Briefly

Lake Mary P&Z

The Lake Mary Planning and Zoning Board will meet Tuesday, August 22, beginning at 7 p.m. in the city commission conference room of Lake Mary City Hall.

One item on the agenda is consideration of an amendment to the city code to allow financial institutions with drive-in facility in the Professional Office zoning district.

Warning to Seniors

Senior Citizens are warned not to give out Social Security numbers. Michael Zabko, Executive Director of TREA, Senior Citizens League said he has received reports of flyers being circulated indicating that people born from 1917 through 1926 must register their social security numbers to collect benefits of pending legislation. While he said it is true the group is working for passage of Notch Reform, "We do not need your social security number for this," he said.

For additional information phone Michael J. Zabko, at 1-800-333-8725.

Sanford boosts police salaries

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — City Commissioners made a substantial commitment to Sanford police officers in agreeing to increase the department's budget by $1.6 million.

Included in the increase are 10 new positions, and a substantial increase in salaries throughout the ranks. Commissioners made the commitment Friday at a budget work session, and though the figures of the budget increase won't be finalized until the entire budget is presented to the commission in

Commission ready to make officers' pay among the best in the county

September, Police Chief Brian Tooley can expect his department coffers to grow to nearly $8 million.

Starting salaries for officers will increase from $25,467 to $29,000, while sergeants will see an increase of almost $6,000 in their minimum salaries. "I think this plan addresses starting officers, mid-range officers and senior officers," said Police Chief Brian Tooley. "This is dramatic, but I think this is what it's going to take."

The salary increases will put Sanford officers at or above the average pay for officers of similar sized departments in the region.

New officers will be paid a minimum of $29,000 to a maximum of $43,865. Corporals will see a boost from a minimum of $30,766 to a maximum of $43,865. The parameters for sergeants' pay will be from $37,100 to $56,582.

Tooley said he expects the pay increases to help the department with its recruitment and retention program. City police officials have long complained that it is hard for them to recruit and retain officers because other departments in the region pay better.

The increases are also expected to put

Lake Mary mulls options for city's cable franchise

Residents angry over increase in cable rates

By Michelle Jeris
Managing Editor

LAKE MARY — Confusion over cable television rates and a break down in communication between Time Warner and several community members kept City Commissioners from approving a franchise agreement with the cable company.

City Commission voted during its Thursday meeting to postpone the first reading of a franchise agreement with Time Warner Entertainment following protests of implementing higher rates without any notice to the customer.

According to Diane Pickett, a vice president of public affairs for Time Warner, the rate increase is a result of upgrades to the cable system, including a new fiber-optic network, and the addition of several channels.

"We are just about finished with upgrading the facilities," Pickett said. "There are a lot of additional channels, and the old boxes people have will no longer work with the old system."

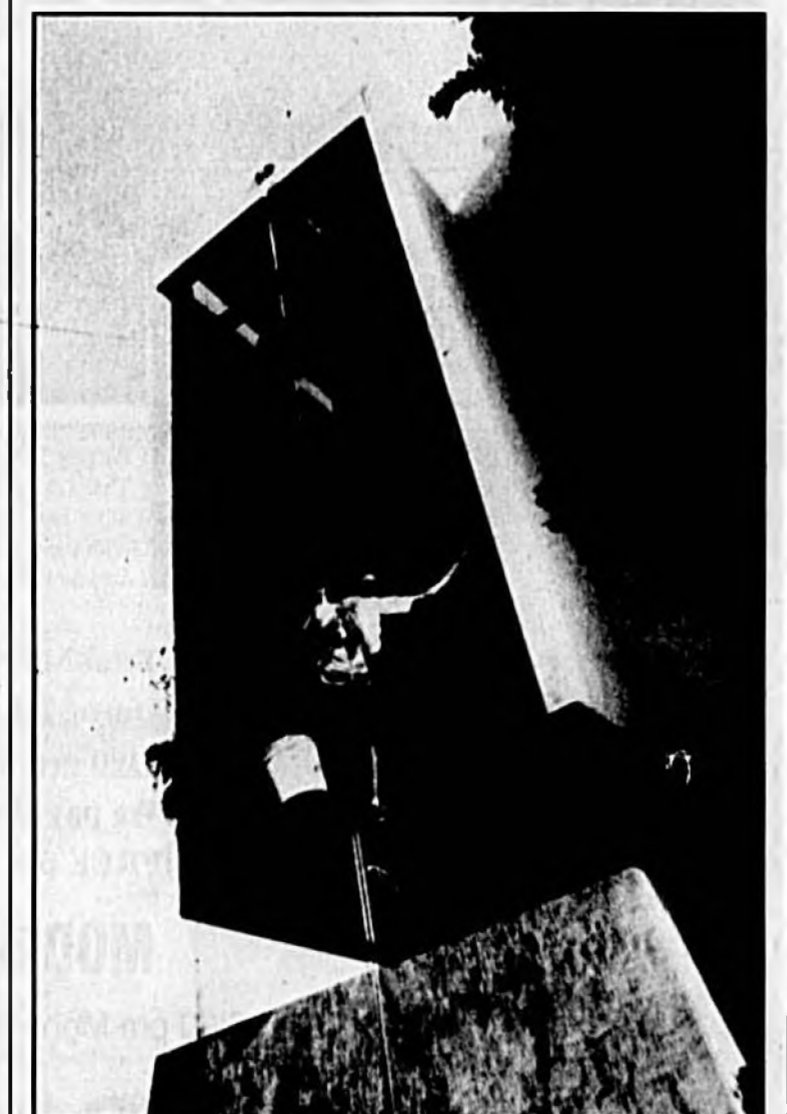

Customers have the option of ordering more than 200 channels, Pickett said. The basic/standard package now has 63 channels, an increase from 35 channels.

According to Pickett, customers are now paying $7.42 more for the basic/standard cable package. But, the new price includes the additional channels, including MSNBC, TV Land and Comedy Central.

Pickett said the Disney

Squeaky clean

Kristian Martir uses ropes and pulleys to get those hard to clean windows and the Seminole County Courthouse. Martir and several other professional window cleaners were cleaning the courthouse windows Friday before moving to 1st Street and Park Avenue to clean windows at the State Attorney's office.

Adopt-A-Classroom

Sanford Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Ron Rose, center, presents a check to Pine Crest Elementary School. The donation is the first of several as part of the Chamber's Adopt-A-Classroom program. Accepting the donation are principal Barry Liebovitz, back; teachers Ann Silvius and Debbie Howdyshell; and students in Pine Crest's Pre-K Early Intervention Program. The money will be used to purchase items for the class room, possibly a convection oven for baking goodies for the students.

Stephenson oversees drug court

By Thomas McGauley
Special to the Herald

SANFORD — Circuit Judge Gene Stephenson knows first hand the pain that drugs can cause: His 22-year-old daughter has waged her own battle with drug addiction.

Stephenson also sees the impact that drug offenders have on an overburdened criminal justice system. Drug cases fill the courtrooms and prisons, yet despite punitive sanctions, drug abuse continues.

These are the factors that moved Stephenson to action.

This fall he will preside over Seminole County's first drug court, which will place first-time, nonviolent drug offenders in a treatment-based program.

"I believe I'll have a better insight," Stephenson said of the drug cases that will come before him "I've gone through it with my own family. It pulls on my compassionate side."

In sanction-based courts the drug abuser faces incarceration or probation. However, the new 12-month Seminole County program will focus on treating the addiction.

It will include strict supervision by probation officers, extensive counseling, drug testing several times a week, and meeting with Stephenson bi-weekly.

Charges will be dropped if the defendant completes the program.

"Treatment should be a part of the punishment," Stephenson said.

His family experience with drug abuse might tap into his compassionate side, but Stephenson said he will waste no time with abusers who don't

Sub veterans commiserate with Russian crew and families

By Russ White
Staff Writer

SANFORD — The sinking of the Russian nuclear submarine Kurak in the Barents Sea last week sent chills up and down the spines of submariners throughout the world.

"We're close," Ernie Goodwin said.

Goodwin, a 22-year U.S. sub veteran, says all those who have been in the "Silent Service" admire and appreciate one another.

"That the Russians were our enemy during the Cold War doesn't change the feeling we have for the crew of the Kursk and their families," Goodwin said. "They're just like us — submarine family."

Peg Stone of Lake Mary (center front) gave the U.S. Submarine Veterans of Central Florida the official battle flag of the USS Spadoff at the unit's August meeting. Her husband, the late Louis Strong, swam on the submarine that sank 21 Japanese ships and badly damaged eight others. The Central Florida vets will send the flag to the National Submarine Museum in New London, Conn.

