Building Of SR 46 Starts On Nov. 1st

By FRED VAN PELT

Thirty years of effort by Seminole County civic leaders will begin to bear fruit about Nov. 1 when actual construction will be started for a new State Road 46 between Interstate 4 and the Wekiva River. Clearing and grubbing of the right-of-way will be commenced Oct. 25, according to James Conner, of the contracting firm of J. W. Conner and Sons, Tampa.

Work order has been issued by the Florida Department of Transportation's district engineer, C. A. (Bill) Benedict, DeLand, to the Conner firm. Conner was low bidder for the contract with $860,600.

All new road will be constructed within the next nine months. Only 1,000 feet of the present road bed, east of the Wekiva River, will be utilized. Otherwise the new highway will parallel the present roadway.

Conner will construct a two-lane highway for approximately five miles. The state has acquired title to a 300-foot wide right-of-way for future construction of a four-lane arterial highway.

Wekiva River is the boundary between Seminole and Lake Counties. Lake authorities already have met with Seminole leaders and have agreed to petition the state to improve State Road 46 between Wekiva River and U. S. 441 at Mount Dora in Lake County.

Conner, in a telephone interview with The Sanford Herald this morning, said heavy machinery will be moved in late this month and actual construction started by Nov. 1.

Seminole County leaders already have "started the ball rolling" for eventually constructing a four-lane expressway between Interstate 75 on the west and Interstate 95 on the east, following the present State Road 46 right-of-way between Mims and Mount Dora.

There are two that I know of who actually took the time to personally write a letter to Attorney General Robert Shriver . . . voicing our objections on snail mail. Thanks to City Commissioner Vince Roberts for joining with me in this letter-writing campaign.

Shriver did say there are four Florida obscenity cases pending before the United States Supreme Court, and that Florida is represented thru his office.

In the meantime, sign that form at the Post Office, which carries a stiff penalty of $5,000 to anyone mailing you this stuff, plus a jail sentence. . . .

That estimate for the land down by the lakefront . . . which was supposed to be for a 200 . . . and now there's talk of an apartment complex being built on it . . . well, hold on to your fanciest appraisals, folks . . . cause it just might be worth considering more than the $100,000 guestimated earlier.

It's all of 11 acres we're talking about . . . and would you believe the figure just might climb to around one-half million dollars! (Now watch everyone wanting to put their hands out for a "piece of the action" . . .)

County Agent David DeVoll says that was "a million-dollar rain" Sunday. His official U. S. Weather Bureau gauge measured 1.68 inches of precipitation.

On the weather scene . . . you're forewarned: "It's gonna be a cold, cold winter (remember, this morning's 59)!"

We've been advised that they're canning 1 1/2 million pounds of hot chili . . . getting ready for those cold nights, folks. (But, they'll be mighty hot in the morning—if you eat hot chili, I'll chue you. . .)

Expected it to happen . . . and Sportscenter Ken Brown of Channel 2 didn't let me down, either. About his running for the office of Mayor of Longwood and the possibility that "equal time" would be requested by any of his opponents. . . . Ken tells us that the first time the former mayor ran for office, his station did offer equal time to his opponent, but that is was graciously refused.

Temperatures in the middle 30s gripped the Florida Panhandle today as an autumn chill over Florida's northern borders. Weekend rains deluged the Tampa Bay area where a water use ban had been imposed.

The mercury fell to 36 degrees at Crestview as cold air trailed a weather front that pushed into the state over the weekend and touched off the heavy rains in the Tampa and Sanford areas.

An early morning low of 43 degrees was registered at Pensacola, breaking a record for the date of 46 degrees set in 1902. It was 47 at Jacksonville, 54 at Ocala and 45 at Tallahassee. Miami had 71.

City officials at Tampa ordered water use restrictions lifted in the wake of weekend rains that added four inches to the reservoir.

"It rained like hell all weekend so we can go back to normal use at noon," said Sam Lockwood, city water chief.

Restrictions were clamped on the city of 250,000 last Wednesday.

City officials blamed the ban on overtaxed water treatment facilities.

"We did not have a shortage of water, just a shortage in treatment capacity and we're making some design changes in the plant to minimize possibility of it happening again," Lockwood said.

All Housing Board Directors Yield To Pressure . . . Resign

By BILL SCOTT

The five-member Sanford Housing Authority Board has resigned en masse.

The resignations were disclosed in an Oct. 9 letter to the Sanford City Commission, delivered Saturday to city hall and signed by Howard Monteth, housing authority chairman, at the direction of the authority commissioners.

Calling the present situation between the housing authority and the Sanford

Tenant Council "untenable," the housing commissioners, William E. Kirchoff, B. L. Perkins, John M. Fitzpatrick, Andrew Carraway and Monteth presented their resignations to Mayor Lee P. Moore.

In a lengthy letter outlining the reasons behind the decision to retire from the authority, the members stated, "With the ever-changing attitude of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and criticisms from HUD for following the guidelines that HUD, itself, laid out and without the necessary support of the city officials for the Housing Authority commissioners, it is virtually impossible for the present commissioners to ward off the continued misrepresentations, complaints, demands, false statements and charges the Tenants Council."

Citing that modernization funds cannot be obtained without tenant cooperation and asserting that nonant agitators apparently are placing their personal ambitions for power and recognition in their weekly audience before city officials, with its "accompanying front-page publicity," above the welfare and comfort of the majority of the residents of the housing projects, the housing authority said it could only be criticized for operating the authority in a businesslike manner.

Sanford officials were accused of "fanning the fire" by giving audience to the Tenants Council during meeting after meeting, instead of assisting the authority.

Lengthy Agenda For City

Sanford City Commission is expected to burn the midnight oil again tonight at the first October meeting with several agenda items expected to draw attention.

Among those items is the expected designation of a site at French Avenue and Fourth Street for the location of a proposed $550,000 police-municipal complex.

City Manager W. E. Knowles is expected to have the figures ready for the Commission to act on the site, first proposed by Commissioner J. H. Cropps and seconded by Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts.

Commissioner Gordon Meyer is expected to be outvoted in his effort to place the police station on 24th Street at Marshall Avenue.

Another item is the announcement expected from two appraisers of a 18-acre city-owned site along the lakefront, being mentioned first as a probably 300 site and lately as the location of an apartment complex to be financed by a local investors group.

Consideration of the sale of electric and telephone systems at Sanford Airport to the public utilities now serving the air base is expected to be approved for almost $80,000. The revenue derived from the utility sale will be used to renovate the airport's present sewer and water systems.

The Seminole Zoological Society is expected to ask for all or a part of the proceeds derived from the sale of the 15-acre lakefront plot, if the property is sold to help defray expenses of relocating the Sanford Zoo to a county site.

Commissioners have been at odds over whether the Audubon should go to the zoo since the property was at one time designated as the zoo site.

The establishment of a public hearing date for a list of city dwellings on a condemnation list is also on the agenda. A1 to HC-1.

Ambulance Firm Faces Questioning On Service

By HERKY CUSH

Herdon Ambulance Service has been asked to have a representative at tomorrow's County Commission meeting to answer questions why service was refused an Oviedo resident when the county has an ambulance subsidizing program.

Commissioner Ed Yarbrough brought to the attention of the board that a Herndon driver administered first aid but refused to take an Oviedo woman to the hospital when she could not produce a $35 deposit.

The County has a $22,500 subsidizing program which is designed to take care of such situations.

Also on tomorrow's agenda is a request from the public defender's office for additional operating funds. The funds were not included in the 1971-72 budget.

The commissioners also will have the task of designating precinct poll workers for the Nov. 2 election at tomorrow's meeting.

Another agenda item deals with the General Waterworks area of certification. General Waterworks has been asked by the board to present the exact area it services and also an in-depth report on its inability to service certain homes.

A decision also is due on the hospital redistricting referendum legislation request. The request deals with the possibility of having two hospital districts.

The board also is expected to make a decision on the Pine-wood Court participation paving project.

