Vihlen Absent With Injury Vote To Oust Freeman Deadlocked, 2-2

By ED PRICKEIT
Herald Staff Writer

Amid charges and counter-charges and citizen demands that County Atty. Thomas Freeman step down until grand jury charges are cleared, the county commission today voted 2-2 to leave Freeman in his post.

Commissioner Sidney Vihlen Jr., was absent from the action-packed meeting in which Commissioner John Kimbrough strongly questioned the county's standard for a county attorney. Vihlen was in Seminole Memorial hospital with a broken foot.

"I assumed Vihlen wouldn't be here for any controversial issue," Kimbrough said. Vihlen was in Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Commissioners Michael Hattaway and Harry Kwiatkowski, both under indictment by the same grand jury that charges Freeman with seeking a $12,400 kickback from John Morris, a title insurance firm officer, fought back by labeling all the charges "politically motivated."

Both Hattaway and Kwiatkowski voted to retain Freeman, while Kimbrough and Commissioner Richard Williams voted that Freeman be suspended until charges are cleared by the courts.

Freeman, who is also charged along with Kwiatkowski and Hattaway with violation of Florida's Sunshine Law, remained silent during this morning's session.

Kimbrough hammered away at the proposition that the county attorney should at least be required to meet the same county standards as those applied to semi-skilled and skilled laborers.

"As an individual and as a commissioner, I have faith in Mr. Freeman," Kwiatkowski said. He said grand jury charges were "politically inspired by State Atty. Abbott Herring's office, a position with which Hattaway agreed."

John Albee, vice-president of the South Seminole Jaycees, said it would be in the county's "best interest" if Freeman stepped down until charges against him are cleared. Albee said he was speaking as an individual, not on behalf of the Jaycees.

"Tom Kumbarger would be proud of this moment," remarked Hattaway. Howard Marsee, a member of Kumbarger's law firm was the county attorney who was voted out and replaced by Freeman earlier this year.

Hattaway said that if he felt charges were justified, he would also ask Freeman to step down, but he called the charges "political harassment" and said he would not take "any part of it."

Some citizens at the meeting did not see it the same way. "I find it regretful for any member of this board to impugn the motives of the grand jury," said Jimmy Ross of Longwood.

Ross said the grand jurors issued the indictments, not Herring.

Tom Kamelis, vice-president of the county's league of civic associations, also asked that Freeman step down.

Williams said that in 1973 the commission asked for the resignation of a county advisor, similar to Freeman, and he said today's request for Freeman's ouster was an "identical" situation.

Williams said Freeman's removal was needed to "restore (Continued on Page 5-A)

County Offices Closing

Governmental offices in Seminole County have a variety of openings and closings during the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

Seminole County Courthouse will close Thursday and Friday for Christmas and New Year's Day, but will be open Jan. 2, for regular business.

City Halls in Sanford, Altamonte Springs and Lake Mary will close Dec. 23-28 and Jan. 1-2, but will maintain emergency service crews.

Garbage pickup in Sanford will continue on schedule, not affected by the holidays.

Garbage service will be discontinued in Altamonte Springs this week. There'll be no pickup Thursday and Friday, but there will be on Dec. 29. Regular collection will take place during the Jan. 1-3 holiday period.

Lake Mary has a private garbage pickup service which won't be in operation Christmas Day or on New Year's Day, but normal service will be provided on other days.

Longwood and Winter Springs city functions, except standby work crews, will be closed Dec. 23 and Jan. 1. Both city offices will be open Jan. 2, for business as usual.

Academy Seeks Bankruptcy Status Foreclosure Filed Against SNA

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford Naval Academy (SNA) officials today were going ahead with plans to open the private school in January for the Spring term despite a foreclosure lawsuit filed by the National Exhibition Co., and the filing for bankruptcy by the school in Orlando federal court.

Sanford attorney Ken McIntosh, who filed the foreclosure suit Monday in circuit court for National Exhibition, said today that the federal court petition for reorganization under the federal bankruptcy law won't affect the local court action.

National Exhibition (San Francisco Giants) alleges Bernarr McFadden Foundation Inc., defaulted on a $138,437 purchase money mortgage on Oct. 1 and on Aug. 30 on a $179,413 promissory note.

National Exhibition is asking Circuit Court Judge Dominick Saito to place the school in receivership and to appoint John S. Kridler of Sanford as receiver to operate the facility and collect monies.

When filing for bankruptcy in federal court the McFadden Foundation listed $2-million in assets and more than $1-million in liabilities to 168 creditors including the $662,848 owed the San Francisco Giants.

Other creditors listed included $150,000 to the Bank of Commerce in New York, $19,271 to Morrison's Inc., and smaller amounts to other suppliers.

Meanwhile, in circuit court at Sanford on Monday, attorney Thomas A. Speer filed lawsuits against the McFadden Foundation demanding judgments of $2,536,300 to Robinson's Inc., of Orlando, and $3,066,111 to Hill Lumber and Hardware Co. of Sanford, for building supplies.

SNA officials today declined to discuss the financial difficulties of Sanford Naval Academy but administrator Jesse Harry said classes, now dismissed for the Christmas holidays, will resume on Jan. 4 and the Spring term is scheduled to begin Jan. 26.

The Academy Senior School is located between Seminole Boulevard and East First Street on the Sanford lakefront. The 1925 vintage three-story building was purchased by the McFadden Foundation in 1963, along with 18 acres of land, for $850,000 on a 25-year mortgage. At that time the former Mayfair Hotel, a Sanford landmark, was owned by the then-New York Giants baseball club.

The academy's Junior School at 1211 Mellenville Ave. was separated from the main school in 1967, officials said.

Sanford Naval Academy reached a peak enrollment of nearly 400 students in 1969. The school became co-educational in 1972 and had approximately 130 students, including four girls, last September.

Harry said an enrollment of 150 is expected for the next semester starting in January.

"We're hopeful we can hold our heads above water," Harry said today, "and that we're now on the road to recovery."

He said the future looks bright enrollment-wise for the academy and that the school is now being run more efficiently than ever before.

McIntosh said National Exhibition's position is that they are the preferred creditor in the Sanford Naval Academy financial tangle and are convinced that the Senior and Junior school properties are sufficient equity.

After suffering four student-set fires within 12 months, the Sanford Naval Academy was ordered closed July 14 by state fire marshals. The facility reopened in September after promising to correct fire code deficiencies.

The state granted permission for use of the first and second floors of the Senior School building on E. First St. for classrooms and dormitory housing of students.

The Junior School on Mellenville would no longer be used for a dormitory, officials said, but would be used for office, storage areas and band and athletic practice.

The former Mayfair Hotel building (the Senior School) is protected by a fire sprinkler system, Harry said.

Authorities said two fires were set in October 1974 at the Junior School by a student, causing $1,000 damage.

Two fires on the third-floor of the Senior School were quickly extinguished and damages were confined mostly to mattresses.

All three students involved were disciplined and sent home, Harry said.

The Giants baseball club is reportedly in financial trouble, too. Owner Horace Stoneham has been trying to sell the team for some time. He says there (Continued on Page 5-A)

Board Opposes Utility Control

By AUDIE MURPHY
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford City Commission Monday night authorized the drafting of a resolution intended to fight proposals in the state legislature to place publicly-owned utilities under the Public Service Commission.

The resolution, to be sent to the Seminole County delegation of the Florida League of Cities, urges the following:

— Clarification of present law on double taxation;

— Retention of local options in collective bargaining;

— Support of legislation that will give public agencies the option to pay for unemployment compensation as a contributory system, as in private industry, rather than the present reimbursement system;

— Support of legislation that will require governmental agencies constructing facilities within the area of jurisdiction of a municipality to comply with local codes and regulations.

About the last provision of the resolution, City Manager Warren E. Knowles explained that at times government entities such as counties or the state, will build facilities such as schools, colleges or other structures "in the backyards" and "then expect the city to provide them with sewer and water service."