The Way We Were: Sanford circa 1922

I was recently loaned a Sanford Daily Herald dated Wednesday, May 31, 1922 which had on the front page, the individual pictures of all 31 members of the Sanford High School graduating class. The newspaper had belonged to Madelyn Mallem. One of the graduates was her brother, William Mallem.

A couple of other graduates most of you will recognize were Zillah Welsh who taught first grade at Southside Primary School for at least 40 years and Margaret Zachary who also taught in the Sanford schools for many years. Most of you know her as Margaret Zachary Wright, who continues to live on Elliott Avenue.

Grace Marie Stinecpher

The commencement had taken place the previous night and the article on the front page was full of it. According to the writer, the auditorium (Sanford High on Palmetto and Ninth) was so crowded at an early hour that chairs had to be placed in the aisles and many had to stand. Led by the school board and the faculty, the seniors marched down the aisle singing "Black and Gold" (the school song, I believe) and took their place on the stage. The singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" came next after which Dr. S. W. Walker of the Methodist Church gave the invocation.

Mr. T. W. Lawten, superintendent of schools, presented the following awards; Essay on Better Speech - Zillah Welsh; Story on Better Speech - Florence McKay; Poster on Better Speech - Byron Stephens; Essay on the "City Beautiful" - Naomi Scroggen and Alice Bolley; Good Health Posters - Byron Stephens, Rodman Lehman, Sarah Malpes.

All of the above awards were given by the Welfare Department of the Sanford Woman's Club.

The National Society of Colonial Daughters presented Georgia Mobley with an award for her essay on a patriotic subject. Patty Lyles was the recipient of the national current events prize.

Winner of the Irving Bachelor Oratorical Contest was Gayle Marshall while Lorraine Phillips was awarded the Mobley Scholarship Medal. The senior who received the highest average was Zillah Welsh; she was given $30 in gold by Col. A. M. Trasher.

Miss Welsh also won the DAR American History prize and William Mallem received the DAR patriotic Act award. Both were given by Sallie Harrison Chapter, DAR. After a piano solo by Dorothy Ray, Mr. Lawton introduced Dr. W. F. Blackon of Lake Monroe, former president of Rollins College, who gave the commencement address.

Mr. Lawton then awarded the diplomas, assisted by Mrs. Mazewill, after which the seniors filed out into the hall. There, they stood to receive flowers, presents and accolades, showered upon them in congratulations for a remarkably successful school term.

Rotary Club Entertains Senior Boys

The Sanford Rotary Club had been host to the boys of the Senior Class the previous evening prior to the commencement exercises. It was a dinner meeting held at the Montezuma Hotel.

Vice President Householder presided at the meeting in the absence of President D.C. Thrasher who was attending the national convention in San Francisco.

After the formal opening of the meeting, B. F. Whitner told the boys about the Rotary Club and what it stood for. The following boys then gave these prepared toasts: "To the Class" - Edward Henderson; "The City Substantial" - Robert Thrasher; "The Bond Issue for Good Roads" - Frederic Rines; "The Two Million Dollar Hotel" - Willard Lumley; "A new Speedway Around Lake Monroe" - William Fitts; "The New Six Story First National Bank" - Fay Lossing; "The Sanford Herald" - William Lyle Trapp; "The New School Buildings" - William Mallem; "Tennis Courts, Gymnasiums and Ball Parks" - Harold Christensen; "Our Country Club" - Arthur Moore; "The Boys of the High School" - Bertram Sheppard.

The toasts were very clever and greatly enjoyed by the Rotary members.

Included in the menu were Fruit Cocktail Montezuma, hearts of celery, chicken bouillon en Tasse, broiled filet of red snapper, Julian potatoes, buttered beets, early June peas in cream, Waldorf salad a la Rotary, apple pie a la mode.

Six O'Clock Luncheon

(Yes, this was the headline for this party which had been given the previous Friday night. This title was restated in the article, so I guess one could name a meal that one wanted.)

This five course luncheon was given by Mrs. Thornton to honor the girl graduates in her Sunday School Class. (The name of the church was not given).

The class colors, garnet and gold, were used effectively in the decorations. A garnet basket with the class flower, brown eyed daisy, formed the centerpiece. A large bunch of poppies and streamers of garnet and gold festooned from the chandelier over the dining table. The table was spread with a beautiful battenburg lunch cloth over gold. Place cards and favors were also in the class colors.

Erminia Houser, a member of the class who was graduating in Columbia, S.C., could not be present, so a large picture of her was in evidence.

Those enjoying this delightful occasion were Margaret Zachary, Lillian Shinholser, Marion Hand, Pattiye Lyles, Esther Hughey, Mrs. D.S. Babbitt and Mrs. Thornton.

The luncheon menu included grapefruit cocktail, pressed chicken, sliced pork, creamed potatoes, corn a la soufflé, salad, olives, saltines, orange ice with whipped cream and cherries.

Glasses were then filled with delicious grape juice punch and all drank to a toast given by Mrs. Thornton.

The TV's off ... give my regards to Shannon Hori

Thank you. Now, that the national conventions are through, I'm unplugging the television.

Here are my opinions — likes, dislikes, complaints:

- Tom Brokaw and Tim Russert of NBC were the top anchor-commentator team. Russert's smart and he smiles a lot. Most commentators aren't smart enough to smile.
- Peter Jennings has lost it. Poor guy gets pulled down by Cokie Roberts, Sam Donaldson and George Stephanopoulos. Please, ABC take pity on Pete.
- Paula Zahn's better looking than Meg Ryan.
- Doris Kearns Goodwin is a wonderful writer and good TV guest. I used to like Peggy Noonan, who wrote Ronald Reagan's speeches. She was just plain mean the other night, attacking Al Gore.
- Chris Matthews is almost always on the ball, don't you think?
- Dan Rather? I'd rather not.
- I'll plug the TV in when the West Wing returns in the fall. C.J.'s the best. Josh is great. Toby needs to loosen up. Was President Bartlett hurt badly?
- Local TV has two superstars: Shannon Hori and Rod Johnson. The sports guys should be replaced with puppets.

Russ White

- I'm tired of the old jocks selling beer. Stick with lizards.
- Are those Marla Weech's real teeth? "Only on Channel 9?"
- Office football pools were bad enough ... now we have Survivor talk.
- Can Tom Selleck act?
- Can't sleep? Try SGT.V.
- ESPN is fun except when the sarcastic Linda person shows up.
- Letterman's two girl friends need to get a life.
- I bet George W. Bush wishes he had Ted Danson on his team.
- My wife likes the antique show on WMFE.
- Dennis Miller's OK. I like all the Millers — Ann, Arthur, Steve and Stu. (Stu was the old relief pitcher who was blown off the mound by the wind at Candlestick Park.) If you knew that, you probably knew Glenn Miller, too.
- If television is chewing gum for the eyes, I'm ready for by-focals.
- Old Jack's Eagle attempt (made for TV) Friday was the last golf shot I want to see.
- Remember Richard Carlson in "I Led Three Lives?" Broderick Crawford in "Highway Patrol?"
- Lash LaRue, the cowboy with a whip, was once a hairdresser. "Eye" Lash LaRue. They had a film clip of his on TV recently.
- Tiger Woods is good TV. Glad I caught that smile of his after a round with Jack Nicklaus.

The TV is unplugged now. Someone, please tape it for me. I'll play it when I break my latest No-TV diet, a few months from now.

Russ White's column appears daily in the Seminole Herald.

KENNETH J. BROWN, JR.
Kenneth J. Brown, Jr., former news and sports director for WESH-TV in Orlando and a three-term mayor of Longwood, died at Florida Hospital Orlando on Friday, August 18, 2000. Mr. Brown, who lived in Longwood, was 73. He was interred at the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints in Lake Mary. He was born in Green River, Wyo.; and lived in Florida 37 years.

Mr. Brown was a treasurer and member of the board of directors for the Florida Sports Hall of Fame. He was an organizer and former president of the Florida Sportscasters, a charter member of two Rotary clubs (Seminole and Longwood).

During World War II, Mr. Brown served in the Navy aboard the USS San Francisco.

Mr. Brown is survived by his wife, Betty; sons, Rick Brown of Boulder City, Nev., Kenneth Brown III of Maitland; daughters, Nancy Tyrrell of Athens, Ga. and Karen Colosi of Orlando. He had 11 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

GRAMKOW FUNERAL HOME

HOW DO YOU BUILD A COMMUNITY?

It's really very simple, families build a community. They build trust, confidence and security that sustain us through the good times, as well as times of trouble. For over 45 years, the Gramkow family has been given the privilege to serve the families of our community during one of life's most difficult times. So how do you bring a family tradition of caring service into the next century?

Simple, you continue to focus your attention on those values that time cannot change...

