

Salvation Army General Arrives In America For Tour Of United States

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 26. (AP) — One of the world's great spiritual leaders, General Albert O. Orsborn, international leader of the Salvation Army, arrived in New York yesterday for his first visit to the United States.

The general, who commands a worldwide army of great tradition serving in 97 countries all over the globe, will also make an extensive tour of this country, Canada, the West Indies and South America.

Like a military field marshal surveying his troops in the midst of attack, General Orsborn is constantly planning the strategy for his army. He is an army whose officers and soldiers, speaking 102 different languages and dialects, encircle the globe from the wilds of Africa to the wastelands of Lapland, from the bush of Australia to the jungles of India. He is the blood and the symbol of the blood of Christ and the purifying fire, marching in the front line of two world wars, giving spiritual and material aid to millions of soldiers.

Civic and community leaders will combine with Salvationists to give General Orsborn a welcome in every city he visits. This is indeed a contrast to the reception given Commissioner George Scott Railton and his little band of seven assies when they landed at Old Castle Garden in New York early in March, 1880, where a crowd of curious and skeptical on-lookers laughed at the courageous group of Salvationists.

Many times Salvationists were imprisoned in the United States as well as in other countries when they sought to hold street meetings. Yet these pioneer workers endured untold hardships in their selfless effort to aid mankind. Today they are loved and respected throughout the world.

The growth of The Salvation Army in the United States in the short span of a little more than two generations is almost unbelievable. Here, General Orsborn's army is divided into four territories, Eastern, Southern, Central and Western, each commanded by a Territorial Commander who has under him colonels, brigadiers, majors, adjutants, captains and lieutenants, each heading a corps of soldiers and volunteers.

In the United States alone, he commands over 5,000 officers giving full-time service. Evangelical centers are found in all important cities, and on nearly every street bring spiritual aid to the churchless masses.

Flash Flood Sweeps Through San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 26. (AP) — A flash flood has inundated streets in nearly every section of San Antonio following a heavy cloudburst last night. Two men were swept away with their car when a bridge washed out, and two children are believed drowned in flood waters this morning.

Emergency squads are rescuing families marooned by rising waters throughout the city. Rivers are still rising and the public service board now fears if the San Antonio River goes up much more, it will inundate the Mission Road power plant. That would leave the entire city without electric power.

War Bride Gets Homesick, Takes GI Spouse Home

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., (AP) — A European war bride who's homesick is taking her husband back with her, in a reversal of the usual order.

She is 17-year-old Madeline Jacobs-Falkenstine who met her husband when he straggled into her parents' bake shop in Maastricht, Holland.

Husband Lawrence Falkenstine is a veteran of the Battle of the Bulge.

Madeline wants to return to Maastricht to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobs, and her 20-year-old brother at the University of Delft.

Falkenstine said he would accompany his wife and try to land a job as a civilian employe of the government in Europe. He was honorably discharged from the army last February and Mrs. Falkenstine came to this country soon afterward.

U.S. Protests Disregard Of Allied Rules

Yugoslavs Disregard Military Regulations By Carrying Concealed Weapons

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The United States government today accused Yugoslavia of disregarding Allied military regulations in Trieste and of spreading mischievous propaganda. The formal protest was signed by Undersecretary of State Will Clayton.

The note acknowledged that American military authorities in Venezia Giulia detained six Yugoslav soldiers on Sept. 9. It added that the Yugoslav soldiers were found carrying hand grenades concealed in their clothing contrary to regulations. The soldiers, about whom the Yugoslav government protested, have since been released.

The note informed Yugoslavia that the arrest was investigated by an American military board of officers, and the board found the action was justified. The note says in part and we quote: "This government desires the Yugoslav government to know that it resents the charges that Allied military authorities took no steps in this matter which they inspired a small 'false' account of the incident, and that it rejects these charges as mischievous propaganda without any foundation in fact."

The note added that Yugoslavia must have been aware at the time its protest was addressed to Washington that the six soldiers already were released.

Sidelights At Nuernberg Trial

NUERNBERG, Sept. 30 (AP)—Hermann Goering and some of the other defendants at the Nazi trial were almost late for the reading of the International Tribunal's summary today. The heavily guarded elevator used to bring the Nazi defendants from their cells to the court room broke down. Nearly half of the defendants were in court when the elevator machinery failed. Workmen hurried repairs and the rest of the defendants reached the courtroom barely one minute before the night judges filed in.

Shortly after noon (Nuernberg Time) the American Army guard standing behind the court's summary proceeded without interruption while the guard lay on the floor three or four minutes before he regained his feet and left the courtroom. The heat from the lights in the crowded room was stifling.

Kettles Pledges Successful Year For Celeryfeds

Coach C. F. Kettles of the Seminole High School football team pledged today that Sanford Celeryfeds at their regular weekly luncheon today that Sanford would win more football games than it would lose this fall, and took full blame upon himself for the loss of the "Easty" game which, he stated, was played too early in the season and before the local team had time to get in good condition.

He also paid high tribute to Spencer Harlan who, he said, played a great game at end in the Gainesville game despite the fact that he was injured in the position and to Willie Anderson who made time for line plays and did some great punting. The score against Gainesville, he pointed out, was 14 to 13 despite the fact that sportswriters had predicted before the game that Gainesville would win by three or four touchdowns.

Sanford still has a chance at the conference title, he said. Eustis can be expected to lose one or two games before the end of the season, he explained, and Sanford may not lose any more. Sanford's position is a big experienced team, however, he concluded, stood the best chance of any to win.

Kettles also said that Grantham also played a great game against Gainesville. In fact, he said, the star player in the game was Grantham's defensive game which has been played by any Sanford man in his two and a half years of coaching here.