Five public hearings also are on the agenda. The hearings, which start at 7 p.m., include four rezoning requests and an appeal against the Board of Adjustment denial to park a trailer in an A1 (agricultural) zone on Lake Mary Boulevard.

Two of the rezoning requests deal with changes from A1 to C1 (commercial). One area rezoning change is located east of 14, north of SR 46, west of Elder Road. The other is north of Geneva Avenue and west of Brisson Avenue.

Seeking a change from A1 to RM-3 (travel trailer park) is property located east of 14, south of SR 46. The other rezoning change is located west of Longwood-Markham Road opposite the Seminole golf course and desires to be changed from A1 to HC-1.

Shevin: 'Florida Power Should Foot The Bill..'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida Power Corp. — and not the state — should foot the bill for an independent audit to determine if a requested $20 million rate hike is "in the public interest," Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin said today.

Shevin urged the Florida Public Service Commission to order the St. Petersburg-based utility to pay $25,000 for an independent analysis of its books and records.

The commission took Shevin's motion "under consideration."

The attorney general told the commission he'd like the full $25,000 but might accept less if the commission thought that amount was too high.

He later told a newsman he might settle for $15,000, claiming the City of St. Petersburg, which requested his intervention in the rate case, "might come up with $5,000."

Shevin, in a short presentation to the regulatory board, based his request on the PSC's order earlier this year requiring the Miami-based Florida Power and Light Co. to pay $25,000 for a similar audit.

But Florida Power attorney Ken Gatlin argued that Shevin's office already had possession of the results of a complete audit of company books "and the attorney general already has what he is requesting. The utility also argued that Shevin had enough funds for the audit in his own budget."

Shevin said the funds he wanted for Florida Power weren't "for just another audit" but for a complete analysis of the company's financial status.

Shevin intervened in the case as a third party after he was asked to challenge the rate increase by St. Petersburg City Council. Nearly one-half million Florida residents in 32 counties are served by the utility.

"I cannot turn my back on this manifested public responsibility," said Shevin.

Nixon Seeks To Muzzle Growing Demands School-Lunch Overhaul Underway

By DON KENDALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is working on a plan to overhaul entirely the complex and politically sensitive school-lunch program, partly as an effort to muzzel a growing chorus wanting free meals for all pupils regardless of need.

The project, still in the think-tank stage as disclosed in an interview with a Secretary of Agriculture, Richard E. Lyng, who oversees the government's lunch and other food programs.

Lyng was unwilling to go into detail about the new plan. But he said, "It is important that the legislation be worked out with the interested people. If we can't do that, I don't think we'd move."

Lyng said he has no timetable in mind but other sources in the Agriculture Department said the plan may be introduced early next year.

The new plan is expected to include tougher controls over states and school districts to head off what the administration sees as slipshod handling of school-lunch money. Officials say schools too often wind up paying meal tabs for richer children at the expense of the neediest.

That has been the thrust of new rules proposed the past two months.

On Aug. 13 the Agriculture Department announced a plan to guarantee a minimum federal reimbursement to the states of 25 cents for each free or reduced-price meal served, compared with a national average of about 42 cents.

In the face of stiff opposition in Congress, the department last week backed down and announced the minimum will be 45 cents. As a condition, however, the money will be paid only for feeding children from families with incomes at or below federal poverty standards.

For example, children from a family of four with an income of $3,940 a year or less would qualify. Until now, free or reduced-price meals had been made available to children as long as they were qualified under state poverty guidelines, in many cases higher than the federal levels.

Including the 16-cent boost, the government will give states this school year about $750 million to help pay for all lunch programs. About $225 million of it will be for feeding the needy, further simplified from the state's standpoint, but I think it has to be on an output basis: You perform, you do this, and we will reimburse you.

Some 7.3 million of the nation's 24 million children served by the school lunch program last year received free or reduced-price meals. The latter cannot cost a child more than 20 cents. The average expense of serving a lunch is about 53 cents.

Had the new rule been in effect last year, an estimated 24,000 children would have been excluded from the free-lunch program.

Allies Reciprocate And Release Red Prisoner Of War

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The United States and South Vietnam set a North Vietnamese lieutenant free in Cambodia today in a surprise move reciprocating for the release last week of an American sergeant.

We have no assurance whatever at present that this reciprocal gesture will lead to the release of additional American prisoners, a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said. "That, however, is the goal toward which we are working."

The POW who had been held by the South Vietnamese, was flown by helicopter into the Fish Hook area of Cambodia 100 miles northwest of Saigon.

The U.S. Embassy said he was freed "in response to indications that the enemy would welcome such a release at a given time and place." This indicated that there had been some communication with the North Vietnamese.

The Americans said the POW was released in "an area under enemy control," the same general area where the Viet Cong released Staff Sgt. John C. Sexton Jr., 23, of Warren, Mich., last Friday.

They said the American helicopter crewmen sighted no enemy when they delivered the lieutenant and then took off.