...You treat each family with heartfelt compassion, just like they are your family.

...You continue to listen to every family's concern and solve each with their best interest at heart.

...And you continue the heritage by developing the next generation with out compromise to those time honored values of Honesty, Integrity and Professionalism.

...Simply put... We treat every family just like we want to be treated... Like the Golden Rule.

As an honored member of your community, this is my pledge to you. I will not compromise these values, for they represent you... Our Family, Our Community.

Beware of Republicans bearing school vouchers

LOS ANGELES — Nervous about losing support from public school teachers, Vice President Al Gore sent his campaign manager, Donna Brazile, to a Sunday meeting to assure National Education Association members that he still does not support school vouchers.

The NEA was upset because Gore's running mate, U.S. Sen. Joseph Lieberman of Connecticut, thinks that poor children should be given public funds to pay private school tuition. The NEA, like many teachers' organizations, adamantly opposes such proposals. Given that, Lieberman may soft-pedal his views on vouchers for the rest of the campaign. But public school advocates still have reason to worry; there is growing support for vouchers and similar initiatives, even among more liberal policy advocates.

Former U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young, for example, has become a proponent of financial assistance to help inner-city children opt out of failing public schools, even though his late wife, Jean, was a longtime public school teacher and public education advocate. Young serves on the board of the Children's Scholarship Fund, a private organization that gives small scholarships to poor families for private school tuition. Writing in The Los Angeles Times last year, Young compared the educational aspirations of the 1.25 million poor parents who sought the scholarships to the struggle for civil rights: "This month witnessed another such moment: 1.25 million cries for help voiced by poor, largely minority families, seeking something most Americans take for granted — a decent education for their children."

As the scholarship requests show, a lot of African-American parents are desperate to get their children out of failing public schools. Those parents have grown frustrated with inattentive principals, an unfathomable public school bureaucracy, uncaring teachers and, perhaps most of all, an undisciplined student body.

Unfortunately, some African-American students have adopted a culture that derides scholarship, and few attentive parents want their children's academic achievement undermined by that kind of peer pressure. So, if they can afford an alternative, they often remove their kids from public schools.

Even conceding the failures of some public schools, though, there is good reason to be wary of voucher proposals, as many African-American activists have noted. While GOP activists are now careful to use poor black and brown children as their rationale for supporting vouchers, the history of support for vouchers by some conservatives actually goes back to their desire to leave newly integrated public schools in the 1970s, and to take their tax dollars with them. There is no reason to believe that the motives of those conservatives have changed.

More important, vouchers would likely expand beyond poor families to become another vast middle-class entitlement. While poor families would struggle to make up the difference between the voucher funds (usually proposed at a cap of $2,000) and actual private school tuition, which may run to $15,000 or more, middle-class families would more easily subsidize their children's private school education with government assistance. And the poorest of the poor, of course, would be left in those miserable public schools, which would be worse off because of the desertion of any parents with aspirations for their kids.

Is that what this country wants? A system that exacerbates the differences between the very poor and the affluent? For generations, part of the great promise of America has been universal public education. We ought to think long and hard before we give up on that promise.

Palmer asks public to remember jailers

To the editor:

I can't let the recent ceremony at the Seminole County Sheriff's Office honoring "heroes" pass without comment.

I think the honors are misplaced in one case. On June 9, 1975, there was a fire at the Seminole County Jail. The real heroes in that tragedy were Frank R. Thomas and Bill Gebhart, who braved the heat and smoke without oxygen or protective equipment to rescue trapped inmates.

They have never been recognized and should be. I know, I was there.

Schaffner should quit her day job

To the editor:

I find it disturbing to have a highly-paid ($72,176 and benefits) employee of the Seminole County School Board running for a seat on the School Board — particularly while working full-time for tax-payers. Throughout her campaign, Ms. Dede Schaffner has not taken any personal leave in order to pursue her political ambitions. As a full-time public employee she cannot legally campaign while on the job.

Also, she has told many she plans to keep her day job and take the ($30,400 plus benefits) of a Board member if elected.

This must give pause to Supt. Paul Hagerty ($135,000 plus benefits) to have an employee also be his boss.

Ms. Schaffner already has a busy schedule as a Board employee. She scarcely has time to return her phone calls in less than several days. Add to this her job (unpaid) as Trustee Chair of Seminole Community College where she has displayed inadequate administrative skills in a grievance complaint and currently in a law suit against the college.

Ms. Schaffner, please give us all a rest.

Teacher thanks IHOP for help

To the editor:

I would like to publicly extend a big thank you to IHOP and all businesses that employ teen-agers in the summer to update skills.

This summer I worked at the local IHOP franchise in Oviedo. The restaurant is newly owned and operated by Kim and Jim Bingham. They were especially receptive to having me as a temporary employee, knowing I would return to teaching ProStart at Lake Mary High School by August.

ProStart is a curriculum developed by the National Restaurant Association for high school students to develop real-world skills and knowledge for the hospitality and restaurant industry. I worked as a hostess, cashier, assistant server, prep cook, line cook and busperson. The employees were helpful in training me and were forgiving of all my mistakes.

What I learned from this experience will be priceless at school this year. Besides the obvious skills that I improved on, I developed an appreciation for the need for constant training. I can now relate to the work experiences my students face. I have many new ideas for meals we can prepare and serve at the Red Ram Cafe. Thank you again for this chance to grow.

Sincerely,
Rhonda Poulin

Residents glad clubs are closed

To the editor:

The purpose of this letter is to complement Sheriff Eslinger and his police deputies and agents who have been working so earnestly and effectively to clean up the "Porno Blight" spots in and around the S.R. 436/U.S. 17-92 intersection. Praise also goes to the FBI officials and agents working in coordination with Sheriff Eslinger.

That the "Blight" conditions had been allowed to develop has been a matter of grave concern to family oriented residents, as well as to legitimate business owners, in the surrounding area. It is common knowledge said to be recognized by Sheriff Eslinger, that such activities attract criminal elements to this important area — an area often described as "The Gateway to Seminole County."

An example of how "Porno Blight" can cause crime in this area was reported in a newspaper article awhile back in which it was revealed that the owner of an establishment and his partner "... tried to rob three banks in September ..." for which they were sentenced to prison.

Recent newspaper articles have reported the superb police work being accomplished by Sheriff Eslinger and his police force, in coordination and with the assistance of FBI agents, to gather real, factual, accurate evidence as to what truly goes on in and because of such improper places.

Whereas in the past legitimate businesses vacated some places in or near this intersection now as the "Blight" is being cleared up anyone can see signs of renewal in this, "The Gateway to Seminole County"!

So, the undersigned say "Congratulations to all those who are involved in this Public Service, and, congratulations, in particular to Sheriff Eslinger." We also say "Press on, press on, and press on." Do not tire of such "Good Works" for the public.

On the way to somewhere else

He was seated at the piano, facing away from where I stood in the kitchen doorway. I could see just the side of his face, and I noticed for the first time how angular it was now, more like a man's than a boy's. He touched the keys lightly, playing this intricate piece as a gift to his older sister, who had graduated from high school that afternoon.

I had known him since he pushed trucks through sandboxes. But what I was remembering was the rough patch in middle school when the police had been involved and his grades dropped and he would disappear for long hours without telling anyone, and his parents sat up nights, angry and scared. My own son stood in the kitchen with me. Sometimes I'm baffled by the choices he makes, the words that come out of his mouth, the outlook he takes on certain things.

Now and then, when he does something particularly confounding or disagreeable, my brain leaps wildly to images of him as a completely dysfunctional adult who wears slippers to the supermarket. I wonder what all parents inevitably wonder when their child does something loopy or dangerous: Where have I gone wrong?

We worry that we're not providing the right signposts, and therefore our children are going to lose their way — not just for a few hours or days but for the rest of their lives.

The previous day, I had attended another graduation, this one of eighth-graders. The girls wore elegant strapless gowns in muted shades of lavender and lemon. They moved like royalty, gliding across the stage like a cool breeze. The boys, on the other hand, looked as if they'd been issued their bodies that morning and were still figuring out how all the parts worked. They tugged at their jackets and ties.

They were so sweetly gawky that I smiled every time I thought of them. That's when it hit me. I suddenly understood a basic, obvious principle of growing up that had somehow escaped me until that moment. (No surprise there.)

Whatever a child is today isn't who he is. It's only what he is today. Today is simply a snapshot of one stage in a long process.

Here was the evidence right in front of me. In the living room, as the young man played, his sister sat on the couch with her friends, tired and dreamy from their long day, listening as if sinking into the arms of the music. I had the sensation I was watching a movie that suddenly had been fast-forwarded. In an instant, it seemed, the young man had leaped from a sharp-mouthed, aimless insurgent to this lovely person at the piano, a sophomore with solid grades and a gentle demeanor.