Knowles said legislation requiring compliance with local regulations would facilitate more cooperation on such projects.

In other actions, the City Commission authorized $25 awards be presented to two city employees who suggested that name signs be placed on the Civic Center and that curb ramps to aid handicapped persons be built onto city sidewalks.

Knowles said his office currently is studying the feasibility of providing ramps for some sidewalks. Which intersections should receive the ramps, the type of slope to be constructed, and the cost of (Continued on Page 5-A)

Psychologist Says 'We Need Santa'

CHICAGO (AP)—A psychologist says kids need Santa Claus. Even one on a billboard.

"Santa Claus, because of his consistent good humor, his warmth and his generosity, is an especially desirable companion for a youngster," declares Marilyn Whiteside, a psychology professor at the University of Maine at Gorham.

And although he only shows up once a year, his influence is positive, she adds in U.S. Catholic, a magazine published here.

"He's more interesting and less demanding than parents," says Prof. Whiteside. "And he shares his power with children by declaring himself their patron saint."

Last year, U.S. Catholic ran an article criticizing Santa and asked readers to respond to statements about him. Among them was: "Santa teaches children to be greedy." Some 31 per cent of the readers responding agreed.

This year only 15 per cent responded that they thought Santa helped teach greed. And 91 per cent responded they "never suffered any harm as a consequence of the Santa myth."

Prof. Whiteside also disagrees with Santa critics who assert the white-bearded old fellow competes with the Christ child.

"Actually," she contends, "the hirsute old gentleman is probably protecting the Christmas Baby from the onslaughts of Madison Avenue."

"As long as Santa smiles down from the billboards and touts the latest toothpaste, the new-born Messiah may remain in his manger and testify solely to the goodness of God."

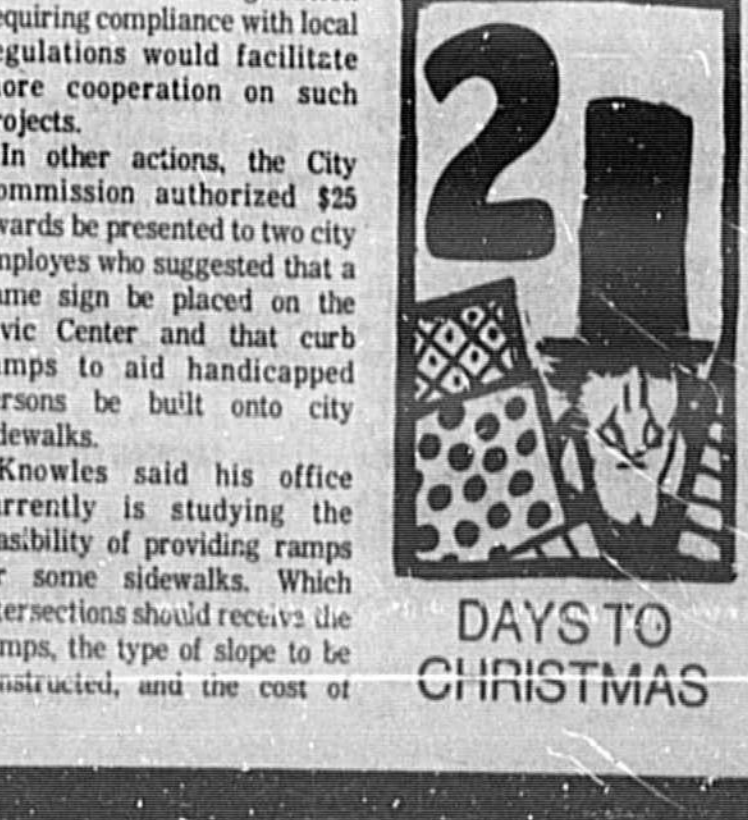

Prof. Whiteside takes issue with behavioral scientists who suggest parents encourage the Santa myth because of their own insecurity.

At least as likely a motive for Santa-supporting parents is that they, too, enjoy a "brief and merry return to the fantasies of their own childhood."

Zarb Says No Relief Near Despite Oil Price Rollback

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration says consumers probably will see any decrease in prices for gasoline and fuel oil, despite President Ford's signature on a bill rolling back crude oil prices.

The small potential price decrease probably will be neutralized by cost increases in oil production and the recent 10 per cent price increase by oil exporting nations, Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb said Monday.

The energy bill, signed by Ford on Monday, requires a rollback of the average price of U.S. domestic crude oil to $7.50 per barrel, a decrease of about $1.00 from recent levels.

Zarb said this rollback, plus removal of the import fee, would theoretically allow price reductions of about 2.5 to 3 cents per gallon on consumer petroleum products.

Mansons Associate Indicted

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — One of the last of Charles Manson's original band has been indicted with another woman on charges of conspiring to mail 171 threatening letters to business and government leaders.

The indictment was issued Monday against Sandra Good, 31, former roommate of Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme, convicted of trying to assassinate President Ford and sentenced to life imprisonment. Susan "Heather" Murphy, 28, a former nurse, was indicted on the same charge, and Miss Fromme was named as an unindicted co-conspirator.

FBI agents arrested Miss Good and Miss Murphy at Miss Good's apartment soon after a federal grand jury returned the sealed indictment. Their arraignment was scheduled later today but there was some expectation it might be delayed.

Krishna Followers Play Santa

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Members of a Hare Krishna group have traded in saffron robes for Santa Claus suits and are passing out candy canes and shouting "Ho, Ho, Ho" to try to raise money for their cause.

The followers of Hare Krishna, a religious movement with roots in India, generally shave their heads except for a tuft, wear flowing robes and slowly chant the praises of their lord, Krishna.

This Christmas, six of them have hidden their shaved skulls under Santa caps as they pass out candy canes to occupants of cars backed up at a stop light in busy North San Antonio. Drivers are asked for donations of $1 each and are given a candy cane and a book on Hare Krishna whether they contribute or not.

At Longwood Council Meeting Connell, City Officials Clash

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD— Councilman Gerard Connell Monday night unsuccessfully challenged city officials and public Safety Director Douglas E. Keller to take their charges against him of police harassment to State Attorney Abbott Herring for an investigation.

After letters from three city police officers saying Connell had been "following around" policemen as they performed their duties, Connell moved to "wrap up" the information and send it to Herring for his investigation.

Man 'Serious' After Shooting

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

A 31-year-old man was listed in "serious" condition today in the intensive care unit at Florida Hospital North, Altamonte Springs, with a gunshot wound in the left hip and a 35-year-old woman was being held in lieu of $15,000 bond at county jail following a shooting incident at Don Mar St. in southwest Seminole near Little Bear Lake.

Jailed by sheriff's detectives on charges of attempted murder and use of a firearm in the commission of a felony was Patrick John Gregg, 36, of Winter Park.

Police said a check on the business machine showed it was stolen in a Dec. 9 burglary at Orlando.

Johnson was booked in county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond on a charge of buying, receiving and concealing stolen property.

Deputies said Malone reportedly grabbed another pistol before going through a bedroom window and seeking refuge in a neighbor's house where deputies later found him lying on the dining room floor.

Gregg reportedly exited his ex-wife's house and his adopted daughter, 21-year-old Diane Gregg wrestled away the pistol and fired two shots in the air as Gregg fled in a pickup truck, officers said.

Dennis Eugene Cooper, 18, of 287 Grove Drive, Sanford, was held in lieu of $5,000 bond in county jail on a circuit court warrant charging burglary and petty larceny.

A group headed by comedian Danny Kaye is reportedly trying to buy the team, but so far the negotiations are reported to be in a state of limbo.

Felony Charged

What started out Monday as a routine traffic collision in Sanford police today reported an $8,400 auto was taken in a burglary at the service department of Bob Endicott Pontiac-Buick Inc., U.S. 17-92, Sanford.