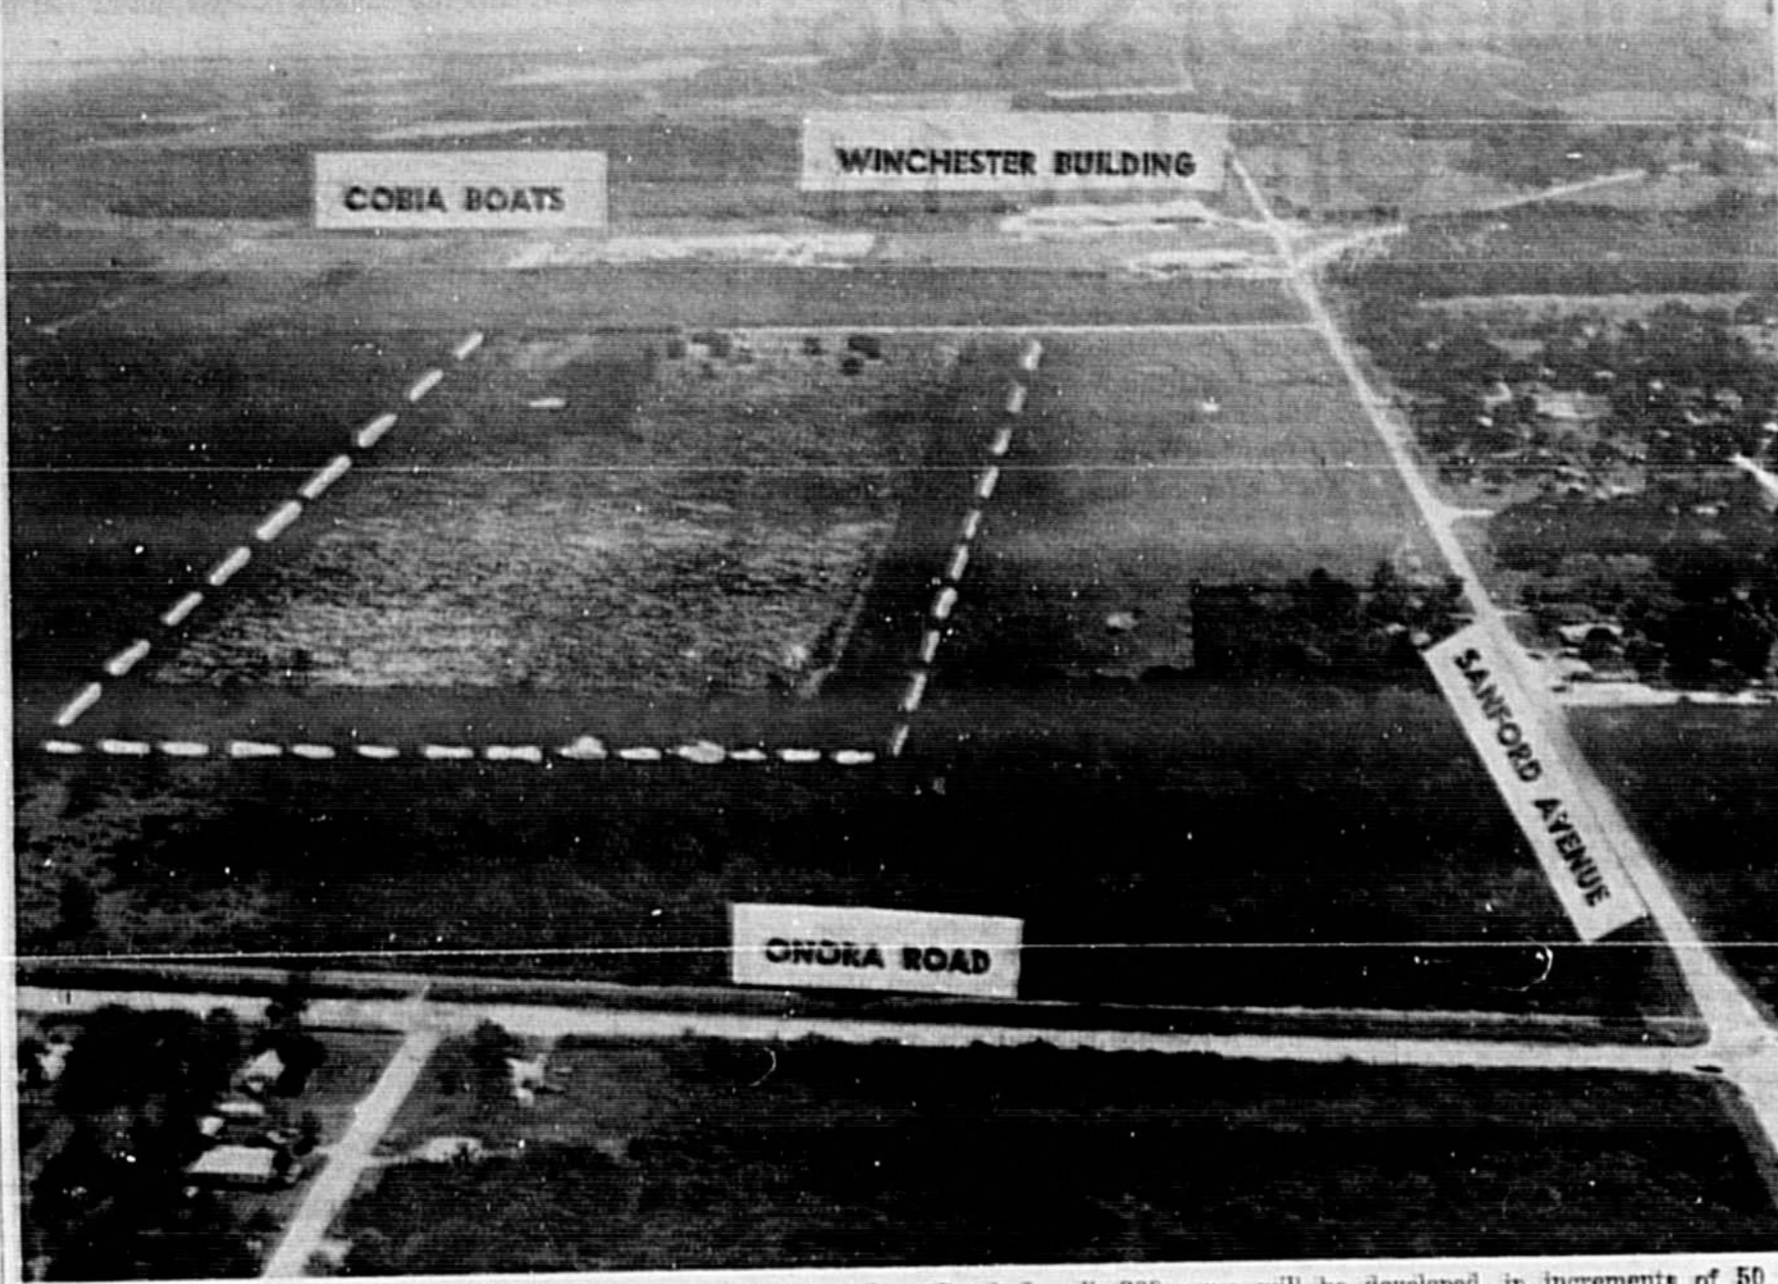

Sexton had been a Viet Cong prisoner for 26 months and allowed to go free somewhere along the Cambodian border. He walked for eight hours to reach the South Vietnamese base camp at Loc Ninh, 70 miles north of Saigon.

Sexton told American interrogators that the Viet Cong did not tell him why he was being freed and did not give him any messages to bring back.

He said that during his captivity, while "constantly moving," he often saw other American prisoners but did not know where he or the others were held. U.S. officers believe it was in Cambodia, some distance from the border.

The U.S. command announced that Sexton would be flown to the United States Tuesday after being released from an Army hospital.

Fighting continued today in the Cambodian border region around Irok and Fire Base Alpha although enemy shelling tapered off during the night.

Russians' Influence Is Revealed

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence sources report a Russian naval force is being used to prop up leftist President Sekou Toure of Guinea and, at the same time, extend Soviet influence on Africa's West Coast.

Three Soviet warships, including a powerful Kashin-class guided-missile frigate, have been moored in the harbor of Conakry almost continuously since late August. They left the harbor late last week but are expected back.

Intelligence reports quote Guinean officials as saying the Soviet ships, which have been berthed only one-half mile from the presidential palace, were there to protect President Toure.

Last November, Conakry was attacked by what Guineans claimed were Portuguese mercenaries. A United Nations investigating team later blamed Portuguese soldiers and Guinean rebels. Portugal, whose African colonies have been the target of nationalist guerrilla activities, denied the charges.

Toure, whose Guinean armed forces number only a little more than 3,000 men, appealed for help and U.S. intelligence says the Soviet Union sent naval units to Conakry from the Mediterranean.

Little noted, except by Western intelligence, Soviet warships have been in or near Guinean waters ever since last fall.

The virtually constant presence of the frigate, a guided-missile destroyer, a tank-laying ship and a supporting merchant-type tanker at Conakry over the past few weeks indicates to some American analysts that the Russians are trying to extend their influence in that area of West Africa.

To some U.S. officials, this is another piece in an unfolding pattern. Over the past several years they have watched the Russians broaden and lengthen their naval reach, expanding their operations in the Mediterranean, cruising the Indian Ocean, making a regular base, and sailing periodically to Cuba and the Caribbean.

Persians Of Persepolis Biggest Birthday Bash Begins

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent
TEHRAN (AP) — Somewhere between the chickens stuffed with gold leaves and the grapes whipped up by Maxim's chefs, those invited to the biggest birthday bash in modern times may well wonder what the parading and the fireworks are all about.

The Imperial Majesty, the Shah of Iran, is losing the shindig all this week at the ancient capital of Persepolis, recreated under canvas for the occasion to celebrate the 2,500th anniversary of the founding of the Persian Empire by Cyrus the Great.

Six hundred years before the birth of Christ, Cyrus the Great started everything off to a roaring start by mopping the Medes and Persians, along with 20 other warring tribes and sects, into a mighty empire that stretched from India to the Danube, from the Black Sea to the Nile's first cataract.

The Achaemenid dynasty, which Cyrus founded, produced a distinguished line of kings. Darius the Great built his palace at Persepolis, at the head of the staircase of 30 vast stone steps.

Xerxes, at the head of a vast military-industrial complex that included 1.7 million foot soldiers, 1,200 triremes and 3,000 oar vessels, set out to extend Persian rule clear across Europe.

(Numbered 6 to 1, the Greeks on the night of Marathon sent their ground and sea courier off to Sparta for help. He lapped the distance in two days, only to find the Spartans weren't having any war that week for religious reasons: King Leonidas and 2,300 men died, trying to hold the pass at Thermopylae, but the Greek navy with only 307 ships did better at Salamis, whipping the invaders off Xerxes' marines.

BARBS Housing Directors Yield To Pressure

A passport is a reformist epitaph.

The fellow who gets a buzz when he leaves for work has a pretty happy domestic situation going for him.

He who laughs last didn't get the joke.

The first promise to be broken after the November elections will be the one to take down the campaign signs.