Fletcher Hollis, who introduced Mr. Kettles, pointed out the great need for a new stadium for the school, and complimented Kettles for the fine coaching job he is doing. Mr. Kettles laid particular emphasis on the need for new dressing rooms for the football players, declaring that the present showers, rooms are deplorable and entirely inadequate to take care of 150 boys every day in addition to the football team.

Visitors at today's luncheon included Paul Gibbs of DeLand, D. H. McKenna, Gus Lawton and O. L. Taylor of Orlando. President Spitz thanked Rotary committees which had charge of the luncheon, and called a directors' meeting immediately following the luncheon.

Raymond Gwynn Is Injured In Auto Accident

Raymond Gwynn of Oviedo, passenger in a Ford pickup truck which turned over on the Orlando highway near Lake Minnie shortly after midnight, is being kept at the Gerald-Laughton Memorial Hospital to determine possible internal injuries, according to Dr. H. D. Smith, attending physician.

Gwynn suffered severe bruising and excoriations in the region of the stomach, but there is no evidence of shock in spite of the fact that he was brought to the hospital in an unconscious condition, according to Dr. Smith.

Canby B. Kimble of Oviedo, driver of the truck, told State Highway Patrolman L. O. Bender what investigated the accident, that he had been blinded by approaching car headlights. The truck tore down five concrete posts before coming to rest on its side facing north, opposite to the direction it had been moving.

George W. Thomas, driver of a Ford Sedan which collided late Saturday afternoon with a Dodge Sedan driven by Wilbur Davis at the intersection of Mainville and Colony Avenue, damaging both cars, was arrested by police for reckless driving.

FRANK E. MILLER, former resident of this city, died last week at his home in Fort Myers, according to word received here today. Mr. Miller was formerly in the furniture business and at one time headed the Bank agency here.

Forrestal Says Navy To Stay In Mediterranean

Secretary Says Units There To Carry Out U. S. Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Navy Secretary James Forrestal declared today that United States naval forces are in the Mediterranean to help carry out American foreign policy.

Forrestal, in an unusual policy statement, made it plain that the American naval forces in the Mediterranean will be there for some time to come. The declaration was released as the American government indicated full backing to Turkey in that country's resistance to Russian demands on the Dardanelles. It also came as Washington studied means to aid the present Greek government in its struggle with Russian-supported neighbors and hopes for peaceful settlement with Yugoslavia over the disposition of Trieste.

Persons familiar with the reasons behind Forrestal's statement say it was drafted about a week ago and hence is not inspired by the fresh Dardanelles conflict or other current controversies. However, the statement says the American people and foreign governments are of the simplest statements to be made since the end of the war on the reasons and purposes behind the presence of American warships in the Mediterranean. Said the Navy Secretary:

"Today the United States Navy is continuing to maintain forces in the eastern Atlantic and the Mediterranean Sea for the following specific purposes:

"First, to support the Allied occupation forces and the Allied Military Government in the occupied areas of Europe.

"Second, to support the Allied occupation forces and the Allied Military Government in the occupied areas of Europe.

Business Increase Of 27 Percent Is Told By Jenkins

A more than 27 percent increase in establishments of new business in Seminole County other than retail stores is indicated by the fact that during the license year up until Sept. 30, there was an increase of 165 state and county licenses of this type issued, according to Jno. D. Jenkins, county tax collector.

Total licenses issued were 783, compared with 698 last year. Amounts received were $4,587 for the state, $3,300 for the county at total of $9,077 as compared with $7,928 last year—an increase of $2,151 in revenue.

The above figures do not include beverage licenses which are payable to the state comptroller, and licenses for insurance agents which are now payable to the state treasurer as insurance commissioner.

According to state laws enacted in 1941, no person, firm or corporation shall engage in any business, profession or occupation for which an occupational license tax is required unless a State and County license is procured from the tax collector of the county in which the place of business is located, or from the comptroller, or state treasurer.

Half Militarist, Half Gangster Concedes Verdict

Half militarist, half gangster Hermann Goering, former number two Nazi who had been termed by U. S. Prosecutor Jackson as "hall militarist and half gangster," virtually conceded that he is on the way to the gallows, perhaps remembering when he strutted through Germany as a member of the highest Nazi inner circle, Reichsmarschal Goering covers his eyes with a pudgy hand during the trial.

Good Reports By Markets Please State Officials

Wilson Praises New Outlet For Glads At Florida Market

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 30 (Special)—Good reports from the Florida State Farmers' Market today. I have been very pleased to note the present crop situation generally, recently completed general farm market at Bonifay, where a state livestock market, operated heretofore, has continued its activities. I am looking forward to attending the formal opening of this new State Farmers' Market, Nov. 8 and 9. I expect this to be one of the outstanding events of the fall, so far as our markets system is concerned.

"One of the most interesting items among this week's reports from our market managers throughout Florida, came to me from John C. McEwen, manager of the Port Myers market. He stated that 'We will have a cash buyer on the market this season which will deal in gladioli. This buyer tells me he will be in position to pay the highest cash prices for this product from the small grower who does not have an established outlet. This, to my mind, will be of some help to the small gladioli grower.'

"This Port Myers item is in line with efforts we have constantly emphasized for the production and marketing of new crops. While gladioli production has been established in Florida for years, I am particularly pleased with this arrangement to provide an outlet for the smaller producer. This should encourage production and increase receipts. We need more such outlets for new or unusual products, and it is our aim to help in their development where this appears at all practicable.

"Manager Jack Taylor, Jr., of our Palmetto market, reported that crops are growing slow because of rain, but that weather had been favorable the last few days.

"Ideal conditions for transplanting celery, escarole, lettuce and romaine were noted by Manager J. J. Lehman of the Sanford market. A survey of acreage planted in that area is now being made.

HOAG TO MANAGE G-MEN

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 30 (AP)—Myrl Hoag, popular Palatka Azalea manager, during the 1946 season, has been named to manage the Gainesville G-Men next year. He will replace Dick Bass as manager, but Bass remains on the roster. The Gainesville club also announced formal acceptance of a working agreement with the Atlanta Crackers of the South Atlantic League.