Police said thieves broke a window to get to the new 1976 Pontiac Gran Prix "Golden Anniversary" model. The auto is believed to be the only one of its kind in the county.

The missing auto is described as a two-door, white over gold colored sedan with a Hurst Hatch detachable "T-Top."

Two hours after the shooting Winter Park police arrested Gregg in that city for Seminole authorities.

Gov. Askew In No Hurry To Make A Decision

A spokesman for Gov. Reubin Askew said today that it could be after Christmas before the governor acts on requests for a special investigator to probe operations of Seminole-Beverly State City, Abbott Herring's office and the possibility of perjury by a grand jury witness.

James Bacchus, one of Askew's aides, said that Herring's request for a special investigator to check an affidavit by the company of fiscal John Morris claiming a grand jury indictment against County Attorney Thomas G. Freeman is "totally false."

The governor has also received a request from Tom Frait of the Seminole Democratic Executive Committee asking for Herring's immediate suspension and the appointment of a special state attorney to probe alleged misuse by Herring's office of grand juries "to politically damage public officials."

Bacchus said legal counsel for the governor will review the requests, plus a report from Herring and copies of grand jury indictments.

Chancellor said Gov. Askew "will make a decision within a few days" after he receives a recommendation from legal counsel Art Canady.

Bacchus said the governor plans to remain in Tallahassee for the holidays.

"I wish I could give you a better answer," Bacchus said, "but all I can say is 'in a few days'."

Seminole Commissioner Suffers Ankle Break

Seminole County Commissioner Sidney Vihlen Jr. is spending the Christmas holidays in Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Vihlen was admitted to the hospital Monday night, suffering from a broken right ankle.

"I was attending a social function at the Mayfair Country Club," Vihlen said. "I was late for an engagement and was running for my car. It was pitch dark. My foot slipped into a washout on the road and that was it."

The county commissioner said he managed to drive to his mother's house and she drove him to the hospital.

Contacted today, Vihlen said he didn't know if he would be laid up through Christmas. He was scheduled to undergo surgery this morning.

Oil Imports To Exceed U.S. Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will import in the next five years as much oil as it has consumed from all sources in the last 2 1/2 years, a report of a congressional study says.

The report, for the congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, also concludes that in 1977 the United States will be forced to import 50 per cent more oil than it does today.

All of the increase in foreign oil would come from North Africa and the Middle East, the study said.

"Energy may well become the 'Achilles heel' of the same way as agricultural shortages are for the Soviet Union," which is forced to buy huge amounts of U.S. grain in bad crop years, the study states.

The study's assumptions include early successful discoveries of offshore U.S. oil sources and production by 1985 of the oil equivalent of one million barrels a day in synthetic fuels.

Note To Credit Union Teller Fails Area Kidnaping Attempt

ORLANDO (AP) — A telephone company worker failed his kidnappers by sending a note to a credit-union teller who notified police, officers say.

Police quickly arrested Michael C. Tucker, 26, and William Martin Ellis, 31, both of Lynchburg, Va., in the alleged abduction Monday of Douglas Parker, 26.

Kickback Charges Filed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — A Miami lawyer says he will keep representing insurance clients with the state despite allegations that he funneled more than $60,000 in illicit payments to former Insurance Commissioner Thomas O'Malley.

"Notwithstanding all the bad publicity, I still did some good insurance work up there," Bennett Feldman said Monday in Miami.

A federal indictment filed in Miami last week charged that O'Malley received more than $60,000 in kickbacks from Feldman and his law partner, Ricardo Ciravolo, for referring insurance clients to them.

Hodes Says Cuts Needed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Education Commissioner Ralph Turington should look for ways to cut costs as eagerly as he seeks tax hikes on cigarettes and liquor to get more money for schools, a House leader says.

House Education Chairman Richard Hodes, D-Tampa, called Monday for Turington to list his priorities in saying a 12.5-per-cent cut would trim education spending by $14.2 million and abolish 20,400 positions.

"I cannot accept the proposition that out of the $2-billion education budget some programs are not of less value than others," Hodes said. "I would hope that Commissioner Turington will exert his leadership for improved educational management as well as for adjusted taxes."

Pallot Investigating Charges Of Tampering

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The chairman of Florida's Board of Business Regulation says he is looking into allegations that officials in the department tampered with a legislative document.

Chairman Richard Pallot said Monday that he wants to know if there is any truth to charges that the attorney for the Department of Business Regulation copied a document intended for a committee investigating the agency.

Rep. Dick Clark, D-Miami, said that a deposition taken by investigators for the special House committee was mistakenly sent to the department and was opened in the mailroom, where it had been signed for as a registered letter.

When the nature of the document was discovered, it was turned over to William Moore, department attorney, who made copies and then forwarded the deposition to the committee, Clark said.

He said that department director A.L. Baker was aware that his agency had possession of the document and had directed that it be given to Moore.

Baker was unavailable for comment Monday, but Pallot said Baker told him that the document had been brought to him and he had referred it to Moore.

"Since it was a legal document you ask your lawyer what you should do with it. That sounds reasonable to me," Pallot said.

The deposition and envelope were received by the committee Friday with a letter of explanation from Moore saying that it had been improperly addressed. He made no mention of copying it.

SANTA VISITS NURSING HOME

While his grandmother was a patient at Sanford Nursing and Convalescent Home, Grady Vining of Sanford discovered many old folks have no one to visit them or bring them gifts, so he decided to "play Santa" for the 112 patients there with the help of his wife, Suzanne and six-year-old daughter Glazer Lee, who was dressed as one of Santa's elves. They purchased and wrapped gifts for all and brought refreshments for a gala party at the home. Mable Peake, 88, gives Santa an appreciative hug. (Herald Photo by Bill Vincent Jr.)

Florida Telephone Co. Seeking Big Rate Hike

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Florida Telephone Co. is seeking a $9.25-million rate hike from the 180,000 customers it serves in nine Central Florida counties.

The company filed the request Monday, asking the Public Service Commission for $4 million immediately and the rest when the final increase is granted.

The firm said that soaring construction costs and other inflationary factors were keeping it from earning a fair rate-of-return and made the increase mandatory.

Florida Telephone was seeking to hike pay telephone calls from 10 cents to 25 cents and charge 20 cents for each directory assistance call after three months.

The increase in residential service would range from 40 cents to $5.55 a month depending on locality and type of service.

The requested increase of business would range from $20 to $13.20.

The largest increases, the company said, would be applied to new customer connections. The maximum residential connection charge would go from $20 to $60. For business phones, the charge would increase from $30 to $75.

The firm serves portions of Orange, Levy, Sumter, Citrus, Osceola, Pasco, Lake, Marion and Hernando counties.

"We're now at the point where we must seek a rate increase," said John F. Dodd, Florida Telephone president.

Medicaid Cuts Due On Jan. 1

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Many of the 424,000 persons on Medicaid face cuts in benefits beginning Jan. 1 as the state seeks to reduce costs by $5.5 million in the next six months.

Secretary William J. Page of Health and Rehabilitative Services announced the cuts Monday as an attempt to recoup part of a projected $9.9-million deficit in the program.

The cuts will hit patients as well as the doctors, nursing homes, hospitals and pharmacists who provide the services, he said.

Although nursing homes have complained that the $900-a-month payments for patients are not enough, Page said the payments will be cut to $585 a month for a savings of $196,301 over the next six months.

Page also said there will be a greater effort to crack down on welfare cheaters and doctors who abuse the program and thus shoot up the cost of Medicaid.

He said the $5.5-million in cutbacks was a minimum figure and he hoped that together controls would mean even greater savings.

A special task force had studied the problem as officials pondered how to reduce a two-year projected overrun of $94 million, which meant a $9.9-million deficit for the state with the federal government picking up the rest.