"At no time have city officials publicly expressed an opinion that the Housing Authority commissioners are properly handling the authority's affairs," the statement added.

Mayor Moore, when asked this morning how the city's four federally-funded housing projects will continue to operate without a commission, said HUD official H. H. Baxter will be appointed of the situation and that a local group will have to operate the facilities until provision is made for a new board.

Tenant Council also asked for the registration of Gordon Bradley, the authority's executive director, but there was no indication from Bradley that he is quitting.

Tenant Council repeatedly asked the City Commission to appoint a majority of Negroes on the housing board. The Commission has asked the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation to expand the Authority from five to seven members. It has indicated the additional two would be blacks.

The Tenant Council has maintained it will accept a majority of four Negro members.

Tenants and city officials journeyed to Jacksonville two weeks ago to meet with HUD officials in order to seek $1 million in modernization money to update the apartments. Some $600,000 was expected to be approved for the Sanford projects but the application for those funds has been held up until the Tenant Council and Housing Authority board prepare a list of priority improvements for submission to HUD.

Public Views Seminole Mental Health Clinic

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
The Seminole County Mental Health Center showed off its new expanded clinic Sunday afternoon at an open house at 102 Robin Road, Altamonte Springs. The center recently moved from Longwood Plaza as more space was needed.

The clinic serves children, adolescents and adults, and all mental health needs. It provides pre-care and after-care, emergency, rehabilitation, education and help for those with the problems of drug abuse and alcoholism.

The Seminole County Mental Health Center was organized and incorporated through the efforts of a group of interested citizens and is under a board of directors.

Director is Werner A. Metz, who holds a Ph. D. in psychology and is licensed by the Florida Board of Examiners of Psychology. He also is a diplomat in school psychology through the American Board of Examiners for Professional Psychologists, with over 20 years of experience in administration, clinical practice and teaching.

The psychiatrist, E. Michael Gutman, a medical director, holds an M.D. degree and is certified in psychiatry, with approximately seven years in private practice. Dr. Gutman has been with the program since its inception four years ago, when the clinic was sponsored through the county health department on a half-day-a-week basis.

The registered nurse is Phyllis Bedalio and the mental health representative is Barbara Dennison, who holds an M.A. in psychology with 25 years experience in social work, director of social work teaching, and mental health representative.

Editors Support Papers

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Society of Newspaper Editors has passed resolutions supporting three newspaper facing court action in freedom-of-information cases.

The society passed resolutions supporting Herbert Davidson, publisher of the Daytona Beach News Journal; Ron Sachs, editor of the Florida Alligator, and the Florida Times-Union in Jacksonville.

Davidson was arrested after he refused to publish a letter written by the city's mayor, thus allegedly violating a state law which forces newspapers to print opposing letters.

Sachs was arrested when he published information in the University of Florida student newspaper as a test of the state's 169-year-old abortion law. The Times-Union has been sued for publishing the name of a teen-ager who pleaded guilty to rape and later was placed on probation.

Doctor-Solon Proposes 'Death With Dignity' Bill

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A physician-legislator says he is gaining support for a bill that would allow sick persons to choose "death with dignity" over being forced by relatives and physicians to vegetate in a maze of tubes, hoses and wires.

State Rep. Dr. Walter Sackett, a Miami Democrat, says his bill has been running 99 per cent in favor of the bill which he first proposed to the Legislature in 1968.

Sackett, a 55-year-old Roman Catholic, says his bill would not allow physicians to practice euthanasia, or "mercy killing."

He says the bill would permit patients with terminal illnesses to choose a natural death without efforts to prolong their lives. A rational person who realizes that death is near could make that choice for himself, Sackett says.

If the patient were mentally unable to make the decision, Sackett says, close members of his family could decide for him. If he has no family, three doctors could make the decision after determining there is no chance of survival.

Sackett's bill, which he says he will re-introduce in the legislative session that begins next February, has raised concern among some people.

Columnist Hank Drake of the Florida Times-Union in Jacksonville wrote of a letter he received from a Kansas woman who was worried about a Florida bill "that proposes to put senile senior citizens to sleep."

But Sackett, a past president of the Florida Academy of General Practice and author of the book "Bringing Up Babies," says that woman's fears are caused by a misunderstanding of the intent of his bill.

In fact, he says, many physicians now quietly allow people to die without families or patients knowing anything about it.

"I've done it hundreds of times," he says. "Most doctors are nonchalant about this." But the physician who allows this is operating without legal protection, Sackett says, and needs his bill to avoid prosecution that could lead to lawsuits or loss of his license.

Sackett says that last patient he let "pass alone" was an eight-year-old boy who suffered from an inoperable brain tumor. As the disease progressed, the boy became unable to swallow.

Miss Black America Voices Sentiments

By JOHN VAN GIESEN
Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — "Miss White America" espouses a conservative philosophy and a distaste for bluejeans—and Miss Black America would like to know who makes the girl tick.

Joyce Warner, stunnerque 26-year-old black beauty from Tallahassee, hopes to meet Miss America, 22-year-old Laurie Lee Schaefer of Ohio soon.

After winning her title in Atlantic City a month ago, Miss America said she was proud to be a conservative.

"I'd really like to talk to her because I just can't understand that," said Miss Warner. "It's nice to look back, but you just can't do that in today's world. You get left behind."

"I think it's too late to be conservative," she said. "The pace of the world is too fast."

Awarded the Miss Black America title at Madison Square Garden in New York in August, Miss Warner draped her shapely 5-foot-10 figure into an easy chair in front of a television set during the Miss America pageant.

"I didn't think it was very relevant," she said. "I don't believe it's typical of the times today. I watched the talent contest and they were doing the things you used to see on Ted Black."

When Diana Sorenson was in the third grade, her mother's cooking turned her into the class "sprite": a plump, pretzel-like butter cookie. After that, she was always on a diet. But as she figured she could eat whatever she wanted from then on. And she did.

Then, when she reached 235 pounds, her life changed. She met a man who wanted her to lose weight. And so did she, desperately. So she tried Ayds, Reducing Plan Candy, a contains no drugs, no artificial sweeteners. Taken as directed, Ayds helps cut your appetite, so you eat less and lose weight. Now in four delicious flavors. Try one. Diana Sorenson lost 116 pounds on the Ayds Plan.

Newspaper Week 1971-Time For Rededication

Living in a climate of crisis is traditional and normal for the news room in any newspaper. Yet the observance of Newspaper Week, now in progress, is being done this year under circumstances which make the normal news crisis almost inconsequential.

Attacks on the freedom of the press have created this year into developments which have spurred a sub-committee of the United States Senate to look carefully into the challenges flung at the feet of reporters who are bold enough to maintain their professional freedom.

To perform their basic function — to let the public know — newspapers must report the news. "Just the facts, please!" To place these facts in perspective, the events which have produced them and the probable effect of the events, is a further challenge.

The advertisements, created by inspired artists and salesmen, are a major news source for the housekeeper bent on trying to balance an unbalanced budget.

Doubtful Benefit

The House Foreign Affairs Committee has come up with a novel suggestion for using $86 million in foreign aid "counterpart funds" now credited to the United States of America in Egyptian banks.

The money could be devoted to reopening the Suez Canal. The idea is to offer it only on condition that Egypt and Israel first agree to terms for clearing the canal, with a further provision that ships of all nations, including Israel, be allowed to use it in the future.

While the committee sees this as a way of making it more attractive for Egypt and Israel to settle their Suez dispute, it raises a troublesome question. Whose interest would be served most by reopening of the canal?

Oil companies have been investing heavily in jumbo tankers that are too big to pass through the Suez Canal. Thus that waterway is losing significance as a route for transporting oil from the Persian Gulf.

Egypt is enduring no financial crisis from loss of canal revenues. Other Arab states are making payments to Egypt to cover the loss. Israel prizes the canal as a barrier to invasion, not as a waterway.

That leaves one prime beneficiary of a reopened canal—the Soviet navy, which needs it to link its Indian Ocean fleet with Mediterranean and Black Sea naval bases.