Aggressive War Is Supreme Crime, Court Rules

German General Staff, High Command, Reich Cabinet, Nazi Stormtroopers Acquitted; Gestapo And Elite Guard Found Guilty

BERLIN, Sept. 30 (AP)—Two news correspondents from each of four occupying powers will be admitted to witness the execution of Nazi defendants who may be sentenced to death by the International Military Tribunal at Nuernberg. The Allied Control Council made this announcement today. The council is charged with carrying out the court judgments.

NUERNBERG, Sept. 30 (AP)—The International Military Tribunal declared today that the initiation of war is the supreme crime. The summary of the tribunal's findings after a ten-months trial indicates strongly that the 22 Nazi ring leaders will be convicted as charged of conspiring to commit the supreme crime of starting war.

Final verdicts and sentences will be delivered tomorrow when the court concludes the reading of its 100,000 word judgment. The judgment is based upon testimony presented by prosecutors for Britain, France, the United States and Russia. The trial began Nov. 20 of last year. The tribunal described as quite unprecedented the evidence produced on the four main counts in the indictment. The early stages of the reading of the judgment brought out no names.

The tribunal ruled that aggressive war is a crime, that conspiracies existed to wage aggressive war and war crimes and crimes against humanity have been committed.

The court acquitted the German General Staff and the German High Command of last year. The tribunal described as quite unprecedented the evidence produced on the four main counts in the indictment. The early stages of the reading of the judgment brought out no names.

The tribunal rejected flatly the plea of some of the defendants that their acts had been committed under orders from Adolf Hitler.

The tribunal declared in its summary that Hitler could not make aggressive war by himself. He had to have the cooperation of German military leaders, diplomats and business. The summary said that with the knowledge of his aims, the defendants gave their cooperation and made themselves party to the plan Hitler initiated. The tribunal said the fact they were assigned to their tasks by a dictator does not absolve them from their responsibility for their acts.

Dealing with the defense contention that some of the defendants had only carried out orders, the tribunal ruled that a defense of superior orders has never been recognized as a defense to crime. However, the summary noted that a defense of superior orders is considered a mitigating circumstance at the charter of the tribunal provides.

The judgment reviewed the acts of aggression and time after time quoted the minutes of Hitler's secret conferences planning war to show that the Nazi's intentions were clear from the start.

"The tribunal said that in his book, 'Mein Kampf,' Hitler made his views quite plain and that this was no private diary but was known to everyone.

The justices held that the campaigns waged by the Germans against Poland, Denmark, Norway, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Yugoslavia, Greece and Russia were aggressive war. In its discussion of two counts of the indictment relating to crimes against humanity and war crimes, the tribunal listed acts after act. Then it said that the evidence was quite overwhelming of a systematic rule of violence, brutality and terror.

Dealing with the extermination of Jews, the tribunal cited estimates of 6,000,000 killed under Hitler's program. The summary mentioned that the hair of women victims was cut off before

Good Reports By Vandenberg Asks Trade, Shipping Freedom Be Written Into Treaties

PARIS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan today asked the Paris Peace Conference to write freedom of trade and navigation into the treaties for Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary. His proposal brought immediate objections from the Soviet bloc but found support from Great Britain.

The Republican senator made his suggestion in opening the United States' campaign in the Balkan Economic Commission on what is one of the most controversial issues still confronting the delegates.

Russian position on the issue was stated by the Yugoslav delegate, Stanislav Rimic. He declared that peace treaties are not the place to establish a regime for the Balkans.

The draft quota has been raised without explanation. Announcement of the October quota follows closely orders from the War Department to speed up the release of some 300,000 non-qualified enlisted men.

Officials explained however that the Army will save money and gain in efficiency by discharging men who have only a few weeks of training to serve and replacing them with recruits who must serve 18 months.

Meanwhile, volunteer enlistments are continuing to exceed advanced estimates. In the first two weeks of September, 23,229 men signed up for the regular Army. That is nearly as many as had been expected for the full month.

Selective Service headquarters said that reports from local boards indicate that the September quota of 25,000 was met chiefly by men between 19 and 23 years. Officials predict that the increased October quota also will be filled, provided Army physical standards are not applied too strictly.

Another good substitute for the meat which you can't get is the eggs which you can't get either.
 Attorney General Tom Watson says he hasn't the slightest intention of ever running against Claudius P. Pepper for senator. But boy, what a race that would make!
 The Army, hospitals and prisons get priority on meat distribution. The idea seems to be to knock somebody on the head, steal his purse, get yourself thrown into jail, and you can have all the meat you want.
 You can't tell from the testimony so far, whether Henry Kaiser made $18,000,000 building liberty ships, or lost $3,000,000. But it strikes us that is something which ought to be determined before we decide whether he is a war profiteer.
 Time magazine reports a new radio invention which eliminates much of the trouble with them. If not the static, Joseph Conn, who hates commercials, and who worked in the Navy's guided missile program, has perfected a gadget which turns off the radio merely by clapping the hands, turns it back on again in the same way. Thus the commercial may be avoided by clapping the hands.
 Former President Roosevelt, who frequently belabored "the princes of privilege" and the "economic royalists" in his political speeches, left a net estate of $1,085,460, a sizable estate, if you will. The appraisal filed with a Duchess county court reveals. Most of his money was in gilt edge stocks and bonds, bank accounts and New York real estate. And for one who loathed wealth, his was as entrenched as it could possibly be made.