"It was imperative that we now take positive steps to curb costs for the next six months or we would be forced to eliminate the program for May and June altogether," Page said. "This would have been disastrous for the needy."

Page, who earlier had pledged to take care of the deficit entirely out of department resources without seeking more money from the legislature, said further cuts would be made if necessary.

The major reductions announced Monday and the expected savings for six months include:

—Limiting hospital outpatient services to $50 instead of the present $200 for a savings of $1.2 million.

—Placing physician services on a flat-rate fee and eliminating separate payments for services coupled with a yearly cap of $112 on psychiatric care for a savings of $1.7 million.

—Slashing the number of days allowed in a hospital from 45 to 30 days and eliminating elective surgery for a savings of $25.504.

Merry Christmas

Avoid the big Christmas rush.

This Christmas, more people than ever will be calling their loved ones long distance. Which means our lines will be busier than ever.

So to get your Christmas calls through as fast as possible, why not place them when our lines are less busy. Before 6:00 p.m. on Christmas Eve, and between 1:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. on Christmas Day.

Don't forget to dial direct. It's faster, easier, and saves you money. From all of us at Southern Bell, Merry Christmas!

WORLD IN BRIEF

Terrorists Release Hostages, Surrender to Algerian Police

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The terrorists who raided the OPEC headquarters in Vienna released the rest of their hostages in Tripoli and Algeria early Tuesday and surrendered to Algerian authorities, Austrian Chancellor Bruno Kreisky's office reported.

The report said the five terrorists handed over their weapons to the Algerians. They were being held at the Algiers airport, the report said.

An Austrian airliner took the terrorists and 41 hostages from Vienna to Algiers Monday. They released part of the hostages in the Algerian capital, then flew to Tripoli, the capital of Libya.

Canada Approves New Rates

OTTAWA (AP) — Higher telephone rates sought by Bell Canada to increase company revenues by $110.3 million next year have been approved by the Canadian government.

The Transport Commission announced Monday the new rates will increase home telephone service by "somewhat less than 6.5 per cent." Specific increases will be determined in the next few weeks, the commission said.

The new rates, which are to go into effect Jan. 15, also will increase prices for business telephone services and result in a variety of changes in long distance tolls and service costs.

The commission approved the full rate increase requested by Bell Canada. The company had said during rate hearings that telephone users either will have to pay more or put up with poorer service.

Agency Says Prices Up Again

OTTAWA (AP) — Retail prices rose again last month in all the main cities of Canada except Vancouver, according to Canada's official statistical agency.

Statistics Canada reported Monday that consumer price indexes rose from six cents on a $10 basket of goods in Quebec City to 18 cents on the same basket in Winnipeg. Vancouver was the only city among the 13 major centers checked, the cost of food fell by one cent and the over-all index held steady. The West Coast city is the only one among the 13 where a provincial price freeze is in effect.

Peron Vows to Stay in Office

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President Isabel Peron vowed Monday night to remain in office despite military opposition.

"Do not confuse calmness with weakness," the 44-year-old widow of the late President Juan D. Peron said in a television address following the surrender of rebellious air force officers who demanded that the army commander replace her.

Mrs. Peron said her government, "like all governments, has mistakes to overcome. Therefore, I work every day to eliminate them."

PEOPLE

Jimmy Carter Can't Give Away Peanuts

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Jimmy Carter can't give away peanuts in Oregon when he campaigns for the May 25 presidential primary, Secretary of State Clay Myers said Monday.

A state law says candidates may not give away something of value in the campaign, Myers said.

Bumper stickers and buttons may be given away, but not pens, pencils, bottle caps, matchbooks — or peanuts.

Carter, a Democrat and former Georgia Governor, is a peanut farmer and nuclear physicist. His campaign workers are handing out bags of peanuts with "Jimmy Carter for President" on them.

Myers' office once stopped Lyndon Johnson's campaign workers from handing out matchbooks.

Chapin's Sentence Reduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight L. Chapin, appointment secretary to former President Richard M. Nixon, will be eligible for parole next February under an order reducing his sentence.

U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell on Monday ordered Chapin's 19-to-30-month term reduced to six to 18 months. Chapin entered the minimum security institution at Lompoc, Calif., on Aug. 11 after being convicted of lying to a federal grand jury.

Gesell also said that on the basis of a report from the warden at Lompoc he was recommending that Chapin be paroled as soon as possible.

Severinsen Breaks Leg

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Band leader Doc Severinsen has to be wheeled onto the stage these days for his Las Vegas hotel act.

The trumpet player and musical director of the "Tonight Show" tripped and fell Saturday while boarding an airplane in Burbank, Calif.

Severinsen said he thought he had just sprained the leg. But after he arrived in Las Vegas and the pain didn't subside he went to a local hospital. He was told the leg was broken and a cast was fitted.

Jagger's In Rio

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Mick Jagger, leader of the English rock group Rolling Stones, has arrived here for a two-week vacation. Jagger was greeted on his arrival Monday by his wife, actress Bianca Jagger.

The Rolling Stones leader said he will not perform in Rio during his stay, but plans to perform in Brazil "in the near future."

Jagger is staying at the home of Brazilian actress Fernanda Brito, two miles south of Rio.

Reid's Garage
They Keep You Rolling
With the price of new cars increasing every year, most of us are trying to keep our old cars longer than we used to. In order to do this it is necessary to keep them in good operating order, which means repairs and preventive maintenance.

Finding a good mechanic, one you can trust your car to, is a serious problem to many of us today. After a few sad experiences with "screwdriver mechanics" we wonder where we can take our car in order to get quality workmanship.

That is why car owners in the Sanford area are learning to trust Reid's Garage, 408 Matthew St., Sanford, when their cars need repairs. Reid's does everything except heavy jobs: brake work on both disc and drum types, tune-ups, change oil, joints and general automotive repairs.

Located just across from the Lamplighter on Sanford Ave., Reid's Garage has the modern equipment necessary to do a good job, and the expert mechanics to use the equipment. Gordon Reid, owner, has been in the repair business in Sanford for eight years and is well known in Seminole County for quality work and fair dealings. Although he has been in his present business for over two years he has been in his present location for nine months. He formerly was in the service station business on French Avenue at 25th Street. Gordon has had a total of 20 years experience in the repair business.

Reid's Garage operates two wreckers and offers 24 hour wrecker service. They will be happy to give you free estimates on any job. Reid's do welding, both electric and acetylene, and replace mufflers. The installation of air conditioning in cars, trucks and buses is routine work for Reid's Garage. Reid's did the air conditioning on the Auto Train.

Masters of stone and bronze... clay and pigments, and most of all, masters at capturing the harmony and beauty of the human form, in motion and at rest. Who? The ancient Greeks. And what they created stands today as the height of artistic achievement and creation, which centers itself in the strength and dignity of the individual. Although Greek art is among the most influential in the world, however, the mass of people seem to have forgotten how important its heritage has been in our lives. Greek art is not high art. It is something worth seeing, in person.

Peking Talks Help Hold The Balance

The lack of the traditional communique on the progress reached in President Ford's four-day visit to Peking is neither significant nor surprising.

Mr. Ford's dismissal of the subject of a written report on nothing more than "a piece of paper" stressed the importance of the meetings with Red China's leaders in strengthening the Sino-American relationship.

And, in truth, the President had no specific business to discuss. No treaties are being negotiated, no trade deals under discussion, no alliances contemplated. China makes no secret of its resentment over continuing American support for the Nationalist government on Taiwan, but the Chinese are patient and will await a more appropriate time to press the issue.

But the talks with acting Premier Teng Hsiao-ping and with Communist Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung, described as "very, very beneficial, very friendly and constructive," do indeed maintain the balanced diplomacy adopted by the United States in dealing with the two major Communist powers.

Mr. Ford advanced cautious opposition to any efforts by the Soviet Union to attempt further military ventures in "any part of the world," but he also reaffirmed the U.S. commitment to Soviet detente despite Peking's disapproval.