 I felt a remarkable relief, a lightening of the urge to shape every step of my son's journey into something that fits a pleasing mold right this minute. I understood that I don't need to lie awake at night, darkly analyzing his reluctance to join the swim team or his outburst the other day on the playground or his bullheadedness about long division. They're not harbingers of disaster, but rather passage-ways leading (however circuitously) toward the person he'll eventually be.

I thought, too, that the passageways probably never really lead to one ultimate destination. At least, I hope they don't. I shudder to think that the person I am today is it, the finished product. Certainly there are always stages left in the manufacturing process, allowing us to keep moving toward something greater, kinder, more interesting.
 I suddenly knew what I wished for the young man and for all of us gathered that day: small graduations for the rest of our lives.
 Today is simply a snapshot of one stage.

 Channel will also soon be part of the basic/standard cable package. Other rates depend on what packages people choose.
 "We continue to add value to the packages," she said. "There are a lot more choices for our customers, and the fiber network means fewer outages and better picture quality."
 Even with the additional channels and better quality, several residents voiced concerns about the rate increase and a possible monopoly of the cable market in Lake Mary.
 "I would like to know what the city is doing for competition within the city," Cecil Thompson said. "Can the city solicit other cable companies to come in so the rates might go down?"
 According to City Attorney Donna McIntosh, the city's franchise with Time Warner is non-exclusive, and other companies can come into the city. However, the city has had no response from other cable companies.

 Another concern was the lack of forewarning about the new cable rates. However, Pickett said every cable customer in Lake Mary received through the mail an in-depth brochure on the new rates and the package options. She said many people may have thrown it away without looking at it.
 At the end of the discussion, Lake Mary Mayor David Meador asked Pickett to sit down with City Manager John Litton to discuss how the city and the cable company can work together to get information about the new rates to the city's residents.
 First reading for the franchise agreement was re-scheduled for Commission's Sept. 7 meeting.

 pressure on the department. In previous budget meetings the commission, particularly Mayor Larry Dale and Commissioner Whitey Eckstein, has voiced its displeasure over standards and accountability within the department.
 "When we pass this, I want all the rhetoric out there to stop about our lack of commitment to the police department," Eckstein said. "We're committed to the department, but we also expect more accountability."

Dale echoed Eckstein's comments, saying the hard work of improving the department still lies ahead.
 "This is good, and I'm in favor of it," Dale said, "but let me tell you something Chief — you just shot the moose. If you're a moose hunter, you know what I mean. You've got the thrill of the hunt, but once you shoot the moose, your work just begun because you got to haul that thing down the mountain. Let me tell you something, that is W-O-R-K."

HIPPY Preschool Program needs parents

By Marva Hawkins
Florida Correspondent

SANFORD—The HIPPY Preschool Education Program needs parents who would be willing to help in Seminole County.

If you have a three, four or five-year-old child, you are eligible for the program.

Seminole County HIPPY, an AmeriCorps Initiative, has jobs, scholarships and a Parenting Program. The program is for preschool youngsters.

The General Secretary Gano, Executive Director, and Edward

Blackshear, Program Manager, have begun to recruit those who are interested.

- Members applying must have a GED or high school diploma.
- They will receive a stipend of $90.00.
- Members are to serve 1,700

hours of service training and volunteer hours per year.

• After one year of service each member will receive a $4,800 education award.

• Must commit to 2 years service with AmeriCorps.

Those who are interested can call Gano at (407) 774-6843 or (407) 324-9323.

Submarine

Chief Ernie Goodwin, a weapons and torpedo specialist, served on four subs from 1955 to 1977. He finished his Navy tour running boots at the Naval Training Center in Orlando. He lives in DeBary and belongs to a U.S. Submarine Veterans Group that meets the first Thursday of the month at the Sanford Fleet Reserve.

"Sure, we have some stories to tell about the submarine service," Goodwin said. "The guys from World War II know what war was all about. We lost 52 subs but our subs wiped out more than half of the Japanese ships."

Goodwin was pleased that Peg Strong, the widow of World War II submariner Louis Strong, visited with the sub vets at their August meeting. Mrs. Strong, who lives in Lake Mary, gave the veterans a framed battle flag from the USS Spadefish (SS 411).

"The Spadefish sank 21 Japanese ships and badly damaged eight others," Goodwin said. "This was one of the very special subs to serve in World War II. It was reclassified and used again during the Cold War."

In appreciation for Mrs.

Strong's gift to the vets, she was made an honorary member of the base.

"We're very proud of the battle flag, the books and memorabilia she has donated," Goodwin said.

He said the battle flag will be sent to the National Submarine Museum in New London, Conn. for public display.

The former submariner said that 2000 marks the 100th year of the U.S. submarine service. Thousands of sub vets will meet at Atlantic City in September. The U.S. Postal Service issued four submarine stamps, he said.

Court

finish the program.

"I won't hesitate to prosecute," he said.

The program will not be open to anyone caught dealing drugs. Stephenson became interested in drug courts when he followed their success in Volusia, Orange, and Brevard counties. In fact, they have proven successful in communities throughout the country.

Horace McMorrow, deputy court administrator in Seminole County, said recidivism rates are about 60 percent in drug courts and 95 percent in sanction-based courts.

"Treatment programs are effective," he said. "Sanction-based programs are not very effective."

Others working on the front lines of the drug war agreed.

"Drug courts give people a chance to turn things around," said Daniel Lamb, the director of The Grove Counseling Center, a drug treatment center in Sanford. "Not everyone responds, but the numbers are pretty high. If the program is strict and clear-cut, they work."

Breaking the cycle of addiction can save the addict, and by reducing recidivism it also relieves the overwhelming cost and burden that drug cases place on the system.

The cost and impact drug offenders have on the court system is so high it cannot be measured, said J. Preston Silvermail, chief judge of the 18th Judicial Circuit, which includes Seminole County.

"Most judges believe that 80 percent of the cases that come before them are related to drugs and alcohol," Silvermail said.

McMorrow said that numerous studies have found drug courts to be a more cost-effective method of dealing with the drug problem. A study by the U.S. Department of Justice found that a program in Washington, D.C., saved twice as much money as it spent.

Untreated drug abuse also has an impact on all of society. According to Silvermail, domestic violence, prostitution, grand theft, petty theft, assault, robbery, and burglary are connected to drug abuse.

"The cost of treatment is low," Stephenson said, adding that he hopes to make room in the jails for violent offenders.

He also hopes to change some lives. He knows treatment-based programs can work. His daughter recently graduated from a residential drug treatment program.

"She's doing good," he said. "I just hope we can save a few people."

Another feature, another win for Rogers

By Dave Westerman
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

SAMSULA - It was just another night at the office last Saturday for Orlando's David Rogers.

Rogers' office is the half-mile New Smyrna Speedway and he again dominated the weeks 25-lap Super Late Model feature. Travis Kittleson beat Rogers in the heat but the TM Ranch/Orlando Dodge driver had his intrepid hooked up and came back in the feature.

Kittleson drew for the feature putting Rogers on the pole and it was all academic from there as the battle for second turned out to be a good one between Kittleson and Sammy Graham. Graham eventually got around Kittleson but finished a full straightaway behind Rogers. Kittleson was third ahead of Tom Root and Morgan Hoover.

Chad Pierce used Michael Williams' bad luck to his advantage and took the first place in the feature.

Williams looked like a sure winner until distributor problems sent him to the pits handing the lead over to Pierce who had his hands full trying to hold back Randy Dye.

Pierce was up to the task and held off Dye who claimed second and was first to congratulate Pierce in victory lane. Chad Altman was back from his big crash at Lakeland and took third with Phillip Besette and Bill Morris rounding out the top five.

Mike Fritts and his crew had towed to Deoto Speedway in Bradenton for a special Super Late Model event. When that got rained out, they high-tailed it back to the shop, picked up their Modified, got to New Smyrna just in time to race and win their heat, then capped off a long day with a win in the Modified feature.

Fritts withstood some early pressure from Tank Tucker then pulled away to a relatively easy win. Tucker was second with Jim Flynn, Mark Vandevender and Joe Middleton completing the top five.

A year ago Jim Engstrom was about to give up his racing dream. But with the help of Master Car Builder Bobby Sears, Engstrom made a comeback and finally got his first career Mini-Stock win this week.

With Osteen's Sears even coaching him in victory lane as to how to react to the crowd, Engstrom was quick to thank everyone who had helped him get his first win. Eric Powell came home second ahead of Rex Christensen and Jamie McCague.

