixed greens for a tossed salad, biscuits from the freezer, frozen pumpkin and apple pies plus instant pudding and plenty of ice cream. And delicious, too!

The only thing that got a workout was the oven.

On the other hand, another household we know of — Mrs. Roy Williams, wife of Sanford's chief of police — prepared her Thanksgiving bird and then discovered she couldn't get it into the oven. These turkeys are getting larger and larger.

Get your loose change ready! The Salvation Army's Christmas kettles will be placed on Sanford's streets Monday. Ever notice how good you feel when you share with others not quite so fortunate? Try it.

Today's chuckle—She wanted a divorce because her husband was careless about his appearance. He hadn't been home in two years.

Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith reports that a sufficient number of memberships have been subscribed to assure presentation of this season's scheduled programs by the Mutual Concert Association. However, says Mrs. Smith, chairman of the organization's membership campaign, "We still have some memberships available and the sale of these will assist us in meeting our local expenses."

Miss Lillian Kullir, a concert pianist, will be presented in December. The Columbus Boys Choir will be here in January. In February the association will present the Florida International Puppet Show. No individual tickets will be available for these performances.

Wesley T. Place brought in to The Herald office a personally autographed photo of the late John F. Kennedy which was presented recently to his daughter, Mrs. Ronald Sontell, by the President. Mrs. Sontell also has a personally autographed photo of Mrs. Kennedy. These will surely become collector's items in time to come.

In The Herald's top front page story Wednesday, regarding the contract to four-lane SR 430, Douglas Stenstrom should have been quoted as saying that more than 200 hours were spent pushing this program, rather than the "20 hours" as published.

Injured Man Dies In Jail