American foreign aid has found its way into many doubtful projects. Reopening the Suez Canal could be the most doubtful of all.

Hal Boyle Says: Try These Out For Landings

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: The man a woman who has just turned 26 and enters and resents most in life is a bubbly, enthusiastic girl who has just turned 26. The older woman is too forcibly reminded of something that has gone from her own world forever.

One of the hardest things to borrow in an office is a shoe. The prettiest sight on earth is a red-haired, hazel-eyed girl in a green bikini tussling with a broken strap.

The younger generation is probably the first one in the history of America of which it could be said that probably a majority never in their lifetime had said "giddyup" or "whoa" to a real live horse.

You have to admire the courage—if not the common sense—of any man who tries to tell a funny story the first day that dentist installs a new set of dentures in his mouth.

Free things annoy a man more than watching a woman put on mascara. It raises dark doubts in his mind as to whether or not she is entirely free of phobias.

Poet John Massfield once wrote that days that make us happy also make us wise. Most people, however, tend to feel the other way. It is the bruises we get, not the pleasures we have, that turn us all into unwilling philosophers.

Fallacies In Delegate Reforms

By BRUCE BHOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Militant Democratic reformers pressing their 1972 delegate apportionment case to the U.S. Supreme Court have a nice, rational argument on paper. But their practical argument is thin.

In their lawsuit, overturned by the U.S. Court of Appeals after they had won in the lower court, they propose that 1972 delegates to the party's convention be apportioned among the states on the basis of their Democratic vote in the last three national elections.

The Democratic National Committee's formula, officially adopted last February, would apportion 47 per cent of the delegates on the same one-Democratic-voice basis, and the other 53 per cent on the basis of a state's electoral vote (the units it casts in a presidential election).

The net effect of the approved formula is to give the smaller states and the southern states larger proportionate representation than would the reformers' proposal. The latter would enlarge the delegates totals for the most populous states.

It is hard to argue against the party logic and surface beauty of the reformers' "one-Democratic-voice." Yet there are some strong things to be said against it.

While bestowing 234 delegate votes on New York, and 211 on California, it limits Alaska, far and away our largest state physically, to a pathetic three votes. Wyoming would get but four, Nevada six.

By the rigid principle applied. Furthermore, there is implicit in the reformers' case the notion that magnification of numbers in this instance makes for not only fairer representation, but better representation.

Come on now, fellows. Ask any politician experienced in recent years. The delegates in the big state conventions are not only fairer representation of the big states, but better representation.

Let's look a bit more closely at New York and California. The approved national committee formula gives New York 278 votes against the reformers' suggested 224, and California 271 against 211. That's a 36 per cent higher proportion of the total delegates to California and New York Democrats in any effort they wish to make to influence national convention matters next summer.

It would not seem harmful. For one thing, New York under the committee plan has 88 more votes than in 1968, and California is 97 more. Both also have a higher proportion of the delegates to them to arch-liberal candidates. And, with 10 primaries binding delegates to particular winners, there'll be proportionately many fewer delegates routing the convention at free agents — liberal or otherwise.

The residents would like to welcome new neighbors to the village and Ranchlands and to the community. Mr. and Mrs. David Daniel and family on Sunrise Avenue, Ranchlands, who have bought the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Larkin.

Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Bergman, 201 Sherry; Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hines; Mr. Dan Bell, 20 N. Edgemoor; William Bullner, 11 N. Devo; Robert Fowler, 81 Lombardy; Donald Avis, 215 Charles; and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hoff, 219 Charles, Meadowlark.

NORTH ORLANDO
By MARY HYATT
A Coffee was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Pottinger, 25 S. Edgemoor, for the North Orlando Garden Club, Tuesday, Sept. 5 to discuss plans for the year and to encourage new members to join the club.

The Women's Auxiliary of the North Orlando Volunteer Fire Department has started their new year with a bake sale. The money will be used to purchase equipment for the Fire Department and the sale will feature some baked goods. The women hope to raise enough money to purchase a fire siren for the village.

President of the Auxiliary is Etta Harville. Ricky White is second vice president, Juanita Cantrell, secretary, Marlow LaFollette, treasurer, and Rita Hahn, telephone chairman.

The auxiliary will meet the second Monday of the month at the home of a member for the regular business meetings. Next meeting is Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m. at 121 North Fairfax with Juanita Cantrell hostess.

The wedding will be at 4 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church, Sanford. All friends and relatives are cordially invited.

Daughters of Wesley Class of the First United Methodist Church met in Fellowship Hall for their annual fried chicken luncheon on Monday with Mrs. Donald King, Mrs. G. B. Hudson, Mrs. Clarence Pursell and Mrs. Floyd Athow serving as hostesses.

Two guests, Mrs. W. A. Hunter and Mrs. Mildred Bishop, and 24 members were present. Mrs. Lois Taylor, class president, presided over the business session. Mr. Marguerite Paul read the 95th Psalm and an article from the Sunshine Magazine, "Gom of the Month."

Cards of appreciation for courtesies extended them were read from Mrs. R. F. Cole and Mrs. Ruth Spencer. Mrs. Roy Tillis expressed her thanks for flowers, gifts, cards and visits she received during her recent stay in the hospital.

A prayer bench that the class is placing in the church chapel as a memorial to the late Mrs. E. H. Laney was on display. Mrs. Floyd Athow thanked the husband for all courtesies extended her during his stay in a hospital.

Those making donations to the birthday bank were Mrs. Doris Harriman, Mrs. J. P. Thurmond, Mrs. Lois Taylor, Mrs. Percy Chapman, Mrs. C. E. McKee, Mrs. Paul, and Mrs. Louise Knowles. Mrs. Paul and Mrs. Flora Wilkins will visit the sick and shut-ins during October.

Renewing old and new acquaintances was the order of the day for the first general business meeting and luncheon of the Sanford's Woman's Club held Wednesday, Oct. 6.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. Kenneth Copeland, chairman, Mrs. Richard Colegrove, Mrs. Thelma Nieblack, Mrs. Guy Allen, Mrs. Hood Coker, Mrs. B. F. McWhorter, and Mrs. N. V. Farmer.

The speakers, Sen. John Duckert and Rep. Robert Milburn, both of the Florida State Legislature, and both of Winter Park, were introduced by the president, Rose Southward, and Mrs. David Kelley.

The speakers each gave their views on the Corporate Profits Tax and Personal State Income Tax. A short question and answer period followed.

A patriotic theme was carried out in the decorations, with two small flags placed in red covered styrofoam in the center of each table. The speakers table had an attractive arrangement of colored red and blue carnations and mums with white gladioli.

Constitution Quiz Sparks United Daughters Meeting

Mrs. F. E. Roumillat was hostess for the first meeting of the Sanford Woman's Club chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which was held at her home on Palmtoe Avenue.

Proceeding the meeting all chapter members attending signed a courtesy card to Mrs. Nannie Perry, honorary member and REAL DAUGHTER extending best wishes and congratulations on her recent birthday.

Art, Cards On Agenda For Club Luncheon
The Fine Arts and Social Departments of Sanford Woman's Club are combining their efforts for the first informal meeting of the season this Wednesday, Oct. 13, at the club house.

The Fine Arts Department will present an art exhibit by the well known artist, E. B. Stove and a demonstration by Mrs. Allen McKelvey, starting at 11 a.m. Mrs. McKelvey was a prize winner at a recent large ceramic show at the Robert Meyer Hotel, in Orlando.

A covered dish luncheon will succeed at 12 noon by Mrs. S. G. Harriman and her committee. Bridge and canasta games will be enjoyed during the afternoon under the direction of Mrs. James H. Wade and Mrs. George Wells, of the Social Department.

All club members are invited to attend any or all of the activities during the day.

Different members gave their impressions of Florida historical spots they visited recently, particularly the outstanding Stomach Fester Memorial at White Springs on the Suwannee River. The program ended with the group singing "Dixie". A delightful dessert course was enjoyed by those attending.