Robert Andrecheck led all the way to take the Sportsman victory. Steve Redditt had a strong run for second followed by John Nusbaum, Jeff Miller and Ian Huffman.

By far the best race of the night was in the Super Stocks as the lead was traded back and forth numerous times. When the dust settled, Jim Winterstein had

Time to honor Spring's best

Sanford softball champions to receive trophies at Fall Meeting

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Eight adult slow pitch softball teams will finally get their due this Monday night when the City of Sanford Parks and Recreation Department makes its Spring League trophy presentation ceremony and the organizational meeting for the Fall Adult Softball Leagues.

Sanford Central Baptist Church (Church A Division), Sanford First Church of the Nazarene (Church B Division), Beer 30 (regular season and tournament champions in Co-Ed), Sunmland Corporation (regular season Women), F.B.I. (Women's Tournament Champions), Wilson-Eichelberger Mortuary (Wednesday Men), Sunrise Funeral Home (regular season and tournament champions, Men's Thursday), and the Wayne Densch/Budmen (Industrial) were the winners of the six leagues conducted by the SRD.

The presentation of the sponsors and tournament trophies and individual awards will be made at 6:30 p.m. prior to the organizational meeting for the Fall

Adult Slow Pitch Softball League at the Downtown Youth Center in Sanford City Hall on the corner of Park Avenue and Seminole Boulevard.

The SRD will again offer the regular leagues of Church (Zinn Beck Field) and Co-Ed (Pinchurst) on Monday, Women on Tuesday, Men on Wednesday and Thursday and Industrial on Friday.

But League Director Jim Schaefer is looking to expand the leagues and if enough interest is shown (i.e. more than seven teams) a second night of Church

Softball could be played on Tuesday (B League) and that a Class D League (no home runs) could be added on either Wednesday or Thursday nights. These leagues would probably play at Zinn Beck Field, but Schaefer is also considering offering one of the two men's leagues as a Super League with an added number of home runs, maybe even unlimited, at Zinn Beck Field.

The Fall League will begin play the week of September 11th.

Football season drawing nearer

By David Guisones
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

LAKE MARY - The Lake Mary Rams kicked off their 2000 football activities with their traditional Red & Gray Game and barbecue sponsored by the Booster Club at Don T. Reynolds Stadium Friday night.

Seminole and Lyman also played their annual interquad game on Friday. The Rams will play its Orange and Black Game this evening (Saturday) at 7 p.m. at John Courter Field.

The Lake Mary offense and defense scrimmaged in front of one of the largest crowds in Red-Gray game history, with about 1,000 people in attendance.

Sophomore running back Derek Grayson picked right up where graduated star Charles Harris left off last year, leading the Rams offense by scoring three touchdowns in just one half of play.

Also helping lead the offensive charge were running backs Reggie Campbell and Tucker Pierce, who both scored touchdowns in the game.

Despite the good offensive effort, it was the defense that looked extremely impressive once again.

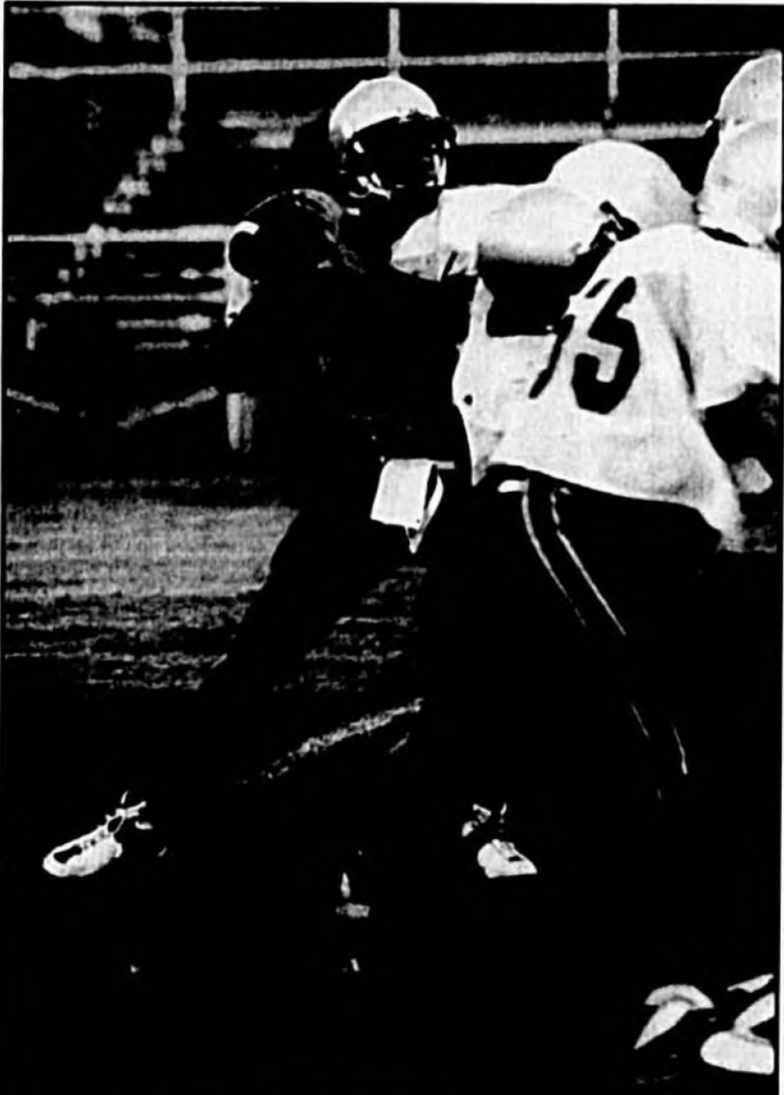

"I was real pleased with our first defense tonight," said Head Coach Greg Stanton. The defense scored a total of 10 points in the game by stopping the offense at midfield in a 4th down and two-yards-to-go situation, and recovering a couple of fumbles.

A fourth running back, Lewis Hall, started things off for the offense with a 65-yard touchdown run to end the first quarter. Pierce and Grayson tacked on 14 more points for the Rams in the second quarter with touchdown runs of their own.

"We did good overall, we just need to pick up on the O-line and get everything together over the next week," said Grayson.

Grayson's other scores came

It was time for the offense and defense to square off (top photos) at Lake Mary High School Friday night as it held its annual Red & Gray Game. Among those displaying their talents were senior quarterback Jason Hadley (No. 12, lower left) and running back Lewis Hall (No. 2, lower right). The Classics will be played next Friday.

Kruczek likes what he's seen so far at UCF

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - With just over two weeks remaining until its season opener at Georgia Tech, UCF held its next to last day of two-a-day practices on Friday, practicing for two hours in the morning in full pads and returning in the afternoon in shorts and helmets.

UCF was to have held its first full-scale scrimmage Saturday morning.

"We're now a little over half the way through summer camp and so far I've really liked what I see in this football team," said UCF head football coach Mike Kruczek. "We have thrown everything at them in a relatively short time, and they have handled it very well. We still have a ways to go, but at this point I really like what this team has shown me."

UCF has several players banged up, with cornerback Davin Bush (Hialeah/Miami Lakes High School), wide receiver Britt (Galvesville/P. K. Youngs High School) and wide receiver Thad Ward (Tallahassee/Godby High School) each expected to miss the scrimmage. Bush and McGriff are both suffering from strains in their upper gluteus. Ward is out with an ankle sprain suffered earlier this week.

Starting fullback Dwight Collins (Lake Charles, La./Barbe High School) suffered a sprained hip flexor during the morning practice and would likely miss the scrimmage and tailback Omari Howard (Syracuse, N.Y./Milford [P.A.] Academy) is doubtful as well due to a sore neck.

Wide receiver Tyson Hinshaw (Orlando/Lake Mary High School), who missed two days of practice with a hyperextended knee, re-aggravated the injury in the closing moments of the morning session, but was expected to take part in the scrimmage. Backup quarterback Ryan Schneider (Plantation High School), who has been hampered for much of camp with a sore back after undergoing surgery to repair a herniated disc in mid-June, was to have taken part in the scrimmage wearing a red (non contact) jersey. Sophomore defensive end Wenzell Underwood (Syracuse, N.Y./Corcoran High School) and cornerback Travis Fisher (Tallahassee/Godby High School) saw limited action in the scrimmage. Underwood has suffered from heat related cramps for much of summer camp and Fisher has been suffering with an injury to his left hip.

UCF will hold its final day of two-a-days on Monday (7:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.). The Golden Knights will return to the field Tuesday for an 8 a.m. scrimmage before returning to the practice field on Wednesday at 2:45 p.m.

Fall classes begin at UCF on Wednesday. UCF opens its season versus Georgia Tech in Atlanta, Ga. on Sept. 2.