The whole world can benefit from the steady effort of U.S. success in holding the balance in its relations with Peking and Moscow.

Each must be wary of initiating adventurous power moves while uncertain of the tilt of U.S. influence. China, of course, would delight in expanded American influence at Russia's western doorstep in Europe to distract Soviet power from its own border. The Russians, in turn, would prefer to see the United States relax its interest in Asia so that it might install friendly governments hostile to China in regions of current political instability.

The policies being practiced by Mr. Ford and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger keep both the Soviet Union and Red China nervous.

That is enough.

The American people can be satisfied with reassurances that the Peking talks were friendly, or candid or wide-ranging or substantial. The important thing is that the talks were held in an atmosphere of mutual understanding — and that the Soviet Union is kept guessing.

Capitol Hijack

The Library of Congress, the world's most comprehensive collection of books, periodicals, maps and documents, was ill-housed 10 years ago, when Congress authorized construction of a $120 million library annex building.

Now that the new building is within four years of completion, leaders of the House of Representatives propose to take it over for office space for congressional staff.

That would be doubly deplorable. First, the library needs the space to protect its valuable collections. Second, Congress already has more space and more staff than it needs.

In the last 20 years, the Senate and House staffs have tripled. Both the Senate and the House recently voted themselves new assistants, an increase of 1,170 staff positions this year.

The House is on its way to a situation where each congressman has close to a quarter acre in office space.

There seems to be no check on the inordinate growth of staff and space. Neither house checks the other. The President never interferes.

Only the voters have the power to veto the latest hijacking plot at Capitol Hill. If they disapprove, they should let their congressmen know.

BERRY'S WORLD

DON OAKLEY Yule Clubs Fine Print Important

For some 19 million Americans, December is not the last month in the year but the first. This is the month they sign up with the Christmas Club at their local bank, to which they will faithfully report weekly or biweekly during the coming year to ensure that stockings are full come Christmas 1976.

Last year, Christmas Club members accumulated an average nest egg of $200 each for a total of nearly $4 billion, says Kenneth J. Berde, president of the Independent Bankers Association of America (IBA). No less a sum, and probably more, was saved this year and is now being maintained into the nation's economy.

Even so, the club accounts are not a gold mine for bankers, according to the IBA. (Only the very largest banks make any profit, with most losing 76 cents to $1.07 per account, not counting interest.)

Almost half of all financial institutions now pay interest on Christmas Club accounts. Others offer premiums for opening accounts. And in the commercial spirit of the season, Hannukah Clubs are now cropping up.

While the number of Christmas Club subscribers continues to grow every year, few people pause to read the rules printed in the back of the book, to which they must adhere. There are some things the IBA thinks people should know about the pros and cons of membership:

— If you fail to complete a full year's payments, you agree to forfeit your interest on the account. If, indeed, any is offered at your bank.

— Maximum interest payable on a Christmas Club account is fixed by law at 5 per cent. Many banks, however, do not pay up to this ceiling, so shop around.

— Like all other deposits, Christmas Club accounts are insured up to $40,000 by the government.

— But then, anyone who can save more than $40,000 between now and next December doesn't need Santa Claus.

— Five New York doctors may endorse a certain headache remedy, or whatever it was that used to be advertised that way. But 301,688 pharmacists agree Ronald Reagan over Gerald Ford to be the only candidate, Republican or Democrat, as the next President of the United States.

— Anyway, that's what our arithmetic makes it. American Druggist magazine reports that in a poll it conducted among 877 pharmacists, 34.4 per cent supported the former governor of California while Mr. Ford garnered only 25.4 per cent.

— Interestingly, the former pharmacist, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, placed a distant third with 9.7 per cent, barely nosing out George Wallace by one-tenth of one per cent.

— American Druggist thinks the results of the poll are "particularly significant since pharmacists traditionally reflect an important segment of community political sentiment, especially in nonurban areas."

— We're puzzled by those tests of a per cent, though, and that fractional pharmacist who likes Reagan.

— New York isn't alone. Tokyo, the world's largest city, is also in financial trouble which, if worsened, will push it to the brink of default, says Japan Economic Journal.

— They don't call it default over there. Tokyo would be designated as "a municipality which needs financial reconstruction."

Some Tired Blood In Health Research

There has been quiet grumbling in medical circles that the National Institutes of Health has permitted other nations to pull ahead of the United States in vital fields of research.

The critics blame slodgy, old-guard bureaucrats who pour government money into the same tired, old research projects but won't take a chance on anything at all unconventional.

Several doctors who control research grants have a strong conservative bias. "They ride the hobby horses of the establishment scientists into the ground," said one doctor, "but won't waste time looking at more unconventional research."

Dr. Roger Edger, a former Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, agreed that this former associates may be afraid to stick their necks out. "It's a combination of fear and conservatism," he told our reporter Terry Repak.

Here are a few specific illustrations:

— Dr. Linus Pauling, the only two-time Nobel Prize winner in history, has found it impossible to get federal funds for his research in treating cancer with ascorbic acid (vitamin C). He works closely with the renowned Scottish researcher, Ewan Cameron, whose work with cancer patients and ascorbic acid has been published around the world.

— Dr. Anticyp Verlangieri, a noted Rutgers University researcher, was refused funds for his work in reducing atherosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) with vitamin C. His experiments with rabbits on high cholesterol diets showed that vitamin C, administered in the form of disease-causing plaque formation in the arteries.

Dr. Jorgen Schlegel has made significant progress in combating cancer with vitamin C at Tulane Medical School. And Dr. Ed Seifer was the first to demonstrate that vitamin A could be used against cancer tumors of viral origin. Yet both distinguished scientists have been refused funds to further their work.

DISPUTED LETTER: The Federal Election Commission has received a complaint that President Ford has solicited campaign contributions from federal workers.

A fund-raising letter, signed by the President, has been circulated within the government. The complaint suggests that the solicitation "may be an illegal act or at least a grave impropriety."

A spokesman for the President told us steps were taken to prevent the letter from reaching federal employees and that, in any case, it contained a disclaimer advising federal employees to disregard the solicitation.

With school out for the holiday vacation, the Sanford Police Department would like to ask the motorists of our area to be particularly watchful for children playing and riding bicycles in the streets.

Rich Quigley, safety officer of the Sanford P.D., says this would hold especially true from now through the weekend following New Year's Day.

"Young people's heads will be filled with the thoughts of new bicycles and toys with little thought applied to safety," Quigley said. "Your awareness of the hazards these young people may create could prevent a child from being killed or maimed."

"We ask that you go slower than usual in residential areas, particularly on Christmas Eve when carolers may be out. At all times be watchful of children playing on sidewalks or along the side of the road," he said, "as these youngsters may run out into the street at any moment."

"With the many Christmas parties, we again remind you that drinking and driving are a deadly combination. Why take the chance of turning a joyous holiday into a tragedy that will be remembered a lifetime. Let's all pull together and make this a safe and happy season for all," Quigley said.

We reiterate Quigley's words and ask everyone to be especially careful throughout the holidays so that no one's Christmas will be marred by a tragic accident that could have been avoided.

Remember, accidents don't just happen.

The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce reminds one and all that the time is drawing nigh when our thoughts should be turning to Uncle Sam and his annual dues-collecting, otherwise known as income tax.

The Chamber will once again have income tax forms available to anyone who needs them and if it doesn't have a particular form that you need, it will be ordered — if the demand is sufficient to warrant same.

W-2 forms and W-4 forms are also available at the Chamber.

How did the tradition of Santa Claus being the giver of gifts get started?

Well, we have learned that this tradition comes to us from a fourth century German legend of St. Nicholas (Santa Claus is a German corruption of the name).