The Jaycees are reported to be considering a plan to raise $2,500 for the improvement of the Municipal Zoo. Long one of the principal tourist attractions in our city, the Sanford zoo has long enjoyed the reputation of being one of the largest and most complete in the state and on Sundays often draws thousands of people from all over Central Florida. For children particularly it has proved a stimulating and pleasant amusement. We hope a way can be found to make it an even better attraction.
 Schools are passing out questionnaires to parents asking them what should be done to improve our schools. Primary function should be to teach children to read, to write, and to figure. The parents of one in a hundred ever learns how to do any of those things. When Henry Wallace gave a copy of his speech to President Truman and asked if it would be all right to deliver it, President Truman said "yes." He read it, but he didn't know what it meant. Then he didn't really know how to read, did he? And if the President of the United States doesn't know how to read, what can you expect of the average student? How to give all children the means by which they can become competent citizens in a democracy is the biggest problem of the day.
 Senator Pepper in his weekly news letter presents a very plausible plan for making a deal with the Russians. We would give them the Dardanelles in return for their agreeing to respect the integrity of the Suez Canal. But, of course, the British don't need any such guarantee with respect to the Suez since they already own it and have for a good many years and are well able to defend it. While to give Russia the Dardanelles would be taking something away from the free and independent nation of Turkey and giving it to a great and powerful neighbor. We have no doubt as to how Turkey would feel about that, and all the other smaller nations of the world. After all, isn't that what the United Nations is for, to guarantee smaller nations against overwhelming aggression?

Heart Disease

About four million people in the United States have some form of heart disease and the number of cases is steadily increasing, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company reports. But when all the facts are clearly understood, it is seen that there is no warrant at all for the common belief that the situation in heart disease is getting out of hand and that the large volume of heart disease is due to our modern way of life.
 "The major part of the increase in heart disease," says the Metropolitan, "simply reflects the rapidly increasing proportion of older persons in our population. In the past 17 years, among the millions of persons insured in the Metropolitan's Industrial Department, there has been an almost uninterrupted rise in the recorded death rate from the disease to a maximum in 1943 nearly 60 percent higher than in 1928. When, however, correction is made for the aging of this population, the 1943 rate was only 12 percent above that for 1928, and the 1945 rate only 4 percent above that level.
 "Changing medical ideas are also factors in the increase in the reported number of deaths from heart disease. Unfortunately, it is not possible to correct the rate for heart disease to allow for this effect, but the fact is that deaths which in earlier years would have been reported as from kidney disease or from apoplectic stroke are now in increasing numbers being ascribed to heart disease, principally because of the changing attitude of physicians regarding the relationship of high blood pressure to these conditions. It is now generally accepted that in most such cases, the heart is the organ primarily affected by increased blood pressure. It is notable that as the recorded death rate from heart disease has mounted, death rates from chronic nephritis (Bright's Disease) and cerebral hemorrhage have declined.
 "When all of these influences are taken into account," the company asserts, "it is doubtful whether there has been any real increase in heart disease beyond what is expected from the increase in the number of older persons in our population. In fact, it is likely that there has been an actual decrease which is roughly parallel to the observed decline in the death rate from the over-all total for diseases of the heart, blood vessels and kidneys. This decline extends also to the older age groups.
 "Altogether, there is little cause for alarm over the situation in heart disease today," concluded the Metropolitan. "Further reduction in the incidence of heart disease among younger persons can be achieved by attacking the preventable causes of the disease. Much can be accomplished also by the early detection and prompt treatment of heart disease. As to the types of heart disease common in later life, it is, of course, impossible to prevent these entirely, but much can be done in the way of postponing their onset and and in slowing down their progress."

Truman's Chances

Is president Truman sure of renomination, especially if Henry A. Wallace runs against him? Past history suggests that elected presidents have a better chance than vice-presidents who entered the White House after the death of their predecessors. Only one elected president was not renominated, Franklin Pierce, who carried every state but four in 1852, mishandled the slavery question and was thought certain of defeat for a second time. After a 17-ballot fight Pierce was replaced by James Buchanan, minister to Great Britain, whose absence from the country in the preceding troublous years made him politically available. Since then no elected president has failed to have his party name him again. Benjamin Harrison in 1892, William H. Taft in 1912 and Herbert Hoover in 1932 were all known to be impossible to reelect, but all were renominated.
 With the vice-presidents who became president it is different. Presidents John Tyler in 1844, Millard Fillmore in 1852, Andrew Johnson in 1868 and Chester A. Arthur in 1884 were all rejected by their parties. If it was any consolation, the men who beat them all failed to win in November. On the other hand Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge were both renominated and reelected.
 Thus the odds are 4 to 2 against President Truman. But the 2 may outweigh the 4, for they are the most recent.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS
 WASHINGTON, (AP)—A "county fair" has started a campaign to provide a $2,000,000 national home and social center here honoring about 100,000 nurses and medical women who served in World War II.
 Sponsored by the Officers' Club of the Army Medical Center, of which Walter Reed Hospital is a part, the fair has set the pattern for similar affairs to be held at service posts throughout the country.
 In addition plans for an intensive national campaign to start Sunday, Nov. 17, have been drawn. The officers and enlisted men of the Army, Navy and Air Force Medical Corps are "softly" behind the nurses in the movement to build them a home. Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, surgeon general of the U. S. Army, says:
 "Those who know the sacrifices and the devotion to duty of these valiant soldiers of mercy will wholeheartedly support this endeavor to establish a practical, living memorial," says Gen. Kirk. Nurses of World War I will also be eligible to take advantage of opportunities offered by the memorial.
 Mrs. Kirk, wife of the surgeon general, who was herself an Army nurse in World War I conceived the idea for the Nurses National Memorial as it will be called.
 She says many nurses are shattered in health and need a place of their own for rehabilitation. Through their years of service many also have lost contact with their former homes and are alone and need companionship and a sense of belonging.
 Mrs. Kirk points out that various gifts may provide:
 Library, $100,000; memorial auditorium, $50,000; dining room, $50,000; main lounge, $25,000; kitchen, $15,000; drawing room, $5,000; sitting room, $1,000; bedroom, $500; service room, $250.
 A typical service room, she explained, would be a small kitchen for the preparation of snacks, coffee, salads and so forth. It would contain electrical equipment and a refrigerator.
 Other service rooms would include sewing rooms with electric sewing machines and wash-rooms with dryer for washing out small items and with ironing facilities.
 Arthur H. Johnson is national chairman of the Nurses National Memorial.