They were: Mrs. Martin Bram, Mrs. W. H. Dymon, Mrs. Victor Greene, Mrs. L. D. Hastings, Mrs. G. E. Mitchell, Mrs. H. B. McCall, Mrs. E. W. Martin, Mrs. C. E. McKee, Mrs. Troy Ray, Mrs. Charles Stenworth, Mrs. T. J. Taylor, Mrs. J. H. Trulick, Mrs. A. B. Wallace, Mrs. W. B. Wallace and Mrs. Glen Whinnish.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently met a very attractive older man. He is 36 and I'm 24. He's talented, intellectual and successful. He has been married and divorced twice. I am a virgin and intend to stay that way. He knows this because I've told him so.

I was completely fascinated with this man until he lent me a book of poetry in which I found a list of 26 girls with whom he had been intimate. He had dated them "one star, two stars, three stars and four stars." On the bottom the list had my name written in pencil with a four star rating. That turned me off fast.

Two questions: What kind of man would keep such a list? And what kind of man would have left it in the book?

TUGUED OFF IN L. A. DEAR TURNED OFF: A very immature man would careen man would have left it in the book accidentally. And a concisid cad would have left it intentionally, which is probably what he did.

DEAR ABBY: I have four children, one of whom is a

Mongoloid. I'll call him Johnny, but that's not his real name.

I recently received an invitation to a wedding reception. It was addressed to my husband and me and family. However the following P. S. was added: "Please leave Johnny at home. He is a darling boy, but he might feel out of place."

I think this was inexcusable. I would like your opinion on this. After all, Johnny is human too.

DEAR MOTHER: Rudeness is only the absence of manners. Your friend lacks more. Namely, understanding, compassion and judgment.

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor I'll name "Mrs. Tricky." Mrs. Tricky has young children who come over here regularly and ring my doorbell, asking for Helen, my teen-age daughter, to play with them. Helen likes kids and is very good with them. Besides, we have a lot of playground equipment in our yard, which makes it nice for children to play here.

But here's what I don't like: When Mrs. Tricky wants a baby-sitter to hire, she never asks Helen. Always somebody else. But Helen is good enough for me, which really amounts to sitting for free.

Is there some way I can let Mrs. Tricky know she shouldn't send her kids over here for my daughter to watch if she's not qualified enough to hire for pay?

HELEN'S MOTHER: DEAR MOTHER: Yes, you could tell her. But better check with Helen first. Maybe she enjoys playing with children without pay.

DEAR ABBY: To the man who complained it's a "woman's world" because people always ask how the mother is when a baby is born:

When you start giving birth to babies—people will ask how the father is.

SAN FRANCISCO: What's your neighbor's name? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 60700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 60700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.
CASE 11-854: Tony G., aged 12, is discolored.

"Dr. Crane," his worried mother began, "Tony is still an occasional victim of bed-wetting."

"So he is terrified about going to Boy Scout camp or of visiting his cousins."

"Oh, he may spend the day with them but when they urge him to stay overnight, Tony tries to collect various excuses why he must get home."

"So he is becoming somewhat of a recluse."

"Dr. Crane, I have read that emotional problems of the parents will cause a child to wet the bed."

"Quite true, but that enuresis is hereditary."

"But can't something be done to free Tony from this terrible fear that depresses him?"

Actually, in most cases bed-wetting is merely a first cousin to an adult's ignoring his alarm clock.

If, for example, you ever start dozing that jangle of the morning alarm, you can soon sleep right through it. And even so, though your mind never rags, though your body may have seen the alarm clock and shut it off!

Bedwetting is exactly analogous to this ignoring of the alarm clock!

So quit debating whether it is due to heredity or fearfulness between parents and other psychiatric malarky!

For millions of kiddies live in homes where parents often find, yet they are not guilty of enuresis!

Besides, it can be checked in just one night.

At the outset of the urinary bladder is a circular muscle (sphincter) that acts as the shutoff mechanism.

Babies haven't learned to obey this sphincter muscle when they're conscious with. So their bladder empties itself as soon as it is fairly full.

But by the age of 4, about 75 per cent of children have taught their bladder to obey their brain.

In the other 25 per cent, bed-

Polly's Pointers

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY - Two things have me crawling the walls. One is the steering wheel on my 1962 car which seems to have no dirt to the touch but leaves such smudges on my clothes I have to wear an apron when I drive. You can tell my tummy practically touches the wheel. A cover on the wheel wears out too soon, so I would like to know of a way to treat the wheel to keep from having black marks on my clothes.

The other thing is that no matter what kind of shoes I wear I ruin the insides of the heels with black marks. After one wearing they look old and get increasingly worse. Shoe cleaners, especially when you take them down along... MARLA

DEAR POLLY - On a recent camping trip we got very cold at night as we slept on our cot, but found that putting a thick layer of newspapers on the cot under a sleeping bag proved to be a very good insulation and helped a lot. - JO ANNE

Highlights TV Time Previews

8:30 NBC "Toscani and Martin's Laugh-In" A "salute to Hollywood" is tonight's theme, and Tony Curtis, Edward G. Robinson, Frank Gorshin, Buffalo Bob and Howdy Dooly are along to contribute. Robinson, one of Hollywood's original tough guys, comes into an equally tough character, nurse-swinger Gladys Orphrey (Ruth Buzzi). Curtis is a cop though investigating sleazy Dan Rowan. Fading all screen queues and the beauty conveyor belt taking the beauty to the buzz saw reflect on the old Hollywood. Ah, those were the days!

9:30 CBS "Gunsmoke" The new doctor arrives in town to night and he'll be around for the next six episodes. He's Dr. Chapman, played by Pat Hingle. Dr. Chapman runs into the problem of convincing the townspeople to put their confidence in him. His first big test comes when Newly is seriously injured in an accident.

9:30 conclusion ABC "NFL Monday Night Football" Dallas, last year's Super Bowl contender (they lost to Baltimore) and the New York Giants clash in tonight's telecast from Texas Stadium in Dallas. The Cowboys and Giants have one thing in common: both suffered their only defeat of the season so far to Washington (each has won two games).

9:11 NBC "NBC Monday Night at the Movies" "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" Elizabeth Taylor and Paul Newman are costarred in the film adaptation of Tennessee Williams's stage play about Southern aristocracy. Newman plays an insecure, alcoholic son of a wealthy plantation owner (Big Daddy, played by Burl Ives). Paul is married to a bitter Miss Taylor. The resentment and resentments tear at the family structure, faced with Big Daddy's terminal illness.

9:30 CBS "Here's Lucy" The space program is jotted back to earth by Lucy, Uncle Harry photographer, a former naval (Gale Gordon), a former naval photographer, is invited to take pictures on a recovery ship and Lucy decides she should go along as his assistant. Harry agrees and Lucy arrives aboard, and almost drowns the entire project. Among other things, she contaminates the entire ship.

9:30-10 CBS "Doris Day Show" Doris, accompanied by Angie Pallucci (Kay Ballard), takes on an assignment she hopes will lead to a missing $2 million. The robbery represents the loss of money, Doris and Angie head for a bank and two deep tabs on a woman whose husband is about to be released from prison and probably will head directly for the money. At least, Doris and Angie think so.

Seminoles Shocked By Vero

By GARY TAYLOR
HERALD Sports Editor
VERO BEACH — The penalties finally caught up with the Sanford Seminoles. They had 85 yards marched off against them Friday night when they met the Vero Beach Indians, which isn't a lot of yards, but 45 yards came in the final period when it hurt the Seminoles the most. The Tribe was upset

ERVIN OLLIE falls to the ground after picking off a Seminole High pass during the fourth quarter Saturday night. Standing by helplessly is Ricky Nesmith for whom the pass was intended. The interception came on a halfback pass by Mark Carl.

WHILE VERO BEACH fans climb the fence in the background, Seminole High quarterback Ronnie Howell sits dejected on the bench after his Seminoles lost 14-12. It was the first loss in four starts this season for the Seminoles. Three costly penalties in the final minutes of the game were a deciding factor.

It's A Gamble Betting Is Illegal But...