When St. Nicholas learned of three young women who were unable to attract suitors because their

Letters To The Editor

Tell It Like It Is

Thank God that we at least have a newspaper in Seminole County that tells it like it is! I have a new sense of appreciation, not only for The Evening Herald, but for reporter, Jane Casselberry, and for Managing Editor Bill Currie, for reading the front page news story with pictures on Friday, Dec. 19, in their comment of Bill Currie on Sunday, I said to myself, "whatever happened to the defenders of religious freedom?" I do not know the Allen Cutcher family, nor do I know anything about their Church, but I believe in their right to worship God and express their Christian faith as they understand God's truth to and for them! It is at best a sad commentary on our area, that we have religious bigots, self-appointed spiritual appraisers and ambitious politicians who feel that God has elected them to determine how one may express his religious beliefs! Evidently, they are not satisfied with the Constitution as it is written, if I am to judge them by their actions and recent demonstrations! This is evidence that we are not at the point of "CRISIS" respecting the dignity and value of the human personality, but we have even passed the crossroad and gone beyond the intersection concerning the rights of others! How many more times will Americans have to go into court to defend their right to worship as they please?

Now let's tell it like it was and let us help it to be the "Christmas" bit anyway? There is not a shred of Scriptural evidence to support it. It is not there! I am like Martin Luther, "I must be convinced by Scripture and reason!" Christmas comes to us from the Roman Catholic Church in the "Christ Mass." Now how about the "Santa Claus" bit? That started in Holland, when the good Bishop Klaus went through the streets at Christmas Eve giving gifts to poor children! No support in the Scriptures for "Santa Claus" either!

What has gone wrong with us as a people? Is it that some among us do not believe in the freedom of religion and to worship as one may choose? If so, why not go to Russia, where choice, would solve their problem? Is it that Christmas for many has become a mere sentimental addition for which they need some sort of Christmas Anonymous to keep them in the real world? Do they devise a theology that spiritualizes peace, making it compatible with unpeace? It seems almost incredible that Christmas isn't working, just think about it, ask yourself, as I have been asking myself, what do you think of when you think of Christmas? Christmas for many has become a "Christian Cop-Out!"

I agree with Bill Currie, let's wake up to the fact that we live in the greatest nation on earth with the greatest Bill of Rights — including freedom of religion and to worship as we choose, and start may I add making freedom work and in Seminole County!

Santa A Spirit

I am writing in response to the Cutcher family's interpretation of Revelation 22: 14 & 15 as revealed on the front page of the Evening Herald's Dec. 14 issue. I would like to remind them that Jesus often spoke in parables to the people of His day to better illustrate the messages in His sermons. The stories He used brought His talks to a level that the people could understand.

Santa Claus is nothing less than a parable saying to the children of our day that it is better to give than to receive. Santa Claus is a representation of the spirit of giving.

It is too much to ask of a very small child to comprehend that we celebrate Jesus's birthday because He is the son of God and is our salvation, though we teach him (or her) his knowledge in church services, through literature, the television media, and in our homes so that as the child matures the proper understanding is brought into focus. Through Santa Claus we are able to instill the spirit of giving right from the beginning. Later it may become clearer as to why great things brought gifts to the babe in the manger and we do likewise among ourselves each Christmas day.

I appreciate and respect the Cutcher family's beliefs, but I feel that they have missed the concept of Santa Claus. Just as Christ spoke of "the good Samaritan," we of this age and many generations past speak of Santa Claus to illustrate the giving of ourselves.

Sincerely,
Richard Stephens

TOM TIEDE Candidates: Experience Required

WASHINGTON — As Stanley Arnold tells it there is going to be some big surprise in New Hampshire's Democratic presidential primary. Unknown and unheralded, he will emerge to "talk sense" to the people. His advertising campaign will bill the state's eight radio stations and 40 newspapers. Though at first suspicious, voters will increasingly begin to listen. And when it's all over the headlines will announce to the nation: "Stanley Arnold Wins Unprecedented Upset; Man From Nowhere Shows America It Can Be Done."

Wait! It can't be done, of course. Election footnotes are cluttered with the names of obscure citizens who have dreamed the impossible headlines, only to waken with half of a per cent of the vote. Some have been opportunists. Others simply nuts. A man who claims to be an Indian chief has been entering New Hampshire primaries since, it seems, the Ice Age. Lars Larsen of Chicago campaigns regularly in an Uncle Sam suit. In 1970, a Jewish woman ran for president on a chicken soup platform. And of course there is Linda Lovelace.

Yet odds be damned, genuinely serious citizens also routinely insist on taking the bath. New York Times columnist Stanley Arnold is this season's first. Actually, he is not altogether out of the political park. He was an Adlai Stevenson campaigner during that era, and has more recently raised money-typos for Hubert Humphrey. He also ran for vice president in 1972, eventually put into nomination at the Miami convention. Still, it's fair to characterize him as a private citizen, a dark horse candidate if the ever was one.

It is also fair to say his candidacy is quixotic and doomed. Few will pay him attention, and those who do will be mischievous. Funny this, when you dwell on it, particularly in a nation that tells its children against and more, only professional politicians grow up to be president, some perhaps being presidents without growing up.

Americans bark endlessly about the poisonous influence of politics on public office, yet by rote turn to the politicians to fill them. Routinely, 90 per cent of federal office holders are, come election, returned to their posts.

Outsiders do break through. Eisenhower remembered — but rarely Wendell Willkie was the last totally apolitical man to run a major race for the presidency, a Wall Street lawyer who until the 1940 Republican convention was as well known as Stanley Arnold and besides him? Herbert Hoover, technically, though he served in government in many capacities before his presidency. Other names do not easily come to mind.

And as a matter of fact, names, other than the established politicians, who should run now do not come easily to mind. Surely there are private men as qualified for the presidency as, say, Fred Harris, or Gene McCarthy, or, god, George Wallace. But who? The electoral fact is that elections have become so packaged that only politicians have the visibility, the machinery and the opportunity to match the profile. This virtually excludes everyone else but heroes, and how many any more really want a general charge of things?

So it is that Stanley Arnold should be welcomed to the arena, even if he is only food for the lions. Perhaps he could personally lead us to water on a raft, but his name on the ballot at least suggests we are not yet totally given over to the manipulators, to the intellectual makeup artists, to the electronic Frankenstein monsters who are programmed to agree forthrightly with a winning percentage of the electorate.

Volunteers Show Yule Spirit

When you know there's going to be a turkey on the table and presents under the tree, Christmas is a time of excitement and good cheer.

But when there's hardly enough money to buy bread, and not enough for shoes and warm coats, let alone frivolous gifts, the holidays hold no joy at all.

Many youngsters in the Sanford area would be facing a bleak and joyless Christmas this year if it weren't for the efforts of volunteer workers in Youth Programs Inc.

Volunteer worker Johnny Knight of Sanford, an Auto-Train employee, will be riding the rails between Sanford and Lawton, Va., this Christmas with his son, Emmanuel Itman, 9, the Rev. Willis Carr, and two young brothers who otherwise would spend a cheerless Christmas in their deprived Sanford home.

"This (Auto-Train trip) is my Christmas present to the boys," explained Knight, who has been a Youth Programs volunteer for the past two months, and in the last several weeks put in more than 300 hours with the brothers.

According to Knight, the trip has been made possible through the efforts of A.Q. Olson of Auto-Train. The group will rest in the sleepers, eat in the dining car, and are looking forward to an exciting Christmas vacation.

During the weeks Knight has been working with the brothers, their school teacher has remarked on a complete change in the attitudes of the youngsters and their school work has reportedly improved greatly.

Another volunteer worker who is making Christmas a little brighter for area youngsters, is Carole Rosenthal of Deltona. Five months with Youth Programs, Miss Rosenthal has donated endless hours to taking three brothers on trips to the zoo, the library and other places of interest as well as helping with their school work and assisting the boys to set new standards and goals for themselves.