Decontrol Board, Agriculture | Army to loose War-Surplus Department Afloat Teamwork | Control to Civilian Hands?
 Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Despite the conflicts of authority developing from the divided power over price controls in the OPA revival act, a certain amount of teamwork is emerging among government officials.
 There is no immediate threat of an open feud which would break down enforcement of the new law despite the slight disagreement between Price Administrator Paul Porter and Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson over the new meat prices.
 Anderson, who is pretty much an absolute boss of controls on food, has shown an inclination to cooperate with the Price Decontrol Board and OPA.
 The best example of this was Anderson's first list of commodities in short supply.
 Anderson ruled to keep dairy products and meat on his short supply list, thereby allowing the restoration of meat controls and leaving the way open for the Decontrol board to reimpose dairy ceilings.
 But Anderson not only included livestock and dairy products on his list. He went a step further and included the major grains—although the Decontrol board held that there was prospect of an ample supply of these grains. Anderson's action allowed flour and bread to remain under control.
 THE HOUSE SURPLUS PROPERTY investigating committee may recommend to Congress that the disposal of war-excess goods be divorced from Army control and placed in the hands of civilians.
 Rep. Roger C. Slaughter (D) of Missouri, chairman of the committee, indicated the group's opposition to military control of surplus property. He said:
 "It seems to me that there's been too much Army personnel and not enough merchandising personnel in the War Assets Administration."
 WAA is headed by Lt. Gen. Robert M. Littlejohn, who is assisted by numerous Army aides. This list of aides is studied with general interest.
 When Slaughter's committee began hearings on disposal of surplus property, WAA representatives appeared in Army uniforms; they soon replaced these uniforms with civilian attire, however, when the committee's attitude became known.
 DO NOT LOOK FOR MUCH in the way of fireworks from the Senate war investigating committee's hearings on the 42 mortar shells which killed 39 American soldiers in accidental explosions during the war.
 A committee source said the hearings would only last a day or two and would be filled largely with technical testimony.
 Indications are that faulty manufacture of fuses, rather than the shells, caused the premature explosions. The Garson brothers munitions combine was one of the largest manufacturers of the shells, but did not produce fuses. It was reported that the committee might not even call Garson representatives.
 Committee sources declared that because of the technical questions involved little sensational testimony is expected. It also was considered unlikely that the defective fuses could be traced to their manufacturers because of the time elapsed since the explosions.
 HAVE CONGRESSMEN suddenly become bashful? The question was raised when it became known that a private dining room was being fixed up for House members in the Capitol.
 A dining room previously open to Capitol employees and their friends is now being renovated for exclusive use of congressmen only. It is reported that only congressmen will be permitted in the new dining room and that members who wish to take their relatives or friends with them will have to eat in the dining room across the hall.
 One reason behind the change was believed to be the desire of members to be able to get a quick bite to eat while the House is in session.

Memorial committee, Jarrett C. White, architect, has drawn the plans of the building and grounds. (National committee headquarters are at 825 Woodward Building, Washington, D. C. Contributions to the fund for the memorial will be received there. Please do not send them to this newspaper.)

Government Survey Now Times Work On Children's Teeth

By FRANK CAREY
 WASHINGTON, (AP)—If Jhndir has a date with the dentist, here's some solace for him—maybe.
 The U. S. Public Health Service has just completed a study of the average time required for extracting, filling, cleaning and polishing of children's teeth in a group of Philadelphia clinics.
 Believe it or not, the time required for the longest operation is scarcely more than the time required to play an inning of baseball.
 The study, described by Statistician Isidore Altman, was made in six clinics of the Philadelphia Mouth Hygiene Association. It was based on 2,706 routine operations for 1,068 children, aged six to about 15 years.
 Here's the box-score in minutes:
 Tooth-filling—16.8 (with 18.4 minutes required for filling upper and lower molars, less time for all other teeth).
 Extraction of a deciduous ("baby") tooth—9.3.
 Extraction of a permanent tooth—12.5.
 Polishing fillings—11.8.
 Prophylaxis (cleaning)—15.5.
 The report said the clinics were operated for "children in low economic circumstances"—with the kids paying 50 cents a visit for routine treatment.
 The statistician said the times required for various operations were far less than those recorded in two separate studies of private-practice work made previously by other investigators. In those studies, tooth-filling time ranged up to 45 minutes and extracting time up to 27 minutes. Patients having teeth extracted were "young adults."
 But Altman declared the two previous studies were "reported in such a way as to make comparison (with the Philadelphia study) difficult."
 Other findings of the Philadelphia study:
 1. Average time required for filling teeth of white children was longer than that for Negro children—17.2 minutes, compared to 15.1. And extractions for Negro boys took the shortest time. (The report offered no reason for these findings.)
 2. The length of time for extracting a permanent tooth shows a tendency to decrease with advancing age.
 3. Older men among the dentists clocked in the tests "appear to be somewhat more rapid operators."
 Coffee or tea stains on tablecloths will not stain if blotted immediately.