Winter Springs to offer adult slow pitch softball

Special to the Herald

WINTER SPRINGS - Whether you want the thrill and excitement of competition or to socialize with friends while keeping physically active, become a part of the United States' largest ASA (Amateur Softball Association)

Softball program. The City of Winter Springs offers recreational adult slow-pitch softball leagues on week-nights throughout the year. This is a great opportunity to put together a company team or a group of friends to play some organized softball.

The Men, Women, and Coed leagues are convenient - play close to home and let the entire neighborhood rally around your team when you come to play at Central Winds Park's fields of excellence. Registration is now open until September 1st. All nights are available and limited to six teams per league. Leagues will be for a ten (10) week seasons with one (1) game per week play. Rules are ASA and Winter Springs guidelines. Awards are: sponsor team photos for all teams; First place and Second place trophies and T-shirts for all third place team players. Fees are $310 for a 10-game season, plus $35 yearly ASA sanction fee if your team is not ASA registered. There is also a $5 charge for each player who is not a resident of the City of Winter Springs. The home team in each game must also supply two new game balls (i.e., each team must supply 10 new balls for five home games during the season). For more information or to register, call the Winter Springs Parks and Recreation Department at 407-327-4761 or leave a message on the softball voice line at 407-327-8964.

 on a screen pass from back up quarterback John Hengehold, and again on a short run inside the red-zone. "Overall I liked our team's performance," said starting quarterback Jason Hadley. "We still have a couple things we can work on before next week, but I'm sure we'll be ready." "I was pleased with our effort tonight," said Stanton. "We didn't make a lot of mental errors that you would expect this early in the season, we just have to get better at playing Lake Mary football." The Rams will host Lyman in the FHSAA Classic Game next Friday (August 25th) at Don T. Reynolds Stadium starting at 7 p.m. (the freshman team's will play the first quarter, the junior varsity teams the second quarter, and the varsity teams will play the final half) and then travel to Sanford on Friday, September 1 to take on neighborhood rival Seminole in the regular season opener at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium starting at 7:30 p.m. The other six SAC schools will also be playing Classics next Friday and all squads will open the regular season on Friday, September 1st.

Break out of your weekend routine

Without breaking the bank.

Getting the best life has to offer is as easy as getting on a new-for-2000 Sea-Doo® model. Innovations, such as the first sit-down and three-seater watercrafts, the first watercraft suspension, the first computerized theft-deterrent system, the first fuel-injected watercraft, and the first complete product line-up with sound reduction, continue to make us the industry leader, and this year's models continue that tradition. So visit your local Sea-Doo® dealer today and start getting some real action over the weekend.

The SRD is also offering a recreational, 50-and-over volleyball league to begin in the fall.

This is a new league, just beginning. Team sign-ups are preferred, but you may sign up as a single and we will try to form some teams.

The games will be played on Tuesday and/or Thursday evenings.

The Sanford Golden Age Games will be offering volleyball as an event this year and this league would be a great warm-up. This league is not a requirement to compete in the Golden Age Games.

For more information call 407-330-5697. SUMMERTIME CROSS COUNTRY RUN LAKE MARY - The Lake Mary Summertime Cross Country Run will be held on the Lake Mary High School Cross Country Course (behind Lake Mary High School) on Saturday, August 26th. Late registration begins at 7 a.m. with racing beginning at 8 a.m. and running until the Awards Ceremony at 11 a.m. The race is for non-school teams and is open to runners in eight age groups (9-under, 10-12, 13-15, 16-18, 18-29, 30-39, 40-49 and 50-over). Each group has both male and female divisions. All first place runners will receive medals with the top 5 in the 12-under age groups and the 19 and over age groups receiving ribbons. The top 10 in each of the 13-15 and 16-18 races will receive medals with places 11-25 receiving ribbons. The top two teams in the 13-15 and 16-18 races receive championship and runner-up trophies. Cost is $3 per runner in advance and $5 the day of the race. For more information or to receive an entry form, contact coach Michael Gibson at 407-333-2370, or coach Lionel Bonck at 407-321-8854.

SANFORD YOUTH FLAG FOOTBALL SANFORD - The City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department is registering for its Youth Flag Football League for players 7-to-15 years of age. Player Placement Day and Late Registration will be held on Saturday, August 26th at the field across from Sanford Middle School. New players must attend this placement. For more information, call 407-330-5697.

scored a popular victory. Homer Gordon led the most laps but had to settle for second over a fast-closing Mike Hendrix. Kevin Schultz and Mike Soukup were fourth and fifth.

Richard Boulton II won in the Strickly Stock class, while Spectator race winners were Tom Hughes and Robert Freund.

The highlight of the evening was the Swann Truck Sales of DeLand 4-Cylinder Demo Derby that had the fans screaming for more. Doug Hughes of Cocoa drove his All Auto Salvage car to the win with Dave Berrer second.

The event was the first for Chuck "Junkyard Dog" Rush's "Car Wars" promotion and received rave reviews from both the competitors and the fans.

Tonight (Saturday, August 19th), the SARA Open Wheel Modifieds will run along with features in Late Model, Mini-Stock, Sportsman, Super Stock, and Strickly Stock at New Smyrna Speedway.

Next Saturday (August 26th) the Allison Legacy Cars will take to the track along with regular weekly heats and features in the FASCAR Divisions of Super Late Model, Late Model, Mini Stock, Super Stock, Modified, Sportsman and Strickly Stock, plus Spectator Races.

Gates open a 5 p.m. and racing begins at 7 p.m. every Saturday night at the track located at the corner of SR 44 and CR 419, between New Smyrna, DeLand and Daytona.

ORLANDO SPEEDWORLD

BITHILO - Next Friday (August 25th) the regular Divisions of the FASCAR Series will be on display at Orlando Speed World with heat and feature action in Super Late Model, Late Model, Mini Stock, Super Stock, Modified, Sportsman and Strickly Stock.

Gates open a 6 p.m. and racing begins at 8 p.m. every Friday night at the track located 17 miles east of Orlando between Orlando and Titusville on Highway 50 at the 520 Cocoa Cutoff.

For more information on any local short track action, call the FASCAR offices at (407) 568-1367 (Orlando) or (904) 427-4129 (New Smyrna), or check the Internet site at WWW.NEWS-MYRNASPEEDWAY.COM, or E-Mail at FASCARNOW@AOL.COM.

Good computers abound

If you're planning to buy a new desktop computer with a processor speed in the 750 megahertz (MHz) to 1 gigahertz (GHz) range, it'll be easy to find one that performs well. When we tested eight Windows computers of that ilk — priced from $2,100 to $3,800 — all scored excellent overall. So did the $3,000 Apple Power Mac G4 with its 450-MHz processor.

In fact, only two models in our tests scored less than excellent. And those two — budget models from Compaq and eMachines that run at 566 MHz and 533 MHz, respectively — were judged to be very good.

When so many machines are so closely matched, little things begin to matter. All else being equal, it's OK to choose a computer because you like its keyboard or because it has slightly better loudspeakers. (The keyboard on an HP Pavilion model, for example, impressed us with its grouping of special keys inside a blue frame. Yet we were turned off by the tiny, tinny speakers that came with the eMachines eTower.) It's even OK to be influenced by a mouse. (Resembling a hockey puck, Apple's may be awkward for some to use.)

But you also need to consider the intangibles, such as the brand's reliability record and the technical support manufacturers provide after the sale is made.

To measure customer satisfaction with the latter, we surveyed a nationally representative sample of more than 2,100 computer users, asking them about the manufacturers' technical support they received between spring 1999 and spring 2000. Here's some of what we found:

- Slightly more than half the people who used tech support were highly satisfied with the service. While that may sound impressive, the figure is actually lower than most other service industries we measure.
- One in four users complained they couldn't successfully resolve their problem.
- One in six felt support staff wasn't knowledgeable.
- About half the respondents phoned for help. Of those, one in three was put on hold for an unreasonable length of time.
- Among respondents who used the manufacturer's Web site, half couldn't find answers to their questions. One in four said the site was confusing, and one in five received an unhelpful response to an e-mail.

Dell and Gateway netted the highest satisfaction with overall tech support, scoring 77 and 75, respectively, on a scale in which a score of 100 means everyone was completely satisfied. Apple followed with a score of 70, while IBM, Compaq and HP scored 66, 64 and 63, respectively. (Owing to inherent margin of error in our survey, differences in score of less than five points aren't meaningful.) Dell and Gateway also offer free lifetime phone support. Dell even allows you to transfer the phone support from owner to owner. Other manufacturers we contacted limit their free phone support to anywhere from 15 days after the first call to one year.