A student at Seminole Community College and an employee at the Division of Family Services, Miss Rosenthal helps coordinate donations for Youth Programs. She has already collected 37 dolls from Zayre's in Fern Park to give to girls in Youth Programs.

Travis was also among the volunteers who recently took 30 children on a weekend outing to Silver Springs.

Anyone wishing to bring a little joy into the lives of troubled youngsters during Christmas — or any other time of the year — should contact Youth Programs Inc., 109 N. Park Ave., Sanford, or call Lee Sterling at Youth Programs, 323-8760.

Wife Doesn't Dig Miners Working Alongside Females

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband works in the coal mines, and I've talked to lots of other wives who've worked right alongside the men!

Abby, I don't want my husband working with women. I've talked to lots of other wives about it. We feel the same way about it. We can see nothing but trouble ahead. What can we do about it?

CUMBERLAND, KY.

DEAR CUMBERLAND: You may not dig your husband working with him, but it's highly unlikely that "his" and "her" coal mines will become a reality.

My therapist is a middle-aged woman who has recommended to me by my physician.

During our last session, my therapist suggested that our sexual relationship between us might be the answer to my problem. She knows that I am married, and although I have told her that my sex life at home is not ideal, I've also said it is not a serious problem to me. Anyway, I don't know how this could be related to my stuttering and stammering problem, do you?

Will you please ask your

Eagles On McCormack Firing: 'Not Finest Hour'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles, General Manager Jim Murray and the city's sports writers reacted bitterly Monday to the firing of head coach Mike McCormack.

"I have to say without a doubt this is not our finest hour," Murray told newsmen after Leonard Tooe, owner of the National Football League team, announced the firing at a press conference and then walked out, refusing to answer questions.

"I think this is the loudest thing that has happened since I've been with the Eagles. We're a 4-and-10 team and all of us are to blame," Murray said.

"Firing Coach McCormack is the biggest mistake Mr. Tooe could possibly make," linebacker John Bunting added.

For the fourth time in seven years the Eagles face the upcoming NFL college draft — and this year, an expansion draft — without a head coach. And no one has an inkling of who McCormack's successor will be.

"I have not interviewed anyone to replace Mike, Jimmy Murray and I will go to work on this," Tooe told the press conference.

Tooe said McCormack's dismissal at the end of his three-year contract was based "in no small way... on our win-loss record."

The Eagles, 16-25-1 under McCormack, played their best

Excuse The Coaches If They Don't Have That Worried Look

No one asked me, but I'm high school basketball coaches don't appear worried to death about a slipping win-loss record, consider that a regular season is only a barometer of a team's potential, not an actual yardstick.

In fact, for most coaches, the season doesn't begin until early February, when the district tournaments start. The playoff system doesn't usually produce a great number of surprises.

I'm waiting for the day a team which goes 3-20 enters the district tournament and pulls the rug out from under a 20-3 hopeful with its trophy shelf already dusted off.

That equality of team's chances in the playoffs is one of the factors which make the system click. Consider how drab it would be post-season-wise to simply take the top team and send the others home.

Even the system by which the weekly poll is conducted is not without flaw. Conducted by the Florida Sports Writers Association, eight writers representing different regions, vote for a top 10 in each of four classes.

The catch is that writers too often vote for teams they have never seen, but often scores are not even available. In former years, when the Miami Herald conducted the poll, it polled primarily coaches, and that system was not perfect, either.

What's the answer? Maybe none. Sports writers at least have a wire service at hand. And they are probably less prejudiced than coaches.

Winter Dog Days Begin Friday

Dog days are coming! And that's not saying anyone will be sleeping Friday night in Longwood when the Sanford Orlando Kennel Club throws open its doors for another splendid season of greyhound racing.

Quintia fanatics will be coming out of the woodwork.

There's a possibility 6,000 will show up for the opener, if the weatherman gives the Jerry Collins operation a break. Opening the day after Christmas, SOKK gives visiting fans as well as college students and people with the weekend off, some sound entertainment.

Like the say, it's a good show, and even better if you win a few bucks.

WALTRIP EYES NASCAR SEASON

The Getzrace Chevrolet, driven by Darell Waltrip and prepared by master mechanic Mario Rossi, made its first appearance for the 1976 NASCAR Winston Cup stock car racing season in secret tests Friday at Daytona International Speedway. The 25-year-old Waltrip, the young lion of Winston Cup racing, ran several "hot laps" behind closed doors. Waltrip will make his first serious bid for 1976 NASCAR honors in the $21,000 Daytona 500 Sunday, Feb. 15.

NFL Profiles: Vikings Purring, Big One Elusive

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Another division championship has been wrapped up in the northland by the purring Minnesota Vikings football team, at the big carrot still looms in the faraway distance for the team which first became pro football's first four-time visitor at the Super Bowl.

"We're still going to have to wait for the end result," said Minnesota Coach Bud Grant. "We want to be playing at our best in the playoffs."

The Vikings roared to victory in their first 10 games and split the final four to finish 12-2, but they overwhelmed Buffalo 35-13 in the season finale Sunday on a snow-covered enemy field.

They again walked through the NFL's Central Division, the so-called "Black and Blue" top which has taken on a purple hue in recent years.

Ed Marinaro, caught 51 and wide receiver John Gilliam caught 50. Wide receiver Jim Lash and tight end Stu Veltz both had over 30 catches in the multiple-offense of Minnesota.

Foreman also rushed for 1,070 yards and set a team scoring record with 22 touchdowns. Brent McClanahan is a highly-competent replacement for Foreman or Marinaro. The 202-pound running back from Arizona State rushed for 38 yards and caught 18 passes in a reserve role despite missing a handful of games with a leg injury.

For years Grant relied on his defense for the championships, and while the defense led the conference in nearly every statistical category again, Tarkenton masterminded one of the game's most productive and imaginative offenses.

Murray said he had told Tooe that firing McCormack "would be the most unpopular thing he ever had to do as the owner, but he was determined to make a change."

While cleaning out his desk, McCormack said he thought he had a chance at staying on until the Denver game two weeks ago, which the Eagles lost 25-10.

"After we played so badly there, I felt this might be coming," he said.

As for McCormack's future, Coach Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals, who coached McCormack during his All-Pro career as a Cleveland Browns tackle, said recently, "As long as I'm in football, you don't have to worry about Mike McCormack."

"I know this," McCormack said. "I'm walking out of here with my head up. Regardless of record, this is a much better football team now than it was three years ago when I came in here. I am in no way ashamed."

L. Brantley Loses, 63-57

ORANGE PARK — Lake Brantley High School's basketball team, mired in a 1-7 record, played its best game of the season Monday night and lost.

The Patriots were dumped by host Orange Park, 63-57, in the opening round of the Orange Park Holiday Tournament.

Galena, 61, defeated Jacksonville Wolfson, 58-47, in other first round action.

Tonight's finale pairs Gainesville against Orange Park at 8:30 with Lake Brantley playing Wolfson for the consolation trophy at 7.

"It was our best game of the year, especially considering we have so many starters out of the lineup," said Brantley coach Chris Butterworth, who has several starters on the injured

Seven Winners In Boys Play

There were four winners in the junior boys league of the Sanford Recreation Department over the weekend, while the Colts, Rams and Jets posted victories in the intermediate boys league.

The winners:

JUNIOR BOYS
 Atlantic 3, W.R.R. 2
 W.T.R.R., in a rebuilding year, needed more height — or some height. For Atlantic National, James Little had 15 points, Mark Haman and Bill Cosgrave had 12 each.

First Federal 31
 Flagship Sanford 11
 Flagship Bank held an eight-point lead at halftime but lost it in the third quarter, and was outscored in the fourth quarter. For First Federal, Mike Gaudreau had 16 points and Robert Bridges 10.

For Flagship Bank, Jimmie Williams had 15 points.