NEW YORK - If you've been mousing around in a tired old suit and a pair of loafers for the last five years, giving patriotism as an excuse, you might as well face the fact that the war is over. Despite all the continuing talk of shortages New York's current outdoor collections are a dazzling spectacle of gorgeous real silk, fabulous embroidery, spectacular evening gowns and elegant afternoon costumes. This season you must look lavish. Sophie shows a collection of evening gowns which have the whole town talking. For the first time since before the war, formal gowns are really gala, lush with silk, tulle, satin and real lace. exquisite handwork is lavished lovingly on them, in the form of any all-over scrolls of appliqued lace or net, painstaking hand-drawn, slashing sequins and jewel-encrusted underlines. Her restaurant and dinner suits also are something to behold. shimmering in make any tired wellflower look like an accomplished character. The elaborate cocktail dresses of the last few seasons. Fira Henson also goes to town with rich silks, using them with restrained skill in a collection of sleek, ladylike and elegant. She clings to the long, slim silhouette, fabric right about the figure, introduces a few unisex hemlines. She makes good use of fragile imported lace, elaborate gowns with long hand-embroidered and tulle. Muriel King shows the most and the coolest of the butterfly for much of her fall collection. Butterfly-shaped inserts mount the middle of several afternoon dresses; a dress of brilliant blue crepe embroidered with matching beads has a butterfly skirt spreading from pointed collar at the hipline to a half-length hem. Her suits are four rack to be top at the waistline flatteringly flared below the hip. She has a smart order in a suit of tulle, butterfly-shaped inserts at the collar. Evening gowns of the butterfly motif are complete with a train in which the butterfly is the tail.

TERRACE TALK

CECELIA TRULUCK

REPRESENTATIVE and MRS. M. B. SMITH accompanied by MRS. CLARK LEON ABDY returned Saturday evening from a gala celebration for GENERAL JONATHAN M. WAINWRIGHT in Starke, Fla. staged by the American Legion to the tune of $4,000 and attended by 15,000 persons. State officials, senators and representatives were invited to attend. JUDGE NOON, D. WAINWRIGHT, cousin of the General. A parade was staged early in the afternoon through torrents of rain followed by a message from the General and other speakers with LEX GREEN and master of ceremonies. The U.S.O. Building was used as headquarters. Among the notables attending were GOV. CALDWELL, SPEASARD HOLLAND, COLIN ENGLISH, T. WATSON, DR. JOHN TIGERT and other representatives. The Bolles Military Academy band was on hand also the 82nd Airborne Division band and a detail from Ft. Bragg. Microphones were numerous as the activities were broadcast through Jacksonville. Informally, the keynote of the day with the little town of Starke playing host beautifully to the throng of people. Thirty beavers were barbecued for a reception at the Women's Club at 8:00 o'clock with the General in the receiving line. MRS. SMITH said she talked with him for approximately three minutes and thought him most charming. GENERAL WAINWRIGHT was presented a silver tray by the Commander of the Legion Post and as the gift was presented many of the General's great tasks were reviewed by the donor. The General's reply was one of humility, praising his men for their loyalty. The SMITHS and LEONARDYS returned Saturday evening, a bit exhausted from the strenuous day's schedule, but delighted to have met many old friends and particularly to have had the pleasure of meeting GENERAL WAINWRIGHT. ROBERT AITMAN of this city, who is now attending the University of Florida and broadcasting over WUFW was a dinner guest Sunday of MR. and MRS. COLIN P. KELLY, SR., parents of the first hero of the World War. KELLY was fighting with COLIN KELLY when shot down after the bombing of the Haruna. Among those attending the buffet supper at the Seminole Country Club last evening were HARRY TOOKY and daughter PATRICIA, MR. and MRS. TUCKER, MR. and MRS. R. G. HICKSON of Adel, Ga., MR. and MRS. JOHN MEISCH, MR. and MRS. FRED BELL, MR. and MRS. JOHN BOETT, MR. and MRS. JOHN W. WY, MR. and MRS. GEORGE THURSTON, MR. and MRS. MAURICE LEE of Melbourne, MR. and MRS. F. D. SCOTT, DR. and MRS. HARRY WOODRUFF and daughter, DR. and MRS. W. V. BITTING and daughter GAYLE, MRS. E. W. PRICE, G. W. AUSTIN, MR. and MRS. HUGH WHELAN, MR. and MRS. ROY WILLIAMS, MR. and MRS. HILL WILLIAMS, MR. and MRS. JAMES RIDGE, MR. and MRS. WALTER HIGH and MRS. ROY REED. Seems that Sanford is getting to be the mecca of social activities these days with the Sanford Rotary Club recently playing host to a tri-city golf tournament and dinner at the Country Club; the Lions Club being host to the Central Florida Lions Club for a dinner party Friday at the club and now the Sanford-United Daughters of the Confederacy will be hostess to the district convention on Feb. 11 at the Mayfair Inn with Mrs. J. J. Bolly and Mrs. F. E. Roumillat as the organizers. Daytona, Leesburg, Apopka, Deland and Orlando will have representatives here at the meet.

TEEN TALK

DEAR JUDY,
Have you heard about the latest Paris fad which has little animals running for their lives? French girls are wearing stuffed squirrels and mink! We had more fun over the news—the kids immediately started draping their clothes with their cats and dogs, just to see how they'd look. Helo's little dog, Bots, suspected the worse and kicked up an awful hue. That's the way fads get started, I guess. Like the time we sketched out Mr. Frump and told the kids to put him on back of envelopes. Life magazine even held court on how the whole thing started and came to the conclusion that it originated in England about the time of the atom bomb which puts our hips in a dead heat as winners. Now comes a letter from Margaret Southwood of Leno, Bedfordshire, England. Margaret confirms our opinions because she has a sketch of Mr. Frump on top of her letter and says that she has been reading Teen Talk for a long time. Margaret reads it in the Syracuse Herald-American which is sent to her by one of her American friends in England. Pat Wilkes of Casper, Wyoming, writes that her gang wants to

Anderson Leads Feds To 14 To 13 Win Over Gainesville

Hurricanes Are Downed In Last 2 Minutes Play

Fed Break Comes On Fumble As End Of Engagement Nears

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 30.—(Special)—Wills Anderson, big Seminole fullback, staged a one man show here last Friday night when he sparked the Celery First high school machine to a thrilling 14 to 13 victory over Coach Buster Bishop's Gainesville High School Purple Hurricane.