By PAUL CORCORAN
Copy News Service
More Americans than ever before are betting on sports events — particularly professional football — and in clear violation of the law. Few ever get arrested, however, because of tacit acceptance of such betting. For some, gambling is a consolation. For others, it is a "good sport." There's nothing basically dishonest about the millions of gamblers who bet on sports events, but in Nevada, it is a crime to bet on anything but horse racing, dog racing, or roulette.

Diesel Is Surprising Vehicle

By JEFF CUSHING

The Mercedes Benz 230 D sedan is like a good woman: you have to live with her for a while before you can appreciate her. The "D" stands for diesel, and the 230 stands for the bottom-of-the-line model (which is still pretty classy) imported to America by those wonderful folks who brought you the immortal 300 SL Gullwing and the soon-to-be imported 350 SL, as well as more mundane (by comparison) sedans, coupes and roadsters.

Tribe Drops To 11th

The Sanford Seminoles dropped from fifth place down to 11th in this week's prep football poll for class AAAA. AAA schools released by the Florida Sports Writers Association. The Seminoles received 43 points in the vote, as compared to 128 last week.

OVIEDO, playing their most respectable game of the season Friday night, lost a squeaker to the Apopka Blue Darters. Johnny Cole (44) accounted for a pair of the Apopka scores and gathered 65 yards from his halfback position.

Cigarette Tax Suit Eyed

NORTH ORLANDO — Village Council will consider tonight a request by Sunrise City to participate in the legal expenses of litigation relative to the levying of an additional two-cent cigarette tax. Clearwater Tops Sanford Naval Middies

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor

Sanford Naval Academy player Russell Bass had a 15 yard penalty called against him and his coaches couldn't be happier. Bass scooped up a Clearwater Central Catholic fumble off on the kickoff, but only 15 seconds remained in the game and the coaches couldn't care less about the penalty. Playing on a wet field, it was actually a game of fumbles. Until the fumble return by Bass, all the breaks went to Clearwater. For Bass it was the first time he has scored a touchdown as he plays guard.

The Middies took the kickoff, but the Clearwater defense held and SNA was forced to punt. Mike Bonyea blocked the attempted punt by Mike Grant and Mark Martin recovered the ball at the Sanford 15 yard line. Four plays later Todd Meyer carried two yards for the touchdown. The yards for the touchdown were 6-0 with 0:05 left in the initial period of play.

PAUL MEYERHOFF (80) of Sanford Naval Academy has a firm grip on Clearwater Central Catholic quarterback Mark Martin. The other Clearwater player is Mike Hopkins (60) while the Middies coming over to lend assistance are Rob Yates (15) and David Left (88). Clearwater won the contest 18-6. (Don Vincent Photo)

Late in the final period a punt gave Clearwater the ball at the Sanford 31 yard line after a nine yard return. 15 yard penalty set Clearwater back, but they climaxed the drive on a 31 yard pass from Martin to Fortizzo. The run failed and Clearwater led 18-0.

For some reason I get the feeling that Seminole is fielding a football team for the sole purpose of making money. They care nothing about the local fans that have all kinds of wear and follow the Seminoles even in green folding stuff.

At the beginning of the current season the station announced that they would carry all away games. Since then that has fallen through. One of the reasons is because last year Seminole High officials refused to let out of town stations broadcast football games from Sanford Municipal Stadium and basketball games from the Seminole High gym.

Latest idea of the station was an attempt to broadcast the game again. This time to be played in the Sanford Municipal Stadium. Principle Jack Redding seemed enthusiastic about the idea when he first discussed it with this writer. Later he left a message for this writer, saying he had tried his best to talk Athletic Director Tom Perrin into allowing the broadcast but had had no luck.

So there it is fans. Lyman will come to town and there's just not going to be enough seats to hold the fans. There will be many fans from both schools that will be forced to stand behind the goal end zone where they can't see the field very well. Wouldn't it be nice if these people could at least be able to bring their radios along to better keep up with the action?

I understand you can really pick up some University of Florida tickets at a discount price. I've had people tell me they're buying them for as little as $1 each. I've even had them buy me as many as four prime location seats given away free by disappointed Gator rooters.

Trinity Wins Homecoming Game

WINTER PARK — When the Saints came marching onto Showalter Field Saturday they were the only undefeated Seminole County prep football team to have marched off the field after a 34 yard pass from Larry Hopkins to a half back.

attendance at the game. The six scores with three PAT boots by Mark Hanna gave the Saints a 29-0 halftime edge. Laurence Cleveland assumed his usual form despite a mid week battle with the flu to score Trinity's first TD on a 43 yard pass from Dale Parsons. Jack Zimmerman, the Saints' number two runner, scored the second TD of the game on a three yard scamper. Cleveland exemplified his running talents in the third quarter when he carried a yard scoring run called back on a penalty, but made it into the Eagle end zone on a three yard effort with Hanna adding the extra point.

Redskins Win By A 'Foot'

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I keep my head down and look at the point where I'm kicking until I hear the crowd," Curt Knight commented. The field goal kicker heard the crowd go wild when he kicked a 37 yard field goal Sunday as the Redskins bootied their Cleveland Browns opponents 15, 26, 11, 17 and 39 yards to lead the undefeated Redskins to a 22-13 triumph over Houston.

The Redskins carried on the two point conversion and Crooms led 14-0. Micky Pringle blocked a Kowboy punt and recovered it in the end zone for the next Panther score. Thompson carried on the conversion. Then Thompson rushed up the middle for three yards and a TD. The extra point try was unsuccessful.

Seminoles Uphold State Pride

By HUBERT MIZELL

Florida State is 5-0 and climbing. Florida's gnaty Gators 0-5 and skidding. Still, don't believe those Seminoles who are saying "It'll be just another game" Saturday at Gainesville. Florida State games historically stop just short of history. Seminoles and Gators don't exactly hate one another.

LSU played excellent football and we played very poorly," said Dickey. "When you make so many mistakes it always shows up on the scoreboard." Doug says much the same every Saturday, only the competitor changes. This time it was LSU. Before it had been Duke, Mississippi State, Alabama and Tennessee.

WHAT YOU DO BETWEEN 4 AND 8 TONIGHT IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS.

You see, the hours between 4 pm and 8 pm are what we call the "Peak Period" That's the time when you—and all your neighbors—use the most electricity. For cooling off. Cooking. Baking. Dishwashing. (You know the routine.) All cause an unusually heavy drain on the power supply. And all increase the chances of a power shortage occurring on a hot summer's day when just about every air conditioner within miles is going full blast.

Between 4 pm and 8 pm on hot days, moderate the temperature of your air conditioner. Don't overcool. Also, plan meals which require little or no cooking. Cook before or after peak periods. (The same holds true for washing and drying clothes and dishes.) Finally, keep to a minimum the amount of hot water you use for baths, showers, and other uses during peak periods.

Electricity, like all of America's resources, should be used wisely. By helping us conserve electricity, between 4 pm and 8 pm these summer days, you'll be helping yourself. And everyone else.

Collections Halt; Garbage Piles Up

By MARION BETHIA
 Customers of C-M Refuse Service, enticed by the owner, Chester Macek's slogan, "My Business Is Picking Up," were in for a "let-down" as their garbage began to accumulate. The telephones of the refuse company, of the C-M Standard Oil Service, corner of Onora Road and U. S. 17-92, also owned by Macek, and the private phone of Macek have been disconnected.

County Commission Chairman Greg Drummond stated this morning that "more than two" refuse firms abutting the area formerly served by C-M have been contacted by the county to service the customers.
 Drummond continued that further action will encompass contacting the county attorney to ascertain what action can be taken by the county to "freeze" the assets of C-M so that customers who have prepaid their refuse accounts may be reimbursed.
 Drummond said the county does not require a performance bond of the refuse company, nor any other company, since there had never been a need. Drummond contended that the county cannot apply the bond indiscriminately, and that the "very expensive" bond would, in turn, be passed to the customer.
 However, Drummond went on to say he intends to ask the Board of County Commissioners if it wishes to require a performance bond of all refuse companies in the future, noting that the rates will be commensurate.