As for reliability, Dell and Apple computers have consistently been among the most trouble-free, according to our reader surveys from recent years. (In the 1999 survey, we received nearly 23,000 responses describing reader experiences with desktop computers bought new between 1996 and 1999.) Gateways have been average.

Our surveys also indicate that, when they do suffer a fixable problem, repairs for Dell and Gateway computers cost less than average, while repairs for Apples cost more. Repairs to Dell computers, moreover, were completed faster than average.

A cautionary note about repairs and one make of computer: Budget-minded eMachines typically replaces its products instead of repairing them. If you return an eMachines computer without making back-up copies of your files, you'll probably lose everything on the hard drive.

Employee of the Month

Sanford City Manager Tony Vanderworp presents the Employee of the Month award for August to Patricia Montville, a customer service representative in the utility department. Montville was nominated by Michael Wierzbowski, who said, "Patricia has learned a lot since Nancy Jarmyn took over as customer services supervisor. Two weeks ago she did the utility billing when Nancy was away, and had few, if any, problems. She is always cheerful and a pleasure to work with. The city has a great asset in Patricia."

Business Briefs

Bank growth
Community National Bank of Mid-Florida, Lake Mary, marked its first anniversary recently and bank directors said they are very pleased with the growth of the bank over the past 12 months.

"We set out to establish a community bank that serves its customers on a personal, face-to-face level and we have achieved that," said Michael Hattaway, Chairman of the Board.

Bank President Bill Barwick said over 1,000 customers have opened accounts at the bank during the first 12 months of operation, and that the bank granted some $18 million in loans during that time.

Building lease
Collins Arnold Commercial Real Estate Services recently negotiated leases that total 18,000 square feet of retail space in Altamonte Springs, and more than 16,000 square feet of industrial warehouse in Orlando.

The Altamonte Springs location was listed at 130 East Altamonte Drive. The new tenant is the Crenshaw School for Performing Arts.

New division
ERA Breese Craft Hensley, an Altamonte Springs real estate company, has established a new builders' service division.

Rob Breese, partner in the firm, said Pete Craft, principal broker and partner will head the new division which will focus on selling spec or inventory homes for both custom and merchant builders. Breese said the division will offer builders a three-tiered approach to sales and marketing.

The company was formed earlier this year with two real estate professionals.

Deputy's dream park would solve problems at Lake Harney site

By Russ White
Staff Writer

GENEVA — At 10 a.m. Wednesday, five men were fishing off the Lake Harney dock. Seminole County Sheriff's Office Deputy Todd Moderson watched. He came there pursuing a dream. Moderson wants to help build a community park at the site.

If Moderson can keep convincing the right people, Phase I of the park could get under way by spring 2001.

Moderson wants to convert 18 acres (five of them upland) into the Eugene "Stetson" Gregory, Law Enforcement Memorial Park. He envisions a boardwalk through the site, playground equipment, picnic tables, pavilions and perhaps an equestrian trail. "What we want to do is make a negative a positive," said Moderson, 29.

"For the last few years this has been a problem to Geneva residents. Kids come down here to do drugs and play loud music. We get a lot of trespassers, four-wheelers all over the place. In the last two years the sheriff's office has had 183 calls to the area."

Moderson's vision is of a park dedicated to the memory of slain deputy Gregory.

"Recently, I found out from Gregory's son (also a deputy) that Stetson Gregory had the same vision as I did," he said. "This was his dream, too. That makes me all the more determined to see this through in his memory."

The land is privately owned but the owners are willing to give it to Seminole County if it is used as a park. Sheriff Don Eslinger is behind the effort as is District 5 County Commissioner Daryl McLain.

Moderson said he needs to

The gift of gab

Garth McKinney can talk about anything while waiting tables

If you've been in Morgan's Cafe in downtown Sanford, chances are you've met Garth McKinney. He's the James Taylor look-alike who waits tables at the restaurant. A native of Winter Garden, the Garthster has been in the food service business for 20 years, most of that as a bartender. He worked with Mike Morgan, the owner and chef of Morgan's Cafe, at the Bistro on Magnolia Square. When Mike decided to open his own restaurant, Garth was there to help from the get-go. "Garth's a tremendously dedicated employee," said Pam Esposito, whose two decades in the restaurant business is helping make Morgan's a success. Garth took time between customers to talk with Herald Editor Dan Ping about life in the service lane.

Q: Why do you do what you do?
Pam: Because he's got the gift of gab. Anybody who wants any information on anything — how to get somewhere in Sanford, what the weather's going to be like, anything — he will tell that and more.
Garth: Look who's gotten gabby! I'm not the only one. I guess I do what I do because I enjoy making people happy. I like giving people good service, making them laugh, helping them to have an enjoyable meal. Plus, I do have the gift of gab. I'll talk to anyone, anywhere about anything. I really will. It doesn't matter what race they are, what sex they are, how old or young they are. I'll find something to talk to them about.

Q: So waiting tables is a lot like bartending?

A: Actually, it's quite different.

Q: How so?
A: It's the mechanics of it. With food, there's a lot more variables. You have to time your tables right.

Q: Time your tables?

A: Yeah. You've got to be able to read your customers. Are they in a hurry? Are they there to eat and socialize? Then you've got to get their drinks to them, make sure they have time to read the menu, but not too much time so they think you forgot them. You want to get their meals out to them quickly, but not so quickly that they don't have time to eat their salads. You've got to time the table right so the customer has a pleasant meal. That's just one table. It's not unusual to get three tables all at once. It's hard to time it right when you get multiple tables.

Q: So you like what you do. I'm assuming you like who you work for because you followed Mike from the Bistro, right?

A: I followed Mike because I have a lot of respect for him. I enjoy working with him. He's a great guy to work for for two reasons. One, he's a quality chef. I know the kitchen's going to be good. Mike's going to make great food that people like, so there's no problems there. Two, I know Mike's got a good clientele that follows him, and I like serving that clientele. Plus, I like the fact if Mike tells you something, you know he means it. He's a straight shooter.

Q: So you like Mike. What if you weren't working at Morgan's, what would you be doing?

A: If I could do anything, it would be to play bass for some big-time jazz or funk band.

Avid bingo player needs help finding calling card

DEAR ANNE AND NAN: I belong to a senior center. We play bingo every day. Our bingo cards are old and used. We also need Bingo calling cards. Can you or your readers help us find these cards?
R.O., Convent, La.

Dear Ann & Nan

Internet, another source is www.kingofbingo.com.

DEAR ANNE AND NAN: Help! This fall, a friend and I would like to can some chutney for our church sale. I have found many recipes but none for Major Grey. Major Grey is not a brand name but a specific type of chutney using mangos.

PATRICIA BONDS,
Cleburne, Texas

DEAR PATRICIA: We went to our pantry and found a jar of Major Grey chutney. It says on the jar, "mango preserve with ginger." Here's a recipe for mango chutney with ginger that we found in "All About Pickling" (Ortho book Division, 1975).

Major Grey Chutney (we hope!)
1 cup distilled white vinegar
3 1/4 cups sugar
6 cups green mango slices (about 10 medium mangos)
1/4 cup freshly grated ginger

root
1 1/2 cups seedless raisins
2 chili peppers (seeds removed), finely chopped
1 clove garlic, finely chopped
1/3 cup sliced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt

Boil vinegar and sugar for five minutes. Add remaining ingredients and cook about a 1/2 hour or until thick and of desired consistency. Pack into hot, sterilized jars. Seal. Process five minutes. Makes eight half-pints.

FEEDBACK: AVOIDING A WAXY BUILDUP IN THE FABRIC SOFTENER DISPENSER
Donnaruth Schaul of Barrington Hills, Ill., says she rinses the dispenser with warm water when she's finished using it, so there's no chance for the residue to build up. Marguerite Paige of Springfield, Vt., takes her dispenser out of the washing machine and soaks it in hot water, and she has never had a problem with residue.

STUMPED: BREADED TOMATOES

Sam Jordan of Greenwood, Ariz., writes: "My wife's dear, departed mother prepared a dish that she called Breaded Tomatoes. This dish contained leftover cornbread and canned tomatoes. We are also pretty sure that it contained sugar, as the dish was somewhat sweet."

Most of her recipes were kept only in her head, and although we salvaged many of them before she passed away, this one eluded us.
Sounds yummy. Does anyone have this recipe?

Write to "Ask Anne & Nan" at P.O. Box 240, Hartland, VT 05048. Our new book, "Clean It Fix It, Find It," is ready. The price is $14.95 plus $4 shipping and handling. Add $1 shipping and handling for each additional book ordered. Mail your order to Enfield Distribution, P.O. Box 699, Enfield, NH 03748. Or call toll-free (888) 216-7611.