The Fed eleven ripped through the last two minutes of the contest which was indeed a rough and hard fought affair from the opening whistle 'til the final gun. With only two minutes remaining, Seminole recovered a fumble on a punt and three plays later Anderson led the extra point to give the Hurricanes a 13 to 7 margin over the Celery Feds.

After an exchange of punts, the Feds gained their needed break and immediately took advantage of it to spill the Hurricane eleven. Anderson was injured in the third quarter but returned to the contest in the final period in time to lead the Seminole machine to their first victory in two starts thus far this season.

Cards Pack Solid One-Two Punch In Musial, Slaughter

By HARRISON H. McGILL
AP Newsfeatures.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—(Special)—The Cardinals pack a one-two punch that might compare favorably with Cobb-Hellmuth, Ruth-Gehrig, Williams-Doerr, or any other such combination, past or present.

It is not a coincidence that Musial leads the National League in batting average and Slaughter, who bats next, heads the run-batted-in department. Musial gets on the bases on a base hit or a walk (often intentional) and Slaughter brings him in. Take either man out of the lineup and the other's performance probably would suffer.

Both are having their greatest year at the plate, in the first season since their return from the armed forces. That right field screen at Sportsman's Park has taken some punishment in the way of extra base drives. Musial is leading the league in batting and showing the way in doubles and triples as well. Slaughter's performance has caused National League pitchers to wonder if there isn't something in names after all.

"His only weakness is a base on balls," somebody said of Ted Williams, the Boston slugger. It might just as well be said of Musial. But walking Stan is sold to Enos

Billy Kinard Flattens Holloway In Sixth Round Of Bout

Winner Says He Will Halt Ring Career Briefly

Orlando Fighter Is Praised For Game-ness In Contest

In one of the hardest fought battles seen in the Legion Arena in Orlando in many a day was the match between the Sanford pugilist, Billy Kinard, and Tabby Holloway of Orlando Friday night, in which Kinard was the victor in the sixth round by virtue of a knockout.

Kinard had the Orlando boy on the canvas seven times. In the third round Holloway was downed twice and the bell saved him the second time. In the fifth he was on the canvas three times, and in the sixth Holloway was downed twice. The second time in the sixth was the last and the Orlando pugilist stayed down for the count.

Johnnie Cook, Kinard's second, stated that Holloway should never have returned to the ring after the third round. He stated that Holloway had taken too much punishment to return, but the Orlando youngster kept getting up and Kinard said, "He was the gamest fighter I ever fought. The guy just didn't know when he was whipped. He kept coming in for more punishment and that takes guts."

Kinard stated that he intends to stop fighting for a while and learn more about the finer points of the game. He intends to sharpen up his punches and study intensively on his footwork. His new instructor will be Jack Sharp, an Orlando ringster, who was in the fight business some 15 years ago and made quite a name for himself as a boxer in most of the larger Southern cities.

Boat Kacer Wins At 13 Years Of Age

AP Newsfeatures.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Henry Ernest Taubert, Jr., has captured an outboard racing victory at the age of 13 and needless to say it has agreed with him. He now has his eyes on plenty more.

But there's no reason why he shouldn't be good at it; he literally grew up with stars of the society boating corps. Henry was mascot of the Alamogordo Boat Club at the age of two.

When he was five, his father then and now one of San Antonio's top motorboat racers, skinned his outboard to a world record at Melina Lake here. The victory impressed Henry very much.

Recently, he got the real thrill when he led a field of well-known men drivers in a class A amateur hydroplane race at Enid, Okla., then drove the same course in a second heat a few minutes later to take second.

His father, who established the world's mark that since has been broken, is a professional driver who specializes in the faster class C professional hydroplane and runabout events. It was July 17, 1938, that Taubert, Sr., hit 49.1 miles per hour for five miles in a class C professional runabout. The National Outboard Racing Commission's certificate and the American Power Boat Association's medal for the feat rest among the many trophies and awards at his Taubert home.

Young Taubert has been getting the feel of an outboard racer for the past two years but began racing only this year. He's now sitting pretty with his own motor which his father recently bought and helped rebuild for him.

"How often do you go out for a practice run?" the boy was asked. "I don't," he answered. "Dad said that you don't put speed in your motor when you practice; you take it out."

Fishes With 2 Hooks One In His Nose

KEMMERER, Wyo. (AP)—Carrying his trout rod through willows with some line dangling free, Bill Sneddon had a hook driven deeply into a nostril.

Lacking any way to remove the barb he cut the gut leader and continued fishing with the first hook firmly in his nose.

Later in the day when he reached a ranch he obtained a wire cutter, severed the barb and removed the hook.

The pause that refreshes on the Seminole Country Club golf course is the shed on the sixth hole where the old barrel of cold water stands. Taking time out for a sip are W. G. Fleming, John Ivey, Clyde Terrell and Country Club pro, George Thurston, Andrew Caraway and P. D. Scott.

Orlando Cops Two Victories From Moultrie Team

THINKER FIELD, ORLANDO, Sept. 30.—(Special)—The Orlando Senators trounced the Moultrie Packers here yesterday afternoon on the second time Saturday evening the Senators downed the Packers by a 3 to 2 margin.

Little Scott, Gary, led on the ball for the Senators in the first out while the Packers sent Mose Gansh and Tom Whitmore to the mound.

The second tilt found Howie Martin testing and the Orlando pitcher moultrie for the first two games.

The two teams return to Moultrie to resume play tomorrow and it is likely that Manager Madge Skidmore name Scott Cary to pitch for the Senators.