AROUND THE CLOCK
 By JOHN A. SPOLSKI
 Got a Hot One for you for tomorrow's edition . . . about the 23-year-old father of four children, who has an infection of his kidneys (corroborated by his attending physician), made an appeal — to no avail . . . AND WILL BE DRAFTED IN NOVEMBER!
 Regardless of the fact that some of you had an "extra" day off yesterday . . . making it a long three-day weekend, this is Columbus' Day.
 I have nothing against extra time off, but when they start trying to rechange history, then that's another matter entirely.
 Let that crowd of thinkers alone and before you know it they'll have July 4th on another day, and before you know it, they'll . . . change the day of celebration commemorating the birth of THE ONE who created it all!
 Nuff-s-nuff . . .
 Congratulations . . . to Don Bates of Sanford Motor Co., on having received a new watch after donating 5 gallons of blood to the Central Florida Blood Bank.
 Wish I was that brave . . . really, there was a time when I was afraid I'd never get out of the Air Force (they require a blood test on your discharge, I'm 100) . . . I'm not that I'm afraid of the sight of blood, mind you . . . ONLY MINE!
 For the record . . . FTU has rocketed to a 21.27 percent enrollment jump over 1970; or more than double the percentage increase of any other of the six operating state universities.
 We now have 6,168 at FTU compared to 5,005 in the fall of '70.
 About two months ago, you had an excellent feature story by Ann Siczkowski on auto accident victim Trudy Ledbetter and the remarkable recovery she was making through therapy. Well, if you'd like to play a part in helping her in the speech department, she could use a typewriter . . . if you can type the word, it helps you in pronouncing same. I'm told, hence the need for same. It would be greatly appreciated . . . give me a call at 322-2611.
 There'll be over a hundred persons in town this Sunday at the Disabled American Veterans' Building, Seminole Chapter 30, on Highway 17-92 . . . hosting the 6th District Meeting, including the State Commander.

Hospital Expansion Is Approved Trustees Ignore County Request

By BILL SCOTT
 Seminole Memorial Hospital trustees last night brushed aside a resolution by the County Commission to delay expansion of the hospital and awarded a $325,382 contract to the low bidder, Reginald Williams Construction Company, of Orlando, to enlarge the laboratory and extensive care unit.
 Chairman Charles Lansing called the County Commission resolution "upsetting" and cited the "day after we (trustees) did not agree to everything the County Commission wanted us to agree with, they passed this resolution."
 The trustee chairman was referring to the County Commission's request that the hospital board join with it in purchasing a "small and immediate" expansion of the hospital. The Commission's resolution that quoted an opinion by the Florida attorney general on July 31, which raised doubt whether the trustees have authority under Florida Statutes to unilaterally determine the need for capital improvements to the existing hospital.
 Lansing said the county might cost the hospital $90,000 in additional hospital funds from the federal government if the situation is tied up in court.
 He cited County Commission action on July 31, which raised doubt whether the trustees have authority under Florida Statutes to unilaterally determine the need for capital improvements to the existing hospital.
 Citing an opinion that all hospital real estate should be in the name of the county and not in the name of the hospital trustees, Attorney General Robert Sherin indicated ownership of real estate normally carries with it the responsibility to determine what capital improvements, if any, should be made upon the property.
 The county resolution stated a determination of the County Commission's duties and responsibilities regarding capital improvements is now in process and that any unilateral determination by the trustees regarding expansion or capital improvements be withheld until the county's duties are determined.
 Trustee attorney Gordon Frederick called the county's position "absurd," and pointed out that under the statutes the trustee board can require the County Commission to condemn property in the event the trustees determine further land is needed for expansion purposes.
 "If we can do this, certainly we can do what we want with the existing land," Frederick opined.
 Trustee Curtis Holland advised the hospital should be run by the trustees and politics should not enter into its operation.
 On a motion by John Schirard Jr., that trustees voted unanimously to let the contract with the low bidder.

Village Annexes 3,500 Acres
 NORTH ORLANDO — Village Council last night approved on first, second, third and final readings simultaneously the annexation of Winter Springs. The underdeveloped area, encompassing 3,500 acres, now becomes the largest city in land area in Seminole County.
 Also included in the annexation is 21 acres adjacent to Lake Jessup which was inadvertently omitted in the petition. This area is to be developed as a yacht club.
 All of the area will be developed in sections of not less than 50 acres. Recreational and open space area has been set aside in 429 acres, with 74 acres allocated for riding trails. There are no requirements for public dedicated parks or open space.

North Orlando Doubles
 A 30-year utility franchise has been granted to the developer, William Goodman, since there is no conflict with the present holder of a franchise, Florida Land Company. According to Goodman, homes in the area will average $40,000.
 Council accepted on first reading the ordinance granting a non-exclusive franchise for cable television to American Television and Communications Company, which is to terminate in 1981. The franchise stipulates the company will return seven per cent of the annual gross operating revenue to the city.
 The ordinance provides for a pre-payment to the city of $2,000, which is a guaranteed payment of $700 for the first year of operation and $1,200 for the second year. After this, the city will receive the seven per cent revenue.
 Rates for the CATV will be $9.95 installation for the first residential outlet, and 4.75 for each additional outlet. Monthly service charge is $4.75 for the first outlet; $1 for each additional outlet.
 In other business, Council voted to strike the wording governing annexation, which had caused contention among the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation, from the new charter.
 The delegation has attacked the unique authority of the village to annex non-contiguous property within two miles of the city limits. Sen. John Ducker contended this is unreasonable with relation to furnishing city services to the area, and Sen. Kenneth Taylor questioned the legality of the procedure as conflicting with state law. Therefore, council agreed to delete the words "within two miles of said municipal limits" from the charter.
 The charter was tentatively approved by the delegation providing small changes are made. These include the changing in the charter of the new name (Winter Springs) in which the name was inadvertently left as Semoran (formerly proposed name).
 Mayor Granville Brown told Council the final draft of the charter will be submitted to the Orange-Seminole delegation at its hearing on Nov. 4. He further explained the delegation had advanced the deadline for proposed local legislation for Seminole County in final form Dec. 2 to Nov. 30.

BULLETIN
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court declined 5 to 2 this afternoon to rule on the legality of U.S. military action in Vietnam. The court made no comment in refusing to hear an appeal brought for two soldiers by the American Civil Liberties Union and the New York Civil Liberties Union.
 Council stressed the fact this ordinance is modeled on ordinances from surrounding cities and on the recommendations of the Florida League of Municipalities, and are an average representation of these models.
 Second reading of the ordinance will be carried out at a subsequent council meeting. If it receives a majority vote at that time, it will be come a city law.

2 Defendants Absent For Court Hearing

The crime rate in Seminole County would appear to be decreasing if the arraignments this morning are any indication. Since the first of the year, the docket has encompassed two pages of defendants almost every week. This morning, however, only two were listed, and neither of these appeared for arraignment.
 Docketed were Freddie L. Brown and Lindsay Taylor Jr., both charged with breaking and entering a vehicle and larceny. The incident occurred on July 27, when the suspects were alleged to have broken into a 1968 Plymouth, stealing two pants suits, jackets, a housecoat and shorts from the owner.
 Orlando Attorney Norris Woolfork represents Brown and Orville Johnson III represents Taylor. Both are charged with breaking and entering a vehicle and larceny. The incident occurred on July 27, when the suspects were alleged to have broken into a 1968 Plymouth, stealing two pants suits, jackets, a housecoat and shorts from the owner.
 Daniel Bridges, charged with aggravated battery, was committed to Circuit Court from a justice of the peace court, and appeared for the purpose of appointment of counsel.
 Bridges told the court he acted as his own counsel in the lower court, and had commitment papers to the state correctional institute. Therefore, he argued, the state has no jurisdiction over his present charge, which, he said, was dismissed in county court.
 Bridges said he has been incarcerated in Lake County, prison and expects that it would be a waste of time and money to proceed with his case locally, until he had spoken with Woolfork, and he had spoken with Johnson relative to Taylor. Taylor is incarcerated in Orlando city jail and the state was unable to obtain an order of transfer.