McKinney

Q: Really, why's that?
A: I love playing bass. In my opinion, the bass can make or break a band. The bass is what gives the band its snap. It determines how much funk the band has.

Q: Let's change gears a little bit and talk some gridiron action. Who's going to win the Super Bowl?

A: Oh, the Bucs all the way! With the Super Bowl being played in Tampa, it would be so awesome if they won it all. I'm a ravenous Bucs fan. Tony Dungie is a class act. I like him a lot. He's just got tons of character and he's a good coach. And let me tell you about that defense: the D is just awesome.

Q: How about a Super Bowl of a different kind, the political one. Who you voting for, Bush or Gore?

A: Definitely Bush. I can not stand Al Gore, and this goes all the way back to when he was a senator from Tennessee.

Q: I lived in Tennessee when Gore was a senator.

A: Then you know what I mean. I don't agree with his opinions, but more than that, the man is extremely condescending. He's always talking down to people like he's the only one that knows anything.

go before the Board of County Commissioners to get the go-ahead. Next, he said, the fund-raising could begin.

We've had a number of planning sessions," Moderson said. "What we do now is follow our plans."

Chief Deputy Sheriff Steve Harriett lauded Moderson for his enthusiasm for the park at Lake Harney. There's a lot of history to the place, he said. There was a pier just south of the site back in the 1800s. Moderson said he hopes a new pier will be built at the park site.

At present, fishermen come to launch their boats or to fish just off the loading dock area. They're permitted to do this. They may not be able to when the park is built.

"Still, more will be served than ever," Moderson said. "I've talked with members of the Lake Harney and Geneva home owners association and they're all for the park."

Henderson family gathers for fifth annual reunion

The Arthur Henderson, Pearlene Dean Henderson fifth annual family reunion was held in Sanford Aug. 10-12. The theme for the occasion was "Stand Fast and Hold the Traditions Which Yee Have Been Taught" (2: Thessalonians, 2:15). The tradition of fellowship with family, friends, neighbors and loved ones were always acknowledged.

Arthur Henderson was born in Unadilla, Ga., and Pearlene Dean was born in Long Island, Bahamas. The Henderson family hasn't forgotten their ancestors as the Sanford Hendersons, Scott's, Cooper's, Williams, hosted the reunion.

Arthur Mae Henderson Scott served as chairperson with other family members and friends helping to make for a great fellowship reunion. Sharing the weekend tradition were Annie Pearl Henderson Cooper, oldest living daughter, Arthur Mae Henderson Scott, only son.

Titus Jerome Henderson of Philadelphia, Pa., Florida Henderson Williams and husband, Major, of Edgewater, New Jersey, youngest daughter, Harriet Henderson Williams and husband Bobby, Sr.

Granda, great-granda, friends, cousins, attended. The three days of fun was a Friday afternoon fish fry at Coastline Park, Saturday's cookout at Gemini Springs Park.

Sunday was church service and worship at Holy Trinity Church of God and Christ, where the late Deacon Arthur and Mother Pearlene Henderson were ardent members. Afternoon reunion dinner was served as the family and friends gathered at Coastline Park. F — Forever there for each other.

A — All one joyful unit
M — Many generations loving one another.
I — Internally blessed by God.
L — Lasting love for those that have gone to a peaceful place in the world.
Y — Young and old, we will always be a family.

Lake Mary Historical Society elects officers for first time

The first organizational meeting of the Lake Mary Historical Society was held Monday, Aug. 14, at the Lake Mary Historical Museum. Karen Jacobs, a historian with the Seminole County Historical Society and the Oviedo Historical Society, was on hand to tell about her experiences getting new societies formed.

Karen explained the difference between a society and a commission. A historical commission is an advisory board for the city. A society is a non-profit organization with greater fundraising grant capabilities.

Joe Rosier, who is volunteering his services as a lawyer for the new society, explained what he needed to get going. Before bylaws are acted on or dues are collected, some officers must be elected to sign the paperwork for the society. A name must also be chosen to file under. To get the ball rolling, Joe volunteered to act as the registered agent for the society.

The first order of business was to choose a name. The name chosen was the Lake Mary Historical Society. Simple and to the point. After all the paperwork is filed,

"Inc." will be added to the name. The society then held their first election. Janet Jernigan was elected president, Pat Fox was elected secretary and Karen Beal was elected treasurer. These are the basic officers that are vital to start the society. The other officers will be chosen when the bylaws are written.

Mary Rowell

The newly formed Lake Mary Historical Society then decided on basic dues. The dues for regular members will be $10 each. Family membership will be $15.

The society can add other classes of membership while writing their bylaws if they wish. For example, the Seminole County Historical Society has seven classes of membership. In addition to those listed above, they have student, individual life, family life, corporate and friends. The society also chose their fiscal year. It will be the same as the calendar year.

Karen Jacobs then spoke to the audience again. Historical Commission members can join the society and society members can be commission members, but both entities fall under the Sunshine Law. You cannot discuss the business of one at the meeting of another. All meetings are open to the public. The commission, Karen also said, has no authority over the society.

Joe Rosier is taking the next step for the Society by filing the paperwork. The group will meet again 7 p.m. Monday, Aug. 21 at the Lake Mary Historical Museum to go over the proposed bylaws and suggest changes. Anyone who has any suggestions for the bylaws is welcome to attend.

Girl Scout Round-Up Held Wilson and Lake Mary elementary schools held their Girl Scout Round-Ups this week. Girls interested in joining scouts were able to meet girls in scouting and try a little craft while their parents talked to leaders who were on hand. Round-Up for Heathrow Elementary will be Wednesday, Aug. 23. If you were unable to attend the Wilson or Lake Mary Round-Up but would still like your daughter to join, you can call Wilson School Coordinator Patty Schiefer at 407-321-1088 or Lake Mary School Coordinator Natalie Kunkel at 407-328-4435. If you are unable to make the Heathrow Round-Up, call Heathrow Coordinator Karen Agnello at 407-786-0904. For a middle or high school student, call Peggy Wolfe at 407-327-8207.

Woman just wants to be called Mom

DEAR ABBY: I was a single mother throughout my only child's early years. I had no financial or moral support from the

Dear Abby

..... child's father. Luckily, I had a good job that enabled me to take good care of my daughter. I did not believe in giving my child a step-father, so I remained single. My daughter had a good religious education, loving home, a dedicated and adoring mother, vacations, the best schools, health care, etc. We enjoyed a wonderful and loving relationship.

However, as soon as my daughter became a teen-ager, she decided to stop calling me "Mother." She insisted on addressing me by my first name because I was her "friend." For years, we have had numerous discussions on that subject — me explaining my unhappiness, she insisting on using my first name and ignoring my hurt feelings. I never wanted to be referred to as one of her many friends. I wanted to be called "Mother."

At 49 years old and married (no children), she has lived out-of-town for many years and her attitude is cold and distant. Her friends are the center of her life. How do you explain such treatment?

I now have the opportunity to become a foster mother to a child. I would insist that this child call me "Mother." Unfortunately, I fear that my desire to be called "Mother" is based only on the longing to be called that by my own child. Under such circumstances, should I go ahead and bring this young child into my home, maybe making her unhappy and leaving myself vulnerable for another disappointment in life?

DISAPPOINTED MOTHER IN FLORIDA

DEAR DISAPPOINTED MOTHER: I don't know what happened between you and your daughter, but it seems you and she have very different perspectives on her childhood and the nature of your relationship. Perhaps it's time for you to suggest to her that you both sit down and have a heart-to-heart conversation about those perspectives.

Under no circumstances should you take a child into your home for the reasons you have stated. It would be grossly unfair to the child.

DEAR ABBY: I recently overheard a conversation between two young women in their 20s. They were lamenting the fact that they smile too much because of cultural and social conditioning. They seemed to feel they must be "tougher" to succeed in the business world.

Abby, I have had a varied career as a museum manager, an office coordinator for a law firm and a property manager for a 33-story building. I was a competent, intelligent student in school, but by no means at the top of my class. I have a fine arts degree and reasonable computer skills.

A short time ago, I walked out of a new job because I didn't like the way my employer screamed at people. Within three days, I had three job offers. (I hadn't even begun to look for new employment.) The reason? I smile.

When someone walks into my office, I smile and greet the person pleasantly.

One employer said, "It's easier to train a smiler to use Excel than to teach a computer-literate sour-puss to smile. In the final analysis, it comes down to choosing whom I want to spend my day with."

SONYA IN SEATTLE

DEAR SONYA: I agree. A smile is definitely an asset not only in the business world, but in social situations as well. The young ladies you overheard have a lot to learn about interpersonal relationships if they think smiles are to be used sparingly. Smiles make people feel good and open many doors.