Florida Military Academy Ranking Year Up In Grid Iron

The Florida Military Academy is ranking year up in grid iron circles this year and the Cadets present a powerful line to back up their threats.

Capt. Al Rogers is boasting that he is mighty proud of the pay at the guard posts in his strong line. Hops' O'Neill, Al Strauss, and Bob Freese are outstanding left on offensive and defensive play.

Another bright spot in the horizon for the Cadets is the return of Roland Wilson, a 189 pound letterman of last season who plays a bang up game at the tackle spot.

Rogers lost 13 lettermen from last year's team by graduation and three additional lettermen failed to return to the school. That left the FMA with but one complete team of men that had been exposed to the game previously.

The Cadets line has evidence of being really tough and potent. They have a pair of 160 pound ends, tackles at 180, one guard weighing 192, the other 150, and the center is a mere 200 pounder.

INSIDE SPORTS REPORT

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.

Dick Singletary

Attending Norman Ramsey College in Moultrie this year is Dick Singletary, a Sanford boy who was a star on the Seminole High School football team last year.

It is reported that Singletary will be on the Norman football team this year, but has a painful knee injury that will probably keep him from participating in the opening tilt against Hiwassee College in Madisonville, Tenn., Oct. 1.

Singletary's position will be filled by another Florida boy. He is Gerald Berry of Wabash Normal in the University of Tampa in Leesburg, Fla. on Nov. 7, and a large number of Sanford gridiron fans are expected to be on hand to witness the affair.

The Orange Bowl, held in 1945 and the home of the Florida Gators, Miami Hurricanes, is owned by the city of Miami.

The concrete and steel structure was dedicated Dec. 10, 1937, with 14,625 fans watching the Hurricanes play the University of Georgia.

It was built by an outgrowth of federal grant plus funds loaned to the city by the government and cost approximately $2,500,000.

The stadium has approximately 24,000 permanent seats in the two stands. Last year new bleachers were placed in the end zone, increasing the seating capacity some 12,000.

The press box and radio booth are built on axes the south stand. The field runs east and west and is lighted for night football by one of the finest lighting systems in the nation.

Popularly known as the Orange Bowl because of the name of the New Year's Day classic played in the field, the official name of the plant is "Roshay-Bonding Municipal Stadium."

Mush Battista, assistant coach in football at the University of Florida, is the only alumnus on the coaching staff.

One of Florida's great basketball players from 1937 until 1941 when he graduated, Mush rejoined the staff this Spring after serving four years in the Medical Corps.

SPORTS LAUGH

Early in the football game during the 73 to 0 slaughter which the Chicago Bears inflicted on the Washington Redskins in 1940, Charlie Malone, Washington end, drowned a pass from Sammy Baugh in the end zone. It would have been a certain touchdown.

After the battle was over, a friend was talking with Baugh. The friend said: "What a shame! If Malone had held that pass, it would have changed the entire complexion of the game. The whole result would have been different."

Baugh replied: "Yes, it would have been different. If he had held that pass, the score wouldn't have been 73 to 0, it would have been 73 to 6."

Mrs. B. J. Apple said she got a fresh cat when she was driving through grass near her home when a three-foot rattlesnake struck at the animal but missed. The cat pounced on the snake, seizing it behind the head, killed it and dragged it promptly to her door, Mrs. Apple reported.

Bombay Deflates That Cop Ego

BOMBAY, India. (AP)—The information directorate of Bombay province announced that the police and officials have received instructions to discourage the public from addressing them with titles more exalted than they really possess.

"The misuse of such honorific titles conveys false notions in the public mind," the directorate said. "The objects particularly to be addressed minor officials and police officers with titles roughly translatable as 'Big Boss' or 'Great Man.'"

Boston Boasts Of Hard Hitting And Fine Hurling Club

Perfect Balance On Field And Superb Leadership Helped

By BILL KING
AP Newsfeatures.

BOSTON—This postwar American League baseball is just like the rest of it since 1901. A club has to have strong hitting and good pitching to win pennants.

For example, take the Red Sox' big four: Farris, Joe Hughson, Mickey Harris and Tex Gibson. Bunch them up and are they any better than the Yankee's Small Chouder, Floyd Bennett, and Frank Givens? Or Detroit's Hal Newhouser, Dizzy Trout, Vezie Trucks and Alton Benton?

But Messrs. Farris, Hughson, Harris and Gibson have the league's best batting line, slugging and power. They are the Yankees' Johnny Pesky and the Dodgers' Jackie Robinson and the Washington's Micky Vernon for the batting line.

Looking back it becomes obvious that the Yankees had to be content with runner-up honors for years. A manager, Joe Giordano, and a pitcher, Walter Johnson, and the Yankees' Johnny Pesky and the Dodgers' Jackie Robinson and the Washington's Micky Vernon for the batting line.

Swimming Team Replaces Football Eleven At F.N.A.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Sept. 30.—(Special)—Swimming, once a major sport at Florida Naval Academy, is being discontinued, its place replaced by swimming.

President Paul E. Quincey told the Cadet Corps today, he felt swimming, which will be participated in by every cadet, and taught with the expectation of developing a crack team of swimmers and divers, will fit into the F.N.A. educational program much better than football, a game with numerous qualities recognized and admired, but whose vigorous participation is impossible this year because of the pending school year.

Negotiations have already started with several well-known swimming coaches, one of whom will be selected very soon, according to Commodore Quincey. The cadet corps includes boys from Cuba, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Puerto Rico, Venezuela and 13 states. Many are already fairly swimmers, and are capable of some of the best swimming in the world.

All schools in the F.N.A. in 1946 will hold a swimming meet in the fall. The meet will be held at the Florida Naval Academy, St. Augustine, Fla.

The swimming team will be coached by Coach Paul E. Quincey, who has coached the team for several years. The team will be coached by Coach Paul E. Quincey, who has coached the team for several years.