Dekke's Gull 25
 Flagship Sanford 10
 For Dekke's Gull, Paul Jackson had 10 points and Keith Jones 8. Flagship Bank of was led by Freddie Howard with 15 points.

Sanford Electric 34
 Sanford Electric 23
 Sanford Electric won its first game of the year. Pat Harrison scored 16 points and Marvin Butler had eight points. For Gregory Lumber only two boys got in the scoring column, Wayne Pace with 18 points, and Stanley Hogan with five.

INTERMEDIATE BOYS
 Colts 29, Lions 34
 For the Colts, Rocky Jerigan was high scorer with 11 points; Billy Griffith, James Posley and James Church each had 8 points. For the Lions, Willie Shular had 14 points and Willie Brown 10.

Rams 45, Eagles 37
 David Wilcher was high point man for the Rams with 16 points while Scott Milson had 14. Donald Glickert had 17 points for the Eagles.

Jets 35, Vikings 25
 Chris Gardner was the big difference in this game, scoring 17 points for the Jets. Isaac Stephens had seven points. For the Vikings the scoring was pretty well divided with Lincoln Larson and Mark McIntosh getting six points each and Mike Aiken five.

Manolo, Celaya Star At Jai-Alai

Down the road in Fern Park, Orlando-Seminole Jai-Alai is putting the finishing touches on a successful season.

While general manager Gordon Hulbert has been smiling at attendance and mutual handle figures, fans have been treated to some superb jai-alai.

The addition of Manolo to the roster and development of Celaya to star status have been among the year's highlights. The latter was just recently moved to the 10th game feature singles after dominating the ninth game singles to the point he has already won 27 games, more than last year's season singles champ.

As for Manolo, out of the game for six months, he is vouching back into form and making many of the incredible returns which made him a house star before he opted for Tijuana two years ago. Manolo's forte is that he turns a hard return into an offensive shot.

The fronton closes Jan. 23.

Cowboys Ready For 9th In Decade

DALLAS (AP) — As the Dallas Cowboys prepare for their ninth season in the last decade into the National Football League playoffs, a brief review of their regular season uncovers a "science fiction" campaign.

"Twelve rookies, a midsize-ed fullback, the wild shotgun formation, and a young but hard-sticking defense put a 10-4 record on the board."

"That would have been hard to believe in preseason," said Coach Tom Landry, who saw his team drop out of the playoffs in 1974 for the first time in eight years.

Now, the Cowboys travel to cold Minnesota to meet the Vikings Sunday in the first round of the NFL playoffs and fullback Robert Newhouse puts it this way: "It could be 100 below zero but this is what we've worked 14 games for."

Newhouse, in particular, has been a primary cog in the Cowboy attack. He gained 831 yards, the second best ground gaining effort by a fullback in the Cowboys' 16-year history. The Cowboys needed a great

'No Sentiment, Just A Win'

Liberty Bowl was the Trojans' ninth bowl appearance under McKay, but their first outside the Rose Bowl.

"It's not only Coach McKay's last game, it's the seniors' last game, too, and we wanted to win as much for them as for the coach," said All-American running back Ricky Bell.

Bell, who made his reputation as a runner, did in the Aggies with his only pass reception in the nationally televised game and only his fourth of the year.

Quarter back Vince Evans tossed a screen pass to Bell in the left flat. Guard Donnie Hickman blocked A&M linebacker Garth Ten Napel. Bell cut back to the middle of the field and accelerated between defenders. The play covered 76 yards and put USC on top 20-0 with 5:14 left in the second quarter.

A&M, forced to play catchup, couldn't. The Aggies, who relied on their running game while compiling a 10-3 regular season record and earning a share of the Southwest Conference championship, completed only 24 passes all season. A&M quarterback Mike Jay was six of 14 against USC for 89 yards and didn't have time to throw on several passing downs.

Rankings Don't Worry Michigan

MIAMI (AP) — Although the University of Michigan may move up in the national football rankings after its Orange Bowl clash with No. 2 Oklahoma, coach Bo Schembechler dismisses any concern with the post-season polls.

"Frankly, I haven't had a chance to think much about national rankings," Schembechler said Monday as his No. 4 Wolverines flew here and shivered on an unseasonably cold 45-degree day.

"We'd rather be Big Ten champs," Schembechler said, with the resulting appearance in the Rose Bowl. "But I'm glad to be in the Orange Bowl since we've had three straight fine teams miss out on the Rose Bowl."

Quarterback Rick Leach said he was not concerned with the sportswriters' numbers game.

"I'm not worried about ratings, either," he said, "but we will be playing a better team here than the one (UCLA) that Ohio State is meeting in the Rose Bowl."

Lion Of Flanders A Loser?

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali's next scheduled opponent is Jean-Pierre Compin of Belgium, a man who knows his chances.

"I was tired of hearing about the losing streak," USC won its first seven games and then went into a four-game losing streak shortly after McKay confirmed that he would leave USC after 16 years to become head coach of the new Tampa Bay team of the National Football League.

His record at USC was 127-40-8, including national championships in 1957, 1959 and 1972. The he is "beat from the start."

"But I promise to do all I can to be in good condition so that the match will not be a mere formality for Ali. It's a great honor, not only for me but for Belgium."

Several hours after promoter Don King said that Ali would fight Compin Feb. 20, the fighter, who is nicknamed the Lion of Flanders, said in an interview in Brussels that he feels

All's next opponent was expected to be Henry Clark of San Francisco, but King said "He'll probably fight Clark in an interview in Brussels that he feels

No Knockdowns As Colonels Win

Spirits Lose Fight, Game

LOUISVILLE (AP) — St. Louis lost a basketball game and a fight Monday night; it is still undecided which was more re-said.

With guard Bird Averitt scoring his 25 points in the first three quarters, Kentucky cruised to an early 45-27 lead and breezed past the Spirits 126-101 in the only American Basketball Association game scheduled.

As far as the fight goes, Kentucky's Ron "The Plumber" Thomas was a short altercation with St. Louis rookie M. L. Carr after the game had long since been settled.

Carr had been beaten on a couple of picks and, when he sensed another on the way, "I guess he just decided to take it out on me," Thomas said. "He hit me a good kick."

Not to be outdone, Thomas called another screening play. And, as Carr tried to move by the munched Thomas, "he took a swing — and I went after him."

"I had him by the jersey," Thomas said, "and I had the first time."

Averitt had an extended bout with the flumpey hurt a foot and McClain had a bruised shoulder. But the three were sufficiently recovered Monday to combine for 97 points while hitting 21 of 30 shots.

The guard trio paced a Coler attack which featured seven players in double figures. Forward Maurice Lucas had 14 points and Travis Grant, Will Jones and Artis Gilmore each had 12.

Marvin Barnes led St. Louis with 25 points and Ron Boone added 19.

Toronto Notches 4-3 Win

TORONTO (AP) — Ian Turnbull gave himself a birthday present Monday night.

The Toronto defenseman celebrated his 22nd birthday by blanking a slip shot past Los Angeles goalie Roger Vachon late in the third period to give the Maple Leafs a 4-3 victory over the Kings.

It was the only National Hockey League game scheduled.

The goal, only the sixth of the year for Turnbull, was set up by defensive standout Borje Salming and Inge Hammarstrom, who ended a 90-game scoring drought with his eighth goal of the season.

Errol Thompson and Stan Weir were the other scorers for the Leafs. Don Kazak scored twice and Shlenski Kanesseger once for the Kings.

Turnbull was hopeful after the game that his goal and the assist on Turnbull's winning goal would get him back on the track.

"I haven't been scoring when I've had the chances," he said. "I've been trying too hard, maybe."

Vachon, who blocked 30 Toronto shots, said his teammates were having trouble finding the range on Leaf goalie Wayne Thomas, who had 33 saves.

"Our defense was knocking Toronto on its butt in front of the net alright," he said. "The problem was that our shooters couldn't hit the goal."

It was the only WHA game played.
